20 And Ephraim's sons: Sothala and Barad his and Iarimoth 15and Zabadia and Orer and Oded son and Thaath his son, Eleada his son, Nomee his 16and Michael and Iespha and locha, Bariga's sons.

son, 21Zabed his son, Sothele his son and Ezer and 17And Zabadia and Mosollam and Hazaki and Elead. And men of Geth, those born on the land, Habar 18and Isamari and lezlia and lobab, El-killed them, because they descended to take their phaal's sons. 19And lakim and Zechri and Zabdi cattle. 22And Ephraim their father grieved for many 20and Elioenai and Salthi and Elieli 21and Adaia days, and his brothers came to comfort him. 23And and Baraia and Samarath, Samai's sons. 22And Is-he went in to his wife, and she conceived and bore phan and Obed and Eleel 23and Abadon and a son, and he called his name Baraga, because "He Zechri and Hanan 24and Hanania and Ambri and came in my house in the midst of troubles.” 24And Ailam and Anathothia 25and Athin and Iepheria in those remnants he also built Lower and Upper and Pheliel, Sosek’s sons. 26And Samsaria and Baithoron. And Ozan’s sons: Seera 25and Raphe Saaria and Ogotholia 27and Iarasia and Elia and his sons; Raseph and Thale his sons, Thaen his son. Zechri, sons of Iraam. 28These were rulers of pater-26To Laadan, his son: Amioud his son, Elisama his nal families, rulers according to their generations; son, 27Noum his son, Iesoue his son. 28And their they lived in Ierousalem.

possessions and their dwelling: Baithel and its vil-

29 And Gabaon’s father lived in Gabaon, and lages, Naaran to the east, Gazer to the west and its his wife’s name was Maacha. 30And her firstborn villages and Sychem and its villages as far as Gaian, son was Abadon, and Sour and Kis and Baal and and its villages, 29and up to the borders of Ma- Ner and Nadab 31and Gedour, and his brother and nasses’ sons, Baithsaan and its villages, Thaanach Zachour and Makaloth. 32And Makaloth became and its villages and Balad and its villages, Maged- the father of Semaa, for these also lived opposite do and its villages, Dor and its villages; in these the their brothers in Ierousalem with their brothers.

sons of Ioseph son of Israel lived.

33And Ner became the father of Kis, and Kis be-

30 Aser’s sons: Iemna and Isoua and Isou and came the father of Saoul, and Saoul became the fa-Beriga and Sore, their sister. 31And Beriga’s sons: ther of Ionathan and Melchisoue and Aminadab Chaber and Melchiel; he became the father of and Asabal. 34And Jonathan's sons: Meribaal, and Berzaith. 32And Chaber became the father of Meribaal became the father of Michia. 35And Iaphalet and Samer and Chotha and Sola, their sis- Michia's sons: Phithon and Melchel and Theree ter. 33And Iaphalet's sons: Phesechi, Bamael and and Achaz. 36And Achaz became the father of loia-Asith; these were Iaphalet's sons. 34And Semmer's da, and loiada became the father of Galemath and sons: Achiouraoga and Hoba and Aram 35and Ban- Asmoth and Zambri, and Zambri became the fa-eelam. His brothers were Sopha and Imana and ther of Maisa. 37And Maisa became the father of Selles and Amal. 36Sopha's sons: Chouchi, Ha-Baana; Raphaia was his son, Elasa his son, Esel his narphar and Soual and Bari and Imare, 37Sobal son. 38And Esel had six sons, and these are their and Od and Semma and Salisa and Iethran and names: Ezrikam his firstborn and Ismael and Sara-Beera. 38And Iether's sons: Iphina and Phaspha ia and Abdia and Hanan; these were all Esel's sons.

and Ara. 39And Ola's sons: Orech, Aniel and 39And his brother Asel's sons: Ailam his firstborn Rasia. 40All these were Aser's sons, all of them and Iais the second, Eliphalet the third. 40And rulers of paternal families, select strong ones in Ailam's sons were strong men in power, stretching power, rulers, leaders; their number for fighting the bow and multiplying sons and sons' sons, one in the battle line, their number was twenty-six hundred and fifty; these were all from the sons of thousand men.

Beniamin.

8 AndBeniaminbecame thefatherofBale his

And all Israel, their registration: and these are firstborn and Asbel the second, Aara the third,

9 written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and 354

1 supplements 9-10

of loudas, with those taken into exile to Babylon on them, and they had charge of the keys to open the by their lawless acts. 2And those who first lived in temple doors morning by morning.

their possessions in the cities: Israel, the priests,

28 And some of them were in charge of the the Leuites and those assignedb.

utensils of ministration, for they will carry them in

3 And some of the sons of loudas and of the by number and carry them out by number. 29And sons of Benjamin and of the sons of Ephraim and some of them were appointed over the vessels and Manasses lived in Ierousalem: 4Gothi son of Am- over all the holy utensils and over the fine flour, mioud son of Amri son of the sons of Phares son the wine, the oil, the incense and the spices. 30And of loudas. 5And of Seloni: Asaia his firstborn and some of the priests' sons were perfumers of his sons. 6And from the sons of Zara: liel and their unguents and for the spices. 31And Mattathias, one brothers, six hundred and ninety. 7And from the of the Leuites (this one was the firstborn of Salom sons of Benjamin: Salo son of Mosollam son of the Korite), was in a position of trust over the tasks Odouia son of Sanaa 8and Ibanaa son of Iraam, of sacrifice relating to the great priest's frying-pan.

and these were the sons of Ozi son of Machir and 32And Banaias the Kaathite, one of their brothers, Massalem son of Saphatia son of Ragouel son of was in charge of the loaves of presentation to pre-Banaia 9and their brothers according to their gen- pare them sabbath by sabbath.

erations, nine hundred and fifty-six; all the men

33 And these are the harp-singers, rulers of the were rulers of paternal families according to their Leuites' paternal families—appointed classes, for paternal houses.

day and night they were in their posts at their tasks.

10 And of the priests: Iodae and Ioarim and 34These were rulers of the Leuites' paternal fami-lachin 11and Azaria son of Chelkias son of Mosol- lies, chiefs according to their generations; they lam son of Sadok son of Maraioth son of Achitob, lived in Ierousalem.

leader of the house of God, 12and Adaia son of 35 And Iiel, father of Gabaon, lived in Gabaon,

Iraam son of Paschor son of Malchia and Maasaia and his wife's name was Moocha. 36And his first-son of Abdiel son of Iediou son of Mosollam son born son was Abadon, and Sir and Kis and Baal of Maselmoth son of Emmer 13and their brothers, and Ner and Nadab 37and Gedour and his brother rulers of paternal houses, one thousand seven and Zacharia and Makelloth. 38And Makelloth be-hundred and sixty strong in power for the work of came the father of Samaa. And they lived in le-ministration of the house of God.

rousaleem in the midst of their brothers with their

14 And of the Leuites: Samaia son of Hasob brothers. 39And Ner became the father of Kis, and son of Esrikam son of Hasabia, from the sons of Kis became the father of Saoul, and Saoul became Merari, 15and Bakbakar and Ares and Galal and the father of Ionathan and Melchisoué and Ami-Manthanas son of Micha son of Zechri son of nadab and Isbaal. 40And Maribaal was Ionathan's Asaph, 16and Abdia son of Samia son of Galal son son, and Maribaal became the father of Micha.

of Idithon and Barachia son of Ossa son of Elkana, 41And Micha's sons: Phaithon and Malach and who lived in the villages of Netophati.

Tharach. 42And Achaz became the father of Iada,

17 The gatekeepers: Salom and Akoub and Tal-and Iada became the father of Galemeth and Gaz-man and Aiman, and their brothers: Salom was the moth and Zambri, and Zambri became the father ruler. 18And until thisc they are at the king's gate in of Masa. 43And Masa became the father of Baana: the east; these are the gates of the camps of the sons Raphaia was his son, Eleasa his son, Esel his son.

of Leui. 19And Salom son of Kore son of Abiasaph 44And Esel had six sons, and these are their names: son of Kore and his brothers in his father's house, the Esdrikam his firstborn, Ismael and Saria and Abdia Korites, were over the tasks of ministration, guarding and Hanan: these were Esel's sons.

the watches of the tent, and their fathers had been over the Lord's camp, guarding its entrance. 20And

And allophyles fought against Israel, and Phinees, Eleazar's son, was leader over them in for- 10 they fled from before allophyles, and casu-mer times, and these men were with him: 21Zacharias alties fell on Mount Gelboue. 2And allophyles pur-son of Masalami, gatekeeper of the door of the tent of sued after Saoul and after his sons, and allophyles witness. 22All those selected for the gates at the gates struck Ionathan and Aminadab and Melchisoue, were two hundred and twelve; these were in their Saoul's sons. 3And the war was heavy on Saoul, courts, their register. Daudid and Samouel the seer ap- and the archers found him with their arrows and pointed them to their positions of trust. 23And these pains, and he was hurt by the arrows. 4And Saoul and their sons were in charge of the gates in the house said to the one bearing his arms, "Draw your of the Lord, in the house of the tent, to guard it. 24The sword, and stab me with it so that these uncircum-gates were according to the four winds: at east, sea, cised do not come and make sport of me." But the north, south. 25And their brothers in their courts one carrying his arms was not willing, because he were to come in every seven days, from time to time, was very afraid, and Saoul took his sword and fell along with them, 26because four mighty ones of the on it. 5And the one carrying his arms saw that gates are in a position of trust. The Leuites had juris- Saoul was dead, and he too fell on his sword and diction over the shrine-carriers' chambers and over died. 6And Saoul and his three sons died that day, the treasuries of the house of God. 27And they will and all his house died together. 7And every man of encamp round the house of God, for the watch fell Israel who was in the valley saw that Israel had fled aPossibly with the names of those bPossibly to render (other) service in the temple cReferent unclear; possibly day and that Saoul and his sons had died, and they field was full of barley, and the people had fled abandoned their cities and fled. And allophyles from before allophytes. 14And he stood in the came and lived in them.

1 supplements 10-11

355

middle of the plot and saved it and struck down

8 And it happened on the next day, and allo- the allophytes, and the Lord brought about a great phytes came to plunder the casualties, and they deliverance.

found Saoul and his sons fallen on Mount Gel-

15 And three of the thirty commanders went

boue. 9And they stripped him and took his head down into the rock to reach Daid in the cave of and his equipment and sent them to the sur- Odollam, and the allophytes' encampment had rounding land of allophytes, to announce the been pitched in the valley of the giants. 16And good news to their idols and the people. 10And Daid was then in the enclosing, and the main they put his equipment in the house of their god, body of the allophytes was then in Baithleem.

and they put his head in the house of Dagon. 17And Daid desired and said, "Who will bring me 11And all those living in Galaad heard what allo-water to drink from the cistern in Baithleem by the phytes had done to Saoul and Israel. 12And every gate?" 18And the three broke through the allo-mighty man arose from Galaad and took Saoul's phytes' encampment and drew water from the cistern and the bodies of his sons and carried them there in Bethlehem by the gate and took it and came to Hebron, and they buried their bones under the oak to David. But David did not want it, in order to be in Hebron, and they fasted seven days.

drink it, and poured it out to the Lord. 19 And he 13 And Saul died in his acts of lawlessness, said, "May God be merciful to me, to do this thing.

which he had done lawlessly against the Lord, and shall I drink these men's blood by means of their coming to the Lord's word, since he had not kept lives? For they brought it with their lives." And he refused it, because Saul had made inquiries at the ventriloquist to find out, and the prophet Samuel had men did.

answered him. 14 And he did not seek the Lord,

20 And Ithai's brother, Abner—he was chief of

and he killed him and transferred the kingdom to the three—he drew his sword against three hundred men of Ishai.

dred casualties at one time, and he was the most famous among the three; 21 of the three he was 11 And all Israel came to David in Hebron, more renowned than the two, and he was their saying, "See, we are your bones and your chief, and as far as the three he would not come.

flesh. 2 And yesterday and the third day when Saul

22 And Banaias was Iodae's son, son of a was king, you were the one to lead Israel out and mighty man; many are his deeds on behalf of in, and the Lord your God said to you, "You will Kabasael. He struck down the two Ariel of Moab, shepherd my people Israel, and you will be a and he went down and struck the lion in the pit on leader over Israel." 3And all elders of Israel came to a winter's day. 23And he struck the Egyptian man, the king in Chebron, and King Daudid made a cov- a highly visible man five cubits tall, and in the enant with them at Chebron before the Lord. And Egyptian's hand there was a spear like a part of a they anointed Daudid as king over Israel according weavers' loom, and Banaias went down against to the Lord's word through the hand of Samouel.

him with a rod and snatched the spear from the 4 And the king went, and men of Israel, to le- Egyptian's hand and killed him with his spear.

24

rousalem (that is Iebous), and there were the

This Banaias, Iodae's son, did, and by this he has Iebousites who inhabited the land. 5Now the in- a name among the three mighty ones. 25He was habitants of Iebous said to Daudid, "You will not more renowned than the thirty, but he did not gain come in here." And Daudid anticipated them by the stature of the three. And Daudid appointed him seizing the enclosing of Sion (that is the city of over his paternal family.

Daudid). 6And Daudid said, "Anyone who first

26 And the mighty ones of the forces: Asael strikes a Iebousite will be a commander and a gen- brother of Iobab, Eleanan son of Dodo from Baitheral.” And Iobab son of Sarouia went up first and Ialem, 27 Sammoth the Hadi, Chelles the Pheloni, 28 was made a commander. 7 And Daudid established

Orai son of Ekkes the Thekoi, Abiezer the himself in the enclosing. Therefore he called it the Anathothi, 29 Sobochai the Hasothi, Eli the Achoi, city of Daudid. 8 And he built the city all around, 30 Moorai the Netophathi, Cholod son of Nooza and he waged war and took the city. 9 And Daudid the Netophathi, 31 Aithi son of Ribai from a hill of kept going as he went and became great, and the Benjamin, Banaias the Pharathoni, 32 Houri from Lord Almighty was with him.

Nachaligaas, Abiel the Garabeththi, 33 Azmoth the 10 And these are the chiefs of the mighty men, Beeremi, Eliaba the Salaboni, 34 Bennaias, Hosom who were with Daudid, those supporting him in his the Gennouni, Ionathan son of Sola the Harari, 35 reign with all of Israel to reign according to the

Achim son of Sachar the Harari, Elphal son of Lord’s word for Israel. 11 And this is the number of Our, 36 Hophar the Mochorathi, Achia the Pheloni, 37

Daudid’s mighty men: Iesebaal son of Hachamani,

Heserai the Charmali, Naarai son of Azobai, 38

first of the thirty. He drew his sword once against loel brother of Nathan, Mebaar son of Hagari,

39

three hundred casualties at one time.

Selek the Ammoni, Nachor the Berthi, who bore

12 And after him was Eleazar son of Dodai the the arms of loab son of Sarouia, 40Ira the Ietheri, Achochi. He was among the three mighty men. Gareb the Ietheri, 41Ourias the Chetti, Zabet son of 13He was with Daid in Phasodomin, and the al-Achlia, 42Adina son of Saiza the one of Rouben, a

Iophyles gathered there for battle. And a part of the commander and thirty with him, 43Hanan son of 356

1 supplements 11-13

Moocha and Iosaphat the Baithani, 44Ozia the As-21(20)When he went to Soklag, some from Manas-tarothi, Samma and Iiel, sons of Choathan the ses approached him, Edna and Iozabath and Iodiel Arari, 45Iediel son of Sameri and Ioazae his broth- and Michael and Iosabeth and Elimouth and Se-er the Ieasi, 46Eliel the Mii and Iaribi and Iosia his Iathi; chiefs of a thousand of Manasses they were.

son, Elnaam and Iethema the Moabite, 47Aliel and 22(21)And they fought with Daid against Geddour, Obed and Iesiel the Misabia.

for they were all mighty in strength and leaders in the army, in the force, 23(22) because day by day

And these are the ones who came to David they would come to David, forming an immense

12 at Soklag, while he was still constrained force, like a divine force.

from before Saul son of Kis, and these were 24(23) And these are the names of the com-

among the mighty men helping him in war 2 and commanders of the army who came to David in Che- with bow, on the right and on the left. And there were, to turn the kingdom of Saul over to him were slingers with stones and arrows. Of Saul's cording to the word of the Lord. 25(24) Sons of brothers from Benjamin: 3 the commander was Iudai, six thousand shield bearers and spear bear- Achiezer, and Ioas son of Asma the Gebothite and others and eight hundred mighty in pitched battle.

Ioel and Iophalet sons of Asmoth and Berchia and 26(25) Of the sons of Simeon, seven thousand and Ioel the Anathothi 4 and Samaias the Gabaonite, one hundred, mighty in strength in pitched battle.

mighty among the thirty and over the thirty, 5 Ier- 27(26) Of the sons of Leui, four thousand six hundred and Ieziel and Ioanan and Ioabab the Dred, 28(27) and Ioadae was leader for Aaron and Gadarithi, 6(5) Eliazai and Iarimouth and Baalia with him three thousand seven hundred, 29(28) and and Samaria and Saphatia the Charaiphite, 7(6) Elka- Sadok was a young man mighty in strength, and Na and Iesouni and Ozriel and Ioazar and Iesboam there were twenty-two rulers of his ancestral house.

the Korites 8(7) and Elia and Zabadia sons of Iraam, 30(29) And out of the sons of Benjamin, the broth-sons of Gedor.

ers of Saoul, three thousand, even though the ma-

9(8) And from Gaddi there split off to join jority of them remained loyal to guarding Saoul's Dauid from the wilderness, strong mighty men in house. 31(30) And from the sons of Ephraim, twen-the line of battle, bearing shields and spears, and ty thousand eight hundred, mighty in strength, their faces were a lion's face, and they were swift as men renowned in their paternal houses. 32(31) And gazelles on the mountains in speed. 10(9) Azer was from the half-tribe of Manasses, eighteen thou-the commander, Abdia the second, Eliab the third, sand, who were selected by name to make Dauid 11(10) Masemanne the fourth, Iermia the fifth, king. 33(32) And from the sons of Issachar, knowing

12(11) Eththi the sixth, Eliab the seventh, 13(12) Ioanunderstanding regarding the times, knowing what nan the eighth, Eliazer the ninth, 14(13) Iermia the Israel should do regarding their magistracies, tenth, Machabannai the eleventh. 15(14) These men two hundred and all their brothers with them.

from the sons of Gad were commanders in the 34(33) And from Zaboulon, proceeding to the battle army: one small one against a hundred and a great of war with all their military equipment, fifty thou-one against a thousand. 16(15) These are those who sand to aid Dauid unwaveringly. 35(34) And a thou-crossed the Jordan in the first month, and it was sand rulers from Nephthali and thirty-seven thou-filled to its entire walled edge, and they chased out sand together with them with shields and spears.

all the inhabitants of the valleys from east to west.
36(35)And twenty-eight thousand eight hundred 17(16) And some of the sons of Benjamin and from the Danites, drawn up for war. 37(36)And of loudas came to Daid's assistance.

18(17)And forty thousand from Aser, coming out to assist in Daid went out to meet them and said to them, "If war.

38(37)And one hundred and twenty thousand you have come to me in peace, may my heart be from Rouben and Gaddi and from the half-tribe of like itself for you, but if in order to betray me to Manasses from the other side of the Jordan with all my enemies, not in atruth of handa, may the God their military equipment.

of our fathers see and decide." 19(18)And a spirit in-

39(38) All these were warriors arrayed in battle vested Amasai, commander of the thirty, and he order with irenic spirit, and they came to Chebron, said:

to make Daid king over all Israel. And the rest of

"Go forward—and your people,

Israel was of one mind to make Daid king.

40(39)

Dauid son of Iessai.

And they were there three days, eating and Peace, peace to you.

drinking, for their brothers made provision for

And peace to those who help you, them. 41(40)And their neighbors as far away as Issabecause your God has helped you.”

char and Zaboulon and Nephthali brought them

And Dauid received them and appointed them of- food, flour, fruitcakes, raisins, wine and oil, calves ficers of the forces.

and sheep in abundance on camels and donkeys

20(19) And some of Manasses came over to and mules and on oxen, as there was gladness in Dauid when the allophytes came against Saoul for Israel.

battle. And he did not help them, because bthere happened in council fromb the commanders of

And Dauid consulted with the officers of the allophytes, saying, “By means of the heads of 13 thousands and officers of hundreds, with those men he will return to his master Saoul.”

every commander. 2And Dauid said to the whole aPerhaps fair combat bPossibly a council took place among cAntecedent unclear, possibly times

1 supplements 13-15

357

assembly of Israel, "If it seems good to you and it will give them into your hands." 11And he went up finds favor with the Lord, our God, let us send to Baalpharasin, and Daid struck them down word to those of our brothers who are left all over there. And Daid said, "God has cut down my enthe land of Israel, and with them are the priests, emies by my hand like cutting through water."

the Leuites in the cities of their possession, and Therefore he called the name of the place Cutting-they will come together to us, 3and let us transfer through Pharasine. 12And they abandoned their the ark of our God to us, since they have not gods there, and Daid said that they burn them sought it since the days of Saoul." 4And all the as-with fire.

sembly stated that this should be done, since the 13 And allophytes added yet and again raided plan seemed right in the view of all the people.

in the valley of the giants. 14And Daid again in-

5 And Daid assembled all Israel from the bor- quired by God, and God said to him, "You shall ders of Egypt and as far as the entrance of Hemath, not go after them. Turn back from them, and con-to bring the ark of God from the city of larim. front them near the pear trees. 15And it shall be 6And Dauid brought it up, and all Israel went up when you hear the sound of the rustling of the

to Dauid's city, which was in loudas, to bring up tops of the pear trees, then you will go out to bat-from there the ark of God the Lord, sitting on the tle, for God has gone out before you to strike down cheroubin, of hima by whose name it is called. the camp of the allophytes." 16And he did as God 7And they set the ark of God on a new cart from had commanded him and struck down the camp

the house of Aminadab, and Oza and his brothers of the allophytes from Gabaon to Gazara. 17And directed the cart.
8And Dauid and all Israel were Dauid's name was in all the land, and the Lord put playingb before God with all their might and with the fear of him into all the nations.

harp-singers and with cinyrasc and with nablasc, with drums and with cymbals and with trumpets.

And he made houses for himself in Dauid's

9 And they came to the threshing floor, and 15 city. And he prepared the place for the ark Oza stretched out his hand to hold the ark, be- of God and made a tent for it. 2Then Dauid said, cause the ox was tilting it. 10And the Lord raged "It is not fit for anyone to lift the ark of God, save with anger against Oza and struck him down on the Leuites, as the Lord has chosen them to lift the the spot for stretching out his hand to the ark, and Lord's ark and to minister to him forever. 3And he died there before God. 11And Dauid was vexed Dauid assembled all Israel in Ierousalem, to bring that the Lord had struck a striking out at Oza, and up the ark of the Lord to the place he had prepared called that place Oza's Striking Out, to this day. for it. 4And Daud gathered the sons of Aaron and 12And Daud was afraid of God that day, saying, the Leuites. 5Of the sons of Kaath: Ouriel the chief

"How shall I bring the ark of God closer to me?" and his brothers, one hundred and twenty. 6Of the 13And Daud did not transfer the ark closer to him sons of Merari: Asaia the chief and his brothers, to Daud's city but diverted it to the house of Abed- two hundred and fifty. 7Of the sons of Gersam: dara the Geththite. 14And the ark of God sat in loel the chief and his brothers, one hundred and Abeddara's house for three months. And God fifty. 8Of the sons of Elisaphan: Samaias the chief blessed Abeddaram and all that he had.

and his brothers, two hundred. 9Of the sons of Chebron: Eliel the chief and his brothers, eighty.

10

And Chiram, king of Tyre, sent messengers

Of the sons of Oziel: Aminadab the chief and his 14 to Daud and cedar wood and masons for brothers,onehundredandtwelve.

walls and carpenters for woodwork, to build a

11 And Daud summoned the priests Sadok house for him. 2And Daud knew that God had es- and Abiathar and the Leuites Ouriel, Asaia, loel, tablished him over Israel, because his kingdom Samaia, Eliel, Aminadab.

12And he said to them, was increased in loftiness for the sake of his people “You are the rulers of the paternal families of the Israel.

Leuites; be sanctified, you and your brothers, and

3 And Daudid took more wives in Ierousalem, bring up the ark of the God Israel to where I have and again sons and daughters were born to Daudid. prepared for it, 13because when you were not 4And these are the names of them that were born, around earlier our God cut into us, as we did not whom he had in Ierousalem: Samaa, Isobaam, Na- seek by means of a ruling.” 14And the priests and than, Salomon 5and Ibaar and Elisae and Eliphalet Leuites were sanctified to bring up the ark of Isra-6and Nage and Naphag and lanouou 7and Eli-el’s God. 15And the sons of the Leuites took the ark samae and Balegdæ and Eliphalet.

of God with carrying-poles on them, as Moyses

8 And allophytes heard that Daudid had been commanded with a divine word according to pre-anointed king over all Israel, and all the allophytes scription.

went up to search out Daudid. And Daudid heard

16 And Daudid said to the rulers of the Leuites, and went out to confront them. 9And allophytes “Install their brothers, the harp-singers, with in-came and raided in the valley of the giants. 10And struments of songs, with nablasd and cinyrasc and Daudid inquired of God, saying, "If I go up against cymbals, to articulate upward with a sound of the allophytes, will you also give them into my gladness." 17And the Leuites appointed loel's son hands?" And the Lord said to him, "Go up, and I

Haiman; of his brothers there was Asaph son of a.l.e. the Lord's bl.e. sporting c = Heb kinnor = lyre d = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument eHeb = bursting out

358

1 supplements 15-16

Barachia, and from the sons of Merari, his broth-

7 On that day at that time Daudid at first stipu-ers, Aithan son of Kisaiou. 18And with them were lated that they praise the Lord, by the hand of their brothers, the seconds, Zacharias and Oziel Asaph and his brothers.

and Semiramoth and liel and Oni and Eliab and 8

Acknowledge the Lord; call on him by his

Banaia and Maasaia and Mattathia and Eliphalia

name;

and Makenia and Abdedom and liel and Ozias, the make known his practices among gatekeepers, 19 and the harp-singers, Haiman, peoples.

Asaph and Aithan, to produce sound with bronze 9

Sing to him, and sing hymns to him;

cymbals, 20Zacharias and Oziel, Semiramoth, Iiel, tell to all his wonderful things, which the Oni, Eliab, Masaias and Banaias with nablasa on Lord has done.

alaimothb, 21and Mattathias and Eliphalias and 10

Praise in his holy name.

Makenias and Abdedom and Iiel and Ozias to

When a heart seeks his good pleasure, it support them with cinyrasc amasenithb, 22and shall be glad.

Chonenias, chief of the Leuites, chief of the singers, 11

Seek the Lord, and be strong; because he was intelligent. 23And Barachias and seek his face continually.

Elkana were gatekeepers of the ark, 24 and Sobnia 12

Be mindful of his wonderful things, which and Iosaphat and Nathanael and Amasai and he did,

Zacharia and Banai and Eliezer the priests were miracles and judgments of his mouth, trumpeting with the trumpets before the ark of 13

O offspring of Israel, his servants,

God. And Abdedom and Iia were gatekeepers of sons of Iakob, his chosen ones.

the ark of God.

25 And there was Daud and the elders of Isra- 14

The Lord himself is our God;

el and the officers of thousands, who advanced to

in all the earth are his judgments, lead the ark of the Lord's covenant up from Abde- 15

since he is mindful of his covenant forever, dom's house with gladness. 26 And it happened, his word that he commanded for a when God strengthened the Leuites as they were thousand generations,

carrying the ark of the Lord's covenant, that they 16
which he pledged to Abraam, sacrificed seven calves and seven rams. 27And
and his oath to Isaak.

Dauid was girded with a linen garment, and all the 17
He established it for Iakob as an ordinance, Leuites, as they carried the ark of the Lord's cov-for Israel as an everlasting covenant, enant, and the harp-singers, and Chonenias the 18 saying, "To you I will give the land of chief of the singers that sing, and Dauid had on a

Chanaan

linen garment. 28 And all Israel brought up the ark
as a parcel for your inheritance.”

of the Lord’s covenant with declamation and with the sound of sopherd and with trumpets and with 19

When they became very few in number, cymbals, sounding with nablasa and with cinyrasc.

as they were diminished and lived as 29 And the ark of the Lord’s covenant came,

resident aliens in it, and it reached the city of Daudid, and Melchol, 20

they also advanced from nation to nation

Saoul’s daughter, peeped out of the window and

and from kingdom to another people.

saw King Daudid dancing and sporting, and she de- 21

He allowed no man to dominate them, spised him in her heart.

and he rebuked kings for their sake:

22

“Do not touch my anointed ones,

And they brought in the ark of God and set

and among my prophets do no harm.”

16 in the middle of the tent that David had pitched for it, and they offered whole burnt offer- 23

Sing to the Lord, all the earth;

ings and of deliverance before God. 2 And David declare his deliverance from day to day, finished offering whole burnt offerings and of de- 25

because great is the Lord and highly praised; liverance and blessed the people in the Lord’s

he is terrible to all the gods, name. 3 And he distributed to every man in Israel— 26 because all the gods of the nations are idols, from man even to woman—one baker’s loaf of but our God made the sky.

bread and a sweet cake.

27

Glory and commendation are before him,

4 And he appointed some of the Levites as strength and boasting in his place.

ministers before the ark of the Lord's covenant, proclaiming both to acknowledge and to praise 28

Give to the Lord, O paternal families of the the Lord, God of Israel; 5Asaph was the leader, and
nations;

acting as his second was Zacharias, Iiel, Semira-give to the Lord glory and strength.

moth, Iiel, Mattathias, Eliab and Banaïas and 29

Give to the Lord the glory of his name;

Abdedom and Iiel, with instruments, nablasa and take gifts, and bring them before him.

Cinyrasc and Asaph sounding with cymbals 6and

And do obeisance to the Lord in his holy the priests Banaïas and Oziel with trumpets con-courts.

tinually before the ark of God's covenant.

30

Let all the earth fear from before him;

a = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument bHeb = unknown musical term c = Heb kinnor = lyre dHeb = horn e.e. oath

1 supplements 16-18

359

let the earth be firmly founded and not be a leader over my people Israel. 8And I was with
be shaken.

you in every place to which you went and utterly 31

Let the sky be glad and the earth rejoice, destroyed all your enemies from before you and
and let them say among the nations that made for you a name like the name of the great the Lord is king.

ones on the earth. 9And I will appoint a place for 32

The sea shall roar together with its fullness, my people Israel and will plant them, and they will
and the tree of the field and everything encamp on their own and will no longer be con-

in it.

cerned, and injustice will not add to humiliate

33

Then the wood of the forest will be glad them as at the outset. 10And from the days I ap-

before the Lord,

pointed judges over my people Israel I also laid because he came to judge the earth.

low all your enemies.

34

Acknowledge the Lord, for it is good,

And I shall make you grow, and the Lord will

because his mercy is forever.

build you a house. 11And it shall be, when your days are fulfilled and you lie down with your fa-35And say,

thers, also I will raise up your seed after you, he “Save us, O God of our salvation, who shall be from your belly, and I will establish and deliver us from the nations, his kingdom. 12It is he who shall build me a to praise your holy name house, and I will set up his throne forever. 13I will and boast in your praises.

be a father to him, and he shall be a son to me.

36

Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from

And I will not withdraw my mercy from him as I everlasting to everlasting.”

withdrew it from those before you. 14And I will

And all the people shall say, “Amen!”

confirm him in my house and in his reign forever.

And they praised the Lord.

And his throne shall be established forever. 15In

37 And they left there Asaph and his brothers accordance with all these words and all that vision

before the ark of the Lord’s covenant to minister

Nathan spoke to Daud,

before the ark continually what was required from

16 And King Daud went and sat before the day to day. 38And Abdedom and his brothers were Lord and said, "Who am I, Lord God, and what is sixty-eight, and Abdedom son of Idithon and my house, that you have loved me forever? 17And Hossa became gatekeepers. 39And at they left a Sadok this was a small thing before you, God, and you the priest and his brothers the priests before the have spoken about your servant's house from afar, Lord's tent in Bama, which is in Gabaon, 40to offer and you looked upon me as a vision of a human whole burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar of being and exalted me, Lord God. 18What shall whole burnt offerings continually in the morning David add to you to glorify? And you know your and evening and according to all that is written in slave. 19And according to your heart you have the Lord's law, which he commanded upon the done all this greatness. 20Lord, no one is like you, sons of Israel by the hand of Moyses, God's atten- and there is no one but you according to all that dant. 41And with him were Haiman and Idithon we have heard with our ears. 21And there is no naand the rest chosen by name to praise the Lord, for tion on the earth like your people Israel, as God di-his mercy is forever. 42And with them were trum- rected it to redeem it as a people for himself, to pets and cymbals to sound and instruments for place upon it his great and illustrious name to God's songs; Idithon's sons were for the gate.

drive out nations from before your people whom

43 And all the people went, each to his house, you redeemed from Egypt. 22And you gave your and David returned to bless his house.

people Israel to yourself as a people forever, and you, Lord, became their God.

And it happened, when Daudid settled in 23 “And now, Lord, let the word you spoke to 17 his house, Daudid also said to the prophet your servant and concerning his house be con-Nathan, “Look, I am living in a house of cedar, and firmed forever, 24 when they say, ‘Lord, Lord the ark of the Lord’s covenant is under skins.” Almighty, God of Israel, and the house of your ser-2And Nathan said to Daudid, “Do all that you have vant Daudid established before you!’ 25For you, in mind, because God is with you.”

Lord, have opened your servant’s ear to build him

3 And it happened in that night, and a word of a house. Therefore your servant found it possible the Lord came to Nathan, saying: 4Go, and tell to pray in your presence. 26And now, Lord, you are Daudid my servant: Thus said the Lord, You shall the selfsame God and have spoken these good not build me a house to live in it, 5because I have things regarding your slave. 27And now you have not lived in a house since the day I brought up Is- begun in order to bless your servant’s house for it rael until this day, and I was in a tent and in a lodg- to be before you forever, because you, Lord, have ing. 6In all the areas I traversed in all Israel, when blessed it. And bless it forever!”

speaking did I speak to one tribe of Israel to shepherd my people, saying, You have not built me a

And it happened after these things that house of cedar? 7And now thus you will say to my 18 Daid struck the allophytes and put them slave Daid: This is what the Lord Almighty says: I to flight and seized Geth and its villages from the took you from the fold from behind the flocks to hand of allophytes.

aLacking in Gk

360

1 supplements 18-20

2 And he struck Moab, and Moab were David's tile and sent them away. 5And they came to report servants, bearing gifts.

to David concerning the men, and he sent to meet

3 And David struck Hadraazar, king of Souba them, because they had been severely dishonored.

Hemath, when he was advancing to put his hand And the king said, "Sit in Iericho until your beards on the river Euphrates. 4And David took in ad- regrow, and return."

vance of them a thousand chariots and seven thou-

6 And the sons of Ammon saw that David's sand horses and twenty thousand infantry men. people had been disgraced, and Hanan and the And David hamstringed all the chariot-horses but sons of Ammon sent a thousand silver talents to left one hundred chariot-horses of them. 5And the hire for themselves chariots and cavalry from Syrian came from Damascus to help Hadraazar, Mesopotamian Syria and Syrian Moocha and from king of Souba. And David struck down twenty-two Soba. 7And they hired thirty-two thousand chari-thousand men of the Syrian. 6And David put a gar- ots and the king of Mocha and his people, and rison in Syria opposite Damascus, and they be- they came and encamped before Maidaba, and the came David's servants, bearing gifts. And the Lord sons of Ammon mustered from their cities and kept saving David in all he went through. 7 And he came to do battle. 8 And David heard and sent Joab. David took the gold collars, which were on and all his army of mighty men. 9 And the sons of Hadraazar's servants, and brought them to Jerou- Ammon came out and are taking up position for salem. 8 And from the metabechaa and from battle by the gateway of the city, and the kings who Hadraazar's select cities David took very much had come encamped by themselves in the plain.

bronze; with it Salomon made the bronze sea and 10 And Joab saw that they had lined up against the pillars and the bronze vessels.

him on both sides in the van and at the rear. And 9 And Thoa, king of Hemath, heard that David he selected from every youth of Israel, and they had struck the whole force of Hadraazar, king of took up position against the Syrian. 11 And he gave Souba, 10 and he sent his son Hidouram to King the rest of the people in the hand of his brother David to ask him the terms for peace and to bless Abessa, and they formed up opposite the sons of him for waging war on Hadraazar and striking Ammon. 12 And he said, "If the Syrian is too strong him, because Thoa had been a man at war with for me, then you will be my relief, and if the sons Hadraazar, and bhe sentb all the silver and gold of Ammon are too strong for you, then I will save vessels. 11 And David dedicated these to the Lord you. 13 Be manly, and let us show our strength for along with the silver and gold that he had taken our people and for the cities of our God, and the from all the nations, from Idumea and Moab and Lord will do what is right in his eyes." 14 And Joab from the sons of Ammon and from the allophytes and the people with him lined up for battle against and from Amalek.

the Syrians, and they fled before him. 15And the 12 And Abessa son of Sarouia struck down Id- sons of Ammon saw that the Syrians had fled; then umea in the Valley of Salt, eighteen thousand men. they too fled from before loab and from before 13And he put garrisons in the valley, and all the Abessa his brother, and they came into the city.

Idumeans became Daud's servants. And the Lord And loab came into Ierousalem.

kept saving Daud in all he went through.

16 And the Syrian saw that Israel had routed

14 And Daud reigned over all Israel and was him, and he sent messengers, and they brought executing judgment and justice to all his people. out the Syrian from the other side of the river, and 15And loab son of Sarouia was over the army, and

Sophach, commander in chief of Hadraazar's

Iosaphat son of Achiloud was recorder. 16And force, was at their head. 17And it was reported to Sadok son of Achitob and Achimelech son of Abi- Daud, and he gathered all Israel and crossed the athar were priests, and Sousa was scribe, 17and Ba- Jordan and came against them and lined up naias son of Iodae was over Chereththi and against them. And the Syrian is in formation op-Pheleththi, and Daud's sons were the king's fore- posite Daud and fought him. 18And the Syrian most deputies.

fled from before David, and David killed seven thousand chariots of the Syrian and forty thou-

And it happened after these things, Naas, sand infantry, and he killed Sophach, the com-

19 king of Ammon's sons, died, and his son Mander in chief of the force. 19 And Hadraazar's Hanan became king in his stead. 2 And David said, servants saw that they had been defeated from be-

"I will do mercy with Naas' son Hanan as his father did mercy with me." And David sent messengers to console him concerning his father. And he will in order to help the sons of Ammon.

David's servants came to the land of Ammon's sons to console him. 3 And the rulers of Ammon

And it happened in the following year, at said to Hanan, "Surely not to honor your father 20 the marching out of the kings, and loab led before you has David sent to you men to console? out the entire force of the army, and they ravaged Is it not in order to investigate the city to spy out the country of the sons of Ammon. And he came the land that his servants have come to you?" 4 And and besieged Rabba, and David sat in Jerusalem.

Hanan seized David's servants and shaved them And loab struck down Rabba and razed it. 2 And and removed half of their cloaks as far as the man-David took the crown of Molchol, their king, from aHeb = from Tibhath? bLacking in Gk cl.e. charioteers

1 supplements 20-21

361

his head, and its weight was found to be a gold tal- deed fall into the Lord's hands, because his com-ent, and in it was a precious stone, and it was on passion is plentiful. And I will not fall into the Daid's head. And he brought out the booty of the hands of men."

city, a very great amount. 3And he led out the peo-

14 And the Lord brought on death in Israel, ple who were in it, and hea sawed with saws and and of Israel seventy thousand men fell. 15And with iron adzes. And so Daid did to all the sons God sent forth an angel to lerousalem to destroy it of Ammon. And Daid and all his people returned utterly. And as he destroyed it utterly, the Lord saw to lerousalem.

and relented over the calamity and said to the ut-

4 And it happened after this, and there was terly destroying angel, "Let it be enough for you.

again war in Gazer with the allophytes. Then Stay your hand." And the angel of the Lord stood Sobochai the Housathi struck down Saphou, one in the threshing floor of Orna the lebousite. 16And of the sons of the giants, and humbled him. 5And Daid raised his eyes and saw the angel of the Lord there was again war with the allophytes. And El-standing between the earth and between the sky, lanan son of lair struck down Leemi brother of Go- and his sword drawn in his hand, stretched out liath the Geththite, and the wood of his spear was over Jerusalem. And David and the elders, like part of a loom of weavers. 6And there was war clothed in sackcloth, fell on their faces. 17And again in Geth, and there was a massive man, and David said to God, "Was it not I who said that they his digits were six and six, twenty-four, and he was count among the people? And it is I who was sina descendant of giants. 7And he defied Israel and ning; doing wrong I did wrong. And these sheep, Jonathan son of Samaa, David's brother, struck what have they done? Lord God, let your hand be him down. 8These were born to Rapha in Geth. All against me and against my father's house and not four were giants, and they fell by the hand of against your people for destruction, Lord."

David and by the hand of his servants.

18 And an angel of the Lord said to Gad to say to David to go up and erect an altar to the Lord on And a slanderer stood in Israel and incited the threshing floor of Orna the Iebousite. 19And

21 David to count Israel. 2And King David David went up according to the word of Gad, said to Iobab and to the commanders of the force, which he had spoken in the Lord's name. 20And

"Go, count Israel from Bersabee and as far as Dan, Orna turned and saw the king, and four of hisc and bring to me, and I shall know their number." sons were with him methachabind. And Orna was 3And Iobab said, "May the Lord add to his people as winnowing wheat. 21And David came to Ornan,

they are a hundred fold, and may the eyes of my and Orna left the threshing floor and did obei-lord the king see. All servants to my lord! Why sance to Daudid with his face to the ground. 22And does my lord seek this? Lest it be counted as a sin Daudid said to Orna, "Give me your site of the to Israel!" 4But the king's word prevailed against threshing floor, and I will build on it an altar to the loab, and loab went out and went throughout the Lord. Give ite to me for goodly silver, and the territory of Israel and came to Ierousalem. 5And plague will abate from the people." 23And Orna loab gave the count of the review of the people to said to Daudid, "Take it for yourself, and let my lord Daudid, and all Israel was one million one hundred the king do what is good before him. See, I have thousand men having drawn a dagger, and loudas given the oxen as a whole burnt offering and the was four hundred and eighty thousand men hav-plough and the carts for wood and the grain for a ing drawn a dagger. 6And he did not count Leui sacrifice. I have given it all." 24And King Daudid said and Benjamin among them, because the king's to Orna, "No, because buying I am buying with word overpoweredb loab.

goodly silver, because I will not take for the Lord

7 And it appeared wicked before God concern- what is yours, to offer a whole burnt offering to the ing this matter, and he struck Israel. 8And Daudid Lord for nothing." 25And Daudid gave Orna six said to God, "I have sinned greatly, because I did hundred shekels of gold by weight for his site.

26

this deed. And now do take away your servant's

And Daudid built there an altar to the Lord and evil, for I have gone far astray.” 9And the Lord offered whole burnt offerings and for deliverance.

spoke to Gad, David’s seer, saying: 10“Go, and And he shouted to the Lord, and he heeded him speak to David and say, ‘Thus says the Lord: Three with fire from the sky on the altar of the whole things I am raising up against you. Choose one of burnt offering, and it consumed the whole burnt them for yourself, and I will do it to you.’ ” 11And offering. 27And the Lord spoke to the angel, and he Gad came to David and said to him, “Thus says the put his sword back into its sheath.

Lord, ‘Choose for yourself: 12either three years of 28 At that time, when David saw that the Lord famine or that you flee three months from before had heeded him on the threshing floor of Orna the your enemies and that your enemies’ dagger de- lebousite, he also sacrificed there. 29And the Lord’s stroy utterly, or the Lord’s sword and death on the tent, which Moyses had made in the wilderness, land for three days, while an angel of the Lord is and the altar of whole burnt offerings at that time also destroying utterly in all Israel’s inheritance.’ were in Bama in Gabaon. 30And David was not Now then, consider how I am to answer a word to able to go before itf to inquire of God, because he the one who sent me.” 13And David said to Gad, made haste from before the sword of the angel of “All three are extremely difficult for me. I will in-the Lord.

aPossibly they i.e. the people bPerhaps numbered cI.e. Orna’s dHeb = hiding themselves eI.e. the site f the altar

1 supplements 22-23

22 And Daid said, "This is the house of the your hearts and your souls to seek for the Lord, Lord God, and this is the altar for whole your God, and rise and build a holy precinct for burnt offering for Israel."

the Lord, your God, to bring the ark of the Lord's

2 And Daid said to gather all the guests in the covenant and God's holy vessels into the house land of Israel, and he appointed them as quarry- that is being built for the Lord's name."

men, to quarry dressed stones to build a house for

God. 3 And Daid prepared a lot of iron for the

And Daid was an old man and full of nails of the doorways and of the gates, and the 23 days, and he made Salomon his son king clamps and bronze in abundance beyond weigh- over Israel in his stead.

ing, 4 and cedar logs without number, for the Sido-

2 And he gathered all the rulers of Israel and nians and Tyrians were bringing cedar logs to the priests and the Leuites. 3 And the Leuites, thirty Daid in abundance. 5 And Daid said, "Salomon, years old and upward, were counted, and their my son, is a tender lad, and as for the house—in number by their head came to thirty-eight thou-order that he may build it to the Lord unto lofty sand men. 4 Of these twenty-four thousand were magnificence, unto fame and unto reputation taskmasters over the tasks of the Lord's house, and throughout the earth, I shall make preparations for six thousand were scribes and judges, 5and four it." And Daud prepared in abundance before his thousand were gatekeepers, and four thousand death.

praising the Lord with instruments that he made to 6 And he called Salomon his son and com- praise the Lord. 6And Daud divided them in class-manded him that he should build the house for es by the sons of Leui: Gedson, Kaath and Merari, the Lord, God of Israel. 7And Daud said to Sa- 7and by Parosom, by Edan and by Semei. 8Edan's lomon, "Child, I had it in mind to build a house sons: liel the chief and Zethom and loel, three.

for the name of the Lord God. 8And a word of the 9Semei's sons: Salomith and Hiiel and Haidan, Lord came to me, saying, 'You have shed blood in three. These were rulers of the paternal families of abundance and have waged great wars; you shall Edan. 10And by the sons of Semei: leth and Ziza not build a house to my name, because you have and loas and Beria: these were Semei's sons, four.

shed much blood before me upon the earth. 9Be- 11And leth was the chief and Ziza the second. And hold, a son is being born to you; he shall be a man loas and Beria did not multiply sons, and they be-of repose, and I will give him repose from all the came a paternal house and one enrollment.

enemies on every side, because his name shall be

12 Kaath's sons: Ambram, Issaar, Chebron,

Salomon, and I will bestow peace and quiet on Is- Oziel, four.
13Amram's sons: Aaron and Moyses.

rael in his days. 10He shall build a house for my And Aaron was set apart to consecrate the holy of name, and he will be a son to me, and I will be a holies, he and his sons forever to offer incense be-father to him, and I shall set right the throne of his fore the Lord, to minister and to pray to his name kingdom in Israel forever.' 11And now, my son, the forever. 14And Moyses was a man of God: his sons Lord will be with you and will make you prosper, were acalled intoa the tribe of Leui. 15Moyses' sons: and you will build a house for the Lord, your God, Gersam and Eliezer. 16Gersam's sons: Soubael the as he has spoken concerning you. 12Only, may the chief. 17And Eliezer had sons: Raabia the chief.

Lord grant you wisdom and understanding and And Eliezer did not have other sons, but Raabia's strengthen you over Israel both to watch over and sons were increased in heightb. 18Issaar's sons: Sa-to do the law of the Lord your God. 13Then he will lomoth the chief. 19Chebron's sons: Idoud the make you prosper, if you take care to do the ordi-chief, Amadia the second, Oziel the third, Ikemias nances and the judgments, which the Lord com- the fourth. 20Oziel's sons: Michas the chief and manded Moyses for Israel. Be manly, and be Isia the second.

strong; do not be afraid or terrified. 14And behold,

21 Merari's sons: Mooli and Mousi. Mooli's

I, in accordance with my indigence, have prepared sons: Eleazar and Kis. 22And Eleazar died and had for the Lord's house one hundred thousand talents no sons, only daughters, and Kis' sons, their broth-of gold and one million talents of silver and ers, married them. 23Mousi's sons:

Mooli and Eder bronze and iron without measure, because there is and larimoth, three.

in abundance, and timber and stones I prepared.

24 These were the sons of Leui according to

And add to these! 15And with you there will be a their paternal houses, the rulers of their paternal host of people doing tasks: craftsmen and stone- families according to their enrollment according masons and workmen in wood and every person to the number of their names by head, those skilled in every kind of work. 16In gold, in silver, in twenty years old and upward who performed the bronze and in iron —there is without number. tasks of ministration in the house of the Lord, Arise, and act, and the Lord be with you.”

25because Daudid said, “The Lord God of Israel

17 And Daudid commanded all the rulers of Is- has given his people repose and has made his rael to assist his son Salomon: 18“Is not the Lord abode in Ierousalem forever.” 26And the Leuites with you? And he has given you repose on every were not carrying the tent and all its articles for its side, for he has given in your hands the inhabitants ministration, 27because in Daudid’s last words was of the land, and the land has become subdued be- the number of Leui’s sons from twenty years old fore the Lord and before his people. 19Now give and upward, 28for he appointed them for the aPossibly reckoned among bOr grandeur

1 supplements 23-25

363

hand of Aaron to minister in the Lord's house their father, as the Lord God of Israel had com-over the courts and the shrine-carriers' chambers manded.

and over the purification of all the holy things

20 And for the rest of the sons of Leui: for the

and over the tasks of ministering to the house of sons of Ambram, Soubael; for the sons of Soubael, God, 29with regard to the loaves of presentation, Iadia; 21for Raabia, the chief Isias, 22and for Issari, with regard to the flour of the sacrifice and with Salomoth; for the sons of Salomoth, Iath.

regard to the unleavened cakes and with regard to 23Iediou's sons: Amadia the second, Iaziel the the frying-pan and with regard to the mixed of- third, Iokom the fourth. 24Oziel's sons: Micha; fering and with regard to every measure, 30and to Micha's sons: Samer. 25Micha's brother: Isia; Isia's stand in the morning to praise to acknowledge sons: Zacharia. 26Merari's sons: Mooli and Mousi, the Lord, and likewise at evening, 31and to be in sons of Ozia, sons of Bonni. 27Merari's sons: of charge of all the whole burnt offerings presented Ozia—his sons were Isoam and Zakchour and to the Lord on the sabbaths and on the new Abdi. 28Mooli had Eleazar and Ithamar. And Elea-moons and on the feasts according to number, zar died, and he had no sons. 29Of Kis—Kis' sons: according to the judgment upon them, always to Iramael. 30And Mousi's sons: Mooli and Eder and the Lord. 32And they shall keep the watches of Iarimoth. These were the sons of the Leuites ac-the tent of witness and the watches of the sons of cording to their paternal houses. 31And they also Aaron, their brothers, to minister in the Lord's took lots like their brothers, sons of Aaron, before house.

the king and Sadok and Achimelech and the rulers of the paternal families of the priests and of the

And the sons of Aaron had divisions:

Leuites. Patriarchs of Haraab they were, as were his 24 Aaron's sons: Nadab and Abioud, Eleazar youngerbrothers.

and Ithamar. 2And Nadab and Abioud died before their father and had no sons. And Eleazar and Ith-

And Daid the king and the commanders amar, Aaron's sons, officiated as priests. 3And 25 of the force assigned the sons of Asaph and Daid and Sadok of the sons of Eleazar and Haiman and Idithon to their tasks as bthose that Achimelech of the sons of Ithamar divided them make pronouncementsb with cinyrasc and with according to their enrollment, according to their nablasd and with cymbals. And their number by ministration, according to their paternal houses. head, as they worked at their tasks, was: 2Asaph's 4And Eleazar's sons were found to be more nu-sons: Zakchour and Ioseph and Nathanas and merous as chiefs of the mighty ones than Ithamar's Erael, sons of Asaph next to Asaph the prophet, sons, and he divided them up: sixteen as rulers of next to the king. 3For Idithon, Idithon's sons: paternal houses to the sons Eleazar and eight to Godolia and Souri and Isaia and Semei and the sons of Ithamar, according to their paternal Hasabia and Mattathias, six, striking up on the houses. 5And he divided them by lot, these with cinyrac, after their father Idithon, acknowledge-these, for they were officers of the holy things and ment and praise to the Lord. 4For Haimani, officers of the Lord among the sons of Eleazar and Haiman's sons: Boukias and Manthanas and among the sons of Ithamar. 6And Samaias son of Azarael and Soubael and Ierimoth and Hananias Nathanael, the scribe, one of Leui, recorded them and Hanani and Eliatha and Godollathi and in the presence of the king and of the officers. And Romemthi-od and lesbakasa and Mallethi and there was Sadok the priest and Achimelech son of Hotheri and Meazoth. 5All these were sons of Abiathar and rulers of the paternal families of the Haiman, who struck up for the king with divine priests and of the Leuites, aone by onea for a pater- words to exalt his horn. And God gave Haiman nal house for Eleazar and aone by onea for Itha- fourteen sons and three daughters. 6All these sang mar.

hymns in the Lord's house with their father with 7 And the first lot came out for Iarib, and the cymbals and with nablasd and with cinyrasc—near second for Ideia, 8the third for Charem, the fourth the king and Asaph and Idithon and Haimani.

for Seorim, 9the fifth for Melchia, the sixth for Mi- 7And their number was aftere their brothers, they amin, 10the seventh for Kos, the eighth for Abia, having been trained to sing to the Lord, everyone

11the ninth for Iesou, the tenth for Sechenia, 12the intelligent: two hundred and eighty-eight. 8And eleventh for Eliasib, the twelfth for Iakim, 13the they too cast lots for classes, both small and great thirteenth for Hochchophpha, the fourteenth for of masters and apprentices.

Isbaal, 14th the fifteenth for Belga, the sixteenth for 9 And the first lot of his sons and those of his

Emmer, 15th the seventeenth for Chezir, the eighth- brothers came out for Asaph, for Ioseph: Godolia; tenth for Haphesse, 16th the nineteenth for Phetaia, the second was Enia, his brothers and his sons, the twentieth for Ezekel, 17th the twenty-first for twelve; 10th the third was Zakchour, his sons and his Iachin, the twenty-second for Gamoul, 18th the twen- brothers, twelve; 11th the fourth was Iesdri, his sons ty- third for Dalaia, the twenty-fourth for Maasai. and his brothers, twelve; 12th the fifth was Nathanias, 19 This is their enrollment according to their min- his sons and his brothers, twelve; 13th the sixth was istraton to enter the house of the Lord according Boukias, his sons and his brothers, twelve; 14th the to their appointment through the hand of Aaron seventh was Iseriel, his sons and his brothers, a.l.e. one each bPossibly choristers

c = Heb kinnor = lyre d = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument ePerhaps next after

364

1 supplements 25-27

twelve; 15th the eighth was Iosia, his sons and his north four in the day, on the south four in the day, brothers, twelve; 16th the ninth was Manthanias, his and at the esephinb two. 18As deputies, and at the sons and his brothers, twelve; 17th the tenth was west there were four, and for the path two deputies.

Semei, his sons and his brothers, twelve; 18th the 19 These were the divisions of the gatekeepers for eleventh was Azaria, his sons and his brothers, the sons of Kore and the sons of Merari.

twelve; 19the twelfth was Hasabia, his sons and his

20 And the Leuites, their brothers, had charge brothers, twelve; 20the thirteenth was Soubael, his of the treasuries of the Lord's house and had sons and his brothers, twelve; 21the fourteenth was charge of the treasuries of the dedicated things: Mattathias, his sons and his brothers, twelve; 22the 21Ladan's sons, sons belonging to Ladan the Ger-fifteenth was Ierimoth, his sons and his brothers, soni, rulers of the paternal families belonging to twelve; 23the sixteenth was Hananias, his sons and Ladan the Gersoni, liel.

his brothers, twelve; 24the seventeenth was les-

22 And liel's son: the brothers Zethom and loel bakasa, his sons and his brothers, twelve; 25the were in charge of the treasuries of the Lord's house.

eighteenth was Hanani, his sons and his brothers, 23For Ambram and Issaar: Chebron and Oziel.

twelve; 26the nineteenth was Mellethi, his sons 24And Soubael the son of Gersam the son of Moy-and his brothers, twelve; 27the twentieth was ses, leader in charge of the treasuries. 25And his Eliatha, his sons and his brothers, twelve; 28the brother Eliezer had sons Raabias and losaias and twenty-first was Hethir, his sons and his brothers, Ioram and Zechri and Salomoth. 26Salomoth him-twelve; 29the twenty-second was Godollathi, his self and his brothers were in charge of all the treasons and his brothers, twelve; 30the twenty-third suries of the holy things, which King Daid and was Meazoth, his sons and his brothers, twelve; the rulers of the paternal families, the officers of 31the twenty-fourth was Romemthi-od, his sons thousands and the officers of hundreds and the

and his brothers, twelve.

commanders of the force, had sanctified. 27Hec had taken them from the wars and from the spoils

In reference to the divisions of the gates:

and dedicated some of them so as not to delay the 26 forKoreim'ssons,MosollamiasonofKore, construction of the house of God. 28And over all of the sons of Abiasaph. 2And Mosollamia had the holy things of Samouel the prophet and of sons: Zacharias the firstborn, Idiel the second, Saoul the son of Kis and of Abenner the son of Ner Zabadias the third, Iethnouel the fourth, 3Olam and of Ioab the son of Sarouia—everything they the fifth, Ioanan the sixth, Elioenai the seventh. had dedicated was through the hand of Salamoth 4And Abdedom had sons: Samaia the firstborn, and his brothers.

Ioab the second, Ioab the third, Sochar the 29 For Issari: Chonenai and his sons were for fourth, Nathanael the fifth, 5Amiel the sixth, Issa- external duty for Israel, to function as scribes and char the seventh, Phollathi the eighth, because to judge. 30For Chebroni: Hasabias and his broth-God blessed him. 6And to his son Samaia were ers, able-bodied sons, one thousand seven hun-born sons of the firstborn Rosai into his father's dred in charge of the enrollment of Israel across house, because they were able. 7Samaia's sons: the Jordan on the west with regard to every minis-Gothni and Raphael and Obed and Elzabad and tration of the Lord and work of the king. 31Of Che-Achiou, able sons, Eliou, Sabchia and Isbakom. broni: loudias the chief of those of Chebroni ac-8All these were of the sons of Abdedom, they and cording to their generations by paternal families.

their brothers and their sons, men working might- In the fortieth year of his reign, they were inspectily at their activity, who were all together sixty-two ed, and an able man was found among them in from Abdedom. 9Mosollamia also had sons and lazer of Galaaditis, 32and his brothers, able-bodied brothers, eighteen able men. 10And Hosa of the sons, two thousand seven hundred rulers of pater-sons of Merari had sons who kept office, because nal families. And King David appointed them over he was not the firstborn, but his father made him Roubeni and Gaddi and the half-tribe of Manasses chief 11of the second division. Tablai was the third; with regard to every ordinance of the Lord and Zacharias was the fourth; all these, sons and broth- word of the king.

ers to Hosa, were thirteen.

12 For these were the divisions of the gates, for

And as for Israel's sons according to their

the chiefs of the mighty men, classes as their 27 number, rulers of paternal families, officers brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord. of thousands and officers of hundreds and scribes, 13And they cast lots, small and great alike, accord-those ministering to the people and for every word ing to their paternal houses for a gateway and gate- of the king according to divisions, for every matter waya. 14And

the lot for those on the east fell to of the one entering and exiting, from month to Salamia and Zacharia; loas' sons threw lots for month for all the months of the year—one divi-Melchia, and the lot came out for the north. 15For sion was twenty-four thousand.

Abdedom was on the south, opposite the house of

2 And lesboam the son of Zabdiel was in esephinb. 16In reference to a second one: for Hosa charge of the first division of the first month, and was westward, after the gate of the shrine-carrier's in his division were twenty-four thousand. 3He chamber on the ascent, watch opposite watch. was from the sons of Phares, a commanderd of all 17On the east there were six during the day, on the

the commanders of the force for the first month.

a.l.e. each of the gateways bHeb = stores c.l.e. David d.l.e. lesboam

1 supplements 27-28

365

4And Dodia the Echochi was in charge of the divi-

the soil, was Esdri the son of Choloub. 27And over

sion of the second month, and twenty-four thou- the estates was Semei the one from Rama, and over sand were in his division, as commanders of the the stores that were in the estates for wine was force. 5The third for the third month was Banaias Zachri the son of Sephni. 28And over the olive the son of Iodae, the priest, the chief, and twenty- groves and over the mulberry trees that were in the four thousand were in his division. 6Banaias him- valley was Balanas the Gedorite, but over the stores self was stronger than the thirty and in charge of of oil was loas. 29And over the cattle in the pas-the thirty. And his son Amizabath was in charge of tures that were in Asidon was Satrais the Saronite, his division. 7The fourth for the fourth month was and over the cattle that were in the valleys was Asael brother of loab and his son Zabdias and his Sophat the son of Adli. 30Now over the camels was brothers, and there were twenty-four thousand in Obil the Ismaelite, but over the donkeys was ladias his division. 8The fifth for the fifth month was the the one from Merathon. 31And over the sheep was leader Samaoth the lesrae, and there were twenty- laziz the Hagarite. (31)All these were guardians over four thousand in his division. 9The sixth for the King Daud's possessions.

sixth month was Odouias the son of Ekkes the 32 And Ionathan, Daud's uncle, was a coun-

Thekoite, and there were twenty-four thousand in selor; a person of understanding and a scribe he his division. 10The seventh for the seventh month was, and liel the son of Hachamani was with the was Chelles of the ones from Phallous of the sons king's sons. 33And Achitophel was the king's coun-of Ephraim, and there were twenty-four thousand selor, and Chousi was aFirst Frienda of the king.

in his division. 11The eighth for the eighth month 34And after this Achitophel, next was Iodae the son was Sobochai the Hisathi, belonging to Zarai, and of Banaias and Abiathar. And loab was the king's there were twenty-four thousand in his division. commander in chief.

12The ninth for the ninth month was Abiezer, the one from Anathoth from the land of Benjamin,

And David assembled at Jerusalem all the

and there were twenty-four thousand in his division. 28 rulers of Israel, rulers of the judges and the sion. 13The tenth for the tenth month was Meera, rulers of the classes, who watched over the king's the one from Netouphat belonging to Zarai, and person, and officers of the thousands and officers there were twenty-four thousand in his division. of the hundreds and the treasurers and those over 14The eleventh for the eleventh month was Bana-his property and the men of substance and the ias, the one from Pharathon of the sons of Ephra- warriors in the army. 2And David stood in the im, and there were twenty-four thousand in his di- midst of the assembly and said, "Hear me, my vision. 15The twelfth for the twelfth month was brothers and people. It was in my heart to build a Choldai the Netophati belonging to Gothoniel, house of repose for the ark of the covenant of the and there were twenty-four thousand in his divi- Lord and a station for the feet of our Lord, and I sion.

prepared the materials for the encamping. 3And

16 And over the tribes of Israel: for Rouben the God said, 'You shall not build me a house for my leader was Eliezer the son of Zechri; for Symeon, name to be called upon it, because you have been Saphatias the son of Maacha; 17for Leui, Hasabias a person of war and have spilled blood.' 4And the the son of Kamouel; for Aaron, Sadok; 18for Lord God of Israel opted for me from all my fa-loudas, Eliab of David's brothers; for Issachar, ther's house to be king over Israel forever. And in Ambri the son of Michael; 19for Zaboulon, Sama- loudas he chose the royal palace and my father's ias the son of Abdiou; for Nephthali, Ierimoth the house out of the house of loudas, and among my son of Esriel; 20for

Ephraim, Hose the son of father's sons he wanted me, that I be king over all Oziou; for the half-tribe of Manasses, Ioel the son Israel. 5And of all my sons (for the Lord has given of Phadaia; 21for the half-tribe of Manasses in me many sons) he opted for my son Salomon, that Galaad, Iaddai the son of Zabdiou; for the sons of he should sit on the throne of the Lord's kingdom Benjamin, Asiel the son of Abenner; 22for Dan, over Israel. 6And God said to me, 'It is Salomon Azarael the son of Ioram. These were the patriarchs your son who shall build my house and my court, of the tribes of Israel. 23And Daudid did not take because I have opted for him to be a son to me and their number, from those twenty years old and I will be a father to him. 7And I will set right his below, because the Lord had said that Israel would kingdom forever, if he holds firm to keeping my multiply like the stars in the sky. 24And Ioab the commandments and my judgments, as this day.'

son of Sarouia began to number among the peo- 8And now in front of all the Lord's assembly and ple, but he did not finish, and wrath occurred in the ears of our God, keep and seek all the com-upon Israel meanwhile and the number was not mandments of the Lord our God in order that you entered in the Book of Histories of the Days of may inherit the good land and bequeath it to your King Daudid.

sons after you forever.

25 And over the king's treasuries was Asmoth

9 "And now, Salomon, my son, know the God

the son of Odiel, and over the treasuries in the of your fathers, and be subject to him with com-open country and in the villages and in the home- plete heart and willing spirit, for the Lord searches steads and in the towers was Ionathan the son of all hearts and knows every notion. If you seek him, Oziou. 26Now over the work on the land, tilling he will let you find him, but if you abandon him, aOr first friend

366

1 supplements 28-29

he will abandon you completely. 10See, though, thousands and the officers of hundreds and the that the Lord has chosen you to build him a house overseers of the works and the king's stewards as a holy precinct. Be strong, and act."

showed zeal. 7And they gave for the tasks connect-

11 And Daid gave Salomon his son the plan of ed with the Lord's house five thousand talents of the shrine and of its houses and of its zakchoa and gold and ten thousand gold coins and ten thou-of the upper chambers and of the inner store- sand talents of silver and eighteen thousand tal-rooms and of the house of atonement 12and the ents of bronze and one thousand one hundred tal-plan, which he had in his spirit, of the courts of the ents of iron. 8And those with whom stone was Lord's house and of all the shrine-carriers' cham- found gave it for the stores of the house of the Lord bers around that pertain to the stores of the Lord's through the hand of Iiel the Gersoni. 9And the house and of the stores of the sacred things 13and people were glad at the zeal that was shown, be-of the lodgings of the classes of the priests and cause they had shown zeal for the Lord with a full Leuites pertaining to every work of ministration of heart, and King Daid was gladdened greatly.

the Lord's house and of the stores of the liturgical

10 And King Daud blessed the Lord before the vessels for service in the Lord's house. 14And bhe assembly, saying, "Blessed are you, Lord God of Is-gave himb the weightc of their weight, both of the rael, our father from age even unto age. 11Yours, gold and the silver. 15And he gave him the weight Lord, is the greatness and the power and the boast of the lampstands and of the lamps. 16He likewise and the victory and the strength, because you have gave him the weight of the tables of presentation— dominion over everything in the sky and on the of each gold table and likewise of those of silver— earth. Every king and nation quakes from before 17and of the meat hooks and libation bowls and of you. 12From you are riches and honor. You rule the gold saucers, and the weight of the gold and over all, Lord, the ruler of all rule, and in your silver vessels, kephphoured of each weight. 18And hand are strength and dominance, and it is in your he showed him the weight of the altar of incense of hand, Almighty one, to make all things great and refined gold and the plan of the chariot of the strong. 13And now, Lord, we acknowledge you and cheroubin with their wings outstretched in flight praise the name of your boasting.

and screening the ark of the Lord's covenant.

14 "And who am I, and who are my people, that

19 Daud gave all these to Salomon in writing we have been able to show zeal for you like this? —

by the Lord's hand, according to his surpassing un- because all things are yours and of your own have derstanding, to activate the plan.

we given you, 15because we are resident aliens be-

20 And Daudid said to Salomon his son, "Be fore you and live as resident aliens, like all our fa-strong, and be manly, and act; do not be afraid or thers. Our days on earth are like a shadow, and terrified, because the Lord, my God, is with you and there is no endurance. 16Lord, our God, all this will not fail you nor will he desert you until you abundance that I have made ready that a house to finish all the work of ministration of the house of your holy name be built is from your hand, and all the Lord. 21And behold, the classes of the priests things belong to you. 17And I knew, Lord, that you and the Leuites for every ministry in the house of are the one who tests hearts, and you love righ-God, and with you in every activity is also every teousness. In simplicity of heart I have shown zeal willing person with skill in every craft, and the for all these things, and now I have seen your peo-rulers and all the people, for all your demands!"

ple found here showing zeal for you with gladness.

18Lord, God of our fathers Abraam and Isaak and

And King Daudid said to all the assembly,

Israel, keep these things forever in the thought of

29 "Salomon, my son, one whom the Lord yourpeople'sheart, anddirecttheirheartstoward has chosen for him, is young and tender, and the you. 19And grant to Salomon my son a good heart task is great, for the construction is not for a to do your commandments and your testimonies human but for the Lord God. 2With all my might and your ordinances and to bring to conclusion the I have prepared, for a divine house, gold, silver, construction of your house."

bronze, iron, wood, stones soome—and in pleni-

20 And Daudid said to all the assembly, “Bless

tude—and precious and variegated stones and the Lord, your God,” and all the assembly blessed every costly stone and much marble. 3Moreover, the Lord, God of their fathers, and bowed their since I was well pleased in the house of God, I have knees and did obeisance to the Lord and the king.

21

the gold and silver, which I have amassed for my-

And on the ftomorrow of the first dayf Daudid sac-

self, and see, I have bestowed it on the house of my rificed sacrifices to the Lord and offered whole God for grandeur, apart from what I had made burnt offerings to God, a thousand calves, a thou-ready for the house of the holy things: 4three thou- sand rams, a thousand lambs and their libations sand talents of gold that is from Souphir and seven and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel. 22And thousand talents of fine silver, for the temple walls they ate and drank before the Lord on that day to be overlaid with them 5through the hand of with joy.

craftsmen. Now who is zealous to fill his hands

And they made Daudid’s son Salomon king a sec-today for the Lord?”

ond time and anointed him as king to the Lord

6 And the rulers of the paternal families and and Sadok to the priesthood. 23And Salomon sat the rulers of the sons of Israel and the officers of

on the throne of his father Daud and prospered, aHeb = ? bLacking in Gk cPossibly standard dHeb = bowls

eHeb = onyx? fl.e. the next day

1 supplements 29

367

and all Israel obeyed him. 24The rulers and the ripe old age, full of days, with wealth and honor, men of substance and all the sons of King Daud and Salomon his son became king in his stead.

his father were subordinate to him. 25And the Lord 29Now the rest of the histories of King Daud, the magnified Salomon over and above before all Isra- earlier and the later, are written in the Histories of el and gave him royal majesty the like of which Samouel the Seer and in the Histories of Nathan had never happened to any king before him.

the Prophet and in the Histories of Gad the Seer,

26 And Daud son of Iessai reigned over Israel 30concerning all his reign and his prowess—and 27for forty years, seven years in Chebron and thir-the times that befell him and Israel and all the ty-three in Ierousalem. 28And he passed away at a kingdoms of the earth.

2 SUPPLEMENTS

1 And Salomon son of Daud prevailed over his 16 And the export of Salomon's horses was from kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him

Egypt, and the price of the king's merchants; they and magnified him highly.

would buy to trade. 17 And they would go up and

2 And Salomon spoke to all Israel, to the off- bring back from Egypt one chariot for six hundred cers of thousands and the officers of hundreds and shekels of silver and a horse for one hundred and the judges and all the rulers before Israel, to the fifty. And thus they would bring for all the kings of rulers of the paternal families. 3 And Salomon, and the Chettites and kings of Syria by their hands.

all the assembly with him, went to the high 18(2.1) And Salomon said that he would build a ground that is in Gabaon, there where God's tent house for the Lord's name and a house for his of witness was, which Moyses, servant of the Lord, reign.

had made in the wilderness. 4 But Daud had carried God's ark up from the city of Kariathiarim, for

(2) And Salomon gathered seventy thousand

he had prepared a tent for it in Ierousalem. 5 And 2 men and eighty thousand stonecutters in the the bronze altar, which Besaleel son of Ourias son hill country, and the supervisors over them were of Hor had made, was there before the Lord's tent, three thousand six hundred.

and Salomon and the assembly sought it out.

2(3) And Salomon sent to Chiram, king of Tyre, 6And there Salomon offered on the bronze altar in saying, "As you dealt with my father David and the tent before the Lord and offered on it a thou- dispatched to him cedars to build a house for him sand whole burnt offerings.

to dwell in, 3(4)behold, I, his son, also am building

7 In that night God appeared to Salomon and a house for the name of the Lord, my God, to ded-said to him, "Ask what I should give you." 8And icate it to him to offer incense before him and pre-Salomon said to God, "You have done great mercy sentationa always and to present whole burnt of-with David my father and have made me king in ferings always, in the morning and evening and on his stead. 9And now, Lord God, let your name be sabbaths and on new moons and on the feasts of confirmed over David my father, because it is you the Lord, our God; this is upon Israel
forever.

who have made me king over a people as numer- 4(5)And the house, which I am building, is great, ous as the dust of the earth. 10Now grant me wis- for great is our God compared with all the gods.

dom and understanding, and I will go out and will 5(6)And who will be able to build him a house?—

go in before this people, because who will judge because the sky and the sky of the sky cannot bear this great people of yours?” 11And God said to Sa- his glory. And who am I to build him a house?—

lomon, “Since this was in your heart and you have except to offer incense before him. 6(7)And now not asked for wealth of possessions nor glory, nor send me a skilled man and one who knows how to have you asked for the life of your opponents and work in gold and in silver and in bronze and in for many days, and you have asked for wisdom and iron and in purple and in scarlet and in blue, one understanding for yourself in order to judge my who understands to engrave engraving, with the people, those over whom I have made you king, skilled men who are with me in loudas and in le-12I grant you wisdom and understanding, and I rousalem, whom my father Dauid provided.

will give you both wealth and possessions and 7(8)And send me cedar wood and juniper and pine glory, as there has been none like you among the from Lebanon, for I know how your slaves know kings before you, and after you it shall not be so.” about cutting wood from Lebanon. See, your ser-13And Salomon came from Bama in Gabaon to vants will be with my servants. 8(9)They will go to lerousalem from before the tent of witness and prepare me timber in abundance, for the house I ruled over Israel.

am about to build will be great and glorious.

14 And Salomon gathered together chariots 9(10)And see, I have given the workmen, those cut-and horsemen, and he had one thousand four ting wood, grain as food in payment to your ser-hundred chariots and twelve thousand horsemen. vants twenty thousand korsb, even twenty thou-And he stationed them in the chariot cities, and sand korsb of barley and twenty thousand the people were with the king in Jerusalem. measures of wine and twenty thousand measures 15And the king placed gold and silver in Jerusalem.

Jerusalem like stones and the cedars in Judea, like 10(11) And Chiram, king of Tyre, said in writing mulberry trees that are in the plain in abundance.

and dispatched to Salomon, "In his love for his al.e. of showbread bHeb 1 kor = 220 liters

2 supplements 2-4

369

people the Lord has granted you as king over fashioned a work of two cheroubin out of wood, them." 11(12)And Chiram said, "Blessed be the Lord, and he gilded them with gold. 11And the cher-God of Israel, who made the heaven and the earth, oubin's wings were twenty cubits in length, and who gave King David a wise son and one who un- the one wing was five cubits, touching the wall of derstands discretion and understanding, who will the house, and the other wing was five cubits, build a house to the Lord and a house for his reign. touching the wing of the other cheroub.
12And the 12(13) "Now I have sent you a skilled man and wing of the onee cheroub was five cubits, touching one endowed with understanding, Chiram my fa- the wall of the house and the other wing was five ther—13(14)his mother was of the daughters of cubits, touching the wing of the other cheroub.

Dan, and his father was a Tyrian man—since he 13And the wings of the cheroubin extended twen-knows how to work in gold and in silver and in ty cubits. And they stood on their feet, and their bronze and in iron, in stone and wood and to faces were toward the house. 14And he made the weave in purple and in blue and in linen and in veil out of blue and purple and scarlet and linen scarlet and to engrave engravings and to visualize and wove cheroubin into it.

any design, whatever you give him, together with

15 And he made two pillars in front of the

your skilled men and the skilled men of Daid my house, thirty-five cubits in height, and their tops lord, your father. 14(15)And now, let him send to five cubits. 16And he made serserothf in the dabirg his servants the grain and the barley and the oil and placed them on the tops of the pillars, and he and the wine of which my lord spoke. 15(16)And made one hundred pomegranates and set them on we on our part shall cut wood from Lebanon to the chains. 17And he erected the pillars in front of meet your entire need and will transport it on rafts the shrine, one on the right and the other on the to the sea of Joppe, and you will transport it to le- left, and he called the name of the one on the right rousalem.” 16(17)And Salomon gathered all the Uprightness and the name of the one on the left men, the guests, in the land of Israel after the cen- Strength.

sus, which his father Daid had conducted of them, and they were found to be one hundred and

And he made the bronze altar, twenty cubits fifty-three thousand and six hundred.

4 in lengthand twentycubitsin widthand ten

17(18) And of them he made seventy thousand cubits in height. 2And he made the molten sea, into porters and eighty thousand into stonecutters ten cubits in diameter, circular all round, and it and three thousand six hundred taskmasters over was five cubits in height, and its circumference the people.

was thirty cubits. 3And under it was a representation of bull calves. They encircled it on all sides, And Salomon began building the Lord's house ten cubits; they surrounded the washbasin in a 3 in Jerusalem, on the mountain of Hamoria, circle. They cast the bull calves of two kinds in where the Lord had appeared to David, his father, their casting 4by which they made them, twelve in the place that David had prepared in the thresh- bull calves, and three faced north, and three faced ing floor of Orna the lebousite. 2And he began west, and three faced south, and three faced east, building in the second month of the fourth year of and the sea was on top of them, and their hind his reign. 3And this is how Salomon began build- quarters were toward the inside. 5And its thick- ing the house of God. The length in cubits, athe ness was a handbreadth, and its rim was like the original measurea, was sixty cubits and the width rim of a cup, carved with lily buds; it held three twenty cubits. 4And there was an ailamb in front of thousand measures. And he completed it. 6And the house, the length con face ofc the width of the he made ten washbasins and set five of them on house was twenty cubits, and its height was one the right and five on the left to rinse the utensils hundred and twenty cubits. And he gilded it inter- for the whole burnt offerings in them and wash nally with pure gold. 5And he lined the great house them clean in them. And the sea was for the outside with cedar wood and gilded it with pure priests to wash in it.

gold and engraved palms on it and chains. 6And he

7 And he made the gold lampstands, ten ac-adorned the house with precious stones for splen- cording to their prescription, and placed them in dor and with gold—gold that was from Pharouaim. the shrine, five on the right and five on the left.

7

8

And he gilded the house and the walls and the

And he made ten tables and placed them in the gateways and the ceilings and the doorways with shrine, five on the right and five on the left. And he gold and engraved cheroubin on the walls.

made one hundred gold saucers. 9And he made

8 And he made the house of the holy of holies: the court of the priests and the great court and its length con face ofc width was twenty cubits, and doors for the court and their doorways, overlaid the breadth was twenty cubits, and he gilded it with bronze. 10And he placed the sea at the corner with pure gold—ontod the cheroubin—as much as of the house on the right, facing eastward.

six hundred talents of gold. 9And the weight of the 11 And Chiram made the meat hooks and the nails—the weight of one was fifty shekels of gold. fire-pans and the hearth for the altar and all its And he gilded the upper chamber with gold.

utensils. And Chiram finished producing all the 10 And in the house of the holy of holies he work which he did for Salomon the king in the a.l.e. the so-called long cubit bHeb = porch cPerhaps corresponding to dPossibly including e.l.e. second fHeb = chains gHeb = inner chamber

370

2 supplements 4-6

house of God, 12two pillars and on them golatha the dabirf but were not visible outside. And they for the chotharethb on the tops of the two pillars have been there until this day. 10There was nothing and two lattice works to cover the tops of the in the ark except for two tablets, which Moyses chotharethb, which were on the tops of the pillars, placed in Choreb, with which things the Lord 13and four hundred golden bells on the two lattice made a covenant with the sons of Israel when they works and two sorts of pomegranates on one of came out of the land of Egypt.

the lattice works to cover the two golatha of the 11 And it happened, when the priests exited chotharethb, which were above the pillars. 14And from the holy precincts—seeing that all the priests he made the ten mechonothc, and he made the present had sanctified themselves, they were not washbasins on the mechonothc

15and the one sea arranged according to their divisions, 12(and the and the twelve bull calves beneath it 16and the Leuites, all harp-singers belonging to the sons of tripodsd and pails and cauldrons and meat hooks Asaph, to Haiman, to Idithoun and to sons of and all their utensils, which Chiram had made and them and brothers of them, draped in linen gar-brought to King Salomon in the house of the Lord, ments with cymbals and nablasg and cinyrash)—as of pure bronze. 17The king cast them in the neigh- they stood facing the altar and with them one hun-borhood of the Jordan in the ethickness of the dred and twenty priests trumpeting with their lande in the house of Sokchoth and between Sir- trumpets, 13that there was one sound in their datha. 18And Salomon made all these utensils in trumpeting and in their doing harp-singing and in great abundance, because the weight of bronze did their acclaiming to acknowledge and praise the not fail.

Lord and as they raised a sound with trumpets and 19 And Salomon made all the utensils of the cymbals and instruments of songs, and they said: Lord's house and the gold altar and the tables (and

"Acknowledge the Lord, because it is good, on them were loaves of presentation) 20and the

because his mercy is forever."

lampstands and the lamps of light as prescribed And the house was filled with a cloud of the Lord's and in front of the dabirf, of pure gold—21and glory. 14And the priests could not stand to minis-there were their snuffers and their lamps —and the ter from before the cloud, for the Lord's glory had saucers and the censers and the fire-pans, of pure filled the house of God.

gold. 22 And the inner door of the house toward the holy of holies, to the doors of the house of the Lord. Then Salomon said: "The Lord said that he would build a house for you, a shrine, of gold.

6 I would encamp in thick darkness. 2 And I have built a house for your name, sacred to you and to your people. And all the activity was concluded, which Salomon said: "The Lord said that he would be ready for you to encamp in forever."

5 Salomon had conducted in the house of the Lord.

3 And the king turned his face and blessed all the people of Israel.

And Salomon brought in the holy things of the assembly of Israel, and all the assembly of Israel, the silver and the gold, and he and all the people of Israel stood by. 4 And he said: "Blessed be the Lord, God of Israel, who spoke with his mouth to David your father and has fulfilled it with his hands, saying: 'From the day when I brought my people up out of Egypt, I did not choose a city out of all paternal families of the sons of Israel in which to build a house for my name, and I did not choose for a man to be from the city of David (that is Sion). 3 And they ascribe leadership over my people Israel. 6 And I have chosen Salomon—every man of Israel—before my father and has fulfilled it with his hands, saying: 'From the day when I brought my people up out of Egypt, I did not choose a city out of all paternal families of the sons of Israel in which to build a house for my name, and I did not choose for a man to be from the city of David (that is Sion). 3 And they ascribe leadership over my people Israel. 6 And I have chosen Salomon—every man of Israel—before

2 Then Salomon assembled the elders of Israel and all the rulers of the tribes, the leaders of the tribes of Israel, and he said to them: "The Lord said to me: 'From the day when I brought my people up out of Egypt, I did not choose a city out of all paternal families of the sons of Israel in which to build a house for my name, and I did not choose for a man to be from the city of David (that is Sion). 3 And they ascribe leadership over my people Israel. 6 And I have chosen Salomon—every man of Israel—before the king on for Jerusalem for my name to be there, and I have the feast (it was the seventh month). 4And all the chosen for David to be over my people Israel.'

7

elders of Israel came, and all the Levites took the

And it was in my father David's heart to build a ark. 5And they carried the ark and the tent of witness for the name of the Lord, God of Israel, 8 ness and all the holy vessels in the tent, and the

and the Lord said to my father David, 'Seeing that priests and the Levites carried it. 6And King Solomon it was in your heart to build a house for my name, Solomon and all the gathering of Israel and the fear of you have done well that it was in your heart. 9Never and their gathered ones were sacrificing calves thereafter, it is not you who will build the house, and sheep in front of the ark, which shall not be because your son, who will come from your loins, numbered and which shall not be assessed because it is he who will build the house for my name.'

10

cause of their abundance. 7And the priests brought

And the Lord established his word, which he

the ark of the Lord's covenant into its place in the temple, and I have taken the place of my father David of the house in the holy of holies under David and sat down on the throne of Israel, as the throne under the wings of the cherubim.

8And the cher- Lord spoke, and I have built the house for the oubin extended their wings over the place of the name of the Lord, God of Israel, 11and I have set ark, and the cheroubin concealed the ark and its there the ark in which is the Lord's covenant, carrying-poles from above. 9And the poles project- which he made with Israel."

ed outwards and the ends of the carrying-poles

12 And he stood facing the Lord's altar in the

could be seen from the holy precincts in front of presence of all the assembly of Israel and spread aHeb = basin bHeb = capital (of a pillar) cHeb = stand(s) dGk uncertain ePerhaps clay soil fHeb = inner chamber g = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument h = Heb kinnor = lyre

2 supplements 6-7

371

out his hands—13because Salomon had made a larva, if the enemy oppresses them against their cit-bronze platform and had set it in the midst of the ies in accordance with every blow and every suffer-temple court, its length five cubits and its width ing 29and if every prayer and every petition arises five cubits and its height three cubits, and he stood from every person and all your people Israel, if a on it and fell to his knees before all the assembly person knows his infection and his infirmity and of Israel—and he spread out his hands heaven- spreads out his hands to this place, 30you will also ward 14and said, "Lord, God of Israel, there is no hear from the sky, from your ready habitation, and god like you in heaven or on the earth, who keeps you will grant expiation and will give a man a covenant and mercy for your servants who walk according to his ways, as you know his heart, for you before you wholeheartedly. 15 What you kept for alone know the heart of the sons of men, 31 that your servant David my father what you spoke to they should fear your ways all the days they are here when making utterance—you both spoke alive on the face of the land, which you gave us with your mouth and fulfilled it with your fathers.

hands—it is as this very day. 16 And now, Lord, God

32 “And every stranger, who is not of your peo-

of Israel, keep for your servant, for my father ple Israel and may come from a far off land be-David, what you said when you told him, ‘No man cause of your great name and your powerful hand sitting on the throne of Israel will fail you from be- and your arm held high, and they come and pray fore me, if only your sons keep their way to walk in in this place—33 you will also hear them from the my law, as you have walked before me.’

sky, from your ready habitation, and you will act

17 “And now, Lord, God of Israel, let your utter- according to all that the stranger calls to you so once indeed be confirmed, which you spoke to your that all the peoples of the earth may know your servant David—18 because if a god will truly dwell name both to fear you, as your people Israel, and with men on the earth, if the sky and the sky of the to know that your name has been called upon this sky will not be enough for you, what then is this house, which I have built.

house, which I have built? 19 And look upon the 34 “If your people go out to war against their prayer of your servant and on my petition, Lord enemies in the way you send them and pray to you God, to hear the petition and the prayer, which your according to the direction of this city, which you servant prays before you today, 20that your eyes be have chosen for it, and of the house, which I have open toward this house day and night, toward this built for your name, 35you will also hear their pe-place, which you said that your name would be titon and their prayer from the sky and act on called upon there, to hear the prayer, which your their plea of right—36because they will sin against servant prays toward this place. 21And you will hear you (for there is no person who will not sin), and the petition of your servant and your people Israel, you will strike them and hand them over before whatever they pray toward this place, and as for you, enemies, and their captors will take them captive you will hear in the place of your dwelling from the into a land of enemies, to a land far or near, 37and sky and will hear and be merciful.

if they turn back their heart in their land, there

22 “If a man sins against his fellow and takes where they have been transported, and if they do upon himself an imprecation to imprecate him indeed repent and petition you in their captivity, and he goes and imprecates before the altar in this saying, ‘We have sinned; we have done wrong; we house, 23you shall also hear him from the sky and have acted lawlessly,’ 38and they turn back toward act and judge your slaves to repay the unjust and you with all their heart and soul in the land of repay his ways on his head, to acquit the righteous their captors and pray in the direction of their in order to repay him according to his righteous- land, which you gave to their fathers, and of the ness.

city, which you chose, and of the house, which I

24 “And if your people Israel are shattered be- have built for your name, 39you will also hear their fore the enemy, if they have sinned against you and prayer and their petition from the sky, from your repent and acknowledge your name and pray and ready habitation, and you will make judgments petition before you in this house, 25you shall also and be compassionate to your sinning people.

hear from the sky and be compassionate on the 40Now, Lord, do let your eyes stand open and your sins of your people Israel and return them to the ears alert to the petition from this place, 41and land, which you gave to them and their fathers.

now:

26 “When the sky is sealed up and there is no “Arise, Lord God, to your repose, rain because they will have sinned against you, and you and the ark of your strength.

they will pray to this place and will praise your

May your priests, Lord God, clothe name and will turn from their sins, because you themselves in salvation, will have humbled them, 27you will also hear from

and let your sons be glad in good things.

the sky and be compassionate on the sins of your 42

Lord God, do not avert your face from your servants and your people Israel, because you will anointed;
make clear to them the good way in which they remember your mercies toward David will walk in it, and you will grant rain on your your slave.”

land, which you gave to your people as an inheritance.

And when Salomon finished praying, the fire

28 “If there is famine on the land, if there is 7 also descended from the sky and consumed death, blight and jaundice, grasshopper and locust

the whole burnt offerings and the sacrifices, and 372

2 supplements 7-8

the Lord’s glory filled the house. 2And the priests establish the throne of your kingdom as I appoint-were unable to enter into the Lord’s house at that ed for David your father, saying, ‘For you a man as time, because the Lord’s glory filled the house. ruler in Israel shall not be removed.’

3And all the sons of Israel saw the fire descend, 19 “And if you turn away and abandon my or-

and the glory of the Lord was on the house and dinances and my commandments, which I have they fell face down on the ground on the pave- given before you, and go and serve other gods and ment and did obeisance and were praising the do obeisance to them, 20I will also remove you Lord.

from the land that I gave them, and this house,

“Because it is good;

which I consecrated for my name, I will turn it

because his mercy is forever.”

away from before me and render it an illustration

4 And the king and all the people were sacrific- and a tale among all the nations. 21And as for this ing victims before the Lord. 5And Salomon sacri- lofty house—everyone who passes it by will be ficed the sacrifice: twenty-two thousand calves and startled and say, ‘For what reason did the Lord do one hundred and twenty thousand fatlings. And this to this land and this house?’ 22And they will the king and all the people dedicated the house of say, ‘Because they abandoned the Lord, God of God. 6And the priests stood in their posts, and the their fathers, who led them out of the land of Leuites with instruments for songs to the Lord of Egypt and adopted other gods and did obeisance King Daud to acknowledge before the Lord—be- to them and were subject to them, therefore he has cause his mercy is forever —with hymns of Daud brought upon them all this harm.’ ” through their hand, and the priests trumpeted with the trumpets opposite them, and all Israel

And it happened, after twenty years in which stood.

8 Salomon built the Lord's house and his own

7 And Salomon consecrated the middle of the house, 2 also the cities that Chiram gave Sa-court that is in the house of the Lord, because there Iomon—Salomon built them and settled there the he had made whole burnt offerings and the fatty sons of Israel.

parts of the victims for deliverance, because the

3 And Salomon went to Haimath Soba and bronze altar Salomon had made he could not cprevailed overc it. 4And he built Thedmor in the equip to receive whole burnt offerings and the wilderness and all the fortified cities, which he manaaa and the fatty parts.

built in Hemath. 5And he built Upper Baithoron

8 And Salomon made the feast at that time for and Lower Baithoron, fortified cities—walls, gates seven days, and all Israel with him, an exceedingly and bolts there were—6and Baalath and all the for-large assembly from the entrance of Haimath and tified cities that belonged to Salomon and all the as far as the Wadi of Egypt. 9And he made a con- cities for his chariots and the cities for his horse-cluding ceremony on the eighth day, because he men, and all that Salomon desired according to his had observed for seven days the dedication of the desire to build in Ierousalem and in Lebanon and altar as a feast. 10And on the twenty-third of the in all his kingdom. 7All the people who were left seventh month he dismissed the people to their from the Chettite and the Amorrute and the coverts, rejoicing and with a good heart at all the Pherezite and the Heuite and the Iebousite, who bounties which the Lord had done for Daudid and are not from Israel—8there were some of their for Salomon and for Israel, his people.

sons who were left after them in the land, whom 11 And Salomon completed the Lord's house the sons of Israel had not utterly destroyed—and and the house of the king. And all that Salomon Salomon led them up for tribute until this day.

wanted in his soul to do in the Lord's house and in 9And Salomon did not give any of the sons of Ishis house was successful.

rael to be servants for his kingdom, because they

12 And God appeared to Salomon by night and were warriors and commanders and mighty men said to him, "I have heard your prayer and have and commanders of chariots and horsemen. 10And chosen for this place for myself as a house of sacri- these were rulers of King Salomon's overseers, two fice. 13If I stop up the sky and there be no rain and hundred and fifty taskmasters among the people.

if I command the grasshopper to consume the 11 And Salomon brought Pharaoh's daughter up

woodb and if I send death among my people 14and from the city of Daud to the house which he had if my people, upon whom my name is called, feel built for her, because he said, "My wife shall not embarrassed and they pray and seek my face and live in the city of Daud, king of Israel, because turn from their evil ways, I for my part will listen there where the Lord's ark has entered is holy."

from the sky and will be gracious upon their sins

12 Then Salomon offered whole burnt offer-and will heal their land. 15 Now my eyes will be open and my ears alert to the prayer of this place. 13 And according to the reckoning-16 And now I have chosen and consecrated this place for my name to be there forever. And my eyes

Moyses' commandments on the sabbaths and on and my heart shall be there all the days. 17 And if the month and on the feasts three times a year, you walk before me like Daud your father and do on the feast of unleavened bread and on the feast according to all that I have commanded you and of weeks and on the feast of tents. 14 And he ap-keep my ordinances and judgments, 18 I will also pointed the priests' divisions according to Daud's a Heb = grain offerings b Or tree c Possibly fortified d l.e. each day e l.e. new moons

2 supplements 8-10

373 judgment with regard to their ministrations. And

12 And King Salomon gave c the queen of Sabac

the Leuites were at their posts to praise and minis- all her wants which she requested, beyond everyter opposite the priests according to the reckoning thing she had brought King Salomon. And she re-of a day by day and the door keepers according to turned to her land.

their divisions at bgate and gateb, because thus

13 And the weight of gold that was brought to

were the commands of David, man of God. 15They Salomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six did not transgress the king's commandments con- talents of gold, 14besides the men who were sub-cerning the priests and Leuites in any matter and ordinates and merchants—what they would regarding the treasuries.

bring—and all the kings of Arabia and the satraps

16 And all the work was accomplished from of the land—they would bring gold and silver to the day it was founded until Salomon completed King Salomon. 15And King Salomon made two the Lord's house.

hundred oblong shields of beaten gold—six hun-

17 Then Salomon went to Gasiongaber and drede of pure gold to one shield; six hundrede of Ailath, the maritime city in the land of Idumea. gold went into one shield—16and three hundred 18And Chiram sent ships by the hand of his ser-round shields of beaten gold; he allotted three vants and servants familiar with the sea, and they hundrede of gold to each shield. And the king gave went to Sophira with Salomon's servants and them in the house of the Forest of Lebanon. 17And brought from there four hundred and fifty talents the king made a large ivory throne of teeth and of gold, and they came to King Salomon.

gilded it with certified gold. 18And the throne had six steps, attached with gold, and there were arms

And the queen of Sabac heard Salomon's on either side of the throne for sitting, and two 9 name and came to Jerusalem, to test Salomon with enigmas, with a very heavy retinue. standing there on the six steps at either side. And there were camels bearing spices and gold in ing like that had existed in any kingdom. 20And all profusion and precious stone, and she came to Salomon's vessels were of gold, and all the silver and spoke to him all that she had in her vessels of the house of the Forest of Lebanon were mind. 21And Salomon proclaimed to her all her covered with gold. Nor was silver held in any account, and there was no issue that eluded Salomon's count in the days of Salomon, 22because a ship for Salomon, which he did not proclaim to her. 23And the king traveled to Tharsis with Chiram's servants.

the queen of Sabac saw Salomon's wisdom and Once every three years the boats would come from the house, which he had built, 4and the foodstuffs Tharsis to the king full of gold and silver and ivory on the tables and the seating of his servants and teeth and apes.

the standing of his ministers and their clothing

22 And Salomon was magnified over all the

and his wine stewards and their apparel and the kings both in wealth and in wisdom. 23And all the whole burnt offerings, which he offered in the kings of the earth would seek out the face of Salomon's house. And she was beside herself.

lomon to hear his wisdom, which God had given

5 And she said to the king, "The report that I in his heart.
24And every one of them brought his heard in my land about your words and about gifts, silver vessels and gold vessels and clothing, your wisdom was true. 6And I did not believe the myrrh and spices, horses and mules, year by year, 25

reports until I came and my eyes saw, and behold,

And Salomon had four thousand mares for char-

I had not been told the half of the abundance of iots and twelve thousand horsemen, and he sta-your wisdom. You have added to the rumor I tioned them in chariot cities and with the king in heard. 7Happy are your men; happy are these, your Ierousalem. 26And he was leader of all the kings servants, who stand beside you continually and from the Riverg to the land of allophytes and to the hear your wisdom. 8Let the Lord, your God, be border of Egypt. 27And the king presented gold blessed, who wanted you on his throne, to give and silver like stones in Ierousalem and cedars like you as king for the Lord, your God. When the Lord, the sycamores that are in the flat country in profu-your God, loved Israel to confirm it forever, he set sion. 28And the export of horses was from Egypt to you over them as king to administer judgment and Salomon and from all the earth.

righteousness." 9And she gave the king one hun-

29 And the rest of the histories of Salomon, the dred and twenty talents of gold and spices in very first and the last, behold, they are written in the great quantity and precious stone. And there were Histories of Nathan the Prophet and in the Histo-no spices like those which cthe queen of Sabac gave ries of Achia the Selonite and in the Visions of loel King Salomon.

the Seer concerning Ieroboam son of Nabat. 30And

10 (And Salomon's servants and the servants of King Salomon reigned over all Israel for forty years.

31

Chiram brought Salomon gold from Souphir and

And Salomon slept, and they buried him in the pine wood and precious stone. 11And the king city of Daudid his father and Roboam his son made the pinewood into ascents for the Lord's reigned in his stead.

house and the king's house and into lyres and nablasd for the singers. And such things had not

And Roboam went to Sychem, because all been seen before in the land of loudas).

10 Israel was coming to Sychem to make him al.e. each day bl.e. each gate cOr Queen Saba d = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument ePerhaps in shekels fOr belonging to gl.e. the Euphrates

374

2 supplements 10-12

king. 2And it happened, when Ieroboam son of

And Roboam went to Ierousalem and as-

Nabat heard—and he was in Egypt, as he had fled 11 sembled Ioudas and Benjamin—one hun-dred before King Salomon, and Ieroboam had dred and eighty thousand youths doing war—and taken up residence in Egypt—then Ieroboam re- he was mobilizing against Israel to return the king-turned from Egypt. 3And they sent and called him, dom to Roboam. 2And a word of the Lord came to and Ieroboam and all the assembly of Israel came Samaias, man of God, saying: 3Say to Roboam the to Roboam, saying, 4“Your father made our yoke son of Salomon and all Ioudas and Benjamin, say-hard. And now lighten your father’s harsh slavery ing, 4“This is what the Lord says: You shall not go and his heavy yoke that he placed upon us, and we up and wage war against your brothers. Return, will be subject to you.” 5And he said to them, “Go each one to his own home, because this thing is forth about three days, and then come to me.” And from me.” And they heeded the Lord’s word and the people went away.

turned back from advancing upon Ieroboam.

6 And King Roboam gathered the elders who

5 And Roboam resided in Ierousalem, and he had stood before Salomon his father during his built walled cities in Judea. 6And he built Baith-lifetime, saying, “How do you advise that a word Ieem and Aitam and Thekoe 7and Baithsoura and should be answered to this people?” 7And they Sokchoth and Odollam 8and Geth and Marisa and spoke to him, saying, “If today you are well dis- Ziph 9and Adoraim and Lachis and Azeka 10and posed to this people and you are well pleased with Saraa and Aialon and Chebron, walled cities, them and speak kind words to them, they will be which belong to Judah and Benjamin. 11And he your servants all your days.” 8And he rejected the fortified them with walls and set in them leaders advice of the elders who had counseled him and and stores of food, oil and wine in every city, 12and took counsel with the youths who had been in every city shields and spears, and he greatly brought up with him, who stood before him. 9And strengthened them in number. And Judah and he said to them, “What do you counsel and what Benjamin belonged to him.

word shall I reply to this people who have spoken

13 And the priests and Levites who were in all to me, saying, ‘Lighten the yoke your father im- Israel converged upon him from all the regions—posed upon us?’ “ 10And the youths who had been 14because the Levites had left the coverts of their brought up with him said to him, “Thus shall you possession and proceeded to Jerusalem in speak to the people who spoke to you saying, ‘Your Judah, because Jeroboam and his sons had ex-father made our yoke hard. Now remove it from pelled them so as not to minister to the Lord.

us.’ Thus shall you speak, ‘My little finger is thicker 15And he appointed for himself priests of the high than my father’s waist. 11And now my father places and for the idols and the vanities and the trained you with a heavy yoke, but I will add to bull calves, which Jeroboam had made. 16And he your yoke. My father disciplined you with whips, expelled from the tribes of Israel those who had set but I will discipline you with scorpions.’ ” their heart to seek the Lord, God of Israel, and they

12 And Jeroboam and all Israel came to go to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the Lord, God of Jeroboam on the third day, as the king had spoken, their fathers. 17 And they strengthened the king saying, "Return to me on the third day." 13 And the dom of Iudah and strengthened Jeroboam the son king answered harshly and King Jeroboam abandoned of Solomon for three years, because he walked in doing the elders' counsel. 14 And he spoke to them the ways of David and Solomon for three years.

according to the youths' counsel, saying, "My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it. My lath daughter of Jerimoth son of David and a father disciplined you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions." 15 And the king did not bore him sons Iaous and Samaria and Roollam.

18 And Jeroboam took to himself as wife Mol-

listen to the people, because it was a reversal from 20 And after that he took to himself Maacha daughter of Abessalom, and she bore him Abia and which he spoke by the hand of Achia the Sejonite Iethth and Ziza and Emmoth. 21 And Jeroboam concerning Jeroboam son of Nabat 16 and all Israel loved Maacha daughter of Abessalom more than el," that the king did not listen to them. And the all his wives and his concubines, because he had people replied to the king, saying, ten wives and thirty concubines. And he fathered

"What share do we have in David, twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters. 22 And

and what inheritance in the son of Iessai?

Roboam appointed Abia son of Maacha as ruler, as

To your coverts, O Israel.

leader among his brothers, because he intended

Now look at your house, Daud!”

for him to become king. 23And heb was increased

And all Israel went to their coverts. 17And as for the beyond all his sons in all the regions of loudas and men of Israel who were living in the cities of Benjamin and in the fortified cities and he gave loudas—even Roboam ruled over them. 18And themc provisions in great abundance. And he King Roboam sent Hadoniram, the one in charge claimed an abundance of women.

of revenue, and the sons of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. And King Roboam hastened

And it happened that, as Roboam’s reign to mount his chariot to flee to Ierousalem. 19And 12 became established and as it became con-Israel has rejected the house of Daud to this day.

firmed, he abandoned the Lord’s commandments aLacking in Gk bl.e. Abia cl.e. the cities

2 supplements 12-13

375

and all Israel with him. 2And it happened in the force: warriors of a force, four hundred thousand fifth year of Roboam's reign that Sousakim, king of mighty men. And Ieroboam lined up against him Egypt, came up against Ierousalem because they a battle with eight hundred thousand; mighty war-had sinned against the Lord, 3with one thousand riors of power they were. 4And Abia got up from two hundred chariots and sixty thousand horses, Mount Somoron, which is in Mount Ephraim, and and the multitude which accompanied him out of said, "Listen, Ieroboam and all Israel! 5Is it not for Egypt—Libyans, Troglodytes and Ethiopians—was you to know that the Lord, God of Israel, gave rule innumerable. 4And they seized the fortified cities over Israel forever to Daudid and his sons as a cov-that were in Ioudas, and he came to Ierousalem. enant of salt? 6And Ieroboam the son of Nabat, the 5And Samaias the prophet came to Roboam and servant of Salomon son of Daudid, rose up and rethe rulers of Ioudas, who had gathered in Ierou- belled against his lord. 7And pestilent men, lawless salem from before Sousakim, and said to them, sons, were gathered to him, and he rose up against

"Thus said the Lord. 'You abandoned me, and I Roboam the son of Salomon. Now Roboam was will abandon you to the hand of Sousakim.' " 6And rather young and timid in heart and did not stand the rulers of Israel and the king were ashamed and up to him.

said, "The Lord is just." 7And when the Lord saw

8 "And now you say that you stand in opposithat they were embarrassed, a word of the Lord tion to the Lord's kingdom through the hand of came to Samaias, saying, "They have felt com- Daudid's sons. And you are a large multitude, and punction; I will not destroy them, and I will give with you are golden calves, which Jeroboam has them as a little for deliverance, and my wrath made as gods for you. 9Have you not thrown out shall not be spread abroad in Jerusalem, 8because the Lord's priests, the sons of Aaron and the they will be as servants and will know bondage to Leuites, and made for yourselves priests from the me and bondage to earthly rule."

people of the land? Anyone who approaches to 9 And Salsakim, king of Egypt, went up and fill the hands with a calf from cattle and seven took the treasures that were in the Lord's house rams also becomes priest to what is no god. 10And and the treasures in the house of the king; he took we have not abandoned the Lord, our God, and his everything. He also took the gold oblong shields priests, the sons of Aaron, and the Leuites in their that Salomon had made. 10And Roboam made daily divisions minister to the Lord. 11They fumi-bronze oblong shields to replace them. And gate to the Lord, in the morning and evening, Salsakim appointed over him commanders of whole burnt offerings and incense of integration runners, those who guard the king's gate. 11And it and the presentation of loaves on the pure table.

happened that, when the king entered the Lord's And there are the gold lampstand and the lamps house, the guards would go in, and the runners for burning to ignite in the evening, because we and those returning to meet the runners. 12And keep the watches of the Lord, God of our fathers, when he felt compunction, the Lord's wrath and you have abandoned him. 12And, behold, to turned away from him and was not completely for begin with, the Lord is with us and his priests and destruction. Indeed matters were good in Judah.

the signal trumpets to signal against you. You, the 13 And Roboam became strong in Ierousalem, sons of Israel, are going to war against the Lord, and he reigned. And Roboam was forty-one years God of your fathers—because it will not go well for old when he became king, and he reigned in Ierou- you.”

salem for seventeen years in the city that the Lord

13 And Ieroboam had turned their ambush to had chosen out of all the tribes of the sons of Isra- come from behind. And he was in front of loudas, el for his name to be called upon there. And his and the ambush was behind. 14And loudas turned mother’s name was Noomma the Ammanite. back, and, behold, the war loomed upon them in 14And he did evil, because he did not direct his front and in the rear, and they called to the Lord, heart to seek out the Lord.

and the priests trumpeted with the trumpets.

15 And the histories of Roboam, the first and 15And the men of loudas shouted, and it hap-the last, behold, are they not written in the Histo- pened that, when the men of loudas shouted, the ries of Samaias the Prophet and Addo the Seer, as Lord also struck Ieroboam and Israel before Abia well as his acts? And Roboam waged war against and loudas. 16And the sons of Israel fled from be-Ieroboam all his days. 16And Roboam died and fore louda, and the Lord surrendered them into was buried with his fathers and was buried in the their hands. 17And Abia and his people struck a city of Daud, and Abia his son became king in his great blow in their midst, and five hundred thou-stead.

sand mighty men of Israel fell slain. 18And the sons of Israel were humbled on that day, and the In the eighteenth year of the reign of Ier- sons of Ioudas prevailed, because they hoped in the Lord, God of their fathers. 19And Abia pursued 13 Ioboam, Abia became king over Ioudas.

2He reigned three years in Ierousalem, and his after Ieroboam and seized some cities from him, mother's name was Maacha daughter of Ouriel Baithel and its villages and Isana and its villages from Gabaon.

and Ephron and its villages. 20And Ieroboam

And there was war between Abia and between could not regain strength all the days of Abia, and Ieroboam. 3And Abia prepared for war with a

the Lord struck him, and he died. 21And Abia grew aPossibly to a small degree bPossibly to become consecrated cOr burn incense

376

2 supplements 13-16

strong and took to himself fourteen wives and fa- abandon him, he will abandon you. 3And for thered twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters. many days it has been for Israel without a true god 22And the rest of the histories of Abia, both his acts

and without a teaching priest and without law.

and his words, are written in the Book of the 4And he will return to the Lord, God of Israel, and Prophet Addo.
23(14.1)And Abia died with his fa- he will be found to them.
5And at that time there thers, and they buried him in the city of Daud, is no peace for the one exiting and the one enter-and Asa his son became king in his stead.

ing, because terror of the Lord is upon all the inhabitants of the land. 6And nation will war against

In the days of Asa the land of loudas was nation and city against city, because God has con-

14 quietfortenyears.(2)Andhedidwhatwas founded them in every tribulation. 7And you, be good and right before the Lord, his God. 2(3)And strong, and let your hands not fail, for there is a re-he removed the altars of the foreigners and the ward for your work."

high places and smashed the steles and cut down

8 And when heb heard these words and the the groves. 3(4)And he told loudas to seek out the prophecy of Adad the prophet, he was both en-Lord, God of their fathers, and to do the law and couraged and he removed the abominations from the commandments. 4(5)And he removed from all all the land of loudas and Benjamin and from the the cities of loudas the altars and the idols and en-cities he had gained possession of in Mount Ephra-joyed peace. 5(6)Cities were walled in the land of im, and he renewed the Lord's altar that was in loudas, because the land enjoyed peace. And he front of the Lord's shrine. 9And he assembled endured no war during those years because the loudas and Benjamin and the guests who were so-

Lord granted him repose.

6(7)And he said to journing with him from Ephraim and from Ma-loudas, "Let us build these cities and make walls nasse and from Symeon, because many from Isra-and towers and gates and bars, by which we will el had joined him when they saw that the Lord, his control the land, because as we sought the Lord, God, was with him. 10And they were gathered in our God, he has sought us out and granted us re-lerousalem in the third month of the fifteenth year pose on every side, and he has made us prosper." of Asa's reign. 11And he sacrificed to the Lord on 7(8)And Asa had a force of three hundred thousand that day from the plunder that they had brought, heavy infantry in loudas carrying shields and seven hundred calves and seven thousand sheep.

12

spears and two hundred and fifty thousand alight

And he entered in a covenant to seek the Lord, troopsa and archers in the land of Benjamin, all God of their fathers, from all his heart and from all mighty warriors.

his soul. 13And if any one would not seek the Lord,

8(9) And Zare the Ethiopian came out against God of Israel, he would die, from youth to elder, them with a force of a million and three hundred from man to woman. 14And they swore by the chariots and went as far as Marisa. 9(10)And Asa Lord with a loud voice, both with trumpets and came out to meet him and drew up his battle line with horns. 15And all loudac was glad over the in the ravine to the north of Marisa. 10(11)And Asa oath, because they had sworn from all their soul called out to the Lord, his God, and said, "Lord, it and had sought him with all their will, and the is not impossible with you to save with many or Lord was found to them and granted them rest all with few. Strengthen us, Lord, our God, because we around.

have put our trust in you, and in your name we

16 And heb removed his mother, so she would have come against this vast multitude. Lord, our not be ministering to Astarte, and he cut down the God, let no man prevail against you." 11(12)And the idol and burned it in the Wadi Kedron. 17Yet, they Lord struck the Ethiopians before loudas, and the did not take away the high places; they kept on ex-Ethiopians took to flight. 12(13)And Asa and his isting in Israel. Nevertheless, Asa's heart was full all people pursued as far as Gedor, and the Ethiopians his days. 18And he brought in the holy things of fell so that there was no preservation among them, Daudid his father and the holy things of the house because they were crushed before the Lord and be- of the Lord God, silver and gold and utensils.

19

fore his force. And they took much plunder.

And there was no war with him until the thirty-13(14)And they eradicated their villages round fifth year of Asa's reign.

Gedor, because terror of the Lord had come upon them, and they plundered all their cities, because

And in the thirty-eighth year of Asa's reign, much plunder accrued to them. 14(15)Indeed tents 16 Baasa, king of Israel, went up against of possessions, the Amazons, they eradicated and loudas and built Rama so as not to give to Asa, seized many sheep and camels and returned to le- king of loudas, exit and entrance. 2And Asa took rousalem.

gold and silver from the treasures of the Lord's house and the king's house and sent them to the

And Azarias son of Oded—a spirit of the son of Hader, king of Syria, who resided in Da-

15 Lordcameuponhim.2Andhewentoutto mascus, saying, 3“Make a covenant between me meet Asa and all loudas and Benjamin and said, and you and between my father and between your “Hear me, Asa, and all loudas and Benjamin. The father.

See, I have sent you gold and silver. Come, Lord is with you when you are with him, and if and shake off from me Baasa, king of Israel, and let you seek him, he will be found to you, and if you

him withdraw from me.” 4And Hader’s son heard

aOr targeteers bl.e. Asa cPossibly everyone of loudas

2 supplements 16-18

377

King Asa and dispatched the commanders of his law, and they passed through in the cities of loudas force against the cities of Israel and struck Ion and and taught the people.

Dan and Abelmain and all the environs of Neph-

10 And terror of the Lord came upon all the thali. 5And it happened, when Baasa heard, he left kingdoms of the earth, those around loudas, and off building Rama any longer, and his labor came they did not wage war against Iosaphat. 11And to a standstill. 6And King Asa took all loudas and some of the allophyles brought Iosaphat gifts and seized the stones of Rama and its timber, which silver and presents, and the Arabs brought him Baasa was using for construction, and he built seven thousand seven hundred rams of sheep.

Gabae and Maspha with it.

12And Iosaphat walked taller in stature and built

7 And at that time Hanani the prophet came to dwellings and fortified cities in Judea. 13And he Asa, king of loudas, and said to him, “When you had many works in Judea and men, mighty war-trusted in the king of Syria and did not trust in the riors, holding sway in Ierousalem. 14And this is Lord, your God, the Syrian force was saved from their number according to their paternal houses: your hands.

8Did not the Ethiopians and Libyans for loudas, officers of thousands: Ednas the com-possess a force large in courage, in horsemen in mander and with him three hundred thousand great profusion? And when you trusted in the mighty sons of power. 15And after him was loanan Lord, he handed them into your hands, 9because the leader and with him two hundred and eighty the Lord's eyes range over all the earth, to put thousand. 16And after him was Amasias the son of strength in every heart full toward him. You over-Zachri, who showed zeal for the Lord, and with looked this! From now on war will be with you." him two hundred thousand mighty ones of power.

10And Asa was furious with the prophet and cast

17And from Benjamin: Eliada, a mighty one of him in prison, because he was so angry with him. power, and with him two hundred thousand And Asa inflicted indignities among the people at archers and clight troopsc. 18And after him was loz-that time.

abad and with him one hundred and eighty thou-

11 And see, the histories of Asa, the first and the sand mighty warriors. 19These were the ones who last, are written in the Book of the Kings of loudas served the king, apart from those whom the king and Israel. 12And in the thirty-ninth year of his stationed in the fortified cities all over Judea.

reign Asa grew infirm in his feet. He grew gravely infirm. And in his infirmity he did not seek the

And further wealth and much glory ac-

Lord, but physicians. 13And Asa slept with his fa- 18 crued to Iosaphat, and he married into the thers and died in the thirty-ninth year of his reign. house of Achaab. 2And at the end of years he went 14And they buried him in the tomb that he dug for down to Achaab in Samaria, and Achaab sacrificed himself in the city of Daud, and they laid him to sheep and many calves for him and for the people rest on the couch and filled ita with spices and who were with him and deceived him to go up types of myrrh of the perfumer, and they made a with him to Ramoth of Galaaditis. 3And Achaab, very large funeral for him.

king of Israel, said to Iosaphat, king of Ioudas,

“Will you go with me to Ramoth of Galaaditis?”

And Iosaphat his son became king in his

And he said to him, “I am as you; your people, also 17 stead, and Iosaphat became powerful mypeople,withyouintowar.”

against Israel. 2And he put a force in all the forti-

4 And Iosaphat said to the king of Israel, “Do fied cities of Ioudas and appointed leaders in all seek the Lord today.” 5And the king of Israel gath-the cities of Ioudas and in the cities of Ephraim ered the prophets, four hundred men, and said to that Asa his father had seized before. 3And the them, “Should I go to Ramoth Galaad for war or Lord was with Iosaphat, because he walked in the hold back?” And they said. “Go up, and God will first ways of his father and did not seek out the give it into the king's hands." 6And Iosaphat said, "Is there further no prophet of the Lord here, and there, and walked in the commandments of his father - we shall inquire from him?" 7And the king of Israel and not like the deeds of Israel. 5And the Lord said to Iosaphat, "There is still one man by whom we can inquire of the Lord; I for my part gave gifts to Iosaphat, and wealth accrued to him hated him, because he is not prophesying anything and much glory. 6And his heart was exalted in the good about me, because all his days are for evil. He way of the Lord, and he furthermore removed the idols Michaias son of Iemla." And Iosaphat said, "Let high places and the groves from the land of Ioudas.

the king not speak like that." 8And the king of Is-

7 And in the third year of his reign he dis- rael called one eunuch and said, "Quick. Michaias patched his leaders and the sons of the mighty, Ab- son of Iemla." 9And the king of Israel and Ios-dias and Zacharias and Nathanael and Michaias, to Iosaphat, king of Ioudas, each sitting on his throne teach in the cities of Ioudas. 8And with them were and dressed in robes, sitting in the wide space at the Leuites, Samouias and Nathanas and Zabdias the door of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets and Asiel and Semiramoth and Ionathan and Ado- ets were prophesying before them. 10And Sedekias nias and Tobias, the Leuites, and with them the son of Chanana made for himself iron horns and priests Elisama and Ioram. 9And they taught in said, "This is what the Lord says: With these you Ioudas and with them was a book of the Lord's will gore Syria until it is finished off." 11And all the aPossibly him bPossibly everyone of Ioudas cOr targeteers

2 supplements 18-20

prophets were prophesying like that, saying, "Go him, and God drove them back from him. 32And up to Ramoth Galaad, and you will be successful, it happened, when the commanders of the chari-and the Lord will give it into the king's hands."

ots saw that he was not the king of Israel, they also 12 And the messenger who had gone to call withdrew from him. 33And a man drew a bow with Michaias spoke to him, saying, "Look, the proph- a good aim and struck the king of Israel between ets with one mouth have spoken good things con- the lungs and between his breastplate, and he said cerning the king. And do let your words be as of to his driver, "Turn your hand, and take me out of one of them, and you shall speak good things." the battle, because I am in trouble." 34And the bat-13And Michaias said, "The Lord lives, because tle was turned that day, and the king of Israel re-whatever God says to me, that will I speak."

mained standing on his chariot facing Syria until

14 And he came to the king, and the king said evening and died as the sun set.

to him, "Michaias, should I go to Ramoth Galaad for war or hold back?" And he said, "Go up, and

And Iosaphat, king of Ioudas, returned in you will be successful, and they shall be given into peace to his house in Jerusalem. 2 And the king said to him, "How prophet you are, the son of Hanani! you went out to meet me many times, and I made you swear to speak to me the truth in the name of the Lord?" helping a sinner, or are you acting as friend to one of the sinners? 16 And he said, "I saw Israel scattered on the mountains, hated by the Lord? Because of this, wrath has come against you from the Lord. 3 But good features were said by the Lord, 'They have no leader. Let them—each find a shepherd in you, because you removed the groves one—return to his home in peace.' " 17 And the king from the land of Judah and directed your heart to Israel said to Josaphat, "Did I not tell you that he seeks out the Lord?"

does not prophesy good about me, but only bad?"

4 And Josaphat resided in Jerusalem and 18 And he said, "Not so; hear a word of the Lord again. I saw the Lord sitting on his throne and all up to Mount Ephraim and brought them back to the host of heaven standing to his right and to his left, the Lord, God of their fathers. 5 And he appointed judges. 19 And the Lord said, 'Who will deceive the judges in all the fortified cities of Judah, in the city of Achaab, king of Israel, and he will go up and fall at that city. 6 And he told the judges, "See what you are doing at Ramoth Gilead?" And this one said thus, and that are doing, because you are judging not for man but for the Lord. 7 And he said so. 20 And the spirit went out and stood before the Lord, and with you are words of discernment before the Lord and said, 'I will deceive him.' And he said, 'In what way?' 21 And he said, 'I will deceive you, and watch, and act, because there is no injustice and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets with the Lord, our God, nor respect of person, prophets.' And he said, 'You shall deceive and pre- nor accepting of gifts.'

vail. Go, and do so.' 22And now, see, the Lord gave

8 Moreover, Iosaphat appointed some priests

a lying spirit in the mouth of all these your proph- and Leuites and leading men of Israel in leets, and the Lord spoke bad concerning you."

rousalem to adjudicate for the Lord and to judge

23 And Sedekias son of Chanana approached the inhabitants of Ierousalem. 9And he command-Michaias and struck him on the jaw and said, "By ed them, saying, "This is how you shall act in the what way did the Lord's spirit pass from me to fear of the Lord, in truth, and with a full heart.

10Should speak to you?" 24And Michaias said, "Behold, you 10Should there be any man of your brothers who will see on that day when you enter an inner cham- dwell in their cities with a case that leads to you, ber from an inner chamber to hide." 25And the involving shedding of blood and involving an orking of Israel said, "Take Michaias, and return him dinance or commandment or statutes and judg-to Emer, ruler of the city, and to loas, a ruler, son ments, you will then make a pronouncement for of the king." 26And you will say, "Thus said the them, and they will not sin against the Lord, and king, Put this man in a house of detention, and let no wrath will come upon you or upon your broth-him eat bread of affliction and water of affliction ers. Thus you shall act, and you will not sin. 11And until I return in peace." 27And Michaias said, "If re- behold, Amarias the priest, a leader over you in turning you return in peace, the Lord has not spo- every matter concerning the Lord, and Zabdias son ken by me. Listen, all peoples!"

of Ismael, the leader over you regarding the house

28 And the king of Israel and Iosaphat, king of of Ioudas in every matter concerning the king, and Ioudas, went up to Ramoth Galaad. 29 And the king the scribes and the Levites before you! Be strong, of Israel said to Iosaphat, "I will disguise myself and act, and the Lord will be with the good."

and enter into battle, but as for you, wear my clothes." And the king of Israel disguised himself

And after this the sons of Moab and the

and entered into battle. 30 And the king of Syria 20 sons of Ammon and with them some of had commanded the commanders of the chariots the Minites came against Iosaphat for battle. 2 And who were with him, saying: "Do not make war on they came and told Iosaphat of this, saying, "A small and great, but only on the king of Israel." great multitude has come against you from beyond 31 And it happened, when the commanders of the the sea and Syria. And, see, they are in Hasasan-chariots saw Iosaphat, they too said, "It is the king thamar" (this is Engaddi). 3 And Iosaphat was of Israel," and they circled round him to fight him. afraid and set his face to seek out the Lord and And Iosaphat shouted out, and the Lord saved proclaimed a fast in all Ioudas. 4 And Ioudas was gathered to seek out the Lord, and from all the cities—praise to acknowledge and praise the holy things—loudas—they came to seek out the Lord.

2 supplements 20-21

as they went out ahead of the army and said,

5 And Iosaphat got up in the assembly of “Acknowledge

the

Lord,

loudas in Ierousalem in the house of the Lord in

because his mercy is forever.”

front of the new court. 6And he said, “Lord, God of 22And as they began the praise of his acknowl-our fathers, are you not God in heaven, and you edgement, the Lord granted that the sons of govern all the kingdoms of the nations, and in your Ammon war against Moab and Mount Seir, who hand is the power of dominance, and there is no were coming out against loudas, and they were one able to withstand you? 7Are you not the Lord turned to flight. 23And the sons of Ammon and who utterly destroyed the inhabitants of this land Moab rose up against the inhabitants of Mount from before your people Israel and gave it forever to Seir utterly to destroy and to crush. And when they the seed of Abraham, your beloved? 8And they finished off the inhabitants of Mount Seir, they lived in it and built in it a holy precinct to your turned to destroy each other utterly.

name, saying, 9If harm comes upon you, sword, di-

24 And loudas went to the lookout place over

saster, death or famine, we will stand before this the wilderness and scanned it and saw the multi-house and before you, because your name is upon tude. And behold, they were all corpses fallen this house, and we will call out to you out of afflic- upon the earth; there was no survivor. 25And los-tion, and you will hear and save. 10And now, see, aphot and his people came to plunder their plun-sons of Ammon and Moab and Mount Seir, them der, and they found many herds and baggage and through whom you did not grant Israel to pass plunder and desirable articles, and they plundered when they came out of the land of Egypt—because for themselves, and three days elapsed while they they avoided them and did not utterly destroy were plundering plunder, because there was much.

them! 11Now, see, it is they who are undertaking to 26And on the fourth day they gathered together come out against us to cast us from our inheritance, into the glen of the blessing, for there they blessed which you gave us. 12Lord, our God, are you not the Lord. That is why they called the name of that going to make judgment against them?—because place is Valley of Blessing until today. 27And every we have no strength to withstand this great multi- man of loudas returned to Ierousalem in great tude that has come against us, and we do not know gladness, and Iosaphat was their leader, because how to deal with them. Rather our eyes are on you.”

the Lord had made them glad due to their ene-

13 And all loudas stood before the Lord and mies. 28And they entered into Ierousalem with their children and wives. 14And with reference to nablasb and with cinyrasc and with trumpets into Oziel the son of Zacharias of the sons of Banaias of the Lord’s house. 29And terror of the Lord fell the sons of Eleel the son of Manthantias the Leuite upon all the kingdoms of the earth when they of the sons of Asaph—a spirit of the Lord came heard that the Lord had fought against Israel’s ad-upon him in the assembly 15and he said, “Listen, versaries. 30And Iosaphat’s kingdom remained all loudas and inhabitants of Ierousalem and King peaceful, and his God gave him rest all around.

Iosaphat: This is what the Lord says to you your-

31 And Josaphat reigned over Judah, being thirty-five years when he became king, and he before this vast throng, because the battle line is reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. And his not for you but for God. 16 Tomorrow descend mother's name was Azouba daughter of Sali.

upon them. See, they are ascending along the as- 32 And he walked in the ways of his father Asa and cent of Hasas, and you will find them on the did not turn aside from doing what was right be-height of the river in the wilderness of Jeriel. 17 It is fore the Lord. 33 But the high places still existed, not for you to make war. Understand that, and see and the people had not yet directed their heart to the Lord's deliverance with you, Judah and Jerou- ward the Lord, God of their fathers.

Jerusalem.' Do not be afraid or alarmed tomorrow to 34 And the rest of the histories of Josaphat, go out to meet them, and the Lord will be with both the first and the last, behold, they are written you."

in the Histories of Iou the Son of Hanani, who 18 And when Josaphat bowed with his face wrote a book on the kings of Israel.

down, all Judah also and the inhabitants of Jerou-

35 And after that Josaphat, king of Judah,

Jerusalem fell down before the Lord, to do obeisance made common cause with Ochozia, king of Israel, to the Lord. 19 And the Levites of the sons of Kaath (and he was lawless)

36when he acted and went to and of the sons of Kore stood up to praise the him to make ships to go to Tharsis, and he made Lord, God of Israel, in a supremely loud voice.

ships in Gasiongaber. 37And Eliezer the son of 20 And they rose next morning and went out Dodia from Marisa prophesied against Iosaphat, into the wilderness of Thekoe, and when they went saying, "Since you became friends with Ochozia, out, Iosaphat halted and called out and said, "Lis- the Lord has dashed your enterprise, and your ten to me, loudas and inhabitants of Ierousalem! ships have been wrecked, and they were not able to Trust in the Lord, your God, and you will be given go to Tharsis."

credence. Put your faith in his prophet, and you shall succeed." 21And he took counsel with the

And Iosaphat slept with his fathers and was people and stationed harp-singers and singers of 21 buriedwith hisfathers inthe cityof Daudid, aPossibly everyone of loudas b = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument c = Heb kinnor = lyre

380

2 supplements 21-23

and his son Ioram became king in his stead. 2And years old when he became king and reigned eight he had six brothers, sons of Iosaphat, Azarias and years in Ierousalem. And he walked not in com-liel and Zacharias and Azarias and Michael and mendation and was buried in the city of Dauid Saphatias. All these were sons of Iosaphat, king of and not in the tombs of the kings.

Ioudas. 3And their father gave them many gifts, silver and gold and arms along with walled cities in

And the inhabitants of Ierousalem made

Ioudas. And the kingdom he gave to Ioram, be- 22 Ochozias, his little son, king in his stead, cause he was the firstborn. 4And Ioram rose up over because the band of robbers, the Arabs and the Ali-his kingdom and became strong and killed all his mazones, that fell on them had killed all the older brothers by sword and some of the rulers of Israel. ones. And Ochozias son of Ioram, king of Ioudas, 5When Ioram was thirty-two years old he became became king. 2Being twenty years old Ochozias be-established over his kingdom, and he reigned eight came king and reigned in Ierousalem for one year.

years in Ierousalem. 6And he walked in the way of And his mother's name was Gotholia daughter of the kings of Israel, as the house of Achaab had Ambri. 3And he walked in the way of the house of done, because Achaab's daughter was his wife, and Achaab, because his mother was his counselor in he did what was evil before the Lord. 7And the Lord sinning. 4And he did what was evil before the did not wish to destroy utterly the house of Dauid Lord, like the house of Achaab, because they were on account of the covenant he had made with his counselors after his father's death in order to Dauid and how he had said to him that he would destroy him utterly. 5And he walked in their coun-give a lamp to him and his sons for all days.

sels. And he went with Ioram son of Achaab to war

8 In those days Edom revolted from Ioudas and against Hazael, king of Syria, to Rama Galaad. And crowned a king over themselves. 9 And Ioram set the archers struck Ioram. 6 And Ioram retreated to out with his commanders, and all the cavalry with be cured in Iezrael of the wounds the Syrians had him. And it happened that Edom arose by night inflicted on him at Rama when he fought against and struck Ioram, who was encircling him and the Hazael, king of Syria. And Ochozias son of Ioram, commanders of the chariots, and the people fled king of Ioudas, went down to see Ioram son of to their coverts. 10 And Edom revolted from Ioudas Achaab in Iezrael, because he was sick.

until this day. Then Lomna revolted from his hand

7 And from God came ruin to Ochozias that he at that time, because he had abandoned the Lord, came to Ioram. And when he arrived, Ioram went God of his fathers.

out with him against Iou son of Namessi, the 11 For indeed he made high places in the cities Lord's anointed, against the house of Achaab.

of Ioudas and prostituted the inhabitants of Ierou- 8 And it happened, as Iou was taking vengeance on salem and perverted Ioudas. 12 And a written note the house of Achaab, he also found the rulers of reached him from the prophet Elias, saying, "This Ioudas and Ochozias' brothers ministering to is what the Lord, God of Daudid your father, says: Ochozias, and he killed them. 9 And he gave orders

Because you have not walked in the way of your father to search for Ochozias, and they caught him as he then Josaphat and in the ways of Asa, king of Judah, who was being cured in Samaria and led him to Jericho, 13but you have walked in the ways of the kings and he killed him. And they buried him, because of Israel and you have prostituted Jericho and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, as the house of Ahab loved with his whole heart." And there was no one who prostituted, and your brothers, your father's sons, in Ochozias' house to assert power over the king-who were nobler than you, you killed, 14behold, Ochozias.

the Lord will strike you with a severe blow among

10 And Gotholia, the mother of Ochozias, saw your people and among your sons and among that her son was dead, and she was aroused and your wives and all your belongings. 15And you will be destroyed every offspring of the kingdom in the land in grave infirmity with a sickness of the belly house of Jericho. 11And Josabeth, the king's daughter- until your belly comes out with the infirmity from Jericho, took Jericho, Ochozias' son, and stole him from Jericho to Jericho."

among the king's sons about to be killed and con-

16 And the Lord aroused the Ammonites and the Syrians and he signed him and his nurse to the storeroom of the Arabs and the neighbors of the Ethiopians against the beds. And Josabeth daughter of King Jeroboam, sister Jeroboam. 17And they came up against Jericho, and of Ochozias, wife of Jeroboam the priest, hid him. And they seized and removed all the belongings that she hid him from before Gotholia, and she did not find him in the king's house, and his sons and he killed him. 12And he was hidden with her in the daughters, and no son was left to him except house of God for six years, and Gotholia reigned Ochozias, the youngest of his sons.

over the land.

18 And after all this the Lord struck him with an infirmity in his belly, for which there was no

And in the seventh year Iodae gained cure. 19And it occurred from daysa to daysa. And 23 strength and took the officers of hundreds, when a time came during two daysa of the daysa, Azarias son of Ioram and Ismael son of Ioanan and his belly came out with the illness, and he died in Azarias son of Obed and Maasaia son of Adaias grave infirmity. And his people did not do a funeral and Elisaphas son of Zacharias, with him into a al like a funeral of his fathers. 20He was thirty-two house. 2And they went round Ioudas and gathered aPossibly year(s) bLacking in Gk

2 supplements 23-24

381

the Leuites from all the cities of Ioudas and the priests and Leuites and re-established the daily di-rulers of the paternal families of Israel and came to visions of the priests and the Leuites, which Daud Ierousalem. 3And all the assembly of Ioudas made had appointed for the house of the Lord and to a covenant with the king in the house of God, and offer whole burnt offerings to the Lord, as it is writhe showed to them the king's son and said to ten in the law of Moyses, with gladness and with them, "Behold, let the king's son be king, as the songs, through the hand of Daid. 19And the gate-Lord has spoken concerning the house of Daid. keepers stood at the gates of the Lord's house, and 4Now this is the plan you will do. Let one third of no one unclean shall enter on any account. 20And you, of the priests and the Leuites, proceed on the he took the patriarchs and the magnates and the sabbath and to the gates of the entrances, 5and let rulers of the people and all the people of the land, one third be in the king's house, and let one third and they brought up the king to the Lord's house, be at the middle gate, and all the people are in the and he entered by the exterior gate to the king's courts of the Lord's house. 6And let no one enter house, and they sat the king on the throne of the the Lord's house except the priests and the Leuites kingdom. 21And all the people of the land were and those of the Leuites who are ministering. They glad, and the city was quiet. And they put Gotho-shall enter because they are holy, and let all the lia to death by dagger.

people keep the Lord's watches. 7And the Leuites shall surround the king on all sides, a man with an loas was seven years old when he became implement in his hand, and he who enters the 24 king, and he reigned forty years in Ierou-house shall die. And they shall be with the king as salem. And his mother's name was Sabia from he enters and exits."

Bersabee. 2And loas did what was right before the 8 And the Leuites and all Ioudaa did according Lord all the days of Iodae the priest. 3And Iodae to all that Iodae the priest commanded, and each took for him two wives, and he fathered sons and took his men from the beginning to the end of daughters.

sabbath, because Iodae did not disband the daily

4 And it happened afterwards that it came into divisions. 9And he distributed the daggers and the loas's heart to restore the house of the Lord. 5And shields and the arms which had belonged to King he gathered the priests and Leuites and said to Daud in the house of God. 10And he appointed all them, "Go out into the cities of loudas, and gather the people, each with his arms, from the right money from all Israel to restore the Lord's house, angle of the house to the left angle of the altar, and year by year, and hurry to spread the word." But the house, in a ring around the king. 11And he led the Leuites did not hurry. 6And King loas sum-out the king's son and bestowed the crown upon moned Iodae the chief and said to him, "Why have him, and the testimonies. And Iodae and his sons you not exercised oversight concerning the Leuites, made him king and anointed him and said, "Let to bring in from loudas and Ierousalem what was the king live!"

determined by Moyses, man of God, when he as-

12 And Gotholia heard the sound of the peo- ssembled Israel into the tent of witness?"—7be-ple, those who ran and acknowledged and praised cause Gotholia was the lawless one, and her sons the king and approached the king in the house of laid waste the house of God and furthermore the Lord. 13And she looked, and, behold, there made over to the she-Baalim all the holy things of was the king at his station and at the entrance the the Lord's house.

rulers and the trumpets around the king, and all

8 And the king said, "Let there be a chest, and the people were glad, and they trumpeted with the let it stand outside the gate to the Lord's house."

trumpets and the singers singing with their instru- 9And they proclaimed in loudas and Ierousalem ments and hymning a song of praise. And Gotho- that people should bring an offering to the Lord, as lia tore her garment and exclaimed and said, "At- Moyses servant of God had mentioned for Israel in tacking you are launching an attack." 14And Iodae the wilderness. 10And all the rulers and all the peo- the priest went out, and Iodae the priest com- ple gave and brought and dropped into the chest manded the officers of hundreds and commanders until it was full. 11And it happened, as they would of the force and said to them, "Remove her from bring the chest to the king's officials by means of the house, and follow her, and let her die by dag- the Leuites and as they saw that the money had inger," because the priest said, "Let her not die in the creased, the king's scribe and the official of the house of the Lord." 15And they gave her leave, and great priest also came and emptied the chest and she exited through the cavalry gate of the king's set it back in its place. This is how they acted day house, and there they put her to death.

after day, and they collected much money. 12And

16 And Iodae made a covenant between him- the king and Iodae the priest gave it to those doing self and the people and the king that they should the work for the work of the Lord's house. And be a people to the Lord. 17And all the people of the they hired masons and carpenters to restore the land entered into the house of Baal, and they tore Lord's house and smiths of iron and copper to re-it down and smashed to pieces its altars and idols, store the Lord's house. 13And those doing the work and they killed Matthan the priest of the she-Baal kept on working, and the extent of their work ex-before his altars. 18And Iodae the priest put his panded by their hands, and they raised up the hand to the works of the Lord's house through Lord's house in its position and strengthened it.

aPossibly everyone of loudas

382

2 supplements 24-25

14And when they had finished, they brought the happened, as his reign was confirmed in his hand, rest of the money to the king and Iodae, and they he also put to death his servants who had mur-made utensils for the Lord's house, liturgical uten- dered the king, his father. 4And he did not kill sils for whole burnt offerings and gold and silver their sons according to the covenant of the Lord's censers. And they offered whole burnt offerings in law, as it is written, as the Lord had commanded, the Lord's house regularly all the days of Iodae.

saying, "Fathers shall not die because of children, 15 And Iodae grew old and full of days and and sons shall not die because of fathers, but each died at the age of one hundred and thirty years at shall die for his own sin."

his death. 16And they buried him in the city of 5 And Amasias gathered the house of loudas

Dauid with the kings, because he had done good- and appointed them as officers of thousands and messengers with Israel and with God and with his house.

officers of hundreds according to their paternal

17 And it happened after Iodae's death that the families in all Judah and Jerusalem. And the rulers of Judah entered and did obeisance to the king from the age of twenty and up. Then the king heeded them. 18 And they found them to be three hundred thousand men able-bodied to go to war grasping spear and shield. 6 And he hired one hundred thousand men of strength from Israel for one hundred talents that day. 19 And he sent prophets to them to turn them back to the Lord, but they did not listen. And a man of God went to them and bore witness against them, and they did not listen, because the Lord is not with Israel, since all listen.

are the sons of Ephraim—8 because, if you presume

20 And a divine spirit entered Azarias the son of Iodae the priest, and he stood above the people before your enemies, because he prevailed and to be and said, "This is what the Lord says: Why do you routed are from the Lord?" 9 And Amasias said to transgress the Lord's commandments? And you the man of God, "And what shall I do about the will not prosper. Because you have abandoned the hundred talents I gave to the force of Israel?" And Lord, he will also abandon you." 21 And they plotted against him and stoned him by command of more than these.” 10And Amasias discharged the King loas in the court of the Lord’s house. 22And force that had come to him from Ephraim to re-loas did not remember the mercy that Iodae his fa- turn to their place. And they were very angry with ther had done with him, and he put his son to loudas and returned to their place in fierce anger.

death. And as he was dying, he said, “May the Lord 11 And Amasias became strong and brought his see, and let him judge.”

people along with him and advanced into the Val-

23 And it happened after the completion of the ley of Salt and there struck ten thousand sons of year, the Syrian force came up against him and Seir. 12And the sons of loudas took captive ten came against loudas and against Ierousalem, and thousand and brought them to the cliff edge and they destroyed all the rulers of the people among tossed them over the cliff edge, and they were all the people and sent all the plunder to the king of rent asunder. 13And the sons of the force whom Damascus. 24Because the Syrian force arrived with Amasias had turned so as not to advance with him few men, God also delivered into their hands a to war also fell upon the cities of loudas from very large force, because they had abandoned the Samaria to Baithoron, and they struck three thou-Lord, God of their fathers. And he executed many sand among them and took much plunder.

judgments against loas.

14 And it happened, after Amasias went and 25 And after they had withdrawn from him, struck Idumea, he also brought back to them the when they abandoned him in great infirmities, his gods of the sons of Seir and established them as servants also plotted against him because of the gods for himself and would do obeisance to them, bloodshed of the son of Iodae the priest, and they and he himself would sacrifice to them. 15And the put him to death on his bed. And he died. And Lord's wrath came upon Amasias, and he sent to they buried him in the city of Daud, and they did him prophets, and they said to him, "Why did you not bury him in the tomb of the kings. 26And seek the gods of the people, who did not deliver those plotting against him were Zabed the son of their people out of your hand?" 16And it hap-Samath the Ammanite and Iozabed the son of So- pened, as he spoke to him, that he said to him, maroth the Moabite. 27And all his sons, even the "Surely I have not engaged you as a counselor to five, came against him. And the rest, behold, it is the king? Take heed lest you are whipped." And the written in the document of the kings. And Amasias prophet fell silent. And he said, "I know that hea his son became king in his stead.

desired for you to destroy you, because you have done this and have not heeded my counsel."

When he was twenty-five years old Amasias

17 And Amasias took counsel and sent to Ioad son of Ioadchaz son of Ioad, king of Israel, saying,

25 becamekingandreignedtwenty-nineyears in Ierousalem. And his mother's name was Ioaden "Come, let us see face to face," 18And Ioad, king of Ierousalem. 2And he did what was right be- Israel, sent to Amasias, king of Judah, saying, "The Lord is the Lord, but not with a full heart. 3 And it achouchb in Lebanon sent a message to the cedar al.e. God bHeb = brier or bramble

2 supplements 25-27

383

in Lebanon saying, 'Give your daughter to my son the wilderness and hewed out many cisterns, before a wife. And behold, the wild beasts of the field because he had large herds in Sephela and in the low in Lebanon will come out.' And the wild beasts land and vinedressers in the hill country and in came and trampled down the achoucha. 19 You Carmel, because he loved the soil. 11 And Ozias had said, 'See, you have struck Idumea, and your heavy forces making war and going out to battle in num-heart exalts you. Now sit in your house, and why ber, and their number was through the hand of Iiel are you planning harm, and you yourself will fall the scribe and Maasias the judge through the and Judah with you?' " hand of Ananias the king's deputy. 12 And the en-

20 And Amasias did not listen, because it was tire number of the patriarchs of the mighty ones from the Lord to hand him over into his hands, before war was two thousand six hundred. 13 And with cause he sought out the gods of the Idumeans. them was a military force of three hundred and 21 And Ioas, king of Israel, went up, and they ap-seven thousand five hundred. These were the ones peared to one another, he and Amasias, king of making war with power of strength to assist the Judah, in Baithsamys, which belongs to Iouas, king against his adversaries.

14 And Ozias equipped 22 And Iouas was turned back before Israel, and

them, the entire force, with shields and spears and each fled to his covert. 23 And Iouas, king of Israel, helmets and breastplates and bows and slings for captured Amasias, king of Iouas, son of Iouas in stones. 15 And he made machines in Ierousalem Baithsamys and led him into Ierousalem, and he devised by a mathematician to be on the towers pulled down a portion of the wall of Ierousalem and on the corners, to fire projectiles and large from the gate of Ephraim to the gate of the corner, stones. And their construction was noised abroad four hundred cubits. 24 And he took all the gold far and wide, because it was marveled at in order to and the silver and all the vessels that were found in be of help until he became strong.

the Lord's house and with Abdedom and the trea-

16 And as he grew in power, his heart was expires of the king's house and the sons of the mixed altered so as to be corrupt, and he did wrong against parentage and returned to Samaria.

the Lord, his God, and entered into the Lord's

25 And Amasias the son of Iouas, king of Iouas, shrine, to burn incense on the altar of incense.

lived fifteen years after the death of Iouas son of 17 And Azarias the priest entered after him and Iouachaz, king of Israel. 26 And the rest of the histo- with him the priests of the Lord, eighty mighty ries of Amasias, the first and the last, behold, are sons. 18 And they opposed King Ozias and said to them, "It is not written in the Book of the Kings of Judah for you, O Zias, to offer incense to the Lord and Israel? 27 And at the time when Amasias turned the Lord over to the priests, the sons of Aaron, from the Lord, they plotted a plot against him, and who are consecrated, to offer incense. Go out of here; he fled from Jerusalem to Lachis. And they sent him to Lachis and there put him to death. the Lord, and this will not win you any glory from the Lord. 28 And they took him back on horses and buried him in the field of the Lord God." 19 And O Zias became angry, and in him with his fathers in the city of David.

his hand was the fumigator to offer incense in the shrine. And when he became angry with the

And all the people of the land took O Zias, priests, leprosy also rose up on his forehead in 26 and he was sixteen years old, and they front of the priests in the house of the Lord over made him king in his father Amasias' stead. 2 He the altar of incense. 20 And the first priest and the built Ailath and restored it to Judah after the king priests turned toward him and, behold, he was lep-slept with his fathers. 3 O Zias became king being a rous on his forehead. And they hurried him out of son of sixteen years and reigned in Jerusalem there, and indeed he himself hurried to get out, be-fifty-two years. And his mother's name was Chalia, cause the Lord had convicted him. 21 And King from Jerusalem. 4 And he did what was right be- O Zias was leprous until the day of his death, and fore the Lord in accordance with everything his fa- he sat as a leper in the house of aphphousothe, bether Amasias had done. 5And he would seek out cause he was excluded from the Lord's house. And the Lord in the days of Zacharias who had under- loatham his son was in charge of his kingdom, standing in fear of the Lord. And in his days he judging the people of the land.

sought the Lord, and the Lord made him prosper.

22 And the rest of the histories of Ozias, the

6 And he went out and made war against the al- first and the last, were written by lessiasf the lophyles and pulled down the walls of Geth and prophet. 23And Ozias slept with his fathers, and the walls of labne and the walls of Azotus, and he they buried him with his fathers in the plain of the built cities ofc Azotus and among the allophytes. kings' burial, because they said, "He is leprous."

7And the Lord made him prevail over the allo-

And loatham his son became king in his stead.

phytes and over the Arabs who lived on the rockd and over the Minites. 8And the Minites gave Ozias loatham was a son of twenty-five years gifts, and his fame reached as far as the entry to 27 when he became king and reigned sixteen Egypt, because he was highly strong. 9And Ozias years in Ierousalem. And his mother's name was built towers in Ierousalem, both at the gate of the Ierousa daughter of Sadok. 2And he did what was corner and at the gate of the ravine and on the cor-right before the Lord in accordance with every-ners, and he grew strong. 10And he built towers in thing his father Ozias had done—but he did not aHeb = brier or bramble bLacking in Gk cPossibly in the territory of d*e. Petra* eHeb = separateness fHeb = Isaiah

384

2 supplements 27-29

enter into the Lord's shrine. And still the people rulers of the sons of Ephraim stood up against were becoming corrupt. 3He built the high gate of those returning from war, Oudia the son of Ioanes the Lord's house and built extensively on the wall and Barachias the son of Mosolamoth, Hezekias of Ophla. 4And he built cities in the hill country of the son of Sellem and Amasias the son of Chodli.

loudas and both dwellings and towers in the 13And they said to them, "You shall not bring the forests. 5He fought with the king of the sons of captives here to us, because you speak to us in re-Ammon and prevailed over him. And the sons of gard to sinning against the Lord to add to our sins Ammon would give him one hundred talents of and ignorance, because great is our sin and the silver annually and ten thousand korsa of wheat anger of the Lord's wrath against Israel." 14And the and ten thousand of barley. These the king of warriors left the captives and the plunder before Ammon would bring him annually in the first year the rulers and all the assembly. 15And the men got and the second and the third. 6And loatham be- up as their name was called out and assisted the came strong, because he ordered his ways before captives and wrapped all the naked from the plun-the Lord, his God. 7And the rest of the histories of der and clothed them and shod them and gave loatham and the war and his acts, behold, they are them to eat and to be anointed and assisted every written in the Book of the Kings of loudas and Is- sick person with pack animals and brought them rael. 9And loatham slept with his fathers and was back to their brothers in Iericho, the city of palms, buried in the city of Daud, and his son Achaz be- and they returned to Samaria.

came king in his stead.

16 At that time Achaz sent to the king of Assour to help him 17and on this occasion, because the Achaz was a son of twenty years when he

Idumeans had attacked and struck at loudas and 28 became king and reigned sixteen years in taken a captivity captive. 18And the allophytes had Ierousalem. And he did not do what was right be- attacked against the cities of the low land and from fore the Lord, as Daud his father had done. 2And the southwest of loudas, and they had taken Baith-he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, for in- samys and Ailon and Gaderoth and Socho and its deed he made carved objects for their idols. 3And villages and Thamna and its villages and Gamzo he would sacrifice in Gaibenenom, and he led his and its villages, and they settled there, 19because children through fire according to the abomina- the Lord humbled loudas on account of Achaz, tions of the nations whom the Lord utterly de- king of loudas, because he had rebelled with re-stroyed from before the sons of Israel. 4And he bellion against the Lord. 20And Thaglathphellasar, would offer incense on the high places and on the king of Assour, came against him and struck him.

21

roofs and under every woodland tree.

And Achaz took what was in the Lord's house

5 And the Lord, his God, handed him over and in the house of the king and of the rulers and through the hand of the king of Syria, and he gave it to the king of Assour, but it was of no help struck at him and took captive of them a large cap- to him. 22Rather by his having been afflicted, he tivity and brought it to Damascus. Moreover, he even added to rebel against the Lord, and the king also handed him over into the hands of the king of said, 23"I will seek out the gods of Damascus who Israel, and he struck at him a severe blow. 6And are hitting me." And he said, "Because the gods of Phakee the son of Romelias, king of Israel, killed the king of Syria themselves will strengthen them, one hundred and twenty thousand men powerful I will therefore sacrifice to them, and they will sup-in strength in loudas in one day when they had port me." And they became a stumbling block to abandoned the Lord, God of their fathers. 7And him and to all Israel. 24And Achaz removed the Ezekri, the powerful one of Ephraim, killed Maa- utensils of the Lord's house and cut them up and saias the king's son and Esdrikam, a commander of closed the doors of the Lord's house and made al-his house, and Elkana the king's deputy.

tars for himself on every corner of Ierousalem.

25

8 And the sons of Israel took captive three hun-

And in bevery city and cityb in loudas he made dred thousand of their brothers, women, sons and high places to cburn incensec to foreign gods, and daughters, and they took much plunder from them they angered the Lord, God of their fathers. 26And and brought the plunder to Samaria. 9And there, the rest of his histories and his acts, the first and there was the prophet of the Lord, whose name the last, behold, they are written in the Book of the was Oded, and he went out to meet the force of Kings of loudas and Israel. 27And Achaz slept with those entering Samaria and said to them, "See, the his fathers and was buried in the city of Daud, be-wrath of the Lord, God of your fathers, is upon cause they did not bring him to the tombs of the loudas, and he gave them over into your hands, kings of Israel. And his son Hezekias reigned in his and you killed among them with anger. As far as stead.

the heavens it has reached. 10And now you say that you have acquired sons of loudas and Ierousalem

And Hezekias became king at age twenty-as male slaves and female slaves. See, am I not with 29 five and reigned twenty-nine years in Ie-you to witness to the Lord, your God? 11And now rousalem. And his mother's name was Abba hear me, and return the captives whom you have daughter of Zacharias. 2And he did what was right taken captive from among your brothers, for the before the Lord, just as his father Daudid had done.

anger of the Lord's wrath is upon you." 12And

3 And it happened that, when he was estab-aHeb 1 kor = 220 liters bl.e. each city cOr fumigate

2 supplements 29-30

385

lished over his kingdom, in the first month he rael, and he told the priests, the sons of Aaron, to opened the doors of the Lord's house and repaired go up to the Lord's altar. 22And they sacrificed the them. 4And he brought in the priests and the calves, and the priests received the blood and Leuites and placed them on the side toward the poured it on the altar. And they sacrificed the rams east. 5And he said to them, "Listen, Leuites, now and poured the blood on the altar. And they sacri-be purified, and purify the house of the Lord, God ficed the lambs and poured the blood for the altar.

of your fathers, and cast out uncleanness from the 23And they brought the he-goats for sin in front of holy places, 6because our fathers were apostate the king and the assembly and laid their hands on and did what was evil before the Lord and aban- them. 24And the priests sacrificed them, and they doned him and turned their face from the Lord's atoned with their blood at the altar, and they tent and gave their neck 7and shut the doors of the atoned for all Israel, because—the king said—the shrine and put out the lamps. And they did not whole burnt offering and the victims for sin offer-burn incense and did not offer whole burnt offer- ings were for all Israel.

ings in the holy place to Israel's God. 8And the 25 And he stationed the Leuites in the Lord's

Lord was angered with anger against loudas and house with cymbals and with nablasa and with against lerousalem and gave them into terror and cinyrasb according to the commandment of King into annihilation and into scorn, as you see with Daudid and of Gad the king's seer and of Nathan your very eyes. 9And, behold, your fathers were the prophet, for the ordinance was through the struck by dagger, and your sons and your daughters Lord's commandment by the hand of the proph-and your wives are in captivity in a land not their ets. 26And the Leuites stood with instruments of own, which even now is the case. 10As a result of Daud and the priests with the trumpets. 27And these things, it is now in my heart to make a cov- Hezekias said that the whole burnt offering should enant with the Lord, God of Israel, and he will turn be brought to the altar, and when they began to the anger of his wrath from us. 11And now do not offer the whole burnt offering, they began to sing delay, because the Lord has chosen for you to stand to the Lord, and the trumpets were next to the in-before him to minister and to be ministers and in- struments of Daud, king of Israel. 28And all the as-cense burners for him."

sembly did obeisance, and the harp-singers were 12 And the Leuites arose, Maath the son of singing and the trumpets were trumpeting until Amasi and loel the son of Azarias from the sons of the whole burnt offering was finished. 29And as Kaath, and from the sons of Merari, Kis the son of they finished offering, the king knelt, and all those Abdi and Azarias the son of lallelel, from the sons present also did obeisance. 30And King Hezekias of Gedsoni, loa the son of Zemmath and lodan the and the rulers said that the Leuites should hymn son of loacha, 13and of the sons of Elisaphan, the Lord with words of Daud and of Asaph the Sambri and liel, and of the sons of Asaph, prophet. And they hymned with gladness and fell Zacharias and Maththanias, 14and of the sons of down and did obeisance.

Haiman, liel and Semei, and of the sons of 31 And Hezekias answered and said, "Now you

Idithon, Samaias and Oziel. 15And they gathered have filled your hands to the Lord; bring, and bear their brothers and were purified according to the sacrifices of praise also to the Lord's house. And king's command through the Lord's ordinance to the assembly brought sacrifices of praise also to cleanse the Lord's house. 16And the priests entered the Lord's house, and everyone eager in heart inside the Lord's house to purify it and threw out brought whole burnt offerings. 32And the number all the uncleanness that they found in the Lord's of the whole burnt offering that the assembly of-house and into the court of the Lord's house, and fered was seventy calves, one hundred rams, two the Leuites took it to toss out into the Wadi Kedron hundred lambs. All these were for a whole burnt outside. 17And they began to purify on the first offering to the Lord. 33And the consecrated calves day, on the new moon of the first month, and on were six hundred; sheep, three thousand. 34But the the eighth day of the month they entered into the priests were few and were unable to skin the whole Lord's shrine and purified the Lord's house in eight burnt offering, and their brothers the Leuites as-days, and they finished on the sixteenth day of the sisted them until the task was finished and until first month. 18And they went inside to King the priests were purified, because the Leuites had Hezekias and said, "We have purified everything in been purified more eagerly than the priests. 35And the Lord's house, the altar for whole burnt offer- the whole burnt offering was abundant with the ings and its utensils, the table of presentation and fats of the completion for deliverance and of the li-its utensils, 19and all the utensils, which King bations of the whole burnt offering. And the ser-Achaz defiled during his reign in his apostasy, we vice in the Lord's house was restored. 36And have made ready and purified. See, they are in Hezekias and all the people were glad on account front of the Lord's altar."

of the fact that God had prepared for the people,

20 And King Hezekias early in the morning because the thing had come about suddenly.

gathered the rulers of the city and went up to the Lord's house. 21 And he brought seven calves, seven

And Hezekias sent to all Israel and loudas rams, seven lambs, seven he-goats of goats for sin, 30 and wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, for the kingdom and for the holy things and for Is-to come to the Lord's house in Ierousalem to hold a = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument b = Heb kinnor = lyre cHeb = passover

386

2 supplements 30-31

the phasekc to the Lord, God of Israel. 2 And the prayed for them, saying, "Let the good Lord be proking and the rulers and all the assembly in le- pitiated over 19 every heart directed to seek out the rousalem took counsel to hold the phaseka in the Lord, God of their fathers, and not in accordance second month, 3 for they were unable to hold it at with the purity of the holy things." 20 And the Lord that time, because not enough priests had been pu- heard Hezekias and healed the people. 21 And the rified and the people had not gathered in Ierou- sons of Israel who were found in Ierousalem held salem. 4 And the plan was pleasing both to the king the feast of unleavened bread for seven days with and to the assembly. 5 And they fixed a plan to pass great gladness and were singing hymns to the Lord a message through all Israel from Bersabee up to day by day, and the priests and the Levites with in Dan to come and hold the phaseka to the Lord, struments to the Lord. 22 And Hezekias spoke to God of Israel, in Ierousalem, because the multitude every heart of the Levites and those with a good had not held it according to prescription. 6 And the understanding for the Lord, and they completed couriers with the letters from the king and the the feast of unleavened bread, sacrificing sacrifices rulers traveled throughout all Israel and loudas in for deliverance for seven days and acknowledging accordance with the king's ordinance, saying, "Sons the Lord, God of their fathers.

of Israel, turn to the God of Abraham and Isaak and 23 And the assembly decided to hold it togeth-

Israel, and he will return those survivors who es- er for seven more days, and they celebrated for caped the hand of the king of Assour. 7 And do not seven days with gladness, 24 for Hezekias con-be like your fathers and your brothers, who became tributed to the assembly of loudas a thousand apostate from the Lord, God of their fathers, and he calves and seven thousand sheep and the rulers gave them over to desolation, as you yourselves see. contributed to the people a thousand calves and 8 And now do not harden your necks. Give glory to ten thousand sheep, and the priests' holy things the Lord God, and enter his holy precinct, which he were in abundance. 25 And the whole assembly was sanctified forever, and be subject to the Lord, your glad: the priests and the Levites and all the assem-God, and he will remove from you the anger of his bly of loudas and those present from Israel and the wrath, 9 because, when you return to the Lord, your guests who had come from the land of Israel and brothers and your children will become pitied be- those who dwelt in loudas. 26And there was great fore all who took them captive, and he will return gladness in Ierousalem. From the days of Salomon them to this land, because the Lord our God is mer- son of David king of Israel there had not been ciful and compassionate and will not turn his face such a feast in Ierousalem. 27And the priests, the from us, if we turn to him.”

Leuites, stood up and blessed the people. And their

10 And the couriers passed through city from voice was heard and their prayer entered his holy city in Mount Ephraim and Manasse and as far as dwelling place in the sky.

Zaboulon, and they were, as it were, as people de-riding and mocking them. 11But the people of Aser

And when all this was finished, all Israel and some of Manasse and of Zaboulon were 31 found in the cities of loudas went out and moved to shame and came to Ierousalem. 12And demolished the steles and cut down the groves and the hand of the Lord was on loudas to give them completely dismantled the high places and altarsd one heart to go and act in accordance with the or- from all over Judea and Benjamin and from Ephra- dinance of the king and the rulers in the word of im and from Manasse. And all Israel —each one— the Lord.

returned to his inheritance and to their cities.

13 And many people gathered in Ierousalem to

2 And Hezekias appointed the daily divisions hold the feast of unleavened bread in the second of the priests and of the Levites and the daily divi-month, an exceedingly vast assembly. 14And they sions of each according to their ministry for the got up and removed the altars that were in le- priests and for the Levites in whole burnt offerings rousalem, and all with which they had cburned in- and in the sacrifice of deliverance and to praise censec to the false ones they pulled down and and acknowledge and minister at the gates in the threw into the Wadi Kedron. 15And they sacrificed courts of the Lord's house. 3And the king's portion the phaseka on the fourteenth of the second from his possessions was for whole burnt offer-month. And the priests and the Levites were ings, morning and evening, and whole burnt offer-ashamed and were purified and brought whole ings on sabbaths and on new moons and on the burnt offerings into the Lord's house. 16And they feasts written in the Lord's law. 4And he told the stood at their station according to their judgment people who lived in Ierousalem to give the portion in accordance with the commandment of Moyses, due to the priests and the Levites so that they man of God. And the priests received the blood might be strong in the ministry of the Lord's from the hand of the Levites, 17for the majority of house. 5And when he had prescribed the matter, the assembly were not purified and the Levites had the sons of Israel multiplied their first fruits of to sacrifice the phaseka for anyone unable to be grain and of wine and of oil and of honey and of purified for the Lord, 18for the majority of the peo- every field crop, and the sons of Israel and of ple from Ephraim and Manasse and Issachar and loudas brought all the tithes in profusion. And the Zaboulon had not been purified but ate the pha- inhabitants of all the cities in loudas, 6they too seka in contravention of prescriptionb. And Hezekias brought tithes of calves and of sheep and tithes of aHeb = passover bOr scripture cOr fumigated dGk = bômos

2 supplements 31-32

387

goats, and they dedicated them to the Lord, their springs that were outside the city, and they sup-God, and brought them in and laid them in heaps ported him. 4And he gathered a large group of peo-by heaps. 7In the third month the heaps began to ple and sealed off the waters of the springs and the be formed and in the seventh month they were fin- stream that separated the city, saying, "May the king ished. 8And Hezekias and the rulers came and saw of Assour not come and find much water and be rethe heaps and blessed the Lord and his people Is- vived." 5And Hezekias strengthened and built the rael. 9And Hezekias learned from the priests and entire wall that had been demolished and towers from the Leuites about the heaps. 10And Azarias and another external wall, and he strengthened the the ruling priest said to him, and he said, "From retaining structure of the city of Daudid and fash-the time that the first fruits began to be brought to ioned many weapons. 6And he set war command-the house of the Lord, we have eaten and drunk ers over the people, and they gathered to him in the and had left over, because the Lord has blessed his square of the ravine gate, and he spoke to their people, and we still have this abundance left over."

hearts, saying: 7"Be strong, and be manly. Do not

11 And Hezekias told them to prepare shrine- be terrified from before the king of Assour and carriers' chambers for the house of the Lord, and from before all the nation with him, because with they prepared them. 12And there they faithfully us are more than with him. 8With him are physical brought the first fruits and tithes, and Chonenias arms, but with us is the Lord, our God, to save us the Leuite was supervisor over them, and Semei his and to fight our war for us." And the people took brother was deputy. 13And liel and Ozazias and heart at the words of Hezekias, king of loudas.

Naeth and Asael and Ierimoth and lozabath and 9 And after this, Sennacherim, king of the As-

Eliel and Samachia and Maath and Banaias and his syrians, sent his servants to Ierousalem, and he sons were appointed through Chonenias and himself was at Lachis, and all his army with him.

Semei his brother, as King Hezekias and Azarias, And he sent to Hezekias, king of loudas, and to all the chief officer of the Lord's house, had ordered. loudas in Ierousalem, saying, 10"Thus says Sen-14And Kore the son of lemna the Leuite, the doornacherim, king of the Assyrians: In whatb have you keeper on the east, was in charge of the gifts to give put your trust, that you sit in the siege in Iethe first fruits to the Lord and the holies of holies rousalem? 11Is not Hezekias deceiving you, to items 15through the hand of Odom and Benjamin hand you over to death and to famine and to and lesous and Semei and Amarias and Sechonias thirst, saying, 'The Lord, our God, will save us from through the hand of the priests, to give faithfully to the hand of the king of Assour?' 12Was it not this their brothers according to the daily divisions, in Hezekias who removed his altars and his high accord with great and small, 16apart from the off-places and said to loudas and the inhabitants of spring of the male line from three years old and up Ierousalem, saying, 'Opposite this altar you shall to every one entering the Lord's house, on the ap- do obeisance and upon it you shall offer incense'?

appropriate day, for ministry according to the calcu- 13 Shall you not know what I have done, I and my lation of days with the daily divisions of their dis- fathers, to all the peoples of the countries? Being positions. 17 This was the register of the priests able were the gods of the nations of all the earth according to their paternal houses, and the Leuites able to save their people from my hand? 14 Who were in their daily divisions from the age of twen- was there among the gods of those nations whom ty and up, in order, 18 in registers, in every genera- my fathers utterly destroyed? Were they able to tion of their sons and their daughters to their full save their people from my hand, that your God extent, because they faithfully purified the holy should be able to save you from my hand? 15 Now, place 19 for the sons of Aaron, those serving as let Hezekias not deceive you; let him not make you priests. And those from their cities, in aevery city trust like this, and do not believe him, because no and citya, men who were named by name, were to god of any nation or kingdom shall be able to save give a portion to every male among the priests and his people from my hand and from the hand of my to everyone enumerated among the Leuites.

fathers—because your God will not save you from 20 And Hezekias acted so in all loudas and did my hand.”

what was good and right before the Lord, his God.

16 And his servants spoke still more against the 21 And in every task with which he began in the Lord God, and against Hezekias his servant. 17 And work in the Lord's house and in the law and in the he wrote a note to reproach the Lord, God of Isra-ordinances, he sought out his God with his whole el, and spoke about him, saying, "As the gods of soul and acted and succeeded.

the nations of the earth did not deliver their peoples from my hand, so Hezekias' God will not de-

And after these matters and this truth, Sen-liver his people from my hand." 18And he shouted 32 nacherim, king of the Assyrians, came, and with a loud voice in Judean to the people of Ierou-he came against loudas and encamped against the salem who were on the wall, to frighten them and walled cities and said that he would take possession draw them down in order that they might seize the of them. 2And Hezekias saw that Sennacherim had city. 19And he talked about Ierousalem's God as he come and that his face was set to wage war on le- did about the gods of the peoples of the earth: rousalem. 3And he took counsel with his elders works of human hands.

and the magnates to seal off the waters of the 20 And King Hezekias and the prophet Esaias al.e. each city bOr whom 388

2 supplements 32-33

son of Amos prayed about this and shouted out to "In Ierousalem shall my name be forever." 5And he the sky. 21And the Lord sent an angel, and he de- built altars to all the host of the sky in the two stroyed every powerful warrior and commander courts of the Lord's house. 6He too passed his chil-and general in the camp of Assour's king, and he dren through fire in Gai-Banai-ennom, and he returned to his country shame-faced. And he came acted as a diviner and practiced ornithomancy and into the house of his god, and some of those fa- sorcery and acted as ventriloquists and enchanters.

thered from his belly struck him down with a He multiplied doing evil before the Lord in order sword. 22And the Lord saved Hezekias and the in- to provoke him. 7And he installed what was carved habitants of Ierousalem from the hand of Sen- and what was smelted, an image that he had made, nacherim, king of Assour, and from the hand of in the Lord's house of which God had said to alla. And he gave them rest on every side. 23And Daudid and to Salomon his son, "In this house and many brought gifts to the Lord in Ierousalem and Ierousalem, which I have chosen out of all the presents to Hezekias, king of Ioudas, and he was tribes of Israel, I will put my name forever. 8And I exalted in the eyes of all the nations after that.

will not add to shake Israel's foot from the land

24 In those days Hezekias became sick unto that I gave to their fathers, if only they are careful death. And he prayed to the Lord, and he heard to do all that I have commanded them, according him and gave him a sign. 25And Hezekias did not to all the law and the ordinances and the judg-repay according to the reward which he had given ments by Moyses' hand." 9And Manasses led astray him; rather, his heart was exalted. And anger came Ioudas and the inhabitants of Ierousalem to do upon him and upon Ioudas and Ierousalem. what was evil beyond all the nations whom the 26 And Hezekias was brought low from the exalta-Lord had removed from before the sons of Israel.

tion of his heart—and the inhabitants of Ierou-

10 And the Lord spoke to Manasses and to his salem—and the Lord's anger did not come upon people, but they gave no heed. 11 And the Lord led them in the days of Hezekias.

against them the commanders of the force of the 27 And wealth and very great honor accrued to king of Assour, and they took Manasses in mana-Hezekias. And he made himself treasuries for silver cles and bound him with fetters and brought him and gold and precious stone and for spices, and ar- to Babylon. 12 And when he was in distress he mories also for desirable articles, 28 and cities for sought the face of the Lord, his God, and he was the produce of grain and oil and wine and humbled exceedingly from before the God of his mangers for every herd and folds for the flocks fathers. 13 And he prayed to him, and he heard 29 and cities, which he built for himself, and goods him. And he heard his cry and brought him back for sheep and cows in profusion, because the Lord to Ierousalem to his kingdom. And Manasses knew gave him very abundant goods. 30 This same Hez- that the Lord, he is God.

ekias closed above the outlet of the water of Gion

14 And afterward he built a wall outside the

and directed themb down to the southwest of the city of Daudid from the southwest by Gion in the city of Daudid. And Hezekias prospered in all his wadi and when people exit the round about gate works, 31 and likewise with regard to the envoys of even on to Ophla, and he heightened it signifi-the commanders of Babylon, who had been sent to cantly. And he appointed commanders of the force him to inquire from him the marvel that had hap- in all the walled cities in loudas. 15And he repened on the land, and the Lord abandoned him, moved the foreign gods and the carved item from to test him, to know what was in his heart.

the Lord's house and all the altars that he had built 32 And the rest of the histories of Hezekias and on the mountain of the Lord's house and in le-his mercy, behold, they are written in the Prophe- rousalem and outside the city. 16And he restored cy of Esaias son of Amos the Prophet and in the the Lord's altar and sacrificed on it a sacrifice of de-Book of the Kings of loudas and Israel. 33And liverance and of praise, and he said that loudas Hezekias slept with his fathers, and they buried should be subject to the Lord, God of Israel. 17The him on the ascent of the tombs of Dauid's sons, people, however, were still on the high places;

the and call loudac and the inhabitants of Ierousalem Lord, however, was their God.

gave him fame and honor in his death. And Ma-

18 And the rest of the histories of Manasses nasses his son became king in his stead.

and his prayer to God and the words of the seers when they spoke to him in the name of the Lord, Manasses was twelve years old when he be-

God of Israel, behold, they are in the accounts 19of

33 came king and reigned fifty-five years in his prayer, and how he listened to him, and all his Jerusalem. 2 And he did what was evil before the Lord, arising from all the abominations of the nations which he built the high places and set up there things whom the Lord had utterly destroyed from groves and carved items before he repented, before the sons of Israel. 3 And he turned and built holds, they are written in the accounts of the seers.

20

the high places that his father Hezekias had pulled

And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they down and erected steles to the she-Baalim and buried him in the orchard of his house. And his made groves and did obeisance to all the host of son Amon became king in his stead.

the sky and was subject to them. 4 And he built al-

21 Amon became king at twenty-two years old tars in the Lord's house of which the Lord had said, and reigned two years in Jerusalem. 22 And he did al.e. all his adversaries bl.e. the waters cPossibly everyone of loudas

2 supplements 33-34

389

what was evil before the Lord as Manasses his fa-

14 And as they were bringing out the money they had done. And Amon would sacrifice to all the that had been collected into the Lord's house, idols his father Manasses had made, and he was Chelkias the priest found a book of the Lord's law subject to them. 23 And he was not humbled before through the hand of Moyses. 15 And Chelkias answered the Lord, as his father Manasses had been humbled and said to Saphan the scribe, "A book of the law, because his son Amon increased error. 24 And the law I have found in the Lord's house," and his servants plotted against him and struck him in Chelkias gave the book to Saphan. 16 And Saphan brought it to his house. 25 And the people of the land who had plotted against King Amon, and they told the account to the king, "All the money that the people of the land made for the house of the Lord, your father Josias his son king in his day is in the hand of your servants who are doing the work."

17 And they have smelted the silver found in the Lord's house and have given it into the hand of Josias was eight when he became king and the overseers and into the hand of those doing the 34 reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

work." 18 And Saphan the scribe reported to the

2 And he did what was right before the Lord and king, saying, "Chelkias the priest has given me a book, and he said, 'Walk in the ways of your father David and do not forsake the law, and Saphan read it before the king.'

stray to right or left. 3And in the eighth year of his

19 And it happened, when the king heard the reign—and he was still a lad—he began to seek the words of the law, he rent his garments. 20And the Lord, God of Daud his father. And in the twelfth king commanded Chelkias and Saphan's son year of his reign he began to purge loudas and le- Achikam and Abdon, Michaias' son, and Saphan rousalem of the high places and the groves and the scribe and Asaias the king's servant, saying: 21 smelted items. 4And he pulled down in front of “Go, and inquire of the Lord concerning me and

him the altars of the Baalim and the high places on concerning every one who is left in Israel and them, and he cut down the groves and demolished loudas, concerning the words of the book that has the carved and smelted items and pulverized and been found, because the Lord's wrath kindled threw them upon the memorials to those who had against us is great, because our fathers did not lis-sacrificed to them, 5and the bones of the priests he ten to the words of the Lord, to act in accordance burned on the altars and purged loudas and le- with all that is written in this book.”

rousalem. 6And in the cities of Ephraim and Ma-

22 And Chelkias went, and those to whom the nasse and Symeon and Nephthali and in reference king had spoken, to Holda the prophetess, wife of to their sites round about, 7he also pulled down Sellem son of Thakouath son of Chelles, since she the groves and the altars and demolished the idols kept the vestments—and she lived in Ierousalem into smithereens and cut down all the groves from in masanac, and they spoke to her to that effect.

23

off the land of Israel and returned to Ierousalem.

And she said to them, "Thus said the Lord, God

8 And in the eighteenth year of his reign—in of Israel: Say to the man who sent you to me, 24 order to purge the land and the house—he sent

Thus says the Lord: Behold, I am bringing harm out Saphan son of Eselias and Maasias ruler of the against this place, all the words that are written in city and louach son of loachaz, his recorder, to re- the book that was read before the king of loudas, 25 pair the house of the Lord, his God. 9And they since they have forsaken me and have offered in-came to Chelkias the great priest and delivered the cense to foreign gods so that they have provoked money that had been brought into the house of me to anger with all the works of their hands. And God, which the Leuites in guarding the gate had my wrath was blazed in this place, and it will not collected from the hand of Manasse and Ephraim be quenched. 26And as to the king of loudas, who and the rulers and from everyone left in Israel and sent you to inquire of the Lord, thus shall you say the sons of loudas and Benjamin and people liv- this to him: Thus says the Lord God of Israel: As for ing in Ierousalem. 10And those appointed in the the words that you heard—27and your heart was Lord's house gave it into the hand of people doing embarrassed, and you were humbled from before the tasks, and they gave it to people doing the me, when you heard my words regarding this place tasks who were working in the Lord's house to and regarding those who inhabit it, and you were make preparations to restore the house. 11And humbled before me and tore your garments, and they gave it to the carpenters and the builders to you wept before me; I on my part also heard you, buy squareda stones and wood as beams to roof says the Lord. 28Behold, I will add you to your fathe houses, which kings of loudas had utterly de- thers, and you shall be added to your memorialsd stroyed. 12And there were the men faithfully in in peace, and your eyes shall not see among all the charge of operations, and over them as overseers harm that I am bringing upon this place and upon were the Leuites Ieth and Abdias from the sons of its inhabitants." And they gave back word to the Merari, and Zacharias and Mosollam from the king.

sons of Kaath, to oversee, and every Leuite, every-

29 And the king sent and gathered the elders of one skilled in instruments of singers, 13and over loudas and Ierousalem. 30And the king went up to the burden bearers and over all those doing the the Lord's house, and all loudae and the inhabi-tasks, chore by chore. And some of the Leuites tants of Ierousalem, both the priests and the were scribes and judges and gatekeepers.

Leuites and all the people, from great to small. And aOr four-foot bOr money cHeb = Second Quarter dl.e. tomb ePossibly everyone of loudas

2 supplements 34-35

he read in their hearing all the words of the book offering to pass on to them according to the divi-of the covenant that had been found in the Lord's sions of their paternal houses to the sons of the house. 31And the king stood by the pillar and people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the made a covenant before the Lord to walk before book of Moyses, and so until morning. 13And they the Lord, to keep his commandments and testi- roasted the phasecha with fire according to the rule monies and ordinances with his whole heart and and boiled the holy things in the copper vessels with his whole soul, the words of the covenant and in the cauldrons. And it was a success, and they that are written in this book. 32And he made all ran to all the sons of the people. 14And after prepar-those found in Ierousalem and Benjamin stand, ing for them and for the priests, because the priests and the inhabitants of Ierousalem made a cov-offered the fat and whole burnt offerings till night, enant in the house of the Lord, God of their fa- the Leuites prepared both for themselves and for thers. 33And Iosias removed all the abominations their brothers, the sons of Aaron. 15And the harp-from the entire land, which belonged to the sons singers, sons of Asaph, were at their post according of Israel, and he made all those found in Ie- to the commandments of Daudid. And Asaph and rousalem and Israel be subject to the Lord, their Haiman and Idithon, the king's prophets, and the God, all his days. He did not stray from behind the rulers and the gatekeepers of bgate and gateb—it Lord, God of his fathers.

was not for them to move from the ministry of the holy things, because their brothers the Leuites min-

And Iosias held the phasecha to the Lord, his istered to them.

35 God, and they slaughtered the phasecha on 16
And all the service of the Lord was set up and the fourteenth of the first month. 2 And he set the prepared on that day, to hold the phasecha and to priests at their watches and strengthened them for offer the whole burnt offerings upon the Lord's altar the tasks of the Lord's house. 3 And he said to the according to King Josias' command. 17 And the sons Leuites, who were powerful in all Israel, that they of Israel who were present held the phasecha at that should be sanctified to the Lord, and they placed the time and the feast of unleavened bread for seven holy ark in the house that Salomon son of Daud, days. 18 And no phasecha like it took place in Israel the king of Israel, had built. And the king said, "You from the days of Samouel the prophet, and none of are not to carry anything on your shoulders. Now the kings of Israel celebrated anything like the then, minister to the Lord, your God, and to his phasecha that Josias held for the Lord—and the people Israel. 4 And prepare according to your pater- priests and the Leuites and call loudac and Israel, nal houses and according to your daily divisions ac-who were present, and the inhabitants of Ierou-cording to the writing of Daud, king of Israel, and salem—19 in the eighteenth year of King Josias' through the hand of his son Salomon. 5 And stand in reign.

19a And King Josias burned the ventriloquists the house according to the divisions of your paternal and the wizards and the tharaphind and the idols houses for your brothers, the sons of the people, and and the karasime, which were in the land of loudas a portion of the paternal house is for the Leuites. and in Ierousalem in order to establish the words of 6 And slaughter the phasecha, and prepare the holy

the law that were written in the book that Chelkias things for your brothers to do according to the word the priest found in the Lord's house. 19bNo one like of the Lord through the hand Moyses."

him appeared before him who turned to the Lord

7 And Josias contributed sheep and lambs and with all his heart and with all his soul and with all kids from the young of goats to the sons of the his strength, according to all the law of Moyses, and people, everything for the phasecha for all those none like him arose after him. 19cNevertheless, the present, up to a number of thirty thousand and Lord did not turn back from the anger of his great three thousand calves. These were from the king's wrath with which the Lord was angry with wrath substance. 8And his officials contributed to the against Ioudas for all the provocations with which people and to the priests and the Leuites. Chelkias Manasses provoked him to anger. 19dAnd the Lord and Zacharias and Iiel, the chief officers of the said, "Indeed, Ioudas I will remove from before me house of God, gave to the priests, and they gave for as I removed Israel, and I have rejected the city I the phasecha two thousand six hundred sheep and chose, Ierousalem, and the house about which I lambs and kids and three hundred calves. 9And said, 'My name shall be there.' "

Chonenias and Banaias and Samaias and

20 And Pharao Nechao, king of Egypt, went up

Nathaniel, his brother, and Hasabias and Iiel and against the king of the Assyrians to the river Eu-lozabad, rulers of the Leuites, contributed five phrates, and King Josias went to meet him. 21And thousand sheep and five hundred calves to the he sent envoys to him, saying, "What have I to do Leuites for the phasecha.

with you, king of loudas? I have not come against 10 And the service was set up. And the priests you today to make war, and God has told me to stand at their post, and the Levites in their divisions in a hurry. Beware of the god who is with me, lest he do according to the king's command. 11 And they destroy you." 22 And Josias did not turn away his face, he was strengthened to fight him, the blood of the phasecha was poured from him, but he was strengthened to fight him, the blood of their hand, and the Levites did the same and did not listen to Nechao's words through God's skinning. 12 And they made ready the whole burnt offering and went to fight in the plain of Magedon.

aHeb = passover (lamb) b*i.e. different gates* c*Possibly everyone of loudas* dHeb = household gods eHeb = ?

f*Possibly determined*

2 supplements 35-36

391

23 And the archers shot at King Josias. And the king of loakim and all that he did, behold, is this not said to his servants, "Take me away, because I am written in the Book of the Histories of the Days of very much in trouble." 24 And his servants removed the Kings of loudas? And loakim slept with his father from the chariot and put him on the second chariot and was buried in Ganoza with his fathers, any chariot that he had and brought him to lerou- and lechonias his son became king in his stead.

salem. And he died and was buried with his fathers.

9 Jeconias was a son of eighteen years when

And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for he became king and reigned three months and ten days. 25 And Jeremiah lamented over Josiah, and all days in Jerusalem and did what was evil before the leading men and leading women have spoken the Lord. 10 And as the year was turning King the lament over Josiah until this very day. And they Nabuchodonosor sent and brought him to Babylon as an ordinance for Israel, and see, it is written along with the prize vessels of the Lord's ten among the Laments. 26 And Josiah's affairs and house and made his father's brother Zedekiah king his hope are written in the Lord's law. 27 And his affairs over Judah and Jerusalem.

affairs, the first and the last, behold, they are written 11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he

in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

became king and reigned eleven years in Jerou-salem. 12 And he did what was evil before the Lord,

And the people of the land took Iachaz son his God, and was not moved to shame from before

36 of Josiah and anointed him and established the prophet Jeremiah and out of the mouth of the Lord as king in Jerusalem in his father's stead. 2 Iachaz son of the Lord, 13 when he violated the terms with King Zedekiah was a son of twenty-three years when he became Nabuchodonosor, to which he had made him king and reigned three months in Jerusalem. 2a And swear by God, and he hardened his neck and steeled his mother's name was Amital daughter of Ieremias his heart not to return to the Lord, God of Israel.

14

of Lobena. 2bAnd he did what was evil before the

And all those held in honor in loudas and the Lord in all respects as his fathers had done. 2cAnd priests and the people of the land multiplied violat-Pharao Nechao bound him in Deblatha in the land ing with violations of abominations of the nations, of Hemath so that he would not reign in Ierousalem. and they polluted the Lord's house in Ierousalem.

3And the king transferred him to Egypt, and he im-

15 And the Lord, God of their fathers, sent out posed on the land a tribute of one hundred talents of by the hand of prophets, sending his messengers silver and a talent of gold. 4And Pharao Nechao ap- early on, because he was trying to spare his people pointed Iosias' son Eliakim as king of loudas in place and his holy precinct. 16And they kept mocking of his father Iosias and changed his name to loakim. his messengers and disregarding his words and And Pharao Nechao took his brother loachaz and poking fun at his prophets until the Lord's wrath led him to Egypt, and he died there. 4aAnd they gave went up against his people until there was no cure.

the gold and silver to the Pharao. Then the land

17 And he led against them a king of the

began to be subject to tribute to give the silver at the Chaldeans, and he killed their young men by sword mouthb of Pharao, and everyone according to his in the house of his holy precinct, and he did not power demanded silver and gold from the people of spare Sedekias, and on their young women they had the land to give to Pharao Nechao.

no mercy, and their elderly they led away. He hand-

5 loakim was twenty-five years old when he be- ed over everything into their hands. 18And all the came king and reigned eleven years in Ierousalem. vessels of the house of God, large and small, and the And his mother's name was Zechora daughter of treasures and all the treasures of the king and the no-Nerias of Rama. And he did what was evil before bles, all these he brought to Babylon. 19And he set the Lord in all respects, as his fathers had done. on fire the Lord's house and broke down the wall of 5aIn his days, Nabouchodonosor, king of Babylon, Ierousalem, and its bastions he burned with fire and came into the land, and he was subject to him for every handsome vessel to annihilation. 20And he de-three years, and he left him. 5bAnd the Lord sent ported the remaining people to Babylon, and they upon them the Chaldeans and the robber bands of were slaves to him and to his sons until the reign of the Syrians and the robber bands of the Moabites the Medes 21in order to fulfill the Lord's word by the and of the sons of Ammon and of Samaria, and mouth of Ieremias until the land received its sab-they rebelled after this affair according to the baths to sabbatize. All the days of its desolation it Lord's word by the hand of his servants the proph- sabbatized until the fulfillment of seventy years.

ets. 5cNevertheless, the Lord's wrath was upon

22 In the first year of Cyrus, king of the Persians, loudas, to remove it from before him on account after the fulfillment of the Lord's dictum through of the sins of Manasses in all that he did 5dand for the mouth of Ieremias, the Lord stirred up the spir-the innocent blood that loakim shed, and he filled it of Cyrus, king of the Persians, and he announced Ierousalem with innocent blood, and the Lord did to proclaim in all his kingdom, in writing, saying, 23 not want to destroy them utterly. 6And Nabou-

"This is what Cyrus, king of the Persians says: The chodonosor, king of Babylon, came up against him Lord, the god of the sky, has given me all the kingand bound him in bronze fetters and led him away doms of the earth, and it is he who has command-to Babylon. 7And he removed part of the vessels of ed me to build him a house in Ierousalem, which the Lord's house to Babylon and placed them in is in Judea. Who of you is from all his people? His his shrine in Babylon. 8And the rest of the histories god shall be with him, and let him go up."

aPossibly everyone of loudas bl.e. behest

1 ESDRAS

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of 1 Esdras is based on the standard critical edition prepared by Robert Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum VIII.1: Es-drae liber I [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1974]).

OVERVIEW OF THE BOOK

This book is known as Esdras A / in the Greek tradition and 1 Esdras in English translations. 1 Esdras and 2 Esdras (Esdras B /) are one pair of double traditions found in Septuagint collections (see as well the double traditions of Daniel and Esther). They represent material from the Hebrew-Aramaic 2 Chronicles (2 Supplements), Ezra (2 Esdras 1-10), and Nehemiah (2 Esdras 11-23); in addition, in 1 Esdras there is a story of three youths who served as bodyguards for King Darius of Persia.

The general relationship of content among the various versions is as follows: 1 Esdras

Chr-Ezra-Neh (NRSV) (Suppl-2 Esd [NETS])

1.1-55

2 Chr (2 Suppl) 35.1-36.21

2.1-5

Ezra 1.1-3 // 2 Chr (2 Suppl) 36.22-23

2.6-14

Ezra 1.4-11

2.15-25

4.6-24

3.1-5.6

-

5.7-45

2.1-70 // Neh 7.7-73 (2 Esd 17.7-73)

5.46-70

3.1-4.5

6.1-9.36

5.1-10.44

9.37-55

Neh 7.73-8.12 (2 Esd 17.73-18.12)

The relationship of this Greek book to the Hebrew-Aramaic biblical tradition, from a source-critical point of view, is unclear. There are two main positions: 1) that the book represents an earlier form of the biblical accounts, although the present form is thought to be only a portion of that larger work;¹ and 2) that the book is a composition subsequent to, and depending upon, the biblical books.²

In this book, Zorobabel (Zerubbabel) plays a more prominent role, being the winner of the wisdom contest in the story of the three young men (4.13), and appearing where he does not in the MT version (6.17 // Ezra 5.14; 6.26b // Ezra 6.7; 6.28b // Ezra 6.9a). Neemias (Nehemiah), however, is mentioned only in 5.8 (Ezra 2.2) and 5.40 (Ezra 2.63), the latter, significantly, being an addition compared to the Hebrew.

Another emphasis is the temple, the culmination of the restoration program (walls, altar, temple), and items and persons associated with it being made more prominent and distinct through the use of the i9er-stem: the temple

(temple 1.2 et passim), its paraphernalia and practices (holy, sacred 1.39

et passim; to consecrate, devote 9.4), priests and priestly figures like the priest with the Urim and Thummim and Ezra, (to serve as priest 5.39; priestly 4.54; 5.44; temple priest 1.2 et passim; priesthood 5.38; high priest 5.40 et passim) and various temple officials (temple-slave 1.3 et passim; temple official 7.2; temple temple-musician 1.15 et passim).

1 E.g., Dieter Böhler. Die heilige Stadt in Esdras a und Esra-Nehemia: zwei Konzeptionen der Wiederherstellung Israels (Orbis Biblicus et Orientalis 158; Freiburg/Göttingen: Universitätsverlag/Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1997).

2 E.g., Zipora Talshir, I Esdras: From Origin to Translation (SBLSCS 47; Atlanta: SBL, 1999).

to the reader of 1 esdras

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General character

It is unclear whether this book is strictly the translation of a non-MT Hebrew-Aramaic text or loosely a composition in Greek that made use of 2 Chronicles, Ezra and Nehemiah or Greek translations of those works. It is clear that the work contains a few characteristics similar to those found in other translations.

However, unlike works that are clearly translations, the Greek of this book is of a good quality. Thus, if it is a translation, it is of a much freer quality than the counterparts with parallel material (2 Supplements and 2 Esdras). There are few signs of literalism, due to the translator's/composer's contextualization of lexical choices and use of more normal Greek structures.³ Some features that suggest a Semitic source are: Pleonasm

There are only a few examples of superfluous pronouns: 2.9 (“that Nabouchodonosor had removed

. . . and stored them”; a$ meth&gagen Nabouxodonosor . . . kai\ a)phrei/sato au)ta/; Ezra 1.7)ycwh r#) Mntyw . . . rcndkwbn); 3.5 (“whosever his statement seems wiser”; kai\ ou{ a@n fanh~| tro(h~ma atuou~ sofw&teron // -); 4.63 (“the temple where his name is named on it”; kai\ to_ i9ero&n, ou{ w)noma&sqh to_ o!noma au)tou~0pe' au)tw~

//| -); 6.32 (“the Lord, whose his name is there called upon”; kai\ o(ku&rioj ou{ to_ o!noma au)tou~0peike/klhtai e0kei=; Ezra 6.12 hmt hm# Nk# yd)hl)w)

Hebraisms

There is greater than normal occurrence of the conjunction kai/, suggesting Semitic influence of the conjunction w. The phrase kai/ e0ge/neto “and it happened,” for Hebrew yhyw, is found only one time (9.3

// Ezra 10.7; 8.61a // Ezra 8.32 uses a participle), but in neither case is the comparable construction in the source. At 8.87 we find i)dou/, “behold” (Ezra 9.15b, wnnh, “Behold, us!”), but forms of hnh, “Behold!”

occur 3 additional times in the parallel materials in Ezra-Nehemiah (2 Chronicles 35.25 // 1.30; 35.27 // 1.31; 36.8 // 1.40), but they are represented only here in 1 Esdras.

Dependence

Although the vocabulary of 1 Esdras is distinct from other translations, one phrase stands out as dependent upon existing tradition: e3wj a)nasth|= a)rxiereu\j e)ndedume/noj th\n dh/lwsin kai\ th\n a)lh/qeian “until a high priest should arise wearing Explanation and Truth,” (5.40) for Mymtlw Myrw)l Nhk dm(d((Ezra 2.63), “until there should be a priest to consult Urim and Thummim” (NRSV). The 1 Esdras translation is in keeping with those in the LXX: Ex 28.30 [MT 26]; Leu 8.8; Deut 33.8.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 1 ESDRAS

As a matter of convenience this translation began with the NRSV, which was modified as necessary to fit this project. While the NRSV seeks to smooth out problematic constructions, uncertainties, etc., NETS seeks to represent the Greek as much as possible. Thus, alterations were made to the NRSV to bring it into line with Hanhart’s edition. As well, for vocabulary and style, an attempt was made to keep consistency with the rest of NETS and particularly with 2 Esdras: as much as possible, words from the same stem, used to translate the same material from Ezra-Nehemiah, are represented by words from the same stem in English in both 1 and 2 Esdras.

EDITORIAL POLICY

Versification differs among Greek editions of 1 Esdras and among the translations, and all have differences from the MT. In this translation, I have followed the versification of the critical edition.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

The translation on which this is based is the NRSV. I also consulted Jacob M. Myers, I and II Esdras: Introduction, Translation and Commentary (AB 42; Garden City, NY: Doubleday, 1974). R. GLENN WOODEN

3 See Talshir, I Esdras, 181-268 for a detailed analysis of the characteristics of the translation.

394

1 esdras 1

1 And Josias celebrated the pascha to his Lord in prophet, 19 and none of the kings of Israel had celebrated in Jerusalem, and he sacrificed the pascha on celebrated such a pascha as Josias celebrated, and the

the fourteenth day of the first month, 2 after he had priests and the Levites and the Judeans and all of them arranged the priests by their daily duties, robed, in Israel, who were found in their dwelling place, in the temple of the Lord. 3 And he told the Levites, Jerusalem. 20 This pascha was celebrated in the temple for the slaves of Israel, that they should sanctify the eighteenth year when Josias reigned. 21 And they themselves to the Lord for the task of putting the deeds of Josias, done with his heart full of piety, holy ark of the Lord in the house that Salomon the king were deemed right in the sight of his Lord. 22 Now, king, the son of David, had built, 4 "You need no also the matters of his reign in previous times have longer carry it on your shoulders. And now, serve been recorded: about those who sinned and those the Lord, your God, and attend to his nation Israel- who acted impiously toward the Lord, more than ever, and prepare yourselves by your paternal fami-

any nation and kingdom, and how they conspicuously and tribes, according to the writing of David, grievously grieved him—and the words of the Lord rose against the king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of the Lord against Israel.

of his son Salomon. 5 And having stationed your-

23 And after all this activity of Josias, it happened that Pharaoh, king of Egypt, came to incite you, the Levites, who stand before your kindred, war at Charkamys on the Euphrates, and Josias sons of Israel, 6 in order, sacrifice the pascha, and went out to confront him. 24 And the king of Egypt prepare the sacrifices for your kindred. And keep sent a dispatch to him, saying, “What issue do I the pascha according to the ordinance of the Lord and you have, O king of Judea? 25 I have not been that was given to Moses.”

sent out against you by the Lord God, for my war

7 To the people who were found there, Josias is at the Euphrates. Now then, the Lord is with me!

presented a gift of thirty thousand lambs and kids Also, the Lord with me is urging me on! Stand and three thousand calves; these were given, aside, and do not oppose the Lord.”

according to promise, from the king’s possessions to 26 And Josias did not turn himself away to his

the people and the priests and Levites. 8 Chelkias chariot, but he undertook to fight with him, not and Zacharias and Eshyelos, the chief officers of the heeding the words of Ieremias the prophet from temple, gave the priests two thousand six hundred the mouth of the Lord.

27 On the contrary, he sheep, three hundred calves, for the pascha. 9 And joined battle with him in the plain of Mageddao, Iechonias and Samaias and his brother Nathanael and the rulers came down against King Iosias.

and Hasabias and Ochielos and Ioram, officers of 28 And the king said to his servants, "Take me away thousands, gave the Leuites five thousand sheep, from the fight, for I have become very weak." And seven hundred calves, for the pascha.

his servants immediately took him from the line of 10 And when these things were done in proper battle, 29 and he got into his secondary chariot.

order, the priests and the Leuites, holding the un- And after he was brought back to Ierousalem, he leavened bread, stood before the people by tribe departed this life and was buried in his ancestral and by groupings of fathers to offer to the Lord in tomb.

accordance with what is written in the book of 30 In the whole of Judea they mourned for Moyses, and so they did in the morning. 11 And Iosias. And Ieremias the prophet lamented for they roasted the pascha with fire, as required, and Iosias. And the principal men, together with they boiled the sacrifices in bronze pots and caul- women, lament him to this day. And this has been drons, with a pleasing odor, and carried them to all handed on to the whole race of Israel always to do.

that were from the people. 12Now, after this they 31These things stand inscribed in the document of prepared both for themselves and for their kindred the events being recorded about the kings of Judea.

the priests, sons of Aaron. 13For the priests were of- And every single thing done of the activity of Iosias fering the fat until quite late, and the Leuites pre- and of his splendor and of his understanding of pared it for themselves and for their kindred the the law of the Lord, both which were done by him priests, sons of Aaron. 14And the temple-musi- before and now, have been recorded in the book of cians, sons of Asaph, were in their order according the kings of Israel and loudas.

to what had been arranged by David—and Asaph

32 And when the people of the nation had and Zacharias and Eddinous, the king's representa- taken lechonias son of Iosias, they appointed him tives. 15And the porters were at each gateway. It king in place of Iosias his father, when he was was not possible that anyone omit his own daily twenty-three years old. 33And he reigned in loudas service, for their kindred, the Leuites, made prepa- and Ierousalem for three months. And the king of rations for them.

Egypt deposed him from reigning in Ierousalem

16 And the things that had to do with the sac- 34and fined the nation one hundred talents of sil-rifice of the Lord were accomplished in that day: ver and one talent of gold. 35And the king of Egypt that the pascha was celebrated and that the sacri- appointed his brother, King loakeim, king of Judea fices were offered on the altar of the Lord accord- and lerousalem. 36And loakeim incarcerated the ing to the injunction of King losias. 17And the sons nobles. But he seized his brother Zarios and of Israel who were found at that time celebrated brought him back from Egypt.

the pascha and the feast of unleavened bread for 37 Now loakeim was twenty-five years old seven days. 18And no pascha like it had been cele- when he began to reign in Judea and Ierousalem; brated in Israel since the times of Samouel the

he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord.

1 esdras 1-2

395

38Now Nabouchodonosor, the king of Babylon,

3 "This is what Cyrus, the king of the Persians, came up against him, and he bound him with a says: The Lord of Israel, Lord the Most High, has bronze fetter and took him away to Babylon. appointed me king of the world, 4and he indicat-39Nabouchodonosor also took some sacred vessels

ed to me that I should build him a house in Ie-of the Lord and carried them away; he deposited rousalem in Judea. 5If anyone of you, therefore, is them in his shrine in Babylon. 40And the things of his nation, let his Lord be with him, and when recorded, about him and his uncleanness and they have gone up to Jerusalem, which is in impiety, stand inscribed in the document of the Judea, let him build the house of the Lord of Israel times of the kings.

el. This is the Lord who encamps in Jerusalem.

41 And his son Joakim became king in his 6th So, as many as dwell in each place, let those in his place, for when he was appointed king, he was placed help him with gold and with silver, with eighteen years old. 42 Now he reigned in Jerusalem for three months and ten days, and he with the other things added as votive offerings for did what was evil in the sight of the Lord. 43 And as for the temple of the Lord that is in Jerusalem.”

year later Nabuchodonosor sent and removed

7 And there arose the chiefs of the paternal him to Babylon, together with the sacred vessels of families of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin and the Lord. 44 And he appointed Sedekias king of the priests and the Levites and all whose spirit the Judea and Jerusalem, when Sedekias was twenty- Lord had stirred to go up to build the house for the one year old.

Lord, which is in Jerusalem, 8 and the people in

Now he reigned eleven years. 45 And he did what their surrounding area, and they helped them with was evil in the sight of the Lord and felt no hesitation- everything, with silver and gold, horses and livestock arising from the words spoken by Jeremiah the stock and with the greatest number of vows from prophet from the mouth of the Lord. 46 And although many whose mind was stirred.

though he had been made to swear, by King

9 And King Cyrus brought out the sacred ves-

Nabouchodonosor, by the name of the Lord, he sels of the Lord that Nabouchodonosor had re-broke his oath, rebelled and, having hardened his moved from Ierousalem and stored them in his neck and his heart, he transgressed the precepts of own idol temple. 10Now when Cyrus, the king of the Lord, God of Israel. 47Now also the leaders of the Persians, had brought them out, he gave them the people and of the priests committed many acts over to Mithridates, his own treasurer, 11and they of impiety and lawlessness, more than all the un- were handed over by him to Sanabassaros, admin-clean deeds of all the nations, and they defiled the istrator of Judea. 12Now the number of these was: temple of the Lord that had been sanctified in le-gold libation bowls, one thousand; silver libation rousalem. 48And the God of their fathers sent word bowls, one thousand; silver censers, twenty-nine; through his messenger to call them back, because gold saucers, thirty; silver, two thousand four hun-he tried to spare them and his covert. 49But they dred ten; and other vessels, one thousand. 13Now mocked at his messengers, and on the day the Lord all the vessels were recovered, gold and silver: five spoke, they were scoffing at his prophets until in thousand four hundred sixty-nine. 14Now they his anger against his nation, on account of their were carried back by Sanabassaros, along with the impious acts, he ordered that the kings of the people of the captivity, from Babylon to le-Chaldeans go up against them. 50These killed their rousalem.

young men by sword around about their holy tem-

15 Now in the times under Artaxerxes, the king

ple, and they did not spare young man or young of the Persians, Beslemos and Mithridates and woman and old man and younger man, but all he Tabellios and Raoumos and Beelteemos and Sam-handed over into their hands. 51And they took saios the scribe and the rest of those associated away all the sacred vessels of the Lord, great and with them but living in Samaria and the other small, the treasure chests of the Lord and the royal places wrote out the following letter to him against stores and carried them off to Babylon. 52And they those who were living in Judea and Ierousalem, set fire to the house of the Lord, and they wrecked 16 "To King Artaxerxes, Sir, your servants the walls of Ierousalem and burned its towers with Raoumos the one for events and Samsaios the fire. 53And they finished rendering useless all its scribe and the rest of their council and the judges glorious features. And the survivors he led away by who are in Coele-Syria and Phoenicia. 17And now, sword to Babylon. 54And they were servants to him let it be known to the lord king that, when Judeans and to his sons until the Persians reigned, in fulfil- came up from you to us, having come to Ierou-ment of the word of the Lord by the mouth of salem, they are building the rebellious and wicked Ieremias, 55"Until the land takes pleasure in its city, repairing both its market places and the walls, sabbaths, it shall sabbatize all the time of its deso- and are laying the foundations for a shrine. 18So if lation until the completion of seventy years."

this city is built and the walls are completed, not only will they not submit to paying tribute, but

In the first year that Cyrus was reigning the

they will also resist kings. And since the work on the shrine is in progress, we assume it best not to

2 Persians, with a view to fulfilment of a word of overlook such a matter but to address our lord the Lord by Ieremias' mouth, 2 the Lord stirred the king in order that, if it seems good to you, a search spirit of Cyrus, king of the Persians, and he pro- may be made in the books from your fathers.

claimed in his whole kingdom and at the same 19

time in written form,

And you will find in the records what has been 396

1 esdras 2-4

written about them and will learn that that city wrote, "Wine proves superior." 11 The second wrote, was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities, and "The king proves superior." 12 The third wrote, that the Judeans were rebels and set up blockades "Women prove superior, but above all things truth in it from of old, for which reason this city was is victorious."

also laid waste. 20 Therefore we are now pointing 13 And when the king awoke, they took what out to you, Lord King, that if this city is built and was written and gave it to him, and he read. 14 And its walls rise up, you will no longer have a way he sent and summoned all the nobles of Persia and down to Coele-Syria and Phoenicia."

of Media and satraps and generals and district gov-

21 Then the king wrote back the following to ernors and consulsa, and he took his seat in the Raoumos the recorder of events and to Beelteemos council chamber, and what was written was read in and Samsaios the scribe and to the rest associated their presence. 15And he said, "Call the young with them and living in Samaria and Syria and men, and they themselves shall explain their state-Phoenicia, ments." And they were summoned and came in.

22 "I read the letter that you have sent to me. I 16And they said to them, "Tell us about what you therefore ordered that a search be made, and it was have written."

found that that city from of old has been opposing

And the first, who had spoken of the strength of kings 23and that the people in it perpetrate rebel- wine, began and spoke thus, 17"O Gentlemen, lions and wars and that strong and cruel kings how does wine prove superior? It leads astray the used to be masters in Ierousalem and were extract- thoughts of all men who drink it. 18It makes equal ing tribute from Coele-Syria and Phoenicia. the thoughts of both the king and the orphan, of 24Now, therefore, I have ordered that you prevent both the domestic and the free, of both the poor

those people from building the city and that you and the rich. 19And it turns every thought to feast-take care that nothing more be done and that such ing and mirth and does not remember any sorrow wicked proceedings go no further so as to annoy or any obligation. 20And it makes all hearts rich kings."

and does not remember king or satrap and makes 25 Then when what was written by King Artaxerxes had been read, everyone talked in talents. 21 And when people had been drunk, they do not remember to be friendly with scribes and those associated with them marched in friends and kindred, and before long they drew haste to Jerusalem with cavalry and a throng of daggers. 22 And when they recover from the wine, the first rank and began to hinder those who were they do not remember what they did. 23 O Gentle-building. And the construction of the temple that men, does not wine prove superior, since it forces is in Jerusalem stopped until the second year of people to behave thus?" And when he had said the reign of Darius, the king of the Persians.

this, he fell silent.

3 And King Darius gave a great banquet for all

And the second, who had spoken of the

who were under him and for all his homebred

4 strength of the king, began to speak, 2 "O Gen-

and for all the nobles of Media and of Persia and all the men, do not humans prove superior, since they for all the satraps and generals and district govern- rule over land and sea and all that is in them? 3 But none that were under him in the hundred twenty- the king proves superior and is lord of all and their seven satrapies from India to Ethiopia. 3 And they master, and whatever he says to them they heed.

ate and drank, and when they were satisfied, they 4 If he tells them to make war one against the other, went away, but Darius the king went to his bed- they do it, and if he sends them out against one another and went to sleep but woke up again.

mies, they proceed and conquer mountains and

4 Then the three young men, the bodyguards, walls and towers. 5 They murder and are murdered who kept guard over the person of the king, said and do not transgress the king's bidding, and if one to another, 5 "Let us state, each of us, one thing they are victorious, they bring everything to the which will prove superior, and whosever his state- king— whatever spoil they take and everything ment seems wiser than the other—Darius the king else. 6 And as many as do not serve in the army or will give him grand gifts and great prizes of victory go to war, they instead till the soil; in turn, when-6 and that he be clothed in purple and drink from ever they sow and reap, they send some to the wrought gold and sleep on gold and have a chari- king, and one compels the other to bring levies to ot with a gold studded bridle and a turban of fine the king. 7 And he is one single man! If he tells linen and a torque around his neck. 7 And because them to kill, they kill. He tells them to release, they of his wisdom, he shall take his seat next to Dari- release; 8 he tells them to smite, they strike; he tells us and shall be called Kinsman of Darius."

them to lay waste, they lay waste; he tells them to 8 And then they wrote, each his own statement, build, they build; 9 he tells them to cut down, they sealed it and put it under the pillow of Darius the cut down; he tells them to plant, they plant. 10 And king. And they said, 9 "When the king gets up, they all his people and his forces heed him. Further-will give him what is written, and whomever the more, he himself reclines; he eats and drinks and king picks —and the three nobles of Persia—be- sleeps, 11 but they keep watch all around him, and cause his statement is wisest, to him the victory no one may go away and tend to his own affairs, shall be given, as it stands written.” 10The first nor do they disobey him. 12O Gentlemen, how aPossibly prefects bl.e. large sums of money

1 esdras 4

397

does not the king prove superior, since he is to be teous; the king is unrighteous; women are unright-obeyed in this way?” And he fell silent.

teous; all sons of men are unrighteous, and all

13 Now the third, who had spoken of women their works are unrighteous—all such things. And and truth (he was Zorobabel), began to speak, there is no truth in them, and inb their injustice 14“Gentlemen, is not the king great, are not men they will perish. 38But truth endures and is strong many, and does not wine prove superior? Who is forever and lives and prevails forever and ever.

it, then, that is master over them, or who is lord 39And with it there is no partiality or preference, over them? Is it not women? 15Women give birth but it does what is righteous instead of anything to the king and to all people that are lord over sea that is unrighteous or wicked. And all approve her and land. 16And from them they were born, and it deeds, 40and there is nothing unrighteous in her is they that brought up those who plant the vine- judgment. And to her belongs the strength and the yards from which comes the wine. 17And it is they kingship and the authority and the majesty of all that make men’s robes, and it is they that bring the ages. Blessed be the God of truth!” 41And he men glory, and men cannot exist apart from stopped speaking, and all the people then shouted women. 18Now if men gather gold and silver or and then said, "Great is truth, and it proves superi- any beautiful thing, and they see one woman love- or!"

ly in appearance and beauty, 19they then let all

42 Then the king said to him, "Request what those things go and gape at her and with open you want in addition to what is written, and we mouths stare at her, and all choose her rather than will give it to you, for you have been found to be gold or silver or any beautiful thing. 20A man the wisest. And you shall sit next to me and be leaves his own father, who brought him up, and called my Kinsman." 43Then he said to the king, his own country and clings to his own wife. 21And "Remember the vow that you made on the day you with his wife he releases his soul and neither re- received your kingship to build Ierousalem 44and members father or mother or country. 22And as a to send back all the vessels that had been taken result you must realize that women are lords over from Ierousalem, which Cyrus set apart when he you.

vowed to destroy Babylon and vowed to send them

"Do you not labor and toil and bring and give back there. 45You also vowed to build the shrine, everything to women? 23And a man takes his which the Idumeans burned when Judea was laid sword and goes out to travel and rob and steal and waste by the Chaldeans. 46And now, O Lord King, to sail the sea and rivers, 24and he faces the lion, this is what I ask of you and what I request of you, and he proceeds through darkness, and when he and this is greatness that is yours. I pray, therefore, steals and robs and plunders, he brings it back to that you fulfill the vow that you vowed with your her he desires. 25And a man loves his own wife mouth to do for the king of heaven.”

more than his father and mother. 26And many

47 Then Darius the king got up and kissed him have been driven to distraction by their own minds and wrote letters for him to all the stewards and because of women and have become slaves be- district governors and generals and satraps, that cause of them. 27And many have perished and they should give safe conduct to him and all who stumbled and sinned because of women. 28And were going up with him to build Ierousalem. 48He now, do you not believe me?

also wrote letters to all the district governors in

“Is not the king great in his authority? Do not Coele-Syria and Phoenicia and to those in Leba-all lands fear to touch him? 29I have watched him non, to convey cedar timber from Lebanon to Ie-and Apame the daughter of the illustrious Barta- rousalem, and that they should build the city with cos, the king’s concubine, sitting at the king’s right him. 49He also wrote for all the Judeans who were hand 30and taking the diadem from the king’s going from his kingdom to Judea, in the interest of head and put it on herself. And she would slap the their freedom, that no officer or satrap or district king with her left hand. 31And at this the king governor or steward should assail their doors 50 would gaze at her with mouth agape. And if she and that all the country they would seize should smiles at him, he laughs, but if she is cross with be theirs without tribute and that the Idumeans him, he flatters her so that she may be reconciled should give up the villages of the Judeans that they

to him. 32O Gentlemen, how are women not held and 51that twenty talents a year should be strong, since thus they act?"

given for the building of the temple until it was 33 And then the king and the nobles looked built 52and an additional ten talents a year for one at the other. And he began to speak about whole burnt offerings to be offered on the altar truth, 34"Gentlemen, are not women strong? The every day, in accordance with the commandment earth is vast, and the sky is high, and swift is the they have, to offer seventeen, 53and that all who sun in its course, for it makes the circuit of the sky would come from Babylonia to found the city and returns again to its own place in one day. 35Is should have their freedom, both they and their not the one who does these things great? Truth children and all the priests who would come.

54

also is great and stronger than all things. 36"All the

Now, he also stipulated the expense and the earth calls upon truth, and heaven blesses her. And priestly vestment, in what way they would serve in all hisa works quake and tremble, and with hima it. 55He also stipulated that they should give the there is nothing unrighteous.

37 Wine is unrighteousness for the Leuites the expense until the day when the house is built. Or by

398

1 esdras 4-5

would be finished and Jerusalem built. 56 He also of Adonikam, six hundred sixty-seven; sons of stipulated that they give allotments of land and Bagoi, two thousand sixty-six; sons of Adinos, four wages to all who would guard the city. 57 He also hundred fifty-four; 15 sons of Ater son of Hezeki sent back from Babylon all the vessels that Cyrus had set apart, and everything that Cyrus said that seven; sons of Azouros, four hundred thirty-two; he would do he too instructed to be done and to 16 sons of Hannias, one hundred one; sons of be sent back to Jerusalem.

Arom; sons of Bassai, three hundred twenty-three;

58 And when the young man went out, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem and Baithlomon, three thousand five; sons from blessed the king of heaven, saying, 59 "From you Baithlomon, one hundred twenty-three. 18 Those comes victory, and from you comes wisdom, and from Netebas, fifty-five; those from Enatos, one yours is the glory. And I am your domestic. hundred fifty-eight; those from Baitasmon, forty-60 Blessed are you, who have given me wisdom, two; 19 those from Kariatharios, twenty-five; those and you I acknowledge, O Master of our fathers."

from Kapisras and Berot, seven hundred forty-three.

61 And he took the letters and departed, and he 20The Chadasai and Hammidians, four hundred went to Babylon and told all his kindred. 62And twenty-two; those from Kiramas and Gabbes, six they blessed the God of their fathers, because he hundred twenty-one; 21those from Makalon, one had given them permission and release 63to go up hundred twenty-two; those from Baitolion, fifty-and build Ierousalem and the temple where his two. Sons of Niphis, one hundred fifty-six; 22sons name is named on it, and with music and rejoicing of the other Kalamo and Onous, seven hundred they drank hard for seven days.

twenty five; sons of Ierechos, three hundred forty-five; 23sons of Sanaas, three thousand three hun-

Now, after these things the leaders of the dred thirty.

5 house of the paternal families and their wives 24 The priests: sons of leddos the son of lesous, and sons and daughters and their male and female with reference to the sons of Anasib, nine hundred servants and their livestock were chosen to go up seventy-two; sons of Emmeros, one thousand and by their tribes. 2And Darius sent along with them fifty-two; 25sons of Phassouros, one thousand two a thousand cavalry until they would restore them hundred forty-seven; sons of Charme, one thou-to Ierousalem in peace, and with the music of sand seventeen.

drums and flutes. 3And all their kindred were mak-

26 Now, the Leuites: sons of lesous and Kading merry, and he made them go up along with mielos and Bannos and Houdias, seventy-four.

them.

The temple-musicians: sons of Asaph, one hun-

4 And these are the names of the men who dred forty-eight.
28The porters: sons of Saloum, went up, by their paternal families for the tribes, sons of Atar, sons of Tolman, sons of Akoub, sons over their groups: 5the priests, sons of Phinees son of Hateta, sons of Sobi, in all one hundred thirty-of Aaron: Iesus the son of Iosedek the son of Sara- nine.

ias and Ioakeim the son of Zorobabel the son of 29 The temple-slaves: sons of Esau, sons of Salathiel, of the house of Daud, of the lineage of Hasipha, sons of Tabaoth, sons of Keras, sons Phares and of the tribe of Ioudas, 6who spoke wise of Soua, sons of Phadaias, sons of Labana, sons of words before Darius, the king of the Persians, in Haggaba, 30sons of Akoud, sons of Outa, sons the second year of his reign, in the month of of Ketab, sons of Hagaba, sons of Sybai, sons of Nisan, the first month.

Hanan, sons of Kathoua, sons of Geddour, 31sons

7 Now, the following are those from Judea who of Iairos, sons of Daisan, sons of Noeba, sons of went up out of the captivity in exile, whom Nabou- Chaseba, sons of Gazera, sons of Ozias, sons of chodonosor, the king of Babylon, had deported to Phinoe, sons of Asara, sons of Basthai, sons of Asana, Babylon, 8and each returned to Ierousalem and sons of Maani, sons of Naphisi, sons of Akouph, the rest of Judea, to his own town, those who came sons of Hachiba, sons of Hasour, sons of Pharakim, with their leaders Zorobabel and Iesus, Neemias, sons of Basaloth, 32sons of Meedda, sons of Zaraias, Resaias, Enenios, Mardochaias, Beelsaros, Koutha, sons of Charea, the sons of Barchous, sons Aspharasos, Borolias, Roimos and Baana.

of Serar, sons of Thomoi, sons of Nasie, sons of 9 The number of those from the nation and Hatipha.

their leaders: sons of Phoros, two thousand one

33 Sons of Salomon's servants: sons of Hashundred seventy-two; sons of Saphat, four hundred seventy-two; sons of Pharida, sons of leeli, sons of dred seventy-two; 10sons of Aree, seven hundred Lozon, sons of Geddel, sons of Saphythi, 34sons of fifty-six; 11sons of Phaathmoab, with respect to the Hatil, sons of bPhakareth of Sabieb, sons of Saro-sons of Iesus and loab, two thousand eight hundred twelve; sons of Masias, sons of Gas, sons of Addous, dred twelve; 12sons of Olamos, one thousand two sons of Soubas, sons of Apherra, sons of Barodis, hundred fifty-four; sons of Zatos, nine hundred sons of Saphat, sons of Amon.

forty-five; sons of Chorbe, seven hundred five;

35 All the temple-slaves and the sons of Sa-sons of Bani, six hundred forty-eight; 13sons of Iomon's servants were three hundred seventy-two.

Bebai, six hundred twenty-three; sons of Asgad,

36 And the following are those who came up three thousand three hundred twenty-two; 14sons from Thermelee and Thelersas with Charaath lead-

aOr Ater Hezekias bOr Phakareth Sabie

1 esdras 5

399

ing them: Adan and Amar—37and they could not 53And they gave moneyb to the masons and car-prove by their paternal families or generations penters and food and drink and carts to the Sido-how they were from Israel—sons of Dalan the son nians and the Tyrians, to deliver cedar logs from of Touban, sons of Nekodan, six hundred fifty- Lebanon, to convey them in rafts to the harbor of two.

Joppe, according to the written ordinance that they 38 Also, from the priests those who had as- had from Cyrus, the Persians' king.

sumed the priesthood but were not found: sons of 54 And in the second year after his arrival at the Hobbia, sons of Hakkos and the sons of Ioddous temple of God in Ierousalem, during the second who took Augia to wife, one of the daughters of month, Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Iesous Pharzellaias, and was called by his name. 39And the son of Iosedek and their kindred, the Leuitical when their genealogical entry was sought in the priests, and all who had arrived at Ierousalem from register and was not found, they were excluded the captivity made a beginning 55and laid the from serving as priests, 40 and Neemias and foundation of the shrine of God on the new moon Hattharias told them that they were not to share in of the second month in the second year of their the holy things until a high priest should arise coming to Judea and Ierousalem. 56And they ap-wearing Explanation and Truth.

pointed the Levites who were twenty or more years

41 Now, their total was: of Israel, twelve of age to have charge of the work of the Lord. And more years of age, besides male and female servants stood, along with his sons and kindred, twenty, forty-two thousand three hundred sixty; both Kadmiel his brother and the sons of Asaph their male and female servants were seven thousand five hundred and the sons of Ioda son of Eliad and his sons three hundred thirty-seven; there were two with their sons and kindred, all the Levites, as hundred forty-five harpists and harp singers. taskmasters functioning with a single purpose for 42 There were four hundred thirty-five camels and the work on the house of the Lord.

seven thousand thirty-six horses, two hundred

And the builders built the shrine of the Lord, forty-five mules and five thousand five hundred 57 and the priests stood in their vestments with twenty-five beasts of burden.

sical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites,

43 And some of those who led by paternal families sons of Asaph, holding cymbals, were singing psalms, when they arrived at the temple of God that hymns to the Lord and blessing according to what is in Jerusalem, vowed that they would erect the temple of the Lord, the king of Israel, 58 and they intoned house on its site according to their power 44 and through hymns, acknowledging the Lord, because that they would give to the temple treasury for the his goodness and his glory are forever in all Israel.

work a thousand minas of gold and five thousand 59 And all the people trumpeted and shouted with minas of silver and one hundred priests' vest- a loud voice, singing hymns to the Lord for the ments.

erection of the house of the Lord. 60And some of 45 And the priests and the Leuites and those the Leuitical priests and of those who presided who were from his people were settled in Ierou- over their paternal families, the old men who had salem and its vicinity, and the temple-musicians seen the house before this one, came to the build-and the porters and all Israel were in their villages.

ing of this one with outcries and loud weeping,

46 Now, when the seventh month came and 61and many people with trumpets and joy with a the sons of Israel were all in their own homes, they loud sound, 62so that the people could not hear gathered with a single purpose in the open area of the trumpets because of the people's weeping. For the first eastward facing gateway. 47And Iesus the it was the crowd that was trumpeting so loudly that son of Iosedek with his brothers, the priests and they were heard far away.

Zorobabel the son of Salathiel with his kindred

63 And when the enemies of the tribe of Ioudas

took their places and prepared the altar of the God and Benjamin heard it, they came to learn what of Israel 48so that they could offer whole burnt of- the sound of trumpets meant. 64And they learned ferings upon it, following what was prescribed in that those who were from the captivity were build-the book of Moyses the man of God. 49And some ing the shrine for the Lord, God of Israel, 65and from the other nations of the land joined them. when they approached Zorobabel and Iesus and And they erected the altar in their place, because all the leaders of the paternal families they said to the nations that were in the land were hostile to them, "We will build along with you. 66For, like them and were stronger than they, and they offered you, we heard your Lord, and we have been emak-sacrifices at the proper time and whole burnt of- ing offeringse to him ever since the days of As-ferings to the Lord in the morning and late after- basareth, the king of the Assyrians, who transferred noon. 50They celebrated the feast of tent pitching, us to here." 67And Zorobabel and Iesus and the as it is ordered in the law, and sacrifices every day, leaders of the paternal families of Israel said to as was proper, 51and thereafter the perpetual offer- them, "You have nothing to do with us in building ings and sacrifices on sabbaths and new moons the house for the Lord, our God, 68for we alone and all the consecrated feasts. 52And as many as will build it for the Lord of Israel, following what had made a vow to God began to offer sacrifices to Cyrus, the king of the Persians, has ordered us."

God from the new moon of the seventh month, 69But the nations of the land, by ffalling asleep and the shrine of God had not yet been built.

overf those in Judea and laying siege to them, conaGk 1 mina = 0.6 kg bOr silver cPerhaps son of Emadaboun dPossibly obey eOr burning incense fGk uncertain

400

1 esdras 5-6

strained the building. 70And by bringing about the king took out again from the shrine in Bab-plots and demagoguery and uprisings, they pre- ylon, and they were given to Zorobabel and San-vented the completion of the building as long as abassaros the governor, 18and he ordered him to King Cyrus lived. And they were kept from build- return all these vessels and put them in the shrine ing for two years until the reign of Darius.

in Ierousalem, and that this shrine of the Lord should be built on its site. 19Then when this San-

Now in the second year of the reign of Darius, abassaros arrived, he put in the foundations of the 6 the prophets Haggaios and Zacharias the son house of the Lord that is in Ierousalem, and al-of Eddo prophesied to the Judeans who were in though it has been in the process of construction Judea and Ierousalem, in the name of the Lord, from that time until now, it has not reached com-God of Israel, who is over them. 2Then Zorobabel pletion.' 20Now therefore, O King, if it is judged the son of Salathiel and Iesus the son of Iosedek right, let there be a search in our lord king's royal archives in Babylon, 21and if it is found that the that is in Ierousalem, the prophets of the Lord building of the house of the Lord, which is in Ie-joining in and helping them.

Ierousalem, was done with the consent of Cyrus the 3 At the same time, there came to them king and if it be judged right by our lord king, let Sisinnes, the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and him give us directions about these things."

Sathrabouzanes and their associates, and they said

22 Then King Darius ordered that search be to them, 4“By whose order to you are you building made in the royal archives that were stored in Bab-this house and this roof and are finishing all the ylon. And in Ecbatana, the bastiona that is in the other things? And who are the builders that are fin- country of Media, one volume was found in which ishing these things?” 5And the elders of the the following was recorded, 23“The first year of the Judeans had favor with the captives, due to con- reign of Cyrus: King Cyrus ordered that the house sideration from the Lord, 6and they were not pre- of the Lord that is in Ierousalem, where they b vented from building until Darius would be notimake offeringsb with perpetual fire, be built; 24its fied about them and his orders be issued.

height is to be sixty cubits and its width sixty cu-

7 A copy of a letter Sisinnes, the governor of bits, with three courses of smoothed stones and Syria and Phoenicia—and Sathrabouzanes and one course of new native timber, and the cost to be their associate leaders in Syria and Phoenicia — paid from the house of Cyrus the king, 25and that wrote to Darius and sent, the sacred vessels of the house of the Lord, both of

“To King Darius, greetings! 8Let it be fully gold and of silver, which Nabouchodonosor took known to our lord the king that, when we arrived out of the house in Ierousalem and carried away to in the region of Judea and entered the city of Ierou- Babylon, should be restored to the house in Ierousalem, we found the elders of the Judeans of the salem where they used to be in order that they be captivity building in the city of Ierousalem a great placed there.”

new house for the Lord, using smoothed stones

26 Now, he ordered Sisinnus, the governor of

with costly timbers in the walls, 9and that those Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes and their projects are proceeding with speed and that the associates and those who were appointed as lead-work is going well in their hands and that they are ers in Syria and Phoenicia to take care to keep away being completed with all splendor and care. from the place and to permit Zorobabel the ser-10Then we inquired of these elders, saying, 'By vant of the Lord and governor of Judea and the el-whose orders are you building this house and lay- ders of the Judeans to build that house of the Lord ing the foundations of these projects?' 11So, in at the site. 27'And I have also instructed that they order that we might inform you and write you build it completely and that they watch carefully about who the individuals are that lead them, we that they work closely with those who have re-questioned them and asked them for the list of the turned from the captivity of Judea until the house names of the proponents. 12But they answered us, of the Lord be finished 28and that from the tribute 'We are the servants of the Lord who created heav- of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia a portion be scrupu-en and earth. 13And the house had been built lously given to these people, to Zorobabel the gov-rather many years ago by a great and strong king of ernor, for sacrifices to the Lord, for bulls and rams Israel, and it was completed. 14And when our fa- and lambs, 29and likewise also wheat and salt and thers sinned against the heavenly Lord of Israel, wine and oil, perpetually, on a yearly basis, with-provoking him, he gave them into the hands of out quibbling, for daily use as the priests in Ierou-Nabouchodonosor, king of Babylonia, king of the salem may indicate, 30in order that libations may Chaldeans. 15They, having pulled it down, both be offered to the Most High God for the king and burned the house and carried off the people cap- his servants, and they might pray for their life, 31

tive to Babylon. 16But in the first year that Cyrus and I order that, if any should transgress or even reigned over the country of Babylonia, King Cyrus not act on any of the things herein said and writ-wrote that they could build this house. 17And the ten, a beam should be taken out of their own sacred vessels of gold and silver, which Nabou-house, and they should be hanged upon it, and chodonosor had taken out of the house in Ierou- their property be forfeited to the crown.

salem and stored in his own shrine, these Cyrus 32 "For the same reasons, also, may the Lord, aOr tower bOr burned incense cPossibly children

1 esdras 6-8

401

whose his name is there called upon, destroy any the king ain all his requests. 5And some of the king and nation that shall stretch out its hand to sons of Israel and of the priests and Leuites and hinder or damage that house of the Lord that is in temple-musicians and porters and temple-slaves Ierousalem.

came back with him to Ierousalem 6in the seventh 33 "I, King Darius, have decreed that it be done year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month with all diligence as here prescribed.”

(this was the king’s seventh year), for they left Babylon on the new moon of the first month and ar-

Then Sisinnus, the governor of Coele-Syria and arrived in Jerusalem on the new moon of the fifth 7 Phoenicia, and Satrabuzanes and their assomonth, due to the successful journey that the Lord ciate, in compliance with the orders given by King gave them. 7 For Esdras possessed much knowl-Darius, 2 supervised the sacred work with very great edge, so that he omitted nothing from the law of care, assisting the elders of the Judeans and the the Lord or the commandments to teach all Israel temple officials. 3 And the sacred work prospered all the statutes and judgments.

while the prophets Haggai and Zacharias were 8 The written ordinance from Artaxerxes the prophesying, 4 and they completed it by the sixth king, having come to the attention of Esdras the year of Darius, the king of the Persians, due to the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, a copy of ordinance of the Lord, God of Israel, and with the which follows, consent of Cyrus and Darius and Artaxerxes, kings

9 “King Artaxerxes to Esdras the priest and of the Persians. 5 The holy house was completed by reader of the law of the Lord, greetings. 10 Since I the twenty-third of the month of Adar, in the sixth on my part have also decided on humane treat-year of King Darius. 6And the sons of Israel, even ment, I have given orders that those that desire of the priests, the Leuites and the rest of those added the nation of Judeans and of the priests and the from the captivity, acted in accordance with what is Leuites and, moreover, those in our own realm—if in the book of Moyses. 7At the dedication of the they so choose—go together with you to Ierou-temple of the Lord, they offered one hundred bulls, salem. 11Let as many as are so disposed, therefore, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, 8twelve set out with you, just as both I and the seven male goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the Friends, my counsellors, have decreed, 12in order number of the twelve tribal leaders of Israel, 9and to look into the affairs of Judea and the affairs of the priests and the Leuites stood in their vestments, Ierousalem, in accordance with what is in the law by tribe, for the projects of the Lord, God of Israel, of the Lord, 13and to take along to Ierousalem the following the book of Moyses, and the porters gifts for the Lord of Israel that both I and the stood at each gateway.

Friends have vowed and to collect for the Lord in 10 And the sons of Israel, of those from the Ierousalem all the gold and silver that may be captivity, celebrated the pascha on the fourteenth found in the country of Babylonia, together with of the first month, when the priests and the Leuites what is given by the nation for the temple of their had been sanctified together. 11And not all sons of Lord which is in Ierousalem, 14both the gold and the captivity were sanctified, because the Leuites the silver for bulls and rams and lambs and what were all sanctified together 12and sacrificed the goes with them, 15so as to offer sacrifices to the pascha for all the sons of the captivity and for their Lord on the altar of their Lord, which is in Ierou-brothers the priests and for themselves. 13And the salem.

16And whatever you, along with your kinsons of Israel who had returned from captivity ate dred, wish to do with gold and silver, discharge it it, all those who had been separated from the in accordance with the will of your God; 17also abominations of the nations of the land, as they you shall place before your God who is in Ierou-were seeking the Lord. 14They also celebrated the salem the sacred vessels of the Lord that have been feast of unleavened bread seven days, rejoicing be- given you for the use of the temple of your God fore the Lord, 15because he had changed the will that is in Ierousalem. And whatever else occurs to of the king of the Assyrians concerning them, to you as required for the temple of your God, 18you strengthen their hands for the projects of the Lord, will provide out of the royal treasury.

God of Israel.

19 “Moreover, I, King Artaxerxes, have ordered the treasurers of Syria and Phoenicia that whatever

And later than these, when Artaxerxes king of Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Most

8 the Persians was reigning, Esdras came—son HighGodsendsfor,theyaretotakecareto give to of Saraias the son of Ezerias the son of Chelkias the him, up to one hundred talents of silver, 20and son of Salemos 2the son of Saddoukos the son of likewise also up to one hundred korsb of wheat Achitob the son of Amarias the son of Ezias the son and one hundred measuresc of wine and salt in of Mareroth the son of Zariaias the son of Saouia abundance. 21Let all things prescribed in accor-the son of Bokka son of Abisoue the son of Phinees dance with the law of God be scrupulously ful-the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the first priest. filled for the Most High God so that wrath may not being a man of genius in the law of Moyses, which

3This Esdras went up from Babylon as a scribe, come upon the realm of the king and his sons.

22

You are also informed that no tribute or any had been delivered by the God of Israel, 4and the other imposition be laid on any of the priests and king showed him honor, for he found favor before the Leuites and temple-musicians and porters and aOr for all his worthy projects bHeb 1 kor = 22 liters cGk 1 metretes = 22 liters

402

1 esdras 8

temple-slaves and officials of this temple and that their sons, twenty men; 48and of the temple-slaves, no one has authority to impose such things on whom Daid and the leaders had given for the ser-them.

vice of the Leuites, two hundred twenty temple-

23 "And you, Esdras, in keeping with the wis- slaves; the list of all their names was reported.

dom of God, appoint judges and justices to judge

49 And I proclaimed there a fast for the young all those who know the law of your God, through- men before our Lord 50so that we could seek from out all Syria and Phoenicia; moreover you shall him both a successful journey for ourselves and for teach it to those who do not know. 24And all who our children and the livestock that were with us.

transgress both the law of your God and the royal 51For I hesitated to ask the king for both foot sol-law shall be strictly punished, whether by death diers and cavalry and for an escort for security and physical punishment or by financial penalty against those who were opposed to us, 52for we or arrest.”

had said to the king, “The strength of our Lord will 25 Blessed be the Lord alone, who put this into be with those who seek after him for complete the heart of the king, to glorify his house, which is restoration.” 53And again we petitioned our Lord in Ierousalem, 26and who honored me before the about all these things, and we found him very mer-king and those who give him counsel and all his ciful.

Friends and nobles. 27As for me—I became en-

54 And I set apart twelve men from the tribal couraged by the support of the Lord my God, and leaders of the priests, both Serebias and Hasl gathered men from Israel to go up with me.

samias, and ten men from their kindred with 28 And these are the leaders, by their paternal them, 55and I weighed out to them the silver and families and their groups, who went up with me the gold and the sacred vessels of the house of our from Babylon in the reign of Artaxerxes the king: Lord, which the king himself had granted—and 29Of the sons of Phinees, Garsomos. Of the sons of his counselors and the nobles and all Israel. 56And letamaros, Gamelos. Of the sons of Daud, Hat- when I had weighed out, I handed over to them six tous the son of Sechanias. 30Of the sons of Phoros, hundred fifty talents of silver and silver vessels Zacharias, and with him a hundred fifty men from worth a hundred talents and a hundred talents of the register. 31Of the sons of Phaathmoab, Eliao-gold and twenty items of wrought gold and twelve nias son of Zariaias, and with him two hundred bronze vessels of fine bronze that glittered like men. 32Of the sons of Zathoe, Sechanias son of gold. 57And I said to them, “You too are holy to lezelos, and with him three hundred men. Of the the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the silver sons of Adinos, Ben son of Ionathos, and with him and the gold as a vow to the Lord, Lord of our fa-two hundred fifty men. 33Of the sons of Elam, thers. 58Be watchful and on guard until you deliv-lesias son of Gotholias, and with him seventy men.

er them to the tribal leaders of the priests and the 34Of the sons of Saphatias, Zariaias son of Michae-

Leuites and to the leaders of the paternal families

los, and with him seventy men. 35Of the sons of of Israel, in lerousalem, in the priests’ chambers of loab, Abadias son of lezelos, and with him two the house of our Lord.” 59And the priests and the hundred twelve men. 36Of the sons of Bania, Sali- Leuites who took along the silver and the gold and moth son of Iosaphias, and with him a hundred the vessels that had been in Ierousalem carried sixty men. 37Of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of them to the temple of the Lord.

Bebai, and with him twenty-eight men. 38Of the 60 And when we had left the river Theras on the sons of Asgath, Ioanes son of Hakatan, and with twelfth of the first month, we traveled until we ar-him a hundred ten men. 39Of the sons of Adoni- rived in Ierousalem by the mighty hand of our Lord, kam—they were the last ones, and these were their which was upon us; the Lord rescued us from inves-names: Eliphalatos, leouel and Samaias, and with tigation—from every enemy, and we came to Ierou- them seventy men. 40Of the sons of Bago, Outhi salem. 61And when we had been at that location the son of Istalkouros, and with him seventy men.

three days, the silver and the gold having been 41 And I gathered them at the river called weighed were handed over in the house of our Lord Theras, and we encamped at that spot three days, to the priest Marmothi of Ourias—62and with him and I inspected them. 42And when I found there was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and there were with none of the sons of the priests or of the Leuites, 43I them the Leuites, Iosabdos son of Iesous and Moeth sent word to Eleazaros and Idouelos and Maasmas son of Sabannos—all by count and weight, and the and Elnatan and Samaias and Ioribos, Nathan, En- weight of everything was recorded at that very time.

natan, Zacharias and Mosollamos, who were the Now, those who had arrived from captivity of-leaders and men of knowledge, 44and I told them fered sacrifices to God, Lord of Israel: twelve bulls to go to Addaios, who was the leading man at the on behalf of all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-two place of the treasury 45and commanded them to lambs, twelve male goats for deliverance—all as a discuss with Addaios and his kindred and the trea- sacrifice to the Lord. 64And they delivered the king’s surers at that place to send us men to serve as priests ordinances to the royal stewards and to the gover-in the house of our Lord. 46And by the mighty hand nors of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, and they hon-of our Lord they brought us knowledgeable men of ored the nation and the temple of the Lord.

the sons of Mooli son of Leui son of Israel: Asebe-bias and his sons and kindred, who numbered

65 And when these things had been complet-eighteen; 47also Hasebias and Announos and Osa- ed, the leaders came to me, saying, 66“The nation ias, a brother from the sons of Chanounaios, and of Israel and the rulers and the priests and the

1 esdras 8-9

403

Leuites have not put away from themselves the on this very day. 87Behold, we are now before you alien nations of the land as their uncleanness re- with our lawless deeds, for no one is able to stand quires—the Chananites and Chettites and Pher- in your presence any longer because of these ezites and Iebousites and Moabites and Egyptians things.”

and Idumeans. 67For both they and their sons

88 And when Esdras was praying—he was makhave lived with their daughters, and the holy seed ing confession—weeping, on the ground before has been mixed with the alien nations of the land, the temple, there gathered to him a very large and from the beginning of the matter the leaders crowd from Ierousalem, men and women and and the nobles have been sharing in this lawless-youths. For there was great weeping among the ness.”

multitude. 89And Iechonias son of Ieelos, of the 68 And it happened that, as soon as I heard sons of Israel, called out and said to Esdras, “We these things, I tore my garments and my sacred have sinned against the Lord and have married clothing and pulled out hair from my head and alien women from the nations of the land. Even beard and sat in anxiety and grief. 69And all that now there is hope for Israel. 90Let us take an oath were ever moved at the word of the Lord of Israel to the Lord on this, that we will put out all our gathered together to me, as I mourned over this alien wives along with their children, because it lawlessness, and I sat grief-stricken until the late af- was judged right by you—and as many as submit ternoon sacrifice. 70And when I rose from my fast, to the authority of the law of the Lord. 91Rise up, with my garments and my sacred clothing torn, and get it done, for the task is yours, and we are when I had bent my knees and stretched out my with you to enforce it.” 92And Esdras stood up and hands to the Lord, I said, put under oath the tribal leaders of the priests and 71 "O Lord, I am ashamed; I am embarrassed the Leuites of all Israel to do this. And they took an before your face. 72For our sins have exceeded the oath.

height of our heads, and our mistakes had piled up to the sky 73already from the times of our fathers,

And Esdras got up and went from the court of

and we are in great sin to this day. 74And on ac- 9 the temple to the priest's chamber of Ioanan count of our sins and the sins of our fathers, we the son of Eliasibos. 2And though he spent the with our kindred and with our kings and with our night there, he did not taste food or drink water, priests were given over to the kings of the earth for mourning over the great acts of lawlessness of the sword and captivity and plundering, in shame multitude. 3And a proclamation occurred through-until this selfsame day. 75And now in some mea- out the whole of Judea and Ierousalem to all who sure mercy has come to us from you, O Lord, so had returned from the captivity that they should that a root has been left to us and a name in the lo- assemble at Ierousalem. 4And if any did not pre- cation of your holiness, 76even to uncover our sent themselves within two or three days, in accor- light in the house of our Lord, to give us food in dance with the judgment of the ruling elders, their the time of our slavery. And when we were in slav- livestock would be devoted to temple use, and he ery, we were not forsaken by our Lord, 77but he himself would be deemed estranged from the mul- brought us into favor before the kings of the Per- titude of the captivity.

sians, to give us nourishment 78and to honor our

5 And all those from the tribe of Ioudas and temple and to raise desolate Sion for us as a Benjamin assembled together at Jerusalem with-stronghold in Judea and Jerusalem.

in three days; this was the ninth month, on the

79 "And now, O Lord, what shall we say, when twentieth of the month. 6And the entire multitude we have these things? For we have transgressed sat together in the large open area before the temple your ordinances, which you gave by the hand of the prophets, shivering because of present winter. 7And Esay your servants the prophets, saying, 80'The land that you are entering to possess is a land polluted with the law and married alien women to add sins to the pollution of the aliens of the land, and they have done so. 8Now then, give glory, as a confession, to the Lord who have filled it with their uncleanness. 81And now, Lord, God of our fathers, 9and do his will, and do not let their daughters marry your sons, and do not separate from the nations of the land and do not give your daughters to their sons, 82and do not let the alien women."

seek at any time to have peaceful relations with 10 And the entire multitude shouted and said them in order that you may prevail and eat the fruit of the land with a loud voice, "We will do as you have said.

good of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.' 83And all that is happening to us results from our evil deeds and our great sins. We have not found it, and the task we have set for you, O Lord, you have canceled our sins 84and we cannot do in one day or two. For we have sinned against you such a root as this. Again we have turned back rather much in these things. 12But let the leaders of those who transgress your law so as to be mixed up with the multitude take a stand, and let all those from the uncleanness of the nations of the land. 85Were our settlements, as many as have alien wives, you not angry enough with us to destroy us with- come, having received time, 13and furthermore the out leaving us root and seed and name? 86O Lord elders and judges of each location, until they undo of Israel, you are genuine, for we were left as a root from us the anger of the Lord over this matter.”

aOr holy precinct

404

1 esdras 9

14 Ionathas son of Azaelos and Iezias son of

37 And the priests and the Levites and those Thokanos undertook the matter on these terms, from Israel settled down in Jerusalem and Mosollamos and Leuis and Sabbataios served throughout the country. On the new moon of the together as arbitrators for them. 15Those from the seventh month—and the sons of Israel were in captivity acted in accordance with all this.

their settlements—38and the entire multitude

16 And Esdras the priest chose for himself men gathered with one accord in the large open area be-who were leaders of their paternal families, all of fore the gateway toward the east of the temple, them by name, and on the new moon of the tenth 39and they told Esdras the chief priest and reader month they sat down together to examine the mat- to bring the law of Moyses that had been handed ter. 17And the cases of the men who had taken to over by the Lord, God of Israel. 40And Esdras the themselves alien wives were brought to an end by chief priest brought the law for the entire multi-the new moon of the first month.

tude, from man to woman, and for all the priests

18 And of the priests, those who gathered to- to hear the law, on the new moon of the seventh gether and were found to have alien wives were: month. 41And he kept reading aloud in the large 19of the sons of Iesus son of Iozedek and his kin-open area before the gateway of the temple from

dred, Maseas and Eleazaros and Ioribos and Io- dawn until midday in the presence of both men danos. 20And they aput on their handsa to put and women, and the entire multitude gave its at-away their wives and as expiation to offer rams for tention to the law. 42And Esdras the priest and their mistake. 21And of the sons of Emmer: Hana-reader of the law stood on the wooden platform nias and Zabdaios and Manes and Samaios and that had been prepared, 43and beside him stood Iereel and Azarias. 22And of the sons of Phaisour: Mattathias, Sammous, Hananias, Azarias, Ourias, Elioenais, Maesias, Ismaelos and Nathanaelos and Hezekias and Baalsamos on his right 44and on his Okidelos and Salthas.

left Phadaios, Misael, Melchias, Lothasoubos,

23 And of the Leuites: Iozabdos and Semeis Nabarias, Zacharias. 45And when Esdras took up and Kolios (this is, Kalitas) and Pathaios and the book of the law in the presence of the multi-Ooudas and Ioanas. 24Of the temple-musicians: tude (for he was seated in the place of honor in the Eliasibos, Bakchouros. 25Of the porters: Salloumos presence of all) 46and when he opened the law, and Tolbanes.

they all stood straight. And Esdras blessed the

26 Of Israel: of the sons of Phoros: Iermas and Lord, God Most High, God Sabaoth, Almighty, Iezias and Melchias and Miaminos and Eleazaros 47and the whole multitude exclaimed "Amen," and Hasibias and Bannaias. 27Of the sons of Elam: and when they lifted up their hands and fell to the Matthanias and Zacharias and Iezrielos and Oba- ground, they did obeisance to God. 48The Leuites dios and Ieremoth and Elias. 28And of the sons of Iesous and Annious and Sarabias, Iadinos, Iakou-Zamoth: Eliadas, Eliasimos, Othonias, Iarimoth and bos, Sabbataios, Hautaias, Maiannas, Kalitas, Sabathos and Zerdaias. 29And of the sons of Bebai: Azarias and Iozabdos, Hananias, Phalias were Ioanes and Hananias and Zabdos and Emathis. teaching the law of the Lord and were reading the 30And of the sons of Mani: Olamos, Mallouchos, law of the Lord to the multitude, at the same time of the sons of Addi: Naathos and Moossias,

Iedaios, Iasoubos and Asaelos and Ieremoth. 31And inspiring the reading.

49 And Hattharates said to Esdras, the chief

Lakkounos and Naidos and Matthanias and Sesthel priest and reader, and to the Leuites who were and Balnouos and Manasseas. 32And of the sons of teaching the multitude, with regard to all, 50"This Hannan: Elionas and Asaias and Melchias and Sab- day is holy to the Lord"—and all were weeping baias and Simon Chosamaios. 33And of the sons of

when they heard the law—51“so proceed, and eat Hasom: Maltannaios and Mattathaias and Sab-fats, and drink sweet drinks, and send portions to adaious and Eliphalat and Manasses and Semei. those who do not have, 52for the day is holy to the 34And of the sons of Baani: Ieremias, Moadios, Lord. And do not be sorrowful, for the Lord will Maeros, Iouel, Mamdai and Pedias and Anos, exalt you.” 53And the Leuites were commanding Karabasion and Eliasibos and Mamnitanimos, all the common people, saying, “This day is holy; Eliasis, Bannous, Elialis, Someis, Selemias, Natha- do not be sorrowful.” 54And they all departed to nias. And of the sons of Ezora: Sesis, Ezril, Azaelos, eat and drink and enjoy themselves and to give Samatos, Zambris, Iosepos. 35And of the sons of portions to those who had none and to be greatly Nooma: Mazitias, Zabadaias, Edais, Iouel, Banaias. joyful, 55because they were also inspired by the 36All these had married alien women, and they di-words by which they had been taught, and they vorced them together with their children.

had gathered together.

aPossibly pledged themselves

2 ESDRAS

TO THE READER

EDITION OF GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of 2 Esdras is based on the standard critical edition prepared by Robert Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum XVIII.2: Es-drae liber II [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1993]). The text of this edition was followed almost invariably for the translation. Only at 4.21-22 have I departed from it, where have I followed Codex B.

I have not adhered as closely to the punctuation provided by Hanhart.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

This book is known as Esdras B / in the Greek tradition. The title “2 Esdras” also has been used for three other works: the Vulgate translation of Nehemiah; the later Latin-manuscript book that consists of chapters 1-2 of the Vulgate book 4 Esdras, which is also known as 5 Ezra in scholarship or 2 Esdras 1-2 in modern translations; and the modern English translations of 4 Esdras from the Vulgate (scholarship’s 4 Ezra, 5 Ezra, and 6 Ezra), such as in the NRSV.

1 Esdras (Esdras A /) and 2 Esdras are one pair of double traditions found in Septuagint collections (see as well the double traditions of Daniel and Esther). They represent material from the Hebrew-Aramaic 2 Chronicles (2 Supplements), Ezra (2 Esdras 1-10), and Nehemiah (2 Esdras 11-23). The general relationship of content among the various versions is as follows:

2 Esdras

1 Esdras

Additional parallels

1.1-3

2.1-5

2 Chr (2 Suppl) 36.22-23

1.4-11

2.6-14

4.6-24

2.15-25

2.1-70 // 17.7-73

5.7-45

3.1-4.5

5.46-70

5.1-10.44

6.1-9.36

17.73-18.12

9.37-55

The Greek 2 Esdras is arguably the most pedantic of the translations of biblical books found in “the Septuagint” and is possibly the best representative of an “interlinear translation.” It has not fared well in scholarly assessments, being described as “a very literal and servile translation of the Hebrew,"¹ "un-Greek, literal and mechanical,"² a translation that "discloses servile conformity to the Hebrew and Aramaic original, at the cost of clarity, and thus fails to attain even the pretence of Greek idiomatic expression, not to speak of distinction in diction."³ Subsequent examination has only confirmed such conclusions.⁴ The difficult nature of the Greek in this book makes its translation problematic. This translation into English makes an attempt to remain faithful to the Greek but also to render it into grammatical English.

General character

The translator of 2 Esdras used a Hebrew-Aramaic text that was of the Masoretic tradition (MT) of texts and translated it by a slavish adherence to the forms and order of the source text and with little in the 1 Henry H. Howorth, "Some Unconventional Views on the Text of the Bible: I. The Apocryphal Book Esdras A and the LXX," PSBA 23 (1901) 151.

2 S. A. Cook, "1 Esdras," in Charles 1:3.

3 Pfeiffer, History 248.

4 R. Glenn Wooden, "Interlinearity in 2 Esdras: A Test Case," in Septuagint Research: Issues and Challenges in the Study of the Greek Jewish Scriptures (W. Kraus and R. G. Wooden, eds; SBLSCS 53; Atlanta: SBL, 2006) 119-144.

406

to the reader of 2 esdras

way of creativity or translator's license. The translation is so close to the MT that there is very little change even of word order, a feature hard to reflect in the English translation.

Another feature is easier to reflect, however. With very few exceptions, where a Hebrew-Aramaic conjunctive w occurs in the MT, it is rendered by kai/ in this translation. This is different from other OG/Septuagint books where there tends to be somewhat more variety. So extreme is this feature of 2 Esdras that there are only four occurrences of de/ anywhere in the book (2.64; 5.12; 7.9; 19.18), and for those four occurrences only at 7.9 is there a w in the source text, the other three being introduced without explicit warrant. Given this approach to the translation of the Hebrew and Aramaic, in the NETS translation of 2 Esdras there is no attempt to represent the various nuances possible when rendering kai/, with the result that “and” is grossly overused.

Transcription

Another significant characteristic of this book is that there are 35 transcriptions used 67 times, and this does not include the transcription of the over 500 names that occur in the genealogies and lists. This use of transcriptions is not consistent throughout the book. Thus, for example, for the same Hebrew word, Mynytn, we find naqinai=oi (2.43; 21.3) and naqini/m (2.58, 70; 7.7, 24; 8.17, 20; 13.26; 17.46, 60, 73; 20.28), and for another, lp(, 0Wfa/l (13.26) and 0Ofla/ (13.27). The treatment of names in the book is also inconsistent, so that one finds, for example, 0Addi/n (2.15), 0Adi/n (8.6) and 0Hdi/n (17.20) for Nyd(; 'Ammani/tai (23.1) and 0Ammwni/ (9.1) for ynm(; Banoui/ (2.10), Bani/ (10.29) and Banai/aj (18.7) for ynb; 9Hra/m (2.32), 9Hre/m (2.39), 9Ira/m (20.5) and 9Are/m (22.15) for Mrx; Kwli/taj (10.23), Kalli/taj (18.7) and Kalita/n (20.10) for)+ylq; Saddou/k (7.2), Sadou/k (20.21) and Sadw&k (23.13) for qwdc.

Pleonasm

In this book there are scattered examples of redundant adverbs and pronouns where the Greek uses the relative pronoun to translate $r#$) or yd when they function as relative particles marking the connection between two independent clauses. When the Hebrew or Aramaic clause has an adverb or pronoun, it is rendered redundantly, such as in 1.4: “And every one left shall go up from all the places where ($r#$) - $ou[]$) he resides there ($M#$ - $e0kei=$).” These are redundant in Greek and therefore have been rendered into equally redundant English.

Lists and the lack of grammaticality

A more difficult grammatical problem is encountered at 9.1; 10.18; 13.24-25, 26, 31; 14.13; 21.4-7, 25-30 where there are lists of two or more people or items in the MT in which Greek grammar seems to have been abandoned and the words are listed without grammatical connection to the first item in the list. In this translation we have found ways to render these, taking into account what is possible given Greek grammar and knowing what the translator probably saw in the source text. They are awkward translations, but not as awkward as the Greek.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 2 ESDRAS

Whereas the Greek follows its parent MT text very closely, we have tried to maintain as many connections to the NRSV as possible, within the guidelines of the project. Where the Greek is gender specific, such as in the use of $a)nh/r$, we have made the translation specific. Given the pedantic nature of the translation, where “sons of” is found in what could arguably be a generic form, we have rendered it with the gender specific “sons of,” etc.

EDITORIAL POLICY

Whereas 2 Esdras in the OG/Septuagint is the translation of both Ezra and Nehemiah, the chapters do not follow the MT for the book of Nehemiah: 2 Esdras 1-10 is the translation of Ezra 1-10, and 2 Esdras 11-23 is the translation of Nehemiah 1-13.

Versification differs among editions of 2 Esdras and from the MT:

Hanhart and English translations of Nehemiah

MT and Rahlfs

14(4).1-6

3(13).33-38/37

14(4).7-23

4(14).1-17

18(8).1a

7(17).73b

19(9).38

10(20).1

20(10).1-39

10(20).2-40

2 esdras 1-2

407

Compared to the MT, some text is not represented in 2 Esdras at 14.6 (Neh 3.37-38); 21(11).12-35; and 22(12).2-9, 25, 29. Where the material is lacking in chapters 21 and 22, the versification follows that of the MT, and thus there are gaps in the sequences of numbers.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

The only English translation of this book that I consulted in the process of developing this translation was that by Brenton.

R. GLENN WOODEN

1 And in the first year of Cyrus, king of the Persians, in order that the word of the Lord from Belshazzar, Balasan, Masphar, Bagouai, Reoum, Baana.

the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, the Lord

Number of the men of the people of Israel:

3

stirred up the spirit of Cyrus, king of the Persians, sons of Phoros, two thousand one hundred seventy-two; 4 sons of Saphatia, three hundred seven-ty-two; indeed in written form, saying:

ty-two; 5 sons of Ares, seven hundred seventy-five;

6

2 “Thus said Cyrus, king of the Persians: the sons of Phaathmoab—in reference to the sons of

d

Lord, the God of heaven, has given me all the kinglesou, of loabd—two thousand eight hundred doms of the earth, and he himself has visited upon twelve; 7sons of Ailam, one thousand two hundred me to build him a house in Ierousalem, which is fifty-four; 8sons of Zaththoua, nine hundred forty-in Judea. 3Who is there among you from all his five; 9sons of Zakchai, seven hundred sixty; 10sons people? And his God will be with him, and he will of Banoui, six hundred forty-two; 11sons of Babai, go up to Ierousalem, which is in Judea, and let him six hundred twenty-three; 12sons of Azgad, one build the house of Israel's God; he is the God who thousand two hundred twenty-two; 13sons of Adois in Ierousalem. 4And every one left shall go up nikam, six hundred sixty-six; 14sons of Bagouai, from all the places where he resides there, and the two thousand fifty-six; 15sons of Addin, four hun-men of his place shall receive them with silver and dred fifty-four; 16sons of Ater—in reference to gold and with goods and animals, besides the Hezekias—ninety-eight; 17sons of Bassou, three freewill offering for the house of the God who is in hundred twenty-three; 18sons of Iora, one hundred Ierousalem.”

twelve; 19sons of Hasoum, two hundred twenty-

5 And the chiefs of the paternal families of three; 20sons of Gaber, ninety-five; 21sons of Baith-louda and Benjamin and the priests and the leem, one hundred twenty-three; 22sons of Ne-Leuites got up, all of whom God had stirred up topha, fifty-six; 23sons of Anathoth, one hundred their spirit, to go up to build the Lord's house, twenty-eight; 24sons of Azmoth, forty-two; 25sons which is in Ierousalem. 6And all from round about of Kariathiarim, Chaphira and Beroth, seven hundred prevailed with their hands with vessels of silver, dred forty-three; 26 sons of the Rama and of Gabaa, with gold and with goods and with livestock and six hundred twenty-one; 27 men of Machmas, one with presents, besides the things that were freely hundred twenty-two; 28 men of Baithel and Aia, offered. 7 And King Cyrus brought out the vessels four hundred twenty-three; 29 sons of Nabo, fifty of the house of the Lord, which Nabouchodonosor two; 30 sons of Magebis, one hundred fifty-six; 31 took from Jerusalem and placed them in the sons of Elamar, one thousand two hundred fifty-house of his god. 8 And Cyrus, king of the Persians, four; 32 sons of Hiram, three hundred twenty; 33 brought them out onto the hand of Mithridates sons of Lod, Hadid and Ono, seven hundred

Garbarenosb, and he counted them for Sasabassar, twenty-five; 34 sons of Jericho, three hundred forty—the ruler of Iouda. 9 And this was their number: five; 35 sons of Senaa, three thousand six hundred gold wine coolers, thirty, and silver wine coolers, thirty.

one thousand, assorted items, twenty-nine, 10 gold

36 And the priests: sons of Iedoua—in referchephourec, thirty, and silver ones and other vessels, one thousand, 11 All the vessels in gold and silver—three; 37 sons of Emmer, one thousand fifty-two; silver: five thousand four hundred, every one of 38 sons of Phasour, one thousand two hundred which went up with Sasabassar from the exile out forty-seven; 39 sons of Herem, one thousand seven.

of Babylon to Jerusalem.

40 And the Levites: sons of Iesus and Kadmiel—in reference to the sons of Hodouia—seventy-

And these are the sons of the country, who four. 41 The singers: sons of Asaph, one hundred

2 went up from the captivity of the exile, which twenty-eight. 42 Sons of the gatekeepers: sons of Nabouchodonosor, king of Babylon, had exiled to Selloum; sons of Ater; sons of Telmon; sons of Babylon, and they returned to Jerusalem and Akoub; sons of Hatita; sons of Sobai, in all one hundred, a man to his city, 2 who went with Zoroba—hundred thirty-nine.

a.l.e. proclamation bCf. Heb = treasurer cHeb = bowls dPossibly Iesus loab

408

2 esdras 2-4

43 The Nathineans: sons of Souaa; sons of Ha- and built the altar of the God of Israel in order to Soupha; sons of Tabbaoth; 44 sons of Keraos; sons offer up whole burnt offerings on it, according to of Siaa; sons of Phadon; 45 sons of Labano; sons of the things written in the law of Moyses the man of Hagaba; sons of Akoub; 46 sons of Hagab; sons of God. 3 And they prepared the altar on its prepared Selami; sons of Hanan; 47 sons of Geddel; sons of basis, because they had dread upon them from the Gaar; sons of Raia;

48sons of Rason; sons of Neko- peoples of the countries, and a whole burnt offer-da; sons of Gazam; 49sons of Aza; sons of Phase; ing to the Lord was mounted upon it, in the morn-sons of Basi; 50sons of Asena; sons of Mooünim; ing and at evening. 4And they observed the feast of sons of Nephousim; 51sons of Bakkouk; sons of tents, according to what was written, and the Hakoupha; sons of Harour; 52sons of Basaloth; whole burnt offerings day by day, by number, ac-sons of Meida; sons of Harsa; 53sons of Barkos; cording to decision, a matter of a day for its day, sons of Sisara; sons of Thema; 54sons of Nasie; 5and after that the whole burnt offerings of perpe-sons of Hatipha.

tuity and those for the new moons and for all the 55 Sons of Abdeselma: sons of Sotai; sons of consecrated feasts to the Lord and the freewill of-Hasepherath; sons of Phadoura; 56sons of leala; fering of everyone who was making a freewill of-sons of Kerkon; sons of Geddel; 57sons of Sapha- fering to the Lord. 6On day one of the seventh tia; sons of Hattil; sons of Phacherath of Hasa- month they began to offer up whole burnt offer-boim; sons of Emei. 58All the nathinima and sons ings to the Lord, and the foundation of the Lord's of Abdeselma were three hundred ninety-two.

house was not laid. 7And they gave silver to the 59 And the following were those who went up stonecutters and the carpenters and food and from Thelmelech, Thelaresa, Cheroub, Edan, drink and oil to the Sidonians and the Tyrians, to Emmer and were not able to proclaim their pater- bring cedar trees from the Lebanon to the sea of nal house and their offspring, whether they were Joppe, according to the grant of Cyrus, king of the from Israel: 60sons of Dalaiia; sons of Boua; sons of Persians, to them.

Tobia; sons of Nekoda, six hundred fifty-two.

8 And in the second year of their going to the 61And from sons of the priests: sons of Hobaia;

house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, sons of Hakkous; sons of Berzellai (who took as Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Iesus the son wife one of the daughters of Berzellai the Galaad- of Iosedek and the rest of their brothers, the priests ite and was called by their name).

62These, the and the Leuites and all who were coming to Jerusalem from the captivity made a beginning and they were not found, and they were made near kin appointed the Leuites, from twenty years old and from the priesthood, 63and Hathersatha spoke to upward, over those who were doing the projects in them so that they would not eat from the holy of the Lord's house. 9And Iesus and his sons and his holies until a priest should arise for the things brothers, Kadmiel and his sons, sons of Iouda, sons that enlighten and the things that are flawless.

of Henadad, their sons and their brothers the 64 Now the whole assembly, as one, was forty- Leuites supervised those doing the projects in the two thousand three hundred sixty, 65besides their house of God.

male slaves and their servant girls—these were

10 And they laid the foundation to build the seven thousand three hundred thirty-seven. And house of the Lord, and the priests stood in their these, there were two hundred male singers and fe- vestments with trumpets, and the Levites, sons of male singers. 66 Their horses seven hundred thirty- Asaph, with cymbals, to praise the Lord upon the six; their mules two hundred forty-five; 67 their hands of David, king of Israel, 11 and their re-camels four hundred thirty-five, and their donkeys sponded with praise and confession to the Lord, six thousand seven hundred twenty.

“For it is good,

68 And some from the chiefs of the ancestral for his mercy is forever upon Israel.”

families, when they came to the Lord’s house, And all the people signaled with a loud voice to which is in Jerusalem, made freewill offerings to praise the Lord for the foundation of the house of the house of God in order to erect it on its pre- the Lord. 12 And many from the priests and the pared basis. 69 According to their ability they gave Levites and chiefs of the paternal families, the old to the treasury for the work sixty-one thousand people, who had seen the first house on its four-drachmas of gold and five thousand minas of sil- dation and this house with their eyes, were weeping ver and one hundred priests’ robes.

with a loud voice, also the crowd at a signal with 70 And the priests and the Levites and those merriment to raise up a song. 13 And the people from the people and the singers and the gatekeep- were not distinguishing the sound of the signal of ers and the nathinima settled in their cities, and all merriment from the sound of the people’s weeping, Israel in their cities.

for the people shouted with a loud voice and the sound was being heard even at great distance.

3 And these seventh month arrived, and Israel was in their cities, and the people gathered as one

4 And those who were afflicting louda and Ben-man to Ierousalem. 2 And Iesus the son of iamin heard that the sons of the exile were

Iosedek and his brothers the priests and Zorobabel building a house to the Lord, God of Israel, 2 and the son of Salathiel and their brothers got ready they approached Zorobabel and the chiefs of the aHeb = temple servants bHeb = genealogical records cI.e. to pronounce on dGk 1 mina = 100 drachmas = 0.6 kg paternal families and said to them, "Let us build me, and we searched and discovered that that city, with you, for we seek your God as you do, and we from days of old, rises up against kings, and that have been sacrificing to him since the days of rebellions and banishments occur in it, 20 and Asaraddon, king of Assour, who brought us here." kings became strong in Ierousalem and ruled over 3 And Zorobabel and Iesus and the rest of the

2 esdras 4-5

409

the whole west of the river, and full tributes and a chiefs of the paternal families of Israel said to share were given to them. 21 And now, make a deci-them: "It is not for us and for you to build a house sion that those men stop.

And the city will no for our God, because we ourselves together will longer be built due to the decision, 22 since you build for the Lord, our God, as Cyrus, the king of Persians, has been on guard against being slack in this matter. The Persians, commanded us.”

ter, lest damage might perchance multiply to the 4 And the people of the land were weakening detriment of kings.”

the hands of the people of Judah, and they were 23 Then the tribute collector of Artaxerxes the trying to hinder them from building 5 and were hired king read before Rehum, Baaltam and Samsai the king people against them, plotting to scatter their scribe, his own fellow-slaves. And they went quick-council all the days of Cyrus, king of the Persians, by to Jerusalem and in Judah and stopped them and until the reign of Darius, king of the Persians.

with horses and a force. 24 Then the work in Je-

6 And in the reign of Artaxerxes, in the beginning Jerusalem on the house of God stopped and during of his reign, they wrote a letter against those named stopped until the second year of the reign inhabiting Judah and Jerusalem.

of Darius, the king of the Persians.

7 And in the days of Artaxerxes, they wrote in peace—a Mithradates, Tabeel with also the rest of

And Haggai the prophet and Zacharias the his fellow-slaves—to Artaxerxes, king of the Per- 5 son of Addo prophesied a prophecy to the Persians; the tribute collector wrote in Syrianb a docu- Judeans who were in louda and Ierousalem, in the ment, also having been translated. 8Reoum, Baal- name of Israel's God, who was over them. 2At that tam and Samsai the scribe wrote one letter against time Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Iesus son Ierousalem to Arthasastha the king. 9"Reoum, Baal- of Iosedek set out and began to build the house of tam and Samsai the scribe and the rest of our fel- God, which is in Ierousalem, and with them were low-slaves, the Dinians, Apharsathachians, Tar- the prophets of God, helping them.

phallians, Apharsians, Archyians, Babylonians,

3 At the same time Thaththanai, the com-

Sousanachians, Dauians, 10the rest of the nations, mander cbeyond the riverc, and Satharbouzanai, whom the great and honorable Asennaphar deport- and their fellow-slaves came to them and spoke to ed and whom he settled in the cities of Somoron, them like this, "Who gave you a decision to build and the rest cbeyond the riverc have rendered judg- this house and to supply these materials?" 4Then ment as follows." 11This is the commandmentd of they said to them this: "What are the names of the the letter that they sent to him: men who are building this city?" 5And the eyes of

"To Arthasastha the king. Your servants, men God were upon the captivity of louda, and they cbeyond the riverc. 12Let it be known to the king did not stop them until the advice was delivered to that the Judeans, having come up from you to us, Darius. And then an answer about the matter was went to Ierousalem, the rebellious and wicked city, sent to the tribute collector.

which they are building, and its walls have been

6 The explanation of the letter that Thaththanai, finished, and they raised up its foundations. the commander of cthe areag beyond the riverc, 13Now then, let it be known to the king that, if that Satharbouzanés and their fellow-slaves, the Apher-city is rebuilt and its walls finished, tributes will sachians, who were in cthe areag beyond the riverc, not accrue to you, nor will they give, and this is sent to Darius the king. 7They sent him a report detrimental to kings. 14And it is not fitting for us and in ith these things were written: “To Darius the to see the king’s dishonor; therefore we have sent king, all peace! 8Let it be known to the king that and informed the king 15so that he might look in we went to the Judean region, to the house of the the book of the record of your fathers, and you will great God, and it is being built with choice stones, discover and know that that is a rebellious city and and timbers are laid in the walls, and that work is detrimental to kings and territories, and groups of prosperous and going well in their hands. 9Then fugitive slaves from long ago are in its midst. On we asked those elders and spoke to them thus, that account this city was laid waste. 16Therefore, ‘Who gave you a decision to build this house and we are making it known to the king that, if that city to supply these materials?’ 10And we asked them is built and its walls are finished, you do not have their names, to inform you, so we could record for peace.”

you the names of the men who are their rulers.

17 And the king sent peace and tidings to 11And they replied to us with a speech like this, Reoum, Baaltam and Samsai the scribe and the rest saying: ‘We are slaves of the God of heaven and of their fellow-slaves who live in Samaria and to earth, and we are building the house that had been the rest of those from beyond the river: 18“The built many years before now (and a great king of tribute collector whom you sent to us was sum- Israel built it and finished it for them). 12But after moned before me. 19And a decision was made by that our fathers angered the God of heaven; he

aOr Mithridates Tabeel or Mithridates of Tabeel bl.e. Aramaic cPerhaps Beyond the River dPossibly disposition e in order that no = Ha fl.e. cavalry gLacking in Gk hAntecedent unclear gave them into the hands of Nabouchodonosor, whatever they request, 10so that they may be offer-king of Babylon, the Chaldean, and he destroyed ing fragrances to the God of heaven and be praying this house and exiled the people to Babylon. 13But for the life of the king and his sons. 11And a deci-in the first year of Cyrus the king, Cyrus the king sion has been issued from me that, as for any per-had a decision made that this house of God should son who alters this word, a beam shall be taken be built. 14And, as for the gold and silver vessels of down out of his house, and he will be raised up the house of God, which Nabouchodonosor and impaled on it, and his home made my pos-brought out from the house, which is in lerou- session. 12And may the God whose name encamps salem, and brought away into the shrine of the there overthrow any king and people that shall put king, Cyrus the king brought them out of the forth its hand to alter or to destroy that house of shrine of the king and gave them to Sanabassaros, God which is in lerousalem. I, Darius, have issued the treasurer who was over the treasury 15and said a decision; it shall be done with all diligence.”

410

2 esdras 5-7

to him, “Take all the vessels, and go; put them in 13 Then Thatthanai, governor beyond the

the house, which is in Jerusalem, in their place.” Shetharbozathai, Satharbozathai and his fellow slaves in this 16Then this Sanabassar came and laid the foundation-way acted with all diligence toward what Darius tions of the house of God in Jerusalem, and from the king had sent. 14And the elders of the Judeans then until now it was built and was not finished.’ and the Levites kept building during the prophesies-17And now, if it seems good to the king, have a saying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah son search made in the house of the treasure of the house of Addo, and they rebuilt and finished it due to the king of Babylon, so you might know that a decision of the God of Israel and due to the decision was issued from King Cyrus to build that house of God, which is in Jerusalem. And when the Persians. 15And they completed this house the king knows about this, let him send notification until the third day of the month of Adar, which is the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.”

was the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16 And sons of Israel—the priests and the Then Darius the king made a decision, and he

Levites and the rest of the sons of the exile—cele-

6 searched in the libraries where the treasure is brated the rededication of the house of God with deposited in Babylon. 2And in the city of Amatha, joy. 17And for the rededication of the house of in the bastion of the city of the Medes, one scroll God they offered one hundred calves, two hundred was found, and this had written in it: "A record: rams, four hundred male lambs, twelve male goats 3In the first year of Cyrus the king, Cyrus the king for sin on behalf of all Israel, for the number of the issued a decision concerning the house of God, tribes of Israel. 18And they set the priests in their which is in Ierousalem: Let a house and a place divisions and the Leuites in their orders for the ser-where they sacrifice sacrifices be built, (and he vice of the God who is in Ierousalem, in accor-made an elevation sixty cubits in height and its dance with the scripture of the book of Moyses.

width sixty cubits, 4and there were three courses of 19 And on the fourteenth of the first month the hard stones and one course of timber), and the sons of the exile kept the paschac. 20Because the cost will be paid from the house of the king. 5And, priests were purified and the Leuites pure, one and as for the silver and gold vessels of the house of all, they also slaughtered the paschac for all the God, which Nabouchodonosor brought out of the sons of the exile and for their brothers the priests house, which was in Ierousalem, and carried off to and for themselves. 21And sons of Israel—those Babylon, let them also be given, and let them go to from the exile and every one who was separating the shrine, which is in Ierousalem, to the place himself from the impurity of the nations of the where they were put in the house of God.”

land, joining them, in order to seek after the Lord,

6 “Now, commanders abeyond the river, Sath- God of Israel—ate the paschac. 22And they cele-arbouzanai and their fellow-slaves, the Apher- brated the feast of unleavened bread for seven days sachians, who are in athe areab beyond the river, with joy, because the Lord made them joyful, and you will give these things, though being far away the Lord turned the heart of the king of Assur to from there. 7And now permit the work of the them, to strengthen their hands in the projects of house of God. Let the leaders of the Judeans and the house of the God of Israel.

the elders of the Judeans build that house of God on its site. 8And a decision has been issued by me,

And after these matters, in the reign of lest you do anything with the elders of the Judeans 7 Arthasatha, king of the Persians, Esdras went to build that house of God. And let the cost dili- up—son of Saraias son of Azarias son of Helkia gently be paid to those men from the king’s pos- 2son of Selloum son of Saddouk son of Achitob sessions, the tributes from abeyond the river, so 3son of Amaria son of Ezria son of Maraioth 4son that they are not delayed. 9And whatever the of Zaraia son of Ozios son of Bokki 5son of need—bin a case ofb both the offspring of cattle Abisoué son of Phinees son of Eleazar son of and rams and male lambs for whole burnt offer- Aaron the first priest. 6Esdras himself went up ings to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, oil, from Babylon, and he was a scribe quick in the law according to the word of the priests who are in le- of Moyses that the Lord God of Israel had given.

Jerusalem—let it be given to them day by day,

And the king gave to him, for the hand of the Lord, aPerhaps (of) Beyond the River bLacking in Gk cl.e. Passover

2 Esdras 7-8

411

his God, was upon him in all that he himself was heaven, lest wrath come upon the realm of the seeking.

king and his sons. 24And this has been made

7 And some of the sons of Israel and some of known to you among all the priests and Levites, the priests and some of the Levites and the singers, door keepers, nathinima and ministers of and the gatekeepers and the nathinima went up to God's house. Let there be no tribute for you, Jerusalem in the seventh year of Artaxerxes the will not have the power to enslave them.

king. 8And they came to Jerusalem in the fifth

25 "And you, Esdras, in keeping with the wisdom of God in your hand, appoint scribes and cause on the first of the first month he himself judges so that they may be judging in the interest founded the ascent from Babylon, but on the first of all the people who are in the area beyond the of the fifth month they came to Jerusalem, for the river, all who know the law of your God, and you hand of his God was good upon him—10because shall make it known to the one who does not Esdras proposed in his heart to seek the law and to know it. 26And any who does not observe the law practice and to teach the ordinances and judgments of God and the law of the king, readily the judgments in Israel.

ment will be one that issues from it, whether for 11 And this is the clear statement of the edict death or whether for discipline or whether for loss that Arthasastha gave to Esdras the priest, the of livelihood or whether for bonds.”

scribe of the book of words of the commandments

27 Blessed be the Lord the God of our fathers, of the Lord and his ordinances for Israel: 12“Ar- who in this way put it in the heart of the king to Arthasastha, king of kings, to Esdras, the scribe of the glorify the house of the Lord, which is in the law of the Lord the God of heaven. The message Jerusalem, and has inclined mercy upon me in and its answer have been completed. 13A decision the eyes of the king and his counselors and all that was issued from me that any from the people of Israel—king’s exalted rulers. And I was strengthened, for Israel and priests and Levites in my kingdom who the good hand of God was upon me, and I gathered freely offer to go to Jerusalem are to go with you. Exalted rulers from Israel to go up with me.

14Itb was sent from before the king and the seven counselors that you conduct an inspection of

And these are the chiefs of their paternal fam-

Judea and of Jerusalem in accordance with the 8 scribes, the guides who went up with me in the law of their God, which is in your hand—15and the reign of Arthasastha, the king of

Babylon: 2of Phi-cthat you inspectc the silver and gold for the house nees' sons, Gersom; of Ithamar's sons, Daniel; of of the Lord that the king and counselors freely of- Daud's sons, Hattous; 3of Sachania's sons; of fered to the God of Israel who encamps in Ierou- Phoros' sons, Zacharias, and with him the compa-salem 16and any silver and gold that you might ny of one hundred fifty; 4of Phaathmoab's sons, find in the whole country of Babylon besides the Eliana son of Saraia, and with him two hundred freewill offering of the people and the priests who males; 5of Zathoes' sons, Sechenias son of Haziell, are giving willingly to the house of God, which is and with him three hundred males. 6And of Adin's in Ierousalem, 17and everything that comes in, sons, Obeth son of Ionathan, and with him fifty readily enter this one in this book: calves, rams, males. 7And of Elam's sons, Isaia son of Athelia, lambs and their offerings and their libations, and and with him seventy males. 8And of Saphatia's you shall offer them on the altar of the house of sons, Zabdias son of Michael, and with him the your God, whichd is in Ierousalem. 18And if some- eighty males. 9And of loab's sons, Abadia—he thing seems good to you and your brothers to do being son of Ieiel—and with him were the two with the rest of the silver and gold, do as is pleas- hundred eighteen males. 10And of Baani's sons, Se-ing to your God. 19And the vessels that are being limouth son of Iosephia, and with him the one given you for the service of the house of God, de- hundred sixty males. 11 And of Babi's sons, liver them before God in Ierousalem. 20And as for Zacharias son of Babi, and with him the twenty-the rest of the requirements for the house of your eight males. 12And of Azgad's sons, Ioanan—he God—whatever you think you should provide, you being son of Hakkatan—and with him the one will provide out of the houses of the king's trea- hundred ten males. 13And of Adonikam's sons— sure.

they were last—and these were their names:

21 “And I, Arthasastha the king, have issued a Eliphalath, leiel and Samaia, and with them the decision from me for all the treasures in ethe areaf sixty males. 14And of Bagouai’s sons, Outhai and beyond the rivere that everything that Esdras, the Zaboud, and with them the seventy males.

priest and scribe of the law of the God of heaven,

15 And I gathered them to the river that runs to asks you, let it be done with all diligence, 22up to Eui, and there we camped three days. And I took one hundred talents of silver and up to one hun- notice among the people and among the priests, dred korsg of wheat and up to one hundred bathsh and I did not find there any of Leui’s sons. 16And I of wine and one hundred bathsh of oil and salt for sent intelligent people to Eleazar, to Ariel, to Sama-which there is no writ. 23Everything that is in the ia and to Maonam and to larib and to Elnathan decision of the God of heaven, let it be done. Be- and to Nathan and to Zacharia and to Mesoulam ware of someone attacking the house of the God of and to loarib and to Elnathan, 17and I brought aHeb (Aram) = temple servants bl.e. the decision cLacking in Gk dOr who ePerhaps Beyond the River fLacking in Greek gHeb 1 kor = 220 liters hHeb 1 bath = 22 liters iGk = pl jGk = sg

412

2 esdras 8-9

them out to the ruler with the silver of the place, weight, and the total weight was recorded. At that and I placed words in their mouths to say to the time 35those who had come from captivity, sons of brothers of them, of the nathinima, so that they the exiles, offered as whole burnt offerings to the would bring for us, with the silver of the place, God of Israel twelve calves for all Israel, ninety-six singers for the house of our God. 18And since the rams, seventy-seven lambs, twelve male goats for good hand of our God was upon us, there came to sin; these were all the burnt offerings to the Lord.

us a man of Sacholb, some of Mooli's sons, son of 36And they gave the king's currency to the admin-Leui son of Israel (and his sons and his brothers, istrators of the king and to the commanders ebe-eighteen of them, came at the beginning), 19and yond the rivere, and they extolled the people and Hasebia and Isaia of Merari's sons, his brothers the house of God.

and their sons, twenty, 20and of the nathinima whom Daid and his rulers had given into slavery

And after these things had been done, the

to the Leuites, two hundred twenty nathinima. 9 rulers approached me, saying, "The people of They were all gathered together by name.

Israel and the priests and the Leuites were not sep-

21 And I proclaimed a fast there at the river arated from the peoples of the lands with their Aoue, so that we might be humbled before our fthings put far awayf, in reference to the Chanani—

God, to seek from him a straight journey for our- the Heththi, the Pherezi, the Iebousi, the Ammoni, selves and our children and all our property. 22Be- the Moab, the Mosri and the Amori—2because cause I was ashamed to request from the king a they have taken from their daughters for them-force and horses to save us from an enemy on the selves and for their sons, and the holy seed was in-journey, because we had spoken to the king, say- flued by the peoples of the lands, and the hand ing, "The hand of our God is upon all who seek of the rulers was in this faithlessness in the begin-him for good, and his power and his wrath are ning." 3And when I heard this word, I tore my gar-upon all who forsake him." 23And we fasted and ments and was quivering and was pulling out sought from our God about this, and he listened some of the hair of my head and some of my beard to us.

and was sitting in silence. 4And everyone who pur-

24 And I set apart twelve from the leaders of sued the word of Israel's God, because of the faith-the priests, in reference to Saraia, in reference to lessness of the exile—they gathered to me, and I Hasabia, and ten from their brothers with them, kept sitting in silence until the evening sacrifice.

25and I weighed out for them the silver and the 5And at the evening sacrifice I got up from my gold and the vessels of the first fruit of the house humiliation. And when I had torn my garments, of our God, which the king and his counselors and and I was quivering and was getting down on my his rulers and all Israel who were found had lifted knees and spreading out my hands to the Lord up. 26And I weighed onto their hands six hundred God 6and said, fifty talents of silver and one hundred silver vessels

"O Lord, I was ashamed and hesitated to lift, and one hundred talents of gold, 27and for the O my God, my face to you, because our acts of law-journey twenty gold chaphourec worth a thousand lessness have multiplied above our heads, and our drachmas and excellent, desirable vessels of fine errors have been increased up to heaven. 7From polished bronze in gold. 28And I said to them, the days of our fathers to this day we are in error,

“You are holy to the Lord God, and the vessels are and for our acts of lawlessness we and our kings holy, and the silver and the gold are freewill offer- and our sons have been handed over in the hand ings to the Lord, God of our fathers. 29Be vigilant, of the kings of the nations, by sword and by cap-and keep them until you weighd them before the tivity and by plundering and by shame of our face, rulers of the priests and the Leuites and the chiefs as this day. 8And now the Lord, our God, was fair of paternal families in Ierousalem, at the tents of with us to leave us for salvation and give us sup-the house of the Lord.” 30And the priests and the port in the place of his holinessg in order that he Leuites took the weight of the silver and the gold might brighten our eyes and grant us a little vitali-and the vessels, to bring to Ierousalem to the ty in our slavery. 9Because we are slaves, the Lord, house of our God.

our God, has not forsaken us even in our slavery

31 And we started out from the river Aoue on and inclined mercy upon us before the kings of the the twelfth of the first month, to go to Ierousalem, Persians, to give us vitality that they might raise up and the hand of our God was upon us, and he de- the house of our God and to repair its ruins and to livered us from the hand of the enemy and hostil- give us a fenceh in Iouda and in Ierousalem.

ity on the journey. 32And we came to Ierousalem

10 “Our God, what shall we say after this? Be-and settled there three days. 33And it happened on cause we have forsaken your commandments, the fourth day, in the house of our God, we 11which you gave us by the hand of your slaves the weighed the silver and the gold and the vessels into prophets, saying, ‘The land that you are entering to the hand of Marimoth son of Ouria the priest (and possess it is a land undergoing change by the with him was Eleazar son of Phinees, and with changing of the peoples of the nations, with their them lozabad son of lesous and Noadia son of Ba- fthings put far awayf, who they have filled it from naia, the Leuites), 34everything by number and by mouth to mouth with their impurities. 12And now aHeb = temple servants bOr sachol cHebrew = bowls dOr set ePerhaps of Beyond the River fPossibly abominations gOr holy precinct hOr fortification

2 esdras 9-10

413

do not give your daughters to their sons, and do 13But the people are many, and it is the winter not take some of their daughters for your sons, and season, and there is no ability to stand outside, never seek out their peace and their prosperity so and the task is not for one day and not for two, be-that you may be strong and eat the good of the cause we have multiplied in doing wrong in this land and distribute it to your sons forever.’ 13And matter. 14Let now our rulers stand fast for the after all that is coming upon us for our evil deeds whole assembly and for all those in our cities. As and for our great error—because there is none like for him who has aset upa foreign women—let our God, because you canceled our acts of lawless- them come at appropriate times as instructed, and ness and gave us salvation, 14because we returned with them the elders of city by city and judges, in to scatter your commandments and to intermarry order to turn away from us the anger of the wrath with the peoples of the lands, do not be provoked of our God concerning this matter.” 15 Only at us until destruction so that there is no remnant Ionathan son of Asael and lazias son of Thekoue and survivor. 15O Lord, God of Israel, you are just, are with me in this, and Mesoulam and Sabbathai because we have been left over as survivors, as this the Leuite supporting them.

day. Behold, we are before you with our errors, be-

16 And sons of the exile did so. And Esdras the cause it is not possible to stand before you because priest and men ruling the paternal houses ewere set of this.”

aparte, and all by name, because on the first day of the tenth month they turned to investigate the

And as Esdras prayed and as he declared, matter. 17And they finished with all the men who

10 weeping and praying before the house of hadasetupforeignwomenbythefirstdayofthe God, a very great assembly—men and women and first month.

young men—gathered to him from Israel, because

18 And there were found some sons of the

the people wept and lifted up while weeping. 2And priests who had set up foreign women: some Sechenias son of Ieiel, of Elam's sons, answered sons of Iesous son of Iosedek and his brothers: and said to Esdras, "We were faithless with our Maaseia and Eliezer and Iarib and Gadalia. 19And God set up foreign women from the peoples they gave their hands to put away their wives and of the land, and now there is endurance for Israel errors—a ram of the flock for their error. 20And of in this. 3And now let us make a covenant with our Emmer's sons: Hanania and Zabdia. 21And of God to cast out all the women and the issue from Hiram's sons: Masias and Elia and Samaia and them, however you want. Arise, and scare them Ieiel and Ozia. 22And of Phasour's sons: Elioenai, with the commandments of our God, and let it be Maasia and Ismael and Nathanael and Iozabad done according to the law. 4Arise! The word is and Elasa.

upon you, and we are with you; be strong, and

23 And of the Leuites: Iozabad and Samou and act." 5And Esdras arose and made the rulers, the Kolia (that is, Kolutas) and Phetheia and Ioudas priests and Leuites and all Israel swear to act according to the law and Eliezer. 24And of the singers: Elisab. And of the cording to this word. And they swore.

gatekeepers: Solmen and Telmen and Odoue.

6 And Esdras arose from before the house of

25 And of Israel: of Phoros' sons: Ramia and

God and went to the treasure chamber of Ioanan Iazia and Melchia and Meamin and Eleazar and son of Elisoub, and he went there. He did not eat Hasabia and Banaia. 26And of Elam's sons: Math-bread and did not drink water, because he was thania and Zacharia and laiel and Abdia and Ierimourning over the faithlessness of the exile. 7And moth and Elia. 27And of Zaththoua's sons: Elioe-they presented an utteranceb in louda and in le- nai, Elisoub, Maththanai and Iarmoth and Zabad rousalem to all sons of the exile that they should and Oziza. 28And of Babi's sons: Ioanan, Hanania assemble in Ierousalem: 8"Anyone who does not and Zabou, Othali. 29And of Bani's sons: Me-come within three days, as the council of the rulers soulam, Malouch, Adaias, lasoub and Saal and Re-and the elders demandsc—all his property will be moth. 30And of Phaathmoab's sons: Edne and anathematized, and he himself banned from the Chalel and Banaia, Maasea, Maththania, Beselel assembly of the exile."

and Banoui and Manasse. 31And of Heram's sons:

9 And all the men of louda and Benjamin as- Eliezer, Ieseia, Melchia, Samaias, Semeon, 32Ben-sembled to Ierousalem within the three days; this iamin, Malouch, Samaria. 33And of Hasem's sons: was the ninth month. On the twentieth of the Maththanai, Maththatha, Zabad, Eliphalet, Ieremi, month, all the people sat in the open square of Manasse and Semei. 34And of Bani's sons: Mood-the house of God, from their dtumult aboutd the ia, Amram and Ouel, 35Banaia, Badaia, Chelia, 36 word and because of the winter. 10And Esdras the Ououania, Marimoth, Eliasib, 37Maththania, priest arose and said to them, "You have been Maththanai, and so did 38Banoui's sons and faithless and aset upa foreign women, increasing Semei's sons 39and Selemia and Nathan and Ada-the error of Israel. 11And now give praise to the ias, 40Machnadaabou, Sesei, Arou, 41Ezriel and Se-Lord God of our fathers, and do what is pleasing Iemias and Samarias, 42 Selloum, Amarias, Ioseph.

43

before him, and separate from the peoples of the

And of Nabou's sons: Ieiel, Maththathias, Zabad, land and from the foreign women." 12 And all the Zebinnas, Iadai and Ioel and Banaia. 44 All these assembly answered with a loud voice and said, had married foreign women, and they fathered

"This word of yours is a big thing for us to do.

sons by them.

a.l.e. married b.Or proclamation c.Lacking in Gk d.Or clamor after e.Or given express orders f.l.e. pledged

414

2 esdras 11-13

11 (Neh 1.1) Words of Neemiasson of Hachalia.

the king and his concubine who was sitting beside And it happened in the month of Cheseleu, him said, "How long will your journey be, and in the twentieth year, and I was in Sousan Habiraa, when will you return?" And it found favor before 2 and one of my brothers, Hanani, he and men of the king, and he sent me, and I gave him a limit.

7

louda came, and I asked them about those that

And I said to the king, "If it is good to the king, survived, those who had been left over from the let him give me letters to the governors beyond captivity, and about Jerusalem. 3And they said to the king so that I may go on my way until I arrive me, "Those who are left over from the captivity in louda, 8and a letter to Asaph, the keeper of the there in the country are in great trouble and in park that belongs to the king, so that he will give shame, and the walls of Jerusalem are broken me timber to cover the gates and for the wall of the down, and its gates were burned with fire."

city and for the house into which I shall enter it."

4 And it happened, when I heard these words, And the king gave them to me, because the hand of I sat down and wept and mourned for days, and I God was good.

was fasting and praying before the God of heaven,

9 And I came to the governors beyond the 5And I said, "Nay indeed, O Lord, you the strong king and gave them the king's letters, and the king and the great and the awesome God of heaven, one had sent leaders of the force and horsemen with who keeps covenant and mercy with those who me. 10And Sanballat the Haroni and Tobia the love him and keep his commandments, 6let now slave, the Ammoni, heard it, and it displeased your ear be attentive and your eyes opened to hear them that a person had come to seek good for the the prayer of your slave that I am praying before sons of Israel.

you today, day and night, for Israel's sons, your

11 And I came to Jerusalem and was there for slaves, and I am declaring with regard to the sins of three days. 12 And I got up during the night, I and Israel's sons, which we have sinned against you. a few men with me, and I told no one what God Both I and my father's house have sinned. 7 In was putting into my heart to do along with Israel, breaking up we broke up with you and did not and there is no animal with me except the animal keep the commandments and the ordinances and which I ride upon it. 13 And I went out by the gate the judgments that you commanded your servant of Golelad and to the mouth of the fountain of the Moyses. 8 Remember now the word that you com- fign and to the gate of the dung. And I was crush- manded your servant Moyses, saying, 'You, if you ing in the wall of Jerusalem, which they are are faithless, I will scatter you among the peoples, pulling down. And its gates were consumed by fire.

9

14

and if you return to me and keep my command-

And I went on to the gate of Ain and in the king's ments and do them, if your dispersion is to the far- swimming pool, and there was no place for the an- thest skies, from there I will gather them and lead imal under me to continue. 15 And I kept going up them to the place where I have chosen my name to in the wall off the wadi by night and kept crushing encamp there.' 10 And they are your servants and in the wall. And I was in the gate of the ravine and your people, whom you redeemed by your great returned. 16And those who were guarding did not power and by your strong hand. 11Nay indeed; know why I went and what I was doing, and until rather, let your ear be attentive to the prayer of then I had not told the Judeans and the priests and your slave and to the prayer of your servants who the distinguished and the generals and the rest that want to revere your name, and give now success to were doing the work.

your servant today, and bgive him over to feelings

17 And I said to them, "You see the trouble in ofb compassion before this man!"

which we are in it, how Ierousalem is in ruins, and

And I was cupbearer to the king.

its gates were given to fire. Come, and let us wall off Ierousalem's wall, and we will no longer suffer

(2.1)And it happened in the month of disgrace." 18And I reported to them the hand of God that was good upon me and the words that

12 Nisan, in the twentieth year of Arthasastha

the king. And wine was before me, and I took the the king had spoken to me, and I said, "Let us arise wine and gave it to the king, and there was no one and build!" And their hands were strengthened for else before him. 2And the king said to me, "Why is the good. 19And Sanaballat the Haroni and Tobia your face sad," and, "You are not unwell, are you? the slave, the Ammoni, and Gesam the Arabi This is nothing except sadness of the heart.” And I heard, and they mocked us and came against us was very much afraid. 3And I said to the king, “Let and said, “What is this matter that you are doing?”

the king live forever! Why should my face not be Are you rebelling against the king?” 20And I re-sad, since the city, the home of my fathers’ graves, turned word to them and said to them, “The God was laid waste, and its gates have been consumed of heaven, he will give us success, and we are his with fire?” 4And the king said to me, “For what are pure slaves, and we will build it, and you have no you looking in this matter?” And I prayed to the share and righteousness and record in Ierou-God of heaven 5and said to the king, “If it is good salem.”

to the king and if your servant shall find favor before you so that you send him to louda, to the city

(3.1)And the great priest Elisoub and his

of my fathers’ graves, I will also rebuild it.” 6And

13 brothers the priests set out and built the aHeb = the citadel bl.e. grant that he may be shown cPerhaps of Beyond the River dHeb = by night + Valley eReferent unclear fPossibly at

2 esdras 13-14

415

sheep gate. They consecrated it and set up its tion of the tower of ascent, which joins the corner.

doors, and they consecrated it as far as the tower 20And after him Barouch son of Zabou took control of the hundred, as far as the tower of Hanameel, control of the next section from the corner to the door 2and at the hand of the sons of the men of Jericho of Bethelisoub the great priest. 21And after him and at the hand of the sons of Zakchour son of Meramoth son of Ouria son of Hakkos controlled Amari.

a second section from the door of Bethelisoub to

3 And Hasana's sons built the fish gate; they were Bethelisoub leaves off. 22And after him they covered it and set up its doors and its bars and its priests, the men of Hachchechar, took control.

bolts. 4And at their hand, one of Ramoth son of 23And after him Benjamin and Hasoub took control of Ouria son of Hakkos took control. And at their control opposite their house. And after him Azaria son of Mesoulam son of Barachiou son of Mase- of Maasias son of Anania took control beside his zebel took charge. And at their hand Sadouk son of house. 24After him Bani son of Henadad took charge. 5 And at their hand they controlled a second section, from Bethazaria to the Thekoim took charge, and the Adoreem did not corner and as far as the bend 25of Phalal son of contribute their neck to their service.

Euzai from opposite the corner—and bit isb the

6 And Ioida son of Phasek and Mesoulam son of upper tower that projects from the house of the of Basodia—they took control of the gate of king at the court of the guard—and after him Pada-lasana; they covered it and set up its doors and its ia son of Phoros. 26(And the nathinimc were bars and its bolts. 7And at their hand Maltias the dwelling in Ophal as far as the garden of the gate Gabaonite and Euaron the Meronothite, men of of water to the east. And the tower isb the one pro-Gabaon and of Maspha, took control as far as the jecting.) 27After him the Thekoim took control of throne of the ruler abeyond the rivera. 8And beside a second section from opposite the great project-them Oziel son of Harachias, one of the smiths, se- ing tower and as far as the wall of Ophla.

cured things. And at their hand Hananias son of 28 Above the gate of the horses the priests took

Rokeim took control, and they left Ierousalem control, a man opposite his house. 29After him alone as far as the broad wall. 9And at their hand Saddouk son of Emmer took control opposite his Raphaia son of Hour, ruler of half the area around house. And after him Samaia son of Sechenia, the Ierousalem, took control. 10And at their hand and keeper of the gate of the east, took control. 30After opposite his home Iedaia son of Heromaph took him Hanania son of Selemia and Hanom sixth son control. And at his hand Hattous son of Hasbania of Seleph took control of a second section. After took control. 11And a second Melchias son of him Mesoulam son of Barchia took control oppo-Heram and Hasoub son of Phaathmoab took con- site his treasure chamber. 31After him Melchia son trol as far as the tower of the Thannourim. 12And of Sarephi took control as far as Bethannathinim at his hand Salloum son of Halloes, ruler of half and the hucksters opposite the gate of Maphekad the area around Ierousalem, took control, he and and as far as the ascent at the bend. 32And in the his daughters.

midst of the sheep gate the smiths and the huck-

13 Hanoun and the inhabitants of Zano took sters took control.

control of the gate of the ravine; they built it and set up its doors and its bars and its bolts and a

(4.1)And it happened, when Sanaballat thousand cubits on the wall, as far as the gate of 14 heard that we were building the wall, and dung.

he was upset and greatly enraged, and he mocked

14 And Melchia son of Rechab, ruler of the area at the Judeans. 2And he said in the presence of his around Bethachcharam, took control of the gate of brothers, "Is this the power of Somoron, that these dung, he and his sons, and covered it and set up its Judeans are building the city for themselves? Are doors and its bars and its bolts.

they, then, sacrificing? Will they, then, be strong,

15 Then Salomon son of Coleze, ruler of the and will they today repair the scorched stones after district of Maspha, fortified the gate of the foun- they had become the rubbish heap of the land?"

tain; he himself built it up and covered it and set 3And Tobias the Ammanite came beside him, and up its doors and its bolts, and he built the wall of they said to themselves, "They will not sacrifice or the pool of the fleeces at the shearing of the king, eat in their place, will they? Will a fox not go up and as far as the stairs that go down from the city and break down their stone wall?" 4Hear, O our of Daid.

16 Behind him Neemias son of Azbouch, God, for we have become despised, 5 and return ruler of half the area around Bethsour, took control of their taunt to their heads, and give them over to control as far as the garden of the grave of David and sneering in a land of captivity, 6 and do not cover as far as the artificial pool and as far as Bethgaberim over lawlessness.

gabarim. 17 Behind him the Leuites took control:

7 And it happened, when Sanaballat and Tobia

Raoum son of Bani, and at his hand Hasabia, ruler and the Arabs and the Ammanites heard that the ruler of half the area around Keila, took control for his stature of the walls of Jerusalem was rising in the surrounding area. 18 After him their brothers took control because the gaps were beginning to be closed, and it control: Benei son of Hanadad, ruler of half the area looked very bad to them. 8 And they all gathered in the area around Keila. 19 And at his hand Azour son of together to come and get ready to fight in Jerusalem, ruler of Masphe, controlled a second wall in Jerusalem. 9 And we prayed to our God and set up an altar perhaps of Beyond the River lacking in gold and silver = temple servants possibly bronze smiths advance guard against them day and night because we borrowed money for the king's tributes. 5 And of their presence.

416

2 esdras 14-16

now our flesh is like the flesh of our brothers; our

10 And Iudith said, "The strength of the enemy's sons like their sons, and behold we are oppressing them as mies was crushed. And there is much rubbish, and our sons and daughters, making them slaves, and we will not be able to build on the wall.”

11And some of our daughters are being oppressed, and those who were afflicting us said, “They will not there is no power in our hands, and our fields and know and will not see until we come into their our vineyards belong to the distinguished.”

midst and kill them and stop the work.” 12And it

6 And I was very distressed as I heard their out-happened, when the Judeans who lived next to cry and these words. 7And my heart deliberated them came, and they said to us, “They are coming with me, and I quarreled with the distinguished up against us from all the places.”

13And I sta- and the rulers and said to them, “Will a man de-tioned some into the lowest parts of the space be- mand back of his brother? You are demanding hind the wall, in covered places, and I stationed back.” And I held a great assembly for them. 8And the people according to divisions, their spears and I said to them, “We, of our own free-will, have ac-their bows, with their swords. 14And I looked and quired our Judean brothers who were being sold to stood up and said to the distinguished and to the the nations. And you, are you selling your own generals and to the rest of the people, “Do not be brothers, and they shall be handed over to us?”

afraid from before them. Remember our great and And they were silent and could not find a word.

awesome God, and get ready to fight for your 9And I said, “The matter that you are doing is not brothers, your sons and your daughters and your good. Not thus! You shall depart in the fear of our wives and your homes.”

God, from the reproach of the nations our ene-

15 And it happened, when our enemies heard of this. 10 And my brothers and my acquaintances that it was known to us and that God had scattered and I put up our own money and grain. We consulted their council, and we all returned to the wall, and I have certainly abandoned this demanding back. 11 Return man to his work. 16 And it happened from that day now to them, this very day, their fields and their vineyards and their olive orchards and their half were standing in defense, and there were homes. And bring out for yourselves the grain and spears and oblong shields and the bows and body-armor and wine and olive-oil from the money." 12 And the rulers behind every house of Judah said, "We will give these back and not seek these 17 belonging to those who were building on the wall from them. We will do just as you say." And I called the wall. And as for those who were lifting with ladders the priests and made them swear to do like this with weapons—with one hand he was doing his word. 13 And I shook out the fold of my garment and with one hand he was grasping the javelin. and said, "So may God shake out every man from the wall 18 And as for the builders—a man with his sword beside his house and from his property who does not es-trapped on his lower back—and they kept building to establish this word, and thus they will be shaken out of the wall, and the one who trumpeted with the horn was emptied." And all the assembly said, "Amen," beside him. 19 And I said to the distinguished men and they and praised the Lord, and the people did this word.

to the rulers and to the remainders of the people,

14 From the day that he commanded me to be

“The work is wide-spread and great, and we are far their ruler in the land of Iudaea, from the twentieth scattered, a man from his brother, on the wall. 20 In year even to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes, whatever place you hear the sound of the horn twelve years, I and my brothers did not eat an ex-tribute, you shall gather to us, and our God will fight action from them. 15 And as for the first exactions, for us.”

with which they burdened them before me, they

21 And we were doing the work, and half of us also took the last money from them for food and they were holding the spears from the rising of the sun, forty didrachmas. And their outcasts exercise the dawn until the coming out of the stars. 22 And authority over the people, and I did not do so, I said to the people at that time, “Each of you with from before fear of God. 16 And I did not take with him a young man, pass the night inside Jerusalem, to rule over them by the work on the wall, and I did and let the night be an advance guard for you and not acquire a field, and all who were gathered were the day work.” 23 And I and the men of the ad- vanced guard behind me were there, and there were about fifty men, and those who came to us from the nations around us, were at my table. 18 And what was prepared for one day was one bull calf, and (5.1) And there was a great outcry of the people they were preparing six choice sheep and a goat for me and among ten days wine in abundance with 15 people and their wives against their Judean nations around us, were at my table. 18 And what was prepared for one day was one bull calf, and (5.1) And there was a great outcry of the people they were preparing six choice sheep and a goat for me and among ten days wine in abundance with 15 people and their wives against their Judean brothers. 2And there were some, saying, “With our everything, and I did not seek the food of exaction sons and our daughters, we are many, and we will with them, because the service was heavy on this get grain and eat and stay alive.” 3And there are people. 19Remember me, O God, for good, all that some, saying, “As for our fields and our vineyards I have done for this people.

and our homes—we are mortgaging them, and we will get grain and eat.” 4There are some, saying, “As

(6.1)And it happened, when it was heard to for our fields and our vineyards and our homes—

16 Sanaballat and Tobias and to Gesam the aPossibly by means of

2 esdras 16-17

417

Arabi and to the rest of our enemies that I had keepers and the singers and the Leuites were rebuilt the wall, and there was no breath left in viewed. 2And I commanded my brother Hanania them. Up to that time I had not set up the doors in and Hanania, ruler of the biraa in Ierousalem, be-the gates. 2And Sanaballat and Gesam sent to me, cause he was like a truthful man and feared God saying, “Come, and let us meet together in the vil- more than many, 3and I said to them, “The gates of lages in the plain of Ono.” And they were intend- Ierousalem will not be opened until bat the same ing to do me harm. 3And I sent messengers to as the sunb, and while they are still keeping watch, them, saying, “I am doing a great work, and I will let the doors be shut and barred. And appoint and not be able to come down, lest the work stop. I will send guards from those living in Jerusalem, and whenever I finish it, I will come down to you." A man at his watch and a man opposite his home."

4 And they sent to me like this word, and I sent to them. The city was wide and large, and the people in the same manner. 5 And Sanballat sent in it were few, and no homes had been built.

his servant to me and an open letter in his hand.

5 And God gave it into my heart, and I assembled

6 And in it was written, "It was heard among the people the distinguished and the rulers and the peonations that you and the Judeans intend to rebel, and assemble into a company. And I found the book of the which is why you are building the wall, and you are a company—those who came up at first, and I found they are becoming their king. 7 And besides these, you have written in it:

have set up prophets for yourself so that you might

6 And these are sons of the country who went to sit in Jerusalem as king in Judah. And now these words will be reported to the king. And now come, Darius, king of Babylon, had exiled, and they let us confer together." 8 And I sent to him, saying, returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, a man to his

"It did not happen like these words that you say, Jerusalem, 7 with Zorobabel and Jesus, and Neemias, because you are inventing them out of your own Azaria, Reelma, Naemani, Mardochoaios, Balsan, heart.” 9Because they all were trying to frighten us, Maaspharath, Esdras, Bagouiai, Naoum, Baana, saying, “Their hands will slacken from this work, Masphar, men of the people of Israel: 8Sons of and it will not be done.” But now I strengthened Phoros, two thousand one hundred seventy-two.

my hands.

9Sons of Saphatia, three hundred seventy-two.

10 And I went into the house of Semei son of 10Sons of Era, six hundred fifty-two. 11Sons of Dalaia son of Metabeel, and he was confined. And Phaathmoab, in reference to the sons of Iesus and he said, “Let us gather together at the house of Iobab, two thousand eight hundred eighteen.

God, in the midst of it, and let us close its doors, 12Sons of Ailam, one thousand two hundred fifty-because they are coming by night to kill you.” four. 13Sons of Zaththouia, eight hundred forty-11And I said, “Should a man like me run away? Or, five. 14Sons of Zakchou, seven hundred sixty.

what kind of man would enter the house and 15Sons of Banoui, six hundred forty-eight. 16Sons live?” 12And I perceived, and behold, God had not of Bebei, six hundred twenty-eight. 17Sons of sent him, because the prophecy was a message Azgad, two thousand three hundred twenty-two.

against me, and Tobias and Sanaballat had hired 18Sons of Adonikam, six hundred sixty-seven.

13a crowd against me, so I might become afraid

19 Sons of Bagoui, two thousand sixty-seven.

and do so and sin and become a bad name for 20 Sons of Edin, six hundred fifty-four. 21 Sons of them so they could taunt me. 14 Remember, Ater, in reference to Hezekias, ninety-eight. 22 Sons O God, against Tobias and against Sanaballat as of Hesami, three hundred twenty-eight. 23 Sons of these acts of his and against the prophet Noadia Basi, three hundred twenty-four. 24 Sons of Hariph, and against the rest of the prophets who were try- one hundred twelve. Sons of Hasen, two hundred ing to make me afraid.

twenty-three. 25 Sons of Gabaon, ninety-five.

15 And the wall was finished on the twenty- 26 Sons of Baithleem, one hundred twenty three.

fifth of the month Eloul, in fifty-two days. 16 And it Sons of Netopha, fifty six. 27 Sons of Anathoth, one happened, when all our enemies heard, and all the hundred twenty-eight. 28 Men of Beth, forty-two.

nations around us were afraid, and fear fell severe- 29 Men of Kariathiarim, Chaphira and Beroth, ly on their eyes, and they knew that this work came seven hundred forty-three. 30 Men of Harama and to be completed with the help of our God. 17 And Gabaa, six hundred twenty-one. 31 Men of Machin those days letters were going from many of mas, one hundred twenty-two. 32 Men of Baithel louda's distinguished to Tobias, and those of To- and Ai, one hundred twenty-three. 33 Men of Nabi-bias were coming to them, 18 because many in ar, fifty-two. Sons of Magebos, one hundred fifty-louda were bound by oath to him, because he was six. 34Men of Elamaar, one thousand two hundred the son-in-law of Sechenia son of Erae, and his son fifty-four.

35Sons of Heram, three hundred twenty.

Jonathan had taken the daughter of Mesoulam son 36Sons of Iericho, three hundred forty-five. 37Sons of Barachia as wife. 19And they were telling me his of Lod, Hadid and Ono, seven hundred twenty-words and were conveying my words to him, and one. 38Sons of Sanana, three thousand nine hun-Tobias sent letters to intimidate me.

dred thirty.

39 The priests: sons of Iodae, for the house of (7.1)And it happened, when the wall was lesous, nine hundred seventy-three. 40Sons of Emmer, one thousand fifty-two. 41Sons of Phaseour,

17 built,andIsetupthedoors,andthegate-aHeb = citadel bl.e. the hottest time of the day

418

2 esdras 17-18

one thousand two hundred forty-seven. 42Sons of 73 And the priests and the Leuites and the gate-

Heram, one thousand seventeen.

keepers and the singers and those from the people

43 The Leuites: sons of Iesous, in reference to and the nathinima and all Israel settled in their cit-Kadmiel, in reference to the sons of Houdouia, ies.

seventy-four. 44The singers: sons of Asaph, one hundred forty-eight. 45The gatekeepers: sons of (8.1)And the seventh month came, and the Selloum, sons of Ater, sons of Tolmon, sons of 18 sons of Israel were in their cities, and all Akoub, sons of Hatita, sons of Sabi, one hundred the people gathered together as one man into the thirty-eight.

square that is before the gate of the water, and they

46 The nathinima: sons of Siaa, sons of Hasipha, told Esdras the scribe to bring the book of the law sons of Tabbaoth, 47sons of Kiras, sons of Siaia, sons of Moyses, which the Lord had commanded Israel.

of Phadon, 48sons of Labana, sons of Hangaba, 2And Esdras the priest brought the law before the sons of Akoud, sons of Outa, sons of Ketar, sons of assembly, from man to woman and every person Hagab, sons of Selmei, 49sons of Hanan, sons of who understands, to listen on the first day of the Sadel, sons of Gaar, 50sons of Raaia, sons of Rason, seventh month, 3and he read in it from the hour sons of Nekoda, 51sons of Gezam, sons of Ozi, the sun dawned until half the day, opposite the sons of Phese, 52sons of Besi, sons of Meinom, sons men and the women, and they were understand-of Nephosasim, 53sons of Bakbouk, sons of ing, and the ears of all the people were unto the Hachipha, sons of Harour, 54sons of Basaloth, sons book of the law. 4And Esdras the scribe stood on a of Meida, sons of Hadasan, 55sons of Barkous, sons wooden platform, and beside him stood Mat-of Sisarath, sons of Thema, 56sons of Nisia, sons of tathias and Samaias and Hananias and Ouria and Hatipha.

Helkia and Maasia on his right hand, and Phada-

57 Sons of Salomon's slaves: sons of Soutei, ias and Misael and Melchias and Hosam and sons of Sapharath, sons of Pherida, 58sons of leale, Hasabdama and Zacharias and Mesoulam on the sons of Dorkon, sons of Gaddel, 59sons of Sapha- left hand. 5And Esdras opened the book before all tia, sons of Hettel, sons of Phacharath, sons of the people, because he was above the people, and Sabaim, sons of Emim.

it happened, when he opened it, all the people

60 All the nathinima and sons of Salomon's stood. 6And Esdras blessed the Lord, the great slaves, three hundred ninety-two.

God, and all the people answered and said,

61 And these went up from Thermelech, The- "Amen," lifting up their hands, and they bowed laresa, Cheroub, Eron, lemmer, and they could not and did obeisance to the Lord with their face to the declare their paternal houses and their seed, ground. 7And Iesous and Banaias and Sarabia were whether they were from Israel: 62sons of Dalaia, instructing; Akoub, Sabbathaios, Kallitas, Azarias, sons of Boua, sons of Tobia, sons of Nekoda, six Iozabad, Hanani, Phalaias and the Leuites tutored hundred forty-two. 63And from the priests: sons of the people in the law, and the people kept their Hebiam, sons of Hakkos, sons of Berzellai (because stance. 8And they read from the book of the law of they had taken of the daughters of Berzellai the God, and Esdras was teaching and expanding on Galaadite as wives and were called by their name). the knowledge of the Lord, and the people under-64These sought their registration of the company, stood during the reading.

and it was not found, and they were made near kin

9 And Neemias said, and Esdras the priest and from the priesthood, 65and Hathersatha spoke so scribe and the Leuites and those who were inthat they would not eat from the holy of holies structing the people, and they said to all the peo-until the priest should arise to enlighten.

ple, "A holy day it is to the Lord our God; do not 66 And all the assembly was as one, forty-two mourn, and do not weep." Because all the people thousand three hundred sixty, 67apart from their were weeping when they heard the words of the male and female slaves—these were seven thou- law. 10And he said to them, "Go, eat fat, and drink sand three hundred thirty-seven and two hundred sweet wine, and send portions to those who do not forty-five male singers and female singers— have, because the day is holy to our Lord, and do 68seven hundred thirty-six horses, two hundred not err, because he is our strength." 11And the forty-five mules, 69four hundred thirty-five camels, Leuites tried to still all the people, saying, "Be six thousand seven hundred twenty donkeys.

quiet, because the day is holy, and do not be 70 And some of a portion of the leaders of downcast." 12And all the people went away to eat paternal families contributed to the work of Ha- and to drink and to send portions and to make thersatha, they contributed to the treasury one great rejoicing, because they had understood by thousand gold coins, fifty saucers and thirty the words that were made known to them.

chothonothb of the priests. 71And some of the 13 And on the second day the chiefs of paternal leaders of paternal families gave to the building families of all the people, the priests and the fund twenty thousand gold coins and two thou- Leuites, gathered together to Esdras the scribe, to sand two hundred minasc of silver, 72and the rest give their attention to all the words of the law.

of the people gave twenty thousand gold coins, 14And they found it written in the law, which the two thousand two hundred minasc of silver and Lord had commanded Moyses, that sons of Israel sixty-seven chothonothb of the priests.

should live in tents during a feast of the seventh aHeb = temple servants bHeb = robes cone mina = 100 drachmas

2 esdras 18-19

419

month 15and that they should sound with trum- stone in violent water. 12And by day you led them pets in all their cities and in Ierousalem. And Es- with a pillar of cloud, and during the night with a dras said, "Go out to the mountain and bring fo- pillar of fire, to give them light on the way in liage of olive trees and foliage of cypress wood and which they should go in it. 13And you came down foliage of myrtle and foliage of palm and foliage of upon Mount Sina and spoke to them from heaven the leafy tree to make tents, in accord with what is and gave them straightforward judgments and laws written.” 16And the people went out and brought of truth and ordinances and good commandments and made tents for themselves, a man on his tent. 14And you made known your holy sabbath house, and in their courts and in the courts of to them; you commanded them commandments the house of God and in the squares of the city and ordinances and law by the hand of your slave as far as the house of Ephraim. 17And all the assembly, those who had returned from the captivity in their famine, and you brought water for them from the out of the rock for their thirst. And you told them days of Jesus son of Naue to that day sons of Israel to go in to possess the land to which you stretched your hand had not done so. And there was very great rejoicing. 18And day by day, from the first day to the last day, he read from the book of the law of God, gantly and stiffened their neck and did not listen and they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth day there was a finale, according to the obey and were not mindful of your wonders that judgment.

16 “And they and our fathers behaved arrogantly,

you performed with them, and they stiffened their neck, and they gave a beginning to return to their

(9.1) And on the twenty-fourth of this slavery in Egypt. And you are the God who forgives

19 month the son of Israel gathered with fast- sins, is gracious and merciful, slow to anger and in sackcloth and with ashes on their head. very gracious, and you did not forsake them. 18 Fur-2 And the sons of Israel were separated from every thermore, they made a cast-metal bull calf for foreign son, and they stood and declared their sins themselves and said, 'These are the gods who and the acts of lawlessness of their fathers. 3 And brought us up out of Egypt' and committed great they kept their stance and read in the book of the provocations. 19 And you in your great mercies did law of the Lord, their God, and they were declaring not forsake them in the wilderness; you did not to the Lord and doing obeisance to the Lord, their turn away from them the pillar of cloud for lead-God. 4 And Iesus and the sons of Kadmiel, Seche- ing them on the way by day and the pillar of fire to nia the son of Sarabia, sons of Chanani, stood at lighten for them the way in which they should go the ascent of the Leuites and cried out with a loud in it during the night. 20 And you gave your good voice to the Lord their God. 5 And the Leuites, spirit to instruct them and did not withhold your Iesus and Kadmiel, said, "Stand up. Bless the manna from their mouth and gave them water in Lord, our God, from everlasting and to everlasting, their thirst. 21 And forty years you sustained them and they will bless your glorious name and exalt it in the wilderness; there was no lack of anything for with every blessing and praise."

them; their clothes did not grow old, and their san-

6 And Esdras said: "You yourself are the Lord dals did not tear. 22And you gave them kingdoms alone; you made heaven and the heaven of heaven and allotted them peoples, and they took posses-and all their position, the earth and all that is on sion of the land of Seon, king of Hesebon, and the it, the seas and all that is in them, and you give land of Og, king of Basan. 23And you multiplied everything life, and the armies of the heavens do their sons like the stars of heaven and brought obeisance to you. 7You are the Lord God. You them into the land about which you told their fa-made a choice in Abram and brought him out of thers, and they possessed it. 24And you wiped out the country of the Chaldeans and made for him a before them the inhabitants of the land of the name, Abraam, 8and you found his heart faithful Chananites and gave them and their kings and the before you and made a covenant with him to give peoples of the land into their hands, to do with him and his seed the land of the Chananites and them as was pleasing before them. 25And they cap-Chettites and Amorrites and Pherezites and tured lofty cities and took possession of homes lebousites and Gergesites, and you have estab- filled with all sorts of goods, hewn cisterns, vine-lished your word, because you are righteous.

yards and olive orchards and every sort of fruit tree

9 "And you saw the humiliation of our ances- in abundance, and they ate and were filled and be-tors in Egypt and heard their cry at the Red Sea. came fat and were nourished on your great good-10And you gave signs in Egypt against Pharao and ness.

against all his servants and against all the people of 26 “And they changed and departed from you his land, because you knew that they acted inso- and cast your law behind their body and killed lently against them, and you made a name for your prophets, who had warned them to turn them yourself, as this day. 11And you broke asunder the back to you, and they committed great provoca-sea before them, and they passed through in the tions. 27And you gave them into the hand of their midst of the sea on dry land, and those who pur- oppressors, and they oppressed them. And they sued them closely you threw into the depths, like a cried out to you in their time of oppression, and al.e. made

420

2 esdras 19-20

you heard from your heaven, and through your 16Adania, Bagoi, Edin, 17Ater, Hezekia, Azour, great mercies you gave them deliverers and deliv- 18Hodouia, Hesam, Besi, 19Hariph, Anathoth, No-ered them from the hand of their oppressors. bai, 20Magaphes, Mesoulam, Hezir, 21Mesozebel, 28And after they rested, they returned to doing

Sadouk, leddoua, 22Phaltia, Hanan, Anaia, 23Hosee, what is evil before you, and you abandoned them Hanania, Hasoub, 24 Haloes, Phalai, Sobek, to the hands of their enemies, and they ruled 25Raoum, Hesabana, Maasaia 26and Aia, Hainan, among them. And again they cried to you, and you Enan, 27Malouch, Reoum and Baana.

listened from heaven and rescued them by your

28 And the rest of the people, the priests, the many mercies. 29 And you repeatedly warned them Leuites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the nathinima in order to turn them to your law, and they did not and every one who adheres to the law of God from listen but sinned against your commandments and the people of the land, their wives, their sons, their judgments by the doing of which a person shall daughters, every one who knows and understands, live by them. And they presented a disobedient 29 were prevailing against their brothers, and they back and stiffened their neck and did not listen. cursed them and entered into a curse and an oath 30 And many years you lasted with them and re-to go in God's law, which was given by the hand of peatedly warned them by your spirit by the hand Moyses the slave of God, to observe and to do all of your prophets, and they did not give ear, and the commandments of the Lord and his judg-you gave them into the hand of the peoples of the ments, 30 and in order not to give our daughters to land. 31 And in your many mercies you did not the peoples of the land. And we will not take their make an end of them and forsake them, because daughters for our sons. 31 And the peoples of the you are strong and merciful and compassionate.

land who bring in merchandise and any sale on 32 "And now, our strong, great, mighty and the sabbath day to sell, we will not buy from them awesome God, in keeping the covenant and your on the sabbath and on a holy day. And we will re-mercy, let all the hardship not be treated lightly be- lease the seventh year and a claim of every hand.

fore you, which found us and our kings and our

32 And we will lay on ourselves the command-

rulers and our priests and our prophets and our feasts to charge ourselves yearly one-third of a shekel and among all your people from the days of didrachmah for the service of the house of our God the kings of Assur even until this day. 33And you 33for the loaves of the presence and the sacrifice of are just in all that has come upon us, for you have perpetuity and for the whole burnt offering of per-dealt truthfully, and we did wrong. 34And our petuity of the sabbaths, of the new moons, for the kings and our rulers and our priests and our feasts and for the sacred things and the items for them did not practice your law and did not heed sin to make atonement for Israel and for the your commandments or your testimonies about projects of the house of our God. 34And we, the which you repeatedly warned them. 35And even priests and the Levites and the people, have cast they—in your rule and in your great goodness that lots for the assignment of carrying wood, to bring you bestowed on them and in the broad and rich it for the house of our God, for the houses of our land that you set before them—were not subject to paternal families, for seasons of the times, year by you and did not turn from their wicked habits. year, to burn on the altar of the Lord our God, as it 36Behold, we are slaves today, and the land that is written in the law, 35and to bring the first prod-

you gave to our fathers to eat its fruit 37belongs to us of our land and the first products of the fruit the kings whom you gave over us because of our of every tree, year by year, to the house of the Lord, sins, and they have power over our bodies and over 36and to the house of our God for the priests who our animals as seems best to them, and we are in minister in the house of our God, the firstborn of great affliction.”

our sons and of our livestock, as it is written in the 38 And by all these things we are setting forth a law, and the firstborn of our cattle and of our pledge of faith and are writing it down, and all our flocks.

rulers, our Leuites, our priests are sealing it.

37 We will bring the first fruit of our grain and the fruit of every tree, wine and oil, for the priests,

(10.1)And over those affixing seals were to the treasure chamber of the house of God, and 20 Neemias son of Hachalia and Sedekias the tithes of our soil for the Leuites. And the 2son of Saraia and Azaria and Ieremia, 3Phasour, Leuites themselves are collecting the tithes in all

Amaria, Melchia, 4 Hattous, Sebani, Malouch, the cities of our service, 38and the priest, the son of 5Hiram, Meramoth, Abdia, 6Daniel, Gaannathon,

Aaron, shall be with the Leuite in the tithe of the Barouch, 7Mesoulam, Abia, Miamin, 8Maazia, Bel- Leuite, and the Leuites shall bring up the tithe of gai, Samaia— these are priests. 9And the Leuites the tithe to the house of our God, to the treasure were Iesus son of Azania, Banaïou of Banaïou's chambers at the house of God. 39Because the sons sons of Henadad's sons, Kadmiel 10and his broth- of Israel and the sons of Leui shall bring into the ers, Sabania, Hodouia, Kalitan, Pheleia, Hanan, storerooms the first fruits of the grain and wine 11Micha, Roob, Hesebias, 12Zakchor, Sarabia, Seand the oil, and the holy vessels and the priests bania, 13Hodoua, sons of Banounai. 14The rulers that minister and the gatekeepers and the singers of the people were Phoros, Phaathmoab, Elam, are there. And we will not neglect the house of our Zaththouia. The sons of Bani were 15Azgad, Bebai,

God.

aHeb = temple servants bl.e. two-drachma coin

2 esdras 21-22

421

21 (11.1)And the rulers of the people lived in BenjaminwerefromGabaa,Machmas.36Andfrom Ierousalem, and the rest of the people cast the Leuites were divisions of Iouda for Benjamin.

lots to bring one out of ten to live in Ierousalem, the holy city, and nine-tenths remained in the (12.1)And these are the priests and the other cities. 2And the people blessed all the men 22 Leuites who went up with Zorobabel son of who willingly offered to live in Ierousalem.

Salathiel and Iesous: Saraia, Iermia, Esdra, 2Amaria,

3 And these are the rulers of the province who Malouch, 3Sechenia. 7These were the rulers of the lived in Ierousalem and in the cities of Iouda: priests and their brothers in the days of Iesous.

they lived, a man on his holding, in their cities:

8 And the Leuites: Iesou, Banoui, Kadmiel,

Israel, the priests and the Leuites and the Sarabia, Iodae, Maththania. He was over the nathineans and sons of Salomon's slaves. 4 And hands, and their brothers were in the daily divi-in Ierousalem lived some of the sons of Iouda sions. 10 And Iesus begat Iokim, and Iokim and some of the sons of Benjamin. Of Iouda's begat Eliasib, and Eliasib, Iodae, 11 and Iodae begat sons: Athaia son of Ozia—he being a son of Ionathan and Ionathan begat Iadou.

Zacharia—he being a son of Amaria—he being a 12 And in the days of Iokim, his brothers, the son of Saphatia—he being a son of Maleleel, and priests and chiefs of paternal families were: for some sons of Phares. 5 And Maasia son of Saraia, Amaria; for Iermia, Hanania; 13 for Esdra, Barouch—he being son of Chalaza—he being son Mesoulam; for Amaria, Ioanan; 14 for Amalouch, of Ozia—he being son of Adaias—he being son Ionathan; for Sechenia, Ioseph; 15 for Harem, Han-of Ioiarib—he being son of Zacharias—he being nas; for Marioth, Helkai; 16 for Addai, Zacharias; a son of the Seloni. 6 All the sons of Phares, who for Ganathoth, Mesoulam; 17 for Abia, Zechri; for lived in Ierousalem, were four hundred sixty- Benjamin, in the times of Peleti; 18 for Balga, eight men of power.

Samoue; for Semeias, Ionathan; 19 for Iarim,

7 And these are sons of Benjamin: Selo son of Maththania; for Idia, Ozi; 20 for Salai, Kallai; for Mesoulam—he being a son of Ioad—he being a Amek, Abed; 21 for Helkia, Hasabias; for Iedeiou, son of Phadaia—he being a son of Koleia—he Nathanael.

being a son of Maasias—he being a son of Aithiel—

22 The Leuites, in the days of Eliasib, Ioadas and he being a son of Iessia. 8And after him Gebi, Seli, Ioadas and Ioadan and Ioudas, were recorded as the nine hundred twenty-eight. 9And Joel son of Zechri chiefs of paternal families and priests in the reign was overseer over them, and Ioudas son of Hasana of Darius the Persian: 23sons of Leui were chiefs of from the city was second.

paternal families, having been recorded in the 10 From the priests: also Ioadas son of Ioadas, book of the words of the days, even until the days Iachin, 11Saraia son of Helkia—he being a son of Ioadan son of Elisoue. 24And the rulers of the Mesoulam—he being a son of Saddouk—he being Leuites, Hasabia and Sarabia and Iesou and sons of a son of Marioth—he being a son of Aitob, oppo- Kadmiel, and their brothers were over against site the house of God. 12And their brothers who them, to sing hymns and to praise, by the com-did the work of the house: Amasi son of Zacharia— mandment of Daud the man of God, class with he being a son of Phaseour—he being a son of class, 25when I gathered the gate-keepers 26in the Melchia, 13and his brothers, chiefs of paternal fam- days of Ioadas son of Ioadas son of Ioadas and in ilies, two hundred forty-two. And Amessai son of the days of Neemias. And Esdras was the priest and Esdriel 14and his brothers, powerful in battle, one the scribe.

hundred twenty-eight, and the overseer over them

27 And at the rededications of the wall of Je-was Zechriel son of the great men.

Jerusalem they sought the Levites in their places, to 15 And from the Levites: Samaia son of Ha- bring them to Jerusalem, to celebrate the rededication—he being a son of Ezri 17 and Maththanias and the merriment with Shodathai and son of Micha and Iobab son of Samouï, 18 two with odes, while playing the cymbal and harps and hundred eighty-four.

cinnyrasf. 28 And the sons of the singers and some 19 And the gatekeepers, Akoub, Telamin and from the region that circles around Jerusalem and their brothers were one hundred seventy-two.

some from villages 29 and some from the fields

22 And the overseer of the Levites was son of gathered, because the singers in Jerusalem built Bani, Ozi son of Hasabia—he being son of Micha, the villages for themselves. 30 And the priests and from the sons of Asaph, who sing opposite the Levites were purified, and they purified the work of the house of God, 23 because there was a people, the gatekeepers and the wall.

command of the king for them. 24 And Phathaïa

31 And they brought the rulers of Judah up son of Baseza was at the king's hand for every one onto the wall and appointed two great ones to command for the people 25 and went to the country to discern praise and went through to the right on the villages, in their field.

wall of dung, 32and after them went Hosaia and

And some of the sons of louda lived in half the rulers of louda 33and Azarias, Esdra and Kariatharbok 26and in Iesou 27and in Bersabee, Mesoulam, 34louda and Benjamin and Samaias 30and their country villages were Lacheis and its and Ieremia 35and some of the sons of priests with fields, and they camped in Bersabee. 31And sons of trumpets: Zacharias son of Ionathan—being a son aHeb = temple servants bOr the service of the king for every word concerning the people cOr pronouncement to dl.e. in charge of eHeb = thanksgivings f = Heb kinnor = lyre gPossibly companies; Gk = masc.

422

2 esdras 22-23

of Samaia—being a son of Maththania—being a cense and the vessels and the tithe of grain and of son of Michaiia—being a son of Zakchour—being the wine and of the oil (a commandment of the a son of Asaph, 36and his brothers were Samaia Leuites and of the singers and of the gatekeepers) and Oziel, Gelolia, Maaia, Nathanael and loudas, and the first fruits of the priests. 6And in all this I Hanani, so that they might sing with the songs of was not in Ierousalem, because in the thirty-sec-David the man of God, and Esdras the scribe was ond year of Arthasastha, king of Babylon, I went to in front of them 37at the gate of Ain, opposite the king. And after the end of the days, I made a re-them, and they went up to the stairs of the city of quest from the king 7and went to Ierousalem. And Daud, in the ascent of the wall above the house of I gained understanding in the wrong that Eliasib Daud and as far as the gate of water in the east.

had done for Tobias, to prepare a treasure chamber 38 And concerning praise, the second onea for him in the court of the house of God. 8And it meeting them went out, and I followed it, and half seemed very bad to me, and I threw all the vessels of the people were on the wall above the tower of of the house of Tobias out from the treasure cham-the Thennorim even as far as the broad wall 39and ber. 9And I spoke, and they cleansed the treasure above the gate of Ephraim and to the Eisiana gate chambers, and I brought back there the vessels of and to the fish gate and at the tower of Hanameel the house of God, the manaaf and the frankin-and from the tower of Mea, even as far as the sheep cense.

gate, and they stood in the gate of the guard. 40And

10 And I knew that the portions of the Leuites

the twob of praise stood in the house of God, and had not been given, and the Leuites and the I and half of the generals with me 41and the priests singers, who were doing their task, had fled, a man Eliakim, Maasias, Benjamin, Michaias, Elionai, to his field. 11And I remonstrated with the generals Zacharias, Hananias 42and Semeias and Eleazar and said, "Why was the house of God forsaken?"

and Ozias and Ioanna and Melchias and Ailam And I gathered them together and set them in their and Ezour and the singers were heard and re- station. 12And all louda brought the tithe of the viewed. 43And they offered great sacrifices on that wheat and the wine and the oil into the store-day and rejoiced, because God made them rejoice houses 13 upon the hand of Selemia the priest and greatly, and their wives and their children rejoiced, Sadok the scribe and Phadaia from the Leuites, and the joy in Ierousalem was heard from far away. and upon their hand was Hanan son of Zak-44 And on that day they appointed men over the chour—he being son of Maththaniou, because treasure chambers for stores, for the first fruits and they were considered faithful to them to distribute for the tithes and for the things collected in them to their brothers. 14 Remember me, O God, in this, for the rulers of the cities, portions for the priests and let not the mercy I did in the house of the Lord and for the Leuites, because there was joy in Iouda God be wiped out.

both over the priests and over the Leuites that 15 In those days I saw in Iouda people treading stoodc. 45 And they guarded the guard stations of wine presses on the sabbath and bringing in the house of their God and the guard stations for sheaves of grain and loading them on donkeys and purification and the singers and the gatekeepers, also bringing into Ierousalem on the sabbath day according to the commandments of Daud and his wine and grapes and figs and all kinds of burdens, son Salomon. 46 Because in the days of Daud, and I warned them on their day of sale. 16 And they Asaph from the beginning was the first of those settled in it, bringing fish and selling all kinds of that sing both hymn and praise to God, 47 and in merchandise on the sabbath to the sons of Iouda, the days of Zorobabel all Israel was giving portions and in Ierousalem. 17 And I remonstrated with the for the singers and the gatekeepers, the rule of a free sons of Iouda and said to them, "What is this day for its day, and were sanctifying for the Leuites, evil matter that you are doing and profaning the and the Leuites were sanctifying for sons of Aaron.

sabbath day? 18Did not our fathers act in this way?

And our God brought all these terrible things upon (13.1) On that day there was read from the them and upon us and upon this city. And you are 23 book of Moyses in the hearing of the peo-addingwrathtoIsraeltoprofanethesabbath."

ple, and there was found written in it that Am-

19 And it happened, when the gates in Ieroumanites and Moabites should not enter in the as- salem settled down before the sabbath, and I sembly of God forever, 2because they did not meet spoke, and they shut the gates, and I spoke so that the sons of Israel with bread and with water and they would not be opened until after the sabbath.

hired Balaam against himd to curse himd, and our And I set some of my servants over the gates so that God turned the curse into a blessing. 3And it hap- people would not carry burdens on the sabbath pened, when the people heard the law, and every day. 20And they all spent the night and made sales person of mixed race in Israel was separated.

outside Ierousalem once and twice. 21 And

I

4 And before this, Eliasib the priest, while living warned them and said to them, "Why do you come in the treasure chamber of the house of our God to spend the night in front of the wall? If you do so God, being next of kin to Tobias, 5 also prepared again, I will extend my hand against you." From that time on they did not come on the sabbath.

22

had previously put the mannaaf and the frankincense

And I told the Levites who were purifying themaPossibly company; Gk = fem bPossibly companies; Gk = fem cPossibly were appointed dl.e. Israel el.e. Tobias fHeb = grain offering gAntecedent unclear hl.e. Ierousalem selves and were coming, guarding the gates, to over all Israel. And foreign women ruined this keep the sabbath day holy. Remember me for these men. 27 And shall we listen to you to do all this evil things, O God, and spare me according to the fullness of your mercy to be faithless with our God to set up a foreignness of your mercy.

2 esdras 23

423

women?"

23 And in those days I saw Judeans who had

28 And one of the sons of loada the son of aset upa women of Azotia, Ammanites, Moabites

Elisoub, the great priest—he was the son-in-law of 24(and half of their sons speak Azotian and do not

Sanaballat the Horanite—and I chased him away know how to speak Judean), 25and I contended from me.

29Remember them, O God, because of with them and cursed them and beat the men their close kinship to the priesthood and the cov-among them and pulled out their hair, and I made enant of the priesthood and the Leuites.

them take an oath by God: “If you give your 30 And I cleansed them from everything for-daughters to their sons and if you take some of eign, and I established classes for the priests and their daughters for your sons!” 26Did not Sa- Leuites, a man according to his task, 31and the gift lomon, king of Israel, sin in this way?

And among of the wood carriers, in seasons of the times and in many nations there was no king like him. And he the bakchouriab. Remember me, O our God, for was beloved to God, and God gave him as king goodness.

a.l.e. married bHeb = firstlings

ESTHER

TO THE READER

EDITION OF GREEK TEXT

The NETS version of Esther is based on the full critical edition prepared by Robert Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum VIII.3: Esther [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1966]).

THE TWO GREEK VERSIONS

Esther is one of three books in the Hebrew canon to have survived in two distinct Greek versions. The Göttingen critical edition of Esther prints both Greek texts. The “Septuagint” (Old Greek = OG) version is printed on the top half of the page with the siglum σ^1 . The second Greek version is known as the Alpha-text (AT) and is printed on the bottom of the page with the siglum L , because at the time of its printing, this Greek version was thought to be Lucianic. It is not known with certainty which of the two Greek versions is the older or if one text is a revision of the other. Recent scholarship has challenged the traditional view that the σ^1 text of Esther was the first Greek translation made of the Hebrew and that the AT was a later revision of it. The σ^1 text carries a colophon, which, if historically reliable, would allow for three possible dates for the origin of the translation: 114/13 BCE, 78/77 BCE, or 48 BCE. Scholars disagree on which is most likely. Both Greek versions have been translated for NETS. The NRSV translates the σ^1 text into English with the title “Esther: The Greek Version Containing the Additional Chapters” and includes it within the Apocryphal/Deuterocanonical Books.

Both the σ^1 text and the AT contain six additional chapters that are found only in the Greek textual tradition. These six additional chapters are almost identical in both Greek versions of Esther, indicating that they were not a part of the original Greek text of either, but were inserted later into both versions, probably being copied from one of the Greek versions of Esther to the other.

There is no manuscript evidence that the six additional chapters found in the Greek versions ever existed in Hebrew or Aramaic. Furthermore, their style and syntax indicates that they were composed in Greek, with the possible exception of addition D. Additions B and E are royal memos and exhibit an overworked style that satirizes the pompous and self-serving character of the king.

The Alpha-Text of Esther (Göttingen L)

The Alpha-text (AT) of Esther is a second Greek version of the story preserved in only four manuscripts.

It is a significantly shorter telling of the story than both the Hebrew (MT) and the other Greek version (o'), and its versification differs from both. This translation follows the Göttingen versification.

The siglum L, indicating Lucianic, was assigned to this text in the nineteenth century because it was preserved in manuscripts containing the Lucianic recension of Reigns (Samuel-Kings). Although it is no longer considered Lucianic by most scholars who have examined it, there is no agreement on its origin, its relationship to the Hebrew Esther, or to the other Greek version. Current theories propose that it is (a) a revision of the o' text, (b) a second, independently made translation of the MT, (c) a translation of another Hebrew text of Esther of uncertain relationship to the MT, or (d) a midrashic re-write of the Esther story.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

Apart from the six additional chapters, the syntax and style of both Greek versions of Esther are similar to other books of the Septuagint that have been translated from the Hebrew. Of the two versions, the o' text of Esther follows the Hebrew MT more closely and, when the six additional chapters are excluded, agrees with it semantically in about 87% of its translation units and formally in about 62% of its translation units. In comparison, the AT, which is about 20% shorter than the MT even including the six additional chapters, exhibits about 81% semantic agreement with the MT and about 52% formal agreement. Hence, the AT is the freer translation of the two, if its Hebrew Vorlage is presumed to have been sufficiently similar to the MT. The AT is also the more lexically diverse of the two versions, using a greater variety of Greek words to render a given Hebrew word than does the o' text.

to the reader of esther

425

Although the σ' text follows the MT closely in most chapters, it is not an isomorphic translation such that each word of the Hebrew is represented by a word in the Greek, a translation practice that results in Hebraisms that are not idiomatic Greek. Nevertheless, a few Hebraisms can be found, for instance in 6.13

(“you will fall when you fall”) where the Greek syntax reflects a literal rendering of the Hebrew infinitive absolute and, for instance, in 8.3 where the Greek verb prosti/qhmi expresses the Hebrew idea “to do again” or “keep on doing.” Elements in the Hebrew that are synonymous or redundant are often expressed by only one element in the Greek. Nouns and proper names are often omitted or replaced with a pronoun (and sometimes vice versa). Explanatory phrases are sometimes added, especially to make God’s presence explicit (e.g., 6.13). The σ' text translates about 80% of the text found in the MT.

The second Greek text of Esther, the AT, or L text, is shorter than the σ' text (and the Hebrew MT) by about 20%. It represents only about half the text found in the MT. More often than not, the AT follows the word order of the MT and agrees with it about as often as does the σ' text. The primary difference between the AT and the MT is the many small pluses and minuses, though many of these are due to inherent differences between the Hebrew and Greek languages. Most of the significant pluses and minuses in the AT compared to the MT are found in chapters 8-10 and appear to be caused by a deliberate decision (a) to minimize Esther’s role while magnifying Mardocheios’, (b) to reflect less interest in the origin and celebration of Purim, and (c) to highlight in the AT the role of the Jews (Judeans) as advantageous to the king in the political intrigue of the pagan court with a special interest in the theme of political assassination. Like the o' text, the AT is not an isomorphic translation and typically preserves the sense but not the form of the Hebrew idioms involving "face," "hand," "eyes" and "heart."

The current consensus of scholarship denies that one Greek version of Esther is a recension of the other, but the o' text and AT are clearly translations of the same story as extant in the MT because they virtually never agree against the MT (though the AT and MT sometimes agree against the o' text). Chapters 8-10 of the two Greek versions differ sufficiently to deny a literary dependence between the two and to suggest that both Greek versions were redacted extensively and independently when addition E was introduced into each. Chapter 8 shows the least agreement between the two Greek versions because they share very few of the same syntactic units, but those few that they do share show a high percentage of agreement.

The same six additional chapters found in both Greek versions appear not to have been in the original text of either, with perhaps the exception of addition D interwoven into chapter 5. It is likely that this additional material was added first to one Greek version, whether all at once or over time, and then later copied to the other. Additions A and F clearly function together, being the apocalyptic dream of Mardocheios (A) and its interpretation (F) that frame the events of the Esther story as a fulfillment of restored covenant blessing as predicted in the prophecy against Babylon in Jeremiah 28 (LXX). Additions C and E share sufficient common vocabulary to indicate that E was composed to answer the prayers of Mardocheios and Esther voiced in C, which therefore must have logically, if not chronologically, preceded the composition of E. Moreover, addition C shows influence from the Greek translation of Moses' in-tercessory prayer in Deut 9.26 LXX. Although conflicting evidence allows no consensus about which Greek version is the older, there is some evidence that the AT preserves the older form of additions A, B, C, E, and F. This does not necessarily mean that the additions were first introduced into the AT, only that the texts of these additional chapters have experienced fewer changes since being introduced into the AT than they have in the σ' text. That may be because the σ' text enjoyed a longer and wider transmission history than the AT, which is extant in only four manuscripts.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF ESTHER

The Hebrew MT was the text from which the NRSV English translation was made. Where the Göttingen Greek text agrees with the Hebrew, the NRSV text was allowed to stand in NETS, where acceptable. For the six additional chapters for which there is no extant Hebrew, the Göttingen text was compared to the NRSV

English translation of the Greek Esther, which was allowed to stand unless the NRSV violated NETS policy.

Versification

The NETS translations of Esther follow the versification of the Göttingen edition. Numbers in parentheses refer to the parallel text. The six additional chapters are of particular note. Referred to by the letters A-F in the Göttingen edition, and likewise in NETS, they traditionally have been taken out of narrative sequence and numbered as chapters 11-16. Following Jerome's pattern, they were displaced to the end of the book following chapter 10, making narrative nonsense of the material. These six additional chapters are translated in the NETS edition in the position in which they are found in the Greek versions.

KAREN H. JOBES

426

esther A-1

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

AlnthesecondyearwhenArtaxerxestheGreat

In the second year when Assyeros the Great was king, on the first day of Nisa, Mar-

A was king, on the first day of the month of dochaios the son of lairos son of Semeias son of Adar Nisan (which is Dystros Xanthikos) Mar-Kisaios, from the tribe of Benjamin, saw a dream. dochaios the son of laeiros son of Semeias, son of 2He was a Judean man dwelling in the city of Susa, Kisaios, of the tribe of Benjamin, saw a dream.

a great man, serving in the court of the king. 3Now (2)He was a great man, 2(3)one of the exiles whom he was of the group of exiles which Nabou- Nabouchodonosor, king of Babylon, took captive chodonosor, king of Babylon, took captive from le-with lechonias, the king of Judea. 3(4)And this was rousaalem with lechonias, the king of Judea. 4And his dream: Look! A shout and a cry of confusion!

this was his dream: Look! Shouts and confusion! Thunder and earthquake and chaos upon the Thunder and earthquake! Chaos upon the earth! earth! 4(5)Look! Two dragons! And they came for-5Look! Two great dragons came forward, both ward, both ready to fight, 5and a noise arose from ready to fight, and a great noise arose from them! them! (6)And everything was troubled by the 6And at their sound every nation prepared for war, sound of this cry. 6It was a testimony to all the

to fight against a nation of righteous people. peoples—(7)a day of darkness and gloom (8)and 7Look! A day of darkness and gloom! Affliction chaos of war! And every nation prepared to fight.

and anguish! Oppression and great chaos upon (9)And we cried out to the Lord because of the the earth! 8And the whole righteous nation was in sound of their cry. 7And there came from a small chaos, fearing the evils that threatened themselves, spring abundant water, a great river. 8(10)Light, the

and they were ready to perish. 9Then they cried out sun rose, and the rivers were exalted and swal-to God, and from their cry, as though from a small lowed those held in esteem. 9(11)Then, when Mar-spring, there came a great river, abundant water; dochaio arose from his sleep, he pondered what 10light, and the sun rose, and the lowly were exalt-the dream meant and what the Mighty One was

ed and devoured those held in esteem. 11Then preparing to do. 10And his dream was hidden in when Mardochaio, who had seen this dream and his heart, and at every opportunity he was trying to what God had determined to do, awoke, he had it figure it out. 11Its interpretation would become on his heart and sought until nightfall to under- clear to him on the day (12)on which Mardochaio stand it in every detail.

napped in the courtyard of the king with Astaos and Thedeutes, the two eunuchs of the king.

12 And Mardochoaios took his rest in the court- 12(13)And he overheard their words and their yard with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of schemes as they were plotting to assault Assyeros the king who guarded the courtyard. 13He both the king to kill him.

overheard their deliberations and inquired into

13 So after thinking about it, Mardochoaios re-their ambitions, and learned that they were prepar- ported about them. 14Then the king questioned ing to lay hands on Artaxerxes the king, and he the two eunuchs and found Mardochoaios' words told the king about them. 14Then the king interro- true, and when the eunuchs confessed, they were gated the two eunuchs, and when they confessed, led away. 15So Assyeros the king wrote about these they were led away. 15And the king wrote these things, and Mardochoaios was written about in the things in the record, and Mardochoaios wrote con- book of the king so that these things would be re-cerning these things. 16And the king ordered Mar- membered. 16And the king commanded concern-dochaios to serve in the court and gave to him gifts ing Mardochoaios that he serve in the court of the

for these things. 17But Haman son of Hama- king and conspicuously guard every door. 17And dathos, a Bougean, was highly esteemed by the he assigned to him for these things (17)Haman son king, and he sought to harm Mardochoaios and his of Hamadathos, a Macedonian in the presence of people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

the king. 18And Haman was seeking to harm Mar-

dochaios and all his people because of what he had said to the king concerning the eunuchs, because they had been executed.

1 Now it happened after these things in the days

Now it happened after these things in the days of Artaxerxes—this Artaxerxes controlled one

1 of Assyeros the great king, one hundred twenty-hundred twenty-seven lands from India—2 in ty-seven lands from India to Ethiopia were sub-those days when King Artaxerxes was enthroned in jected to him. 2 While Assyeros was sitting upon the city of Susa, 3 in the third year when he was the throne of his kingdom, 3 then the king gave a feast for his friends and for the wine party for the rulers of the court of the Persians and Medes and for those highly esteemed of Persians and Medes and for the rulers of the lands before the king—4 that the wealth of the king's glory and the satrapies. 4 And after these things, after he had dishonored of which he boasted be put on display for played to them the great wealth of his kingdom one hundred and eighty days, 5 until the days were and the glory of the celebration of his wealth for completed, during which the king gave a wine one hundred eighty days 5 and when the days of party for all those found in the city of Susa—from the wedding feast were completed, the king gave a great to small—for seven days inside the king's

esther 1

427

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

wine party for the nations present in the city, for courtyard, celebrating his deliverance. 6And there six days, in the courtyard of the house of the king. were tapestries of linen and cotton with lavender 6It had been decorated with linen and cotton cur-and scarlet embroidered in flowers and an awning tains hung on cords of linen and purple attached hung by linen and purple cords on silver blocks to gold and silver blocks on pillars of marble and and pillars of marble and gilded with gold. And other stones. There were couches of gold and silver there were couches of gold on an emerald pave-on a mosaic pavement of emerald, mother-of- ment and roses round about.

pearl and marble. There were gossamer throws in many colors embroidered with roses round about.

7The goblets were made of gold and silver, and a

7 And the golden goblets were each different, and miniature cup made of ruby was on display that the wine was royal, which the king drinks. 8And was worth thirty thousand talents. The wine was this wine party was according to law, for so the abundant and sweet, which the king himself drank. king had ordered that the will of the men be done.

8Now this wine party was not by established law, but so the king wanted it, and he ordered his stewards to do as he and his men wanted.

9 And Astin the queen gave a wine party for the 9 And Ouastin the queen gave a great reception women in the royal quarters where King Artaxerxes for all the women in the court of the king. was.

10 Now on the seventh day, when he was feel-

10 Now it happened on the seventh day, when ing merry, the king told Haman and Bazan and the king was feeling good from the wine, the king Tharra and Boraze and Zatholtha and Abataza told his servants 11to bring Ouastin the queen into and Tharaba, the seven eunuchs who attended the assembled banquet, in her royal diadem, beKing Artaxerxes, 11to bring the queen to him in fore his army. 12And Ouastin did not want to do order to proclaim her queen and to place the di- the will of the king through the hand of the eu-adem on her and to show her to the rulers and nuchs. Now when the king heard that Ouastin deher beauty to the peoples, because she was beau- nied his will, he was very angry! Rage burned with-tiful. 12But Astin the queen did not obey him to in him! 13Then the king asked all the wise men come with the eunuchs. The king was angry, and who knew law and justice what to do with the he was enraged! 13Then he said to his Friends, queen, because she had not been willing to do the "This is how Astin spoke, therefore give your rulwill of the king. 14And the rulers of the Persians ing and judgment on this.”

14 So Arkesaios,

and Medes and those who see the face of the king

Sarsathaios and Malesear, the rulers of the Per-

and those seated among royalty came to him.

16

sians and Medes who were close to the king and

And Bougaios advised him, saying, “Ouastin the seated first by the king, came to him. 15And they queen has wronged not only the king, but also the reported to him what, according to law, must be rulers of the Persians and Medes, and to all the done with Astin the queen, because she had not peoples her affront has gone out, because she ig-done the things ordered by the king through the nored the ordinance of the king. 18(19)If, therefore, eunuchs.

16Then Mouchaios said to the king and it pleases our lord and is acceptable to his think-the rulers, “Astin the queen has wronged not only ing, let it be written to all the lands and to all the the king, but also all the rulers and governors of nations, and make it known that Ouastin rejected the king.” 17(For he had reported to them the the word of the king. And let her royal position be words of the queen and how she defied the king.) given to another, one better than
she. 20And let it “Therefore, just as she defied King Artaxerxes,

be seen that she is obeying the voice of the king,

18so this very day the other princesses of the and he will do good for all the kingdoms. And all rulers of the Persians and Medes, when they hear wives will give honor and glory to their husbands what was said to the king by her, will similarly from the poor to the rich.” 21This word was good dare to dishonor their husbands. 19Therefore, if it in the heart of the king, and he acted readily ac-pleases the king, let him issue a royal order, and cording to this advice.

let it be written according to the laws of the Medes and Persians, and let it not be applied differently, neither let the queen any longer come to him, and let the king give her royal position to a woman better than she. 20Let the law declared by the king be heard, whatever law he enacts in his kingdom. And thus all women shall bestow honor on their own husbands, from the poor to the rich.” 21This word pleased the king and the rulers, and the king did as Mouchaios said. 22He sent word throughout the whole kingdom, to every land in its own language so that they had fear in their homes.

428

esther 2

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

2 After these things, the king got over his anger,

And so was established the tradition about and he no longer remembered Astin, recalling

2 Ouastin and what she did to Assyeros the what shea had said and how he condemned her. king. 2Then those serving the king said, "Let us 2Then the king's ministers said, "Let pure girls be seek virgins beautiful in appearance, (3)and let sought for the king, beautiful in appearance. 3And them be given to be placed under the charge of the king shall appoint officers in all the lands of Gogaios the eunuch, the guard of the women.

his kingdom and let them select maidenly girls, 4And whichever girl is pleasing to the king will be beautiful in appearance, into Susa the city, into the appointed to replace Ouastin." And they readily harem, and let them be entrusted to the king's eu- acted accordingly.

nuch, the guard of the women; then let cosmetics and other care be given. 4And whichever woman is pleasing to the king will be queen instead of Astin." The advice pleased the king, and he did so.

5 Now there was a Judean man in Susa the city,

5 Now there was a Judean man in Susa the city, and his name was Mardochaios the son of Iairos son whose name was Mardochaios son of Iaeiros son of Semeias son of Kisaaios, from the tribe of Ben- of Semeias son of Kisaaios, of the tribe of Benjamin.

iamin, 6who was an exile from Ierousalem, which 7And he was faithfully bringing up Esther, a Nabouchodonosor, king of Babylon, had taken cap-daughter of the brother of his father. And the child

tive. 7And this man had a foster child, a daughter of

was very beautiful in appearance and lovely to see.

Aminadab, his father's brother, and her name was 8And the girl was taken into the house of the king.

Esther. And when her parents died, he trained her And Bougaios, the eunuch who guarded, saw the for himself as a wife. And the girl was beautiful in girl, (9)and she was more pleasing to him than all appearance. 8So when the king's ordinance was the women. 9And Esther found his personal favor heard, many girls were gathered into Susa the city and compassion. So he hastened to take charge of under the charge of Gai. Esther was also taken to her and granted to her, beyond the seven young Gai, the guard of the women.
9The girl pleased him women, her own attendants. And when Esther was and found his favor, and he hastened to provide her led in to the king, she was very pleasing to him.

with cosmetics and her portion of food and with seven girls assigned to her from the palace, and he provided well for her and her attendants in the harem. 10 Esther did not reveal her race or her ancestry, for Mardochaios had commanded her not to tell. 11 Each day Mardochaios walked around in front of the harem court, to learn how Esther would fare.

12 Now time for a girl to go in to the king was when she had completed twelve months, for the days of treatment were like this: six months being rubbed with oil of myrrh and six months with perfumes and cosmetics for the women. 13 And then she would go in to the king. And whatever she asked he would give her to take with her from the harem to the royal quarters. 14 In the evening she would go

14 When nightfall came, she was led in, and in

in; then toward day she would depart into the sec- the early morning she was dismissed. 17 And as the ond harem of which Gai, the king's eunuch, was the king considered all the virgins, Esther was shown guard of the women. And she would not go in to the to be the most splendid. And she found his per-king again, unless she was summoned by name.

sonal favor and compassion, and he placed the 15 When the time was completed for Esther the royal diadem upon her head. 18And so the king daughter of Aminadab, brother of Mardocheios's held a splendid wedding feast for Esther and gave father, to go in to the king, she turned down noth-rest to all the provinces.

ing of the things the king's eunuch, the guard of the women, commanded. For Esther was favored by all who saw her. 16Esther went in to Artaxerxes the king in the twelfth month, which is Adar, in the seventh year of his reign. 17And the king fell in love with Esther, and she found favor beyond all the virgins; so he set the queen's diadem on her.
18Then the king gave a wine party for all his Friends and forces for seven days. He celebrated Esther's wedding feast and gave rest to those under his rule.

aOr he bOr canceled debts of

aOr canceled debts of

esther 2-3

429

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

19 And Mardochaios was serving in the court.

20 But Esther did not reveal her ancestry. For so Mardochaios had commanded her: to fear God and to do his ordinances, just as when she was with him. So Esther did not change her way of life.

21 The two eunuchs who were the king's chief bodyguards were irritated because Mardochoaios was promoted, and they sought to kill Artaxerxes the king. 22But the matter became known to Mardochoaios, and he alerted Esther, and she explained to the king the details of the plot. 23So the king interrogated the two eunuchs and hanged them. Then the king ordered to make an entry as a memorial in the royal archive in commendation of Mardochoaios's loyalty.

3 AfterthesethingsKingArtaxerxeshonored

Now it happened after these things that King

Haman son of Hamadathos, a Bougean, and 3 Assyeros promoted Haman son of Hamaexalted him and set him above all his Friends. 2And dathos, a Bougean, and advanced him and set his

all who were in the court would do obeisance to throne above those of his Friends so that all would him, for the king had commanded them to do so. bend over and bow themselves on the ground be-But Mardochoaios would not do obeisance to him. fore him. 2Therefore, although everyone would do 3Then those in the court of the king spoke to Mar- obeisance to him in accord with the king's ordidochaïos, “Mardoचाïos, why do you disobey what nance, Mardoचाïos would not do obeisance be-the king says?” 4Day after day they spoke to him, fore him. 3And the servants of the king saw that and he would not listen to them. So they revealed Mardoचाïos was not doing obeisance before to Haman that Mardoचाïos was opposing the Haman, and the servants of the king said to Mar- commands of the king, and Mardoचाïos revealed doचाïos, “Why do you disobey the king and not to them that he was a Judean. 5When Haman do obeisance before Haman?” 4So he told them learned that Mardoचाïos would not do obeisance that he was a Judean. And they informed Haman to him, he was very angry. 6And so he planned to about him. 5Now when Haman heard, he was pro-destroy all the Judeans under the rule of Artaxerxes.

voked to jealousy against Mardoचाïos, and rage

7 He made a decision in the twelfth year of Ar- burned within him. So he was seeking to destroy taxerxes’ reign and cast lots day-by-day and Mardoचाïos and all his people on one day. 6Since month-by-month so that the race of Mardoचाïos Haman was provoked and all his rage was stirred might perish on one day. The lot fell on the four- up, he turned red, driving him from his sight. And teenth of the month that is Adar.

with a malicious heart, he kept speaking evil to the 8 Then he spoke to King Artaxerxes, saying, king about Israel, 8saying, “There is a people scat-

“There is a certain nation scattered among the na- tered throughout all the kingdoms, a people of war tions throughout all your kingdom; their laws are and insubordinate, who have different laws from different from all the nations, and they disobey the your laws, O King. They do not pay heed though king's laws so that it is not expedient for the king they are known among all nations because they are to tolerate them. 9If it pleases the king, let a decree evil, and they set aside your commands to under- be issued to destroy them, and I will pay into the mine your glory. 9Therefore, if it pleases the king king's treasury ten thousand talents of silver." and this judgment is good in his heart, let this na-10And the king took his signet ring and put it inb tion be given to me for destruction, and I will pay the hand of Haman to seal what had been written into the treasury ten thousand talents of silver."

against the Judeans. 11The king said to Haman, 11So the king said to him, "Keep the silver, but treat

"Keep the silver, but treat the nation as you wish."

the nation as it pleases you." 10So the king took his 12 Then the king's secretaries were summoned signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman on the thirteenth day of the first month, and they saying, "Write to all the lands, and seal it with the wrote as Haman commanded to the governors and signet ring of the king. For there is none who will to the rulers of every land—from India to reject the seal."

Ethiopia—to one hundred twenty-seven lands and 7 So Haman went to his gods to learn the day to the rulers of the nations in their own language of their death and cast lots for the thirteenth day of in the name of Artaxerxes the king. 13It was sent by the month of Adar Nisan to murder all the couriers throughout Artaxerxes' empire, to destroy Judeans, from male to female, and to take their the race of the Judeans in one day of the twelfth young children as plunder. 13And he hurried and month, which is Adar, and to seize their property.

delivered it into the hands of swift horsemen.

aOr hung bOr on 430

esther B-4

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

B This is a copy of the letter:

“The Great King Artaxerxes writes as follows to

B

() 14(1) Andhesubjoinedthefollowingletter:

“The Great King Assyeros writes as follows

the rulers of the one hundred twenty-seven lands to the rulers and satraps of the one hundred and from India to Ethiopia and to the officials under twenty and seven lands from India to Ethiopia: them:

2 “Being the ruler of many nations and master

15(2) “Being the ruler of many nations and of the whole world, I have determined (not high- master of the whole world, I have determined (not mindedly with presumption of authority but al- high-mindedly with presumption of authority but ways acting in moderation and with kindness) to always acting in moderation and with kindness) to secure lasting tranquility in the lives of my subjects secure lasting tranquility in the lives of my subjects and, in order to make my kingdom peaceable and and, making my kingdom peaceable and open to open to travel throughout all its extent, to restore travel to its full extent, to restore the peace desired the peace desired by all people.

by all people.

3 “When I asked my counselors how this might

16(3)“When I was asking my counselors how be accomplished, Haman—who excels among us this might be accomplished, Haman—who has excellent sound judgment and is distinguished for his unexcelled among us in sound judgment, by unchanging goodwill and steadfast fidelity and has ating goodwill and steadfast fidelity having attained tained the second place in the kingdom—(4) pointed out to us that among all the tribes in the world to us that there is scattered a certain hostile people, there is scattered a certain hostile people, who have resident among all the tribes in the world who, on laws contrary to those of every nation and continually the one hand, have laws in opposition to those of all nations disregard the ordinances of kings so that the every nation and, on the other, continually disregard the command of kings so that the kingdom continually cannot be achieved. 5Therefore, can never attain stability. 17(5)Therefore, whereas we understand that, since this nation we understand that, since the nation stands all alone in opposition to all humankind, perversely following an estranging manner one of humanity on account of an estranging way of life due to their laws and since it is ill-disposed of life due to their laws and since it is ill-disposed to our interests, doing the worst harm and in order to our commands, it perpetually does the worst that our kingdom may not attain stability.

harm, in order that we may never be established in 6 “We therefore have ordered that you utterly dethe sole-rule directed by us.

stroy those indicated to you in the letters written by 18(6) “We therefore have ordered to you that Haman, who is in charge of the affairs of state and is you destroy one and all of those indicated to you in our second Father—including women and chil- the letters written by Haman, who is in charge of dren—by the daggers of their enemies, without any the affairs of state and is our second Father—

compassion and restraint, on the fourteenth day of women and children included—by the daggers of the twelfth month, Adar, of this present year, 7so that their enemies, without any compassion or restraint, those who have long been hostile and so remain, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month (this is when they in one day have gone down to Hades by the month of Adar, which is Dystros), in order to force, may in the time hereafter render the matters of eliminate all the Judeans and to take their children state completely tranquil and untroubled for us.”

as plunder (7)in order that those who have long been hostile and so remain, when they in one day

14Copies of the letters were posted in every

have together gone down to Hades, may in the time

3 land, and it was ordered all the nation to be hereafter be in a state of tranquility and not ever ready for this day. 15 The matter proceeded quickly again furnish us with matters for concern.”

even to Susa. While the king and Haman were sitting down to drink, the city was being thrown into confusion.

3

() 19(15) And in Susa this decree was posted.

4 Now when Mardocheaios learned the outcome,

Now Mardochaius learned everything that he tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and 4 had happened, and the city of Susa was in sprinkled ashes, and as he rushed through the turmoil because of the things that had taken place. square of the city, he cried out with a loud voice, “An For all the Judeans there was great and bitter sor- innocent nation is being destroyed!” 2He went up row in the whole city. 2Now Mardochaius went to to the king’s gate and stood there, for it was not per- his home, folded up his clothes and put on sack- mitted him to enter the courtyard clothed with sack- cloth. After he had sprinkled ashes on himself, he cloth and ashes. 3And in every land, wherever the went out as far as the outer courtyard and stood letters were posted, there was crying and wailing there, for he could not enter the royal precincts in and great mourning among the Judeans; they put sackcloth. 3(4)So he called one eunuch and sent sackcloth and ashes on themselves. 4The queen's athim to Esther. And the queen said, "Take off his tendants and eunuchs came in and told her, and she sackcloth, and bring him in." 4But he did not want was troubled when she heard what had happened.

to. (8)Instead he said, "Thus you will say to her, esther 4-c

431

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

She sent someone to clothe Mardocheios and to 'Do not turn away from going to the king and take off his sackcloth, but he was not persuaded. Covering his person for the sake of me and my people-5 Then Esther called for Hachartheios, her eunuch ple, remembering your humble days when you who attended her, and sent him to learn for her were being brought up by my hand, because from Mardocheios the facts.

Haman, who is the second in command, has spo-

7 So Mardocheios told him what had happened to the king against us to put us to death.

pened, and the promise that Haman had promised 5 Therefore call upon God, and speak about us to the king of ten thousand talents into the treasury of the king, and deliver us from death!' " sury so that he could destroy the Judeans. 8 He also gave him the copy that had been posted in Susa to destroy them, to show to Esther, and told him to command her to go and entreat the king and to beg him on behalf of her people: "Remember your humble days when you were brought up by my hand, for Haman, the second to the king, has spoken against us to put us to death. Call upon the Lord, and speak to the king about us, and deliver us from death!”

9 So Hachrathaios went in and told her all

6(9) So he made known to her the tribulation these things. 10Then Esther said to Hachrathaios, of Israel. 7(10)And she sent to him saying as fol-

“Go to Mardochoaios, and say, 11‘All the nations of lows, (11)“You know as well as anyone that whoever goes to the king know that every man or woman who ever goes to the king uninvited, he to whom he does shall go to the king inside the inner court uninvited— not hold out his golden scepter will be subject to ed—there is no deliverance for him. Only if the death. 8And I have not been called to him for thir-king holds out the golden rod to someone, will ty days. So how can I go now, not being invited?”

that person be safe. And I myself have not been called to go to the king for these thirty days.’ ”

12 So Hachrathaios reported to Mardochoaios everything Esther had said. 13Mardochoaios said to 9(13) So Mardochoaios sent to her and said to Hachrathaios, “Go, and say to her, ‘Esther, do not her, (14)“If you ignore your nation and do not help say to yourself that you alone of all the Judeans in them, then surely God will be to them a helper the empire will be safe. 14Because even if you keep and deliverance, but you and your father's house-silent at this time, from elsewhere help and pro- hold will perish. 10And who knows if for this time tecton will come to the Judeans, but you and your you were made queen?" 11(15)Then the queen sent father's household will perish.

And who knows if saying, (16)"Proclaim a religious service, and peti-for this time you were made queen?" " 15Then Es-tion God earnestly, and I and my girls will do like-ther sent the messenger who had come to her back wise.

And I will go to the king uninvited, even if it to Mardochoaios, saying, 16"Go, gather the Judeans be necessary that I die." 12(17)And Mardochoaios that are in Susa, and fast on my behalf, and neither did so.

eat nor drink for three days, night and day. I and my attendants will also abstain from food. And then I will go to the king, though it is against the law, even if it be that I perish." 17And Mardochoaios went and did what Esther had commanded him.

C Then he petitioned the Lord, remembering () Thenhe petitioned the Lord, remember-all the works of the Lord.

C inhisworks.

2 And he said, "Lord, Lord, King of all powers,

(2) And he said, 13"Master Almighty, under for the universe is subject to your authority, and whose authority are all things and there is no one

there is no one who can oppose you when it is who can resist you when it is your will to save the your will to save Israel, 3because you have made house of Israel, (3)because you have made heaven heaven and earth and every wonderful thing in it and earth and every wonderful thing in it under under heaven. 4You are Lord of all, and there is no heaven, (4)and you rule everything. 14(5)For you one who can withstand you, the Lord. 5You know know all things and the race of Israel you know.

all things; you know, O Lord, that it was not in in- 15It was not in insolence nor for any love of glory solence nor pride nor for any love of glory that I that I did not bow down to this uncircumcised did this, namely, to refuse to do obeisance to this Haman, (6)since I would have been willing to kiss prideful Haman, 6for I would have been willing to the soles of his feet for the sake of Israel, (7)but I kiss the soles of his feet for Israel's safety! 7But I did this so that I might not set anyone above your did this so that I might not set human glory above glory, Master, and not do obeisance to anyone but you, the True One, and I will not do it even under

aLacking in Gk

duress. 16(8)And now, O Lord, you who covenant-432

esther C

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

divine glory, and I will not do obeisance to anyone ed with Abraam, spare your people, because they but you, my Lord, and I will not do these things in have advanced to ruin us, and they desire to re-pride. 8And now, O Lord God, King, God of

move and take away the inheritance that has been

Abraam, spare your people, for they are looking to yours from the beginning. (9)Do not neglect your ruin us, and they desired to destroy the inheritance portion, which you redeemed out of the land of that has been yours from the beginning. 9Do not Egypt. 17(10)Hear our petition, and have mercy neglect your portion, which you redeemed for upon your inheritance; turn our mourning into re-yourself out of the land of Egypt. 10Hear my peti- joicing, that we may live and sing hymns to you; tion, and have mercy upon your allotment; turn do not silence the mouth of those who sing hymns our mourning into feasting, that we may live and to you.”

sing hymns to your name, O Lord; do not silence the mouth of those who praise you.”

11 And all Israel cried out from their strength, because their death was before their eyes.

12 Then Esther the queen fled to the Lord,

18(12) Then Esther the queen fled to the Lord, seized with the agony of death. 13 Taking off the garments of her glory, she put on the garments of garments of glory from herself and every sign of distress and mourning, and instead of costly perfume her splendor, and she put on distress and mourning-fumes she covered her head with ashes and dung, and instead of costly perfumes she covered her head and she utterly humbled her body; every part that head with ashes and dung, and she utterly humbled her body; every sign of her beauty and adornment she covered humbly with her lovely hair.

el, and said: "O my Lord, you alone are our king; 19(14) Then she petitioned the Lord and said: "O help me, I who am alone and have no helper except you, 15 because my danger is in my hand. 16 I am humble and have no helper apart from you, have heard from my birth in the tribe of my family (15) because my danger is in my hand. 20(16) Now I testify that you, O Lord, took Israel out of all the nations and our fathers from among all their forebears, to be an everlasting inheritance, and you did the same for them from among their forebears, appointing Israel for them all that you said. 17 And now we have sinned before you, and you have delivered us into the hand of our enemies, 18 because we honored their gods. You are righteous, O Lord! 19 And now before you, and you delivered us into the hand of our enemies (18) if we honored their gods. 22 You but they have put their hands into the hands of are righteous, O Lord! (19) And now they were not their idols, to annul the stipulation of your satisfied that we are in bitter slavery, but they have

a

mouth and to destroy your inheritance and to stop put their hands into the hands of their idols,

(20)

the mouths of those who praise you and to extinto annul the stipulation of your mouth to de-guish the glory of your house and your altar, 21to stroy your inheritance and to stop the mouths of open the mouth of the nations for the mighty those who praise you and to extinguish the glory deeds of vain things, and that a mortal king be ad-of your house and your altar, (21)and to open the mired forever.

mouths of enemies for the mighty deeds of vain things, and that a mortal king be admired forever.

22 "O Lord, do not surrender your scepter to 23(22) "O Lord, do not ever surrender your those who don't exist, and do not let them laugh scepter to enemies who hate you, and may they

at our downfall, but turn their plan against them, not rejoice at our downfall; turn their plans against and make a public example of him who began this them, and make a public example of him who against us. 23Remember, O Lord; make yourself began this evil against us. 24(23)Be manifest to us, known in a time of our affliction, and embolden O Lord; make yourself known to us in a time of me, O King of the gods and Master of all dominour affliction, and do not break us. 25(24)Put eloion! 24Put eloquent speech in my mouth before quent speech in my mouth, and give favor to my the lion, and turn his heart to hate the one who words before the king, and change his heart to hate fights against us so that there may be an end of the one who fights against us so that there may be him and those who agree with him. 25But save us an end of him and those who agree with him.

(25)

by your hand, and help me, who am alone and

But save us by your strong hand, and help me, have no one except you, O Lord. You have knowlbecause you have knowledge of everything,

(26)

edge of everything, 26and you know that I hate the
and you know that I abhor the bed of the un-glory of the lawless and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised one and hate the glory of the lawless circumcised and of any foreigner. 27You know my one and of any alien. 26(27)You, O Lord, know my predicament—that I abhor the sign of my proud predicament—that I abhor the sign of proud posiaOr braided bPossibly covenanted with their idols

aPossibly covenanted with their idols

esther C-5

433

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

position that is upon my head on days when I appear in public. I abhor it like a menstrual cloth, except on days when I appear in public. I abhor it and I do not wear it on the days when I am in private like a cloth of a woman that sits apart. 27(28)And your slave has not eaten at Haman's table, and I have not honored the king's banquet 28and I have not honored the king's banquets nor drunk the wine of libations. 29Your slave has drunk the wine of libation. Your slave has not rejoiced since the day of my change until now, except in you, O Lord, God of Abraham. 30O God Master. 29(30)And now, you who have power over all things, hear the voice of those who despair, and save us from the hand of those who do evil against evildoers. And save me from my fear!"

us. And take me, Lord, out of the grip of my fear!"

D And it happened on the third day, as she (D.1)And it happened on the third day, as Esther ceased praying, she took off the garments of

5 ceased praying, she took off the garments of service and put on her glory. 2Then, when she had become majestic, after calling upon the all-seeing when she had become majestic, and after calling God and savior, she took along two of her attendants; (3) on one she leaned gently for support, along with her two attendants; (3) on one she leaned

4 while the other followed, holding her train. 5 She gently for support, (4) while the other followed, was radiant with the full flush of her beauty, and holding up her train. 3 (5) She was radiant with the her face looked happy as if she were cheerful, but full flush of her beauty, and her face looked as if she her heart was in anguish from fear. 6 When she had were cheerful, but her heart was in anguish.

gone through all the doors, she stood before the 4 (6) When she had gone through the doors, she king. He was seated on the throne of his kingdom, stood before the king. And the king was seated on clothed in the full array of his splendor, all covered the throne of his kingdom, clothed in the full array with gold and precious stones. And he was most of splendor, all covered with gold and precious terrifying.

stones upon him. And he was most terrifying.

7 And when he raised his face inflamed with

5 (7) And when he raised his face inflamed glory, he gazed at her in the full flush of anger. The with glory, he gazed right at her like a bull in the queen staggered, her color turned pale from faint- full flush of his anger. 6The queen was terrified, ness, and she collapsed on the head of the atten- and her face turned pale from faintness, and she dant who went before her. 8Then God changed stooped on the head of the attendant who went the spirit of the king to gentleness, and alarmed, before her. 7(8)Then God changed the spirit of the he jumped from his throne and took her in his king and turned his anger to gentleness, 8and arms until she was quieted. He kept comforting alarmed, the king jumped down from his throne her with soothing words 9and said to her, "What is and took her in his arms. He comforted her, (9)and it, Esther? I am your brother. Take heart! 10You said, "What is it, Esther? I am your brother. 9Take shall not die, for our ordinance is only for the heart! (10)You shall not die, for our act is only for common person. 11Come here." the common person. (11)The threat is not against you. Look, the scepter is in your hand."

12 Then he lifted the golden rod and placed it

10(12) Then he lifted the scepter and placed it on her neck; he welcomed her and said, "Speak to on her neck. He welcomed her and said, "Speak to me." 13She said to him, "I saw you, Lord, like a di-me!" 11(13)She said to him, "I saw you like a divine vine angel, and my heart was shaken from fear of angel, and my heart melted from the glory of your your glory. 14For you are marvelous, lord, and your rage, Lord." 12(14)And upon her face was a measure face is full of grace." 15And while she was speaking, of sweat. (16)Then the king and all his servants

she fell from faintness. 16Then the king and all his were troubled, and they reassured her.

servants were troubled, and he reassured her.

5 3Andthekingsaidtoher,“Whatdoyouwant,

13(3)And the king said, “What is it, Esther? Tell Esther? What is your request? Even up to half

5 me,andIwilldoitforyou—uptohalfofmy of my kingdom, and it shall be yours.” 4Then Es-kingdom.” 14(4)Then Esther said, “Tomorrow is a ther said, “Today is my special day. If, therefore, it special day for me. If, therefore, it pleases the king, pleases the king, let both he and Haman come to you and Haman, your Friend, come to a wine party the dinner that I will prepare today.” 5Then the

that I will prepare tomorrow.” 15(5)Then the king king said, “Bring Haman quickly so that we may said, “Bring Haman quickly so that we may do do what Esther has said.” So both came to the din-what Esther has said.” 16So both came to the dinner that Esther had spoken about. 6During the ner that Esther made, a sumptuous meal. 17(6)So drinking, the king said to Esther, “What is it, the king said to Esther “O Queen, what is your Queen Esther? And it shall be, whatever you ask.” will? Ask up to half my kingdom, and it shall be 7Then she said, “This is my petition and request:

yours, whatever you ask.” 18(7)Then Esther said, 8If I have found favor before the king, let the king
“This is my petition and my request: (8)If I have 434 esther 5-6

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

and Haman come again tomorrow to the dinner found favor before you, O King, and if it pleases that I will prepare for them, and tomorrow I will the king to grant my petition and to do my re-do these same things.”

quest, let the king and Haman come to the dinner that I will prepare for them again tomorrow. For again tomorrow I will do likewise.” 19So the king said, “Do as you want.”

9 So Haman went out from the king very happy

20(9) And it was reported to Haman likewise, and rejoicing. But when Haman saw Mardocheaios and he marveled. And the king departed and rethe Judean in the courtyard, he became very angry.

tired. 21(10)So Haman went into his home and 10So he went home and called his friends and gathered together his friends, his sons and Zosara

Zosara his wife, 11and he announced to them his his wife. (12)And he boasted saying how the queen riches and the glory that the king had bestowed on had invited no one on her special day “except the him and how he had made him to be first and to king and me only. Tomorrow also I have been in-be leader of the kingdom.

12Haman said, “The vited. 22(13)Yet this alone distresses me: whenever I Queen has not summoned with the king anyone see Mardochoaios the Judean in the court of the but me to the dinner. Tomorrow also I have been king, and he does not bow down to me.”

invited. 13Yet all this does not please me when I 23(14)Then his wife Zosara said to him, “He is from see Mardochoaios the Judean in the courtyard.” the race of the Judeans. Since the king has allowed 14Then his wife Zosara and his friends said to him, you to destroy the Judeans and the gods have given “Let a pole fifty cubitsa high be cut for you, and you a day of destruction to take revenge on them, early in the morning speak to the king and have let a pole fifty cubitsa high be cut for you and be Mardochoaios hangedb on it; then you, go to the set up, and hang him on the pole. And early in the dinner with the king, and celebrate.” This advice morning you shall speak to the king about him.

pleased Haman, and he had the pole prepared.

And now go; rejoice with the king.” 24This pleased

Haman, and he did so.

6 ButtheLordkeptsleepfromthekingthat

But the Mighty One kept sleep from the king night, and he told his teacher to bring the 6 that night, and he stayed awake. 2So the read-written daily annals, to read to him. 2And he ers were called, and the court record was read to find the entries written concerning Mardocheios, him. 3(2)And there was the record of the eunuchs how he informed the king about two of the king's and what good deed Mardocheios had done for eunuchs, while they were on guard and sought to the king. 4And the king thought seriously on that lay hands on Artaxerxes. 3Then the king said, matter, saying, "Mardocheios is a loyal man for "What honor or distinction have we bestowed on protecting my life, for he has kept me alive even Mardocheios?" The king's servants said, "You have until now, and I am sitting on my throne today done nothing for him." 4While the king was in- and have done nothing for him. I have not done quiring about Mardocheios' goodwill—Look! right by him." 5(3)So the king said to his servants, Haman was in the courtyard! The king said, "Who "What should we do for Mardocheios, the savior is in the courtyard?" Now Haman had just entered in these matters?" And after they thought about it, to speak to the king to hang Mardochaios on the pole that he had prepared for him. 5So the king's Haman lay in their bowels. 6And the king under-servants said, "Look! Haman is standing in the stood. And morning came.

(4)The king asked, courtyard." And the king said, "Call him." 6So the "Who is outside?" And it was Haman. 7Now Ha-king said to Haman, "What should I do for the man had come early to speak to the king so that he person whom I want to extol?" And Haman said to might hang Mardochaios. 8(5)And the king said to himself, "Whom would the king want to extol if bring him in. 9(6)So as he entered, the king said to not me?" 7So he replied to the king, "For the per-him, "What should we do for the man who honors son whom the king wants to extol, 8let the king's the king, whom the king wishes to extol?" 10So Ha-servants bring a fine linen robe, which the king man reasoned, saying, "Whom would the king wears, and a horse upon which the king rides. wish to extol if not me?" 11(7)So Haman replied, 9And let him give to him one of the king's most "For the person whom the king wishes to extol, noble Friends, and let him robe the person whom (8)let a royal robe be brought, and a royal horse the king loves, and let him mount him on the upon which the king rides. (9)And let one of the horse and proclaim through the square of the city, king's most noble Friends take these things and saying: 'So shall it be for every person whom the clothe him, and let him mount him on the horse king extols.' " 10Then the king said to Haman, "You and go around the city before him proclaiming, have spoken well. So do to Mardochaios the Jude- 'Thus shall be done for the one who honors the an who serves in the court. And let not a word of king, whom the king wishes to extol.' " 12(10)So the

what you have said be transgressed.” 11So Haman king said to Haman, “Run quickly, and take the took the robe and the horse and robed Marhorse and robe as you have said, and do so to a.l.e. over seventy feet bOr hung

aOr over seventy feet

esther 6-7

435

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

dochaios and mounted him on the horse and went Mardochaios the Judean who sits in the gateway.

through the square of the city and proclaimed, say-

And let not your word transgressed.”

ing, “So shall it be for every man whom the king wants to extol.” 12Then Mardochaios returned to the court, but Haman returned home distressed, with his head covered. 13Haman explained what

13 Now when Haman realized that it was not had happened to him to Zosara his wife and to his he himself who would be extolled, but that it was friends. His friends and his wife said to him, “If Mardochaios, his heart was utterly broken, and his Mardochaios is of the race of the Judeans, you have spirit became feeble.

begun to be humiliated before him; you will fall when you fall. You will never be able to ward him off, because a living god is with him.”

14 While they were still speaking, the king’s eu-

14(11) And Haman took the robe and the nuchs arrived hurrying Haman off to the wine horse, showing reverence to Mardochoaios even on party that Esther had prepared.

the very same day on which he intended to impale him. 15And he said to Mardochoaios, "Tear off the sackcloth." 16And Mardochoaios was distressed as one dying, and with anguish he took off the sackcloth and put on the garments of glory. 17And Mardochoaios thought he saw a sign, and his heart was toward the Lord, and he was mystified in silent fear. 18And Haman hastened to put him on horseback. 19And Haman led the horse outside and went before him proclaiming, "Thus shall it be done for the man who honors the king, whom the king wishes to extol." 20(12)And so Haman went to his place downhearted, and Mardochoaios went to his home. 21(13)Haman explained to his wife everything that had happened to him. 22His wife and his wise men said, "Ever since you spoke evil about him, evil things have been coming to you; be quiet, because God is among them."

23(14) While they were still speaking, someone arrived hurrying him to the wine party. And so he was cheered up, and when he had covered the distance, he reclined with them on time.

7 So the king and Haman went in to drink with

(2) As the drinking advanced, the king said to the queen. 2 And the king said to Esther on the 7 Esther, "What is the danger, and what is your second day as they were drinking, "What is it, petition? Up to the half of my kingdom!" 2 Esther Queen Esther? What is your petition and what is struggled with her reply, because the adversary was your request? Let it be yours, up to the half of my kingdom." 3 Then she answered and said, "If I have called upon him. 3 And Esther said, "If it pleases found favor with the king, let my life be given at the king and the decision is good in his heart, let my petition, and my people at my request. 4 For we my people be given for my petition, and my nation have been sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, for my life. 4For I and my people have been sold to be booty and to be enslaved—we and our chil-into slavery, and their young children as booty. But dren as male and female slaves—and I kept silent.

I did not want to tell you, lest I trouble my lord.
For the slanderer is not worthy of the court of the
For the man who did evil against us has changed king.” 5Then the king said, “Who is this who dared his manner.” 5Then the king became angry and to do this deed?” 6So Esther said, “A man who is said, “Who is this who dared to humiliate the sign an enemy! Haman is this wicked one!” Then of my rule so as to disregard fear of you?” 6When Haman was terrified because of the king and the the queen saw that it seemed a grave offense to the queen.

king and that he hated evil, she said, “Do not be angry, lord, for it is enough that I have found your conciliation. Enjoy your meal, O King, and tomorrow I will do according to your word.”

7 The king rose from the banquet and went

7 But the king swore that she must tell him into the garden, but Haman was begging the who was so arrogant to do this, and with an oath queen, for he saw himself in deep trouble. 8Then he took it upon himself to do for her whatever she the king returned from the garden. Now Haman wished. 8(6)So Esther was emboldened and said, had fallen on the couch, entreating the queen. And “Haman, your Friend, is this liar, this evil man!”

436

esther 7-E

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

the king said, "So then, you even violate my wife 9(7)The king, becoming angry and filled with rage, in my own house?" When Haman heard this, he jumped up and was pacing around. 10And Haman covered his face. 9Then Bougathan, one of the eu-was terrified and prostrated himself at the feet of nuchs attending the king, said, "Look! Haman has Queen Esther as she still reclined on her couch.

even prepared a pole for Mardochoaios, who spoke 11(8)Just then the king returned to the banquet, up on behalf of the king, and a pole fifty cubits tall and when he saw this he said, "A crime against my has been erected at Haman's." And the king said, kingdom is not enough for you? You also molest

"Let him be crucified upon it." 10So they hanged my wife in my presence? Let Haman be led away, Haman on the pole that had been prepared for and let him not live!" 12And so he was led away.

Mardochoaios. Then the king got over his anger.

(9)Then Agathas, one of his servants, said, "Look!

A pole is in his courtyard fifty cubits tall, which

On that very day King Artaxerxes granted to Haman cut down to hang Mardochoaios, the man

8 Esther all that belonged to Haman the slan- who spoke good things concerning the king; derer, and Mardochoaios was summoned by the therefore, lord, order that he himself be hanged a king, for Esther had revealed that he was related to upon it.”

her. 2 Then the king took the signet ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mar- And the king removed the signet ring from his dochaïos. So Esther appointed Mardocheïos over hand, and his life was sealed with it.

13 So the king said, “Let him be hung upon it.”

everything of Haman’s.

14 And the king said to Esther, “He even

3 Then she spoke again to the king, and she fell planned to hang Mardocheïos, who saved me from before his feet and pleaded that he revoke the evil the hand of the eunuchs? Did he not know that Es-of Haman and what he had done to the Judeans. ther is of his race?”

15 So the king called Mar-

4 So the king held out the golden rod to Esther, dochaïos and granted him all that belonged to 5 and Esther rose and stood before the king. And Haman. 16 And he said to him, “What do you want?

Esther said, “If it pleases you and if I have found I will do it for you.” And Mardocheïos said, “That favor, let an order be dispatched to revoke the let- you revoke Haman’s letter.”

17 So the king entrusted ters sent by Haman, which were written to destroy to him the affairs of the kingdom.

the Judeans who are in your kingdom. 6For how

18 Then Esther said to the king on the next day, can I bear to see the suffering of my people? And “Allow me to punish my enemies with blood-how can I bear to be saved amidst the destruction shed.” 19So Queen Esther appealed to the king of my lineage?” 7Then the king said to Esther, “If also against Haman’s children, that they too everything belonging to Haman I gave and turned should die with their father. And the king said, over to you, and him I hangedb on the pole, be- “Let it be done.” 20So she struck the enemies in cause he plotted to lay hands on the Judeans, what great numbers. 21And in Susa the king made an more do you seek? 8Youc also write in my name as agreement with the queen to kill men, and he said, it pleases youc, and seal it with my ring, for what- “Behold, I give them to you to hang.” And so it was ever is written as the king commands and sealed done.

with my ring cannot be countermanded.”

9 And so the secretaries were summoned in the first month, which is Nisa, on the twenty-third day of the same year, and they wrote to the Judeans what had been commanded to the administrators and rulers of the satrapies from India to Ethiopia, one hundred twenty-seven satrapies country by country, each according to its own language. 10It was written by the king and sealed with his ring, and they sent the orders by couriers, 11how he ordered them to live in accordance with their laws in every city, both to help themselves and to deal with their adversaries and their enemies as they wished, 12on a single day in the whole kingdom of Artaxerxes, on the thirteenth of the twelfth month, which is Adar.

E What is written below is a copy of the letter:

22 So he wrote the following letter:

“The Great King Artaxerxes, to the rulers of the

E

()“The Great King Assyeros, to the rulers of lands from India to Ethiopia, the one hundred the one hundred and twenty-seven lands from twenty-seven satrapies, and to those who are loyal India to Ethiopia and to the satraps who are loyal to our interests, greetings.

to our interests, greetings.

2 “Many people, who are frequently honored

23(2) “Many people, who are frequently honaOr his face changed bOr hung cGk = pl

aOr hung

esther E

437

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

with the greatest kindness of their benefactors, be-ored with the greatest kindness of their benefac-come the more ambitious 3and not only seek to tors, after becoming the more ambitious, (3)not harm those subject to us, but not being able to only seek to harm those subject to us, but not deal with prosperity, they even undertake to being able to deal with prosperity, they even un-scheme against their own benefactors. 4They not dertake to scheme evil against their own benefac-only abolish gratitude from among people, but tors. (4)They not only take away gratitude from also, carried away by the boasts of those who are among people, but gone astray due to the boasts of inexperienced in goodness, they even presume to those who are inexperienced in goodness, they escape the evil-hating divine justice, who always even imagine they will escape the evil-hating jus-observes everything. 5Furthermore, many times tice of the just Judge who rules all things. (5)Many encouragement has implicated many of those ap- times, after having been appointed to places of au-pointed to places of authority, those entrusted to thority to administer the affairs of trusting friends, administer the affairs of friends, making them having made them partly liable for the shedding of partly responsible for the shedding of innocent innocent blood, they brought about irremediable blood, and has brought about irremediable cala- calamities (6)by the lie of trickery, when they mismities 6by the malicious lie of an evil disposition construe the sincere goodwill of their sovereigns.

of people who misconstrue the sincere goodwill of their sovereigns.

7 "And it is possible to see this not so much

24(7) "And it is possible to see this from the

from the more ancient records as we handed them records that have been handed down to us, and to down, as it is right at your feet, when you examine the extent that we duly see what lies at our feet due things impiously perpetrated by the pestilent be- to the savagery of those that hold power, (8)it is havior of those who hold power unworthily. 8And it possible to look out in the future and to render the is possible to look out hereafter in order that we kingdom quiet for all nations with peace, (9)since may render the kingdom quiet for all people, with we do not utilize slanders but manage the matters peace, 9utilizing changes and always discerning that come to our attention with consideration.

what comes to our attention with a rather consider- 25(10)For as our guest, Haman son of Hamadathos, ate response. 10For whereas Haman son of Hama- the Bougean (who was in truth a stranger to the dathos (a Macedonian who was in truth aa foreign- thinking of the Persians and quite devoid of our er to the blood of the Persiansa and quite devoid of kindness), (11)obtained so fully the goodwill from our kindness), when he was entertained by us as our

us for every nation to such an extent that he was guest, 11obtained the goodwill that we have for publicly proclaimed our Father and was continual-every nation to such an extent that he was publicly ly done obeisance to by all as the second person to proclaimed our Father and was continually done the royal thrones. 26(12)But, unable to restrain his obeisance to by all as the person second to the royal arrogance, he undertook to divest us of our rule throne, 12but being unable to restrain his arrogance, and our breath (13)and by crafty ruses finagled to he made it his business to deprive us of our rule and destroy Mardochoaios, our constant savior, and Esour breath 13and by the crafty deceit of ruses asked ther, his innocent partner, together with their to destroy Mardochoaios, our savior and constant whole nation. (14)For when by these methods he benefactor, and Esther, the innocent companion of had caught us undefended he thought that he our kingdom, together with their whole nation. would bring about an alienation of the rule of the 14For when by these methods he had caught us un-Persians to the Macedonians.

defended he thought that he would transfer the power of the Persians to the Macedonians.

15 “But we find that the Judeans, who were 27(15) “Therefore, we find that the Judeans, consigned to annihilation by this thrice-accursed who were consigned to you by this thrice-accursed man, are not criminals but are governed by most man, are not criminals but are governed by most righteous laws 16and are children of the most high, righteous laws (16)and are even children of the most great, living God, who has directed the kingdom only and true God, who has directed the kingdom dom for us and for our ancestors in the most ex-

for us until now in the most excellent order.

cellent order.

17 “You will therefore do well not to carry out

28(17) “Therefore, do well not to pay attention the letters sent by Haman son of Hamadathos, to the letters previously sent to you by Haman, 18because he who did these things has been cruci-

(18)because he himself who did such things has fied at the gates of Susa with his whole household, been crucified at the gates of Susa, since the Judge since the God who prevails over all things has rec- who always sees all things has recompensed him ompensed him quickly with the deserved judg- with the deserved penalty.

ment.

19 “And byou will do wellb to post a copy of 29(19) “So let a copy of this letter be posted in this letter publicly in every place and to allow the every place, so the Judeans might both live by their

aOr not of Persian descent bLacking in Gk 438

esther E-9

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

Judeans to live in accordance with their own pre- own laws (20)and strengthen them in order that cepts 20and to join in helping them in order that they might defend themselves against those who they might defend themselves against those who attack in a time of oppression. 30And it has been attack in the time of oppression, on the thirteenth decided by the Judeans throughout the kingdom day of the twelfth month, Adar, on that same day. to observe the fourteenth day of the month, which 21For God, who rules over all things, has made this is Adar, and to hold a feast on the fifteenth, (21)be-

day to be a joy for his chosen race instead of a day cause on those days the Almighty has made for of destruction for them.

them deliverance and rejoicing.

22 “Therefore, you also shall celebrate this with all good cheer as a holiday among your commemorative feasts 23so that both now and hereafter it

31(23) “And now hereafter theya rightly spell may be deliverance for us and for the well-dis- deliverance for the Persians but a memorial of deposed Persians, but for those who plot against us, struction for those who plotted against them.

a memorial of destruction.

24 “Every city and country, without exception,

32(24) "Every city and country that does not that does not do according to this by spear and fire do according to this by spear and fire shall be consumed with wrath. It shall be made impassable with wrath. And it shall be stretched out not only impassable for people, but also most horrible - not only impassable for people but also for wild animals and birds for all time.

animals and birds."

8 13 "Now, let the copies be posted conspicuous-

33(14) And a public notice containing these ly in all the kingdom so that all the Judeans be 8

() things was posted also in Susa. And the ready on this day to fight against their adversaries."

king authorized Mardocheios to write whatever he

14 So the horsemen went out in a hurry to per- wished.

34 So Mardocheios sent out letters and formed what the king had commanded, and they sealed them with the king's signet ring, saying that this notice was posted also in Susa.

15 Then Mardocheios went out, wearing the royal robe, with a and celebrate a feast to God. 35 And the letter gold crown and a diadem of purple linen, and which Mardocheios sent contained these things: when the people in Susa saw him they rejoiced.

36 "Haman sent to you letters containing thus,

16For the Judeans there was light and gladness;
'Hasten quickly to send the disobedient nation of 17in every city and country wherever the ordinance the Judeans to me for destruction.' 37But I, Mar-was posted, wherever the proclamation was made, dochaïos, inform you that the one who did this there was gladness and joy among the Judeans, a has been hung at the gates of Susa, and his house-feast and mirth. And many of the nations were cir- hold has been despatched. 38For this one wished cumcised and became Judeans out of fear of the to kill us on the thirteenth of the month that is Judeans.

Adar.' "

39(15) Then Mardoचाïos went out wearing the royal clothing and a diadem of purple linen, 40and when the people in Susa saw him they rejoiced. (16)For the Judeans there was light, drink-Now in the twelfth month, on the thirteenth ing, feasting. 41(17)And many of the Judeans were 9 day of the month that is Adar, the letter writ- circumcised, and no one rose up against them. For ten by the king arrived. 20On that same day the op- they feared them.
ponents of the Judeans perished, for no one resisted, because they feared them. 3For the rulers of the satraps and the tyrants and the royal secretaries

9

(t) 42(3)Now the rulers and the tyrants and he satraps and the royal secretaries es-esteemed the Judeans, for the fear of Mardochoaios teemed the Judeans; for the fear of Mardochoaios weighed upon them. 4For it turned out that the weighed upon them. 43(4)And in Susa it turned out king's ordinance was referred to by name through-that Haman was referred to by name and so were out all the kingdom. 6And in the city of Susa the the opponents throughout the whole kingdom.

Judeans killed five hundred men, 7 including

44(6)In Susa the Judeans killed seven hundred men

Pharsannestain, Delphon, Phasga 8and Phardatha (7)as well as Pharsan and his brother and Pharna and Barea and Sarbacha 9and Marmasim and (8)and Gagaphardatha (9)and Marmasaima and Arouphaios and Arsaaios and Zabouthaios, 10the Izathouth (10)and the ten sons of Haman son of ten sons of Haman son of Hamadathos, a Hamadathos, the Bougean, the enemy of the Bougean, the enemy of the Judeans, and they plun-Judeans, and they plundered all they owned.

dered 11on that same day. The number of those 45(12)And the king said to Esther, "How have your killed in Susa was reported to the king. 12The king people here and in the surrounding countryside said to Esther, "The Judeans have killed in the city fared?" 46(13)And Esther said, "Let it be granted to of Susa five hundred men. In the surrounding the Judeans to destroy and plunder whomever countryside how do you suppose they have fared?

Therefore, what more do you ask? It shall be al.e. the 14th and 15th of Adar

esther 9

439

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

yours.” 13And so Esther said to the king, “Let it be they want.” And he agreed. (16)And they killed sev-granted to the Judeans to do likewise tomorrow so enty thousand one hundred men.

that they may hang the ten sons of Haman.” 14So he thus permitted it to be done and handed over to the Judeans of the city the bodies of Haman’s sons to hang. 15The Judeans in Susa gathered also on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar, and they killed three hundred men, but they did not plunder.

16 Now the rest of the Judeans who were in the kingdom also gathered and defended themselves and gained relief from their adversaries. For they killed fifteen thousand of them on the thirteenth of Adar, but they plundered nothing. 17And they rested on the fourteenth of the same month and celebrated it as a day of rest with joy and gladness.

18But the Judeans in the city of Susa gathered together also on the fourteenth and did not rest.

They celebrated also the fifteenth with joy and gladness. 19Therefore for this reason, the Judeans who are scattered in every land outside celebrate the fourteenth day of Adar as a holiday with gladness, each sending portionsa to those nearby. But those living in the large cities also celebrate the fifteenth of Adar as a joyful holiday, sending portionsa to those nearby.

20 Now Mardochaios recorded these things in 47(20) So Mardochaios recorded these things a book and sent it to the Judeans—as many as were in a book and sent it to the Judeans who were in the kingdom of Artaxerxes, to those near and in the kingdom of Assyeros—both far and near—far, 21to keep these days, the fourteenth and fif- (21)to keep these days for hymns and rejoicing in teenth of Adar— 22for on these days the Judeans the place of pain and grief, the fourteenth and fif-gained relief from their enemies—and the whole teenth. 48(22)And he sent portionsa to the poor, month, which was Adar, in which matters had (27)and they welcomed them. 49(26)Because of this been turned for them from sorrow into joy and these days are called Phouraia, because of the lots from mourning into a holiday, to celebrate it as that fell on these days as a memorial.

days of feasting and gladness, sending portions to their friends and to the poor.

23 So the Judeans accepted just what Mardochoaios had written to them—24 how Haman son of Hamadathos, the Macedonian, had warred against them, inasmuch as he had proclaimed a decision and had cast the lot to destroy them, 25 and how he went in to the king, telling him to hang Mardochoaios, but as much evil as he had devised to bring upon the Judeans came upon him, and he himself and his children were hanged.

26 Because of this, these days are called Phrourai, because of the lots (because in their language they are called Phrourai), because of the words of this letter, and as much as they had suffered because of these things, and as much as had happened to them. 27 He established them, and the Judeans accepted them for themselves and their descendants and all who had joined them and surely not to do otherwise. And these days are a memorial, kept from generation to generation, by city, family and country. 28These days of Phrourai shall be celebrated for all time, and the commemoration of them shall never cease among their generations.

aOr gifts of food bOr hung

aOr gifts of food

440 esther 10-F

OLD GREEK

ALPHA

29 Then Esther the queen daughter of Aminadab, along with Mardocheios, the Judean, wrote what they had done, and the confirmation of the letter about Phourai. 30And Mardocheios and Esther the queen established these things for themselves on their own initiative, then also having established them by their own well-being and counsel. 31And Esther established the matter by ordinance forever, and it was written for a memorial.

10

50(1)

The king recorded during his rule over both

The king recorded the dues of land land and sea 2both his strength and brav-

1

(0) and sea (2)and his strength, both the

ery, both the wealth and the glory of his kingdom; riches and the glory of his kingdom. 51And Mar-note that they have been recorded in the book of dochaios extolled him and wrote in the books of the kings of the Persians and the Medes as a me- the Persians and Medes as a memorial. 52(3)And morial. 3And Mardochaios btook over fromb King

Mardochaios atook over froma King Assyeros, and Artaxerxes, and he was great in the kingdom and he was great in the kingdom and loved by all the extolled by the Judeans. And being loved, he spent Judeans. He led them and bestowed glory on his his life for his whole nation.

whole nation.

F

53

And Mardochaios said, "From God these

And Mardochaios said, "From God these things have come. 2For I remember about the

F

() things have come. 54(2) For he remembered dream that I saw concerning these matters, for not the dream that he saw." And it was fulfilled, and he even a word of them has failed to be fulfilled. said, (3) "The little spring is Esther, (4) and the two 3 There was the little spring that became a river, and dragons are I myself and Haman. (5) The river is the

there was light and sun and abundant water; Es- nations that gathered together to destroy the ther is the river, whom the king married and made Judeans. The sun and light are the revelation of queen. 4 The two dragons are I myself and Haman. God that appeared to the Judeans; this is the judg-5 The nations are those that gathered to destroy the ment. 55(6) And God has done these signs and name of the Judeans. 6 And my nation, this is Isra- wonders, which have not happened among the na-el, who cried out to God and were saved. The Lord tions. (7) And he made two lots, one for the people has saved his people, and the Lord has rescued us of God and one for the nations 56(8) and these two from all these evils, and God has done signs and lots approached the hours at the right time and great wonders that have not happened among the day of the lordship of the everlasting one among nations. 7 For this purpose he made two lots, one all the nations. 57(9) And God remembered his peo- for the people of God and one for all the nations, ple and vindicated b his inheritance. 58 And all the 8 and these two lots came to the hour and the right people cried out in a loud voice and said 'Blessed time and to the day of decision before God, and are you, Lord, who remembers the covenants for all the nations. 9And God remembered his made with our fathers! Amen!’

people and vindicatedc his own inheritance.

10 “And these days in the month of Adar, on 59(10) “And these days in the month of Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth of that same month, on the fourteenth and fifteenth of that same will be observed by them with a gathering and joy month, will be observed by them with a gathering and rejoicing before God, from generation to gen- and joy and gladness before God, from generation eration forever among his people Israel.”

to generation forever among his people Israel.”

11 In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Kleopatra, Dositheos, who said he was a priest and a Leuite, and Ptolemy his son brought the above letter about Phrourai, which they said ex-istedd, and Lysimachus son of Ptolemy, one of those in Ierousalem, translated it.

aGk uncertain bPossibly succeeded cOr made righteous dPossibly was authentic

aPossibly succeeded bOr made righteous

IOUDITH

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of the book of Judith is based on the edition of R. Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum VIII.4: Judith [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1979]). While I have followed Hanhart's critical text for the most part, there are a few instances in which, to my mind, the Greek manuscript evidence commends an alternative reading as representing the earliest form of the Greek text. These departures from Hanhart are duly noted as they arise. In three places (3.8; 4.9; and 6.6), I am convinced that a copying error must have crept into the text early in its history and that consequently the original reading has been obscured; in these passages, emendation was called for without the support of a Greek manuscript. In each case the reading I have followed does enjoy attestation by the Syriac text, which itself represents an early translation of the Greek.

PLACE OF IOUDITH WITHIN NETS

Although the book of Ioudith is demonstrably the translation of a Semitic work, most likely Hebrew, its parent text vanished sometime in late antiquity. Consequently, the present translation cannot serve the synoptic purpose of NETS with the NRSV. I have nevertheless endeavored to provide a translation which is faithful to the principles and aims of NETS.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

One of the aims of the NETS translator is to capture in English the constitutive character of the Septuagintal text. For much of the corpus, this means that the translator must squarely address the fact that the book he or she is rendering is itself a translation. In this respect, the book of loudith is no exception.

From its language one can infer with some measure of confidence not only that the text represents the translation of a Hebrew parent, but that it represents a certain kind of translation, namely, one which has rendered its parent in a relatively metaphrastic fashion; this is to say that within the constraints of grammaticality, the Greek of the translation shows every indication of an isomorphic and quantitative fidelity to the language of its source. Implicit in the verbal texture of any translation is its relationship with another text in another language. In an interlinear translation, this relationship is characterized by a high degree of dependence: the Greek of loudith reads as it does in large measure because the Hebrew of its parent read as it did. The image NETS has adopted to capture this profile is that of interlinearity, the picture of one text following another, word-for-word, line-by-line. What this image conveys is the relative transparency of the Greek translation to the Semitic discourse it renders.

Semantics

Although upon reading loudith one is struck by the peculiar way in which familiar Greek words are used by the translator, it must nevertheless be stressed that idiosyncratic usage is the exception rather than the norm. Yet unconventional usage in loudith needs an explanation. In an interlinear translation the frame of reference within which a given word is deployed has been defined almost entirely by the task of translation itself, i.e., the need to provide lexical equivalents. A given word was chosen by the translator precisely because it was deemed an appropriate rendering of the corresponding word in the parent text.

Its coherence with the larger verbal context of the target language was not a primary consideration, and so it is that we find Greek words which, at first blush, behave more or less like Semitic ones. This does not mean that they have somehow taken on Semitic meanings; on the contrary, it is upon Greek linguistic convention that the translator erects his interlinear edifice. Conventional Greek meanings had to be presumed if the Greek text was to discharge its constitutive function vis-à-vis its parent, i.e., as an extended series of glosses.

Under the paradigm of interlinearity one can identify various approaches to the task of selecting suitable lexical equivalents. Thus, while certain translations within the Septuagintal corpus exhibit a ten-

to the reader of ioudith

dency to stereotypical rendering, where one Greek word is assigned to a Semitic counterpart and then deployed consistently as its equivalent, others will show markedly less reliance on such one-to-one equations. As far as one can tell in the absence of its parent, the book of ioudith can be characterized by its use of numerous Greek words to render a single Hebrew item, hence by semantic differentiation. Consequently, the book boasts a rich vocabulary. Such differentiation should not be seen to imply, however, that the translator's usage is always felicitous. One senses at times that it is not the context that motivates his word choice so much as the principle of variety itself. Furthermore, he tends to negotiate the meaning of the parent text in an atomistic fashion, if not word-by-word then at least phrase-by-phrase. This follows directly from the premise of interlinearity. It gives rise to many isolate renderings, word choices which reflect the translator's understanding of a corresponding Hebrew item but which have been made at the expense of conventional Greek usage. While the translator may thereby offer his reader considerable interpretive purchase on a small unit of the parent text, the price paid is often as not the overall coherence of the Greek prose.

Although I have noted semantic differentiation within the translation, further qualification is needed.

For although the Greek translator employs a large vocabulary, he exhibits a tendency to use his words in accordance with the distribution of their Hebrew counterparts. Greek words are evidently assigned to items in the source language and then deployed according to this equivalency. Put simply, certain Greek words seem to tag along with the Hebrew words they render; this can be inferred from their distribution, which is often distinct from that found in Greek prose of this period. Not surprisingly, there is at times a certain tension between word and context. An example of this is provided by the Greek verb poie/w ("to make"), the core meaning of which pertains to the production of things external to some agent. This verb was evidently assigned to Hebrew h#(, which in very many cases denotes agency without a view to production. The result is that the translator repeatedly deploys poie/w in contexts which, while fully appropriate for the Hebrew item, would have undoubtedly occasioned the use of another verb in compositional Greek.

For certain items the translator relaxes his lexical bravado and chooses to convey the repetitive character of the parent text. While his usage may be consistent with contemporary Greek convention, the frequency with which a given word occurs will often arise directly from Hebrew literary style. So for example the translator's use of the verb e0ce/rxomai ("to go out"), which likely rendered Hebrew )cy. It is a fitting equivalent, and the meaning of the Greek is never strained by its use. At the same time, the persistence with which this word occurs lends the translator's prose an unmistakably Hebraic quality.

It is important to emphasize that on many occasions the translator's choice of vocabulary is altogether apt. His penchant for variety even leads him to draw upon literary usage seldom found elsewhere in the translated corpus. At 14.9, for instance, rather than use eu1frwn ("cheerful") to convey the cheerful response of the people to loudith's account of her triumph, he supplies the much less common form eu0fro/sunoj (see Esth 9.19), which carries poetic associations altogether fitting to the heightened atmosphere of the scene.

The translator's use of the Greek language, while constrained by his translation technique, remains the product of one whose first language was likely to have been Greek. Coming as it does from the hand of one at home in Hellenistic culture, oudith is often best understood against this background. A striking example of this is to be found in oudith's song (16.6) where she makes reference to both the ui9oi tita/nwn and the gi/gantej. While the translator no doubt had a warrant in the parent text for both of these mytho-poetic figures, the My)pr (see Gen 14.5) and the Mylpn (see Gen 6.4) respectively, instead of providing transliterations of the Hebrew names he chose to introduce comparable figures from Greek mythology.

In sum, if we view the work of the translation in terms of the solution of problems posed by the source language, we can speak of the transmission of such solutions from one translator to another.

Syntax

The most obvious syntactical feature of LXX is parataxis. While popular Greek composition of this period tolerated parataxis to a fair degree, the prose of LXX often amounts to a seemingly endless march of clauses beginning with the conjunction kai/ (“and”) followed by the finite verb. While in Hebrew such parataxis reflects the canons of classical composition, the interlinear rendering of these sequences in Greek, on the other hand, is decidedly at variance with the style of any period.

The jarring use of prepositions is also worthy of comment. Again, it is less a question of grammaticality than of convention. A preposition will at times be supplied which, while adequate to the translator’s purpose of representing the structure of the parent text, sits somewhat uneasily within its Greek context.

to the reader of Ioudith

443

In certain instances, it is not the construction itself but its sheer frequency that bespeaks its Semitic origin. One favorite usage of the translator is the so-called telic $\epsilon\iota\theta\jmath$. A legitimate construction in Greek, it involves the construal of the preposition with a nominal item so as to carry the sense of purpose or reference. In the book of Ioudith it was evidently used in certain instances to render Hebrew constructions with ל .

While he is not altogether rigid in his use of translation equivalencies, the translator of Ioudith is fairly consistent in his handling of the syntactical problems posed by the source language. This means that while, on the one hand, a limited range of Greek constructions appears with a certain regularity, others are conspicuous by their absence, as e.g., the genitive absolute. Participles are seldom construed as adverbials (i.e., circumstantials) but most often as adjectivals; conversely, infinitives tend not to be used as out and out substantives. In both cases, therefore, the Greek mimics the Hebrew. By and large, the translator makes minimal use of the resources available in Greek for subordination. The end result of such a selective use of the Greek syntactical repertoire is that the language of the translation reflects a profoundly Hebraic prose style: terse, direct, measured, stately.

Idiom

A particularly telling characteristic of loudith is its literal rendering of Hebrew idiomatic expressions.

Most prevalent are those which trade on a figurative use of the word “face.” Hebrew Mynp occurs in a number of thoroughly conventional prepositional constructions, e.g., ynp l and ynp l(, marking relative spatial position. Here the lexeme Mynp is semantically bleached, as it were, its function predominantly structural. In Greek, however, spatial position is not typically marked by expressions which involve the face (although it can be). Hence, the translator’s tendency to render Mynp by pro/swpon results in a proliferation of phrases that, while adequately conveying the prepositional force of their Hebrew counterparts, nevertheless carry some of the semantic content of the word “face” into the context. This lends the Greek prose a certain naiveté. The important point is that this quality does not arise from stylistic motivation; it is a function of interlinearity.

Fixed phrases abounded in the parent text of loudith, and their literal rendering contributes to the Hebraic tone of the translation. Two notable expressions not current in standard Greek are pa=sa sa/rc (“all flesh” 2.3) and lalh=sai ei0rh/nhn (“speak peace” 15.8). In the Hebrew, the corresponding expressions would have carried the sense “all people” and “to wish well” respectively. But occurring as they do in a Greek text, where they are by no means idiomatic, they cannot be so glossed. Other stock Hebrew phrases transferred to the Greek include: w{n ou0k h]n a0riqmo/j (2.17) “which were without number”; mh=na h9merw~(n3.10) “a month of days”; and ei0j genea]j genew~(n8.32) “to generations of generations.”

At various points in the narrative, characters profess an oath using some variant on the formula zh [tij] . . . o3ti [present indicative verb of the third person] (e.g., 2.12; 11.7; 12.4; 13.16), which, taking a certain amount of liberty with both the Greek and English, might be glossed, “as surely as [x] doth live, so surely will I perform [y].” The idiom is decidedly Hebraic, and, again, a special case of interlinearity.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF IOUDITH

For its Greco-Jewish readership, Ioudith would thus have seemed at once strange and familiar. Strange because it flew in the face of Greek convention, both popular and literary, yet familiar owing to the fact that it took its place within a growing body of Greco-Jewish translation-literature. The challenge for the NETS translator is then both to convey the strangeness and the familiarity of the text, its beauty as well as its clumsiness. To this end, I have distinguished between source-oriented and target-oriented features of the Greek. Quite simply, a target-oriented feature is one consistent with the conventions of Greek prose; a source-oriented feature is one arising from the premise of interlinearity. On the whole I have rendered target-oriented features in idiomatic English, while allowing the source-oriented features of the prose to stand in tension, as indeed they do in the Greek. In this way I endeavor to convey the Semitic feel of the prose, while at the same time capturing its peculiar brand of literary complexity. My approach, however, remains informal; no hard and fast rules are possible here.

Many source-oriented features of the prose of Ioudith are not easily captured in English. In the case of inter-sentential relations, however, it is often possible to achieve the same effect in English fortuitously present in the Greek. And so I have throughout preserved its parataxis, attributable to the method and aims of the translator. Although parataxis is not entirely foreign to Greek prose style, by reproducing it in English I hope to convey the constitutive character of the translation.

It is axiomatic for NETS that translations are produced for a purpose and that the purpose of a translation will be reflected in its text-linguistic make-up. In the case of loudith, almost every verse bespeaks

444

to the reader of ioudith

the mandate of the translator to provide his community with an interlinear text. What we might call the literary style of ioudith is thus to be accounted for on this premise. At the same time, the translator's prose, while not by any stretch of the imagination adhering to contemporary Greek poetics, does carry a certain charm and resonance of its own. The repetition of certain verbal patterns is obviously a reflex from the Hebrew. Yet it is no less effective a literary feature for all that, investing the text with various sorts of verbal complexity. So too, there are times when the language of ioudith echoes that of earlier Greco-Jewish translations. The fact that such intertextuality is often a reflex of shared translation technique does not diminish the added dimension of significance it has to offer the reader.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Not unlike the Greco-Jewish translator of Judith, I have self-consciously undertaken my one word translation within the context of a literary tradition. For English letters, the Authorized Version is a wellspring from which one is well advised to drink deeply. I made a point of returning to its translation of Judith, not so much as a guide to the problems of translation, but rather as a literary departure point. After all, the language of the AV has certain features that invite comparison with the Greek of the Septuagint, not least of all its approximation of Hebrew prose style. Of the relevant secondary literature, I found the textual notes and commentary of Morton S. Enslin and Solomon Zeitlin's The Book of Judith (Leiden: E.J.

Brill, 1972) most useful. All English-speaking scholarship on Judith is in some manner indebted to A. E. Cowley's "The Book of Judith" (in Charles 1:242-267), and in that respect I am no exception.

My greatest debt is that owed to my academic advisor, friend, and mentor, Albert Pietersma. To read a text with any measure of competence is to have served an apprenticeship of sorts, and here I was trained by one of the most able readers of the Septuagint today, whose considerable learning and astute insight have informed my work from start to finish.

CAMERON BOYD-TAYLOR

1 It was the twelfth year of the reign of Nabou- Esdrelom 9 and all those in Samaria and its cities Chodonosor, who ruled over the Assyrians and beyond the Jordan as far as Jerusalem and from Nineue, the great city. It was in the days of Ar- Batane and Chelous and Kades and the wadif of phaxad, who ruled over the Medes from Ecbatana Egypt and Taphnas and Ramesse and all the land 2and who had built walls around Ecbatana from of Gesem, 10until one comes above Tanis and stones hewn to a breadth of three cubitsa and to a Memphis, and all the inhabitants of Egypt, until length of six cubits and made the height of the wall one comes to the frontier of Ethiopia. 11And all the seventy cubits and its breadth fifty cubits 3and inhabitants throughout allg the land had contempt raised up its towers at its gatesb one hundred cubits for the word of Nabouchodonosor, king of the Asand laid out their foundations to a breadth of sixty syrians, and did not join with him for the war, for cubits 4and made its gates, gates rising to a height they did not fear him; rather, in their eyes he was of seventy cubits and their width being forty cubits but one man, and they sent back his messengers for the passage of his armyc of chief men and the empty-handed and shamefaced.

ranks of his foot-soldiers. 5And it was in those days

12 And Nabouchodonosor became violently that King Nabouchodonosor made war against angry at all this land and swore by his throne and King Arphaxad in the Great Plain, that is, the plain by his kingdom that he would punish the entire re-on the frontier of Rhagau. 6And there rallied gion of Cilicia and the Damascene and Syria and againstd him all the inhabitants of the highlands that he would dispatch with his sword all the inand all who dwelt by the Euphrates and the Tigris habitants of the land of Moab and the sons of and the Hydaspes and in the plain of Ariocho, king Ammon and all Judea and all those in Egypt, until of the Elymeans. And a great many nations egath- one comes to the region of the two seas.

ered for the battle of the sons of Cheleoude.

13 And in the seventeenth year, he took the 7 And Nabouchodonosor, king of the Assyr- field of battle before his army against King Arians, had sent to all those who inhabit Persia and phaxad and prevailed in his war. And he turned to all the inhabitants of the west, the inhabitants back the entire army of Arphaxad, all his cavalry of Cilicia and Damascus and Lebanon and Anti- and all his chariots, 14and he seized his cities. And Lebanon and all the inhabitants facing the coast he came as far as Ecbatana and gained possession 8and those among the nations of Carmel and of the towers and looted its streets, and its honor

Galaad and Upper Galilee and the great plain of

he turned to its shame. 15And he overtook Arphaaln the measurement of stone, the cubit was equivalent to about one and a half feet bl.e. the city-gates c armies = Ha dPerhaps to ePerhaps of the sons of Cheleoud gathered for battle f river = Ha gOm = Ha

ioudith 1-3

445

xad in the mountains of Rhagau and struck him aplenty and ever so much gold and silver from the down with his spears and destroyed him aunto that king's household.

daya. 16And he returned with them, he and all his 19 And he set out on the march, he and all his mongrel force, an enormously large body of war- army, to go before King Nabouchodonosor and riors, and he spent one hundred and twenty days cover all the face of the land to the west with their there, he and his army, in idleness and merriment.

chariots and knights and picked infantry. 20Great also was the mongrel troop, which grasshopper-

And in the eighteenth year, on the twenty-sec-

like accompanied them; indeed, they were as the 2 onddayofthefirstmonthb,therewaswordin sandoftheground,fortheywerecountlessowing the household of Nabouchodonosor, king of the to their sheer multitude.

Assyrians, that he would punish all the land, just as 21 And from Nineue they made a three-day he had said. 2And he summoned together all his march toward the face of the plain of Bektileth and attendants and all his nobles and put before them encamped down from Bektileth near the moun-the secret of his purpose. And from his mouth he tain, which is toward the leftf of upper Cilicia.

c

22 recounted every vicec of the land, 3and they de-

And he took all his army, infantry and cavalry, cided to destroy all flesh, all who did not heed the and his chariots and departed from there into the word from his mouth.

highlands. 23And he broke through Phoud and

4 And it came to pass, when he had completed Loud and plundered all the sons of Rassis and the his counsel, Nabouchodonosor, king of the Assyr- sons of Ismael, those facing the wilderness toward ians, called for Olophernes, the field marshal of the south of Cheleon. 24And he went along the Eu-his army, being second in command after him, and phrates and through Mesopotamia and razed all said to him: 5“This is what the Great King, Lord of the high cities along the wadi Abron until one all the earth, says: Behold, you shall go forth from comes to the sea. 25And he seized the region of Ci-my presence, and you shall take with you men who licia and cut down all those who resisted him, and rely on their strength, as many as one hundred and he went as far as the frontier of Iapheth, which is twenty thousand infantry and a troop of horse toward the southwest facing Arabia. 26And he en-with twelve thousand riders. 6And you shall go circled all the sons of Madiam and set alight their forth to meet all the land to the west, for they dis- coverts and plundered their sheepfolds. 27And he obeyed the word of my mouth, 7and you shall in- went down to the plain of Damascus in the days of struct them to make ready dearth and waterd, for in the wheat harvestg and set all their fields ablaze, my fury I will come upon them and cover all the and he handed over their flocks and herds for de-face of the land with the feet of my army and hand struction and stripped their cities and ravaged their them over for their plunder. 8And their slain shall plains, and he struck down with the sword's edge fill their ravines, and every ewadi and river over- all their young men.

flowinge shall be filled with their dead. 9And I will 28 And upon those inhabiting the coast, those lead them captive to the ends of all the earth. in Sidon and in Tyre and those inhabiting Sour 10Now when you go forth, you shall occupy in adand Okina and all those inhabiting lemnaan, there vance all their territory for me, and they shall sur- fell a fear and dread of him, and those inhabiting render themselves to you, and you shall watch Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

them closely for me until the day of their censure.

11As for those who refuse to comply, your eye shall

And they sent envoys to him with a suit for not spare to hand them over for slaughter and 3 peace, saying: 2"Behold, we the servants of plunder in each of your lands. 12For as I live, and Nabouchodonosor the Great King are at your dison the might of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I posal; treat us as is pleasing in your sight. 3Be-will accomplish these things by my hand. 13You hold, our dwellings and all our buildings and too shall not transgress even one of the words of every plain of wheat and the flocks and the herds your lord; rather, when you carry them out, you are and all the sheepfolds of our tents are at your disposal; carry them out just as I have ordered you and possess them; treat them as it pleases you. 4 Behold, so too do not put off their doing."

our cities and their inhabitants are your slaves;

14 And Olophernes set out from the presence when you come, meet them as is good in your eyes of his lord and summoned all the lords and the scribes."

generals and commanders of the army of Assur,

5 And the men arrived before Olophernes and 15 and he numbered chosen men for battle, just as reported to him according to these very words.

his lord had commanded him, as many as one 6 And he descended upon the coast, he and his hundred and twenty thousand and twelve thousand army, and garrisoned the high cities and conscripted sand mounted archers, 16 and he formed them up and selected men for an auxiliary. 7 And they and all in the way troops are drawn up for war. 17 And he their environs received him with garlands and took for their baggage camels and donkeys and dances and tambourines. 8 And he razed all their mules, a vastly large number, and for their provisions temples and cut down their sacred groves. Indeed, sheep and cattle and goats, which were counted he had been appointed to root out all the gods less, 18 and for every man a store of provisions of the land, that every nation and every tongue

a.l.e. to this day b.l.e. March/April c. Perhaps recounted all the vice, i.e. concluded the affliction d.l.e. tokens of submission e wadis, and the river overflowing = Ha fl.e. Heb = north gl.e. early summer h the territory = Ha 446

ioudith 3-5

should serve Nabouchodonosor and him alone and all those who attend the Lord, priests and and that their every tribe should invoke him as a ministers of the Lord, their waists girt with sack-god.

cloth, offered the perpetuall whole burnt offering

9 And he went along the face of Esdrelom near and the vows and the voluntary gifts of the people.

Dotaia, which is opposite the great ridge of Judea, 15And there were ashes upon their turbans, and 10and he encamped between Gaibai and Scyth-with all their might they were calling upon the opolis and spent a month of days there in order to Lord to look after the entire house of Israel for assemble all the baggage of his army.

good.

4 And all the sons of Israel who inhabit Judea

And it was reported to Olophernes, field mar-heard everything that Olophernes, field mar-

5 shalofthearmyofAssour,thatthesonsoflsshal of Nabouchodonosor, king of the Assyrians, rael had prepared for war and that they had had done to the nationsa and in what manner he blocked the highland passages and fortified all the had stripped all their sacred precincts and handed summits of the high mountains and had set traps them over for destruction. 2And they became most in the plains. 2And he grew violently angry with exceedingly frightened by his visage and distressed rage and summoned all the rulers of Moab and the for Ierousalem and the shrine of the Lord their generals of Ammon and all the satrapsg of the God, 3for they had recently come up out of captiv- coast 3and said to them: "Now tell me, sons of ity, and all the people of Judea had just now been Chanaan, who is this people seated in the high-united, and the vessels and the altar and the lands, and what cities do they inhabit, and what is houseb purified of their desecration. 4And they the number of their army, and in what does their sent to all the territory of Samaria and to Kona and power and strength lie, and who has arisen over Baithoron and Belmain and Iericho and to Choba them as king, leading their army, 4and why have and Haisora and to the valley of Salem, 5and they they, of all the inhabitants of the west, disdained occupied in advance all the summits of the high to come and meet me?"

mountains and fortified the villages in them, and 5 And Achior, leader of all the sons of Ammon, they set aside stores for military provisions, for said to him: "Only suffer my lord to hear a word their plains had just recently been harvested.

from the mouth of your slave, and I will tell you

6 And Ioakeim the great priestc, who at that the truth concerning this people who inhabit these time was in Ierousalem, wrote to those inhabiting highlands next to where you are residing, and no Baityloua and to Baitomesthaim, which is over falsehood shall be forthcoming from the mouth of against Esdrelom facing the plain near Dothaim, your slave. 6These people are descendants of the 7bidding them hold the ascents of the hill country, Chaldeans. 7And in former times they sojourned since the entrance to Judea was through them, and in Mesopotamia, for they had no wish to follow it was easy to hinder those climbing up, the ap- the gods of their fathers, who were in the land of proach being narrow, wide enough for at most two the Chaldeans. 8And they had departed from the men.

ways of their forebears and did obeisance to the 8 And the sons of Israel did as loakeim the God of Heaven, ha god they had come to acknowl-great priest instructed them—and the senate of all edgeh, and their forebears had driven them from the people of Israel, who were seated in le- the sight of their gods, and they had fled into Mes-rousaalem. 9And every man of Israel cried out most opotamia and sojourned there for many days.

ardently to God and humbled their spirits with 9And their God told them to go forth from their fastingd. 10About their waists they wrapped sack- sojourning and to go into the land of Chanaan, cloth, they and their women and their infants and and they settled there and abounded in gold and their cattle and all the resident aliens and laborers silver and in exceedingly many cattle. 10And they and their bought slaves. 11And every man and descended into Egypt, for famine covered the face woman and child of Israel living in Ierousalem of the land of Chanaan, and they sojourned there threw themselves down facing the shrine and until they throvei. And there they grew to a very emade ashen their headse and spread out their large number, and their race was countless. 11And sackcloth in front of the Lord. 12And they draped the king of Egypt outwitted them, and theyj be-the altar with sackcloth, and with one accord they fooled them; with clayk and brick they abased ardently called upon the God of Israel not to hand them and reduced them to slaves. 12And they cried over their infants for plunder and the women for out to their God, and he struck all the land of pillage and their ancestral cities to oblivion and Egypt with plagues, from which there was no cure, their holy precincts to desecration and mocking and the Egyptians drove them from their presence.

humiliation amongst the nations.

13And their God dried up the Red Sea before them

13 And the Lord listened to their cry and be- 14and led them toward the way of Sina and Kades held their distress. And for rather many days the Barne. And they drove out all the inhabitants of people throughout all Judea and Ierousalem con- the wilderness 15and dwelt in the land of the tinued fasting in front of the holy precincts of the Amorrites, and with their strength they destroyed omnipotent Lord. 14And loakeim the great priest all the Hesebonites. And when they crossed the al.e. foreign nations bl.e. temple cl.e. High Priest d most ardently = Ha el.e. cast ashes upon their heads fl.e. daily gl.e. governors hPossibly the god they knew iPerhaps as long as they were sustained jl.e. the Egyptians k toil = Ha ioudith 5-7

447

Jordan they inherited all the highlands 16and

5 "But you, Achior, mercenary of Ammon, who drove from their sight the Chananite and the have spoken these words in the day of your injus-Pherezite and the lebousite and Sychem and all tice, from this day forth you shall not see my face the Gergesites, and they inhabited them for many again until I punish the race of those out of Egypt.

days.

6And when I return, the blade of my army and the

17 “And as long as they did not sin in the sight spearsd of my attendants shall then thrust through of their God, good fortune was with them, for with your sides, and you shall fall amongst their them is a God who hates injustice. 18But when wounded. 7And now my slaves shall restore you to they revolted from the way which he had decreed the highlands and place you in one of the cities of for them, they were completely and utterly de- the ascents, 8and you shall not perish until such stroyed in numerous wars and taken captive into a time as you are utterly destroyed with them. 9And land not their own, and the shrine of their God if you are hoping in your heart that they will not was razed to the ground, and their cities were con- be taken, don’t let your face drop; I have spoken, quered by their enemies. 19And now, having and none of my words will fail.”

turned back to their God, they have come up out

10 And Olophernes ordered his slaves, who of the dispersion, there where they were dispersed were standing by in his tent, to seize Achior and re-and have occupied Ierousalem, where their holy store him to Baityloua and to give him into the precinct is, and have settled in the highlands, for hands of the sons of Israel. 11And his slaves seized they were deserted.

him and led him outside of the camp into the 20 “And now, O lord and master, if there is in plain, and they made their way from the middle of fact negligence amongst this people, and they are the flatlands into the high country and arrived at sinning against their God, we will also mark this the springs, which were beneath Baityloua. 12And offense which is amongst them, and we will go up when the men of the city saw them in quest of the and make war on them. 21But if there is no law- mountain’s summit, they took up their arms and lessness in their nation, then let my lord pass them went off outside the city to the mountain’s sum-by, rather than have their Lord and their God mit, and every man armed with a sling checked shield them. And we shall be disgraced before all their ascent and kept pelting them with rocks.

the earth!”

13And having slipped away beneath the mountain,

22 And it came to pass, when Achior had fin- they bound Achior and left him flung against the ished speaking these words, that all the people en- foot of the mountain and were gone to their lord.

circling the tent and standing around muttered,

14 The sons of Israel, coming down from their

and the nobles of Olophernes and all those inhab- city, approached him, and upon releasing him, iting the coast and Moab demanded that he be they led him off to Baityloua and presented him to thrashed: 23“For we will not flee from the sons of the rulers of their city, 15who in those days were Israel, for behold, they are a people in whom there Ozias, Micha’s son from the tribe of Symeon, and is neither the power nor the strength for a hard bat- Chabris, Gothoniel's son, and Charmis son of tle; 24surely then we will go up, and they shall be Melchiel. 16And they summoned together all the fodder for all your army, Master Olophernes."

elders of the city, and all their youth and the women rushed together for the assembly, and they

And when the uproar of the men around the stood Achior in the middle of all their people, and 6 council had ceased, Olophernes, field marshal Ozias questioned him as to what had happened.

17 of the army of Assour, said to Achior and to all the

And in reply he reported the words of the coun-sons of Moab before the entire commons of allo- cil of Olophernes to them, and all that he had said phyles:

before the rulers of the sons of Assour, every word,

2 "And who are you, Achior and the mercenar- and all that Olophernes had boasted regarding the ies of Ephraim, to prophesy amongst us as you house of Israel. 18And throwing themselves down, have done today and to tell us not to wage war the people did obeisance to God and cried out, against the race of Israel, because their God will saying:

shield them? And who is god if not Nabou-

19 "Lord, God of Heaven, behold their arro-chodonosor? This very one will dispatch his might gance, and have pity on the lowliness of our race, and wipe them from the face of the earth. And and look this day upon the face of those who are their God will not rescue them, 3but we hisa slaves dedicated to you.”

shall strike them down as a single person, and they

20 And they sent for Achior and commended will not withstand the might of our horses, 4for him heartily, 21and Ozias took him along from the with them we shall incinerateb them. And their assembly to his house and gave a drinking bout for mountains will be drenched with their blood, and the elders, and all that night they called upon the their plains filled with their dead, and not a trace God of Israel for help.

of their feet will stand in our way, but they will perish amidst the devastation, says King Nabou-

Now on the following day, Olophernes gave chodonosor, lord of all the earth, for he has spo- 7 orders to all his army and his entire people, kenc; the words of his declaration will not be in who were at hand for his alliance, to move off vain.

against Baityloua and to occupy in advance the as-al.e. of Nabouchodonosor b wash away = Ha cPossibly he has said that d people = Ha 448

ioudith 7-8

cents of the highlands and to make war on the highlands opposite Dothaim. And they sent from sons of Israel. 2And every chief man of their num- among them to the bsouth and eastb opposite ber moved off that day, and their army of warriors Egrel, which is near Chous, which is on the Wadi was one hundred and seventy thousand infantry Mochmour. And the remainder of the Assyrian and twelve thousand cavalry, not to mention the army encamped in the plain and covered all the baggage and the men who were on foot with them, face of the land, and their tents and baggage were a vastly large number. 3And they encamped at the in a great mass, and they amounted to a vastly spring in the ravine near Baityloua and stretched large number.

out to a breadth over Dothaim as far as Belbaim

19 And the sons of Israel cried out to the Lord and to a length from Baityloua as far as Bean-field, their God, for their spirit was fainthearted, for all which is opposite Esdrelom.

their enemies encircled thema, and there was no

4 Now when they saw their number, the sons escape from their midst. 20And the entire assem-of Israel were greatly alarmed, and each man said blage of Assour, the infantry and the chariots and to the one next to him: "These ones will now lick the horsemen of them, remained round about up the face of all the land, and neither the high them for thirty-four days. And all their vessels of mountains nor the ravines nor the hills will with- water failed all the inhabitants of Baityloua, 21and stand their weight." 5And each man, taking up the cisterns were emptied out, and they were un- their battle gear and lighting fires upon their tow- able to drink their fill of water for a single day, for they remained on guard all that night.

they were giving them to drink in measure. 22And

6 On the second day, Olophernes led out all their infants lost heart, and the women and the his horse to face the sons of Israel, who were in young men failed from thirst, and they were falling Baityloua, 7and he surveyed the ascents of their in the streets of the city and in the passages of the city, and he inspected theira springs of water and gates, and there was no longer strength in them.

occupied them in advance and stationed detach-

23 And all the people had been gathered to ments of warriors near them, and he himself de- Ozias and the rulers of the city, the young men and parted for his people.

the women and the children, and they cried with a

8 And all thea rulers of the sons of Esau and all loud voice and said before all the elders: 24“May the leaders of the people of Moab and the generals God judge between you and us, for you have done of the coast, approaching him, said: 9“Do but let in our presence a great injustice not speaking our master hear a word, that there be no fracture peaceably with the sons of Assour. 25And now within your army; 10for this people of the sons of there is no helper for us, but God has sold us into Israel do not rely upon their spears but upon the their hands, to be laid low before them with thirst heights of the mountains, wherein they themselves and great destruction. 26And now, call upon them dwell, for it is not easy to ascend the summits of and surrender the whole city to the people of Olo-their mountains. 11And now, O Master, do not wage phernes and to all his army for pillage. 27For it is war against them as a military force is wont to do in better for us to become their plunder, for we shall regular battle, and not a single man of your people become slaves, and our spirit will live, and we shall will fall. 12Remain at your camp, preserving every not see the death of our infants with our eyes, and man of your army, and let your servants hold the our women and children quitting their spirits.

spring of water, which issues forth from the foot of 28Against you we call to witness heaven and earth the mountain, 13for all those who inhabit Baity- and our God and thea Lord of our fathers, who loua draw their water from there, and the thirst will punishes us according to our transgressions and kill them, and they will surrender their city. And we according to the transgressions of our fathers, lest and our people shall climb up to the neighboring hef act according to these words on this very day.”

summits of the mountains and encamp upon them

29 And in the midst of their assembly, a loud

for an advanced guard, that not a single man set out wailing arose with one accord from everyone, and from the city. 14And they will waste away in their they cried out to the Lord God with a loud voice.

famine, they and their women and their children, 30And Ozias said to them: “Take courage, brothers, and before the sword comes upon them they will let us hold out five days yet, within which our Lord be laid out in the streets of their dwelling place. God will turn his mercy towards us, for he will not 15And you will pay them back a painful repayment, forsake us completely, 31but if they should pass because they broke out in rebellion and did not and help not come upon us, I shall do according to meet your face in peace.”

your words.”

16 And their words were pleasing in the eyes of 32 And he dispersed the people aeach onea to

Olophernes and in the eyes of all his attendants, his detachment, and they went off to the walls and and he instructed them to do just as they had said. the towers of their city, and they sent the women 17And the detachment of the sons of Ammon de-and children to their homes, and in the city they parted, and with them five thousand of the sons of were in a very low state.

Assour, and they encamped in the valley and occu-

ped in advance the waters and the springs of water

And in those days loudith heard, the daughter of the sons of Israel. 18And the sons of Esau and 8 of Merari son of Ox son of Ioseph son of Oziel sons of Ammon went up and encamped in the son of Helkia son of Hananias son of Gedeon son aOm = Ha bl.e. southeast cl.e. God

ioudith 8

449

of Raphain son of Akitho son of Elias son of like a son of man. 17For this reason, while we are Chelkias son of Eliab son of Nathanael son of awaiting deliverance from him, let us call upon Salamiel son of Sarasadai son of Israel. 2And her him for our rescue, and if it please him, he will lis-husband was Manasses of her tribe and of her clan. ten to our cry.

And he had died in the days of the barley harvesta;

18 “For there has not appeared among our gen-

3for he had been in charge of the ones binding erations, nor is there in this day, either a tribe or a sheaves in the plain, and the burning heat had clan or a district or a city from among us, who do been upon his head, and he had fallen upon his obeisance to handmade gods, as happened in forbed and come to an end in Baityloua his city, and mer days, 19on account of which our fathers were they had buried him with his fathers in the field handed over for the sword and for plunder and which is between Dothaim and Balamon. 4And suffered a great fall before our enemies. 20We how-loudith had lived in her house as a widow for three ever have known no other God except him, for years and four months. 5And she had made herself which reason we hope that he will not disregard us a tent upon the roof of her house and placed sack- nor any of our race. 21For in the event that we be cloth about her waist, and upon her were the gar- taken, also all Judea will fall, and our holy ments of her widowhood. 6And she had been fast- precincts will be plundered, and he will require its ingb all the days of her widowhood, apart from desecration by our bloodg, 22and among the na-pre-sabbaths and sabbaths and pre-new moons tions he will bring upon our head the murder of and new moons and feasts and rejoicings of the our brothers and the captivity of the land and the house of Israel. 7And she was beautiful in appearance waste of our inheritance, where, if there we be enance and quite lovely to see. And Manasses her slaved, we shall also become an offense and a dis-husband had left her gold and silver and male and grace before our owners. 23For our bondage will female servants and cattle and fields, and she re- not be directed to favor, but rather the Lord, our mained over them. 8And there was no one who God, will reckon it for dishonor.

brought a malicious word against her, for she 24 "And now, brothers, let us prove to our feared God exceedingly.

brothers that their life hangs upon us and that the 9 And she heard the malicious words of the holy precincts and the house and the altar rest people against the ruler, because they were faint- upon us. 25On account of all these things, let us hearted due to the lack of water, and loudith heard give thanks to the Lord, our God, who tries us, just all the words which Ozias had said to them, how as our fathers also. 26Remember all that he accom-he swore to them that after five days he would give plished with Abraam and how much he tried Isaak the city over to the Assyrians. 10And sending her fa- and all that happened to Iakob in Mesopotamia of vorite slave, the one in charge of all her posses- Syria, while he was tending the sheep of Laban his sions, she summonedc Chabris and Charmis, the mother's brother. 27For just as he did not try them elders of her city, 11and they came to her, and she by fire for a test of their heart, he also has not pun-said to them: ished us, but the Lord whips those who draw near

“Now listen to me, rulers of the inhabitants of to him for a warning.”

Baityloua, for your word, which you have spoken

28 And Ozias said to her: “Everything, all that in the presence of the people in this day, is not you have said, you have spoken with a true heart, right, and you have placed this oath, which you and there is no one who will oppose your words; have spoken between God and you and have said 29for your wisdom is evident not just today, but all that unless the Lord turn his assistance to youd the people have known of your sagacity from the be-within theme, you will hand over the city to our ginning of your days, because what is shaped by enemies. 12And who now are you, you who on this your heart is good. 30But the people thirst exceed-very day have tried God, and stand for God’s be- ingly, and they have compelled us to act in accor-half amongst the sons of men? 13And now you dance with what we said to them and have urged an question the omnipotent Lord, and you will never oath upon us, which we will not transgress. 31And know anything at all. 14For you will not fathom now, plead for us, for you are a pious woman, and the depth of man’s heart, nor will you encompass the Lord will send rain for the filling of our cisterns, the matter of his thought. How indeed will you and we shall not fail yet.”

seek out God, who made all these things? How 32 And loudith said to them: “Listen to me, will you come to discern his mind, and how will and I will accomplish a deed which shall reach you understand his reasoning? On no account, generations of generations amongst sons of our brothers, are you to continue provoking the Lord, race. 33Stand upon the gate this night, and I will our God, to anger. 15For unless he be willing to set forth with my favorite slave, and within the come to our aid within the five days, he has the days after which you said you would surrender the power, within the course of the days he wishes, ei- city to our enemies, the Lord will look after Israel ther to shield or destroy us before the eyes of our by my hand, 34but you shall not inquire after my enemies. 16As for you, do not hold to account the deed, for I will not tell you until the things which purposes of the Lord, our God, for God is not to be I shall do are accomplished.” 35And Ozias said to threatened like a man, nor is he to be put upon her and the rulers: “Go in peace, and the Lord God al.e. prior to the wheat harvest, hence in April/May b fasted = Ha c + Ozias and = Ha d us = Ha el.e. the aforementioned five day period fPerhaps instead of God g mouth = Ha

450

ioudith 8-10

before you for the vengeance of our enemies.” and the summit of Sion and the house of your 36And turning away from the tent, they went to sons’ possession. 14And damong every nation and their posts.

every tribed bring about the knowledge to realize that you are God, God of all power and strength,

Now Judith fell face down, and she placed and that there is no one other than you shielding

9 ashes upon her head and stripped off the

the race of Israel.”

sackcloth that she wore, and just then in Jerou-

salem the incense for that evening was being car-

And it came to pass, when she had ceased

ried into the house of God, and with a loud voice 10 crying out to the God of Israel and had Judith cried out to the Lord and said:

ished all these words, 2 and she rose from falling

2 “O Lord, God of my father Simeon, to whom and summoned her favorite slave and went down you gave a sword in hand for vengeance on aliens, into the house, wherein she remained in the days the ones who ravaged the virgin’s vulva for defile- of the sabbaths and in her feasts, 3 and removed ment and stripped naked the thigh for shame and the sackcloth which she wore and stripped off the polluted the vulva for disgrace, for you said: ‘It clothing of her widowhood, and she washed her-shall not be thus,’ and they did; 3 therefore you self, all around the body, with water and anointed handed over their rulers for slaughter, and their herself with thick ointment and fixed the hair of bed which, deceived, felt ashamed at their deceit, her head and placed a turban upon it and put on for blood, and you struck down slaves with lords the clothing of her merriment with which she was and lords upon their thrones, 4and you handed accustomed to dress in the days of the life of her over their wives for pillage and their daughters for husband Manasses, 4and she took sandals for her captivity and all their spoils for division among feet and put on the anklets and the bracelets and the sons loved by you, who also were zealous in the rings and the earrings and her every ornament, zeal for you and detested the defilement of their and she made herself up provocatively for the blood and called upon you as helper. O God, my charming of the eyes of men, all who would cast God, also listen to me, the widow.

eyes upon her. 5And she gave her favorite slave a

5 “For you accomplished the things previous skin of wine and cruse of oil, and she filled a bag and those at hand and those thereafter and at pres- with barley meal and fig cake and pure bread, and ent, and those of the future you contemplated, and she packed all her vessels and placed them upon what you conceived of came to pass, 6and what her.

you had resolved stood by and said: ‘Behold, we

6 And they set forth for the gate of the city of are here.’ For all your ways are prepared, and your Baityloua, and they found Ozias standing at it and judgment is with foreknowledge.

the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis; 7now

7 “For behold, the Assyrians were increased in when they saw her and her face was altered and her their power; they were exalted by horse and rider; dress changed, they were then completely and ut-they took pride in the arm of infantry; they put terly astounded by her beauty and said to her: their hope in shield and javelin and bow and sling 8“May the God of our fathers ggive you as a favorg, and did not realize that you are the Lord who and may you accomplish your mission, for the crushes wars; 8the Lord is your name. Dash down pride of the sons of Israel and the exaltation of le-their might with your power, and bring down their rousalem.” And sheh did obeisance to God.

strength with your fury, for they have resolved to 9 And she said to them: “Give orders to open pollute your holy precincts, to defile the covert of the gate of the city for me, and I shall go forth for the resting place of the name of your glory, to the accomplishment of the words which you have strike down with the blade the horn of your altar. spoken to me.” And they instructed the young men 9Look upon their arrogance; dispatch your anger to open it for her as she said. 10And so they did.

for their heads; place in the hand of me, the And loudith set forth, she and her slave girl with widow, the strength that I have contemplated. 10By her. The men of the city continued watching her the lips of my deceitb strike down the slave with until she went down the mountain, until she the ruler and the ruler with his attendant; shatter passed through the ravine and they no longer saw their stature by the hand of a female.

her.

11 “For your strength is not in numbers, nor is 11 And they continued going straight ahead in your dominance in those who are fit, but you are a the ravine, and the advance guard of the Assyrians God of the lowly; you are the helper of the inferi- met her. 12And they seized her and asked: "Of or, the supporter of the weak, the shelterer of the whomi are you, and where do you come from, and desperate, the savior of the hopeless. 12Yes, yes, where are you going?" And she said: "I am a God of my father and God of the inheritance of Is- daughter of the Hebrews, and I am running away rael, master of the heavens and earth, creator of the from their presence, for they are about to be hand-waters, king of all your creation, hear you my en- ed over to you for fodder, 13and I am entering into treaty, 13and grant cmy word and deceitc for their the presence of Olophernes field marshal of your wound and welt, who have resolved hard things force in order to relate words of truth, and before against your covenant and your hallowed house his presence I will point out the path on which he al.e. incense offering bl.e. by the deceit of my lips cl.e. my deceitful word d to your entire nation and all the tribes = Ha eOm = Ha f put in order = Ha gl.e. make you a cause for gratitude h they = Ha il.e. which nation

ioudith 10-11

451

shall go and seize all the highlands, and of his men of every soul; not only willb people beb subject to not a single body or breath of life shall be lost."

him on account of you, but also through your

14 Now when the men heard her words and strength the beasts of the field and the cattle and considered her face, and before them it was won- the birds of the sky will live for Nabouchodonosor derful beyond measure in beauty, they also said to and all his house. 8For we have heard tell of your her: 15“Hastening to come down to face our lord, wisdom and of the cunning ways of your spirit, you have saved your life. And now, approach his and it has been reported before all the land that in tent, and some of us will escort you until they pass all the kingdom you alone are noble and pre-emi-you into his hands. 16Now if you should stand be- nent in experience and prodigious in the cam-fore him, do not be afraid in your heart, but rather paings of war.

report according to your words, and he will treat

9 “And now, as for the word which Achior you well.”

spoke in your council, we have heard his words,

17 And they chose a hundred men from among for the men of Baityloua saved him, and he re-them and set them alongside her and her favorite ported to them everything that he had said before slave, and they led them to the tent of Olophernes. you. 10For which reason, O lord and master, do 18And a surging throng arose in all the encamp-not disregard his word but rather lay it up in your ment, for her arrival in the coverts was the talk of heart, for it is true, for he does not punish our race, all, and they came and were wheeling around her, nor does a sword prevail against them, unless they while she stood outside the tent of Olophernes, sin against their God.

until they brought news to him concerning her.

11 “And now, lest my lord be spent and idle,

19 And they remained awestruck by her beauty, and death will also fall upon their face, and transgres-in awe of the sons of Israel on account of her, and sion has overcome them by which they will pro-each said to the one near him: "Who will despise voke their God to anger, at such time as they are this people, who keep such women to themselves? guilty of deviance. 12 When their foodstuffs had For it is not good that a single man be left surviv- failed them and all water become scarce, they re-ing from their number, who upon their release will solved to set upon their livestock, and they elected be able to outwit all the earth."

to use up everything, all that God in his laws en-

20 And they came out, those who slept beside joined them not to eat. 13 And the first fruits of Olophernes, and all his attendants, and they led grain and the tithes of wine and of oil, which they her into the tent. 21 And Olophernes was resting on preserved, consecrating them for the priests who his bed in the mosquito netting, which was of pur- stand in the presence of our God in Ierousalem, plea and gold and emerald and costly stones inter- which it is not proper for any of the common peo-woven. 22 And they reported to him concerning ple to touch with their hands, they have decided to her, and he came out to the anteroom, and silver consume entirely. 14 And to Ierousalem, for there torches were leading his way. 23 Now when loudith too the inhabitants did these things, they have sent came before the face of him and of his attendants, envoys cto conveyc dispensation to them from the they were all awestruck by the beauty of her face, senate. 15 And it shall be that as soon as they report and falling face forward, she did obeisance to him, to them and they go ahead, they will be given to and his slaves raised her up.

you for destruction in that day.

16 “Therefore, having witnessed all these

And Olophernes said to her: "Take courage things, I your slave ran away from their presence,

11 woman; do not be afraid in your heart, for I and God sent me to accomplish with you deeds that have not hurt any person who has chosen to be which all the earth will be amazed, all who hear subject to the king of all the earth, Nabou- them. 17 For your slave is devout and serving the chodonosor. 2 And now, as for your people who in- God of heaven night and day, and now I shall re-habit the highlands, if they had not shown me main with you, my lord, and your slave will set contempt, I would not have taken up my spear forth into the ravine each night, and I shall pray to against them, but they have done these things to God, and he will tell me when they have commit-themselves. 3 And now, tell me why you ran away ted their transgressions. 18 And when I come I shall from them and came to us, for you have come to bring backd to you, and you will march forth with safety. Be of courage; you shall live in this night all your army, and there is not one of them who and the future; 4 for there is no one who will harm will withstand you. 19 And I shall lead you through you, but rather will treat you well, as is done with the midst of Judea until you come before Ierou-the slaves of my lord, King Nabouchodonosor."

salem, and I shall set your seat in its midst, and

5 And loudith said to him: "Accept the words you will lead them as sheep for whom there is no of your slave, and let your girl speak to your face, shepherd, and no dog will grumble against you and I will not report falsehood to my lord in this with his tongue, for these things were spoken to night. 6 And should you follow the words of your me according to my foreknowledge, and they were girl, God will see the matter through with you en-related to me, and I was sent to announcee them to tirely, and my lord will not fail in his mission. 7For you.”

Nabouchodonosor, king of all the earth, lives, and 20 And her words were pleasing before Olo-

his might lives, he who sent you for the correction phernes and before all his attendants, and they al.e. purple cloth b are c who conveyed = Ha dl.e. the news e relate = Ha

452

ioudith 11-13

were awestruck by her wisdom and said: 21“In deed am I to speak against my lord? For I shall beauty of face and sagacity of words there is not hurry and do everything which will be pleasing in such a woman from one end of the earth to the his eyes, and this will be a joy to me until the day other.” 22And Olophernes said to her: “God did of my death.” 15And standing up, she was fur-well sending you before the people, that might nished with raiment and every feminine adorn-should be in our hands, but destruction amongst ment. And her slave girl approached and on the those who showed contempt to my lord. 23And ground before Olophernes spread out the fleece now, you are charming in your appearance and vir- for her, which theyg had taken from Bagoas for her tuous in your words, for, if you do as you have daily use so that she might eat reclining upon it.

said, your God shall be my God, and you shall be

16 And loudith entered and reclined, and Oloseated in the house of King Nabouchodonosor, phernes' heart was beside itself for her, and his and you shall be famous more than the entire spirit reeled, and he was filled with a violent lust to earth."

lie with her. And he had been watching for a time to seduce her from the day he saw her. 17And Olo-

And he ordered to lead her in to where his phernes said to her: "Now drink, and be merry

12 silverservicewasbeingset,andheinstruct- with us." 18And loudith said: "I shall drink now, ed ato spread for her some of his finest foods and myh lord, for today my life has been exalted with-some of his wine to drink. 2And loudith said: "I in me ibeyond all the days of my birthi." 19And she shall not eat from them, lest there be offense, but took, and she ate and drank before him what her it will be supplied from the things which have ac- slave had prepared. 20And Olophernes was de-companied me." 3And Olophernes said to her: lighted by her and drank a vast amount of wine, "But should the things being with you fail, from more than he had ever before drunk in a single day where shall we produce things like them to give from the time he was born.

you? For there is none from your race with us."

4And loudith said to him: "Your spirit lives, my

Now when it was evening, his slaves were lord, that your slave will not exhaust the things I am eager to depart. And Bagoas shut the tent with me until the lord has accomplished by my hand from the outside and dismissed the attendants hand what he has resolved.”

from the presence of his lord, and they departed

5 And the attendants of Olophernes led her for their beds, for they were all tired, as the drink into the tent. And she slept until it was the middle of the night and the watch had lasted so long. Loudith was left of the night and arose toward the morning watch, alone in the tent—and Olophernes, having collapsed upon his bed, for the wine had overcome now give the order to permit your slave to set forth him.

for prayer.” 7 And Olophernes ordered the body-

3 And Loudith had told her slave girl to stand guards not to hinder her. And she remained in the outside of her bedchamber and watch out for her camp for three days, and she went out each night for her prayer, just as each day, for she said she would go into the ravine of Baityloua and bathed at the spring of water. 8 And when she came up, she told Bagoas according to these words. 4 And everyone would plead the Lord, God of Israel, to direct her departed from sight, and no one was left behind in path for the grandeur of the sons of his people. the bedchamber from small to great, and standing 9 And entering clean, she would remain in the tent by his bed, Loudith said within her heart: “Lord, until she took her food toward evening.

God of all power, in this hour look upon the works

10 And it came to pass, Olophernes gave a of my hands for the exaltation of Ierousalem; 5for drinking bout on the fourth day for his slaves now is the time to defend your inheritance and to alone and did not summon toe the invitation any accomplish my mission for the wreck of the ene-of those engaged in duties. 11And he said to mies who rose up against us.”

Bagoas, the eunuch who was in charge of all his

6 And approaching the bedpost that was near things: “Go now, and persuade the Hebrew Olophernes’ head, she took down his scimitar woman who is with you to come to us and eat and from it, 7and drawing near to the bed she took drink with us. 12For behold, if we allow such a hold of the hair of his head and said: “Strengthen woman to pass by without having intercourse with me, Lord, God of Israel, in this day.” 8And she her, it will be a source of shame for our face, for if struck at his neck twice with her strength and took we fail to gain this one, she will mock us.”

his head from him. 9And she rolled his body from 13 And Bagoas set forth from the presence of the mattress and took the mosquito netting from Olophernes, and he went in to her and said: “Do the posts. And she set forth shortly afterward and not let this beautiful girl hesitate now to come to handed the head of Olophernes over to her fa-my lord and be honored before his presence and vorite slave, 10and she threw it into her bag of pro-fto drinkf wine with us for merriment and to be-visions.

come in this day like a daughter of the sons of

And the two went forth together as was their

Assour, who attend in the house of Nabou- custom for prayer, and passing through the camp chodonosor.” 14And loudith said to him: “Who in-they circled that ravine and climbed the mountain a that some of his finest foods be spread for her = Ha bl.e. I assure you that c + in the camp = Ha d her = Ha el.e. by f you shall drink = Ha g she = Ha hOm = Ha il.e. since my birth jl.e. Olophernes' bedchamber

ioudith 13-15

453

of Baityloua and came to its gates. 11And from afar territory of Israel. 5But before doing these things, loudith said to the guards on the gates: “Open, summon Achior the Ammanite to me so that see-open the gate immediately! God, our God, is with ing he might identify the one who despised the us to rouse again strength in Israel and power house of Israel and sent him to us, as unto death.”

against the enemies, just as also he did today.”

6 And they summoned Achior from the house

12 And it came to pass, when the men of her of Ozias, but when he came and saw the head of city heard her voice, they were eager to get down to Olophernes in the hand of one man in the assem-the gate of their city and called together the elders bly of the people, he fell face down, and his of the city. 13And they all ran together, from the breathing failed. 7When they had revived him, he small to the great for it was remarkable to them fell at the feet of loudith and did obeisance to her that she had come, and they opened the gate and face and said: "You are praised in every covert of welcomed them, and lighting a fire for light they loudas and in every nation; whosoever hears your formed a circle about them. 14She then said to name will be distressed. 8And now, report to me them in a loud voice: "Praise God, give praise! all that you have done in these days."

Praise God, who did not withdraw his mercy from

And loudith related everything to him in the

the house of Israel, but who in this night shattered midst of the people, all that she had done from the our enemies through my hand."

day on which she had gone forth until she was 15 And producing the head from the bag, she speaking to them. 9Now when she had stopped displayed it and said to them: "Behold, the head of speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice Olophernes, field marshal of the army of Assour, and gave a rousing cry in their city. 10Now seeing and behold, the mosquito netting in which he was everything, all that the God of Israel had accom-lying in his drunkenness, and the Lord struck him plished, Achior came to believe utterly in God and by the hand of a female. 16And the Lord lives, who had the flesh of his foreskin circumcised, and he preserved me in my way in which I went, thata my has been added to the house of Israel until this face deceived him for his destruction and that he day.

caused no transgression with me for defilement

11 Now when the dawn rose, then they hung and shame.”

the head of Olophernes from the wall, and every

17 And all the people were utterly amazed, and man took up his arms and went forth by groups to bending forwards they did obeisance to God and the mountain passes. 12 Now the sons of Assour, said with one accord: “Blessed are you, our God when they saw them, sent off for their leaders; they who in this very day showed contempt for the en- went to the generals and officers of thousands and emies of your people.”

to their every ruler. 13 And they came to the tent of 18 And Ozias said to her: “Blessed are you, Olophernes and said to the one who was in charge daughter, to God Most High, above all women of all his things: “Awaken our lord immediately, upon the earth, and blessed is the Lord God, who for the slaves have dared to come down upon us created heaven and earth, who guided you for a for battle, so that they might be completely and ut-wound to the head of our enemies’ commander; terly destroyed.”

19 for your hope will never desert the hearts of peo-

14 And Bagoas went in and knocked on the

ple who remember divine strength. 20 And may curtain of the tent, for he supposed him to be God do these things to you as a perpetual exalta- sleeping with loudith. 15 But when no one paid tion, so to visit you with blessings, since you did heed, he drew them apart and went into the bed-not spare your life on account of the lowliness of chamber and found him thrown dead upon the our race but proceeded against our fallen state trav- footstool, and his head had been severed from eling straight before our God.” And all the people him. 16And he cried out in a loud voice with wailsaid: "So be it, so be it!"

ing and groaning and with a mighty cry, and he tore his clothes. 17And he went into the tent,

And loudith said to them: "Now hear me, where loudith was staying, and he did not find her,

14 brothers, and take this head, and hang it and he leaped out to the people and shouted: 18

upon the battlement of your wall. 2And it shall be,

"The slaves have broken faith; one woman of the

when daybreak dawns and the sun sets forth over Hebrews has brought about disgrace for the house the land, you are to take up your battle gear, each of King Nabouchodonosor, for behold, Olo-one of you, and march forth out of the city, every phernes is on the ground, and his head is not upon able man, and you shall set a leader over them, for him."

going down to the plain to the advance guard of 19 Now when the rulers of the army of Assour the sons of Assour. And you shall not go down. heard these words, they tore their tunics, and their 3And taking up their armor theyb will go into their spirit was extremely distressed, and there arose camp and rouse the generals of the army of Assour, from them screaming and an extremely loud cry in and they will run together to the tent of Olo- the midst of the camp.

phernes and will not find him, and fear will fall upon them, and they will flee from your presence.

And when those who were in their coverts

4And taking pursuit you are to lay them low in 15 heard, they were shocked at what had haptheir path, you and all the inhabitants of the entire pened, 2and fear and trembling fell upon them, al.e. I swear that bl.e. the Assyrian sentries 454

ioudith 15-16

and there was not a person still remaining to face

Adapt a tune and a song of praise for him;

his neighbor, but rushing out they a proceeded to exalt and invoke his name.

fleea with one accord for every path of the plain and 2

For the Lord is a God who crushes wars;

the highlands, 3and those encamped in the high-for into his camps, in the midst of the lands around Baityloua alsob turned to flight. And

people,

then the sons of Israel, every warrior of them, he plucked me from the hand of those in rushed upon them. 4And to Baitomasthaim and pursuit of me.

Bebaib and Chobai and Kola and to all the territo- 3 Assour came out of the mountains from the ry of Israel Ozias dispatched ones carrying reports north;

about the things which had unfolded, and in order
he came in the myriads of his army, that all should rush against the enemies for their
of whom their multitude clogged wadis annihilation. 5Now when the sons of Israel heard, and their horse covered hills.

they all with one accord fell upon them and beat 4

He said he would set my territory ablaze them back as far as Choba. And just as those from and dispatch my young men with the Jerusalem were present, so too were those from all sword

the highlands, for they had reported to them what and put my sucklings to the ground had happened to the camp of their enemies. And and hand my infants over for pillage those in Galaad and those in Galilee outflanked and plunder my young women.

them in a great defeat, until they came to Damascus and its territory. 6But the remaining inhabitants 5

The omnipotent Lord set them aside of Baityloua fell upon the camp of Assour, and they

with the hand of a female.

looted them and became enormously rich. 7Now 6

For their mighty one did not capitulate to when they returned from the slaughter, the sons of young men,

Israel seized the rest, and the villages and hamlets nor did sons of the Titans strike him, in the highlands and the plain laid hold of much nor did towering Giants set upon him, plunder, for there was an enormously large mass.

but loudith the daughter of Merari 8 And loakeim the great priest and the senate of undid him with the beauty of her face.
the sons of Israel, those residing in Ierousalem, came in order to view the good things which the 7
For she stripped off the dress of her Lord had accomplished for Israel and to see loudith widowhood

and to speak peace with her. 9 Now when they came for the eminence of those who are weary to her, they all blessed her with one accord, and in Israel.

they said to her: "You are the exaltation of Jerou-

She daubed her face with an anointing, salem; you are the great pride of Israel; you are the 8 and she put up her hair in a turban, great boast of our race. 10 You accomplished all and she took a linen stole for the these things by your hand; you accomplished good seduction of him.

things with Israel, and God was pleased on account 9

Her sandal caught his eye, of them. Be blessed before the omnipotent Lord for and her beauty captivated his soul;

all time." And all the people said: "So be it."

the scimitar passed through his throat.

11 And all the people looted the camp for 10

The Persians shuddered at her daring, thirty days, and they gave Judith the tent of

and the Medes were alarmed at her

Olophernes and all the silver service and the boldness.

couches and the basins and all his furniture, and she took and placed them upon her mule, and she 11

Then my lowly ones raised the war cry, hitched her carts and heaped them upon them.

and my weak ones shouted. And they

12 And every woman of Israel rushed together were terrified;

so as to see her, and they blessed her, and some of

they raised their cry and turned to flight.

them performed a choral dance for her, and she 12

Sons of girls pierced them through took weapons in her hands and gave them to the

and, like children of deserters, continued women who were with her. 13 And they crowned to wound them.

themselves with olive, she and those with her, and

They vanished from the battle line of my

she went before all the people leading all the Lordf.

women in dancing, and every man of Israel, vested in armor, was following along with crowns, and 13

I will sing to my God a new hymn:

they were singing hymns with their mouth.

O Lord, you are great and glorious,

14 And loudith began this confession in the prodigious in strength, unsurpassable.

midst of all Israel, and all the people were singing 14

Let your entire creation be subject to you;

out this praise.

for you spoke, and they came into being.

And loudith said:

You sent your spirit, and it built them up,

16 AddressmyGodwithtambourines; and there is no one who will withstand singing to the Lord with cymbals.

your voice.

a fled = Ha bOm = Ha cMade of olive branches wreathed with ivy d my = Ha ePerhaps distressed f + God = Ha

Judith 16

455

15

For the mountains will be shaken from their

Judith dedicated all the baggage of Olophernes, foundations together with the all that the people had given her, and the mosqui-

waters,
to netting, which she herself had taken from his while the rocks will melt away like wax bedroom, she gave to God as a dedication. 20And from your presence.

the people continued celebrating in Ierousalem in But yeta to those who fear you, front of the holy precincts for three months, and you will be most gracious to them.
loudith remained there with them.

16

For every offering is a little thing for an odor 21 After these days each returned to his inheriof fragrance,
tance, and loudith departed for Baityloua and reand all suet is insignificant for a whole mained there on her property, and in her time she burnt offering to you,

was renowned in all the land. 22And many desired

but the one fearing the Lord is great forever.

her, and no man knew her in all the days of her life since the day Manasses her husband had died

17

Woe to the nations who plot against my and was added to his people. 23And she kept in-race;

creasing in stature, and she grew old in the house

the omnipotent Lord will punish them in of her husband, one hundred and five years. And the day of judgment,

she set free her favorite slave. And she died in to send fire and worms for their flesh,

Baityloua, and they buried her in the cave of her and they will wail in full consciousness husband Manasses, 24and the house of Israel

forever.

mourned her for seven days. And before she died she divided her possessions among all the nearest

18 When they came into Jerusalem, they did of Manasses her husband and the nearest of her obedience to God, and when the people were purified, they offered up their whole burnt offerings the sons of Israel in the days of Judith and for and their voluntary offerings and the gifts. 19And many days after she had died.

a for = Hab. 1.1. had sexual relations with her

TOBIT

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXTS

The present translations have been based on the critical edition of Robert Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum VIII.5: Tobit [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1983]). In my translations I have differed from the readings in Hanhart's edition in only a few cases (and only in GII [see below]) and have adopted another reading on the basis of Greek manuscript evidence. See, for example, 1.2, where I omit Hanhart's reading "road" (ο9dou=), because Codex Sinaiticus does not contain it. In 2.6, I retain "ways"(ο9doi/), the reading of Sinaiticus; Hanhart (following the conjecture of Rahlfs and Fritzsche) adopts the reading "songs" (w)|dai/) and refers to Amos 8.10. In 6.11, I follow MS 319, a reading supported also in 4QpapTobitb,1 "he has a beautiful (kalh/) daughter whose name is Sarra"; Hanhart omits "beautiful."

THE TWO GREEK VERSIONS

Attestation

There are two complete versions of the book of Tobit in Greek. Robert Hanhart, the editor, calls these versions Greek I (= GI), the shorter text form, and Greek II (= GII), the longer form (by about 1700 words). Almost all major manuscripts—Vaticanus, Alexandrinus, Venetus, Papyrus Oxyrhynchus 15942

(= Ra[h]fs] 990) and most cursive manuscripts—contain GI of Tobit, which Hanhart prints at the top of the page of his Göttingen edition with its apparatus underneath.

Unfortunately, GII is found relatively intact only in Codex Sinaiticus and partially (from 3.6 to the word tou/tou in 6.16) in cursive manuscript 319, which, however, gives GI from 1.1 to 3.5 and from 6.16 ο3ti to 14.15. Sinaiticus contains many copyist's errors and has two significant lacunae (4.7-18 and 13.7-9). A tiny portion of GII is preserved also in sixth-century Papyrus Oxyrhynchus 10763 (= Ra[h]fs] 910), containing 2.2-5, 8. Hanhart prints GII at the bottom of the page with an apparatus, which includes readings from 319 and 910 as well as the critically important Old Latin manuscripts (= La). The Old Latin, which contains the entire book of Tobit, is important, for it was translated from a text-form very close to the version found in Sinaiticus.

Priority

Curiously, in the introduction to his critical edition, Hanhart notes in passing that up to his day the question of the priority between GI and GII could not be answered with certainty.⁴ In his later study of the text and textual history of Tobit, however, Hanhart is more nuanced; while noting that a case could be made for the priority of either GI or GII, he favors the judgment that GI is a reworking of GII.⁵ Since earlier scholars up to the nineteenth-century preferred GI to GII, the King James Version (1611) and Revised Standard Version (1957) were translated from GI. In the opinion of the vast majority of scholars today, however, GII with its highly Semitic coloring represents more accurately the original form of the book. In fact, the Cave IV fragmentary texts of Tobit from Qumran (four in Aramaic, 4QToba-d ar, and one in Hebrew, 4QTobe) “agree in general with the long version of the book found in the fourth-century Greek text of Codex Sinaiticus.”⁶

1 See Joseph A. Fitzmyer, “Tobit,” in Qumran Cave 4 • XIV Parabiblical Texts Part 2 (Magen Broshi, et al., eds.; DJD XIX; Oxford: Clarendon, 1995) 44, line 17.

2 B. P. Grenfeld and A. S. Hunt, eds., The Oxyrhynchus Papyri: Part VIII (London: Egypt Exploration Society, 1911) 13.1-6.

3 Ibid., 6-9.

4 Hanhart, Tobit, 33.

5 Robert Hanhart, Text und Textgeschichte des Buches Tobit (Abhandlungen der Akademie der Wissenschaften in Göttingen, 3/139; MSU 17; Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1984) 21-37.

6 Fitzmyer, "Tobit," 2. Fitzmyer ("The Aramaic and Hebrew Fragments of Tobit from Qumran Cave 4," CBQ 57 [1995]

675) writes that the Qumran fragments preserve "perhaps not more than a fifth of the original Semitic texts," and then he adds that "there is little in [these fragments] that is radically new, or different from the form of the story in either [Sinaiticus] or the VL." He dates (Ibid., 655-657) the copies of these fragments from roughly 100 BCE to CE 50.

to the reader of tobit

457

Thus, the priority of GII seems beyond question. Accordingly, the most recent translations of Tobit are based on GII: Jerusalem Bible (1966), New American Bible (1970), New English Bible (1970), Good News Bible, also known as Today's English Version (1979), New Jerusalem Bible (1985), Revised English Bible (1989), New Revised Standard Version (1989), and the translation by Carey A. Moore in the Anchor Bible.⁷ Oddly enough, however, despite the evidence of Qumran, Paul Deselaers⁸ and Heinrich Gross⁹ continue to defend the priority of GI over GII.

Internal evidence also favors GII as the basis of GI; see, for example, 2.3 where one would be hard put to imagine how the fourteen Greek words of GI ("And he came and said, 'Father, one of our race has been strangled and thrown into the marketplace.' ") could possibly have been the source of the thirty-nine Greek words found in GII ("So Tobias went to seek some poor person of our kindred. And on his return he said, 'Father!' And I said, 'Here I am, my child.' Then in reply he said, 'Father, behold, one of our people has been murdered and thrown into the marketplace and now lies strangled there.' "). One can readily see how the translator of GI has condensed the narrative and the dialogue between Tobias and Tobit.

In contrast, GII provides the expected Semitic narrative framework as well as the back and forth dialogue of son and father.

A more dramatic example is 5.10 where GI has only eight Greek words: "Then he called him, and he went in, and they greeted each other." It is extremely unlikely that these eight words could have been the origin of the 149 words in GII in which in detailed (typically biblical) fashion Tobit tells the angel Raphael (in disguise as a relative, Azarias) the anguish he experiences because of his blindness and the need he has for a reliable guide to accompany his son Tobias into Media: “Then Tobias went out and called him and said to him, ‘Young man, your father is calling you.’ So he went in to him, and Tobith greeted him first. And he said to him, ‘Many joyful greetings to you!’ But in reply Tobith said to him, ‘What is there for me still to be joyful about? Now I am a man with no power in my eyes, and I do not see the light of heaven, but I lie in darkness like the dead who no longer look at the light. Living, I am among the dead. I hear the voice of people, but I do not see them.’ So he said to him, ‘Take courage; the time is near for God to heal you; take courage.’ Then Tobith said to him, ‘Tobias my son wishes to go into Media. Can you go along with him and lead him? And I will give to you your wages, brother.’ And he said to him, ‘I can go with him; indeed, I know all the roads. Also I went into Media many times, and I crossed all its plains, and I know its mountains and all its roads.’ ”

A close examination of chapter 9 in GI and GII provides further convincing evidence that the former is condensed from the latter. The text of GI, which omits many narrative elements, fails to convey the drama and tension found in the much more detailed form of the story in GII.

By reading the translations of GI and GII synoptically, the reader will see many other instances where GI condenses GII or omits the GII repetitions that are a hallmark of biblical narrative. Perhaps the translator of GI was writing for a more sophisticated Greek-speaking audience for whom the Semitic-type repetitions and extended dialogues could seem otiose or stylistically less elegant.

A Third Version

A third version exists in cursive manuscripts 106-107 (= d) that Hanhart calls Greek III (= GIII); it preserves the text of only 6.9-12.22. Hanhart describes GIII as a secondary text-form fundamentally related to GII;¹⁰ accordingly, he includes its variants in the apparatus of GII. It should be noted that 106-107 give the GI form of the text from 1.1 to 6.8 and again from 13.1 to 14.15.

APPROACH TO THE GREEK TEXT

Synoptic Rendering

In accord with the general principles of NETS concerning books that have two Greek forms, I have rendered the exact synoptic parallels between the two versions of Tobit in the same way. These synoptic parallels within their contexts provide a further opportunity for the reader to see how G1 was indeed based upon GII and not the other way around. In any case, I hope that the reader will be able to follow more easily, with the aid of my translations, the two Greek forms of the book as we now have them. Since these 7 Carey A. Moore, Tobit: A New Translation and Commentary (AB 40A; New York: Doubleday, 1996).

8 Paul Deselaers, Das Buch Tobit: Studien zu seiner Entstehung, Komposition und Theologie (OBO 43; Freiburg: Universitätsverlag, 1982). See the critical review of Deselaers by Irene Nowell, CBQ 46 (1984) 306-307.

9 Heinrich Gross, Tobit. Judith (Die Neue Echter Bibel: Kommentar zum Alten Testament mit der Einheitsübersetzung 19; Würzburg: Echter Verlag, 1987).

10 Hanhart, Tobit, 33.

to the reader of tobit

Greek forms are themselves translations of a Semitic original, in my translations I have attempted to reproduce in English the flavor of these two Greek forms.

Recent Translations

The recent translations of the book of Tobit are based, as I mentioned above, on GII, and these make a serious effort to reconstruct or correct the defective text of Sinaiticus on the basis of Greek witnesses, whenever possible, and also on the basis of the critically essential Old Latin witnesses. See, for example, the critical footnotes the translators of Tobit supplied in the New Revised Standard Version, and especially the extensive critical notes I provided for my translation of Tobit in the New American Bible.¹¹ The forthcoming revision of Tobit in the New American Bible, revised edition, by Joseph A. Fitzmyer who, as noted above, edited the Qumran fragments of Tobit, also will contain readings from these fragments.

The NETS Translations of Tobit

My translation of GII, however, is different from any of these other translations. What I give is a translation of GII alone, warts and all. In those places where Codex Sinaiticus has lacunae, as noted above, Hanhart does not supply a text, but only an apparatus. These lacunae, therefore, are represented also in my translation; to see what essentially would have been in these lacunae the reader should look to the translation of GI. In rare cases when a passage of GII is awkward, I render it into English without attempting to improve on the Greek. In 11.11-13, for instance, I give the following translation: "Then he lay the medicine on him, and ait workeda. And he scaled it off with both his hands from the corners of his eyes." Note a then states: "Gk uncertain." Thus, readers can see for themselves what the Greek text says. I followed the same procedure in my translation of GI.

If the translation of a Greek expression needs clarification, I have appended a note. The translation of 1.2 in GII, for example, states, "Thisbe which is to the righta of Kydios . . . above Asserb to the west, leftc of Phogor." My note a reads: "Aram/Heb = south," and note c reads "Aram/Heb = north."

The Names of the Protagonist(s)

In the Qumran Aramaic and Hebrew fragments the father's name appears as ybw+, a Hebrew name meaning "my good," but this form is clearly an abbreviation of the son's name hybw+, a Hebrew name meaning "Yah[weh] is my good,"¹² which recurs also in Ezra 2.60; Neh 2.10, 19; 3.35; 4.1; 6.1, 12, 14, 17, 19; 7.62; 13.4, 7, 8. The father's name in the Greek forms of the book is spelled in different ways: Twbi/t in GI and Twbi/q (twenty-two times) in GII; the final consonant in each of these forms was added to the final vowel of the Greek transliteration to make the name indeclinable.¹³ In GII a second form, Twbi/j, is found eight times and is inflected: nominative (11.10; 12.4), dative Twbei/ (7.2) and accusative Twbi/n (3.17; 7.4; 9.6; 10.8; 11.18). The son's name recurs as Twbi/aj in GI as well as in GII, a name that also can be inflected; this Greek name represents the transliteration of Hebrew hybw+. In the LXX of Ezra 2.60 and most of the Nehemiah texts, the name occurs as indeclinable Twbi/a. But in Neh 3.35; 6.12, 19, the name is given as Twbi/aj while in 6.17 the name occurs in the first of two instances in the accusative case.

ALEXANDER A. DI LELLA

11 Textual Notes on the New American Bible (Paterson, NJ: St. Anthony's Guild, 1970) 366-369.

12 See Moore, Tobit, 99-100.

13 Similar cases are the personal name Sirach, a transliteration of Hebrew)rys (Sir 50.27), and the place name 0Akeldama/x, a transliteration of Aramaic)md lqx (Acts 1.19).

tobit 1

459

GII

GI

1 ThebookofthewordsofTobithsonofTobiel

The book of the words of Tobit son of Tobiel

son of Hananiel son of Adouel son of Gabael

1 son of Hananiel son of Adouel son of Gabael son of Raphael son of Ragouel of the descendants of the descendants of Asiel, of the tribe of Neph-of Asiel, of the tribe of Nephthaleim, 2who in the thaleim, 2who was taken into captivity in the days days of Enemessaros, the king of the Assyrians, was of Enemessaros, the king of Assyrians, from Thisbe taken into captivity from Thisbe which is to the which is to the righta of Kydios Nephthaleim in righta of Kydios Nephthaleim in Upper Galilee, Galilee above Aser.

above Asserb to the west, leftc of Phogor.

3 I, Tobith, walked in the ways of truth and in

3 I, Tobit, walked in the ways of truth and righrighteous acts all the days of my life, and I per- teousness all the days of my life, and I performed formed many acts of charity for my kindred and many acts of charity for my kindred and people my people who had gone with me in exile into the who had accompanied me into the land of the As-land of the Assyrians, into Nineue. 4And when I syrians, into Nineue. 4And when I was in my own was in my own country, in the land of Israel, and country, in the land of Israel, while I was a young when I was young, all the tribe of Nephthaleim my man, all the tribe of Nephthaleim my ancestor ancestor withdrew from the house of David my withdrew from the house of Hierosolyma, which ancestor and from Ierousalem, the city chosen had been chosen from all the tribes of Israel for all from all the tribes of Israel to offer sacrifice for all the tribes to offer sacrifice, and the shrine of the the tribes of Israel, and the shrine of God's covert Most High's covert had been consecrated and es-had been consecrated and established in it for all tablished for all the generations of the age.

the generations of the age.

5 All my kindred and the house of Neph-

5 And all the tribes that had joined in apostasy thaleim my ancestor sacrificed to the calf which and the house of Nephthaleim my ancestor of-Ierobeam, the king of Israel, had made in Dan on fered sacrifice to Baal the heifer. 6But I alone went all the mountains of Galilee. 6But I all alone went often into Hierosolyma for the feasts, as it is writ-frequently into Hierosolyma for the feasts, as it is ten for all Israel in an everlasting ordinance, taking written in all Israel in an everlasting ordinance. the first fruits and the tithes of the produce and the Taking the first fruits and the first products and the first shearings. 7And I gave these to the priests, the tithes of the cattle and the first shearings of the sons of Aaron, at the altar. I gave the tenth of all sheep, I would hurry off to Hierosolyma. 7And I the produce to the sons of Leui who ministered in gave these to the priests, the sons of Aaron, at the Ierousalem, and the second tenth I sold and went altar, and the tenth of the grain and the wine and and spent these things in Hierosolyma each year.

olive oil and pomegranates and the figs and the 8And I gave the third tenth to those to whom it rest of the fruits to the sons of Leui who ministered was my duty, as Debbora, my father's mother, had in Ierousalem. Also I tithed the second tenth in silcommanded me, for I was left an orphan by my faver for six years and would go and spend these ther. 9And when I became a man, I took Hanna as things in Ierousalem each year. 8And I gave these wife, one of our own family, and by her I became things to the orphans and the widows and guests the father of Tobias.

who had attached themselves to the sons of Israel.

I brought and gave these things to them in the third year, and we would eat them according to the decree that had been decreed concerning them in the law of Moyses and according to the commands which Debbora, the mother of Hananiel our father, had commanded, for my father had left me an orphan and died. 9And when I became a man, I took a wife, one of our own family, and by her I became the father of a son, and I called his name Tobias.

10 After I was taken captive to the Assyrians and 10 Now when I was taken captive into Nineue, when I was taken captive, I went into Nineue. And all of my kindred and race ate the bread of the na-all of my kindred and my race ate the food of the tions, 11but I kept myself from eating it, 12because nations, 11but I kept myself from eating the bread of I was mindful of God with my whole soul. 13Then the nations. 12And when I was mindful of my God the Most High gave me favor and good standing with my whole soul, 13the Most High gave me favor with Enemessaros, and I was his buyer of provi-and good standing with Enemessaros, and I bought sions. 14So I went into Media, and I placed in trust everything he needed. 14So I would go into Media ten talents of silver with Gabaelos, the brother of and buy for him there until he died. And I placed in Gabrias, at Rhaga in Media. 15But when Enemes-trust bags of silver, ten talents worth, with Gabaelos saros died, Sennachereim his son became king in the brother of Gabri in the country of Media. 15But his place, and his roads became unstable, and I could no longer go into Media.

aAram/Heb = south b + the road = Ha cAram/Heb =

north

aAram/Heb = south

460

tobit 1-2

GII

GI

when Enemassar died and Sennachereim his son became king in his place, then the roads to Media became unfit, and I could no longer go into Media.

16 In the days of Enemessaros I performed

16 Now in the days of Enemessaros I permany acts of charity for my kindred, those of my formed many acts of charity for my kindred. 17I race. 17I would give my bread to the hungry and would give my bread to the hungry and clothing to clothing to the naked, and if I saw anyone of my the naked, and if I saw anyone of my race dead and people dead and cast out behind the wall of cast out behind the wall of Nineue, I would bury Nineue, I would bury him. 18And if Sennachereim him. 18And if Sennachereim the king killed any-killed anyone, when he came fleeing from Judea in one, when he came fleeing from Judea, I buried the days of judgment which the king of heaven ex- them by stealth. For he killed many in his anger.

ecuted upon him because of the blasphemies And the bodies were sought by the king, but they which he blasphemed, I buried him. For in his were not found. 19But one of the people of Nineue anger he killed many of the sons of Israel, but I went and informed the king about me, that I bury would steal their bodies and bury them. And Sen- them; so I hid myself. But discovering that I was nachereim sought them, but he could not find being sought out to be put to death, I fled in fear.

them. 19Then a certain one of the people of 20Then all my belongings were seized, and nothing Nineue went and informed the king about me, was left to me except Hanna my wife and Tobias that I bury them; so I hid myself. But when I dis- my son.

covered that the king knew about me and that I was being sought out to be put to death, I was afraid and ran away. 20Then everything that belonged to me was seized, and nothing was left to me that was not taken into the royal treasury, except Hanna my wife and Tobias my son.

21 But forty days did not pass before two of his

21 But fifty days did not pass before two of his sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. Then Sacherdonos his son became king of Ararat. Then Sacherdonos his son became king after him. And he appointed Achicharos son of in place of him. And he appointed Achiacharos Hanael my brother over all the accounts of his son of Hanael my brother over all the accounts of kingdom, and he had authority over all the ad- his kingdom and over all the administration.

ministration. 22Then Achicharos interceded for 22And Achiacharos interceded for me, and I came me, and I returned into Nineue. For Achicharos into Nineue. Now Achiacharos was cupbearer and was chief cupbearer and keeper of the signet and in keeper of the signet and in charge of administra-charge of administration and accounts under Sen- tion and accounts, and Sacherdonos appointed nachereim, the king of the Assyrians, and Sacher- him second to himself. Now he was my nephew.

donos appointed him second to himself. Now he was my nephew and from my kinsfolk.

2 Then during the reign of King Sarchedonos I

When I returned home and Hanna my wife returned home, and my wife Hanna and To-

2 and Tobias my son were given back to me at bias my son were given back to me. And at our the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of weeks, seven weeks, there was a good dinner for me, and there was a good dinner for me, and I reclined to I reclined to eat. 2And I saw many foods, so I said have dinner. 2And the table was set for me, and to my son, "Go, and bring whatever poor person many fine foods were set before me. Then I said to

of our kindred you may find who is mindful of the

Tobias my son, "My child, go, and bring whatever Lord, and behold, I shall wait for you." 3And he poor person of our kindred you may find among came and said, "Father, one of our race has been the Nineuite exiles, who is mindful with his whole strangled and thrown into the marketplace!" 4So heart, and he will eat together with me. And see, I before I tasted anything, I sprang up and removed shall wait for you, my child, until you come." 3So him to a certain chamber until the sun set. 5And Tobias went to seek some poor person of our kin- returning, I washed myself and ate my bread in dred. And on his return he said, "Father!" And I sorrow. 6Then I remembered the prophecy of said, "Here I am, my child." Then in reply he said, Amos, when he said, "Father, behold, one of our people has been murdered and thrown into the marketplace and now lies strangled there." 4So I sprang up, left the dinner before even tasting it and removed him from the square and put him into one of the rooms until the sun set and I would bury him. 5So re- turning, I washed myself and ate the bread with

tobit 2-3

GII

GI

mourning. 6Then I remembered the saying of the prophet, those things that Amos spoke against Baithel, saying,

“Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,

“Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your waysa into lamentation.”

and all your merriments into lamentation.”

And I wept.

And I wept.

7 And when the sun had set, I went and dug a

7 And when the sun had set I went and dug a grave and buried him. 8And my neighbors were grave and buried him. 8And the neighbors were laughing in scorn, saying, “Is he still not afraid? For laughing, saying, “He is no longer afraid to be

he was already sought out to be murdered for this murdered for this thing. And he ran away, and be-thing, and he ran away. And again, behold, he is hold, he is again burying the dead!" 9Then on the burying the dead!" 9Then the same night I washed same night I returned from the burial, and, be-myself and went into my courtyard and slept by the cause I was defiled, I slept by the wall of the court-wall of the courtyard, and my face was uncovered yard, and my face was uncovered. 10I did not know because of the heat. 10And I did not know that that there were sparrows in the wall, and since my there were sparrows in the wall above me, and their eyes were open the sparrows dropped their warm warm excrement settled into my eyes and brought excrement into my eyes, and white films came into about white films. So I went to the physicians to be my eyes. So I went to physicians, but they did not healed, but the more they anointed me with the help me. Achiacharos, however, supported me medicines so much the more were my eyes blinded until he went to Elymais.

by the white films until I became completely blind.

And I was powerless with my eyes four years. Now all my kindred grieved for me, but Achiacharos supported me two years before he went to Elymais.

11 And at that time Hanna my wife earned

11 And my wife Hanna earned money in money in women's works. 12Then she would send women's things. 12Then she would send what she what she made to their owners, and they would made to the owners. And they in turn gave her the give her the wages. Now, on the seventh of Dystros, wages, giving in addition also a kid. 13But when it she cut off a piece of weaving and sent it to the came toward me, it began to bleat. So I said to her, owners, and they gave her all the wages and also "Where is the kid from? It is not stolen, is it? Give gave her for the family a kid from the goats. 13And it back to the owners, for it is not lawful to eat when it came in toward me, the kid began to bleat. what is stolen." 14But she said, "It was given to me So I called her and said, "Where is this kid from? It as a gift in addition to the wages." But I did not be-is not stolen, is it? Give it back to its owners, for we lieve her and told her to give it back to the owners.

have no authority to eat anything stolen." 14But And I blushed in anger against her. She, however, she said to me, "It was given to me as a gift in ad- said to me in reply, “Where are your acts of charity to the wages.” But I did not believe her and thy and your righteous deeds? Behold, all things are told her to give it back to the owners. And because known about you!”

of this I flushed with anger against her. Then in reply she said to me, “Now where are your acts of charity? Where are your righteous deeds? See, these things are known about you!”

3 Then being grief-stricken in spirit and groan-

Then in grief I wept, and I prayed with an-ing, I wept, and I began to pray with sighs:

3 guish, saying,

2

“You are righteous, O Lord,

2

“You are righteous, O Lord,

and all your deeds are righteous,

and all your deeds

and all your ways are mercy and truth;

and all your ways are mercy and truth,

you judge the age.

and with true and righteous judgment

3

And now you, O Lord, remember me, you judge forever.

and look down.

3

Remember me,

And do not punish me for my sins and look down upon me;

and for my unwitting offenses
do not punish me for my sins
and those of my ancestors;

and for my unwitting offenses
they sinned before you,

and those of my ancestors

4

and theyb disobeyed your who sinned before you.
commandments.

4

For they disobeyed your commandments,
And you gave us over to plunder and exile
and you gave us over to plunder and exile

and death

and death,

and for an illustration of reproach to all the

nations

a songs = Ha b = Ha

462

tobit 3

GII

GI

and for an illustration and byword and among which we have been scattered.

reproach

5

And now your many judgments are true among all the nations among which you in doing with me concerning my sins have scattered us.

and those of my ancestors,

5

And now your many judgments are true because we did not keep your
in doing with me according to my sins,
commandments.

because we did not keep your

For we did not walk in truth before you.

commandments

6

So now, according to what is pleasing before and did not walk truthfully before you.

you, do with me;

6

So now according to what is pleasing to you command my spirit to be taken up,

do with me,

that I may be set free and become earth.

and command my spirit to be taken up

For it is better for me to die than to live,

from me,

because I have heard false reproaches,

that I may be set free from the face of the

and grief is great in me.

earth and become earth.

Command that I be now set free from this

For it is better for me to die than to live, distress

because I have heard false reproaches,

to go to the everlasting place;

and great is the grief with me.

do not turn your face away from me.”

O Lord, command that I be set free from this distress;

set me free into the place everlasting,

and do not turn away your face, O Lord,

from me.

For it is better for me to die than to see great distress in my life, and better not to hear reproaches.”

7 On that day, it happened to Sarra daughter of 7 On the same day, it happened to Sarra daugh-

Ragouel at Ecbatana in Media that she also heard ter of Ragouel at Ecbatana in Media that she also reproaches from one of her father’s maids. 8For was reproached by her father’s maids, 8because she she had been given to seven husbands, and As-had been given to seven husbands, and Asmodaus

modaios the wicked demon had killed them be- the wicked demon had killed them before they fore they had been with her as is prescribed for had been with her as is the case with wives. So the wives. So the maid said to her, "You are the one maids said to her, "Do you not know you strangle who kills your husbands! Behold, already you your husbands? Already you had seven and had no have been given to seven husbands, and you have advantage from one of them. 9Why do you beat not borne the name of one of them. 9Why do you us? If they are dead, go with them! May we never beat us concerning your husbands? Because they see a son or a daughter of yours!"

are dead? Go with them! And may we never see a son or a daughter of yours!"

10 On that day she was grieved in spirit and

10 Hearing these things, she was so deeply wept. And going up into the upper room of her fa- grieved that she thought to hang herself. But she ther, she wished to hang herself. But she thought said, "I am my father's only one; if I do this, it will again and said, "Never may they reproach my fa- be a disgrace to him, and I shall bring down his ther and say to him, 'You had only one beloved old age with sorrow into Hades.'" 11So she prayed daughter, but she hanged herself because of her toward the window and said, troubles.' And I shall bring down my father's old "Blessed are you, O Lord my God!

age with grief into Hades. It is better for me not to

And blessed is your holy and honored hang myself, but to pray the Lord that I may die name forever.

and no longer hear reproaches in my life.” 11At that

Let all your works praise you forever.

same time, stretching out her hands toward the 12

And now, O Lord, I have turned window, she prayed and said,

my eyes and my face toward you.

“Blessed are you, merciful God!

13

Command that I be set free from the earth

And blessed is your name forever,

and hear reproach no more.

and let all your works praise you 14

You know, O Lord, that I am pure

forever.

from all sin with a man

12

And now my face is toward you, 15 and that I did not defile my name and I lift up my eyes.

or my father's name in the land of my 13

Command that I be set free from the earth

captivity.

and that I hear reproaches no more.

I am my father's only begotten,

14

You know, O Master, that I am pure and he has no other child who will be his from all impurity with a man heir,

15

and that I did not defile my name nor has he a near kinsman or son of his

tobit 3-4

463

GII

GI

or my father's name in the land of my
that I should keep myself as wife for him.
captivity.

Seven of mine have already died.

I am my father's only begotten,

Why should I live?

and he has no other child to be his heir,

But if it does not please you to kill me,

nor has he a near kinsman or other relative command that some regard be shown to that I should keep myself as wife for him.

me

Seven of mine have already died.

and mercy be given to me

So why should I still live?

and that I hear reproach no more.”

But if it does not please you to kill me,

O Lord, hear now my reproach.”

16 At that very moment, the prayer of both was 16 Now the prayer of both was heard in the heard in the presence of the glory of God. 17And presence of the glory of the great Raphael. 17And

Raphael was sent to heal the two: Tobis, by remov-

he was sent to heal the two: to scale away the white ing the white films from his eyes so that he might films of Tobit and to give Sarra daughter of see with his eyes the light of God, and Sarra daugh-

Ragouel to Tobias son of Tobit as wife and to bind ter of Ragouel, by giving her to Tobias son of To-Asmodaus the wicked demon, because Tobias had bith as wife and by freeing Asmodaios the wicked the right to inherit her. At that very moment Tobit demon from her, because Tobias had the right to returned and entered into his house, and Sarra inherit her before all others who desired to have daughter of Ragouel came down from her upper her. At that moment Tobith returned from the room.

courtyard into his house, and Sarra daughter of Ragouel also came down herself from the upper room.

4 On that day Tobith remembered the silver,
On that day Tobit remembered about the silver which he had placed in trust with Gabaelos at 4 ver, which he had placed in trust with Gabaelos at Rhaga in Media, 2and he said in his heart, “Belos at Rhaga in Media, and he said in himself, 2“I hold, I have asked for death. Why do I not call To- have asked for death. Why do I not call Tobias my bias my son and inform him about this silver be-son so that I may inform him before I die?" 3So fore I die?" 3Then he called Tobias his son, and he calling him, he said, "My child, if I die, bury me, came to him. And he said, "Bury me properly. And and do not neglect your mother. Honor her all the honor your mother and do not abandon her all days of your life, and do what is pleasing to her, the days of her life. And do what is pleasing before and do not grieve her. 4Remember, my child, that her, and do not grieve her spirit in anything. 4Reshe experienced many dangers for you in the member her, my child, because she experienced womb. When she dies, bury her beside me in one many dangers for you in her womb. And when she grave.

dies, bury her beside me in one grave.

5 "And all your days, my child, remember the 5 "All the days, my child, remember the Lord

Lord, and do not desire to sin or to transgress his our God, and do not desire to sin or to transgress commandments.
Do righteous acts all the days of his commandments. Do righteousness all the days your life, and do not walk in the ways of injustice. of your life, and do not walk in the ways of injus-6For those who keep to the truth will succeed in tice. 6For if you keep to the truth, there will be suc-

all their deeds. And to all those who do righ- cesses in your deeds. And to all who do righteous-teousness, . . .

ness 7give alms from your possessions, and do not let your eye be envious when you give alms. Do not turn your face away from any poor person, and the face of God shall not be turned away from you.

8If you have abundant possessions, give alms from them accordingly; if you have a little, do not be afraid to give alms according to that little. 9For you will be storing up a good treasure for yourself against the day of necessity. 10Therefore, alms delivers from death and prevents entering into the darkness. 11For alms is a good gift to those who give them in the presence of the Most High.

12 “Beware, my child, of all immorality. And first of all take a wife from among the descendants of your ancestors, and do not take a foreign woman, who is not of the tribe of your father, for we are the children of the prophets. Remember, my child, Noe, Abraam, Isaak, Iakob, our fathers from of old. These all took wives from among their 464

tobit 4-5

GII

GI

kindred, and they were blessed in their children, and their descendants will inherit land. 13So now, my child, love your kindred, and do not act arrogantly in your heart with your kindred, the sons and daughters of your people, in taking for yourself a wife from among them. For in pride there is ruin and great confusion, and in worthlessness there is loss and great want, because worthlessness is the mother of famine.

14 "Let not the wages of any one who works for you stay with you overnight, but give it to him at once. And if you are subject to God, you will be repaid. Watch yourself, my child, in all your deeds, and be disciplined in all your behavior. 15And what you hate, do to no one. Do not drink wine to drunkenness, and do not let drunkenness go with you on your way. 16Give some of your bread to the hungry and some of your clothing to the naked.

Everything you have left over give as alms, and do not let your eye be envious when you give alms.

17 Spread out your bread on the grave of the righteous, but give nothing to the sinners. 18 Seek advice from every prudent person, and do not despise 19. . . the Lord will give to them good counsel. And any useful advice. 19 And at every moment bless the if the Lord wishes, he casts down to deepest Hades.

Lord, your God, and ask from him that your ways

So now, my child, remember these commandments, and do not let them be erased from your heart. For no nation has understanding, but heart.

the Lord himself gives all good things, and the one he wishes he humbles as he wills. So now, my child, remember my commandments, and do not let them be erased from your heart.

20 "And now, my child, I will inform you that I

20 "And now I will inform you about the ten placed ten talents of silver in trust with Gabaelos talents of silver, which I placed in trust with son of Gabri at Rhaga in Media. 21 So do not be Gabaelos son of Gabrias at Rhaga in Media. 21So afraid, my child, because we have become poor. do not be afraid, my child, because we have be-You will have many good things if you fear God come poor. You will have many things if you fear and flee from every sin and do what is good in the God and withdraw from every sin and do what is sight of the Lord, your God.”

pleasing in his sight.”

5 Then in reply Tobias said to Tobith his father,

And in reply Tobias said to him, “Father, I

“Everything that you have commanded me I

5 shall do everything that you have commanded shall do, father. 2But how can I get it from him; in-

me. 2However, how can I get the silver; I do not deed, he does not know me, nor do I know him?

even know him?” 3Then Tobit gave him the bond

What sign shall I give him, so he will recognize me and said to him, “Seek for yourself a man who will and believe me and give me the silver? Also, I do go along with you, and I shall give him wages not know the roads into Media in order to go while I live; now go, and get the silver.”

there.” 3Then in reply Tobith said to Tobias his son, "He gave me his bond, and I gave him my bond. And I divided it into two, and we each took one part, and I put it in with the silver. And now behold, it is twenty years since I placed this silver in trust. So now, my child, seek for yourself a trustworthy man who will go with you, and we will give him wages until you come. But get this silver from him."

4 So Tobias went out to seek a man who would

4 So he went to seek a man, and he found go with him into Media, who was acquainted with Raphael, who was an angel, but he did not know the road. And he went out and found Raphael the it. 5And he said to him, "Can I go with you to Rha-angel standing in front of him, but he did not gai in Media? And are you acquainted with the know that he was an angel of God. 5And he said to places?" 6And the angel said to him, "I shall go him, "Where are you from, young man?" And he with you, and I am familiar with the road, and I said to him, "From the sons of Israel, your kin-have stayed with Gabael our kinsman." 7Then To-tobit 5

GII

GI

dred, and I have come here to work." Then he said bias said to him, "Wait for me, and I shall tell my to him, "Do you know the road to go into Media?" father." 8And he said to him, "Go, but do not 6And he said to him, "Yes, I have been there many delay."

times; I am acquainted with and know all the roads. Often I went into Media, and I stayed with Gabaelos our kinsman who dwells in Rhaga of Media. Now it is a journey of two days from Ec-batana into Rhagai, for it lies in the mountain, Ec-batana in the middle of the plain." 7Then he said to him, "Wait for me, young man, until I go in and tell my father, for I need you to go with me, and I will give you your wages." 8And he said, "Behold, I will stay; only do not delay."

9 So Tobias went in to tell Tobith his father

9 So he went in and said to his father, "Behold, and said to him, "Behold, I found a man of our I have found some one who will go along with kindred, of the sons of Israel!" And he said to me." Then he said, "Call him to me so that I may find him, “Call the man for me so that I may find out what tribe he belongs to and if he is trustworthy and worthy to go with you.”

if he is trustworthy so that he may go with you, my child.”

10 Then Tobias went out and called him and 10 Then he called him, and he went in, and said to him, “Young man, your father is calling they greeted each other.

you.” So he went in to him, and Tobith greeted him first. And he said to him, “Many joyful greetings to you!” But in reply Tobith said to him,

“What is there for me still to be joyful about? Now

I am a man with no power in my eyes, and I do not see the light of heaven, but I lie in darkness like the dead who no longer look at the light. Living, I am among the dead. I hear the voice of people, but I do not see them.” So he said to him, “Take courage; the time is near for God to heal you; take courage.” Then Tobith said to him, “Tobias my son wishes to go into Media. Can you go along with him and lead him? And I will give you your wages, brother.” And he said to him, “I can go with him; indeed, I know all the roads. Also I went into Media many times, and I crossed all its plains, and I know its mountains and all its roads.”

11 Then he said to him, “Brother, of what fam-

11 Then Tobit said to him, “Brother, of what ily are you and from what tribe? Tell me, brother.” tribe and what family are you? Tell me.” 12And he 12And he said, “Why, do you need a tribe?” And he said to him, “Are you seeking a tribe and a family, said to him, “I want to know the truth about or a hired man who will go along with your son?”

whose son you are, brother, and what your name

And Tobit said to him, “I wish to know, brother, is.” 13So he said to him, “I am Azarias son of about your race and name.” 13So he said, “I am

Hananiah the great, one of your relatives.” 14Then

Azarias son of Hananiah the great, one of your rel-

he said to him, "Come in, brother, in good health atives." 14Then he said to him, "Come in, brother, and safety! And do not be bitter toward me, broth- in good health! And do not be angry with me, be-er, because I wanted to know the truth about your cause I sought to know about your tribe and fami-family also. Now you happen to be a relative, and ly. So you happen to be my relative, of a noble and you are of a noble and good lineage. I knew Hana- good lineage. For I knew Hananias and Iathan, the nias and Nathan, the two sons of Semelias the sons of Semaias the great, when we would go to-great, and they would go with me into Ierousalem gether into Hierosolyma to do obeisance, offering and do obeisance with me there, and they did not the first-born of our flocks and the tithes of our err. Your relatives are good people; you are of good produce. And they did not err in the error of our stock. So come in with joy!" 15Then he said to relatives. You are of great stock, brother. 15But say, him, "I will give you a drachma a day as wages, and what wages shall I give you—a drachma a day and what is needed for you as well as for my son. So go what is needed for you as well as for my son? 16I with my son. 16I will also add more to your will also add more to your wages if you come back wages." And he said to him, "I shall go with him; in good health." 17So they agreed on this.

so do not fear. We shall go away in good health, and we shall return to you in good health, because 466

tobit 5-6

GII

GI

the road is safe.” 17So he said to him, “Blessing be upon you, brother.”

Then he called his son and said to him, “My

Then he said to Tobias, “Get ready for the jourchild, prepare the things for the journey, and go ney, and may you be successful.” So his son pre-out with your brother. And may God in heaven pared the things for the journey. And his father bring you safely there and restore you back to me said to him, “Go with the man, and God who in good health, and may his angel journey along dwells in heaven will make your journey success-with you in safety, my child.” And he went out to ful, and may his angel go along with you.” So they go on his journey, and he kissed his father and both went out to go away, and the young man’s mother. Then Tobith said to him, “Go in good dog with them.

health.”

18 But his mother wept and said to Tobith,

18 But Hanna his mother wept and said to

“Why is it that you have sent my child away? Is he Tobit, “Why have you sent away our child? Is he not the rod of our hand as he goes in and goes out not the rod of our hand as he goes in and goes out before us? 19Do not add silver to silver, but let it be before us? 19Do not add silver to silver, but let it be a ransom for our child. 20For as it has been given a ransom for our child. 20For as it has been given to us to live by the Lord, that is enough." 21And he to us to live by the Lord, that is enough for us."

said to her, "Do not worry; our child will go in 21And Tobit said to her, "Do not worry, my sister; good health and come back to us in good health. he will come back in good health, and your eyes And your eyes will see him on the day when he will see him. 22For a good angel will go along with comes back to you in good health. Do not worry! him; so his journey will be successful, and he will Do not fear for them, my sister. 22For a good angel return in good health."

will accompany him, and his journey will be successful, and he will come back in good health."

6 So she stopped weeping.

So she stopped weeping.

2 Then the child went out, and the angel with 6 2Now as they walked on the road they came him, and the dog went out with him and walked at evening to the Tigris River and camped there.

with them. And they both walked, and the first 3Then the young man went down to wash himself.

night came upon them, and they camped by the And a fish leaped up from the river and wanted to Tigris River. 3Then the child went down to wash swallow the young man. 4But the angel said to his feet in the Tigris River. And a large fish, leaping him, "Take hold of the fish!" So the child seized up from the water, wanted to swallow the foot of the fish and threw it up onto the land. 5Then the the young man, and he cried out. 4Then the angel angel said to him, "Cut open the fish, and take the said to the young man, "Take hold of the fish, and heart and liver and gall, and put them away safely."

hang on!" So the child seized the fish and carried 6So the young man did as the angel had told him.

it up onto the land. 5Then the angel said to him, Then, roasting the fish, they ate.

"Rip open the fish, and take out its gall and heart and liver, and put them aside with you, but the entrails throw away. For its gall and heart and liver are useful as medicine." 6So cutting open the fish, the young man gathered together the gall and heart and liver; then he roasted and ate some of the fish and kept some of it salted.

And the two walked together until they drew

And they both journeyed until they drew near near to Media. 7And then the young man asked to Ecbatana. 7And the young man said to the the angel and said to him, "Brother Azarias, what angel, "Brother Azarias, of what use is the fish's is the medicine in the fish's heart and liver and in liver and heart and gall?" 8And he said to him, "As the gall?" 8And he said to him, "As for the fish's for the heart and liver, if a demon or evil spirit heart and liver, burn them to smoke in the prestroubles somebody, one must burn these things to ence of a man or woman afflicted by a demon or smoke before a man or woman, and he will never evil spirit, and every affliction will flee away from be troubled again. 9But as for the gall, anoint a him and will not remain with him any longer.

person who has white films in his eyes, and he will 9And as for the gall, anoint a person's eyes on be cured."

which white films have come up; blow upon them, upon the white films, and they will be healed."

10 And when he went into Media and already

10 Now as they approached Rhagai, 11the angel drew near to Ecbatana, 11Raphael said to the young said to the young man, "Brother, today we shall man, "Brother Tobias." And he said to him, "Here stay with Ragouel. Now he is your relative, and he I am." Then he said to him, "This night we must has an only daughter named Sarra. I shall speak up for her, that she be given to you as wife, because

as Om = Ha

her inheritance falls to you; also you are the only

tobit 6-7

467

GII

GI

stay in the home of Ragouelos. Now the man is one of her kindred. And the girl is beautiful and your relative, and he has a beautiful daughter sensible. 13So now listen to me, and I shall speak whose name is Sarra. 12And he has no male son or to her father. And when we return from Rhaga, we daughter except Sarra alone, and you are closer to shall celebrate the wedding feast. For I know that her than all other men, to have her as an inheri- Ragouel cannot give her to another man, according tance. And it is right for you to have her father's to the law of Moyses, or else he will be liable to possessions as an inheritance. Also the girl is sen- death, because it is right for you to receive the insible and brave and very beautiful, and her father heritance before any other man."

is noble." 13And he said, "It is right for you to take her. So listen to me, brother, and I shall speak to the father about the girl this night so that we may take her to be your bride. And, when we return from Rhaga, we shall celebrate her wedding feast. And I know that Ragouel cannot keep her from you or promise her to another; he would be liable to death according to the decree of the book of Moyses. And he knows that the inheritance is yours by right to take his daughter before any other man.

So now listen to me, brother, and we shall speak this night concerning the girl and have her engaged to you. And, when we return from Rhaga, we shall take her and bring her back with us into your house.”

14 Then in reply Tobias said to Raphael,

14 Then the young man said to the angel,

“Brother Azarias, I heard that she already has been “Brother Azarias, I have heard that the girl has given to seven husbands, and they died in their been given to seven husbands and all died in the bridal chamber. On the night when they went in bridal chamber. 15And now I am the only one my toward her, they would die. And I heard people say father has, and I fear that I may go in and die as that a demon kills them. 15And now I am afraid— did those before me, for a demon loves her, and he for it does not harm her, but anyone who desires harms no one except those who approach her. So to approach her it kills; I am my father’s only now I fear that I may die and bring my father’s and son—that I may die and bring my father’s and my my mother’s life, because of me, to their grave with mother’s life, because of me, to their grave with sorrow. And they have no other son who will bury sorrow. And they have no other son, that he may them.”

bury them.”

16 But he said to him, "Do you not remember

16 But the angel said to him, "Do you not re-your father's commandments, that he commanded member the words with which your father com- you to take a wife from your father's house? So mandated you, to take a wife from among your peo- now listen to me, brother, and do not worry about ple? So now listen to me, brother, for she will this demon, and take her. And I know that this become your wife. Also do not worry about the night a wife will be given to you. 17 Now when you demon, for this night she will be given to you as go into the bridal chamber, take some of the fish's wife. 17 Now when you go into the bridal chamber, liver and heart, and put them on the embers of the you shall take embers of incense and lay upon incense, and the smell will go forth. 18 Then the them some of the fish's heart and liver, and you demon will smell it and flee and will never be seen shall make smoke. 18 Then the demon will smell it around her any more. And when you are about to and flee and will never again come back. Now be with her, get up first, both of you, and pray, and when you come near her, rise up, both of you, and beseech the Lord of heaven that mercy and safety cry out to the merciful God, and he will save you may be upon you. So do not be afraid, for she was and have mercy. Do not be afraid, for she has been set apart for you from of old. And you will save prepared for you from of old. And you will save her, and she will go with you. And I suppose that her, and she will go with you, and I suppose that you will have children by her, and they will be as you will have children by her." Now when Tobias brothers to you. Do not worry!" Now when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his spirit heard the words of Raphael, and that she was his clung to her intensely.

kinswoman of the lineage of his father's house, he loved her very much, and his heart clung to her.

7 Now when they entered into Ecbatana, he

And they went into Ecbatana and arrived at said to him, "Brother Azarias, lead me straight

7 the house of Ragouel. So he led them to Ragouel our brother." So he led him into the and greeted them, and they greeted her. And she brought them into the house. 2 Then Ragouel said to Edna his wife, "How much the young man resembles 468

tobit 7

GII

GI

house of Ragouelos, and they found him sitting be-

Tobit my cousin!" 3And Ragouel asked them, side the door of the courtyard. And they greeted "Where are you from, brothers?" And they said to him first, and he said to them, "Many joyful greet- him, "We belong to the children of Nephthaleim, ings, brothers, and welcome in good health!" Then who are captives in Nineue." 4So he said to them, he led them into his house. 2And he said to Edna "Do you know Tobit our kinsman?" And they said, his wife, "How much this young man resembles "We do know him." 5Then he said to them, "Is he Tobis my kinsman!" 3Then Edna asked them and in good health?" And they said, "He is both alive said to them, "Where are you from, brothers?" And and in good health." And Tobias said, "He is my they said to her, "We belong to the children of father!" 6Then Ragouel jumped up and kissed him Nephthaleim, who were taken captive in Nineue." and wept. 7And he blessed him and said to him, 4So she said to them, "Do you know Tobis our

"Son of that noble and good man!" And hearing kinsman?" And they said to her, "We do know that Tobit had lost his eyes, he grieved and wept.

him." Then she said to them, "Is he in good 8Also Edna his wife and Sarra his daughter wept, health?" 5And they said to her, "He is in good and they welcomed them very warmly. 9Then they health and alive." And Tobias said, "He is my fa- killed a ram of the flock, and they set out large ther!" 6Then Ragouel jumped up and kissed him servings of food.

and wept. 7And he spoke and said to him, “Blessings on you, my child, son of a noble and good father! O most miserable of calamities that a righteous man who also gives alms has become blind!” Then he fell on the neck of Tobias his kinsman and wept. 8Also Edna his wife wept for him, and Sarra their daughter likewise wept. 9Then he slaughtered a ram from the flock and welcomed them very warmly.

Now when they had bathed and washed them-

Tobias then said to Raphael, “Brother Azarias, selves and had reclined to have dinner, Tobias said speak of those things which you talked about on to Raphael, “Brother Azarias, speak to Ragouel that the journey, and let the matter be settled.” 10So he

he give to me Sarra my kinswoman.” 10But Ragouel communicated the word to Ragouel. And Ragouel heard the word and said to the lad, “Eat, and said to Tobias, “Eat, and drink, and be merry, for it drink, and be merry this night. For there is no man is your right to take my child. But let me explain who has the right to take Sarra my daughter except the truth to you. 11I have given my child to seven you, brother. Likewise I myself do not have the au-husbands, and when they came in toward her, they thority to give her to any other man except you, bedied during the night. But for now be merry.” Then cause you are my nearest relative. But let me ex- Tobias said, “I will taste nothing here until you plain to you the truth more fully, my child. 11I have astand firm and are confirmed in my regarda.” So given her to seven men of our kinsmen, and all Ragouel said, “Take her from now on, according to died on the night when they went in toward her. the decree. And you are her brother, and she is So now, my child, eat, and drink, and the Lord will

yours. Now may the merciful God prosper you do something with you both.” Then Tobias said, “I both with the best.” 12Then he called Sarra his will neither eat nor drink until you settle the things daughter, and taking her hand, he gave her over to that pertain to me.” So Ragouel said to him, “I will Tobias as wife, and he said, “Behold, according to do it. Indeed, she is given to you according to the the law of Moyses take her, and lead her away to decree of the book of Moyses, and from heaven it your father.” And he blessed them. 13Then he has been decreed that she be given to you. Take called Edna his wife, and taking a scroll, he wrote your kinswoman; from now on you are her broth- out a contract, and they set their seals to it. 14And er, and she is your sister. She has been given to you they began to eat.

from today and forever. And may the Lord of heaven prosper you both this night, my child, and grant you mercy and peace.” 12Then Ragouel called Sarra his daughter. And she came to him. Then taking her hand, he gave her over to him and said, “Take her according to the law, and according to the decree written in the book of Moyses she is your wife. Take her, and lead her away in good health to your father. And may the God of heaven prosper you both with peace.” 13Then he called her mother and told her to bring a scroll, and he wrote out a contract, a scroll of marriage, that he gave her to him as wife according to the decree of the law of Moyses. 14After that they began to eat and to drink.

aPossibly make a binding agreement with me

tobit 7-8

469

GII

GI

15 Then Ragouel called Edna his wife and said

15 Then Ragouel called Edna his wife and said

to her, "My sister, prepare the other room, and lead

to her, "My sister, prepare the other room, and lead her in there." 16So she went and made the bed in her into it." 16So she did as he said and led her in the room as he had told her, and she led her there. there, and she wept.

Then she received the tears of And she wept for her. Then she wiped away the her daughter and said to her, 17"Take courage, my tears and said to her, 17"Take courage, my daugh- child; may the Lord of heaven and earth give you ter; may the Lord of heaven grant you joy in place grace in place of this sorrow of yours. Take courage, of your sorrow.

Take courage, my daughter." Then my daughter."

she went out.

8 Whentheyhadfinished eatinganddrinking,

When they had finished dining, they led Tobias they wanted to go to sleep; so they led the 8 in toher.2Ashewentherememberedthe young man out and led him into the room. 2Then words of Raphael, and he took the embers of in-Tobias remembered the words of Raphael, and he cense and put the fish's heart and liver upon them took the fish's liver and heart out of the bag where and made a smoke. 3Now when the demon smelled he had them and put them on the embers of the the odor, it fled to the uppermost part of Egypt, and incense. 3And the odor of the fish became a hin- the angel tied it up.

drance, and the demon fled ainto the upper partsa of Egypt. But Raphael went and bound him there hand and foot and tied him up at once.

4 Then they went out and shut the door of the 4 When the two of them were shut in together, room. And Tobias got up from the bed and said to Tobias got up from the bed and said, "Get up, sis-her, "Sister, get up, let us pray and implore our ter, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy Lord that he grant us mercy and safety." 5So she upon us." 5And Tobias began to say, got up, and they began to pray and implore that

"Blessed are you, O God of our ancestors, safety may be theirs. And he began to say, and blessed be your holy and glorious

"Blessed are you, O God of our ancestors, name for the ages.

and blessed be your name for all the ages

Let the heavens and all your creatures bless forever.

you.

Let the heavens and all your creation bless 6

You made Adam and gave him a helper, you for all the ages.

Heua, a support—his wife.

6

You made Adam, and you made for him
From them the human race has come.

a helper, a support—his wife Heua.

You said, 'It is not good for the man to be

And from the two of them the human alone;

race has come.

let us make for him a helper like himself.'

And you said, 'It is not good for the man to 7

And now, O Lord, not because of lust am I be alone;

taking this kinswoman of mine,

let us make for him a helper like himself.'

but with sincerity.

7

And now not because of lust am I taking

Grant that I may have mercy

this kinswoman of mine, and may grow old together with her.”

but with sincerity.

8And she said with him, “Amen.” 9Then they both

Grant that I and she may have mercy went to sleep for the night.

and that we may grow old together.”

8And they said with each other, “Amen, Amen.”

9Then they went to sleep for the night.

But Ragouel got up and called his servants to

But Ragouel got up and went and dug a grave, him, and they went and dug a grave, 10for he said,

10saying, “Perhaps even this one may die.” 11Then

“Perhaps he may die, and we may become an ob- Ragouel went into his house 12and said to Edna ject of ridicule and derision.” 11And when they had his wife, “Send one of the maids, and let them see finished digging the grave, Ragouel went into the if he is alive, but if he is not, let us bury him, and house and called his wife, 12and he said, "Send no one will know." 13So opening the door, the one of the maids, and have her go in to see if he is maid went in and found the two asleep. 14And she alive. But if he is dead, let us bury him so that no went out and announced to them that he was one may know." 13So they sent the maid and lit alive. 15So Ragouel blessed God, saying, the lamp and opened the door, and she went in "Blessed are you, O God, with every pure and found them lying there fast asleep together.

and holy blessing.

14And the maid went out and told them that he

And let your holy ones and all your was alive and that nothing was wrong. 15So they creatures bless you,

blessed the God of heaven, and they said,

and let all your angels and your chosen ones bless you forever.

a upward into the parts = Ha 470

tobit 8-9

GII

GI

“Blessed are you, O God, with every pure

16

Blessed are you because you have made me blessing,

glad,

and may they bless you forever and ever.

and it did not turn out for me as I 16

And blessed are you because you have made expected,

me glad,

but according to your great mercy you and it did not turn out as I expected,

have dealt with us.

but according to your great mercy you

17

Blessed are you because you have had mercy

have dealt with us.

on two only children.

17

And blessed are you because you had mercy

Have mercy on them, O Master;

on two only children.

bring their life to fulfillment

Have mercy on them, O Master, and keep in health with gladness and mercy.”

them safe,

18He then ordered his domestics to fill in the

and bring their life to fulfillment

grave.

with gladness and mercy.”

18Then he told his domestics to fill in the grave before it became dawn.

19 And he told his wife to make many loaves of 19 And he gave them a wedding feast for four-bread, and he went out to the herd and brought teen days.

20And before the days of the wedding two steers and four rams and commanded that feast were over, Ragouel said with an oath that he they be killed. So they began to make prepara- should not leave until the fourteen days of the tions. 20Then he called Tobias and aswore an oath wedding feast were ended 21and that he should to him and saida:

“For fourteen days you shall not take half of his property and go with health to his move from here but shall stay here eating and father, and the rest, “when I die and my wife.”

drinking with me, and you shall make my daughter's spirit glad which has been depressed. 21Then take at once half of what I own and return in good health to your father, and the other half will be yours when I die, and my wife as well. Take courage, my child. I am your father, and Edna is your mother, and we belong to you and to your kinswoman now and forever. Take courage, my child."

9 Then Tobias called Raphael and said to him,

And Tobias called Raphael and said to him,

2"Brother Azarias, take with you four domes-

9 2"Brother Azarias, take with you as servant and tics and two camels, and go to Rhagai. And go to two camels, and go to Gabael's house at Rhaga in the house of Gabaelos, and give him the bond, Media, and get the silver for me, and bring him to and get the silver, and then bring him back with the wedding feast. 3For Ragouel has sworn that I you to the wedding feast. 3-4For you know that should not leave. 4But my father is counting the my father is counting the days, and if I delay one days, and if I delay long, he will be greatly dis-day, I will grieve him very much. And you see tressed." 5 So Raphael went and stayed with how Ragouel has sworn, and I cannot violate his Gabael. Then he gave him the bond, and he oath." 5So Raphael and the four servants and two brought out the money bags with the seals and camels went into Rhagai in Media and stayed gave them to him. 6And they both got up early in with Gabaelos. Then he gave him his bond and the morning and went to the wedding feast. And told him about Tobias son of Tobith, that he had he blessed Tobias and his wife.

taken a wife and invited him to the wedding feast. So he got up and counted out for him the money bags, with the seals; then they bloaded them on the camelsb. 6And they both got up early in the morning and went to the wedding feast. And they went to Ragouel's place and found Tobias reclining at table. Then he sprang up and greeted him, and he wept and blessed him and said, "Noble and good son of a noble and good, upright and charitable man, may the Lord give the blessing of heaven to you and to your wife and to your father and to the mother of your wife. Blessed be God, for I see Tobis my cousin who is just like him."

a said to him = Ha b put them together = Ha
tobit 10

GII

GI

10 Now day by day Tobith was counting the Now Tobit his father was counting each days on which Tobias would need for going

10 day, and when the days for the journey had and for coming back. And when the days had been expired and they did not come, 2he said, "Perhaps completed and his son did not appear, 2he said, they were disappointed? Or perhaps Gabael has

"Perhaps he has been detained there? Or perhaps died, and no one is giving him the silver?" 3And he Gabael has died, and no one is giving him the sil- grieved very much. 4Then the wife said to him, ver?" 3And he began to grieve. 4Then Hanna his wife

"My child has perished; that is why he has de-said, "My child has perished and is no longer among layed." And she began to mourn him and said, the living." And she began to weep and mourn for 5"Do I not care, my child, that I let you go, the her son, and she said, 5"Woe to me, my child, the light of my eyes?" 6But Tobit said to her, "Be quiet; light of my eyes, that I let you go!" 6But Tobith said do not worry; he is in good health." 7And she said to her, "Be quiet, and do not worry, my sister; he is to him, "Be quiet; stop deceiving me! My child has in good health.

And they probably had a distraction perished.” And she would go out every day to the there. Also the man who went with him is trustwor- road outside by which they had left; during the day thy and is one of our own kindred. Do not grieve for she ate no food, and during the nights she never him, my sister; he will soon be here.” 7Then she said stopped mourning for Tobias her son, until the

to him, “Be quiet; away from me! And stop deceiv- fourteen days of the wedding feast had ended ing me! My child has perished.” And she would rush which Ragouel had sworn that he should have out every day and watch the road on which her son there.

had gone, and she would not believe anyone. And when the sun had set she would go in and mourn and weep the whole night and get no sleep.

Now when the fourteen days of the wedding feast

Then Tobias said to Ragouel, “Send me back, for had ended that Ragouel had sworn to have for his my father and mother do not hope to see me daughter, Tobias came to him and said, “Send me again.” 8But his father-in-law said to him, “Stay back, for I know that my father and mother do not with me, and I will send others to your father, and believe that they will see me again. So now I beg they will tell him how things are with you.” 9But you, father, that you send me away and that I may Tobias said, “No, rather send me back to my father. I have already explained to you how they are." 10 So Ragouel arose and gave him Sarra his daughter. 8 But Ragouel said to Tobias, "Stay, my wife and half of his property—slaves and cattle, stay with me, and I shall send messengers to my father and silver. 11 Then blessing them, he sent them to my father, and they will inform him about you, saying, "The God of heaven will prosper you, you." 9 But he said to him, "By no means! I beg you my children, before I die." 12 Then he said to his daughter, "Honor your father-in-law and mother-in-law." 10 So Ragouel got up and gave Tobias Sarra his wife and in-law;

they are now your parents. May I hear a half of all his property—male and female slaves, good report about you." And he kissed her. And oxen and sheep, asses and camels, clothing and silver. Edna said to Tobias, "Dear brother, may the Lord prosper you and utensils. 11 Then he sent them away in good health, and he embraced him and said to him, may the Lord prosper you and Sarra my daughter so that you may see your children by Sarra my daughter so that you may see your children in good health. I may rejoice before the Lord. And behold, I see your children in good health. The Lord of heaven prosper you and Sarra your wife, trust my daughter to you as a pledge; do not grieve and may I see your children before I die." 12 Then he said to her.

said to Sarra his daughter, "My daughter, honor your father-in-law and your mother-in-law, for from now on they are as much your parents as those who gave you birth. Go in peace, my daughter; may I hear a good report about you as long as I live.” And he took leave of them and let them go. Then Edna said to Tobias, “My child and dear brother, may the Lord of heaven bring you back safely, and while I live before I die, may I see children of you and my daughter Sarra. In the sight of the Lord I entrust to you my daughter as a pledge; do not grieve her all the days of your life. My child, peace. From now on I am your mother, and Sarra is your sister. May we all prosper together all the days of our life.” Then she kissed them both and sent them away in good health.

13 Then Tobias went away from Ragouel in 13 After these things Tobias went away, blessing good health and rejoicing and blessing the Lord of God because he had made his journey a success. And he blessed Ragouel and Edna his wife.

a Go to your father-in-law = Ha 472

tobit 11

GII

GI

heaven and earth, the king of all, because he had made his journey a success. Then he said to him, "aMay it go well for you to honor them all the days of their lifea."

11 When they came near to Kaserein, which is

So he went on until they came near to opposite Nineue, 2Raphael said, "You know

11 Nineue.2Then Raphaelsaid to Tobias,"Do

how we left your father. 3Let us run on ahead of you not know, brother, how you left your father?

your wife and prepare the house while they are on 3Let us run on ahead before your wife and prepare the way." 4So the two of them went together, and the house. 4Now take in your hand the gall of the he said to him, "Take the gall with your hands." fish." So they went on, and the dog came along And the dog came along behind them.

behind them.

5 Now Hanna sat looking intently at the road

5 Now Hanna sat looking intently down the

for her son. 6And she caught sight of him coming, road for her boy. 6And she caught sight of him and she said to his father, "Behold, your son is coming, and she said to his father, "Behold, your coming, and the man who went with him!"

son is coming, and the man who went with him!"

7 Then Raphael said to Tobias, before he had

7 Then Raphael said, "I know, Tobias, that your approached his father, "I know that his eyes will be father will open his eyes. 8You, therefore, anoint opened. 8Sprinkle the gall of the fish on his eyes, his eyes with the gall, and when he feels the sting, and the medicine will make the white films con- he will rub them and will cast off the white films, tract and peel off from his eyes, and your father and he will see you."

will look up and see the light."

9 Then Hanna ran up and fell on the neck of 9 Then running out, Hanna fell on the neck of her son and said to him, "I see you, my child; from her son and said to him, "I see you, my child; from now on I am ready to die." And she wept. 10Then now on I am ready to die." And they both wept.

Tobis got up and stumbled on his feet and went out 10Then Tobit went out toward the door, and he the door of the courtyard. And Tobias went up to stumbled. But the son ran out to him 11and took him. 11Now the gall of the fish was in his hand, and hold of his father, and he sprinkled the gall on his he blew into his eyes and held him and said, "Take father's eyes, saying, "Take courage, father." 12And courage, father.” Then he lay the medicine on him, when they stung he rubbed them, 13and the white and ait workeda. 12-13And he scaled it off with both films scaled off from the corners of his eyes. Then his hands from the corners of his eyes. Then he fell seeing his son he fell on his neck, 14and he wept on his neck, 14and he wept and said to him, “I see and said, you, my child, the light of my eyes!” Then he said, “Blessed be God,

“Blessed are you, O God, and blessed be his great name,

and blessed is your name forever,

and blessed be all his holy angels.

and blessed are all your holy angels.

May his great name be upon us, and may all the angels be blessed throughout all the ages.

15

For he afflicted me,

15

For you have afflicted me,

but behold, I see Tobias my son!”

but you have had mercy upon me;

And Tobias went in rejoicing and blessing God behold, I see Tobias my son!”

with full voice. Then Tobias told his father that his And his son went in rejoicing, and he announced journey had been successful and that he had to his father the great things that had happened to brought the silver and that he had taken Sarra him in Media.

daughter of Ragouel as wife and that behold, she is arriving and is near the gate of Nineue.

16 Then Tobith went out to the gate of Nineue

16 Then Tobit went out to the gate of Nineue to

to meet his daughter-in-law, rejoicing and blessing meet his daughter-in-law, rejoicing and blessing

God. Now the people of Nineue, seeing him walk- God. Now those who saw him walking were ing and moving along in all his strength and with amazed because he could see. 17And Tobit ac-no one leading him, were amazed. 17And Tobith knowledged before them that God had been mer-acknowledged before them that God had been ciful to him. Now when Tobit approached Sarra merciful to him and that he had opened his eyes. his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, “Come, Then Tobith approached Sarra, the wife of Tobias in good health, daughter! Blessed be God, who his son, and he blessed her and said to her, “Come has brought you to us, and blessed be your father in, in good health, daughter, and blessed be your and your mother.” And there was joy among all his God, who has brought you to us, daughter. And relatives in Nineue. 18Also Achiacharos and

Nas-blessed be your father band your motherb, and bas his nephew came. 19Then the wedding feast of Tobias was held with rejoicing for seven days.

aGk uncertain bOm = Ha

tobit 11-12

473

GII

GI

blessed be Tobias my son, and blessed be you, daughter. Come into your house in good health, with blessing and joy. Come in, daughter.” On that day there was joy among all the Judeans who were in Nineue. 18And Achikar and Nabad his nephews came rejoicing to Tobis.

12 Now when the wedding feast was ended,

Then Tobit called Tobias his son and said

Tobith called Tobias his son and said to 12 to him, “My child, see to the wages for the him, “My child, see that you give the wages to the man who traveled with you, and something must man who went with you, even add to his wages.” be added for him.” 2So he said to him, “Father, it 2So he said to him, “Father, how much shall I give would do me no harm to give him half of what I him as his wages? It would do me no harm to give have brought back. 3For he has led me back to you him half of the possessions he brought back with safely and cured my wife, and he brought my sil-me. 3He has led me back in good health and cured ver, and he also healed you.” 4Then the old man my wife and brought the silver with me, and he said, “It is his right.” 5So he called the angel and healed

you. How much shall I still give him as said to him, "Take half of all that you have brought wages?" 4Then Tobis said to him, "It is his right, back."

my child, to take half of all that he came back with." 5So he called him and said, "Take half of all that you came back with for your wages, and go away in good health."

6 Then he called the two in secret and said to

6 Then calling the two in secret, he said to them, "Bless God, and before all the living ac- them, "Bless God, and acknowledge him, and knowledge him for the good things he has done magnify him, and before all the living acknowl-for you. Bless, and sing praise to his name. The edge him concerning the things he has done for words of God declare with honor to all people. you. It is good to bless God and to exalt his name, And do not hesitate to acknowledge him. 7It is declaring with honor the words of the works of good to conceal the secret of a king, but to reveal God. And do not hesitate to acknowledge him. 7It and acknowledge honorably the works of God. Do is good to conceal the secret of a king but to reveal what is good, and evil will not overtake you. gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil 8Prayer is good with fastinga, but almsgiving with will not overtake you. 8Prayer is good with fasting righteousness is more than wealth with injustice. It and almsgiving and righteousness. A little with is better to give alms rather than to store up gold. righteousness is better than much with injustice. It 9Almsgiving delivers from death, and it purges is better to give alms than to store up gold. 9For away every sin. Those who give alms will enjoy life almsgiving delivers from death, and it will purge to the full. 10Those who commit sin and injustice away every sin. Those who practice almsgiving and are enemies of their own self.

righteousness will have fullness of life, 10but those who sin are enemies of their own life.

11 "I shall declare the whole truth to you, and I

11 "I will not conceal any word from you. I will not conceal any word from you. Already I de-have indeed said, 'It is good to conceal the secret of clared to you and said, 'It is good to conceal the sea king but to reveal gloriously the works of God.'

12

cret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of

And now when you and your daughter-in-law

God.' 12So now when you and Sarra prayed, I

Sarra prayed, I brought the memorial of your brought the memorial of your prayer before the prayer before the Holy One, and when you would glory of the Lord and did likewise when you would bury the dead, I was likewise present with you.

13

bury the dead. 13And when you did not hesitate to

And when you did not hesitate to get up and get up and leave your dinner and when you went leave your dinner to go out and bury the dead, the and buried the dead, 14then I was sent to you to good deed was not hidden from me, but I was with test you. And at the same time God sent me to heal

you. 14So now God sent me to heal you and your you and Sarra your daughter-in-law. 15I am daughter-in-law Sarra. 15I am Raphael, one of the Raphael, one of the seven angels who approach seven holy angels who present the prayers of the and enter before the glory of the Lord.”

holy ones and enter before the glory of the Holy

One.”

16 Then they were both troubled, and they fell

16 Then they were both troubled, and they fell on their face, and they were afraid. 17But he said to face forward, for they were afraid. 17But he said to them, "Do not be afraid; peace be with you. Bless them, "Do not be afraid; you will have peace. But God forevermore. 18As for me, when I was with bless God forever. 18For not by my grace, but by you, not by my grace was I with you, but by the the will of our God have I come. Therefore, bless will of God. Bless him each and every day; sing his him forever. 19All the days I appeared to you, but I did not eat or drink; rather, you were seeing a via truth = Ha

sion. 20So now acknowledge God, for I am as-474

tobit 12-13

GII

GI

praises. 19Now you were watching me; I did not cending to him who sent me. And write in a book eat anything, but a vision was being seen by you. all the things that have been accomplished.”

20So bless the Lord on the earth and acknowledge

21Then they stood up, and they saw him no longer.

God. Behold, I am ascending to him who sent me. 22So they acknowledged the great works and won-Write down all these things that have happened to ders of God, especially when the angel of the Lord you.” And he ascended. 21Then they stood up, and had appeared to them.

they could see him no longer. 22And they blessed and sang praises to God, and they acknowledged

God for these marvelous deeds of his, when an angel of God had appeared to them.

13 Thenhesaid:

Then Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing and “Blessed be God who lives forever,

13 said:

and blessed be his kingdom.

“Blessed be God who lives forever,

2

For he afflicts, and he shows mercy;
and blessed be his kingdom.

he leads down to Hades in the lowest

2

For he afflicts, and he shows mercy;
part of the earth,

he leads down to Hades and brings up, and he brings up from the great and there is no one who will escape his destruction,

hand.

and there is nothing that will escape his
hand.

3

Acknowledge him, O sons of Israel, before

3

Acknowledge him, O sons of Israel, before
the nations,

the nations,

for he has scattered you among them.

for he has scattered us among them.

4

Even there he has shown you his greatness;

4

There show forth his greatness;

so exalt him in the presence of all the exalt him in the presence of all the living,

living,

because he is our Lord and God;

because he is our Lord and he is our God,

he is our Father for all the ages.

and he is our Father and he is God for all the ages.

5

He will afflict you for your injustices,

5

And he will afflict us for our injustices, and he will show mercy on all of you and again he will show mercy, from all the nations

and he will gather us from all the nations

among whom you have been scattered.

among whom you have been scattered.

6

When you turn back to him with all your 6

If you turn back to him with all your heart heart and with all your soul,

and with all your soul,

to do what is true before him,

to do what is true before him,

then he will turn back to you

then he will turn back to you and will no longer hide his face from

and will not hide his face from you.

you.

And see what he will do with you,

And now see what he has done with you,

and acknowledge him with full voice.

and acknowledge him with full voice.

And bless the Lord of righteousness,

And bless the Lord of righteousness,

and exalt the king of the ages.

and exalt the king of the ages . . .

In the land of my captivity I acknowledge

him,

and I show his power and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn back, you sinners,

and do what is just before him;

who knows if he will take delight in you and grant mercy to you?

7

I exalt my God,

and my soul exalts the king of heaven,

and it will rejoice in his majesty.

8

Let all speak

and acknowledge him in Hierosolyma.

9

O Hierosolyma, holy city,

he will afflict you for the works of your sons,

but again he will show mercy to the sons of the righteous.

tobit 13

475

GII

GI

10

and again your tent will be built in you 10

Acknowledge the Lord well,

with joy.

and bless the king of the ages

And may he gladden within you all those that again his tent may be built in you who are captives

with joy.

and love within you all those who are

And may he gladden within you those who distressed,

are captives

for all the generations of the age.

and love within you those who are 11

A bright light will shine to all the ends of

distressed,

the earth;

for all the generations of the age.

many nations from far away will come to 11

Many nations from far away will come

you,

to the name of the Lord God,

the inhabitants of all the remote parts of the bearing gifts in their hands, yes, gifts for earth to your holy name,

the king of heaven.

also bearing their gifts in their hands for Generations of generations

the king of heaven.

will give you great joy.

Generations of generations will give joyful worship in you,

and the name of the chosen one will last for the generations of the world.

12

Cursed are all who speak a harsh word;

12

Cursed are all who hate you;

cursed will be all who cast you down blessed forever will be all who love you.

and pull down your walls and all who overthrow your towers and set your homes on fire.

But blessed forever will be those who fear

you.

13

Then go, and rejoice before the sons of the 13

Rejoice and be glad over the sons of the

righteous,

righteous,

for they all will be gathered together for they will be gathered together and will bless the Lord of the age.

and will bless the Lord of the righteous.

14

Happy are those who love you,

14

O, happy are those who love you;

and happy are those who will rejoice in they will rejoice in your peace.

your peace.

Happy are those who grieved over all your

And happy are all the people who will afflictions,

grieve over you,

for they will rejoice over you upon seeing

over all your afflictions,

all your glory,

for they will rejoice over you and they will be made glad forever.

and see all your joy forever.

15

My soul blesses the Lord, the great king.

15

Let my soul bless God, the great king.

16

For Jerusalem will be built as a city, 16

For Ierousalem will be built with as his house for all the ages.
lapis lazuli and emerald, Happy shall I be if a remnant of my seed and your walls with precious stone, should be present

and the towers and battlements with pure

to see your glory

gold.

and to acknowledge the king of heaven.

And the gates of Ierousalem will be built with lapis lazuli and emerald, and all your walls with precious stone.

The towers of Ierousalem will be built with

gold,

and their battlements with pure gold.

17

The streets of Ierousalem will be paved

17

And the streets of Ierousalem will be paved with ruby and stone of Souphir.

with beryl and carbuncle and stone from 18

And the gates of Ierousalem will say hymns

Souphir.

of joy,

18

And all her lanes will say 'Hallelouia!'
and all her houses will say, 'Hallelouia!
and will give praise, saying, Blessed be the God of Israel!'
'Blessed be God,
And the blessed will bless his holy name who has exalted all the ages.' “ forever and ever.”

aOr O my soul, bless = Ha

476

tobit 14

GII

GI

14 Thenthewordsof Tobith'spraisewere

And Tobit stopped praising.

completed.

14

And he died in peace at one hundred twelve years, and he was buried with honor in Nineue.

2Now he was sixty-two years old when he became

2 Now he was fifty-eight years old when he lost maimed in his eyes, and after he saw again he lived his eyes, and after eight years he saw again. And he in prosperity and gave alms. And he still continued gave alms, and he continued to fear the Lord God to bless God and to acknowledge the majesty of

and to acknowledge him.

God.

3 Now when he was about to die, he called To-

3 Then he became very old; so he called his son bias his son and commanded him, saying: "My and the six sons of his son, and he said to him, child, take your children, 4and hurry off into “My child, take your sons; behold, I have become Media, for I believe the word of God about Nineue, old and am about to depart from life. 4Go into the things Naoum spoke, that all these things will Media, my child, for I trust what Ionas the proph-come about and happen to Athour and Nineue. et said about Nineue, that it will be overthrown.

Also everything that the prophets of Israel spoke, But in Media there will be peace till an appointed those whom God sent, will happen. And not one of time. And our kindred will be scattered over the all their words will fail, but all will come true at earth from the good land, and Hierosolyma will their appointed times. So in Media there will be be desolate. And the house of God in it will be safety rather than among the Assyrians or in Bab- burned down and will be desolate for a time.

ylon. For I know and believe that all things that God said will be fulfilled and will come to pass, and no utterance of his words shall fail. And our kindred, who live in the land of Israel, all will be scattered and taken as captives from the good land, and the whole land of Israel will be desolate, even Samaria and Ierousalem will be desolate. And the house of God will be in grief and will be burned down for a time.

5 "But again God will have mercy on them, and

5 "But again God will have mercy on them, and

God will bring them back into the land of Israel, he will bring them back into the land, and they and again they will build the house, but not like will build the house, not like the former one, until the first one, until the time when the time of the the appointed times of the age will be completed.

appointed times will be completed. Then after this Then after this they will return from their captivi-they all will return from their captivity, and they ties, and they will build Ierousalem honorably.

will build Ierousalem honorably. And the house of And the house of God will be built in it as a glori-God will be built in it, just as the prophets of Isra- ous building for all the generations of the age, just el said concerning it. 6Then all the nations in the as the prophets said concerning it. 6Then all the whole world will turn back and truly fear God. nations will turn back truly to fear the Lord God, And all will abandon their idols, which deceitfully and they will bury their idols. 7And all the nations have made them err in their error. 7And they will will bless the Lord, and his people will acknowl- bless the God of the ages in righteousness. All the edge God, and the Lord will exalt his people. And sons of Israel who are saved in those days, mindful all who love the Lord God in truth and righteous-of God in truth, will be gathered together. And ness will rejoice, showing mercy to our kindred.

they will go into Ierousalem and live forever in the land of Abraam with security, and it will be given over to them. And those who love God in truth will rejoice, but those who commit sin and injustice will vanish from all the earth.

8-9 "So now, my children, I command you,

8 "So now, my child, go away from Nineue, be-serve God in truth, and do what is pleasing before cause what the prophet Ionas said will surely hap-him. Also your children are to be commanded to pen. 9But you, keep the law and the ordinances, practice righteousness and almsgiving and to be and be merciful and just so that it may go well mindful of God and bless his name at every mo- with you. 10And bury me properly, and your moth-ment in truth and with all their strength.

er with me. And no longer spend the night in

"So now, my child, go out from Nineue, and do

Nineue. My child, see what Haman did to Achi-not remain here. 10On the day you bury your acharos who had reared him, how he brought him mother with me, on that day do not spend the

from the light into the darkness and with what he night within its borders. For I see that there is repaid him. Yet Achiacharos was saved, but that much injustice within it and that much deceit is other one received his requital; indeed he himself accomplished within it, and they are not ashamed. went down into the darkness. Manasses gave alms See, my child, what Nadab did to Achikaros who

and was saved from the death trap that they had

tobit 14

477

GII

GI

had reared him. Was he not, while still alive, set for him, but Haman fell into the trap and per-brought down into the earth? And God repaid the ished. 11So now, my children, see what almsgiving dishonor to his face. Now Achikaros came out into does and how righteousness delivers.” And as he

the light, but Nadab went into the everlasting said these things in his bed his soul left him. Now darkness, because he sought to kill Achikaros. Be- he was one hundred fifty-eight years old, and he cause he gave alms, he came out of the death trap buried him honorably.

that Nadab had set for him, but Nadab fell into the death trap himself, and it destroyed him. 11So now, my children, see what almsgiving does and what injustice does: it kills! But behold, my soul is about to leave.” Then they laid him on the bed, and he died, and he was buried honorably.

12 And when his mother died, Tobias buried

12 And when Hanna died, he buried her with her with his father. Then he and his wife went his father. Then Tobias went away with his wife away to Media and dwelled in Ecbatana with and his sons to Ecbatana to Ragouel his father-in-Ragouelos his father-in-law. 13He tended to them law. 13And he grew old honorably, and he buried respectfully in their old age, and he buried them at his parents-in-law honorably. Then he inherited Ecbatana in Media. Then he inherited the house of their property and that of Tobit his father.

Ragouelos and that of Tobith his father.

14 Then he died honorably at the age of one

14 Then he died at the age of one hundred twenhundred seventeen years. 15And before he died he ty-seven years at Ecbatana in Media. 15But before he saw and heard of the destruction of Nineue, and died he heard of the destruction of Nineue, which he saw its captivity being led into Media, which Nabouchodonosor and Asoueros had captured. Be-Achiacharos, the king of Media, had taken captive.

fore he died he rejoiced over Nineue.

And he blessed God for all the things that he had done to the sons of Nineue and Athouria; before he died he rejoiced over Nineue, and he blessed the Lord God forever and ever. Amena.

aOm = Ha

1 MAKKABEES

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of the book of 1 Makkabees is based upon the critical edition of the Greek text published by W. Kappler (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Societatis Litterarum Göttingensis editum IX. 1: Maccabaeorum liber I [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 2nd rev. ed., 1967]). Kappler's text has been adjusted at 10.49 where there is confusion among the manuscripts between the names Alexander (Balas) and Demetrius. Although the context suggests that Alexander defeated Demetrius in battle then pursued and killed him, the Kappler text follows the readings of those manuscripts that name Demetrius as the winner, even though he was killed in this battle. The variant readings in Kappler's critical apparatus, which support the historical fact that Alexander emerged victorious, have been preferred in this case.¹

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

Already in antiquity the existence of an original Semitic—probably Hebrew—Vorlage of 1 Makkabees was documented by early writers.² The first-century Jewish historian Josephus may have had occasion to consult the original Hebrew text as he paraphrased substantial parts of its Greek translation in his Jewish Antiquities.³ But it is more certain that the Christian Bible scholars Origen (third century) and Jerome (late fourth/early fifth centuries) knew of the existence of the Hebrew text of 1 Makkabees. Origen is quoted by the fourth-century Church historian Eusebius as referring to a “Makkabean History” outside of the twenty-two book Hebrew scriptural canon; Origen identifies this book by its Hebrew title “Sarbethsa-banaiel.”⁴ Jerome also, in his preface to the books of Samuel and Kings, clearly distinguishes the “Hebrew First Book of Makkabees” from the “Second Greek Book,” which ostensibly was 2 Makkabees.⁵

Modern scholars generally confirm the ancient viewpoint that our Greek text of 1 Makkabees is a translation of a long lost Hebrew Vorlage.⁶ The Semitic character of the original work is readily apparent in the extant Greek translation.⁷ Parataxis—a distinctive linguistic characteristic of Hebrew—is ubiquitous in 1 Makkabees except for the speeches and hymns scattered throughout the book. What has been said with regard to the LXX in general applies most especially to 1 Makkabees: “. . . there is no syntax, only parataxis. The whole is one great scheme of clauses connected by kai/, and we have to trust the sense to tell us which is to be so emphasized as to make it into the apodosis.”⁸ Other literary characteristics of 1 Makkabees identified by scholars as indicating a Hebrew Vorlage are: 1) the occurrence of traditional 1 See J. A. Goldstein’s discussion and arguments in support of Kappler's reading of this passage, 1 Maccabees (AB 41; Garden City, New York: Doubleday & Company, 1976) 414-415.

2 J. R. Bartlett, 1 Maccabees (Sheffield: Sheffield Academic Press, 1998) 17-18; Pfeiffer, History, 483; Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 14-16.

3 Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 16-17.

4 Historia Ecclesiastica, 6.25.2. Though slightly corrupt the Hebrew is thought to mean "Book of the Dynasty of God's Resisters," Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 16; Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 17-18; Pfeiffer, History, 484.

5 Jerome, "Prefaces to the Books of the Vulgate Version of the Old Testament" (NPNF 2 6.490).

6 F. M. Abel and J. Starcky (Les Livres des Maccabées [Paris: Cerf, 1961] 15) hold that the original Hebrew disappeared early and that the Greek version derives from a unique tradition made from a Hebrew manuscript that was not exempt from faults; see Caractéristiques littéraires for an elegant description of the character of the Greek translation; J. C. Dancy, A Commentary on 1 Maccabees (Oxford: Basil Blackwell, 1954) 8-9; A. T. Robertson, A Grammar of the Greek New Testament in the Light of Historical Research (Nashville, Tenn.: Broadman Press, 1934) 87. See H. W.

Ettelson, "The Integrity of 1 Maccabees," Transactions of the Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences 27 (1925) 249-384, for numerous specific examples of Hebrew linguistic characteristics.

7 E. Bickerman, The God of the Maccabees (SJLA 32; Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1979) 17; H. W. Attridge, "Historiography," in Jewish Writings of the Second Temple Period (Michael E. Stone, ed.; CRINT 2.2; Philadelphia: Fortress Press, 1984) 171; Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 14; Pfeiffer, History, 484.

8 F. C. Conybeare and St. George Stock, Grammar of Septuagint Greek (Boston: Ginn and Company, 1905; repr., Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 1988) 50.

to the reader of 1 makkabees

479

biblical phrases such as “and it came to pass” and “in those days”; 2) the presence of many expressions that appear to have been copied from biblical texts; 3) the direct transliteration of certain proper names from their original forms (e.g., Ramathaim, 11.34; Imalkoue 11.39; Chaphenatha, 12.37; Asaramel, 14.27); 4) the use of Jewish names for the months (e.g., Chaseleu, 1.54; 4.52, 59; Adar, 7.43, 49; Eloul, 14.27; Sabat, 16.14); 5) the presence of archaic terminology, pious addresses, and poems; 6) the large number and variety of Semitic idioms; 7) the incorporation of official documents; and 8) the fact that some difficulties in the Greek text can be explained as misunderstandings of the original Hebrew.⁹

The author of the original version of 1 Makkabees has been praised for having written in an elegant Hebrew style that was modeled purposely after the historical books of the Bible—Judges, Samuel, Kings and Chronicles.¹⁰ The faithfulness of 1 Makkabees to traditional biblical historiography implies that the writer may have considered his work to be a continuation of the Chronicler’s history.¹¹ The Greek translation of 1 Makkabees also seems to have been crafted by someone who shared the same conservative perspective as the original author. Scholars extol the careful, extremely literal Jewish-Greek translational style of 1 Makkabees and even consider it to be a deliberate choice on the part of the translator, whose exceptional vocabulary betrays a considerable facility with the Greek language.¹² The translator may have been making a political statement by choosing to follow traditional Jewish parataxis, as opposed to more correct Greek syntax. Continuing in the tradition of the original author, and of the Makkabees themselves, our translator deliberately rejected “Hellenism” in order to support the traditional linguistic style of his own Jewish cultural heritage.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 1 MAKKABEES

The strategy followed in the present translation has been dictated by the special circumstances surrounding the preservation of the text of 1 Makkabees: 1) there is general agreement that the extant Greek text is a translation from a Semitic Vorlage; 2) no fragments of the Vorlage are known to have survived, even among the Dead Sea Scrolls; and 3) the Greek translation of 1 Makkabees is our only link to the vanished original, given that all the other ancient versions of this book ultimately derive from the Greek.¹³ Though in books extant in both Hebrew (Aramaic) and Greek, the NRSV functions as base text for NETS, as a matter of principle, in 1 Maccabees such a role has been accorded the NRSV purely for the sake of convenience. The difference between NETS and NRSV typically reflects a difference in translation philosophy.

Throughout the NETS translation an effort has been put forth to represent Greek words consistently with the same corresponding English terms. Exception has been made for recurring Greek words that require a different meaning within a specific context. For example, the plural of the word for “force,” duna/meij, was rendered as “forces” throughout with the exception of 12.49. The word “infantry” was used in this case to distinguish these forces from the “cavalry” referred in the same verse. “Forces and cavalry” would seem redundant in English, since cavalry could also be described as forces.

Special care has been taken in the NETS translation to distinguish different Greek words of similar meaning by rendering them consistently with the same English terms. The most pertinent examples are a variety of words that denote holy things and places generically, and temples and liturgical items more specifically. Attention to these terms was necessitated by their tendency to appear in clusters, as in 4.36–58 where references to “holy” places and things are interspersed. The following chart delineates the occurrence of these words throughout 1 Makkabees:

- i9ero/n as temple: 6.2; 10.43, 84; 11.4; 13.52; 15.9; 16.20

- ei0dw&lion as house for an idol: 1.47; 10.83
- nao/j as shrine: 1.22; 2.8; 4.49, 50, 57; 7.36
- a9gi/asma as holy precinct: 1.21, 36, 37 (2 x), 39, 45, 46
- te/menoj as sacred precinct: 1.47; 5.43, 44
- ta\ a3gia:

as holy things: 2.12; 3.43, 58; 7.42; 10.39 (2 x), 44; 13.3, 6; 14.29, 31, 42, 43

as holy places: 3.51; 4.36, 41, 43, 48; 6.18, 54; 7.33; 9.54; 14.15 (2 x), 36, 48; 15.7

9 Abel and Starcky, Livres, 15; Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 14; Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 18-19; Ettelson, "Integrity,"

308-314, 317-320; Pfeiffer, History, 484-485.

10 Attridge, "Historiography," 157; M. Delcor, "The apocrypha and pseudepigrapha of the Hellenistic period," in CHJ, The Hellenistic Age vol. 2, 461; Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 18-19; Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 14.

11 Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 19; Delcor, "apocrypha," 461; Pfeiffer, History, 485-486.

12 Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 14.

13 Bartlett, 1 Maccabees, 14-16; Goldstein, 1 Maccabees, 176.

480

to the reader of 1 makkabees

EDITORIAL POLICY

The present translation follows the versification in Kappler's Göttingen text when it differs from—and is obviously superior to—that of the NRSV (cf. 1.43; 9.55, 67; 10.76; 13.18; 14.27, 43). In those cases in which personal pronouns occur in the text, but their referent is ambiguous or left unnamed, the referent has been supplied and the pronoun is noted in the footnotes (cf. 1.36; 1.54; 5.16, 27; 6.24, 31, 62; 9.11, 40, 48; 10.76, 78; 11.4, 53; 12.4, 46; 13.19-20, 29; 15.26, 36).

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

In the preparation of the NETS translation a number of other translations were consulted regularly in order to avoid reproducing any one of them too closely: the King James Version, Today's English Version, the New Revised Standard Version, the Douay Old Testament, the Knox Translation, the New American Bible, and the New Jerusalem Bible as presented most handily in J. R. Kohlenberger III, ed., The Parallel Apocrypha (New York: Oxford University Press, 1997). Also very helpful were the texts of J. A. Goldstein, 1 Maccabees and S. Tedesche, The First Book of Maccabees (Dropsie College Edition of Jewish Apocryphal Literature; New York: Harper & Brothers, 1950).

GEORGE T. ZERVOS

1 And it happened after the triumph of Alexander and joined themselves to the nations and under the Macedonian the son of Philip, who sold themselves to do evil.

came out of the land of Chetitim and defeated Da-

16 And the kingdom was ready in the sight of rius, king of the Persians and Medes, and became Antiochus, and he undertook to become king in his place, formerly being king of the land of Egypt so that he might rule over the Greece—2 and he conducted many wars and seized two kingdoms. 17 And he invaded Egypt with a fortress and slaughtered the kings of the earth. heavily armed host, with chariots and elephants 3 And he penetrated to the ends of the earth and a large fleet. 18 And he made war against Ptolemy—took the spoils of a multitude of nations. And the my, king of Egypt, and Ptolemy turned from before earth became quiet before him, and he was exalted, him and fled, and many fell wounded. 19And they and his heart was uplifted. 4And he gathered a very seized the fortified cities in the land of Egypt, and powerful force and ruled over countries, nations he took the spoils of the land of Egypt.

and tyrants, and they became tributary to him.

20 And Antiochus returned after conquering

5 And after this he fell upon his bed and knew Egypt in the one hundred forty-third year and went that he was dying. 6And he called his distinguished up against Israel and went up against Hierosolyma servants, who had been raised with him from their with a heavily armed host. 21And he entered the youth, and divided his kingdom among them holy precinct with arrogance and took the golden while he was still living. 7And Alexander ruled for altar and the lamp stand for the light and all its twelve years and died.

utensils 22and the table of presentation and the li-

8 And his servants took control, each in his bation bowls and the saucers and the golden own place. 9And they all put on crowns after he censers and the veil and the crowns, and he died, as did their sons after them for many years, stripped off all the gold ornamentation on the and they multiplied evils on the earth.

façade of the shrine. 23And he took the silver and

10 And out of them arose a sinful root, Anti- the gold and the precious vessels, and he took the ochus Epiphanes son of Antiochus the king, who hidden treasures, which he found. 24And taking had been a hostage in Rome and became king in everything, he left for his own land the one hundred thirty-seventh year of the king and carried out murder dom of the Greeks.

and spoke with great arrogance.

11 In those days out of Israel came sons, trans- 25

And there was great mourning in Israel, in gressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, every place of theirs.

“Let us go and make a covenant with the nations 26

And rulers and elders groaned, around us, because from the time we separated virgins and young men weakened, ourselves from them many evils have found us.”

and the beauty of the women was 12 And the proposition seemed good in their eyes; deformed.

13 so some of the people took courage and went to 27

Every bridegroom took up lamentation;

the king, and he gave them the authority to follow

she who sat in the bridal chamber was in the statutes of the nations. 14And they built a gym-
mourning.

nasium in Hierosolyma according to the precepts 28

And the land quaked for those dwelling in it,

of the nations, 15and they fashioned foreskins for and all the house of Iakob was clothed themselves and apostatized from the holy cov-

with shame.

1 makkabees 1-2

481

29 Two years later the king sent a chief revenue and they did evil in the land. 53And they forced Isagent to the cities of Iouda, and he came to Ie-rael into hiding places, into every one of their Iousalem with a heavily-armed host.
30And he places of refuge.

spoke peaceful words to them with deceit, and 54 And on the fifteenth day of Chuseu in the they trusted him. But he fell upon the city sudden- one hundred and forty-fifth year, he constructed Iy and struck it a great blow, and he destroyed an abomination of desolation on the altar, and in many people from Israel.

31And he took the spoils the cities around Iouda they built altarsb 55and of the city and burned it with fire and tore down burned incense at the doors of the houses and in its houses and the walls around it. 32And they took the city squares. 56And the books of the law which the women and the children captive and took pos- they found they tore up and burned with fire.

session of the livestock. 33And they reconstructed 57And wherever there was found in someone's the city of David with a large and fortified wall possession a book of the covenant, or if someone with fortified towers, and it became a citadel for was conforming to the law, the judgment of the them. 34And they stationed a sinful nation there, king put them to death. 58And they were using lawless men, and they became strong in it. 35And their power on those who were found in Israel they stockpiled weapons and food, and gathering month by month in the cities. 59On the twenty- the plunder of Ierousalem, they stored it there and fifth of the month they were sacrificing on the al-became a great threat.

tarb that was on top of the sacrificial altar. 60And

36

Ita became an ambush for the holy precinct

the women who had circumcised their children and an evil enemy to Israel continuously.

they put to death according to the ordinance,

37

61

And they poured out innocent blood and they hung the babies from their necks and around the holy precinct put to death their families and those who circum-

and defiled the sanctuary.
cised them.

38

And the residents of Jerusalem left because 62 But many in Israel remained strong and for-
of them,
tified themselves not to eat common things. 63And and it became a residence for foreigners they preferred to die so as not to be contaminated and became foreign to those born of her, by food and not to defile the holy covenant, and
and her children abandoned her.
they died. 64And there was a very great wrath upon 39

Her holy precinct became deserted as a Israel.
wilderness;

her feasts were turned to mourning,

In those days Mattathias son of Ioannes son of her sabbaths to disgrace,

2 Symeon, a priest of the sons of Ioarib, left le-her honor to scorn.

Jerusalem and settled in Modein. 2And he had five 40

Her dishonor was multiplied to equal her sons, Ioannes, who was called Gaddi, 3Simon, former glory,

who was called Thassi, 4Ioudas, who was called and her exaltation was turned to Makkabaios, 5Eleazaros, who was called Auaran,

mourning.

Jonathan, who was called Apphous. 6And he saw 41 And the king wrote to all his kingdom for all the blasphemies occurring in Iouda and in Ierou-to be as one people 42and for each to abandon his salem 7and said, own precepts; all the nations complied with the “Woe to me, why was I born to see this, dictum of the king. 43And many also from Israel the destruction of my people and the approved of his service and sacrificed to idols and destruction of the holy city?

profaned the sabbath. 44And the king sent docu-And they lived there when itd was delivered ments carried by the hand of messengers to lerou-into the hands of enemies, salem and the cities of louda for them to follow the holy precinct into the hands of precepts foreign to the land 45and to withhold foreigners.

whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and libation 8
And her shrine became as a man without from the holy precinct and to profane sabbaths honor.

and feasts 46and to defile holy precinct and holy 9
The vessels of her glory were taken ones, 47to build altarsb and sacred precincts and captive.

houses to idols and to sacrifice swine and com-

Her infants were killed in her city squares, mon animals 48and to leave their sons uncircumher young people by the sword of an cised, to make their souls abominable in every un-enemy.

clean and profane thing, 49so as to forget the law 10

What nation did not possess her in its

and to change all the statutes. 50And whoever

kingdom

would not abide by the command of the king nor seize her spoils?

would die.

11

All her adornment was removed;

51 According to all these words he wrote to all from being free she became a slave.

his kingdom and appointed supervisors over all 12

And look, our eholy placese, our beauty

the people and commanded all the cities of louda and our glory were devastated.

to sacrifice city by city. 52And many of the people

And the nations defiled them.

joined them, everyone who abandoned the law,

13

Why is there still life in us?"

al.e. the citadel bGk = bômos cl.e. Antiochus dl.e. the city el.e. temple

482

1 makkabees 2

14 And Mattathias and his sons tore their garments and put on sackcloth and mourned in witness to us that you destroy us unjustly.” 38And tensely.

they fell upon them in battle on the sabbaths, and 15 And the agents of the king, who were enemies and their wives and their children and their forcing the apostasy, came to the city of Modein to livestock died, as many as one thousand human sacrifice. 16And many from Israel came to them, souls.

and Mattathias and his sons gathered together.

39 And Mattathias and his friends learned of 17And the agents of the king answered and said to this, and they mourned over them greatly. 40And

Mattathias, saying, “You are a ruler, both glorious they said, a man to his neighbor, “If we all do as and great in this city, and supported by sons and our brothers did and do not fight against the nations. 18Now you come forward first and exertions for our lives and for our statutes, now quick-cut the ordinance of the king, as have done all the way they will annihilate us from the land.” 41And nations and the men of Judah and those remaining they decided on that day saying, “Every person living in Jerusalem. And you and your sons will be who comes against us in battle on the day of the among the Friends of the king, and you and your sabbaths, let us fight against them, and we will not sons will be glorified with silver and gold and all die as our brothers died in the hiding places.” much compensation.”

42 At that time a gathering of Hasideans joined

19 And Mattathias answered and said with a together with them, strong in power, from Israel, loud voice, “If all the nations which are in the every one of them volunteering for the law. 43And realm of the king obey him so as to apostatize, all the fugitives from the evils were added to them each one from the religion of their fathers, and and became a support for them. 44And they as-adopt his commandments, 20both I and my sons seemed a force and struck down sinners in their and my brothers will walk in the covenant of our wrath and lawless men in their anger, and the rest fathers. 21God help us if we abandon the law and fled to the nations to be saved. 45And Mattathias the statutes; 22we will not obey the words of the and his friends went around and tore down the alking nor deviate from our religion to the right or tarsa 46and circumcised by force all the uncircum-to the left.”

cised boys they found within the borders of Israel.

23 And as he finished speaking these words, a 47And they persecuted the children of insolence, Judean man came within sight of all to sacrifice on and their mission was successful by their hand.

the altara in Modein in accordance with the ordi- 48And they reclaimed the law out of the hands of nance of the king. 24And Mattathias saw this, and the nations and out of the hands of the kings, and he became zealous, and his kidneys became stirred they gave no support to the sinner.

up. And his anger arose in judgment. And running,

49 And the days drew near for Mattathias to he slaughtered him on the altara 25and killed the die, and he said to his sons, "Now arrogance and agent of the king, who was forcing them to sacri- reproach have been established, a time of destruc- fice at that time, and tore down the altara. 26And tion and fierce wrath. 50Now, children, be zealous he became zealous in the law as Phinees had done in the law, and give your lives for the covenant of against Zambri son of Salom.

our fathers.

27 And Mattathias cried out in the city with a 51 "Remember the works of our fathers, which loud voice, saying, "Let everyone who is zealous in they did in their generations, and receive great the law and is upholding the covenant follow me." glory and an everlasting name. 52Was not Abraam 28And he and his sons fled to the mountains and found faithful in temptation, and it was accounted abandoned everything they had in the city.

to him as righteousness? 53Ioseph in the time of 29 At that time many who were seeking righ- his affliction observed the commandment and be-teousness and judgment descended to the wilder- came lord of Egypt. 54Phinees our father, by be-ness to live there, 30they, their sons, their wives and coming zealous with zeal, received a covenant of their livestock, because evils worsened upon them. everlasting priesthood. 55Iesous, by fulfilling the 31And it was announced to the king's men and to command, became a judge in Israel. 56Chaleb, by his forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of bearing witness in the assembly, received an inheritance of land. 57David, by his mercy, inherited the mandment of the king went into hiding in the throne of a kingdom forever. 58Elias, by becoming wilderness. 32And many chased after them and greatly zealous for the law, was taken up into heaven-overtaking them, marshaled against them and ended. 59Hananiah, Azarias and Misael, because of gaged them in battle on the day of the sabbaths. their faith, were saved from fire. 60Daniel, by his 33And they said to them, "Enough! Come out, and simplicity, was rescued from the mouth of lions.

do according to the dictum of the king, and you

61 "Therefore, keep in mind from generation to will live." 34And they said, "We will not come out. generation that all who hope in him will not weak-Nor will we execute the dictum of the king to de- en. 62And do not fear on account of the words of a file the day of the sabbaths." 35And theyb increased sinner, because their glory will become dung and the battle against them. 36But they neither an- worms. 63Today they will be elevated, but tomorrow they will be found, because they will have even secured their hiding places, 37saying, "Let us returned to their dust and their counsels will be

aGk = bômos bl.e. the enemy

1 makkabees 2-3

lost. 64Children, be brave, and be strong in the law, a name for myself and will be glorified in the king-for by it you will be glorified.

dom. And I will make war on loudas and those

65 “And look, Symeon your brother, I know with him who disregard the dictum of the king.”

that he is a man of counsel. Hear him all the days. 15And there was added a powerful company of im-He shall be as a father to you. 66And loudas Mak- pious men, and it went up with him to help him kabaio has been strong in power since his youth. take revenge on the descendants of Israel.

He shall be commander of the army and shall fight

16 And he drew near to the ascent of the war of the peoples. 67And you shall draw to Baithoron, and loudas went out to meet him with you all those who observe the law and execute few companions. 17But as they saw the company vengeance for your people. 68Return what is due to coming to meet them, they said to loudas, “How the nations, and be attentive to the ordinance of will we, being so few, be able to fight against such the law.”

a powerful multitude? And we are weak, having 69 And he blessed them and was joined to his eaten nothing today.” 18And loudas said, “It is easy fathers. 70And he died in the one hundred forty- for many to be ensnared by the hands of a few.

sixth year and was buried among the tombs of his And it makes no difference before heaven to save ancestors in Modein. And all Israel mourned for by many or by a few.

19For victory in war is not in him with great mourning.

the multitude of force, but rather, power is from heaven. 20They come against us with great arro-

And Iudas his son who was called Mak-gance and lawlessness, to eliminate us and our

3 kabaios, rose up in his place, 2and all his wives and our children, to despoil us. 21But we brothers helped him, as did all who had joined his fight for our lives and our precepts, 22and he his father. And they fought the war for Israel with glad- self will smash them before us. You, therefore, do not not be afraid of them.”

3

And he spread glory to his people

23 When he had finished speaking, he drove and put on a breastplate like a giant and upon them suddenly. And Seron and his company strapped on his war instruments.

were smashed before him. 24And they pursued him

And he conducted battles, on the descent of Baithoron down to the plain. And protecting the camp by the sword.

eight hundred men of them fell, and the rest fled to 4

And he resembled a lion in his works

the land of Philistia. 25Thus began the fear of

and was like a whelp roaring in the land of Judah and his brothers, and dread fell upon the hunt.

nations all around them. 26And his name reached 5

And seeking out the lawless, he persecuted

the king himself, and every nation was discussing

them

the battles of Ioudas.

and burned up those who disturbed his 27 But when Antiochus heard these words, he

people.

raged in anger and sent for and gathered together

6

And the lawless drew back for fear of him,

all the forces of his kingdom, a very powerful and all the workers of lawlessness were company. 28 And he opened his treasury and gave disturbed,

rations to his forces for a year. And he command-and salvation was successful by his hand.

ed them to be prepared for every service. 29 But he 7

And he caused bitterness to many kings, saw that the money from the treasuries had given and gladness to Iakob by his works, out, and the taxes of the country were few because and his memory will be a blessing of the dissension and affliction that he had

forever.

brought upon the land by revoking the precepts,

8

And he went through the cities of Iouda which existed from the first days. 30And he was and annihilated the impious from it concerned that he might not have as much as he and turned away wrath from Israel.

usually had for his expenditures and for the gifts,

9

And his name was known to the ends of the which he used to give before with a liberal hand
earth,
when he exceeded the kings preceding him. 31And and he gathered together those who were he was greatly frustrated in his soul and decided to lost.

go to Persia and to take the taxes from those coun-

10 And Apollonius gathered together the na- tries and to gather much money.

tions and a large force from Samaria, to make war

32 And he left Lysias, a distinguished man of against Israel. 11And loudas found out, and he the royal family, over the affairs of the king from went out to meet him. And he struck and killed the Euphrates river to the borders of Egypt 33and him. And many fell wounded, and the rest fled. to raise Antiochus his son until he returned.

34And 12And they took their spoils, and loudas took the

he gave to hima half of his forces and the elephants dagger of Apollonius and fought with it all his and commanded him concerning everything he days.

was considering and concerning the inhabitants of 13 And Seron, the commander of the force of Judea and Ierousalem, 35to send a force against Syria, heard that loudas had gathered a force and them to wipe out and to destroy the strength of Is-an assembly of troops loyal to him who were going rael and the remnant of Ierousalem and to remove out with him to battle. 14And he said, "I will make the memory of them from the place 36and to settle al.e. Lysias

484

1 makkabees 3-4

alien sons in all their regions and to parcel out 53

How will we be able to withstand them face their land by lot. 37And the king took the half of

to face,

the forces that remained and departed from Anti-

if you do not help us?"

och, from the city of his kingdom in the one hun-

54 And they trumpeted with the trumpets and dred and forty-seventh year. And he crossed over cried out with a great shout. 55And after this, the Euphrates river and went through the upper loudas established leaders of the people, officers of countries.

thousands and officers of hundreds and officers of 38 And Lysias selected Ptolemy son of Do- fifties and officers of tens. 56And he said to those rymenes and Nicanor and Gorgias, powerful men who were building houses and were betrothed to from the Friends of the king, 39and sent with them women and were planting vineyards and were forty thousand men and seven thousand cavalry to cowards to return each one to his home according go into the land of louda and to devastate it ac- to the law. 57And the company departed and cording to the dictum of the king. 40And hea de- camped to the south of Ammaous.

parted together with their whole force, and they 58 And loudas said, "Gird yourselves, and became and camped near Ammaous in the flatland. come strong sons. And be ready in the morning to 41And the merchants of the land heard their name, do battle with these nations, which have gathered and they took silver and very much gold and together against us to annihilate us and our bholy shackles and came to the camp to take the sons of placesb. 59For it is better for us to die in battle than Israel as servants. And there were added to them a to look upon the evils of our nation and of our force from Syria and from the land of the allo- bholy placesb. 60But as is the will of heaven, thus phyles.

shall he do.”

42 And loudas and his brothers saw that the evils were multiplied and that the forces were

And Gorgias took five thousand men and one camped within their borders and learned of the or- 4 thousand select cavalry. And the company de- ders of the king, which he had commanded to do parted by night 2in order to fall upon the camp of to the people for destruction and annihilation, the Judeans and strike them suddenly. And the 43and they said, each to his neighbor, “Let us raise sons of the citadel were his guides. 3And loudas up the ruination of our people and make war for learned this, and he and his strongest men went our people and the bholy placesb.” 44And the con- out to defeat the force of the king, which was at gregation gathered together to be ready for battle Ammaous, 4while the forces were still scattered and to pray and to request mercy and compassion.

from the camp. 5And Gorgias arrived at the camp

45

And Ierousalem was uninhabited like a of loudas at night and found no one, and he wilderness.

sought them in the mountains, because he said,

There was no one going in or going out

“These men are fleeing from us.”

of those born of her.

6 And at daybreak loudas was seen in the plain

And the holy precinct was downtrodden, with three thousand men, except that they had no

and sons of aliens were in the citadel, coveringse and dagger as they wanted. 7And they

a dwelling-place for the nations.

saw the camp of the nations, strong, heavily-de-

And enjoyment was taken away from Iakob, fended and with cavalry encircling it, and these and flute and cinyrac ceased.

were instructed for war. 8And loudas said to the

46 And they gathered together and came to men who were with him, "Do not fear their multitude across from Jerusalem, for there was a multitude, and do not be cowardly at their charge. 9 Remember the place of prayer formerly in Massepha for Israel. Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red Sea 47 And they fasted on that day and wrapped themselves when Pharaoh was pursuing them in force. 10 And themselves in sackcloth and ashes on their heads and now let us cry out to heaven, if he will desire us to tear their clothes. 48 And they spread out the book and will remember the covenant of our fathers and of the law, seeking that concerning which the nation will smash this company in front of us today.

11

nations inquire of the images of their idols. 49 And

And all the nations will know that there is one who brought the garments of the priesthood, the one who redeems and saves Israel."

first products and the tithes, and they aroused the 12 And the Amalekites lifted up their eyes and Nazirites who had fulfilled their days. 50 And they saw them coming from the opposite side, 13 and cried out loudly to heaven saying, they came out of the camp to battle. And those

"What shall we do to these,

who were with us? 14 and trumpeted and joined and where shall we carry them?

battle with them. And the nations were smashed 51

And your holy places have been and fled to the plain. 15But all the hindmost fell downtrodden and defiled, by the sword. And they pursued them as far as and your priests are in mourning and Gazera and as far as the flatlands of Idumea, Azohumiliation.

tus and Jamnia, and of them three thousand men

52

And look, the nations have gathered fell. 16And loudas and his force returned from together against us to annihilate us.

chasing after them. 17And he said to the people,

You know what they are contemplating

“Do not desire plunder, for the battle is before us.

18

against us.

And Gorgias and the force in the mountain are a.l.e. Lysias bl.e. temple c = Heb kinnor = lyre dOr gathered ePossibly shields

1 makkabees 4

485 near us. But now, stand against our enemies, and 40and fell on their faces on the ground. And they do battle against them, and after that take the trumpeted with the signal trumpets and cried out plunder freely.”

to heaven.

19 Just as loudas was concluding these things,

41 Then loudas ordered men to fight those in a certain detachment was seen peering out of the the citadel until he could purify the bholy placesb.

mountain. 20And they saw that they had been 42And he selected uncorrupted priests, devotees routed, and theya were burning the camp, for the of the law, 43and they purified the bholy placesb smoke that was being seen made apparent what and took the stones of pollution to an unclean had happened. 21Now when they comprehended place. 44And they took counsel concerning the these things, they became very frightened. And per- altar of whole burnt offering, which had been deceiving also the army of loudas in the plain ready filed, as to what they should do with it.
45And in battle order, 22they all fled to the land of the al-there fell to them a good counsel, to tear it down lophyles.
23And loudas turned to the plundering so that it would not become a reproach to them, of the camp, and they took much gold and silver, because the nations defiled it. And they tore blue and sea purple cloth and great wealth. 24And down the altar 46and put away the stones on the returning, they sang hymns and blessed heaven, mount of the house in a suitable place until a “for he is good, for his mercy is forever.” 25And a prophet would come to give an answer concern-great salvation came about in Israel on that day.

ing these things. 47And they took whole stones

26 And as many of the allophyles survived, according to the law and built a new altar like the when they arrived, they informed Lysias of every- former one. 48And they built the bholy placesb thing that had happened. 27Upon hearing, he be- and the inner areas of the house and sanctified came confused and disheartened, because things the courts. 49And they made new holy vessels and that he did not want had happened to Israel, and brought the lamp stand and the altar of incense what resulted was not what the king had com- and the table into the shrine. 50And they burned manded him. 28And in the following year he mus- incense on the altar and lit the lamps, which were tered sixty thousand select men and five thousand on the lamp stand, and they gave light in the cavalry in order to make war on them. 29And they shrine. 51And they placed loaves on the table and came into Idumea and camped at Baithsoura, and spread out the veils and finished all the works loudas met them with ten thousand men.

which they made.

30 And he saw the powerful army, and he

52 And they arose on the morning of the twen-prayed and said, “Blessed are you, the savior of Is- ty-fifth of the ninth month, this being the month rael, who smashed the attack of the powerful one Chuseu, of the one hundred and forty-eighth by the hand of your slave David and delivered the year, 53and they offered sacrifice according to the camp of the allophyles into the hands of Ionathes law on the new altar of whole burnt offerings that son of Saoul and of the bearer of his armor. 31En- they made. 54During the same time and on the trap this camp in the hand of your people Israel, same day on which the nations defiled it, on that and let them be put to shame in their army and day it was rededicated with songs and lyres and their cavalry. 32Give them cowardice, and melt the cinyrasc and cymbals. 55And all the people fell on boldness of their strength, and let them be shaken their face and did obeisance and blessed heaven, in their ruination. 33Subdue them by the sword of which made them successful. 56And they accom- those who love you, and let all those who know plished the rededication of the altar in eight days your name praise you with hymns.”

and offered whole burnt offerings with gladness.

34 And they joined battle with each other, and And they offered a sacrifice of salvation and praise.

from the army of Lysias fell five thousand men, 57And they decorated the façade of the shrine with and they fell from before them. 35And seeing the gold crowns and small shields and renewed the developing rout of his own formation but the gates and priest’s chambers and furnished them complete boldness of loudas and how they were with doors. 58And very great gladness came upon ready to live or die bravely, Lysias departed to An- the people, and their disgrace before the nations tioch and was enlisting foreign troops, [and] be- was removed.

coming numerous again in order to return to 59 And loudas, his brothers and the whole as-Judea.

sembly of Israel established that the days of the 36 But loudas and his brothers said, "Look, rededication of the altar would be commemorated our enemies have been smashed. Let us go up to in their times, year by year, eight days from the purify and rededicate the bholy placesb."

37And twenty-fifth of the month Chaseleu, with gladness the whole company gathered together and went and joy.

up to Mount Sion. 38And they saw the holy

60 And they constructed at that time all around precinct desolate and the altar defiled and the Mount Sion high walls and fortified towers so that doors burned and plants growing in the courts as the nations would not return and trample them in a thicket or as in one of the mountains and the down as they did before. 61And hed stationed a chambers of the priests demolished. 39And they force there to defend it, and he fortified it to de-tore their garments and mourned with great fend Baithsoura so that the people would have a mourning. And they spread ashes on themselves fortress facing Idumea.

a.l.e. the Judeans b.l.e. temple c = Heb kinnor = lyre d.l.e. loudas

486

1 makkabees 5

5 And it happened, when the surrounding nathemasfarasthegateofPtolemais,andfromthe tions heard that the altar had been built and nations up to three thousand men fell, and he took the holy precinct had been rededicated as before, their spoils. 23And he took those from Galilee and they were greatly angered and decided to annihilate the race of Jacob who were in their midst. everything that was theirs and led them to Judea And they began to kill among the people and to with great gladness.

drive them out. 3And Judas made war against the 24 And Judas Maccabaios and Jonathan his sons of Esau in Idumea, against Akra, brother crossed over the Jordan and went there because they were besieging Israel. And he struck a great blow in the wilderness. 25And they came upon them a mighty blow and reduced them and took upon the Nabateans and met with them peacefully.

their spoils. 4And he remembered the evil of the And they related to them everything that had happened to the people as a snare opened to their kindred in Galaaditis 26and that and as a trap by ambushing them on the roads. many of them were captive in Bosora and Bosor, in 5And they were confined by him to the towers, and

Alema, Chaspho, Maked and Karnain. "All these

he marshaled his troops against them and anathematized them and fortified and great. 27And in the remaining cities of Galaaditis also burned their towers with fire to ing cities of Galaaditis also there are captives. They together with all those who were inside. 6And he is marshalling troops, to assault the fortresses to-crossed over against the sons of Ammon and morrow and to take them and to annihilate all found a strong band and many people with Timo- these people in one day.”

thy their leader. 7And he engaged in many battles

28 And loudas and his army turned away by against them, and they were smashed before him, the road into the wilderness toward Bosora sud-and he defeated them. 8And he occupied lazer and denly and took the city. And he killed every male its daughtersa and returned to Judea.

by the edge of the sword and took all their spoils

9 And the nations in Galaad gathered together and burned it with fire. 29And he departed from against the Israelites who were within their borders, there by night, and they went as far as the fortress.

30

to eliminate them, but they fled to the fortress of

And it happened in the morning, they lifted up

Dathema. 10And they sent letters to loudas and his their eyes, look, a large crowd of people, which was brothers, saying, “The nations around us are gath- innumerable, carrying ladders and siege engines to ered together against us to annihilate us. 11And they take the fortress, and they were battling them.

31

are preparing to come and occupy the fortress in

And Ioudas saw that the battle had begun, and which we have taken refuge, and Timothy is the the screaming of the city went up as far as heaven leader of their force. 12Now then come, and deliver with trumpeting and great screaming, 32and he us from their hand for a multitude of us has fallen. said to the men of his force, "Fight today for our 13And all our brothers who are in the area of kindred." 33And he went out in three divisions

Toubia have been killed, and they have captured from behind them, and they trumpeted with the their wives and their children and belongings and trumpets and cried out in prayer. 34And the army destroyed about a thousand men there."

of Timothy recognized that it was Makkabaios, and 14 While the letters were being read, look, they fled from before him, but he struck them a other messengers were arriving from Galilee, hav- heavy blow, and up to eight thousand of their men ing torn their garments, giving a report similar to fell on that day.

these words, 15saying that there was gathered

35 And he turned aside to Maapha and made against them, from Ptolemais and Tyre and Sidon war on it and took it. And he killed every male in and "even all the Galilee of the allophytes, to an- it and took its spoils and burned it with fire.

nihilate us.” 16Now when loudas and the people 36From there he departed and occupied Chaspho, heard these words, a great assembly was gathered Maked and Bosor and the remaining cities of together to decide what they should do for their Galaaditis.

kindred who were in affliction and were embattled

37 After these developments Timothy gathered by them. 17And loudas said to Simon his brother, another army and camped before Raphon on the “Select men for yourself, and go, and rescue your other side of the wadi. 38And loudas sent agents to kindred who are in Galilee. And I and Ionathan spy out the camp, and they reported to him saying, my brother will go to Galaaditis.” 18And he left “There are gathered together to him all the nations Iosephos the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, a surrounding us, a very great force. 39And he has leader of the people, with the remainder of the even hired Arabs to help them, and they are force in Judea for defense. 19And he commanded camped on the other side of the wadi ready to them saying, “Protect this people, and do not join come against you in battle.” And loudas went out battle against the nations until we return.” 20And to meet them.

three thousand men were allotted to Simon to go

40 And Timothy said to the commanders of his

to Galilee, and to loudas eight thousand men for force as loudas and his army came near to the wadi Galaaditis.

of water, “If he crosses over towards us first, we will

21 And Simon went to Galilee and conducted not be able to withstand him for he is powerful many battles against the nations, and the nations enough to prevail against us. 41But if he becomes were smashed from before him. 22And he pursued cowardly and camps on the other side of the river, a.l.e. dependent villages b.l.e. Judeans c.l.e. the cities

1 makkabees 5-6

487

we will cross over towards him and will prevail ly. 62But they were not of the seed of those men to against him.” 42But when loudas came near to the whom was given salvation to Israel by their hand.

stream of water, he set the scribes of the people at

63 And the man loudas and his brothers were the stream and commanded them, saying, “Do not glorified greatly before all Israel and all the nations allow any person to camp, but let them all come where their name was heard. 64And they would into the battle.” 43And he crossed over against gather together praising them.

them first, and all the people were behind him.

65 And loudas and his brothers went out and

And the nations were smashed from before him, made war on the sons of Esau in the land to the and they threw down their weapons and fled to the south. And he struck Chebron and its daughtersb sacred precinct in Karnain. 44And they occupied and tore down its fortresses and burned the towers the city and burned the sacred precinct with fire to- all around it. 66And he departed to go to the land gether with all who were in it. And Karnain was of the allophytes and was going through Marisa.

vanquished, and they were no longer able to stand 67On that day priests fell in battle, desiring to act before loudas.

heroically in it by going into battle thoughtlessly.

45 And loudas gathered together all of Israel 68And loudas turned away to Azotus, a land of the who were in Galaaditis from the small to the great allophytes, and tore down their altarsc and burned and their wives and their children and belongings, the carvings of their gods with fire and took the a very great company, to come to the land of spoils of the cities and returned to louda.

louda. 46And they came as far as Ephron. And this was a great city on the road, very well fortified, and

And King Antiochus was going through the

it was not possible to go around it to the right or 6 upper lands and heard that Elymais is a city in to the left, but only to go through the middle of it. Persia distinguished for its wealth in silver and 47But the people who were from the city closed gold. 2And the temple that is in it is very wealthy, them out and blocked the gates with stones.

and there are golden coveringsd and breastplate

48 And loudas sent a message to them with and weapons, which Alexander left there, the son peaceful words, saying, "We will pass through your of Philip, the king, the Macedonian, who first be-land to return to our land, and no one will do you came king over the Greeks. 3And he came and harm; we will only pass by on foot." But they did sought to take the city and to plunder it, and he not want to open to him. 49And loudas gave the was not able, because word of it became known to order to announce to the army for each to camp in people from the city, 4and they stood up against the place where they were. 50And the men of the him in battle. And he fled and departed from there force camped, and he made war on the city all that with great sorrow to return to Babylon.

day and all night, and the city was delivered into

5 And someone came to him in Persia reporting his hand. 51And he destroyed every male by the that the armies that were going to Judea had been edge of the sword. And he demolished ita and took routed 6and that Lysias went initially with a power-its spoils and passed through the city over those ful force but was turned back from before theme, who had been killed.

and theye were strengthened by the weapons and

52 And they crossed over the Jordan to the power and much plunder that they took from the large plain before Baithsan. 53And loudas was armies that they had cut down 7and that they tore gathering the stragglers and encouraging the peo-down the abomination that he had built on the ple all along the road until he came to the land of altar in Ierousalem and encircled the holy precinct louda. 54And they went up to Mount Sion with with high walls as it had been before, and also gladness and joy and offered whole burnt offer-Baithsoura, his city.

ings, because no one of them fell until they re-

8 And it happened, when the king heard these turned in peace.

words, he was astonished and greatly shaken, and 55 And in the days during which Ioudas and he fell upon his bed and fell into illness from grief, Ionathan were in the land of Galaad and Simon because things did not happen for him as he dehis brother was in Galilee before Ptolemais, sired.

9And he remained there rather many days, 56Ioseph the son of Zacharias and Azarias, com-because intense grief mounted in him and he reck-manders of the force, heard of the heroic actions oned that he was dying. 10And he called all his and of the war which they executed. 57And they Friends and said to them, "Sleep eludes my eyes, said, "Let us make a name for ourselves also, and and I am disheartened from worry. 11And I said in let us go to make war against the nations around my heart, 'To what affliction have I come, and how us.'" 58And they gave orders to the men of the force great is the cataclysm in which I am now?' For I that was with them and went to Jamnia. 59And was kind and beloved in my authority. 12But now Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet I remember the evils which I did in Ierousalem.

them in battle. 60And Iosephos and Azarias were And I took all the silver and gold vessels that were routed and were pursued as far as the borders of in it, and I sent men to annihilate the inhabitants Judea, and on that day up to two thousand of the of Iouda in vain. 13I know that, because of these people of Israel fell. 61And there was a great rout things, these evils have found me, and now look, I among the people, because they did not listen to am perishing with great grief in a foreign land.”

loudas and his brothers, intending to act heroical-

14 And he called Philip, one of his Friends, and al.e. the city bl.e. dependent villages cGk = bômos dPossibly shields el.e. the Judeans

488

1 makkabees 6

established him over his whole kingdom. 15And each beast, sturdy, covered, tied on it with devices, he gave him his crown and robe and the seal ring and on each one were four men of strength, who in order to guide Antiochus his son and raise him fought upon them, and its Indian handler. 38And to be king. 16And Antiochus the king died there in he stationed the rest of the cavalry on the sides at the one hundred forty-ninth year. 17And Lysias both flanks of the army as raiders and as guards for found out that the king had died, and he estab- the phalanxes. 39Now as the sun shone on the gold lished Antiochus his son to be king in his place, and copper shields, the mountains glittered with whom he had raised as a youth, and he called his them and glowed as lamps of fire.

name Eupator.

40 And a certain part of the army of the king

18 And the men from the citadel had shut Isra- spread out on the high mountains and some of the el in around the

aholy placesa and were seeking to lower ones, and they were advancing securely and do harm by every means and to support the na- in order. 41And everyone trembled who heard the tions. 19And loudas determined to eliminate them sound made by the multitude of them and by the and summoned all the people together to besiege marching of the multitude and the clashing of the them. 20And they gathered together and besieged weapons, for the army was very great and mighty.

them in the one hundred fiftieth year. And he built 42And loudas and his army drew near to do battle, siege towers and engines. 21But a group of them and six hundred men of the army of the king fell.

broke out of the siege and some of the impious of 43And Eleazaros Auaran saw one of the beasts plat-Israel joined themselves to them. 22And they went ed with royal armor, and it stood above all the to the king and said, "How long will you not do other beasts, and he thought that the king was on justice and avenge our kindred? 23We were pleased it. 44And he gave himself up to save his people and to be subject to your father and to go by the things to secure for himself an everlasting name. 45And he said and to follow his ordinances. 24But the he ran at him boldly, into the middle of the pha-sons of our people besieged itb because of this and lanx, and was killing to the right and to the left, became alienated from us; furthermore, as many and they separated before him on each side. 46And of us as were found were put to death, and our in- he got down under the elephant and stabbed it un-heritances were seized. 25And not only upon us derneath and killed it, but it fell to the ground on did they lay hands, but also upon all things along top of him, and he died there. 47And theyc saw the their borders. 26And look, today they are camped might of the kingdom and the charge of the forces, against the citadel in Jerusalem to take it, and they turned back from them.

they have fortified the holy precinct and Baith-

48 But the men from the army of the king went soura. 27And if you do not forestall them with up to meet them in Jerusalem, and the king haste, they will do more than these things, and you camped in Judea and at Mount Sion. 49And he will not be able to restrain them.”

made peace with the people of Baithsoura, and 28 And the king became angry when he heard they came out of the city, because there was no this and gathered together all his Friends, com- food for them there to be shut in it, because it was manders of his army and those over the cavalry. sabbath in the land. 50And the king took Baith- 29And from other kingdoms and from the islands

soura and stationed a guard there to hold it. 51And of the seas mercenary forces came to him. 30And he camped against the holy precinct for many days the number of his forces was one hundred thou- and set up there siege towers and machines and de-sand foot soldiers and twenty thousand cavalry vices to hurl fire and stones and to shoot arrows and thirty-two elephants trained in war. 31And they and slings. 52And theyc themselves also made ma-came through Idumea and camped at Baithsoura. chines against their machines and battled for And they battled for many days and built siege en- many days. 53But there was no food in the deposi-gines, but theyc came out and burned them and tories, because it was the seventh year, and those fought bravely.

who had been rescued from the nations into Judea

32 And Iudah departed from the citadel and consumed the remainder of the stores. 54 And few camped at Baithzacharia, opposite the camp of the men remained in the holy places, because the king. 33 And the king arose early in the morning famine prevailed over them, and they were scattered and led the army in haste down the road to their, each one to his own place.

Baithzacharia. And the forces prepared for battle 55 And Lysias heard that Philip, whom King and trumpeted with the trumpets. 34 And they Antiochus, while he was still living, had appointed showed the elephants juice of grapes and black to raise Antiochus his son to be king, 56 had re-berries to incite them to war. 35 And they divided turned from Persia and Media, and the forces that the beasts among the phalanxes and positioned had gone with the king were with him, and that he with each elephant a thousand men with chain was seeking to gain control of the government.

mail breastplates and copper helmets on their 57 And he hurried and assented to withdraw and heads, and there were also five hundred select cavalry said to the king and to the leaders of the force and army assigned to each beast. 36 These ahead of time to the men, "We are dying out every day, and our men were wherever the beast was and went with it food is limited, and the place we are besieging is wherever it went. They would never separate from strong, and the business of the kingdom is pressing it. 37 And there were wooden towers on them, on which upon us. 58 Let us now offer terms to these peo-

al.e. temple bl.e. the citadel cl.e. the Judeans

1 makkabees 6-7

489

ple, and let us make peace with them and with 17

“The flesh of your holy ones and their blood every nation of them. 59And let us permit them to they poured out around Ierousalem, live in accordance with their precepts as before, for and there was no one to bury them.”

on account of those precepts, which we dispersed, 18And fear and trembling of them fell upon all the they became angered and did all these things.

people, for they said, “There is no truth and judg-

60 And the speech was satisfactory to the king ment in them, for they have violated the stipula-and to the rulers, and he proposed to thema to tion and the oath which they swore.”

make peace, and they accepted. 61And the king and 19 And Bacchides departed from Ierousalem the rulers swore an oath to them, and on this basis and camped at Bethzaith. And he sent and appre-theya came out of the fortress. 62And the king en- hended many of the men who had deserted to him tered into Mount Sion and saw the fortification of and some of the people, and he killed them in the the place, but he set aside the oath which he swore great pit. 20And he entrusted the country to Aland commanded and tore down the surrounding cimus and left a force with him to help him, and wall. 63And he departed quickly and returned to Bacchides returned to the king.

Antioch, and he found Philip governing the city.

21 And Alcimus struggled to gain the high

And he made war upon him and took the city by priesthood, 22and all those who were stirring up force.

their people joined together with him. And they prevailed over the land of louda and did great

In the one hundred fifty-first year, Demetrius harm in Israel. 23And loudas saw all the evil that

7 son of Seleucus left Rome and ascended with Alcimusandthosewithhimhaddonetothesons a few men to a seaside city and became king there. of Israel, which was more than the nations had 2And it happened as he was going into the royal done. 24And he went out into all the regions all palace of his fathers, his forces apprehended Anti- around Judea and executed vengeance on the men ochus and Lysias to lead them to him. 3But when who had deserted, and they were prevented from this action became known to him, he said, "Do going out into the country. 25But when Alcimus not show me their faces." 4And the forces killed saw that loudas and those with him had strength-them, and Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and he also knew that he would not be able to remain in power.

He sent them, and he returned to the king and de-

5 And all the lawless and impious men of Israel denounced their misdeeds.

He came to him, and Alcimus, who wanted to be a 26 And the king sent Nicanor, one of his dis-priest, led them. 6 And they denounced the people distinguished commanders, who hated and was hostile to the king, saying, "Loudas and his brothers detestable to Israel, and he commanded him to annihilate all your friends and scattered us out of our land. 27 And Nicanor came to Jerusalem. 7 Now then, send a man whom you trust, and with a large force and sent a message to Loudas and let him go to see all the destruction which he has done to us and to the country of the king, and let him say to Loudas, 'Let there be no warfare between me and you. I will come with a few men in order to see you personally with peace.'" personally with peace."

8 And the king selected Bacchides from the 29 And he came to Loudas, and they greeted

Friends of the king, who governed the area beyond each other peacefully, but the enemies were ready to seize Loudas. 30 Word of this became known to Bacchides, who was faithful to the king. 9 And he sent him and Loudas, that he came to him with deceit, and he impious Alcimus, and he bestowed the priesthood became terrified of him and did not want to see his upon him, and he commanded him to execute face again. 31Nicanor learned that his plan had vengeance on the sons of Israel. 10And they de- been revealed, and he came out to meet loudas in parted and came with a large force to the land of battle near Chapharsalama. 32Around five hun-louda, and he sent messengers to loudas and his dred men of those with Nicanor fell, and they fled brothers with peaceful words with deception. 11But to the city of Daid.

they did not pay attention to their words, for they

33 After these developments Nicanor went up saw that they came with a large force.

to Mount Sion, and some of the priests from the

b

12 And a company of scribes met before Al-

holy placesb and some of the elders from the peo-cius and Bacchides to seek their rights. 13And the ple came out to greet him peacefully and to show Hasideans were the first among the Israelites, and him the whole burnt offering that was being of-they sought peace from them, 14for they said, "A fered in behalf of the king. 34But he mocked them man, a priest of the seed of Aaron, came with the and ridiculed them and defiled them and spoke ar-forces, and he will not treat us unjustly." 15And he rogantly. 35And he swore with anger, saying, "If spoke peaceful words with them and swore to loudas and his army do not surrender themselves them, saying, "We will not seek to do evil to you or into my hands now, in the future, if I return in to your friends." 16And they trusted him, but he peace, I will burn down this house." And he went apprehended from among them sixty men and out with great anger. 36And the priests went in and killed them in one day according to the word stood in front of the altar and the shrine and wept which was written, and said, al.e. the Judeans bl.e. temple

490

1 makkabees 7-8

37

"You have selected this house for your name having one hundred twenty elephants and cavalry to be invoked in it, and chariots and a very large force, and was to be a house of prayer and supplication smashed by them, 7and they took him alive and for your people.

established that he and those who would rule after 38

Execute vengeance on this man and on his him would give them a large tribute and would army,
give hostages and territorial cession, 8the country and let them fall by the sword.

of India and Media and Lydia, among the most Remember their blasphemies, beautiful of their countries, and taking them from and do not allow them to endure.”

him, they gave them to Eumenes the king, 9and

39 And Nicanor went out of Jerusalem and that men from Greece wanted to come and encamped in Baithoron, and the Syrian force met to slay them, 10but word of this became known to him. 40And Judas camped in Adasa with three them, and they sent one general against them, and thousand men. And loudas prayed and said, they battled against them, and many of them fell 41“When the men from the king blasphemed, your wounded, and they captured their wives and their angel came out and killed one hundred eighty-five children and plundered them and took control of thousand of them. 42In the same manner smash their land and tore down their fortresses and en-this army before us today, and let the rest know slaved them to this day. 11And the rest of the kingthat he spoke wickedly against your aholy placesa, doms and the islands, as many as ever resisted and judge him according to his wickedness.”

them, they devastated and enslaved them, 12but

43 And the armies engaged in battle on the with their friends and those who were supported thirteenth of the month Adar. And the army of Ni- by them they maintained friendship, and they got canor was smashed, and he fell first in battle. control of kings both near and far, and whoever 44And as his army saw that Nicanor fell, they threw heard their name feared them. 13And those whom down their weapons and fled. 45And theyb pur- they want to help and to be king, theyd are king, sued them one day’s distance from Adasa until and those, whom they want, they remove. And they came to Gazera, and they trumpeted with the they have been exalted greatly. 14And in all this not signal trumpets behind them. 46And people came even one of them has put on a crown nor have they out of all the surrounding villages of Judea and wrapped themselves in purple so as to show their outflanked them, and they turned back against power by it. 15And they built for themselves a each other. And all of them fell by the sword, and council chamber, and every day three hundred not even one of them was left. 47And they took the twenty senators deliberate continuously about the plunder and the spoils and cut off the head of Ni- multitude so that they might live in an orderly way.

16

canor and his right hand, which he had stretched

And they trust one man to rule them each year out arrogantly, and they brought them and exhib- and to govern all their land, and they all obey the ited them in lerousalem. 48And the people re- one, and there is no jealousy or envy among them.

joiced greatly, and they observed that day as a day

17 And loudas selected Eupolemus son of

of great gladness. 49And they established the ob- loannes of Akkos and Jason son of Eleazaros and servation of that day every year on the thirteenth of sent them to Rome to establish friendship and an al-Adar. 50And the land of louda became quiet for a liance 18and to lift the yoke from them, for they saw few days.

the kingdom of the Greeks enslaving Israel in servitude. 19And they went to Rome, and the distance

And loudas heard the name of the Romans, was very long, and they entered into the council

8 that they were powerful in strength and were chamber and answered and said, 20 "Ioudas, who is pleased with all those who allied themselves with also called Makkabaios, and his brothers and the them, that they would establish friendship with all multitude of the Judeans sent us to you to establish those who come to them 2 and that they are powerful with you an alliance and peace and to enroll us as powerful in strength. And they recounted to him their allies and friends of yours." 21 And the speech was wars and the heroic actions which they were doing pleasing to them. 22 And this is a copy of the letter with the Galatians and that they prevailed over which they copied onto brass tablets and sent to Iethem and made them subject to tribute 3 and all Irousallem to be with them there as a memorial of they did in the land of Spain to gain control over peace and alliance: the metals, the silver and the gold which was there

23 "May it be well with the Romans and with the

4 and how they prevailed over the whole place by nation of the Judeans on the sea and on land forever-their strategy and patience, and the place was very fertile, and may sword and enemy be removed far from far distant from them, and the kings came against them. 24 But if war should come to Rome first or to them from the ends of the earth until they any of their allies in all their dominion, 25 the nation smashed them and struck them a great blow, while of the Judeans will be their ally with their whole the rest give them tribute every year, 5 and Philip heart as the time may indicate to them. 26 And they and Perseus, the king of Kitiansc, and those who will not give to the enemies, neither will they supply came up against them, they smashed them in war wheat, weapons, silver, ships, as it seemed good to and prevailed over them, 6 and Antiochus the Rome, but they will keep their commitments, re-Great, king of Asia, who came against them in war ceiving nothing in return. 27In the same manner, if a.l.e. temple b.l.e. the Judeans c.l.e. Macedonians d.l.e. those helped

1 makkabees 8-9

491

a war occurs first to the nation of the Judeans, the 14 And loudas saw that Bacchides and the bulk

Romans will be their ally, willingly as the time may of his army were on the right, and with him came indicate to them. 28And to the allies will not be all the bravest in heart. 15And the right wing was given wheat, weapons, silver, ships, as it seemed smashed by them, and he pursued them as far as good to Rome. And they will keep these commit-Mount Azotus. 16And those on the left flank saw ments and not with deceit. 29According to these that the right flank had been smashed, and they words, thus stand the Romans with the citizenry of turned on the heels of loudas and those with him the Judeans. 30But if after these words the first party from behind. 17And the fighting became heavy and the second party desire to add or subtract, they and many wounded fell from both sides. 18And shall do it by their own choice, and whatever they loudas fell, and the rest fled.

add or subtract shall be authoritative.”

19 And Ionathan and Simon took loudas their

31 And concerning the evils which king brother and buried him in the tomb of their fa-Demetrius is doing to them, we have written to them in Modein 20 and wept for him. And all Israel him saying, "Why have you made your yoke heavy mourned him with great mourning and grieved on our friends and allies, the Judeans? 32 If then many days and said, they petition against you again, we will give the 21

"How the mighty savior of Israel fell!"

judgment to them, and we will make war on you 22 And the rest of the words of loudas and of the by sea and by land."

battles and heroic acts which he did and of his greatness were not written down for they were very

And Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his many.

9 forces had fallen in battle; he again sent Bac- 23 And it happened after the death of loudas, chides and Alcimus for the second time to the land the lawless came forth in all the regions of Israel, of louda, and the right flank with them. 24 And they and all those who worked injustice arose. 24 In traveled the road to Galgala and camped against those days there was a very great famine, and the Maisaloth in Arbela and occupied it and destroyed country deserted with them. 25 And Bacchides se-many people's lives. 3 And in the first month of the lected the impious men and established them as one hundred fifty-second year, they camped masters of the country. 26 And they sought out and against Ierousalem, 4 and they departed and went investigated the friends of loudas and led them to into Bereth with twenty thousand men and two Bacchides, and he retaliated against them and thousand cavalry.

taunted them. 27And there was a great affliction in 5 And loudas was camped at Elasa, and three Israel such as had not been since the day that a thousand selected men with him. 6And they saw prophet was not seen among them.

the multitude of the forces, that they were many,

28 And all the friends of loudas came together and they became very frightened, and many melt- and said to Ionathan, 29“Since your brother loudas ed away from the camp; there did not remain of has died, there is no man like him to come forward them but eight hundred men.

and to go against the enemy and Bacchides and 7 And loudas saw that his army had melted those who are hostile to our nation. 30Now then away and the battle was pressing him, and he was we have chosen you today in his place to be for us shattered in spirit, because he did not have time to a ruler and a leader to fight our war.” 31And gather them together. 8And he became faint and Ionathan accepted the leadership at that time and said to those who were left, “Let us arise and go up rose up in the place of loudas his brother.

against our adversaries. Perhaps we are strong

32 And Bacchides learned this, and he sought enough to do battle with them.” 9But they deterred to kill him. 33But Ionathan and Simon his brother him, saying, “We are not strong enough, but rather, and all those with him found out and fled into the let us save our lives now. We and our brothers will wilderness of Thekoe and camped at the waterhole return and will do battle against them. But we are of Asphar. 34And Bacchides learned this on the day few.” 10And loudas said, “Far be it from me to do of the sabbaths, and he and all his army came to this thing, to flee from them. And if our time has the other side of the Jordan.

drawn near, and let us die with courage for the sake

35 And he sent his brother, a leader of the host, of our brothers, and let us leave no accusation and requested of his Nabatean friends to store against our honor.”

with them the large amount of their baggage. 36But

11 And the forcea departed from the camp and the sons of lambri from Medaba came out and stood for the engagement with them. And the cav- seized loannes and everything that he had and, alry was divided into two parts, and the slingers having them, went away.

and the archers went ahead of the army as did all

37 After these developments, they announced the strong warriors. 12But Bacchides was on the to Ionathan and to Simon his brother that the sons right flank, and the phalanx approached from of lambri are holding a big wedding and are bring-both sides. And they blew the trumpets, and the ing the bride from Nadabath, a daughter of one of men with loudas also trumpeted with their trum- the great nobles of Chanaan, with a large convoy.

pets. 13And the earth was shaken from the sound 38And they remembered the blood of loannes of the armies, and the battle was joined from the their brother and they went up and hid under the morning until evening.

cover of the mountain. 39And they lifted up their al.e. of Bacchides

492

1 makkabees 9-10

eyes and saw and look, a commotion and a large plan became known. 61And they apprehended entourage, and the bridegroom and his friends and from among the men of the country, who were the his brothers came out to meet them with drums leaders of the evil, up to fifty men, and killed them.

and musicians and many weapons. 40And they

62 And Ionathan and Simon and those with rose up against them from the ambush and killed him withdrew to Baithbasi in the wilderness and them. And many wounded fell, and the rest fled to rebuilt its ruins and strengthened it. 63And Bac-the mountain, and they took all their spoils. chides learned this, and he gathered together his 41And the wedding changed to mourning, and the whole multitude and sent word to those from sound of their musicians to lamentation. 42And Judea. 64And he came and camped against Baith-they exacted vengeance for the blood of their basi, and he battled it for many days and made brother and returned to the marshland of the Jor- siege engines.

dan.

65 And Jonathan left Simon his brother in the 43 And Bacchides heard this, and he came on city and went out into the country and came with the day of the sabbaths as far as the banks of the a small number. 66And he defeated Odomera and Jordan with a large force. 44And Jonathan said to his brothers and the sons of Phasiron in their those with him, "Let us rise up now and fight for covert. And they began to strike and were coming our lives, for today is not as yesterday or the third up with the forces. 67And Simon and those with day. 45For look, the battle is before us and behind him came out of the city and burned the siege en-us, and the water of the Jordan is on this side and gines. 68And they battled against Bacchides, and he that, and there is marsh and thicket; there is no was smashed by them. And they pressed him great-place to turn. 46Now then, cry out to heaven so that ly, because his strategy and his attack were futile.

you may be saved from the hand of our enemies." 69And he became enraged with anger at the lawless 47And the battle began, and Jonathan stretched out men who had advised him to come to the country, his hand to strike Bacchides, but he turned away and they killed many of them and decided to go from him toward the rear. 48And Jonathan and back to his land.

those with him jumped into the Jordan and swam

70 And Jonathan learned this, and he sent through to the other side, but theyb did not cross emissaries to him to conclude peace with him and through the Jordan against them. 49And up to a to give back the captives to them. 71And he accept-thousand men with Bacchides fell on that day.

ed and did according to his words, and he swore to 50 And he returned to Ierousalem and built him not to seek evil for him all the days of his life.

fortified cities in Judea, the fortress in Iericho, and 72And he gave back to him the captives whom he Ammaous and Baithoron and Baithel and Tham- had captured formerly from the land of Iouda, and natha Pharathon and Tephon with high walls and turning back he returned to his land and did not gates and bolts. 51And he placed a guard in them, add to come again to their territory. 73And the to be hostile to Israel. 52And he fortified the city of sword ceased from Israel, and Ionathan lived in Baithsoura and Gazara and the citadel, and he Machmas and began to judge the people and replaced in them forces and stores of food. 53And he moved the impious from Israel.

took the sons of the leaders of the country as hostages and placed them in the citadel in Ierousalem

And in the one hundred sixtieth year, in detention.

10 Alexander Epiphanes son of Antiochus

54 And in the one hundred and fifty-third year, went up and took Ptolemais. And they accepted in the second month, Alcimus gave the command him, and he ruled there. 2And Demetrius the king to tear down the wall of the inner court of the heard this, and he gathered together very many choly placesc, and he tore down the works of the forces and came out to meet him in battle. 3And prophets. And he began to tear it down, 55but at Demetrius sent letters to Ionathan with peaceful that time Alcimus was stricken, and his works were words in order to magnify him, 4for he said, "Let thwarted. And his mouth was stopped up, and he us move beforehand to make peace with them bewas paralyzed, and he was no longer able to say a fore he makes peace with Alexander against us.

word and command about his own house. 56And 5For he will remember all the evils which we car-Alcimus died at that time with great torment. ried out against him and his brothers and the na-57And Bacchides saw that Alcimus had died, and

tion." 6And he gave him authority to muster forces he returned to the king, and the land of louda was and to prepare weapons and to be his ally; he also quiet for two years.

said for the hostages in the citadel to be turned 58 And all the lawless took counsel, saying, over to him.

"Look, Ionathan and those with him live in peace

7 And Ionathan came to lerousalem and read confidently. Now then, we shall bring Bacchides the letters in the hearing of all the people and of back, and he will apprehend them all in one those from the citadel. 8And they became very night." 59And they went and counseled together frightened when they heard that the king had with him. 60And he departed to come with a large given authority to him to muster forces. 9And force and sent letters in secret to all his allies in those from the citadel turned the hostages over to Judea for them to apprehend Jonathan and those Jonathan, and he gave them back to their parents.

with him, but they were not able, because their

10 And Jonathan established his residence in a.l.e. the Judeans b.l.e. the enemy c.l.e. temple

1 makkabees 10

493

Jerusalem and began to build and renew the city. ransom, and let every one exempt them from taxes 11And he said to those who were doing the works on their livestock also.

to build the walls also around Mount Sion from 34 "And all the feasts and sabbaths and new four-foot stones for fortification, and they did moons and designated days, and three days before thus.

a feast and three after a feast, let all these days be 12 And the aliens who were in the fortresses, tax-free and exempt for all Judeans who are in my which Bacchides had built, fled. 13And each one kingdom. 35And no one will have authority to de-abandoned his place and went back to his own land payment from or to bother any one of them land.

14 Only in Baithsoura were some of those left about any thing.

who had abandoned the law and the ordinances,

36 "And let some of the Judeans be enrolled in for it became a place of refuge.

the forces of the king up to thirty thousand men,

15 And Alexander the king heard all the offers and provisions will be given to them as is appro-that Demetrius had sent to Ionathan, and they re- priate for all the forces of the king. 37 And some of counted to him the battles and the heroic acts that them will be stationed in the large fortresses of the he and his brothers had done and the troubles that king, and some of these will be assigned to the af-they had had. 16 And he said, "Surely, we shall not fairs of the kingdom, which are confidential. And find one such man? And now let us make him our let those who are over them and the rulers be from Friend and ally." 17 And he wrote letters and sent their own people, and let them follow their laws, them to him according to these words, saying, as also the king ordered in the land of louda.

18 "King Alexander to his brother Ionathan,

38 "And let the three districts that were an-greeting. 19 We have heard about you, that you are nexed to Judea from the country of Samaria be a man powerful in strength and suitable to be our combined with Judea for the purpose of being Friend. 20 And now we have appointed you today considered to be under one rule and not to obey to be high priest of your nation and to be called a any other authority but that of the high priest.

Friend of the king”—and he sent him purple vest-39Ptolemais and the land belonging to it I have ments and a golden crown—”and to think about given as a gift to the aholy placesa in Ierousalem for things as we do and to keep friendship toward us.”

the appropriate expenditures of the aholy placesa.

21 And Ionathan put on the holy vestments in 40Furthermore, I will give every year fifteen thou-the seventh month of the one hundred sixtieth sand shekels of silver out of the accounts of the year at the feast of tent pitching, and he mustered king from the places belonging to him. 41And all forces and prepared many weapons.

the excess that they did not pay out from the reve-

22 And Demetrius heard of these develop- nues, as they did among the first nations, from ments, and he was grieved and said, 23“What is now on they shall give for the works of the housea.

this that we have done, that Alexander has acted 42And in addition to this, five thousand shekels of before us to establish friendship with the Judeans silver, as much as they received from the revenues for support. 24I also will write them words of invi- of the holy place out of the account every year, tation and exaltation and gifts so that they may be these also are remitted, because they belong to the with me for support.” 25And he sent a message to priests who are ministering. 43And all who take them according to these words, refuge in the temple in Ierousalem and in all its “King Demetrius to the nation of the Judeans, areas, because they are in debt to the king or for greeting. 26Since you have kept your treaties with any other reason, let them and everything that is us and have remained in our friendship and have theirs be set free in my kingdom.

not gone over to our enemies, we have heard this 44 “And the cost of constructing and renewing and rejoiced. 27And now persist in keeping faith the buildings of the aholy placesa also shall be paid with us, and we will return good things to you in from the account of the king. 45And the cost of exchange for what you do for us. 28We will grant constructing the walls of Ierousalem and fortifying you many exemptions and will give you gifts.

it all around shall be paid from the account of the 29 “And now I release you and exempt all the king, as shall that of constructing the walls in Judeans from tribute and from the levy of salt and Judea.”

the crown taxes. 30Also, instead of the third of the 46 But when Ionathan and the people heard grain and the half of the tree fruit which is due for these words, they did not believe them nor accept me to receive, I discontinue from today and hence- them, because they remembered the great evil that forth collecting them from the land of Iouda and he did in Israel and how he oppressed them great-from the three districts annexed to it from Samari- ly. 47And they preferred Alexander, because it was tis and Galilee from this very day and for all time. he who began to speak to them with peaceful 31And let Ierousalem be holy and exempt, as also words, and they allied themselves with him all his its borderlands—tithes and taxes. 32Furthermore, I days.

release my authority over the citadel in Jerusalem

48 And Alexander the king gathered together and grant to the high priest to establish in it what- large forces and camped opposite Demetrius.

ever men he selects to guard it. 33And every soul of 49And the two kings joined in battle, and the army the Judeans who was taken hostage from the land of Demetrius fled, and Alexander pursued him, and of Iouda into all my kingdom I set free without

he prevailed over them. 50And he sustained the bat-

al.e. temple

494

1 makkabees 10-11

tle forcefully until the sun set, and Demetrius fell mountains? 71Now then, if you are confident in on that day.

your forces, come down to us on the plain, and let 51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptole- us measure ourselves with each other there, be-my, king of Egypt, with these words, saying, cause with me is the army of the cities. 72Ask, and 52“Whereas I have returned to my kingdom and learn who I am and who the rest are who are help-have sat on the throne of my fathers and have ing us. And they say, ‘You are not able to stand taken hold of the government and have crushed against us, because twice your fathers were routed Demetrius and have taken control of our land, in their land.' 73And now you will not be able to 53and I joined battle with him, and he and his withstand the cavalry and so much force on the army were smashed by us, and we have sat on the plain where there is no stone or rock, nor any place throne of his kingdom, 54And now let us establish to flee."

friendship with each other, and now give me your 74 But when Jonathan heard the words of daughter as a wife, and I will become your son-in-Apollonius, he was moved in thought. And he se-law and will give gifts to you and to her, which are lected ten thousand men and came out of Ierou-worthy of you."

salem, and Simon his brother met him to help

55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, "It him. 75And he camped at Joppe, but those from was a good day on which you returned to the land the city closed him out, because there was a garri-of your fathers and sat on the throne of their king- son of Apollonius in Joppe, and they made war dom. 56And now I will do for you what you wrote, against it, 76and those in the city became afraid but meet me in Ptolemais so that we may see each and opened it, and Jonathan took control of other, and I will become your father-in-law as you Joppe.

have said."

77 And Apollonius heard this, and he mar-

57 And Ptolemy came out of Egypt, he and his shaled three thousand cavalry and a large force and daughter, and came to Ptolemais in the one hundred went to Azotus as if he were passing through. And in the sixtieth year. 58 And Alexander the king simultaneously he advanced to the plain, because he met him, and he gave him Cleopatra his daughter he had a multitude of cavalry and trusted in it.

and held her wedding in Ptolemais as kings with 78 And he chased after him into Azotus, and the great pomp.

two armies joined in battle. 79 But Apollonius se-

59 And Alexander the king wrote to Jonathan secretly left a thousand cavalry behind them. 80 And to come to a meeting with him, 60 and he came Jonathan understood that there was an ambush with pomp to Ptolemais and met with the two behind him, and they surrounded his army and kings, and he gave silver and gold to them and to shot arrows at the people from morning until the their Friends and many gifts, and he found favor afternoon. 81 But the people stood, as Jonathan before them. 61 And some corrupt men from Israel had ordered, and the enemy cavalry grew tired.

gathered together against him, lawless men, to pe-

82 And Simon drew in his force and joined battles against him, but the king did not pay attention to them. 62 And the king gave orders, and they were up, and they were smashed by him and fled.

removed Jonathan's garments from him and 83 And the cavalry was scattered in the plain, and clothed him in purple, and they did thus. 63 And they fled to Azotus and entered Bethdagon, the king seated him with himself and said to his house of their idol, to be saved. 84 And Jonathan rulers, "Go out with him to the middle of the city, burned Azotus and the cities surrounding it and and announce that no one is to petition against took their spoils, and the temple of Dagon, and him concerning any thing, and let no one bother those who had taken refuge in it he burned with him for any reason.” 64And it happened as the pe- fire. 85And those who fell by the dagger, together titioners saw his prestige, as he had announced it, with those who were burned, were about eight and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled. 65And thousand men.

the king honored him and listed him among his

86 And Ionathan departed from there and

First Friends and made him general and provincial camped against Ascalon, and the people from the governor. 66And Ionathan returned to Ierousalem city came out to meet him with great pomp.

with peace and gladness.

87 And Ionathan returned to Ierousalem with 67 And in the one hundred sixty-fifth year those who were with him having many spoils.

Demetrius son of Demetrius came from Crete to 88And it happened, when Alexander the king the land of his fathers. 68And Alexander the king heard of these developments, he even added to learned this, and he was greatly grieved and re- honor Ionathan, 89and he sent him a golden turned to Antioch. 69And Demetrius appointed brooch, as is the custom, to be given to the Kins-Apollonius, who was over Coele-Syria, and he men of kings. And he gave him Akkaron and all its gathered a large force and camped in Jamnia. And regions as his dependency.

he sent a message to Jonathan the high priest saying,

And the king of Egypt assembled many 70 "You alone rise up against us, and I have been 11 forces, like the sand that is at the edge of the sea, and many ships and sought to take control of you. And why do you have authority over us in the the kingdom of Alexander by deceit and to add it a.l.e. Jonathan b.l.e. the phalanx

1 makkabees 11

495

to his own kingdom. 2And he set out for Syria with the elders of Israel and some of the priests and put peaceful words, and the people from the cities himself in danger. 24And taking silver, gold and opened to him and met him, because it was the clothing and many other gifts, he went to the king command of Alexander the king to meet him, be- in Ptolemais and found favor before him. 25And cause he was his father-in-law. 3But as he entered certain lawless men from his nation petitioned into the cities, Ptolemy stationed forces as a guard against him, 26but the king did to him as his pred-in each city.

ecessors did to him before him and exalted him

4 When he drew near to Azotus, they showed before all his Friends. 27And he bestowed upon him the burnt temple of Dagon and Azotus and its him the high priesthood and as many other hon-outskirts in ruins and bodies scattered around and ors as he had before and made him be counted the burned corpses which hea had burned in the among his First Friends. 28And Ionathan requested war, for they made piles of them along his way. that the king make Judea tax-free, as well as the 5And they recounted to the king the things that three districts and Samaritis, and pledged to him

Ionathan had done in order to blame him, but the three hundred talents. 29And the king was pleased king kept silent. 6And Ionathan met the king at and wrote letters to Ionathan concerning all these Joppe with pomp, and they greeted each other and things in this way:

slept there. 7And Ionathan went with the king as 30 “King Demetrius to Ionathan his brother far as the river called Eleutherus, and he returned and the nation of the Judeans, greeting. 31This to Ierousalem.

copy of the letter that we wrote to Lasthenes our

8 But King Ptolemy took control of the cities relative concerning you we have also written to you on the coast as far as Seleuceia by the sea, and he so that you may know its contents. 32 ‘King was contemplating evil thoughts about Alexander. Demetrius to Lasthenes his Father, greeting. 33To 9And he sent ambassadors to Demetrius the king, the nation of the Judeans, who are our friends and saying, “Come, let us conclude an agreement be- continue to do what is right toward us, we have de-tween ourselves, and I will give you my daughter, cided to do good because of their good will toward whom Alexander has, and you will rule over the us. 34We have guaranteed for them the boundaries kingdom of your father. 10For I have changed my of Judea as well as the three districts of Aphairema mind about giving my daughter to him, because he and Lydda and Ramathaim; these were added to has sought to kill me.” 11And he blamed him, be- Judea from Samaritis, with all the areas belonging cause he desired his kingdom. 12And he took his to them, for all those who sacrifice in Ierousalem daughter away and gave her to Demetrius, and he in exchange for the royal taxes that the king re-became alienated from Alexander, and their hostil- ceived from them formerly every year from the ity became apparent.

produce of the earth and from the tree fruits.

13 And Ptolemy entered Antioch and put on 35And the other revenues belonging to us from the the crown of Asia, and he placed two crowns on present time, from the tithes and the taxes that behis head, that of Egypt and of Asia. 14But Alexan- long to us, and the lakes of salt and the crown taxes der the king was in Cilicia during those times, be- that belong to us, all these we will excuse for them.

cause the people from those places were rebelling. 36And not one of these shall be set aside from the 15And Alexander heard of this, and he came present time on forever. 37Now then take care to against him in battle. And Ptolemy marched out make a copy of this, and let it be given to Ionathan, and met him with a strong troop and routed him. and let it be put on the holy mountain in a promi-16And Alexander fled to Arabia to hide himself nent place.’ “

there, and King Ptolemy was exalted. 17And Zabdi-

38 And Demetrius the king saw that the land of the Arab cut off the head of Alexander and sent it to Ptolemy. 18 But King Ptolemy died on the third day, and he dismissed all his forces, each one to his own place, except for the foreign forces whom he had enlisted from the islands of the nations.

Demetrius became king in the one hundred sixty-seventh year. But all the forces that had served under his father were were hostile to him. 39 And Trypho was one of those who were with Alexander formerly, and he gathered together those men from Judea to assault the citadel in Jerusalem. 20 In those days he saw that all the forces were complaining against him, and they made many siege engines against Demetrius, and he went to the Arab, it. 21 But certain people who hated their nation, who was raising Antiochus, the small son of lawless men, went to the king and reported to him all that Alexander, 40 and was watching over him until he saw that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. 22 And he could not hand him over to him so that he could rule when he heard this he became angry, and as soon as he was in his father's place. And he reported to him all as he heard it, he marched immediately and came that Demetrius had accomplished and the hostility to Ptolemais, and he wrote Jonathan not to besiege the citadel, that his forces showed toward him, and he retreated from the citadel and to present himself to him for a while there many days.

meeting in Ptolemais most speedily.

41 And Jonathan sent a message to Demetrius

23 But when Jonathan heard this, he directed the king to remove the soldiers of the citadel from that the siege continue, and he selected some of

Jerusalem, and the soldiers in the fortresses, for al.e. Jonathan

496

1 makkabees 11-12

they were battling Israel. 42And Demetrius sent a them and took the sons of their rulers as hostages message to Jonathan, saying, "Not only will I do and sent them to Jerusalem. And he went these things to you and to your nation, but I will through the country as far as Damascus.

glorify you and your nation greatly, if I have the 63 And Jonathan heard that the commanders opportunity. 43Now then, you will do right to send of Demetrius had arrived in Kedesh in Galilee with men to me who will ally themselves with me, be- a large force desiring to remove him from his position all my forces have revolted." 44And Jonathan tion. 64And he met with them but left his brother sent three thousand men powerful in strength to Simon in the country. 65And Simon camped him in Antioch, and they came to the king, and the against Baithsoura and fought it for many days and king rejoiced at their arrival.

shut them in. 66And they appealed to him to make

45 And the people from the city gathered to- a treaty, and he made one with him, and he re-gether in the middle of the city up to one hundred moved them from there and took control of the and twenty thousand men, and they wanted to kill city and put a garrison in it.

the king. 46But the king fled into the court. And 67 And Ionathan and his army camped at the

the people of the city seized the thoroughfares water of Gennesar. And early in the morning they of the city and began to fight. 47And the king went to the plain of Hasor, 68and look, an army of called the Judeans for help, and they all together the allophytes met him in the plain. And they laid came to him and scattered throughout the city and an ambush for him in the mountains, but they met killed on that day up to a hundred thousand. 48And him face to face. 69Now those who were in the am-they burned the city and took many spoils on that bush came out of their hiding places and joined day and saved the king. 49And the people of the battle. 70And all those with Ionathan fled; not one city saw that the Judeans had taken control of the of them was left except Mattathias the son of Abcity as they wanted, and they became weakened in salomos and loudas the son of Chalphi, com-their spirit and called out to the king with suppli- manders of the army of the forces. 71And Ionathan cation, saying, 50“Make a treaty with us, and let the tore his clothes and put dirt on his head and Judeans stop fighting us and the city.” 51And they prayed. 72And he turned around towards them in threw down their weapons and made peace. And battle and routed them, and they fled. 73And his the Judeans were glorified before the king and be- own men, who were fleeing, saw this, and they refore all those in his kingdom. And they became turned to him and pursued them with him as far as renowned in his kingdom and returned to lerou- Kedes, as far as their camp, and they encamped salem having many spoils.

there. 74And on that day up to three thousand men

52 And Demetrius the king sat upon the throne of the allophytes fell, and Jonathan returned to le-of his kingdom, and the land became quiet before rousalem.

him. 53But he falsified everything he had said and became alienated from Jonathan and did not re-

And Jonathan saw that the time was opturn the favors that hea had given to him, but 12 portune for him, and he selected men and pressed him greatly.

sent them to Rome to affirm and to renew the 54 Now after these things Trypho returned, and friendship with them. 2And to the Spartans and with him Antiochus, a rather young boy, and he other places he sent letters for the same purpose.

became king and put on a crown. 55And all the 3And they went to Rome and entered the council forces that Demetrius had cast off gathered togeth- chamber and said, "Jonathan the high priest and er and fought against him, and he fled and was the nation of the Judeans sent us to renew friend- routed. 56Trypho took the beasts and took control ship with them and the alliance as before." 4And of Antioch. 57And Antiochus the younger wrote to theyc gave letters to them for the people in each Jonathan saying, "I bestow upon you the high place to conduct them to the land of louda with priesthood and establish you over the four districts peace.

and to be among the Friends of the king." 58And

5 And this is a copy of the letters that Jonathan

he sent him gold plate and table utensils, and he wrote to the Spartans: 6“Jonathan the high priest gave him the authority to drink from gold goblets and the senate of the nation and the priests and and to be clothed in purple and to have a gold remaining citizenry of the Judeans to their broth-brooch. 59And he established Simon his brother ers the Spartans, greeting. 7Already beforehand let-commander from the ascent of Tyre as far as the ters were sent to Onias the high priest from Areius, borders of Egypt.

who was king over you, that you are our brothers

60 And Jonathan went out and crossed over be- as the copy indicates. 8And Onias received the man yond the river and among the cities, and the whole who had been sent with honor and accepted the force of Syria gathered to him in alliance. And he letters in which it was made clear concerning the came to Ascalon, and the people of the city met alliance and friendship. 9We too, then, not being him with pomp. 61And he went from there to in need of these things and taking comfort in the Gaza, but the people of Gaza closed him out. And holy books in our possession, 10have endeavored he besieged it and burned its outskirts with fire to send this proposal to renew our brotherhood and plundered themb. 62And the people of Gaza and friendship toward you so as not to be alienat-appealed to Jonathan, and he made a treaty with ed from you, for many seasons have passed since a.l.e. Jonathan bAntecedent unclear c.l.e. the Romans

1 makkabees 12-13

497

you sent your message to us. 11We then, at every elders of the people and took counsel with them to opportunity continuously both at our feasts and build fortresses in Judea 36and to elevate the walls the other appropriate days, remember you in the of Ierousalem and to raise up a high wall between sacrifices that we offer and in the prayers as is the citadel and the city, to separate it from the city proper and fitting to remember brothers. 12And we in order that it could be isolated so that theyc rejoice at your glory. 13But many afflictions have could neither buy nor sell. 37And they gathered to-encircled us, and many wars, and the kings around gether to build the city, and part of the wall of the us have made war upon us. 14We then decided not wadi to the east had fallen, and he repaired that to bother you and the rest of our allies and friends which was called Chaphenatha.

38Simon also built in these wars, 15for we have the help from heaven Adida in Sephela, and he fortified it and erected helping us, and we were rescued from our enemies, gates and bolts.

and our enemies were humbled. 16Therefore, we

39 And Trypho sought to become king of Asia selected Numenius son of Antiochus and Antipater and to put on the crown and to stretch out his son of Jason and sent them to the Romans to hand against Antiochus the king. 40But he was renew the former friendship and alliance with afraid, lest Ionathan not allow him and lest he them.

17We then commanded them to come also fight against them, and he sought a way to appre-to you and to greet you and to deliver to you the hend and destroy him, and he departed and came letters from us concerning the renewal and our to Baithsan. 41And Ionathan came out to meet him brotherhood. 18And now you will do well to re- with forty thousand selected men in battle order, spond to us regarding these things.”

and he came to Baithsan. 42And Trypho saw that 19 And this is a copy of the letters that they sent he had come with a large force, and he was afraid to Onias: 20“Ares, king of the Spartans, to Onias to stretch out his hand against him. 43And he reth great priest, greeting. 21It has been found in a ceived him with honor and introduced him to all document concerning the Spartans and the his Friends and gave him gifts and gave orders to Judeans that they are brothers and that they are of his Friends and to his forces to obey him as they the descendants of Abraham. 22And now that we would himself. 44And he said to Ionathan, “Why know these things, you will do well to write us have you wearied all these people without there concerning your peace. 23We in turn write to you: being a war with us? 45And now send them to their ‘Your livestock and your belongings are ours and homes and select for yourself a few men who will ours are yours.’ Therefore, we commanded that be with you and come with me to Ptolemais, and theyb apprise you accordingly.”

I will turn it over to you, and the other fortresses

24 And Ionathan heard that the commanders of and the other forces and all those in the royal ser-Demetrius had returned with a large force, more vice, and I will turn and leave. For this reason I am than before, to fight against him, 25and he depart- present.”

ed from Ierousalem and met them in the country

46 And trusting him, hed did as he said; he sent

Hamathitis, for he did not give them the opportu- away the forces, and they went to the land of nity to march into his country. 26And he sent spies Judea. 47And he left with himself three thousand into their camp, and they returned and informed men of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, and him that they were marshalling troops to fall upon one thousand went with him. 48 But when them by night. 27 So as the sun was setting,

Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, the people of Jonathan gave orders to those with him to be vigi-

Ptolemais shut the gates and apprehended him, lant and to be ready for battle with their weapons and all those who entered with him they killed by through the whole night, and he posted advanced the sword.

guards around the camp. 28 And his opponents

49 And Trypho sent infantry and cavalry to Gal-heard that Jonathan and those with him had pre- ilee and the great plain to destroy all those who pared for battle, and they became frightened and were with Jonathan. 50 But they knew that he had coverd in their spirit, and they lit fires in their been apprehended and destroyed together with camp. 29 But Jonathan and those with him did not those who were with him, and they encouraged know it until morning, for they saw the lights burn- themselves and marched close together ready for ing. 30 And Jonathan chased after them but did not battle. 51 And the pursuers saw that it was a matter catch them, for they had crossed the Eleutherus of life or death for them, and they turned back.

52

river. 31 And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabs,

And they all came to the land of Judea in peace, who are called Zabadeans, and defeated them and and they mourned for Jonathan and those with took their spoils. 32And he set out and went to Da- him and were very afraid, and all Israel mourned mascus and passed through all that country.

with great mourning. 53And all the nations around

33 And Simon also went out and passed them sought to annihilate them, for they said, through as far as Ascalon and the fortresses close “They have no ruler or helper. Now then, let us do by. And he turned aside to Joppe and occupied it, battle with them and wipe out the memory of 34for he heard that they wanted to surrender the them from people.”

fortress to those with Demetrius, and he placed a garrison there to guard it.

And Simon heard that Trypho gathered to-35 And Jonathan returned and assembled the 13 gether a large force to come into the land aOr letters bl.e. the Spartan emissaries cl.e. the garrison of the citadel dl.e. Jonathan

498

1 makkabees 13

of louda and to devastate it, 2and he saw the peo- him with great mourning and grieved for him ple, that they were trembling and fearful, and he many days. 27And Simon built upon the grave of went up to Jerusalem and gathered the people. his father and of his brothers and made it highly 3And he encouraged them and said to them, "You visible with hewn stone on the back and on the yourselves know all that I and my brothers and the front.

28He also set up seven pyramids, each one house of my father have done for the laws and the opposite another, for his father and his mother a holy placesa, and the wars and the hardships that and his four brothers. 29For themd he devised we have seen. 4For this reason all my brothers have mechanisms, setting large pillars around them, perished for the sake of Israel, and I have been left and he placed suits of armor on the pillars for an alone. 5And now far be it from me to preserve my everlasting name and beside the suits of armor life in any time of affliction, for I am not greater carved ships to be seen by all those who sail the than my brothers. 6But I will take vengeance for sea. 30This tomb, which he made in Modein, re-my nation and for the a holy placesa and for your mains to this day.

women and children, for all the nations have gath-

31 But Trypho acted with deceit toward the ered together to annihilate us out of enmity."

younger Antiochus the king and killed him, 32and

7 And the spirit of the people was rekindled as he became king in his place and put on the crown they heard these words, 8and they responded with of Asia, and he did great harm in the land. 33And a loud voice, saying, "You are our leader in place of Simon built the fortresses of Judea and walled Iudas and Jonathan your brother. 9Fight our war, them around with high towers and great walls and and all that you say to us we will do.” 10And he gates and bolts, and he put food in the fortresses.

gathered together all the fighting men and hurried 34And Simon selected men and sent them to to finish the walls of Ierousalem and fortified it all Demetrius the king to bring about exemption for around. 11And he sent Ionathan the son of Apsalo- the country, because all the acts of Trypho were mos and with him a sufficient force to Joppe and robbery. 35And Demetrius the king sent to him in expelled those in it and remained there in it.

accordance with these developments and replied

12 And Trypho departed from Ptolemais with a to him and wrote some such letter to him: 36“King large force to enter into the land of Judea, and Demetrius to Simon, the high priest and Friend of Ionathan was with him under guard. 13But Simon kings, and the elders and nation of the Judeans, camped in Adida facing the plain. 14And Trypho greeting. 37The gold crown and the palm leaf that learned that Simon had risen up in place of you sent we have received, and we are ready to Ionathan his brother and that he was about to join make a great peace with you and to write to those battle with him, and he sent ambassadors to him, over the revenues to exempt you from taxes.

saying, 15“On account of the money that Ionathan 38And whatever agreements we made with you your brother owed to the royal treasury for the po- stand, and the fortresses that you built may resition he held, we are detaining him. 16And now main for you. 39We also excuse oversights and vi-send one hundred talents of silver and two of his olations up to this very day, and the crown tax that sons as hostages so that if he is freed he will not you owe, and if any other tax used to be collected rebel against us, and we will free him.”

in Jerusalem, let it no longer be collected. 40And

17 And Simon knew that they were speaking to if some of you deserve to be enrolled among our him with deceit, and he sent for the silver and the associates, let them be enrolled, and let there be boys so as not to raise great animosity in the peo- peace among us.”

ple, 18who would say, “Because I did not send the 41 In the one hundred seventieth year the yoke silver and the boys to him heb perished.” 19And he of the nations was lifted from Israel, 42and the sent the boys and the hundred talents, but hec de- people began to write on their documents and ceived him and did not free Jonathan.

transactions, “In the first year of Simon the great

20 And after these things Trypho came to high priest, both general and leader of the march into the country and to devastate it, and Judeans.”

they circled around on the road to Adora. But 43 In those days he camped against Gazara and

Simon and his army marched parallel with him to surrounded it with soldiers. And he made a siege en- whatever place he went. 21But the men in the gine and brought it to the city and assaulted one citadel were sending envoys to Trypho urging him tower and took it. 44And the men in the siege engine to come to them through the wilderness and to jumped out into the city, and there was a great com-send food to them. 22And Trypho prepared all his motion in the city. 45And the men in the city with cavalry to go, but on that night there was very their women and their children went up on the wall, much snow, and he did not go because of the tearing their clothes, and they cried out with a loud snow. And he departed and went to Galaaditis. voice begging Simon to make peace with them, 23But as he drew near to Baskama, he killed 46and they said, "Do not deal with us according to Jonathan, and he was buried there. 24And Trypho our evil acts but according to your mercy." 47And returned and went back to his land.

Simon reconciled with them and did not fight them

25 And Simon sent and took the bones of but ejected them from the city and cleansed the Jonathan his brother and buried him in Modein, houses in which the idols were. And thus he entered the city of his fathers. 26And all Israel mourned for it singing hymns and praises. 48And he removed al.e. temple bl.e. Jonathan cl.e. Trypho dl.e. the pyramids

1 makkabees 13-14

499 from it every uncleanness and settled in it men who 11

He made peace in the land, observed the law, and he further fortified it and built and Israel was glad with great gladness.

in it a residence for himself.

12

And everyone sat under their own vine and

49 Now those who were in the citadel in Jerou-their own fig tree,

salem were prevented from going in and going out and there was no one to frighten them.

into the country to buy and sell. And they became 13

And a person fighting them disappeared in very hungry, and plenty of them perished in the

the land,

famine. 50And they cried out to Simon to make and the kings were crushed in those days.

peace, and he gave it to them. But he ejected them 14

And he supported all the humble among his from there and cleansed the citadel from the im-

people;

purities. 51And they entered it on the twenty-third

he sought out the law,

day of the second month of the one hundred sev-

and he eliminated every lawless and evil enty-first year with praises and palms and with
person.
cinyrasa and cymbals and nablasb and with hymns 15

He glorified the dholy placesd and with odes that a great enemy was eliminated and multiplied the vessels of the dholy from Israel. 52And hec established that that day be placesd.

observed every year with gladness. And he fortified

16 And it was heard in Rome and as far as Spar-

the temple mount beside the citadel, and he him- ta that lonathan had died, and they were greatly self and those with him resided there. 53And grieved. 17But when they heard that Simon his Simon saw his son loannes, that he had become a brother had become high priest in his place and man, and he made him commander of all the that he was in control of the country and of the cit-forces, and he resided in Gazara.

ies in it, 18they wrote to him on brass tablets to renew with him the friendship and alliance which

And in the one hundred seventy-second they had established with loudas and lonathan his 14 yearDemetriusthekinggatheredhisforces brothers.

19Andthey were readbefore theassem-together and went to Media to procure help for bly in Ierousalem.

himself so that he could do battle with Trypho.

20 And this is a copy of the letterse that the Spar-2And Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard tans sent:

that Demetrius had entered into his territory, and

“The rulers and the city of the Spartans to he sent one of his commanders to apprehend him Simon the great priest and the elders and the alive. 3And he went and defeated the army of priests and the remaining citizenry of the Judeans, Demetrius and apprehended him and led him to our brothers, greeting. 21The ambassadors who Arsaces, and he put him in prison.

were sent to our citizenry announced to us con-

4

And the land became quiet all the days of cerning your glory and honor, and we rejoiced at Simon,

their coming. 22And we have recorded the things and he sought good things for his nation, said by them in the public resolutions thus: ‘Nu-

and his authority was pleasing to them, menius son of Antiochus and Antipater son of and his glory all his days.

Jason, ambassadors of the Judeans, came to us re-

5

And with all his glory he took Joppe as a newing their friendship with us. 23And it was harbor

pleasing to the citizenry to receive these men hon-and made it an entrance way to the orably and to place the copy of their words in the islands of the sea.

official public books so that the citizenry of the 6

And he widened the borders of his nation

Spartans may have a remembrance of them. They and controlled the country.

also wrote a copy of them for Simon the high 7

And he gathered many captives priest.' “

and dominated Gazara and Baithsoura

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome and the citadel,

with a large gold shield, a weight of one thousand and he took away the uncleanness from it, minasf, to establish the alliance with them.

and there was no one to oppose him.

25 And when the citizenry heard of these de-

8

And they were farming their land in peace, velopments they said, "What favor shall we return and the land was giving its produce, to Simon and his sons? 26For he himself and his

and the trees of the plains their fruit.

brothers and the house of his father stood firm

9

Elders were sitting in the city squares;

and fought off the enemies of Israel and estab-

all were conversing about good things, lished freedom for it.” And they recorded this on and the youths were dressing in splendor brass tablets and placed them on steles on Mount and uniforms of war.

Sion.

10

He furnished food to the cities

27 And this is a copy of the writing: “On the

and equipped them with implements of eighteenth day of Eloul, in the one hundred sevfortification

enty-second year, and this is the third year of until his glorious name was renowned to Simon the great high priest in Asaramel, 28in the

the end of the earth.

great congregation of priests and of the people and a = Heb kinnor = lyre b = Heb nebel = ten or twelve stringed instrument cl.e. Simon dl.e. temple eOr letter fGk 1 mina = 100 drachmas = 0.6 kg 500

1 makkabees 14-15

rulers of the nation and of the elders of the coun- to dispute anything to be said by him or to con-try, it was made known to us 29that when many voke a gathering in the country without him or to times wars came about in the country, then Simon clothe themselves in purple or to wear a gold the son of Mattathias the son of the sons of Ioarib brooch.
45But whoever acts against or sets aside and his brothers put themselves in danger and any of these resolutions shall be culpable.”

stood up against the opponents of their nation so

46 And all the people were pleased for Simon that their aholy placesa and the law could endure, to be established to act according to all these and they glorified their nation with great glory. words. 47And Simon accepted and was pleased to 30And Jonathan mobilized his nation and became be high priest and to be commander and ethnarch their high priest and was gathered to his people. of the Judeans and priests and to protect all of 31And their enemies decided to march into their

them. 48And they said for this writing to be set on country to devastate their country and to stretch brass tablets and to put them in the precinct of the out their hands against their aholy placesa. 32Then aholy placesa in a prominent place 49and to put Simon resisted and fought for his nation. And he copies of them in the treasury so that Simon and spent much of his own money, and he armed the his sons might have them.

men of the forces of his nation and gave rations to them. 33And he fortified the cities of Judea and

And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king

Baithsoura on the borders of Judea, where the 15 sent letters from the islands of the sea to weapons of the enemies were formerly, and he sta- Simon the priest and ethnarch of the Judeans and tioned there a guard of Judean men. 34And he for- to all the nation. 2And their contents were like tified Joppe by the sea and Gazara on the borders this: "King Antiochus to Simon the great priest and of Azotus in which the enemies resided there for- ethnarch and the nation of the Judeans, greeting.

merly. And he settled Judeans there, and all that 3Since certain corrupt men gained control of the was appropriate for their reconstruction he placed kingdom of our fathers, I want to lay claim to the in them.

kingdom so that I can restore it as it was formerly,

35 "And the people saw the faith of Simon and and I have recruited a multitude of forces and have the glory that he determined to bring to his nation, prepared warships, 4and I want to disembark into and they made him their leader and high priest, the country so that I can go after those who have because he had done all these things, and for the corrupted our country and those who have devas-justice and faith that he preserved in his nation. tated many cities in my kingdom. 5Now then, I af-And he sought in every way to elevate his people. firm for you all the tribute from which the kings 36And in his days he was successful in removing by before me exempted you and as many other pay-his hands the nations from his country, and those ments as they exempted you. 6And I have given in the city of Daudid and those in Ierousalem who permission for you to make your own die for had built a citadel for themselves out of which coinage in your own country 7and for Ierousalem they would come and desecrate the vicinity of the and the aholy placesa to be free. And all the aholy placesa and do great harm to its purity.

weapons that you have prepared and the fortresses

37And he settled Judean men in it and fortified it that you have built and now control, let them be for the security of the country and city, and he yours. 8And every royal debt and the future royal heightened the walls of Ierousalem.

debts from the present and for all time, let them be

38 "And King Demetrius bestowed upon him annulled for you. 9And when we establish our the high priesthood for these things, 39and he kingdom, we will glorify you and your nation and made him one of his Friends and glorified him the temple with great glory so that your glory will with great glory. 40For he had heard that the become apparent in all the earth."

Judeans had been called friends, allies and broth-

10 In the one hundred seventy-fourth year An-

ers by the Romans and that they had met with the tiochus went out into the land of his fathers, and ambassadors of Simon with honor 41and that the all the forces joined with him so that few were Judeans and the priests were pleased that Simon with Trypho. 11And Antiochus pursued him, and would be their leader and high priest forever, until heb, fleeing, came to Dora by the sea, 12for he a faithful prophet would arise, 42and that he knew that evils had converged upon him, and his would be commander over them and that the re- forces abandoned him. 13And Antiochus camped sponsibility would be upon him concerning the against Dora, and with him one hundred twenty aholy placesa to establish authorities for it over thousand fighting men and eight thousand caval-

their works and over the country and over the ry. 14And he surrounded the city, and the ships armed forces and over the fortresses 43and that the joined battle from the sea, and he pressed the city responsibility would be upon him concerning the from the land and the sea and allowed no one to aholy placesa and that he would be obeyed by all go out or to go in.

and that all documents in the country would be

15 And Numenius and those with him came written in his name and that he would be clothed from Rome having letters for the kings and the in purple and wear gold.

countries in which were written these things:

44 “And no one of the people or of the priests 16“Leukios, consul of the Romans, to Ptolemy the will be able to set aside any of these resolutions or king, greeting. 17The ambassadors of the Judeans al.e. temple bl.e. Trypho

1 makkabees 15-16

501 came to us as our friends and allies, renewing the ple and our country, for these we will give one original friendship and alliance, having been sent hundred talents.”

by Simon the high priest and the citizenry of the

And hed did not answer a word to him 36but re-

Judeans. 18And they brought a gold shield weigh- turned with wrath to the king and reported to him ing one thousand minasa. 19Therefore it pleased us these words and the glory of Simon and all the to write to the kings and the countries, for them things that he saw. And the king became very not to seek evils against them and not to make war angry.

on them and their cities and their countries and 37 But Trypho, boarding a ship, fled to Or-that they not ally themselves with those who make thosia.

38And the king established Kendebaios as war on them.
20And it seemed good to us to accept overall commander of the coast and gave him inthe shield from them. 21Therefore if certain corrupt fantry and cavalry forces. 39And he commanded people from their country have taken refuge with him to camp before Judea, and he gave orders to you, give them over to Simon the high priest so him to build Kedron and to fortify the gates so that that he may take vengeance upon them according he might also make war on the people, but the to their law.”

king pursued Trypho. 40And Kendebaios arrived in 22 And he wrote the same things to Demetrius Jamneia and began to stir up the people and to the king and to Attalus and Ariarathes and Arsaces march into Judea and to take the people captive 23and to all the countries and to Sampsakes and

and to kill them. 41And he built Kedron and sta-

the Spartans and to Delos and to Myndos and to tioned horsemen there and infantry so that they Sicyon and to Caria and to Samos and to Pam- could go out and march along the roads of Judea phylia and to Lycia and to Halicarnassos and to as the king had instructed him.

Rhodes and to Phaselis and to Cos and to Side and to Aradus and Gortyna and Cnidos and Cyprus

And Ioannes went up from Gazara and reand Cyrene. 24They also wrote a copy of these 16 ported to Simon his father what Kende-things to Simon the high priest.

baios had done. 2And Simon called his two older

25 Now Antiochus the king camped against sons, loudas and loannes, and said to them, "I and Dora a second time, attacking it constantly and my brothers and the house of my father have making war machines, and he shut Trypho off fought the enemies of Israel from our youth until from going out and going in. 26And Simon sent to this very day, and we were successful in rescuing Is-himb two thousand selected men to fight with rael by our hands many times. 3But now I have him and silver and gold and many implements of gotten old, but you mercifully are sufficient in war. 27However, he decided not to accept them years. Become my replacement and my brother's; but to set aside all the agreements he had con- then go out, and fight for our nation, and may the cluded with himc formerly and became alienated help from heaven be with you."

from him. 28And heb sent to him Athenobius, one

4 And hee selected from the country twenty of his Friends, to converse with him, saying, "You thousand fighting men and horsemen, and they are in control of Joppe and Gazara and the citadel went to Kendebaivos and slept in Modein. 5And in Ierousalem, which are cities of my kingdom. arising in the morning, they went to the plain and 29You have devastated their regions and have

saw a large force about to meet them, foot-soldiers done great harm in the land and have taken con- and horsemen, and there was a wadi between trol of many places in my kingdom. 30 Now then, them. 6 And he camped before them, he and his turn over the cities that you have taken and the people. And he saw the people frightened to cross taxes of the places of which you have taken possession, and he crossed first, and the men saw session outside the boundaries of Judea. 31 Or if him, and they crossed after him. 7 And he divided not, instead of them give five hundred talents of the people with the horsemen in the middle of the silver for the destruction that you have caused, infantry. But the cavalry of the adversaries was very and for the taxes of the cities another five hundred large. 8 And they trumpeted with the trumpets, and talents. Or if not, we will come and make war. Kendebaios and his army were routed, and many upon you.”

of them fell wounded, and the rest fled to the 32 And Athenobius, the Friend of the king, fortress. 9 That was when Ioudas, the brother of came to Jerusalem and saw the glory of Simon Ioannes, was wounded, but Ioannes pursued them and a cabinet for wine cups with gold and silver until he came to Kedron, which he had built.

plate and considerable ostentation, and he was as- 10 And they fled to the towers in the fields of Azotus and announced to him the words of the tus, and he burned it with fire, and up to two king. 33 And answering, Simon said to him, “Neither thousand of them fell. And he returned to Judea there have we taken a foreign land, nor have we with peace.

taken the property of foreigners, but the inheri-

11 And Ptolemy son of Aboubos was the ap-tance of our fathers, which was held unjustly by pointed commander in the plain of Jericho, and our enemies for a certain time. 34But we, seizing he had much silver and gold, 12for he was a sonthe occasion, are clinging to the inheritance of our in-law of the high priest. 13And his heart was ex-fathers. 35But concerning Joppe and Gazara, which alted, and he wanted to take control of the coun-you claim, they were doing great harm to the peo-try, and he plotted with deceit against Simon and aGk 1 mina = 100 drachmas = 0.6 kg bl.e. Antiochus cl.e.

Simon dl.e. Athenobius el.e. Ioannes fl.e. Kendebaios

502

1 makkabees 16

his sons to eliminate them. 14Now when Simon the cities and the country to him. 19And he sent was touring the cities in the country and attend- other men to Gazara to eliminate loannes, and to ing to his supervision of them, he also went down the officers of thousands he sent letters for them to to lericho, he and Mattathias and loudas, his come to him so that he might give to them silver sons, in the one hundred and seventy-seventh and gold and gifts, 20and he sent other men to take year in the eleventh month; this is the month lerousalem and the temple mount. 21But someone, Sabat. 15And the son of Aboubos received them running ahead, reported to loannes in Gazara that with deceit in his small fortress called Dok, which his father and his brothers had been destroyed and he had built, and he put on a great banquet for that "he has also sent men to kill you." 22And them, and he hid men there. 16And when Simon hearing this, he was greatly astounded, and he ap-and his sons became drunk, Ptolemy and those prehended the men who came to destroy him, and with him rose up and took their weapons and he killed them, for he knew that they were seeking rushed in on Simon in the symposium and killed to destroy him.

him and his two sons and some of his servants.

23 And the rest of the stories about Ioannes

17 And he committed a great betrayal and returned and his wars and his heroic deeds which he did evil for good.

and the building of the walls which he built and 18 And Ptolemy wrote about these things and his actions,

24 look, these have been written in the sent a report to the king so that he would send book of days of his high priesthood from the time forces to him for assistance and would turn over when he became high priest after his father.

2 MAKKABEES

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The Greek text used as the basis of the present translation is R. Hanhart's Göttingen edition, Maccabaeorum libri I-IV, 2: Maccabaeorum liber II, copiis usus quas reliquit Werner Kappler edidit Robert Hanhart (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Societatis Litterarum Göttingensis editum IX [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 2nd ed., 1976 (1959)]), which forms part of the Göttingen Septuagint and is the standard critically established text of contemporary Septuagint scholarship. The texts provided by H. B.

Swete, The Old Testament in Greek, According to the Septuagint (vol. 3; Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1912), A. Rahlfs, Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes (9th ed.; Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935) and F.-M. Abel, Les livres des Maccabées (Etudes Bibliques; Paris: J. Gabalda, 1949) were also consulted.

It was not always possible to follow the text reconstructed by Hanhart. Wherever the present translator's textual-critical decisions differ from those of Hanhart, this has been indicated in the footnotes. Some of the considerations that necessitated such decisions are laid out in the next section.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 2 MAKKABEES

The Text of 2 Makkabees

Any critical edition of 2 Makkabees relies mainly on two famous Greek uncial manuscripts: the Codex Alexandrinus (fifth century) and the Codex Venetus (eighth century). There is also a rich tradition of Greek minuscule manuscripts, as well as manuscript witnesses to Syriac, Armenian and Latin translations. There also is a Coptic fragment of some passages from 2 Makk 5-6.1 Hanhart's edition is based mainly on Alexandrinus and on minuscules 55, 347 and 771.

The body of the text of 2 Makkabees, that is, 3.1-15.36, is a literary creation in its own right without a Hebrew parent text. It is an epitome drawn from the five-volume work of Jason of Cyrene produced by an epitomator who introduces the results of his labors in the prooemium found in 2.19-32. In 1.1-10a and 1.10b-2.18 two letters referring to the feast of Succoth in the month of Kislev are made to introduce the main part. The letters most likely are translations of Hebrew or Aramaic originals, but the parent texts are not known. An epilogue, which was produced by the epitomator, follows in 15.37-39.

The main body of the text (3.1-15.36) goes back to Jason of Cyrene, the author whose five-volume history was abbreviated (or "epitomised"). However, Jason could not possibly have produced some passages: 4.17; 5.17-20; and 6.12-17. The epitomator authored them. The whole of chapter 7, 12.43-45 and 14.37-46 also seem alien in the context of Jason's history.² Furthermore, two versions of the Heliodorus narrative exist side by side in chapter 3. Version A, as identified by E. Bickerman (3.24, 25, 27, 28, 30),³ must have been produced by a post-Jasonic author.⁴

Some Observations Pertinent to the NETS Translation

The NETS translation of 2 Makkabees obviously has to address textual-critical problems and does so on the basis of the Göttingen edition. This takes us back to the exemplary debate between P. Katz and R.

Hanhart. It was provoked by Katz's review⁵ of Hanhart's critical edition. Building on the work of his pre-1 On the textual witnesses, see Hanhart, Maccabaeorum liber II, 7-11.

² See the arguments put forward by C. Habicht, 2. Makkabäerbuch (Jüdische Schriften aus hellenistisch-römischer Zeit I/3); Gütersloh: G. Mohn, 21979 [1976] 171.

³ E. J. Bickerman, "Héliodore au temple de Jérusalem," Annuaire de l'Institut de Philologie et d'Histoire Orientale 7 (1939-1944) 18-40.

⁴ C. Habicht (2. Makkabäerbuch, 173) convincingly dates Heliodoros version A to the time after Jason (against Bickerman!).

⁵ P. Katz, "The Text of 2 Maccabees Reconsidered," ZNW 51 (1960) 10-30. Hanhart responded in idem, Zum Text des 2. und 3. Makkabäerbuches. Probleme der Überlieferung, der Auslegung und der Ausgabe (Nachrichten der Akademie der Wissenschaften in Göttingen, I. Philosophisch-historische Klasse. Nr. 13; Göttingen, 1961). See also the article by G. D. Kilpatrick, Göttingische Gelehrte Anzeigen 215 (1963) 10-22.

504

to the reader of 2 makkabees

decessors, especially on the research done by A. Wilhelm,⁶ Katz discussed Hanhart's edition and made a number of conjectural and other suggestions, which a translator of 2 Makkabees ignores at his or her peril. Some of the passages in question are 2 Makk 5.8; 6.2; 12.34; 13.2; 14.17, all of which are noted in the footnotes of our translation.

I should like to discuss one particular problem as an exemplar.⁷ It is taken from 2 Makk 1.19. The Göttingen edition reads:

kai\ ga\r o3te ei0j th\n Persikh\n h1gonto h9mw~n 9 opiate/rej oi9 to/te eu0sebei=j i9erei=j labo/ntej a0po\ toupuro\j tou= qusiasthri/ou laqrai/wj kate/kruyan e0n koilw&mati fre/atoj ta/cin e1xontoj a1nudron, e0n w kathsfali/santo w3ste pa=sin a1gnwston ei]nai to\n to/pon.

For the italicized part the NRSV reads: “. . . and secretly hid it in the hollow of a dry cistern.....”

The NRSV is based on the Hanhart edition,⁸ and there is no note in the NRSV indicating that an alternative reading was preferred. We therefore conclude that the committee of NRSV translators thought that its rendering represented a faithful rendering of the text established by Hanhart. However, Hanhart’s text here does not quite make sense. Generations of scholars have felt this passage to be difficult. The NRSV follows the example of such scholars as James Moffatt, who translated, “. . . hid it secretly in the hollow of an empty cistern ”⁹ However, nobody is really able to make sense of ta/cin and how it relates to the preceding e0n koilw&mati fre/atoj, on the one hand, and to e1xontoj a1nudron on the other.

The NRSV translators seem to have read fre/atoj and e1xontoj in conjunction, thus understanding something like “in the hollow of a cistern that had a dry ta/cin,” which did not quite make sense and was simply paraphrased as “a dry cistern.”

Contrary to such forced efforts to make sense of an obviously corrupt text, A. Wilhelm suggested the reading e)n koilw/mati fre/atoj ta/cin e1xonti a1nudrou. His conjecture takes seriously that, in 2 Makk 9.18 and other passages of Hellenistic Greek literature, ta/cij is used in a similar way. Thus we read, in 9.18: Ou0damw=j de\ lhgo/ntwn tw~n po/nw—ne0pelhlu/qei ga\r e0p/ au0to\n dikai/a h9 tou= qeou= kri/sij—ta\kat/au0to\n a0pelpi/saj e1grayen pro\j tou\j 0loudai/ouj th\n u9pogeogramme/nhn e0pistolh\n i9kethri/aj ta/cin e1xousan perie/xousan de\ ou3twj.

But when his sufferings did not in any way abate, for the judgment of God had justly come upon him, he gave up all hope for himself and wrote to the Jews the following letter, in the form of a supplication.

This was its content (NRSV).

Wilhelm points out that the participle is in accordance with the term that designates the object that is being compared, with regard to its ta/cij, with another object. This is a fine example of a conjectural reading that is not warranted by any of the manuscripts but seems to be, after careful consideration, the only possibility to make sense of the text. This is why it was accepted by P. Katz in his review article. I have taken it over and have accordingly rendered the text as “[they] hid it in a cavity, which had the appearance of a waterless cistern.” Other such cases might be cited.¹⁰

Generally speaking, Hanhart’s critical edition is marked by an exceedingly conservative attitude towards emendations.¹¹ It has rightly been pointed out against Hanhart that 2 Makkabees should not be 6 A. Wilhelm, “Zu einigen Stellen der Bücher der Makkabäer,” in Anzeiger der Akademie der Wissenschaften in Wien (Philosophischhistorische Klasse, 74 [1937]; Vienna and Leipzig, 1938) 15-30.

7 More examples are discussed in J. Schaper, "Translating 2 Maccabees for NETS" (forthcoming).

8 NRSV (Anglicized Edition), "To the Reader," xiii: "For the Apocryphal/Deuterocanonical Books of the Old Testament the Committee has made use of a number of texts. For most of these books the basic Greek text from which the present translation was made is the edition of the Septuagint prepared by Alfred Rahlfs..... For several of the books the more recently published individual volumes of the Göttingen Septuagint project were utilized."

9 In Charles, 1.133.

10 In the commentary literature, see, to name just one example, J. A. Goldstein, (II Maccabees: A New Translation with Introduction and Commentary) (AB 41A; Garden City, NY: Doubleday, 1983) 176, following A. Wilhelm and stating with regard to 2 Makk. 1.19 and the transmission of the Greek text "The scribes of the Greek manuscripts, however, were led by a series of corruptions away from the construction which otherwise they would have recognized."

11 See Habicht, 2. Makkabäerbuch, 192, "Der wesentliche Punkt der Kritik.....ist der extreme Konservatismus, den Hanhart hinsichtlich derjenigen Handschriften beweist, die nach seinem Urteil den Text am reinsten bewahrt haben, das sind A und die Minuskelhandschriften 55, 347 und 771. Er ist gepaart mit äußerster Zurückhaltung compared to Septuagint texts with a Semitic parent text but to “pagan” Hellenistic literature and inscriptions, especially with regard to the book’s style and vocabulary.¹² The consequences for the critical reconstruction of its text are obvious.

2 makkabees 1

505

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

In addition to tools like the standard lexica and grammars, I made use especially of the translations and commentaries provided by C. Habicht, 2. Makkabäerbuch (Jüdische Schriften aus hellenistisch-römischer Zeit I/3; Gütersloh: G. Mohn, 21979 [1976]) and J. A. Goldstein, II Maccabees: A New Translation with Introduction and Commentary (AB 41A; Garden City, NY: Doubleday 1983). With regard to matters of textual criticism, P. Walters, The Text of the Septuagint: Its Corruptions and Their Emendation (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1973) proved especially helpful.

JOACHIM SCHAPER

1 The fellow Judeans in Hierosolyma and those city. 13 When the leader and his army, which in the land of Judea, to their Judean brothers seemed irresistible, reached Persia, they were cut to in Egypt, greetings and true peace.

pieces in the temple of Nanea by a deception em-

2 May God do good to you, and may he re- played by the priests of the goddess Nanea. 14 On member his covenant with Abraam and Isaak and the pretext of intending to marry her, Antiochus Iakob, his faithful slaves. 3 May he give you all a came to the place together with his Friends, to take heart to worship him and to do his will with a most of the money in name of a dowry. 15 When strong heart and a willing spirit. 4 May he open the priests of the temple of Nanea had set it out your heart to his law and his ordinances, and may and that man had come with a few men inside the he bring peace. 5 May he heed your prayers and be wall of the sacred precinct, they closed the temple reconciled to you, and may he not forsake you in a as soon as he had entered it. 16 Opening a secret time of evil. 6 We are now praying for you here.

door in the paneled ceiling, they threw stones and

7 In the reign of Demetrius, in the one hundred struck down the leader, and they dismembered sixty-ninth year, we Judeans wrote to you in the them and cut off their heads and threw them to the critical distress that came upon us in those years people outside. 17 Blessed in every way be our God, after Jason and his company revolted from the who has delivered up those who have behaved im-holy land and the kingdom 8and burned the gate piously.

and shed innocent blood. We prayed to the Lord

18 Since we intend to celebrate the purification and were heard, and we offered sacrifice and grain of the temple on the twenty-fifth of Cheseleu, we offering, and we lit the lamps and set out the thought it necessary to notify you in order that you loaves. 9And now see that you keep the days of the also may celebrate it, as the feast of tent pitching feast of tent pitching in the month of Cheseleu. and of the fire, given when Neemias, who built both 10In the one hundred eighty-eighth year.

the temple and the altar and offered sacrifices.

19 For when our fathers were being led captive

The people of Hierosolyma and of Judea and to Persia, the pious priests of that time took some the senate and loudas, to Aristobulus, who is of of the fire of the altar and secretly hid it in a cavi-the family of the anointed priests, teacher of King ty, which had the appearance of a waterless cistern, Ptolemy, and to the Judeans in Egypt, greetings where they kept it safe so that the place was un-and good health.

known to anyone. 20But after many years had

11 Having been saved by God out of grave dan- passed, when it pleased God, Neemias, having gers we thank him greatly as men drawing up in been sent by the king of Persia, sent the descen-battle-order against the king, 12for he drove out dants of the priests who had hidden it after the those who drew up in battle-order against the holy fire. When they reported to us that they had not gegenüber abweichenden Lesungen, die von anderen Handschriften geboten werden, und insbesondere von solchen, die durch die Rezension des Lukian von Antiocheia . . . beeinflußt worden sind, endlich von einer ebenso weit getriebenen Zurückhaltung gegenüber modernen Konjekturen auch da, wo nur eine Konjektur den Text verstehbar macht.”

12 See Habicht, 2. Makkabäerbuch, 193, “In diesem Zusammenhang ist für 2 Makk von entscheidender Bedeutung, daß die Schrift, von einigen Partien abgesehen . . . , als ein griechisches Original beurteilt werden muß, d. h.

anders als die übrigen Bücher der Septuaginta, die als Übersetzungen aus dem Hebräischen Übersetzungsgriechisch, zudem noch aus einer anderen Zeit, bieten. Hanhart hat diesem besonderen Umstand des Buches nicht oder nur unzulänglich Rechnung getragen. Die Kriterien sind nicht die richtigen, wenn etwa ein bestimmtes Wort deshalb verworfen wird, weil es sonst im Übersetzungsgriechisch der Septuaginta nicht vorkommt. Das richtige Kriterium wäre die Frage, ob es bei den vergleichbaren griechischen Autoren der Zeit wie Polybios und ob es im Urkundenstil des Hellenismus begegnet, wie ihn die Inschriften zeigen.”

506

2 makkabees 1-2

found fire but only marsh water, he ordered them who followed him came up intending to mark the to draw it up and bring it. 21When the materials for way but could not find it. 7When Ieremias learned the sacrifices were presented, Neemias ordered the of it, he rebuked them and declared, “The place priests to sprinkle the water on the wood and on shall remain unknown until God gathers his people—the things laid upon it. 22When this had been pleased together again and shows his mercy. 8Then the done and some time had passed and when the Lord will disclose these things, and the glory of the sun, which had been clouded over, shone out, a Lord will appear, and the cloud, as it showed itself great fire was kindled so that all marvelled. 23And to Moses, and as Salomon prayed that the place while the sacrifice was being consumed, the priests be specially sanctified.”

offered prayer—the priests and everyone. Ionathas

9 It was also told that, possessing wisdom, he led, and the rest responded, as did Neemias. 24The offered sacrifice for the dedication and completion prayer was to this effect:

of the temple. 10Just as Moses prayed to the Lord

“O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, you are and fire came down from heaven and ate up the awe-inspiring and strong and just and merciful; you sacrifices, so also Salomon prayed, and the fire alone are king and are kind; 25you alone are bountiful; you alone are just and almighty and everlasting. 11And Moses said, “They were eaten up being. You rescue Israel from every evil; you chose the cause the sin offering had not been eaten.” 12Like-fathers and sanctified them. 26Accept this sacrifice wise Salomon also kept the eight days.

on behalf of all your people Israel, and preserve

13 The same things are reported in the records

your portion, and make it holy. 27Gather together and in the memoirs of Neemias, and also that he our scattered people; set free those who are slaves founded a library and collected the books about among the nations; look on those who are rejected the kings and prophets, and the writings of Daud, and despised, and let the nations know that you are and letters of kings about votive offerings. 14In the our God. 28Punish those who oppress and are in- same way loudas also collected all the books that solent with pride. 29Plant your people in your holy had been lost on account of the war that had come place, as Moyses said.”

upon us, and they are in our possession. 15So if 30 Then the priests sang the hymns. 31After the you have need of them, send people to get them materials of the sacrifice had been consumed, for you.

Neemias ordered that the water that was left

16 Since, therefore, we are about to celebrate should be poured on large stones. 32When this was the purification, we write to you. You would do done, a flame blazed up, but when the light from well to keep the days too. 17It is God who has the altar shone back, it was consumed. 33When saved all his people and has returned the inheri-this matter became known and it was reported to tance to all, and the kingship and the priesthood the king of the Persians that, in the place where the and the sanctification, 18as he promised through exiled priests had hidden the fire, the water had ap- the law. We therefore have hope in God that he peared, with which Neemias’ men had purified the will soon have mercy on us and will gather us from materials of the sacrifice, 34the king investigated everywhere under heaven to his holy place, for he the matter and enclosed the place and made it sa- has rescued us from great evils and has cleansed cred. 35And with those persons whom the king the place.

favoured he exchanged many excellent gifts.

36Neemias' men called this "nephthar," which 19 The story of loudas Makkabaios and his means purification, but by most people it is called brothers and the purification of the greatest temple

"nephthai."

and the dedication of the altara 20and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes and his son Eu-

One finds in the records that the prophet pator 21and the appearances that came from heav-

2 Jeremiasorderedthosehowerebeingde-entothosewhobehavedthemselvesmanfullyfor ported to take some of the fire, as has been men- Judaism so that though few in number they seized tioned, 2and that the prophet, after giving them the whole land and pursued the barbarian hordes 22

the law, commanded those who were being de-

and regained possession of the temple famous ported not to forget the ordinances of the Lord or throughout the world and liberated the city and re-to be led astray in their thoughts on seeing the established the laws that were about to be abol-gold and silver statues and their adornment. 3And ished, while the Lord with great kindness became with other similar words he exhorted them that gracious to them—23all this, which has been set the law should not depart from their hearts.

forth by Jason of Cyrene in five volumes, we shall

4 It was also in the document that the prophet, attempt to condense into a single book. 24For con-having received an oracle, ordered that the tent sidering the flood of figures involved and the diffi-and the ark should follow with him and that he culty there is for those who wish to enter upon the went out to the mountain where Moyses had gone narratives of history because of the mass of mate-up and had seen the inheritance of God. 5Jeremias rial, 25we have aimed to please those who wish to came and found a cave dwelling, and he brought read, to make it easy for those who are inclined to there the tent and the ark and the altar of incense; memorize and to profit all those who happen to then he sealed up the entrance. 6Some of those read this. 26For us who have undertaken the toil of

aGk = bômos

2 makkabees 2-3

507

abbreviating, it is no light matter but calls for talled in all four hundred talents of silver and two sweat and loss of sleep, 27just as it is not easy for hundred of gold. To such an extent the impious one who prepares a banquet and seeks the benefit Simon had misrepresented the facts. 12And he said of others. Nevertheless, to secure the gratitude of that it was utterly impossible that wrong should be many we will gladly endure the uncomfortable done to those people who had trusted in the holi-toil, 28leaving the responsibility for exact details to ness of the place and in the sanctity and inviola-the compiler, while devoting our effort to arriving bility of the temple that is honored throughout the at the outlines of the condensation. 29For as the whole wide world.

master builder of a new house must be concerned

13 But the other one, because of the comwith the whole construction, while the one who mands he had from the king, said that this money undertakes its painting and decoration has to con- must in any case be confiscated for the king's trea-sider only what is suitable for its adornment, such sury. 14So he set a day and went in to direct the in-in my judgment is the case with us. 30It is the duty spection of these funds.

of the original historian to occupy the ground, to

There was no little distress throughout the whole discuss matters from every side and to take trouble city.

15The priests prostrated themselves before the with details, 31but the one who recasts the narra- altar in their priestly vestments and called toward tive should be allowed to strive for brevity of ex- heaven upon him who had given the law about depression and to forego exhaustive treatment. 32At posits, that he should keep them safe for those who this point, therefore, let us begin our narrative, had deposited them. 16To see the appearance of the while adding just this to what has already been high priest was to be wounded at heart, for his face said; for it would be foolish to lengthen the pref- and the change in his color disclosed the anguish of ace while cutting short the narrative itself.

his soul. 17For terror and bodily trembling had come over the man, which plainly showed to those

While the holy city was inhabited in unbroken who looked at him the pain lodged in his heart.

18

3 peace and the laws were strictly observed be-Peoplealsowerehurryingoutoftheirhousesin cause of the piety of the high priest Onias and his crowds to the supplication of the entire people be-hatred of wickedness, 2it came about that the kings cause the holy place was about to be brought into themselves honored the place and glorified the dishonor. 19Women, girded with sackcloth under temple with the finest presents, 3even to the extent their breasts, thronged the streets. Of the virgins that Seleucus, the king of Asia, defrayed from his who were kept indoors, some ran together to the own revenues all the expenses connected with the gates and some to the walls, while others peered ministry of the sacrifices.

out of the windows. 20And holding up their hands

4 But a man named Simon, of the tribe of Bal- to heaven, they all made supplication. 21There was gea, who had been made captain of the temple, something pitiable in the prostration of the whole had a disagreement with the high priest about the populace and the anxiety of the high priest in his administration of the city market. 5Since he could great anguish.

not prevail over Onias, he went to Apollonius son

22 While they were calling upon the Almighty of Thraseasa, who at that time was governor of Lord that he would keep what had been entrusted Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, 6and reported to him safe and secure for those who had entrusted it, 23

that the treasury in Hierosolyma was full of untold

Heliodorus went on with what had been decid-sums of money, so that the amount of the funds ed. 24But when he was present at the treasury with could not be reckoned, and that they did not be- his bodyguards, then and there the Sovereign of long to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was spirits and of all authority caused so great a mani-possible for them to fall under the control of the festation, that all who had been so bold as to acking. 7When Apollonius met the king, he told him company him were astounded by the power of of the money about which he had been informed. God and became faint with terror. 25For there ap-And heb chose Heliodorus, who was in charge of peared to them a magnificently caparisoned horse his affairs, and sent him with commands to effect with a frightening rider; it rushed furiously at Hethe removal of the reported wealth. 8Heliodorus at liodorus and struck at him with its front hoofs. He once set out on his journey, ostensibly to make a who sat upon it was seen to have a full golden har-tour of inspection of the cities of Coele-Syria and ness. 26Two young men also appeared to him, re-Phoenicia but in fact to carry out the king's pur- markably strong, gloriously beautiful and splen-pose.

didly dressed, who stood on either side of him and 9 When he had arrived at Hierosolyma and had flogged him continuously, inflicting many blows been kindly welcomed by the high priest of the on him. 27When he suddenly fell to the ground city, he told about the disclosure that had been and deep darkness came over him, they took him made and stated why he had come. But he in- up, put him on a stretcher 28and carried him, who quired whether this really was the situation. 10The had just entered the aforesaid treasury with a great high priest explained that there were some de- retinue and all his bodyguard but was now with all posits belonging to widows and orphans 11and his weapons unable to help himself, away. Theyc also some money of Hyrcanus son of Tobias, a thus clearly recognized the dominance of God.

man of very prominent position, and that it to-

29 While he lay prostrate, speechless because of a Thrasaios = Ha bl.e. the king c he = Ha 508

2 makkabees 3-4

the divine intervention and deprived of any hope the brother of Onias obtained the high priesthood of recovery, 30they praised the Lord who had acted by corruption, 8promising the king at an interview marvellously for his own place. And the temple, three hundred sixty talents of silver and from an-which a little while before was full of fear and dis- other source of revenue eighty talents. 9In addition turbance, was filled with joy and gladness now that to this he promised to pay one hundred fifty more, the Almighty Lord had appeared.

if permission were given to establish by his au-

31 Some of Heliodorus' friends quickly begged thority a gymnasium and a body of youth for it Onias to call upon the

Most High to grant life to and to draw up the list of the 'Antiochenes'

one who was lying quite at his last breath. 32 So the amongst those in Hierosolyma. 10 When the king high priest having become suspicious that the king assented and he came to office, he at once shifted might get the notion that some foul play had been his compatriots over to the Greek way of life.

perpetrated by the Judeans with regard to He-

11 He set aside the existing humane royal conliodorus, offered sacrifice for the man's recovery. cessions to the Judeans, secured through Ioannes 33 While the high priest was making an atonement, the father of Eupolemus, who went on the mission the same young men appeared again to Heliodo- to establish friendship and alliance with the Rorus dressed in the same clothing, and they stood mans, and he destroyed the polity's lawful ways of and said, "Be very grateful to the high priest Onias, living and introduced new customs contrary to the since for his sake the Lord has granted you your law. 12 He took delight in establishing a gymnasi-life. 34 And see that you, who have been flogged by um right under the acropolis, and subjugating heaven, report to all people the majestic power of them, he induced the noblest of the young men to God." Having said this they vanished.

wear the Greek hat. 13 There was such an extreme

35 Then Heliodorus offered sacrifice to the Lord of hellenization and increase in the adoption of aland made very great vows to the Savior of his life, Iophylisma because of the surpassing wickedness and having bidden Onias farewell, he marched off of Jason, who was impious and no true high priest, with his forces to the king. 36He bore testimony to 14that the priests were no longer intent upon their all concerning the deeds of the supreme God, ministry at the altar. Rather, despising the shrine which he had seen with his own eyes. 37When the and neglecting the sacrifices, they hurried to take king asked Heliodorus what sort of person would part in the unlawful distribution of the oilb in the be suitable to be sent on another mission to Hi-wrestling arena after the signal for the discus erosolyma, he replied, 38“If you have any enemy or throwing, 15disdaining the honors prized by their plotter against your government, send him there, ancestors and putting the highest value upon for you will get him back thoroughly flogged, if he Greek forms of prestige. 16For this reason heavy di-survives at all, for there is certainly some divine saster overtook them, and those whose ways of liv-power about the place. 39For he who has his ing they admired and wished to imitate complete-dwelling in heaven watches over that place himself ly became their enemies and avengers. 17It is no and brings it aid, and he strikes and destroys those light thing to show impiety to the divine laws—a who come to do it injury.” 40This was the outcome fact that later events will make clear.

of the episode of Heliodorus and the protection of 18 When the quinquennial games were being the treasury.

held at Tyre and the king was present, 19the vile

Jason sent envoys, chosen as being ‘Antiochian’ cit-

The previously mentioned Simon, who had izens from Hierosolyma, to carry three hundred

4 informed about the money against his own silverdrachmas for the sacrifice to Heracles. Those country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who carried the money, however, thought best not who had incited Heliodorus and had been the real to use it for sacrifice, because that was inappropriate cause of the evils. 2 He dared to designate as a plot- ate, but to expend it for another purpose. 20 So this ter against the government the man who was the money was intended by the sender for the sacrifice benefactor of the city, the protector of his compa- to Heracles, but by the decision of its carriers it was triots and a zealot for the laws. 3 When his hatred applied to the construction of triremes.

progressed to such a degree that even murders

21 When Apollonius the son of Menestheus were committed by one of Simon's approved was sent to Egypt for the coronation of Philometor agents, 4 Onias recognized that the rivalry was seri- as king, Antiochus learned that the other had be-ous and that Apollonius son of Menestheus, and come hostile to his government, and he took mea-governor of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, was inten- sures for his own security. Therefore upon arriving sifying the malice of Simon. 5 So he appealed to at Joppe he proceeded to Hierosolyma. 22 He was the king, not accusing his compatriots but having welcomed magnificently by Jason and the city and in view the welfare, both public and private, of all ushered in with a blaze of torches and with shouts.

the people. 6 For he saw that without the king's at- Then he marched off to Phoenicia in the same tention public affairs could not again reach a manner.

peaceful settlement and that Simon would not

23 After a period of three years Jason sent stop his folly.

Menelaus, the brother of the previously men-

7 When Seleucus died and Antiochus, who was tioned Simon, to carry the money to the king and called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason to complete the records of essential business. 24But

a.l.e. alien ways bPossibly of ointments

2 makkabees 4-5

509

he, when presented to the king, extolled him with machus, because many of the gold vessels had al-an air of authority and secured the high priesthood ready been stolen. 40Since the crowds were befor himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred coming aroused and filled with anger, Lysimachus talents of silver. 25After receiving the king's com- armed about three thousand men and launched an mands he returned, possessing no qualification for unjust attack under the leadership of a certain Authe high priesthood but having the hot temper of ranus, a man advanced in years and no less ad-a cruel tyrant and the rage of a savage wild beast.
vanced in folly. 41But when they became aware 26So Jason, who after supplanting his own brother that Lysimachus was attacking them, some picked was supplanted by another man, was driven as a up stones, some blocks of wood, and others took fugitive into the land of Ammon. 27Although handfuls of the ashes that were lying around and Menelaus continued to hold the office, he did not throw them in wild confusion at Lysimachus' men.

pay regularly any of the money promised to the 42As a result, they wounded many of them and king. 28So when Sostratus the captain of the acrop- killed some and put all the rest to flight; the tem-olis kept requesting payment—for the collection of ple robber himself they killed close by the treasury.

the revenue was his responsibility—the two of

43 Charges were brought against Menelaus them were summoned by the king on account of about this incident. 44When the king came to Tyre, this issue. 29Menelaus left his own brother Lysi- three men sent by the senate presented the case be-machus as deputy in the high priesthood, while fore him. 45But Menelaus, already as good as beat-Sostratus left Crates, the commander of the Cyprien, promised a substantial bribe to Ptolemy son of an troops.

Dorymenes to win over the king. 46Therefore,

30 While such was the state of affairs, it hap- Ptolemy, taking the king aside into a colonnade as pened that the people of Tarsus and of Mallus re- if for refreshment, induced the king to change his volted because their cities had been given as a pres-mind. 47Menelaus, the cause of all the trouble, he ent to Antiochis, the king's concubine. 31So the acquitted of the charges against him, while he sen-

king went hurriedly to settle the trouble, leaving tenced to death those unfortunate men, who Andronicus, a man of high rank, to act as his would have been freed uncondemned, if they had deputy. 32But Menelaus, thinking he had obtained pleaded even before Scythians. 48And so those a suitable opportunity, stole some of the gold ves- who had spoken for the city and the villages and sels of the temple and gave them to Andronicus; the holy vessels quickly suffered the unjust penal-other vessels, as it happened, he had sold to Tyre ty. 49Therefore even the Tyrians, showing their ha-and the neighboring cities. 33When Onias became tred of the crime, provided magnificently for their fully aware of these acts, he publicly exposed them, funeral. 50But Menelaus, because of the greed of having first withdrawn to a place of sanctuary at those in power, remained in office, growing in Daphne near Antioch. 34Therefore Menelaus, tak- wickedness, having become the chief plotter ing Andronicus aside, urged him to kill Onias. An- against his compatriots.

dronicus came to Onias, and resorting to treachery, offered him sworn pledges and gave him his right

About this time Antiochus made his second hand; he persuaded him, though still suspicious, 5 invasion of Egypt. 2And it happened that, for to come out from the place of sanctuary; then, almost forty days, there appeared over all the city with no regard for justice, he immediately put him golden-clad cavalry charging through the air, in out of the way.

companies fully armed with lances and drawn dag-

35 For this reason not only Judeans, but many gers—3troops of cavalry drawn up, attacks and also of other nations, were grieved and displeased counterattacks made on this side and on that, at the unjust slaughter of the man. 36When the brandishing of shields, massing of spears, hurling king returned from the region of Cilicia, the of missiles, the flash of golden trappings and Judeans in the city appealed to him with regard to armor of all kinds. 4Therefore everyone prayed that the unreasonable murder of Onias, and the Greeks the apparition might prove to have been a good shared their hatred of the crime. 37Therefore Anti- omen.

ochus was grieved at heart and filled with pity and

5 When a false rumor arose that Antiochus was wept because of the moderation and good conduct dead, Jason took no fewer than a thousand men of the deceased. 38Inflamed with anger, he imme- and suddenly made an assault on the city. When diately stripped off the purple robe from Androni- the troops on the wall had been forced back and at cus, tore off his clothes and led him around the last the city was being taken, Menelaus took refuge whole city to that very place where he had com- in the acropolis. 6But Jason kept relentlessly mitted the outrage against Onias, and there he re- slaughtering his compatriots, not realizing that moved the bloodthirsty fellow from the world. The success at the cost of one's kindred is the greatest Lord thus repaid him with the punishment he de- misfortune but imagining that he was setting up served.

trophies of victory over enemies and not over com-

39 When many acts of sacrilege had been com- patriots. 7He did not, however, gain control of the mitted in the city by Lysimachus with the con- government; in the end he got only disgrace from nivance of Menelaus and when report of them had his conspiracy and fled again into the Ammanitis.

spread abroad, the populace gathered against Lysi-8Finally he met a miserable end. Accuseda before a confined = Ha

510

2 makkabees 5-6

Aretas the ruler of the Arabs, fleeing from city to this man arrived in Hierosolyma, he pretended to city, pursued by everyone, hated as a rebel against be peaceably disposed and waited until the holy the laws and abhorred as the executioner of his sabbath day; then, finding the Judeans not at work, country and his compatriots, he was cast ashore in he ordered his troops to parade under arms. 26He Egypt. 9There he, who had driven many from their put to the sword all those who came out to see own country into exile, died in exile, having em- them, then rushed into the city with his armed barked to go to the Spartans in hope of finding warriors and killed great numbers of people.

protection because of their kinship. 10He who had

27 But loudas Makkabaios, with about nine cast out many to lie unburied had no one to others, got away to the wilderness and kept himself mourn for him; he had no funeral of any sort and and his companions alive in the mountains as no place in his ancestral tomb.

wild animals do; they continued to live on what

11 When news of what had happened reached Jerusalem, it grew wild so that they might not share in the death of the king, he took it to mean that Judea was in rebellion.

So, raging inwardly, he left Egypt and took the city by force. 12 He commanded his soldiers to cut

Not long after this, the king sent an Athenian down relentlessly everyone they met and to kill 60 senators to compel the Judeans to forsake their gods. Those who went into their houses. 13 Then their ancestral laws and no longer to live by the laws of their fathers were massacred of young and old, destruction of the temple—also to pollute the shrine in Jerusalem with women and children, slayings of virgins and infants and to call it the shrine of Olympian Zeus and to profane it. 14 Within the total of three days eighty thousand in Jerusalem, the shrine of Zeus-the-sand were destroyed, forty thousand in Jerusalem, Friend-of-Strangers, as the people who lived in that hand fighting, and as many were sold into slavery as had petitioned.

as were killed.

3 Harsh and utterly grievous was the onslaught

15 Not content with this, Antiochus dared to do evil. 4 For the temple was filled with debauchery, and the most holy temple in all the world, guided and revelling by the nations, who dallied with women, led by Menelaus, who had become a traitor both to prostitutes and had intercourse with women with the laws and to his country, 16 taking the sacred things in the sacred precincts, and besides brought in vessels with his polluted hands and pulling down things for sacrifice that were unfit. 5 The altar was with profane hands the votive offerings that other covered with abominable offerings that were for killings had made to enhance the glory and honor of bidden by the laws. 6People could neither keep the the place. 17Antiochus was elated in spirit and did sabbath nor observe their ancestral feasts nor so not perceive that the Lord was angered for a little much as confess themselves to be Judeans.

while because of the sins of those who lived in the

7 On the monthly celebration of the king's city and that this was the reason he was disregard- birthday, the Judeans were taken, under bitter con-ing the place. 18But if it had not happened that straint, to partake of the sacrifices, and when a they were involved in many sins, this man would feast of Dionysus was celebrated, they were com-have been flogged and turned back from his rash pelled to wear wreathes of ivy and to walk in the act as soon as he came forward, just as Heliodorus procession in honor of Dionysus. 8At the sugges-had been, whom King Seleucus sent to inspect the tion of Ptolemy a vote was issued to the neighbor-treasury. 19But the Lord did not choose the nation ing Greek cities that they should adopt the same for the sake of the place, but the place for the sake policy toward the Judeans and make them partake of the nation. 20Therefore the place itself shared in of the sacrifices 9and should kill those who did not the misfortunes that befell the nation and after- choose to change over to Greek customs. One ward participated in its benefits, and what was for-could see, therefore, the misery that had come saken in the wrath of the Almighty was restored upon them. 10For example, two women were again in all its glory when the great Lord became brought in for having circumcised their children.

reconciled.

They publicly paraded them around the city with 21 So Antiochus carried off eighteen hundred their babies hanging at their breasts and then talents from the temple and hurried away to Anti- hurled them down headlong from the wall. 110th-och, thinking in his arrogance that he could make ers who had assembled in the caves nearby in the land navigable and the sea passable on foot, order to observe the seventh day secretly were be-because his heart was elated. 22He left governors to trayed to Philip and were all burned together, be-oppress the people: at Hierosolyma, Philip, by cause their piety kept them from defending them-birth a Phrygian and in character more barbarous selves, in view of their regard for that most holy than the man who appointed him; 23and on day.

Garizima, Andronicus, and besides these Mene-

12 Now I urge those who read this book not to laus, who lorded it over the citizens worse than the be depressed by such calamities, but to recognize others did because of his malice toward the Judean that these punishments were designed not to de-citizens. 24Antiochus sent Apollonius, the captain stroy but to discipline our people. 13In fact, it is a of the Mysians, with an army of twenty-two thou- sign of great kindness not to let the impious alone sand and ordered him to kill all the grown men for long but to punish them immediately. 14For in and to sell the women and boys as slaves. 25When the case of the other nations the Lord waits pa-

a Argarizin = Ha

2 makkabees 6-7

511

tiently to punish them until they have reached the

It happened also that seven brothers and their full measure of their sins, but he does not deal in 7 mother were arrested and were being com-this way with us 15in order that he may not take pelled by the king, under torture with whips and vengeance on us afterward, when our sins have thongs, to partake of unlawful swine's flesh. 2One reached their height. 16Therefore he never with- of them, acting as their spokesman, said, "What do draws his mercy from us. While he disciplines us you intend to ask and learn from us? For we are with calamities, he does not forsake his own peo- ready to die rather than transgress our ancestral

ple. 17Let what we have said serve as a reminder; laws."

we must go on briefly with the story.

3 The king fell into a rage and ordered to have

18 Eleazaros, one of the scribes in high posi- frying-pans and cauldrons heated. 4These were tion, a man now advanced in age and of noble heated immediately, and he ordered that the presence, was being forced to open his mouth to tongue of their spokesman be cut out and that they eat swine's flesh. 19But he, welcoming death with scalp him and cut off his hands and feet, while the honor rather than life with pollution, went up to rest of the brothers and the mother looked on.

the rack of his own accord, spitting out the flesh, 5When he was utterly helpless, the king ordered 20as all ought to do who have the courage to refuse them to take him to the fire, still breathing, and to things that it is not right to taste, even for the nat- fry him in a pan. The smoke from the frying-pan ural love of life.

spread widely, but the brothers and their mother

21 Those who were in charge of that unlawful encouraged one another to die nobly, saying, sacrifice took the man aside because of their long 6“The Lord God is watching over us and in truth acquaintance with him and privately urged him to has compassion on us, as Moyses declared in his bring meat of his own providing, proper for him to song that bore witness against the people to their use, and to pretend that he was eating the flesh of faces, when he said, ‘And he will have compassion the sacrificial meal that had been ordered by the on his slaves.’ ”

king 22so that by doing this he might be saved

7 After the first brother had died in this way, from death and be treated kindly on account of his they brought forward the second for their sport.

old friendship with them. 23But making a high re- They tore off the skin of his head with the hair and solve, worthy of his years and the dignity of his old asked him, “Will you eat rather than have your age and the grey hairs that he had reached with body punished limb by limb?” 8He replied in his distinction and his excellent bearing even from ancestral language and said to them, “No.” There-childhood, and moreover according to the holy fore he in turn underwent tortures as the first had God-given law, he declared himself quickly, telling done. 9And when he was at his last breath, he said, them to send him to Hades.

“You accursed wretch, you dismiss us from this

24 "To pretend is not worthy of our time of present life, but the King of the universe will raise life," he said, "for many of the young might sup- us up to an everlasting renewal of life, because we pose that Eleazaros in his ninetieth year had gone have died for his laws."

over to allophylisma, 25and through my pretence,

10 After him, the third was the victim of their

for the sake of living a brief moment longer, they sport. When it was demanded, he quickly put out would be led astray because of me, while I defile his tongue and courageously stretched forth his and disgrace my old age. 26Even if for the present I hands 11and said nobly, "I got these from Heaven, would avoid the punishment of mortals, yet and because of his laws I disdain them, and from whether I live or die I shall not escape the hands of him I hope to get them back again." 12As a result the Almighty. 27Therefore, by bravely giving up my the king himself and those with him were aston-life now, I will show myself worthy of my old age ished at the young man's spirit, for he regarded his 28and leave to the young a noble example of how sufferings as nothing.

to die a good death willingly and nobly for the re-

13 After he too had died, they maltreated and vered and holy laws."

tortured the fourth in the same way. 14When he

When he had said this, he went at once to the was near death, he said, "It is desirable that those rack. 29Those who a little before had acted toward who die at the hands of human beings should him with goodwill now changed to ill will, be- cherish the hope God gives of being raised again cause the words he had uttered were in their opin- by him.

But for you there will be no resurrection to ion sheer madness. 30When he was about to die life!”

under the blows, he groaned aloud and said: “It is 15 Next they brought forward the fifth and clear to the Lord in his holy knowledge that, maltreated him.

16But he looked at him and said, though I might have been saved from death, I am “Because you have authority among human be-enduring terrible sufferings in my body under this ings, though you also are mortal, you do what you beating, but in my soul I am glad to suffer these please. But do not think that our people have been things, because I fear him.”

forsaken by God. 17Keep on, and see how his

31 So in this way he died, leaving in his death mighty power will torture you and your descen-an example of nobility and a memorial of courage, dants!”

not only to the young but also to the great body of 18 After him they brought forward the sixth.

his nation.

And when he was about to die, he said, “Do not al.e. alien ways

512

2 makkabees 7-8

deceive yourself in vain. For we are suffering these our brothers, after enduring a brief suffering, have things on our own account, because of our sins fallen heir to everlasting life under the power of a against our own God. Therefore astounding things divine covenant, but you, by the judgment of God, have happened. 19But do not think that you will will receive just punishment for your arrogance.

go unpunished for having tried to fight against 37I, like my brothers, give up body and life for our God!”

ancestral laws, appealing to God to show mercy

20 The mother was especially admirable and soon to our nation and by torments and plagues to worthy of honorable memory. Although she saw make you acknowledge that he alone is God 38and her seven sons perish within the course of a single through me and my brothers to bring to an end the day, she bore it with good courage because of her wrath of the Almighty that has justly fallen on our hope in the Lord. 21She encouraged each of them whole nation.”

in their ancestral language. Filled with a noble

39 The king fell into a rage and handled him spirit, she reinforced her woman’s reasoning with worse than the others, being exasperated at his

a man’s courage and said to them, 22“I do not scorn. 40So he died in his integrity, putting his know how you came into being in my womb. It whole trust in the Lord.

was not I who gave you life and breath, nor I who 41 Last of all, the mother died, after her sons.

set in order the elements within each of you.

42 Let this be enough, then, about the eating of 23Therefore the Creator of the world, who shaped sacrifices and the extreme tortures.

the origin of man and devised the origin of all things, will in his mercy give life and breath back

Meanwhile loudas, who was also called to you again, since you now forget yourselves for 8 Makkabaios, and his companions secretly enthe sake of his laws.”

tered the villages and summoned their kindred

24 Antiochus felt that he was being treated and enlisted those who had continued in the Ju-with contempt, and he was suspicious of her re- dean faith, and so they gathered about six thou-proachful tone. The youngest brother being still sand. 2They implored the Lord to look upon the alive, Antiochus not only appealed to him in people who were oppressed by all and to have pity words but also promised with oaths that he would on the shrine that had been profaned by the impi-make him rich and enviable, if he would turn from ous, 3to have mercy on the city that was being dehis ancestral ways, and that he would take him for stroyed and about to be leveled to the ground and his Friend and entrust him with public affairs. to hearken to the blood that cried out to him, 4to 25Since the young man would not listen to him at remember also the lawless slaughter of the inno-

all, the king called the mother to him and urged cent babies and the blasphemies committed her to advise the youth to save himself. 26After against his name and to show his hatred of evil.

much urging on his part, she undertook to per-

5 As soon as Makkabaios got his army orgasuade her son. 27But, leaning close to him, she nized, he became insuperable for the nations, for spoke in their ancestral language as follows, derid- the wrath of the Lord had turned to mercy. 6Com-ing the cruel tyrant: "My son, have pity on me. I ing without warning, he would set fire to towns carried you nine months in my womb and nursed and villages. He captured strategic positions and you for three years and have reared you and put to flight not a few of the enemy. 7He found the brought you up to this point in your life and have nights most advantageous for such attacks. And taken care of you. 28I implore you, my child, to talk of his valor spread everywhere.

look at the heaven and the earth and see every-

8 When Philip saw that the man was gaining thing that is in them and recognize that God did ground little by little and that he was pushing not make them out of things that existed. And in ahead with more frequent successes, he wrote to the same way the human race came into being. Ptolemy, the governor of Coele-Syria and Phoeni-29Do not fear this hangman, but prove worthy of cia, to come to the aid of the king's government.

your brothers and accept death so that in his mercy 9Then Ptolemy promptly appointed Nikanor son I may get you back again along with your broth- of Patroclus, one of the king's chief Friends, and ers."

sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty

30 While she was still speaking, the young man thousand nations of all races, to wipe out the said, "What are you waiting for? I will not obey the whole race of Judea. He associated with him Gor-king's ordinance, but I obey the ordinance of the gias, a general and a man of experience in military law that was given to our fathers through Moyses. service. 10Nikanor determined to make up for the 31But you, who have contrived all sorts of evil king the tribute due to the Romans, two thousand against the Hebrews, will certainly not escape the talents, by selling the captured Judeans into slav-hands of God. 32For we are suffering because of ery. 11So he immediately sent to the towns on the our own sins. 33And if our living Lord is angry for seacoast, inviting them to buy Judean slaves and a little while, to rebuke and discipline us, he will promising to hand over ninety slaves for a talent, again be reconciled with his own slaves. 34But you, not expecting the judgment from the Almighty unholy wretch, you most defiled of all mortals, do that was about to overtake him.

not be elated in vain and puffed up by uncertain

12 Word came to loudas concerning Nikanor's hopes, when you raise your hand against the chil- invasion, and when he told his companions of the dren of heaven.

35You have not yet escaped the arrival of the army, 13those who were cowardly and judgment of the Almighty, all-seeing God. 36For distrustful of God's justice ran off and got away.

2 makkabees 8-9

513

14Others sold all their remaining property and at some exceedingly high strongholds, and they di-the same time implored the Lord to rescue those vided a very large amount of spoils, giving to those who had been sold by the ungodly Nikanor before who had been tortured and to the orphans and he ever met them, 15if not for their own sake, then widows and also to the aged shares equal to their for the sake of the covenants made with their fa- own. 31Having gathered their armor together, and thers and because he had called them by his holy they carefully stored all of them in strategic places; and glorious name. 16But Makkabaios gathered his the rest of the spoils they carried to Hierosolyma.

forces together, to the number six thousand, and 32They killed the commander of Timothy's forces, exhorted them not to be frightened by the enemy a most wicked man, and one who had greatly trou-and not to fear the great multitude of nations, who bled the Judeans. 33While they were celebrating were wickedly coming against them, but to fight the victory in the fatherland, they burned those nobly, 17keeping before their eyes the outrage that who had set fire to the sacred gates and Callis-they had lawlessly committed against the holy thenes, who had fled into one little house; so these place and the torture of the derided city and, be- received the proper reward for their impiety.

sides, the destruction of the ancestral polity. 18“For 34 The thrice-accursed Nikanor, who had they trust to arms and acts of daring,” he said, “but brought the thousand merchants to buy

the

we trust in the Almighty God, who is able with a Judeans, 35having been humbled with the help of single nod to strike down those who are coming the Lord by opponents whom he regarded as of the against us and even, if necessary, the whole world.”

least account, took off his splendid uniform and 19 Moreover, he told them of the occasions made his way alone like a runaway slave through when help came to their ancestors; how, in the the interior and reached Antioch, having succeed-time of Sennachereim, when one hundred and

ed chiefly in the destruction of his army! 36So he eighty-five thousand perished, 20and the time of who had taken it upon himself to secure tribute for the battle against the Galatians that took place in the Romans by the capture of the people of Hi-Babylonia, how they saw action, eight thousand of erosolyma proclaimed that the Judeans had a De-them in all, along with four thousand Macedo- fender and that therefore the Judeans were invul-nians; yet when the Macedonians were at a loss, nerable, because they followed the laws ordained the eight thousand, by the help that came to them by him.

from heaven, destroyed one hundred twenty thousand Galatians and took a great amount of booty.

About that time, as it happened, Antiochus

21 With these words he filled them with 9 had retreated in disorder from the region of courage and made them ready to die for the laws Persia. 2He had entered the city called Persepolis and the fatherland; then he divided his army into and attempted to rob the temples and control the four parts. 22He appointed his brothers also, city. Therefore the people rushed to the rescue with Simon and Iosepos and Jonathan, as leaders of arms and put him to flight, and it happened that each division, putting fifteen hundred men under Antiochus, having been put to flight by the inhab-each. 23Besides, he appointed Eleazaros to read itants, beat a shameful retreat. 3While he was in aloud from the holy book and gave the watch- Ecbatana, news came to him of what had hap-word, "Divine Help"; then, leading the first mani- pened to Nikanor and the forces of Timothy.

4

ple himself, he joined battle with Nikanor.

Transported with rage, he conceived the idea of 24 With the Almighty as their ally, they killed turning upon the Judeans the injury done by those more than nine thousand of the enemy and who had put him to flight; so he instructed his wounded and disabled most of Nikanor's army charioteer to drive without stopping until he com-and forced them all to flee. 25They captured the pleted the journey. But the judgment of heaven money of those who had come to buy them as rode with him! For in his arrogance he said, slaves. After pursuing them for quite some time, “When I get there I will make Hierosolyma a ceme- they returned because they were pressed for time. tery of Judeans.”

26 It was the day before the sabbath, and for that

5 But the all-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, reason they did not continue their pursuit. struck him with an incurable and invisible blow.

27 When they had gathered their own arms togeth-

As soon as he stopped speaking he was seized with er and had stripped the arms off their enemies, a pain in his bowels for which there was no relief, they kept the sabbath, giving great praise and ac- and with sharp internal tortures —6 and that very knowledgement to the Lord, who had preserved justly, for he had tortured the bowels of others them until this day and allotted it to them as the with many and strange inflictions. 7 Yet he did not beginning of mercy. 28 After the sabbath, they gave in any way stop his insolence but was even more some of the spoils to those who had been tortured filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his rage and to the widows and orphans and distributed against the Judeans and giving orders to speed up the rest among themselves and their children. the journey. And so it came about that he fell out 29 When they had done this, they made common of his chariot as it was rushing along and that, supplication and implored the merciful Lord to be through the grievous fall, all the limbs of the body wholly reconciled with his slaves.

were racked. 8Thus he, who only a little while be-

30 In encounters with the forces of Timothy fore had thought in his superhuman arrogance and Bacchides they killed more than twenty thou- that he could command the waves of the sea and sand of them and very easily got possession of

had imagined that he could weigh the high mountains in a balance, was brought down to earth and pen, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be carried in a litter, making the power of God mani- king, whom I have often entrusted and commend-fest to all, 9so that worms broke out of the unbe- ed to most of you when I hurried off to the upper liever's eyes, and while he was still living in an- provinces, and I have written to him what is writ-guish and pain, his flesh rotted away, and because ten here. 26I therefore urge and implore you to re-of his stench the whole army felt revulsion at the member the public and private services rendered decay. 10Because of the unbearable oppressiveness to you and to maintain your present goodwill, of the stench no one was able to carry the man each of you, toward me and my son. 27For I am who a little while before had thought that he could sure that he will follow my policy and will accom-touch the stars of heaven. 11Then it was that, bro- modate himself to you mildly and with kindness."

514

2 makkabees 9-10

ken in spirit, he began to lose much of his arro-

28 So the murderer and blasphemer, having

gance and to come to his senses under the divine endured the most intense suffering, such as he had scourge, for he was tortured with pain every mo- inflicted on others, came to the end of his life by a ment. 12And when he could not endure his own most pitiable fate among the mountains in a stench, he uttered these words, "It is right to be strange land. 29And Philip, who had been brought subject to God and that a mortal should not think up with him, took his body home; then, fearing haughtily."

the son of Antiochus, he withdrew to Ptolemy

13 Then the abominable fellow made a vow to Philometor in Egypt.

the Lord, who would no longer have mercy on him, stating 14that the holy city, which he was hur-

Now Makkabaios and his followers, the rying to level to the ground and to make a ceme- 10 Lord leading them on, recovered the temple tery, he was now declaring to be free, 15and the and the city; 2they tore down the altarsa that had Judeans, whom he had not considered worthy been built in the public square by the allophytes even of a grave but had planned to throw out with and also destroyed the sacred precincts. 3And hav-their children for the wild animals and for the ing purified the shrine, they made another altar of birds to eat, he would make, all of them, equal to sacrifice; then, igniting flint stones and taking fire citizens of Athens, 16and the holy shrine, which he out of them, they offered sacrifices, after a lapse of had formerly plundered, he would adorn with the two years, and they offered incense and put up finest offerings, and all the holy vessels he would lamps and set out the presentation of the loaves.

give back many times over, and the expenses in- 4When they had done this, they fell prostrate and curred for the sacrifices he would provide from his implored the Lord that they might never again fall own revenues, 17and in addition to all this he also into such misfortunes, but that, if they should ever would become a Judean and would visit every in- sin, they might be disciplined by him with forbear- habited place to proclaim the power of God. 18But ance and not be handed over to blasphemous and when his sufferings did not in any way abate, for barbarous nations. 5It happened that on the same the just judgment of God had justly come upon day on which the shrine had been profaned by him, he gave up all hope for himself and wrote to allophyles the purification of the shrine took place, the Judeans the following letter in the form of a that is, on the twenty-fifth day of the same month, supplication. This was its content: which was Chaseleu. 6They celebrated it for eight 19 “To his worthy Judean citizens, Antiochus, days with rejoicing, in the manner of covert, re-their king and general, sends hearty greetings and membering how not long before, during the feast good wishes for their health and prosperity. 20If of tents, they had been inhabiting the mountains you and your children are well and your affairs are and caves like wild animals. 7Therefore, carrying as you wish, I profess very great thanks to God, ivy-wreathed wands and beautiful branches and having my hope in heaven. 21As for me, I was also fronds of palm, they offered hymns of thanks-weakly disposed, but I remember with affection giving to him who had given success to the purify-your esteem and goodwill. On my way back from the region of his own holy place.

8They decreed by public ordinance and by vote that the whole nation of the Jews should observe these days every year.

to take thought for the common security of all.

9 Such then was the end of Antiochus, who was 22Not giving myself up as hopeless but having called Epiphanes.

good hope of recovering from my illness, 23I nevertheless observed that even my father, on the oc-

10 Now we will make known what took place

casions when he made expeditions into the upper part of the country under Antiochus Eupator, who was the son of that king, appointed his successor 24so that, if any impious man, and will give a brief summary of the thing unexpected happened or any unwelcome calamities of the wars. 11This man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed a certain Lysias, would not be troubled, for they would know to the chief governor of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, to whom the government was left. 25Moreover, since he was in charge of the government. 12Ptolemy, who I understand how the princes along the borders were called Macron, taking the lead in observing and the neighbors of my kingdom keep watching justice towards the Jews because of the wrongs for opportunities and waiting to see what will happen that had been done to them, attempted to maintain a bômos 2 makkabees 10-11

tain peaceful relations with them. 13As a result he men on horses with golden bridles, and they were was accused before Eupator by the king's Friends. leading the Judeans. 30 Two of them took He heard himself called a traitor at every turn, be- Makkabaios between them, and shielding him cause he had abandoned Cyprus, which Philome- with their own suits of armor and weapons, they tor had entrusted to him, and had gone over to An- kept him unharmed. They showered arrows and tiochus Epiphanes. Unable to execute his noble thunderbolts on the enemy so that, confounded by office honorably, he took poison and ended his blindness, they fled in complete disorder. 31Twen-ty thousand five hundred were slaughtered, be-

14 When Gorgias became governor of the re- sides six hundred cavalry.

gion, he maintained mercenaries, and at every turn

32 Timothy himself fled to a stronghold called kept attacking the Judeans. 15Besides this, the Idu- Gazara, especially well garrisoned, where Chaereas means, too, who had control of strategic strong- was commander. 33Then Makkabaios and his men holds, were harassing the Judeans; they received were glad, and they besieged the fort for four days.

those who were banished from Hierosolyma and 34The men within, relying on the strength of the endeavored to keep up the war. 16But Makkabaios place, kept blaspheming terribly and uttering and his forces, after making solemn supplication wicked words. 35But at dawn of the fifth day, twen-and imploring God to fight on their side, moved ty young men of those who were with Makkabaios, towards the strongholds of the Idumeans. 17At- fired with anger because of the blasphemies, brave-tacking them vigorously, they gained possession of ly stormed the wall and with savage fury cut down the places and beat off all who fought upon the everyone they met. 36Others who came up in the wall and slaughtered those whom they encoun- same way wheeled around against the defenders tered, killing no fewer than twenty thousand.

and set fire to the towers; they kindled fires and 18 When at least nine thousand took refuge in burned the blasphemers alive. Others broke open two fortified towers exceedingly well equipped to the gates and let in the rest of the force, and they withstand a siege, 19Makkabaios left Simon and captured the city. 37They killed Timothy, who was Iosepos and also Zakchaios and his troops, a force hiding in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas and sufficient to besiege them, and he himself set off Apollophanes. 38When they had accomplished for places where he was more urgently needed. these things, with hymns and thanksgivings they 20But those with Simon, who were money-hungry, blessed the Lord who shows great kindness to Isra-were bribed with silver by some of those who were el and gives them the victory.

in the towers, and on receiving seventy thousand drachmas, let some of them slip away. 21When

Very soon after this, Lysias, the king's word of what had happened came to Makkabaios, 11 guardian and kinsman, who was in charge he gathered the leaders of the people and accused of the government, being vexed at what had hap-these men of having sold their kindred for money pened, 2gathered about eighty thousand infantry by setting free those who were hostile to them. and all his cavalry and came against the Judeans.

22Then he killed these men who had turned traitor

He intended to make the city a home for Greeks and immediately captured the two towers. 23Hav- 3and to levy tribute on the temple as he did on the ing success at arms in everything he undertook, he other sacred precincts of the nations and to put up destroyed more than twenty thousand in the two the high priesthood for sale every year. 4He took strongholds.

no account whatever of the power of God but was 24 Now Timothy, who had been defeated by elated with his ten thousands of infantry and his the Judeans before, having gathered a tremendous thousands of cavalry and his eighty elephants. 5In-force of mercenaries and having collected the cav- vading Judea, he approached Baithsoura, which alry from Asia in no small number, came on, in- was a fortified place about five stadiaa from Hi-tending to take Judea by storm. 25As he drew near, erosolyma, and pressed it hard.

Makkabaios and his men sprinkled dust on their

6 When Makkabaios and his men heard that he heads and girded their loins with sackcloth in sup- was besieging the strongholds, they prayed to the plication to God, and 26falling down at the foot of Lord, together with the masses, with lamentations the altar, they implored him to be gracious to them and tears, to send a good angel to save Israel.

and to be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law shows plainly. 7And he urged the others to run the risk, together with him. 27And rising from their prayer, they took up arms, of aiding their brothers. Then they eagerly advanced a considerable distance and rushed off together. 8And there, while they were near from the city, and when they came near the enemy, Hierosolyma, a horseman appeared as their leader, they halted. 28Just as morning was breaking both in a white garment, brandishing weapons of gold.

attacked, the one having as pledge of success and victory not only their valor but also their recourse strengthened in spirit, ready to assail not only human walls but also the wildest animals or walls of iron.

in the fight.

10They advanced in battle order, having their heav-

29 When the battle became fierce, there appeared to the enemy from heaven five illustrious hurled themselves like lions against the enemy and aGk 1 stadion = 200 meters

2 makkabees 11-12

laid low eleven thousand of them and sixteen hun-

“Quintus Memmius, Titus Manius, envoys of dred cavalry and forced all the rest to flee. 12Most of the Romans, to the people of the Judeans, greet-them were preserved wounded and naked, and Lysi-ings. 35With regard to what Lysias the Kinsman of as himself escaped by disgraceful flight.

the king has granted you, we also give consent.

13 As he was not without intelligence, he pon- 36But as to the matters that he decided are to be redere over the defeat that had befallen him and re-ferred to the king: Having considered them, send alized that the Hebrews were invincible, because someone immediately so that we can outline how the mighty God fought on their side. So he sent to it would be appropriate for you, since we are on them 14and persuaded them to agree to all just our way to Antioch. 37Therefore make haste and conditions, since he would persuade the king, con- send messengers so that we, too, may get to know straining him to be their friend. 15Makkabaios, what your viewpoint is. 38Farewell. The one hun-having regard for the common good, agreed to all dred forty-eighth year, Xanthikos fifteenth.”

that Lysias urged. For the king granted every request which Makkabaios delivered to Lysias in

When these agreements had been reached, writing concerning the Judeans.

12 Lysias departed on his way to the king, and 16 The letters written to the Judeans by Lysias the Judeans went about their farming.

were to this effect:

2 But some of the local governors, Timothy and “Lysias to the multitude of the Judeans, greet- Apollonius son of Gennaios, as well as Hieronings. 17Ioannes and Abessalom, who were sent by mos and Demophon, and in addition to these you, have delivered your petition copied below Nikanor the governor of Cyprus, would not let and have implored about the matters indicated in them live quietly and in peace. 3And the Joppites it. 18I have informed the king of everything that did so ungodly a deed as this: they invited the needed to be brought before him, and he has Judeans who lived among them to embark, with agreed to what was possible. 19If you will maintain their wives and children, on boats that they had your goodwill toward the government, I will en- provided, as though there were no ill will towards deavour in the future to help promote your well- them, 4and this was done by public vote of the city.

fare. 20And concerning details, I have commanded When they accepted, because they wished to live these men and my members of staff to confer with peaceably and suspected nothing, they drowned you. 21Farewell. The one hundred forty-eighth year, them as soon as they had gone out to sea, at least Dioscorinthius twenty-fourth.”

two hundred. 5When loudas heard of the abomi-

22 The king’s letter ran thus:

nation inflicted on his compatriots, he gave orders

“King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greetings. to his men 6and, calling upon God the righteous 23Now that our father has gone on to the gods, we, judge, attacked the murderers of his kindred. He desiring that the subjects of the kingdom be undis- set fire to the harbor by night, burned the boats turbed in caring for their own affairs, 24hearing and massacred those who had taken refuge there.

that the Judeans do not consent to our father’s 7Then, because the town was shut in its walls, he change to Greek customs but prefer their own way withdrew, intending to come again and root out of living and implore that their own precepts be al- the whole community of the Joppites. 8But learn-losed them, 25thus choosing that this nation also ing that the people in Jamnia, too, meant in the should be free from disturbance, judge that their same way to wipe out the Judeans who were living temple be restored to them and that they shall live among them, 9he attacked the Jamnites by night according to the customs of their ancestors. 26You and set fire to the harbor and the fleet so that the will do well, therefore, to send word to them and gleam of the light was seen in Hierosolyma, two give them pledges of friendship so that they may hundred and forty stadiaa distant.

know our policy and be of good cheer and turn 10 When they had gone nine stadiaa from happily to the conduct of their own affairs.”

there, on their march against Timothy, Arabs at-

27 To the nation the king's letter was as follows: tacked him, no fewer than five thousand with five

"King Antiochus to the senate of the Judeans hundred cavalry. 11After a hard fight, loudas' men, and to the other Judeans, greetings. 28If you are with God's help, were successful, and the nomads, well, it is as we desire. We also are in good health. being defeated, implored loudas to grant them 29Menelaus has informed us that you wish to re-pledges of friendship, promising to give loudas turn and look after your own affairs. 30Therefore and his men sheep and cattle and to help them in those who go home by the thirtieth of Xanthikos other ways. 12loudas, realizing that they might in-will have our pledge of friendship and safe con- deed be useful in many ways, agreed to make peace duct 31for the Judeans to enjoy their own way of with them, and after receiving his pledges, they living and laws, just as formerly, and none of them went back to their tents.

shall be molested in any way for errors made

13 He also attacked a certain town that was through ignorance. 32And I have also sent strongly fortified with bearthen rampartsb and en-Menelaus to encourage you. 33Farewell. The one closed by walls and inhabited by all sorts of na-hundred forty-eighth year, Xanthikos fifteenth."

tions. Its name was Kaspin. 14Those who were 34 The Romans also sent them a letter, which within, relying on the strength of the walls and on read thus:

their supply of provisions, behaved most insolent-aGk 1 stadion. = 200 meters bGk uncertain = Ha

2 makkabees 12

517

ly toward loudas' men, railing at them and even

29 Setting out from there, they hastened to blaspheming and saying what is not lawful. 15But Scythopolis, which is six hundred stadiaa from Hi-loudas' men, invoking the great Sovereign of the erosolyma. 30But when the Judeans who lived world, who without battering-rams or engines of there bore witness to the goodwill that the people war overthrew Iericho in the days of Iesus, rushed of Scythopolis had towards them and their cour-upon the walls like wild animals and 16took the tesy towards them in times of misfortune, 31they town by the will of God and committed innumer- thanked them and exhorted them to be well disable slaughters so that the adjoining lake, two sta- posed to their race in the future also and went up diaa wide, appeared to be irrigated and filled up to Hierosolyma, as the feast of weeks was close at with blood.

hand.

17 When they had gone seven hundred and fifty

32 After the feast called Pentecost, they hurried stadiaa from there, they came to bthe fortificationb, against Gorgias, the governor of Idumea. 33He to the Judeans who are called Toubiaeni. 18They came out with three thousand infantry and four did not find Timothy in that region, however, for he hundred cavalry. 34dWhen they joined battled, eit had by then left the region without accomplishing happened that a few of the Judeans fell. 35But anything, but a garrison, exceedingly strong, left behind certain Dositheos, one of Bakenor's men, who was hidden by him in one place. 19Dositheos and Sosipaton on horseback and was a strong man, caught hold of those, from among the leaders who were with Gorgias and, grasping his cloak, was dragging Makkabaios, marched out and destroyed those who hid off mightily. And while he wanted to take the one who had been left behind by Timothy in the stronghold, accursed alive, one of the Thracian cavalry bore more than ten thousand men. 20But Makkabaios fell down on him and broke his shoulder, and Gorgias arranged the army that was with him in cohorts escaped to Marisa.

and set men in command of the divisions and hurried

36 As Esdras and his men had been fighting for many days after Timothy, who had with him one hundred a long time and were weary, loudas called upon twenty thousand infantry and two thousand five hundred of the Lord to show himself their ally and leader in hundred cavalry. 21When he learned of the approach of the battle. 37In their ancestral language he raised the shout of loudas, Timothy sent off the women and the children and also the other members of the Gorgias' troops when they were not expecting it to a place called Karnion, for that place and put them to flight.

was hard to besiege and difficult of access because

38 Then loudas assembled his army and went to the narrowness of all the approaches. 22But to the city of Odollam. As the seventh day was when loudas' first division appeared and terror was coming on, they purified themselves according to fear came over the enemies at the manifestation to the custom and kept the sabbath there.

them of him who sees all things, in their flight they

39 On the next day, when the need for it had rushed headlong in every direction so that often arisen, loudas' men went to recover the bodies of they were injured by their own men and pierced by those fallen earlier and to bring them back to lie the points of their own rapiers. 23loudas pressed with their kindred in their ancestral sepulchres.

the pursuit with the utmost vigor, putting the sin- 40Then under the tunic of each one of the dead ners to the sword, and destroyed as many as thirty they found sacred tokens of the idols of Jamnia, thousand.

which the law forbids the Judeans to wear. And it 24 Timothy himself fell into the hands of Do- became clear to all that this was the reason these sitheos and Sosipatros and their men and with men had fallen. 41So they all blessed the ways of great guile he implored them to let him go in safe- the Lord, the righteous judge, who makes visible ty, because he held the parents of most of them the things that are hidden, 42and they turned to and the brothers of some to whom no considera- supplication, imploring that the sin that had been tion would otherwise be shown. 25And when with committed might be wholly blotted out. The many words he had confirmed his solemn prom- noble loudas exhorted the people to keep them-ise to restore them unharmed, they let him go, for selves free from sin, for they had seen with their the sake of saving their kindred.

own eyes what had happened as the result of the 26 Then loudas marched against Karnion and sin of those who had fallen. 43He also took up a the temple of Atargatis and slaughtered twenty-five collection, man by man, to the amount of two thousand people. 27After the rout and destruction thousand drachmas of silver, and sent it to Hi-of these, he marched also against Ephron, a forti- erosolyma to provide for a sin offering. In doing fied town where multitudes of people of all na- this he acted very well and honorably, taking actionalities livedc. Stalwart young men took their count of the resurrection. 44For if he were not ex- stand before the walls and made a vigorous de- pecting that those who had fallen would rise again, fence, and great stores of war engines and missiles it would have been superfluous and foolish to pray were there. 28But the Judeans called upon the Sov- for the dead. 45But if he was looking to the splen-ereign, who with power shatters the might of his did reward that is laid up for those who fall asleep enemies, and they got the town into their hands in godliness, it was a holy and pious thought.

and killed as many as twenty-five thousand of Therefore he made atonement for the dead so that those who were in it.

they might be delivered from their sin.

aGk 1 stadion = 200 meters bOr Charax c in it = Ha d/eTr = Ha

518

2 makkabees 13-14

13 In the one hundred forty-ninth year word astrong fortressof theJudeans,wasturnedback, came to loudas and his men that Anti-attacked again, was defeated. 20loudas kept send-

Antiochus Eupator was coming with great numbers of men, and he was entering in to those inside whatever was necessary.

21

soldiers against Judea, and with him Lysias, the

But Rhodokos, a man from the ranks of the guardian and chancellor, also a Greek force of one hundred and ten Judeans, gave secret information to the enemy; he had a hundred and ten thousand infantry, five thousand was sought for and caught and put in prison. 22The three hundred cavalry, twenty-two elephants and king negotiated a second time with the people in three hundred chariots bearing scythes.

Bathsura, gave pledges, received theirs, withdrew,

3 Menelaus also joined them and with much force attacked Judas and his men, was defeated; 23he hypocritically urged Antiochus on, not to save the father, but because he thought that he would be of the government in Antioch, had revolted; he established himself in government. 4But the King of kings was perturbed, called in the Judeans, yielded and aroused the anger of Antiochus against the sinner, swore to observe all their rights, settled with them and when Lysias informed him that this man was the originator of all the trouble, he ordered them to show generosity to the place. 24He received him to Beroea and to put him to death by the Makkabaios, left Hegemonides as governor from method that is customary in that place. 5For there is a tower there, fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and people of Ptolemais were indignant over the fact that it has a rim running around it that on all sides is a rim of treaties. In fact, they were so furious that they fell precipitously into the ashes. 6There they all wanted to annul their terms. 26Lysias took the ros-push to destruction anyone who is guilty of temple trum, made the defence to the best of his ability, robbery or has committed an excess of other evils. convinced them, appeased them, gained their 7By such a fate it came about that Menelaus the goodwill and set out for Antioch. This is how the lawbreaker died without even burial in the earth, king's attack and withdrawal turned out.

8and this was eminently just; because he had committed many sins against the altar whose fire and

Three years later, word came to loudas and ashes were holy, he met his death in ashes.

14 his menthat Demetriusson of Seleucus

9 The king, who had become barbarous in his had sailed into the harbour of Tripolis with a thinking, was coming to show the Judeans the strong army and a fleet 2and had taken possession worst things amongst those that had happened in of the country, having made away with Antiochus his father's time. 10But when loudas heard of this, and his guardian Lysias.

he ordered the crowd to call upon the Lord day

3 Now a certain Alcimus, who had formerly and night, now if ever to help those who were on been high priest but had willfully defiled himself the point of being deprived of the law and their in the times of separation, realized that there was country and the holy temple 11and not to allow the no way for him to be safe or to have access again people who had just begun to revive a little to fall to the holy altar and went to King Demetrius in into the hands of the blasphemous nations. about the one hundred fifty-first year, presenting 12 When they had all joined in the same petition to him a crown of gold and a palm and, besides and had implored the merciful Lord with weeping these, some of the customary olive branches from and fasting and lying prostrate for three days with- the temple. During that day he kept quiet, 5 but he out ceasing, loudas exhorted them and ordered seized the right moment for his own folly when he them to stand ready.

was invited by Demetrius to a meeting of the coun-

13 After consulting privately with the elders, he cil and was asked in what condition and counsel determined to march out and decide the matter by the Judeans were he replied to this: the help of God before the king's army could enter

6 "Those of the Judeans who are called

Judea and get possession of the city. 14 So, com- Hasideans, whose leader is loudas Makkabaios, are mitting the decision to the Creator of the world keeping up war and stirring up sedition and will and exhorting those with him to fight bravely to not let the kingdom attain stability. 7 Therefore I the death for the laws, temple, city, fatherland and have been deprived of my ancestral glory—I mean constitution, he pitched his camp near Modein. the high priesthood—and have now come here, 15 He gave his troops the watchword, "Divine Vic-8 first because I am genuinely concerned for the in-tory," and with those young men judged best, he terests of the king, second because I have regard attacked the king's pavilion at night and killed also for my compatriots. For through the folly of close to two thousand men in the camp and those whom I have mentioned earlier our whole stabbed the lead elephant and its rider to death. people are now in no small misfortune.

16 In the end they filled the camp with terror and 9 "Since you are acquainted, O king, with the confusion and withdrew in triumph. 17 This hap- details of this matter, may it please you to take pened just as day was dawning, because the Lord's thought for our country and our hard-pressed peo-shelter helped him.

ple as is commensurate with the affable kindness

18 The king, having had a taste of the daring of that you show to all. 10 For as long as loudas lives, the Judeans, made an attempt on their positions it is impossible for the government to find peace."

through tricks. 19 He advanced against Baithsoura,

11 When he had said this, the rest of the king's a each with = Ha bGk = bômos

2 makkabees 14-15

519

Friends, who were hostile to loudas, quickly in-ly, concluded that this austerity did not spring flamed Demetrius still more. 12 He immediately from the best motives, gathered not a few of his chose Nikanor, who was the elephantarch, ap-

men and went into hiding from Nikanor. 31When pointed him governor of Judea and sent him off the latter became aware that he had been cleverly 13with commandsa to do away with loudas, to outmaneuvered by the man, he went to the great scatter those with him, yet to install Alcimus as and holy temple while the priests were offering the high priest of the greatest temple. 14And the na- customary sacrifices and commanded them to tions throughout Judea, who had fled before hand the man over. 32When they declared on oath loudas, met Nikanor in flocks, thinking that the that they did not know where the man was whom misfortunes and calamities of the Judeans would he wanted, 33he stretched out his right hand to-mean prosperity for themselves.

ward the shrine and swore this oath: "If you do not 15 When the Judeans heard of Nikanor's com- hand loudas over to me as a prisoner, I will level ing and the gathering of the nations, they sprin- this precinct of God to the ground and tear down kled dust on their heads and prayed to him who the altar and build here a notable temple to Diony- established his own people forever and always up- sus."

holds his own heritage by manifesting himself.

34 Having said this, he went away, but the 16At the leader's order, they set out from there im-priests stretched out their hands toward heaven mediately and met them at a village called Dessau. and called upon the constant Defender of our na-17Simon the brother of loudas had encountered

tion, in these words: 35“O Lord of all, though you

Nikanor but had temporarily stumbled because of have need of nothing, you were pleased that there the sudden perplexity caused by the adversaries.

should be a shrine for your encamping among us;

36

18 Nevertheless Nikanor, hearing of the valor

so now, O holy One, Lord of all sanctification, of loudas and his troops and their courage in bat- keep undefiled forever this house that has been so tle for their country, shrank from deciding the recently purified.”

issue by bloodshed. 19Therefore he sent Posido-

37 A certain Razis, one of the elders of Hinus, Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive erosolyma, was denounced to Nikanor as a man pledges of friendship. 20When they had been fully who loved his compatriots and was very well considered and the leader had informed the mul- thought of and for his goodwill was called father of titude and it had appeared that they were of one the Judeans. 38In former times, when there was no mind, they consented to the treaties. 21They set a mingling with the nations, he had been accused of day on which everyone was supposed to come to Judaism, and he had risked body and life for Juda-the same place by himself, and a chariot came for- ism with all possible zeal. 39Nikanor, wishing to ex-ward from each side, and they set up seats of hibit the enmity that he had for the Judeans, sent honor; 22Ioudas posted armed men in readiness at more than five hundred soldiers to arrest him, 40for key places to prevent sudden treachery on the part he thought that by arresting him he would do them of the enemy; so they duly held the consultation.

an injury. 41When the hordes were about to capture

23 Nikanor stayed on in Hierosolyma and did the tower and were forcing the door of the court-nothing out of the way but dismissed the flocks of yard, they ordered that fire be brought and the people that had gathered. 24And he kept Ioudas al- doors burned. Being surrounded, he fell upon his ways in his presence; he was cordially attached to own rapier, 42preferring to die nobly rather than to the man.
25He urged him to marry and have chil- fall into the hands of sinners and suffer outrages un-dren; so Ioudas married, settled down, shared the worthy of his noble birth. 43But in the heat of the common life.

struggle he did not hit exactly, and while the masses

26 But when Alcimus noticed their goodwill were now rushing in through the doorways, he for one another, he took the treaties that had been courageously ran up on the wall, and in a manly made, went to Demetrius and told him that manner, threw himself down into the masses. 44But Nikanor was disloyal to the government, since he as they quickly drew back, a space opened and he had appointed that conspirator against his king- fell in the middle of the empty space. 45Still alive dom, Ioudas, to be his successor.
27The king be- and aflame with anger, he rose, and though his came enraged and, provoked by the false accusa- blood gushed forth and his wounds were severe, he tions of that thoroughly depraved man, wrote to ran through the crowd, and standing upon a steep rock, asserting that he was displeased with the treaties and commanding him to send Makkabaios from him, he tore out his entrails, took them in to Antioch as a prisoner without delay.

both hands and hurled them at the crowd, calling

28 When the news came to Nikanor, he was upon the Lord of life and spirit to give them back to confounded and grieved that he had to annul the him again. This was the manner of his death.

agreements when the man had done no wrong.

29 Since it was not possible to oppose the king, he

When Nikanor heard that Ioudas and his watched for a good opportunity to accomplish this 15 troops were in the region of Samaria, he by a stratagem. 30 But Makkabaios, noticing that made plans to attack them with complete safety on Nikanor was more austere in his dealings with him the day of rest. 2 When the Judeans who were com- and conducted the customary meeting more rude-permitted to follow him said, "By no means destroy so a letters = Ha

520

2 makkabees 15

savagely and barbarously but show respect for the imminent confrontation and the enemy was already day that has been pre-eminently honored with ho- coming near with the army drawn up in battle-order, liness by him who sees all things,” 3the thrice-ac- the animals strategically stationed and the cavalry cursed wretch asked if there were a sovereign in deployed on the flanks, 21Makkabaios, observing the heaven who had ordered the keeping of the sab- masses present and the varied supply of arms and bath day. 4When they declared, “It is the living the savagery of the elephants, stretched out his hands Lord himself, the Sovereign in heaven, who or- toward heaven and called upon the Lord who works dered us to observe the seventh day,” 5the other wonders because he knew that it is not by arms, but one said, “But I am a sovereign also, on earth, and as it seems good to God that he procures victory for I order you to take up arms and finish the king’s those who are worthy. 22He called upon him in this business.” Nevertheless, he did not succeed in car- manner: “O Master, you sent your angel in the time rying out his abominable design.

of King Hezekias of Judea, and he killed fully one 6 This Nikanor, showing off with all his boast- hundred eighty-five thousand in the camp of Sen-fulness, had determined to erect a public monu- nachereim. 23So now, O Sovereign of the heavens, ment of victory over loudas and his forces. 7But send a good angel before us to inspire terror and Makkabaios did not cease to trust with all confi- trembling. 24By the might of your arm may those dence that he would get help from the Lord. 8He who come with blasphemy against your holy people exhorted those with him not to fear the approach be struck down.” With these words he ended.

of the nations but to keep in mind the former

25 Nikanor and his troops advanced with trum-times when help had come to them from heaven with battle cries, 26but loudas and his troops met and so to look for the victory that the Almighty the enemy with invocation and prayers. 27So, fight-would give them. 9Encouraging them from the law ing with their hands and praying to God in their and the prophets and reminding them also of the hearts, they laid low no less than thirty-five thousand struggles they had accomplished, he made them and were greatly gladdened by God's manifestation.

the more eager. 10When he had aroused their

28 When the action was over and they were leav-courage, he issued orders, at the same time point- ing with joy, they recognized Nikanor, lying dead, in ing out the perfidy of the nations and their viola- full armor. 29Then there was shouting and tumult, tion of oaths. 11He armed each of them not so and they blessed the Sovereign in the language of much with confidence in shields and spears as the fathers. 30Then the man who was ever in body with the encouragement of good words, and he and soul the defender of his people, the man who cheered them all by relating a dream, a sort of vi- maintained his youthful goodwill toward his com-sion, which was worthy of belief.

patriots, ordered them to cut off Nikanor's head and 12 What he saw was this: Onias, who had been his hand with his shoulder and carry them to Hi-high priest, a beautiful and good man, of modest erosolyma. 31When he arrived there and had called bearing and gentle manner, one who was well-spo- his compatriots together and stationed the priests ken and had been trained from childhood in all before the altar, he sent for those who were in the that belongs to excellence, was praying with out-citadel. 32He showed them the vile Nikanor's head stretched hands for the whole community of the and that profane man's arm, which he had boast-Judeans. 13Then in the same fashion another ap- fully stretched out against the holy house of the peared, distinguished by his grey hair and appear- Almighty 33and, cutting out the tongue of the un-ance, and of marvelous and most glorious dignity. godly Nikanor, commanded it to be fed piecemeal 14And Onias spoke, saying, "This man is the one to the birds and the rewards of his folly to be hung who loves his brothers, who prays much for the opposite the shrine. 34And they all offered praise to people and the holy city—Ieremias, the prophet of heaven, blessed the manifest Lord, saying, "Blessed is God." 15Ieremias stretched out his right hand and he who has kept his own place undefiled!" 35Ioudas gave to Ioudas a golden sword, and as he gave it he fastened Nikanor's head to the citadel, visible to all addressed him as follows: 16"Take the holy sword and an obvious sign of the help of the Lord. 36And as a gift from God with which you will strike down they all decreed by public vote never to let this day your adversaries."

go unobserved but to have the thirteenth day of the 17 Encouraged by the words of Ioudas, so noble twelfth month, which is called Adar in the Syrian and so effective in arousing valor and awaking language, marked, the day before Mardochoaios' day.

courage in the souls of the young, they determined

37 This is how it went with Nikanor, and from

not to encampa but to attack bravely and to decide that time the city has been ruled by the Hebrews.

the matter by fighting hand to hand with all So I myself will here bring my story to a halt.

courage, because the city and the holy things and 38 If it is well written and elegantly disposi-

the temple were in danger. 18Their concern for wives tioned, that is what I myself desired; if it is poorly and children and also for brothers and relatives lay done and mediocre, that was all I could manage.

upon them less heavily; their greatest and first fear 39For just as it is harmful to drink wine alone or, was for the consecrated shrine. 19And those who again, to drink water alone, while wine mixed with were left behind in the city were in no small anxiety, water produces a delightful taste, so also the style being troubled over the attack in the open country.

of the story delights the ears of those who read the 20 When all were already looking forward to the composition. And here will be the end.

a advance = Ha

3 MAKKABEES

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

NETS has justly been described as the Göttingen Septuagint in English form, for this is true in two senses.

Just as the Göttingen editor aims to recover the earliest form of the Greek through text critical means, NETS set itself the task of producing a translation of the text as it left the hands of its respective translator or author. Each book in the corpus is therefore based on the best available critical edition, which invariably means the Göttingen edition, where one is available. We may thus speak of an English Göttingen in this more literal sense as well.

For this translation, I have adhered as a rule to the fine edition of Robert Hanhart, Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum IX.3: Maccabaeorum liber III (Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1980), departing only twice. The text of 3 Makkabees is on the whole well preserved and presents few serious difficulties. Of the great uncials, it occurs only in Alexandrinus, but critical leverage is forthcoming from Codex Venetus and numerous cursive manuscripts of the Septuagint. Within the manuscript tradition there are significant variants but no major divergences. The book is extant in a Syriac and Armenian version, though it does not appear in the Vulgate. There are no references to 3 Makkabees in the extant Jewish sources, and what few quotations of the book that come down to us from antiquity are to be found almost exclusively in Christian writers of the East.

Both of my departures from Hanhart's edition derive from the so-called Lucianic text, which, admittedly, is somewhat less than reliable. The first is due primarily to literary considerations. Quite simply, I elected to restore 2.1 to the text, which ascribes to the high priest Simon the prayer before the temple in Jerusalem (2.2-20), notwithstanding the fact that from a text critical perspective the verse is most readily explained as an addition. For while present in the Lucianic text, it is absent in both Alexandrinus and Venetus, and there is no obvious parablepsis to account for the omission (although with this amount of text the problem might have had more to do with the location of the verse on the page). On the other hand, 2.1 is hardly incidental to the scene. Without it, a lengthy and significant act of petitionary prayer must be attributed to a turbulent crowd, whose swelling cry is at once “painful and incessant” (1.28). This, to my knowledge, is without precedent. Rather the scene demands that a representative figure step forward and address God on behalf of the people in their hour of need. Such is the case at 3 Makkabees 6.1, where Eleazaros, “a man well known among the priests of the country,” prays for those gathered at the hippodrome as they face the elephants (6.2-15). The strong parallel drawn by the author between these two moments of national crisis and deliverance is fundamental to the dramatic structure of 3 Makkabees. So on literary grounds, there is considerable justification for including the reference to Simon at 2.1, his act of priestly intercession at the temple anticipating that of Eleazaros at the hippodrome. Yet, as I have indicated, the textual evidence would suggest that the verse is secondary. For this reason I decided to enclose 2.1 in square brackets, thereby indicating its questionable originality.

A rather different sort of problem arises at 5.31, where, in reference to the families of the king’s would / have prepared (for wild beasts),” over against Alexandrinus and Venetus, which read,

“Friends” (i.e., his peers), the Lucianic text has Ptolemy say, e)skeu/asa a@n dayilh= qoi=nan, “this abundant feast

?e)skeu/asan dayilh= qoi=nan, “this abundant feast would they have prepared (for wild beasts).” Hanhart follows the reading of the uncials, but in this instance it is the Lucianic text that likely attests to the original form of the Greek. For, whereas on Hanhart’s reading it remains entirely unclear just what it was they would have prepared for the beasts (since there is no content for the qoi=nan or “feast”), the Lucianic text makes ready sense. Ptolemy is saying he would that he had prepared them (i.e., rather than the Jews) as a feast for wild beasts. It is also worth noting that the text forms an iambic line and is likely to be a poetic tag, a feature that is hardly secondary. Conversely, we would not expect the author of 3 Makkabees to have produced an incoherent text. The difference between the two readings, moreover, need be nothing more than a case of haplography or dittography. I thus follow both Emmett and Hadas in translating the Lucianic reading.

522

to the reader of 3 makkabees

PROFILE OF THE GREEK

It is customary within an introduction to 3 Makkabees to decry the author's prose style or want thereof.

I shall not entirely disappoint. At the same time, approbation must be given where it is due. The work was composed in Greek by a Jewish author steeped in his native tradition, yet one who had attained a high level of Greek literary education and who was undoubtedly a more than competent exponent of the classicizing style, which came into vogue in the late Hellenistic period. He draws upon a sizeable vocabulary, pressing into service rare and poetic words with great élan. He possesses a developed rhetorical skill. The texture and tone of his language very often suits the theme. But to a modern reader, at least, the result is hardly gratifying. The prose seems almost perversely bombastic at times, and while it must be conceded that it is no more so than that of others who indulged in the classicizing style, the fact remains that our author's efforts are somewhat labored. Or so it appears to this reader. How it was received by his intended audience is difficult to gauge, though I suspect they too found it florid.

As I have indicated, 3 Makkabees is clearly rooted in the Hebrew literary tradition, no doubt mediated to the author through its Greek translation. The two extended petitionary prayers of Simon (2.2-20) and Eleazaros (6.2-15) both echo the characteristic phrasing of Jewish scriptural translation. For the intended audience of 3 Makkabees, this would have marked the Greek of these prayers as a sacral language befitting the priestly role of the speakers. Such a technique underscores the literary competence of the author.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 3 MAKKABEES

NETS has two competing objectives: firstly, to give as faithful a translation of the Greek as is possible, not only in terms of its meaning, but in terms of its mode of expression as well; secondly, to create a tool in English for the synoptic study of the Hebrew and Greek texts of the Bible. The overall aim of the translation is to capture the constitutive character of the Greek text, the incipit of its reception history, as it were.

This aim is neatly realized in the so-called interlinear paradigm, which conceptualizes the relationship between the Greek text and its parent as an essentially formal one. On the assumption of interlinearity, the NETS translator attempts to capture in English the formal linguistic relationship that typically obtains between the Septuagint and its Hebrew parent. This is achieved through the use of the NRSV as a base text.

Obviously, since 3 Makkabees is an original composition, the interlinear paradigm is not applicable here. Hence my translation does not use the NRSV as a base text. Yet the broader aim of NETS, that of representing the Greek in terms of its constitutive manner of expression, is one to which I have closely adhered. Every effort has been made to reflect the linguistic features of the Greek. While it is difficult to know what a contemporary reader would have made of our author's style, we can be confident that the effect was undoubtedly less than felicitous in places, and this have I attempted to carry over into the English. Where the Greek seems repetitious and awkwardly constructed, where it is overwrought and florid, where the author's penchant for rare words and overwrought periods results in obscurity, this has not been smoothed over. Conversely, elegant turns of phrase and persuasive rhetorical figures, where they occur, are given their full due.

The target audience of NETS is biblically well-educated, on the assumption that such readers will have an interest in traditions other than their own. Some may even have studied the biblical languages at one point or another. With this in mind, the present translation is also intended to be of use to those who are working through the Greek text and require a companion. I have endeavored throughout to reflect the grammatical structure of the Greek to the extent that this is possible without doing violence to the English. Hence the translation is more literal than it would be if it were aimed at a popular audience. Yet this feature may prove appealing to those with no Greek at all, as it captures a little of the strangeness of a text written in accordance with literary sensibilities so very different from our own.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Translation is not undertaken in a vacuum but in conversation with other readers. While my aim has been to provide a fresh translation of the Greek based squarely on the principles of NETS, I have by no means ignored the work of earlier translators. For 3 Makkabees, I have learned much from the judicious M. Hadas, The Third and Fourth Books of Maccabees (Dropsie College Edition, Jewish Apocryphal Literature; New York: Ktav Publishing House, 1976 [1953]). And, like Hadas before me, I have benefited from C. W. Emmet's translation, in Charles, 115ff, published separately as The Third Book of Maccabees (Translations of Early Documents, Series II, Hellenistic-Jewish Texts; London: SPCK, 1918). My greatest debt of gratitude, however, is to Professor Albert Pietersma, my Doktor Vater and dear friend, who first introduced me to 3 Makkabees and has since proven my most trusted guide through the adventure of translating this fascinating text.

CAMERON BOYD-TAYLOR

3 makkabees 1-2

523

1 Now when Philopator learned from those and divert the mad impulse of one so wickedly who had escaped that the region under his bent on seeing it through. As they filled the temple control had been taken by Antiochus, he mobi- with a cry and with their tears, 17those remaining lized all his forces, both infantry and cavalry, and in the city leapt up in a panic, uncertain as to what taking along his sister Arsinoe, he set out as far as had happened. 18Cloistered virgins in their cham-the region near Raphia, where Antiochus and his bers rushed out with their mothers, sprinkled their cohort were encamped. 2But a certain Theodotus, hair with ashes and began filling the streets with intent on carrying out the plot, took along the best weeping and groaning. 19Others who had just now of the Ptolemaic soldiersa previously assigned to dressed for their weddings abandoned the cham-him and crossed over to Ptolemy's tent by night in bers appointed for the occasion, as well as the ap-order to kill him single-handed and in this way put propriate modesty, and made a mad dash through an end to the war. 3But Ptolemy was taken out of the city. 20Newborn children were left here and harm's way by Dositheus, called the son of Drimy- there by their mothers and nurses, some at home, lus, a Judean by race who later changed his cus- some in the streets, as the women began crowding toms and became estranged from his ancestral be- together blindly in the all-surpassing temple.

liefs. He made some insignificant person lie in the 21 Many and varied were the petitions of those tent, who, as it happened, received Ptolemy's pun- who had gathered there over what was wickedly ishment. 4A fierce battle ensued and things began being plotted by Ptolemy. 22Together with these to fare considerably better for Antiochus, at which people were the bolder of the citizens, those who point Arsinoe let down her hair and began passing were by no means content to see the king pressing through the ranks, exhorting them with wailing his advantage and intent on carrying out his stated and tears to come to the aid of both themselves, purpose. 23Their cry to rush to arms and to die their children and their wives, boldly promising to boldly on behalf of the ancestral law caused abgive each of them two minasb of gold should they solute turmoil in the place, and it was with some be victorious. 5So it turned out that their adver- difficulty that they were turned back by the coun-saries were decimated in close combat, and many cil and elders and assumed the same posture of captives were taken also. 6Having prevailed against supplication as the others. 24The crowd, however, the plot, Ptolemy decided to go the round of the continued praying as before. 25Meanwhile, the el-nearby cities and boost their morale. 7By doing ders who were with the king persisted in their at-this, and by distributing gifts to their sacred tempts to divert his arrogant mind from the plan precincts, he restored the confidence of his sub- he had conceived. 26But he grew bold and dismis-jects.

sive and even now began making his approach,

8 As the Judeans had sent ahead members of thinking to bring to a conclusion what he had their senate and elders to greet Ptolemy, to convey foresworn to do. 27When those around him saw presents and to congratulate him on the turn of these things, they joined together with us in calling events, it turned out that he was all the more de- upon the one possessing all might to come to our sirous of visiting them as soon as possible. 9When aid at this time and not to overlook such a lawless he arrived in Hierosolyma, he sacrificed to the and arrogant act. 28Beyond telling was the sound supreme God, bestowed favors and performed of the crowd's swelling cry, at once painful and in-what was befitting that place. Directly upon enter- cessant; 29for it seemed that not only the people, ing the place he was struck by its beauty and excel- but even the walls and the entire edifice rang out, lence. 10Admiring also the good order of the tem- inasmuch as everyone would have given their ple, he set his heart on entering the shrine. 11He lives

then and there rather than see the place pro-was told, however, that this would not be appro- fanned.

priate, since not even members of their own nation were permitted to enter, not even the priests, but

d[So then Simon the high priest, facing the only the high priest, the leader of all, and he but 2 shrine, bent his knee, calmly stretched out his once a year. Nevertheless, he was not to be per- hands and formulated a petition such as this,]d suaded. 12The law was read publicly, but not even

2 “Lord, Lord, king of the heavens and soverthen did he leave off insisting that he should enter, eign of all creation, holy among the holy ones, sole saying, “Even if those others are deprived of this ruler, almighty, hearken unto us, who are being honor, there is no need for me to be.” 13He then oppressed by a vile and unholy man, grown inso-inquired as to why it was that when he entered lent with presumption and power. 3For you, the every other sacred precinct no one present had creator of all things and the governor of all, are a hindered him, 14whereupon someone rashly de- just ruler, and you judge those whose deeds are clared that it was wrong to cplace any significance marked by pride and arrogance. 4You destroyed in thatc. 15“But this being the case,” said he, “why those who in the past worked iniquity, among shouldn’t I enter either way, whether they want me whom were also giants, who trusted in their might to or not?”

and courage, bringing down upon them water im-

16 At that the priests in all their vestments fell measurable.
5You consumed with fire and brim-prostrate and began imploring the supreme God stone the Sodomites, who practiced arrogance and to come to their aid in the present circumstances were distinguished among men for their wicked aOr arms bone mina = 100 drachmas cOr take that as a portent dOf uncertain originality; om = Ha.

524

3 makkabees 2-3

deeds, making them an example for future genera- panions and comrades, men divorced from every-tions. 6You made known your power when with thing just. 26Not content merely with countless acts many and diverse punishments you tried bold of lasciviousness, he reached such a degree of au-Pharao, when he had enslaved your people, holy dacity that nasty rumours started in the rural dis-Israel, at which time you made known your great tricts. Many of the king's friends studied his pur-might, 7and when Pharao pursued hima with char- pose and set about following his wishes. 27His iots and a horde of troops, you inundated them intention being to cast blame on the nation pub-with the deep sea, but those trusting in you, who licly, he set up a stele on the tower at the court and are the ruler of all creation, you brought to safety. inscribed the following: 28"Those who do not 8Those also who witnessed works of your hand make public offerings are not to enter their sacred praised you as the almighty one. 9You, O King, places, but all Judeans are reduced to a menial sta-when you created the boundless and immeasur- tus and subject to enrollment; those who protest able earth, you chose this city and consecrated this will be carried off forcibly for execution; 29those place for your name, though you lack nothing, and who are registered are also to be branded with the you distinguished it with your glorious manifesta- ivy- leaf emblem of Dionysus and assigned to their tion, by establishing it for the glory of your great former status.” 30But lest he appear hateful to and honored name. 10Out of love for the house of everyone, he wrote beneath, “If any of them should Israel, you promised that if ever there be a crisis, prefer to adopt the practices of those who have and overwhelmed by distress we come to this place been initiated according to the rites, they will enjoy to beseech you, you will hearken to our prayer. equal civic rights with the Alexandrians.”

11Certainly you are faithful and true. 12Often times

31 Of course, there were some who, while out-

when our fathers were oppressed, you aided them wardly detesting the means of their advancement, in their humiliation and delivered them from great the religion of the city, quite readily offered them-evils. 13And now, behold, Holy King, on account selves so that they might share some of the great of our many and great sins we are oppressed, sub- glory that would come from being associated with ject to our enemies and rendered powerless. 14And the king. 32Most, however, prevailed with a noble in our downfall, this vile and presumptuous man spirit and did not separate from their religion.

makes it his business to insult the holy place ded- Trading their property in exchange for their lives, icated on the earth to the name of your glory. 15Of they fearlessly attempted to save themselves from course, your dwelling place is the highest heaven, the registration. 33They remained hopeful of ob-beyond the reach of human beings. 16But when taining support and loathed those who were withyou resolved that your glory should be among drawing from them; they judged them to be ene-your people Israel, you consecrated this place. mies of the nation and began to exclude them 17Do not punish us by the impurity of these men from their common social life and from the benenor call us to account by their profanation, lest the fits it provided.

lawless should boast in their heart and rejoice in the arrogance of their speech, saying 18'We tram-

When the ungodly one heard these things, he pled down the house of consecration, just as the 3 became so enraged that not only was he angry houses of the abominables are trampled down.' at those in Alexandria, but even more violently 19Expunge our sins; scatter our faults to the winds, opposed to those in the country and ordered for and show your mercy at this hour. 20Let your them to be gathered together in haste and their mercy soon surprise us, and put words of praise on lives brought to a most violent end. 2While these the lips of those who are downcast and crushed, orders were being put into effect, a malicious putting our souls at peace."

rumor was circulated against the Judean race by 21 Just then God, who watches over all things, persons conspiring to do them harm, the pretext the primal one, holy among the holy, heeded their being that they would prevent others from doing lawful entreaty and scourged him, who had been what was lawful. 3The Judeans, for their part, come exceedingly puffed up with pride and pre-maintained their good will and unswerving loyalty sumption, 22and shook him this way and that like towards the royal house; 4at the same time, they a reed in the wind so that he lay helpless on the continued to revere God and live in accordance floor, quite unable to speak and paralyzed in his with his law and so kept themselves apart with re-limbs, bound up, as it were, by a just judgment. spect to their diet, on account of which they ap-23Seeing the swift correction which befell him, his peared hateful to some. 5Yet, by adorning their friends and bodyguards grew frightened, and fear- mutual affairs with the good conduct of the just, ing for his life, they quickly dragged him off, utter- they were highly esteemed by all people. 6While ly panic-stricken. 24Yet when he pulled himself to- the good conduct of the race was thus the talk of gether afterwards, he was not at all regretful for everyone, it was not taken into account whatsoever-having been rebuked but rather went off making er by the allophytes, 7who instead kept going on bitter threats.

about the differences in doing obeisancec and diet,

25 When Ptolemy returned to Egypt, he only in- claiming that these people felt they owed alle-created his acts of wickedness, through the influ- giance neither to the king nor to his powers but ence of both his aforementioned drinking com-were hostile and vehemently opposed to affairs of a.l.e. Israel bOr a census-tax cPossibly worship

3 makkabees 3-4

state; so it was no ordinary blame they attached to fairs through their most shameful way of living.

them. 8The Greeks in the city, who had suffered no 24Wherefore, since we are well convinced by the wrong, began seeing unexpected trouble among evidence that these people are in every way ill-disthe people and unforeseen stampedes happening, posed towards us, and taking precaution, lest at and while they were unable to offer assistance, for some later date, with trouble suddenly upon us, we the situation was tyrannical, they nevertheless of- find these ungodly traitors and barbarians at our fered encouragement. Although they felt bad for backs as enemies, 25we have ordered that directly the Judeans, they thought that things would upon the publication of this letter, those living change for the better; 9for such a community, amongst us, together with their wives and chil-faultless in every respect, would hardly be shown dren, are to be conveyed to us with cruel and harsh disregard. 10Even now, neighbors, friends and co- treatment, bound hand and foot in iron chains, for workers were quietly drawing some aside, assuring the irremediable and ignoble slaughter befitting them that they would support them and do the utmalcontents. 26For when these people have been most to help them.

punished once and for all, we believe that our af-

11 Ptolemy prided himself in his present suc- fairs will in time become entirely stable and well cess, heedless of the might of the supreme God; ordered. 27But whosoever shelters any of the rather, he went on assuming that he would persist Judeans, from the old to the young, even infants, in the same plan and wrote this letter against the will be executed with degrading torments, along Judeans:

with their entire household. 28As for those who are 12 “King Ptolemy Philopator extends greetings willing to inform, they will receive the property of to his generals and soldiers in Egypt and its dis- the one incurring the punishment, as well as a tricts and bids them well. 13We ourselves are well, thousand drachmas from the royal treasury, and as are the affairs of state. 14Our recent expedition they will be honored with the crown of freedom.

into Asia, of which you yourselves are aware, hav- 29Any place where a Judean is discovered being ing been brought to its expected conclusion by the sheltered in any way, however, is without excep-deliberate alliance of the gods, 15we thought it tion to become untrodden and scorched; it will be-right to foster the nations inhabiting Coele-Syria come altogether worthless to every mortal creature and Phoenicia not by force of spear but with for all time.” 30The original of the letter was writ-clemency and much beneficence and to show ten in this manner.

them kindness gladly. 16We allotted generous revenues to the temples of the various cities and were Everywhere this ordinance reached, public impelled also to go up to Hierosolyma and honor 4 feasting was organized for the nations with the temple of a people who are sinful and never re-shouts of joy, as their inveterate hatred, long felt, frain from folly. 17While they made a show of wel- was now openly displayed. 2 Yet among the coming our visit, they were in fact insincere, and Judeans there was indescribable grief and a when we expressed our desire to enter their shrine mournful outburst of tears, their hearts altogether and honor it with beautiful and extraordinary vo- inflamed from groaning, as they bewailed the untive offerings, 18they, harboring an age old conceit, foreseen destruction suddenly decreed for them.

barred us from the entrance, and it was only on ac- 3What province or city, what place at all inhabited count of the beneficence that we show towards all or which streets were not filled with lamentation people that they were spared the full force of our and weeping for them? 4One and all they were temper. 19They have made evident their enmity to- being sent off by the generals of each city in such a wards us. Unique amongst the nations in their severe and merciless spirit that even some of their haughtiness towards their kings and benefactors, enemies found compassion for the extraordinary they bear nothing gracefully. 20We for our part ac- punishments before their eyes and, reflecting on commodated their folly and, when we crossed over life's uncertain conclusion, began to weep over into Egypt with victory, met all the nations with their miserable expulsion. 5For a multitude of old beneficence; as was befitting, so we did. 21Amongst men covered in gray hair were being led off, these, we publicly declared an amnesty toward shamefully pressing into service for the swift their fellow nationals, and on account of their al- march the torpor of feet already twisted from old liance with us, as well as the innumerable matters age at the start of the violent upheaval. 6Young that have so generously been entrusted to them women who had just now entered the bridal over the years, we even ventured to consent to a chamber for the partnership of married life soon change in their condition, which would have exchanged their joy for mourning and mingled tled them to Alexandrian citizenship and made ashes into hair still wet with unguent, and as they them partakers of the customary sacred rites. 22But were lead away unveiled, it was a dirge rather than they took things the wrong way and with their na- a wedding-song they started up one and all, sav-tive malice rejected a good thing. Inclined as they aged by the barbarous cruelties of a foreign nation; 7 always have been towards what is base, 23they not bound in full public view, they were dragged only turned down the priceless offer of citizenship forcibly as far as the boat for embarkation. 8Their but continue to express loathing, as much by their spouses wrapped nooses instead of garlands silence as by what they say, towards the few among around their necks, although in their youth and them who are genuinely disposed towards us, prime of life, and spent the remaining days of their looking at every turn to hasten the ruin of our af-marriage feast not in banqueting and youthful 526

3 makkabees 4-5

amusement but rather in mourning, seeing the mixed wine to drink and, once they had been driv-grave already lying before them. 9They were driven en wild by the copious supply of drink, to lead on board like beasts constrained with iron bonds, them in for the Judeans to meet their fate. 3When some being fastened at the neck to the yokes of the he had issued these orders, he turned to feasting, boats and others secured by their feet in unbreak- bringing together

those amongst his friends and able fetters; 10 moreover, with solid planking fixed the army who were especially hostile towards the above, they were in total darkness and so received Judeans. 4 Meanwhile Hermon, the elephantarch, the treatment befitting traitors throughout the en- began faithfully carrying out what had been com-tire voyage.

manded. 5 That evening the officiants who were as-

11 They were brought to the place known as signed to them came out and began binding the Schedia, and with the voyage now concluded, as hands of the afflicted and through the night took had been ordained by the king, he ordered them to further precautions for their security, believing that encamp in the hippodrome before the city, which the race would meet its final destruction once and was immense in circumference and well situated for all. 6 But the Judeans, who to the nations for making them an example to all those returning seemed to be bereft of all defense on account of to the city as well as to those of them going abroad the constraint of their chains that confined them to the country so that they could neither commu- on every side, 7 all called out with an irrepressible nicate with his forces nor in any way claim the pro- cry and with tears to the Almighty Lord, Ruler of tection of the city walls. 12 And when this hap- every power, their merciful God and Father, be-pened, upon hearing that the same people leaving seeching him 8 to overturn the ungodly plot against the city secretly lamented the shameful misery of them and with a glorious manifestation to rescue their brothers, 13 he became furious and ordered them from the fate that lay ready before them.

that they be treated in exactly the same way as the 9 And so their entreaty continued to ascend fer-others, in no way whatsoever being spared the vently to the sky.

punishment meted out to those 14and that the 10 Hermon, having given the merciless ele-whole race be registered by name, not for the ex- phants their drink so that they were filled with an hausting manual labor briefly described above, but abundant supply of wine and glutted with frank-so that, having suffered the tortures which had incense, presented himself at court early in the been ordered, they might finally be destroyed in morning to inform the king concerning these the space of a single day.

15Their registration thus things. 11But hea sent upon the king a portion of proceeded in bitter haste and eager diligence from sleep, that good creature which from time imme-sunrise to sunset, yet was still incomplete when it morial has been bestowed night and day by the ended forty days later.

one who gives freely to all, whomsoever he wishes,

16 The king, meanwhile, continued to be ex- 12and through the action of the master, he was ceedingly joyful and went ahead organizing drink- overcome by a pleasant and deep slumber and ing parties in the presence of his idols, with a mind thus disappointed in his wicked purpose and enled far astray from the truth and a vile mouth, tirely cheated of his unbending calculation. 13The which praised that which is deaf and unable to Judeans, having escaped the appointed hour, speak or to assist itself, while uttering impropri- began praising their holy God and were once again eties to the supreme God. 17Yet after the previous- entreating the one who is easily reconciled to show ly mentioned space of time, the scribes reported to arrogant nations the might of his all powerful the king that they could no longer carry on with hand. 14It was now approaching the middle of the the registration of the Judeans owing to their im- tenth hour, and the person who was in charge of mense number; 18the majority were indeed still in the invitations, seeing that the invited guests had the country, some still in their homes, others fur- assembled, approached the king and gave him a ther afield, so it was impossible for all the generals nudge. 15With some difficulty he woke him up in Egypt. 19At this he began to threaten them ob- and informed him that the hour of the banquet stinately that they had been bribed to devise the was already slipping by, explaining the situation to escape, but it so happened that he himself became him. 16Once he had given the matter some plainly convinced on the matter, 20when they thought, the king turned to drinking and ordered proved to him that both the papyrus and writing those who had come for the banquet to recline op-reeds, which they had been using, had been spent. posite him. 17When this had been done, he began 21This, however, was the work of the invincible urging them, as they gave themselves over to feast-providence of the one who was aiding the Judeans ing, to spend the present part of the banquet in from heaven.

merriment by celebrating all the more. 18After the party had been going for some time, the king sum-

Then the king, filled with violent anger and moned Hermon and with angry threats began questioning him as to why the Judeans had been

5 furyandaltogetherintractable,summoned

Hermon, the person charged with the care of the permitted to survive a further day. 19But when elephants, 2and ordered him for the next day to he reported that the order had been carried out to give all the elephants, five-hundred in number, co- the letter overnight, and his friends corroborated pious handfuls of frankincense and abundant un-this, 20the king, with a savagery worse than that of

al.e. God

3 makkabees 5-6

527

Phalaris, said that while they had today's sleep to wondering at his unstable mind, began to re-be thankful for, "tonight without further delay pre- proach him thus, 40"O king, how long will you go pare the elephants in the same manner for the de- on testing us unreasonably, like idiots, ordering us struction of the lawless Judeans." 21After the king now for a third time to obliterate them and then in had spoken, all those who were present at once turn canceling your decrees on this business once readily consented with joy, whereupon each re- again? 41As a result the city is in an uproar with ex-turned to his own house. 22They did not, however, pectation and is already swarming with gangs and spend the duration of the night sleeping, so much frequently in danger of being looted." 42Where-as in devising every sort of mockery for those who upon the king, who was in every respect a Phalaris appeared to be in such distress.

and filled with madness, regarding as nothing the 23 The cock had just crowed at dawn, when changes of heart taking place within him towards Hermon, having fully armed the beasts, began the visitation of the Judeans, swore a bootless oath whipping them up in the great colonnade. that he would dispatch them to Hades without 24Crowds of people in the city had gathered for the delay, tormented by the knees and feet of the most pitiful spectacle, eagerly awaiting the morn- beasts, 43and thereupon march against Judea and ing. 25The Judeans, for their part, were at that very swiftly level it with fire and spear, and that their moment drawing their last breath; stretching their shrine, "forbidden to us," would quickly topple-hands towards the sky, they began entreating the over in the fire and be rendered destitute of those supreme God with tearful supplication and performing sacrifices there for all time. 44Then the mournful songs to hasten to their aid once more. Friends and Kinsmen went on their way overjoyed 26The rays of the sun were not yet scattered abroad, and faithfully set about posting the forces to those

and the king was still receiving his friends, when parts of the city most advantageous for keeping Hermon arrived and began summoning them for guard. 45Meanwhile, the elephantarch, having the departure, indicating that the king's desire was brought the beasts, frightfully decked out in their in readiness. 27Yet when he received the news and gear, close to a state of madness, so to speak, with was dumbfounded by the unauthorized departure, most fragrant drinks of wine mixed with frankin-possessed as he was by total ignorance, he began cense, 46entered the court at about dawn, by which inquiring as to what was the business upon which time the city had already filled up with innumerthis had been executed for him in such haste. able crowds at the hippodrome, and began rousing 28This was the working of God who is master of all the king to the matter at hand. 47He, in turn, upon things, for he had made the king forgetful as to the filling his ungodly mind full of violent rage, fierce-purpose of his former schemes. 29Hermon and all ly set out with the beasts, wishing to view with the his friends began to point out that the beasts and very pupils of his eyes and an invulnerable heart the forces were ready, "O king, in accordance with the painful and miserable ruin of those mentioned your express intention." 30But he was filled with beforehand. 48As the elephants and the armed violent anger at what was said, for by divine prov- force accompanying them were going out around idence his whole impression of these things had the gate, the Judeans both saw the dust of the pass-been scattered, and with a threatening glare, he ing throng and heard the roaring crowd 49and, be-said, 31"How ever many of your parents or young lieving this to be their last moment of life, the end children had been present, this abundant feast of their wretched suspense, gave themselves over to would la have prepared for wild beasts instead of lamentation and wailing and began kissing one the blameless Judeans, who have demonstrated another, embracing their relatives, falling upon complete and steadfast loyalty to my parents and their necks, parents their children, mothers their myself. 32And yet, but for the affection of a com- daughters and yet others holding newborn infants mon upbringing and familiarity, you would have to the breast as they drew their last milk. 50Never-been deprived of life instead of them." 33So Her- theless, when they considered all the help from mon suffered an unexpected and dangerous threat heaven that had fallen to their share in the past, and wore his humiliation both in his eyes and face. they threw themselves prostrate with one accord, 34One by one the king's friends began sullenly parted their newborn from the breasts 51and called slipping out, and they released those who had out to the ruler of every power with an exceeding-gathered, each to his own affairs. 35When the ly loud cry, entreating him to show them mercy by Judeans heard what the king had said, they began making an appearance, they who stood even now praising the manifest God, Lord, King of kings, at the gates of Hades.

since they had obtained also this aid from him.

36 The king assembled the entire drinking-

Now a certain Eleazaros, a man well known party along the same lines and began encouraging 6 among the priests of the country, who had al-them to make merry.

37He summoned Hermon ready reached old age and been adorned with with threats and said, "How many times do I have every virtue throughout his life, restrained the el-to give you the self-same orders, you wretch? ders around him from calling upon the holy God 38Arm the elephants even now for tomorrow's exand said the following prayer:

termination of the Judeans." 39But his Kinsmen,

2 "O king, dread sovereign, most high, almighty who were reclining together with him at table,

God, who govern all creation with compassion, a they = Ha.

528

3 makkabees 6

3look upon the seed of Abraam, upon the children and forgetfulness overcame his indignant impu-

of sanctified Iakob, the people of your sanctified dence.
21 Then the beasts turned upon the armed inheritance, strangers in a strange land, who, O Fa- forces accompanying them and began trampling them, are perishing unjustly.
4 When Pharaoh, former and destroying them.

ruler of this Egypt, was waxing with chariots, con-

22 The king's anger now turned to pity and tears ceited in his lawless impudence and boasting for what had been devised by him earlier. 23 For tongue, you destroyed him, drowned at sea together when he heard the cry and perceived them all lying there with his proud army, and showed forth the light prostrate for destruction, he wept and began threat-of your mercy on the race of Israel. 5 When Sen-ening his friends angrily, saying, 24 "You are guilty of nacherim, dread king of the Assyrians, gloried in treason and have exceeded tyrants in cruelty, and his countless powers and, having already seized now you are attempting to deprive even me, your control over the entire land by the spear, was benefactor, of both sovereignty and life, by secretly poised also to march against your holy city, speak-forming designs unbeneficial to the kingdom.

ing fiercely with boasting and insolence, you broke 25 Who was it that drove from their homes those him, O Sovereign, displaying your might to many who faithfully maintain our frontier fortresses and nations. 6 When the three companions in Babylo- gathered every one of them together here? 26 Who nia willingly gave their lives to the fire so as not to was it that so lawlessly surrounded with outrages serve vain things, you sprinkled the scorching fur- those who from the beginning have exceeded all nace and rescued them unharmed, even so far as a nations in their goodwill towards us and have fre-hair, and sent the flame upon all their enemies. quently taken the gravest human dangers upon 7 When Daniel, through envious slander, was themselves? 27Loosen, undo unjust fetters, and send thrown to the lions below the earth as food for them off to their homes in peace, begging their par-wild beasts, you brought him up to the light un- don for what has been done before. 28Set free the scathed, 8and when Ionas wasted away in the belly sons of the Almighty, heavenly, living god, who of the sea monster raised in the depths, you looked from our parents' time until now has been provid-to him, O Father, and revealed him to all his rela- ing uninterrupted and illustrious stability to our af-tions unscathed. 9And now, you who hate inso- fairs." 29That then is what he said, and they were relence, abounding in mercy, Protector of the uni- leased instantly and began blessing the holy savior verse, swiftly manifest yourself to those of the race God, having just escaped death.

of Israel, who are now suffering outrages at the 30 Thereupon the king withdrew to the city,

hands of detestable and lawless nations. 10Even if summoned the overseer of revenues and ordered our life has become entangled in impieties during him to supply the Judeans with both wines and all our exile, rescue us, O Master, from the clutches of else requisite for seven days of feasting, having de-our enemies, and then destroy us by the fate you cided that they would joyfully celebrate a festival choose. 11Do not let the vainglorious praise their of deliverance in the very place in which they had vanities upon the destruction of your beloved, by expected to meet destruction. 31Then those who saying, 'Their God did not rescue them.' 12But you were once objects of contempt and next to Hades, who possess all might and all sovereignty, eternal or rather at it, united for a feast of deliverance one, look now, and show mercy on us, who are rather than one of bitter and mournful doom, and being removed from life in the manner of traitors filled with joy they apportioned to parties of revel-due to the senseless arrogance of the lawless. ers the place that had been prepared for their de- 13Today let nations cower before your invincible struction and burial. 32They left off the sad strain power, O honored one, you who have the power to of their dirges and took up an ancestral song, prais-bring the race of lakob to safety. 14The entire mul- ing the savior and wonder-working God, and hav-titude of newborns and their parents are entreating ing dispelled all wailing and lamentation, they you with tears. 15Let it be shown to all nations that began organizing dances as a sign of peaceful joy.

you are with us, Lord, and that you have not 33The king likewise assembled a substantial drink-turned your face away from us, but as you said, ing party on account of these things and was offer-the unexpected deliverance that had befallen him.

‘Not even when they were in the land of their ene- ing thanks to heaven ceaselessly and profusely for mies did I despise them’; thus make it so, O Lord.”

16 Just as Eleazaros was bringing his prayer to 34Those who just before had assumed that the an end, the king went by the hippodrome together Judeans would be destroyed and become carrion, with the beasts and all the pride of the force. 17At and who had registered them with joy, groaned, as the sight of this, the Judeans cried out loudly to they themselves were now clothed in shame, their heaven so that even the nearby valleys resounded, fiery courage ignobly extinguished. 35The Judeans, causing frenzied terror throughout the entire army. as we said before, had organized the aforementioned dancing and feasting and were celebrating showed forth his holy face and opened the heavens with cheerful acknowledgements and melodies.

only gates from which descended two glorious angels, terrible to behold, who were apparent to all concerning these matters for the entire duration of their residence as aliens throughout their generation force of the opponents and filled them with confusions, and they resolved to celebrate the aforementioned days in merriment, not for the sake of drink and gluttony, but for the deliverance that had come to them through God. 37Then they entreated made a petition to the king, that those from the the king, asking leave to go about their own business. 38Now they had registered them from the holy God and God's law should obtain their punishment through them, insisting that over a period of forty days, and had appointed those who had disobeyed the divine ordinances their destruction from the fifth to the seventh of for the sake of their belly would never be favor-

3 makkabees 6-7

529

Epiphi, over a period of three days, 39at which time ably disposed towards the affairs of the king. 12He also the ruler of all, gloriously manifesting his in turn acknowledged that they were speaking the mercy, rescued them all together and unscathed. truth, consented and granted them complete li-40They were being entertained sumptuously in cense to destroy openly those who had disobeyed every respect by the king and continued feasting God's law throughout the whole of his dominion, until the fortieth day, on which also they peti- without any express royal authorization or over-tioned for their release. 41The king granted this to sight. 13They then applauded him as was fitting; them and very generously wrote on their behalf to their priests and the entire multitude cried out the the generals in each city the following letter, which Hallelouia with joy, and they departed 14and thus possesses ardor: set about punishing every defiled fellow national who fell in their path and slaying them as an ex-

" King Ptolemy Philopator extends greetings ample to all. 15On that day they slew more than 7 to his generals in Egypt and to all those who three hundred men, a day which they also cele-have been appointed to office and bids them well.

brated as one of merriment, seeing that they had

2 "We ourselves are well, as are our children, overpowered the profane with joy. 16Then those for the supreme God is directing our affairs just as who had held fast to God unto death, having re-we would have it. 3Some of our friends malevo- ceived the complete reward of deliverance, shifted lently persuaded us with their incessant pestering their quarters from the city, wreathed with every to gather our Judean subjects together in a body kind of fragrant flower, and with gladness and a and to have them punished in accordance with the shout they continued giving thanks to the God of extraordinary sanctions against rebels, 4urging that their fathers, the eternal savior of Israel, with since they bear enmity toward all the nations, our words of praise and hymns in every kind of government would never be stable until this was melody.

accomplished. 5They brought them down cruelly

17 Now when they arrived at Ptolemais—bound as slaves, or rather as traitors, and, without called “rose-bearing” on account of the character-any preliminary investigation and inquiry, at- istic feature of the place— where the fleet waited tempted to destroy them, having fastened to them- for them for seven days, according to their com-selves a cruelty more savage than the law of the mon plan, 18there they held a celebration of deliv- Scythians. 6But for this we on our part violently erance, the king having stoutly supplied them with threatened them, in accordance with the clemency everything for their transit, until each arrived at his we bear towards all people, scarcely granting them own home. 19They landed peacefully with the ap-their lives and knowing assuredly that the heaven- appropriate acknowledgements, and there too they ly God protects the Judeans, as a father always likewise resolved to celebrate also these days in comes to the aid of his sons, 7and having taken merriment for the duration of their residence as into consideration the firm good will of a friend, aliens, 20and having dedicated these days and con-which they have displayed towards us and our secrated them for prayer on a stele by the place of forebears, we have justly acquitted them of every the banquet, they went on their way, unharmed, charge whatsoever, 8and we have instructed all of free and overjoyed, being preserved over land and them to return each to their own home in every sea and river by command of the king, each to his place, with no one hurting them without excep- own home, 21and among their enemies they pos-tion, nor to reproach them for what has happened sessed a greater dominance than before, both hon-contrary to reason. 9For know that, should we de- ored and feared, and were abused of their belong- vise any evil against these people or offend them at ings by no one. 22Everyone recovered all of their all, it will be no mere mortal but the one who is property in accordance with the registration so sovereign over every power, God most high, that that those who held anything returned it to them we shall have forever set inescapably against us in with great fear, for the supreme God had per-everything to avenge the deed. Farewell.”

formed mighty works entirely for their deliverance.

23

10 Upon receiving this letter, they did not

Blessed be the rescuer of Israel for all time!

hurry straightaway to set about their departure but

Amen.

4 MAKKABEES

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS rendering of 4 Makkabees follows the Greek text of Alfred Rahlfs' Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes, 2 vols. (Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935). Of the three manuscripts on which that edition is largely based (Vaticanus, Sinaiticus, and Alexandrinus), only the latter two include 4 Makkabees. Rahlfs does, however, cite other evidence as well, particularly that of the eighth or ninth century Codex Venetus (V), which, regrettably, lacks 5.11-12.1. A full-scale critical edition has yet to be prepared. Discussion of variant readings can be found in the footnotes to the German translation by Hans-Josef Klauck. Only rarely does the following translation depart from Rahlfs' text; these instances are pointed out in the footnotes.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF 4 MAKKABEES

Since 4 Makkabees is an original composition in Greek, there is no need here to indicate the relationship between the Greek text and a Semitic parent text by maintaining a similar relationship between the NETS version and the NRSV. I have therefore departed from the latter translation freely in attempting to capture something of the flavor of the Greek original. That, however, is a task with significant challenges.

Our author writes not only very fluently in Greek but also, in striking contrast with the Jewish conservatism that marks the book's message (the law of Moyses, in all its particularity, is to be faithfully observed in spite of pressures to assimilate to the surrounding Hellenistic environment), in a highly rhetorical and affected Greek style. To be noted is the extensive and often inventive vocabulary employed, a vocabulary that includes a number of rare and poetic terms and a seemingly endless stock of words pertaining to the instruments and inflicting of torture; a particular love of compound words, many apparently of our author's own composition, and a number featuring verbs with a plurality of prefixed prepositions; a bent for finding a variety of ways in which to say the same thing (in the opening verses, for example, the translator is severely taxed to match in English the author's diverse formulations of reason's supremacy over the passions); a partiality for extended similes and metaphors; a penchant to apostrophize the characters of his narrative, their virtues, and sundry other abstractions; a predilection for conveying a point by inventing for his characters direct speeches, some explicitly imaginary, others purportedly delivered in the midst of such torments and at such proximity to a ghastly death as to make their deliberate and measured tone astounding; and a tendency in general to appeal to readers' sense of pity and to arouse their horror. Readers disaffected by these characteristics of our text should bear in mind that our author was clearly reflecting the tastes of many of his contemporaries, nor, indeed, have the intervening centuries lacked periods in which the floridity of our author's style was found both pleasing and impressive.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Several English translations are available. Older renditions include those of R. B. Townsend in the second volume of Charles; C. W. Emmet (London: SPCK, 1918); and (together with a reproduction of Rahlfs' Greek text) M. Hadas (New York: Dropsie College [Harper], 1953). In addition to the translation in the NRSV, the recent rendering by H. Anderson in the second volume of The Old Testament Pseudepigrapha edited by J. H. Charlesworth (Garden City, NY: Doubleday, 1985) should be noted. Nor should the French version of A. Dupont-Sommer (Paris: H. Champion, 1939) and the German version by H.-J. Klauck (Guetersloh: C. Mohn, 1989), both with extensive introductions and notes, be forgotten. Much can be learned from D. A. deSilva's 4 Maccabees (Sheffield: Sheffield Academic Press, 1998), with bibliographies of other studies.

STEPHEN WESTERHOLM

4 makkabees 1-2

531

1 Since I am about to discuss an eminently passions connected with pleasure and pain.

philosophical subject—whether pious reason

22Thus before pleasure comes desire, and after

is absolute master of the passions—I would duly pleasure, delight. 23Before pain comes fear, and advise you to attend diligently to the philosophy after pain, sorrow. 24Anger is a passion embracing here set forth. 2For the subject is essential to the pleasure and pain, if people reflect on how it af-path to knowledge for everyone and, furthermore, fects them. 25In pleasure there exists as well a embraces praise of the greatest virtue: I speak, of malevolent disposition, which, of all the passions, course, of prudence. 3If, then, it is apparent that assumes the most varied forms. 26In terms of the reason prevails over the passions hindering self- soul, it is expressed in boastfulness, love of money, control, namely, gluttony and lust, 4then it is also love of honor, love of strife and envy. 27With re-plainly apparent that it holds sway over the pas- gard to the body, it is expressed in indiscriminate sions impeding justice, such as malice, and over eating, gluttony and private gormandizing.

the passions impeding courage, namely, anger, fear

28 Just as pleasure and pain are two plants and pain. 5Some might perhaps ask, "How then, if growing from the body and the soul, so there are reason overcomes the passions, does it not master many offshoots of these plants. 29By weeding, forgetfulness and ignorance?" Their attempt at ar- pruning, tying up, watering and in every way irri-gument is ridiculous. 6For reason does not over- gating each of these, reason, the master cultivator, come its own passions but those opposed to jus- tames the jungles of habits and passions. 30For rea-tice, courage and self-control, and it overcomes son is the guide of the virtues but the absolute these not so that it destroys them but so that one ruler of the passions.

does not give way to them.

Observe now, first of all, that reason is absolute

7 On the basis of many and diverse considera- master of the passions aby virtue of the restraining tions I could show you that reason is absolute ruler powers of self-controla. 31Self-control, then, is of the passions, 8but I can demonstrate it much dominance over the desires. 32Of the desires, some better from the bravery of those who died for the pertain to the soul, others to the body, and it is ap-sake of virtue: Eleazaros, the seven brothers and parent that reason prevails over both of these.

their mother. 9All of these, in despising sufferings 33Otherwise, how is it that when we are attracted to the point of death, showed that reason has full to forbidden foods we turn ourselves away from control over the passions. 10It is fitting for me to the pleasures to be had from them? Is it not be-praise for their virtues these men who, together cause reason is able to prevail over the appetites? I with their mother, died for the sake of nobility of for one think so. 34Therefore when we crave character in this season of the year, but I would seafood, fowl, quadrupeds and all sorts of foods also call them blessed for the honors accorded that are forbidden to us by the law, we abstain be-them. 11Having won, by their courage and en-cause of the dominance of reason. 35For the pas-durance, the admiration not merely of all people sions of the appetites are restrained, checked by but even of their abusers, they became the means the temperate mind, and all the emotions of the by which the tyranny exercised against our nation body are bridled by reason.

was overthrown. They conquered the tyrant by their endurance so that through them our home-

And why should it be deemed amazing if the land was purified. 12But of this it will be possible 2 desires of the soul for the enjoyment of beau-for me to speak in a moment after I have begun, as ty are rendered powerless? 2It is on this account, I am accustomed to do, by stating my thesis, and certainly, that the temperate Ioseph is praised, then I shall turn to the story about them, giving namely, that by his faculty of thinking he gained glory to the all-wise God.

control over the urge for gratification. 3For when

13 We inquire, then, whether reason is the ab- he was young and in his prime for intercourse, by solute ruler of the passions. 14We must determine his reason he rendered powerless the frenzied de-just what reason is and what passion is, how many sire of his passions. 4It is apparent that reason pre-kinds of passions there are, and whether reason vails not only over the frenzied urge for gratifica-prevails over all of these. 15Reason, then, is the tion but also over every desire. 5For the law says, mind preferring, with sound judgment, the life of “You shall not covet your neighbor’s wife or any-wisdom. 16Wisdom, in turn, is the knowledge of thing that is your neighbor’s.” 6In fact, since the things divine and human and of the causes of law has told us not to covet, I could persuade you these. 17It amounts, moreover, to training in the all the more that reason is able to overcome the law, training by which we learn divine matters rev- desires.

erently and human matters advantageously.

Just so it is with the passions that hinder justice.

18Now the kinds of wisdom are prudence, justice,

7Otherwise how is it that someone who is habitu-courage and self-control. 19Supreme over all of ally a private gormandizer, a glutton, or even a these is prudence by which in fact reason prevails drunkard is trained differently, unless reason is over the passions. 20Of the passions, the two most clearly master of the passions? 8As soon, indeed, as comprehensive types are pleasure and pain, and one adopts a way of life in accordance with the each of these pertains by nature both to the body law, even though a lover of money, one overpower-and to the soul. 21There are many sequences of ers one’s own bent, lending without interest to the

aOr in the case of acts that hinder self-control

532

4 makkabees 2-4

needy and canceling the debt when the seventh tors had encamped. 9Now all the rest were at supper. 9Even if one is stingy, one is overcome per.

10But the king was as thirsty as could be, and by the law through reason, neither gleaning the although he had abundant springs at hand, he harvest nor gathering the last of the vineyards' could not satisfy his thirst from them.
11But a cer-grapes.

tain irrational desire for the water in the enemy's

And in all other matters it is possible to recog- territory tormented and inflamed him, undid and nize this principle, that reason overcomes the pas- consumed him.
12Therefore, when his armor-bear-sions. 10For the law overcomes even affection for ers complained bitterly over the desire of the king, parents, not betraying virtue on their account. 11It two staunch young soldiers, respecting the desire prevails over love for one's wife, rebuking her for

of the king, put on their full armor and, taking her transgression. 12It holds sway over love for a pitcher, climbed over the enemy's ramparts.

13

one's children, punishing them for wickedness,

Eluding the guards at the gates, they went search-

13masters one's relationship with friends, rebuking ing through the entire enemy camp, 14found the them for evil. 14And do not consider it paradoxical spring and boldly brought a drink from it to the when reason, through the law, can prevail even king. 15But although David was burning with over enmity, not cutting down the cultivated trees thirst, he reasoned that a drink regarded as tanta-of foes but preserving the property of enemies mount to blood was a dreadful danger to his soul.

16

from marauders and helping to raise up what has Therefore, opposing reason to desire, he poured fallen.

out the drink as an offering to God. 17For the tem-

15 It is apparent that reason overcomes even perate mind can conquer the compulsions of the the more aggressive passions: love of power, vain- passions and quench the flames of frenzied de-glory, boasting, arrogance and envy. 16For the tem- sires. 18It can overpower bodily agonies even when perate mind repels all these malicious passions, they are extreme and by the nobility of reason just as it repels anger—for it masters even this. spurn all domination by the passions.

17When Moyses was angry with Dathan and Abi-

19 The present occasion now invites us to a ron, he did nothing against them in anger but con- narrative demonstration of temperate reason.

trolled his anger by reason. 18For, as I have said,

20 At a time when our fathers were enjoying the temperate mind is able to get the better of the profound peace because of their loyalty to the law passions, to alter some, and to render others pow- and were prospering so that even Seleucus Nica-erless. 19Otherwise why did Iakob, our all wise fa- nor, king of Asia, had both set aside money for ther, censure the households of Symeon and Leui them for the temple service and recognized their for slaughtering, contrary to reason, the She- polity, 21then certain persons attempted a revolu-chemites as an entire people, saying, "Cursed be tion against the public harmony and suffered their anger"? 20For if reason could not overcome many and various disasters.

anger, he would not have spoken thus. 21Now when God fashioned human beings, he planted in

For a certain Simon was a political opponent them their passions and habits, 22but at the same 4 of the noble and good man, Onias, who then time he enthroned the mind among the senses as held the high priesthood for life. When, though a sacred governor over them all, 23and to this mind slandering him concerning the nation in every he gave the law. The one who adopts a way of life way, he was not able to injure him, he departed as in accordance with it will rule a kingdom that is a fugitive, intending to betray our homeland. 2So temperate, just, good and courageous.

he came to Apollonius, governor of Syria, Phoeni-

24 How is it, then, someone may ask, if reason cia and Cilicia, and said, 3"Since I am loyal to the is master of the passions, that it does not overcome interests of the king, I have come to disclose that forgetfulness and ignorance?

many tens of thousands of private funds are stored up in the treasuries of Hierosolyma that are not the

But this argument is entirely ridiculous, for it property of the temple; these belong to King Se-

3 is apparent that reason prevails not over its leucus.”
4When Apollonius had learned the details own passions but over those of the body. 2No one of these matters, he praised Simon for his solici-of us can eradicate such desire, but reason can pro- tude for the king, went up to Seleucus and in-vide a way for us not to be enslaved by desire. 3No formed him of the treasure of funds. 5Receiving one of you can eradicate anger from the soul, but authority to deal with these matters, he proceeded reason can help to deal with anger. 4No one of us quickly to our homeland with the accursed Simon can eradicate malice, but reason can fight at our and a very strong military force. 6He said that he side so that we are not overcome by malice. 5For had come by the king’s commands in order to reason is not an uprooter of the passions but their seize the private funds in the treasury. 7At this an-antagonist.

nouncement the people complained bitterly and 6 Now this can be explained more clearly by protested, considering that it would be outrageous means of the thirst of King David. 7For when if those who had entrusted deposits to the sacred Daid had been attacking the allophytes all day treasury should be deprived of them. They tried as long, he, together with the soldiers of our nation, best they could to prevent him. 8But with threats killed many of them. 8Then when evening fell, he Apollonius left for the temple. 9While the priests, came, sweating and extremely tired, to the royal with women and children, were imploring God in tent, around which the whole army of our ancestors—the temple to shield the sacred place that was 4 Maccabees 4–5

533

being treated with contempt 10 and while Apollonius was going up with his armed forces to seize the temple, he was going up with his armed forces to seize the temple. 4 When many persons had been rounded up, angels on horseback appeared from above, one man, a Hebrew, Eleazar by name, was brought as first of the company before him. He was heaven with lightning flashing from their weapons, instilling in them great fear and trembling. He was a priest by birth, a lawyer by profession, advanced in age and known to many in the tyrant's court of the temple that was open to all races, court on account of his age.

stretched out his hands toward heaven and with

5 When Antiochus saw him he said, 6 "Before I tears began to beg the Hebrews that they would begin the tortures against you, old man, I would pray for him and propitiate the heavenly army. give you these words of advice, namely, that you 12 For he said that he had sinned in such a way that save yourself by tasting pork, 7 for I respect your age he deserved to die and that, if he were delivered, he and your gray hairs. Although you have had your would praise the blessedness of the holy place because of your such a long time, you do not seem to forego all people.

13 Moved by these words, the high priest Onias, although otherwise since you observe the religion of the Judeans. 8 Why should you abhor eat about doing so, prayed for him so that King Seleucus

the very excellent meat of this animal when na-cus would not suppose that Apollonius had been ture has provided it? 9For it is senseless not to overcome by human treachery and not by divine enjoy delicious things that are not shameful and justice. 14When Apollonius, beyond all expecta- not right to decline the gifts of nature. 10But you tions, had been delivered, he went away to inform seem to me to do what is even more senseless if, the king what had happened to him.

because you cherish a vain opinion concerning the 15 When King Seleucus died, his son Anti- truth, you continue to despise me at the cost of ochus Epiphanes, an arrogant and terrible man, your own punishment. 11Will you not awaken succeeded to the office. 16He deposed Onias from from your silly philosophy, dispel the nonsense of the high priesthood and appointed Onias's broth- your reasonings, and, adopting a mind worthy of er Jason as high priest, 17Jason agreeing to pay your age, pursue a true philosophy of what is ben-three thousand six hundred and sixty talents an- eficial? 12Will you not have compassion on your nually if the king would turn the office over to old age by bowing to my humane advice? 13For him. 18So the king turned over to him both the bear in mind that, if indeed there is some power high priesthood and the leadership of the nation. overseeing this religion of yours, it will excuse you 19Jason changed the nation's way of life and al-for any transgression committed under duress."

tered its form of government in complete trans-

14 When the tyrant urged him in this fashion

gression of the law 20so that he not only con-to eat meat unlawfully, Eleazaros asked to have a structed a gymnasium on the very citadel of our word.

15When he had received permission to homeland but also abolished the temple service. speak, he began to address the people as follows: 21

16

The divine justice, provoked by these acts, caused

“O Antiochus, we who have been persuaded to Antiochus himself to war against them. 22For adopt a way of life in accordance with divine law while he was waging war against Ptolemy in Egypt, do not consider any compulsion more powerful he heard that a rumor had spread about his death than our ready obedience to the law.

17Therefore and that the Hierosolymites had celebrated with we do not deem it right to transgress the law in any all possible joy. He marched against them speedi- way. 18Even if, as you suppose, our law were in ly, 23and when he had plundered them, he issued truth not divine and we wrongly considered it to a decree that, if any of them were found living ac- be divine, not even so would it be possible for us cording to the ancestral law, they should die. to invalidate our reputation for piety. 19Therefore 24When, by means of his decrees, he had not been do not suppose that it would be a petty sin if we able to subvert the people’s loyalty to the law in were to eat defiling food. 20To transgress the law in any way but saw that all his threats and punish-matters small or great is of equal seriousness, 21for ments were being disregarded

25so that even

in either case the law is equally despised. 22You women, because they circumcised their sons, were scoff at our philosophy as though our living by it thrown down headlong together with their infants, were not sensible. 23But it teaches us self-control though they had known beforehand that they so that we overcome all pleasures and desires, and would suffer this; 26when, then, his decrees were it also exercises us in courage so that we endure all despised by the people, he himself tried through pain willingly; 24it trains us in justice so that in all tortures to compel everyone in the nation to re- our dealings we act impartially, and it teaches us to renounce Judaism by tasting defiling foods.

piety so that we worship the only living God in a way that befits his greatness.

The tyrant Antiochus, sitting in state with his 25 “Therefore we do not eat defiling food, for, believing that the law is divine, we know that the 5 counselors on a certain high place and with his armed soldiers standing around him, 2ordered Creator of the world shows us sympathy by im-his bodyguards to drag in each and every Hebrew posing a law that is in accordance with nature.

26

and to compel them to taste pork and food sacri-

He has permitted us to eat what will prove suit-ficed to idols; 3if any were not willing to eat defilable for our souls, but he has forbidden us to eat al.e. the people bOm = Ra cOr we hold in balance all our inclinations

534

4 makkabees 5-7

the flesh of what will prove contrary to us. 27It

16 But Eleazaros, as though more bitterly would be tyrannical to compel us not only to be abused by this counsel, cried out: 17“Never may I transgress the law but also to eat in such a way that we, the children of Abraam, think so basely that you may deride us for this eating of defiling foods play the coward and feign a role unbecoming to that is most hateful to us. 28But you shall not do so! 18For it would be irrational if, after you have laughed at me, 29nor will I disregard the lived life until old age in accordance with truth, sacred oaths of my ancestors concerning the keeping and maintained, by observing the law, the reputation of the law, 30not even if you gouge out my eyes or cut off my nose. 31I am not so old or so decrepit that I should become a model of impiety little of a man that I am not youthful in reason in for the young so that we should set a precedent for defense of piety. 32So then, get your torture wheels eating defiled food. 20It would be shameful if we ready and fan the fire more vehemently. 33I do not should survive but a little while and during that so pity my old age as to subvert the ancestral law time be a laughingstock to all for our cowardice; by my own act. 34I will not play false to you, O law 21shameful if we were despised by the tyrant as untrained me, nor will I renounce you, beloved manly and did not champion our divine law even self-control. 35I will not put you to shame, philo- unto death. 22So then, O children of Abraam, die sophical reason, nor will I deny you, honored nobly for the sake of piety! 23And you, bodyguards priesthood and knowledge of our law code. 36aO of the tyrant, why do you delay?"

kinga, you shall not defile the honorable mouth of 24 When they saw that he displayed such lofti-my old age nor the maturity of a law-observant life. ness of mind in the face of the tortures and that he 37My fathers will receive me as pure, as one who remained unmoved by their pity, they brought him

does not fear your tortures even unto death. 38You to the fire. 25There they burned him with mali-will tyrannize the impious, but neither by words ciously contrived instruments, threw him down nor through deeds will you master my reasonings and poured stinking liquids into his nostrils.

when piety is at stake."

26When he was now burned to his very bones and about to lose consciousness, he lifted up his eyes

When Eleazaros in this manner had eloquently to God and said, 27"You know, O God, that though

6 countered the exhortations of the tyrant, the itiswithinmypowertosavemyself,ldieinfiery bodyguards who were standing by dragged him vi- tortures for the sake of the law. 28Be merciful to olently to the instruments of torture. 2First they your people, and be satisfied with our punishment stripped the old man, though he remained on their behalf. 29Make my blood their purifica-adorned with the gracefulness that encompasses tion, and take my life in exchange for theirs.”

30

piety. 3Thereupon they tied his hands behind him

After he said this, the holy man died nobly in his

on each side and scourged him with whips, 4while tortures; he stood firm even in tortures unto death, a herald opposite him cried out, “Obey the king’s by virtue of reason, in defense of the law.

commands!” 5But the lofty-minded and noble

31 By common acknowledgement, then, pious man, like a true Eleazaros, as though being tor- reason is master of the passions. 32For if the pastured in a dream, was in no way swayed. 6Yet while sions had overcome reason, lb would have borne he raised his eyes aloft toward heaven, the old man testimony for them of their dominance. 33But now was being torn in his flesh by whips; he was drip- that reason has conquered the passions, we propping with blood and lacerated in his sides. 7Al- erly ascribe to it the power to govern. 34It is right though he fell to the ground because his body for us to acknowledge the strength of reason when could not bear the agonies, he kept his reason up- it prevails even over external agonies; cotherwise it right and unswerving. 8One of the cruel body- would be absurdc. 35I have shown not only that guards leaped on him and kicked him in the side reason has overcome agonies but also that it over-with his foot so that he would get up again after he comes pleasures and in no respect yields to them.

fell. 9But he endured the pains, scorned the torture and persevered through the abuses. 10Like a noble

For like a most skillful pilot, the reason of our athlete, the old man, while being beaten, con- 7 father Eleazaros steered the ship of piety on quered his torturers; 11in fact, as his face was sweat- the sea of the passions, 2and though buffeted by ing and he was gasping heavily for breath, he was the stormings of the tyrant and overwhelmed by admired by his torturers themselves for his coura- the mighty waves of the tortures, 3in no way did it geous spirit.

turn the rudders of piety until it sailed into the 12 Thereupon, partly because they pitied his haven of immortal victory. 4No city besieged by old age, 13partly because they were in sympathy many and diverse war machines has ever held out with him from their acquaintance with him and as did that all-holy man. In his sacred soul he was partly because they were in admiration of his per- set ablaze by abuses and torments, yet he con-severance, some of the king's retinue approached quered his besiegers through dall-shielding reason him and said, 14"Eleazar, why are you irrationally that is rooted ind piety. 5For in setting his mind destroying yourself through these evil devices? firm like a jutting cliff, our father Eleazar broke the 15We will set before you some cooked meat; save madly raging waves of the passions. 6O priest, wor-yourself by pretending to taste pork."

thy of the priesthood, you neither defiled your saaLacking in Gk b we = Ra cGk uncertain dOr reason that shielded his

4 makkabees 7-8

535

cred teeth nor profaned your stomach, which had middle as though they were a chorus, he was room only for godliness and purity, by eating de- pleased with them. Struck by their fine appearance filing foods. 7O man in harmony with the law, and nobility, he smiled at them, summoned them philosopher of divine life! 8Such should be those nearer and said, 5“Young men, with friendly feel-whose office is to serve the law, shielding it with ings I admire each and every one of you. Greatly their own blood and noble sweat in sufferings prizing the handsomeness and the goodly number even unto death. 9You, father, confirmed our loy- of you brothers, so many as you are, I not only ad-alty to the law through the endurance that brought vise you not to display the same madness as that of you glory; the sacred service that you solemnly the old man who has just been tortured but also avowed you did not subvert, and by your deeds encourage you to yield to me and take advantage you corroborated your words of divine philoso- of my friendship. 6Just as I am able to punish phy. 10O aged man, more powerful than tortures, those who disobey my orders, so I can be a bene-O elder, fiercer than fire, O supreme king over pas- factor to those who obey me. 7Trust me, then, and, sions, Eleazar! 11For just as our father Aaron, if you disown the ancestral law of your polity, you armed with the censer, ran through the throng of will receive leading positions in the affairs of my his people and conquered the fiery angel, 12so the state. 8Enjoy your youth by embracing a Greek way descendant of Aaron, Eleazar, though being consumed by the fire, remained unswayed in his re-erwise, if you move me to anger by your disobedience. 13Indeed, what was most amazing was that, once, you will compel me to destroy each and though he was an old man, the sinews of his body every one of you with terrible punishments already loosed, his muscles relaxed, his nerves through tortures. 10Therefore have compassion on exhausted, he became young again

14in spirit

yourselves, you whom even I, your enemy, pity for through reason, and by reason like that of Isaac he your youth and becoming appearance. 11Will you rendered the many-headed rack ineffective. 15O not consider this, that, if you disobey, nothing man of blessed age, venerable gray hair and law-awaits you but to die with torments?"

observant life, whom the faithful seal of death has 12 When he had said these things, he gave orders to set the instruments of torture before them perfected!

so that he might persuade them to eat the defiling spiced tortures

16 If, therefore, through piety an aged man de-even unto death, by common ac- food out of fear. 13But when the bodyguards had knowledge pious reason is governor of the placed before them wheels, joint-dislocators, racks, passions. 17Perhaps some may say, "Not all have hooksa, catapultsb, cauldrons, frying-pans, thumb-full control of their passions, because not all have screws, iron claws, wedges and bellows, the tyrant prudent reason." 18But as many as attend to piety resumed speaking: 14"Be fearful, young fellows; with a whole heart, these alone are able to over- the justice which you revere will be merciful to you come the passions of the flesh, 19since they believe if you transgress the law under duress."

that they do not die to God, even as our patriarchs

15 But when they had heard the inducements

Abraam, Isaak and Iakob did not die to God, but and saw the terrible devices, not only were they not live to God. 20That some appear to be ruled by pas- fearful, but they also countered the tyrant with sion because of the weakness of their reason does their own philosophy and by their good sense not contradict this in any way. 21What person, who overthrew his tyranny. 16Yet let us consider if some lives as a philosopher by the whole rule of philos- among them had been fainthearted and unmanly, ophy and trusts in God 22and knows that it is what sorts of arguments they might have used.

blessed to endure every pain for the sake of virtue, Would they not have been these? 17"How hapless would not gain full control of the passions with we are and too, too foolish! When the king invites the help of godliness? 23For only the wise and us and encourages us to accept kind treatment if courageous are masters of their passions.

we obey him, 18why do we cheer ourselves with vain resolves and venture upon a fatal disobedi-

This is why even the very young, by following ence? 19Men and brothers, shall we not fear the instruments of torture, take account of the threats of 8 a philosophy of reason rooted in piety, have prevailed over even harsher instruments of torture. tortures and flee from this vanity and calamitous 2For when the tyrant was patently defeated in his conceit? 20Let us have compassion on our youth first attempt, being unable to compel an aged man and pity the old age of our mother. 21And let us to eat defiling foods, then in exceedingly violent keep in mind that if we disobey, we shall die. 22Di-passion he gave orders to bring others from the vine justice will make allowance for us if we fear captives of the Hebrews, and if they ate defiling the king under duress. 23Why do we remove our-food, to set them free when they had eaten, but if selves from this most pleasant life and deprive our-they refused, to torture them still more cruelly.

selves of this delightful world? 24Let us not test our

3 When the tyrant had given these orders, seven strength against necessity nor cherish vain opin-brothers—handsome, modest, noble and accom- ions at the cost of our own torment on the rack.

plished in every way—were brought and stood be-

Not even the law itself would readily condemn fore him along with their aged mother. 4When the us to death for fearing the instruments of torture.

26

tyrant saw them surrounding their mother in the

How can it be that such contentiousness has aGk uncertain bAn instrument of torture

536

4 makkabees 8-10

taken hold of us and a fatal obduracy pleases us, wheel further. 20The wheel was stained on all sides when it is within our power to live undisturbed by with blood, the heap of coals was being quenched obeying the king?"

by the drippings of body fluids, and pieces of flesh

27 But the young men, though about to be tor- whirled around the axles of the machine. 21Al-tured, neither said nor considered any of these though he had already had his skeleton severed, things, 28for they were disdainful of the passions the lofty-minded youth, a true son of Abraam, did and absolute rulers over agonies. 29As a result, as not groan, 22but as though transformed in the fire soon as the tyrant ceased advising them to eat de- into immortality, he nobly endured the torments.

filing food, they all with one voice together, as 23"Imitate me, brothers," he said. "Do not desert though with the same soul, said,

your post in my struggle nor renounce the brotherhood of good courage you share with me.

24

" Why do you delay, O tyrant? We are ready to Fight the sacred and noble fight for piety; for its

9 die rather than transgress our ancestral commandments. 2

For we would cause our forebears to come merciful to our nation and take vengeance be ashamed with good reason, if we did not show on the accursed tyrant." 25 When he had said these ready obedience to the law and to Moyses our words, the saintly young man broke off his life.

counselor. 3 Counselor and tyrant of transgression,

26 All marveled at his strength of spirit. Then in your hatred for us do not pity us more than we the bodyguards brought the brother second in age pity ourselves. 4 For we consider harsher than death to him, and, after equipping themselves with iron itself the mercy you offer, which ensures our safety hands with sharp claws, they bound him to the at the price of our transgression of the law. 5 You torture machine and catapult. 27 They inquired, beare trying to intimidate us, threatening us with fore he was tortured, whether he was willing to eat, death by tortures, as though you did not learn and they heard his noble decision. 28 These leap-from Eleazaros a short time ago. 6 But if the old ard-like beasts tore at his sinews with their iron men of the Hebrews acted piously for the sake of hands, ripped all his flesh off up to his chin and piety even while enduring tortures, still more just- the skin off his head. But he steadfastly endured ly should we young men die, despising the tortures this agony and said, 29“How sweet is every form of of your imposition, which the old man our teacher death for the sake of the piety that we have inherited. 7Therefore, tyrant, put us to the test, ited from our ancestors!” To the tyrant he said, 30 and if you take our lives because of piety, do not “Do you not think, tyrant most savage of all, that think that, by torturing, you hurt us. 8For we, you are being tortured more than I, as you see the through this suffering and endurance, shall gain arrogant reasoning of your tyranny defeated by our the prizes accorded virtue and shall be with God, endurance for the sake of piety? 31I relieve my pain for whose sake we suffer, 9but you, because of your with the joys that come from virtue, 32but you suffer bloodthirstiness toward us, will endure ample and fer torture from the threats that hang over impiety.

everlasting torture by fire imposed by divine justice- You will not escape, most abominable tyrant, the tice.”

judgments of divine wrath.”

10 When they had said these things, the tyrant was not only indignant, as at the disobedient, but

When he too had endured a glorious death, also infuriated, as at the ungrateful. 11Thereupon 10 the third was led in and was much urged by his armor-bearers, on receiving their orders, many to save himself by tasting

the meat. 2But he brought forward the oldest of them, tore off his tunic and bound his hands and arms with thongs as well as those who died; the same on either side. 12When they had exhausted themselves, mother bore me, and I was brought up on the same by beating him with scourges, yet accomplished nothing, they hoisted him on the wheel. 5But they, taking the man's boldness bitterly, dislocated his hands and feet with this, his limbs were dislocated. 14Broken in every limb, he began his denunciation: 15"Most abominable tyrant, enemy of heavenly justice, savage, his fingers, arms, legs and elbows. 7Since they were minded, you maltreat me in this way not because I am not able in any way to suppress him, but they have murdered or acted impiously because I have championed the divine law." 16And when the Scythian bodyguards said, "Agree to eat so that you may be brought to the wheel. On it he was disjoined from the tortures," 17he said, "Your wheel at his backbone. He saw his own flesh torn all is not so strong, O abominable henchmen, as to around and drops of blood flowing from his neck-strangle my reason. Maim my limbs, burn my trails. 9When he was about to die, he said, 10"We, flesh, twist my joints; 18through all these tortures I most abominable tyrant, are suffering these things will persuade you that children of the Hebrews because of training and divine virtue. 11But you, alone are invincible in virtue's defense." 19When because of your impiety and bloodthirstiness, he said these things, they spread fire under him, endure unceasing tortures."

and, awhile fanning the flames, tightened the 12 When he, too, had died in a manner worthy aGk uncertain b loosened their instruments of torture = Ra

4 makkabees 10-13

537

of his brothers, they dragged in the fourth, saying, sufferings, a contest in which we have not been de-13“Do not display, you too, the same madness as feated! 21For devout knowledge, O tyrant, is invinyour brothers, but obey the king and save your- cible. 22Armed with nobility of character, I too will self.” 14But he said to them, “You do not have a fire die with my brothers, 23and I too will procure for for me so very hot that I should play the coward. you a great avenger, you inventor of tortures and 15By the blessed death of my brothers, the ever-foe of the truly pious. 24We six lads have over-lasting destruction of the tyrant and the everlasting thrown your tyranny. 25For since you can neither life of the pious, I will not disown our noble broth- sway our reason nor compel us to eat defiling erhood. 16Contrive tortures, tyrant, so that you food, is this not your overthrow? 26Your fire is may learn from them that I am a brother to those frigid to us, the catapults painless, your violence who have just now been tortured.” 17When he unavailing. 27The bodyguards that govern us are heard these words, the bloodthirsty, murderous not those of the tyrant but those of the divine law.

and utterly abominable Antiochus gave orders to That is why we hold our reason undefeated.”

cut off his tongue. 18But he said, “Even if you remove my organ of speech, God hears the silent as

When he too, thrown into a cauldron, had well. 19See, my tongue hangs loose already. Cut it 12 died in blessedness, the seventh and off, for you will not cut off, beyond this, the youngest of all came forward. 2The tyrant, though tongue of our reason. 20Gladly, for the sake of he had been vehemently denounced by his brother-God, we let the limbs of our bodies be cut off. ers, pitied him when he saw the fetters already on 21God will pursue you swiftly, for you are cutting him. He summoned him nearer and tried to advise off a tongue that has been melodious with divine him: 3“ You see the result of your brothers’ stupid-hymns.”

ity; they were tortured on the rack and died for their disobedience. 4You too, if you do not obey,

When he too died, maltreated by the tor-will die, a tortured wretch, before your time. 5But

11 tures, the fifth leaped up, saying, 2“ Tyrant, I if you obey, you will be my friend and will lead in am not about to beg to be excused from torture for the affairs of my kingdom.” 6When he had exhorted the sake of virtue. 3I have come of my own accord ed him with these words, he summoned the boy’s so that, by killing me too, you may incur punish- mother, that he might show mercy to her after she ment from the heavenly justice for more crimes. had been deprived of so many sons and that he 4Hater of virtue, hater of humankind, what have might urge on the remaining son to a ready obedi-

we done that you destroy us in this way? 5Is it that ence that would be his deliverance. 7But when his we show devotion to the Creator of all and live by mother had spurred him on in the Hebrew lan-his virtuous law? 6But these deeds deserve honors, guage, as we shall relate a little later, 8he said, not tortures.” 9While he was saying such things, “Loose me, and let me speak to the king and to all the bodyguards bound him and dragged him to his Friends who are with him.” 9Extremely pleased the catapult. 10They tied him to it on his knees, by the boy’s announcement, they quickly loosed and when they had fitted iron clamps on these, him. 10Running to the nearest of the frying pans, 11 they bent his lower back round the circular wedge.

he said, “Irreverent tyrant, most impious of all

When he was completely curled back round the the wicked, were you not ashamed, when you have wheel in the manner of a scorpion, he was dis- received good things and your kingdom from God, membered. 11In this condition, gasping for breath to kill his attendants and torture on the rack those and suffocating in body, 12he said, “Tyrant, you trained in piety? 12For these deeds, justice will grant us splendid favors against your will, accord- store up for you a fire more fierce and everlasting ing us the opportunity to show our enduring loy- and tortures, which for all time will not release alty to the law through yet more noble sufferings.”

you. 13Though you are a man, most bestial one,

13 When he too had died, the sixth, a mere you were not ashamed to cut out the tongues of boy, was led in. When the tyrant inquired whether those with feelings just like yours, who are made of he was willing to eat and be released, he said, 14“In the same elements, or to maltreat and torture them age I am younger than my brothers, but in mind I in this way. 14Whereas they, by dying nobly, ful-am their peer. 15Since we were born and brought filled their duty of piety toward God, you will up for the same purposes, we ought likewise also grievously lament that you killed without cause to die for the same causes. 16So if you are resolved those champions of virtue.” 15Thereupon, when to torture me for not eating defiling foods, tor- he too was about to die, he said, 16“I will not aban-ture!” 17When he had said these words, they led don the valor of my brothers. 17I call on the God him to the wheel. 18He was stretched tight upon it of my ancestors that he may have mercy on our na-with great diligence; his back was broken, and he tion. 18But on you he will take vengeance both in was roasted from beneath. 19They heated sharp this present life and when you are dead.” 19After spits in the fire and applied them to his back, he had uttered these imprecations, he flung him-pierced his sides and burned his entrails. 20While self into the frying pans and so gave upb.

he was being tortured, he said, “O contest befitting sanctity in which, for the sake of piety, so many of

If, then, the seven brothers disdained suffer-

my brothers have been summoned to a school in 13 ings even unto death, it must be acknowl-

al.e. the youth bl.e. his life

538

4 makkabees 13-14

edged on all sides that pious reason is absolute mas-common zeal for nobility of character intensified ter of the passions. 2For if they had been enslaved by their goodwill toward one another and their onethe passions and had eaten defiling food, we would ness of mind, 26for with their piety they made have said that they were defeated by them. 3Now, brotherly love still dearer to themselves. 27But al-however, that is not the case, but through reason, though nature, companionship and virtuous which is commendable in God's eyes, they over- habits had combined to augment the bonds of powered the passions. 4It is impossible to overlook brotherhood in their eyes, through their piety the mind's supremacy over the passions, for theya those who were left held firm while they saw their prevailed over both passion and pains. 5How, then, brothers maltreated and tortured even unto death.

is it possible not to acknowledge the control of passion by good sense shown by those who gave no

Moreover, they even spurred them on to heed to the agonies caused by fire? 6For just as tow- 14 face the abuse so that they not only dis-ers jutting out over harbors hold back the threats of dained the agonies but also overcame the passions waves and provide calm to those who sail into the of brotherly love.

haven, 7so the seven-towered good sense of the

2 O powers of reason, more royal than kings young men, by fortifying the harbor of piety, con- and freer than the free! 3 O sacred and harmonious quered the unruliness of the passions. 8 For they unanimity of the seven brothers in defense of constituted a holy chorus of piety and encouraged piety! 4 None of the seven youths played the cow-one another, saying, 9 "Brothers, let us die like broth-ard or shrank back from death, 5 but all hastened ers for the sake of the law; let us imitate the three to meet death through the tortures as though run-young men in Assyria who despised the same civic ning on the path to immortality. 6 Just as the hands rights accorded us—in a furnace! 10 Let us not be and feet are moved in harmony at the promptings cowardly in our demonstration of piety." 11 While of the soul, so those holy youths, as though moved one said, "Courage, brother," another said, "Bear up by an immortal soul of piety, advanced in harmo-nobly," 12 and another reminded them, "Remember ny to death for the sake of such piety. 7 All-sacred whence you come and who the father was by whose band of seven, band of brothers in harmony! Just hand Isaak submitted to be slaughtered for the sake as the seven days of creation form a circle round of piety." 13 Each of them and all of them together piety, 8 so the youths in chorus formed a circle looked at one another, beaming and exceedingly round the seven-fold band, negating their fear of bold, and said, "With our whole heart let us conse- the tortures. 9 Now, as we hear of those young crate ourselves to the God who gave us our soulsb, men's affliction, we shudder. For their part, not and let us use our bodies as a bulwark for the law. only did they see and not only did they hear the 14 Let us not fear him who thinks he is killing us, word of immediate threat, but they also suffered

15 for great is the contest of the soul and the peril and endured, and that in pangs of fire. 10What of everlasting torture awaiting those who transgress could be more painful than that? For the power of the commandment of God. 16Let us arm ourselves, fire is sharp and intense, and swiftly it destroyed them, with control of passion rooted in divine rea- their bodies.

son. 17For if we so die, Abraam, Isaak and Iakob will

11 Do not think it remarkable if reason had full receive us, and all our fathers praise us." 18To each control of those men in the midst of the tortures, of the brothers who were being dragged away, those when even the mind of a woman disdained ago-who remained said, "Do not shame us, brother, nor nies still more diverse. 12For the mother of the play false to our brothers who died before us!"

seven young men endured the torments of each

19 You are not ignorant of the bonds of broth- one of her boys.

erhood, which the divine and all-wise Providence

13 Consider how complex is the affection of

has allotted through fathers to their descendants, a mother's love for her children, channeling all implanting them through their mother's womb. her feeling into a sympathy rooted deep within.

20In that womb brothers dwell an equal length of 14Even unreasoning animals show sympathy and time and are shaped for the same time. They grow affection for their offspring like that of human be- from the same blood, and from the same life- ings. 15For among birds, the tame ones that roam spring they are brought to mature birth. 21Born the mountains protect their young on housetops, after an equal time of gestation, they drink milk 16and others, building their nests on mountain from the same fountains by whose embraces peaks, in clefts of ravines, in holes of trees or on minds filled with brotherly love are nourished to- their tops, give birth to their young and fend off gether. 22They grow more robust through common the intruder. 17And if they are unable to fend it off, nurture, daily companionship, other education they help their children to the extent that they are and our discipline in divine law.

able, flying in circles around them and calling to 23 So strong, indeed, is the sympathy of broth- them with their own voice, grieving all the while erly love. Yet the seven brothers felt still greater out of love. 18And why is it necessary to offer proof sympathy toward each other. 24For since they were of sympathy for offspring on the part of unreason-trained in the same law, diligently practiced the ing animals 19when even bees at the time for mak-same virtues and were brought up together in right ing honeycombs defend themselves against intrud-living, they loved each other still more. 25Their ers? They sting, as with an iron dart, those who al.e. the brothers bOr lives

4 makkabees 14-16

539

approach their hive, and they defend it to the point fallen upon corpses, and when you saw the place of death. 20Yet sympathy for her children did not full of people on account of the tortures of your move the young men's mother, one in soul as she children, you did not shed tears. 21Neither the was with Abraam.

songs of sirens nor the voices of swans so draw their hearers to fond listening as the voices of chil-

O reason of the children, tyrant over the dren calling to their mother in their tortures.

22

15 passions! O piety, dearer to the mother Howgreatandhowmanywerethetortureswith than her children! 2When two alternatives lay be- which the mother was then tortured as her sons fore her—that of piety and that of the temporary were themselves being tortured on the wheel and preservation of her seven sons on the terms of the with hot irons! 23But in the midst of these very tyrant's promise—3the mother showed her greater passions, pious reason endued her heart with love for piety that, according to divine promise, manly courage and strengthened her to disregard preserves to everlasting life. 4How can I character- the immediate claims of parental love.

ize the passions involved in the love of parents for 24 Although she witnessed the massacre of her their children? We impress upon the tender nature seven children and the convoluted diversity of of a child a remarkable likeness both of soul and their torments, the noble mother undid the impact of form; especially is this true of mothers, because of all these things through her divine faith. 25It they are more sympathetic in their feelings toward was as though, in the council chamber of her their offspring than fathers. 5For to the extent that mind, the mother saw powerful counselors—na-mothers are of tender spirit and bear more chil- ture, birth, parental love, the torments of her children, so much the more attached are they to their dren—26and held two ballots concerning her chil-children. 6But more than all other mothers, the dren, one bringing death and one deliverance.

27

mother of the seven boys was attached to her chil-

She gave no heed to the deliverance that would dren. Through seven pregnancies she had implant- preserve her seven sons for a short time, 28but, as ed in herself tender love toward them, 7and his daughter, called to mind the perseverance of though, because of the many birth pangs she suf- God-fearing Abraam.

ferred with each of them, she was bound to feel

29 O mother of the nation, vindicator of the sympathy for them, 8because of the fear of God law, champion of piety, prizewinner in the contest she despised the temporary deliverance of her chil- that took place in your heart, 30more noble than dren. 9Not only so, but because of her sons' nobil- males in perseverance, more manly than men in ity of character and their ready obedience to the endurance! 31As the ark of Noe stoutly withstood law, she felt a tender love toward them that was the waves, sustaining the world through the flood still greater. 10For they were just, self-controlled, that filled the world, 32so you, O guardian of the courageous, lofty-spirited, full of brotherly love law, though overwhelmed on all sides by the flood and of such love for their mother that they obeyed of your passions and distressed by the strong her and kept the ordinances even unto death.

winds of the tortures of your sons, nobly endured

11 Nevertheless, though so many factors related the storms that befell you for your piety.

to maternal love drew the mother to sympathy, in the case of none of them were the various tortures

If, then, a woman, aged and the mother of strong enough to sway her reason; 12rather the 16 seven boys, endured seeing the tortures of mother urged each boy individually and all to- her children unto death, by common acknowl-gether on to death for the sake of piety. 13O sacred edgement pious reason is absolute ruler of the pas-nature, parental affection, tender love toward off- sions. 2Thus I have demonstrated that not only spring, nursing and indomitable maternal pas- men overcame their passions, but also a woman sions! 14Yet, though seeing each one tortured on disdained the greatest tortures. 3The lions sur- the rack and burned, the mother, for the sake of rounding Daniel were not so savage, nor was the piety, did not change her course. 15She watched furnace of Misael so ablaze with fiercest fire as the the flesh of her children melt about the fire, their nature of her maternal love inflamed her when she toes and fingers quiver on the ground, the flesh of saw her seven sons tortured in such diverse ways.

their heads as far down as their chins exposed like 4But by the reason that is rooted in piety, the masks.

mother quenched passions so many and so great.

16 O mother, tried now by pains more bitter

5 Consider this also: if the woman, although a than even the birth pangs you suffered for them! mother, had been fainthearted, she would have 17O woman, who alone gave birth to such perfect mourned over them and perhaps spoken as fol-piety! 18Your firstborn breathing his last did not lows: 6“O how wretched I am, thrice unhappy time alter your resolution or your second born looking and again; though I bore seven boys, I have be-at you piteously in his tortures or your third expir- come a mother of none. 7In vain, my seven preg-ing. 19Nor did you weep when you looked at the nancies, useless, my seven periods of gestation, un-eyes of each one as they gazed boldly in their tor- fruitful my nursings, wretched the nourishings at tures at the same abusive treatment or saw in their my breast. 8In vain, my boys, did I endure many nostrils the signs of their approaching death. birth pangs for you and the still more trying anxi-20When you saw the burning flesh of children eties of your upbringing. 9Alas for my boys, some lying upon the flesh of children, severed hands unmarried, others married to no purpose. I shall upon hands, scalped heads upon heads, corpses not see your children or have the happiness of

4 makkabees 16-18

being called grandmother. 10I, a woman with many

7 If it were possible for us to paint the story of and fair children, am a widow, alone, with much your piety as on some surface, would not onlook-to lament. 11Nor when I die will I have any of my ers shudder when they saw the mother of the seven sons to bury me.”

children enduring, for the sake of piety, diverse tor-

12 Yet the holy, God-fearing mother bewailed tures even unto death? 8Indeed, it would be ap-none of them with this lament and neither at- appropriate to inscribe the following words on their tempted to dissuade any of them from dying, nor, tomb itself as a creminder to the people of our na-as they died, did she grieve. 13But as though she tionc:

had a mind of adamanta and was giving the full

9 “Here lie buried an aged priest, an aged complement of her sons a new birth to life im- woman and seven boys, victims of the violence of mortal, she rather implored and urged them on to a tyrant who wished to destroy the polity of the death for the sake of piety. 14O mother, divine sol- Hebrews. 10They vindicated their nation, looking dier in defense of piety, elder, woman! By perse- to God and enduring tortures even unto death.”

verance you have conquered even a tyrant and 11 Truly the contest carried on by them was di-proved stronger in deeds and words than a man. vine, 12for then virtue, testing them for their perse-15For when you had been arrested together with verance, offered rewards. Victory meant incorrupt-your sons, you stood and watched Eleazaros being ibility in long-lasting life. 13Eleazar contended tortured and said to your sons in the Hebrew lan- first; the mother of seven boys entered the fray, and guage, 16“O boys, noble is the contest to which the brothers contended. 14The tyrant was the an- you have been summoned for the testimony you tagonist; the world and human society looked on.

can bear for our nation. Fight zealously in defense 15Godliness won the victory and crowned its own of our ancestral law! 17For it would be shameful if, athletes. 16Who did not marvel at the athletes con-when this old man endures these agonies for the tending for the divine law code? Who were not as-sake of piety, you young men were to be terrified tonished?

by the tortures. 18Remember that it is thanks to 17 The tyrant himself and all his council mar-

God that you have shared in the world and en- veled at their endurance, 18for which they now joyed life. 19Therefore you ought to endure all suf- stand before the divine throne and live the life of fering for the sake of God, 20for whose sake our fa- the blessed age. 19For Moyses says, “All the sancti-ther Abraam made haste to sacrifice his son Isaak, fied ones are under your hands.” 20And these who a father of our nation; nor did Isaak flinch when have been divinely sanctified are honored not only he saw his father’s hand bearing a sword and de- with this honor, but also in that, thanks to them, scending upon him. 21Daniel the righteous was our enemies did not prevail over our nation; 21the thrown to the lions. Hananias, Azarias and Misael tyrant was punished, and the homeland was puri-were hurled into a furnace of fire and, for the sake fied, since they became, as it were, a ransom for the of God, endured. 22Since, then, you have the same sin of the nation. 22And through the blood of faith in God, do not be distressed. 23For it would those pious people and the dpropitiatory of their be unreasonable for those who know piety not to deathd, divine Providence preserved Israel, though withstand sufferings.” before it had been afflicted.

24 By means of these words the mother of the 23 When the tyrant Antiochus saw the courage seven encouraged and persuaded each of her sons of their virtue and their endurance under the tor-to die rather than transgress the commandment of tures, he proclaimed to his soldiers that they were God. 25And this they knew as well: that those who an example for their own endurance. 24He made die for the sake of God, for God now live, as do theme noble and courageous for fighting on foot Abraam, Isaak, Iakob and all the patriarchs.

and for siege and pillaged and conquered all his foes.

17 Some of the bodyguards said that when she was about to be carried off to death,

18 O Israelite children, offspring of the seed

she threw herself into the fire so that no one might of Abraam, obey this law, and act piously touch her body.

in every way, 2knowing that pious reason is master

2 O mother, who with your seven boys subvert- of the passions and of pains, not only of those ed the strength of the tyrant, frustrated his evil de- from within but also of those from without.

signs and showed the nobility of your faith! 3Like

3 Wherefore those who, for the sake of piety, a roof nobly set upon the pillars of your boys, you gave over their bodies to sufferings were not only endured, unmoved, the earthquake of the tortures. admired by human beings but also deemed worthy 4Take courage, then, holy-minded mother, as you of a divine inheritance. 4Thanks to them the na-

keep firm your enduring hope in God. 5The moon tion gained peace; by reviving loyalty to the law in in heaven with the stars is not so awesome as you. the homeland, they pillaged their enemies. 5The After lighting the path to piety for your seven star- tyrant Antiochus was punished on earth, and now like boys, you stand honored before God, firmly that he has died, he continues to undergo chastise-set in heaven with them. 6For your childbearing ment. For when he was in no way whatever able to was from Abraam our father.

compel the Hierosolymites to become allophytes al.e. steel bLacking in Gk cOr memorial to these heroes of our nation dl.e. atonement wrought by their death el.e. his soldiers

4 makkabees 18

541

and change their way of life from their ancestral through fire, the flame shall not consume you.'

customs, he left Hierosolyma and marched against 15He sang for you with words of the psalmist the Persians.

Dauid when he says, 'Many are the afflictions of 6 The mother of the seven boys spoke these the righteous.' 16For you he cited the proverb of Sa-righteous sayings to her children: 7'I was a pure lomon when he says, 'He is a tree of life to those virgin and did not step outside my father's house, who do his will.' 17He affirmed the words of but I kept watch over athe built riba. 8No seducer lezekiel when he says, 'Shall these dry bones live?'

or corrupter on a desert plain corrupted me, nor 18For he did not forget to teach the song that Moy-did the seducer, the snake of deceit, defile the pu- ses taught which says, 19'I will kill, and I will make rity of my virginity. 9At the time of my maturity I alive; this is your life and the length of your
days.' "

remained with my husband; when these sons

20 O bitter was that day—and yet not bitter—came of age, their father died. Blessed was he, for when the bitter tyrant of the Greeks quenched fire he lived a life marked by the blessing of children with fire in his cruel cauldron and with seething and did not suffer the grief of the time of child- rage brought the seven boys of the daughter of lessness. 10While he was still with you, he taught Abraam to the catapult and again to his tortures, you the law and the prophets. 11He read to you of 21pierced the pupils of their eyes, cut off their Habel, who was murdered by Kain, of Isaak, who tongues and killed them with various tortures.

was offered as a whole burnt offering, of Ioseph in 22For these deeds divine justice has pursued and prison. 12He told you of the zealot Phinees; he will pursue the accursed tyrant. 23But the children taught you about Hananias, Azarias and Misael in of Abraam with their prizewinning mother are the fire. 13He praised Daniel in the den of the lions gathered together into the chorus of the fathers and blessed him. 14He reminded you of the scrip- and have received pure and immortal souls from ture of Esaias, which says, 'Even if you should go God, 24to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

al.e. woman

PSALMS

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of the book of Psalms has been based primarily on the edition of Alfred Rahlfs, Psalmi cum Odis (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Litterarum Göttingensis editum X [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1967 (1931)]). Although Rahlfs is not a full-fledged critical edition of the Greek Psalter, it is the best available and as such an appropriate text with which to begin. The present NETS translation has been revised from its first appearance in a separately published fascicle.¹

At not a few places, Rahlfs enclosed within square brackets items of text, which, although they could not in his judgment justifiably be regarded as original, nevertheless have widespread support in the textual traditions. Since in all of these cases I agree with Rahlfs' conclusion, I have taken the next step and have excluded these items from NETS without comment.

Further improvements to Rahlfs' edition have been made in the light of additional textual information (chiefly II-V CE; especially the famous P. Bodmer XXIV [Rahlfs 2110]) and more recent study. All these, however, have been included in the footnotes to NETS. Nevertheless, there remains good reason to emphasize that a liturgical text such as the Psalter, with its long and intensive transmission history, can hardly be expected to have been fully restored as yet to its pristine purity. I have therefore followed Rahlfs' lead and, in addition to changing his text, have placed within square brackets items whose originality I consider to be suspect. These may be eliminated altogether by a future editor more courageous than I or armed with additional evidence.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

There can be no doubt that the NETS paradigm of the Greek as an interlinear translation of the Hebrew is applicable to the book of Psalms. That is to say, the linguistic relationship of the Greek text to the Hebrew text is one of dependence and subservience. Yet within that model it has its own profile. Its translation is literal, if literalness is understood to refer to a high degree of consistency in one-to-one equivalence, including not only so-called content words but structural words as well. Thus literalness might be labeled its central characteristic.

Literalness may, however, be nuanced in several ways. The number of many-to-one Hebrew-Greek equations is relatively high. That is to say, the translator often selected a single Greek word (or root) for several Hebrew counterparts. This feature, semantic leveling, is fully compatible with the interlinear paradigm and for that reason should not be attributed to the translator's lack of literary imagination. Included here are words and concepts that seem to have been his default stock-in-trade. Thus, for example, ἀντιλήμπτωρ ("supporter") and βοηθός ("helper") translate seven Hebrew words each, and their cognates further underscore the translator's predilection for them. Obviously, these readily came to mind when the translator looked for suitable equivalents to the Hebrew. Similarly, Greek words that convey relatedness to the "law" (νόμος) such as "lawlessness" (ἀνομία), "lawless" (ἀνόμος), "to act in a lawless manner" (ἀνόμως), "to transgress the law" (παράνομως), "transgressor of the law" (παράνομος)—are prominent. Or again a concept like "injustice" (ἀδικία + cognates) receives an emphasis in the Greek disproportionate to the Hebrew. As a result, the reader of NETS will read more about God's "supporting" and “helping” of humans, and similarly more about the law as a yardstick for “good,” “evil” and “injustice,” than will the reader of NRSV.

Not surprisingly perhaps the number of one-to-many Hebrew-Greek equations is relatively low. In such cases a single Hebrew word or root is translated by at least two or more Greek words. Some exam-1 Albert Pietersma, ed., A New English Translation of the Septuagint: The Psalms (New York: Oxford University Press, 2000).

to the reader of psalms

543

ples of such differentiation are “good” (bw+) rendered by “good” (a0gaqo/j) and “kind” (xrhsto/j), and

“servant/slave” (db()) translated most often by “slave” (dou=loj) but on a few occasions by “child/ servant/slave” (pai=j). As might be expected, such differentiation of meaning happens with greater frequency on the verbal (more abstract) side of the language than on the nominal (more concrete) side. Hebrew

“to turn” (bw#), for instance, is rendered by twelve different Greek verbs. Nonetheless, though a measure of differentiation occurs, it is typically rather restricted. Thus, in the example just cited, e0pi- and a0po-stre/fw account for nearly two-thirds of all instances. Again, this phenomenon of limited and restricted differentiation or an overemphasis on word-centered meaning may be said to be at home in an interlinear linguistic environment.

The above does not preclude that leveling, and especially differentiation, cannot at times serve purely stylistic purposes, but given the general nature of the Greek translation of Psalms, leveling and differentiation are usually the better explanation.

An interesting example, which could be differentiation for purely stylistic reasons, is the equation of Hebrew “to answer” (hn()) with Greek “to listen to” (e0pakou/w or ei0sakou/w), when God is the subject.

Though it is not difficult to discern something of a semantic shift from Hebrew to Greek, it is not certain that one should make a distinction in meaning between the two Greek words. Interestingly, ei0sakou/w also translates Hebrew “to hear” ((m#), though e0pakou/w does not. Thus, in part at least, here too a difference in the Greek echoes a difference in the Hebrew, and to that extent it is still expressive of literalness. For NETS I have opted for the synonyms “to listen” (ei0sakou/w) and “to hearken” (e0pakou/w) respectively.

Other aspects of literalness—or better isomorphism—at both the lexical and grammatical levels add further flavor to the Greek of Psalms. As noted, expressive of the interlinear model, our translator had a strong tendency to overemphasize the importance of individual words and formal details of the Hebrew, at the expense of communicating its coherent meaning. For example, in a number of passages he mechanically transferred the Hebrew gender of a pronominal, thereby presenting an exegetical challenge to anyone reading the text independent of the Hebrew: 26.3-4; 73.18; 80.6; 108.27; 117.23; 118.50, 56; 131.6. (I have flagged such instances in the notes.) Indeed, the Greek translator’s starting point was at times almost directly opposite to that advocated by modern semanticists. Not infrequently, he began with the individual word and its supposed core meaning rather than with meaning as it is conveyed by the in-terrelationship of words in syntactic units. Differently put, one could say that he tends to maximize the individual word and to minimize the context in which it stands, rather than vice-versa.

Though at times the translator might be charged with throwing at his reader the Hebrew text in Greek guise, to call him a hack would be unfair. Instead, as has been suggested, his translating is heavily circumscribed by linguistic interlinearity, which informs his task. Indeed, from that perspective it clearly makes little sense to charge him with inadequate knowledge of Greek and lack of stylistic sensitivity. Even in the superscripts where no context comes to his assistance, he at times introduces an interpretive spin.

One may note, for example, that although lyk#m (a type of song) is rather mechanically glossed by “understanding” (su/nesij), usually the latter is interpretively put into the genitive case (31.1; 51.1; 52.1; 53.1; 54.1; 73.1; 77.1; 87.1; 88.1), with the result that the entire psalm in question might now be read as having to do with “understanding.” Yet, other such interpretive spins in the titles seem less transparent.

When, for example, an individual composition is labeled both a psalm and song (in line with the parent text), he usually makes one an attributive of the other. So in Ps 29.1; 47.1; 66.1; 67.1; 74.1; 86.1; 91.1 we have “a psalm of a song” (yalmo\j w\|dh=j) and in 65.1; 82.1; 87.1; 107.1 “a song of a psalm” (w\|dh\ yal-mou=). Since yalmo/j refers in the first instance to instrumental music and w\|dh/ to vocal music, it is not impossible, as has been suggested ad loc., that he had in mind the relative predominance of these two aspects. But what of “praise-song of a song”(?) (ai]noj w\|dh=j) in 90.1; 92.1; 94.1, since both terms seem to have a vocal reference? Thus, it is clear that the translator often puts the form of the text above its meaning. Admittedly, he is kinder to his readers in the acrostic Ps 118, when he not only gives the names of the letters of the Hebrew alphabet, which mark the beginning of each alphabetic strophe, but also supplies a standard Greek numerical equivalent.

Understandably, it is especially idiomatic and figurative language that tends to suffer severely at the hands of a heavily word-based, interlinear mode of translation. When in 34(35).3 “to empty out the spear” (tynx qrh) is translated by “to pour out the sword”—and a big sword at that!— (e1kxeon r9omfai/an) we have decidedly unidiomatic Greek.

NRSV translates idiomatically “draw the spear” and the Greek translator might have done likewise but did not.

To be sure, a modern translator, in the nature of the case, tends to overemphasize what is problematic about the work of an ancient translator and underemphasize what causes no problems. In spite of the

to the reader of Psalms

translation model he used, most of what the Greek translator of Psalms did is intelligible—and that includes many passages in which the Hebrew text is less than clear—if not idiomatic. He will even at times introduce difference—where the Hebrew text is identical—perhaps for the sake of variation in style, though that is not the only available explanation. An instructive example is Ps 59.7-14 in comparison with Ps 107.7-14.

Indeed, one can even find some literary sparks, the exceptions that prove the rule of his regular mode.

So at 48(49).3 where the Hebrew text speaks of “(sons of) man” (Md) ynb) and “(sons of) men” (#y) ynb), the translator, rather than resorting to his standard equivalents, decided to render the first phrase by “earthborn” (ghgenei=j) (a word virtually unknown in the Septuagint) and neatly balanced the pair by a “both . . . and” conjunctive. In 10(11).2 the phrase “to shoot in the dark (lp)) at the upright in heart” becomes “to shoot in a moonless night (skotomh/nh) at the upright in heart,” thus employing a pictur-esque word rare in Greek and unattested elsewhere in the Septuagint corpus. Or again, in 26(27).9 Hebrew “to forsake” (#+n), elsewhere rendered simply as “to reject” (a0pwqe/w), is translated by the rare and graphic verb “to throw to the crows” (a0poskoraki/zw), glossed in NETS by “to damn.” Ps 109.3 features “morning-star” (e9wsfo/roj) for Hebrew “morning” (rx#) rather than the less colorful “morning”

(o1rqroj) he uses elsewhere. Such literary nuggets are admittedly not many, and one would scarcely expect them in a text whose evident purpose it is to point the reader away from itself, but they do exist, and they do add a dimension to our translator's work. Yet, when all is said and done, it is the Psalter's literalness or isomorphism that establishes a baseline for translator and exegete alike.

Of Stereotypes, Calques and Isolates

The vast majority of words in the Psalms have standard Greek meanings, and that includes the so-called stereotypes, which, due to rigid equation with a single Hebrew counterpart, sometimes fit poorly into their context. Among these may be counted pikrai/nw ("to embitter") + cognates, qe/lw ("to want")

+ cognates, ei0j te/loj ("completely"), ste/ar ("fat" in a context where "prosperity" is needed), nefro/j ("kidney" in reference to the seat of the emotions), yalmo/j ("psalm"), ei0rh/nh ("peace" in reference to a person's well-being).

Calques (Greek words with Hebrew meaning, institutionalized prior to the translation) can be found in Psalms as well. The clearest example is diaqh/kh, a word that probably began its life in Jewish usage as a stereotype but that in the Psalter is clearly a calque and therefore appropriately translated by "covenant"

(the stock meaning of Hebrew tyrb, rather than the "testament" of extra-biblical Greek). It is also possible that no/moj ("law") carries the added sense of "teaching," derived from hrt, its standard Hebrew counterpart but more likely represents a semantic shift of hrt by the third century BCE.

The Greek translator's overemphasis on individual words and his preoccupation with the lower levels of constituent structure are most clearly noticeable in his isolate renderings. Typically, in such cases, etymology of the Hebrew word plays a central role. By way of illustration, in Ps 7.7 Hebrew hrb ("overflow/arrogance/fury") is translated via rb (= pe/ran ("across")) by pe/raj ("end")—a word representing entirely different Hebrew lexemes elsewhere in Psalms—and the Greek line as a whole must mean something like: "be exalted at the deaths of my enemies." A glance at Ps 38.4 confirms that pe/raj within the Psalter can indeed refer to the terminus of human life. Or does the line mean what Thomson thought it did: "Exalt Thyself in the borders of mine enemies"? Whatever the case, as a result of the translator's adherence to interlinearity his text, on the one hand, means something quite different from MT and, on the other, is scarcely intelligible in Greek.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF PSALMS

General Approach

But if the Greek translator's approach to his Hebrew text was all too often indeed what I have alleged it to be, namely, an isomorphic approach with a primary focus on representing the source text, not infrequently at the expense of coherent sense, what are the options of a NETS translator to render this "interlinear" Greek into English? Clearly as long as words are fully concordant with their context and the grammar is at least transparent, NETS can be expected to read relatively smoothly.

Though I have eschewed any rigid policy of one-to-one Greek-English equation, a reasonable effort has been made to reproduce word echoes in the Greek, which may or may not reflect echoes in the Hebrew.

In passing it deserves to be mentioned that this effort has not infrequently meant that the reading of the NRSV has been replaced by a synonym in NETS.

By "reasonable effort" it should be understood that the more circumscribed a word's meaning the better it lends itself to representation by a single English equivalent. Not surprisingly, therefore, there are to the reader of psalms

545

many Greek terms, especially on the nominal (more concrete) side of the language, that have been given a single (or at least a default) English equivalent. Thus a word such as $\alpha\lambda\iota\sigma$ ("mountain") has been rendered throughout by "mountain," even when NRSV, for literary reasons, had opted for "hill" to translate the identical Hebrew word (rh). Similarly, $\alpha\sigma\mu\alpha\tau\omega\lambda\omicron\iota\varsigma$ (+ cognates), the standard equivalent for both $\alpha\sigma\mu\alpha\tau\omega\lambda\omicron\iota\varsigma$ and $\alpha\sigma\mu\alpha\tau\omega\lambda\omicron\iota\varsigma$, has been uniformly rendered "sinner." Countless others have been treated in the same way.

When I have judged that the Greek translator differentiates vis-à-vis the Hebrew for semantic reasons, I have typically differentiated in NETS.

The highest level of one-to-one Greek-English consistency in Psalms will be observable within individual psalms.

Perhaps the lowest level of one-to-one consistency has been feasible with respect to relational words, notably prepositions, including phrases that function as prepositions. The obvious reason for this is that such words play a primarily structural role and as such carry little fixed meaning. (See further below.) I have already touched on the problem of idiomatic and figurative language. Although in a replacement type of translation idioms and figurative expressions in the source language are typically lost in the process, others are often gained from the target language, thus producing a kind of equilibrium of loss and gain. In Septuagint translationese, however, one would hardly expect that to be the case, and especially in a poetic book such as Psalms we see a decidedly unilateral process. In fact, because of its highly literal approach, what is figurative in Hebrew frequently becomes an oddity in Greek. For example, although Hebrew hlyk (“kidney”) often figuratively refers to human emotions, nefro/j in Greek means only “kidney.” Therefore any figurative sense is imposed by the (translated) context. Because NETS has opted for a representative translation style, what is unidiomatic and nonfigurative in the Greek will often be the same in English.

Selected Words and Phrases

The so-called superscriptions or titles to individual psalms cause a disproportionate grief to a translator, modern and ancient alike. The reason for this, in addition to frequent lexical obscurity, is that the words and expressions used are typically without context. Since there is reason to believe that the superscriptions grew in a piecemeal, atomistic fashion, I have treated them in NETS in an atomistic fashion even beyond the NRSV. The reader who is troubled by this may simply ignore the punctuation between discrete items and string them together.

The Greek translator's word-based approach is as evident in the superscriptions as everywhere else. Yet within those parameters there is some evidence of differentiation, some of which has already been noted.

Thus, for example, one encounters both nominatives and genitives without explicit warrant in the Hebrew, and datives as well as ei0j + accusative constructions reflecting Hebrew I +. All in all, whether as a result of differentiation or one-to-one equation with the Hebrew, there is a variety of words/phrases that may be labeled "expressions of general reference." That is to say, they indicate without much specificity (partly due to lack of context) that x has something to do with y. Where the Greek differs in detail I have followed suit in NETS.

One of these "expressions of general reference" is tw~| Dau(dtw~| 0 Asae/ft al.). Since the Greek translator clearly did not assign authorship per se to such Psalms, I have opted for the reasonably neutral phrase "Pertaining to David" (et al.), since it allows for a range of perceived connections with the person(s) in question.

NRSV's "Psalm" has for reasons of tradition been retained in the superscriptions. It is by no means certain, however, that Greek yalmo/j ("psalm"), at the time of the Greek translator, was already a technical term. As noted earlier, I have regarded it as stereotype, which means that it still had its chiefly instrumental rather than vocal sense and as such referred in the first instance to a tune being played on a stringed instrument (harp or lyre), which was then plucked (ya/l w) with the fingers rather than struck with a plectrum. Along the same lines, dia/yalma, which consistently renders Hebrew hls ("Selah"), a word of uncertain meaning, has been interpreted to mean not simply an interlude but an interlude on strings and rendered accordingly in NETS. Evidently in recognition of the fact that it indicated a pause in the musical proceedings, the Greek translator did not represent "Selah" when it stood at the close of a psalm (3.9; 23.10; 45.12).

Another frequent item in the titles is w|)dh/, the regular translation of ry# ("song"). Though "song"

would have been defensible for NETS, I have opted, with some hesitation, for "Ode" instead. To be sure, w|)dh/ is the standard equivalent of ry# (36 x) and may be a calque, since it already occurs in the Greek Pentateuch as an equivalent for ry#; on five occasions within Psalms (32.3; 39.4; 95.1; 97.1; 149.1) the translator opted for ayasma (“song”). This may suggest that he meant to differentiate the two. The presence of kaino/n (“new”) with all five instances of ayasma may further indicate that an widh/ was thought of as being more of a traditional song in distinction from a new and ad hoc composition. But the latter point can clearly not be pressed in light of widh\ n kainh/n (“new ode”) in 143.9. Consequently, whatever the precise difference in the Greek, I have sought to mirror a difference in NETS by translating the terms as “Ode” and “song” respectively.

to the reader of Psalms

Since the Greek Psalter provides no evidence that the translator made any serious attempt at distinguishing between the divine names why (“Yahweh,” including the short form “Yah”) and ynd (“Adonai”), I have in accordance with NETS policy rendered all occurrences of ku/rioj, when representing either, by “Lord.”

Hades, one of very few translations into Greek, which has not been translated into English, is probably a calque. If that is correct, to translate it simply by English “hell” would seem to be as inappropriate as rendering its Hebrew counterpart, Sheol, by that term.

There is reason to believe that the translator’s chief reason for using skh/nwma, and by extension kataskhno/w, is to reserve skhn/h for the Tabernacle, in line with Pentateuchal usage. Consequently, it appears unlikely that skh/nwma + is meant to carry any special nuance, apart from its general sense of non-permanence. In Psalms (and elsewhere in NETS), therefore, the noun has been rendered by “covert,” and the verb by “encamp,” in distinction from “tent” for sknh/.

Greek $\delta\omicron\upsilon=\lambda\omicron\upsilon\eta$ in Psalms has been rendered, with some hesitation, by “slave.” The hesitation stems purely from the connotation “slave” carries in modern English. The Greek Pentateuch translated Hebrew $\delta\beta(\text{ “servant”/“slave”})$ almost exclusively by Greek $\rho\alpha\iota=\eta$, a word with a very similar semantic range.

Leuitikon 25.44 and 26.13, where $\delta\omicron\upsilon=\lambda\omicron\upsilon\eta$ is found instead, confirm the difference between the two Greek terms. The translator of Psalms chose almost exclusively $\delta\omicron\upsilon=\lambda\omicron\upsilon\eta$ (“slave”) (53 x) with only four occurrences of $\rho\alpha\iota=\eta$. Esaias and Jeremias present a mix with Iezekiel inclining toward $\delta\omicron\upsilon=\lambda\omicron\upsilon\eta$ and the Minor Prophets completely in the latter camp. There is no evidence for arguing that $\delta\omicron\upsilon=\lambda\omicron\upsilon\eta$ in Psalms is a calque.

Since $\alpha\theta\eta\alpha\beta\alpha\eta\mu\omicron/\eta$ has no prior history within the LXX in the sense of “ascents,” it can scarcely be called a calque (if indeed its Hebrew counterpart has that meaning²). Since both inside and outside the LXX, the word is used only in the sense of steps (of a stairway), it evidently carries its normal semantic range.

What we seem to have, therefore, is a stereotype, which arose because the translator insisted on the equation $\eta\lambda(\text{ - } \alpha\theta\eta\alpha\beta\alpha\eta/\eta\omega > \tau\omega\lambda(\eta\eta\text{ - } \alpha\theta\eta\alpha\beta\alpha\eta\mu\omicron/\eta)$. Why he did not choose $\alpha\theta\eta\alpha\beta\alpha\eta/\eta$ instead—which occurs in 83.6, but for a different Hebrew root—may be surprising but suggests in any case that he was not thinking of “ascending/ascension” as such. Accordingly, NETS readers will read of Songs of the Steps rather than Songs of Ascents. Of interest is that according to Jewish exegetical tradition these psalms were recited by the Levites on the fifteen steps leading from the court of the men to that of the women in the temple.³

Some Problems of Grammar

Since the Psalms are poetic literature and furthermore typically do not tell a story with a timeline of its own, the Hebrew verbal categories of tense-aspect presented something of a problem to the Greek translator. Quite clearly he ended up by working with a set of default or unmarked equations. Thus Hebrew yiqtol forms are normally translated by the Greek future indicative, the qatal by the aorist indicative, and the participle often by the present indicative. It should be noted, however, that participles are also often translated by participles, even though that may produce either strained syntax in the Greek or an obvious change in syntax.

Though he had his default equivalents, apparent awareness of contextual sense brought about some flexibility. Nevertheless, the defaults produced a certain stiltedness and abruptness in the use and sequence of Greek tenses. In an effort to communicate at least some of this quality to the reader of NETS, I have typically rendered all Greek aorists by the English simple past, even when the NRSV has used the present perfect—which is not to say that the Greek aorist and the English simple past are linguistically identical.

A second grammatical item that occasioned some discomfort is the preposition. The primary function of prepositions is grammatical; that is to say, prepositions forge relationships between constituents of 2 See J. Day, Psalms (Old Testament Guides; Sheffield: Sheffield Academic Press, 1992) 61–62.

3 Adolf Neubauer, “The Authorship and the Titles of the Psalms according to Early Jewish Authorities,” SBE 2

(1890) 1–57.

to the reader of psalms

547

sentences. Nonetheless, like full words or lexemes but unlike lexically empty structural markers such as case endings, prepositions have some lexical content. They may appropriately be referred to as (semantically) bleached words or lexemes in distinction from (semantically) full words or lexemes. Once this is realized, it comes as no surprise that when prepositions are treated as though they were full lexemes with a set meaning, idiomatic usage tends to go out the window (cf. the earlier note on idiomatic language).

Yet this is precisely what often happens in the Greek Psalms due to the fact that its translator often read the Hebrew text in an atomistic manner. The result is that each Hebrew preposition was typically given a default equivalent in Greek, and this default tended to be used irrespective of whether it produced idiomatic Greek. Since the issue here is frequently one of infelicity in Greek style (which is difficult to mimic in English) rather than change in meaning from the Hebrew, such instances have been largely ignored for the purposes of NETS, lest one produce senseless English! The rule of thumb has been to ignore all instances of default equations between Hebrew and Greek but to take seriously instances of non-default equations, the assumption being that when the translator deviated from his routine he did so for a reason.

Greek kai/ (“and”), the standard equivalent of Hebrew w (“and”), has been rendered routinely by “and,”

even where the NRSV suppresses Hebrew w.

Since Greek Psalms often lacks articles when they are not explicitly warranted by the source text, such absence has been taken seriously in NETS.

EDITORIAL DETAIL

Punctuation in Rahlfs' edition of the Greek Psalter has been treated with respect but not regarded as normative.

Unlike "Selah" in the NRSV, its equivalent in NETS, "interlude on strings," is consistently followed by an empty line on the grounds that any interlude signals a pause.

In their division of materials the Masoretic and the Greek Psalters do not completely agree. Since MT

Psalms 9 and 10 are a single psalm in the Greek (9) and Greek Psalm 113 is two psalms in MT (114, 115), between these points the numeration of LXX is up by one from MT. Further, since LXX Psalms 114 and 115 equal MT 116.1-9 and 116.10-19 respectively, and MT 147.1-11 and 12-20 constitute LXX 146 and 147, between these points we have an identical number of Psalms, though their enumeration varies by one. Versification in MT, LXX and NRSV is potentially more confusing. While MT and LXX coincide, the NRSV excludes the psalm titles from the numbering and as a result is out of step with both MT and LXX.

NETS follows the Rahlfs numbering for chapters and verses but gives the NRSV numbers in parentheses.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Apart from standard grammars and lexica, I have benefited from other English translations of the Greek Psalter such as those of Brenton (1844) and Thomson (1808) (see “TO THE READER OF NETS”), but particularly from the more recent renditions by A. Lazarus, The Holy Psalter from the Septuagint (Madras: Diocesan Press, 1966), by the Fathers of the Holy Transfiguration Monastery, The Psalter according to the Seventy (Boston, 1987), and by José M. de Vinck and Leonidas C. Contos, The Psalms Translated from the Greek Septuagint (Allendale NJ: Alleluia Press, 1993). A copy of the The Psalter acc. to the Seventy was kindly sent to me by Father Basil. It should be borne in mind, however, that the aim of NETS has been distinctly different from any of these. Among the more exegetical treatments, Martin Flashar’s “Exegetische Studien zum Septuagintapsalter” (ZAW 32 [1912] 81-116, 161-198, 241-268) has been invaluable, as has been F. W. Mozley, The Psalter of the Church (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1905).

My graduate students in Septuagint at the University of Toronto, Cameron Boyd-Taylor, Paul McLean, Tony Michael, Marc Saunders, Tyler Williams, Jannes Smith and Wade White have been of great help. A special debt of gratitude I owe, however, to Cameron for his incisive and persistent critique, which has immeasurably improved the final product.

ALBERT PIETERSMA

548

psalms 1-4

BOOK I

10

And now, O kings, be sensible; be instructed, all you who judge the (Psalms 1-40[41])

earth.

11

Be subject to the Lord with fear,

Psalm 1

and rejoice in him with trembling.

12

Seize upon instruction, lest the Lord be 1

Happy the man

angry,

who did not walk by the counsel of the

and you will perish from the righteous

impious,

way,

and in the way of sinners did not stand,

when his anger quickly blazes out.

and on the seat of pestiferous people did not sit down.

Happy are all who trust in him.

2

Rather, his will is in the law of the Lord, and on his law he will meditate day and night.

Psalm 3

3

And he will be like the tree

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Daud. When he was that was planted by the channels of running away from his son Abessalom.

waters,

which will yield its fruit in its season,

2(1) O Lord, why did those who afflict me and its leaf will not fall off.

multiply?

And in all that hea does, hea will prosper.

Many are rising against me;

3(2) many are saying to me,

4

Not so the impious, not so!

“There is no deliverance for him in his

Rather, they are like the dust that the wind flings from off the land.

God.”

Interlude on strings

5

Therefore the impious will not rise up in
judgment,

4(3) But you, O Lord, you are my supporter, nor sinners in the council of the my glory, and one who lifts up my
righteous,
head.

6

because the Lord knows the way of the 5(4) With my voice I cried to the Lord,
righteous,
and he hearkened to me from his holy
and the way of the impious will perish.
mountain.

Interlude on strings

Psalm 2

6(5) I lay down and slept;

1

Why did nations grow insolent,

I woke again, because the Lord will and peoples contemplate vain things?

support me.

2

The kings of the earth stood side by side,

7(6) I shall not be afraid of ten thousands of

and the rulers gathered together,

people

against the Lord and against his anointed, who are setting themselves against me all

Interlude on strings

around.

3

“Let us burst their bonds asunder

8(7) Rise up, O Lord!

and cast their yoke from us.”

Save me, O my God,

because you are the one who struck all who 4

He who resides in the heavens will laugh at

are hostile to me for nothing;

them,

the teeth of sinners you shattered.

and the Lord will mock them.

5

Then he will speak to them in his wrath,

9(8) Deliverance is the Lord’s, and in his anger he will trouble them.

and may your blessing be on your 6

“But I was established king by him,

people!

on Sion, his holy mountain,

7

by proclaiming the Lord’s ordinance:

Psalm 4

The Lord said to me, ‘My son you are;

today I have begotten you.

1

Regarding completion. Among psalms. An Ode.

8

Ask of me, and I will give you nations as

Pertaining to David.

your heritage,

and as your possession the ends of the

2(1) When I would call, the God of my

earth.

righteousness listened to me.

9

You shall shepherd them with an iron rod,

In affliction you gave me room.

and like a potter's vessel you will shatter

Have compassion on me, and listen to

them.' "

my prayer.

aOr it

psalms 4-6

549

3(2) You sons of men, how long will you be dull-

for the sake of my enemies;

witteda?

make straight your way before me.

Why do you love vanity and seek after falsehood?

10(9) Because there is no truth in their mouths,

Interlude on strings

their heart is vain;

their throat is an opened grave;

4(3) And know that the Lord made marvelous with their tongues they would practice his devout one;

deceit.

the Lord will listen to me when I cry to 11(10) Judge them, O God;

him.

let them fall by their own schemes;

in accordance with their many impieties cast

5(4) Be angry, and do not sin;

them out,

speak in your hearts,

because they embittered you, O Lord.

and on your beds be prickedb.

Interlude on strings

12(11) And let all who hope in you be glad;
forever they will rejoice,

6(5) Sacrifice a sacrifice of righteousness, and you will encamp among them,
and hope in the Lord.

and thosef who love your name will boast
in you,

7(6)

13(12)

Many are saying, “Who will show us good because you will bless the righteous;
things?

O Lord, you crowned us as with a shield
The light of your face was cmade a signc of favor.

upon us, O Lord!”

8(7) You gave gladness in my heart;

Psalm 6

fromd their season of grain and wine and oil they multiplied.

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns. Over the eighth. A Psalm. Pertaining to Daud.

9(8) In peace altogether, I will lie down and sleep,

2(1) O Lord, do not rebuke me in your anger, because you alone, O Lord, settled me in nor discipline me in your wrath.

hope.

3(2) Have mercy on me, O Lord, because I am weak;

Psalm 5

heal me, O Lord, because my bones were troubled.

1

Regarding completion. Over her that inherits. A 4(3) And my soul also was troubled very much, Psalm. Pertaining to Daud.

and you, O Lord—how long?

2(1) To my words give ear, O Lord;

5(4) Turn, O Lord; rescue my soul;

take note of my cry.

save me for the sake of your mercy,

3(2) Pay attention to the voice of my petition,

6(5) because in death there is no one who makes

my King and my God,

mention of you,

because to you I will pray, (3)O Lord.

and in Hades who will acknowledge 4

In the morning you will listen to my voice;

you?

in the morning I will present myself to you and will look on,

7(6) I was weary with my moaning;

5(4) because you are not a god who wants every night I will bathe my bed;

lawlessness;

with my tears I will drench my couch.

onee who does evil will not sojourn with 8(7) My eye was troubled due to anger;

you.

I grew old among all my enemies.

6(5) Lawbreakers will not endure before your

eyes;

9(8) Keep away from me, all you who practice you hated all who practice lawlessness.

lawlessness,

7(6) You will destroy all those who speak the lie;

because the Lord listened to the voice of a bloodthirsty and deceitful man the Lord my weeping.

abhors.

10(9) The Lord listened to my petition;

the Lord accepted my prayer.

8(7) But I, through the abundance of your mercy,

11(10) May all my enemies be ashamed and be very

I will enter into your house;

much troubled;

I will do obeisance toward your holy shrine

may they be turned back and, in a in awe of you.

moment, be very much put to 9(8) O Lord, guide me in your righteousness

shame.

aOr heavy-hearted bPossibly stunned into silence or feel compunction cPossibly stamped dOr as a result of ePr and = Ra fPr all = Ra

550

psalms 7-9(-10)

18(17)

Psalm 7

I will give to the Lord the acknowledgment

due to his righteousness

1

A Psalm pertaining to Daud, which he sang to
and make music to the name of the Lord, the Lord over the words of Chousi son of the Most High.

lemeri.

Psalm 8

2(1) O Lord my God, in you I hoped;
save me from all my pursuers, and 1

Regarding completion. Over the wine vats. A rescue me,

Psalm. Pertaining to Daud.

3(2) lest he like a lion seize my soul, with no one to redeem or save.

2(1) O Lord, our Lord,

how admirable is your name in all the

4(3) O Lord my God, if I did this,

earth,

if there is injustice in my hands,

because your magnificence was raised

5(4) if I repaid those who repaid me with evil, beyond the heavens.

then may I fall away empty from my
enemies;

3(2) Out of mouths of infants and nurslings

6(5) may the enemy pursue and overtake my you furnished praise for yourself,

soul

for the sake of your enemies, and trample my life to the ground to put down enemy and avenger, and make my glory encamp in the dust.

4(3) because I will observe the heavens, works of

Interlude on strings

your fingers—

moon and stars—things you alone

7(6) Rise up, O Lord, in your wrath;

founded.

be exalted at the death of my

5(4) What is man that you are mindful of him

enemies,

or son of man that you attend to him?

and awake, O my God, with the ordinance you commanded.

6(5) You diminished him a little in comparison

8(7) And a congregation of people will surround with angels;

you,

with glory and honor you crowned and above this return on high!

him.

9(8) The Lord will judge peoples;

7(6) And you set him over the works of your gdo me justiceg, O Lord, according to my hands;

righteousness

you subjected all under his feet, and according to the innocence in me.

8(7) sheep and cattle, all togetherd, and further the beasts of the plain,

10(9) Do let evil of sinners be brought to an end,

9(8)

the birds of the air and the fish of the sea and you shall direct the righteous.

—the things that pass through paths of God is one who tests hearts and kidneysh.

seas.

11(10) Righteous is my help from God,

he who saves the upright in heart.

10(9) O Lord, our Lord, how admirable is your 12(11) God is a righteous judge, i[and strong and name in all the earth!

patient]i,

one who does not bring on wrath every

Psalm 9(-10)

day.

1

Regarding completion. Over the secrets of the 13(12) If you do not turn back, he will make his son. A Psalm. Pertaining to Daudid.

sword gleam;

his bow he bent and prepared it,

2(1) I will acknowledge you, O Lord, with my 14(13)and on it he prepared implements of death;

whole heart;

he forged his arrows jfor those that are

I will tell of all your wonderful deeds.

being burntj.

3(2) I will be glad and will rejoice in you;

15(14)Look, he was in travail with injustice;

I will make music to your name, O Most

he conceived toil

High.

and brought forth lawlessness.

16(15)A pit he dug and cleaned it out,

4(3) When my enemy turns back, rearwards, and he shall fall into the hole he made.

they shall grow weak and shall perish

17(16)His toil shall return upon his own head, from before you,

and on his own pate his injustice shall

5(4) because you maintained my right and my descend.

cause;

aPossibly be totally ineffective against bPr then = Ra cPerhaps in the boundaries dOm = Ra ePr Lord = Ra fPossibly on behalf of g judge me = Ra hI.e. emotions iWithout [] = Ra jOr against those that are being set on fire kOr tale or saying psalm 9(-10)

551

you sat on a throne, you who judge with let nations know that they are human

righteousness.

beings.

Interlude on strings

6(5) You rebuked nations, and the impious perished;

22(1) Why, O Lord, do you stand far off—their name you blotted out forever and do you overlook at opportune times in forever and ever.

affliction?

7(6) The swords of the enemy failed completely,

23(2) When the impious behaves arrogantly, the
and cities you destroyed;

poor is set on fire;

the memory of them perished they are being caught in the schemes they resoundingly.

devise,

24(3) because the sinner commends himself for

8(7) And the Lord remains forever;

the lusts of his soul,

he prepared his throne in judgmenta.

and he who acts unjustly counts himself

9(8) And it is he who will judge the world with blessed.

righteousness;

25(4) The sinner provoked the Lord,

he will judge peoples with uprightness.

“According to the full extent of his wrath he will not seek out.”

10(9) And the Lord became a refuge for the God is not before him.

needy,

a helper at opportune times in affliction.

26(5) His ways are being defiled at every

11(10) And let those who know your name hope in opportunity;

you,

your judgments are being erased from because you did not forsake those who

before him;

seek you, O Lord.

over all his enemies he will exercise

12(11) Make music to the Lord, who resides in dominion.

Sion.

27(6) For he said in his heart, "I shall not be Declare his practices among the shaken,

nations,

from generation to generation without 13(12) because while avenging blood he was adversity"—

mindful of them;

28(7) him whose mouth is full of cursing and he did not forget the cry of the needy.

bitterness and deceit;

under his tongue are grief and hardship.

14(13) Have mercy on me, O Lord.

29(8) He sits in ambush with the rich,

See my humiliation from my enemies;

in secret places to kill the innocent.

you are the one who lifts me up from the gates of death

His eyes focus on the needy;

15(14)so that I may proclaim all your praises

30(9)

he lurks in secret like a lion in its

in the gates of daughter Sion;

covert;

I will rejoice in your deliverance.

he lurks that he may seize the poor,

that he may seize a poor one by dragging 16(15) Nations got stuck in the corruption they him off.

produced;

in this trap, which they hid, their own

31(10) In his trap he will humble him;

foot was caught.

he shall stoop and fall when he exercises

17(16)The Lord is known when he executes dominion over the needy.

judgments;

32(11) For he said in his heart, "God has forgotten; the sinner was caught in the work of his he turned away his face so as not to see it own hands.
at all."

b Ode of an interlude on strings b

33(12) Rise up, O Lord God; let your hand be lifted

18(17) Let sinners be turned away to Hades, up;

all the nations that keep forgetting God.

do not forget the needy.

34(13) Why did the impious provoke God?

19(18) Because the poor shall not be completely

For he said in his heart, "He will not seek forgotten,
out!"

the endurance of the needy shall not perish forever.

35(14) You see, because you note hardship and

anger,

20(19) Rise up, O Lord! Do not let man prevail; to hand them over into your hands;

let nations be judged before you.

the poor has abandoned himself to you;

21(20) Set a lawgiver over them, O Lord;

you were one helping the orphan.

aOr justice bPossibly Vocal (in distinction from instrumental) interlude cPr therefore = Ra 552

psalms 9(-10)-13(14)

36(15)Crush the arm of the sinner and evildoer;

our lips are our own
his sin shall be sought out,
—who is our lord?”
and he shall no more be found on account of it.

6(5) “Due to the wretchedness of the poor 37(16)The Lord is king forever and forever and and due to the groaning of the needy,
ever;

I will now rise up,” says the Lord;
you shall perish, O nations, from his land.
“I will place in safety; I will speak freely against itd.”

38(17)bO Lord you have listened to the desire of the 7(6) The sayings of the Lord are pure sayings,
needy;
silver refined by fire, tested for soil, your ear inclined to the readiness of their cleansed seven times.

heart,

39(18)to do justice for the orphan and the humble

8(7) You, O Lord, you will guard us, so that man on the earth may not add to and you will preserve us from this brag.

generation and forever.

9(8) All around the impious are walking about;

Psalm 10(11)

according to your exalted state you showed regard for the sons of men.

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to

Dauid.

Psalm 12(13)

(1)

In the Lord I trust; how will you say to my 1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to

soul,

Dauid.

“Flee to the mountains like a sparrow”—

2 because, look, sinners bent a bow;

2(1) How long, O Lord, will you totally forget they prepared arrows for the quiver,

me?

to shoot in a moonless night at the

How long will you turn your face from upright in heart,

me?

3

because what you fashioned they took

3(2) Until when shall I hold counsels in my soul,

down.

have pains in my heart by day?

But the righteous—what did he do?

How long shall my enemy be exalted over

me?

4

The Lord is in his holy shrine;
the Lord's throne is in heaven.

4(3) Regard; listen to me, O Lord my God!

His eyes focus on the needy;

Give light to my eyes, lest I sleep unto his eyelids examine the sons of men.

death,

5

The Lord examines the righteous and the

5(4) lest my enemy say, "I prevailed against

impious,

him";

but he who loves injustice hates his own

they who afflict me will rejoice if I am

soul.

shaken.

6

On sinners he will rain down snares;

fire and sulfur and a wind of a tempest

6(5) But I hoped in your mercy;

are the portion of their cup.

my heart shall rejoice in your 7

Because the Lord is righteous and he loved deliverance.

righteous deeds,

(6)

I will sing to the Lord, my benefactor, his face beheld uprightness.

and make music to the name of the Lord,

the Most High.

Psalm 11(12)

Psalm 13(14)

1

Regarding completion. Over the eighth. A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

2(1) Save me, O Lord, a devout one has failed, because truths became scarce among the

(1)

The fool said in his heart, "There is no sons of men.

God."

3(2) Each spoke vanities to his fellow;

They caused corruption and were lips are deceitful, in the heart and in the abominable in their practices; heartc they spoke.

there is no one practicing kindness;

4(3) May the Lord destroy all deceitful lips
there is not even one.

and a boastful tongue,

5(4) those who say, "Our tongue we will

2

The Lord peered down from the sky on the magnify;

sons of men

a will reign as king = Ra b The Lord = Ra c Possibly with a double heart d Or him

psalms 13(14)-16(17)

553 to see if there was any who had

3

As for the holy ones who are in his land—

understanding

he made marvelous all his wants among
or who sought after God.

them.

3

All turned away, as well they became 4

Their infirmities were multiplied;

useless;

after that, they were quick;

there is no one practicing kindness;

I will not gather their gatherings due to

there is not even one.

spilled blood

or make mention of their names with my 4

Shall they never learn, all those who practice

lips.

lawlessness?

Those who eat up my people like eating

5

The Lord is the portion of my inheritance

bread

and of my cup;

did not call upon the Lord.

you are the one who restores to me my inheritance.

5

There they dreaded with fear,

6

Boundary lines dropped for me in the most

where there was no fear,

excellent spotsa;

because God is with a righteous indeed, to me my inheritance is most generation.

excellent.

6

The plan of the poor you put to shame, because the Lord is his hope.

7

I will bless the Lord who makes me understand;

7

Who shall give out of Sion the deliverance moreover, until night my kidneys of Israel?
instructed me.

When the Lord returns the captivity of his 8

I kept seeing the Lord always before me,
people,
because he is at my right, that I might not let Jakob rejoice and Israel be glad.
be shaken.

Psalm 14(15)

9

Therefore my heart was glad,
and my tongue rejoiced;

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

moreover, my flesh will encamp in hope, 10

because you will not abandon my soul to (1)

O Lord, who shall sojourn in your covert?

Hades

And who shall encamp on your holy or give your devout to see corruption.
mountain?

11

You made known to me ways of life.

2

One who walks spotless and practices
You will fill me with gladness along with
righteousness,
your face;
who speaks truth in his heart;
in your right hand are delights,

3

he who did not beguile with his tongue completely.
nor did evil to his fellow and did not take up reproach against his

Psalm 16(17)

next of kin.

4

Before him one who acts wickedly is 1

A Prayer. bPertaining to David.

despised,

but those who fear the Lord he glorifies;

(1)

Listen, O Lord, to my righteousness; attend

he who swears to his fellow and does not

to my petition;

renege.

give ear to my prayer on lips not deceitful.

5

His money he did not give at interest,

2

From before you may my judgment come and gifts he did not take against the forth;

innocent.

let my eyes see acts of straightforwardness.

He who does these things shall never be shaken.

3

You tried my heart; you visited by night;
you grilled me, and no injustice was

Psalm 15(16)

found in me.

4

That my mouth might not (4)speak of the 1

A stele inscription. Pertaining to Daudid.

deeds of human beings,

on account of the words from your lips, I

(1)

Guard me, O Lord, because in you I hoped.

kept to difficult ways.

2

I said to the Lord, "My Lord you are,

5

Restore my steps in your paths, because you have no need of my goods.”
lest my steps be shaken.

aLacking in Gk bOf = Ra 554

psalms 16(17)-17(18)

6

I, I cried out, because you hearkened to me, 7(6) And when I was being afflicted, I called O God;
upon the Lord,
incline your ear to me, and listen to my
and to my God I cried.

words.

From his holy shrine he heard my voice,

7

Wondrously show your mercies, and my cry before him will enter into his you who save those that hope in you ears.

from those that withstand your right

hand.

8(7) And the earth shook and was atremble, and the foundations of the mountains

8

Guard me as the eye's pupil;

were disturbed

with your wings' shelter you will shelter and shook, because God was angry with

me

them.

9

from before the impious that distress me.

9(8) Smoke went up in his wrath,

My enemies beset my soul;

and fire flamed from before him; 10

at their fat they shut up;

coals were ignited by him.

their mouth spoke arrogance.

10(9) And he sloped heaven and came down,

11

Casting me out, they then encircled me;

and thick darkness was under his feet.

their eyes they set to incline at the 11(10) And he mounted upon cheroubin and ground.

flew;

12

They seized me like a lion eager for prey

he flew upon the wings of winds.

and like a whelp living in hiding.

12(11) And he made darkness his hideaway;

around him was his tent,

13

Rise up, O Lord; anticipate them, and trip dark water in clouds of air.

them up;

13(12) From the brightness before him the clouds rescue my soul from the impious,

passed,

your sword (14) from the enemies of your

hail and coals of fire.

hand.

14(13) And the Lord thundered from heaven,

14

O Lord, from few things from earth and the Most High gave forth his voice.

separate them in their lives.

15(14)And he sent out arrows and scattered

And with your hidden things their belly was themd;

filled;

lightnings he multiplied and confounded they were fed with sons,
them.

and they left the remnants to their 16(15)And the springs of the waters appeared, infants.

and the foundations of the world were uncovered

15

But as for me, I shall appear to your face in

at your rebuke, O Lord,

righteousness;

at the blast of the breath of your wrath.

I shall be fed when your glory appears.

17(16)He sent out from on high, and he took me;

Psalm 17(18)

he took me to himself out of many

waters.

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to David the 18(17)He will rescue me from my powerful servant of the Lord, what he said to the Lord,

enemies

the words of this ode in the day in which the

and from those that hate me,

Lord rescued him from the hand of all his because they were too stout for me.

enemies and from the hand of Saoul. 2and he 19(18)They outran me in the day of my ill-

said:

treatment,

and the Lord became my buttress.

(1)

20(19)

I will love you, O Lord, my strength.

And he brought me out into spaciousness;

3(2) The Lord is my firmness and my refuge and he will rescue me, because he wanted

my rescuer;

me.

my God is my helper, and I will hope in 21(20)

him,

And the Lord will reward me according to my protector and horn of my deliverance, my righteousness,
my supporter.

and according to the cleanness of my

4(3) When I praise, I will call upon the Lord, hands he will give back to me,

22(21)

and from my enemies I shall be saved.

because I kept the ways of the Lord and did not impiously depart from my

5(4) Pangs of death encompassed me,
God,

23(22)

and wadis of lawlessness alarmed me;

because all his judgments were before me

6(5) pangs of Hades encircled me;

and his statutes I did not put away from snare of death outran me.

me.

aPerhaps they became unresponsive bOr it cOr due to dI.e. adversaries e reward = Ra

psalms 17(18)-18(19)

555

24(23) And I shall be blameless with him,

you will appoint me as head of nations;

and I shall keep myself from my a people whom I did not know was

lawlessness.

subject to me.

25(24)And the Lord will reward me according to 45(44)At the ear's hearing, it obeyed me.

my righteousness

Sons of strangers lied to me.

and according to the cleanness of my

46(45)Sons of strangers grew old hands before his eyes.

and limped from their paths.

26(25)With the devout you will be deemed devout,

47(46)The Lord lives! And blessed be my God, and with the innocent man you will be and let the God of my deliverance be innocent,

exalted,

27(26) and with the select you will be select,

48(47)the God who gives me vengeance and with the crooked you will pervert, and subdues peoples under me,

28(27)because it is you who will save a humble

49(48)my rescuer from my irascible enemies;

people,

from those who rise up against me you and the eyes of haughty you will humble, will lift me up;

29(28) because it is you who will light my lamp, you will rescue me from an unjust man.

O Lord—

O my God, you will light my darkness—

50(49) Therefore I will acknowledge you among

30(29) because in you I shall be rescued from a nations, O Lord,

pirate's nest,

and make music to your name,

and in my God I will scale a wall.

51(50) magnifying the acts of deliverance of his king

31(30) My God—blameless is his way, and doing mercy to his anointed,

the sayings of the Lord, tried by fire;

to David and his offspring forever.

he is a protector of all who hope in him,

32(31) because, who is god except the Lord?

Psalm 18(19)

And who is god besides our God?—

33(32) God who girded me with power,

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to and he made my way blameless,

Dauid.

34(33) refittingc my feet like a deer's and setting me on the heights,

2(1) The heavens are telling of divine glory,

35(34)training my hands for battle, and the firmament proclaims his

and my arms you made a bronze bow.
handiwork.

36(35)And you gave me protection for my

3(2) Day to day spews forth utterance,
deliverance,

and night to night proclaims knowledge.

and your right hand supported me,

4(3) There are no conversations, nor are there and your instruction set me straight

words,

completely.

the articulations of which are not heard.

37(36)You made spacious my strides under me,

5(4) Their sound went out to all the earth, and my footsteps did not weaken.

and to the ends of the world their 38(37)I will pursue my enemies and overtake them, utterances.

and I will not turn away until they fail.

39(38)I will much afflict them, and they will not

In the sun he pitched his covert, be able to stand;

6(5) and he himself, like a bridegroom

they shall fall under my feet.

going forth from his bride's chamber,

40(39)And you girded me with power for battle;

will rejoice, like a giant, to run his course.

you shackled under me those who rise

7(6) From the sky's extremity is his starting up against me.

point,

41(40) And as for my enemies—you gave me their and his goal is as far as the sky's back,

extremity,

and those who hated me you destroyed.

and there is no one that will be hid from 42(41) They cried out, and there was no one to his heat.

save,

to the Lord, and he did not listen to 8(7) The law of the Lord is faultless, turning them.

souls;

43(42) And I will pulverize them like dust before the testimony of the Lord is reliable,

the wind;

making infants wise;

like the mire of streets I will grind them

9(8) the statutes of the Lord are upright,
down.

making glad the heart;

the commandment of the Lord is radiant,

44(43) You will rescue me from disputes with enlightening the eyes;

people;

10(9) the fear of the Lord is pure, aPerhaps temptation b besides = Ra c who refits = Ra dPr all = Ra eLacking in Gk fOr its 556

psalms 18(19)-21(22)

enduring forever and ever;

Psalm 20(21)

the judgments of the Lord are valid, justified altogether,

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to 11(10) athings desireda beyond gold

Dauid.

and much precious stone

and sweeter beyond honey

2(1) O Lord, in your power the king shall be and honeycomb.

glad,

and at your deliverance he shall rejoice

12(11) Indeed, your slave guards them; greatly!

in guarding them there is great reward.

3(2) The desire of his heartc you gave him,

13(12) Transgressions—who shall detect them?

and of the wish of his lips you did not

From my hidden ones clear me.

deprive him.

14(13) Also from strangers spare your slave!

Interlude on strings

If they will not exercise dominion

over me,

4(3) Because you anticipated him with blessings

then I shall be blameless of kindness,
and be cleansed from great sin.
you set on his head a crown of precious stone.

15(14) And the sayings of my mouth shall become

5(4) Life he asked of you, and you gave it to good pleasure,
him—

and the meditation of my heart is before length of days forever and ever.

you always,

6(5) His glory is great by your deliverance;

O Lord, my helper and my redeemer.

glory and magnificence you will bestow on him.

Psalm 19(20)

7(6) Because you will give him blessing forever and ever,

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to you will make him glad with joy through Dauid.

your presence,

8(7) because the king hopes in the Lord,

2(1) May the Lord hearken to you in affliction's and in the mercy of the Most High he day!

shall not be shaken.

May the name of the God of Iakob protect you!

9(8) May your hand be found for all your

3(2) May he send you help from ab holy place
enemies;

and support you from Sion.

may your right hand find all those who

4(3) May he remember your every sacrifice, hate you.

and let your whole burnt offering

10(9) You will make them like an oven of fire increase.

at the time of your presence.

Interlude on strings

The Lord will confound them in his wrath, and fire will devour them.

5(4) May he grant you according to your heart,

11(10) Their seed you will destroy from earth, and your every plan may he fulfill.

and their offspring from sons of men,

6(5) We shall rejoice in your deliverance,

12(11) because they turned evil against you;

and in our God's name we shall glory.

they devised a plan they will never be

May the Lord fulfill all your requests.

able to realize,

13(12) because you make them ea backe;

7(6) Now I knew that the Lord saved his in your survivors you will prepare their

anointed;

face.

he will hearken to him from his holy

14(13)

heaven;

Be exalted, O Lord, in your power!

the deliverance of his right hand is with

We will sing and make music to your acts of dominance.

dominance.

8(7) These glory in chariots, and those in horses,

Psalm 21(22)

but we will glory in the name of the Lord, our God.

1

Regarding completion. Over the support at 9(8) They were shackled and fell, dawn. A Psalm. Pertaining to Daudid.

but we rose and were set upright.

2(1) My God, my God, attend to me; why did

10(9) O Lord, save your king, you forsake me?

and hearken in the day we call upon Far away from my deliverance are the
you.

words of my transgressions.

a desirable = Ra bOr the c soul = Ra dl.e. against ePerhaps turn tail

psalms 21(22)-22(23)

557

3(2) O my God, I will cry by day, and you will

23(22)I will tell of your name to my kindred;

not listen,

in the midst of an assembly I will sing a and by night, and it becomes no folly for hymn to you:

me.

24(23)You who fear the Lord, praise him!

All you offspring of Iakob together glorify

4(3) But you, the commendation of Israel,

him;

reside in aa holy placea.

let all the offspring of Israel fear him,

5(4) In you our fathers hoped;

25(24) because he did not despise or scorn

they hoped, and you rescued them.

the petition of the poor,

6(5) To you they cried and were saved;

nor did he turn away his face from me, in you they hoped and were not put to and when I cried to him, he listened to me.

shame.

26(25) From you comes my commendation in a 7(6) But as for me, I am a worm and not human,

great assembly;

a reproach of mankind and despised by my vows I will pay before those who fear

people.

him.

8(7) All who saw me mocked at me;

27(26) The needy shall eat and be satisfied, they talked with the lips; they moved the

and those who seek him shall praise the head:

Lord;

9(8) "He hoped in the Lord; let him rescue him;

their hearts shall live forever and ever!

let him save him, because he wantedb

him,"

28(27)All the ends of the earth shall remember

10(9) because it was you who drew me from the

and turn to the Lord,

belly,

and all the paternal families of the nations

my hope from my mother's breasts.

shall do obeisance before himd,

11(10)

29(28)

On you I was cast from the womb, because kingship is the Lord's,

and from my mother's stomach you have

and it is he who is master over the nations.

been my God.

12(11)

30(29)

Do not keep away from me,

All the fat ones of the earth ate and did because affliction is near,

obeisance;

because there is no one to help.

all who descend into the earth shall fall down before him.

13(12) Many bull calves encircled me;

And my soul lives for him,

31(30)

fat bulls surrounded me;

and my offspring will serve him;

14(13) they opened their mouth at me, the coming generation will be announced like a lion that roars.

to the Lord,

32(31) and they shall announce his righteousness

15(14) Like water I was poured out, to a people to be born, because the Lord and all my bones were scattered;
acted.

my heart became like wax melting within my belly;

Psalm 22(23)

16(15)my strength was dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue is stuck to my throat,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Daudid.

and to death's dust you brought me
down,

(1)

The Lord shepherds me, and I shall lack 17(16)because many dogs encircled me, nothing.

a gathering of evildoers surrounded me.

2

In a verdant place, there he made me

They gouged my hands and feet;

encamp;

18(17)I counted all my bones,

by water of rest he reared me;

but they took note and observed me;

3

my soul he restored.

19(18) they divided my clothes among

He led me into paths of righteousness themselves,

for his name's sake.

and for my clothing they cast lots.

4

For even if I walk in the midst of death's

20(19) But you, O Lord, do not put my help far shadow,

away!

I will not fear evil, because you are with

Attend to my support!

me;

21(20) Rescue my soul from the sword, your rod and your staff—they comforted and from a dog's claw my only life!

me.

22(21) Save me from a lion's mouth, and my lowliness from the horns of 5

You prepared a table before me over against

unicorns!

those that afflict me;

aRa = pl b wants = Ra c the = Ra d you = Ra 558

psalms 22(23)-24(25)

you anointed my head with oil,

5

Guide me to your truth,

and your cup was supremely and teach me, because you are God, my (6)intoxicating.

deliverer,

6

And your mercy shall pursue me all the days and for you I waited all day long.

of my life,

and my residing in the Lord's house is for 6

Be mindful of your acts of compassion, length of days.

O Lord,

and your mercies, because they are from

Psalm 23(24)

of old.

7

The sins of my youth and my acts of 1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Dauda.

ignorance do not remember;

you, according to your mercy, remember

(1)

The Lord's is the earth and its fullness,

me,

the world and all those who live in it;

for the sake of your kindness, O Lord!

2

it is he that founded it on the seas and prepared it on the rivers.

8

Kind and upright is the Lord;

therefore he will set a law for people that 3

Who shall ascend onto the mountain of the sin in the way.

Lord?

9

The meek he will guide in justice;

And who shall stand in the place of his
the meek he will teach his ways.

sanctity?

10

All the ways of the Lord are mercy and 4

One who is guiltless in hand and clean in truth

heart;

for those who seek his covenant and his

he who did not occupy his soul with testimonies.

what is vain

and did not swear deceitfully to his fellow.

11

For the sake of your name, O Lord—

5

He it is that will receive blessing from the

and you will expiate my sin, for it is great.

Lord

and mercy from his divine deliverer.

12

Who is the person that fears the Lord?

6

This is the generation of people who seek

He will set a law for him in the way he

him,

chose.

who seek the face of the God of Iakob.

Interlude on strings

13

His soul will abide in prosperity, and his offspring shall inherit land.

7

Raise the gates, O rulers of yours!

14

The Lord is empowerment for those who
And be raised up, O perpetual gates!
fear him,

And the King of glory shall enter.
and his covenant is for making clear to 8

Who is this King of glory?
them.

The Lord, strong and powerful,

15

My eyes are ever toward the Lord,
the Lord, powerful in battle.

because it is he that will pull my feet out

9

Raise the gates, O rulers of yours!

of a snare.

And be raised up, O perpetual gates!

And the King of glory shall enter.

16

Look upon me and have mercy on me, 10

Who is this King of glory?

because I am an only child and poor.

The Lord of hosts,

17

The afflictions of my heart were

he is the King of glory.

broadened;

bring me out of my narrow straits.

Psalm 24(25)

18

See my humiliation and my trouble, and forgive all my sins.

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Daud.

19

See my enemies, that they multiplied,

(1)

To you, O Lord, I lifted up my soul, (2)O my

and with an unjust hatred they hated

God.

me.

2

In you I trust; may I not be put to shame, 20

O guard my soul, and rescue me;

nor let my enemies deride me.

may I not be put to shame, because I 3

Indeed, none of those who wait for you hoped in you.

shall be put to shame;

21

The innocent and upright would attach let those who are wantonly lawless be themselves to me,
shamed.

because I waited for you.

4

Make known to me, O Lord, your ways, 22

Redeem Israel, O God,
and teach me your paths.
out of all its afflictions.

a + Of the first day of the week = Ra b his holy place = Ra c + O Lord = Ra

psalms 25(26)-27(28)

559

Psalm 25(26)

to live in the Lord's house
all the days of my life,

1 aPertaining toa David.

to behold the pleasantness of the Lord and to visit his shrine,

(1)

5

Vindicateb me, O Lord,

because he hid me in a tent in the day of

because I walked in my guilelessness, troublesg,

and since I hope in the Lord, I shall not he sheltered me in the secret spot of his grow weak.

tent;

2

Prove me, O Lord, and try me;

high on a rock he set me.

test my kidneys and my heart.

3

Because your mercy is before my eyes,

6

And now, look, he set my head high against and I was pleased in your truth.

my enemies;

I made the rounds and sacrificed in his 4

I did not sit with a council of vanity, tent a sacrifice with shouting;

and with transgressors of the law I will

I will sing and make music to the Lord.

not enter;

5

I hated the assembly of evildoers,

7

Listen, O Lord, to my voice with which I and with the impious I will not sit.

cried aloud;

have mercy on me, and listen to me!

6

I will wash my hands in innocence and go around your altar, O Lord,

8

To you my heart said, "My face sought!"

7 to hear a voice of praise

Your face, Lord, will I seek.

and tell all your wondrous deeds.

9

Do not turn your face from me.

8

O Lord, I loved your house's majesty

Do not turn away from your slave in and the spot of your glory's covert.

wrath;

9

Do not destroy my soul together with the

be my helper. Do not damn me,

impious

and do not abandon me, O God, my and my life with men of blood,

deliverer,

10

in whose hands are acts of lawlessness;

10

because my father and my mother their right hand was filled with gifts.

abandoned me,

but the Lord took me to himself.

11

But as for me, I walked in my guilelessness;

redeem me, and have mercy on me.

11

Make laws for me by your way, O Lord, and guide me on a straight path for the 12

My foot stood in uprightness;

sake of my enemies.

in assemblies I will bless you, O Lord.

12

Do not give me up to the souls of people that afflict me,

Psalm 26(27)

because unjust witnesses rose against me and injustice lied to itself.

1 aPertaining to a David. d[Before he was anointed.]d

13

I believe, in order that I may see the good things of the Lord in the land of the (1)

The Lord is my illumination and my living.

deliverer;

14

Wait for the Lord;

whom shall I fear?

take courage, and let your heart be strong,

The Lord is my life's protector;

and wait for the Lord!

of whom shall I be in dread?

Psalm 27(28)

2

When wicked people would approach me

1

a

to devour my flesh—

Pertaining toa Daid.

those that afflict me and my enemies—

they became weak and fell.

(1)

To you, O Lord, I cried;

my God, do not pass me by in silence,

3

Though a camp be arrayed against me, lest you pass me by in silence

my heart shall not fear;

and I shall be like those who go down

though war rise up against me,

into a pit.

in thise I hope.

2

Listen to the voice of my petition,

as I petition you,

4

Once I requested of the Lord, as I lift up my hands toward your holy things, I will seek,
your shrine.

a Of = Ra b Judge = Ra c Pr For = Ra d Without [] = Ra e Antecedent unclear f seek after = Ra g Pr my = Ra

560

psalms 27(28)-29(30)

3

Do not drag my soul away together with the Lord will shake the wilderness of sinners;
Kades.

together with workers of injustice do not destroy me,

9

The Lord's voice, as he prepares deer, those who speak peace with their fellows, and he will uncover forests,

but wrongs are in their hearts.
and in his shrine every last one speaks of 4

Give them according to their works,
glory.

and according to the wickedness of their practices;

10

The Lord will settle the flood, according to the works of their hands give and the Lord will sit as king forever.

them;

11

The Lord will give strength to his people!
render them their due reward.

The Lord will bless his people with 5

Because they took no notice of the works of peace!

the Lord

and of the works of his hands,

Psalm 29(30)

you will bring them down and build them up no more.

1

1st Psalm. Of an Ode of the dedication of the house. Pertaining to David.

6

Blessed be the Lord,
because he listened to the voice of my 2(1) I will exalt you, O Lord, because you upheld petition.

me

7

The Lord is my helper and my protector;

and did not gladden my enemies over in him my heart hoped,

me.

and I was helped and my flesh revived,

3(2) O Lord my God, I cried to you, and from my will I shall acknowledge and you healed me.

him.

4(3) O Lord, you brought up my soul from

Hades;

8

The Lord is empowerment for his people;

you saved me from those that go down he is a protector of the deliverance of his

into a pit.

anointed one.

9

O save your people, and bless your

5(4) Make music to the Lord, O you his devout, heritage,

and acknowledge the mentioning of his

and shepherd them, and lift them up holiness,

forever.

6(5) because wrath is in his fury and life in his will.

Psalm 28(29)

Weeping will lodge for the evening, and rejoicing comes with the morning.

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Dauda.

7(6) But as for me, I said in my prosperity,

(1)

Bring to the Lord, O divine sonsb,

“I shall never be shaken.”

bring to the Lord glory and honor.

8(7) O Lord, by your will,

2

Bring to the Lord glory for his name;
you furnished my beauty with power,
do obeisance to the Lord in his holy court.
but you turned away your face, and I became troubled.

3

The Lord's voice is over the waters;
the God of glory thundered, 9(8) To you, O Lord, I will cry, the Lord, over many waters,
and to my God I will petition:

4

the Lord's voice in strength, 10(9) "What profit is there in my blood,
the Lord's voice in magnificence.
when I go down to corruption?
Surely dust will not acknowledge you

5

The Lord's voice, as he crushes cedars, or tell of your truth?"

and the Lord will crush the cedars of 11(10) The Lord heard and had mercy on me; Lebanon.

the Lord became my helper.

6

And he will pulverize them, as the bull calf, the Lebanon,

12(11) You turned my mourning into a dance for and he that is beloved is like a son of
me;
unicorns.

you tore my sackcloth

and girded me with gladness

7

The Lord's voice, as he divides flames of fire.

13(12)so that my glory may make music to you

8

The Lord's voice, as he shakes a wilderness;

and I shall not be stunnedg.

a + Of the going forth of the tent = Ra b + bring to the Lord young rams = Ra cPr and = Ra dPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music) ePr Regarding completion. = Ra fOr rededication gPerhaps stunned into silence

psalms 30(31)-31(32)

561

O Lord my God, I will acknowledge you rescue me from my enemies' hand and

forever.

from my persecutors.

17(16)Shine your face upon your slave;

Psalm 30(31)

save me in your mercy.

18(17)O Lord, may I not be put to shame,

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to because I called on you;

Dauida.

may the impious be shamed and be brought down to Hades.

2(1) In you, O Lord, I hoped;

19(18) Let the deceitful lips become speechless,
may I never be put to shame;

which speak lawlessness against the
in your righteousness rescue me, and

righteous

deliver me.

with pride and contempt.

3(2) Incline your ear to me;

be quick to deliver me.

20(19)O how much is the abundance of your

Become to me a protector-god kindnessc,

and a house of refuge, to save me,

which you hid for those who fear you;

4(3) because you are my empowerment and my you accomplished it for those who hope in refuge,

you,

and for your name's sake you will guide

before the sons of men!

me and nourish me;

21(20) You shall hide them in a secret place of your

5(4) you will bring me out of this snare, which presence

they hid for me,

from human disturbance;

because you are my protector.

you will shelter them in a tent

6(5) Into your hands I will entrust my spirit;

from the contention of tongues.

you redeemed me, O Lord, God of

truth.

22(21) Blessed be the Lord, because he wondrously showed his mercy

7(6) You hated those who carefully guarded in a city under siege.

23(22)

vanities uselessly,

But as for me, I said in my alarm,

but as for me, I hoped in the Lord.

“I have been cast from before your eyes.”

8(7) I will rejoice and be glad in your mercy,

Therefore you listened to the voice of my because you looked upon my

petition,

humiliation;

when I cried out to you.

you saved my soul from dire straits

9(8) and did not imprison me in an enemy's

24(23) Love the Lord, all you his devout,

hands;

because the Lord seeks out truth

you set my feet in a spacious place.

and repays those who act excessively with pride.

10(9)

25(24)

Have mercy on me, O Lord, because I am

Take courage, and let your heart be strong,

being afflicted;

all you who hope in the Lord.

my eye was troubled by vexationb, my soul and my belly.

Psalm 31(32)

11(10) Because my life failed in pain and my years in sighing,

1

Pertaining to David. Of understanding.

my strength grew weak in poverty, and my bones were troubled.

(1)

Happy are those whose lawless behavior was forgiven

12(11) With all my enemies I became a reproach, and whose sins were covered over.

and to my neighbors, very much,

2

Happy the man whose sin the Lord will not
and a fright to my acquaintances;

reckon,

those who would see me outside fled and in his mouth there is no deceit.

from me.

13(12)I passed out of mind like one who is dead;

3

Because I kept silence, my bones grew old

I became like a broken vessel, from my crying all day long.

14(13) because I heard censure from many

4

Because day and night your hand was heavy sojourning all around;

upon me,
when they gathered together against me, I was turned to wretchedness when a they plotted to take my soul.
thorn was stuck in me.

Interlude on strings

15(14) But as for me, I hoped in you, O Lord;

I said, "You are my God."

5

My sin I made known,

16(15) My times are in your hands;

and my lawlessness I did not cover;

a + Of alarm = Ra b Or anger c + O Lord = Ra d + therefore = Ra 562

psalms 31(32)-33(34)

I said, "I will declare to the Lord, against 10

The Lord scatters counsels of nations, myself, my lawlessness,"

and he frustrates thoughts of peoples and you, you forgave the impiety of my and frustrates counsels of rulers.

sin.

11

But the counsel of the Lord remains

Interlude on strings

forever,

thoughts of his heart to generation and 6

Over this, every devout

generation.

shall pray to you at an appropriate time,

12

Happy is the nation of whom the Lord is but at a flood of many waters,

God,

these will not reach him.

a people he chose as a heritage for 7

You are my refuge from affliction that besets

himself.

me—

my enjoyment, redeem me from those 13

From heaven the Lord looked down;

that encircle me!

he saw all the sons of men.

Interlude on strings

14

From his prepared habitation he looked down on all the inhabitants of 8

I will instruct you and teach you in this way

the earth—

in which you should go;

15

he who alone fashioned their hearts,

I will fix my eyes upon you.

he who keeps observing all their deeds.

9

Do not be like horse and mule, who have 16

A king is not saved by a great army,

no understanding;

and a giant will not be saved by the

with bridle and muzzle squeeze their jaws greatness of strength.

when they do not come near to you.

17

Unreliable is a horse for deliverance, and by the greatness of its power it will 10

Many are the scourges of the sinner,
not be saved.

but mercy will surround him that hopes in the Lord.

18

Look, the eyes of the Lord are on those who 11

Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice,
fear him,

O righteous,

those who hope in his mercy,
and boast, all you upright in heart.

19

to rescue their souls from death and to keep them alive in famine.

Psalm 32(33)

20

Our soul waits for the Lord,

1

Pertaining to David.

because he is our helper and protector,

21

because in him our heart will be glad,

(1)

Rejoice in the Lord, O you righteous.

and in his holy name we hoped.

Praise befits the upright.

22

May your mercy, O Lord, be upon us,

2

Acknowledge the Lord with a lyre; even as we hoped in you.

with a harp of ten strings make music to

him.

Psalm 33(34)

3

Sing to him a new song;

make music skillfully, with shouting,

1

Pertaining to Daud. When he bchanged his 4

because upright is the word of the Lord, faceb before Abimelech, and he let him go, and

and all his works are in faithfulness.

he went away.

5

He loves mercy and justice;

the earth is full of the mercy of the Lord.

2(1) I will bless the Lord at every opportunity; continually shall his praise be in my 6

By the word of the Lord the heavens were

mouth.

made firm,

3(2) In the Lord my soul shall be commended; and by the breath of his mouth all their

let the meek hear and be glad.

host,

4(3) O magnify the Lord with me,

7

as he gathers the waters of the sea like a and let us exalt his name together.

wineskin,

as he puts the deeps in storehouses.

5(4) I sought the Lord, and he hearkened to me, and from all my sojournings he rescued

8

Let all the earth fear the Lord,

me.

and due to him let all the inhabitants of 6(5) Come to him, and be enlightened, the world be shaken,

and your faces shall never be put to 9 because he it was that spoke, and they came

shame.

to be;

7(6) This poor one cried, and the Lord listened he it was that commanded, and they were
to him,
created.

and from all his afflictions he saved him.

aAntecedent unclear bPossibly feigned madness

psalms 33(34)-34(35)

563

8(7) An angel of the Lord will encamp around Let them be turned back, rearwards, those who fear him

and be put to shame who devise evil and will rescue them.

against me.

9(8) O taste, and see that the Lord is kind;

5

Let them be like dust in front of the wind, happy the man who hopes in him.

and an angel of the Lord driving them

10(9) O fear the Lord, you his holy ones,

on.

because those who fear him have no

6

Let their way be darkness and slipperiness,

want.

and an angel of the Lord pursuing them,

11(10) The rich became poor and hungry,

7

because without reason they hid for me but those who seek the Lord shall not their snare's destruction, suffer decrease in any good thing.

without cause they cast reproach on my

Interlude on strings

soul.

8

Let the snare he does not recognize come

12(11) Come, O children; hear me;

upon him.

the fear of the Lord I will teach you.

And let the chase, which he concealed,

13(12) What person is he who wants life,

catch him,

coveting to see good days?

and in the snare—he shall fall in it.

14(13) Stop your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit.

9

But my soul shall rejoice in the Lord;

15(14) Turn away from evil, and do good;

it will delight in his deliverance.

seek peace, and pursue it.

10

All my bones shall say,

“O Lord, who is like you

16(15) The Lord’s eyes are on the righteous, in rescuing the poor from the hand of those

and his ears are toward their petition.

too hard for him,

17(16) But the Lord’s face is against evildoers, both poor and needy from those who

to destroy the remembrance of them despoil him?”

from earth.

18(17) The righteous cried, and the Lord listened to 11

When unjust witnesses rose up,

them,

they kept asking me about what I was not

and from all their afflictions he rescued familiar with.

them.

12

They would repay me evil for good,

19(18)The Lord is near to the brokenhearted, and my soul with barrennessc.

and the humble in spirit he will save.

13

But as for me, when they troubled me,

I would put on sackcloth

20(19) Many are the afflictions of the righteous, and would humble my soul with fasting,
and from them all he will rescue them.

and my prayer shall return into my lap.

21(20) The Lord will guard all their bones;

14

Like a fellow, like a brother of ours, not one of them will be crushed.

so I would please them;

22(21) The sinners' death is wretched,

as one grieving and sad,

and those who hate the righteous shall go

so I would humble myself.

wrong.

23(22)The Lord will redeem his slaves' souls;

15

And against me they were glad and gathered none of those who hope in him will go together;

wrong.

scourges gathered together against me,

and I did not know;

Psalm 34(35)

they were split apart and were not stunned;

1

Pertaining to David.

16

they tried me; they mocked me with mocking;

(1)

Render judgment, O Lord, on those who do they gnashed their teeth at me.

me wrong;

fight against those who fight against me!

17

O Lord, when will you take a look?

2

Take hold of (circular) shielda and (oblong)

Restore my soul from their ravages, shielda,

from lions my only one!

and rise up to help me!

18

I will acknowledge youe in a large assembly;

3

Extend a sword,

among a burdensome people I will praise and block against my pursuers;

you.

say to my soul,

“I am your deliverance.”

19

May those who unjustly are my enemies not be happy over me,

4

Let them be shamed

those who hate me without cause and

and embarrassed who seek my soul.

wink with the eyes,

alarge in size bpl = Ra cOr childlessness dPossibly stunned into inactivity e + O Lord = Ra 564

psalms 34(35)-36(37)

20

because as they were speaking peace to me,

8(7) How you increased your mercy, O God!

they were also devising treachery in

But the sons of men will hope in the

wrath.

shelter of your wings.

21

And they widened their mouth against me;

9(8) They will be intoxicated with the fatness of

they said, "Good, Good,

your house,

our eyes saw.”

and you will give them drink from the wadi of your delightse,

22

You saw, O Lord; do not pass by in silence!

10(9) because with you is life’s fountain;

O Lord, do not be far from me!

in your light we shall see light.

23

Wake up! And pay attention to my trial, my God and my Lord, to my case!

11(10) O prolong your mercy to those who know

24

Vindicateb me, O Lord my God,

you,

according to your righteousness, and your righteousness to the upright of

and may they not be happy over me.

heart!

25

May they not say in their hearts,

12(11) Let the foot of arrogance not come to me,

“Goodc for our soul!”

and may the hand of sinners not shake me.

Nor may they say,

13(12)There those who practice lawlessness fell;

“We swallowed him up.”

they were thrust out and will be unable to stand.

26

May those who are happy at my calamities be both shamed and embarrassed;

Psalm 36(37)

let those who brag against me

be clothed with shame and 1 fPertaining to David.

embarrassment.

(1)

Do not fret among wicked people,

27

May those who want my vindication nor be envious of those that do rejoice and be glad,

lawlessness,

and let those who want the peace of his 2 because like grass they will quickly wither

slave

and like green herbs they will quickly fall say ever more,

off.

“Let the Lord be magnified.”

28

And my tongue shall declaim your 3

Hope in the Lord, and keep doing

righteousness,

kindness,

all day long your commendation.

and encamp in the land, and you will be tended by its wealth.

Psalm 35(36)

4

Take delight in the Lord, and he will give you the requests of your 1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to the slave of
heart.

the Lord, to David.

5

Disclose your way to the Lord,

2(1) Says the transgressor of the law in himself, and hope in him, and he will act.

in order to sin:

6

And he will publish your vindication like there is no fear of the divine

light,

before his eyes,

and your judgment like noonday.

3(2) because he practiced deceit before him, that he might find lawlessness in him

7

Submit to the Lord, and supplicate him;
and hated.

do not fret over the one that prospers in 4(3) The words of his mouth are lawlessness and his way,

deceit;
over a person that commits transgression he did not want to be sensible to do
of the law.
good.

5(4) Lawlessness he plotted on his bed;

8

Cease from wrath, and forsake anger.

he was set on every way that was not

Do not fret so as to do evil,

good,

9

because the evil doers shall be destroyed, and evil he did not treat with contempt.

but those who wait for the Lord—they shall inherit landg.

6(5) O Lord, your mercy is in the sky, and your truth as far as the clouds.

10

And yet a little while, and the sinner will be

7(6) Your righteousness is like divine mountains;

no more,

your judgments are a great deep;

and you will seek his place and will not humans and animals you will save,

find.

O Lord.

11

But the meek shall inherit landg

a + O Lord = Ra b Judge = Ra c + Good = Ra dl.e. him e delight = Ra f Of = Ra gOr earth

psalms 36(37)-37(38)

565 and take delight in an abundance of 29

The righteous shall inherit land and peace.

and encamp on it forever and ever.

12

The sinner will closely watch the righteous

30

The mouth of the righteous shall declaim and gnash his teeth at him, wisdom,

13

but the Lord will laugh at him, and his tongue shall speak justice.

because he foresees that his day will 31

The law of his God is in his heart,
come.

and his steps shall not be tripped up.

14

A sword the sinners drew; they bent their 32

The sinner watches for the righteous bow

and seeks to put him to death.

to bring down poor and needy,

33

But the Lord will not abandon him to his

to slay the upright in heart.

hands

15

May their sword enter into their own heart, nor have him condemned, should he and their bows be crushed.

bring him to trial.

16

Better is a little that the righteous has 34

Wait for the Lord, and keep to his way, than the great wealth of sinners,
and he will lift you up to inherit land;

17

because sinners' arms shall be crushed, when he destroys sinners, you will look but the Lord upholds the righteous.

on.

18

The Lord knows the ways of the blameless, 35

I saw an impious one being highly lifted up and their heritage shall be forever; and being raised up like the cedars of 19 they shall not be put to shame in an evil Lebanon.

time,

36

And I passed by, and look, he was not,
and in days of famine they shall be fed, and I sought him, but his place was not 20 because the sinners will perish,

found.

and the enemies of the Lord, as soon as they are glorified and exalted,

37

Mark innocence, and behold uprightness, vanishing like smoke they vanished.

because there is a residue for the peaceable person.

21

The sinner borrows and will not pay back,

38

But transgressors of the law shall be but the righteous is compassionate and destroyed together;

keeps giving;

the residue of the impious shall be 22 because those that bless him shall inherit destroyed.

landa,

but those that curse him shall be 39

But deliverance of the righteous is from the destroyed.

Lord,

and he is their protector in a time of 23

A person's steps are directed by the Lord,
affliction.

and his way by willb.

40

And the Lord will help them and rescue

24

Should he fall, he will not crash,
them,

because the Lord steadies his hand.

and he will deliver them from sinners and save them, because they hoped in 25

Younger I used to be; indeed, I have grown
him.

old,

and I did not see a righteous one

Psalm 37(38)

forsaken

or his offspring begging bread.

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David. As a reminder.

26

All day long he is merciful and lends, and his offspring shall become a

2(1) O Lord, do not rebuke me in your anger

blessing.

or discipline me in your wrath,

3(2) because your arrows were stuck in me

27

Turn from evil, and do good,

and you clamped your hand on me.

and encamp forever and ever.

28

Because the Lord loves justice

4(3) There is no healing in my flesh and will not forsake his devout, from before your wrath;

they shall be kept safe forever.

there is no peace for my bones from before my sins,

But the lawless shall be chased away,

5(4) because my acts of lawlessness went over my and the offspring of the impious shall be

head;

destroyed.

like a heavy burden they weighed on me.

aOr earth bPossibly divine will cPr but = Ra d + about sabbath = Ra 566

psalms 37(38)-38(39)

6(5) My wounds stank and festered

Psalm 38(39)

from before my foolishness;

7(6) I was wretched and bowed down

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to Idithoun.

completely;

An Ode. Pertaining to David.

all day long I would go around looking sullen,

2(1) I said, "I will guard my ways,

8(7) because my loin muscles were filled with that I may not sin with my tongue;

mockeries

I set a watch to my mouth, and there is no healing in my flesh.

when the sinner organized against

9(8) I was vilified and humiliated utterly;
me.”

I would roar due to my heart’s

3(2) I became dumb and was humbled, groaning.

and I was silent from a good things,

and my suffering was renewed;

10(9) O Lord, before you is all my desire,

4(3)

my heart became hot within me.

and my groaning was not hidden from

And in my musing, a fire will burn.

you.

I spoke with my tongue:

11(10) My heart was troubled, my strength failed
me,

5(4) “Make known to me, Lord, my end, and as for the light of my eyes—it too is

and the number of my days—what it not with me.

is—

12(11) My friends and my fellows approached that I may know what I lack.

opposite me and stood,

6(5) Look, you made my days handbreadths, and my next of kin stood far off.

and my existence is as nothing before
you.

13(12) And those who seek my soul took to Surely, every person alive is the sum total of violence,
vanity.

and those who seek my hurt spoke

Interlude on strings

vanities,

and treacheries they contemplated all day

7(6) "In fact, a person passes through as a long.

phantom.

Surely, for nothing are they in turmoil;

14(13)But as for me, I, like the deaf, would not

he lays up treasures

hear,

and does not know for whom he will

and like a mute not opening his mouth.

gather them.

15(14) And I became like a person that does not

hear

8(7) "And now, what is my endurance? Is it not and that has no retort in his mouth,
the Lord?

16(15) because in you, O Lord, I hoped;
Even my existence is from you.

it is you, O Lord, my God, who will listen;

9(8) From all my acts of lawlessness rescue

17(16) because I said, "Only let not my enemies be
me!

happy over me,"

As a reproach to a fool you gave me.

and when my feet were shaken, they

10(9) I became dumb, and I did not open my bragged against me;

mouth,

because bit is you who did itb.

18(17) because I am ready for scourges,

11(10) Remove from me your scourges;

and my pain is ever with me;

due to the force of your hand I fainted.

19(18) because my lawlessness I will report, and I will show anxiety over my sin.

12(11) "With reproofs for lawlessness

20(19) But my enemies are alive and are stronger

you disciplined a person than I,
and melted his soul like a spider's web;
and those who hate me unjustly surely, every person is in turmoil for multiplied.
nothing.
21(20) Those who render me evil for good

Interlude on strings

would slander me, since I would follow after righteousness,

13(12)“Listen to my prayer, O Lord, and they cast off me, the beloved, like a and to my petition give ear; horrid corpse.

do not pass by my tears in silence, because I am a sojourner with you, 22(21) Do not forsake me, O Lord; and a visiting stranger, like all my O my God, do not stand far from me;
fathers.

23(22)attend to helping me,
14(13)Let me be, that I may revive O Lord of my deliverance.

before I depart and be no more.”

aPossibly stopped saying b you are the one who made me = Ra

psalms 39(40)-40(41)

567

15(14)

Psalm 39(40)

May those be put to both shame and embarrassment

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to David. A who seek my soul to remove it;

Psalm.

may those be turned back, rearwards, and embarrassed,

2(1) Waiting, I waited for the Lord, who want my hurt.

16(15)

and he paid attention to me and listened Let those immediately be awarded shame,
to my petition.

who say to me, "Good, Good!"

3(2) And he brought me up out of a pit of 17(16)

wretchedness

May all those rejoice and be glad in you, and from miry mud,

who seek you, O Lord,

and he set my feet upon a rock and let those who love your deliverance say and directed my steps.

continually,

4(3) And he put a new song into my mouth,

“Let the Lord be magnified!”

18(17)

a hymn to our God.

But as for me, poor I am and needy;

Many will see and fear
the Lord will take thought for me.
and put their hope in the Lord.
My helper and my protector you are;
O my God, do not delay.

5(4) Happy the man, he whose hope is the name of the Lord,

Psalm 40(41)

and he did not look toward vanities and mad delusions.

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to

6(5) Many things you made, O Lord my God, Dauid.

your wonders.

And as for your thoughts—

2(1) Happy is he who considers poor and needy;
there is none that will be like you.

in an evil day the Lord will rescue him.

I proclaimed and told;

3(2) May the Lord carefully guard him and they multiplied beyond number.

quicken him

and make him happy in the land,

7(6) Sacrifice and offering you did not want,

and may he not give him up into his but ears you fashioned for me.

enemy's hands.

Whole burnt offering and one for sin

4(3) May the Lord help him on his bed of pain;

you did not request.

in his illness you aturned his whole beda.

8(7) Then I said, "Look, I have come;

in a scroll of a book it is written of me.

5(4) As for me, I said, "O Lord, have mercy on

9(8) To do your will, O my God, I desired—

me;

and your law, within my belly."

heal my soul, because I sinned against

you."

10(9) I told the glad news of righteousness in a 6(5) My enemies spoke evil against me:

great assembly;

“When will he die and his name perish?”

look, my lips I will not restrain;

7(6) And if he came in to visit, he would speak

O Lord, you knew.

to no good end;

11(10) Your righteousness I did not hide in my his heart gathered lawlessness to

heart;

himself;

of your truth and your deliverance I spoke;

he would go outside and talk.

I did not conceal your mercy

8(7) Together all my enemies would whisper and your truth from a large gathering.

against me;

against me they would devise evil for me.

12(11) But as for you, O Lord, do not distance your compassion from me;

9(8) A criminal phrase they put out against me:

your mercy and your truth supported me

“Surely, he that lies down will not add to always,

rise up?”

13(12) because evils encompassed me, of which 10(9) Indeed, the person at peace with me, in

there is no number,
whom I hoped,
my acts of lawlessness overtook me, and I
he who would eat of my bread, was unable to see;
magnified trickery against me.
they multiplied beyond the hairs of my 11(10) But as for you, O Lord, have mercy on me,
head,
and raise me up, and I will repay them.
and my heart failed me.
12(11) By this I knew that you want me:
14(13) Be pleased, O Lord, to rescue me;
thatb my enemy shall not be happy over O Lord, pay attention to helping me.
me.

aPossibly completely restored bOr because 568

psalms 40(41)-43(44)

13(12) But me you supported on account of my

12(11) Why are you deeply grieved, O mya soul,

innocence

and why are you throwing me into
and secured me before you forever.

confusion?

Hope in God, because I shall acknowledge

14(13)Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel,
him;

from everlasting to everlasting.

my God is the deliverance of my face.

May it be; may it be.

Psalm 42(43)

BOOK II

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

(Psalms 41[42]-71[72])

(1)

Vindicate me, O God, and defend my

Psalm 41(42)

cause

from a nation not devout;

1

Regarding completion. Regarding from a person, unjust and deceitful, understanding. Pertaining to the sons of Kore.

rescue me!

2

Because you, O God, are my

2(1) Just as the doe longs for the springs of empowerment,

water,

why did you reject me?

so my soul longs for you, O God.

And why do I walk about sullenly

3(2) My soul thirsted for the living God.

as the enemy oppresses me?

When shall I come and appear to the face of God?

3

O send out your light and your truth;

4(3) My tears became my food day and night,
these led me,

while it was said to me day after day,

and they brought me to your holy mountain

“Where is your God?”

and to your coverts.

4

And I will enter to the altar of God,

5(4) These things I remembered, to God who makes glad my youth.

and I poured out my soul upon me,

I will acknowledge you with a lyre, O God, because I shall proceed to a place of a my God.

marvelous tent, as far as the house of God,

5

Why are you deeply grieved, O myd soul, with a sound of rejoicing and

and why are you throwing me into acknowledging,
confusion?

a noise of one who is feasting.

Hope in God, because I shall acknowledge

6(5) Why are you deeply grieved, O mya soul,
him;

e

and why are you throwing me into deliverance of my face and my God he ise.
confusion?

Hope in God, because I shall acknowledge

Psalm 43(44)

him;

my God is deliverance (6)of my face.

1

Regarding completion. For the sons of Kore.

Regarding understandingf.

7

My soul was troubled at myself;

therefore I shall remember you

2(1) O God, we heard with our ears;

from a land of Jordan and Hermoniim, our fathers reported to us from a small mountain.

a deed which you wrought in their days,

8(7) Deep calls to deep in days of old:

at the sound of your cataracts;

3(2) your hand destroyed nations, all your surges and your billows and them you planted;

passed over me.

you distressed peoples,

9(8) By day the Lord will command his mercy, and cast them out;

and at night an ode is with me,

4(3) for not by their own sword did they inherit a prayer to the God of my life.

land,

and their own arm did not save them;

10(9) I will say to God, "My supporter you are;

rather, your right hand and your arm, wherefore did you forget me?

and the illumination of your Why must I walk about sullenly, countenance,
as the enemy oppresses me?"

because you delighted in them.

11(10) As my oppressors crushed my bones,
they insulted me,

5(4) You are my very King and my God, while they say to me day after day, he who commands acts of deliverance for
"Where is your God?"

Iakob.

aOm = Ra b my = Ra c Judge = Ra dOm = Ra e deliverance of my face is my God = Ra f + A Psalm = Ra psalms 43(44)-44(45)

569

6(5) Through you we shall gore our enemies, 26(25) Because our soul was humbled down to the
and through your name we shall despise dust,

our opponents.

our stomachs clung to the ground.

7(6) For not in my bow shall I hope,

27(26) Rise up, O Lord; come to our help, and my sword will not save me.

and redeem us for the sake of your name.

8(7) For you saved us from those who afflict us, and those who hate us you put to shame.

Psalm 44(45)

9(8) In God we shall be commended all day

long,

1

Regarding completion. Over those that will

and in your name we shall acknowledge be changed. Pertaining to the sons of Kore.

forever.

Regarding understanding. An Ode. Over the

Interlude on strings

beloved.

10(9) But now, you rejected us and put us to shame

2(1) My heart erupts with a goodly theme;

and will not go out among our hosts.

it is I that address my works to the king;

11(10) You turned us back rather than our enemies, my tongue is a pen of a swift scribe.

and those who hate us kept snatching spoil for themselves.

3(2) Youthful in beauty you are, beyond the sons

12(11) You gave us like sheep for eating,

of men;

and among the nations you scattered us.

grace was poured on your lips;

13(12) You sold your people without price, therefore God blessed you forever.

and a there was no abundance in their

4(3) Gird your sword on your thigh, O powerful exchangea.

one,

in your bloom and beauty,

14(13)You made us a reproach to our neighbors,

5(4) and drawc, and prosper, and become king a mockery and laughingstock to those for the sake of truth and meekness and around us.

righteousness,

15(14)You made us into an illustration among the

and your right hand will guide you

nations,

marvelously.

a moving of the head among the peoples.

6(5) Your arrows are sharp, O powerful one,

16(15)All day long my embarrassment is before —peoples shall fall under you—

me,

in the heart of the king's enemies.

and the shame of my face covered me

17(16)at the sound of one that reproaches and

7(6) Your throne, O God, is forever and ever.

babbles,

A rod of equity is of your rule;

from before enemy and pursuer.

8(7)

you loved righteousness and hated
lawlessness.

18(17) All this came upon us, Therefore God, your God, anointed you and we did not forget you, with oil of rejoicing beyond your partners.
and we did no wrong against your

9(8) Myrrh and myrrh oil and cassia wafted from covenant.

your clothes,

19(18) And our heart did not stand back, from ivory bastions, with which they
and you diverted our paths from your way, made you glad;

20(19) because you humbled us in a place of ill-

10(9) Daughters of kings are in your honor;

treatment

the queen stood at your right in gold-and death's shadow covered us.

woven clothing,

decked out in many colors.

21(20) If we had forgotten the name of our God and if we had spread out our hands to a 11(10) Hear, O daughter, and see, and incline your foreign god,

ear,

22(21) would not God search this out?

and forget your people and the house of

For he it is that knows the secrets of the

your father,

heart;

12(11) because the king desired your beauty,

23(22) because for your sake we are being put to because he is your lord.

death all day long,

13(12)And daughters of Tyre will do obeisance to we were accounted as sheep for slaughter.

him with gifts;

your face the rich of the people (13)will

24(23)Wake up! Why do you sleep, O Lord?

entreat.

Arise, and do not reject us totally!

25(24)Why do you turn away your face?

14

Of a king's daughter—all her glory is within,

Why do you forget our poverty and our (14)

decked out with golden tassels, in many affliction?

colors.

aPossibly they were exchanged for next to nothing bOr those things cl.e. the bow dLacking in Gk el.e. among your ladies of 570

psalms 44(45)-47(48)

15

Virgins abehind hera will be brought to the shout to God with a voice of rejoicing,
king;

3(2) because the Lord Most High is awesome, her companions will be brought to you.

a great king over all the earth.

16(15)They will be brought with gladness and 4(3) He subdued peoples to us, rejoicing;

and nations under our feet.

they will be led into a king's shrine.

5(4) He chose for us his own heritage, the comeliness of Iakob, which he 17(16)In the place of your fathers byour sons were loved.

bornb;

Interlude on strings

you will appoint them rulers in all the
earth.

6(5) God went up with shouting,

18(17) I will remember your name in every
the Lord with a sound of trumpet.

generation and generation;

7(6) Make music to our God; make music;

therefore the peoples will acknowledge you make music to our King; make music, forever, even forever and ever.

8(7) because God is king of all the earth;

make music with understanding.

Psalm 45(46)

9(8) God became king over the nations;

1

Regarding completion. Over the sons of Kore.

God is seated on his holy throne.

Over hidden things. A Psalm.

10(9) Rulers of peoples gathered with the God of Abraam,

2(1) God is our refuge and power, because the strong of the earth are very much a helper in afflictions that God's.

befall us.

They were very much raised up.

3(2) Therefore we will not fear, when the earth is troubled

Psalm 47(48)

and mountains be transposed into hearts

1

g

of seas.

A Psalm. Of an Odeg. Pertaining to the sons of 4(3) Their waters roared and were troubled;

Kore. h[Pertaining to the second day of the

the mountains were troubled by his force.

week.]h

Interlude on strings 2(1) GreatistheLordandverymuch

5(4) The river's strong currents make glad the city praiseworthy

of God;

in our God's city, his holy mountain,

the Most High sanctified his covert.

3(2) since he planted it well, for the enjoyment

6(5) God is in its midst; it shall not be shaken;

of the whole earth.

God will help it in the morning.

Mountains of Sion, the slopes of the north,

7(6) Nations were troubled, kingdoms tilted;

the city of the great King—

he gave forth his voice; the earth was 4(3) within its bastions God is known,

shaken.

when he supports it,

8(7) The Lord of hosts is with us;

5(4) because, look, the kings assembled;

our supporter is the God of Jakob.

they came together.

Interlude on strings

6(5) They, when they saw it so, were astounded;
they were troubled; they were shaken;

9(8) Come, see the works of the Lord, 7(6) trembling took hold of them there, what feats he put on the earth, pains as of one in labor.

10(9) canceling wars to the ends of the earth; 8(7) With a violent blast you will shatter ships of
he will shatter bow and break armor, Tharsis.

and he will burn shields with fire.

9(8) As we heard, so we saw

11(10) "Relax, and know that I am God!

in a city of the Lord of hosts,

I will be exalted among the nations;

in a city of our God.

I will be exalted in the earth."

God founded it forever!

12(11) The Lord of hosts is with us;

Interlude on strings

our supporter is the God of Jakob.

10(9) We thought of your mercy, O God,

Psalm 46(47)

in the midst of your shrine.

11(10) Like your name, O God, so also your

1

Regarding completion. Over the sons of Kore. A praise

Psalm.

is to the ends of the earth.

Full of justice is your right hand.

2(1) All you nations, clap your hands;

12(11)

Let Mount Sion be glad;

al.e. in her train b sons were born to you = Ra cOr land d They = Ra el.e. the city's fOm = Ra gPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music) hWithout [] = Ra iLacking in Gk

psalms 47(48)-49(50)

571

let the daughters of Judea rejoice, and help for them will grow old in because of your judgmentsa.

Hades, away from their glory.

16(15)On the other hand, God will ransom my 13(12) Surround Sion; embrace it;

soul

recount in its towers;

from Hades' hand, when he receives me.

14(13)dispose your hearts for its power,

Interlude on strings

and inspect its bastions,

that you may recount to the next generation

17(16)Do not be afraid when a person becomes

15(14)

thatb this is God,

rich

our God forever, even forever and ever.

and when the glory of his house

He himself will shepherd us for ages.

increases,

18(17)because, when he dies, he will take nothing,

Psalm 48(49)

nor will his glory go down with him,

19(18)because in life his soul will be blessed;

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to the sons of

he will acknowledge you when you treat

Kore. A Psalm.

him well;

20(19) he will enter the company of his fathers;

2(1) Hear this, all you nations;

he will never again see light.

21(20)

give ear, all inhabitants of the world,

A person held in honor did not understand.

3(2) both the earthborn and the sons of men,

They were comparable to beasts and rich one and needy one together.

became like them.

4(3) My mouth shall speak wisdom and the meditation of my heart

Psalm 49(50)

understanding.

5(4) I will incline my ear to an illustration;

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Asaph.

I will work out my problem with a harp.

(1)

God of gods, the Lord, spoke

6(5) Why should I fear on an evil day?

and summoned the earth

The lawlessness at my heel will surround from the sun's rising even to its setting.

me—

2

Out of Sion is the splendor of his beauty;

7(6) those who trust in their power

God will come conspicuously, and boast of the abundance of their 3

our God—and he will not pass by in silence;

riches.

a fire will burn before him,

8(7) A brother does not ransom; shall anyone and all around him is a mighty tempest—ransom?

very much.

He will not give to God his atonement

4

He will summon the sky above

9(8) and the price for redeeming his soul.

and the earth, to judge his people 10

And he toiled forever (9)and will yetd live discerningly.

completely;

5

Gather to him his devout, hee will see corruption, who make a covenant with him by (10)when he sees wise people die!

sacrifices.

6

And the heavens will declare his 11

Fool and dolt will perish together

righteousness,

and leave their wealth to strangers.

because God is judge.

12(11) And their graves are their homes forever,

Interlude on strings

their covert to generation and generation.

7

“Hear, O my people, and I will speak to you,

They named their lands their own.

O Israel, and I will testify against you.

13(12)And a person held in honor did not

God, your God, I am.

understand.

8

Not for your sacrifices will I rebuke you;

He resembled senseless beasts and nay, your whole burnt offerings are became like them.

continually before me.

9

I will not accept calves from your house 14(13)This way of theirs is a pitfall to them, nor young he-goats from your folds, and afterwards with their mouth they will 10

because all wild animals of the forest are express contentment.

mine,

Interlude on strings

beasts on the mountains and cattle.

11

I know all the birds of the air,

15(14) Like sheep they were placed in Hades.

and a field's beauty is with me.

Death shall be their shepherd, and the upright shall exercise dominion 12

"If I am hungry, I will not tell you,

over them at dawn,

for the world is mine and its fullness.

a + O Lord = Ra bOr because cOr primeval men dOm = Ra ePr because = Ra f is = Ra g resembled senseless beasts = Ra

572

psalms 49(50)-51(52)

13

Surely, I shall not eat flesh of bulls the unclear and secret aspects of your or drink blood of he-goats?

wisdom you made clear to me.

14

Offer to God a sacrifice of praise,

9(7) You will sprinkle me with hyssop, and I and pay your vows to the Most High.

shall be cleansed;

15

And call on me in a day of affliction,

you will wash me, and I shall be whiter and I will deliver you, and you shall than snow.

glorify me.”

10(8) You will make me hear joy and gladness;

Interlude on strings

humbled bones will rejoice.

11(9) Turn away your face from my sins,

16

But to the sinner God said:

and all my lawless acts blot out.

“Why do you recite my statutes and take my covenant on your lips?

12(10) A clean heart create in me, O God, 17

Nay, you hated discipline, and an upright spirit renew within me.

and you cast my words behind you.

13(11) Do not cast me away from your face,

18

If you saw a thief, you would join him, and your holy spirit do not take from

and with adulterers you would keep

me.

company.

14(12) Restore to me the joy of your deliverance, and with a leading spirit support me.

19

“Your mouth increased evil, and your tongue would wrap

15(13)I will teach lawless ones your ways, deceitfulness.

and impious ones will return to you.

20

Sitting, you would speak against your 16(14) Rescue me from bloodshed, O God, brother,

O God of my deliverance;

and you would place an obstacle against my tongue will rejoice at your your own mother's son.

righteousness.

21

These things you did, and I kept silent;

you assumed lawlessnessa—that I would

17(15)O Lord, my lips you will open, be like you.

and my mouth will declare your praise,

I will disprove you and present against 18(16)because if you had wanted sacrifice, I would
you.

have given it;

with whole burnt offerings you will not 22

“Mark this, then, you who forget God, be pleased.

or he will seize you, and there will be no

19(17)Sacrifice to God is a broken spirit; one to rescue.

a broken and humbled heart God will 23

A sacrifice of praise will glorify me, not despise.

and there lies a way by which I will show him the deliverance of God.”

20(18) Do goodb to Sion in your good pleasure, and let the walls of Ierousalem be built;

Psalm 50(51)

21(19) then you will delight in a sacrifice of righteousness,

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to in offerings and whole burnt offerings;

Dauid. 2When the prophet Nathan came to then they will offer calves on your altar.

him, after he had gone into Bersabee.

Psalm 51(52)

3(1) Have mercy on me, O God, according to your great mercy,

1

Regarding completion. Of understanding.

and according to the abundance of your

Pertaining to Dauid. 2When Doek the Idumean

compassion

came and reported to Saoul and said to him, blot out my lawless deed.

“Dauid came to the house of Abimelech.”

4(2) Wash me thoroughly from my
lawlessness,

3(1) Why do you boast in malice, O powerful and from my sin cleanse me,

one,

5(3)

because my lawlessness I know of lawlessness all day long?

and my sin is ever before me.

4(2) Injustice your tongue devised.

6(4) Against you alone did I sin,

Like a sharpened razor you produced and what is evil before you I did,

treachery.

so that you may be justified in your words

5(3) You loved evil more than goodness, and be victorious when you go to law.

injustice more than speaking justice.

7(5) For, look, I was conceived in lawlessness,

Interlude on strings

and in sin did my mother crave for me.

6(4) You loved all words for drowning,

8(6) For, look, you loved truth;

a deceitful tongue.

aOr lawlessly b + O Lord = Ra cPossibly atonement

psalms 51(52)-54(55)

573

7(5) Therefore God will break you down

When the Lord returns the captivity of his

completely;

people,

may he snatch you and make you flee lakob will rejoice, and Israel will be from your covert,

glad.

and your rootedness from the land of the

living.

Psalm 53(54)

Interlude on strings

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns. Of

8(6) And righteous ones will see and fear understanding. Pertaining to Daid. 2When the

and will laugh at him and say,

Ziphites came and told Saoul, "Look, Daid is 9(7) "Look, a person who did not make God his in hiding among us."

helper

but pinned his hopes on the abundance of 3(1) O God, in your name save me, his riches

and in your power you will judge me.

and was made powerful by his vanity!"

4(2) O God, listen to my prayer;

give ear to the words of my mouth,

10(8) But I am like a fruitful olive tree

5(3) because strangers rose up against me in the house of God.

and strong ones sought my soul;

I hoped in the mercy of God

they did not set God before them.

forever, even forever and ever.

Interlude on strings

11(9) I will acknowledge you forever,

because of what you did,

6(4) For, look, God helps me, and I will wait for your name, and the Lord is supporter of my soul.

because it is beneficial before your devout.

7(5) He will repay the harm to my enemies.

With your truth, destroy them.

Psalm 52(53)

8(6) Freely I shall sacrifice to you;

1

Regarding completion. Over Maeleth. Of

I will acknowledge your name, O Lord, understanding. Pertaining to Daudid.

because it is good,

9(7) because you rescued me from every

2(1) A fool said in his heart, "There is no God."

affliction,

They became corrupt and were
and my eye looked among my enemies.
abominable in lawless acts;
there is no one who is doing what is

Psalm 54(55)

good.

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns. Of

3(2) God peered down from the sky on the sons understanding. Pertaining to David.

of men

to see if there was any who had

2(1) Give ear, O God, to my prayer,

understanding

and do not disdain my petition.

or who sought after God.

3(2) Attend to me, and listen to me;

I was vexed in my pondering and was 4(3) All turned away; as well they became useless;

troubled

there is no one who is doing what is

4(3) by the noise of an enemy and by the
good;

affliction of a sinner,

there is not even one.

because they tilted lawlessness against me, and in wrath they kept being indignant at

5(4) Shall they never learn, all those who practice
me.

lawlessness?

Those who eat my people like eating

5(4) My heart was troubled within me,

bread

and death's terror fell upon me.

did not call upon God.

6(5) Fear and trembling came upon me, and darkness covered me.

6(5) There they were in great fear,

7(6) And I said, "Who will give me wings like a

where there was no fear,

dove,

because God scattered bones of men-and I shall fly away and be at rest?"

pleasers;

8(7) Look, I became a fugitive far away,

they were put to shame, because God and I lodged in the wilderness.

despised them.

Interlude on strings

7(6) Who shall give out of Sion the deliverance

9(8) I would welcome the one that would save me of Israel?

from faintheartedness and tempest.

aOm = Ra

574

psalms 54(55)-56(57)

10(9) Drown, O Lord, and confuse their

Psalm 55(56)

speech,

because I saw lawlessness and dispute in 1

Regarding completion. Over the people that are the city.

removed far away from their holy things.

11(10) Day and night they will encircle it at its Pertaining to Daudid. For a stele inscription.

walls;

When the allophyles seized him in Geth.

lawlessness and trouble are within it,

(11)and injustice

2(1) Have mercy on me, O Lord, because a 12

and usury and deceit did not leave its person trampled on me;

streets.

all day long, while fighting, he afflicted

me;

13(12) Because if an enemy had reproached me,

3(2) my enemies trampled on me all day long,

I could have borne it,

because many are they that fight against and if he that hates me had bragged against me from on high.

me,

4(3) By day I shall be afraid; I will hope in you.

I could have hidden from him.

5(4) In God I will commend my words;

14(13)But it is you, my fellow human,
in God I hoped; I will not fear what flesh my leader and my familiar friend, may do to me.

15(14)who made food sweet together with me;
in the house of God we walked in 6(5) All day long they would make my words harmony.

loathsome;

16(15)Let death come upon them;
all their thoughts against me are for evil.

let them go down to Hades alive,

7(6) They will sojourn and hide; because evils are in their sojournings, in my heel they will watch, their midst.

as they waited to have my soul.

8(7) On no account will you save them;

17(16)Ia cried to God,
in wrath you will bring down peoples,

and the Lord listened to me.

O God!

18(17) Evening and morning and at noon I will recount;

9(8) My life I proclaimed to you;

I will declare,

you put my tears before you, as also by

and he will listen to my voice.

your promise.

19(18) He will redeem my soul in peace

10(9) My enemies will turn back from those that approach me,

in the day when I call upon you.

because they were with me in bgreat

Look, I knew that you are my God.

numberb.

11(10) In God I will praise with a word;

20(19) God will listen and will humble them, in the Lord I will praise with a he who existed before the ages.

statement.

Interlude on strings

12(11) In God I hoped;

I will not fear what ea persone may do to

For there is no change for them,

me.

and they did not fear God.

21(20) He stretched out his hand when he paid

13(12)Inf me, O God, are the vows of praise to

back.

you, which I will pay,

They violated his covenant.

14(13) because you rescued my soul from death

22(21) They were divided due to the anger of his and my feet from slipperiness

face,
so that I may be pleasing before God and his heart drew near;
in the light of the living.
his words became smoother than oil,
and they are missiles.

Psalm 56(57)

23(22)Cast your care on the Lord,

1

Regarding completion. Do Not Destroy.

and he himself will nurture you;

Pertaining to Daudid. For a stele inscription. As he will never give shaking to him who is he was running away from Saoul into the cave.

righteous.

24(23)But as for you, O God, you will bring them

2(1) Have mercy on me, O God; have mercy on down

me,

into a well of corruption;

because in you my soul trusts men of blood and treachery and in the shadow of your wings I will shall not live out half their days.

hope

But as for me, I will hope in you, until lawlessness passes by.

O Lord.

3(2)

I will cry to God the Most High, aPr But = Ra bOr many things cPr but = Ra d + all day long = Ra eOr man fOr By means of

psalms 56(57)-58(59)

575 to God who acts as my benefactor.

8(7) They shall vanish like water that flows

4(3) He sent from heaven and saved me;

through;

he gave over to reproach those who were

he will bend his bow until they become trampling on me.

weak.

Interlude on strings

9(8) Like wax that melts they will be removed;
fire fell, and they did not see the sun.

10(9) a

God sent forth his mercy and his truth,
Before your thistles take note of the thorn-5(4) and he rescued my soul from among shrub, whelps.

as if in anger it will bestormb you, as if I slept, though troubled.
alivea.

As for sons of men—their teeth are a weapon and darts,

11(10) A righteous one will be glad when he sees and their tongue a sharp dagger.

vengeance donec;

he will wash his hands in the blood of

6(5) Be exalted to the heavens, O God,

the sinner.

12(11)

and to all the earth be your glory.

And a person will say, "If then there is a return for the righteous,

7(6) A trap they prepared for my feet, then God exists, judging them on the
and they bowed down my soul.

earth."

They dug a hole in front of me, and they fell into it.

Psalm 58(59)

Interlude on strings

1

Regarding completion. Do Not Destroy.

8(7) My heart is ready, O God;

Pertaining to David. For a stele inscription.

my heart is ready.

When Saoul sent and watched his house to put

I will sing and make music.

him to death.

9(8) Awake, my glory!

Awake, O harp and lyre!

2(1) Deliver me from my enemies, O God,

I will awaken at dawn.

and redeem me from those who rise up

10(9) I will acknowledge you, O Lord, among against me.

peoples;

3(2) Rescue me from those who practice

I will make music to you among nations,

lawlessness,

11(10) because your mercy was magnified to the

and from men of blood save me,

heavens,

4(3) because look, they hunted my soul;

and to the clouds your truth.

strong ones set themselves against me.

Neither my lawlessness nor my sin,

12(11) Be exalted to the heavens, O God,

O Lord—

and to all the earth be your glory.

5(4)

without lawlessness they ran straight on.

Psalm 57(58)

Rouse yourself to meet me, and see!

6(5)

And you, Lord God of hosts, God of 1

Regarding completion. Do Not Destroy.

Israel,

Pertaining to David. For a stele inscription.

pay attention to visiting all the nations;

pity none of those who practice

2(1) Do you then truly speak righteousness?

lawlessness.

Do you judge fairly, O sons of men?

Interlude on strings

3(2) Indeed, in the heart you devise acts of lawlessness on the earth;

7(6) Toward evening they will return injustice your hands braid.

and be famished like a dog

and encircle a city.

4(3) Sinners were estranged from the womb;

8(7) Look, they will bellow with their mouth, they erred from the belly; they spoke and a sword is between their lips—lies.

because, “Who has heard?”

5(4) They have wrath in the likeness of the snake, like an adder, deaf and plugging its ears,

9(8) And you, you will laugh at them, O Lord;

6(5) which will not listen to a voice of you will hold all the nations in enchanters,

contempt.

nor of a charm being administered by a 10(9) O my might, for you I will watch, wise man.

because you, O God, are my supporter.

11(10) My God—his mercy will outrun me;

7(6) God crushed their teeth in their mouth;

my God will show me among my

the molars of lions the Lord shattered!

enemies.

aGk uncertain b devour = Ra c + to impious ones = Ra 576

psalms 58(59)-61(62)

12(11) Do not kill them, or they may forget my and the vale of the tents I will portion

people;

out.

scatter them by your power, and bring

9(7) Mine is Galaad, and mine is Manasse,

them down,

and Ephraim is the strengthening of my

O Lord, my protector—

head;

13(12) sina of their mouth, a word of their lips,

loudas is my king.

and let them be trapped in their pride.

10(8) Moab is a cauldron of my hope;

And from curse and lie consummations will on Idumea I will put my sandal;

be noised abroad,

to me allophytes were subjugated.”

14(13)

in wrath of consummation, and they will be no more.

11(9) Who will bring me to a city of fortification?

And they will know that God is master over

Who will guide me as far as Idumea?

Iakob,

12(10) Are you not the one that rejects us, O God?

over the ends of the earth.

And you will not go out, O God, with our

Interlude on strings

hosts.

13(11) Grant us help from affliction,

15(14) Toward evening they will return

and worthless is human deliverance.

14(12)

and be famished like a dog

Inb God we shall produce power,

and encircle a city.

and he it is that will treat with contempt

16(15)They will be scattered in order to eat, those that afflict us.

but if they do not get their fill, then they will grumble.

Psalm 60(61)

17(16)But as for me, I will sing to your power

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns.

and will rejoice in your mercy in the Pertaining to Daid.

morning,

because you became my supporter

2(1) Listen to my petition, O God;

and a refuge in my day of affliction;

pay attention to my prayer.

18(17)my helper, I will make music to you,

3(2) From the ends of the earth I cried to you,

because you, O God, are my supporter,

when my heart was weary.

my God, my mercy.

On a rock you exalted me.

Psalm 59(60)

4

You guided me, (3)because you became my

hope,

1

Regarding completion. For those that shall yet a tower of strength from before an be changed. For a stele inscription. Pertaining to enemy.

Dauid. For teaching. 2When he set on fire Mesopotamia of Syria and Syria Soba, and loab 5(4) I will sojourn in your covert forever, returned and struck the Ravine of Salt, twelve find shelter in the shelter of your wings.
thousand.

Interlude on strings

3(1) O God, you rejected us and brought us

6(5) Because you, O God, you listened to my down;

vows,

you became angry and had compassion you gave a heritage to those who fear on us.

your name.

4(2) You caused the land to quake and threw it into confusion;

7(6) You will add days to a king's days, heal its fractures, because it was shaken.

his years until days of generation and 5(3) You showed your people hard things;

generation.

you gave us to drink wine of 8(7) He will remain forever before God; stupefaction.

his mercy and truth, who will seek out?

6(4) You gave a signal to those who fear you, to flee out from before a bow.

9(8) So I will make music to your name forever

Interlude on strings

and ever,

that I pay my vows day after day.

7(5) In order that your beloved might be rescued,

Psalm 61(62)

save with your right hand, and heed me.

1

Regarding completion. Over Idithoun. A Psalm.

8(6) God spoke in his holy place:

Pertaining to Daud.

“I will rejoice, and I will divide up

Sikima,

2(1) Shall not my soul be subject to God?

al.e. scatter / bring down sin etc. bPr but = Ra

psalms 61(62)-63(64)

577

For from him is my deliverance.

and with lips of rejoicing my mouth will

3(2) Indeed, he is my God and my Savior, praise you.

my supporter; I shall be shaken no more.

7(6) If I made mention of you on my bed, in the early morning I would meditate on 4(3) How long do you assail against a person?

you,

You commit murder, all of you,

8(7) because you became my helper, as by means of a wall that leans and a and in the shelter of your wings I will fence that slants.

rejoice.

5(4) But they planned to impugn my honor.

9(8) My soul clung to you;

They ran with a lie;

your right hand upheld me.

with their mouth they would bless and curse with their heart.

10(9) But they sought my soul for no good

Interlude on strings

reason;

they shall enter into the deepest parts of 6(5) But to God be subject, O my soul,

the earth;

because from him is my endurance.

11(10) they shall be given over to a sword's

7(6) Because he is my God and my Savior,

power;

my supporter, I shall never be a fugitive.

prey for foxes they shall be.

8(7) With God is my deliverance and my glory;

12(11) But the king shall be glad in God;

O God of my help—and my hope is with every one who swears by him shall be

God.

commended,

because the mouth of people speaking

9(8) Hope in him, all you congregation of people;

unjust things was stopped up.

pour out your hearts before him;

God is our helper.

Psalm 63(64)

Interlude on strings

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to 10(9) But the sons of men are vain;

Dauid.

false are the sons of men, to do wrong with balances;

2(1) Listen to my voice, O God, when I petition;

they together area from vanity.

from fear of an enemy deliver my soul.

11(10) Put no hope in wrong,

3(2) You sheltered me from a swarm of wicked and do not long for what is robbed;

people,

wealth, if it flows, do not badd heartb.

from a crowd of people who practice

lawlessness,

12(11) Once God spoke;

4(3) who whetted their tongues like a sword,

these two things I heard:

who bent their bow—a cruel act, 13

that might is God's,

5(4) to shoot in secret at a blameless one;

(12)

and to you, O Lord, belongs mercy, suddenly they will shoot at him and will because you will repay to each according to not fear.

his works.

6(5) They empowered each other with a wicked

word;

Psalm 62(63)

they talked in order to hide snares;

they said, "Who can see them?"

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David. When he was in 7(6) They searched out acts of lawlessness;

the wilderness of Judea.

they left off conducting their search.

A person will come forward and his heart

2(1) O God, my God, early I approach you;

is deep,

my soul thirsted for you.

8(7)

and God will be exalted.

How many times did my flesh thirst for

A dart of infants their blows became,

you

9(8)

and against them their tongues became in a land, desolate and trackless and weak.

waterless?

All who saw them were troubled.

3(2) So I appeared to you in the holy place,

10(9) And every person feared, to behold your power and your glory.

and they proclaimed the works of God,

4(3) Because your mercy is better than lives, and what he had done they perceived.

my lips will commend you.

5(4) So I will bless you in my life;

11(10) One who is righteous will be glad in the

in your name I will lift up my hands.

Lord

and will hope in him.

6(5) As though with fat and creaminess may my

And all the upright in heart shall be soul be satisfied,

commended.

aPossibly derive bPossibly set your heart on it cOr that dLacking in Gk eOr expired while 578

psalms 64(65)-65(66)

Psalm 64(65)

give glory to his praise.

3

Say to God, "How awesome are your works!

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to

Because of your great power, your Dauid. An Odea.

enemies will play false with you.

4

Let all the earth do obeisance to you

2(1) To you a hymn is due, O God, in Sion, and make music to you;

and to you shall a vow be paidb.

let them make music to your name.”

3(2) Listen to my prayer!

Interlude on strings

To you all flesh shall come.

4(3) Words of lawlessness overpowered us,

5

Come, and see the works of God;

and our impieties you will expiate.

he is awesome in his plans beyond the

5(4) Happy is he whom you chose and took to

sons of men,

yourself;

6

he who turns the sea back into dry land;

he shall encamp in your courts.

in a river they will pass through on foot.

We shall be filled with the good things of

There we shall be glad in him,

your house;

7

who rules the age in his dominance;

holy is your shrine, (5)admirable in his eyes keep watch on the nations, justice.

those that provoke—let them not be exalted in themselves.

6(5) Hearken to us, O God, our savior,

Interlude on strings

the hope of all the ends of the earth, and in a sea far away,

8

Bless our God, O nations, 7(6) as he prepares mountains by his strength, and make heard the voice of the praise of girded with dominance,

him

8(7) he who stirs the hollow of the sea, 9

who placed my soul in life roars of its waves.

and does not give my feet to wavering.

The nations will be troubled,

10

Because you, O God, tested us,

9(8)

and those who inhabit the limits will be you tried us as silver is tried.

awed by your signs.

11

You brought us into the snare;

Goings-outc of morning and evening you you laid afflictions on our back;

will cheer.

12

you mounted persons on our heads;
we went through fire and water, 10(9) You visited the earth and intoxicated it;
and you brought us out to revival.
you dmultiplied enriching itd;
the river of God was filled with water;

13

I will enter into your house with whole you prepared itse nourishment,

burnt offerings

because so is your preparation.

I will pay you my vows,

11(10) Intoxicate its furrows!

14

which my lips emitted

Multiply its crops;

and my mouth spoke in my affliction.

it will be glad with its drops, when it

15

Fatted whole burnt offerings I will offer to sprouts.

you,

12(11) You will bless the crown of the year of your
with incense of rams;

goodness,

I will do for you cows with goats.

and your plains shall be filled with

Interlude on strings

fatness.

13(12) The seasonable things of the wilderness will

16

Come, hear, and I will tell,

be made fat;

all you who fear God,

with rejoicing the hills will gird what all he did for my soul.

themselves.

14(13)The rams of the flocks were clad,

17

To him I cried with my mouth, and the valleys multiply grain;

and I exalted beneath my tongue.

they will cry out; indeed, they will sing a 18

If I was contemplating injustice in my hymn.

heart,

let the Lord not listen.

Psalm 65(66)

19

Therefore God listened to me;

he gave heed to the voice of my petition.

1

Regarding completion. fAn Ode. Of a Psalmf.

20

Blessed be God,

(1)

Make a joyful noise to God, all the earth;

who did not remove my prayer

2 do make music to his name;

and his mercy from me.

a + Of Ieremias and Iezekiel from the account of the resident community, when they were about to set out = Ra b + in Ierousalem = Ra cPossibly onset dOr enriched it again and again el.e. the water's fPossibly a song of praise (vocal music) accompanied by a psalm (instrumental music)

gPerhaps eternity hPossibly fumigation iPerhaps with psalms 66(67)–67(68)

579

Psalm 66(67)

8(7) O God, when you were going out before your people,

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns. aA when you were marching in the Psalm. Of an Ode.

wilderness,

Interlude on strings

2(1) May God have compassion on us and bless

us

9(8) earth quaked; indeed, the heavens dripped, and display his face to us, from before God—this Sina did—

Interlude on strings

from before the God of Israel.

10(9) Spontaneous watering, O God, you will

3(2) that we may know your way upon the ordain for your heritage,

earth,

and it languished, but you restored it;

among all nations your salvation.

11(10) your animals live in it;

4(3)

Let peoples acknowledge you, O God;

in your kindness you provided for the

let all peoples acknowledge you.

poor, O God.

5(4) Let nations be glad and rejoice,

12(11) The Lord will give a word to those who because you will judge peoples with bring good news to a large host:

uprightness

13(12)“The king of the hosts of the beloved, of the and guide nations upon the earth.

beloved,”

Interlude on strings

and tod divide the spoil for the beauty of the house.

6(5) Let peoples acknowledge you, O God;

14(13)If you lie down among the allotments—
let all peoples acknowledge you.

a dove's wings covered with silver and its back feathers with golden

7(6) Earth yielded its crop; greenness.

may God, our God, bless us.

Interlude on strings

8(7) May God bless us,

and let all the ends of the earth revere

15(14)When the Heavenly One sets apart kings

him.

over it,

they will be snow-covered in Selmon.

Psalm 67(68)

16(15)O mountain of God, fertile mountain;

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to Daud. bA

O curdled mountain, fertile mountain!

Psalm. Of an Odeb.

17(16)Why do you suppose, O curdled

mountains,

2(1) Let God rise up, and let his enemies be that it is the mount which God was scattered,

pleased to live in it?

and let those who hate him flee from Indeed, the Lord will encamp finally.
before him.

3(2)

18(17)

As smoke vanishes, let them vanish;
The chariot of God is ten thousand-fold, as wax melts from before fire, thousands of thriving ones;
so may sinners perish from before God.
the Lord is among them in Sina, in the 4(3) And let the righteous be glad;

holy place.

19(18)

let them rejoice before God;
You ascended on high;
let them delight with gladness.
you led captivity captive;
you received gifts by a person,

5(4) Sing to God; make music to his name; indeed, whene they were disobedient to make a way for him who rides upon the encamp.

sunset;

The Lord God be blessed;

the Lord is his name—

20(19)

blessed be the Lord day by day;

c[and rejoice before him.]c

the God of our deliverance will prosper us.

Interlude on strings

They shall be troubled from before him,

6(5) who is the father of orphans and vindicator

21(20) Our God is a god to save,

of widows;

and to the Lord Lord belong the escape

God is in his place.

routes of death.

7(6) God settles solitary ones into a home, leading out prisoners with manliness,

22(21) But God will shatter his enemies' heads, likewise those who embitter them that the hairy crown of those who walk in live in tombs.

their errors.

aPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music) bPossibly a song of praise (vocal music) accompanied by a psalm (instrumental music) cWithout [] = Ra dPerhaps that he eOr although 580

psalms 67(68)-68(69)

23(22)The Lord said,
my throat was hoarse.
“From Basan I will turn round;

My eyes failed

I will turn round by depths of sea

from hoping in my God.

24(23)so that your foot may be dipped in blood,

the tongue of your dogs, from enemies,

5(4) They multiplied beyond the hairs of my

by him.”

head,

those who hate me without cause;

25(24) Your processions were viewed, O God, my enemies who persecuted me unjustly the processions of my God, my King in became strong.

the holy place—

What I did not seize

26(25) rulers got a head start, near strummers,

I would then repay.

among young female drummers:

6(5) O God, you knew my folly,

27(26) "Bless God in assemblies, and the wrongs I did were not hidden the Lord from Israel's fountains!"

from you.

28(27) There is Benjamin, the youngest, in a trance, rulers of loudas, their leaders,

7(6) May those who wait for you not be put to rulers of Zaboulon, rulers of Nephthali.

shame because of me,

O Lord, Lord of hosts;

29(28) Command your power, O God;

may those who seek you not be embarrassed make powerful, O God, that which you because of me,

wrought for us.

O God of Israel,

30(29) Resulting from your shrine at Jerusalem

8(7) because for your sake I bore reproach;

kings will offer gifts to you.

embarrassment covered my face.

31(30) Rebuke the wild animals of the reeds;

9(8) I became estranged from my brothers, the gathering of the bulls is among the

a visitor to the sons of my mother, heifers of the peoples

10(9) because the zeal for your house consumed in order that those tested by silver not be

me,

shut out.

and the reproaches of those who Scatter nations that want wars.

reproach you fell on me.

32(31) Envoys will come from Egypt;

11(10) And I bent my soul with fasting,

Ethiopia will outstrip its hand to God.

and it became reproaches to me.

12(11) And I made sackcloth my clothing

33(32) As for the kingdoms of the earth—sing to and became an illustration to them.

God;

13(12) About me those who sit in a gate would make music to the Lord, gossip,

Interlude on strings

and against me those who drink wine would make music.

34(33)to him who rides to the sky of the sky, in the east;

14(13)But as for me, with my prayer to you, look, he will let out, with his voice, a
O Lord!

voice of power.

It is a time of favor, O God, in the 35(34)Give glory to God;

abundance of your mercy.

over Israel is his magnificence,

Hearken to me with truth of (14)your
and his power is in the clouds.

deliverance.

36(35)Admirable is God among his saints;

15

Save me from the mud so that I shall not get the God of Israel, he will give power and stuck;

strength to his people.

may I be rescued from those who hate

me

Blessed be God!

and from the deep waters.

16(15) Do not let a tempest of water overwhelm

Psalm 68(69)

me

or a deep swallow me up

1

Regarding completion. Over those that shall be or a cistern close its mouth over me.

changed. Pertaining to David.

17(16) Listen to me, O Lord, because your mercy is

2(1) Save me, O God, kind;

because waters came as far as my soul.

according to the abundance of your

3(2) I was stuck in deep mire, compassion look upon me.

18(17)

and there is no foothold;

Do not turn away your face from your

I came into the depths of the sea, servant;

and a tempest overwhelmed me.

because I am in affliction, quickly

4(3) I grew weary of crying;

hearken to me.

al.e. Egypt's bPr make music to God = Ra c reproach = Ra

psalms 68(69)-70(71)

581

19(18) Pay attention to my soul, and redeem it;

Psalm 69(70)

for the sake of my enemies rescue me.

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to Daud. As a 20(19)For you know my reproach reminder, 2(1)for the Lord to save me.

and my shame and my embarrassment;

before you are all those who afflict me.

O God, attend to helping me!

21(20) Reproach my hearta expected—and

3(2) May those be put to shame and misery,

embarrassment

and I waited for one that would who seek my life.

sympathize, and none existed,

May those be turned back and be put to and for comforters, but I did not find.

shame

22(21) And they gave gall as my food, who wish my hurt.

and for my thirst they gave me vinegar to 4(3) May those who sayb, "Good, Good!"

drink.

be turned back promptly with shame.

23(22) Let their table become a trap before them,

5(4) Let all who seek you and a retribution and a stumbling rejoice and be glad in you.

block.

And let those who love your deliverance

24(23)Let their eyes be darkened so that they say ever more, "Let God be magnified!" cannot see,

6(5) But I am poor and needy;
and bend their back permanently.

help me, O God!

25(24) Pour out upon them your wrath, My helper and my rescuer you are;
and may the anger of your wrath overtake O Lord, do not delay!
them.

26(25) Let their steading become desolated,

Psalm 70(71)

and let there be no one who lives in their coverts,

1

Pertaining to David.

27(26) because they persecuted him whom you struck,

(1)

O God, in you I hoped;
and to the pain of your wounded they
may I never be put to shame.
added.

2

In your righteousness, rescue me, and 28(27) Add lawlessness to their lawlessness, deliver me;

and let them not enter in your incline your ear to me, and save me.
righteousness.

3

Be to me a protector-god, 29(28) Let them be blotted out of the book of the
and a strong place, to save me,
living,
because you are my firmness and my and let them not be enrolled among the refuge.
righteous.

30(29) Poor and in pain I am,

4

O my God, rescue me from a sinner's hand, and the deliverance of your face, O God, from the hand of transgressor of the law supported me.

and wrongdoer,

5

because you are my endurance, O Lord;

31(30) I will praise the name of God with an ode;

the Lord is my hope from my youth.

I will magnify him with praise.

6

Upon you I leaned from my birth;

32(31) And it will please the Lord more than a from my mother's belly it was you who young bull calf

sheltered me.

bearing horns and hoofs.

Of you is my hymn-singing continually.

33(32) Let the poor see it and be glad;

seek God, and your soul shall live,

7

Like a portent to the many I became,

34(33) because the Lord listened to the needy and you are a strong helper.

and his own that are in bonds he did not 8

Let my mouth be filled with praise, despise.

that I may sing a hymn to your glory,

all day long to your magnificence.

35(34) Let the heavens and the earth praise him,

9

Do not cast me off in the time of old age;

sea and everything that creeps in them,
when my strength fails, do not forsake me, 36(35)because God will save Sion, 10

because my enemies spoke with reference to and the cities of Judea will be built,
me,

and they shall live there and inherit it.

and those who watch for my soul

37(36)And the offspring of his slaves shall possess consulted together,

it,

11

saying, "God abandoned him;

and those who love his name shall pursue, and seize him,

encamp in it.

because there is no one to rescue."

a soul = Ra b + to me = Ra c + Of the sons of Ionadab and the first of those taken captive = Ra 582

psalms 70(71)-71(72)

12

O God, do not be far from me;
and the hills, in righteousness.

O my God, attend to helping me!

4

He will judge the poor of the people

13

Let those that slander my soul be put to and save the sons of the needy shame, and let them expire; and humble an extortioner.

let those who seek to hurt me be covered with shame and 5

And he will endure along with the sun embarrassment.

and longer than the moon, generations of 14

But as for me, I will hope continually generations.

and will add to all your praise.

6

Heb will descend like rain on a fleece,

15

My mouth will proclaim your
and like drops dripping on the earth.
righteousness,

7

In his days righteousness will sprout, all day long your deliverance, and an abundance of peace, until the because I do not know scribal art.
moon vanishes.

16

I will enter in the Lord's dominance;
O Lord, I will recall righteousness of you

8

And he shall exercise dominion from sea to alone.

sea

and from river to the world's limits.

17

aO Goda, you taught me from my youth,

9

Before him Ethiopians will fall down, and I will still proclaim your wondrous and his enemies will lick dust.

deeds.

10

Kings of Tharsis and the isles will present

18

And to old age and advanced years,

gifts;

O God, do not abandon me kings of Arabs and Saba will bring gifts.

until I proclaim your arm to every 11

And all kings shall do obeisance to him;

generation to come,
all nations shall be subject to him.
your dominance (19)and your
righteousness.

12

Because he rescued a poor one fromc a mighty one

19

O God, what magnificent things you did are and a needy one who has no helper, the highest heights.

13

he will spare poor and needy, O God, who is like you?
and the souls of the needy he will save.

20

What afflictions, many and bad, did you 14

From usury and from injustice he will show me!
redeem their soul,
And having turned, you revived me,
and precious is their name in his sight.
and from the depths of the earth
you brought me up again.

15

And he shall live long,

21

You made your greatness increase, and there will be given to him of the gold and having turned, you comforted me.
of Arabia.

And they will pray for him continually,

22

Indeed, I will acknowledge your truth to and all day long they will bless him.

you

16

There will be sustenance in the land on the
with the use of a melody, O God;

tops of the mountains;

I will make music to you with a lyre,

itsd fruit will surpass Lebanon,

O Holy One of Israel.

and they will blossom forth from a city

23

My lips will rejoice,

like the grass of the field.

when I make music to you;

17

Let his name be blessed through the ages;

my soul also, which you redeemed.

his name shall endure longer than the 24

Furthermore, all day long my tongue will

sun.

contemplate your righteousness,

And all the tribes of the earth will be when those who seek to hurt me blessed in him;

are put to shame and embarrassment.

all the nations will pronounce him

happy.

Psalm 71(72)

18

Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel,

1

Regarding Salomon.

who alone does wondrous things.

19

And blessed be the name of his glory

(1)

O God, give the king your judgment,

forever, even forever and ever,

and your righteousness to the son of the

and the whole earth will be filled with

king,

his glory.

2

to judge your people with righteousness

May it be; may it be.

and your poor with justice.

3

Let the mountains restore peace for your 20

The hymns of David son of Issai have

people,

ended.

aTr after me = Ra bPr and = Ra c + the hand of = Ra dl.e. sustenance

psalms 72(73)-73(74)

583

BOOK III

21

Because my heart was burnt up and my kidneys were changed

(Psalms 72[73]-88[89])

22

and I was of no account and ignorant,

I became beastlike in your sight.

Psalm 72(73)

23

And I am continually with you;

you seized my right hand.

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Asaph.

24

With your counsel you guided me, and with glory you received me.

(1)

How good is God to Israel,

25

For what do I have in the sky,

to the upright in heart!

and from you what did I want on the 2

But as for me, my feet were almost shaken;

earth?

my steps nearly slipped,

26

My heart and my flesh failed;

3

because I was envious of the lawless,

God is the God of my heart and is my

as I observed sinners' peace, portion forever,

4

because there is nothing negative in their 27 because, look, those who distance

death

themselves from you will perish;

and no firmness in their scourge.

you destroyed every one who whored

5

They are not in trouble of human beings, away from you.

and with human beings they will not be 28

But for me, to cling to God is good, scourged.

to put my hope in the Lord,

6

Therefore pride seized them;

that I may tell of all your promisesd

e

they clothed themselves with injustice

[in the gates of daughter Sion]e.

and their impiety.

7

Their injustice will go forth as though from

Psalm 73(74)

fat;

they progressed according to their heart's

1

Of understanding. Pertaining to Asaph.

disposition.

8

They schemed and spoke with malice;

(1)

Why did you reject, O God, totally;

injustice they spoke against at the heights.

was your anger aroused against sheep of 9

They set their mouths against heaven,

your pasture?

and their tongues ranged over the earth.

2

Remember your congregation, which you acquired long ago;

10

Therefore my people will return here, you redeemed a rod of your heritage;
and full days will be found for them.

fyou redeemedf this Mount Sion,

11

And they said, "How did God know?" whereon you encamped.

and "Is there knowledge in the Most 3

Raise your hands against their acts of pride, High?"

totally,

12

Look, these are sinners and bare flourishingb;

which evils the enemy committed among always did they possess wealth.

your saints.

13

And I said, "So, in vain did I keep my heart just

4

And those who hate you boasted within and washed my hands in innocence.

your feast;

14

And I became scourged all day long, they set up their emblems as emblems and my rebuke lasted till morning.”

and did not know.

5

As though into the gentrance aboveg—

15

If I said, “I will talk in this way,”

6

as though they were in a forest of trees, look, I would have been faithless to the they felled its doors with axes; family of your sons.

(6)

together, with wood-cutter's ax

16

And I thought how to understand this;
and stone-cutter's chisel, they smashed it.

a wearisome task was before me

7

They set on fire your sanctuary with fire;

17

until I went into the sanctuary of God, to the ground they desecrated the covert and perceived their end.

of your name.

18

But on account of deceits, you setc for them;

8

They said in their heart—the clan of them you brought them down, when they were together—
raised up.

“Come, and let us burn all the feasts of 19

How they became desolate in a moment!

God from off the land.”

They failed; they perished on account of their lawlessness.

9

Our emblems we did not see;

20

Like a dream when one awakes,

there is no longer a prophet,

O Lord, in your city you will despise their and us he will know no longer.

phantom.

10

How long, O God, will the enemy reproach, aPossibly the sky b they flourish = Ra cPerhaps set an obstacle d praises = Ra eWithout [] = Ra fLacking in Gk gOr upper entrance

584

psalms 73(74)-75(76)

the opponent utterly provoke your name?

I will judge with uprightness.

11

Why do you turn away your hand,

4(3) The earth melted, and all who live in it; and your right hand from within your

it was I who firmed up its pillars bosom, totally?

Interlude on strings

12

Yet God is our King from of old;

5(4) I said to those who break the law, “Do not he worked deliverance in the midst of the break the law,”

earth.

and to those that sin, “Do not raise a 13

It was you who strengthened the sea by your horn;

power;

6(5) do not lift up your horn on high;

youa shattered the heads of the dragons do not speak injustice against God,” upon the water.

7(6) because neither from egressesf nor from 14

It was you who crushed the heads of the settings

dragon;

nor from desolate mountains—

you gave him as food to the Ethiopian

8(7) because God is judge,

peoples.

this one he humbles and that one he 15

It was you who broke through springs and

exalts;

wadis;

9(8) because there is a cup in the Lord's hand, it was you who dried up streams of

of pure wine, full of a mixture,

Etham.

and he tipped it from side to side,

16

Yours is the day, and yours is the night;

but its dregs were not emptied out;

it was you who established lighting and all the sinners of the earth shall drink.

sun.

10(9) But as for me, I will rejoice forever;

17

It was you who made all the bounds of the
I will make music to the God of Iakob.

earth;

summer and spring, it was you who

11(10) And all the horns of sinners I will break fashioned them.

off,

and the horns of the righteous one shall 18

Remember this; an enemy reproached the
be exalted.

Lord,

and a foolish people provoked your

Psalm 75(76)

name.

19

Do not deliver a soul that acknowledges you

1

Regarding completion. Among hymns. A Psalm.

to the wild animals;

Pertaining to Asaph. An Odeg.

the souls of your needy do not forget

totally.

2(1) God is known in Judea;

in Israel his name is great.

20

Have regard for your covenant,

3(2) And his place was in peace, because the darkened onesc of the land and his place of settlement was in Sion.

were filled with houses of 4(3) There he crushed the power of the bows,

lawlessness.

shield and sword and war.

21

Let not a humbled one be turned away in

Interlude on strings

shame;

poor and needy will praise your name.

5(4) It is you who gives light marvelously from 22

Rise up, O God; plead your cause; everlasting mountains.

remember how you are reproached by the 6(5) All the stupid in heart were troubled;

fool all day long.

they slept their sleep and found

23

Do not forget the voice of your suppliants;

nothing—

the pride of those who hate you went up all the men of wealth, with their hands.

to you continually.

7(6) At your rebuke, O God of Iakob, those mounted on horses became

Psalm 74(75)

drowsy.

1

Regarding completion. Do Not Destroy. dA

8(7) You—awesome you are!

Psalm d. Pertaining to Asaph. dOf an Oded.

Who shall withstand you?

From then is your anger.

2(1) We will acknowledge you, O God;

9(8) From the sky you made judgment heard;

we will acknowledge and call upon your earth feared and was still,

name.

10(9) when God rose up to establish judgment,

3

I will tell of your wondrous deeds, (2)when

to save all the meek of the earth.

I seize an opportune moment;

Interlude on strings

a it was you = Ra bAntecedent unclear cPossibly places dPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music) e + all = Ra fPossibly east and west g + Referring to the Assyrian = Ra

psalms 75(76)-77(78)

585

11(10) Because human thought will acknowledge

17(16)Waters saw you, O God;

you,

waters saw you, and they were afraid, and a remnant of thought will celebrate and the deep was troubled, a great

you.

roaring of waters.

12(11) Make vows, and pay to the Lord your God;

18(17)A voice the clouds gave forth;

all who are around him will bring gifts indeed, your arrows are passing through.

13

to the one who is awesome

19(18)A voice of your thunder was in the circuitd;

and (12)who cuts off the spirit of rulers,

your lightnings gave light to the world;

awesome to the kings of the earth.

the earth shook and was set atremble.

20(19) In the sea was your way,

Psalm 76(77)

and your paths in many waters, and your footprints will not be known.

1

21(20)

Regarding completion. Over Idithoun.

You guided your people like sheep

Pertaining to Asaph. A Psalm.

by the hand of Moyses and Aaron.

2(1) With my voice I cried to the Lord,

Psalm 77(78)

with my voice to God, and he paid attention to me.

1

Of understanding. Pertaining to Asaph.

3(2) In a day of my affliction I sought God, with my hands, at night, before him, and

(1)

Pay attention, O my people, to my law;

I was not deceived;

incline your ears to the words of my

my soul refused to be comforted.

mouth.

4(3) I thought of God, and I was glad;

2

I will open my mouth in a parablee;

I pondered, and my spirit became

I will utter problems from of old, discouraged.

3

things that we heard, and we knew them,

Interlude on strings

and our fathers told us.

4

They were not hidden from their children to 5(4) With watchesa my eyes were preoccupied;

a next generation,

I was troubled and did not speak.

as they kept telling of the praises of the 6(5) I considered days of old,

Lord

and years of long ago I remembered and

and of his dominance

meditated;

and of the wonders that he did.

7(6) at night I would commune with my heart, and I would probe my spirit:

5

He established a witness in Iakob

8(7) "Surely the Lord will not spurn forever and set a law in Israel, and will not add to be well pleased any which he commanded our fathers longer?

to make them known to their sons,

9(8) Or will he completely cut off his mercy

6 that a next generation might know them, from generation to generation?

sons that will be born,

10(9) Or will God forget to be compassionate?

and they shall rise up and tell them to their

Or will he in his anger shut up his sons

compassion?"

7

so that they should set their hope in God

Interlude on strings

and not forget the works of God and seekf out his commandments,

11(10) And I said, “Now I have begun:

8

that they should not be like their fathers, this change was of the right hand of the a generation, crooked and embittering,

Most High!”

a generation which did not set its heart

aright,

12(11) I called to mind the works of the Lord, and its spirit was not faithful to God.

because I will remember your wonders from of old.

9

Ephraim’s sons, though bending and 13(12)And I will meditate on all your works, shooting their bows,

and among your practices I will ponder.

were turned back on a day of war.

14(13)O God, your way is in cthe holy placec.

10

They did not keep the covenant of God,

What god is great like our God?

and in his law they did not want to walk.

15(14)You are the God who works wonders;

11

And they forgot his benefactions you made known your power among the
and his marvels that he showed them peoples.

12

in the sight of their fathers, which marvels

16(15)You redeemed your people with your strong

he worked

arm,

in the land of Egypt, in Tanis' plain.

the sons of Iakob and Ioseph.

13

He broke asunder a sea and brought them

Interlude on strings

through

al.e. of the night b my spirit would probe = Ra cOr what is holy dl.e. of the earth e parables = Ra fPr they will = Ra

586

psalms 77(78)

and made waters stand like a wineskin.

37

And their heart was not upright with him,

14

And he led them with a cloud by day, nor were they true to his covenant.

and all night long with an illumination 38

Yet he is compassionate of fire.

and will atone their sins and not destroy

15

He broke asunder a rock in a wilderness
them,

and gave them drink as from a

and he will increase to turn away his anger voluminous deep.

and not ignite all his wrath.

16

And he brought out water from a rock

39

And he remembered that they were flesh, and brought down waters like rivers.

a breath that passes and does not come again.

17

And they added still to sin against him;

40

How often they embittered him in the they embittered the Most High in a wilderness;
waterless land.

they provoked him to anger in an arid 18

And they tested God in their hearts
land!
by demanding food for their souls.

41

And they turned about and tested God,

19

And they spoke against God and said, and the Holy One of Israel they “Surely, God will not be able to spread a provoked.

table in a wilderness?

42

They did not keep in mind his hand, 20

Even though he struck a rock and waters the day on which he redeemed them gushed out

from an oppressor's hand;
and wadis deluged,

43

how he displayed in Egypt his signs, surely, he cannot also give bread and his wonders in Tanis' plain. or spread a table for his people?"

44

And he turned their rivers into blood, and their pools, so that they could not 21

Therefore, the Lord heard and was put out,
drink.

and a fire was kindled in Iakob,

45

He sent a dog-fly among them, and it and anger mounted against Israel, devoured them,

22

because they had no faith in God and a frog, and it destroyed them.
nor did they hope in his saving power.

46

And he gave their crops over to the rust,

23

And he commanded clouds above and their labors to the grasshopper.
and opened heaven's doors,

47

He killed their vine with hail

24 and he rained down manna for them to eat, and their mulberry trees with the hoar-and heaven's bread he gave them.

frost.

25

Bread of angels man ate;

48

And he gave over their cattle to hail provisions he sent them in abundance.
and their property to the fire.

26

He removed a south wind from heaven,

49

He sent among them his anger's wrath, and he led on, by his dominance, a anger and wrath and affliction, southwest wind,
a dispatch through wicked angels.

27

and he rained upon them flesh like dust

50

He made a path for his wrath;
and winged birds like the sand of seas,
he did not spare their souls from death,

28

and they fell in the midst of their camp, and their cattle he consigned to death.
all around their coverts.

51

And he struck every firstborn in Egypt,

29

And they ate and were well filled, first fruit of their labors in the coverts of

and what they craved he brought them;

Cham.

30

they were not deprived of what they craved.

52

And he removed his people like sheep

While their food was still in their and brought them up like a flock in a

mouth,

wilderness.

31

God's wrath also rose against them,

53

And he guided them in hope, and they were

and he killed among their sleek ones, not in dread,

and the select of Israel he shackled.

but their enemies a sea covered.

54

And he brought them to a territory of his 32

Amidst all these things they still sinned, holy precinct,
and they did not believe in his marvels.
this mountain that his right hand

33

And in vanity did their days end, acquired.
and their years with haste.

55

And he threw out nations from before them,

34

When he was killing them, they would seek and he distributed to them shares by him out;

measuring line

they would turn to God and be early.

and made the tribes of Israel encamp in 35

And they remembered that God was their their coverts.

helper

and God the Most High was their 56

And they tested and embittered God the redeemer.

Most High.

36

And they deceived him with their mouth;

And his testimonies they did not with their tongue they lied to him.

observe

psalms 77(78)-79(80)

587

57

and turned away and were faithless as also 5

How long, O Lord, will you be utterly angry,
their fathers;

will your jealousy burn like fire?

they were twisted into a crooked bow.

6

Pour out your wrath on nations

58

And they provoked him to anger with their

that do not know you hills,

and on kingdoms

and with their carved images they moved that did not call on your name, him to jealousy.

7

because they devoured Jakob

59

God heard and disdained,

and his place they laid waste.

and he treated Israel with utter contempt.

8

Do not remember our lawless deeds of long 60

And he rejected his tent at Selob, ago;

ac covert where he encamped among

let your compassion speedily preoccupy human beings,

us,

61

and gave their strength over to captivity because we became very poor.

and their comeliness into an enemy's 9

Help us, O God our savior;

hands.

for the sake of the glory of your name,

62

And he consigned his people to a sword,

O Lord, rescue us,

and his heritage he disdained.

and atone for our sins, for the sake of 63

Their young men fire devoured,

your name,

and their girls were not bewailed.

10

so that the nations may not say,

64

Their priests fell by sword,

“Where is their God?”—

and their widows will not be lamented.

and let the avenging of the outpoured blood

65

And the Lord awoke as one that sleeps,

of your slaves

like a strong man intoxicated with wine.

be known among the nations before our 66

And he struck his enemies backwards;

eyes.

everlasting disgrace he put them to.

11

Let the groaning of the prisoners come

67

And he rejected the covert of Ioseph,

before you;

and the tribe of Ephraim he did not

according to the greatness of your arm choose,

preserve the sons of those put to death.

68 and he chose the tribe of Ioudas, 12

Return sevenfold into the bosom of our Mount Sion, which he loved.

neighbors

69

And he built his holy precinct like that of their reproaching with which they unicorns,

reproached you, O Lord!
in the land—he founded itd forever.

13

But we, your people and sheep of your 70

And he chose Daidid his slave pasture,

and took him from the sheepfolds;

will acknowledge you openly forever;

71

from behind the lambing ewes he took him to generation and generation we will to shepherd Jakob his people recount your praise.

and Israel his inheritance.

72

And he shepherded them in the innocence

Psalm 79(80)

of his heart,

and by the cleverness of his hands he 1

Regarding completion. Over those that will be guided them.

changed. A witness. Pertaining to Asaph. A

Psalm.

Psalm 78(79)

2(1) You who shepherd Israel, pay attention,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Asaph.

you who guide Joseph like sheep!

You who sit upon the cherubin, appear!

(1)

O God, nations came into your inheritance;

3(2) Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasse they defiled your holy shrine;

arouse your dominance,

they made Jerusalem into a garden-and come in order to save us!

watcher's hut.

2

They placed the carcasses of your slaves

4(3) O God, bring us back, as food for the birds of the air,

and show your face, and we shall be the flesh of your devout for the wild saved.

animals of the earth.

3

They poured out their blood like water

5(4) O Lord God of hosts,

all around Jerusalem,

how long will you be angry with the

and there was no one to bury.

prayer of your slave,

4

We became a reproach to our neighbors,

6(5) will you feed themf with bread of tears, mockery and derision to those around us.

and give themf tears to drink in measure?

aPr and = Ra b Selom = Ra c his = Ra dPossibly Sion e + Over the Assyrian = Ra f us = Ra 588

psalms 79(80)-81(82)

7(6) You made us a controversy to our neighbors,

A tongue he heard, which he did not and our enemies mocked us.

know;

7(6)

he removed his back from burdens;

8(7) Oa God of hosts, bring us back, his hands slaved at the basket.

and show your face, and we shall be

8(7) "In affliction you called upon me, and I saved.

rescued you;

Interlude on strings

I hearkened to you in a secret spot of a tempest;

9(8) A vine you transferred from Egypt;

I tested you at a water of contention.

you threw out nations and planted it.

Interlude on strings

10(9) You cleared the way for it, and you planted its roots and bit filled

9(8) "Hear, O my people, and I will admonish the landb.

you;

11(10) Its shade covered mountains,

O Israel, if you would hear me!

and its tendrils the cedars of God;

10(9) There shall be no recent god among you,

12(11) it sent out its branches as far as the sea, nor shall you do obeisance to a foreign and as far as the river its shoots.

god.

13(12)Why did you bring down its fence,

11(10) For I am the Lord your God, and all who pass along the way pluck its who brought you up out of the land of fruit?

Egypt.

14(13) A boar from the forest ravaged it,

Open wide your mouth, and I will fill it.

and a lone wild beast fed on it.

12(11) "And my people did not hear my voice;

15(14) O God of hosts, do bring back;

and Israel paid no attention to me.

look down from heaven, and see,

13(12) And I sent them away in accordance with and have regard for this vine, the practices of their hearts;

16(15)

and restore that which your right hand they shall walk in their practices.

14(13)

planted—

If my people had heard me, and look upon a son of man, whom you if Israel had walked by my ways,

15(14)

made strong for yourself.

in no time I would have humbled their 17(16)Burnt with fire and dug up itd was;

enemies,

at the rebuke of your face they will

and on those that afflict them I would perish.

have put my hand.”

18(17)

16(15)

Let your hand be upon the man at your

The enemies of the Lord lied to him,

right hand,

and their season will be forever.

17(16)

and upon a son of man, whom you made

And he fed them with wheat’s fat, strong for yourself.

and from a rock he satisfied them with 19(18)And we will never turn away from you;

honey.

you will revive us, and we will call on
your name.

Psalm 81(82)

20(19) O Lord God of hosts, bring us back,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Asaph.

and show your face, and we shall be saved.

(1)

God stood in a gathering of gods, but in their midst he discerningly judges

Psalm 80(81)

gods:

2

“How long will you judge with injustice

1

Regarding completion. Over the wine vats.
and to sinners show partiality?

Pertaining to Asaphe.

Interlude on strings

2(1) Rejoice in God our helper;

3

“Give justice to orphan and poor;

shout for joy to the God of Iakob.

of lowly and needy maintain the right.

3(2) Raise a melody; sound a drum,

4

Deliver needy and poor;

delightful harp with lyre.

from a sinner’s hand rescue them.”

4(3) Trumpet with a trumpet at a new moon,

at a high day of our feast,

5

They had neither knowledge nor 5(4) because it is an ordinance for Israel
understanding;
and a judgment belonging to the God of
in darkness they walk around; Iakob.

all the foundations of the earth will be 6(5) A testimony in Ioseph he made himf, shaken.

when he went out from the land of Egypt.

6

I said, "Gods you are, a + Lord = Ra b the land was filled = Ra c Lacking in Gk

d. e. the vine e + A Psalm = Ra f Possibly Israel or Iakob
psalms 81(82)-84(85)

589 and sons of the Most High, you alone are Most High over all the 7

but you all are dying like human beings,
earth.

and like one of the rulers you fall.”

Psalm 83(84)

8

Rise up, O God, judge the earth, because you will gain possession of all

1

Regarding completion. Over the wine vats.
the nations.

Pertaining to the sons of Kore. A Psalm.

Psalm 82(83)

2(1) How beloved are your coverts,

O Lord of hosts!

1

bAn Ode. Of a Psalm. Pertaining to Asaph.

3(2) My soul longs and faints for the courts of the Lord;

2(1) O God, who shall be likened to you?

my heart and my flesh rejoiced in a living

Do not keep silent nor be appeased,

God.

O God,

3(2) because, look, your enemies made a

4(3) Indeed, a sparrow found itself a home, tumult,

and a turtle-dove a nest for herself, and those who hate you raised their where she will lay her young:

head.

your altars, O Lord of hosts,

4(3) Against your people they laid villainous

my King and my God.

plans,

5(4) Happy are those who live in your house;

and they conspired against your saints.

for ages upon ages they will praise you.

5(4) They said, "Come, and let us destroy them

Interlude on strings

from being a nation,

and the name of Israel shall be

6(5) Happy the man whose support is from you, remembered no more,”

O Lord;

6(5) because they conspired together with one ascentsd he arranged in his heart,

accord;

7(6) in the valley of weeping, to a place which he against you they made a covenant—appointed.

7(6) the coverts of the Idumeans and the

Indeed, the lawgiver will give blessings.

Ismaelites,

8(7) They will go from strength to strength;

Moab and the Hagarites,

God of gods will be seen in Sion.

8(7) Gebal and Ammon and Amalek, and allophyles with the inhabitants of 9(8) O Lord God of hosts, listen to my prayer;

Tyre;

give ear, O God of Iakob!

9(8) indeed, even Assour came along with them;

Interlude on strings

they came as support for sons of Lot.

Interlude on strings

10(9) O God our protector, see,

and look on the face of your anointed,

10(9) Do to them as to Madiam and to Sisara,

11(10) because one day in your courts is better—as Iabin was at Wadi Kison!

beyond thousands.

11(10) They were destroyed at Aendor;

I chose to be cast aside in the house of God

they became dung for the ground.

rather than to live in covert of sinners.

12(11) Make their rulers like Oreb and Zeb

12(11) Because mercy and truth the Lord God loves, and Zebbee and Salmana—all their rulers, favor and glory he will bestow.

13(12) who said, "Let us take for our own

The Lord will not withhold good things possession the sanctuary of God."

from those who walk in innocence.

13(12)O Lord of hosts,

14(13)O my God, make them like a wheel, happy is the person who hopes in you.

like a straw in the wind.

15(14)Like a fire that will blaze through a forest,

Psalm 84(85)

as a flame might burn up mountains,

16(15)so you will pursue them with your tempest,

1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to the sons of
and with your wrath dismay them.

Kore. A Psalm.

17(16)Fill their faces with dishonor, and they will seek your name, O Lord.

2(1) You took pleasure, Lord, in your land;

18(17)Let them be put to shame and be dismayed you turned away the captivity of Jakob.

forever and ever,

3(2) You forgave your people their acts of

and let them be embarrassed and perish.

lawlessness;

19(18)And let them know that your name is the
you covered all their sins.

Lord;

Interlude on strings

aTr post High = Ra bPossibly a song of praise (vocal music) accompanied by a psalm (instrumental music) cPr like = Ra dPerhaps ascents to Sion

590

psalms 84(85)-86(87)

4(3) You put a stop to all your wrath;

10

Because you are great and one who does you turned away from your hot anger.

wondrous things,

you alone are Goda.

5(4) Bring us back, O God of our deliverance, 11

Guide me, O Lord, by your way, and turn away your anger from us.

and I shall walk in your truth;

6(5) Surely, you will not be angry with us forever let my heart be glad to revere your or prolong your anger from generation to

name.

generation?

12

I will acknowledge you, O Lord my God,

7(6) O God, when it is you who brings us back with my whole heart,

you will revive us,

and I will glorify your name forever,

and your people will be glad in you.

13

because your mercy toward me is great,

8(7) Show us, O Lord, your mercy, and you rescued my soul from deepest and your deliverance may you grant us.

Hades.

9(8) I will hear what the Lord God will speak

14

O God, transgressors of the law rose up with me,

against me,

because he will speak peace to his people and a band of strong ones sought my

and to his devout

soul,

and to those who turn to him their heart.

and they did not set you before them.

10(9) But for those who fear him his deliverance

15

But you, O Lord God, are compassionate is at hand,

and merciful,

that glory may encamp in our land.

slow to anger and abounding in mercy

and true.

11(10) Mercy and truth met;

16

Look upon me, and have mercy on me;

righteousness and peace kissed.

give your might to your servant,

12(11) Truth sprouted from the ground, and save the son of your serving girl.

and righteousness peered down from the 17

Make with me a sign for good,

sky.

and let those who hate me see and be put 13(12) Indeed, the Lord will give kindness, to shame,

and our land will yield its crop.

because it is you, O Lord, who helped me

14(13) Righteousness will go before him and comforted me.

and will place his steps in the way.

Psalm 86(87)

Psalm 85(86)

1

Pertaining to the sons of Kore. bA Psalm. Of an 1

A Prayer. Pertaining to Daud.

Odeb.

(1)

Incline your ear, O Lord, and hearken to me,

(1)

His foundations are on the holy because poor and needy I am.

mountains;

2

Preserve my life, because I am a devotee;

2

the Lord loves the gates of Sion save your slave who hopes in you, O my more than all the coverts of Iakob.

God.

3

Glorious things were spoken of you,

3

Have mercy on me, O Lord,

O city of God.

because to you I will cry all day long.

Interlude on strings

4

Gladden the soul of your slave, because to you, O Lord, I lifted up my soul,

4

I will mention Raab and Babylon to those 5 because it is you, O Lord, who are kind and who know me.

gentle

And look, allophyles and Tyre and a and abounding in mercy to all who call people of Ethiopians—
on you.

these were born there.

6

Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer, and attend to the voice of my petition.

5

cWith regard to Sion, surely noc person will 7

In a day of my affliction I cried to you,
say,

because you listened to me.

“And da persond was born in it?”

And himself founded it—the Most High!

8

There is none like you among gods, O Lord,

6

The Lord will recount, in a list of peoples and there are no works like yours.
and rulers, those that were born in it.

9

All the nations, as many as you made, shall

Interlude on strings

come

and do obeisance before you, O Lord, 7

Seeing that they are glad, the habitation of

and shall glorify your name.

all is in you.

aPr the great = Ra bPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music) c Mother Sion, a = Ra dPerhaps so-and-so

psalms 87(88)-88(89)

591

Psalm 87(88)

yourf scares threw me in disarray.

18(17)They surrounded me like water all day

1 aAn Ode. Of a Psalma. Pertaining to the sons of

long;

Kore. Regarding completion. Over Maeleth in they closed in on me at once.

19(18)

order that he be answered. Of understanding.

You distanced from me friend and fellow

Pertaining to Haiman the Israelite.

and my acquaintances due to misery.

2(1) O Lord, God of my deliverance,

Psalm 88(89)

by day I cried out, and at night, before

you;

1

Of understanding. Pertaining to Aithan the

3(2) let my prayer come before you;

Israelite.

incline your ear to my petitionb.

2(1) Of your mercies, O Lord, I will sing forever;

4(3) Because my soul was full of troubles to generation and generation I will and my life drew near to Hades, proclaim your truth with my

5(4) I was counted among those who go down
mouth,

into a pit;

3(2) because you said, "Forever mercy will be
I became like a helpless person, free built."

among corpses,

In the heavens your truth will be

6(5) like casualtiesc lying asleep in a grave, prepared.

whom you remembered no more,

and they were thrust away from your

4(3) "I made a covenant with my chosen ones;
hand.

I swore to Daudid my slave:

7(6) They put me in a very deep pit,

5(4) 'Forever I will provide offspring for you in dark places and in death's shadow.

and will build your throne for generation

8(7) Upon me your anger was fixed,

and generation.' “

and all your billows you brought upon

Interlude on strings

me.

Interlude on strings

6(5) The heavens will acknowledge your wonders, O Lord,

9(8) You distanced my acquaintances from me; indeed, your truth in an assembly of they made me an abomination to holy ones,
themselves.

7(6) because who in the clouds shall be deemed
I was handed over and could not walk equal to the Lord?
away;

And who among divine sons shall be 10(9)

my eyes grew weak through poverty.
compared with the Lord?

I cried out to you, O Lord, all day long;

8(7) God is glorified in a council of holy ones,
I spread out my hands to you.

great and awesome to all that are around 11(10) Surely, you shall not work wonders for the

him.

dead?

9(8) O Lord God of hosts, who is like you?

Or will physicians raise up, and they

You are powerful, O Lord, and your truth acknowledge you?

is around you.

Interlude on strings

10(9) It is you who rule the might of the sea, and the surge of its waves you calm.

12(11) Surely, no one will declare your mercy in a 11(10) It is you who brought low a proud one like grave

one wounded;

and your truth in the ruin?

with the arm of your power you scattered

13(12) Surely, your wonders will not be known in your enemies.

the darkness,

12(11) Yours are the heavens, and yours is the

and your righteousness in a land

earth;

forgotten?

the world and all that is in it you

founded.

14(13) And I, O Lord, I cried out to you,

13(12) The north and seas you created;

and in the morning my prayer will Thabor and Hermon will rejoice in your anticipate you.

name.

15(14)Why, O Lord, do you cast off my soul,

14(13) Yours is the arm with dominance;

do you turn away your face from me?

let your hand be strong;

16(15)Poor I am and in troubles from my youth, let your right hand be exalted.

and after being exalted I was humbled

15(14) Righteousness and judgment are a provision and became perplexed.

of your throne;

17(16)Your wrath swept over me;

mercy and truth will go in front of you.

aPossibly a song of praise (vocal music) accompanied by a psalm (instrumental music) b + O Lord = Ra cPr prostrate = Ra d eyes = Ra eI.e. the dead fPr and = Ra g and = Ra

592

psalms 88(89)-89(90)

16(15)Happy are the people who know a shout for 39(38) But you, you spurned and rejected;

joy;

you put off your anointed.

O Lord, in the light of your countenance

40(39) You renounced the covenant with your slave;

they will walk,

you defiled his sanctity in the dust.

17(16) and in your name they will rejoice all day

41(40) You broke down all his defenses;

long,

you reduced his strongholds to and in your righteousness they will be cowardice.

exalted,

42(41) All the way-farers plundered him;

18(17)because you are the boast of their power he became a reproach to his neighbors.

and by your favor our horn shall be

43(42)You exalted the right hand of his enemies;

exalted,

you made glad all his enemies.

19(18)because support is of the Lord

44(43)You turned away the help of his sword, and of the Holy One of Israel, our king.

and you did not support him in battle.

45(44)You dismissed him from purification;

20(19) Then you spoke in a vision to your devout his throne you smashed to the ground.

ones and said:

46(45)You diminished the days of his time;

“I added help to one who is powerful;

you covered him with shame.

I exalted one chosen from my people.

Interlude on strings

21(20) I found David my slave;

with my holy oil I anointed him.

47(46)How long, O Lord? Will you turn away

22(21) Indeed, my hand shall sustain him;

completely?

my arm also shall strengthen him.

Will your wrath burn like fire?

23(22)An enemy shall not profit by him,

48(47) Remember what my substance is.

and a son of lawlessness shall not add to

For, surely, you did not create all the sons harm him.

of men in vain?

24(23) And I will crush his enemies from before

49(48)Who is the person who shall live and not

him,

see death,

and those who hate him I will rout.

shall rescue his soul from the power of 25(24) And my truth and my mercy shall be with Hades?

him,

Interlude on strings

and in my name his horn shall be exalted.

50(49) Lord, where are your mercies of long ago,

26(25)And I will set his hand in a sea, which you swore to Daid by your truth?

and in rivers his right hand.

51(50) Remember, O Lord, the reproach against 27(26)He shall call upon me, 'My Father you are,

your slaves,

my God and supporter of my deliverance!'

which I bore in my bosom, from many 28(27) And I will make him a firstborn,

nations,

high among the kings of the earth.

52(51) with which your enemies reproached,

29(28)Forever I will keep my mercy for him,

O Lord,

and my covenant with him will stand with which they reproached what had firm.

been exchanged for your anointed.

30(29) And I will establish his seed forever and

ever

53(52) Blessed be the Lord forever.

and his throne as the days of the sky.

May it be; may it be.

31(30) If his sons forsake my law and by my judgments do not walk,

BOOK IV

32(31) if my statutes they shall violate and my commandments they do not

(Psalms 89[90]-105[106])

keep,

33(32)I will visit their lawlessness with a rod,

Psalm 89(90)

and with scourges their sins,

34(33)but my mercy I will never disperse from him

1

A Prayer. cPertaining to c Moyses, man of God.

nor be unjust in my truth,

35(34)nor will I violate my covenant

(1)

Lord, you became a refuge to us and set aside what proceeds from my lips.

in generation and generation.

36(35) Once and for all I swore aby my holinessa,

2

Before mountains were brought forth

'If I will lie to David.'

and the earth and the world were formed,

37(36)His seed shall remain forever, and from everlasting to everlasting you and his throne is like the sun before me,

are.

38(37) and like the moon, established forever.

And the witness in heaven is faithful.”

3

Do not turn man away to humiliation.

Interlude on strings

And you said, "Return, you sons of men," aOr in my holy place bOr holy precinct c Of = Ra

psalms 89(90)-91(92)

593

4 because a thousand years in your sight

3

because it is he who will rescue me from a

are like the day of yesterday that passed trap of hunters and a watch in a night.

and from a troublesome word;

4

with the broad of his back he will shade you, 5

Years shall be the objects of their scorn;

and under his wings you will find hope;

in the morning may it pass like young with a shield his truth will surround you.

growth;

5

You will not be afraid of nocturnal fright,

6 in the morning may it flourish and pass;

of an arrow that flies by day, in the evening may it fall, become hard 6

of a deed that travels in darkness, and wither.

of mishap and noonday demon.

7

Because we expired by your wrath

7

At your side a thousand will fall, and by your anger we were troubled,

and ten thousand at your right,

8

you set our lawless deeds before you;

but it will not come near you.

our lifetime became an illumination of 8

Only with your eyes will you perceive,

your face.

and the requital of sinners you will see.

9

Because all our days expired

9

Because you, O Lord, are my hope, and by your wrath we expired

the Most High you made your refuge.

our years I'd ponder like a cobweb.

10

No evil shall come before you, 10

The days of our years—in them are seventy and no scourge shall come near your

years,

covert,

but if in acts of dominance eighty years,

11

because he will command his angels and the greater part of them is toil and concerning you

trouble,

to guard you in all your ways;

because meekness came upon us, and we 12

upon hands they will bear you up shall become disciplined.

so that you will not dash your foot against a stone.

11

Who knows the might of your wrath,

13

On asp and cobra you will tread, and your anger from your fear?

and you will trample lion and dragon 12

cMake thus known to reckon up your right under foot.

hand

and those fettered in heart by wisdom.

14

Because in me he hoped, I will also rescue

him;

13

Bring back, O Lord! How long?

I will protect him, because he knew my

And be consoled over your slaves!

name.

14

In the morning we were filled with your 15

He will call to me, and I will listen to him;

mercy,

I am with him in trouble;

and we rejoiced and were glad in all our

It will rescue them and glorify him.

days.

16

With length of days I will satisfy him

15

We were glad as many days as you humbled and show him my deliverance.

us,

years as we saw evil.

Psalm 91(92)

16

And look upon your slaves and upon your works,

1

gA Psalm. Of an Odeg. Regarding the day of the and guide their sons.

sabbath.

17

Let the splendor of the Lord our God be

upon us

2(1) It is good to acknowledge the Lord and prosper upon us the work of our and to make music to your name, O Most hands.

High,

3(2) in order to declare your mercy in the

Psalm 90(91)

morning

and your truth every night

1 eA laudation. Of an Odee. Pertaining to Daid.

4(3) on a ten-stringed harp, with an ode on a lyre,

(1)

He who lives by the help of the Most High,

5(4) because you, O Lord, made me glad by your in a shelter of the God of the sky he will work,

lodge.

and at the deeds of your hands I will 2

He will say to the Lord, "My supporter you

rejoice.

are and my refuge;

my God, I will hope in him,"

6(5) How were your deeds extolled, O Lord!

aOr years as objects of scorn bOr they cGk uncertain dOm = Ra ePerhaps a song of praise sung without accompaniment

fPr and = Ra gPossibly a psalm (instrumental music) accompanied by a song of praise (vocal music)

594

psalms 91(92)-93(94)

Your thoughts reached great depth!

the God of vengeance spoke openly!

7(6) A foolish man cannot know,

2

Be exalted, O you who judge the earth;

and a stupid one will not understand give to the proud what they deserve!

these things.

3

How long shall sinners, O Lord,

8(7) When sinners sprang up like grass

how long shall sinners boast,

also all who practice lawlessness popped

4

shall they utter and talk injustice,

up

shall they talk—all those who practice so that they may be destroyed forever and lawlessness?

ever.

5

Your people, O Lord, they humbled, 9(8) But you are most high forever, O Lord, and your heritage they wronged.

10(9) because, look, your enemies, O Lord,

6

Widow and guest they killed, because, look, your enemies shall perish and orphans they murdered, and all those who practice lawlessness

7 and they said, “The Lord will not see, shall be scattered.

nor will the God of Iakob understand.”

11(10) And my horn will be exalted like a unicorn's,

8

Do understand, O fools among the people, and my old age with thick oil.

and, O stupid ones, think for once!

12(11) And my eye looked at my enemies,

9

He who planted the ear, does he not hear?

and among those who keep rising against

Or he who formed the eye, does he not me, doing evil, my ear will hear.

perceive?

10

He who disciplines nations, will he not

13(12) A righteous one will flourish like a palm, chastise,

and like a cedar in Lebanon he will he who teaches man knowledge?

increase.

11

The Lord knows the thoughts of human

14(13)Planted in the house of the Lord,

beings,

in the courts of our God, they will

that they are vain.

flourish.

15(14) In prosperous old age they will still increase,

12

Happy the person whom you discipline, and they will be living in comfort,

O Lord,

16(15) to declare that the Lord my God is upright, and teach him out of your law, and there is no injustice in him.

13

to calm him due to wicked days until a hole is dug for the sinner,

Psalm 92(93)

14

because the Lord will not reject his people and his heritage he will not abandon 1 bAc laudation. Of an Odeb. Pertaining to Dauid.

15

until justice turns into judgment, and with all the upright in heart clinging

(1)

The Lord became king; he was robed in

to it.

majesty;

Interlude on strings

the Lord was robed in power and girded
himself.

16

Who will rise up for me against wicked Indeed, he made firm the world, that it shall
people?

not be shaken;

Or who will stand with me against 2

your throne is prepared from then on;
people that practice lawlessness?
from everlasting you are.

17

If it had not been that the Lord had helped
me,

3

The streams lifted up, O Lord;
my soul would virtually have sojourned

the streams lifted up their voices.

in Hades.

4

Due to the voices of many waters

18

If I were to say, "My foot has been shaken," wondrous are the billows of the sea;

your mercy, O Lord, would help me.

wondrous on high is the Lord!

19

According to the multitude of my pains in my heart

5

Your testimonies were made very sure;
your consolations loved my soul.

sanctity befits your house,

20

Surely a throne of lawlessness shall not be O Lord, unto length of days.

in your presence,

he who shapes mischief by ordinance?

Psalm 93(94)

21

They will hunt down the soul of a righteous
one,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Daud. d[Pertaining to and innocent blood they condemn.

the fourth day of the week.]d

22

And the Lord became to me a refuge, and my God my hoped-for helper.

(1)

The Lord is God of vengeance;

23

And he will repay them for their lawlessness, a + which is = Ra bPossibly a song of praise sung without accompaniment cPr Regarding the day of the pre-sabbath, when the earth had been settled = Ra dWithout [] = Ra e helps = Ra fPr O Lord

psalms 94(95)-96(97)

595 and according to their wickedness

but the Lord made the heavens.
the Lord our God will wipe them out.

6

Acknowledgment and beauty are before
him;

Psalm 94(95)

holiness and magnificence comprise his sanctityc.

1

aA laudation. Of an Odea. Pertaining to Daudid.

7

Bring to the Lord, O paternal families of the (1)

O come, let us rejoice in the Lord;

nations;

let us make a joyful noise to God our

bring to the Lord glory and honor.

savior!

8

Bring to the Lord glory due his name;

2

Let us anticipate his face with raise offerings, and enter into his courts.

acknowledgment,

9

Do obeisance to the Lord in his holy court;
and with melodies let us make a joyful let all the earth shake from before him.
noise to him,

3 because the Lord is a great God

10

Say among the nations, "The Lord became and a great King over all the gods, king!

4

because in his hand are the ends of the Indeed, he set right the world, which

earth

shall not be shaken.

and the heights of the mountains are

He will judge peoples with his,
forthrightness.”

5 because his is the sea and he made it

11

Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth and the dry land his hands formed!

rejoice;

let the sea shake, and all that fills it;

6

O come, let us do obeisance and prostrate 12

let the plains exult, and everything in them.

ourselves before him,

Then shall all the trees of the forest and let us weep before the Lord, who rejoice

made us,

13

before the Lord, because he is coming, 7

because he is our God
because he is coming to judge the earth.
and we are people of his pasture
He will judge the world with righteousness and sheep of his hand!
and peoples with his truth.
Today if you hear his voice,

Psalm 96(97)

8

do not harden your hearts, as at the embittering,

1

Pertaining to David. b[When his land is being like the day of the trial in the wilderness, brought to order.]b

9

where your fathers tried me; they put me to the proof and saw my

(1)

The Lord became king! Let the earth rejoice;
works.

let many islands be glad!

10

For forty years I loathed that generation,

2

Cloud and thick darkness are around him;
and said, "Always do they stray in heart, righteousness and judgment keep his and they did not know my ways.”

throne straight.

11

As I swore in my wrath,

3

Fire will go before him

“If they shall enter into my rest!”

and blaze around his enemies.

4

His lightnings gave light to the world;

Psalm 95(96)

the earth saw and shook.

5

The mountains melted like wax from before 1 b[When the house was being rebuilt after the

the Lord,

captivity.]b An Ode. Pertaining to David.

from before the Lord of all the earth.

(1)

Sing to the Lord a new song;

6

The heavens proclaimed his righteousness,

sing to the Lord, all the earth.

and all the peoples beheld his glory.

2

Sing to the Lord; bless his name;

7

Let all who do obeisance to carved images

tell of his deliverance from day to day.

be put to shame,

3

Declare his glory among the nations,

those who make their boast in their idols.

among all the peoples his marvelous

Do obeisance to him, all his angels!

works,

8

Sion heard and was glad,

4

because great is the Lord and very much and the daughters of Judea rejoiced

praiseworthy;

on account of your judgments, O Lord.

he is terrible to all the gods,

9

Because you are the Lord most high over all 5 because all the gods of the nations are

the earth,

demons,

you were exalted far above all the gods.

aPerhaps a song of praise sung without instrumental accompaniment bWithout [] = Ra cOr holy precinct dPr the = Ra

596

psalms 96(97)-100(101)

10

You who love the Lord, hate evil!

and do obeisance at the footstool of his Hea guards the souls of his devout;

feet,

from the hand of sinners he will rescue because holy is he!

them.

11

Light dawned for the righteous,

6

Moyses and Aaron were among his priests, and gladness for the upright in heart.

and Samouel among those who called on 12

Be glad in the Lord, O you righteous, his name.

and acknowledge the mention of his

They called on the Lord,

holiness!

and he hearkened to them.

7

In a pillar of cloud he would speak to them;

Psalm 97(98)

they would keep his testimonies and the ordinances that he gave them.

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

8

O Lord our God, it was you who would

(1)

Sing to the Lord a new song,

hearken to them;

because the Lord did marvelous things.

O God, it was you who was being very

His right hand saved for him, merciful to them

and his holy arm.

and an avenger of all their practices.

2

The Lord made known his deliverance;

9

Exalt the Lord our God,

before the nations he revealed his

and do obeisance toward his holy

righteousness.

mountain,

3

He remembered his mercy to Jakob because the Lord our God is holy.

and his truth to the house of Israel.

All the ends of the earth saw

Psalm 99(100)

the deliverance of our God.

1

A Psalm. Regarding acknowledgment.

4

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth;

(1)

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth, sing, and rejoice, and make music.

5

Make music to the Lord with a lyre,

2

Be subject to the Lord with gladness;
with a lyre and the sound of a tune.
Enter before him with rejoicing.

6

With metal trumpets and the sound of a horn trumpet

3

Know that the Lord, he is God.

make a joyful noise before the King, the

It is he who made us, and not we;

Lord.

his people dwell in it, and sheep of his pasture.

7

Let the sea shake, and all that fills it,

the world and those who live in it.

4

Enter into his gates with acknowledgment,

8

Streams will together clap their hands;

into his courts with hymns.

the mountains will rejoice,

Acknowledge him; praise his name, 9

because he has come

5 because the Lord is kind;

to judge the earth.

his mercy endures forever,

He will judge the world with righteousness and to generation and generation is his and peoples with uprightness.

truth.

Psalm 98(99)

Psalm 100(101)

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

1

Pertaining to David. A Psalm.

(1)

The Lord became king; let peoples grow

(1)

Of mercy and of justice I will sing to you, angry!

O Lord;

He who sits upon the cheroubin—let the 2

I will make music

earth shake!

(2)

and take note of a blameless way.

2

The Lord is great in Sion,

When will you come to me?

and he is high over all the peoples.

3

Let them acknowledge your great name,

I would walk in my innocence of heart because it is awesome and holy!

within my house.

4

A king's honor loves justice;

3

I did not set before my eyes

it was you who provided uprightness;

an act against the law.

it was you who executed justice and righteousness in Iakob.

People who practice transgression I hated;

5

Exalt the Lord our God,

4

a crooked heart did not cling to me.

a The Lord = Ra b God = Ra c Perhaps and not we him

dLacking in Gk

psalms 100(101)-102(103)

597

When the wicked kept turning away from 12(11) My days faded like a shadow,

me,

and I, like grass, I withered away.

I would no longer know him.

13(12)But you, O Lord, remain forever,

5

The one who was secretly slandering his

and the mention of you to generation fellow,

and generation.

him I would chase away.

14(13)When you rise up you will have compassion

With a haughty eye and insatiate heart—

on Sion,

with him I would not eat.

because it is the appointed time to have compassion on it,

6

My eyes would be on the faithful in the
because the appointed time has come,

15(14)

land

because your slaves held its stones dear

so that they might sit with me.

and on its dust they will have compassion.

If one walked in a blameless way,

16(15) And the nations will fear the name of the

he would minister to me.

Lord,

and all the kings of the earth your glory,

7

17(16)

No one who practiced haughtiness because the Lord will build up Sion, would live in my house;
and he will be seen in his glory.

18(17)

no one who uttered injustice He regarded the prayer of the lowly would prosper before my eyes.
and did not despise their petition.

8

19(18)

Morning by morning I would kill Let this be recorded for another generation, all the sinners in the land and a people, which is being created, will in order to destroy from the Lord's city praise the Lord,

20(19)

all who practice lawlessness.
because he peered down from his holy height,

Psalm 101(102)

the Lord from heaven looked at the earth, 21(20) to hear the groaning of the prisoners,

1

A prayer. Pertaining to the poor one. When he is to set free the sons of those put to death,

22(21)

weary and pours out his petition before the so that the name of the Lord might be Lord.

declared in Sion,

and his praise in Jerusalem,

2(1) b

23(22)

O Lord, listen to my prayer, when peoples gather together,
and let my cry come to you.

and kingdoms, to be subject to the Lord.

3(2) Do not turn away your face from me.

24(23)

In the day when I am afflicted,

He answered him in the way of his strength,

incline your ear to me;

“Tell me the paucity of my days.

25(24)

in the day when I call upon you,

Do not take me away at the mid-point of listen to me speedily,

my days,

4(3) because my days vanished like smoke while your years are in generation of and my bones were burnt up like generations!”

firewood.

5(4)

26(25)

My heart was stricken like grass and it

At the beginning it was you, O Lord, who withered,

founded the earth,

because I forgot to eat my bread.

and the heavens are works of your hands.

6(5)

27(26)

Due to the sound of my groaning,
They will perish, but you will endure,
my bone clung to my flesh.

and they will all become old like a 7(6) I resembled a desert pelican, garment.

I became like a long-eared owl on a Like clothing you will change them, building-site.

and they will be changed.

8(7)

28(27)

I lay awake,

But you are the same,

and I became like a lone sparrow on a
and your years will not fail.

29(28)

housetop.

The sons of your slaves shall encamp,

9(8) All day long my enemies would reproach and their offspring shall prosper for ever.

me,

and those who used to commend me

Psalm 102(103)

would swear against me,

10(9) because I ate ashes like bread

1

Pertaining to David.

and would mix my drink with weeping,

11(10) from before your wrath and your anger,

(1)

Bless the Lord, O my soul,

because when you had lifted me up you and all that is within me, his holy name.

dashed me down.

2

Bless the Lord, O my soul,

aLacking in Gk bTr after listen = Ra cOr night raven dl.e.
prayer/petition ePossibly last fPr and = Ra 598

psalms 102(103)-103(104)

and do not forget all his repayments—

Psalm 103(104)

3 who is very conciliatory toward all your acts of lawlessness,

1

Pertaining to David.

who heals all your diseases,

4

who redeems your life from corruption,

(1)

Bless the Lord, O my soul.

who crowns you with mercy and

O Lord my God, you were greatly compassion,

magnified.

5

who satisfies your desire with good,

With acknowledgment and splendor you and your youth will be renewed like an were clothed,
eagle's.

2

wrapping yourself in light as in a garment, stretching out the sky like a skin.

6

One who performs aacts of pitya is the 3

He who covers his upper stories with waters,

Lord

he who makes cloud masses his step-up, and judgment for all who are being he who walks about on wings of winds.
wronged.

4

He who makes spirits his messengersc,

7

He made known his ways to Moyses, and flaming fire his ministers.

to the sons of Israel his will.

8

Compassionate and merciful is the Lord,

5

He founded the earth on its stability;
slow to anger and abounding in mercy.
it will never ever be tilted.

9

He will not be totally angry,

6

The deep like a garment is his clothing;

nor will he keep his wrath forever.

above the mountains the waters will 10

Not according to our sins did he deal with stand.

us,

7

At your rebuke they will flee;

nor according to our acts of lawlessness at a voice of your thunder they will cower

did he repay us,

with fright.

11

because, as the sky is high above the earth,

8

Mountains ascend, and plains descend

he strengthened his mercy toward those to a spot that you founded for them.

who fear him;

9

A boundary you set that they shall not pass, 12

as far as east is from west,

nor shall they return to cover the earth.

he has removed from us our acts of

lawlessness.

10

He who make springs gush forth in ravines;

13

As a father has compassion for sons, between the mountains theyd will flow.

the Lord has had compassion for those 11

They will give drink to all the animals of the

who fear him,

field;

14

because he knew our makeup.

onagers will receive for their thirst.

Remember that we are dust!

12

On them the birds of the air will encamp;
from among the rocks they will give forth

15

As for man, his days are like grass;
sound.

like a flower of the field, so it will 13

When he waters mountains from his upper bloom,
stories,

16

because a breath passed through it, and it with the fruit of your work the earth shall will be gone,
be fed,
and it will no longer recognize its place.

14

when he causes grass to grow for the cattle, 17

But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting and plants for the service of human

even to everlasting
beings,
on those who fear him,
to bring forth bread from the earth.
and his righteousness on sons' sons,

15

And wine gladdens a human heart,

18 for those who keep his covenant to brighten a face with oil, and remember his commandments, to do and bread sustains a human heart.

them.

16

The trees of the plain shall be fed, the cedars of Lebanon, which he 19

The Lord prepared his throne in the sky,
planted.

and his kingdom rules over all.

17

There sparrows will build their nests;

20

Bless the Lord, O all you, his angels, the home of the heron fleads themf.

powerful in strength doing his bidding,

18

The high mountains are for the does;

to obey the voice of his words.

a rock is a refuge for the haresg.

21

Bless the Lord, all his hosts,

19

He made a moon for seasons;

his ministers doing his will.

the sun knew its setting.

22

Bless the Lord, all his works, 20

You set darkness, and it became night;

in every place of his dominion.

in it all the animals of the forest will

Bless the Lord, O my soul.

pass through,

aPerhaps alms b the Lord = Ra cOr angels d waters = Ra ePossibly the mountains fPossibly is already there

g hedgehogs = Ra hI.e. the night

psalms 103(104)-104(105)

599

21 thea whelps roaring to seize

5

Remember the wonderful things which he and to seek their food from God.

did,

22

The sun rose, and they gathered, his miracles and the judgments of his
and in their dens they will lie down.

mouth,

23

A person will go out to his work

6

O offspring of Abraam, his slaves, and to his labor until the evening.
sons of Iakob, his chosen.

24

How magnified were your works, O Lord!

7

The Lord himself is our God;
In wisdom you made them all;
in all the earth are his judgments.
the earth was filled with your 8

He remembered his covenant forever, acquisition.

a word that he commanded for a 25

This great and wide sea;

thousand generations

there creeping things innumerable,

9

—that he pledged to Abraam—living things, small with great.

and his oath to Isaak

26

There ships travel,

10

And he established itc for lakob as an this dragon that you formed to mock at ordinance

him.

and for Israel as an everlasting covenant,

11 saying, "To you I will give the land of 27

All look to you

Chanaan

to give them food in due season;
as a parcel for your inheritance.”

28

when you give to them, they will gather,
and when you open your hand, 12

When they were small in number, all things together will be filled with very few and resident aliens in it, kindness.

13

they also passed from nation to nation,

29

But when you turn away your face, they will from kingdom to another people.

be dismayed;

14

He allowed no person to do them wrong,

you cancel their spirit, and they will fail and he rebuked kings on their account, and return to their dust.

15

“Do not touch my anointed ones,

30

You will send forth your spirit, and they will
and among my prophets do no harm.”

be created,

and you will renew the face of the 16

And he summoned famine against the land,
ground.

and every sustenance of bread he crushed;

17

he sent a person ahead of them;

31

Let the glory of the Lord be forever.

Joseph was sold as a slave.

The Lord will be glad at his works—

18

They debased his feet with fetters;

32

he who looks on the earth and makes it

his soul passed through iron tremble,

19

until what he had said came to pass;

he who touches the mountains and they

the saying of the Lord purified him.

smoke.

20

A king sent and released him,

33

I will sing to the Lord in my life;

a ruler of peoples, and set him free.

I will make music to my God while I

21

He made him lord of his house

have being.

and ruler of all his possessions,

34

May my conversation be pleasing to him,

22

to educate his officials to be like himself and I will be glad in the Lord!
and to teach his elders wisdom.

35

May sinners fail from the earth, and the lawless, so that they be no more.

23

And Israel entered into Egypt,
Bless the Lord, O my soul.
and Jakob lived as a resident alien in Cham's land.

Psalm 104(105)

24

And he increased his people very much and made them strong beyond their 1

Hallelouia.

enemies.

25

He changed their hearts to hate his people,

(1)

Acknowledge the Lord, and call on his to deal craftily with his slaves.

name;

announce his deeds among the nations.

26

He sent out Moyses, his slave,

2

Sing to him, and make music to him;

Aaron, him whom he chose.

tell of all his wonderful things.

27

In them he placed the words of his signs

3

Be commended in his holy name;

and wonders in Cham's land.

let the heart of people that seek the Lord

28

He sent darkness, and it grew dark,

be glad.

and they embittered his words.

4

Seek the Lord and be strengthened;

29

He changed their waters into blood

seek his face continually.

and killed their fish.

aOm = Ra bOr the universe cl.e. covenant dl.e. God

600

psalms 104(105)-105(106)

30

Their land crawled with frogs,

6

We sinned together with our fathers;

in the chambers of their kings.

we acted lawlessly; we committed 31

He spoke, and dog-flies came,

injustice.

and gnats in all their territories.

7

Our fathers in Egypt did not consider your 32

He made their showers hail,

wonderful works;

and consuming fire was in their land.

they did not remember the abundance of 33

And he struck their vines and their fig trees

your mercy

and shattered a tree of their territory.

and embittered, when going up at the 34

He spoke, and the grasshopper came,

Red Sea.

and locust larva without number,

8

And he saved them for his name's sake, 35 and they devoured all the vegetation in their

to make known his dominance.

land

9

And he rebuked the Red Sea, and it became and devoured the fruit of their land.

dry,

36

And he struck down every firstborn in their and he guided them in the deep as in a

land,

wilderness.

first fruit of all their toil.

10

And he saved them from the hand of people that hate

37

And he brought them out with silver and and redeemed them from an enemy's gold,
hand.

and there was no one among their tribes

11

And water covered those that afflicted them;
who was weak.

not one of them was left.

38

Egypt was glad at their exodus, 12

And they believed in his words, because fear of them fell upon it.
and they sang his praise.

39

He spread a cloud as a coveringb, and fire to give light during the night.

13

They were quick to forget his works;

40

They asked, and quails came,

they did not wait for his counsel.

and with heaven's bread he filled them.

14

And they craved with craving in the 41

He split a rock, and waters gushed out;

wilderness

rivers ran in waterless terrain, and put God to the test in a waterless 42 because he remembered his holy word region,

to Abraam, his slave.

15 and he gave them their request and sent surfeit into their souls.

43

And he brought his people out with rejoicing, and his chosen ones with gladness.

16

And they angered Moyses in the camp,

44

And he gave them lands of nations, Aarond, the holy one of the Lord.
and labors of peoples they inherited,

17

The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan

45 that they might keep his statutes and covered the company of Abiron.

and seek out his law.

18

And fire broke out in their company; a flame burned up sinners.

Psalm 105(106)

19

And they made a calf at Choreb

1

Hallelouia.

and did obeisance to the carved image.

20

And they exchanged their glory

(1)

Acknowledge the Lord, because he is kind,

for a likeness of a bull calf that eats

because his mercy is forever.

grass.

2

Who shall speak of the acts of dominance of 21

They forgot the God who was saving them,

the Lord,

who did great things in Egypt,

make heard all his praises?

22 wondrous works in Cham's land

3

Happy are those who observe justice and awesome things by the Red Sea.

and do righteousness at every 23

And he spoke in order to destroy them—opportunity.

had not Moyses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him,

4

Remember us, O Lord, in the good pleasure to turn away his wrath from destroying.

of your people;

regard us in your deliverance,

24

And they despised a desirable land;

5 that we may look at the kindness of your they had no faith in his word.

chosen ones,

25

And they grumbled in their coverts;

that we may be glad in the gladness of they did not listen to the voice of the your nation,
Lord.

that we may be commended with your 26

And he raised his hand against them, heritage.

to cast them down in the wilderness

a every = Ra b + for them cEvidently not the quail itself but a bird of uncertain species that migrates with the quail.

dPr and = Ra

psalms 105(106)-106(107)

601

27

and to cast down their offspring among the
and gather us from among the nations,

nations

that we may acknowledge your holy and scatter them in the lands.

name;

boast in your praise.

28

And they were initiated to Beelphegor and ate sacrifices of the dead,

48

Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from 29

and they provoked him with their practices, everlasting even to everlasting.

and the falling broke out among them.

And all the people shall say, "May it be;

30

And Phinees stood and made atonement, may it be."

and the breach abated.

31

And it was reckoned to him as righteousness

BOOK V

to generation and generation forever.

(Psalms 106[107]-151)

32

And they angered him at a water of contention,

Psalm 106(107)

and it went ill with Moyses on their account,

1

Hallelouia.

33 because they made his spirit bitter, and he aparted with his lipsa.

(1)

Acknowledge the Lord, because he is kind,
because his mercy is forever.

34

They did not destroy the nations, which the 2

Let those redeemed by the Lord say so,

Lord told them,

whom he redeemed from an enemy's 35 and they mingled with the nations

hand.

and learned their works.

3

From the lands he gathered them in,

36

And they were subject to their carved from east and west and north and sea.

images,

and it became to them a stumbling block.

4

They wandered in the wilderness in a 37

And they sacrificed their sons waterless region;
and their daughters to the demons,
a way to a city of habitation they did not 38 and they poured out innocent blood,

find,
blood of their sons and daughters

5

being hungry and thirsty;
whom they sacrificed to the carved images their soul fainted within them.

of Chanaan,

6

And they cried to the Lord when they were
and the land was murdered with blood.

being afflicted,

39

And it was defiled by their acts, and from their anguish he rescued them and they played the prostitute in their 7

and led them by a straight way,

practices.

to go to a city of habitation.

8

Let them acknowledge the Lord for his 40

And the Lord became furiously angry with mercies

his people,

and for his wonderful works to the sons

and he abhorred his heritage,

of men,

41

and he gave them into the hands of nations, 9

because he fed an empty soul and those who hated them ruled over and a hungry soul he filled with good

them.

things,

42

And their enemies oppressed them, 10

when they sat in darkness and death's and they were brought low under their

shadow,

hands.

imprisoned in poverty and in iron,

43

Many times he rescued them,

11 because they had embittered the sayings of

but they embittered him by their

God,

purposes

and the counsel of the Most High they

and were brought low by their had provoked.

lawlessness.

12

And their heart was brought low by exertion;

44

And he regarded them when they were they became weak, and there was no one

being afflicted,

to help.

when he listened to their petition.

13

And they cried to the Lord when they were 45

And he remembered his covenant
being afflicted,
and showed regret according to the
and from their anguish he saved them, abundance of his mercy.

14

and he brought them out of darkness and 46

And he gave them over to be pitied death's shadow,
before all who took them captive.
and their bonds he broke asunder.

15

Let them acknowledge the Lord for his 47

Save us, O Lord our God,

mercies

aPossibly spoke rashly bl.e. rendered lifeless with bloodshed

602

psalms 106(107)-107(108)

and for his wonderful works to the sons

37 and they sowed fields and planted vineyards

of men,

and produced a fruit of a yield.

16

because he shattered bronze gates

38

And he blessed them, and they were and iron bars he crumpled.

multiplied greatly,

and their cattle he did not decrease.

17

He aided them from their lawless way, for on account of their lawless acts they 39

And they were diminished and maltreated were brought low;

through affliction, wrong and sorrow.

18

any kind of food their soul loathed, 40

Contempt poured down on rulers, and they drew near to the gates of death.

and he a made them wander in an 19

And they cried to the Lord when they were impassable and trackless region,
being afflicted,

41

and he helped a needy one out of poverty
and from their anguish he saved them;
and made their paternal families like 20

he sent out his word and healed them sheep.

and rescued them from their destruction.

42

The upright will see it and be glad,

21

Let them acknowledge the Lord for his
and all lawlessness will stop its mouth.

mercies

43

Who is wise and will keep these things—
and for his wonderful works to the sons and will they take note of the mercies of
of men.

the Lord?

22

And let them sacrifice a sacrifice of praise and tell of his deeds with rejoicing.

Psalm 107(108)

23

1

a

Those who used to go down to the sea in An Ode. Of a Psalms. Pertaining to David. ships,

doing business on many waters—

2(1) Ready is my heart, O God; ready is my 24 it was they who saw the deeds of the Lord

heart;

and his wondrous works in the deep.

I will sing and make music in my glory.

25

He spoke and the tempest's blast stood,

3(2) Awake, O harp and lyre!

and its waves were raised on high.

I will awaken at dawn.

26

They mount up as far as the heavens,

4(3) I will acknowledge you among peoples, and they go down as far as the depths;

O Lord,

their soul would melt away in calamity;

and I will make music to you among 27 they were troubled; they staggered like the

nations,

drunkard,

5(4) because great above the heavens is your

and all their wisdom was gulped down.

mercy,

28

And they cried to the Lord when they were

and as far as the clouds is your truth.

being afflicted,

and out of their anguish he brought

6(5) Be exalted to the heavens, O God,

them,

and over all the earth your glory.

29

and he ordered the tempest, and it subsided

7(6) In order that your beloved might be rescued, to a breeze,

save with your right hand, and heed me.

and its waves became silent.

30

And they were glad, because they had quiet,

8(7) God spoke in his holy place:

and he guided them to a haven of their

“I will be exalted, and I will divide up want.

Sikima,

31

Let them acknowledge the Lord for his

and the vale of the tents I will portion out.

mercies

9(8) Mine is Galaad, and mine is Manasse,
and for his wonderful works to the sons
and Ephraim is the support of my head;
of men.

loudas is my king.

32

Let them exalt him in an assembly of people

10(9) Moab is a cauldron of my hope;
and in a session of elders praise him.
on Idumea I will hurlb my sandal;
to me allophytes were subjugated.”

33

He turned rivers into a wilderness and channels of water into thirst,

11(10) Who will bring me cas far as a strong cityc?

34

a fruitful land into a salt marsh,

Who will guide me as far as Idumea?

due to the evil of its inhabitants.

12(11) Are you not the one that rejects us, O God?

35

He turned a wilderness into pools of water

And you will not go out, O God, with our

and a parched land into channels of armies.

water.

13(12) Grant us help from affliction,

36

And there he settled hungry ones,

and worthless is human deliverance.

and they established a city for settlement,

14(13) In God we shall do valiantly, a Possibly a song of praise (vocal music) accompanied by a psalm (instrumental music) b put = Ra c to a city of fortification = Ra

psalms 108(109)-109(110)

603 and he it is who will treat our enemies

19

Let it be like a coat that he wraps around with contempt.

himself

and like a belt that he always wears.”

Psalm 108(109)

20 aThis isa the work from the Lord against 1

Regarding completion. Pertaining to Daud. A those that slander me

Psalm.

and those that speak evil against my
soul.

(1)

O God, do not pass over my praise in 21

And you, O Lord, Lord,

silence,

do mercy with me for your name's sake,

2

because a sinner's mouth and a deceiver's because your mercy is kind.

mouth—it was opened against me;

22

Rescue me, (22) because poor and needy I they spoke against me with a deceitful am,

tongue.

and my heart is troubled within me.

3

And they surrounded me with words of 23

Like a shadow when it fades, I was erased;

hate

I was shaken off like grasshoppers.

and made war on me without cause.

24

My knees became weak from fasting,

4

In return for my love they would slander and my flesh was changed because of

me,

oil.

but I, I would pray.

25

And I, I became a reproach to them;

5

And they rewarded me evil for good they saw me; they shook their heads.

and hatred for my love:

26

Help me, O Lord, my God!

6

“Appoint a sinner against him,
Save me according to your mercy.
and let a slanderer stand on his right.

27

And let them know that this is your hand,

7

When he is tried, may he come out and you, O Lord, you did itb.
condemned,

28

They will curse, but you will bless.
and let his prayer be counted as sin.
Let my opponents be put to shame,

8

Let his days become few,
but your slave will be glad.
and may another seize his position.

29

Let those who slander me be clothed with 9

Let his sons become orphans,
embarrassment,
and his wife a widow.

and let them be wrapped in their own 10

As they totter, let his sons wander about and shame as in a double cloak.

beg;

30

I will greatly acknowledge the Lord with my let them be driven out of their
mouth,
homesteads.

and in the midst of many I will praise

11

Let a creditor scrutinize all that he has;
him,
let strangers plunder his toils.

31

because he stood at the right of a needy one, 12

Let there be no one to support him to save my soul from those that keep nor anyone to pity his orphans.
pursuing.

13

Let his children go to destruction;
in one generation let his name be blotted

Psalm 109(110)

out.

14

May the lawlessness of his fathers be 1

Pertaining to David. A Psalm.

remembered before the Lord, and may the sin of his mother not be

(1)

The Lord said to my lord, "Sit on my right blotted out.

until I make your enemies a footstool for 15

Let them be before the Lord continually, your feet.”

and may their memory be destroyed from
earth,

2

A rod of your power the Lord will send out 16

since he did not remember to do mercy from Sion.

and pursued to death a person

And exercise dominion in the midst of needy and poor and stunned in heart.

your enemies!

17

And he loved cursing, and it shall come on 3

With you isd rule on a day of your power
him.

among the splendors of the holy ones.

And he did not want blessing, and it shall

From the womb, before Morning-star, I be put far away from him.

brought you forth.

18

And he clothed himself with cursing as his 4

The Lord swore and will not change his coat,

mind,

and it entered into his inwards like water

“You are a priest forever according to the

and like oil in his bones.

order of Melchisedek.”

aOr May this be bAntecedent unclear cGk diplois, a particular kind of garment, worn especially by the Cynics dOr be

604

psalms 109(110)-113(114, 115)

5

The Lord at your right shattered kings on a 6

Because he will never be shaken, day of his wrath.

a righteous person will be remembered

6

He will judge among the nations,

forever.

will make full with corpsesa;

7

Of evil tidings he will not be afraid;

he will shatter heads bon the land of prepared is his heart to hope in the Lord.

manyb.

8

Firm is his heart; he will never be afraid

7

From a wadi by a road he will drink;

until he looks on his enemies.

therefore he will raise headc high.

9

He scattered; he gave to the needy;

his righteousness endures forever and

Psalm 110(111)

ever;

his horn will be exalted in glory.

1

Hallelouia.

10

A sinner will see it and be angered;

he will gnash his teeth and melt away;

(1)

I will acknowledge you, O Lord, with my sinner's desire will come to nothing.

whole heart,

in a council of upright and a

Psalm 112(113)

congregation.

2

Great are the works of the Lord;

1

Hallelouia.

sought out are his wants regarding all things.

(1)

Praise the Lord, O servants;

3

Acknowledgment and magnificence are his praise the name of the Lord.

work,

2

May the name of the Lord be blessed and his righteousness endures forever and
from now on and forevermore.

ever.

3

From the sun's rising to its setting,

4

He made mention of his wonderful deeds;
praise the name of the Lord!
merciful and compassionate is the Lord.

4

High is the Lord to all nations;

5

Food he provided for those who fear him;
to the heavens is his glory.

he will be ever mindful of his covenant.

6

Strength of his works he proclaimed to his 5

Who is like the Lord our God,

people,

who resides on high,

to give them heritage of nations.

6

and looks upon that which is lowly 7

Works of his hands are truth and justice;

in the sky and on the earth?

trustworthy are all his commandments,

7

It is he who raises a poor one from the 8 fixed forever and ever,

ground,

made in truth and uprightness.

and from a trash heap he lifts a needy one,

9

Redemption he sent to his people;

8

to make him sit with rulers,

he commanded his covenant forever.

with rulers of his people.

Holy and awesome is his name.

9

It is he who establishes a barren one in a 10

Fear of the Lord is wisdom's beginning;

home,

a good understanding belongs to all who

a gladdened mother of children.

practice itd.

His praise endures forever.

Psalm 113(114, 115)

Psalm 111(112)

1

Hallelouia.

1

Hallelouia.

(1)

At Israel's exodus from Egypt, of Iakob's house from a barbarian people,

(1)

Happy the man who fears the Lord;

2

Judea became his holy precinct, in his commandments he will greatly Israel his seat of authority.

want.

2

Powerful in the land his offspring will be;

3

The sea saw it and fled;
a generation of upright will be blessed.
Jordan was turned backwards.

3

Glory and riches are in his house,

4

The mountains skipped like rams,

and his righteousness endures forever and

and the hills like lambs of sheep.

ever.

4

In darkness light dawned for the upright

5

Why was it, O sea, that you fled?

ones;

And why was it, O Jordan, that you merciful and compassionate and withdrew backwards?

righteous is he.

6

O mountains, that you skipped like rams?

5

Kind is the man who is compassionate and

O hills, like lambs of sheep?

lends;

he will manage his words with discretion.

7

From before the Lord, the earth was shaken, aPossibly things fallen bOr of many on earth cPossibly his head dl.e. wisdom e + and ever = Ra fl.e. his enemies

psalms 113(114, 115)-117(118)

605 from before the God of Iakob,

4

And on the name of the Lord I called:

8

who turned the rock into pools of water

“Ah Lord, rescue my soul!”

and the flint into springs of water.

5

Merciful is the Lord, and righteous,

9(115.1) Not to us, O Lord, not to us, and our God shows mercy.

rather to your name give glory,

6

The Lord is one who protects infants;

for your mercy and your truth,

I was brought low, and he saved me.

10(2) lest the nations say,

7

Return, O my soul, to your rest,

“Where is their God?”

because the Lord acted as your benefactor,

11(3) But our God is in the sky a[above,

8

because he delivered my soul from death, in the heavens and on the earth]a;
my eyes from tears,
whatever he wanted he did.

myc feet from slipping.

12(4) The idols of the nations are silver and gold,

9

I will be well pleasing before the Lord in the works of human hands.

country of the living.

13(5) A mouth they have and will not speak;
eyes they have and will not see.

Psalm 115(116.10-19)

14(6) Ears they have and will not hear;
nostrils they have and will not smell.

1

Hallelouia.

15(7) Hands they have and will not feel;
feet they have and will not walk about;

(116.10) I believed; therefore I spoke, they will not articulate in their throats.

but I, I was brought very low.

16(8) May those who make them become like

2(11) I, I said in my alarm,

them,

“Every person is a liar.”

and all who trust in them!

3(12) What shall I return to the Lord

17(9) Israel’s house hoped in the Lord.

for all that he returned to me?

Their helper and their protector is he.

4(13) A cup of deliverance I will take,

18(10) Aaron’s house hoped in the Lord.

and the name of the Lord I will call

Their helper and their protector is he.

upon.

19(11) Those who fear the Lord hoped in the Lord.

6(15) Precious before the Lord

Their helper and their protector is he.

is the death of his devout ones.

7(16) Ah Lord, I am a slave of yours;

20(12) The Lord was mindful of us and blessed us;

I am a slave of yours and son of your

he blessed the house of Israel;

servant girl.

he blessed the house of Aaron;

You broke through my bonds.

21(13) he blessed those who fear the Lord,

8(17) To you I will sacrifice a sacrifice of praise.

the small with the great.

9(18) My vows I will pay to the Lord

before all his people,

22(14) May the Lord add to you,

10(19) in courts of the Lord's house, to you and your sons.

in your midst, O Jerusalem.

23(15) Blessed are you to the Lord,

who made the sky and the earth.

Psalm 116(117)

24(16) The sky of the sky belongs to the Lord,

1

Hallelouia.

but the earth he gave to the sons of men.

25(17)The dead will not praise you, O Lord,

(1)

Praise the Lord, all you nations!

nor will all who go down to Hades.

Commend him, all you peoples,

26(18)But we that are alive will bless the Lord,

2

because his mercy became strong toward us,

from now on and forevermore.

and the truth of the Lord endures forever.

Psalm 114(116.1-9)

Psalm 117(118)

1

Hallelouia.

1

Hallelouia.

(1)

I loved, because the Lord will listen

(1)

Acknowledge the Lord, because he is good,
to the voice of my petition,
because his mercy is forever.

2

because he inclined his ear to me, and in my days I will call.

2

Do let Israel's house say that he is good,

3

Pangs of death encompassed me;
because his mercy is forever.

hazards of Hades found me;

3

Do let Aaron's house say that he is good, affliction and grief I found.

because his mercy is forever.

aWithout [] = Ra bOr May you be blessed cPr and = Ra 606

psalms 117(118)-118(119)

4

Do let all those who fear the Lord say that 26

Blessed is the one who comes in the name

he is good,

of the Lord.

because his mercy is forever.

We bless you from the house of the Lord.

27

The Lord is God, and he showed us light.

5

In affliction I called on the Lord,

Arrange a feast with the dthick onesd, and he hearkened me intoa spaciousness.

up to the horns of the altar.

6

The Lord is a helper to me;

I will not fear what a person may do to 28

My God you are, and I will acknowledge
me.

you;

7

The Lord is a helper to me,
my God you are, and I will exalt you.
and I, I shall observe my enemies.

I will acknowledge you because you

8

It is better to trust in the Lord

hearkened to me
than to trust in a person.
and became deliverance for me.

9

It is better to hope in the Lord than to hope in rulers.

29

Acknowledge the Lord, because he is good,
because his mercy is forever.

10

All nations surrounded me,
and in the name of the Lord I fended

Psalm 118(119)

them off!

11

In surrounding they surrounded me,

1

Hallelouia.

and in the name of the Lord I fended

them off!

1 alph.

12

They surrounded me like bees a

(1)

Happy are the blameless in way, honeycomb,

who walk in the Lord's law.

and they blazed like a fire among 2

Happy are those who search out his thorns,

testimonies;

and in the name of the Lord I fended wholeheartedly they will seek him.

them off!

3

For those who practice lawlessness

13

Pushed hard I turned to fall, did not walk in his ways.

and the Lord supported me.

4

It is you who commanded your 14

My strength and my celebration is the Lord;

commandments

he became deliverance for me.

to keep diligently.

5

O that my ways may be directed 15

There is a voice of rejoicing and deliverance to keep your statutes!

in the righteous' tents:

6

Then I shall not be put to shame,

“The Lord’s right hand produced power;

as I regard all your commandments.

16

the Lord’s right hand exalted me;

7

I will acknowledge you with uprightness of the Lord’s right hand produced power.”

heart,

17

I shall not die, but I shall live when I have learned the judgments of and recountb the deeds of the Lord.
your righteousness.

18

In disciplining the Lord disciplined me, 8

Your statutes I will observe;
and to death he did not surrender me.
do not utterly forsake me.

19

Open to me gates of righteousness;

9

2 beth.

when I enter in them,
How shall the young keep his way straight?
I will acknowledge the Lord.
By observing your words!

10

With my whole heart I sought you;

20

This is the gate of the Lord;

do not thrust me aside from your righteous ones shall enter in it.

commandments.

11

In my heart I hid your sayings

21

I will acknowledge you because you

so that I may not sin against you.

hearkened to me

12

Blessed are you, O Lord;

and became deliverance for me.

teach me your statutes.

22

A stone which the builders rejected, 13

With my lips I declared this one became the chief cornerstone.
all the judgments of your mouth.

23

This was from the Lord,

14

In the way of your testimonies I delighted and it is marvelous in our eyes.
as much as in all riches.

24

This is the day that the Lord made;

15

In your commandments I will ponder let us rejoice and be glad in it.
and put my mind to your ways.

25

Ah Lord, do save!

16

In your statutes I will meditate;

Ah Lord, do give success!

I will not forget your words.

aPossibly and brought me into b + in detail = Ra cAntecedent unclear; possibly cornerstone dPerhaps garlands e + O Lord = Ra

psalm 118(119)

607

17

3 gimal.

your deliverance according to your

Requite your slave;

saying.

I shall live and observe your words.

42

And I shall have a word for those who 18

Uncover my eyes,

reproach me,

and I will put my mind to thea wondrous because I hoped in your words.

things out of your law.

43

And do not remove a word of truth utterly 19

I am a resident alien in the land;

from my mouth,

do not hide your commandments from me.

because I pinned my hopes on your 20

My soul was consumed with longing
judgments.

for your judgments in every situation.

44

And I will keep your law continually,

21

You rebuked arrogant ones;

forever and forever and ever.

accursed are those who deviate from your 45

And I would walk in spaciousness,

commandments;

because your commandments I sought.

22

take away from me reproach and contempt,

46

And I would speak of your testimonies because I sought your testimonies.

before kings, and I was not ashamed.

23

Indeed, rulers sat and kept railing at me,

47

And I would meditate on your

but your slave would ponder in your

commandments,

statutes.

which I loved very much.

24

Indeed, your testimonies are my meditation,

48

And I raised my hands to your

and your statutes are my counsels.

commandments, which I loved,

and I would ponder in your statutes.

25

4 delth.

My soul clung to the ground;

49

7 zai.

quicken me according to your word.

Remember your word to your slave,

26

I told of my ways, and you hearkened to me;

by which you buoyed me with hope.

teach me your statutes.

50

This comforted me in my humiliation,

27

Your statutes' way make me understand, because your saying quickened me.

and I will ponder in your wondrous works.

51

Arrogant ones would blatantly transgress the 28

My soul was drowsy from exhaustion;

law,

confirm me in your words.

but from your law I did not deviate.

29

Injustice's way put far from me,

52

I remembered your judgments from of old,
and by your law have mercy on me.

O Lord,

30

Truth's way I chose;
and I took comfort.

your judgments I did not forget.

53

Despondency beset me due to sinners,

31

I clung to your testimonies;
those who keep forsaking your law.

O Lord, do not put me to shame.

54

Your statutes were musical to me

32

I ran the way of your commandments, in my place of sojourn.

when you made my heartb spacious.

55

I remembered your name at night, O Lord, and kept your law.

33

5 he.

56

Thisc fell to me,
Make the way of your statutes, O Lord, my because I sought your statutes.

law,

and I will seek it continually.

57

8 heth.

34

Make me understand, and I will search out
You are my portion, O Lord;

your law

I said that I should keep your law.

and observe it with my whole heart.

58

I implored your face with all my heart;

35

Guide me in a path of your commandments, have mercy on me according to your because I wanted it.

saying.

36

Incline my heart to your testimonies 59

Your ways I considered, and not to greediness.

and I turned my feet to your testimonies;

37

Turn my eyes from looking at vanity;

60

I was prepared and not troubled

in your way quicken me.

to keep your commandments.

38

Establish for your slave your saying,

61

Cords of sinners ensnared me, for fear of you.

and your law I did not forget.

39

Take away my scorn, which I suspected,

62

At midnight I would rise to acknowledge for your judgments are kind.

you,

40

See, I longed for your commandments;

because of your righteous judgments.

in your righteousness quicken me.

63

I am a partner with all who fear you and with those who keep your 41

6 ouau.

commandments.

And may your mercy come upon me,

64

The earth, O Lord, is full of your mercy;

O Lord,

teach me your statutes.

a your = Ra bPossibly understanding cAntecedent unclear

608

psalm 118(119)

65

87

9 teth.

They almost made an end of me on the earth,

You practiced kindness with your slave, but as for me, I did not forsake your

O Lord, according to your word.

commandments.

66

Kindness and discipline and knowledge

88

In your mercy quicken me, teach me,

and I will keep the testimonies of your because in your commandments I believed.

mouth.

67

Before I was humbled I was in error;

therefore I kept your saying.

89

12 labd.

68

You are kind, O Lord, and in your

Forever you are, O Lord;

kindness

your word endures in the sky,

teach me your statutes.

90

your truth to generation and generation;

69

Injustice of the arrogant filled out against you founded the earth, and it endures.

me,

91

By your arrangement the day endures, but I, with my whole heart, I will because all things together are slaves of examine your commandments.

yours.

70

Their heart was curdled like milk,

92

If it were not for the fact that your law was but I, on your law I meditated.

my meditation,

71

It was good for me that you humbled me then I would have perished in my

so that I might learn your statutes.

humiliation.

72

Better to me is the law of your mouth

93

Your statutes I will never forget, than thousands of gold and silver.

because by them you quickened me.

94

Yours I am; save me,

73

10 ioth.

because your statutes I sought.

Your hands made and fashioned me;

95

Sinners waited for me to destroy me; give me understanding, and I will learn your testimonies I considered.
your commandments.

96

I saw a limit to all perfection;

74

Those who fear you shall see me and be your commandment is exceedingly

glad,

spacious.

because on your words I pinned my hopes.

75

I knew, O Lord, that your judgments are 97

13 mem.

righteousness

Oh, how I loved your law, O Lord!

and that with truth you humbled me.

All day long it is my meditation.

76

Do let your mercy come to comfort me

98

Wiser than my enemies you made me

according to your saying to your slave.

regarding your commandment,

77

Let your compassion come to me, and I

because it is mine forever.

shall live,

99

More than all who were teaching me, I because your law is my meditation.

understood,

78

Let arrogant ones be put to shame, because your testimonies were my because they acted unjustly and lawlessly meditation.

against me,

100

More than the aged, I understood, but as for me, I will ponder in your because I sought out your commandments.
commandments.

101

From every way of evil I held back my feet

79

Let those who fear you turn to me, in order to keep your words.

and those who know your testimonies.

102

From your judgments I did not deviate,

80

Let my heart become blameless by your because you legislated for me.

statutes

103

How sweet are your sayings to my throat, so that I may not be put to shame.

beyond honey and honeycomb to my
mouth!

81

11 chaph.

104

Due to your commandments, I understood;

My soul fails for your deliverance,

therefore I hated every way of injustice.

and on your word I pinned my hopes.

82

My eyes failed for your saying, 105

14 noun.

saying, "When will you comfort me?"

Your word is a lamp to my feet

83

Because I became like a wineskin in hoarfrost, and a light to my paths.

your statutes I did not forget.

106

I have sworn an oath and confirmed,

84

How many are the days of your slave?

to observe your righteous judgments.

When will you do me right against those 107

I was deeply humbled;

who persecute me?

O Lord, quicken me according to your 85

Transgressors of the law told me tales,

word.

but not so your law, O Lord.

108

With the freewill offerings of my mouth do 86

All your commandments are truth;

be pleased, O Lord,

unjustly did they persecute me; help me!

and your judgments teach me.

aOr the universe b + O Lord = Ra cOr completion dOr elders

psalm 118(119)

609

109

My soul was in my hands continually,

132

Look upon me, and be merciful to me,

and your law I did not forget.

as is your judgment toward those who 110

Sinners laid a snare for me, love your name.

and from your commandments I did not 133

Direct my steps according to your saying, stray.

and do not let any lawlessness exercise

111

Your testimonies were my heritage forever, dominion over me.

because they are my heart's joy.

134

Redeem me from extortion of human beings,

112

I inclined my heart to perform your statutes and I will keep your commandments.

forever on account of an exchange.

135

Make your face shine upon your slave, and teach me your statutes.

113

15 samch.

136

My eyes shed streams of water,

Transgressors of the law I hated, since your law was not kept.

and your law I loved.

114

You are my helper and my supporter;

137

18 sade.

I pinned my hopes on your word.

Righteous you are, O Lord, 115

Go away from me, you evildoers, and upright is your judgment.

and I will examine the commandments

138

You commanded your testimonies of my God.

to be righteousness and truth, very much.

116

Support me according to your saying, and I 139

Zeal for youd wasted me,

shall live,

because my enemies forgot your words.

and do not put me to shame due to my 140

Your saying was well tried, expectation.

and your slave loved it.

117

Help me, and I shall be saved

141

Rather young I am and of no account;

and shall meditate on your statutes

your statutes I did not forget.

continually.

142

Your righteousness is righteousness forever,

118

You despised all who stood aloof from your
and your law is truth.

statutes,

143

Affliction and anguish found me;

because their notion was wrong.

your commandments are my meditation.

119

All the sinners of the earth I counted as 144

Your testimonies are righteousness forever;

transgressors;

give me understanding, and I shall live.

therefore I loved your testimonies.

120

Nail down my flesh from fear of you, 145

19 koph.

for I was afraid of your judgments.

I cried with my whole heart; hearken to me,

O Lord.

121

16 ain.

Your statutes will I seek.

I did what was just and right;

146

I cried for you; save me,

do not hand me over to those that do me and I will observe your testimonies.

wrong.

147

I got a head start at an unseemly hour, and I

122

Accept your slave for good;

cried;

let not arrogant ones extort from me.

on your words I pinned my hope.

123

My eyes failed for your deliverance

148

My eyes got a head start at dawn, and for the saying of your righteousness.

that I may meditate on your sayings.

124

Deal with your slave according to your mercy,

149

Hear my voice, O Lord, according to your

and teach me your statutes.

mercy;

125

Your slave I am; give me understanding,

by your judgment quicken me.

and I shall know your testimonies.

150

Those who persecute me with lawlessness

126

It is time for the Lord to act;

drew near,

they scattered your law.

but they were put far from your law.

127

Therefore I loved your commandments

151

You are near, O Lord,

beyond gold and topaz.

and all your commandments are truth.

128

Therefore I would cset myself straight byc all 152

Long ago I learned from your testimonies

your commandments;

that you established them forever.

every wrong way I hated.

153

20 res.

129

17 phe.

Look on my humiliation, and deliver me,

Your testimonies are wonderful;

because your law I did not forget.

therefore my soul searched them out.

154

Plead my cause, and redeem me;

130

The exposition of your words will enlighten because of your word quicken me.

and will impart understanding to infants.

155

Deliverance is far from sinners,

131

I opened my mouth and drew breath, because they did not seek your statutes.

because I was longing for your 156

Your compassion is great, O Lord;

commandments.

by your judgment quicken me.

aOr reasoning b + continually = Ra cOr direct myself toward d your house = Ra

610

psalms 118(119)-121(122)

157

Many are those who persecute and afflict me;
against a deceitful tongue?

from your testimonies I did not deviate.

4

The arrows of the powerful one are sharp,

158

I looked at faithless ones and wasted away, together with desolating coals!

because they did not keep your sayings.

159

See how I loved your commandments;

5

Woe is me, that my place of sojourn was put

O Lord, by your mercy quicken me.

at a distance;

160

The beginning of your words is truth,

I encamped among the coverts of Kedar.

and forever are all the judgments of your 6

Very much did my soul sojourn.

righteousness.

7

Among those who hate peace (7)I was for peace;

161

21 sen.

when I would speak to them,

Rulers persecuted me without cause,

they would fight me without reason.

and my heart was in dread of your words.

162

I will rejoice at your sayings

Psalm 120(121)

like him who finds much spoil.

163

Injustice I hated and abhorred,

1

An Ode of the Steps.

but your law I loved.

164

Seven times a day I praised you

(1)

I lifted up my eyes to the mountains—for the judgments of your righteousness.

from where will my help come?

165

Great peace have those who love your law,

2

My help comes from the Lord, and nothing can make them stumble.
who made the sky and the earth.

166

I kept waiting for your deliverance, O Lord, and your commandments I loved.

3

Do not give your foot to shaking,

167

My soul kept your testimonies,
nor let him who keeps you slumber.
and I loved them exceedingly.

4

Look, he who keeps Israel

168

I kept your commandments and your will neither slumber nor sleep.

testimonies,

because all my ways were before you,

5

The Lord will keep you;

O Lord.

the Lord is your shelter at your right hand.

6

By day the sun shall not burn you up, 169

22 thau.

nor the moon during the night.

Let my petition come before you, O Lord;

according to your saying give me

7

The Lord will keep you from every evil;
understanding.

he will keep your soul.

170

May my request come before you;

8

The Lord will keep your coming in and your according to your saying rescue me.

going out

171

May my lips pour forth a hymn,

from now on and forevermore.

when you teach me your statutes.

172

May my tongue articulate your saying,

Psalm 121(122)

because all your commandments are
righteousness.

1

An Ode of the Steps. aPertaining to Daida.

173

Let your hand be ready to save me, because your commandments I chose.

(1)

I was glad in those who had said to me,

174

I longed for your deliverance, O Lord, “To the Lord’s house we shall go!”
and your law is my meditation.

2

Our feet stood

175

My soul shall live and praise you, in your courts, O Jerusalem.

and your judgments will help me.

176

I went astray like a lost sheep;

3

Jerusalem—being built as a city seek your slave, because I did not forget that is shared in common.

your commandments.

4

For there the tribes went up, tribes of the Lord, as a testimony to Israel,

Psalm 119(120)

to acknowledge the name of the Lord, 5

because there thrones for judgment sat,

1

An Ode of the Steps.

thrones for David's house.

(1)

When I was being afflicted, I cried

6

Do request what pertains to the peace of

to the Lord, and he listened to me:

Jerusalem,

2

"O Lord, rescue my soul from unjust lips and bring there abundance for those

and from a deceitful tongue."

who love you.

7

Do let there be peace in your power

3

What might be given to you, and what

and abundance in your towered might be added to you,
strongholds.

aOm = Ra bLacking in Gk

psalms 121(122)-126(127)

611

8

For the sake of my brothers and my he who inhabits Jerusalem will never be fellow,
shaken.

I would surely speak of peace concerning

2

Mountains are around her,
you.

and the Lord is around his people,

9

For the sake of the house of the Lord our
from now on and forevermore,

God,

3

because he shall not allow the rod of the

I sought out your good.

sinners

over the allotment of the righteous

Psalm 122(123)

so that the righteous might not stretch out their hands in lawlessness.

1

An Ode of the Steps.

4

Do good, O Lord, to those who are good and to those who are upright in heart.

(1)

To you I lifted up my eyes,

5

But those who turn aside to strangulations you who reside in the sky.

the Lord will lead away with those that 2

Look, as slaves' eyes look to their masters' practice lawlessness.

hands,

Peace be upon Israel!

as a maid's eyes to her mistress' hands,

so our eyes look to the Lord our God

Psalm 125(126)

until he has compassion on us.

1

An Ode of the Steps.

3

Have mercy upon us, O Lord; have mercy

upon us,

(1)

When the Lord returned the captivity of Sion, because we have more than our fill of

we became like people comforted.

contempt.

2

Then our mouth was filled with joy,

4

Our soul has had more than its fill.

and our tongue with rejoicing;
Reproach is for those who are prosperous,
then they will say among the nations,
and contempt for the proud!
“The Lord did great things for them.”

3

The Lord did great things for us,

Psalm 123(124)

and we became people gladdened.

1

An Ode of the Steps. aPertaining to Daida.

4

Return our captivity, O Lord, like wadis in the south.

(1)

If it had not been that the Lord was among 5

Those who sow in tears

us

with rejoicing will reap—

—do let Israel say—

6 going they would go and weep,

2

if it had not been that the Lord was among

carrying their seed,

us,

but coming they shall come with when people rose up against us,

rejoicing,

3

then they would have swallowed us up alive, carrying their sheaves.

when their anger was kindled against us;

4

then the water would have drowned us;

Psalm 126(127)

through a wadi our soul would have passed;

1

An Ode of the Steps. Pertaining to Salomon.

5

then our soul would have passed through the irresistible water.

(1)

Unless the Lord builds a house, those who build it labored in vain.

6

Blessed be the Lord who did not give us Unless the Lord guards a city, as prey to their teeth.
the guard kept awake in vain.

7

Our soul was rescued like a sparrow

2

It is in vain for you to rise up early,
from the snare of the fowlers;

to get up after sitting down,
the snare was crushed,
O you who eat bread of pain,
and we were rescued.
when he gives sleep to his beloved ones.

8

Our help is in the Lord's name,

3

Look, the heritage from the Lord are sons,
who made the sky and the earth.
the wage of the fruit of the womb.

4

Like arrows in the hand of a powerful one,

Psalm 124(125)

so are the sons of those expelled.

5

Happy the person who will satisfy

1

An Ode of the Steps.

his desire with them.

They shall not be put to shame

(1)

Those who trust in the Lord are like Mount Sion;
when they speak with their enemies in a gate.

aOm = Ra

612

psalms 127(128)-131(132)

Psalm 127(128)

5

For the sake of your law (5)I waited for you,
O Lord.

1

An Ode of the Steps.

My soul waited for your word.

6

My soul hoped in the Lord

(1)

Happy are all who fear the Lord, from morning watch until night;

who walk in his ways.

from morning watch, (7)let Israel hope in 2

The labors of your crops you shall eat;

the Lord,

happy you are, and it shall be well with 7

because with the Lord there is mercy

you.

and much redemption is with him.

8

And it is he who will redeem Israel

3

Your wife is like a thriving vine from all its acts of lawlessness.

on the sides of your house;

your sons are like shoots of olives

Psalm 130(131)

around your table.

4

Look, thus shall a person be blessed

1

An Ode of the Steps. Pertaining to Daid.

who fears the Lord.

(1)

O Lord, my heart was not exalted,

5

May the Lord bless you from Sion, nor were my eyes raised too high,

and may you see the good of Ierousalem nor did I occupy myself with great things, all the days of your life.

nor with marvelous things beyond me.

6

And may you see your sons' sons.

2

If I was not humble-minded

Peace be upon Israel!

but exalted my soul,

like the weaned child against its mother,

Psalm 128(129)

like a requital it is, against my soul.

1

An Ode of the Steps.

3

Let Israel hope in the Lord

from now on and forevermore.

(1)

“Often they made war against me from my youth”

Psalm 131(132)

—do let Israel say—

2

“often they made war against me from my 1

An Ode of the Steps.

youth;

indeed, they did not prevail against me.

(1)

O Lord, remember David

3

On my back the sinners were practicing and all his meekness,
their skill;

2

how he swore to the Lord;
they prolonged their lawlessness.”

he vowed to the God of Jakob,

4

The righteous Lord cut up necks of sinners.

3

“If I will enter into a covert of my house,

5

Let all who hate Sion

if I go up on a bed of my spreading, be put to shame and turned backward.

4

if I will give sleep to my eyes

6

Let them become like grass on rooftops and slumber to my eyelids that withered before it was pulled out, and rest to my temples,

7

with which no reaper filled his hand

5

until I find a place for the Lord, and a gatherer of sheaves the fold of his a covert for the God of Iakob!"

garment.

8

And those who were passing by did not 6

Look, we heard of ita in Ephratha;

say,

we found ita in the plains of the forest.

"The blessing of the Lord be upon you!

7

"We shall enter into his coverts;

We have blessed you in the name of the we shall do obeisance at the place where Lord!”

his feet stood.”

Psalm 129(130)

8

Rise up, O Lord, into your rest, you and the ark of your sanctity!

1

An Ode of the Steps.

9

Your priests will clothe themselves with righteousness,

(1)

Out of depths I cried to you, O Lord.
and your devout will rejoice.

2

Lord, listen to my voice!

10

For your slave David's sake

Let your ears become attentive do not turn away the face of your
to the voice of my petition!
anointed one.

3

If you mark lawlessness, O Lord, 11

The Lord swore to David the truth,

Lord, who shall stand?—

and he will never annul it:

4

because with you there is atonement.

“Of your belly’s fruit

aAntecedent unclear bOr holy precinct

psalms 131(132)-135(136)

613

I will set on your throne.

3

Praise the Lord, because the Lord is good;

12

If your sons keep my covenant make music to his name, because it is and these my testimonies that I shall beautiful,
teach them,

4

because the Lord chose Jakob for himself, also their sons, forevermore, Israel as his valued possession, shall sit on your throne.”

5

because I knew that the Lord is great, and our Lord in comparison with all the 13

Because the Lord selected Sion,
gods.

he chose it as a habitation for himself:

6

Whatever the Lord wanted he did,

14

“This is my repose forever and ever;
in the sky and on the earth,
here I will reside, because I chose it.
in the seas and in all deeps.

15

Its pursuits I will bless when blessing;

7

Bringing up clouds from the earth’s end, its poor I will feed with bread.
he made lightnings into rain,

16

Its priests I will clothe with deliverance, he who brought out winds from his
and its devout will rejoice with rejoicing.
storehouses.

17

There I will cause a horn to sprout up for Dauid;

8

He who struck down the firstborn of Egypt,

I prepared a lamp for my anointed one.

from human to animal,

18

His enemies I will clothe with disgrace,

9

he sent out signs and wonders in your

but on him my sanctity will blossom.”

midst, O Egypt,

against Pharaoh and against all his slaves.

Psalm 132(133)

10

He who struck down many nations and killed mighty kings—

1

An Ode of the Steps. Pertaining to David.

11

Seon, king of the Amorrites,

and Og, king of Basan,

(1)

Look now, what is good or what is pleasant and all the kingdoms of Chanaan—more than that kindred live together?

12

and he gave their land as a heritage,

2

It is like the perfume on the head, a heritage to his people Israel.

which descends upon the beard,
on the beard of Aaron,

13

O Lord, your name is forever;

whicha descends upon the fringe of his

O Lord your renown is to generation and clothing.

generation,

3

It is like the dew of Haërmon,

14

because the Lord will judge his people, which descends onto the mountains of

and over his slaves he will be consoled.

Sion,

because there the Lord commanded the 15

The idols of the nations are silver and gold,
blessing,

works of human hands.

life forevermore.

16

A mouth they have and will not speak;

eyes they have and will not see;

Psalm 133(134)

17

ears they have and will not hear,

for there is not even breath in their mouth.

1

An Ode of the Steps.

18

May those who make them and all who trust them become like

(1)

Look now, bless the Lord, all you slaves of
them.

the Lord,

who stand in the Lord's house!

19

O house of Israel, bless the Lord!

c[in courts of our God's house.]c

O house of Aaron, bless the Lord!

2

In the nights lift up your hands to the holy 20

O house of Leui, bless the Lord!

precincts,

You that fear the Lord, bless the Lord!

and bless the Lord.

21

Blessed be the Lord from Sion, he who resides in Jerusalem.

3

The Lord will bless you from Sion, he who made the sky and the earth.

Psalm 135(136)

Psalm 134(135)

1

Hallelouia.

1

Hallelouia.

(1)

Acknowledge the Lord, because he is kind,
because his mercy is forever.

(1)

Praise the name of the Lord;

2

Acknowledge the God of gods, praise, O slaves, the Lord,
because his mercy is forever.

2

you that stand in the Lord's house,

3

Acknowledge the Lord of lords, in courts of our God's house.

—because his mercy is forever—

al.e. perfume bPr and = Ra cWithout [] = Ra 614

psalms 135(136)-137(138)

4

him, who alone is doing great wonders,

Psalm 136(137)

—because his mercy is forever—

5 him, who by understanding made the 1

Byd the rivers of Babylon—

heavens,

there we sat down, also wept

—because his mercy is forever—

when we remembered Sion.

6

him, who made firm the earth upon the 2

On the willows in its midst

waters,

we hung up our instruments,

—because his mercy is forever—

3 because there our captors

7

him, who made great lights,

asked us for words of odes,

—because his mercy is forever—

and those who led us away

8

the sun to have authority over the day,

for a hymn,

—because his mercy is forever—

“Sing us some of the odes of Sion!”

9

the moon and the stars to have authority

over the night,

4

How could we sing the Lord’s ode

—because his mercy is forever—

in a foreign land?

5

If I forget you, O Jerusalem, 10

him, who struck Egypt together with their may my right hand be forgotten!

firstborn

6

May my tongue stick in my throat,

—because his mercy is forever—

if I do not remember you,

11

and brought Israel out from among them

if I do not set Jerusalem at the beginning

—because his mercy is forever—

of my joy.

12

with a strong hand and a raised arm,

—because his mercy is forever—

7

Remember, O Lord, against the sons of Edom, 13

him, who divided the Red Sea into the day of Jerusalem, divisions

how they said, “Clear out! Clear out!

—because his mercy is forever—

As long as its foundation is in it!”

14

and brought Israel through the midst

8

O daughter Babylon, you wretch!

of it

Happy shall he be who will requite you

—because his mercy is forever—

with the requital

15 and shook off Pharaoh and his force into the

with which you requited us!

Red Sea,

9

Happy shall he be who will grab your
—because his mercy is forever—

infants

16

him, who brought through his people in the
and dash them against the rock!

wilderness,

—because his mercy is forever—

Psalm 137(138)

b[him, who brought water out of a sharp rock,

1

Pertaining to David.

—because his mercy is forever—]b 17 him, who struck down great kings

(1)

I will acknowledge you, O Lord, with my

—because his mercy is forever—

whole heart,

18

and killed strong kings, because you heard the words of my mouth,
—because his mercy is forever—
and before angels I will make music to 19

Seon, king of the Amorrites,
you.

—because his mercy is forever—

2

I will do obeisance toward your holy shrine

20

and Og, king of Basan,
and acknowledge your name for your
—because his mercy is forever—
mercy and your truth,

21

and gave their land as a heritage, because you magnified your saying upon
—because his mercy is forever—
every name.

22

a heritage to Israel his slave,

3

In the day I call upon you, hearken to me

—because his mercy is forever,

quickly;

you will care for me with power in my 23 because in our humiliation the Lord

soul.

remembered us

—because his mercy is forever—

4

Let all the kings of the earth acknowledge 24

and redeemed us from our enemies,

you, O Lord,

—because his mercy is forever—

because they heard all the words of your 25

he, who gives nourishment to all flesh,

mouth.

—because his mercy is forever.

5

And let them sing in the ways of the Lord, because great is the glory of the Lord, 26

Acknowledge the God of the sky,

6

because the Lord is high and he regards

because his mercy is foreverc.

things that are lowly

a + alone = Ra bWithout [] = Ra c + Acknowledge the Lord of lords, because his mercy is forever = Ra dPr Pertaining to David = Ra ePossibly above

psalms 137(138)-139(140)

615 and things that are high he perceives which you made in secret,

from far away.

and my substance in the deepest parts of

the earth.

7

If I walk in the midst of affliction, you will 16

My unwrought state your eyes beheld,

quicken me;

and in your book all shall be written;

d

against wrath of my enemies you in a dayd they will be formed eand no stretched out your hand, one among theme.
and your right hand saved me.

17

But to me your friends were very much

8

The Lord will repay on my behalf; prized, O God.

O Lord, your mercy is forever.

Their beginnings were much
The works of your hands do not strengthened.
disregard.

18

I shall count them, and they will be multiplied beyond sand;

Psalm 138(139)

I awoke—I am still with you.

1

Regarding completion. aPertaining to David. A 19

If you kill sinners, O God—

Psalm.

O men of blood, depart from me!

20

Because you will speak against contriving,

(1)

O Lord, you examined me and knew me.

they will take your cities into vanity.

2

It was you who knew my sitting down and 21

Did I not hate those who hate you, O Lord?

my rising up;

And at your enemies was I not wasting it was you who discerned my thoughts

away?

from far away.

22

I would hate them with perfect hatred;

3

My path and by my miles by you tracked

I counted them my enemies.

and all my ways foresaw,

23

Examine me, O God, and know my heart;

4

because there was no word on my test me, and know my paths.

tongue—

24

And see if there is a way of lawlessness in 5

look, O Lord; it was you who knew all

me,

things, the last and the first.

and guide me in a way everlasting.

It was you who shaped me and placed your hand upon me.

Psalm 139(140)

6

Your knowledge was made wonderful fromc

me;

1

Regarding completion. A Psalm. Pertaining to it became strong; I can never attain to it.

Dauid.

7

Where should I go from your spirit?

2(1) Deliver me, O Lord, from an evil person;

And from your face where should I flee?

from an unjust man rescue me,

8

If I ascend to the sky, you are there;

3(2) whoever schemed acts of injustice in their

if I descend to Hades, you are present.

heart;

9

If I were to take my wings at dawn

all day long they kept waging wars.

and make my covert at the farthest limits

4(3) They made their tongue sharp as a snake's;

of the sea,

venom of vipers is under their lips.

10

indeed, there your hand shall guide me,

Interlude on strings

and your right hand shall hold me fast.

11

And I said, "So then, darkness shall trample

5(4) Guard me, O Lord, from a sinner's hand;

me,

from unjust people deliver me—and night be illumination in my delight," whoever schemed to trip up my steps.

12

because darkness will not be made dark due

6(5) Arrogant ones hid a trap for me,

to you,

and they stretched cords, traps for my

and night will be illumined as day;

feet;

as its darkness, so also its light.

close to a path they set an obstacle for me.

Interlude on strings

13

Because it was you who procured my kidneys, O Lord,

7(6) I said to the Lord, "My God you are;
you supported me from my mother's give ear, O Lord, to the voice of my womb.

petition."

14

I will acknowledge you, for I was made

8(7) O Lord, Lord, power of my deliverance, awesomely wonderful.

you shaded my head in a day of battle.

Wonderful are your works,

9(8) Do not hand me over, O Lord, to a sinner and my soul knows very well.

due to my desireh;

15

My frame was not hidden from you,

they schemed against me;

a Pert. to David/A Psalm tr = Ra bl.e. the miles I traveled; Gk 1 schoinos = ca.11 km cPerhaps beyond dOr by day ePerhaps when none of them as yet existed fPerhaps authorities gLacking in Gk hOr craving

616

psalms 139(140)-142(143)

do not abandon me, that they not be

Psalm 141(142)

exalted!

Interlude on strings

1

Of understanding. Pertaining to David. When he was in the cave. A Prayer.

10(9) The heads of their encirclement—mischiefs of their lips will cover them!

2(1) With my voice I cried to the Lord;

11(10) Coals will fall on them;

with my voice I petitioned the Lord.

with fire you will throw them down;

3(2) I will pour out my petition before him;

in misery they will not bear up.

my affliction I will announce before him.

12(11) A garrulous man will not succeed in the 4(3) When my spirit was failing me,

land;

you also knew my paths.

evil will hunt down an unjust man to

destruction!

In the very way in which I would walk,
they hid a trap for me.

13(12) I knew that the Lord would maintain the

5(4) I would look to my right and would observe cause of the poor one that there was no one who recognized me;

and the case of the needy.

escape vanished from me,

14(13) But the righteous shall acknowledge your and there was no one to seek out my

name,

soul.

and the upright shall live together with

your presence.

6(5) I cried to you, O Lord;

I said, "You are my hope,

Psalm 140(141)

my portion in the land of the living."

7(6) Pay attention to my petition,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to David.

because I was brought very low.

(1)

O Lord, I cried to you; listen to me;
Rescue me from those that persecute me,
pay attention to the voice of my petition
because they became too strong for me.
when I cry to you.

8(7) Bring my soul out of prison

2

Let my prayer succeed as incense before you, so that I may acknowledge your named.

a lifting up of my hands be an evening

Righteous ones will wait for me sacrifice.

until you requite me.

3

Set a guard over my mouth, O Lord,

Psalm 142(143)

and a door of constraint about my lips.

4

Do not incline my heart to words of evil,

1

A Psalm. Pertaining to Dauide. to concocting pretexts for sins,

in company with people practicing

(1)

O Lord, listen to my prayer;

lawlessness,

give ear to my petition in your truth;

and I shall not team up with their choice hearken to me in your righteousness.

ones.

2

And do not enter into judgment with your

slave,

5

A righteous one shall discipline me with because no one living will be counted mercy and correct me, righteous before you.

but let not a sinner's oil anoint my

head,

3

Because the enemy pursued my soul, because my prayer is continually against he humbled my life to the ground; their contentment.

he made me sit in dark places like those 6

Their judges were swallowed up close to a long dead.

rock;

4

And my spirit became weary in me; they shall hear my words, because they within me my heart was troubled.

were made sweet.

7

As a clod of earth was crushed on the land, 5

I remembered days of old,
our bones were strewn beside Hades, and I meditated on all your deeds;

8

because toward you, O Lord, Lord, were my on works of your hands I would

eyes;

meditate.

in you I hoped; do not erase my soul.

6

I spread out my hands to you;

9

Keep me from a trap that they set for me

my soul was like a parched land.

and from obstacles of those who practice

Interlude on strings

lawlessness.

10

Sinners will fall into his net;

7

Listen to me quickly, O Lord; alone I am until I pass by.

my spirit failed.

aPerhaps chief gain bOr face cPossibly place of refuge d + O Lord = Ra e + When his son is pursuing him = Ra

psalms 142(143)-144(145)

617

Do not turn your face from me,

10

to you, who gives deliverance to kings,

and I shall be like those who go down to you, who redeems his slave David

into a pit.

from an evil sword.

8

Make me hear your mercy in the morning,

11

Rescue me, and deliver me from the hand of because in you I hoped.

sons of strangers,

Make known to me, O Lord, a way in which whose mouth spoke vanity,

I should go,

and their right hand was a right hand of because to you I lifted up my soul.

injustice,

12

whose sons are like young plants

9

Deliver me from my enemies, O Lord; mature in their youth.

I fled to you for refuge.

Their daughters have been beautified, 10

Teach me that I do your will, because you decorated like a replica of a shrine.

are my God.

13

Their storehouses are full,

Your good spirit will guide me on level bursting cfrom side to sidec.

ground.

Their sheep are prolific, multiplying in their issue.

11

For your name's sake, O Lord, you will 14

Their cattle are massive.

quicken me.

There is no collapsing of fence nor a

In your righteousness you will bring my break-through soul out of affliction.

nor a cry in their streets.

12

And in your mercy you will destroy my

enemies

15

They counted happy the people to whom and ruin all who afflict my soul, these things fall;

because your slave I am.

happy are the people, those whose God is
the Lord.

Psalm 143(144)

Psalm 144(145)

1

Pertaining to Davidb.

1

Praise. Pertaining to David.

(1)

Blessed be the Lord, my God, who trains my hands for battle and my

(1)

I will exalt you, my God, my King, fingers for war;

and bless your name forever and forever

2

my mercy and my refuge,

and ever.

my supporter and my rescuer,

2

Every day I will bless you my protector in whom I hoped,

and praise your name forever and forever who subdues my people under me.

and ever.

3

Great is the Lord, and very much

3

O Lord, what is man that you became

praiseworthy,

known to him

and to his greatness there is no limit.

or a son of man that you reckon with

him?

4

Generation and generation shall commend

4

He became like vanity;

your works,

his days are passing like a shadow.

and your power they shall declare.

5

Of the magnificence of the glory of your 5

O Lord, tilt your heavens, and come down;

holiness they shall speak, touch the mountains, and they will

and your wondrous works they shall smoke.

recount.

6

Flash a lightning flash, and you will scatter

6

And the power of your awesome deeds they

them;
shall relate,
send out your arrows, and you will throw and your greatness they shall recount.
them into disarray.

7

Mention of the abundance of your kindness

7

Send out your hand from on high;
they shall gush forth, deliver me, and rescue me from many
and at your righteousness they shall rejoice.
waters,
from the hand of sons of strangers,

8

Compassionate and merciful is the Lord,

8

whose mouth spoke vanity,
slow to anger and abounding in mercy.
and their right hand was a right hand of 9

Kind is the Lord to dall things togetherd,
injustice.

and his compassion is over all his works.

9

O God, a new ode I will sing to you;

10

Let all your works acknowledge you, O Lord, with a ten-stringed harp I will make and let all your devout bless you.

music to you,

11

Your kingdom's glory they shall relate, aPr for = Ra b + Referring to Goliad = Ra cl.e. on all sides dOr the universe

618

psalms 144(145)-147(147.12-20)

and of your dominance they shall speak, the Lord loves the righteous.

12 to make known to the sons of men your 9

The Lord watches over the guests;

dominance

orphan and widow he will pick up, and the glory of the magnificence of your
and a way of sinners he will wipe out.

kingdom.

13

Your kingdom is a kingdom of all the ages, 10

The Lord will be king forever, and your dominion is in every generation your God, O Sion, for generation and
and generation.

generation.

13a

Faithful is the Lord in all his words,

Psalm 146(147.1-11)

and devout in all his works.

14

The Lord upholds all who are falling

1

Hallelouiab.

and sets upright all who are cast down.

15

The eyes of all hope in you,

(1)

Praise the Lord,

and it is you who give them their food in because a melody is a good thing;

due season.

to our God may praise be pleasing.

16

You, you open your hand

2

When the Lord builds Ierousalem, and satisfy every living thing witha good he will also gather in the dispersions of pleasure.

Israel,

17

Just is the Lord in all his ways,

3

he who heals the broken in heart

and devout in all his works.

and binds up their fractures,

18

Near is the Lord to all who call on him, 4

he who numbers multitudes of stars to all who call on him in truth.

and to all of them gives names.

19

The will of all who fear him he will do,

5

Great is our Lord, and great is his strength, and to their petition he will hearken and

and of his understanding there is no sum, will save them.

6 when the Lord picks up the meek

20

The Lord watches over all who love him, but humbles sinners to the ground.
and all the sinners he will destroy.

7

Lead off to the Lord with acknowledgment;

21

Praise of the Lord my mouth will speak, make music to our God on a lyre, and let all flesh bless his holy name 8

to him who cloaks the sky with clouds,
forever and forever and ever.

to him who prepares rain for the earth, to him who makes grass grow on

Psalm 145(146)

mountains,

9

giving to the animals their food

1

Hallelouiab.

and to the young of ravens that call on
him.

(1)

Praise the Lord, O my soul!

10

To the dominance of the horse he will not

2

I will praise the Lord in my life;

be disposed,

I will make music to my God while I nor with the shanks of the man is he

have being.

pleased.

11

The Lord is pleased with those who fear him

3

Do not put your trust in rulers and with those who hope in his mercy.

and in sons of men, who have no

deliverance.

Psalm 147(147.12-20)

4

His breath will depart, and he will return to his earth;

1

Hallelouiab.

in that very day all their designs will
perish.

(12) Commend the Lord, O Ierousalem; praise your God, O Sion,

5

Happy is he whose helper is the God of 2(13) because he strengthened the bars of your Iakob;

gates;

his hope is in the Lord his God,
he blessed your sons within you,

6

who made the sky and the earth,

3(14) he who makes your borders peaceful the sea and all that is in them, and keeps filling you with fatc of wheat,

who guards truth forever,

4(15) he who sends out his saying to the earth;

7

executing judgment for the wronged,

his word will run swiftly,

5(16) d

giving food to the hungry.

the wordd of him who gives snow like wool,

The Lord releases prisoners.

who scatters fog like ashes,

8

The Lord sets upright those cast down;

6(17) who hurls down his ice like crumbs.

the Lord makes the blind skilled;

Who shall stand against his cold?

aOr of b + Of Haggaios and Zacharias = Ra cl.e. finest
dLacking in Gk

psalms 147(147.12-20)-151

619

7(18) He will send out his word and will melt them;

his praise is in an assembly of devout.

he will blow his breath, and waters will

2

Let Israel be glad in the one who made it, flow.

and let the sons of Sion rejoice in their

8(19) In declaring his word to Jakob,

king.

his statutes and judgments to Israel,

3

Let them praise his name with a dance;

9(20) he did not deal thus with every nation, with drum and harp let them make music and his judgments he did not explain to

to him,

them.

4 because the Lord takes pleasure in his

people,

Psalm 148

and he exalts the meek with deliverance.

5

The devout will boast in glory,

1

Hallelouiaa.

and they will rejoice on their beds.

6

The exaltations of God are in their throats,

Praise the Lord from the heavens;

and two-edged swords in their hands, praise him in the highest heights!

7

to execute vengeance among the nations,

2

Praise him, all his angels;

rebukes among the peoples, praise him, all his hosts!

8

to bind their kings with fetters and their nobles with iron handcuffs,

3

Praise him, sun and moon;

9

to execute among them a judgment praise him, all the stars and the light!
inscribed.

4

Praise him, you heavens of heavens
This glory is for all his devout.
and you water above the heavens!

Psalm 150

5

Let them praise the name of the Lord,
for he b[spoke, and they came to be;

1

Hallelouia.

he]b commanded, and they were created.

6

He established them forever and forever and

Praise God among his saints;

ever;

praise him in the firmament of his an ordinance he issued, and it will not

power!

pass away.

2

Praise him for his acts of dominance; praise him according to the abundance of 7

Praise the Lord from the earth, his greatness!

you dragons and all deeps,

8

fire, hail, snow, ice,

3

Praise him with trumpet sound; tempest blast, those things that do his praise him with harp and lyre!
word!

4

Praise him with drum and dance; praise him with strings and instrument!

9

The mountains and all the hills,

5

Praise him with tuneful cymbals;
fruit trees and all cedars!
praise him with loud clashing cymbals!

10

The wild animals and all the cattle,

6

Let all breath praise the Lord!
creeping things and winged birds!

Hallelouia.

11

Kings of the earth and all peoples,

Psalm 151

rulers and all judges of earth!

12

Young men and unmarried women,

1

This Psalm is autographical. Regarding David old with young!

and outside the numberc.

13

Let them praise the name of the Lord,

I was small among my brothers because the name of him alone was and the youngest in the house of my

exalted;

father;

acknowledgement of him is in earth and

I would shepherd the sheep of my father.

sky.

14

He will exalt his people's horn;

2

My hands made an instrument;

a hymn belongs to all his devout,

my fingers tuned a harp.

the sons of Israel, a people drawing near
to him.

3

And who will report to my lord?

The Lord himself, it is he who listens.

Psalm 149

4

It was he who sent his messengerd

1

Hallelouia.

and took me from the sheep of my father and anointed me with the oil of his

Sing to the Lord a new song;

anointing.

a + Of Haggaios and Zacharias = Ra bWithout [] = Ra c + When he fought Goliad in single combat. = Ra dPossibly angel

620 psalm 151; prayer of manasses

5

My brothers were handsome and tall, for Abraam and Isaak and Iakob, who had and the Lord did not take delight in them.
not sinned against you, but you appointed repentance for me, the 6

I went out to meet the allophyle,
sinner,
and he cursed me by his idols.

9

because I sinned beyond the number of the sand of the sea.

7

But I, having drawn the dagger from him,
My acts of lawlessness multiplied, O Lord,

I beheaded him
they multiplied,
and removed reproach from Israel's sons.
and I am not worthy to gaze at and see the height of the sky,
due to the multitude of my injustices.

Prayer of Manasses

10

Bent down I am by many a fetter of iron,
for me to say, "No," over my sins.

(Rahlf's Ode 12)

And I find no relief,

because I provoked your anger

1

O Lord Almighty,

and did what was evil before you,

God of our fathers,

having set up abominations of Abraam and Isaak and Iakob and having multiplied objects of wrath.
and of their righteous offspring,

11

And now I bend my heart's knee,

2

you who made the sky and the earth begging for kindness from you.
together with all their order,

12

I have sinned, O Lord; I have sinned, you who shackled the sea by the word of and my lawless acts I know.

your ordinance,

13

I plead, begging you;

3

you who shut up the deep relieve me, O Lord; relieve me!

and sealed it with your awesome and

Do not destroy me together with my acts of notable name,

lawlessness

4

at whom all things shudder nor be angry forever and retain evil for and tremble from before your power,

me

5 because the magnificence of your glory nor condemn me in the deepest places of cannot be borne,

the earth,
and the wrath of your threat against sinners because you, O Lord, are the God of those cannot be withstood;
who repent,

6

both immeasurable and inscrutable is the 14

and in me show your goodness, mercy of your promise,
because, though unworthy, you will save 7

because you are Lord Most High,

me

compassionate, slow to anger and according to your abundant mercy, abounding in mercy

15 and I will praise you always throughout the

and repenting at ills of human beings.

days of my life,

8

So you, O Lord God of the righteous, because all the host of the heavens will sing you did not appoint repentance for a hymn to you,
righteous ones,
and yours is the glory forever. Amen.

PROVERBS1

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of Proverbs follows the Greek edition by Alfred Rahlfs, which is at present the best available (Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes [Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935]). The fact that this book has not yet been edited for the Göttingen Septuagint series (editio maior) poses a problem. In some chapters (chap. 20, for example) a large percentage of text (vv. 14–22) is absent from Rahlfs, but to some extent corresponds to additions in v. 9.2 Whether their absence is due to deliberate omission, transposition or simply to inner-Greek corruption is not clear. Issues of transmission, although important, have not been addressed in this translation but must wait for the commentary (SBLCS).

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

The Septuagint of Proverbs represents translation with certain unique features. Many textual phenomena that occur only occasionally in other books are well attested in Proverbs. So, for example, it has a rather large number of pluses vis-à-vis the Masoretic Text and other textual witnesses, though minuses are to be noted as well. Furthermore, differences in the order of chapters from chapter 24 onward are paralleled most closely in Jeremiah (Ieremias). Lastly, the translation reflects an atypical approach to the parent text. Elsewhere,³ I have characterized its modus operandi as often extremely free, while in other cases the parent text was rendered in a rather literal way. Hence its approach might be described as characterized by both diversity and uniformity to be observed at various levels. On a lexical level, one sees extensive differentiation but at the same time strict correspondence. Although this phenomenon is difficult to quantify, the translator's flexible attitude to his subject matter is most conspicuous.

Some Specifics

In light of the above, it is not possible to speak of a high level of translational predictability. The translator's penchant for both consistency and diversity affords him plenty of leeway for following his own instinct in individual instances. Thus, he may or may not render a specific Hebrew word by the same Greek word. A case in point is $\alpha\theta\sigma\epsilon\beta\eta/j$, which appears in 1.7 for $\lambda\upsilon\omega$), in 1.10 for $\epsilon)+\chi$, in 1.22, 32 for $\lambda\upsilon\sigma\kappa$, and in 2.22 etc. for $\epsilon)\#r$. It occurs 92 \times in Proverbs, and it represents Hebrew $\epsilon)\#r$ 67 \times . This is 73% of the total occurrences. Though at first glance this seems to be a case of stereotyping, a different picture emerges when the individual equivalents are analysed. Practically all the deviations from this pattern appear in Proverbs 1, namely, in 1.7 ($\lambda\upsilon\omega$)); 1.10 ($\epsilon)+\chi$); 1.22, 32 ($\lambda\upsilon\sigma\kappa$). Whereas the Hebrew refers to three categories of people—the fool, the sinner, and the ignorant—the LXX has reduced them to one category, namely, the impious. It is therefore clear that stereotyping is not the whole story. In this case, the broader picture of Proverbs 1 needs to be taken into account.

Exegetical Interest

The translator of Proverbs, unlike many of his Septuagintal colleagues, had a marked interest in exegeting his source text. Elsewhere⁵ I have delineated three aspects of that interest: (1) his emphasis on the positive aspect of religion, that is to say, his underscoring of righteousness and the righteous, etc.; (2) I hereby acknowledge the financial assistance of various institutions towards the preparation of this translation.

Firstly, I should like to thank the NWO for their financial support. Secondly, the South African NRF and the University of Stellenbosch. In the same vein I need to express my gratitude towards the Van Ewijkstiging in Cape Town. Without this assistance I would not have been able to complete this research.

² Cf. Johann Cook, "Textual problems in the Septuagint of Proverbs," JNSL 26/1 (2000) 163-173.

³ Johann Cook, The Septuagint of Proverbs-Jewish and/or Hellenistic Proverbs? Concerning the Hellenistic Colouring of LXX

Proverbs (VTSup 69; Leiden: Brill, 1997) esp. 402.

⁴ The use of the singular is not intended to preclude more than one translator.

⁵ J. Cook, "Exegesis in the Septuagint," JNSL 30/1 (2004) 1-19.

to the reader of proverbs

its corollary, namely, his strong disapproval of evil; and, as a result of this juxtaposition, the Greek text (3) contains more contrasts than its parent text.

First, the translator frequently adds references to “righteousness.” In 3.9 “labors” are not merely “labors”

(= MT) but “just labors,” and “fruits” (= MT) are typified as “firstfruits of righteousness.” Verse 16 contains two extra stichs that likewise refer to righteousness and two of its concomitants: “. . . out of her mouth righteousness comes forth, and she carries law and mercy upon her tongue.” Other examples are: 10.18 where “lying lips conceal hatred” becomes “righteous lips conceal enmity.” Similarly in 10.22, whereas in MT the blessing of the Lord simply leads to riches, in the Greek it does so via “the head of a righteous person.” Thus the Greek amplifies the theme of the context—vv. 20–25—in which the righteous and the wicked are contrasted. A similar amplification can be found in 12.25 when the generous person of MT (#y) blb) becomes a righteous man in the Greek (a0ndro\j dikai/ou). In 13.2 fruits “of justice” are specifically noted, even though MT provides no warrant for this. The same is true for v. 11 in MT where the Greek adds: “A just person is compassionate and lends.” The theme continues in chapter 15. In v. 27 an additional stich speaks of acts of mercy and faithfulness as means to purge sins (the sin in context being bribery). Though MT of 15.28 already contains a contrast between the righteous and unrighteous, the translator adds that the ways of the righteous are acceptable to the Lord. Other examples are 15.29; 16.7, 11; 17.14, 26; 20.8, 28; 23.31.

Second, corresponding to an emphasis on righteousness and the righteous is a commensurate highlighting of unrighteousness and the unrighteous. Proverbs 1.18 amplifies this negative side of the equation, and v. 19 pointedly refers to lawless deeds (ta\ a1noma) and impiety (a0se/beia). In v. 22 the innocent (a1kakoi) are linked to righteousness, but the fools (a1fronej) are described as impious. In v. 28 the subject is made explicit by the addition of “evil people” (kakoi/). Madame wisdom is described in 3.15, where (contra MT) it is also stated that nothing evil (ou0de\n ponhro/n) will withstand her. Proverbs 6.3 introduces “the hands of evil” without explicit warrant in the Hebrew. Chapter 8.13 shows that the translator’s ideological interests are capable of producing literary felicity, whether by inadvertence or design. By rendering twkpht ypw (“perverted speech”) as diestramme/naj o9dou\j kakw~ (n“perverse ways of evil people”), he creates the parallel phrases o9dou\j ponhrw~(n13b) and o9dou\j kakw~(n13c), which includes an end rhyme. In 10.15 the Hebrew noun M#yr (“poor”) is made into “the impious” (a0sebw~n) in the Greek. In 10.26 “the lazy” (lc(h) is linked to “lawlessness”; in 11.18 the works of the wicked (rq# tl(p) are glossed as “unjust works” (e1rga a1dika), and in 13.16 folly (tlw)) is associated with evil (kaki/an). Furthermore, 14.22 elaborates on the perpetration of evil beyond MT, and 15.18 contains a prominent plus, “A man slow to anger will extinguish disputes, but an impious person stirs them up exceedingly .” Proverbs 15.23 is rewritten with “the evil person” as subject, whereas MT is quite secular. In 19.6 (Arhf (“friend”) is perhaps deliberately read with different vowelings as (rfhf (“the evil person”). This is an apt example of a different interpretation based upon an unpointed Hebrew text. As in 10.26 “the lazy” is understood as an unjust person in 19.24. In 21.22 the impious (oi9 a0sebei=j) are identified as the opponents of the wise man, and the arrogant of v. 24 is likened to “a transgressor of the law” (para/nomoj).

Proverbs 24.22 interprets the people who are punished by God and the king as being “the impious.” Perhaps the most convincing example of this trend to interpret exegetically occurs in 30.11-14. On all four occasions Hebrew rwd (“posterity”) is translated by e1kgononkako/n (“wicked progeny”). rwd appears only in these verses (apart from a Qere reading in 27.24), and its rendering by e1kgonon is unique in the LXX.

More importantly, kako/n has no counterpart in the Hebrew, even though it may be said to render explicit what in the source is implicit.

Third, there is the phenomenon of direct contrast, that is to say, antithetical arrangements of religio-ethical categories. Proverbs has many of those, a case in point being chapter 11, where already in the Hebrew we have a number of them. In v. 1 a false balance is compared with an accurate one. Pride and humility are contrasted in v. 2, as are the merciful and the merciless in v. 17. Moreover, the pious and the impious are contrasted in many verses (3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, 18, 19, 21, 23, 31). Elsewhere I have demonstrated that the translator of Proverbs amplifies the use of such antithetical statements, to the extent that it can be taken as characteristic of his translation style.⁶ As an example one might cite 2.11 “good counsel” (boulh\ kalh/) and 2.17 “bad counsel” (kakh\ boulh/)—the chiasm is of added interest—13.19a “pious” (eu0sebw~n) and 13.19b “impious” (a0(sebw~n)), 13.23a “just” (di(/kaioi)) and 13.23b “unjust”

(a1dikoi), 15.29aa “with justice” (meta\ dikaiosunhj) and 15.29ab “with injustice” (meta\ a0diki/aj), 17.6aa

“the faithful” (tou= pistou=) and 17.6ab “the faithless” (tou= a0pi/stou). Needless to say, not all such cases can with certainty be attributed to the translator.

6 J. Cook, "Contrasting as a Translation Technique," in From Tradition to Interpretation: Studies in Intertextuality in Honor of James A. Sanders (ed. C. A. Evans & S. Talmon; Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1997) 403-414.

to the reader of proverbs

623

Style and Syntax

The preceding paragraph has provided a suitable transition to the present section, since antithetical arrangement, while having an influence on substance, at the same time has an impact on style. A further indication of the translator's interest in style is the use he makes of particles, particularly when the Hebrew offers no explicit warrant for their employment, a case in point being ga/r as a standard gloss for Hebrew yk and other conjunctions, including zero equivalent. Another one is the particle te that appears occasionally in this book, e.g., in 1.2, 3, 4, 6; 3.3 (sub l); 6.8, 8a, 33; 7.21; 8.13; 15.3; 23.20. This seems to be characteristic of a freer translation style, and as such is what one would expect in Proverbs. Claude Cox has demonstrated that the same occurs in LXX Job.7 There is thus some evidence to suggest that the translator of Proverbs, like the Job translator, worked much more at the discourse level than did most others within the LXX corpus.

The same, freer approach can be observed at the level of syntax. Whereas the translator of Gen 1.20-33 followed the syntax of the Hebrew to a large extent but often construed individual clauses in a typically Greek linguistic manner, Proverbs pays comparatively little attention to the minutiae of Hebrew syntax.

Perhaps the most drastic intervention by the translator in his source text is his reordering and rearranging of chapters towards the end of the book (24-31), seemingly for thematic and other reasons.⁸ Yet, what he did there is hardly incompatible with his penchant for inserting new proverbs into his book along the way as he thought fit, many apparently without Hebrew base.

A Conspicuous Case

We close this section with a specific verse that graphically illustrates what the translator of Proverbs was capable of doing to his source at a number of different levels. Due to limitations of space, I will refrain from a full discussion of 1.22 in the context of 1.20–33.

ytp wbh)t Mytp ytm

d(t(d w)n#y Mylyskw Mhl wdmx Nwcl

Myclw

How long, O simple ones, will you love being simple?

How long will scoffers delight in their scoffing and fools hate knowledge?

o3son a4n xro/non a1kakoi e1xwntai th=j dikaios/nhj ou0k ai0sxunqh/sontai oi9 de\ a1fronej th=j u3brewj o1ntej e0piqumhtai\ a0sebei=j geno/menoi e0mi/shsan ai1sqhsin As long as the innocent hold on to righteousness, they will not be ashamed, but the fools, since they are lovers of pride, after they became impious they hated perception.

To be sure a certain transparency to the source text is retained, but the deviations from the Hebrew stand in bold relief. On the syntactic level the temporal clause in the first stich in MT is changed into the protasis of a conditional sentence, with the apodosis (ou0k ai0sxunqh/sontai) supplied de novo. On a semantic level the first stich is revamped from positive to negative. That is to say, “the simple-minded/foolish” of the Hebrew (ytp) is remodeled as “the innocent who hold on to righteousness” of the Greek, and along the way many unpredictable Hebrew-Greek equivalences are forged. On the discourse level, v. 22 retains its role as the incipit of Wisdom’s call, but it sets an entirely different tone for what follows.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF PROVERBS

All these phenomena together make translating LXX Proverbs a problematic but at the same time an intriguing endeavor. The freedom with which the translator approached his parent text naturally does not mean that the translator should also render his text freely. Trying to relate this translation to the NRSV proved impossible in many instances.

7 C. Cox, "Tying it all Together: The Use of Particles in Old Greek Job," BIOSCS 38 (2005) 41-54.

8 Cf. J. Cook, "The Greek of Proverbs-Evidence of a Recensionally Deviating Hebrew Text?" in Emanuel-Studies in the Hebrew Bible, Septuagint and Dead Sea Scrolls in Honor of Emanuel Tov (ed. S.M. Paul, R. A. Kraft, L. H. Schiffman and W.W. Fields; Leiden-Boston: E. J. Brill, 2003) 605-618.

TO THE READER OF Proverbs

Finally I need to express my gratitude towards various persons who assisted me with this research. First and foremost there is Albert Pietersma, who acted as corrector for my translation. I benefited immensely from his vast experience and expertise. During the initial stages of the project, Arie van der Kooij read parts of my translation, and Detlev Krige, one of my former students, helped with the preparation of the Greek and Hebrew texts.

JOHANN COOK

1 Proverbs of Salomon son of Daid, who 17 fornetsarenotsread

reigned in Israel:

without reason for winged creatures.

18

For they who take part in murder store up

2

To learn wisdom and discipline evil for themselves, and to understand words of prudence and the ruin of transgressing men is evil.

3

and to grasp subtlety of words

19

These are the ways of all who perform and to understand true righteousness and lawless deeds,

to direct judgment

for by impiety they take away their own 4

in order that he might give shrewdness to

life.

the innocent

and both perception and insight to the 20

Wisdom sings hymns in the streets,

young child,

and in the squares she leads frankly,

5

for by hearing these things the wise will 21

and on the top of the walls she proclaims, become wiser

and at the gates of the powerful she waits,

and the discerning will acquire direction, and at the gates of the city she speaks

6

and he will understand an illustration and boldly:

an obscure word,

22

“As long as the innocent hold on to both the sayings and the riddles of the

righteousness,

wise.

they will not be ashamed,

but the fools, since they are lovers of pride,

7

Beginning of wisdom is fear of God,

after they became impious they hated and understanding is good for all those perception,

who practice it,

23

and they became liable to reproofs.

and piety unto God is the beginning of Look, I will bring forth to you the

perception;

expression of my breath,

the impious, however, will despise and I will teach you my word.

wisdom and discipline.

24

Since I would call but you did not heed and I would prolong words but you were 8

Hear, my son, your father's discipline,

not paying attention,

and do not reject your mother's precepts,

25

but you would make my counsels invalid,

9

for you will receive a crown of graces for and you disregarded my reproofs;

your head

26 therefore I in turn will also laugh at your

and a golden collar around your neck.

destruction,

10

My son, let not impious men lead you astray, and I will rejoice when ruin comes upon and do not consent, if they invite you
you.

saying:

27

Yes, when confusion strikes you unexpectedly

11

“Come with us; partake in bloodshed, and destruction arrives like a whirlwind and let us hide a just man unjustly in the
and when affliction and siege come upon
earth,

you

12

and let us swallow him alive like Hades, or when ruin comes upon you, and let us remove his remembrance from 28 for it shall be when you call upon me, then

the earth;

I will not listen to you;

13

let us take his valuable possessions, evil people will seek me but will not find and let us fill our homes with booty.

me,

14

But throw your lot among us,

29

for they hated wisdom
and let us all acquire a common purse, and did not choose the fear of the Lord, and let us have one wallet.”

30

nor were they willing to pay attention to my 15

Do not walk in the way with them, counsels

but keep your foot from their paths, but despised my reproofs.

16

for their feet run to evil

31

Therefore they shall eat the fruits of their

and they are quick to shed blood, own way

aOr analogy

proverbs 1-3

625

and be filled with their own impiety, nor will they seize straight paths,

32

for, because they would wrong the simple,

for they are not being seized by years of

they will be murdered

life.

and an inquiry will ruin the impious.

33

But he who hears me will encamp in hope 20

For if they were walking good paths, and will be at ease without fear of any they would have found the smooth paths

evil.”

of righteousness.

21

The kind will be inhabitants of the earth,

My son, if, when you accept the saying of my

and the innocent will be left in it, 2

commandment,

because the upright will encamp on the

you hide it with yourself,

earth

2

your ear will be attentive to wisdom, and the holy will be left in it;

and you shall incline your heart to 22

the ways of the impious will perish from the

understanding;

earth,

yes, you shall incline it to the admonition and the transgressors will be banished of your son.

from it.

3

For if you call upon wisdom and raise your voice for understanding,

as well as seek perception with a loud

3 My son, do not forget my ordinances, but let your heart keep my sayings;

voice,

2

for longevity and years of life, 4 and if you seek it like silver

as well as peace, they will add to you.

and search for it like treasures,

5

then you will understand the fear of the Lord,

3

Let acts of charity and loyalty not fail you;

and you will find divine knowledge.

rather fasten them on your neck, and you 6

Because the Lord gives wisdom,

will find favor,

also from his presence come knowledge

4

and think of what is noble and understanding,

in the sight of the Lord and of people.

7

and he stores up salvation for those who succeed;

5

Trust in God with all your heart,

he will shield their journey and do not be excited by your wisdom.

8

to guard the ways of righteous deeds,

6

In all your ways make her known,

and he will protect the way of the ones that she may make straight your ways, who revere him.

[and your foot will not stumble].

9

Then you will understand righteousness and 7

Be not clever in your own eyes,

judgment,

but fear God, and turn away from every

and you will make all good courses

evil.

straight.

8

Then it will be a healing to your body

10

For if wisdom comes into your mind

and treatment for your bones.

and perception seems pleasing to your soul,

11

good counsel will guard you,

9

Honor the Lord from your just labors, and holy insight will protect you and offer him of your firstfruits of 12 in order that it can rescue you from an evil

righteousness

way

10

in order that your storerooms may be filled and from a man who speaks nothing with an abundance of grain reliable.

and that your vats may gush with wine.

13

Oh, those who abandon straight ways, to walk in ways of darkness,

11

My son, do not belittle the Lord's discipline 14

who rejoice in evil

nor break down when you are reprov'd and are happy about evil perverseness,

by him;

15

whose paths are crooked

12

for whom the Lord loves, he disciplines, and their courses are bent and he punishes every son he accepts.

16

in order to remove you far from the straight

way

13

Happy is the person who has found wisdom, and to make you a stranger to a righteous and the mortal who perceived insight; opinion.

14

for it is better to trade in her than in treasures of gold and silver.

17

My son, do not let bad counsel overtake you, 15

And she is more precious than precious that which forsakes the teaching of youth stones;

and has forgotten the divine covenant;

nothing evil shall resist her;

18 for it has set her house near death

she is well-known to all those who draw and its courses by Hades with the shades;
near to her,

19

all those who walk in her will not come back,
and nothing valuable is worthy of her;

al.e. dead

626

proverbs 3-4

16

for longevity and years of life are in her Listen, children, to a father's discipline,
right hand,

4 and pay attention, that you may come to and in her left hand are riches and repute;

know insight,

16a

2 out of her mouth righteousness comes forth, for I present to you a good gift;

and she carries law and mercy upon her do not abandon my law.

tongue.

3

For I became a son, and I am obedient to 17

Her ways are good ways,

my father

and all her paths are peaceful.

and beloved in the eyes of my mother,

18

She is a tree of life to all those who lay

4

who would speak and instruct me:

claim to her,

“Let our word become fixed in your heart.

and she is steadfast to those who lean

5

Keep the commandments; do not forget

upon her, as on the Lord.

nor disregard the saying of my mouth.

6

Nor abandon her, and she will cleave to you;

19

God by wisdom founded the earth,

love her, and she will guard you.

and he prepared the heavens by 8

Secure her, and she will exalt you;

prudence.

honor her, that she may embrace you 20

By perception the deeps were broken open, 9

in order that she may grant your head a and the clouds poured dew.

garland of graces

21

My son, do not break away, and may protect you with a garland of but keep my counsel and insight delight.”

22

so that your soul may live and that there may be grace round your 10

Listen, my son, and accept my words, neck.

and the years of your life shall be

22a

And it shall be healing to your flesh increased,
and treatment for your bones,
that the ways of living may become many 23 that you may walk all your ways confidently

for you,

in peace

11

for I teach you the ways of wisdom and that your foot will not stumble.

and I put you in straight tracks.

24

For if you sit down, you will be without fear, 12

For if you walk, your steps will not be

and when you lie down, you will sleep

hemmed in,

pleasantly.

and if you run, you will not grow weary.

25

And you shall not be afraid of intimidation

13

Take hold of my discipline; do not let go,

when it comes,

but keep her for yourself for your life.

nor of attacks of the impious, when they 14

Do not enter the ways of the impious, approach.

and do not covet the ways of transgressors.

26

For the Lord will be over all your ways

15

Wherever they put up camp, do not enter and he will support your foot

there,

in order that you may not be unsettled.

but turn from them, and pass by, 16

for they will not sleep, unless they have 27

Do not withhold to do good to the needy, done wrong;

when your hand can help.

their sleep has been taken away, and they 28

Do not say. "Go, come back, and tomorrow do not fall asleep,
I will give,"

17

for these people eat the bread of impiety when you are able to do good,
and they get drunk with illicit wine.
for you do not know what the next day

18

But the ways of the righteous shine like a will bring.
light;

29

Do not plan evil against your friend they proceed and give light until the day when he lives besides you and trusts in is fully dawned.
you.

19

The ways of the impious, however, are dark;

30

Do not quarrel with anyone without a cause, they do not know how they stumble.

lest he does some harm to you.

20

My son, pay attention to my saying,

31

Do not acquire the disgrace of evil men, and incline your ear to my words.

and do not strive after their ways

21

So that your fountains may not fail you,

32

for every transgressor is impure before the keep them within your heart,

Lord,

22

for it is life to those who find them and he does not sit in council among the

and healing to all their flesh.

righteous.

23

Keep your heart with all vigilance,

33

A divine curse is in the homes of the
for from these things are the issues of life.

impious,

24

Remove from yourself a crooked mouth, but the abodes of the just are blessed.
and thrust unjust lips far away from you.

34

The Lord resists the arrogant,

25

Let your eyes look straight,
but he gives grace to the humble.
and let your eyelids incline to just things.

35

The wise will inherit glory,

26

Make straight tracks for your feet, but the impious have exalted disgrace.
and straighten your ways.

proverbs 4-6

627

27

Do not incline to the right or to the left;
and let her be considered your very own rather turn away your foot from an evil and be with you

way,

on every occasion,

27a

for God knows the ways on the right, for while indulging in her love you will be but those on the left are twisted.

increased immeasurably.

27b

But it is he who will make your tracks

20

Do not be for long with a strange woman,

straight,

nor be held in the arms of someone not

and he will guide your journeys in peace.

your own;

21 for the ways of a man are before the eyes of

My son, pay attention to my wisdom,

God,

5 and incline you ear to my words,
and he observes all their courses.

2

that you may keep insight,

22

Transgressions ensnare a man, and I shall command perception of my and each one is bound by the ropes of lips unto you.

his own sins.

3

Pay no attention to a worthless woman,

23

He comes to an end with the uninstructed, for honey drips from the lips of a and he was cast forth from the prostituting woman,

abundance of his own sustenance who for a period pleases your palate.
and perished through folly.

4

Later, however, you will find it more bitter

than gall

and sharper than a two-edged dagger;

6 My son, if you stand security for your friend, you will surrender your hand to an enemy,

5 for the feet of folly bring down

2 for a man's own lips are a strong snare, those who deal with her, to Hades with and he is caught by the lips of his own death,

mouth.

and her footprints are not being

3

My son, do what I command you and save established,
yourself,

6

for she does not come to the ways of life, for through your friend you have fallen but her courses are slippery and into the hands of evil;

unfamiliar.

go; do not falter; rather spur on even your friend

7

Now then, my son, listen to me,
for whom you stood security.
and do not make my words invalid.

4

Give your eyes no sleep,

8

Make your way far from her;

nor slumber with your eyelids do not go near the doors of her houses

5 in order to rescue yourself like a gazelle

9 in order that you will not give away your life

from a noose

to others

and like a bird from a snare.

and your living to the merciless,

10

lest strangers be filled with your strength

6

Go to the ant, O lazybones, and your labors go into the homes of

and zealously observe its ways, and strangers.

become wiser than it;

11

You, however, will repent at the end,

7

for without having any cultivated land

when the flesh of your body is consumed, nor anyone that forces it nor being under 12

and you will say, "How I hated discipline,

any master,

and my innermost turned away reproofs!

8

it prepares its food in summer,

13

I would not listen to the voice of one and it makes its provision plentiful in instructing me and teaching me, harvest time.

nor did I incline my ear.

8a

Or go to the bee,

14

I was almost in every evil situation, and learn how industrious she is in the midst of an assembly and and how seriously she performs her work congregation.”

8b

whose products kings and commoners use for their health.

15

Drink water from your vessels

Yes, she is desired by all and honored.

and from the cisterns of your well.

8c

Although she is physically weak,

16

Let not the waters out of your well overflow

by honoring wisdom she was promoted.

for you;

9

How long, lazybones, will you lie?

rather let your waters flow into your streets.

And when will you be roused from your 17

Let them be at the disposal of you alone,

sleep?

and let no stranger share with you.

10

Indeed you sleep a little, and you sit a little,

18

Let your well of water be solely your own,

and you slumber a little,

and rejoice with the woman from your and you fold your arms over your breast a youth.

little.

19

Let the fawn of your love and the foal of 11

Then poverty will come upon you like an

your favors
evil traveler,
consort with you,
and want like a good runner.

628

proverbs 6-7

11a

If, however, you are diligent, your harvest

32

But the adulterer procures destruction to will arrive like a fountain,

himself

and want will desert you like a bad through lack of sense.

runner.

33

He experiences both pain and disgrace,
and his dishonor will never be wiped out; 12

A foolish and lawless man 34 for filled with jealousy is the anger of her walks roads that are no good,

husband;

13

and he winks with his eye and makes a sign he will show no constraint in the day of
with his foot,
judgment;

and he teaches with motions of his 35 neither will he take any compensation as fingers.

exchange for his hate,

14

And with a perverse heart he plans evil at nor will he at all be reconciled by many every opportunity;

gifts.

such a person concocts upheavals for a city.

My son, keep my words,

15

Therefore his destruction arrives suddenly,

7 and hidemycommandmentswithyourself.

calamity and ruin beyond repair,

1a

My son, honor the Lord, and you will grow 16 for he rejoices in everything that the Lord strong,

hates;

and fear no other but him.

yes, he is ruined by impurity of soul.

2

Guard my commandments, and you will 17

An eye of an insolent one, an unjust

live,

tongue,

and my words like the apples of your hands that shed blood of a righteous

eyes.

person

3

And bind them on your fingers,

18

and a heart that plans wicked schemes and engrave them on the surface of your

and feet that hurry to do evil.

heart.

19

A false witness kindles falsehood

4

Say that wisdom is your sister, and sows discord among kindred.

and secure prudence as an intimate friend for yourself,

20

My son, keep your father's laws,

5

that she may keep you from a strange and

and do not forsake your mother's precepts.

sinful woman,

21

But always bind them upon your soul,

if she should assail you with words to and make them a collar on your neck.

charm;

22

When you walk, bring it, and let it be with 6 for from a window out of her house

you,

she peeps into the streets,

and when you lie down, let it watch over 7

at whom she may observe of the foolish

you

children,

in order that it may communicate with a youngster lacking sense,

you when you awake,

8

passing by the corner

23 for the law's commandment is a lamp and a in the passages of her dwellings

light

9

and conversing in the evening twilight, and a way of life, reproof and discipline, when there happens to be nocturnal

24

to keep you from a married woman quiet and gloom.

and from the slander of a strange tongue.

25

Let not her desire for beauty conquer you, 10

Then the woman meets him, nor be captured by your eyes;

looking like a prostitute,

neither be captivated by her eyelashes, who causes the hearts of young men to 26 for the price of a prostitute is just about as flutter.

much as a loaf of bread

11

And she is excited and debauched, and a men's lady hunts for precious souls.
and her feet cannot stay at home;

27

Can anyone put fire in his lap

12 for some time she roams outside,

and not burn his clothes?
and at another time she lies in wait in the 28

Or can anyone walk on coals of fire streets,
and not scorch his feet?
at every corner.

29

So is he who goes in to a married woman.

13

Then she seized and kissed him,
He shall not be held guiltless, nor anyone and with a shameless face addressed him:
who touches her.

14

“I have a peace offering;

30

It is not to be marveled at if someone is today I am paying my vows; caught stealing,

15

therefore I came out to meet you, for he steals in order to fill himself when longing for your face; I have found you.
he is hungry.

16

With coverings I have spread my couch,

31

Yet, if he is caught, he will pay sevenfold, and with double tapestry from Egypt I and he will rescue himself by have decked it.

surrendering all his possessions.

17

I have sprinkled my bed with saffron
proverbs 7-8

629

and my house with cinnamon.
and knowledge and insight I summoned.”

18

Come, and let us enjoy love until the early 13

The fear of the Lord hates injustice,
morning;
also pride and arrogance and the ways of come here, and let us embrace in love, the wicked;

19

for my husband is not at home yes, it is I who hate the perverse ways of but has gone on a long journey, evil people.

20

since he took a bag of money with him, 14

Mine are counsel and security, after many days he will return to his mine prudence and mine strength.
house.”

15

Through me kings rule,
and rulers prescribe justice.

21

And with a lot of chatting she seduced him,

16

Through me nobles are magnified, and with the snares of her lips she and tyrants through me rule the earth.
compelled him.

17

It is I who am fond of those who love me, 22

And he followed her, ensnared;

and those who seek me find me.

like an ox he is led to slaughter,

18

Wealth and honor are at my disposal, and like a dog towards chains and the acquisition of many things and 23 or like a deer shot with an arrow in the liver,

justice.

and he hurries like a bird into a trap,

19

To enjoy my fruits is better than gold and not realizing that he is running for his precious stone,

life.

and my yield better than choice silver.

20

I walk in ways of justice,

24

Now then, my son, listen to me and along paths of what is right I wander and pay attention to the words of my 21

in order that I may apportion possessions to

mouth.

those who love me

25

Do not let your heart incline to her ways, and fill their treasuries with good things.

26

for many she has wounded and laid low

21a

If I report to you the things that happen and innumerable are those whom she has daily, slain.

I will remember to enumerate the things

27

Roads of Hades are her house,
of old.

leading down to the chambers of death.

22

The Lord created me as the beginning of his ways,

You will proclaim wisdom

for the sake of his works.

8 in order that prudence may be obedient to Before the present age he founded me, you;

23

in the beginning.

2

for on the highest tops she is,

24

Before he made the earth and before he and between the paths she has taken her made the depths,

stand;

before he brought forth the springs of the 3

for beside the gates of rulers she takes her

waters,

seat,

25

before the mountains were established and at the entrances she sings hymns:
and before all the hills, he begets me.

4

“You, O people, I exhort,

26

The Lord made countries and uninhabited and I lift my voice to the sons of men.

spaces

5

O innocent ones, be aware of trickery, and the habitable heights of that beneath and you uneducated take heart.

the sky.

6

Listen to me, for I will talk about serious

27

When he prepared the sky, I was present
things,

with him,

and I will bring forth from my lips what and when he marked out his own throne is right;

on the winds.

7

for my throat will declaim truth,

28

When he made strong the clouds above but false lips are abominable to me.
and when he made secure the springs

8

With righteousness are all the words of my beneath the sky,
mouth;

29

when he made strong the foundations of
in them nothing is twisted nor crooked.
the earth,

9

They are all straightforward to those who 30

I was beside him, fitting together;

understand

it is I who was the one in whom he took and upright to those who find delight.

knowledge.

And each day I was glad in his presence

10

Take discipline and not silver,

at every moment,

and knowledge rather than choice gold;

31

when he rejoiced after he had completed the

yes, choose perception instead of pure world

gold,

and rejoiced among the sons of men.

11

for wisdom is better than costly stones,
and nothing valuable is worthy of her.

32

Now then, my son, listen to me.

12

I, wisdom, I encamped with counsel,

34

Happy is the man who will listen to me

630

proverbs 8-10

and the person who will guard my ways,

12c

Yes, he travels through an arid wilderness keeping watch at my doors daily, and a land destined to drought protecting the posts of my entrances.

and gathers barrenness with his hands.

35

For my egressions are the egressions of life, and the incentive is prepared by the Lord.

13

A foolish and audacious woman who knows

36

But those who sin against me treat their

no shame

own souls with impiety, comes in need of a morsel of food.

and those who hate me love death.

14

She sat at the doors of her own house,

on a seat, openly in the streets, 15 inviting those who are passing by 9 Wisdom built herself a house and supported it with seven pillars.

and who are keeping straight in their ways.

2

She slaughtered her own sacrificial victims;

16

“He of you who is most foolish, let him

she mixed her own wine in a mixing turn aside to me,

bowl,

and to those that are in need of prudence and she prepared her own table.

I urge, saying,

3

She sent out her slaves,

17

'Take secret bread gladly, summoning with a stately proclamation and sweet water of theft.’ “ to the drinking feast, saying,

18

But he does not know that the shadesa

4

“He who is a fool, let him turn aside to me,” perish with her,

and to those lacking sense she said:

and he meets up with a springboard of 5

“Come, eat of my bread,

Hades.

and drink wine, which I have mixed for

18a

On the contrary, run away; do not linger in

you.

the place;

6

Abandon folly, and you will live, neither fix your eye upon her,
and seek prudence in order that you may

18b

for so you will cross strange water
live,
and pass through a strange river.

and erect understanding with

18c

However, abstain from strange water,
knowledge.”

and do not drink from a strange well,

18d

that you may live for a long time

7

He who instructs evil people will gather and years of life may be added to you.

disgrace unto himself,

and he who rebukes an impious person

A wise son makes a father glad,

will find fault with himself.

10 but a foolish son is a mother's grief.

8

Do not rebuke evil people, lest they should

2

Treasures shall not profit the lawless,

hate you;

but righteousness shall deliver from rebuke a wise person, and he will love death.

you.

3

The Lord will not let a righteous person

9

Give a wise person an opportunity, and he starve,

will become wiser;

but the life of the impious he will ruin.

inform a just person, and he will 4

Poverty makes a man humble, continue to receive.

but the hands of the vigorous enrich.

10

The beginning of wisdom is the fear of the

4a

A son who is instructed shall be wise,

Lord,

and he will use the fool as a servant.

and counsel of the saints is 5

An intelligent son was rescued from heat of

understanding,

the day,

10a

for to know the law is the sign of a sound but a transgressing son is blasted by the

mind;

wind in harvest time.

11

for in this way you will live a long time, 6

The blessing of the Lord is upon the head of

and years of your life will be added to the righteous,

you.

but the mouth of the impious will 12

My son, if you become wise for yourself, conceal untimely sorrow.

you will be wise for your neighbors as 7

The memory of the righteous comes with well;

eulogies,

however, if you turn out evil, you will but the name of the impious is bear the evil alone.

extinguished.

12a

He who supports himself with lies will as 8

A wise of heart will accept commandments,

well herd winds,

but he who is unable to keep his mouth and the same person will pursue flying shut,
birds,
being crooked, will be tripped up.

12b

for he has forsaken the ways of his vineyard

9

He who walks in integrity walks confidently, and has caused the axles on his own farm but he who perverts his ways will be to go astray.

found out.

al.e. dead

proverbs 10-11

631

10

He who winks with his eyes deceitfully

32

The lips of the righteous drip charm,

garners grief for men,
but the mouth of the impious turns
but he who reproveth openly makes peace.
people away.

11

A spring of life is in the hand of a righteous
person,

False balances are an abomination before but destruction covers the mouth of the 11

the Lord,

impious.

but a just weight is acceptable to him.

12

Hatred stirs up strife,

2

Where pride enters, there will also be but friendship covers all who are not disgrace,

fond of strife.

but the mouth of the humble attends to 13

He who produces wisdom from his lips
wisdom.

strikes a heartless man with a rod.

3

When a righteous person died, he left regret, 14

The wise will conceal perception, but destruction of the impious is at hand, but the mouth of the reckless brings ruin and joyous.

near.

5

Righteousness cuts out blameless paths,

15

The possessions of the rich are a strong city, but impiety is beset with injustice.
but poverty is the ruin of the impious.

6

The righteousness of upright men rescues

16

The deeds of the righteous produce life

them,

but the fruits of the impious sins.

but transgressors are taken captive by 17

Discipline guards the ways of a righteous their destruction.

life,

7

When a righteous man dies, hope does not but unchastened instruction leads astray.

perish,

18

Righteous lips conceal enmity,

but the boast of the impious perishes.

but they who utter slander are most 8

A righteous person eludes from a chase,

foolish.

and the impious is handed over in his 19

By a multitude of words you will not escape stead.

sin,

9

In the mouth of the impious is a snare to but if you restrain your lips, you will be citizens, intelligent.

but the perception of the righteous is free 20

The tongue of the righteous is choice silver, from difficulties.

but the heart of the impious will fail.

10

By the good deeds of the righteous a city

21

The lips of the righteous are versed in succeeded,

sublime things,

11

but by the mouths of the impious it was but fools die in want.

leveled.

22

The blessing of the Lord is upon the head of 12

A person who lacks sense scorns citizens,

a righteous person;

but an intelligent man keeps quiet.

it enriches, and grief of heart will not be 13

A double-tongued man discloses counsels in added to it.

a meeting,

23

With laughter a fool practices evil,

but a person loyal in spirit conceals but wisdom gives birth to prudence for a matters.

man.

14

They who have no direction fall like leaves,

24

An impious person is engulfed in but in much counsel there is safety.
destruction,

15

A wicked person does evil whenever he but the desire of a righteous person is mingles acceptable.

with a righteous person,

25

When the tempest passes, an impious and he hates the sound of security.

person vanishes,

16

A gracious wife procures honor for her but a righteous person, since he turned
husband,

aside, is saved for ever.

but a seat of dishonor is a woman who 26

As unripe grapes are harmful to the teeth, hates justice.

and smoke is to the eyes,

The deficient shrink from wealth,

so transgression is to those that practice it.

but the diligent support themselves with 27

The fear of the Lord adds days,

wealth.

but the years of the impious will be few.

17

A merciful man does good to his own self,

28

Gladness lingers with the righteous, but the merciless person destroys his

but the hope of the impious will perish.

body.

29

The fear of the Lord is a stronghold for the 18

An impious person performs unjust works, devout,

but the seed of the just is a reward of but ruin for those who do evil.

truth.

30

The righteous will never give up,

19

A righteous son is born to life, and the impious will not inhabit the but the pursuit of the impious leads to land.

death.

31

The mouth of the righteous drips wisdom, 20

Crooked ways are an abomination to the
but the tongue of the unjust will perish.

Lord,

632

proverbs 11-12

but acceptable to him are all who are but the slow-on-the-uptake is mocked.
blameless in their ways.

9

Better is a man in dishonor, being a slave to 21

One who unjustly joins hands will not go

himself,

unpunished,

than one who confers honor upon but he who sows righteousness will himself while he lacks food.

receive an assured reward.

10

A just person takes pity on the lives of his 22

Like a ring in a pig's snout, cattle,

so is beauty to an imprudent woman.

but the feelings of the impious are 23

All the desire of the righteous is good,

without mercy.

but the hope of the impious will perish.

11

He who tills his own land shall be satisfied

24

There are those who by distributing their
with food,

livelihood increase it,

but those who pursue vanities lack sense.

and there are others who gather, yet have

11a

He who enjoys himself in banquets of wine less.

shall leave behind disgrace in his own

25

Every totally sincere person is blessed,
strongholds.

but an ill-tempered man is not respected.

12

The desires of the impious are evil,

26

May he who withholds grain leave it to the

but the roots of the pious are in secure
nations,
places.

and may a blessing be on the head of 13

Through the sin of his lips a sinner falls into him who shares it.

snares,

27

He who devises good seeks good favor, but a just person escapes from them.

but as for him who seeks out evil, it will

13a

He who looks gentle will be pitied, overtake him.

but he who contends in the gates will 28

As for him who puts his trust in wealth, he afflict souls.

will fall,

14

From the fruit of the mouth a man's soul but as for him who supports the will be filled with good, righteous, he will flourish.
and the rewards of his lips shall be given 29

He who does not deal graciously with his
to him.
own household will inherit wind,

15

The ways of fools are right in their own eyes, and the fool will be a slave to the
but a wise man listens to advice.
intelligent.

16

A fool expresses his anger at once, 30

From the fruit of righteousness grows a tree but the prudent hides his own disgrace.

of life,

17

A just person proclaims trust as it is,
but the souls of transgressors are cut off but the witness of unjust things is untimely.
deceitful.

31

If the righteous is scarcely saved,

18

Some, when they speak, wound with a where will the impious and the sinner dagger,
appear?
but the tongues of wise men heal.

19

Truthful lips establish testimony,
He who loves discipline loves perception,
but a hasty witness has a dishonest tongue.

12 but he who hates reproofs is a fool. 20 Deceit is in the heart of him who devises 2

He who finds favor with the Lord is

evil,

superior,

but those who intend peace will rejoice.

but a lawless man will be passed over in 21

Nothing unjust will be pleasing to the just,

silence.

but the impious will be filled with evil.

3

No person will prosper from what is lawless,

22

False lips are an abomination to the Lord,

but the roots of the just will not be but he who acts faithfully is acceptable to removed.

him.

4

A courageous wife is a crown to her

23

An intelligent man is a seat of perception,

husband,

but the heart of fools will meet with but like a worm in wood, so a curses.

mischievous wife destroys a man.

24

The hand of the elected will easily govern,

5

The thoughts of the just are judgments,

but the deceitful will become a prey.

but the impious guides treachery.

25

Terrifying news troubles the heart of a just 6

The words of the impious are crafty,

man,

but the mouth of the upright will deliver

but a good message cheers him up.

them.

26

A just arbiter will be his own friend,

7

Wherever the impious turns, he disappears, but the opinions of the impious are but the households of the righteous unfair.

endure.

Evil will pursue those that sin,

8

The mouth of an intelligent person is

and the way of the impious shall lead praised by a man,

them astray.

al.e. assists in the making of false pledges

proverbs 12-14

633

27

16

The deceitful will obtain no game,
Every smart person acts with knowledge,
but a pure man a valuable possession.
but the fool displayed his own evil.

28

In the ways of justice there is life,

17

A rash king will fall into evil, but the ways of those who bear grudges
but a reliable messenger will deliver him.
lead to death.

18

Discipline removes poverty and disgrace, and he who rebukes will be honored.

A smart son is obedient to his father,

19

The desires of the pious sweeten his soul, 13 but a disobedient son is on course to but the deeds of the impious are far from

destruction.

knowledge.

2

A good person will eat of the fruits of 20

He who walks along with the wise will be justice,

wise,

but the souls of transgressors will perish but he who walks along with fools will untimely.

be known as one.

3

He who guards his own mouth keeps his 21

Evil will pursue sinners,

own life,

but good will overtake the just.

but he who is rash with his lips will bring 22

A good man will leave an inheritance for his terror upon himself.

sons' sons,

4

Every lazy person has desires, and the wealth of the impious is stored but the hands of the courageous are up for the righteous.

diligent.

23

The just will spend many years in wealth,

5

A just person hates an unjust word, but the unjust will perish suddenly.
but the impious is ashamed and will have 24

He who spares the staff hates his son, no confidence.

but he who loves him carefully

6

Justice guards the innocent, disciplines him.

but sin makes the impious worthless.

25

A just man when eating satisfies his 7

There are some who, while having nothing, appetite,

enrich themselves,

but the appetites of the impious are

and there are others who humble deficient.

themselves in much wealth.

8

A man's own wealth is the ransom of his soul,

Wise women built homes,

but the poor does not experience threat.

14 but a foolish one to let it down with her 9

The just always have light,

hands.

but the light of the impious is

2

He who walks uprightly fears the Lord,
extinguished.

but he who is devious in his ways will be

9a

Crafty souls go astray in sins, dishonored.

but just people are compassionate and 3

From the mouth of fools comes a staff of have pity.

pride,

10

An evil person does evil with pride, but the lips of the wise preserve them.

but they that are judges of themselves are 4

Where there are no oxen, the cribs are clean,
wise.

but where there is much produce, the 11

Property gotten hastily with lawlessness is strength of an ox is apparent.

diminished,

5

A faithful witness does not lie, but he who gathers for himself with piety but an unjust witness kindles falsehoods.
will be increased.

6

You may seek wisdom with evil men and
A just person is compassionate and lends.
will not find it,

12

Better is he that begins to help heartily but perception is easily available among than he that promises and leads another the clever.

to hope,

7

All things are against a foolish man,
for a good desire is a tree of life.
but wise lips are the weapons of 13

He who despises a matter will be despised perception.

by it,

8

The wisdom of the smart will become but as for him who fears the familiar with their ways, commandment, he is healthy.
but the folly of fools misleads.

13a

To a crafty son nothing will be good,

9

The homes of transgressors are subject to but a wise domestic will have prosperous cleansing,
business,
but the homes of the just are acceptable.
and his way shall be guided.

10

A man's heart is sensitive; his soul is 14

The law of a wise man is a fountain of life, grieved,

but he who is stupid will die by a snare.

and when he rejoices, he does not mingle 15

Sound discretion wins favor, with pride.

and to know the law is the sign of a 11

The homes of the impious will be destroyed, sound mind,

but the tents of the upright will stand.

but the ways of scorners end in 12

There is a way that seems to be right among
destruction.

people,

634

proverbs 14-15

but its end reaches to the bottom of 33

There is wisdom in the good heart of a man, Hades.

but in the heart of fools it is not 13

Grief mingles not with mirth, discerned.

and joy in the end comes to sorrow.

34

Justice lifts up a nation,

14

A bold-hearted person will be filled with his but sins diminish tribes.

own ways,

35

A thoughtful subordinate is acceptable to a and a good man with his own thoughts.

king,

15

The innocent believes every word, and by his own good behavior he but the smart comes to a change of mind.
removes disgrace.

16

A wise man feared and turned away from
evil,

Anger destroys even the prudent;

but the fool trusts in himself and 15 yet as submissive answers turns away associates with the lawless.

wrath,

17

A passionate person acts with but a harsh word stirs up anger.
thoughtlessness,

2

The tongue of the wise understands what is but a sensible man endures many things.
good,

18

Fools will partake of evil, but the mouth of the foolish will but the smart will lay hold of perception.
proclaim evil.

19

The evil will fall down before the good,

3

The eyes of the Lord are in every place, and the impious will serve at the gates of beholding both the evil and the good.
the just.

4

A tongue's healing is a tree of life, 20

Friends will hate poor friends, and he who keeps it will be filled with but the friends of the rich are many.
spirit.

21

He who dishonors the needy sins,

5

A fool scorns his father's discipline, but one who pities the poor is deemed but he who keeps commandments is most happy.
smarter.

22

They who go astray devise evil,

6

In abounding righteousness is great but the good devise pity and truth.

strength,

The planners of evil do not understand pity

but the impious will be removed root and loyalty,

and branch from the earth.

but acts of mercy and of loyalty are with

In the homes of the righteous there is much planners for good.

strength,

23

With everyone who is careful there is but the fruits of the impious will perish.

abundance,

7

The lips of the wise are devoted to

but the hedonist and indolent shall have

perception,

want.

but the hearts of fools are not steadfast.

24

A crown for the wise is a smart man,

8

The sacrifices of the impious are an

but the pastime of fools is evil.

abomination to the Lord,

25

A faithful witness will rescue a soul from

but the prayers of the upright are

evil,

acceptable to him.

but a deceitful person kindles falsehoods.

9

The ways of the impious are an 26

In the fear of the Lord is hope in strength,

abomination to the Lord,

and he leaves his children support.

but he loves those who pursue 27

An ordinance of the Lord is a fountain of righteousness.

life,

10

The discipline of the innocent is known by and it causes people to turn away from passersby,
the snare of death.

but those who hate rebukes die

28

In a populous nation is a king's glory, disgracefully.

but in the failing of people is the ruin of 11

Hades and destruction are manifest to the
a ruler.

Lord;

29

A man slow to anger is abundant in how much more also human hearts!
prudence,

12

An uninstructed person will not like those but an impatient man is extremely who rebuke him,
foolish.

and neither will he associate with the 30

A meek-spirited man is a healer of hearts,
wise.

and a sensitive heart a motha in the 13

When the heart rejoices the countenance is bones.

cheerful,

31

He who cheats the needy upsets his maker, but when it is in sorrow, the countenance

but he who honors him pities the poor.

is sad.

32

The impious will be driven away by his evil,

14

An upright heart seeks perception, but he who is secure in his own piety is but the mouth of the uninstructed will

just.

know evil.

al.e. a cause of decay

proverbs 15-16

635

15

The eyes of the wicked are continually that his steps may be directed by God.

expecting evil,

30

The eye that observes good things rejoices

but the good are always quiet.

the heart,

16

Better is a small portion with the fear of the
and good news refreshes the bones.

Lord

32

He who rejects discipline hates himself, than great treasures without fear.

but he who heeds rebukes loves his soul.

17

Better is entertainment of vegetables with 33

Fear of God is discipline and wisdom, friendliness and kindness and the beginning of glory will respond than a serving of calves with enmity.

to it.

18

A passionate man stirs up fights, but he who is slow to anger appeases even an incipient one.

16 2Alltheworksofthehumblearemanifest with God,

18a

A man slow to anger will extinguish but the impious shall perish in an evil disputes,
day.

but an impious person stirs them up

5

Everyone who is arrogant is impure with exceedingly.

God,

19

The ways of the idle are strewn with thorns, and he who unjustly joins hands will but those of the courageous are beaten.
not be deemed innocent.

20

A wise son gladdens his father,

7

The beginning of a good way is to do but a foolish son scorns his mother.
righteous things,

21

The paths of the foolish are void of sense, and they are more acceptable with God but the prudent man proceeds in a than to bring sacrifices.
straight course.

8

He who seeks the Lord will find knowledge

22

They who do not honor councils delay with righteousness, deliberations,
and they who seek him rightly will find but counsel prevails in the hearts of those peace.
giving advice.

9

All the works of the Lord are done with 23

The evil person will not heed it;
righteousness,
neither will he say anything appropriate but the impious is kept for an evil day.
or good for the public.

10

There is an oracular shrine upon the lips of 24

The thoughts of the intelligent person are a king,

ways of life

and his mouth will not err in judgment.

in order that one turn aside and escape

11

The tipping of the scale is righteousness from Hades.

with the Lord,

25

The Lord tears down the homes of the
and his works are righteous measures.

insolent,

12

An evildoer is an abomination to a king, but he established the border of the

for the throne of government is widow.

established by righteousness.

26

An unjust thought is an abomination to the 13

Righteous lips are acceptable to a king,

Lord,

and he loves right words.

but the sayings of the pure are solemn.

14

The anger of a king is a messenger of 27

A receiver of bribes destroys himself,

death,

but he who hates the receiving of bribes

but a wise man will pacify him.

is saved.

15

The son of a king is in the light of life,

27a

By acts of mercy and by faithfulness sins are and they that are acceptable to him are purged,

like a late cloud.

but by the fear of the Lord everyone turns

16

The young of wisdom are more desirable away from evil.

than gold,

28

The hearts of the righteous ponder and the young of prudence more faithfulness,
desirable than silver.

but the mouth of the impious answers

17

The paths of life turn away from evil, evil things.

and the ways of righteousness are length

28a

The ways of righteous persons are acceptable of existence.

to the Lord,

He who receives discipline will prosper, and through them even enemies become and he who heeds rebukes will become friends.

wise.

29

God is far from the impious,
He who heeds his ways preserves his own but he hears the prayers of the righteous.
soul,

29a

Better is a small intake with righteousness and he who loves his life will spare his than abundant produce with injustice.
mouth.

29b

Let the heart of a man think righteous

18

Pride goes before ruin,
things,
and malice before a fall.

al.e. assists in the making of false pledges

636

proverbs 16-17

19

Better is a person of gentle mind with 5

He who laughs at the poor provokes his humility

maker,

than he who divides spoils with the

and he who rejoices at one being proud.

destroyed will not go unpunished.

20

One who is capable in business is a

But he who has compassion will find discoverer of good things,

mercy.

but he who trusts in God is most 6

Children's children are a crown for the aged, fortunate.

and their fathers are the boast of 21

Some call the wise and intelligent

children.

worthless,

6a

The faithful has the whole world full of but they who are pleasant in speech will
money,

be heard more.

but the faithless not even a farthing.

22

Insight is a fountain of life to its 7

Faithful lips will not suit a fool, possessors,

nor false lips the righteous.

but the discipline of fools is evil.

8

Discipline is a gracious wage to them that 23

The heart of the wise will consider what use it,

comes from his own mouth,

and wherever it turns, it will prosper.

and on his lips he will bear prudence.

9

He who conceals wrongdoings seeks 24

Noble words are honeycombs,

friendship,

and its sweetness a healing for the soul.

but he who hates to conceal them

25

There are ways that seem to be right for a separates friends and family.

man,

10

A threat shatters the heart of a prudent

but their ends look towards Hades' depth.

person,

26

A man at labor labors for himself and fences

but a fool, though whipped, does not off his own destruction, comprehend.

but the crooked carries destruction in his 11

Every bad person stirs up controversies, own mouth.

but the Lord will send out against him a 27

A foolish man digs up evil for himself, cruel messenger.

and treasures fire on his own lips.

12

Care will befall a man of understanding, 28

A crooked man spreads evil
but fools will consider evil.
and will kindle with evil a torch of 13

He who requites evil for good—
deceit,
evil shall not be moved from his house.
and he separates friends.

14

Righteous rule gives power to words,

29

A man who transgresses makes trial of but sedition and strife precede want.

friends

15

He who judges the unjust just and the just and leads them in ways that are not good.

unjust

30

He who fixes his eyes considers perverse is unclean and abominable with God.

things,

16

Why should fools have money?

and he marks out with his lips all evil;

For the heartless will not be able to buy

he is a furnace of evil.

wisdom.

31

Old age is a crown of boasting;

16a

He who makes his own house high is however, it is gained in the ways of looking for ruin,

righteousness.

and the one who is too crooked to learn 32

A man who is slow to anger is better than will fall into evil.

the mighty,

17

You should have a friend for every season, and he who controls his temper better but let brothers be supportive in than one who captures a city.

distress,

33

All things come upon the unrighteous into for on this account are they born.

their laps,

18

A foolish man applauds and rejoices over but all righteous things come from the
himself;

Lord.

as well, he who pledges himself ought to answer for his own friend.

Better is a morsel with pleasure in peace

19

A lover of sin rejoices in fights,

17 than a house full of many good things 20 but the hard-hearted does not meet up and unjust sacrifices with strife.

with good things.

2

An intelligent domestic will rule over

A man who is fickle of tongue will fall into foolish masters

evil,

and will divide portions among brothers.

21 and the heart of a fool is grief to its 3

As silver and gold are tried in a furnace, possessor.

so are choice hearts with the Lord.

A father does not rejoice over an 4

A bad person listens to the tongue of uninstructed son,
transgressors,

but a prudent son gladdens his mother.

but a righteous person does not give heed

22

A cheerful heart promotes well-being,
to false lips.

but the bones of a depressed man dry up.

proverbs 17-19

637

23

The ways of one who unjustly receives and seats him among the powerful.

bribes in his pocket do not prosper,

17

The righteous accuses himself in his
and the impious perverts the ways of introduction,
righteousness.

but when he attacks, the adversary is 24

The face of a wise person is intelligent, refuted.

but the eyes of the fool are on the ends of 18

Casting the lot puts an end to disputes
the earth.

and decides between the powerful.

25

A foolish son is a cause of anger to his 19

A brother helped by a brother is like a

father

fortified and lofty city and a grief to her who bore him.

and is as strong as a firmly founded 26

It is not good to punish a righteous man, palace.

nor is it pious to plot against righteous

20

With the fruits of his mouth a man fills his rulers.

belly,

27

He who is careful to utter a harsh word is and with the fruits of his lips he will be discreet, satisfied.

and a patient man is sensible.

21

Death and life are in the power of the 28

Wisdom will be imputed to a silly person
tongue,
who asks after wisdom,
and they who control it will eat its fruits.

but someone who keeps himself

22

He who has found a good wife has found speechless will seem to be sensible.

favours

and has received cheerfulness from God.

22a

He who rejects a good wife rejects the 18 Aman who wishes to separate from friends is looking for excuses,

good,

but he will be liable to reproach at all but he who keeps an adulteress is foolish times.

and impious.

2

A person lacking in sense feels no need for

wisdom,

3A man's folly corrupts his ways;

for he is much more led by folly.

19 yet in his heart he blames God.

3

When the impious comes into a depth of 4

Wealth adds many friends, evils, he shows contempt,
but the poor is deserted even by the only but disgrace and reproach come upon friend he has.
him.

5

A false witness will not go unpunished,

4

A word in the heart of a man is deep water, and he who accuses unjustly will not and a river and a fountain of life spring escape.
forth.

6

Many render service to the persons of kings,

5

It is not good to respect the person of the but every evil one becomes a reproach to

impious,

a man.

nor is it pious to pervert justice in 7

Every one who hates a poor brother

judgment.

will also be far from friendship.

6

A fool's lips bring him into troubles,

Insight will draw near to them who know it,

and his bold mouth calls upon death.

and a prudent man will find it.

7

A fool's mouth is his ruin,

He who does much evil perfects wickedness, and his lips are a snare to his soul.

and he who uses provoking words will 8

Fear casts down the timid,

not be saved.

and the souls of the effeminate will suffer

8

He who procures prudence loves himself, hunger.

and he who guards prudence will find 9

He who does not cure himself by his labor
good.

is akin to him who injures himself.

9

A false witness will not go unpunished,

10

The name of the Lord is of majestic and whosoever will kindle evil will perish
strength,
by it.

and the righteous, when they run to it, 10

It is not fitting for a fool to have delights, are exalted.

nor if a domestic should begin to rule

11

The substance of a rich man is a strong city, with hubris.

and its glory casts a huge shadow.

11

A merciful man is long-suffering, 12

Before ruin a man's heart is exalted, and his boast comes upon transgressors.
but before honor it is humble.

12

The threat of a king is like the roaring of a 13

He who gives an answer before listening—
lion,

it is folly and reproach to him.

but as dew on grass, so is his 14

A sensible attendant calms a man's anger, cheerfulness.

but who can endure a faint-hearted man?

13

A foolish son is a disgrace to his father,

15

The heart of the sensible acquires and vows from the price of a prostitute

perception,

are not pure.

and the ears of the wise seek insight.

14

Fathers distribute house and substance to 16

A person's gift gives him space

their children,

638

proverbs 19-20

but a woman is joined to a man by God.

but every fool is entangled in such things.

15

Timidity restrains the effeminate,

4

Though the lazy is reproached, he is not and the soul of the idle will suffer ashamed;

hunger.

likewise also to the one who borrows

16

He who keeps a commandment preserves grain in harvest.

his own soul,

5

The counsel in a man's heart is deep water, but he who despises his own ways will but a sensible man will extract it.

perish.

6

Humankind is something great, and a 17

He who has compassion on the poor lends compassionate man something to God,

precious,
and he will repay him according to his
but to find a faithful man is a chore.
gift.

7

He who dwells blameless in righteousness

18

Discipline your son, for thus he will be will leave his children happy.

hopeful,

8

When a righteous king sits on his throne, but do not be roused in your soul to he does not oppose anything wicked with hubris.

his eyes.

19

A malicious man will be severely punished,

9

Who can boast that he keeps his heart pure?

and if he causes injury, he will even add

Or who can declare confidently that he is his soul.

pure from sins?

20

My son, listen to the discipline of your

9a

The lamp of one who curses father or
father,
mother will be extinguished,
that you may become wise for the future.
and the pupils of his eyes will see 21

There are many thoughts in a man's heart,
darkness.
but the counsel of the Lord remains

9b

A portion quickly acquired at first
forever.

will not be blessed in the end.

22

Compassion is a profit for a man,

9c

Do not say: I will repay my enemy, and a poor righteous person is better but wait for the Lord that he may help than a rich liar.

you.

23

The fear of the Lord becomes life for a man, 10

A large and a small weight, and double and he who is without fear will stay in measures,

places

are impure in the eyes of the Lord—both where knowledge does not keep watch.

of them,

24

He who unjustly hides his hands in his 11 and he who makes these will be shackled bosom

by his practices.

will never ever bring them to his mouth.

A young man in the company of a pious

25

When a pestiferous person is being
person—

whipped, a fool will become more straight indeed will be his way.

crafty,

12

The ear hears, and the eye sees;

but if you reprove a prudent man, he will both are works of the Lord.

gain perception.

13

Do not love calumny, lest you be destroyed;

26

He who disgraces his father and drives away

open your eyes, and be filled with bread.

his mother

23

An ambiguous weight is an abomination to will be put to shame and will become
the Lord,
rebuked.

and a false balance is not a good thing

27

The son who stops keeping the discipline of
before him.

his father

24

A man's steps are directed by the Lord, will contemplate evil sayings.

and a mortal—how could he understand

28

He who gives surety for a foolish child will his ways?

insult what is deemed right,

25

Quickly to consecrate something of his own and the mouth of the impious will is a snare to a man, devour judgments.

for after making a vow a change of mind

29

Lashes are prepared for the intemperate, can happen.

and flogging for the backs of the foolish.

26

A wise king is a winnowing of the impious, and he will put a wheel on them.

27

The light of the Lord is the breath of 20 Wine is an intemperate thing, and strong drink is something insolent,
humans,
and everyone who mixes with it will not he who searches the innermost parts of
be wise.

the belly.

2

The threat of a king does not differ from the 28

Compassion and truth are a guard to a king, rage of a lion,
and they will encircle his throne with and he who provokes him sins against his righteousness.

own life.

29

Wisdom is an ornament to young men,

3

It is good repute for a man to refrain from and grey hair the glory of the aged.

strife,

30

Bruises and wounds befall evil men, proverbs 21-22

639

and plagues in the innermost parts of the and demolished the strongholds in which belly.

the impious trusted.

23

He who guards his mouth and tongue
Like a stream of water, so is the heart of a keeps his soul out of trouble.

21

king in God's hand.

24

The bold and audacious and pretentious is

Wherever he decides to turn it, thither he called a pest,

inclines it.

and he who contemplates evil is a

2

Every man seems righteous to himself;

transgressor of the law.

however, the Lord directs hearts.

25

Desires kill the lazy,

3

To do right and to be truthful

for his hands choose not to do anything.

is more pleasing with God than blood of 26

The impious longs for wicked desires all day sacrifices.

long,

4

An arrogant person is bold-hearted in but the righteous has compassion and hubris,
pity unsparingly.

and sin is the lamp of the impious.

27

The sacrifice of the impious is an 6

He who obtains treasures by a lying tongue
abomination to the Lord,
pursues vanity into the snares of death.
for they even offer them unlawfully.

7

Ruin will be entertained by the impious,

28

A false witness will perish, because they do not want to do what is but an obedient man will speak

just.

cautiously.

8

To the crooked God sends crooked ways,

29

An impious man impudently resists with his for his works are pure and upright.

face,

9

It is better to live in a corner in the open but the upright—he understands his than in plastered quarters and in a ways.

shared a house with injustice.

30

There is no wisdom; there is no courage;

10

The soul of the impious

there is no counsel against the impious.

will not receive compassion from 31

A horse is prepared for the day of battle, anybody.

but assistance is from the Lord.

11

When the intemperate is punished, the innocent becomes more wily,

but a wise man understands he will gain

22 A good name is a better choice than great wealth,

knowledge.

and good favor is above silver and gold.

12

A righteous person understands the heart of 2

The rich and the poor have encountered

the impious
each other,
and despises the impious because of their
but the Lord has made them both.
evil.

3

When the clever sees the wicked severely

13

He who blocks his ears so as not to hear the punished,

weak

he himself is being educated, will himself also call, and there will be but the fools passed by and were nobody who listens.

penalized.

14

A secret gift averts anger,

4

The offspring of wisdom is the fear of the
but he who is sparing with gifts arouses

Lord

fierce wrath.

as well as riches and honor and life.

15

It is a joy to the righteous to do justice,

5

Thorns and snares are in crooked ways, but according to evildoers a devout but he who guards his own soul will keep person is impure.

far from them.

16

A man who strays from the path of 7

The rich rule over the poor,

righteousness

but domestics will lend to their own will rest in the gathering of giants.
masters.

17

A needy man loves joy;

8

He who sows what is cheap will reap what he likes wine and oil in abundance.

is bad

18

And a lawless person is the refuse of a and will complete the impact of his righteous one.

deeds.

19

It is better to live in a desert land

8a

God blesses a cheerful and generous man, than with a quarrelsome and talkative but he will bring to an end the vanity of and irritable wife.

his deeds.

20

A desirable treasure will rest in the mouth of 9

He who has compassion over the poor will

the wise,

himself be nourished,

but foolish men will swallow it.

because he gave his own food to the 21

A way of righteousness and compassion

poor.

will find life and honor.

9a

He who hands out gifts secures victory and 22

A wise person attacked strong cities

honor;

al.e. with a wife

640

proverbs 22-23

moreover, he takes away the soul of those 28

Do not remove ancient borders who have possessions.

which your fathers set up.

10

Expel from the council an irritating person

29

A man with vision and skilled in his work and strife will exit with him, should serve before kings

for when he takes a seat in the council, and should not serve slothful men.
he disgraces all.

11

The Lord loves devout hearts,
If you sit down to eat at the table of rulers, and all the blameless are acceptable to 23 observe carefully what has been set for him.

you,

A king herds with his lips.

2

and extend your hand,

12

Now the eyes of the Lord keep watch over since you know that you will have to
perception,
prepare such things.

but the transgressor holds words cheap.

3

And if you are rather insatiate, do not desire

13

A lazy person makes excuses and says:

his delicacies,

“There is a lion on the roads and for these pertain to a fake life.

murderers in the streets!”

4

If you are poor, do not measure yourself

14

The mouth of the transgressor is a deep

with the rich,

hole,

but be restrained by your own insight.

and he who is hated by the Lord will fall

5

If you set your eyes upon him, he will

into it.

disappear totally,

14a

There are bad ways before a man, for he has been equipped with wings as

and he prefers not to avoid them, of an eagle

even though he should avoid a crooked and he returns to the house of his master.
and bad way.

6

Do not dine with a malicious man,

15

Folly clings to the heart of a young boy, nor should you desire his food.
but the rod and discipline are far away

7

For in the same manner as one swallows a from him.

hair

16

He who oppresses the needy makes many so he eats and drinks.

things his own,

8

Do not bring him in to you, nor eat your yet gives to the rich to make it less.

morsel with him,

for he will vomit it up and will spoil your 17

Incline your ear to the words of the wise, noble words.

and hear my word,

9

Say nothing in the ears of a fool, and apply your heart, that you may know lest he despise your judicious words.

that they are good.

10

Do not relocate ancient borders,

18

And if you take them to heart, nor enter the possession of orphans,

they will also give you pleasure on your 11 for the Lord who redeems them is strong

lips

and he will plead their case with you.

19

in order that your hope be upon the Lord 12

Give your heart to discipline, and that he may reveal to you his way.

and prepare your ears for words of 20

Now then, copy them for yourself three

perception.

times over,

13

Do not refrain from disciplining a child,

for counsel and knowledge on the surface for if you beat him with a rod, he will of your heart.

not die;

21

Therefore I teach you a true word and good 14

for indeed you shall beat him with a rod knowledge to heed

and will rescue his soul from death.

in order that you may answer words of 15

My son, if your heart is wise, truth to them who question you.

you will gladden my heart as well.

16

And your lips will hold conversation 22

Do not treat the needy with violence, for he

with my lips, if they are upright.

is poor,

17

Let your heart not envy sinners,

nor disgrace the weak at the gates.

but be in the fear of the Lord throughout 23

For the Lord will judge his case,

the day.

and you shall rescue your life inviolate.

18

For if you keep these things you will have 24

Be no companion of a fierce man, progeny,

nor associate with a passionate friend, and your hope will not be removed.

25 lest you learn from his ways and take snares to your soul.

19

Listen my son, and become wise,

26

Do not give yourself as surety and direct the insight of your heart.

because you feel shame before a 20

Be not a winebibber,

person;

nor prolong in shared meals or at the 27

for if you have nothing with which to pay, purchasing of meat.

they will take the bed that is under your 21

For every drunkard and glutton will become side.

poor,

proverbs 23-24

641 and every sluggard will clothe himself

7

Wisdom and insight are to be found in the

with tatters and rags.

gates of the wise,

and the wise do not turn away from the 22

Listen, my son, to your father who begot mouth of the Lord.

you,

and do not despise her when your 8

But they caucus in the assemblies;

mother gets old.

death meets the uninstructed,

24

A righteous father raises well, 9 and a fool dies by sin,

and his soul rejoices in his wise son.

and a pestilent man will be polluted by 25

Let father and mother be glad over you, impurity

and let her who bore you rejoice.

10

in an evil day and a day of affliction until he deceases.

26

My son, give me your heart,

11

Rescue them who are led to death, and let your eyes observe my ways.

and buy back those who are to be 27

For a pierced cask is a strange house, slaughtered; do not delay!

and a strange well is narrow.

12

If you say: "I do not know this person,"

28

For it will quickly perish, be aware that the Lord is familiar with and every transgressor will be destroyed.

the heart of everyone,
and he who formed breath for all, he knows 29

Who has woe? Who has trouble? Who has everything,
strife?

he who will render to each according to

Who has vexations and squabbles?

his deeds.

Who has wounds without reason?

Who has blood-shot eyes?

13

My son, eat honey, for the honeycomb is 30

Are they not those who linger long over

good,

wine,

that your palate may be sweetened.

who frequent places where drinking takes 14

Thus you shall perceive wisdom with your place?

soul,

31

Do not get drunk from wine;

for if you find it, your end will be good rather converse with righteous people, and hope will not forsake you.

and converse in public places;

for if you give your eyes to saucers and 15

Do not lead the impious to the pastures of goblets,

the righteous;

you will afterwards walk around more also do not be misled by a full stomach.

naked than a pestle.

16

For the righteous may fall seven times, but 32

But finally he stretches himself out like one

he will rise again,

struck by a snake,

but the impious will be powerless in evil.

and venom is diffused in him as by a horned serpent.

17

If your enemy falls, do not rejoice over him,

33

When your eyes see a strange woman,

nor be elated by his stumbling;

then your mouth will speak perversely.

18 for the Lord will observe it, and it will not 34

And you will lie as in the heart of the sea

please him,

and like a navigator in a large wave.

and he will turn away his anger from 35

Then you will say: "They struck me, but I felt
him.

no pain,

and they insulted me, but I did not 19

Do not rejoice over evildoers, realize it.

nor envy sinners.

When will it be morning, that I may go 20

For progeny of the wicked will not and seek with whom I will go together?"

continue,

and the lamp of the impious will be

My son, do not envy wicked men, extinguished.

24 nordesiretobewiththem,

2 for their hearts contemplate lies 21

My son, fear God and the king, and their lips utter trouble.

and disobey neither of them,

22

for they will unexpectedly punish the 3

With wisdom a house is built,

impious

and with understanding it is established.

and who shall know their punishments?

4

With perception the storerooms are filled

22a

A son who keeps the word will be far from all precious and beautiful riches.

removed from destruction,

5

The wise is better than the strong,

for he received it willingly.

and a man who has prudence than he

22b

Let no falsehood be spoken to the king from who has a large field.

the tongue,

6

With strategic planning war is conducted, and no falsehood will proceed from his and help with a counseled heart.

tongue.

642

proverbs 24, 30

22c

The tongue of the king is a dagger and not

“It is not good to be in awe of a person in of flesh,

judgement.”

and whoever is handed over will be 24

He who says of the impious “He is destroyed;

righteous”

22d

for if his anger is sharpened will be cursed by peoples and be hateful it kills people with thongs, to nations.

22e

and it devours the bones of people

25

But those who rebuke will appear better, and consumes them like a flame and a good blessing will come upon so that they are not food for young eagles!

them.

26

And they will kiss lips
My son, fear my words,
that answer good words.

30 and repent when you receive them;
this is what the man says to those who 27

Prepare your work for your departure, believe in God:
and be fully prepared for the field;

Now I stop,
also follow behind me,

2 for I am the most foolish of all people and you will rebuild your house.
and I have not the prudence of people.

3
God has taught me wisdom,

28
Do not be a false witness against your fellow and I have gained knowledge of holy citizen,

things.

nor overstate with your lips.

4

Who has ascended to heaven and come

29

Do not say: "I will use him in the same way down?

as he has used me,

Who has gathered the wind in his bosom?

and I will punish him for the injustice he

Who has wrapped the water in his garment?

did to me."

Who has taken control of all the ends of

the earth?

30

A foolish man is like a tilled field,

What is his name?

and a person lacking sense is like a

Or the name of his children that you may vineyard.

know them?

31

If you leave it alone, it will become barren and will be totally overrun by weeds and 5

All divine words are tried by fire, neglected,

and he himself shields those who revere

and its stone fences will be broken

him.

down.

6

Do not add to his words,

32

Thereafter I repented;

lest he rebuke you and you become a liar.

I looked around in order to glean discipline.

7

Two things I ask of you;

33

I doze a little; then I slumber a little,
do not remove my favor before I die.
and I fold my arms over my breast a 8

Put far from me a vain word and lies,
little.

and give me neither riches nor poverty,

34

But if this is what you do, poverty will come but order what is necessary and sufficient over you, when it advances, for me,
and want like a good courier.

9

lest I be filled and become a liar and say:

“Who sees me?”

Or lest I become poor and steal

30 15Theleechhasthreelovinglybeloved

daughters,

and swear by the name of God.

but these three did not satisfy her,

and the fourth was not pleased to say, “It 10

Do not deliver a domestic in the hands of a is enough.”

master,

16

Hades and love of a woman lest he curse you and you vanish.

and Tartarus and earth not filled with water,

11

Wicked progeny curses its father water and fire also will never say, "It and does not bless its mother.
suffices."

12

Wicked progeny judges itself righteous but did not wash off its anus.

17

An eye that derides a father

13

Wicked progeny has lofty eyes, and scorns the old age of a mother—and it raises its eyebrows.

may ravens from the ravines peck it out,

14

Wicked progeny has daggers for teeth and may the young eagles devour it.
and knives for molars in order to destroy and to consume the humble from the earth

18

Now there are three things impossible for
and their needy from among mankind.
me to understand,
and with the fourth I am not familiar:

19

The tracks of a flying eagle

24 23 Now these things I also say to you who are wise, that you know them:

and the ways of a snake on a rock

proverbs 30, 31, 25

643

and the paths of a ship passing through the

Those in power are wrathful,

sea

but let them not drink wine, and the ways of a man in his youth.

5

lest they drink and forget wisdom and will not be able to judge the 20

Such is the way of an adulterous woman powerless rightly.

who, when she has performed the act,

6

Give strong drink to those who are in pain will wash herself and say that she has and wine to drink to those in sorrow, done nothing improper.

7

that they may forget their poverty and not remember their labor any more.

21

Through three things the earth is shaken,

8

Open your mouth with a divine word,

and the fourth it is not able to bear:

and judge all fairly.

22

If a domestic becomes king

9

Open your mouth, and judge justly,
and if a fool is filled with food, and plead the cause of the poor and 23

also a female domestic if she throws out her weak.

mistress,

and a hateful woman if she finds a good

These are the miscellaneous systems of ed-
husband.

25 ucation of Salomon, which the friends of Hezekias, king of Judea, copied.

24

There are also four things on earth that are very small;

2

Divine glory conceals a matter,

yet they are wiser than the wise:
but the glory of a king honors action.

25

The ants, which, though they are not strong,

3

Heaven is high, and earth is deep,
do prepare their food in summer;
and a king's heart is unfathomable.

26

the hedgehogs are also not a strong species,

4

Strike the unrefined silver, who made their homes in the rocks;
and everything pure will be purified.

27

the grasshopper is without a king;

5

Cut off the impious from the presence of yet they march orderly at the command
the king,

of one;

and his throne will be established in 28 and the lizard, though dependent on its

righteousness.

hands and being easily caught,

6

Do not boast in front of the king;

it lives in the king's fortresses.

and do not linger in the places of rulers,

29

There are indeed three things which move

7

for it is better that it be said to you: "Come easily,

to me"

and the fourth which walks well:

than to humiliate you in the presence of 30

a lion's whelp, strongest of the animals,

a ruler.

which does not back-off nor fears any

What your eyes have seen say.

animal,

8

Do not get involved in a fight quickly

31

also a cock strutting courageously among

in order that you may not regret it in the

the hens,

end.

and the he-goat leading the herd,

When your friend reproaches you, and a king making a speech in a nation.

9 withdraw; do not show contempt, 10

lest your friend reproach you

32

If you lose yourself in merriment and your quarrel and enmity will not end and stretch out your hand in a fight, but will be tantamount to death.
you will be disgraced.

10a

Favor and friendship bring freedom;

33

Press out milk, and there will be butter, keep them for yourself, that you may not and if you squeeze nostrils, blood will be subject to reproach, come out,
but guard your ways with fair dealing.
and if you extort words, quarrels and fights will ensue.

11

As an apple of gold in a necklace of Sardian
stone,

My words have been spoken by God, the so it is to speak a word.

31 oracular response of a king, whom his mother—
A costly Sardian stone is fastened to a ear instructed.

12

golden earring—

a wise word to an obedient ear!

2

What, my child, will you keep? What?

13

As snowfall during harvest is beneficial

Divine sayings.

against the heat,

My firstborn, I speak to you, my son.

so is a faithful messenger to those who

What, child of my womb?

sent him,

What, child of my vows?

for he benefits the souls of those who 3

Do not give your wealth to women make use of him.
and your mind and life to remorse.

14

As winds and clouds and rains are 4

Do everything with counsel; exceedingly apparent,
drink wine with counsel.
so are they who boast over a false gift.

644

proverbs 25-26

15

With patience a king has a safe journey,

7

As it is to take away traveling from legs, and a soft tongue breaks bones.
so is a proverb from the mouth of fools.

16

If you find honey eat just enough,

8

He who ties down a stone in a sling lest you be sated and vomit.

is like him who gives glory to a fool.

17

Lead your foot sparingly to your own friend,

9

Thorns grow in the hand of the drunkard, lest he get too much of you and hate you.

and slavery in the hand of fools.

18

Pointed is a nail and a dagger and an arrow;

10

All flesh of fools is much exposed to winter

so also is a man who bears false witness cold,

against his friend.

for their trance is being shattered.

19

The ways of an evil person and the foot of a 11

Like a dog, when he returns to his vomit,

transgressor

also becomes the more hated, will be destroyed in an evil day.

so is a fool, when by his own wickedness,

20

As vinegar is harmful to a wound, he returns to his own sin.

so a calamity that befalls the body pains

11a

There is a sense of shame that leads to sin,
the heart.

and there is a sense of shame that is glory

20a

As a moth is to a garment and a worm is to
and grace.

wood,

12

I have seen a man who thought himself to so a man's pain hurts the heart.

be wise,

21

If your enemy is hungry, nourish him;
but there is more hope for a fool than for if he is thirsty, give him to drink.

him.

22

For by doing this you will heap coals of fire

13

A lazy person being sent on a journey says:
on his head,

“There is a lion on the road.”

and the Lord will reward you with good 14

As a door turns on its socket,
things.

so is a lazy person on his couch.

23

The north wind raises clouds,

15

When a lazy person hides his hand in his
and an impudent face provokes the bosom,
tongue.

he will not be able to bring it to his 24

It is better to live in the corner of a room
mouth.

than with an abusive wife in a shareda

16

A lazy person to himself seems wiser
house.

than he who, with satisfaction, returns a 25

As cold water is soothing to a thirsty soul, message.

so is good news from a far away land.

17

Like one grabbing a dog's tail,

26

Just as, if one should block a fountain and so is he who champions a cause not his destroy an outlet of water, own.

so it is unseemly that a righteous person

18

As those who are being treated propound fall before the impious.

tales to people

27

It is not good to eat much honey, and he who encounters the tale will be but it is necessary to honor notable the first to be tripped up, words.

19

so are all who trick their own friends,

28

As a city is with its walls cast down and and when they are discovered, they say: "I unfortified,
did it in jest."

so is a man who does everything without 20

With much wood a fire is fueled,
counsel.

but where there is no agitator strife ceases.

21

A hearth is for coals, and wood for fire,

26 Likedewinharvestandlikerainin

summer,

and an abusive man is for stirring up strife.

so honor is impossible to the fool.

22

The words of knaves are soft,

2

As birds fly—and sparrows,

but they strike into the deepest of one's so a vain curse will not come upon inwards.

anyone.

23

Silver given with deceit must be considered

3

Like a whip for a horse and a goad for a like a potsherd;

donkey,

smooth lips conceal a heart that causes

so is the rod for a lawless nation.

sorrow.

4

Do not answer a fool in accordance with his

24

A weeping enemy consents to everything

folly,

with his lips,

lest you become like him.

but in his heart he devises deceit.

5

But answer a fool according to his folly,

25

If an enemy begs you with a loud voice, do lest he appear to be wise to himself.

not be convinced,

6

He who sends a message through a foolish for there are seven iniquities in his soul.

messenger,

26

He who conceals enmity contrives deceit,

from his own feet he will imbibe but he exposes his own sins, being well-reproach.

known in the councils.

al.e. with a wife

proverbs 26-28

645

27

He who digs a hole for his neighbor will fall and he who guards his own master will

into it,

be honored.

and he who rolls a stone rolls it on 19

As faces are not similar to other faces,

himself.

so neither the hearts of people.

28

A false tongue hates truth,

20

Hades and destruction are never satisfied;

and an unguarded mouth works likewise insatiable are the eyes of instability.

people.

20a

An abomination to the Lord is a person

Do not boast about tomorrow, who fixates his eye,

27 for you do not know what the next day

also the uneducated, unable to control will bear.

their tongue.

2

Let someone near to you praise you and not 21

Burning is a test for silver and gold,

your mouth,

but a man is tested by the mouth of them a stranger, and not your lips.

who praise him.

3

A stone is heavy and sand is weighty,

21a

The heart of a lawless person seeks out evil, but the rage of a fool is heavier than

but an upright heart seeks out both.

knowledge.

4

Wrath is merciless and anger is passionate,

22

If you beat a fool when he is disgraced in but jealousy can bear no one.

the council,

5

Better is open rebuke
you will never remove his folly.
than hidden love.

6

More trustworthy are the wounds of a friend

23

You shall know well the souls of your flock, than the spontaneous kisses of an enemy.
and you shall fasten your heart to your 7

A soul in plenitude scorns honeycombs, herds,
but to the needy soul even bitter things

24 for a man's power and strength do not last appear sweet.

forever;

8

Like when a bird flies down from its nest, neither can he transmit it from one so a person becomes a slave when he is generation to another.

driven from his own place.

25

Take care of the greens on the plain, and 9

With ointments and wines and perfumes the
you will cut grass;
heart is delighted,
also gather the fodder from the hills, but through misfortunes the soul is torn 26 that you may have sheep for clothing.

to pieces.

Value a plain that you may have lambs.

10

Do not forsake your friend nor the friend of 27

My son, you have sayings from me powerful

your father,

for your life

and do not go to the house of your

and for the life of your attendants.

brother when you have bad luck.

A friend nearby is better than a brother who lives far away.

28 The impious flees when no one is pursuing,

11

My son, be wise that my heart may be but the righteous is confident like a lion.
gladdened,

2

By the sin of the impious disputes arise, and remove from you reproachable but a clever man will quell them.

words.

3

A bold man blackmails the poor with 12

When evils approached, a clever person hid, impious acts.

but fools proceed and will pay the

Like a violent and useless rain, penalty.

4

so those who forsake the law praise

13

Remove his garment, for he passed by—
impiety,

an insolent person who destroys what

but those who love the law build a wall belongs to others.

around themselves.

14

Whoever blesses a friend early in the 5

Evil men will not consider judgment, morning with a loud voice but those who seek the Lord will will seem not to be different from one understand in everything.

who is cursing.

6

Better is a poor person who walks in truth

15

Drops on a rainy day drive a person from
than a rich liar.

his house,

7

An intelligent son keeps the law, likewise also an abusive wife, from his but he who feeds debauchery disgraces very own house.

his father.

16

The north wind is a harsh wind,

8

He who increases his wealth with interest even though it is called by an auspicious and excess

name.

gathers it for him who has empathy for 17

Iron sharpens iron,

the poor.

and one man spurs on the person of his

9

He who turns away his ear not to listen to

fellow.

the law—

18

He who plants a fig tree will eat its fruit,

he too has made his prayer abominable.

646

proverbs 28-29

10

He who misleads the upright into an evil

but he who walks in wisdom will be

way

saved.

will himself fall into destruction.

27

He who gives to the poor will not have

And the lawless will pass through good

want,

things

but he who turns a blind eye will be in but will not enter into them.

dire straits.

11

A rich man is wise in his own eyes,

28

In the places of the impious the righteous but an intelligent poor person will see groan,
through him.

but by the destruction of them the 12

For helping the righteous there is great righteous will be multiplied.

honor,

but in the places of the impious people are trapped.

29 A man who reproveth is better than a stubborn man,

13

He who conceals his own impiety will not for, when he is suddenly set on fire, there prosper,

is no healing.

but he who expounds reproofs will be

2

When the righteous are praised, the people
loved.

will rejoice,

14

Happy is the man who reveres everything but when the impious rule, men groan.

with discretion,

3

When a man loves wisdom, his father is but he who is hard of heart will fall into

glad,

evil.

but he who cherishes prostitutes will 15

A hungry lion and a thirsty wolf squander wealth.

is he who rules a needy nation while he 4

A righteous king raises up a land, himself is poor.

but a lawless man undermines it.

16

A king deficient in revenues is a great 5

He who prepares a net before the face of his swindler,

own friend spreads it for his own but he who hates injustice will live for a feet.

long time.

6

For a man who sins there is a great snare,

17

He who acts as surety for a man charged but a righteous person will have joy and with murder

mirth.

will be a fugitive but not in safety.

7

The righteous knows how to judge for the

17a

Instruct a son, and he will love you,

needy,

and he will give your soul an ornament.

but the impious will not understand

You shall not obey a lawless nation.

knowledge,

18

He who walks righteously has been and the poor person does not have a helped,

discriminating mind.

but he who walks in crooked ways will 8

Pestilent men set a city aflame, get entangled.

but the wise turned away wrath.

19

He who tills his own land will have plenty 9

A wise man judges nations, of bread,

but when a worthless man is angry he but he who pursues idleness will have ridicules and has no fear.

plenty of need.

10

Men who are partakers in bloodshed will 20

A trustworthy man will be much praised,

hate the devout,

but the evil will not go unpunished.

but the upright will seek out his soul.

21

He who does not feel shame before the 11

A fool declares his whole anger, person of the righteous is not but the wise reserves it in part.

good;

12

When a king listens to an unjust word, such a person will hand over a man for a all under him are lawless.

piece of bread.

13

When creditor and debtor meet each other,

22

An envious man is in a hurry to get rich the Lord makes an inspection of both.
and he does not know that one who is 14

If a king judges the poor with truthfulness, merciful will prevail over him.

his throne will be established as a 23

He who rebukes the ways of man

testimony.

will have greater favor than he who has a 15

Blows and reproofs bring wisdom, flattering tongue.

but a boy going astray disgraces his 24

He who rejects father and mother and parents.

thinks that he does not sin,

16

When the impious multiply, sins become

he is indeed the partner of an impious

many,

man.

but when these stumble, the righteous

25

A greedy man judges rashly, become cautious.

but he who trusts in the Lord will be 17

Instruct your son, and he will give you rest, attentive.

and he will give your soul an ornament.

26

He who trusts in a bold heart, such a one is 18

A lawless nation has no interpreter, a fool,

but he who keeps the law is most happy.

proverbs 29, 31

647

19

A stubborn domestic will not be instructed

15

And she got up in the night

by words,

and supplied food for her household for even if he understands, he will and work for her attendants.

nonetheless not obey.

16

After considering a field, she bought it, 20

If you see a man hasty in speech, and with the fruits of her hands she be sure there is more hope for a fool than planted the purchase.

for him.

17

After strongly girding her loins,

21

He who lives luxuriously from his
she strengthened her arms for work.
childhood will be a domestic,

18

She experienced that it was good to work,

but in the end he will be grieved over and her lamp is not extinguished the
himself.

whole night.

22

A passionate man digs up strife,

19

She extends her forearms to what is
and a quick-tempered man digs out sins.
profitable,

23

Pride humbles a man, and she strengthens her hands at the
but the Lord supports the humblespindle.

minded with glory.

20

And she opens her hands to the needy

24

He who shares with a thief hates his own and reaches out her fruit to the poor.

soul,

21

Her husband has no concern for his

and if, having heard an oath proposed, household,

they do not disclose it,

when he spends time somewhere,

25

since they were afraid and felt shame before

for all that are hers are being clothed.

people,

22

She duplicated cloaks for her husband,

they were tripped up.

and for herself clothes of fine linen and

But the one who trusts in the Lord will be purple.

gladdened.

23

And her husband is admired in the gates, Impiety gives a man a stumble, when he sits in the council with elderly but he who trusts in his master will be inhabitants of the land.

saved.

24

She made linen garments and sold them,

26

Many show deference to the persons of and girdles for the Chananites.

leaders,

25

She opened her mouth cautiously and but from the Lord a man obtains that legitimately

which is right.

and reined in her tongue.

27

An unjust man is an abomination to the 26

She is clothed in strength and dignity,

righteous,

and she was happy in her last days.

and the direct way is an abomination to 27

The way she ran her household was careful,

the lawless.

and she did not eat the bread of idleness.

28

And she opens her mouth wisely and [30.1-14 precedes 24.23 and 30.15-31.9 lawfully,

follows 24.34]

and her compassion built up her children, and they became rich,

10 Who can find a courageous wife?

and her husband praised her:

31 Yes, such a one is more precious than 29 “Many daughters have obtained wealth; valuable jewels.

many did mighty things,

11

The heart of her husband is confident about but you, you have surpassed and

her;

transcended all.”

such a one will have no need of good 30

Allurements are false, and the beauty of a spoils,

woman is vain,

12

for she toils for the benefit of her husband but an intelligent woman is spoken well all her life.

of;

13

After spinning wool and flax,

yes, let her praise the fear of the Lord.

she made it useful with her hands.

31

Give her of the fruits of her hands,

14

She became like a ship that sails from afar, and let her husband be praised in the

and it is she who gathers a livelihood.

gates!

ECCLESIAST

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation is based on the edition of Alfred Rahlfs (Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes, 2 vols. [Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935]), since at present no fully critical text is available, though one is in progress.

In one case I have deviated from Rahlfs' edition. In 1.17 Rahlfs has parabola/j ("comparisons," "analogies," or "parables"), a reading supported by all Greek manuscripts (La = errores = a /, cf. Vulg.). This is contrary, however, to the translation technique of the Greek translator. The Hebrew word being translated in 1.17 is twl wh ("madness"). This is rendered by perifora/ in 2.12 and 7.25 and also by perife/reia, a cognate noun, in 9.3. Similarly, tw,l wh ("madness") is rendered by perife/reia in 10.13 and l whm ("mad") by perifora/ in 2.2. Conversely, the Greek translator uses parabolh/ for the only occurrence of l#m ("comparison," "proverb") in 12.9. Therefore, the original text at 1.17 was probably perifora/j for which parabola/j represents an error of hearing and sight occurring so early that it dominated the textual tradition that has come down to us. Earlier proposals are perifora/n (Grabe) and parafora/j (R. Gordis, "Ecclesiastes 1.17—Its Text and Interpretation," JBL 56 (1937) 323-330 = q / 248mg).

TITLE OF THE BOOK

The title for this book in NETS requires some explanation. In the English versions it is called "Ecclesiastes," a title adopted from the Latin Vulgate and derived originally from the Greek 'Ekklesia/sthj. The title in Hebrew reads "The Words of Qoheleth, the son of David, king in Jerusalem," or just "Qoheleth"

(Eccl 1.1). "Qoheleth" occurs only seven times in the book and nowhere else in the canonical Hebrew writings. It may be construed as a feminine singular active participle of the verb lhaq, which has the basic meaning of "assembling." Analogous forms are found in the list of the "Servants of Solomon" in Ezra and Nehemiah to designate public officials. For example, "Hassophereth" in Ezra 2.55 and Nehemiah 7.57 may mean "Official Scribe," and "Pokereth-Hazzebaim" in Ezra 2.55 and Nehemiah 7.59 may mean "Gazelle-Warden." If this analysis is correct, Qoheleth could perhaps designate the "Officer of the Qahal" or "Master of Ceremonies of the Assembly," a role similar to the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Greek translator related this term to the noun e0kklesia/a, "assembly" and translated rather than transliterated the word by an agent noun in Greek which means "one who participates in a popular assembly." Jerome interpreted this in Latin by the use of the term concionator, or "speaker before an assembly," a meaning unattested in Greek prior to the Greek translation. It was from this meaning that the English concept of "Preacher" was derived. The English equivalent used here is Ecclesiast. Since the term is known in English, it is spelled here accordingly, though its intended meaning is “member of an assembly.”

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

The Greek translation of Ecclesiast is characterised by extreme formal equivalence, so much so that scholars have suggested that it is the work of Aquila himself, a revisor of the Septuagint who flourished c. 120

CE.1 While the identity of the translator is still uncertain and undetermined according to the most recent research, the character of the translation reveals that in fact some patterns are identical to those considered classical Aquila, while others are clearly not Aquila.

The approach of the translator to his task is one where faithfulness is defined and measured by the degree of quantitative alignment between Greek translation and Hebrew original. As a result, the text is dif-1 This is not an appropriate forum to debate whether or not Ecclesiast represents the work of Aquila either as an early edition or an edition in final form, and in any case the most recent research suggests the verdict is non liquet.

See John Jarick, "Aquila's Koheleth," Textus 15 (1990) 131-139 and bibliography in his footnotes for earlier contributions to the debate.

to the reader of ecclesiast

649

difficult to read in places and almost incomprehensible at times from the point of view of the native speaker of Hellenistic Greek who had no knowledge of or recourse to the source text. The attempt of the translator to align his translation with the source language and text affects both lexical and syntactic choices in Greek. Choosing the same lexeme in Greek for every occurrence of a particular lexeme in the Hebrew regardless of the contextual meaning results in a high degree of stereotyping. Few calques or isolate renderings, however, are to be found. Like Aquila, then, consistency and uniformity in Hebrew-Greek equivalents is extremely rigid. Unlike Aquila, however, we do not see a set of Hebrew-Greek equivalents that is so highly refined and specialized that distinct equivalents are employed for each Hebrew lexeme, nor does the translator attempt to represent the root system of Hebrew by forming a set of equivalents from a single Greek stem to be used for nouns and verbs derived from a single root. Even more than in lexical equivalents, it is in the morpho-syntactic structures that the attempt to align the Greek and the Hebrew is most apparent and also where the results are so awkward or even absurd. One obvious and outstanding example is the rendering of ת by su/n (1.14; 2.12, 17, 18; 3.10, 11 bis, 17 bis; 4.1, 2, 3, 4 bis, 15; 5.3, 6; 7.14, 15, 18, 26, 29; 8.8, 9, 15, 17 bis; 9.1 bis, 15; 10.19, 20; 11.5, 7; 12.9, 14).² That su/n is found with the dative in 9.11 is normal (su\n pa=sin au0toi=j); that it is found, however, with the genitive (9.15) or accusative (rel.) to mark the direct object is contrary to Greek grammar. This characteristic may be further illustrated. In 2.1 ה)rw bw+b is rendered by kai\ i0de\ e0n a)gaqw~|. The verh) followed by b here is idiomatic, conveying the sense “to enjoy” (so NRSV). The Greek translator rigidly renders ה)ר by εἶδον and ב by ἐν. Contextually, “to see in good” makes no sense in Greek. Again, a construction article +

פא=j + noun normally contrasts the whole with the part. Yet in 3.17 פֶּן לֹא יִשָּׂא (is rendered οὐκ ἔστιν ἵνα) פֶּן לֹא יִשָּׂא (cf. 3.1; 4.8, 16). The article פֶּן is employed to represent the ל; this effect creates difficulties for the Greek reader and skews the meaning of the Hebrew while attempting to represent it formally in all respects. Other cases are perhaps readable, but awkwardly so. Note, for example, that ה)ר (רַחֵם) in 12.1 is rendered by οὐκ ἔστιν ἵνα (me/rai th=j kaki/aj. With the negative οὐκ/, the result is awkward but not necessarily impossible Greek. Elsewhere the rigid approach of the translator is carried off more cleverly. Hebrew מִג (1.17; 2.1, 7, 8, 14, 15 bis, 19, 21, 23, 23, 24, 26; 3.11; 4.4, 8 tris, 11, 14, 16 bis, 16; 5.9, 16, 18; 6.5, 9; 7.14, 21, 22 bis; 8.10, 12, 14, 16; 9.1 bis, 6 bis, 12, 13; 10.20; 12.5) or מִגֵּו (1.11; 3.13; 5.15; 6.3, 7; 7.6, 18; 8.17; 9.3, 11 tris; 10.3; 11.2) is always rendered by και/γε except in a double translation in 7.22b where the equivalent is simply και/. Nonetheless, the equivalence מִג/מִגֵּו = και/γε, while illustrating the spirit of the Greek translator, is unlikely to have originated with him. Here the translator extends and perpetuates a tradition. Clearly, then, the Greek translator of Ecclesiast belongs to the so-called και/γε tradition of translators.

THE NETS TRANSLATION

An attempt has been made to capture and represent in the NETS translation something of the approach, characteristics, and spirit of the Greek translation. Naturally, English that is ungrammatical is avoided.

Formal equivalence, however, is frequently given higher priority than idiomatic English.

In some cases, formal equivalence in the Greek vis-à-vis the Hebrew is possible or has been reproduced where the English would be ungrammatical. The representation of ת) by su/n, for example, must be ignored in NETS. Another example is the frequent use of the independent pronoun ינ) in the Hebrew where the verb is already marked for first person, carefully reproduced by ε)gw& in the Greek translation (1.12, 6 bis; 2.1, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 tris, 18 bis, 20, 24; 3.17, 18; 4.1, 2, 4, 7, 8; 5.17; 7.25, 26; 8.12, 15; 9.16).

This has only been represented in NETS in 1.12. In cases like 2.1, discussed earlier, no attempt is made to represent rigidly the preposition in Greek with its formal equivalent in the English language, even though that is what the Greek translator has done in order to represent the Hebrew exactly.

The attempt to follow a model of translation similar to that of the Greek translator has occasionally created clashes with the NRSV. For example, in 5.9 NRSV has a dynamic and idiomatic rendering of the Hebrew: "But all things considered, this is an advantage for a land: a king for a plowed field." The Greek renders the same Hebrew in extreme literalism. The differences between NETS and NRSV are due partly to the fact that the Greek translation interprets the Hebrew differently but are also due partly to the fact that the literalism is reproduced in NETS.

Aligning NETS with NRSV has been difficult not only where NRSV is more dynamic than the Greek in rendering the same text. On occasion the gender inclusive language policy of NRSV must be abandoned 2 2.12 and 9.11 are included against Ra; see J. Ziegler, "Die Wiedergabe der nota accusativi 'et, 'aet- mit su/n," ZAW

100 Sup (1988) 222-233. This, of course, does not affect the NETS translation.

3 F. Blass and A. Debrunner, A Greek Grammar of the New Testament and Other Early Christian Literature (9th-10th ed.; Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1961) § 275.7.

to the reader of ecclesiast

in order to represent the Greek faithfully. For example, according to the approach of the Greek translator, all 49 instances of $\mu\delta$) are rendered by $\alpha\lambda\eta\eta\tau\omega\sigma$ and all 10 instances of $\#y$) are rendered by $\alpha\eta\eta/r$.

This translation technique enables the Greek reader to track the differences between $\mu\delta$) and $\#y$) in the parent text. In NETS, while gender inclusive renderings may be maintained for $\alpha\lambda\eta\eta\tau\omega\sigma$, $\alpha\eta\eta/r$ must be rendered by “man” in English, even when $\#y$) functions as an indefinite pronoun, in order to represent properly the work of the Greek translator. There are also instances where gender inclusive language has been achieved by converting generic masculine singular pronouns and verbs to common gender plural pronouns and verbs or by altering active constructions to passive. Sometimes this practice so alters the formal equivalence between NRSV and the Hebrew that the formal equivalence between the Greek and the Hebrew cannot be fairly represented this way. Ecclesiast 4.14 and 8.12 may illustrate the attempt in NETS to represent the exact way in which the Greek reproduces the Hebrew text.

EDITORIAL POLICY

While the Greek translator does not always read the beginning and ending of sentences or connections between clauses in the Hebrew in the same way as NRSV, in essence the same versification is used. Differences can be indicated by different grammar and punctuation.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

NETS is for the most part a fresh translation of the Greek adapted to NRSV. Occasionally, the translation of Brenton was consulted and found to be useful.

PETER J. GENTRY

1 The words of the Ecclesiasta, son of Daid, that have been before us.

king of Israel in Ierousalem.

11

There is no remembrance of earlier people,

2

Vanity of vanities, said the Ecclesiast, indeed, of those born later—

Vanity of vanities! All things are vanity.

there will not be a remembrance of them

3

What surplus exists for people with those who will be born at the last.
in all their toil at which they toil under 12 I, the Ecclesiast, was king over Israel in Je-
the sun?

rousaalem. 13And I applied my heart to seek out 4

A generation goes, and a generation comes,
and to examine by wisdom concerning all things and the earth stands forever.

that happen under heaven, for an unhappy preoc-5

The sun rises, and the sun goes down cupatione God has given to human beings with and draws along to its place.

which to be preoccupied. 14I saw all the deeds that 6

When it rises there, it goes to the south have been done under the sun, and see, all are van-and circles to the north.

ity and preference of spirit.

It circles, going in circles—sob proceeds the 15

Something crooked will not be able to be spiritc,

set in order,

and on its circuits the spiritc returns.

and what is lacking will not be able to be 7

All the wadis go to the sea, counted.

and the sea will not be full;

16 I spoke in my heart by saying, “As for me, to the place where the wadis go, see, I have become great and have added wisdom

there they turn back to go.

to all who were before me in Ierousalem, and my 8

All words are dworn outd;

heart saw many things regarding wisdom and a man will not be able to speak; knowledge.” 17And I applied my heart to know the eye will not be satisfied with seeing, wisdom and knowledge; derangements and under-
and the ear will not be filled with hearing.
standing I understood, that, indeed, this is prefer-

9

What is that which has happened? It is that ence of spirit.

which will happen!

18

For in a great quantity of wisdom is a great

And what is that which has been done? It quantity of knowledge,

is that which will be done.

and those who increase knowledge will

And there is nothing novel under the sun.

increase suffering.

10

As for the person who will speak and say,

“See, this is new!”—

I said in my heart, “Come now; let me test you it has already happened in the ages

2 with enjoyment; see in good!” And see, ina.l.e. a member of an Assembly bLacking in Gk cOr wind dPossibly overworked eOr distraction

ecclesiast 2-3

651

deed, this was vanity. 2Of laughter I said, “Mad- mortals in all their toil and in the preference of ness,” and of enjoyment, “Why are you doing this?” their heart with which they toil under the sun?

3I looked about in my heart whether to draw my

23For all their days are daysb of pains, and their pre-flesh into wine—and my heart guided in wisdom— occupation is of anger; indeed, at night their heart and whether to lay hold on folly until I might see does not sleep. Indeed, this is vanity.

what kind of thing is good for human beings to do

24 elt is not good in humane what they will eat under the sun, the number of the days of their life. and what they will drink and what they will show to 4I made my work great; I built houses for myself; I their soul as good in their toil. Indeed, this, I saw, is planted vineyards for myself. 5I made myself gar- from the hand of God. 25For who will eat and who dens and parks, and I planted in them every fruit will refrain from eatingb apart from him? 26For to tree. 6I made myself pools of water to water from the one who is good before him he gave wisdom them a grove sprouting trees. 7I acquired male and and knowledge and enjoyment, and to the sinner he female slaves, and I had homebred; indeed, I had gave a preoccupation to add and to gather, to give to great possessions of herds and flocks, more than all the one who is good before God, because, indeed, who had been before me in Ierousalem. 8I gathered this is vanity and preference of spirit.

for myself, indeed, silver and gold and valued possessions of kings and of the territories; I got male

For everything there is a time, and a right time singers and female singers and the delights of 3 for every matter under heaven: human beings, a cupbearer and pitchersa.

2

a right time to give birth, and a right time to 9 And I became great and increased more than

die;

all who were before me in Ierousalem; indeed, my

a right time to plant, and a right time to wisdom stood firm for me. 10Anything for which pluck up what is planted;

my eyes begged, I did not take away from them; I 3 a right time to kill, and a right time to heal;
did not hinder my heart from any enjoyment, bea right time to tear down, and a right time cause my heart rejoiced in all my toil and this was to build;
my portion from all my toil. 11And I looked at all 4 a right time to weep, and a right time to my works that my hands had done and at the toil laugh;
wherein I toiled to do itb and see, all were vanity a right time to mourn, and a right time to and preference of spirit, and there is no surplus dance;
under the sun.

5

a right time to throw stones, and a right 12 And I looked to see wisdom and madness time to gather stones;

and folly, for who is the person who will come to a right time to embrace, and a right time to follow the plan in as many things as he made it.

be far from embracing;

13 And I saw that wisdom excels folly as light excels

6 a right time to seek, and a right time to lose;

darkness.

a right time to keep, and a right time to 14

As for the wise, their eyes are in their head, throw away;

and the fool goes in darkness,

7

a right time to tear, and a right time to sew;

And I know, indeed I, that one eventuality will

a right time to keep silence, and a right time befall them all. 15 And I said in my heart, "As it beto speak;

falls the fool, indeed, it will befall me, and why 8
a right time to love, and a right time to hate; have I become wise?" I then spoke excessively in a right time for war, and a right time for my heart, because a fool will speak from excess,
peace.

that, indeed, this is vanity. 16For there is no re-

9 What surplus has the maker in what he toils?

membrance ever of the wise with the fool, inas- 10I saw all the preoccupation which God has given much as already the coming days, even all things, to humans to be preoccupied with. 11He made are forgotten, and how will the wise die with the everything fine in its right time; indeed, he granted fool? 17And I hated life, because the work that is eternity in their heart so that they should not find done under the sun was grievous to me, for all the work that God has done from the beginning things are vanity and preference of spirit.

even to the end. 12I know that there is fno good in 18 I hated all my toil in which I am toiling themf except to be glad and to do good in their life.

under the sun, because I am leaving it to the person 13Indeed, everyone who will eat and drink and being born after me 19—and who knows whether should see good in their toil—it is a divine gift. 14I he will be wise or foolish?
And he will have au- know that everything that God has done—it will thORITY over all my toil at which I toiled and be-

be forever; to it there is nothing to add, and from came wise under the sun; indeed, this is vanity. it there is nothing to take away; God has done this 20And I turned to bid farewell with my heart to all so that all should stand in awe before him. 15That

the toil at which I toiled under the sun. 21For there which happened, already is, and what is to hapis a person whose toil is with wisdom and knowl- pen, already took place, and God will seek out the edge and manliness, and a person who did not toil one being pursued.

at it: he will give him his portion; indeed, this is 16 Moreover, I saw under the sun the place of vanity and a great evil. 22For what happends to justice—the impious was there, and the place of aPossibly female cupbearers bLacking in Gk cOr counsel dPerhaps belongs ePerhaps There is nothing better in humans than fPerhaps nothing better for them 652

ecclesiast 3-5

the righteous—the impious was there. 17I said in end to all the people, to all who were born before my heart, God will judge the righteous and the im- them; indeed, those who came later will not repious, for there is a right time for every matter and joice in him, for, indeed, this is vanity and prefer-for every work. 18There I said in my heart concern-ence of spirit. 17(5.1)Guard your foot, whenever ing the speech of human beings, that God will discern them, indeed, to show even to them that they are near to hear.

cern them, indeed, to show even to them that they are near to hear. Above a gift of fools is your sacrifice, for they do not know how to do evil.

falls cattle—one eventuality is for them; as the death of the one, so is the death of the other. They

(2) Never be in a hurry with your mouth, nor all have one spirit, and in what way did humans excel above cattle? 5 let your heart be quick to utter a word before God, for God is in heaven and you upon earth; vanity. 20 All things go to one place; all things came therefore let your words be few.

from the dust, and all things return to the dust.

2(3) For a dream comes with a great amount of 21 And who knows the spirit of humans, whether it distracts, and a fool's voice with a great quantity ascends upward, and the spirit of cattle, whether it descends downward to the earth? 22 And I saw that descends downward to the earth? 22 And I saw that

3(4) Whenever you make a vow to God, do not there is no good but except that people will enjoy delay to fulfill it, for there is no will in fools. What-themselves in their works, because that is their portion, ever you vow, pay up.

4(5) It is better that you do not swear, for who will bring them to see whatever hap- not vow than that you vow and do not pay up.

pens after them?

5(6) Do not allow your mouth to lead your flesh into sin, and do not say before God, "It is igno-

And I turned, and I saw all the extortions that rance," in order that God should not be angry at 4 take place under the sun. Look, the tear of the your utterance and destroy the works of your oppressed—and there is no one to comfort them! hands.

From the hand of those oppressing them is 6(7) For with a great quantity of dreams are strength—and there is no one to comfort them. both vanities and many words; so fear God!

2 And I praised the dead, who have already died,

7(8) If you see in a territory the extortion of the more than the living who are living until now. poor and the snatching away of justice and right, 3 And better than both is whoever has not yet been, do not be amazed at the matter, for there is a high who has not seen the grievous work that is done one to watch over a high one and higher ones over under the sun.

them. 8(9) And the surplus of the land in everything

4 And I saw all toil and all manliness of work, is a king over the worked field.

that it is a man's envy of his companion. Indeed,

9(10) One who loves money will not be satis-

this is vanity and preference of spirit.

fied with money. And who loved produce in a 5

Fools folded their hands great quantity of them? Indeed, this is vanity.

and consumed their own flesh.

10(11) With an abundance of goodness, eaters

6

Better is a handful of repose of it were increased. And what is manliness to him than two handfuls of toil, who has it, except to see with his eyes?

and preference of spirit.

11(12) Sweet is the sleep of a slave, whether he

7 And I turned and saw vanity under the sun: eats little or much, and for the person filled full 8there is one, and there is no second; indeed, he with being rich, there is no sending him away to has neither son nor brother, and there is no end to sleep.

all his toil; indeed, his eye is not satisfied with 12(13) There is an illness that I saw under the riches. "For whom do I toil and deprive my life sun: riches being kept by him who has them to his from goodness?"

Even this is vanity and an un- misfortune. 13(14)And those riches will be lost in happy preoccupation.

an unhappy preoccupation, and he begot a child,

9 Better are two than one, because they have a and there is nothing in his hand. 14(15)Just as he good reward in their toil. 10For if they fall, the one came out from his mother's womb naked, he will will raise his partner up, and woe to the one, when return to go as he came, and he will not take any-he falls, and there should be no second to raise thing for his toil that may go in his hand. 15(16)In-him up. 11Indeed, if two sleep, they also have deed, this is a grievous ill: for as he arrived, so also warmth, and the one, how should he be warmed? he will go away, and what is his surplus, at which 12Even if the one should prevail, two will stand he toils for wind? 16(17)Indeed, all his days are in against him. A threefold cord will not be quickly darkness and mourning, and with much anger and broken.

sickness and bitternessf.

13 Better a child poor and wise than a king old

17(18) See what I saw as good, what is fine: to and foolish, who did not know to give heed any eat and to drink and to see goodness in all his toil longer; 14for from the house of prisoners he will at whatever he toils under the sun, the number of come out to reign, for, indeed, in his kingdom he the days of his life which God gave to him, for this was born poor. 15I saw all the living, who were is his portion. 18(19)Indeed, all to whom God has walking about under the sun, with the second given to them wealth and possessions and they youth, who will stand in hisd place.

16 There is no have authority over them to eat from it and to take a Possibly breath b Perhaps nothing better c i.e. the child d i.e. the king's e Or preoccupation f Or resentment

ecclesiast 5-7

653

their portion and to enjoy themselves in their

and it will destroy his heart of courage.

toil—this is a divine gift. 19(20) For not in many re- 8

Better is the end of words than its spects will they remember the days of their lives,

beginning;

because God keeps them preoccupied with the better is a patient person than one proud merriment of their hearts.

in spirit.

9

Do not be hasty in your spirit to become

There is an evil that I have seen under the sun,

angry,

6 and it is great upon humankind: 2 there is a for anger will rest in the bosom of fools.

man to whom God will give to him wealth and 10

Do not say, "Why did it happen that the possessions and honor, and he is not lacking with former days were better than these?"

respect to his soul from all things that he desires,

For it is not with wisdom you have asked and God does not give authority to him to eat concerning this.

from it, because a stranger will eat it. This is vanity 11

Wisdom is good with distribution of land, and a grievous illness. 3If a man begets a hundred and a surplus to those who see the sun.

children and will live many years and a great num- 12

For wisdom, in its shade, is like the shade of ber is what will be the days of his years and his

money,

soul will not be satisfied with goodness, indeed, he and a surplus of knowledge of wisdom has no burial; I said: A miscarriage is better than will give life to the one who has it.

he. 4For it came in vanity, and it goes in darkness, 13

Consider the works of God;

and in darkness its name will be covered; 5indeed, who will be able to set in order it did not see the sun and did not know; this one whomever God has made crooked?

has more rest than he. 6Even if he lived recurrences

14 In a day of prosperity live in prosperity, and of a thousand years and he did not see goodness— in a day of misfortune, consider; indeed, the one in do not all things go to one place?

proportion to the other God has made concerning

7 All toil of humankind is for their mouth; in- speech so that mortals may not find anything after deed, their soul will not be satisfied. 8For what them.

surplus has the wise over the fool, since the needy

15 I saw all things in my days of vanity; there knows to walk before life? 9Better is the sight of the are righteous people perishing in their righteous-eyes than going on spiritb; indeed, this is vanity ness, and there are impious people remaining in and preference of spirit.

their wickedness. 16Do not be very righteous, and 10 If anything has happened, it has already do not be excessively wise, lest you be horrified.

been named, and it is known what human beings 17Do not be very ungodly, and do not become are, and they will not be able to dispute with those hard so that you should not die when it is not your stronger than they. 11For many words are multiply- time. 18It is good that you hold on to the one; ining vanity; what surplus has one? 12For who knows deed, do not let your hand go from the other, for what is good for mortals in their life, the number the one who fears God will go forth in all things.

of the days of their life of vanity, and they passed

19 Wisdom will give help to the wise more them in shadow? For who will tell them what will than ten having authority over those who are in be after them under the sun?

the city.

20 For as to humanity, there is not a just person

A good name is better than good in the earth who will do good and will not sin.

7

anointing-oil,

21 Indeed, to all the words that people will

and the day of death is better than the speak do not give your heart so that you do not

day of one's birth.

hear your slave cursing you, 22for frequently he

2

It is better to go to a house of mourning

will do you evil and many times he will bring hurt than that to go to a house of drinking, to your heart as, indeed, you have cursed others.

because this is the end of everyone,

23 All these things I tested by wisdom; I said, "I and the living will give it to his heart.

will become wise," 24and it was far from me, far 3

Better is anger than laughter, beyond what was, and a deep depth, who will find for by a bad countenance the heart will it? 25I—in fact my heart—went full circle to know be made good.

and to examine and seek wisdom and a reckoning

4

The heart of the wise is in the house of

and to know the folly of the impious and hardness
mourning,

and madness. 26And I find more bitter than death and the heart of fools is in the house of the woman who is hunted prey, and her heart is mirth.

hunting-nets; her hands are fetters; one who is 5

It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise good before God will be delivered from her, and than a man hearing the song of fools.

one sinning will be taken by her. 27See, this I 6

For as the sound of thorns under a found, said the Ecclesiast, adding one to one to cauldron,

find the calculation 28which my soul still sought
so is the laughter of fools;

but did not find. One man from a thousand I indeed, this is vanity.

found, and a woman among all these I did not 7

For extortion turns a wise person mad, find. 29Albeit, see, this I found what God made:

aOr premature stillbirth bI.e. courage cOr settle dPossibly inheritance

654

ecclesiast 8-9

man upright. And they themselves have searched whatever the wise say they know, they will not be out many schemesa.

able to find it out.

8 Whoknowsthewise?

For all this I gave to my heart, and my heart

And who knows the interpretation o b f

9 saw all this: how the righteous and the wise

what is said?

and their deeds are in the hand of God; indeed,

A person's wisdom will illuminate his face, love and, indeed, hate there is no person in the

and one without shame in his face will know; all things are before them; 2vanity is in all

be hated.

things. One eventuality is for the righteous and the

2 Keep a king's utterance, and do not be hasty impious, for the good and for the evil, for the about the expression of a sacred oath. 3From his clean and for the unclean, for the one who sacri-presence you will go; do not stand still because of fices and for the one who does not sacrifice. As are painful words, for all that he wants he will do. the good, so are the sinners; so are those who 4Just as a king will speak having authority, and swear, just as those who fear an oath. 3This is an

who will say to him, "What will you do?" 5Who- evil in all that is done under the sun, that one ever keeps a command will not know anything eventuality is for all. Indeed, the heart of humans harmful, and the heart of the wise knows the right was filled with evil; madness is in their heart while time of decision. 6For to every matter there is a they live, and after them they go to the dead. 4For right time and decision, for the knowledge of mor- who are they who have a part with all the living?

tals is great upon them. 7For they do not know There is hope, because a living dog is better than a what is going to be, for who will tell them just how dead lion. 5For the living will know that they will it will be? 8There is no one having authority over die, and the dead are not knowing anything; they the spirit to restrain the spirit, and there is no au- have no more reward, because their memory is thORITY over the day of death; there is no discharge forgotten. 6Indeed, their love and their hate and from the battle, and impiety will not deliver those their jealousy have already perished, and they have at home with it. 9All this I observed, and I gave my no further portion forever in all that is done under heart to every work that is done under the sun— the sun.

things that one person exercised authority over an-

7 Go, eat your bread with enjoyment, and other to hurt them.

drink your wine with a good heart, for God has al-

10 Then I saw the impious carried into tombs; ready approved your works. 8At every time let your they went from the holy place, and they were garments be white; do let not oil be lacking upon praised in the city that they did so. Indeed, this is your head. 9See life with the wife fwhom you vanity. 11Because a refutation of those doing evil lovedf, all the days of your life of vanity that are there does not happen quickly—on account of this given to you under the sun—all your days of vani-the heart of humans was fully convinced in them ty, because it is your portion in your life and in to do evil. 12He who sinned did what was evil your toil at which you toil under the sun. 10Whatfrom then and from a length to it; for, indeed, I ever your hand finds to do, as is your might, do!

know that it will be well with those who fear God For there is no work and reasoning and knowl- so that they should fear before him, 13and it will edge and wisdom in Hades, where you are going.

not be well for the impious, and they will not pro-

11 I turned, and I saw under the sun that the long days in shadow who do not stand in fear be- race is not to the nimble, nor the battle to the fore God.

strong, nor, indeed, bread to the wise, nor, indeed,

14 There is a vanity that is done on earth, that riches to the intelligent, nor, indeed, favor to those there are righteous people that it overtakes them who are perceptive, because time and chance will according to the work of the impious, and there happen to them all. 12For, indeed, no one knows are ungodly that it overtakes them according as the their time. Like fish being taken with a pernicious work of the righteous. I said that, indeed, this is net and like birds being caught in a snare, like vanity.

them mortals are snared at a time of ruin, when it

15 And I praised enjoyment, for there is dno suddenly falls upon them.

goodd for people under the sun except to eat and 13 Indeed, this I saw as wisdom under the sun, to drink and to enjoy themselves, and this will be and it was great according to me. 14 There was a city there with them in their toil through the days of the city and few men in it, and a great king would take their life that God has given to them under the sun. He came against it and surrounded it and would build a wall around it.

He built a great palisaded camp against it, 15 and he

16 When I gave my heart to know wisdom and would find in it a poor wise man, and he himself to see the preoccupation that is done on earth, he will deliver the city by his wisdom. And no one can rescue it, indeed, by day and by night there is no one remembered that poor man. 16 And I said, "Better is sleeping with one's eyes, 17 then I saw all the works of wisdom than might, and the poor man's wisdom of God, that no one will be able to find out the is despised, and his words are not being heard."

work that is done under the sun; as much as one 17

The words of the wise in rest are heard may toil to search out, he will not find; indeed, above

aOr reasonings bOr solution cPossibly a long time before dPerhaps nothing better eOr productions fPossibly with whom you made love gOr thought hPerhaps great siege
works

ecclesiast 9-12

655

the shouting of those exercising authority

18

Through hesitations the roofing will be in follies.

debased,

18

Wisdom is better than instruments of war, and in idleness of hands the house will

and one sinner will destroy much good.

drip.

19

They make bread for laughter;

Deadly flies will make a preparation of wine gladdens the living

10 aromatic oil give off a foul odor;

and will obey money in all respects.

a little wisdom is of more worth than 20

Indeed, in your consciousness do not curse honor derived from great folly.

the king,

2

The heart of the wise is to his right, and in your bedrooms do not curse the

and the heart of the fool is to his left.

rich,

3

Indeed, when a fool walks on the road, his

for a bird of heaven will carry off your heart will be lacking,

voice,

and all he will consider is foolishness.

and one having wings will bring back

4

If the spirit of the one holding authority

word.

rises against you,

do not leave your place,

Send out your bread upon the face of the

for healing will put a stop to great offenses.

11

water,

5 There is an evil, which I saw under the sun, for in a great number of days you will like an involuntary offense, which proceeded from find it.

2

the one in authority: 6a fool was allowed in great

Give a portion to seven, indeed, to eight, heights, and the rich will sit in a low place. 7I have for you do not know what bad condition seen slaves upon horses and rulers walking on the will be upon the earth.

ground like slaves.

3

If the clouds are full of rain,

8

The one digging a hole will fall into it, upon the earth they will pour out;
and the one who demolishes a wall—a whether a tree falls to the south or to the snake will bite him.

north,

9

One who lifts stones will be hurta by them;
in the place where the tree will fall, there one who splits trees will be endangered it will be.

by them.

4

One who watches the wind will not 10

If the iron tool fails, he himself has also sown,

troubled his face,

and one who looks at the clouds will not

and he will put power into his efforts, reap.

and the extra of being a man is skill.

5 When one does not know what the way of the 11

If the snake bites when there is no spirit is, like bones in the belly of the pregnant whispering,

woman, so you will not know the works of God,

in fact there is no surplus to the charmer.

whatever he will do.

6 In the morning, sow your seed, and to the 12

The words of the mouth of the wise are evening do not let your hand be slack, for you do grace,

not know what sort will fit, whether this or that and the lips of the fool will plunge him and whether the two are good together.

into the sea.

7 Light is sweet, and it is good for the eyes to 13

The beginning of the words of his mouth is

see the sun.

foolishness,

8 For even if a person will live many years, in and the last of his speech is wicked them all he will be merry, and he will remember madness,

the days of darkness, because they will be many.

14

and the fool multiplies words.

All that is coming is vanity.

No one knows what has happened,

9 Rejoice, young man, in your youth, and let and what will be after them who can tell your heart do you good in the days of your youth.

them?

Walk in the ways of your heart and by the sight of 15

The toil of fools will weary them—your eyes, and know that for all these things God one who did not know how to go into will bring you into judgment.

the city.

10 Put away anger from your heart, and divert paing from your body, for youth and lack of un-

16

Alas for you, O city, whose king is young, derstanding are vanity.

and your rulers eat in the early morning!

17

Happy are you, O land, whose king is the Remember your creator in the days of your son of freemen,

12 youth, before the days of trouble come and your rulers at the proper time will eat and the years arrive in which you will say, "I have din strengthd,
no wish for them." 2Before the sun and the light and they will not be ashamed.

and the moon and the stars are darkened and the aPossibly worn out bOr becomes dilapidated cl.e. by a snake-charmer dPossibly with gusto ePossibly deteriorated fOr that gOr evil

656

ecclesiast 12

clouds return after the rain; 3in the day when the who gave
it. 8Vanity of vanities, said the Ecclesiast; guards of the house shake and the strong men are all is vanity.

twisted, and the women who grind ceased work-

9 Beyond the fact that the Ecclesiast was wise, ing, because they are few, and those who look he also taught the people knowledge, and an ear through the windows will be dimmed, 4and they will track out an arrangement of parables. 10The will lock the doors in the market, because of the Ecclesiast sought many ways to find the words he weakness of the sound of the woman who grinds, wanted, even something written of straightfor-and one will rise up at the sound of the sparrow, wardness, words of truth.

and all the daughters of song will be brought low.

11 The words of the wise are like ox-goads and

5Indeed, they will see from heights, and terrors like nails firmly planted; those from the collec-

will be in the road; when the almond tree blossoms were given from one shepherd and a surplus some, the grasshopper becomes fat, and the caper- of them. 12My son, beware of making many berries scattered, because mortals went to their books; there is no end, and much study is a weary-eternal home, and the mourners circled in the ring of the flesh.

market; 6before the cord of silver is ruined and 13 The end of the message; all is heard. Fear the blossom of gold is crushed and the pitcher is God, and keep his commandments, for this is broken at the fountain and the wheel at the cistern every person. 14For God will bring every work in tern races together 7and the dust returns to the judgment, in everything overlooked, whether good earth as it was and the spirit returns to the God or whether evil.

aOr money bPossibly shepherd. And beyond them, my son

SONG OF SONGS

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

This translation of the Song of Songs follows the critical Greek text provided in my study, Lost Keys: Text and Interpretation in Old Greek Song of Songs and its Earliest Manuscript Witnesses (Ph.D. Dissertation, University of Pennsylvania, 1996) . 1 Apart from punctuation, this Greek text is substantially the same as that of Alfred Rahlfs' edition (Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes, 2 vols. [Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935]). Footnotes mark the points where the two texts vary.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

Old Greek Song of Songs (hereafter, Greek Song) is a consistently literal (word-for-word) translation rather than a literary (sense-for-sense) translation. It is a formal-equivalence translation. Its register is very much that of a study aid to a text in another language. The Song of Songs is one of the Old Greek translations that most closely fits the paradigm of an interlinear translation, as the NETS project uses that term.²

In comparison with other Old Greek translations, Greek Song is among the most consistent in its interlinear representation of Hebrew.³ In trying to be completely faithful to its Hebrew source, Greek Song represents each separable piece (word or morpheme) of the Hebrew with a formal equivalent in Greek, and to the extent possible, it puts the Greek equivalents in the same order as the Hebrew originals.

In addition, the Greek translator very often translates atomistically rather than contextually. In other words, he or she (see below) tends to choose a Greek word whose meaning corresponds to the meaning (or a presumed etymological meaning) of the Hebrew word rather than to its meaning in the context.

The translator occasionally brings a clever mastery of Greek vocabulary or even a flash of brilliance to the task but more often provides a wooden pony for understanding the Hebrew.

Unfortunately, a pony is often inadequate for this Hebrew text, which is figurative and polyvalent, often enigmatic and sometimes obscure. Very frequently the Hebrew uses words that are unique or rare, and some of these are unfamiliar to our translator. He guesses their meanings from context, from etymology,⁴ and from their use in other books. Sometimes he apparently coins new words, such as kal io/w and kar-dio/w (in 4.9-10) and e0kloxi/zw (in 5.10). Sometimes he makes a Greek word serve as it was never meant to serve. When all else fails, he transliterates. He is so focused on formal fidelity to the original text and so committed to his interlinear approach that his translation is sometimes difficult to understand as Greek.

Hebrew Text and Vocalization

The presumed Hebrew Vorlage of Greek Song varies quantitatively from the Masoretic Text about 29 times.⁵

In addition, the Greek translator assumes a vocalization different from the traditional vocalization of the Masoretic Text about 23 times.⁶ We may give one example that long influenced other translations, such as the Vulgate. In five places (Song 1.2, 4; 4.10; 6.11; 7.13), the Hebrew word Mydd is rendered as if vocalized dadim (“breasts”) instead of dodim (“loving”), which is the preferable reading found in the Masoretic Text.

1 Available as UMI Microform 9628015 from UMI Dissertation Services.

2 See Pietersma, “Paradigm.”

3 It ranks with Routh and Ecclesiast in its consistent representation of all elements of all Hebrew words without addition or subtraction, in its consistent representation of Hebrew words in the same order, and in its consistent representation of Hebrew words by the same stereotyped Greek words. For this analysis, see Chapter 2 of Benjamin G. Wright III, No Small Difference: Sirach's Relationship to its Hebrew Parent Text (SBLSCS 26; Atlanta, Georgia: Scholars Press, 1989).

4 Greek Song provides a translation based on a presumed etymology about 25 times, according to The Parallel Aligned Hebrew-Aramaic and Greek Texts of Jewish Scripture (Computer Assisted Tools for Septuagint Studies, at Hebrew University and The University of Pennsylvania, under the direction of Emanuel Tov).

5 The original translation was revised toward a changing Hebrew text several times, most famously in Origen's Hexapla. The evidence suggests at least five slightly different forms of the Hebrew text.

6 According to The Parallel Aligned Hebrew-Aramaic and Greek Texts of Jewish Scripture.

658

to the reader of song of songs

In a failure to understand the parallelism of 1.10, the rare word rwOt ("turn, plait") is translated as if it were rw%t ("turtledove"), which appears in 2.12. In 1.11, o9moiw&mata ("images, likenesses") renders the same root, apparently read as r)to ("appearance"). Reading My#w ("and teeth") instead of My#y ("of the sleepers") made a very difficult passage (Song 7.10) less difficult.

Occasional odd readings in Greek Song may be attributed to dividing words differently from the Masoretic Text. In 5.14, for example, the Greek translator may have read tpl(m ("encrusted") as tp l(m ("on a piece"), rendered e0pi\ li/qou ("on a . . . stone"). Word division may also serve in part to explain how the relatively simple rbdmh Nm ("from the desert") in 8.5 might turn into leleukanqisme/nh ("made white").⁷

Semantic Adequacy

The Greek translator sometimes had difficulty rendering the particularly large number of hapax legom-ena and other rare and obscure words in Hebrew Song of Songs. For example, he uses koilwma/twn to translate the obscure hapax legomenon, rtb (meaning uncertain) in 2.17. In 4.1 and 6.5, the root #lg (“go up, go down”), found nowhere else, is treated as if it were hlg (“to uncover”). In 7.2, he renders the hapax yqwmx (“turnings”?) by r9uqmoi/ (“rhythms, forms”), probably based on the context.

In Song 7.6, the Greek translator encountered the rare word +hr (elsewhere, “watering trough”; here, something like “tress”). He takes his cue from Aramaic +hr (= Heb. Cwr, “run”) and translates using paradromh/, a Greek word that usually means something like “a running beside or across, traversal, passage, attendant.” Readers ever after have been left to guess what this isolate translation might mean in this context.

One of the more interesting renderings recurs in the adjuration formula in 2.7; 3.5; 5.8; 8.4. The Hebrew nouns (tw)bc, “female gazelles”; twly), “female deer”; hd#, “field”) resemble divine epithets (tw)bc, “hosts”; Myhl), “gods, goddesses”; yd#, “Shaddai”) in an invocation of divine beings. The OG rendering, e0n tai=j duna/mesin kai\ e0n tai=j i0sxu/sesin tou= a)grou= (“by the powers and by the forces of the field”) does little to tone down the implied polytheism.

Another recurring oddity of Greek Song is its translation of hmc (“veil”) as siw&phsij (“taciturnity”) in 4.1, 3; 6.7. This rendering, which is not easy to understand contextually, seems to be based on misunderstanding the root of this rare noun to be tmc (“to silence”).⁸

Semantic Leveling

Although Greek Song has a strong tendency to use the same Greek word to translate a given Hebrew word, it also occasionally shows a slight tendency to semantic leveling (that is, using the same Greek word to express more than one Hebrew word). Examples include e0klekto/j for rwxb in 5.15 and for hrb in 6.9, 10, and qa/mboj for dxp in 3.8 and for hmy) in 6.4, 10.

Transliteration

At several points, we observe the last device of a desperate translator: the transliteration of an otherwise untranslatable term. twyplt (an obscure hapax legomenon translated “courses” in NRSV) is transliterated as qalpiwq in 4.4. twlh (“aloes”) is transliterated alwq in 4.14.9 #y#rt is transliterated qars(e)ij in 5.14.10 The word zp (“refined gold”) appears twice, transliterated faz in 5.11 and translated xrusa=j (“gold”) in 5.15.11

Transliteration is an admirable course of action for proper names, but Aminadab (in 6.12 for ym(bydn, possibly “princely people”) and Nadab (in 7.2 for bydn, “noble”) are transliterations where one might expect a translation instead. At four points, Greek Song uses translations where one might expect a transliterated name. In 2.1, tou=pedi/ou (“the plain”) translates the relatively rare term, Nwr#h (“Sharon”).

In 4.8, pi/stewj (“faithfulness”) translates the rare hnm (“Amana”) along etymological lines.¹² In 6.4, eu0doki/a (“goodwill”) translates the relatively rare hcrt (“Tirzah”) along etymological lines. Finally, in 7.5, qugatro\j pollw~ (“daughter of many”) translates Mybr-tb (“Bath-Rabbim”).

7 See the commentaries.

8 Pace E. Blakeney, “A Note on the Word siw&phsij: Canticles iv.1,3; vi.6,” Expository Times 55 (1943-44) 138.

9 The Hebrew Bible contains only one other instance of the word twlh), in Psalm 45.9 (= LXX 44.8), where it is translated stakth/.

10 The same transliteration is used for #y#rt in Iezekiel 1.16 and Daniel (Theodotion) 10.6 (and for tysrt in Ieremias 19.2).

11 Perhaps it was transliterated in Song 5.11 because xrusi/on had just been used to translate Mtk.

12 Compare Nehemiah 10.1 in MT = 2 Esdras 20.1 in LXX = Nehemiah 9.38 in NRSV.

to the reader of song of songs

659

Idioms

Idioms do not lend themselves easily to interlinear translation. For example, the idiomatic expression wl Klh (“it went”) in Song 2.11 becomes e0poreu/qh eautw~

(“it went on its own”) and yl Kl (“I will go”) in 4.6 is rendered poreu/somai e0mautw~

(“I will go on my own”). Unlike the Greek rendering of the similar expression Kl Kl (“go!”) in Gen 12.1, Greek Song renders these idioms in interlinear mode.¹³

A similar idiom occurs in 1.8, where Kl y(dt)l M (“if you do not know”) is rendered e0a\n mh\ gnw~|j seauth/n (“if you do not know yourself”), which creates a misleading resonance with the ancient Greek adage, gnw~qi seauto(/n “Know yourself”).

Relation to Kaige Translations

Greek Song shares some family resemblances with the even more mechanical translational practices of the kai/ge group of translations identified by Barthélemy, but it does not exhibit all of the characteristics of the group. Like the kai/ge group, Greek Song (in 3.8; 8.11) translates #y) (with the idiomatic meaning “each”) with the wooden a)nh/r (“man”), instead of e3kasto) (“each”), the more usual OG rendering for this meaning. Greek Song uses both kai/ ge (“and indeed,” 1.16; 8.1) and adverbial pro/j (“as well,” 1.16; 7.14) as alternate, synonymous translations of both P) (“also, even”) and Mg (“also”).¹⁴

Date

Greek Song may represent a transitional stage on the way to consistent kai/ge practice—or it may simply represent a partial acceptance of some of the principles of the kai/ge revisers. At any rate, its similarity to the kai/ge translators may suggest that it was created at a similar time, somewhere in the first century before or after the turn of the era. Some of the forms of Greek words may also suggest a time of translation after 100 BCE.¹⁵

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF SONG OF SONGS

General Approach

The purpose of NETS is to represent (to the extent possible) the original meaning of the Greek translation. Most of its ancient and medieval readers, scribes and interpreters found rather different meanings in it, but these are not our concern in the present work.

Our method takes the NRSV to represent the Hebrew text so that differences between NRSV and NETS often correspond to differences between Hebrew and Greek. However, similarities between NRSV and NETS can be misleading, because the NRSV sometimes follows the Greek text instead of the Masoretic Text. For example, the NRSV follows the Greek text at two points where the Masoretic Text contains nothing: namely, the last line of 3.1, and the third line of 8.2. The Masoretic Text contains these lines, not in these points, but in parallel passages (for 3.1 see 5.6; for 8.2 see 3.4).

Differences between NRSV and NETS can also be misleading. Many of the differences between NRSV and NETS result from the fact that the Greek gives a very literal, word-for-word translation and the NRSV gives a more contextual, meaning-for-meaning translation of the same text. I have attempted to preserve some contextual translations of the NRSV, except where the mechanical nature of the Greek would be misrepresented in the process. Because Greek Song is a mechanical and atomistic translation, this NETS translation is often deliberately mechanical and atomistic rather than contextual. As a result, the reader will no doubt find the NETS translation wooden and awkward in comparison to the NRSV.

Wondering what a NETS passage means will be similar to the experience a reader would have with Greek Song.

I have often substituted words in the same semantic domain when the NRSV picks up a sense of the Hebrew that the Greek does not necessarily carry, except perhaps by connotation; e.g., NRSV has “make haste” for dramou=men (NETS “run”) in 1.4 and for fu/ge (NETS “flee”) in 8.14.

For the sake of making literary echoes clearer, I have often provided translations used elsewhere in NETS. For example, in 5.7, I have translated qe/ristron as “light summer garment,” to show a resonance with the same word in Gen 24.65 and 38.14. Within NETS Song, I have been able to give consistent ren-13 As far as I can tell, Song 2.11 and 4.6 are the only times in the Septuagint corpus that a form of poreu/esqai is followed by a reflexive pronoun.

14 For more on the relation to the kai/ge group, see chapter 2 of Treat, Lost Keys.

15 Forms that may suggest a date after 100 BCE include tamei=on (1.4; 3.4; 8.2), lelousme/nai (in 5.12), and e0xoudenw&sousin (in 8.1, 7). For more details on dating, consult chapter 2 of Treat, Lost Keys.

660

to the reader of song of songs

derings for certain Greek words; for example, o3roj is consistently translated as “mountain”; kai/ ge as

“and indeed”; adverbial pro/j as “as well”; and dunatoi/ (translating Myrbg) as “mighty men.”

Articles, Simple Conjunctions and Prepositions

In several cases, the presence or absence of articles, simple conjunctions and common prepositions is governed by English usage or by an attempt to follow a contextual translation of the NRSV, rather than an effort to show presence or absence in Greek or to show differences between Hebrew and Greek.

A frequent case deserves mention. In Hebrew the first noun of a “construct” (shmikhut) expression does not have an article; for example, Myry#h ry#, literally, “song of the songs.” Following his Hebrew model, the translator of the OG does not use an article for the first noun, even when good Greek usage would call for an article. The NETS translation retains this article only in cases where the English seems to require it; for example, “the fragrance of your anointing oils” (1.3, 4).

Selected Words and Phrases

Greek Song, because it represents the Hebrew mechanically, often feels awkward or strange. For example, in Song 2.2, twnbh (“the daughters”) is translated literally as tw~n qugate/rw(n “the daughters”), but the NRSV translation “maidens” fits the context better. In Song 7.9, the NRSV translates Kp) xyrw contextually and metonymically: “and the scent of your breath.” Greek Song translates mechanically: kai o)smh\ r9ino/j sou (“and your nose’s fragrance”). Similarly and even less fittingly, in 7.5(4) where P) is likened to a tower, Greek Song insists on mukth/r (“nostril”).

One of the least felicitous renderings in the book occurs in 4.9c, where we read: e0n mia=|, e0nqe/mati traxh/lwn sou. This line is a mechanically atomistic translation of Hebrew,¹⁶ at the sacrifice of a translation that easily makes sense in Greek. First, the feminine mia=| (“one”) leaves the reader to wonder what feminine Greek substantive might be implied—certainly not the neuter e0nqe/mati. Then, the use of the word e)/nqema (“thing put in or on,” often understood by early exegetes either contextually as “ornament” or allegorically as “yoke”) is no easier to understand. Finally, the Greek translates Mynrwc (a hapax legomenon, apparently meaning “necklaces”) as if it were Myr())wc, the plural of r)wc (“neck”). NETS renders the line atomistically (“in one, with an emplacement of your necks”) and with a footnote suggests one of several ways in which an ancient reader might have made sense of it in context.

The Greek word li/banoj translates both hnwbl (“frankincense”) and Nwnbl (“Lebanon”). Until modern editors began capitalizing li/banoj when it is a proper noun, no reader of Greek could have distinguished between the meanings “frankincense” and “Lebanon” except by context. NETS Song translates as the OG translator would have understood the Hebrew, but Greek readers could well be uncertain. For example, in 4.14, cu/lwn tou= liba/nou could be understood either as “trees of Lebanon” (as in Rahlfs) or as “woods of frankincense” (as in Hebrew).

Two Terms of Endearment

In the Hebrew text, the female lover is frequently addressed as yty(r) (“my companion, my friend, my fellow,” translated by the NRSV as “my love”). The Old Greek translates yty(r) fairly literally as h9 plhsi/on mou (“the one near me, my neighbor, my companion”), and our NETS translation of Greek Song consistently renders this term into English as “my mate.”¹⁷

In the Hebrew, the male lover is frequently addressed as ydwd (translated by the NRSV as “my beloved”). The term dwd can be used either as a term of endearment (like “sweetheart” or “true love”) or to denote a family relationship (such as “father’s brother” as in 1 Sam. 10.14). Greek Song translates the term with a)delfido/j (“little brother”).¹⁸ I have found no evidence that a)delfido/j was used outside Greek Song (and later commentary on it); it appears that our OG translator coined this diminutive form of a)delfo/j (“brother”). Its use in 5.9 and in 8.1, where it translates x) (“brother”), shows that Greek Song is using this diminutive as a term of endearment. Its use may suggest that the translator was a woman. Because a)delfido/j must have sounded unusual in Greek ears, the NETS translation consistently renders it with a formal equivalent that sounds unusual in English: “brotherkin.”

16 The translator’s Hebrew text apparently varies slightly from the Masoretic Text, even in its qere reading.

17 The translation “mate” is also used for plhsi/oi in 5.1 and for the male plhsi/on mou in 5.16.

18 Judges 10.1 (A and B); 2 Rgns 23.9, 24, and 1 Suppl (1 Chr) 27.32 use patra/delfoj “father’s brother” to translate dwd. In Song, Aquila uses patra/delfoj mou, Symmachus uses $\alpha\gamma\tau\theta\omicron/j$ mou (“my beloved”), and Quinta uses $\alpha\gamma\tau\theta\epsilon\iota\omicron/j$ mou (“my companion”).

to the reader of song of songs

661

Adjectives

Hebrew does not have a separate form for adjectives in the comparative and superlative degrees. Greek Song consistently puts adjectives in the unmarked, positive form, even when the context clearly calls for a comparative or superlative form. In 1.2, for example, Nym Mybw+ (“better than wine”) is translated a)gaqoi\ u9pe\r oi]non (“good beyond wine”). Again, in 1.8, My#nb hpyh (“O fairest among women”) becomes h(kalh\ e0n gunaici/n (“O fair one among women”). The NRSV translates the adjective contextually.

NETS preserves some of the awkwardness of the Greek.

Tense and Mood

The Greek translator usually renders Hebrew verbs in the imperfect tense by Greek verbs in the future tense and renders the Hebrew perfect tense by the imperfect or aorist in Greek. I have used the English present perfect for past tenses that seem contextually to apply to the present or very recent past; e.g., w(/rkisa for yt(b#h in 2.7; 3.5; 5.8.

The Greek translator's stereotyped rendition of tenses becomes particularly awkward when future tenses are used, as in 7.9; 8.1-3, to express a wish or unreal condition that we would normally expect a sub-junctive or an imperfect to convey. In some of these cases, I have bowed to context and used modals such as "would" in the NETS translation rather than violate common English usage.

Gender and Number

In the Song of Songs, gender-neutral language can confuse the reader. Because Song of Songs is largely composed of dialogues between male and female lovers and their companions, the language is often necessarily gender-specific. The Hebrew text often depends on gender-specific and number-specific verbal cues to signal when speakers change; for example, when a woman addressing a man stops speaking and the man replies to the woman. There are fewer of these cues in Greek and even fewer in English. This can make it difficult to follow dialogue. Greek readers soon solved this problem by adding rubrics to many of their manuscripts of Song of Songs; the rubrics clarified who was speaking to whom at various points in the text. Without a similar aid for the reader in English, it is sometimes difficult to tell who is speaking to whom or even whether an addressee (“you”) is singular or plural.

In most instances, of course, there is no difference between the Hebrew and Greek on matters of gender or number. In 8.13, however, the addressee is female in the Masoretic Text and male in the Old Greek.

EDITORIAL DETAIL

This translation follows the versification used in Rahlfs, which is almost identical to that in the Masoretic Text. Where NRSV verse numbers differ, they appear in parentheses.

Old Greek manuscripts appear to show a tradition of breaking lines according to sense. This NETS translation attempts to preserve these ancient sense-breaks, which occasionally differ from those of the NRSV. In addition, blank space separates both new sections and new speakers.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Especially at difficult points, I have consulted several translations of the Greek text, including especially the Old Latin translations (in Donatien De Bruyne, "Les Anciennes versions latines du Cantique des can-tiques," Revue Bénédictine 38 [1926] 97-122) and the English translations of Thomson and Brenton. At numerous points, Albert Pietersma's insightful consultation and expertise in the theory and practice of translating OG texts improved this translation substantially.

JAY C. TREAT

662

song of songs 1-2

1 Song of Songs, which is Solomon's.

17

our houses' beams are cedars;

our coffered panels are cypresses.

2

Let him kiss me from his mouth's kisses!

For your breasts are good beyond wine,

I am a flower of the plain,

3 and the fragrance of your anointing oils

2 alilyofthevalleys.

beyond any spice.

Your name is perfume poured out;

2

As a lily among brambles,

therefore maidens loved you,

so is my mate among the daughters.

4

drew you.

We shall run after you into the fragrance of 3

As an apple tree among the trees of the wood,

your anointing oils.

so is my brotherkin among the sons.

The king has brought me into his chamber.

I yearned and sat in his shadow,

Let us exult and rejoice in you;

and his fruit was sweet in my throat.

we will love your breasts beyond wine.

Uprightness has loved you.

4

Bring me into a house of wine;

barray love over me.

5

I am black and beautiful,

5

Support me with raisin-cakes;

O daughters of Ierousalem,

bolster me with apples,

like coverts of Kedar,

for I am wounded with love.

like Salomon's skins.

6

His left hand will be under my head,

6

Do not look at me, because I am and his right will embrace me.

darkened,

7

I have adjured you, O daughters of

because the sun has looked down on

Ierousalem,

me.

by the powers and by the forces of the

My mother's sons fought with me;

field

they made me a keeper in vineyards.

that you do not stir up or awaken love

My own vineyard I have not kept!

until it wish!

7

Tell me, you whom my soul loved, where you pasture your flock,

8

My brotherkin's voice!

where you lie down at noon,

Look, he has come,

lest I become like one who wraps herself up leaping upon the mountains, by your companions' flocks.

bounding over the hills.

9

My brotherkin is like the gazelle

8

If you do not know yourself, or a fawn of stags on the mountains of O fair one among women, Baithel.
go forth in tracks of the flocks, Look, here he stands and pasture your kids

behind our wall,
by the shepherds' coverts.
peering through the windows, peeping through the lattices.

9

I have compared you, my mate,

10

My brotherkin responds and says to me:
to my mare among Pharaoh's chariots.

"Arise, come, my mate,

10

How beautiful your cheeks have become,
my fair one, my dove;
like turtle-doves,

11

for look, the winter is past;
your neck like necklaces.
the rain has left; it went on its own.

11

We will make you images of gold,

12

The flowers have appeared on the earth;

with points of silver.

pruning time has come;

the turtledove's voice

12

While the king was on his couch, has been heard in our land.

my nard gave forth its fragrance.

13

The fig tree has put forth its figs;

13

My brotherkin is to me a bag of myrrh;

the vines are in blossom;

he shall spend the night between my they have given forth fragrance.

breasts.

Arise, come, my mate,

14

My brotherkin is to me a cluster of henna
my fair one, my dove.
in vineyards of En-gaddi.

14

And come, my dove, in the rock's shelter near the outer wall.

15

Look, you are beautiful, my mate;
Show me your face;
look, you are beautiful;
let me hear your voice,
your eyes are doves.
for your voice is sweet,
and your face is lovely.”

16

Look, you are beautiful, my brotherkin,

15

Catch us foxes,
and indeed lovely.

little ones that ruin vineyards—

As well, our couch is shaded;

and our vines are in blossom!

aOr Until bl.e. array love (as a signal) over me; or array love (as an army) against me

song of songs 2-4

663

16

My brotherkin is mine, and I am his,

Look, you are beautiful, my mate;

who pastures his flock among the lilies.

4 look,youarebeautiful!

17

Until the day breathes

Your eyes are doves—

and the shadows stir,

apart from your taciturnity.

turn, my brotherkin; be like the gazelle

Your hair is like flocks of goats

or a fawn of stags on mountains with that were revealed from Galaad.

glens.

2

Your teeth are like flocks of shorn ewes

that have come up from the washing,

Upon my bed at night
all of which are bearing twins, 3 I sought him whom my soul loved;
and not one among them is barren.

I sought him but found him not;

3

Your lips are like a scarlet thread,
I called him, but he answered me not.
and your speech is lovely.

2

“I will rise now and go about in the city,
Your cheek is like a rind of pomegranate,
in the market-places and in the streets,
apart from your taciturnity.

and I will seek him whom my soul
loved.”

4

Your neck is like David's tower,
I sought him but found him not.

built into thalpiothd;

3

The sentinels who go about in the city on it hang a thousand shields, found me.

all the mighty men's javelins.

"Have you not seen him whom my soul

5

Your two breasts are like two fawns,
loved?"

twins of a gazelle,

4

Scarcely had I passed from them that feed among the lilies.

until I found him whom my soul

6

Until the day breathes

loved.

and the shadows stir,

I took hold of him and would not let him

I will go on my own to the mountain of go

myrrh

until I brought him into my mother's and to the hill of frankincense.

house

7

You are altogether beautiful, my mate,
and into a chamber of her who conceived
and there is no flaw in you.

me.

8

Come here from Lebanon, O bride;

5

I have adjured you, O daughters of come here from Lebanon.

Jerusalem,

You shall come and pass through from the
by the powers and by the forces of the beginning of Faithfulness,
field,

from the head of Sanir and Hermon,
that you do not stir up or awaken love
from lions' dens,

until it wish!

from leopards' mountains.

6

Who is this coming up from the 9

You heartened us, O my sister bride;

wilderness,

you heartened us with oneh from your like columns of smoke,

eyes,

perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, iin one, with an emplacement of your

of all the perfumer's powders?

necks.i

7

Look, it is the couch of Salomon!

10

How beautiful your breasts have become,

Around it are sixty mighty men

my sister bride!

of Israel's mighty men,

How beautiful your breasts have become,

8

all holding a sword
above wine,
and expert in war—
and your garments' fragrance, beyond all a man, his sword at his thigh spices!
because of terror by night.

11

Your lips distill honeycomb, O bride;

9

King Salomon made himself a palanquin honey and milk are under your from Lebanon's trees.

tongue,

10

He made its posts silver, and your garments' fragrance is like its back gold, its step purple; Lebanon's fragrance.

its interior was inlaid with stone,

12

A garden locked is my sister bride, lovec from Ierousalem's daughters.

a garden locked, a fountain sealed.

11

Come out, and look

13

Your scentsj are an orchard of

at King Salomon, pomegranates

at the crown with which his mother with fruit of fruit-trees, crowned him

henna with nard,

on the day of his wedding

14

nard and saffron,

and on the day of his heart's gladness.

calamus and cinnamon,

aOr squares bOr pillars cl.e. as a token of love dHeb = ?

e Lebanon = Ra fHeb = Amana gPossibly top

hOr one look iGk uncertain; perhaps with one turn, with a setting of your neck and throat jOr emissions

664

song of songs 4-6

with all awoods of frankincensea,

What is your brotherkin above a brotherkin,

myrrh, alothb,

that you have thus adjured us?

with all chief perfumes—

15

a garden fountain, a well of water, 10

My brotherkin is radiant and ruddy, flowing and purling from Lebanon.
selected from ten thousands.

11

His head is gold and phazc;

16

Awake, O north wind,
his locks are fir trees, black as a raven.
and come, O south wind!

12

His eyes are like doves beside brimming Blow through my garden, pools of water,
and let my spices waft abroad.
bathed in milk,
Let my brotherkin descend into his sitting beside brimming pools of water.

garden

13

His cheeks are like saucers of spice, and eat the fruit of its fruit-trees.

producing perfumes.

His lips are lilies,

I have come to my garden, my sister, my distilling wet myrrh.

5

bride;

14

His arms are chased gold,

I have gathered my myrrh with my spices; set with tharsisd.

I have eaten my bread with my honey;

His abdomen is an ivory tablet

I have drunk my wine with my milk.

on a lapis lazuli stone.

15

His legs are marble pillars, Eat, mates, and drink,
founded upon golden bases.
and be drunk, brothers and sisters.
His appearance is like Lebanon, choice as cedars.

2

I am sleeping, but my heart is awake.

16

His throat is sweetnessese,
My brotherkin's voice!
and he is altogether an object of desire.
He is knocking on the door.
This is my brotherkin, and this is my mate,
"Open to me, my sister, my mate,
O daughters of Ierousalem.
my dove, my perfect one,
for my head is wet with dew and my locks with drops of the night."

6 Wherehasyourbrotherkingone,

O fair one among women?

3

I had put off my tunic; how could I put it Which way has your brotherkin turned his on again?

attention?—

I had bathed my feet; how could I soil and we shall seek him with you!
them?

4

My brotherkin extended his hand from the 2

My brotherkin has gone down to his garden, opening,
to saucers of spice,
and my abdomen was stirred for him.

to pasture his flock in gardens

5

I arose to open to my brotherkin;
and to gather lilies.

my hands dripped with myrrh,

3

I am my brotherkin's, and my brotherkin is my fingers with wet myrrh,

mine,

on the bolt's handles.

he who pastures his flock among the 6

I opened to my brotherkin;

lilies.

my brotherkin had passed by.

My soul went out when he spoke.

4

You are beautiful as Goodwillf, my mate,

I sought him but did not find him;

comely as Ierousalem—

I called him, but he answered me not.

as awesome a sight as womeng arrayed!

7

The sentinels who make their rounds in the 5

Turn away your eyes from me,

city found me;

for they make me fly!

they beat me; they wounded me.

Your hair is like flocks of goats

Sentinels of the walls that have shown up from Galaad.
took away my light summer garment.

6

Your teeth are like flocks of shorn ewes

8

I have adjured you, O daughters of
that have come up from the washing;
Jerusalem,
all of them bear twins,
by the powers and by the forces of the
and not one among them is barren.

field;

7

Your lips are like scarlet thread, if you find my brotherkin, what will you tell
and your speech is lovely.

him?

Your cheek is like a rind of pomegranate,

That I have been wounded with love.

apart from your taciturnity.

9

What is your brotherkin above a brotherkin,

8

There are sixty queens and eighty

O fair one among women?

concubines

a trees of Lebanon = Ra bHeb = aloes cHeb = refined gold dHeb = a precious stone from Tarshish. ePossibly sweetness itself fOr goodwill; Heb = Tirzah gPossibly armies

song of songs 6-8

665 and young women without number.

11(10) I am my brotherkin's,

9

My dove, my perfect one, is the only one,

and his attention is for me.

the only one of her mother,

12(11) Come, my brotherkin;

outstanding to her that bore her.

let us go forth into the field;

Daughters saw her and will call her happy;

let us spend the night in the villages.

queens and concubines and they will

13(12)Let us go out early to the vineyards;

praise her.

let us see whether the vine has 10

Who is this peeping forth like the dawn, bloomed;

fair as the moon, outstanding as the

the blossom has bloomed;

sun—

the pomegranates have bloomed.

as awesome a sight as women arrayed?

There I will give you my breasts.

14(13)The mandrakes have given forth fragrance,

11

I went down to a nut orchard and at our doors are all choice fruits—to look upon products of the wadi,

new as well as old, O my brotherkin, to see whether the vine had blossomed,

I have laid up for you.

whether the pomegranates were in bloom.

Who might give you as my brotherkin,
There I will give you my breasts.

8 nursingatmymother'sbreasts?

12

My soul was not aware;

If I found you outside, I would kiss you,

it made me as Aminadab's chariots.

and indeed no one would despise me.

2

I would lead you;

I would bring you

7 (6.13) Return, return, O Soulamite!

Return, return, and we shall look upon into my mother's house

you.

and into a chamber of her who conceived

me.

Why will you look upon the Soulamite?

I would give you spiced wine to drink,

She who comes like dances of armies!

juice of my pomegranates.

3

His left hand would be under my head,

2(1) How graceful your steps in sandals have and his right would embrace me.

become,

4

I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,

O daughter of Nadab!

by the powers and the forces of the

Your thighs' shapes are like necklaces,

field—

work of a master.

Why stir up or why awaken love

3(2) Your navel is a chased bowl

until it wish?

that never lacks mixed wine.

Your belly is a heap of grain,

5

Who is this coming up, clad in white, hedged round with lilies.

leaning upon her brotherkin?

4(3) Your two breasts are like two fawns,

twins of a gazelle.

Under an apple tree I awakened you.

5(4) Your neck is like an ivory tower.

There your mother was in labor with

Your eyes are like pools in Hesebon,

you;

by gates of a daughter of manyd.

there she who bore you was in labor with

Your nostril is like a tower of Lebanon,

you.

watching the face of Damascus.

6(5) Your head is upon you like Carmel,

6

Set me as a seal upon your heart, and the plaited hair of your head is like

as a seal upon your arm, purple cloth;

for love is strong as death,

a king is bound eby retinuese.

zealg harsh as Hades.

Its flashes are flashes of fire,

7(6) How fair and pleasant you have become,

its flames.

O love, in your delights!

7

Much water shall not be able to quench

8(7) This, your stature, is like the palm tree, love,

and your breasts are like its clusters.

and rivers shall not overwhelm it.

9(8) I said I will climb in the palm tree

If a man offered for love all his and take hold of its heights.

livelihood,

Your breasts shall surely be like clusters of

they would scorn him with scorn.

the vine,

and your nose's fragrance like apples,

8

We have a little sister,

10(9) and your larynx like good wine and she has no breasts.

going to my brotherkin for straightness,

What should we do for our sister, satisfying lips and teeth.

on the day when she is spoken for?

aPossibly armies bOr O you who come like dances of armies

c + the hands of = Ra dHeb = Bath-rabbim

eGk uncertain; perhaps in passages fl.e. in a straight line gOr jealousy

666

song of songs 8

9

12

If she is a wall,

My vineyard, my own, is before me.

let us build upon her battlements of

The thousand are afor Salomona,

silver,

and the two hundred for the keepers of

but if she is a door,

his fruit.

let us carve for her a board of cedar.

10

I am a wall,

13

O you who sit in the gardens, and my breasts are like towers;
companions are listening to your voice;

I was in his eyes
make me hear it.
as one who finds peace.

11

Salomon had a vineyard at Beelamon;

14

Flee, my brotherkin, and be like the he entrusted the vineyard to keepers;

gazelle

a man was to bring for its fruit a or the fawn of the stags upon mountains thousand pieces of silver.

of spices!

a for you, Salomon = Ra

IOB

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of Iob is based on the critical edition prepared by Joseph Ziegler (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum XI.4: Iob [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1982]). There are a few divergences from this edition, following suggestions made by A. Pietersma in his review of Iob and by P. Gentry in “Proposed Corrections to the Lemma of Ziegler’s Edition,” Appendix D in his The Asterisked Materials in the Greek Job. Departures from Ziegler are signaled in textual notes except for four of Gentry’s five corrections to the presentation of the Origenian asterisk tradition (2.1d, 13a; 9.3b; 12.21b—27.19a is retained as Old Greek in NETS).

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

Though the Hebrew text of Job has, for the most part, been composed in poetry, it includes three sections in prose as well, namely, 1.1-2.13; 32.1-5 and 42.7-17. In the Greek, the entire book is in prose, even though arranged stichometrically, in the manuscript tradition. Ziegler reflects the Greek manuscripts, but NETS follows the NRSV, except when the Greek text demands otherwise.

The Old Greek (OG) Job is a work of good literary quality. Absent are the usual “Hebraisms” that are the tell-tale signs of translation Greek in much of the Septuagint corpus. For example, at 1.5 we find the common construction yhyw “and it happened” in the Hebrew text. This is commonly translated in the LXX by kai\ e0ge/neto “and it came to pass.” Most modern English translations disregard this Hebraism, as does the NRSV. The OG translator is not satisfied with it either, choosing to begin the sentence with kai w(j “And when.” Similarly, in the previous verse, 1.4, the Hebrew conjunction w (usually “and”) + verb . . . w + verb . . . w + verb . . . w + verb is rendered by participle + de/ (“and”) . . . verb . . . participle—the last two Hebrew verbs folded into a single participle. The participial constructions represent standard Greek style. The NRSV translation of v. 4 is “[And] his sons used to go and hold feasts . . . and they would send and invite”; that of NETS is “Now his sons used to gather . . . , and hold a feast . . . they used to take along their three sisters.” Many other examples could be cited, but the point is that OG Job stands as a clear foil to the interlinear paradigm of translation.

A cursory overview of the OG text of Job reveals that it is substantially shorter than the MT, the form of the Hebrew text which appears to have been its parent text. This abbreviation increases as one reads through the book. Gray calculated that the proportion of omissions grows as follows: 4% until chapter 15; 16% of chapters 15-21; 25% of chapters 22-31; 35% of chapters 32-37; 16% of chapters 38-42

(lxxv; repeated in Dhorme, ccii-cciii). The shorter Greek text seems to be rooted in at least two characteristics of the Hebrew text. First, the meaning of the Hebrew is sometimes obscure; second, the argumentation in the book is repetitious. A third consideration may have made abbreviation acceptable: Job may not have carried the same authority as other books of the Hebrew Scriptures. Abbreviation also extends to the “micro-level” where it can involve the reduction of two lines to one—something we might call paraphrasing.

It has sometimes been suggested that Greek Job is based upon an equally shorter Hebrew parent text.

However, on the basis of what we can establish about the translator’s technique, i.e., his rather free, even paraphrastic approach, it seems more likely that the shorter text is to be attributed to the time of translation.

The usual categories of characterizing a translation fail us when we assess Job. It is not just free or paraphrastic, it is also something of an epitome of the longer and often difficult original. OG Job is one of a kind in the Septuagint corpus. We can typify it as among the least literal, both in its attitude toward abbreviating the parent text and in the way the translator worked with that portion of the text for which we have a translation.

While the text as a whole reveals conscious shortening, there are various additions made along the way. The major ones are: the diatribe of Job's wife in 2.9a-d—though this may be a later addition to the reader of Job

668

(“probably,” according to Fernández Marcos, 261, citing Heater, 31–36)—and 42.17aa–ea, which is said to derive “from the Syriac book.”

Another general characteristic of the translation consists of transferring passages from elsewhere in Job or from other parts of the Septuagint into the translation. This practice was detected by Dhorme and Ziegler and has been the subject of a study by Heater, who calls it “the anaphoric translation technique.”

For example, 4.21a = Esa 40.24b; 22.2 = 21.22a; 22.28a = 8.6b; 34.13 was inspired by Ps 24.1; 34.15b;

“[W]hence too he was formed” is a gloss that derives from Gen 3.19; 36.5a = 8.20a.

Finally, the translator’s use of particles of all kinds should be noted. As Kitto says, “Greek is well stocked with little words, conjunctions that hunt in couples or in packs, whose sole function is to make the structure clear. They act, as it were, as signposts” (27). This seems to be the translator’s intent in Job, i.e., to give the rather loosely linked Hebrew text a connectedness. So the translation is heavily salted with particles: “and,” “but,” “now,” “because,” “for,” “really?,” “on the one hand . . . on the other,” “however,” “therefore,” “rather,” “again,” “or” and others. None of these is more striking than the multi-particle $\text{ou}\theta\ \text{mh}\lambda\text{n}\ \text{de}\ \text{a}\theta\ \text{l}\ \text{a}/$ “but; nonetheless; to the contrary” (2.5a; 5.8a; 12.6a; 13.3a; 17.10a; 21.17a; 27.7a; 33.1a; 34.36a). The interest in structure seems evident, for example, in chapter 9 where ga/r —commonly “for”—is added thirteen times: vv. 2b, 3a, 4a, 13a, 15a, 18a, 19a, 20a, 21a, 24a, 27a, 28b, 30a, in addition to its use as translation at vv. 32a, 35b, or at 22.5b-9 where each line begins with de/ “and; but,” ou0de/ “but not; nor” (7a) or a0lla/ “but” (7b) to form a list and to add connectors to the Hebrew for vv. 7a and 9a.

In short, unlike most other Septuagintal translators, lob uses particles more in accord with standard Greek discourse.

Specific Comments on the Old Greek Translation

We must imagine the Hebrew text in front of the translator. It was an unvocalized text—that is, it had only the consonants—and there may have been no divisions between the words (on this issue: Tov, 117-121); there was no versification. The lack of vowel markings permitted the text to be vocalized, and therefore understood, in more than one way sometimes—though there was doubtless a tradition of vocalization. A different vocalization helps to explain some instances where the English translation of the Greek appears to be rather different from the NRSV. For example, at 24.18b l was vocalized not as l (“not”) but as l (“Let”).

The translator was responsible for dividing the text into small segments according to sense. Sometimes this results in a somewhat different division than is reflected in the MT. For example, the words “with you” at 36.4b have been taken with v. 5 (paraphrased as “But know that”—so Dhorme).

Some letters of the Hebrew alphabet are easily confused in the manuscript tradition, and Greek lob reflects this. Indeed, it might even be that the translator, aware of these confusions, bore them in mind as he tried out various possibilities for producing a translation. Numerous examples can be cited. First, in Hebrew manuscripts the d (daleth) and r (resh) can be confused because they look alike. For example, we find r read as d at 21.22b (so “murders” instead of “those that are on high”); 40.11a (“messengers” instead of “overflowings”); d read as r at 41.14b (NRSV 22b) (“runs” instead of “dances”). Second, the consonants y (yod) and w (waw) can be confused: so we find y for w (twice) at 26.13a (“bars of” instead of “By his wind”). Third, #& (sin) and #$ (shin) share the same consonant: so #$ appears to have been read instead of #& at 41.22a (NRSV 30) (“sharp” rather than “potsherds”).

Sometimes the translator re-orders the Hebrew consonants: for example, bqr for qbd (19.20a—where r is also read for d, therefore “rotted” instead of “cling”); possibly Mhkl for Mxl (39.4a[Greek 3a], “did you rear” rather than “become strong”); l#k for lk# (21.10b, “falter” instead of “miscarries”); w yrm) for wy)rm (41.1b[NRSV 9b], “what is said” instead of “the sight of it”). Indeed, the translator sometimes changes consonants: for example, wnpsy for wnpdy (32.13b, “[we] contributed it” instead of “[God] may vanquish him”); Cr# for Cx# (41.26b[NRSV 34b], “that are in the waters” instead of “that are proud”); hn(t for hnbt (22.23a, “[you] humble yourself” rather than “you will be restored”). It seems that these changes result from a particular approach to the Hebrew text, one that goes to considerable lengths to make a certain sense of it, even to the extent of changing and rearranging letters of words to do so.

An awareness of these aspects of the translator’s work helps one to understand why an English translation of the OG looks quite different from a translation of the Hebrew text.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL TEXT

OG Job is about one-sixth shorter than the MT. That shorter text, without the fragments of Theodotion, is attested only in the Sahidic version and some Old Latin quotations. Except for these witnesses the en-

to the reader of iob

669

ture textual tradition has been accommodated to the work of the third century CE text critic Origen in his massive project we call “the Hexapla.”

The designation “Hexapla” is given to a presumed six-columned book—only fragments are extant—in which Origen compared the Septuagint and several other translations with the traditional Hebrew text of his day. From the left, the six columns were: the Hebrew, the Hebrew in Greek transliteration, Aquila’s translation, Symmachus’ translation, the Septuagint, and Theodotion’s translation. The texts were reproduced word-by-word or phrase-by-phrase down the page and, by following the columns across, one could compare the texts at a glance. Origen’s primary interest was in the first and fifth columns, that is, the Hebrew and the Septuagint.

Now the Septuagint is not always of the same length as the Hebrew, and in the book of iob that is dramatically the case. Where the OG is longer than the Hebrew, Origen marked what makes it longer with an obelus (/) in front and a metobelus (.) at the end; where the OG was shorter than the Hebrew, he added to it, typically from Theodotion, in order to make it the same length as the Hebrew and marked it with an asterisk (*) and a metobelus. (The translation we designate “Theodotion” is associated with the name of a translator or reviser who lived at the end of the second century CE. It is a literal translation and even includes some transliterations, as at iob 37.12; 39.13.) The consequences of Origen’s work on iob are chiefly two: first, two entirely different translations are now intermingled; second, since the OG translator sometimes uses only one line to render two lines of Hebrew, the “ecclesiastical” text produces a translation where some lines of the Hebrew are represented twice, once in the OG and again in Theodotion. For example, the OG translator omitted 18.9a and translated only 18.9b, but Origen’s mechanical approach led him to add 18.9b from Theodotion. This means that 18.9b has two renderings in the ecclesiastical text, though 18.9a is not represented at all. Similarly, 23.14 was not part of the OG, but what Origen added from Theodotion is v. 15. As a result, v. 15 appears twice in the ecclesiastical text, in the OG as v. 15ab and from Theodotion under the asterisk as v. 15cd.

There is no translation of v. 14.

Both Rahlfs’ provisional edition (1935) and Ziegler’s critical edition reproduce the text that Origen conflated, and the two translations are punctuated as if they were one translation. The NETS translation follows the OG text but, as an aid to readers, includes Theodotion, inserted into the appropriate places but not integrated. Not only have the intrusive fragments of text been duly marked, they also lack initial uppercase, as well as closing punctuation. The English translation of Theodotion’s work seeks to be more “literal” than that of OG Job, reflecting the nature of its parent text.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF IOB

The Hebrew text of Iob presents such a level of difficulty in translation that those who work on it have often made recourse to the OG translation. This is reflected in the notes that accompany translations into English, including the NRSV. Therefore, readers of NETS Iob will find occasional points of contact between the NRSV and NETS that are due to the NRSV adopting an understanding of the Hebrew that is dependent upon the OG.

The NETS translation of Iob aspires to the same economy of expression that is true of the NRSV, which makes the translator's interest in "connector words" all the more apparent.

Readers of NETS will often note a difference in the tense of verbs from what is found in the NRSV. Usually this has resulted from the rendering of the Hebrew prefixed conjugation into Greek by an aorist ("simple past") tense. It appears that the translator understood these prefixed forms as preterites, i.e., as expressions of the simple past. Normally the aorist tense in NETS Iob is rendered by an English simple past, though at times a present perfect is used when the context seems to require it.

Gender Specific Language in NETS Iob

The NRSV usually accomplishes gender inclusivity by rendering masculine singular forms as plurals.

The NETS Iob differs from the NRSV in this respect, for the following reason. The change the NRSV incorporates is most noticeable in passages that involve either "the life of a mortal" (e.g., 10.4-5; 14.5-6) or groups of people, usually the impious or wicked (the most extensive passage is 15.20-35). In the NRSV these all become plural for the sake of inclusivity. But in the former case, involving “the life of a mortal,” the remarks, on Job’s lips, have “a person like me” sense and on his opponents’ “a person like you” sense, and the edge is taken away if one uses the plural. The same holds true for passages about the impious or wicked. Here the opponents and Job argue back and forth. The fact that the opponents speak of the wicked in the singular might lead one to think that they do not have “the wicked” in general in view, but Job; the same holds true when Job responds using the singular: he has his immediate oppo-670

to the reader of iob

ment in view! In two passages iob speaks of the wicked in the plural (12.5-6a; 21.7-18) and in those cases one might argue that he has his three friends in mind. So NETS iob follows the OG in number to preserve “the bite” of the argument.

EDITORIAL DETAIL

Generally the translation has been divided into portions within chapters according to the NRSV; occasional divergences in this regard result from the translator's abbreviation of the Hebrew text. So, for example, there is a division between 16.6 and 7, rather than between 16.5 and 6 as found in the NRSV.

Punctuation usually follows Ziegler's edition, but not always, because Ziegler treats the ecclesiastical text as of one piece. The translation of Theodotion has also been punctuated, according to the NRSV, where the fragments are of sufficient length to make that possible.

There is a difference in versification among English translations, MT and OG as reflected in Ziegler at the end of chapter 40 and the beginning of chapter 41. I have followed Ziegler and MT but noted the versification of the NRSV.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Along with the standard Greek and Hebrew lexica and grammars the following works have played an active role in my work on NETS Job: Georg Beer, Der Text des Buches Hiob (Marburg: N.G. Elwertsche Verlagsbuchhandlung, 1897); Shaye J. D. Cohen, From the Maccabees to the Mishnah (LEC 7; Philadelphia: Westminster, 1987); Édouard Dhorme, A Commentary on the Book of Job (Tr. Harold Knight; Nashville: Nelson, 1984 [1967; French, 1926]); Samuel Rolles Driver and George Buchanan Gray, A Critical and Exegetical Commentary on The Book of Job (ICC; Edinburgh: T. & T. Clark, 1921; reprint, 1986); Peter J. Gentry, The Askerisked Materials in the Greek Job (SBLSCS 38; Atlanta: Scholars Press, 1995); Natalio Fernández Marcos, "The Septuagint Reading of the Book of Job," in The Book of Job (Ed. W. A. M. Beuken; BETL 114; Leuven: University Press/Peeters, 1994) 251-266; Homer Heater, Jr., A Septuagint Translation Technique in the Book of Job (CBQMS 11; Washington DC: Catholic Biblical Association of America, 1982); H.

D. F. Kitto, The Greeks (Harmondsworth, Middlesex: Penguin, 1973 (1951; revised ed., 1957); Albert Pietersma, Review of Job. Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum, 11/4, ed. by Joseph Ziegler, in JBL 104

(1985) 305-311; Alfred Rahlfs, Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes (Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935); Emanuel Tov, The Text-Critical Use of the Septuagint in Biblical Research (2nd ed., revised and enlarged; Jerusalem Biblical Studies 8; Jerusalem: Simor Ltd., 1997).

Finally, it has been an experience full of insights to have had Albert Pietersma work closely with me on revising my translation of OG Job for publication. The resulting translation is vastly improved and our extended conversation always stimulated my thinking about OG Job, in connection with both its text and its message.

CLAUDE E. COX

1 There was a certain man in the land of Ausitis, for Job said, "Perhaps my sons thought bad things whose name was Job, and that man was gen-in their mind toward God." So this is what Job is: upright, blameless, righteous, religious, staying away would always do.

from every evil thing. 2 Now there were born to 6 And when the set day came, then, look, the him seven sons and three daughters. 3 And his live- angels of God came to present themselves before stock was: seven thousand sheep, three thousand the Lord, and the slanderer came with them. 7 And camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred the Lord said to the slanderer, "Where have you she-donkeys at pasture; as well he had very many come from?" And the slanderer answered the Lord, servants and extensive activities in the land, and "I have come, after going round the earth and that man was well-born among those of the east. walking about what lies beneath heaven." 8 And 4 Now his sons used to gather with one another the Lord said to him, "Did you give thought to and hold a feast each day; they used take along your disposition against my servant Job—because their three sisters as well, to eat and drink with there is no one of those on the earth like him, a them. 5And when the feast days had run their man who is blameless, genuine, religious, staying course, lob used to send and purify them, rising away from every evil thing?" 9Then the slanderer early in the morning, and he used to offer a sacri- answered and said before the Lord, "Does lob re-fice on their behalf, according to their number, ally worship the Lord for nothing? 10Have you not and one bull calf as a sin offering for their souls— put a fence around things external to him, both

job 1-3

671

what is within his household as well as what is touch his bones and his flesh; surely he will blessa outside of all that belongs to him, all around? You you to your face!" 6Then the Lord said to the slan-blessed the works of his hands, and his livestock derer, "Very well, I am handing him over to you; you increased on the earth. 11But stretch out your only spare his life."

hand, and touch all that he has; surely he will

7 So the slanderer went out from the Lord, and blessa you to your face!" 12Then the Lord said to he struck lob with a grievous festering sore from the slanderer, "Look, all that he has I am giving his feet to his head. 8And he took a potsherd, so into your power, but do not touch him." So the that he could scrape away the pus, and sat on the slanderer went out from the Lord.

rubbish heap outside the city.

13 So it was, when it was the set day, lob's sons

9 Then after a long time had passed, his wife and daughters were drinking wine in their eldest said to him, "How long will you persist and say, brother's house. 14And, look, a messenger came to 9a'Look, I will hang on a little longer, while I wait Iob and said to him, "The yokes of oxen were for the hope of my deliverance?' 9bFor look, your plowing, and the she-donkeys were feeding beside legacy has vanished from the earth—sons and them, 15and marauders came and carried them off, daughters, my womb's birth pangs and labors, for and they killed the servants with daggers, but when whom I wearied myself with hardships in vain.

I alone escaped, I came to tell you." 16While he 9cAnd you? You sit in the refuse of worms as you was still speaking, a further messenger came and spend the night in the open air. 9dAs for me, I am said to Iob, "Fire fell from heaven and burned up one that wanders about and a hired servant—from the sheep, and it likewise consumed the shep- place to place and house to house, waiting for herds, and when I alone escaped, I came to tell when the sun will set, so I can rest from the dis-you." 17While he was still speaking, a further mes- tresses and griefs that now beset me. 9eNow say senger came and said to Iob, "Horsemen formed some word to the Lord and die!" 10But Iob looked three columns against us, and they encircled the up and said to her, "You have spoken like one of camels and carried them off and killed the servants the foolish women. If we received the good things with daggers, but I alone escaped, and I came to from the Lord's hand, shall we not bear the bad?"

tell you." 18While he was still speaking, another In all these things that happened to him Iob did messenger came, saying to Iob, "As your sons and not sin at all with his lips before God.

daughters were eating and drinking at their elder

11 Now when his three friends heard of all the brother's, 19 suddenly a great wind came from the troubles that had come upon him, they came to wilderness and struck the four corners of the him, each one from his own country—Eliphaz, house, and the house fell on your children, and the king of the Thaimanites, Baldad, the tyrant of they died, but I alone escaped, and I came to tell the Sauchites, Sophar, the king of the Minites. And you.”

they came to him of one accord, to comfort and to 20 So Job arose, tore his clothes and shaved the visit with him. 12 But when they saw him from a hair of his head and fell on the ground and did distance, they did not recognize him, and they obeisance and said, 21 “I came naked from my cried out with a loud voice and wept; each of them mother's womb; naked also shall I return there; the tore his robe, and they sprinkled themselves with Lord gave; the Lord has taken away; as it seemed dust. 13 They sat with him seven days, [13* and seven good to the Lord, so it turned out; blessed be the nights.] and none of them spoke, for they saw that name of the Lord.”

the calamity was dire and very great.

22 In all these things that happened to him Job did not sin at all before the Lord, and he did not

After this Job opened his mouth and cursed charge God with folly.

3 his dayd,2saying:

3

“May the day perish in which I was born,

Now it happened, when it was the set day and

and the night in which they said,

2 the angels of God came to present themselves

‘Look, a man-child!’

before the Lord, the slanderer also came among 4

May that day be darkness!

them. [1 to present himself before the Lordb.*] 2And

And may the Lord above not seek it, the Lord said to the slanderer, “Where are you or light come to it.

coming from?” Then the slanderer said before the 5

But may darkness and deathly shadow seize

Lord, “I have come, after traversing what lies be-

it.

neath heaven and walking about everything.”

May gloom come upon it.

3Then the Lord said, "So did you notice my atten-

6

May that day and night be cursed; may dant lob—that there is no one of those on the darkness carry it away!

earth like him, an innocent, genuine, blameless,

May it not exist among the days of the religious man, staying away from all wrong? And

year

he still maintains his innocence, though you said or be numbered among the days of the to destroy his possessions for no reason.” 4Then months.

the slanderer continued and said to the Lord, “Skin 7 Rather, may that night be anguish, for skin; whatever a person has he will use to pay and may gladness and joy not come upon for his life. 5However, stretch out your hand, and
it.

aHeb = euphemism bOm = Zi c Eliphas = Zi dl.e. the day of his birth

672

job 3-4

8

Rather, may he who curses that day curse and encouraged the hands of the weak ita—
one,

he who is about to subdue the great sea-

4 lifted up the weak with your words monster.

and wrapped feeble knees in courage—

9

May the stars of that night be dark;

5

but now distress has come upon you may it remain so and not be lit up, and touched you, and you acted in haste.

and may it not see the morning-star

6

Is your fear not based on a lack of sense, rising—

so too your hope and the innocence of 10

because it did not shut the gates of my

your way?

mother's womb,

for it would have put away trouble from 7

“Think now, who, being pure, perished, my eyes.

or when did the true perish root and all?

8

For instance, I saw those who plow wrongs,

11

“For what reason did I not die in the womb and those who sow them reap torments or come forth from the belly and not for themselves.

perish at once?

9

By the command of the Lord they will 12

Why then did knees meet me?

perish,

Why then did I suck breasts?

and by the breath of his anger they will 13

Now I would have lain down quiet disappear.

and in sleep would have been at rest,

10

The strength of the lion and the voice of the 14 with kings, counselors of the earth, lioness

who used to act proudly thanks to rapiers, and the pride of dragonsc was 15

or with rulers, who had much gold,
extinguished;

who had filled their houses with silver.

11

the ant lion perished for lack of food,

16

Or why was I not like a premature birth that and lions' whelps abandoned one comes from a mother's womb
another.

or like infants that did not see the light?

12

But if there had been anything truthful in 17

There the impious have kindled a terrible

your words,

wrath;

nothing bad in them would have met there the very weary have found rest for

you.

the body,

18

and those of old, together,

“Will my ear not receive remarkable things have not heard the voice of the tax-from himd?

gatherer.

13

Now there was awe and a ringing sound in 19

Small and great are there,

the night—

and the attendant who lived in fear of his

an awe falling on mortals;

master.

14

then shuddering fell upon me, and a trembling,

20

“Why then is light given to those in and my bones shook mightily.

bitterness,

15

And a spirit came upon my face, and life to souls in pain,
and my hair and flesh quivered.

21

who long for death and do not find it, 16

I stood up,
though they are digging for it as for
and I did not recognize it.

treasures?

I looked, and there was no shape before my 22

Yet they would be very joyful,

eyes,

if they were successful.

though I heard a breeze and a voice:

23

Death is rest for such a man,

17

‘What? Can a mortal be pure before the for God shut him in.

Lord,

24

For sighing comes before my food, or a man be blameless in his actions?’

and I cry, gripped by fear.

18

Whether he believes charges against his 25

For fear—which was my worry—came to servants, ewho knowse,

me,

but he took note of any crookedness in and the fear I dreaded befell me.

his angels.

26

I was neither at peace, nor did I have quiet, 19

But as for those that inhabit houses of nor was I at rest, but anger came to me.”

clay—

being their offspring, we ourselves too are Now Eliphazb the Thaimanite said in reply, of the same clay—

4 2”Have you often been addressed when in he struck them like a moth!

distress?

20

And so between morning and evening they

But who can endure the force of your ceased to exist;

words?

they perished, because they were not able 3

So what, if you instructed many

to help themselves.

*al.e. that night b Eliphas = Zi cOr fearsome creatures dl.e.
the Lord eLacking in Gk*

job 4-6

673

21

That is, he breathed on them, and they
and in war he will free you from a blade's withered;
power.

they perished, because they did not 21

He shall hide you from the scourge of the possess wisdom.

tongue,

and you shall not fear harmful things

“But call, if anyone will respond to you that come.

5 or if you will see any of the holy angels. 22 At the unjust and lawless you shall laugh, 2

To be sure, anger kills the fool, and you shall not fear wild animals—and jealousy slays the one misled.

23

for wild animals shall be at peace with 3

Now, I have seen fools taking root,
you.

but at once their way of living was 24

Next, you shall know that your household devoured.

will be at peace,

4

May their children be far from safety, and the livelihood of your tent shall not and may they be derided at the doors of fall short.

their inferiors,

25

And you shall know that your descendants and there will be no one to deliver them.

will be many,

5

For what they gathered, the upright shall and your offspring shall be as the grass of eat,

the field.

and they will not be excepted from 26

And you shall come to your grave like ripe harmful things;

grain,

may their strength be drained.

harvested at the right time,

6

For hardship shall not come from the

or as a heap on the threshing floor,

earth,

gathered in its season.

nor will trouble sprout from mountains,

27

Look, these things we traced to be so.

7

but a human being is born to hardship,

These are the things we have heard,

whereas the vulture's young soar on high.

but do know for yourself whether you have done anything."

8

"Nonetheless, I will entreat the Lord, and I will call on the Lord, the master of all,

6 Now I said in reply:

2 "If someone really sets about to weigh

9

who does great and inscrutable things,

awhat angers me

things both glorious and extraordinary, and to put my sorrows together in a without number,

balance,

10

who gives rain on the earth,

3

then indeed they will be heavier than the sending water on what is under heaven, sand of the seashore,

11

who sets on high those that are lowly

but as it seems, my words are careless.

and lifts up those that are in ruin,

4

For the arrows of the Lord are in my body;

12 frustrating the schemes of the crafty—

their wrath drinks my blood; and their hands shall not produce what is when I begin to speak, they pierce me.

genuine,

5

Why, will the wild ass bray for no reason?

13

he who takes the wise in their cleverness—

Is it not rather looking for grain?

and he subverted the scheming of the

Yes, and will an ox break into lowing at its wily.

manger when it has food?

14

Darkness will meet them in the daytime,

6

Can bread be eaten without salt?

and may they grope at noonday as in the

And is there any taste in empty words?

night.

7

So my life cannot cease,

15

And may they perish in war,

for I loathe my food like the smell of a and may the powerless escape from the lion.

hand of the mighty.

16

So may the powerless have hope,

8

“O that he were willing, and my request but the mouth of the unjust be shut.

proceed,

and the Lord would grant my hope.

17

“But happy is the one whom the Lord

9

Let the Lord begin by wounding me,

reproved,

but let him not kill me outright.

and do not reject the admonition of the 10

And may my city, whose walls I used to leap

Almighty,

upon, be my grave—

18

for he makes one suffer and restores again;

I will not spare myself,

he struck, and his hands healed.

for I did not belie the holy words of my 19

Six times he will deliver you from troubles,

God.

and the seventh time no harm shall 11

For what is my strength, that I endure, touch you.

or what is my lifespan, that my life 20

In famine he will rescue you from death, sustains itself?

aOr my anger

674

job 6-8

12

Is my strength the strength of stones, and nights of pain have been or is my flesh bronze?
apportioned to me.

13

In truth, did I not trust in him?

4

If I lie down, I say, 'When will it be day?'
But help is far from me.

But when I get up, again I say, 'When will it be evening?'

14

"Mercy has renounced me,

And I am full of pain from evening until and the visitation of the Lord has morning.

disregarded me.

5

As well, my body is defiled with the rot of 15

My nearest kin did not look at me;

worms,

like a wadi running dry and I dissolve, scraping away lumps of or like a wave they passed by me.
dirt with the pus.

16

Those who held me in respect have now

6

Again, my life is lighter than talk, fallen on me like snow

and it has perished in an empty hope.

or like solid ice.

17

Just as, melted, with heat coming on,

7

“Remember then that my life is a breath, it was not recognized for what it was,

and my eye will never come to see good 18

so I too was abandoned by all,

again—

and I perished and became homeless.

[8

* the eye of one who beholds me will not look

19

Look at the roads of the Thaimanites, around for me;

the paths of the Sabeans, you who see so  your eyes are upon me, and I am no more.]*

clearly.

9

like a cloud, cleared from the sky.

20

They also will incur shame,

For if a mortal goes down to Hades, who put their confidence in cities and he does not come up again,

wealth.

10

and he shall never return to his house, 21

But yet you too trod on me without

nor does his place know him any more.

mercy;

so now that you have seen my hurt, be 11

“That said, however, I will not be sparing afraid!

with my mouth;

22

What? Did I ask anything of you?

I will speak, though I am in anguish;

Or, am I in need of your strength

I will open up the bitterness of my soul, 23

to save me from enemies though I am in dire straits.

or to rescue me from the hand of the 12

Am I Sea or Dragon, powerful?

that you placed a guard over me?

13

I said, 'My couch will comfort me,'

24

"Teach me, and I will shut up;

and 'I will have a word with myself

if I have gone wrong in any way, show me.

privately on my bed.'

25

Rather, it seems that the words of one who 14

You scare me with dreams is genuine are careless,
and terrify me with visions.
so I do not seek strength from you.

15

You will release my soul from my spirit

26

Not even your reproof with words will make and my bones from death.

me stop,

16

For I will not live forever, or I would be nor indeed will I endure the sound of patient.

what you say.

Let me alone, for my life is empty.

27

Fact is, you fall on an orphan

17

What then is a human being, that you made and jump on your friend.

so much of him

or that you turn your attention to him,

28

“But now that I have looked into your faces

18

or will visit him until the morning

I will not lie.

and scrutinize him until he goes to rest?

29

Do sit down, and may no wrong be done,

19

How long are you going to restrict me and gather again with him who is just.

and not let go of me, until I swallow my 30

For there is nothing at all unjust on my spittle in pain?

tongue—

20

If I did sin, what can I do to you, you or does my throat not endeavor knower of the mind of humans?
understanding?

Why did you make me your accuser, and why am I a burden on you?

“Is not the life of a human being on earth a 21

Why did you not assign my lawlessness to 7 trial,

oblivion

and is not his life like that of a day-and my sin to purging?

laborer?

But now I shall depart to the ground,

2

Or like an attendant who fears his master and early in the morning I shall be no

and finds shadow,

more.”

or like a wage-earner waiting for his wages?

3

I too spent empty months in this way,

8 Now Baldad the Sauchitesaid in reply:

2“How long will you say these things?

job 8-9

675

They are a wordy wind of your mouth!

Now Job said in reply:

3

Will the Lord act unjustly when he judges,

9 2“Of a truth I know that it is so,

or will the maker of all things pervert

for how can a mortal be right before the

what is right?

Lord?

4

If your children sinned before him,

3

For if one wishes to go to law with him,

he sent them off by force of their

and he will not even answer him,

lawlessness.

lest he contest one charge of his out of a 5

But you, quickly approach the Lord

thousand.

Almighty in prayer.

4

For he is clever in mind, both powerful and 6

If you are pure and genuine, he will hear

big—

your entreaty

who, though being unyielding, has

and restore to you a righteous way of life.

endured against him?—

7

Then, though your first things be few,

5

he who ages mountains, and they do not your last things will be unspeakably many.

know it,

who overturns them in anger,

8

“For inquire of an earlier generation,

6

who shakes what is under heaven from its

and trace it out through a line of foundations,

ancestors;

and its pillars tremble,

9

for we are of yesterday and we know 7

who speaks to the sun, and it does not rise,
nothing,

and seals up the stars,

for our life is a shadow on the earth.

8

who alone stretched out the sky

10

Really, will they not teach you and declare and walks on the sea as on dry ground, and bring forth words from the heart?

9

who makes Pleiades and Venus and Arcturus and the chambers of the 11

“Does papyrus grow without water, south,
or sedge become tall without drink?

10

who does great and inscrutable things,

12

While it is still on the root, it will in no way things both glorious and extraordinary,
be harvested;
without number.

no plant becomes dry, in preference to 11

If he passed over me, I would certainly not drinking!

see him,

13

Such indeed will be the end of all who and if he went by me, I would not even forget the Lord,
know.

for the hope of the impious shall perish.

12

If he takes away, who will put back?

14

For his house will be uninhabited,

Or who will say to him, 'What did you and his tent will prove to be a spider's do?'

web.

15

If he props up his house, it will not stand, 13

"For he has not turned away from anger;

and when he lays hold of it, it will not the sea-monsters under heaven were remain,

bowed down by him.

16

for he is languid beneath the sun 14

But if he has me respond, and his shoot will spread forth out of his

he will surely judge my words with rotteness.

discernment.

17

He goes to sleep on a gathering of stones,

15

For if I am in the right, he will not listen to and he will live among rubble.

me;

18

If it swallows him up, the place will deny

[15 * I will entreat his judgment.]

him;

16 and if I call and he responds, you have not seen such things,

I am not going to believe that he has 19

because such is the ruin of the impious, given ear to me.

but from the soil something else will 17

Would he really crush me with gloom?
sprout up.

But he has made my wounds many without cause.

20

“For the Lord will not reject the blameless

18

For he does not let me get my breath,
person,

but he has filled me with bitterness.

but no gift will he accept from the 19

Because, for one thing, he really prevails by
impious.

force,

21

But he will fill the mouths of the sincere who then can withstand his judgment?

with laughter

20

For instance, should I be right, my mouth and their lips with confession, will turn out impious!

22

but their enemies will clothe themselves And should I be blameless, I will prove to
with shame,
be perverse!
and the way of life of the impious will be 21

For even if I acted impiously, I do not know
no more.”

it within myself—

aUnder *. = Zi

676

job 9-11

except that my life is being taken away.

9

Remember that you fashioned me as clay, 22

Therefore I said, 'Anger destroys the great and you are going to return me again to and powerful,

earth.

23 because the worthless do exceptionally well

10

Did you not pour me out like milk

in death,

and curdle me like cheese?

but those in the right are laughed to 11

You clothed me with skin and flesh scorn—

and knitted me together with bones and 24

for they have been given over into the hands sinews.

of the wicked.'

12

Then you granted me life and mercy,

[24 * he covers the faces of its judges, and your care preserved my spirit.

* and if it is not he, who is it.]

13

Since you have these things in you, I know that you can do anything,

25

"Now, my life is swifter than a runner;

and nothing is impossible for you.

theya fled away, and they saw nothing.

14

For two things: should I sin, you watch me,

26

Is any trace at all left of a way taken by ships and you have not acquitted me of or of an eagle flying in search of prey?

lawlessness.

27

For if in fact I say, 'I will forget about 15

For if I be impious, alas!

speaking,'

If I be righteous, I cannot lift up my with my face bowed down, I will groan.

head,

28

I quiver in all my limbs,

for I am filled with disgrace.

for I know you will not let me be 16

To wit, I am hunted like a lion for killing,

innocent.

and again, you make an about face and 29

But since I am impious, why have I not died?

destroy me terribly.

30

For if I wash myself with snow

17

You renewed your scrutiny of me and cleanse myself with pure hands, and treated me with great anger

31

you have plunged me fully in filth, and brought trials on me.
and my robe abhorred me.

32

For you are not a mortal like me, with 18

“Why then did you bring me out of the whom I would contend,
womb?

that we should agree to come to trial.

And why did I not die and no eye see me 33

Would that there were an arbiter for us and 19 and I be as if I had not been?

an investigator

For why was I not carried from the womb and one to hear the case between us two.
to the grave?

34

Let him remove the rod from me, 20

Is not the length of my life short?
and let not the fear of him distract me—

Let me rest a little 35

then I will not be afraid, but I will speak;

21

before I go whence I will not return, for as it is, I am baffled.

to a land, dark and gloomy,

22 to a land of perpetual darkness, where there

” Weary within,

is no light

10 I will let loose my words upon him in and no glimpse of human life.”

groans;

I will speak, tormented by the bitterness of

Now Sophar the Minite said in reply:

2

my soul,

11 “He who says much will also listen in

2 and I will say to the Lord, Do not teach me turn,

to be impious,

or does he who is eloquent think he is and why did you judge me like this?

right?

3

Does it seem good to you, if I be in the Blessed is the short-lived offspring of

wrong,

woman.

that you despise the work of your hands

3

Do not become talkative,

but favored the advice of the impious?

for there is no one to contend with you.

4

Do you see as a mortal sees?

4

For example, do not say, 'I am pure in my [4

* or will you see as a human sees.] actions

5

Is your life human,
and blameless before him.'

or your years those of a man?

5

In that case, how could the Lord speak to 6

Because you sought out my lawlessness
you?

and tracked down my sins.

[5

* and he will open his lips with you.]

7

For you know that I did not act impiously,

6

Then he will disclose to you the power of but who is there to deliver from your
wisdom,

hands?

because it will be double what you have.

8

Your hands fashioned me and made me;

And then you will know that what has come then you did an about face and struck upon you from the Lord is equal to me.

your sins.

a.l.e. the days of my life

job 11-13

677

7

7

“Can you find the Lord’s footprint,

“But, do ask the quadrupeds, if they should or have you reached the limits that the speak to you,

Almighty made?

and the birds of the air, if they should 8

Heaven is high, and what will you do?

declare to you,

And there are deeper things than in 8

and tell the earth in detail, if it should Hades; what do you know?

expound to you.

9

Or are they not more extensive than the [8

* and the fish of the sea will explain to you.

measure of the earth

9

* Who among all these did not know

or the breadth of the sea?

* that the hand of the Lord made these things.]

10

And if he overturns all that is,

10

Is not the life of all living things in his

who will say to him, 'What did you do?'

hand,

11

Indeed he knows the deeds of the lawless, and the breath of every human being?

and when he sees wrongs, he will not 11

For it is the mind that discerns words

look aside.

but the throat that tastes food.

12

On the other hand, a human keeps afloat

12

Wisdom comes with much time,

with words,

and knowledge with much living.

and a mortal, born of woman, is like a desert ass.

13

“With hima are wisdom and power; counsel and understanding are his.

13

“For if you have made your heart pure,

14

If he tears down, who can rebuild?

and you lift up your hands toward him—

If he shuts out people, who can open?

14

if anything lawless is in your hands, put it

15

If he withholds the water, he will dry up the far away from you,
earth,
and let no injustice lodge in your
but if he lets it loose, he has destroyed it dwelling.
completely.

15

For in this way your face will shine again

16

With him are strength and power;
like pure water,
knowledge and understanding are his.
and you will put away defilement, and 17

Leading counselors away captive, you shall not fear.
he maddened earthly judges.

16

And you will forget trouble

18

Seating kings upon thrones,

like a passing wave and not be terrified.

[18 * and he bound their loins with a belt.]

17

And your prayer will be as the morning star,

19 sending away priests captive, and at midday life will dawn for you.

he overthrew earth's mighty ones.

18

You will be confident, because there is hope 20

Disrupting the lips of the faithful,

for you;

he found out the understanding of

as well, out of worry and care peace will elders

appear clearly for you,

[21 * pouring dishonor on rulers.]

19

21

b

for you will be at rest, and there will be no but healed the humbleb.

one to fight you;

22

Revealing deep things out of darkness, instead, many will do an about face and he brought death's shadow to light.

entreat your favor.

[23* leading nations astray and destroying them,

20

But deliverance will fail them,

* scattering nations and guiding them.] for their hope is destruction,

24

Changing the hearts of earthly rulers, and the eyes of the impious will waste he made them wander by a way that they
away.”

did not know:

25

'May they grope in the dark without light,

Now Iob said in reply:

and may they wander about like a 12 2" So you alone are human beings;

drunkard.'

surely wisdom will die with you.

3

For one thing, I too have a heart, just like

"Look, my eye has seen these things,

you.

13 and my ear has heard them,

4

A just and blameless man, you see, has 2 and I know what you too understand become a laughingstock.

and am no less intelligent than you.

5

To be sure, he had been ordained to fall

3

Nonetheless, I will speak to the Lord

under others for a set time and argue my case before him, if he and that his houses be plundered by the wishes.

lawless.

4

But you are injurious physicians

6

Nonetheless, let the wicked not trust that he and healers of wrong things, all of you.

will be guiltless—

5

But oh that you would be quiet

as many as provoke the Lord—and wisdom be yours as a result.

as if indeed there will be no scrutiny of 6

Hear the reasoning of my mouth,

them.

and give heed to the argument of my lips.

a.l.e. the Lord bUnder *. = Zi 678

job 13-14

7

Are you not speaking before the Lord

"For a mortal, born of woman, and uttering deceit before him?

14 is short-lived and full of aggravation

8

Really? Will you prevaricate?

2

or, like a flower that has bloomed, drops

Go ahead; become judges yourselves!

off

9

It would indeed be good, if he traced your and flees like a shadow and will not footsteps;

halt.

for if, in doing everything you can, you

3

Of him did you not in fact take account will join yourselves to him, and make him enter into judgment 10

he will convict you nonetheless.

before you?

And even if secretly you will show

4

For who can be pure from filth? None, not partiality,

one!

11

will not his terrors distract you

5

Even if his life on the earth be but one and fear from him assail you?

day

12

Your arrogance, however, will turn out to be and his months be counted out to him, like ashes,

you have set a time, and he shall not go and your body made of clay.

beyond it.

6

Depart from him, that he may have quiet

13

“Be quiet! so I may speak and be relieved of and enjoy life, like a wage-earner!

rage.

14

Having taken my flesh in my teeth,

7

“For there is hope for a tree;

I will put my life in my hand.

for if it is cut down, it will sprout again,

15

Though the Mighty One overpower me—and its branch will not fail.

inasmuch as he has begun—

8

For, if its root grow old in earth

certainly I will speak and argue my case and the crown of its root die in a rock,

before him.

9 at the scent of water it will sprout

16

And this for me will prove to be and produce a crop like one newly salvation,

planted.

for deceit cannot enter before him.

10

But a man, once dead, is gone,

17

Hear, hear my words,
and a mortal, once fallen, is no more.
for I will declare, while you listen.

11

For a sea with time diminishes,

18

Look, I am near my trial;
and a river, laid waste, is dried up, I know that I will be shown to be in the 12

but a person, once lying down, shall never
right.

rise again

19

For who is there that will find fault with until the sky become unstitched.

me?

[12 * and they will not be roused out of their sleep.]

* because now I will be quiet and expire.]

13

[19

O that you had kept me in Hades 20

But you shall indulge me in two things:
and had concealed me until your anger

[20 * then I will not hide myself from your face.]

had ceased,

21

withdraw your hand from me, and you had set me a time, when you and let fear of you not terrify me.

would remember me.

22

Then you will call, and I will answer you, 14

For, if a person died, then would live or you will speak, and I will give you a again,
response.

when he has completed the days of his 23

How many are my sins and my acts of
life,
lawlessness?

I would endure until I would be born

Teach me what they are.

again.

24

Why do you hide from me

15

Presently you would call, and I would

and regard me your opponent?

answer you—

25

Will you really be wary of one that is like a only do not reject the works of your windblown leaf,

hands.

or do you oppose me, one like 16

But you tabulated my pursuits, windborne grass?—

and not one of my sins will pass by you, 26

because you wrote harmful things against 17 and you have sealed up my lawless acts in a

me

pouch

and surrounded me with the sins of my and marked down if I had somehow youth.

transgressed inadvertently.

27

And you put my foot in a hobble

[18 * but even a falling mountain will crumble

and watched all my actions,

away,

and you reached to the bottoms of my

* and a rock will be worn out of its place.

feet.

19

* Waters made stones smooth,

28

A worn out thing, like a skin, al ama,

* and roiling waters eroded the mound of earth,

or like a moth-eaten garment.

* and you destroyed human endurance.]

aLacking in Gk

job 14-16

679

20

“You thrust him aside completely, and he and no alien came upon them.

was gone;

20

The entire life of the impious is spent in you set your face against him and sent anxiety,
him away.

and the years given to the mighty are 21

And though his sons become many, he does numbered.

not know,

21

And the dread of him is in his ears;

and if they become few, he is not aware.

just when he thinks he is at peace, his 22

Ah, but his flesh suffered pain, destruction will come.

and his soul grieved.”

22

Let him not believe he will return from

darkness,

Now Eliphaza the Thaimanite said in reply:

for he has already been consigned to a 15 2”Willawisemangiveananswerof blade’s power;

windy insight,

23

moreover, he has been allocated as food for and did he satisfy the ache in his belly—vultures,

3 arguing with statements that are beside the

and he knows within himself that he

point,

remains as a carcass.

with words that are of no benefit?

And a dark day will whirl him around,

4

Have you not as well set aside fear

24

and distress and anguish will take hold of

and exhausted such statements before the

him;

Lord?

he will be like a general falling in the 5

You are guilty by the statements of your front rank.

mouth

25

Because he lifted his hands against the Lord and did not discern statements of the and stiffened his neck against the Lord mighty.

Almighty

6

May your mouth refute you, and not I,

26

and ran against him with insolence, and your lips will testify against you.

[26 * with the thickness of the back of his shield,

27

* because he covered his face with his fat

7

“What? Were you the first of the human race

* and made it a band on his thighbones.]

to be born?

28

then may he lodge in desolate cities

Or were you established before the

and enter uninhabited houses, dunes?

and what they prepared, others will carry

8

Did you hear the plan of the Lord,

away.

and did wisdom reach only you?

29

Neither shall he ever become rich, nor shall 9

For what do you know that we do not his possessions last.

know?

He shall not cast a shadow upon the

Or what do you understand that we do

ground,

not as well?

30

nor shall he escape darkness.

[10* both the old and aged man are among us,

May the wind dry up his bud,

* more advanced in days than your father.] and may his blossom fall off.

11

You have been scourged for but few of your 31

Let him not believe that he will endure,

sins;

for emptiness will turn out to be his lot.

you have spoken wildly extravagantly.

32

His stump will perish before its time, 12

What did your heart dare,

and his branch will provide no cover.

or what did your eyes set themselves

33

But may he be picked like unripe grapes,

upon,

before his time,

13 that you burst forth in rage before the Lord and fall off, like an olive blossom.

and brought out such remarks from your 34

For the testimony of the impious is death,

mouth?

and fire will burn the houses of bribe-

14

For who, being mortal, can be blameless, takers.

or who can be in the right, born of 35

And he will conceive sorrows,

woman?

and his lot will turn out to be emptiness,

15

If he places no faith in his holy ones, and his belly will carry deceit.”

then heaven is not pure before him.

16

But aha, abominable and impure,

Now Job said in reply:

a man drinking injustices like a drink!

16 2”I have heard many such things;

comforters of what’s worthless are you

17

“But I will declare to you; hear me;

all.

indeed, what I have seen I will declare to 3

What? Is there any rhyme or reason to

you—

windy words?

18

what sages will say

[3

* or what will provoke you, that you are

and did not hide from their ancestors;

answering.]

19 to them alone the earth was given,

4

I also would talk as you do,

a Eliphas = Zi

680

job 16-18

if your life were in fact in the place of 3

No, strangers have stolen my possessions,

mine;

[3

* who is this? Let him join hands with me.

then I would jump at you with words

4

* Because you have hid their heart from

and shake my head at you.

intelligence,

5

But may there be strength in my mouth—

* therefore you shall not exalt them.

then I shall not spare you the moving of 5

* He will report evils to the party.]

my lips!

5

and my eyes have dissolved over my 6

For if I speak, I shall not aggravate my children.

wound,

but even if I remain silent, how shall I be 6

“And you have made me a byword among wounded less?

nations,

and I have become a laughing-stock to 7

“But as it is, he has made me worn out, a

them,

fool, wasted away.

7

for my eyes have turned to stone from [8

* and you took hold of me, which became a

anger;

testimony;

I am greatly besieged by all.

* and my lie rose up against me—

8

Wonder at this has seized the truthful,

* it answered back to my face.]

and may the just rise up against the 9

Acting in wrath, he has thrown me down;

transgressor,

he has gnashed his teeth at me;

9 and the faithful hold to his own way,

his brigands' arrows fell on me.

and may one with pure hands take 10

With darts from his eyes he dashed at me;

courage.

he struck me on the cheek with 10

Nonetheless, you all keep pressing hard,

something sharp,

[10 and do come.*]

and they ran at me with one accord.

for I find nothing true in you.

11

For the Lord delivered me into the hands of 11

My days have passed in a roar,

the unjust

and my heartstrings were broken.

and cast me to the impious.

[12 * they have made night into day;

12

When I was at peace, he scattered me;

* light is near afrom beforea darkness.]

he seized me by the hair and pulled it 13

For if I last, Hades is my house,

out;

and my bed lies spread in gloom.

he set me up like a target.

14

I called on death to be my father

13

They surrounded me with spears, and decay to be my mother and hurling them into my kidneys, without sister.

sparing;

15

Where then is yet my hope?

they poured out my gall on the ground.

Shall I see my goods?

14

They threw me down, fall upon fall;

16

Will they go down with me to Hades?"

they rushed at me powerfully.

[16 * or shall we go down of one accord to the 15

I sewed sackcloth upon my skin,

grave.]

and my strength was extinguished in dust.

16

My belly is aflame from weeping,

Now Baldad the Sauchite said in reply:

and there is a shadow on my eyelids.

18 2”How long before you stop?

17

But there was nothing unjust in my hands,

Hold back, so that we too can speak.

and my prayer was pure.

3

Why have we, like quadrupeds, been silent before you?

18

“O earth, do not cover up the blood of my 4

Anger has used you.

flesh,

What? If you die, will what is under nor may there be a place for my cry.

heaven be uninhabited?

19

Even now, look, my witness is above,

Or will mountains be overthrown from and my corroborator is on high.

their foundations?

20

May my petition reach the Lord, and before him may my eye shed a tear.

5

“Yes, the light of the impious will be put

21

And may a man have proof before the Lord!

out,

[21

* and a son of man for his neighbor.] and their flame will not do well.

22

But the numbered years have come to an 6

His light is darkness in his dwelling,

end,

and his lamp will be put out on him.

and I shall go the way by which I shall 7

May those of least account chase down his not return.

possessions,

and may his counsel trip him up.

"I perish, being carried off by the wind,

8

But his foot has been thrust into a snare;

17 and I beg for burial and do not find it.

may he be entangled in a net,

2

I pray wearily, and what have I achieved?

9

and may snares come upon him!

a Possibly because of

job 18-19

681

[9

* heaven will strengthen those who thirst against

10

He totally isolated me, and I was gone,

him;

and he has cut down my hope like a 10

 his rope is hid in the ground,* tree.

 and the means of his capture upon paths.]*

11

And he has dealt with me terribly in anger

11

May pains destroy him on every side, and has counted me as an enemy.

and may many beset him in severe 12

And with one accord his gangs of brigands famine.

came against me;

12

But an extraordinary fall has been prepared they encircled me on my paths, lying in

for him—

ambush.

13

may the digits of his feet be devoured, and death will consume his maturity.

13

“And my brothers turned away from me;

14

And may healing be torn from his dwelling, they recognized strangers rather than me.
and may duress take hold of him by royal
And friends of mine became merciless. charge.

14

My nearest kin disowned me,

[15 * it will encamp in his tent in his night;

and those who knew my name forgot

* his lovely things will be sown with brimstone;

me.

16

* his roots will be dried up beneath,

15

As for neighbors next door and my servant

 and his crop will fall off above.]*

girls—

17

May mention of him perish from earth;

I became an alien to them.

[17 and he has no name before the face of the* 16

I called my attendant, and he did not wider outside.]

respond;

18

may hea drive him away from light into yet my mouth kept pleading.

darkness.

17

I also repeatedly implored my wife,

19

He will no longer be known among his

and, using flattery, I kept summoning
people,
sons of my concubines,
nor will his house be preserved on what 18 but they rejected me for all time;

is under heaven;
when I rise, they talk against me.
rather, others will live in what is his.

19

My acquaintances abhorred me, 20

The last groaned over him,
and those I had loved rose up against me.
and wonder seized the first.

20

My flesh rotted under my skin,

21

These are the houses of the unjust, and my bones are held in my teeth.

and this is the place of those that do not 21

Pity me; pity me, O my friends,

know the Lord.”

for it is the Lord’s hand that has touched

me.

Now Job said in reply:

22

But why do you pursue me just as the Lord

19 2”How long will you make my soul does,

weary

and why are you not satisfied with my

and destroy me with words?

flesh?

3

Know only that the Lord treated me this

way;

23

“For who would grant that my words be you speak against me; shamelessly you written press upon me.

and that they be put in a book forever

4

Yes indeed, I have truly erred,

[24 * with an iron and lead pen.] and error lodges with me—

24 or be carved in rock?

to have spoken a word that was not fitting,

25

To be sure, I know that he who is about to and my words err and are inappropriate.

undo me on earth is everlasting.

5

But alas, it is because you magnify

26

May my skin, which patiently endures these yourselves against me things, rise up;

and jump at me with reproach.
for these things have been accomplished

6

Know then that it is the Lord who troubles on me by the Lord—
me,

27

things I am conscious of in myself, and he raised up his stronghold against things my eye has seen and no other,
me.

and all of them have come to an end for 7

Look, I laugh at reproach, and I will not me in my bosom.

speak;

28

But even if you say, 'What shall we say

I will cry out, and nowhere is there

before him?'

judgment.

[28* and the root of the matter we will find in

8

I am hemmed in all around and cannot get

him.]

out;

29

Do as well be afraid of a cover-up,

he has placed darkness upon my face.

for wrath will come upon the lawless,

9

And he has stripped my glory from me and then they will find out where their

and taken the crown from my head.

substance is."

al.e. the Lord

682

job 20-21

20 Now Sophar the Minite said in reply:

22

But just when he thinks he has fully

2 "I did not suppose that you would satisfied himself, he will be counter these things so, afflicted,

and surely the rest of you have gained no

and every distress will come upon him.

better understanding than I—

[23 * if somehow he would fill his belly.]

[3

* I will hear instruction of my shame,

23

May hea send on him fierce wrath;

* and a spirit from understanding answers me.

may he wash pains on him.

4

* Did you not know these things before now.]

24

And he shall not escape a blade's power;

4 not since mortals were placed on the may a bronze bow wound him.

earth!

25

Yes, may an arrow pass through his body,

5

For the merriment of the impious ends in and may lightning bolts strut about in his an extraordinary fall, dwellings.

and the enjoyment of transgressors in [25

* terrors upon him.]

destruction,

26

Then may utter darkness await him;

6

even if his gifts go up to heaven unquenchable fire will devour him—and his sacrifices touch the clouds.
and may a stranger afflict his house.

7

For just when he thinks he is firmly

27

And may heaven uncover his acts of established,

lawlessness

at that point he will be utterly and earth rise up against him.

destroyed,

28

May destruction drag his house to an end;

and those who saw him will say, 'Where may a day of anger come upon him.

is he?'

29

This is the portion of an impious person

8

Like a dream that has taken to flight, he

from the Lord,

shall not be found,

and possession of his things is from the

but he has flown away like a nocturnal

Overseer."

apparition!

[9

* an eye caught a glimpse and will not continue,

Now Job said in reply:

2

* and his place will observe him no longer.]

21 "Listen, listen to my words, lest this be your consolation for me.

10

3

"May his inferiors do away with his sons,

Lift me up, and I will speak;

and his hands kindle pains.

then you will not laugh me to scorn.

[11

* his bones were filled with his youth,

4

What? My argument is not with a mortal,

* and it will lie down with him on a burial

is it?

mound.

Or, why should I not be angry?

12

* If evil is sweet in his mouth,

5

Look at me, and marvel,

* he will hide it under his tongue;

laying your hand on your cheek.

13

* he will not spare it and will not leave it behind

6

For even when I remember, I am in

* and will hold it in the middle of his throat.]

haste,

14

And he shall not be able to help himself.

and pains seize my flesh.

[14 * the venom of an asp is in his belly.]

7

Why do the impious live on and grow old, even in wealth?

15

“Wealth being gathered unjustly will be

8

Their progeny are according to their

disgorged;

pleasure,

a messenger will drag it out of his

and their children in their sight.

house.

9

Their houses prosper without any fear,

16

And may he suck the wrath of dragons, and no scourge from the Lord is upon and may a snake’s tongue kill him.

them.

17

May he not see the milk of pastures

10

Their cow did not miscarry, nor pasturage of honey and butter.

and their pregnant one came through 18

Vainly and foolishly he has toiled for wealth safely and did not falter.

of which he will not taste;

11

And they remain as ageless sheep,

it will be like something tough, and their children play about unchewable, impossible to swallow.

12 when they take up the harp and lyre

19

For he has broken down the houses of many and make merry to the sound of a who are powerless, melody.

and he has seized a dwelling, though he 13

And they finished their life in prosperity did not build it.

and lay down in the repose of Hades.

14

But heb says to the Lord, 'Stay away from 20

"His possessions hold no security for him;
me;

[20 * in his desire he will not escape.

I do not wish to know your ways.'

21

* There is nothing left of his provisions.]

[15 * what is the Sufficient One that we should be 21 therefore his goods will not flourish.

subject to him?

al.e. God bl.e. the impious

job 21-22

683

3

* and what profit is there that we should

For what does it matter to the Lord approach him.]

if you were blameless in your actions?

16

For their good things were in their hands,

[3

* or is it an advantage that you will make your

but hea does not regard the works of the way simple.]

impious.

4

Though he makes an account of you, will he reprove you,

17

“Nonetheless, the lamp of the impious shall and will he go to trial with you?
also be put out,

5

Is your evil not abundant, and destruction shall come upon them,
and are your sins not without number?
and sharp pains shall seize them, because 6

Yes, you used to take your brothers in of anger.

pledge for no reason

18

And they shall be as chaff before the wind and took away the clothing of the or as dust that the whirlwind has sucked naked.

up.

7

Nor did you give water to the thirsty to 19

May his possessions fail his sons.

drink

[19 * he will make payment back to him, and he but withheld a morsel from the hungry.
will know.]

8

And you made favorites of some 20

May his eyes see his own slaughter, and settled them on the land,
and may he not escape from the Lord.

9

but you sent away widows empty [21 * because what is his desire in his house after and mistreated orphans.

him?

10

Therefore snares have encircled you,
* And the number of his months has been cut and an extraordinary conflict has hurried

off.]

you.

22

Is it not the Lord who teaches

11

The light has proved to be darkness for understanding and knowledge?

you,

But he will discerningly judge murders.

and water has covered you while you

[23* he shall die in the strength of his sincerity, slept.

* and wholly at ease and prosperous.]

24

And his inwards are full of fat, 12

“Does not he who dwells on high observe, and his marrow is being dispersed.

and has he not humbled those borne 25

And he dies of bitterness of soul, along by pride?
not eating anything good.

[13 * and you said, 'What does the Strong One

26

But one and all, they lay down on the
know?

ground,

* Will he judge down through the gloom?

and decay covered them.

14

* Clouds are his hiding-place, and he will not be seen,

27

"So I know you, that you daringly attack

* and he will pass through the circle of heaven. '

me.

15

* Will you keep the ageless way

[28 * because you will say, 'Where is the house of

* that unjust men trod

the ruler?’

16

* who were seized before their time?

* and ‘Where is the shelter of the coverts of the

 Their foundations are a flooding river.]*

impious?’

17

Those who say, ‘What will the Lord do to 29

* Ask those who pass by the way,

us?’

* and their signs you will not dismiss,

or, ‘What will the Almighty bring against 30

* that the wicked obtains relief for the day of

us?’—

destruction;

18

yet he it was who filled their houses with

 they will be carried off to the day of his good things,
wrath.*

though the counsel of the impious is far

31

 Who will declare his way to his face,
from him.*

 and he acted, who will repay him?*

19

Those in the right laughed when they saw it,

32

 And he has been carried away to the graves, and the blameless mocked.*

 and he has watched over the bier.*

[20  except their substance vanished,*

33

 The pebbles of the wadi were sweet to him,*  and fire will consume what of theirs is left.]*

 and every mortal will follow after him,*  and those before him are innumerable.]*

21

“Do be unyielding, if you would endure;

34

How then will you comfort me with then your fruit will prosper.

emptiness?

22

And accept an utterance from his mouth,

And I have no rest at all from you.”

and take up his words in your heart.

23

And if you turn and humble yourself before

Now Eliphazc the Thaimanite said in reply:

the Lord,

22 2”Is itnot the Lord who teaches you have put what is unjust far from your understanding and knowledge?

dwelling.

al.e. the Lord b as for his inwards, he is full of fat = Zi c Eliphas = Zi

684

job 22-24

15

[24 * you will place on a mound in a rock

Therefore I am in haste about him,

* and as though in a rock of a wadi of Ophir.] and when I was admonished, I gave heed

25

Therefore the Almighty will be your help

to him.

from enemies,

[15 * at this let me hasten from his presence;

and he will render you pure as silver tried

* by fire, and I will be terrified of him.]

by fire.

16

But the Lord enfeebled my heart,

26

Then you will speak frankly before the Lord, and the Almighty hurried me.

looking up to heaven cheerfully.

17

For I did not know that darkness would 27

And when you pray to him, he will listen to come upon me,

you

but gloom has fallen as a covering before and give to you to pay your vows.

my face.

28

Yes, he will restore to you a righteous way of

life,

and there will be light on your ways.”

24 ”But why did times escape the notice of the

Lord,

[29 * because he humbled him, and you will say,

2 and the impious overstepped the limit,

‘He acted arrogantly. ’

when they seized flock with shepherd?

* And he will save one bent forward with the 3

They led away the orphans’ beast of

eyes;

burden

30

* he will deliver the innocent

and took the widow's ox in pledge.

* and be preserved by your pure hands.]

4

They turned aside the powerless from the righteous way.

Iob said in reply:

[4

* the meek of the earth have hidden of one

23 2"Yes, I do know that argumentation is accord.]

5 out of my reach,

And they proved to be like donkeys in a

and his hand has become heavy on my

field,

groaning.

because of me doing their own thing.

3

But who would then know that I might find

[5

* the bread he had was sweet to the young.]

him

6

They reaped a field not their own before its
and come to a resolution?

time,

4

But oh that I could state my case before but the powerless worked vineyards of

him

the impious without pay or food.

and fill my mouth with arguments.

7

They made many go to sleep naked, without

5

Then I would know the words that he would clothes,

say to me

and took away the covering from their and perceive what he would declare to
person.

me.

[8

* they are wet with the showers of the 6

Even if he comes upon me with great mountains.]

strength,

8

Because they had no shelter, they then he will not treat me with a threat; surrounded themselves with rock.

7

for truth and reproof are from him—but oh that he would bring my case to an 9

“They snatched the orphan from the breast
end!

and humiliated one that had fallen.

10

And they had the naked sleep, unjustly,

8

“For I will go first and be no more, and took away the morsel of the hungry.

and what do I know about things at the 11

They unjustly laid in wait in narrow places

end?

and did not know the righteous way.

[9

* when he acted on the left, then I did not grasp

12

Those who cast themc out of the city and

it;

their own houses,

* on the right he will encircle me, and I will not though the soul of the young groaned

see it.]

loudly—

10

For he already knows my way and he, why has he not paid these a visit?

and has discerningly judged me like gold.

11

But I will go forth when he commands,

13

“While they were on earth, they did not for I have kept his ways and I will never even notice them,

turn aside.

and they did not know the way of 12

Nor shall I go away from what he

righteousness,

commands,

nor did they travel its pathways.

but I have treasured his words in my 14

But when he knew their deeds, he handed bosom.

them over to darkness.

13

But if even he has so judged, who is there to [14 * and at night he will be like a thief.

contradict him?

15

* And the eye of the adulterer watched for

For what he has wanted he also has done.

darkness,

aOm = Zi bPerhaps Let me cl.e. the powerless dl.e. the Lord

job 24-27

685

* saying, 'No eye will observe me,'

3

With whom have you taken counsel?

* and he placed a concealment of his face.

Is it not with him who has all wisdom?

16

* In the dark he dug through houses;

Or whom will you follow?

* by day they sealed themselves up;

Is it not he who has the greatest

* they did not know light,

power?

17

* because with one accord the morning is death's

4

To whom did you utter words?

shadow to them,

And whose breath is it that comes forth

* because he will recognize the troubles of

from you?

death's shadow.

[5

* will giants be brought forth

18

* He is nimble on the face of the water.]

* beneath the water and its neighbors?

6

* Hades is naked before him,

18

“May their earthly portion be cursed,

* and there is no covering for destruction.

19

and may their plants on earth appear

7

* Stretching out the north over nothing,

withered,

* hanging the earth upon nothing.

for they seized the orphans' armful.

8

* Binding water in his clouds, 20

Then his sin was remembered,

* and the mass of cloud is not torn open under

and he disappeared like a dewy mist,

it.

but may what he did be paid back to him, 9

 He who holds firmly the face of the throne,*

and may every unjust person be crushed

 spreading over it his mass of cloud.*

like an incurable tree!

10

 He circumscribed a decree on the face of the waters,*

21

“For he did not treat well the barren woman

 as far as the limit of light with darkness.*

and had no pity on the weak woman.

11

 The pillars of heaven were spread wide*

22

And in wrath he overthrew the powerless.

 and were astonished from his rebuke.]*

Therefore, when he has risen up, 12

By force he calmed the sea,
he will not feel secure about his own life.
and by knowledge he struck down the 23

When he is sickly, let him not hope to sea-monster,
regain health;

13

and heaven's bars fear him, rather, he will fall by disease.
and by decree he put to death the 24

For his loftiness harmed many,
rebellious dragon.
but he shriveled away like a mallow in [14 * look, these are parts of his way,

the heat

* and at a droplet of a word we will give ear to or as an ear of corn, fallen off the stalk of

him.]

itself.

14

And the force of his thunder—who knows

25

But if it is not so, who is there to say that I

when it will act?"

speak what is false?"

[25 * and will he place my words as nothing.]

27 Now Job, yet further to his preamble, said:

2 " The Lord lives, who has judged me so,

25 Now Baldad the Sauchite said in reply:

and the Almighty, who has embittered

2 " Why, what preamble or fear is there

my soul—

with him,

3

indeed, while my breath is still within me he who on high keeps making the entire and a divine puff of air is what remains
earth?

in my nostrils,

3

For would there be anyone who thinks there

4 my lips will not speak lawless things, is respite for brigands?

nor will my soul ponder injustices.

And upon whom will not come

5

Far be it from me to declare that you are ambushes from him?
right, until I die,

4

For how can a mortal be right before the
for I will not relinquish my innocence.

Lord?

6

But holding fast to righteousness, I will

Or who, born of woman, could purify never let it go,

himself?

for I am not conscious within myself of 5

If he instructs the moon, then it does not having done anything amiss.

shine,

and the stars are not pure before him.

7

“Nonetheless, may my enemies be like the 6

But alas, a human being is rot!”

ruin of the impious,

[6

* and a son of man is a worm.] and those who rise up against me like the destruction of the transgressors.

Now Job said in reply:

8

To be sure, what hope does the impious

26 2" To whom are you devoted, or to whom have that he hangs on?

are you about to provide help?

When he trusts in the Lord, will he be

Is it not to him who has much strength

saved?

and a strong arm?

9

Will the Lord listen to his petition?

aOr sin remembered him

686

Job 27-29

Or when distress comes upon him,

9

* He stretched out his hand with sharp rock.]

10

does he have any confidence before him?

9

And he overturned mountains from their

Or as he calls upon him, will he listen to roots

him?

10

and broke whirlpools of rivers—

11

Well then, I will declare to you what is in and my eye saw every precious thing.

the Lord's hand;

11

And he uncovered rivers' depths

what is with the Almighty, I will not and showed his own power to the light.

falsify.

12

Look here, all of you know

12

“But wisdom—where was it found?

that you are piling nothing upon

And of what sort is the place of

nothing.

knowledge?

13

No mortal knows its way,

13

“This is the portion of an impious person

nor will it ever be discovered among

from the Lord,

human beings.

and the possession of the powerful will

[14 * the deep said, 'It is not in me,'

come from the Almighty upon

* and the sea said, 'It is not with me. '

them.

15

* He will not give a confinement in its place,

14

Now if his sons be many, they shall be for

* and silver cannot be weighed in exchange for slaughter,

it.

and if perchance they reach manhood,

16

* And it cannot rank with the gold of Ophir,

they shall be beggars.

* with precious onyx and lapis lazuli.

15

And those of his who survive will end in 17

* Gold and glass cannot equal it,

death,

* nor is its exchange a gold vessel.

and no one will pity their widows.

18

* Celestial objects and gabisa cannot be 16

If he gathers silver like dirt

mentioned,

and prepares gold like clay,

* and draw wisdom above what is innermost.

17

all these the righteous will gain,

19

* The topaz of Ethiopia will not be equal to it;

and his money the truthful will

* with pure gold it cannot be compared.]

possess.

18

And his house turned out like moths and 20

“But wisdom—where was it found?

like a spider’s web.

And of what sort is the place of 19

Though he lies down rich, he will not in fact

knowledge?

add to it.

21

It has escaped notice by any human,

[19 * he opened his eyes, and he is not.]

[21 * and it was hidden from birds of the air.

20

Pain came upon him like water,

22

* Destruction and death said.]

and gloom carried him off by night.

22

but we have heard of its renown.

[21 * burning wind will take him up, and he will depart,

23

“God has established well its way,

* and it will winnow him from his place.

and he himself knows its place,

22

* And it will hurl at him and not spare;

24

for he observes all that is under heaven,

* he will flee in flight from its hand.

since he knows all the earth contains, that 23

* It will strike their hands against them

which he made—

* and hiss him from his place.]

25

the weight of winds and the measures of
water!

” For silver has a place from which it comes,

26

When he had done so, bhe looked andb

28 and gold a place from where it is sifted.

made a count;

2

For whereas iron comes out of the earth,

[26 * and a way in the shaking, noise;

copper is quarried like stone.

27

* then he saw it and declared it.]

3

He imposed order on darkness,

27

since he prepared them, he kept track of [3

* and he searches out every limit;

them.

* stone is darkness and death's shadow,

28

And he said to humankind, 'Look, the 4

* cleft of a wadi, away from dust.]

worship of God is wisdom,

4

and those of mortals who kept forgetting and to stay away from evil is the righteous way became weak.

knowledge.' "

[5

* as for the earth—out of it will come bread;

* under it, it was turned about like fire.

Now Job, yet further to his preamble, said:

6

* Its stones are the place of lapis lazuli,

29 2"Whomightputmeinamonthof

* and its mound has gold.

former days,

7

* The path—no bird has known it,

when God watched over me,

* and the vulture's eye has not glanced at it.

3

as when his lamp would shine over my 8

* The sons of braggarts have not trodden it;

head,

* the lion has not passed over it.

when by his light I strode in darkness,

aHeb = rock crystal b rain = Zi cGk = acc.

job 29-30

687

4

when I was pressing on my ways,

[2

* indeed, the strength of their hands—what is it when God would pay a visit to my house,

to me?

5

when I was very much a person of

* Completion perished upon them.

substance

3

* In want and hunger, he was childless,

and my children were around me,

* those who yesterday were fleeing an arid place,

6

when my roads were flowing with butter

* dismay and misery,

and my hills flowed with milk!—

4

* those who break off saltwort at one making a 7 when I would go out early in the city

sound.]

and my seat was placed in the squares.

4

Who indeed! Saltwort was their food,

8

When young men saw me, they hid,

and they were without honor and
and the aged, all of them stood, disparaged, in want of everything 9

and prominent men stopped talking,
good,
putting a finger to their mouth.

who also chewed on tree roots out of 10

And those who heard counted me happy, great hunger.

[10* and their tongues stuck to their throat.

5

Thieves have risen up against me,

11

* Because the ear heard and pronounced me

6

whose houses were caves in the rocks, happy.]

[7

 among pleasant sounds they will cry out.]*

11 and the eye that saw me averted its 7

who spent their lives under wild glance,

bushes—

12 for I delivered the poor from the hand of 8 sons of fools and of people dishonored in the powerful,

name,

and the orphan, who had no helper, I and a reputation quenched from earth.

helped,

[13 may the blessing of the one perishing come*

9

“But now I am their lyre,

upon me.]

and they have me as a byword;

13

and the widow's mouth blessed me.

10

yes, they abhorred me, standing afar off, 14

Yes, I put on righteousness and they did not spare my face their

and was clothed with justice like a cloak.

spit.

15

I was the eye of the blind

11

For he opened his quiver and harmed me, and the foot of the lame.

[11

* and they have cast off the restraint of my

16

It was I that was a father to the powerless,

presence.

and a case I did not know I investigated.

12

* On the right of offspring they rose up;

17

And I broke the molars of the unjust

* they stretched out their foot and tore prey from between their teeth.

* and leveled out upon me paths of their 18

And I said, 'My manhood will see old age;

destruction.

I shall live a long while, like the trunk of 13

* My paths were erased.]

a palm tree.'

13

for he took off my robe.

[19 * the root has opened out upon water,

14

He shot me down with his arrows;

 and dew will lodge on my crop.*

he has treated me as he wishes; I am a 20

 My glory is fresh with me,*

jumble of pain.

 and my bow will go in itsa hand.]*

15

My pains are returning;

my hope has gone away like a puff of 21

“When they heard me, they took heed

air,

and fell silent at my counsel.

and my safety like a cloud.

22

And they did not add to what I said

[16 and now my soul will be poured out upon me.*] but became overjoyed whenever I spoke to them.

16

“And days of pain seize me,

23

As thirsty earth welcomes the rain,

17

while at night my bones are inflamed,

so these welcomed what I said.

and my sinews are dissolved.

24

If I smiled toward them, they would not 18

With great force he took hold of my robe.

believe it.

[18 * he encircled me like the collar of my tunic.]

[24 * and the light of my face did not fade.

25

* I chose their way and sat as ruler,

19

“And you have treated me like clay;

* and I used to encamp like a king among light-

my lot is in dust and ashes.

armed men,

20

But I have cried to you, and you do not

 as one comforting mourners.]*

listen to me.

[*20 * they stood and observed me.]*

21

"But now they have laughed me to scorn;

Yes, you fell upon me without mercy;

30 now the least of them reprove me in turn—with a strong hand you have scourged

[1

 whose fathers I used to disdain.]* whom

me,

I did not deem worthy of my 22 and you arrayed me in pains.

shepherd dogs!

[*22 * and you cast me away from deliverance.]*

aOr his bl.e. God

688

job 30-31

23

You see, I know that death will crush me, 14

what then shall I do, if the Lord puts me for earth is home to every mortal.

under scrutiny?

And if too he pays a visit, what answer

24

“Oh that I might be able to lay hands on shall I give?

myself

15

Just as I was conceived in the belly, were not or, at least, entreat another, and he will they also?

do this for me.

Yes, we were conceived in the same cavity.

25

But I, I wept over every powerless person, and I groaned when I saw a man in dire 16

“But as for the powerless, straits.

what need they had—I did not miss it,

26

But I, when I was intent on good, and the eye of the widow I did not let look, days of evil met me all the more.

waste away.

[27* my belly boiled, and it will not be still;

17

And if too I ate my morsel alone

* days of poverty outran me.]

and did not share with the orphan,

28

I have gone about, groaning without

[18* because from my youth I nurtured like a restraint,

father

and I have stood in the assembly, crying

* and from my mother's womb I gave

out.

guidance.]

29

I have become a brother of sirens

19

and if too I overlooked a naked person, and a companion of ostriches.

perishing,

30

As well, my skin has blackened greatly,

and did not clothe him,

and my bones, from heat.

20

and as for the powerless, if they did not 31

Yes, my lyre has been turned into bless me—

mourning,

yet their shoulders were warmed with the

and my melody into weeping for me.

fleece of my lambs—

21

if I raised a hand against an orphan,

[* I made a covenant with my eyes, confident that I have much help at my 31 * and I will not take note of a virgin.

disposal,

2

* And what has God apportioned from above,

22

then may my shoulder separate from its

* and is there an inheritance of the Sufficient socket

One from on high?

and my arm be crushed from the elbow.

3

 Does not destruction belong to the unrighteous,*

23

To be sure, fear of the Lord controlled me.

 and alienation to those who do lawlessness?*

[23  and because of his load I shall not endure.*

4

 Will he not see my way,*

24

 If I arrayed gold as my strength.]*

 and al my steps be counted.]*

24

“And if too I trusted in a precious stone

5

“But if I had walked with jesters

25 and if too I rejoiced when much wealth and if too my foot hurried to deceit, accrued to me

6

then may hea place me in a just balance—and if too I placed my hand on things but the Lord knows my innocence.

without number—

7

If my foot has turned aside from the way

26

indeed do I not see the shining sun setting, and if too my heart followed my eye and the moon waning? For they do not and if too I touched gifts with my have it in them.

hands,

[27* and if my heart was secretly enticed.]

8

then may I sow and others eat,

27

And if too I placed my hand on my mouth and may I become without root on and kissed it,
earth.

28

then may this too be reckoned to me as the greatest lawlessness,

9

“If my heart followed another man’s wife, because I played false before the Lord
if in fact I lay in wait at her doors,
Most High.

10

then may my wife too be pleasing to another,

29

“And if too I was gratified at my enemies’ and may my children be humiliated.
fall,

11

For a fit of passion is uncontrollable, and my heart said, 'Good!'— namely, the defiling of a man's wife; 30

then may my ear hear a curse against me;

12

for a fire is set burning in all parts, yes, then may I be gossiped about by my and wherever it has gone, it has destroyed people as one afflicted.

root and branch.

31

And if too my female attendants often said,
'Who might grant us to be filled with his 13

"And if too I have disparaged the case of my flesh?"

male or female attendant

though I was very kind—

when they bring a complaint against me, 32

and no stranger would lodge outside,

aOr it, i.e. my foot

job 31-33

689

but my door stood open to everyone that [11 * until you put words to the test.

came,

12

* And I shall understand as far as you,

33 and if too, having sinned haplessly, I hid my

* and look, there was no one that confuted Job,

sin—

* that countered his words, among you.]

34 for I was not deterred by the populous

13 lest you say, 'We discovered wisdom and multitude from speaking out before contributed it to the Lord,'

them—

14

but you gave a personb the occasion to utter and if too I permitted the powerless to such words!"

leave my door with empty pockets,

[15 * they were terrified, they answered no more;

[35 * who might grant someone to hear me.]

* they made words from them obsolete.

35

and if I had not feared the hand of the Lord, 16

* I waited, for they did not speak;

then the writ that I had against someone

* because they stood still, they did not

36

I would have placed on my shoulders as a answer.]

chaplet and read it aloud,

37 and if I did not tear it up and hand it back, 17

And Elious resumed and said:

having taken nothing from the debtor—

18

“I will speak again, for I am full of

words;

38

“if at any time the land groaned over me for my gastral spirit is killing me and if too its furrows wept with one 19

and my belly is like a bound wineskin of

accord

new wine in ferment

39 and if too I ate its strength alone, without or like a burst bellows of a blacksmith.

payment,

20

I will speak, that I may find relief when I and if too I, in throwing it away, grieved open my lips,

the soul of the land's ownera,

21

for I will not be in awe of a human being;

40

then may nettles come forth to me instead to the contrary, I will have no regard for of wheat,

any mortal,

and a bramble instead of barley.”

22

for I do not know how to show respect;

if that is not so, moths will also eat

And Job ceased speaking.

me!

32 Now too, his three friends gave up taking

” Nonetheless, O Job, hear my words, issue with Job any longer, for Job was right-

33 and give ear to what I say.

teous before them. 2 But Elihu the son of Baruchiel, 2

For look, I have opened my mouth, the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram in the region of

and my tongue has spoken.

Ausitis, became angry, but he was very angry with 3

My heart will be seen pure by my words,

Job, because he declared himself in the right before and the thought of my lips pure by my

the Lord. 3 But he was very angry also with the three interpretation.

friends, because they were unable to give Job count- 4

It is the divine spirit that has made me

er-argument, and they made him out to be impious.

and the Almighty's breath that teaches

4 Yet Elious waited to give an answer to Iob.

me.

[4

* because they are older than he in days.

5

Give me an answer to these things, if you

5

* And Elious saw that there was no answer can;

* in the mouth of the three men,

wait, take a stand against me, and I

* and his anger was inflamed.]

against you.

6 Now Elious the son of Barachiel, the Bouzite,

6

You have been fashioned from clay, even as stated in reply:

I am;

“I am rather young in age, but you are older;
we have been fashioned from the same so I held my peace, being reticent thing.

to declare my own learning to you.

7

No fear of me will send you spinning,

7

But I said, ‘It is not time that speaks,

nor will my hand be heavy on you.

and with many years they do not know

[8

* however, you spoke in my ears.]

wisdom.’

8

Rather, there is a spirit in mortals,

8

“I have heard the sound of your words, and it is a breath of the Almighty that 9 that you say, 'I am pure, since I have done teaches.

no wrong,

9

It is not the long-lived that are wise, and I am blameless, for I did not act nor do the aged know discernment.

lawlessly.

10

So I said, 'Hear me,

10

But he found a basis for complaint against and I will declare to you what I know.'

me

and has reckoned me as an adversary,

11

“Give ear to my words,

11

and he put my foot in the stocks

for I will speak, while you hear, and watched all my paths.’

aOr lord bl.e. Iob

690

job 33-34

12

“How then do you say, ‘I am righteous, and

* speak, for I desire you to be justified.

he has paid no heed to me?’

33

* If not, you hear me;

for he that is above mortals is everlasting.

* be quiet! and I will teach you wisdom.]

13

But you say, 'Why has he not heeded one word of my case?'

Now Elious resumed and said:

14

For may the Lord speak just this once, 34 2" Hear me, you wise men; and the second time, through a dream O you who know, give ear to what is 15 or during reflection by night—goodb—

as when a fearful dread falls on people,

[3

* because the ear tries words

while they slumber on their bed.

* and the throat tastes food.

16

Then he lays bare the human mind;

4

* Let us choose judgment for ourselves;

he frightened them with such scary

* let us know among ourselves what is good.]

apparitions,

5

because Job has said, 'I am righteous;

17

to turn a person from injustice,

the Lord dismissed my case and he saved his body from a fall.

6

and played false in my judgment,

18

And he has spared his soul from death

[6

* my arrow is violent, though I am without

and from his falling in battle.

injustice.

19

Then again, he reproved him with sickness

7

* What man is like Job,

upon his bed,

* drinking mockery like water.]

[19* and a great many of his bones grew stiff.]

8

seeing that I have not sinned or acted 20 and he shall not be able to take any edible impiously

bit of food

or shared a way with doers of lawless

[20 and his soul will long for food.*]

acts,

21

until his flesh rots
to walk with the impious.’
and he shows his bones to be bare.

9

For do not say, ‘There will be no visitation

22

Yes, his soul drew near to death, of a man’—
and his life was in Hades.

when there is visitation to him from the 23

If there be a thousand death-bearing angels,
Lord!

not one of them shall wound him;
if he purpose with his heart to turn to the 10

“Therefore, you intelligent of heart, hear me:

Lord

far be it from me to act impiously before and declare to a person his own fault

the Lord

and reveal his folly,

and before the Almighty, to pervert what 24 he will provide support so that he does not

is right.

fall into death

11

Rather, he repays a person according to what and renew his body like paint does a wall each of them does.

and fill his bones with marrow

[11

* and in a man's path he will find him.]

25 and will make his flesh soft like an infant's 12

Now, do you think the Lord will do what is and restore him full-grown among amiss?

people.

Or will the Almighty pervert justice,

26

And when he makes vows to the Lord, 13

he who created the earth?

they will also be acceptable to him,

And who is it that sustains what is under and he will enter with a pure look, with a heaven and all it contains?

declaration,

14

For if he should wish to confine and he will repay people with and to keep his spirit with himself, righteousness.

15

all flesh will die together,

27

After that, the same person will chastise and every mortal return to dust, whence himself, saying:

too he was formed.

'Given the kinds of things I was doing,
he has not even tried me commensurate 16

“But lest he rebuke you, hear these with my sin!

things;

[28 * deliver my soul so that it may not go to give ear to the sound of my words.

corruption,

17

Look then at him that hates lawless acts

* and my life shall see the light.

and destroys the wicked,

29

* Look, the Strong One works all these things, since he is forever just.

* three ways with a man.]

18

Impious is he who says to a king, ‘You are 30

Rather, he delivered my soul from death, acting lawlessly,’—

that my life may praise him in the [18* to rulers, 'O most impious'.]

light.'

19

he who felt no reticence before a person of 31

Give ear, O Iob, and keep hearing me."

worth

[31 * be quiet! and I am he that will do the talking.

nor knows how to accord honor to the 32

* If there are words, answer me;

prominent

al.e. the Lord bOm = Zi

job 34-36

691

so that their persons be respected.

Who are you that you said, 'I am in the 20

But crying out and begging, a man will right before the Lord?'

prove to be of no use to them,

3

Or will you say, 'What am I to do, if I for they used people lawlessly, sinned?'

when the powerless were being turned

4

I will give an answer to you,
aside.

as well as to your three friends.

5

Look up to the sky, and see,

21

“For he is one that views human deeds, and take a close look at the clouds, how and nothing of what they do has escaped high they are beyond you.

him,

6

If you sinned, what will you do?

22

nor will there be a place to hide for those
And if too you broke the law many times, that do lawless acts.

what can you do?

[23* because he will not put upon a man any

Now then, inasmuch as you are righteous, longer.]

what will you concede to him

23

For the Lord observes all people—

[7

* or what will he receive from your hand?

24

he who comprehends inscrutable things,

8

* Your impiety belongs to a man the likes of things both glorious and extraordinary,

you,

without number,

* and your righteousness to a son of man.

25

he who reveals their deeds

[25 * and he will turn night about, and theya will be

9

* Because of a multitude, the falsely accused will brought low.]

cry out;

26

and has extinguished the impious—

* they will call for help because of the arm of

yes, they were in plain view before him,

many.

27 because they turned aside from God's law

10

* And he did not say, 'Where is the God that and did not recognize his requirements.

made me'.]

[28 * to bring upon him the cry of the needy,

10

He it is that appoints the watches of the

* and he will listen to the cry of the poor.

night;

29

* And he will furnish quiet, and who can 11

he it is that sets me apart from earth's four-condemn?

footed animals

 And he will hide his face, and who can behold*

and from the birds of the air

him?

[*12 * there they will cry out, and he will not*

 Both against a nation and against a person* listen.]

together,

12

and from the insolence of the wicked.

30

 making king a person, a pretender,*

13

For the Lord does not wish to see

 due to the people's discontent.*

wrongs,

for he, the Almighty, is one that views

31

 Because he that is saying to the Strong One,* 14

those who perform lawless acts, and he will

* 'I have seized; I will not take a pledge;

save me!

32

* I will look apart from myself; do show me!

But submit to judgment before him,

* If I have practiced injustice, I will not add. '

if you can approve of him as he is."

33

* Will he exact it from you?

[15 * and now, because there is none that observes

* Because you will reject, because you will

his anger

choose, and not I,

 and he did not know very well by transgression*  and what you knew, speak.]*

16

 and Job opens his mouth vainly,*

 in ignorance he makes words weighty.]*

34

“So, the intelligent of heart will say these things,

Now Elious added still more and said:

and a wise man will have grasped what I

36 2”Wait for me a little longer so that I may said.

teach you,

35

But Job did not speak with intelligence, for there is still more speech in me.

and his words were without

3

Having fetched my knowledge from afar,
knowledge.

yes, in my efforts I will speak what is 36

Nonetheless, learn O Iob!

just,

No longer give a response as fools do,

4

in truth, and not unjust words;

37

lest we add to our sins

you understand wrongly!

and lawlessness be reckoned against us, while speaking many words before the 5

“But know that the Lord will not reject the Lord.”

innocent;

[5

* powerful in strength of heart,

6

Now Elious resumed and said:

* he will never make alive the impious

35 2"Whatishtisyouthoughttobein

* and will grant the judgment of the poor.

dispute?

7

* He will not remove his eyes from the righteous,

a he = Zi

692

job 36-37

* and with kings on the throne,

[26 * see, the Strong One is abundant, and we will

* and he will seat them in victory, and they will not know him;

be exalted.

* the number of his years is also boundless.]

8

 And if, having been bound with handcuffs,*

27

But to him raindrops are numbered,

 they will be held in the cords of poverty,*

[27 and they will be poured out by rain into a* 9

 then he will declare to them their works cloud.*

 and their transgressions, that they will* 28

 Things grown old will flow.]*

prevail.]

28 and clouds cast a shadow on untold 10

rather, he will listen to the righteous.

mortals.

[10 and he said that they should turn from*

He appointed a time for cattle,

injustice.

and they know their schedule for rest.

11

 If they hear and are subject,*

Is your mind not amazed at all these

 they will complete their days in good things*
things,

 and their years in splendor.]*

and does your heart not take leave of 12

But the impious he does not deliver,

your body?

because they do not wish to know the [*29 * even if he understands the spreading out of a*

Lord

cloud,

and because, when they were being

* the proportions of his tent,

admonished,

30

* look, he stretches out edoc against him

they were unreceptive.

* and has covered the root-masses of the sea,

[13* and hypocrites in heart will marshal wrath;

31

* for by them he will judge peoples;

* they will not shout, because he has bound

* he will give food to him that has strength.

them.]

32

* He has covered light on his hands

* and commanded concerning herd in one that 14

“Well then, may their soul die in youth, meets.

and their life, being wounded by 33

* He will report his friend concerning it;

messenger,

* there is acquisition too concerning injustice.

15 because they afflicted the weak and powerless,

* And at this my heart was troubled

but he will expose judgment against the 37 * and dropped from its place.

meek.

2

* Hear a report in the anger of the Lord's [16 * and besides, he enticed you out of the enemy's

wrath,

mouth,

* and a discourse will come out of his mouth.

* a deep, an affusion beneath it,

3

* Under all of heaven is his rule,

* and your table came down, full of fatness.]

* and his light is upon the wings of the earth.

4

* Behind him a voice will cry out;

17

“Yes, justice will not be wanting for those in

* he will thunder with a voice of his

the right,

insolence,

18

but wrath will fall on the impious

* and he will not exchange them, because he

on account of the impiety of gifts they will hear his voice.

would receive for injustices.

5

* The Strong One will thunder wondrous things

19

Let not your mind purposely turn you with his voice.]

aside

5

For he did great things that we did not from the petition of the powerless when
know,
they are in distress.

6

instructing the snow, 'Come upon the [19 * and all that strengthen might.
earth!'

20

* Do not draw out the night

[6

* eand winter, raine and winter of rains of his

* so that peoples may go up in place of them.]

dominance.

21

Rather, be careful that you do no wrongs;

7

 In the hand of every human he seals up.]*

[21

 for you chose for this one because of poverty.*

7

so that every human being may know his 22

 See, the Strong One will prevail by his* own weakness.

power.]

8

But the wild animals came in under 22

for who is a mighty one like him?

shelter

23

And who is it that examines his works, and were quiet upon their lair.

or who is it that states, 'He has done

9

From their chambers whirlwinds come,
injustice'?

and cold from the peaks.

[10 * and from the breath of the Strong One frost

24

"Remember that his works are great, will give.]

[24 * over which men ruled.

10

And he steers the water as he wishes—

25

* Every human saw in himself.]

[11

* and a cloud plasters over a choice

25 however many mortals are being

thing;

wounded.

* his light will scatter the cloud.

aOr angels bl.e. the Lord cHeb = his mist dAntecedent unclear eOm = Zi

job 37-38

693

12

* And he will twist round the discs

all my angels praised me with a loud

* by theebulathoa to their works—

voice.

* everything, whatsoever he command them.]

12 these things have been instructed by him on 8

“Again, I shut up the sea with gates,

the earth.

when it quivered with eagerness, as it

[13 * if for correction, if for his land, issued from its mother's womb,

* if for mercy, he will find him.]

9 and I made the cloud its clothing, and with mist I swaddled it;

14

"Give ear to these things, O Iob;

10

yes, I prescribed bounds for it, stand still, be warned of the Lord's setting bars and gates around it.

power.

11

And I said to it, 'Thus far you shall come, 15

We know that God ordained his works, and you shall not go beyond;

when he made light out of darkness.

rather, your waves shall be broken up 16

And he understands the division of the within you!

clouds

and the extraordinary falls of the 12

“Indeed, was it in your time that I instructed wicked.

the morning light

17

But your cloak is hot;

and that the morning star saw its post,

yet there is quiet on the earth.

13

to take hold of earth's wings,

[18 * solidifications are with him for things grown to shake the impious off it?

old,

14

Indeed, was it you that took clay soil and

* strong like an appearance of outpouring.]

formed a living creature,

19

Why? Teach me what we shall say to him, and, able to talk, set him on earth?

and let us cease talking so much.

15

Again, did you remove the light from the 20

Is book or scribe in attendance on me,

impious

that I stand and put a person to silence?

and crush the arm of the proud?

21

But the light is not visible to all,

[21 * radiant it is among things grown old.]

16

“And did you go to the source of the sea just as the light from him is upon the

and walk in the tracks of the deep?

clouds.

17

Again, do the gates of death open to you out 22

From the north are clouds shining like of fear,

gold;

and did the porters of Hades cower when on these is great the glory and honor of they saw you?

the Almighty.

18

Again, have you been advised of the breadth

23

And we do not find another like him in

of what is under heaven?

strength.

Do tell me how much it is.

As for him that judges rightly, do you not think he pays heed?

19

“As well, in what kind of land does the light

24

Therefore humans will fear him;

dwell,

yes, the wise in heart too will fear him.”

and of what kind is the place of

darkness?

Now after Elious stopped his speech, the 20

Might you perhaps lead me to their borders?

38 Lord said to Job through a whirlwind and

And perhaps too you know their paths?

clouds:

21

Thereby I know that you were born then,

2

“Who is this that hides counsel from me and the number of your years is great!

but confines words in his heart and thinks to hide them from me?

22

“And have you gone to the storehouses of 3

Gird up your loins like a man,

the snow,

and I will question you, but as for you,

and have you seen the storehouses of the just answer me!

hail?

23

But it is at your disposal for a time of 4

“Where were you when I was laying the

enemies,

earth’s foundation?

for a day of war and battle.

Now tell me, if you are endowed with 24

And from where does the hoarfrost come,

understanding.

or from where is the south wind

5

Who determined its measures, if you know?

dispersed to what is under heaven?

Or who was it that stretched a line upon

it?

25

“And who prepared a course for the driving

6

On what have its rings been fastened?

rain

And who is he that cast a cornerstone and a way for the tumults?

upon it?

[26 * to bring rain on land, where there is no

7

When the stars were born,

man,

aHeb = his guidance

694

job 38-39

* wilderness, where there is no human in it,

5

“And who is he that let the wild ass go

27

* to feed the untrodden and uninhabited

free,

* and to cause it to grow an effusion of

and its bonds—who loosed them?

greenery.]

6

Yes, I made its home the wilderness,

[6

 and its coverts are the salt land.]*

28

“Who is the rain’s father?

7

while it laughs to scorn the city’s crowds

And who is it that has given birth to the

and hears not the chiding of the tax-dew’s nuggets?

gatherer.

29

And from whose womb does the ice come

[8

 it will survey mountains as its pasture,* forth?

 and it searches after every green thing.]*

And who has given birth to freezing rain

in the sky

9

“And will the unicorn be willing to be your 30

that descends like flowing water?

slave

And who froze the face of the deep?

or to lie down at your manger?

10

And will you bind its yoke with straps,

31

“And did you understand the bond of or will it draw your furrows in the Pleiades,

plain?

and did you open the barrier of Orion?

11

Again, do you trust it, because its strength is [32

* truly, will you open Mazouroth in its season,

great,

* and the Evening Star with its luminous tail—

and will you discharge to it your work?

will you lead them.]

12

And will you believe that it will return your 33

And do you know heaven's changes seed to you

or the corresponding events under and bring it to your threshing floor?
heaven?

[13* the wing of those that take delight neelasaa,
* if it conceives asidab and nessac.

34

“And will you summon a cloud by voice,

14

* Because it will leave its eggs to the ground and will it obey you with a violent burst

* and warm them on the soil, of water?

15

* and it forgot that a foot will scatter them

35

And will you send out thunderbolts—and

* and that wild animals of the field will trample

will they go?

them.

And will they say to you, 'What is it?'

16

* It hardened its young so as not to be her

36

And who gave to women skill in weaving

own;

or knowledge of embroidery?

* in vain it labored without fear,

37

And who is he that numbers the clouds in 17

* because God caused wisdom to be silent to

wisdom

her

and inclined the sky to the earth?

* and did not give her a portion in 38

And dust has been poured out like soil,
understanding.

but I have cemented it, like a block to a 18

* At the right time it will lift up on high;

stone.

* it will laugh to scorn the horse and its rider.]

39

“And will you hunt prey for the lions

19

“Indeed, was it you that endowed the horse and satisfy the appetite of dragons?

with power

40

For they are in a state of fear in their lairs, and clothed its neck with terror?

and they crouch in the woods, lying in 20

And did you endow it with full armor wait.

and the majesty of its breast with 41

And who prepared food for the raven?
courage?

For its young have cried to the Lord 21

Pawing at the plain, it bears itself proudly, as they wander about, searching for and it goes forth into the plain in food.

strength.

22

Meeting up with an arrow, it laughs in scorn

[* if you knew the birthing season of the wild and will never turn back from a blade.

39 goatsoftherock.]

23

Upon it exult the bow and dagger,

1

24

“And did you protect the birth pangs of the

and in rage it will stamp out the ground deer?

and will not steady itself until the 2

And did you check off their months full of trumpet sounds.

pregnancy,

25

But when the trumpet sounds, it says,

and did you relieve their birth pangs?

'Good!'

3

And did you rear their young without fear?

and from afar it scents battle with leap

[3

* will you send away their birth pangs?

and cry.

4

* Their young will break forth;

* they will be multiplied with offspring;

26

"And is it by your understanding that the

* they will go forth and never return to them.]

hawk stops still,

aHeb = appears glad bHeb = stork cHeb = plumage

job 39-41

695 having spread its wings, motionless,

20

But when it went up on a steep mountain, eyeing what lies to the south?

it brought gladness to the quadrupeds in 27

And is it at your decree that the eagle rises

Tartarusa.

up

21

Under trees of every kind it lies down, and the vulture lodges, sitting on its
by the papyrus and reed and sedge.

brood?

22

And tall trees find themselves in its shade, [28 on the crag of a rock and in secret.*] with limbs, as do the chaste-tree's

29

From there it searches for food, branches.

[29 from afar its eyes watch keenly.*]

23

If there is a flood, it will never notice.

30

and its young are drenched in blood,

[23 it trusts that the Jordan will tumble into its*

and, wherever there are carcasses, at once
mouth.

they are found.”

24

* Will he catch it in his eye;

* while bent back, will he pierce its nose.]

40 [* and the Lord God answered Job and said:

2* “Will he turn away judgment with the 25(41.1)“And will you catch a dragon with a fish hook Sufficient One?

and put a halter around its nose?

* While reproving God will he answer it.]

[26 * if you will fasten a ring in its nostril.]

3

Now Job said in reply to the Lord:

26

And will you pierce its lip with a ring?

4

“Why do I yet contend—being rebuked even

27

And will it address you with a petition, while confuting the Lord,
with a supplication, softly?
hearing such things—when I am nothing?

28

And will it make a covenant with you,
And I, what answer shall I give to these and will you take it as your perpetual
things?
slave?

I will lay my hand on my mouth.

29

And will you play with it as with a bird,

5

I have spoken once, but I will not add to a or tie it up like a sparrow for a child?
second time.”

30

And do nations feed on it, and do the Phoenician races divvy it up?

6 Now yet again the Lord said in reply to Job

31

And a whole fleet, gathered, cannot carry from the mass of cloud:
the mere skin of its tail.

7

“No, but gird up your loins like a man, [31 * and its head in fishermen’s boats.]
and I will question you, but as for you,

32

But you will lay a hand on it,
just answer me!
though you remember the battle that is 8

Do not shrug off my judgment.
waging in its body,
And do you think I have dealt with you and let it happen no more!

in any other way

than that you might appear to be right?

(9)“Have you not seen it,

9

Do you have an arm like the Lord,

41 and have you not marveled at what is said?

or do you thunder with a voice like his?

2

Do you not fear because it has been prepared for me?

10

“Go ahead take on loftiness and power,

For who is it that withstands me?

and put on glory and honor.

3

Or who will withstand me and survive,

11

And send forth messengers in wrath

if the entire earth beneath the sky is and every insolent person humble.

mine?

12

Yes, extinguish the proud,

[4

* I will not be silent because of it, and at once make putrid the impious.

* and a word of power, it will show mercy to its 13

And hide them outside together in the earth, equal.]

and fill their faces with dishonor;

14

then I will acknowledge that your right

5

“Who will uncover the front of what it is hand can save.

wearing?

And who could enter the plate of its 15

“But look now, you are familiar with cuirass?

‘monsters’;

6

Who will open the gates of its face?

they eat grass like cows.

Fear is all around its teeth.

16

Look now, its strength is in its loins,

7

Its inwards are bronze shields, and its power in its belly’s navel.

and its ligament is like emery stone—

17

It stood up its tail like a cypress,

[8

* they cling, one to one.]

and its sinews have been interwoven.

8

and no puff of air will ever pass through 18

Its flanks are flanks of copper,

it!

and its spine is cast iron.

[9

* a man will cleave to his brother,

* they are bound and will never be drawn

19

“This is the chief of what the Lord created, apart.]

made to be mocked at by his angels.

10

Light shines forth at its sneezing, al.e. the nether world

696

job 41-42

and its eyes have the look of the morning

7 Now it happened, after the Lord spoke all star.

these words to Iob, that the Lord said to Eliphazb

11

From its mouth proceed flaming torches, the Thaimanite: "You have sinned, and your two and fiery braziers are being cast forth. friends, for you have spoken nothing true in my 12

From its nostrils proceeds smoke presence, as has my attendant Job. 8 Now then, take of a furnace burning with the fire of seven calves and seven rams, and go to my attendant coals.

Job, and he will make offerings for you, and Job, my 13

Its soul is coals,
attendant, will pray for you, [8* because only his face and a flame proceeds from its mouth.

will I accept.] for, if not for him, I would have de-14

And in its neck lodges power; destroyed you; for what you spoke against my atten-destruction runs before it.

Job is not true." 9 Then Eliphaz the Thaiman-15

And the flesh of its body cleaves together.

It went, and Baldad the Sauchite and Sophar the [15 * it will flow down on it; it will not be

Minite, and they did as the Lord instructed them,
shaken.]

and he absolved them of their sin on Job's account.

16

Its heart is solid like stone,

10 And the Lord gave Job increase, and when and it stands like an unyielding anvil.

he also prayed for the friends, he forgave them

17

And when it turns, fear takes hold of the their sin, and the Lord gave Job twice as much as quadrupeds jumping upon the

he had before so that he had double.
earth.

11 Now all his brothers and his sisters heard

18

If spears meet it, they will do nothing, about all that had happened to him, and they came [18 raised spear and breastplate.*] to him, and all, as many as had known him from the 19 for it regards iron as chaff first. Now when they ate and drank with him, they and bronze as rotten wood.

comforted him and wondered at all that the Lord 20

A bronze bow will never wound it;
had brought upon him, and each gave him a lamb it regards a catapult as grass and a four-drachma weight of gold bullion. 12Yes,

[21

* mallets were reckoned as stubble.]

the Lord blessed the last years of Job more than the 21

and laughs to scorn the waving of a ones before, and his livestock was: fourteen thousand firebrand.

sand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of 22

Its bed is sharp points, oxen, a thousand female donkeys at pasture. 13And and all the sea's gold under it is like there were born to him seven sons and three daughters, untold clay.

14and he called the first Day and the second

23

It makes the deep boil like a caldron

Cassia and the third Horn of Amaltheia. 15And there and regards the sea as a pot of ointment were not found women more excellent than Job's

24

and Tartarusa of the deep as a captive.

daughters beneath heaven, and their father gave

[*24 * it reckoned the deep for a promenade.*] them an inheritance along with their brothers.

25

There is nothing on earth like it,

16aNow Iob lived after his calamity one hundred and made to be mocked at by my angels.

seventy years, 16band all the years he lived were two 26

Everything high it sees, hundred and forty-eight years. [16 and Iob saw his*

and it is king over all that are in the *sons * and the sons of his sons, a fourth generation,*

waters.”

17 and Iob died, old and full of days.*] 17aaAnd it is written that he will rise again with those the Lord

Now Iob said in reply to the Lord:

raises up. 17baThis man is interpreted from the Syri-

42 2 "I know that you can do anything, as if you were living in the land of Assur, on the borders of Idumea and Arabia, and previously his name was Jobab; 17 can now he took an Arabian wife and fa-

3

and being sparing with words thinks to

there had a son, whose name was Ennon, and he in hide them from you as well?

turn had as father Zare, a son of the sons of Esau, and

But who will tell me what I did not know, as mother Bosorra, so that he was the fifth from great and marvelous things that I did not

Abraam. 17 da And these are the kings who reigned in

understand?

Edom, which country he too ruled: first Balak the 4

Now hear me, Lord, that I too may speak;

son of Beor, and the name of his city was Dennaba, then I will question you, and you, teach and after Balak, Iobab, who is called Iob, and after

me!

him Hasom, who was a leader from the Thaimanite 5

Whereas before I would hear an aural report country, and after him Hadad son of Barad, who cut
of you,

down Madiam in the plain of Moab, and the name now, however, my eye has seen you;

of his city was Geththaim. 17eaNow the friends who 6 therefore I disparaged myself and wasted came to him were: Eliphazb, of the sons of Esau, king

away,

of the Thaimanites, Baldad, the tyrant of the
and I regard myself as dust and ashes.”

Sauchites, Sophar, the king of the Minites.

al.e. the nether world b Eliphaz = Zi

WISDOM OF SALOMON

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of the Wisdom of Salomon (WisSal) is based on the edition of Joseph Ziegler, Sapientia Salomonis (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum XII.1, 2 [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1962 (durchgesehene Auflage, 1962)]). This fully-fledged critical edition is based primarily on the evidence of the major Greek witnesses, Codex Vaticanus (B) and Codex Sinaiticus (S), which Ziegler believed to be related, and Codex Alexandrinus (A), but it also draws on the evidence of all the other Greek witnesses and of the versions, particularly the Old Latin. This (the Old Latin) dates from the second half of the second century and is of particular importance because it is based on Greek manuscripts earlier than any still extant. In addition to Ziegler's edition, I have consulted the manual edition of the Septuagint edited by Alfred Rahlfs (Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes, 2 vols. [Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935]), which was used as the basis of the NRSV of the Wisdom of Salomon (Solomon).

I have diverged from the critical text established by Ziegler in only six cases. In two of these, Ziegler adopted into his text readings based on the evidence of the Old Latin: in 2.9 I read h9mw~n, which is attested by most of the Greek witnesses, and not leimw&n (= pratum of the Old Latin), and in 18.23 I read th\n o0rgh/n, attested by all the Greek witnesses, and not th\n o9rmh/n (= Old Latin impetum). In 12.5 I follow an old conjecture and read fona/j in place of fone/aj. In 7.1 I read qnhto/j with B*-S, not qnhto\j a1nqrwpoj, and in 15.14 I read oi9 katadunasteu/santej, which is attested by many Greek manuscripts and seems to be required by the sense, not katadunasteu/santej. Finally, in 15.17 I read αὐτῶν with S and other Greek witnesses, not αὐτῶν. In all six cases the reading I have adopted corresponds to that followed by the NRSV.

CHARACTER OF THE GREEK

There is widespread recognition that the WisSal was composed in Greek, and the few suggestions that have been made for composition in Hebrew or Aramaic and for translation into Greek have found little support. The book is an example of a protreptic work (protreptiko\j lo/goj), an exhortation to adopt a particular philosophy, and it deploys literary genres familiar from Hellenistic rhetorical texts including the diatribe (1.1-6.11 + 6.17-20; 11.15-15.19), the “problem” genre (6.12-16 + 6.21-10.21), and the comparison (su/gkrisij, 11.1-14 + 16.1-19.22). Correspondingly, as Reese in his important study of the literary style and vocabulary of WisSal has shown,¹ the book is written in a good Greek style and shows none of the characteristics of translation Greek. The author does adapt his style to the point that he makes use of parallelismus membrorum, which is a characteristic feature of Hebrew verse, but he also employs “the features of florid Greek rhetorical prose.”² The author uses a full range of Hellenistic stylistic devices, and this is evident particularly in his very frequent use of hyperbaton, both hyperbaton involving the separation of the article from its substantive and hyperbaton not linked to an article. A common type of the latter in Wisdom is the placing of a verb form between a noun and its modifier, e.g., parou=sa/n te mimou=ntai au0th/n (4.2).³

The very frequent use of hyperbaton is obvious on even a casual reading of the Greek of the WisSal.

But the rhetorical character of the Greek is likewise evident in the frequent occurrence of different types of wordplay, such as assonance and alliteration.⁴ The author also employs various figures of speech that are typical of Hellenistic Greek, of which the sorites of 6.17-20 is merely the best known example.

1 J. M. Reese, Hellenistic Influence on the Book of Wisdom and its Consequences (Analecta Biblica 41; Rome: Biblical Institute Press, 1970) 3-31. The comments in the present section are heavily indebted to the treatment of the subject by Reese.

2 Reese, Hellenistic Influence, 25-26.

3 Reese, Hellenistic Influence, 26-27.

4 Reese, Hellenistic Influence, 27-28.

698

to the reader of wisdom of salomon

The vocabulary of the WisSal is quite distinctive within the context of the Septuagint and reflects the Hellenistic milieu in which the book was composed, as Reese has demonstrated.⁵ On the one hand, the author uses a number of words familiar from the Septuagint but with their normal meaning in Greek.

For example, the word ἀνάγκη/ἄνη occurs in 17.17 and 19.4 in the sense familiar from Greek of “necessity, fate,” but when it is used in the Septuagint in books translated from Hebrew, it always has the meaning

“distress, anguish” (e.g., Ps 106[107].6). On the other hand, the author uses 335 words (out of a total vocabulary of 1734 different words) that do not occur in any other canonical book of the Septuagint, and Reese has shown that many of these are characteristic of Hellenistic religious, philosophical, ethical, and psychological vocabulary. The use of Hellenistic religious vocabulary in the WisSal is pervasive and includes such words⁶ as apau/gasma (“reflection,” 7.26) and pa/redroj (“sitting by,” hence “throne-partner,” 9.4, cf. 6.14), both used to describe wisdom, or anw&numa (“nameless,” 14.27) and ayuxoj (“lifeless,” 13.17; 14.29), both used in the description of idols, or stefanhforou=sa (“wearing a crown,” 4.2), used of the virtuous but childless believer. The use of Hellenistic philosophical vocabulary within the WisSal is illustrated by some of the terms applied to wisdom in 7.22–24, such as akw&lutoj (“unhindered”) and eu0ergetiko/j (“beneficent”), or by the words that describe Salomon’s relationship with wisdom, nu/mfh (“bride,” 8.2) and e0rasth/j (“enamored,” 8.2), which are not used in a metaphorical sense in the Septuagint. Examples of Hellenistic ethical vocabulary are to be found in the terms used for virtues and vices in WisSal, such as anecikaki/a (“longsuffering, forbearance,” 2.19) or e0piorki/a (“perjury,” 14.25, one of a whole list of vices in 14.25–26), and examples of psychological vocabulary are to be found in the terms used to describe the fear that gripped the lawless Egyptians (17.3–19), such as i0nda/lmata7 (“apparitions,” 17.3) or dei/mata (“terrors,” 17.8), or in such terms as apo/tomoj (“stern, severe,” 5.20; 6.5; 11.10; 12.9; 18.15).

Finally it may be observed that the author quotes from the Septuagint in a number of places (cf. e.g., 2.12 and Esa 3.10; 11.22 and Esa 40.15; 16.22 and Ex 9.24).

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF THE WISDOM OF SALOMON

The translation for NETS of a book composed in Greek is manifestly a different kind of enterprise from the translation of a book composed in Hebrew and translated into Greek. The NRSV already provides a translation of the Greek text of WisSal and is based on a Greek text that differs to only a limited extent from the one used for the present translation. That there should, nonetheless, be a need for a NETS translation of WisSal different from that of the NRSV derives from the different aims of the two translations and from the different needs of the audiences at which they are directed. Thus whereas the NRSV “is intended for use in public reading and congregational worship, as well as in private study, instruction, and meditation,”⁸ NETS “is aimed primarily at . . . a biblically well-educated audience”⁹ and is intended in the first instance as an aid to scholarly study. With this in mind, I have tried to keep to the following principles for the translation of WisSal for NETS: (1) the general principle “as literal as possible, as free as necessary;” (2) consistency in English translation equivalents so far as is compatible with the meaning of the sentence being translated; (3) in the light of these two principles, the NRSV as the default translation.

In addition, my aim has been to provide as clear a translation as possible and to err on the side of literalness, rather than to try to reproduce in English the rhetorical character of the Greek.

With regard to details, I have used gender-inclusive language except in passages where the cultural context seemed to require otherwise (e.g., 14.1, 8). In most such passages, the NRSV gives a similar translation but not in the case of the passage concerning the potter (15.7–13). I have usually translated ἀνθρώπου by “human being” or “mortal,” occasionally by other words, and have only translated it by “man” in the one passage (9.5) where the context required it.

EDITORIAL DETAIL

The chapter and verse divisions follow those given by Ziegler in the Göttingen edition of WisSal and correspond almost without exception to those given in the NRSV. But in one or two cases (e.g., 4.14-15) there are minor differences from the NRSV affecting the verse division.

5 The examples that follow are taken from Reese, Hellenistic Influence, 3-25.

6 Except where otherwise indicated, none of the following words occurs elsewhere in the Septuagint.

7 iōnda/lmata also occurs in Ier 27(50).39 with the meaning “phantoms.”

8 See the preface in the NRSV by B. M. Metzger addressed “To the Reader.”

9 See the preface by A. Pietersma and B. Wright addressed “To the Reader of NETS” in A. Pietersma, A New English Translation of the Septuagint: The Psalms (New York and Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2000) viii.

wisdom of salomon 1-2

699

The division of the text into paragraphs also follows Ziegler’s edition of WisSal, but differs in some respects from the arrangement of the text in the NRSV. However, I have not felt it necessary in all cases to follow Ziegler’s punctuation of the Greek text.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

In addition to the NRSV and to standard grammars, lexica and concordances, I have consulted the translations by David Winston (The Wisdom of Solomon [AB 43; Garden City, New York: Doubleday, 1979]) and by S. Holmes ("The Wisdom of Solomon," in Charles I.518-568). I have also found it helpful on occasions to consult the Revised Version (the revision of the Apocrypha appeared in 1895) and the German translation by Johannes Fichtner (Weisheit Salomos [Handbuch zum Alten Testament: II.6; Tübingen J. C.

B. Mohr Paul Siebeck, 1938]), which includes some brief notes on the Greek text.

MICHAEL A. KNIBB

1 Loverighteousness,youwhojudgetheearth;

because no word uttered in secret will go think about the Lord in goodness, without effect,

and seek him with sincerity of heart;

and a mouth uttering falsehood destroys the 2 because he is found by those who do not

soul.

test him,

he reveals himself to those who do not 12

Do not zealously seek death by the error of distrust him.

your life

3

For crooked thoughts separate from God, or bring destruction on yourselves by the
and his power, when it is tested, convicts the deeds of your hands,
foolish,

13

because God did not make death

4

because wisdom will not enter a soul that nor does he delight in the destruction of the plots evil

living.

or reside in a body involved in sin.

14

For he created all things that they might 5

For a holy and disciplined spirit will flee exist,

from deceit

and the generative forces of the world are and depart from senseless thoughts wholesome,

and be ashamed when unrighteousness and there is no destructive poison in them, approaches.

nor is the kingdom of Hades on earth.

15

For righteousness is immortal.

6

For wisdom is a kindly spirit, but it will not hold blasphemers free of the 16

But the impious by their deeds and words guilt of their words,

summoned it;

because God is a witness of their inner considering it to be a friend, they wasted feelings

away

and a true overseer of their hearts and a

and made a covenant with it, hearer of their tongues.

because they are worthy to belong to its 7

Because the spirit of the Lord fills the party.

world

and that which holds all things together has knowledge of what is said,

2 For they did not reason rightly and said among themselves:

8

therefore those who utter unrighteous things

"Short and sorrowful is our life, will not escape detection, and there is no remedy when a human and justice, when it convicts, will not pass being died,

them by.

and no one is known who has returned 9

For there will be an inquiry into the

from Hades.

intrigues of the impious,

2

Because we came into being by chance and a report of their words will come to the and hereafter we shall be as though we had never existed,

Lord

to convict them of their lawless deeds,

because the breath in our nostrils is smoke

10

because a zealous ear hears all things and reason is a spark within the beating of

and the noise of grumbling is not hidden.

our hearts,

11

Beware then unprofitable grumbling,

3

when it is extinguished, the body will turn and keep your tongue from slander, to ashes,

aLacking in Gk bOr palace cI.e. death dOr at the end of a human being eOr been set free fOr were born

700

WISDOM OF SALOMON 2-3

and the spirit will be dispersed as thin air.

20

Let us condemn him to a shameful death,

4

And our name will be forgotten in time, for, according to his words, he will be

and no one will remember our deeds;

watched over."

our life will pass away as the traces of a cloud

21

Thus they reasoned, but they were led astray,

and will be scattered as mist

for their wickedness blinded them, that is chased by the rays of the sun

22 and they did not know divine mysteries and weighed down by its heat.

nor hoped for the wages of holiness

5

For our allotted time is the passing of a nor recognized the reward for blameless

shadow,

souls.

and there is no putting back of our death,

23

Because God created human beings for

because it has been sealed and no one turns incorruption

itb back.

and made them the image of his own nature,

6

“Come, therefore, let us enjoy the good

24

but through the envy of the devil death

things that exist,

entered the world,

and let us make good use of the creation as

and those who belong to his party in youth;

experience it.

7

let us take our fill of costly wine and perfumes,

But the souls of the righteous are in the hand and let no flower of spring pass us by.

3

of God,

8

Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds before and no torment will ever touch them.

they are withered.

2

In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to 9

Let none of us be without share in our have died,

revelry;

and their departure was considered to be everywhere let us leave signs of enjoyment, suffering,

because this is our portion and this our lot.

3

and their going from us to be destruction, 10

Let us oppress the righteous poor man;

but they are at peace.

let us not spare the widow

4

For even if in the sight of human beings nor have any regard for the hairs, gray with they were punished,
long years, of the old man.

their hope is full of immortality,

11

But let our strength be the standard of what 5 and having been disciplined a little, they righteousness is,

will be greatly benefited,
for what is weak is proved to be useless.

because God tested them and found them worthy of himself;

12

“Let us lie in wait for the righteous man,

6

as gold in the furnace, he tested them, because he is inconvenient to us, and as a sacrificial whole burnt offering, he and he opposes our actions accepted them.

and reproaches us for sins against the law

7

And in the time of their visitation they will

and ascribes to us sins against our training.

shine out,

13

He professes to have divine knowledge and as sparks through the stubble, they will and calls himself a child of the Lord;

run about.

14

he has become a reproof to us of our 8

They will judge nations and rule over thoughts;

peoples,

(15) he is a burden to us even to see,

and the Lord will be king over them for ever.

15

because his life is unlike that of others

9

Those who trust in him will understand and his behavior is different.

truth,

16

We are considered by him to be base, and the faithful will remain with him in and he keeps distant from our ways as from love,
uncleanness.

because grace and mercy are upon his holy
He calls the last end of the righteous happy
ones,

and boasts that God is his father.

and he watches over his chosen ones.

17

Let us see if his words are true, and let us test what will happen at the end 10

But the impious will receive punishment in
of his life;

accordance with the way they 18 for if the righteous man is a divine son, he reasoned,

will help him

those who neglected the righteous person and will rescue him from the hand of those and revolted from the Lord—who oppose him.

11 for the one who disdains wisdom and 19

Let us afflict him with insult and torture, instruction is wretched—that we may learn how reasonable he is and their hope is vain, and their labors are and may put his forbearance to the test.

unprofitable,

aOr end bLacking in Gk c meadow = Zi dOr servant eOr test

WISDOM OF SALOMON 4-5

701 and their deeds useless;

8

For an honored old age does not consist in 12 their wives are foolish, and their children

length of time,

evil;

nor is it measured by number of years,

(13) their offspring accursed.

9

but understanding is gray hair for human 13

Because blessed is the barren woman who is

beings,

undefiled,

and a spotless life is ripe old age.

she who has not known a intercourse that involved transgression,

10

One who became well-pleasing to God was for she will have fruit at the visitation of beloved,

souls.

and, while living amongst sinners, was 14

And blessed isb the eunuch who has done taken;

no lawless deed with his hands

11

he was seized in order that wickedness nor thought evil things against the Lord, should not affect his understanding for special favor will be given him for his or guile deceive his soul.

faithfulness,

12

For the fascination of wickednessg obscures and a very delightful lot in the shrine of the
the things that are good,

Lord.

and roving desire undermines an innocent

15

For the fruit of good labors is renowned,
mind.

and the root of understanding does not fail.

13

But being perfected in a short time, he 16

But the children of adulterers will not reach fulfilled long years;

maturity,

14

for his soul was pleasing to the Lord, and the offspring of unlawful intercourse therefore he hastenedh from the midst of will perish.

evil.

17

Even if they live long, they will be held of (15) But the peoples saw and did not understand no account,
nor take such a thing to heart, and finally their old age will be without 15

[that grace and mercy are upon his chosen honor;

ones

18

if they die early, they will have no hope and he watches over his holy ones.]

nor comfort on the day of decision,

19 for the end of an unrighteous generation is 16

But the righteous who are dead will grievous.

condemn the impious who are

living,

Better is childlessness with virtue, and youth that is quickly made perfect, the 4 forinthememoryofitdisimmortality, prolonged old age of the because it is recognized both by God and by unrighteous,

human beings.

17

for they will see the end of the wise

2

When it is present, they imitate it, and will not understand what the Lord and they long for it when it has gone,

planned for them

and through all time it marches wearing the

and for what he kept them safe.

crown,

18

They will see and will be contemptuous, having won the victory in the contest for the

but the Lord will laugh them to scorn.

prizes that are undefiled.

19

And after this they will become dishonored

3

But the prolific brood of the impious will be corpses

of no use,

and an object of outrage amongst the dead and illegitimate seedlings from them will

for ever,

not strike deep root

(19) because he will dash them speechless to the

or take firm hold;

ground

4

for even if for a time they sprout and and shake them from the foundations, produce branches,
and they will be left utterly dry and barren growing unstable, they will be shaken by the
and will be in anguish,
wind,
and the memory of them will perish.
and by the force of the winds uprooted.

5

The branches will be broken off before they 20

And they will come with dread at the come to maturity,
reckoning of their sins,
and their fruit will be useless, and their lawless deeds will convict them to too unripe to eat and fit for nothing.

their face.

6

For children born of unlawful intercourse are witness of evil against their parents

Then the righteous will stand with great confidence when they are examined.

5 confidence

7

But the righteous, even if they die in the presence of those who have afflicted prematurely, will be at rest.

them

aOr had bLacking in Gk cOr shown dl.e. virtue eOr with fOr at their examination gOr worthlessness hOr hastened him iOr death

702

WISDOM OF SALOMON 5-6

and those who make light of their labors.

and the care of them with the Most High.

2

When they see them, they will be troubled

16

Therefore they will receive a glorious crown with terrible fear

and a beautiful diadem from the hand of

and will be amazed at the unexpected

the Lord,

salvation of the righteous.

because with his right hand he will protect

3

Repenting, they will say amongst

them

themselves

and with his arm he will shield them.

(and through distress of spirit will groan):

17

He will take his zeal as his whole armor

4

"These are they whom we once held in and make creation his weapons efor derision

vengeance one hisa enemies;

and as a byword of reproach—we fools!

18

he will put on righteousness as a

We thought their life to be folly breastplate

and their end to be without honor.

and wear impartial justice as a helmet;

5

How have they been counted amongst 19

he will take holiness as an invincible shield

divine sons,

20

and will sharpen stern anger for a sword, and how is their lot amongst the holy and creation will fight with him against

ones?

those without sense.

6

Surely we strayed from the way of truth,

21

Well-aimed shafts of lightning will fly out and the light of righteousness did not shine and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn

on us,
bow, will leap to the target,
and the sun did not rise on us.

22

and hailstones full of wrath will be hurled 7

We were entangled in the thorns of
as from a catapult;

lawlessness and destruction

the water of the sea will rage against them, and journeyed through trackless wastes,

and rivers will overwhelm them relentlessly;

but the way of the Lord we did not know.

23

a mighty wind will rise against them

8

What has our arrogance profited us?

and like a hurricane will winnow them

And what good has our boasted wealth

away.

brought us?

And lawlessness will make the whole earth a desert,

9

“All those things have passed away like a and evil-doing will overturn the thrones of

shadow

rulers.

and like a rumor that runs by,

10

like a ship that passes through the billowy

Hear therefore, you kings, and understand;

water,

6 learn, you judges of the ends of the earth;

of which, when it is has gone by, no trace

2

give ear, you that have dominion over

can be found,

multitudes

no track of its keel in the billows, and boast of many nations,

11

or, as when a bird flies through the air,

3

because your dominion was given you from

no evidence of its passage is found,

the Lord

but the light air, lashed by the beat of its
and your dominance from the Most High.

pinions

He will examine your deeds and inquire and pierced by its violent rush, into your counsels,

is traversed cby the movement of its wingsc,

4

because, being servants of his kingdom, you and afterwards no sign of its coming is did not judge rightly

found there,

or keep the law

12

or as, when an arrow is shot at a target,

or walk according to the counsel of God.

the air, thus cut through, immediately

5

Terribly and swiftly he will come upon comes together

you,

so that no one knows its pathway,

because a severe judgment falls on those in 13 so we, as soon as we were born, ceased to be,

high places.

and we had no sign of virtue to show

6

For the least may be pardoned in mercy,

but were consumed in our wickedness."

but the mighty will be mightily tested, 14

Because the hope of the impious is as dust

7 for the Sovereign Lord of all will not give that is carried by the wind way to anyone

and as light frost that is driven away by a or have regard for greatness, hurricane,

because he himself made small and great and it is scattered like smoke by the wind and takes thought for all alike, and passes like the remembrance of a guest

8 but a strict inquiry awaits the powerful.

who stays for only one day.

9

To you therefore, you princes, my words are addressed,

15

But the righteous live for ever,

that you may learn wisdom and not fall into and in the Lord is their reward, error.

aLacking in Gk bOr death cOr as its wings move dOr chaff or thistledown eOr to repel fOr will come upon

WISDOM OF SALOMON 6-7

703

10

For those who have observed holy things in and in the womb of a mother I was molded holiness will be made holy,
into flesh,

and those who have been taught them will 2 within the period of ten months being find a defense.

compacted of blood,

11

Set your desire therefore on my words; from the seed of man and the pleasure that long for them, and you will be instructed.
accompanies intercourse.

3

And I myself, when I was born, drew in the 12

Wisdom is radiant and unfading

common air

and is easily discerned by those who love and fell upon the kindred earth,

her

with the same first sound crying like and found by those who seek her;

everyone.

13

she anticipates those who set their desire on 4

In swaddling clothes I was nursed, and with her to make herself known in care.

advance.

5

For no king has had a different beginning of 14

Those who rise early for her will not have to existence,

labor,

6

but there is for all one entrance into life and for they will find her sitting at their gates.

the same way out.

15

For to fix one's thought on her is perfect

7

Therefore I prayed, and understanding was
understanding,

given to me;

and those who lie awake on her account

I called on God, and a spirit of wisdom will quickly be free from care, came to me.

16

because she goes about seeking those 8

I preferred her to scepters and thrones, worthy of her and wealth I considered nothing in and graciously appears to them in their comparison with her.

paths

9

Neither did I compare any priceless gem to and meets them in every thought.

her,

because all gold in her sight is a little sand, 17

For aher true beginning is the desire for and silver will be counted as clay before her.

instructiona,

10

I loved her more than health and beauty

18 and concern for instruction is love bof herb,

and chose to have her rather than light,

(18) and love bof herb is keeping her laws,

because the radiance from her never rests.

and paying attention to herb laws is 11

But all good things came to me together confirmation of incorruption, with her

19

and incorruption brings one near to God;
and in her hands uncounted wealth.

20

so the desire for wisdom leads to a 12

I rejoiced in them all because wisdom leads kingdom.

them,

but I did not know that she was their 21

If therefore you take delight in thrones and
mother.

scepters, you princes of peoples,

13

I learned without guile, and I impart honor wisdom that you may reign for ever.
without grudging;

22

What wisdom is and how she came into

I do not hide her wealth, being I will declare,

14

for it is an unfailing treasure for human and I will hide no mysteries from you,

beings;

but I will trace her out from her first those who get it obtain friendship with beginningc

God,

and bring knowledge of her into the open, commended for the gifts that come from and I shall not pass by the truth.

instruction.

23

Nor indeed will I travel in the company of consumptive envy,

15

May God grant to me to speak with because this can have no fellowship with judgment

wisdom.

and to think thoughts worthy of what has 24

A multitude of wise people is the salvation

been given bto meb,

of the world,

because he himself is the guide even of

and a sensible king is the stability of a

wisdom

people.

and the corrector of the wise.

25

Therefore be instructed by my words, and 16

For both we and our words are in his hand, you will profit.

both all understanding and skill in crafts.

17

For he himself gave me an unerring
I myself also am mortald like everyone, knowledge of the things that exist, and a descendant of the first-formed 7

to know the constitution of the world and individual born on earth, the activity of the elements,

aOr her beginning is the true desire for instruction bLacking in Gk cOr from the beginning of creation d a mortal man =

Zi

704

WISDOM OF SALOMON 7-8

18

the beginning and end and middle of times, and I became enamored of her beauty.

the alterations of the solstices and the 3

She glorifies her noble birth by having a changes of the seasons, shared life with God,

19

the cycles of the year and the constellations and the Sovereign Lord of all loves her,

of the stars,

4

for she is an initiate in the knowledge of 20

the natures of animals and the tempers of

God

wild animals,

and chooses his works.

the violent forces of spiritsa and the 5

If riches are a desirable possession in life,

thoughts of human beings,

what is richer than wisdom which makes all the varieties of plants and the powers of

things?

roots,

6

And if understanding is productive,

21

and all things, both what is secret and what who more than she is the fashioner of the

is manifest, I learned,

things that exist?

22

for she that is the fashioner of all things

7

And if anyone loves righteousness, taught me, namely wisdom.

the fruits of her labors are virtues, for she teaches self-control and

For there is in her a spirit that is intelligent,

understanding,

holy,

righteousness and courage;

unique, of many parts, subtle, nothing is more useful in life than these for free-moving, lucid, unpolluted,

human beings.

distinct, invulnerable, loving the good,

8

And if anyone longs for wide experience, sharp,

she knows the things of old and infers the 23 unhindered, beneficent, loving towards things to come;

humanity,
she understands the subtleties of speech and firm, unfailing, free from care,
the solutions of riddles;
all-powerful, all-surveying she has foreknowledge of signs and wonders and penetrating all spirits and the outcomes of seasons and times.

that are intelligent, pure, most subtle.

9

I determined then to take her to live with 24

For wisdom moves more freely than any

me,

movement;

knowing that she would be a good she pervades and penetrates all things counselor for me

because of her pureness.

and a comfort in cares and grief.

25

For she is a breath of the power of God 10

Because of her, I will have glory among the

and an emanation of the pure glory of the multitudes

Almighty;

and honor in the presence of elders, therefore nothing defiled gains entrance into although I am young.

her.

11

I will be found quick in judgment

26

For she is a reflection of eternal light and in the sight of rulers will be admired.

and a spotless mirror of the activity of God 12

When I am silent, they will wait, and an image of his goodness.

and when I speak, they will pay attention,

27

Although she is one, she can do all things, and if I talk at greater length, and while remaining in herself, she renews

they will place a hand on their mouth.

all things,

13

Because of her, I will have immortality and in every generation she passes into holy and will leave behind an everlasting

souls

memorial for those who come after and makes them friends of God and
me.

prophets;

14

I will govern peoples,

28

for God loves nothing except the person and nations will be subject to me;
who lives with wisdom,

15

dread princes will fear me when they hear 29

for she is more beautiful than the sun of me;

and above every constellation of stars.

among the multitude I will show myself

Compared with the light, she is found to be noble, and in war courageous.

more radiant;

16

When I enter my house, I will find rest with 30 for this is succeeded by the night,

her;

but against wisdom wickedness does not for companionship with her has no prevail.

bitterness,

and living with her no grief, rather gladness

She reaches with might from one end of the and joy.

worldb to the other

17

When I considered these things in myself

8 andordersallthingswell.

and pondered in my heart

2

Her I loved and sought out from my youth, that in kinship with wisdom is immortality and I sought to take her as my bride, 18

and in friendship with her pure delight

aOr winds bLacking in Gk

WISDOM OF SALOMON 8-10

705

and in the labors of her hands unailing

and that I may learn what is well-pleasing wealth

before you,

and in training in intimate companionship 11

for she knows all things and understands with her understanding

them

and great renown in conversing with her,

and will guide me prudently in my actions

I went about seeking how I might take her and guard me with her glory.

to myself.

12

Then my deeds will be acceptable,

19

I was a naturally clever child, and I will judge your people justly and I obtained a good soul as my lot, and be worthy of the throne of my father.

20 or rather, being good, I entered an undefiled

13

For what human being can learn divine

body.

counsel?

21

But knowing that I would not otherwise
Or who can conceive what the Lord wills? gain possession of herb unless God

14

For the thoughts of mortals are worthless, gave herb to me—
and our inventions liable to fail.
and it was a mark of understanding to know 15

For a corruptible body burdens the soul, in whose gift it was—
and the earthly tent weighs down a mind I made supplication to the Lord and full of cares.
besought him,

16

With difficulty we make inferences about and with my whole heart I said, what is on earth,

and what is at hand we find with labor, but who has traced out what is in the 9 “God of the fathers and Lord of mercy, who made all things by your word heavens?

2

and by your wisdom formed human 17

Who has learned your counsel

beings

unless you gave wisdom to rule over the creatures that were made by and sent your holy spirit from on high?

you

18

And thus the ways of those on earth were set 3

and to manage the world in holiness and
right,

righteousness

and human beings were taught what is

and to pronounce judgment in uprightness pleasing to you

of soul,
and were saved by wisdom.”

4

give me wisdom that sits by you on your throne,

and do not reject me from amongst your

10 She carefully guarded the first-formed father of the world, when he alone

children,

was created,

5

because I am your servant and the son of

and delivered him from his own your handmaid,

transgression;

a weak and short-lived man,

2

she gave him strength to rule over all things.

with limited understanding of judgment

3

But when an unrighteous man departed and laws;

from her in his anger,

6

for even if someone is perfect amongst he perished through his fratricidal rage.

human beings,

4

When because of him the earth was flooded,

if the wisdom that comes from you is wisdom again saved it,

absent, they will be considered to piloting the righteous man by a worthless be nothing.

piece of wood.

7

You preferred me as king of your people and judge of your sons and daughters;

5

She also, when nations, collaborating 8

you said that I should build a shrine on together in wickedness, were put to your holy mountain,

confusion,

an altar in the city of your encamping, recognized the righteous man and preserved

a copy of the holy tent that you prepared him blameless with God beforehand from the beginning.

and kept him strong in the face of 9

With you is wisdom, which knows your compassion for his child.

works

and was present when you made the world

6

She rescued a righteous man, when the

and understands what is pleasing in your impious were perishing,

eyes

as he fled from the fire descending on the

and what is right according to your Five Cities.

commandments.

7

As testimony of their evil

10

Send her out from the holy heavens, a smoking waste still remains,
and from your glorious throne send her,
and plants bearing fruit that does not ripen, that, being present with me, she may labor and a stele of salt standing as a monument bwith meb

to an unbelieving soul.

aOr sharing her words bLacking in Gk cOr servants dOr thoughts eOr before it is ripe

706

WISDOM OF SALOMON 10-11

8

For, having passed wisdom by,

and praised with one accord your hand that they not only were hindered from vindicated them,

recognizing the things that are 21 because wisdom opened the mouth of the

good,

dumb

but also left behind for human life a and made the tongues of infants articulate.

reminder of their folly

in order that in the things in which they failed they would not be able to 11 She prospered their actions by the hand of a holy prophet.

escape detection.

2

They journeyed through an uninhabited

wilderness

9

But wisdom rescued from troubles those
and in trackless places pitched their tents;
who served her.

3

they withstood their adversaries and 10

When a righteous man fled from his defended themselves against their brother's anger,

enemies.

she guided him on straight paths;

4

They thirsted and called upon you, she showed him a divine kingdom and water was given them out of flinty rock, and gave him knowledge of holy things;
and a remedy for their thirst out of hard she prospered him in his toils
stone.

and increased the fruits of his labor.

5

For through the very things by which their 11

When in their greed men were trying to enemies were punished, prevail over him,

they themselves were benefited in their she stood by him and made him rich;
need.

12

she carefully guarded him from his enemies,

6

Instead of the perennial spring of a river, and from those who lay in wait for him she stirred up with defiled blood kept him safe;

7

in rebuke for the decree to kill the infants, and in his arduous contest she decided in you unexpectedly gave them abundant water, his favor,

8

having shown by their thirst at that time that he might learn that piety is more how you punished their opponents.

powerful than everything.

9

For when they were tested, although they were being disciplined in mercy,

13

She did not abandon a righteous man who they learned how the impious, being judged had been sold

in anger, were tormented.

but rescued him from sin;

10

For these you put to the test like a father

14

she went down with him into the dungeon,

giving a warning,

(14) and when he was in chains, she did not but the others you examined like a stern leave him

king passing sentence.

until she had brought him the scepter of a 11

Whether far away or near, they were alike

kingdom

distressed,

and authority over those who ruled over 12

for a double grief took hold of them,

him.

and a groaning at the memory of what had

Those who had found fault with him she occurred.

showed to be false

13

For when they heard that through their own and gave him everlasting glory.

punishments

the others were being benefited, they took 15

A holy people and a blameless race notice of the Lord.

she rescued from a nation of oppressors;

14

For they mockingly disowned the one who 16

she entered into the soul of the Lord's long before had been cast out and attendant

exposed,

and withstood terrible kings with wonders but at the end of events they marveled at and signs.

him,

17

She paid to holy people a reward for their having thirsted in a way not like the labors;

righteous.

she guided them on a marvelous way and became a covering for them by day

15

In return for their senseless and wicked and a blaze of stars by night.

thoughts

18

She led them across the Red Sea through which they were led astray to and brought them through deep water, worship irrational reptiles and 19

but their enemies she drowned,

worthless vermin,

and from the bottom of the deep she cast

you sent on them a multitude of irrational

them up.

creatures to take vengeance

20

Therefore the righteous spoiled the 16

in order that they might learn that a person

impious;

is punished by the very things by they sang hymns, O Lord, to your holy which the person sins.

name

17

For your all-powerful hand,

WISDOM OF SALOMON 11-12

707

which created the world out of formless sacrificial feasting on human flesh and matter,

blood—

was not at a loss to send out on them a thosea initiates from the midst of a pagana multitude of bears or bold lions ceremony

18 or newly-created unknown monsters, full of 6

and parents who murder helpless lives, fury,

you willed to destroy by the hands of our either breathing out blasts of fiery breath

fathers

or belching forth smoke

7

in order that the land that is the most or flashing terrible sparks from their eyes, precious of all before you 19

which were able not only to wipe them out might receive a worthy colony of servants

by the harm they did

of God.

but even to destroy them by their terrifying

8

But even these you spared as being human appearance alone.

beings,

20

Even without these they could have fallen and you sent wasps as forerunners of your
by a single breath,

army

being pursued by justice

in order to destroy them little by little.

and scattered by the breath of your power,

9

It was not that you were unable to give the

but by measure and number and weight you impious into the hands of the ordered all things.

righteous in battle

or to wipe them out at a stroke by terrible 21

For it is always in your power to show great beasts or by your stern word,

strength,

10

but judging them little by little you gave

and who can withstand the might of your them an opportunity to repent,

arm?

though you were not unaware that their 22

Because the whole world before you is like a origin was evil

speck that tips the scales and their wickedness inborn and like a drop of dew that falls on the

and that their way of thinking would never ground in the morning.
change.

23

You have mercy on all, because you can do

11

For they were an accursed race from the
all things,
beginning,
and you overlook the sins of human beings and it was not through fear of anyone that that they may repent.
you granted them pardon for the 24

For you love all things that exist things in which they sinned.
and detest none of the things that you have made,

12

For who will say, "What have you done?"

for you would not have formed anything if

Or who will withstand your judgment?

you had hated it.

Who will accuse you for the destruction of 25

How would anything have endured if you nations that you made?

had not willed it?

Or who will come before you to plead as an

Or how would anything not called ainto advocate for unrighteous human existence by you have been beings?

preserved?

13

For neither is there any god beside you,

26

You spare all things, because they are yours,

whose care is for all,

O Sovereign Lord, you who love to whom you must prove that you did not

human beings.

act unjustly,

14

nor can any king or prince look you in the face concerning those whom you

12 For your incorruptible spirit is in all things.

have punished.

2

Therefore you reprove little by little 15

But being righteous, you manage all things

those who fall into error, righteously,

and by reminding them of the things considering it alien to your power through which they sin you warn to condemn anyone who does not deserve

them

to be punished.

in order that, being freed from wickedness,

16

For your strength is the beginning of

they may believe in you, O Lord.

righteousness,

and your sovereignty over all causes you to 3

For even the ancient inhabitants of your spare all.

holy land,

17

For you show your strength when people

4

because you hated them for practicing the doubt the completeness of your most detestable things—

power,
deeds of sorcery and unholy rites, and you rebuke any insolence among those 5 merciless slaughters^b of children, who know it.

^aLacking in Gk ^b slaughterers = Zi cOr children

708

WISDOM OF SALOMON 12-13

18

Although you are sovereign in strength, you nor, though paying attention to his works, judge with fairness,
did they recognize the craftsman,
and with great forbearance you govern us,

2

but either fire or wind or swift air for you have the power to prevail whenever or the circle of the stars or turbulent water you choose.

or the luminaries of heaven they thought to be gods that rule the world.

19

You taught your people by such acts as these 3

If it was through delight in their beauty that that the righteous ought to be loving they took these things to be gods, towards human beings,
let them know how much better than these and you have made your sons hopeful, is their Sovereign Lord,
because you give repentance for sins.
for the first author of beauty created them.

20

For if you punished with such great care and 4

And if they were amazed at their power and indulgence

working,

the enemies of your servantsa and those

let them perceive from them deserving of death,
how much more powerful is the one who giving them time and opportunity in which formed them.

to free themselves from their 5

For from the greatness and beauty of created wickedness,

things

21

with how great carefulness have you judged is their Creator correspondingly discerned.

your sons

6

But nevertheless little blame attaches to

to whose fathers you gave oaths and these,

covenants of good promises!

for perhaps they go astray

22

While therefore you chastise us, you scourge while seeking God and wishing to find him.

our enemies ten thousand times

7

For being conversant with his works, they

more

make their search

in order that, when we judge, we may think and are persuaded by the sight, because the

about your goodness

things that are seen are beautiful.

and, when we are judged, we may look for 8

But again, not even they are to be pardoned;

mercy.

9

for if they had the power to know so much that they could investigate the world, 23

Hence those who lived unrighteously in a

how is it that they did not more quickly life of folly

find the Sovereign Lord of these you tormented through their own

things.

abominations.

24

For they went far astray on the paths of 10

But wretched, with their hopes set on dead error,

things,

taking as gods the most despised and are those who designated as gods the work loathsome of animalsb

of human hands,

being deceived like foolish infants.

gold and silver fashioned with skill,

25

Therefore, as though to unreasoning and representations of animals

children,
or useless stone, the work of an ancient you sent your judgment as a mockery.
hand.

26

But they, not taking warning from a playful

11

If some carpenter saws down a tree that is rebuke,
easy to handle,

will experience the deserved divine skillfully strips off all its bark

judgment.

and, working it in an attractive way,

27

For cthrough those animalsc at which in forms a useful vessel that serves life's needs their suffering they became 12

and uses up the cast-off pieces of his work incensed,

for the preparation of his food and has his which they had thought to be gods, being fill

punished by means of them,

13

and, taking a cast-off piece of wood from they saw and recognized as the true God the
them,

one whom before they denied a stick crooked and full of knots, knowing;
carves it with care in his idle moments therefore the utmost condemnation came and shapes it with skill gained in leisure,

upon them.

it is this he forms into the image of a human being

or makes like some worthless animal,

13 For all human beings who were ignorant 14 of God were foolish by nature, smearing it with vermilion and coloring it and from the good things that are seen they

red with paint

were unable to know the one who is,

and smearing over every blemish in it,

aOr children bOr living creatures cLacking in Gk dOr the luminaries of heaven, rulers of the world, they thought to be gods e.l.e. people fOr living creatures

WISDOM OF SALOMON 13-14

709

15

and having made for it a niche worthy of it, a stumbling-block for the lives of human

he sets it in a wall and secures it with iron.

beings

16

Thus he takes thought for it that it may not
and a trap for the feet of the foolish.

fall down,

knowing that it is unable to help itself,

12

For the invention of idols was the beginning for it is an image and has need of help.

of fornication,

17

But when he prays about his possessions, and the discovery of them the corruption of his marriage and his children,

life.

he is not ashamed to address a lifeless

13

For they did not exist from the beginning, object,

nor will they last forever.

(18) and for health he calls upon that which is 14

For through human conceit they entered the weak;

world,

18

for life he prays to that which is dead;

and because of this a speedy end was for aid he supplicates that which is utterly planned for them.

inexperienced;

for a gooda journey that which cannot take 15

For a father, tormented by untimely grief,

a step;

having made an image of the child who had 19 for means of livelihood and work and been quickly taken away, success with his hands, now honored as a god what was once a he asks strength of that which has no dead human being strength at all in its hands.

and handed on to his dependants mysteries and sacred rites.

Then, when the impious custom had grown

14 Again, one preparing for a voyage and 16

about to travel over raging waves strong with time, it was kept as a calls upon a piece of wood more fragile

law,

than the ship that carries him.

and at the command of princes carved

2

For it was longing for gain that planned it, images were worshipped.

and wisdom the craftsman that built it,

17

When people could not honor them in 3

but it is your providence, Father, that pilots it, their presence because they lived far because you have made a way in the sea
off,
and a safe path in the waves,
they imagined their appearance from afar

4 showing that you can save from everything and made a visible image of the king whom so that even a person who lacks skill may they honored,

put to sea.

that through diligence they might flatter the 5

It is your will that the works of your wisdom absent one as though present.
should not be without effect;
therefore human beings trust their lives even 18

But the ambition of the craftsman impelled to the smallest piece of wood even those who did not know at the king's to and passing through the billows on a raft a higher pitch of worship.

come safely through.

19

For he, perhaps wishing to please his ruler,

6

For even in the beginning, when arrogant skillfully forced the likeness into a more giants were perishing,

beautiful form,

the hope of the world fled for refuge on a 20 but the multitude, drawn by the charm of raft

his work,

and, piloted by your hand, left to the world now counted as an object of worship the

the seed of a newa generation.

one whom a little before had been 7

For blessed is the wood through which honored as a human being.

righteousness comes,

21

And this became a trap for human life, because people, enslaved either by 8 but the handmade idola is accursed, and the misfortune or tyranny,

one who made it,

bestowed on aobjects ofa stone and wood because he worked it, and the corruptible

the incommunicable name.

thing was named a god.

9

For equally hateful to God are the impious

22

Then it was not enough to go astray

and their impiety,

concerning the knowledge of God, 10

for what was done will be punished together but though living in great strife through with the one who did it.

ignorance,

11

Therefore there will be a visitation also they call such great evils peace.

upon the idols of the nations,

23

For whether performing ritual murders of because, though part of the divine creation, children or secret mysteries

they have become an or frenzied revels connected with strange abomination,
laws,

aLacking in Gk bl.e. the ship cl.e. princes

710

WISDOM OF SALOMON 14-15

24

they no longer keep either their lives or their both the vessels that serve clean uses marriages pure,
and the contrary ones, all alike,
but they either kill one another by treachery but what shall be the use of each of them of or grieve one another by adultery.

either sorta

25

And all things are an overwhelming the worker in clay decides.

confusion of blood and murder,

8

And, toiling perversely, he molds a futile theft and deceit, corruption,

god out of the same clay, unfaithfulness, tumult, perjury,

he who a little before came into being out 26 turmoil of those who are good, forgetfulness of the earth

of favors,
and after a short while returns whence he defilement of souls, sexual perversion, was taken,
disorder in marriages, adultery and when the soul, which was lent him is debauchery.
demanded back.

27

For the worship of idols that may not be 9

But his concern is not that his health is named

likely to fail

is the beginning and cause and end of every

or that his life is brief,

evil.

but he sets himself up against goldsmiths

28

For they either rave in a state of euphoria or

and silversmiths

prophecy lies

and imitates molders of bronze or live unrighteously or readily commit and considers it a glorious thing that he perjury, molds counterfeits.

29

for because they trust in lifeless idols,

10

His heart is ashes, his hope cheaper than when they swear wicked oaths, they expect
earth,
to suffer no harm.

his life more ignoble than clay, 30

But on both accounts justice will pursue

11

because he did not know the one who
them:

molded him

because they thought wrongly about God and infused him with an active soul through devoting themselves to and breathed into him a life-giving spirit, idols

12

but he considered our life to be a game, and in deceit swore unrighteously through and our existence a festival held for profit, despising holiness.

for, he says, one must make money

31

For it is not the power of those by whom wherever one can, even by evil.

they swear,

13

For this man more than any knows that he but justice for those who sin

sins

that always pursues the transgression of the when, from earthly material, he makes unrighteous.

fragile vessels and carved images.

15 But you, our God, are kind and true,

14

But most foolish, and with lives more longsuffering and ordering all things with miserable than that of an infant,
mercy.

are all the enemies of your people who

2

For even if we sin, we are yours, knowing oppressed them,
your might,

15 because they even thought all the idols of but knowing we are considered yours, we

the nations were gods,

will not sin;

although they have neither the use of eyes

3

for to know you is perfect righteousness, for seeing

and to recognize your might is the root of nor nostrils for drawing breath immortality.

nor ears to hear

4

For neither has the artful inventiveness of nor fingers for feeling,

human beings led us astray,

and their feet are of no use for walking.

nor the fruitless toil of painters,

16

For a human being made them,

a figure stained with varied colors,

and one whose spirit is borrowed molded 5 whose appearance arouses yearning in fools

them;

so that they long for the unbreathing form for no human has the power to mold a god of a dead image.

like himself,

6

Lovers of evil things and worthy of such 17

but, being mortal, he makes a dead thing

objects of hope

with lawless hands,

are those who make or long for or worship for he is better than the objects of his thema.

worship

and that he had life, but they never.

7

For a potter, laboriously kneading soft earth, molds each single article for our service,

18

And they worship the most detestable but out of the same clay he fashions animals;

aLacking in Gk bOr living cOm = Zi d of which or of whom = Zi eOr living creatures

WISDOM OF SALOMON 15-16

711

for, when compared for lack of intelligence,

but your word, O Lord, that heals all things.

they are worse than all others,

13

For you have authority over life and death

19

nor, viewed as animals, are they beautiful and you lead down to the gates of Hades so that one would desire them, and bring back up again.

but they have escaped both the approval of 14

A person kills in his wickedness

God and his blessing.

but cannot bring back the departed spirit or set free the soul that has been taken.

16 Therefore they were deservedly punished through similar creaturesb

15

To escape from your hand is impossible;
and were tormented by swarms of vermin.

16

for the impious, denying that they knew you,

2

Instead of which punishment you benefited were scourged by the strength of your arm,

your people

pursued by unusual rains and hail and

and prepared quails for food, relentless storms,

a delicacy to satisfy the desire of appetite, and utterly consumed by fire.

3

in order that those people, when they 17

For, what was most unexpected, in water desired food,

that quenches all things might reject even the demands of appetite the fire had still greater effect, because of the hideousness of the creatures for the world fights on behalf of the sent among them,
righteous;
but these, by our people, having suffered 18 for at one time the flame was restrained, want for a short time,

that it might not consume the creatures sent might partake of delicacies.
against the impious,

4

For it was necessary that upon those who but that seeing this they might know ruled as tyrants inescapable want that they were being pursued by divine should come

judgment;

and that to these it should only be shown 19

at another time, even in the midst of water,

how their enemies were tormented.

it burned beyond the power of fire, that it might destroy the produce of an 5

For even when the terrible rage of wild unrighteous land.

animals came upon them

20

Instead of which you fed your people with and they were perishing through the bites of the food of angels

twisted snakes,
and untiringly supplied them from heaven your anger did not continue to the end;
with bread ready to eat,

6 for a short while they were troubled as a able to meet every pleasure and suited to warning,

every task.

possessing a symbol of salvation to remind 21

For your sustenance manifested your them of the command of your law.

sweetness towards your children and, serving the desire of the one who 7

For the one who turned was not saved took it,

c

because of what was beheld, was transformed to what anyone wished.
but because of you, the savior of all.

22

But snow and ice survived the fire and did

8

And in this also you convinced our enemies not melt,
that you are the one who rescues from every that they might know that fire destroyed the
evil.

fruits of their enemies,

9

For the bites of grasshoppers and flies killed blazing in the hail

them,

and flashing in the rains,

and no remedy was found for their life,

23

and again this fireb, in order that the

because they deserved to be punished by righteous might be fed,

such animalsb,

forgot even its own power.

10

but not even the teeth of venomous dragons conquered your sons,

24

For creation, serving you who made it, for your mercy came to their help and strains itself for punishment against the healed them.

unrighteous

11

For they were stung to remind them of your and relaxes in kindness on behalf of those oracles

who trust in you.

and were quickly delivered

25

Therefore at that time also, changed into all in order that they might not fall into deep formsb,

forgetfulness

it served your all-nourishing bounty and might not be distracted from your according to the wish of those who dwere in kindness.

needd

12

For it was neither herb nor poultice that 26

in order that your sons, whom you loved, cured them,

O Lord, might learn

aOr living creatures bLacking in Gk cOr transformed itself dOr made supplication

712

WISDOM OF SALOMON 16-18

that it is not the varieties of fruits that and when afflicted by conscience, it always nourish human beings, exaggerates the difficulties.

but your word preserves those who trust in 12

For fear is nothing but a giving up of the
you.

help that comes from reason,

27

For what was not destroyed by fire

13

and inner expectation, being weaker, melted away when simply warmed by a faint prefers ignorance of what causes the ray of the sun

torment.

28 in order that it might be known that one 14

But they, throughout the night that was in must rise before the sun to give you reality powerless

thanks

and came upon them from the recesses of and make petition to you at the dawning of powerless Hades,

the light;

sleeping the same sleep,

29 for the hope of an ungrateful person will 15

now were plagued by monstrous phantoms, melt away like the winter's frost

now were paralyzed by their souls' and will flow away like waste water.

surrender,

for sudden and unexpected fear poured over

them.

17 For great are your judgments and hard to explain;

16

So then whoever was there fell down

therefore uninstructed souls have gone and was held bound, shut up in a prison astray.

without bars;

2

For when lawless people thought to oppress

17

for whether they were farmers or shepherds

a holy nation,

or workers whose toils were in the

they themselves lay as captives of darkness

wilderness,

and prisoners of long night,

they were overtaken and awaited the shut in under their roofs, fugitives from inescapable fate;

eternal providence.

18

for with one chain of darkness they were all 3

For thinking that in their secret sins they bound.

were unobserved

(18) Whether it was a whistling wind behind a dark veil of forgetfulness, or the melodious sound of birds in wide-they were scattered, terribly alarmed spreading branches

and greatly troubled by apparitions.

or the rhythmic movement of violently

4

For not even the deep recess that held them rushing water

protected them from fear,

19 or the harsh crash of rocks hurled down but sounds rushing down crashed all or the unseen running of leaping animals around them,

or the sound of the most savage roaring and dismal phantoms with gloomy faces beasts

appeared.

or an echo reverberating from a hollow of 5

And no fire had force enough to give light,

the mountains,

nor did the brilliant flames of the stars

it paralyzed them with terror.

avail to illumine that horrible night.

20

For the whole world shone with brilliant

6

Only a terrifying self-kindled burning mass

light

glowed through to them, and went about its work unhindered;

and becoming terrified, they considered the 21

only over them heavy night was spread, things that were seen an image of the darkness that was destined to be worse than that sight that was not to receive them,

visible.

but still heavier than darkness were they to 7

The delusions of their magic art were themselves.
ineffective,
a contemptuous rebuke of their boasted
intelligence.

18 But for your holy one there was very great light.

8
For those who promised to drive away Theyd, hearing their voices but not seeing terrors and troubles from a sick soul their form,

were sick themselves with ridiculous fear.

counted them happy, because they had not 9

For even if nothing disturbing frightened suffered,

them,

2

and were thankful that they did not harm yet scared by the passing of vermin and the theme though having previously hissing of reptiles

been wronged,

10

they perished in trembling fear, and they begged their forgiveness for having refusing to look even at the dark haze, been at variance with them.

which nowhere could be avoided.

3

In contrast you provided a burning pillar of 11

For wickedness, condemning itself, testifies

fire

to its innate cowardice,

as a guide for an unknown journey,

aOr production bOr describe cOr being condemned dI.e. their enemies eLacking in Gk

WISDOM OF SALOMON 18-19

713

a harmless sun for a glorious residence

16 bearing your irrevocable command as a abroad.

sharp rapier;

4

But those deserved to be deprived of light standing, it filled all things with death, and imprisoned in darkness and while it touched heaven, it stood on the

who had kept your sons shut up,

earth.

through whom the incorruptible light of the 17

Then at once apparitions in terrible dreams law was to be given to the world.

greatly troubled them,

and unexpected fears came upon them,

5

When they had resolved to kill the infants

18 and one here and another there, hurled of the holy ones

down half-dead,
and one child had been exposed and saved, revealed why they were dying;
in punishment you took away a multitude 19 for the dreams that disturbed them of their children

forewarned them of this,
and destroyed them all together by a mighty flood.
that they might not perish without knowing why they suffered terribly.

6

That night was made known in advance to our fathers

20

But the experience of death touched the
in order that, having sure knowledge, they righteous also,
might rejoice in the oaths in which
and a plague came upon the multitude in they had trusted.

the wilderness,

7

The salvation of the righteous and the
but the divine anger did not long continue.

destruction of their enemies

21

For a blameless man hastened to act as their were expected by your people;

champion,

8

for by the same means by which you bringing the weapon of his own ministry, punished our opponents

prayer and propitiation by incense;

you called us to yourself and glorified us.

he withstood the wrath and set an end to 9

For in secret holy children of good people

the disaster,

offered sacrifices

showing that he was your attendant.

and with one accord established the divine

22

He overcame the bitter anger, not by bodily

law

strength,

that the holy ones should share alike

nor by force of arms,

the same blessings and dangers,

but by hisa word he subdued the chastiser, while already singing the praises of the calling to mind the oaths and covenants

fathers.

given to the fathers.

10

But the discordant cry of their enemies

23

For when the dead had already fallen on echoed back,

one another in heaps,

and the pitiable sound of lamentation for he intervened, held back the angerb their children was spread abroad.

and cut off its way to the living.

11

Slave with master were together punished

24

For on his full-length robe the whole world with the same penalty,

was depicteda,

and commoner suffered the same as king,

and the glories of the fathers were engraved 12

and together, from the same form of death, on the four rows of stones,

they all

and your majesty was represented on the

had corpses too many to count.

diadem on his head.

For the living were not sufficient even to 25

From these the destroyer withdrew; these he

bury them,

feared,

since in a single moment their most precious for merely the experience of anger was offspring had been destroyed.

enough.

13

For although they disbelieved everything because of their magical practices, at the destruction of their firstborn, they 19 But merciless wrath assailed the impious until the end;
acknowledged your people to be a for he knew in advance what was to happen divine son.

in respect of them,

14

For while peaceful silence enveloped all

2 how, having given permission to be away

things

and having eagerly sent them on their way, and night was in the middle of its own swift they would change their minds and pursue course,
them.

15

from heaven, from the royal throne, your 3

For while they were still engaged in all-powerful word

mourning

leapt as a stern warrior and were lamenting at the graves of the into the midst of the land marked for dead,
destruction,

they adopted another foolish plan

aLacking in Gk b attack or onrush = Zi

714

WISDOM OF SALOMON 19

and pursued as fugitives those whom, with for they suffered justly for their wicked acts, urgent request, they had driven out.

for they practiced a more bitter hatred of 4

For the fate they deserved drew them on to strangers.

this end

14

For otherse refused to welcome those who and made them forget the things that had did not know themb when they happened

visited,

in order that they might fill up the

but these made slaves of guests who were punishment that their torments still their benefactors.

lacked

15

And not only so—but while there will be a 5

and that your people might experience an visitation of some sort on the incredible journey,

former,

but they themselves might find a strange since they received foreigners with hostility, death.

16

the latter afflicted with terrible hard labor

those whom they had received with feasting

6

For the whole creation was fashioned again and who had already shared the same rights.

in its original nature,

17

They were stricken also with loss of sight—

serving your commands

just as were those at the doors of the

in order that your childrena might be kept righteous man—

unharmmed.

when, surrounded by thick darkness,

7

The cloud was seen overshadowing the

each tried to find the way through their own camp,

doors.

and dry land emerging out of what before was water,

18

For as on a harp the notes vary the nature of

and an unhindered way out of the Red Sea,

the rhythm,

and a grassy plain out of the violent surge,

while beach noteb always keeps to its sound,

8 through which those protected by your so the elements changed places with one hand passed as one nation,

another,
after gazing on marvelous wonders.
as may be accurately inferred from the sight

9

For like horses they grazed but large,
of the things that happened.
and like lambs they skipped about,

19

For land animals were transformed into praising you, O Lord, who rescued them. watery creatures,

10

For they still remembered the events of their and creatures that swim moved over to the sojourn in a foreign land,
land;

how instead of producing animalsc the earth brought forth gnats,

20 fire even in water retained its normal and instead of fish the river vomited up a power,

mass of frogs.

and water forgot its fire-quenching nature;

11

But later they also saw a new kindd of birds, 21

flames, on the contrary, did not consume when, driven by desire, they asked for the flesh of perishable creatures that walked luxurious delicacies,
among them,

12

for, to comfort them, quails came up from nor did they melt the ice-like kind of the sea for them.

heavenly food that melted easily.

13

But the punishments did not come upon 22

For in all things, O Lord, you magnified

the sinners

your people and glorified them without signs being given beforehand in the and did not disregard them, standing by violence of the thunders, them in every time and place.

aOr servants bLacking in Gk cOr living creatures dOr production e.l.e. the Sodomites

SIRACH

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The book of Sirach actually has three different titles, depending on the language of its transmission or the religious tradition that reads it. In Hebrew the book is known as The Wisdom of Joshua (Jesus) Ben Sira. In the Vulgate, the book is called Ecclesiasticus (the church's book). In the Jewish-Greek scriptures and for NETS, the title is that given above, Sirach. For Sirach, I have used the Göttingen edition of Joseph Ziegler (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Litterarum Göttingensis editum XII.2: Sapientia Iesu Filii Sirach [Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1965]). In his critical text, Ziegler places verses from a later Greek recension (GKII; see below) in smaller typeface, and I have followed his judgments as to what constitutes GKII. As a result, I have punctuated the entire consecutive text, including the GKII. In some cases, if the reader skips over the GKII, the punctuation might not make the best English sense, since it relies on the presence of the additional verses. All the Greek manuscripts extant for Sirach contain a textual displacement in which the order of 30.25–33.13a and 33.13b–36.16a is reversed.

Ziegler has placed the Greek in the correct order. The NRSV along with Patrick W. Skehan's and Alexander Di Lella's Anchor Bible commentary follow Ziegler in giving the text in its proper order. In the NETS translation, I have followed suit, and I give the chapter and verse numbers following the correct order with the chapter and verse numbers of the Greek in its displaced order in parentheses.

One feature of Ziegler's edition is the frequency of reconstructions of an original Greek text that nowhere exists in the Greek manuscript tradition. Usually Ziegler takes his cue from Alfred Rahlfs or Rudolph Smend in deciding that the entire Greek tradition is a corruption of a no-longer-extant Greek original. I have followed Ziegler in almost every case. For example, NETS for Sir 3.17 reads, "Child, in gentleness conduct your affairs, and you will be loved more than a person who gives," which reflects Ziegler's text, $\text{u9pe\r a1nqrwpon do/thn}$, instead of the majority of the Greek tradition, which reads $\text{u9po a0nqrw\&pou dektou}$ = "by an acceptable person." Ziegler has adopted this conjecture from Smend, who, based on the Hebrew texts and the Latin version, concluded that the Greek manuscript tradition preserved a corruption. The NRSV seems to depend here on the Greek manuscript tradition, although it has glossed the verse, apparently to wring some meaning out of it.

THE HEBREW AND GREEK TEXTS OF BEN SIRA

The textual situation of the Wisdom of Ben Sira, notably the often confused and fragmentary state of the Hebrew manuscripts, created some unique difficulties for this translation. Hebrew texts of Ben Sira are extant for about two-thirds of the book. Portions of chapters 39–44 survive in the Masada manuscript, which dates from the first century BCE. 2Q18 contains the remains of several lines, and 11QPsa preserves a number of verses from chapter 51. The most extensive extant Hebrew sections are found in the six fragmentary manuscripts (designated A–F) discovered in the Cairo Geniza. On occasion the contents of these manuscripts overlap, but more often only one manuscript preserves any given passage from Ben Sira in Hebrew. The Hebrew manuscripts do, however, seem, in their essentials, to preserve the Hebrew of Ben Sira but not without numerous mistakes, additions and corruptions. The ultimate effect of this situation on the NETS translation is simply to make comparison between the Hebrew and Greek for matters such as vocabulary consistency, lexical choice and other elements of translation technique much more difficult to isolate and characterize.

As a result of the Hebrew textual situation, I have had to approach the translation of this book more from the perspective of a book like 1 Makkabees, which was translated from Hebrew but for which no Hebrew survives into modernity. Part of the reason for this approach is the inconsistency of the translator for various aspects of his work. The practical impact on the reader is that my translation differs from the NRSV quite frequently, probably more than for those books that have the MT as a basis of comparison. Moreover, whereas the NRSV attempts to present the reader with, as much as possible, an Ur-Text of the book, NETS is interested solely in its Greek translation. The Hebrew texts become relevant only to the 716

to the reader of Sirach

extent that the source text can arbitrate between competing readings and interpretations of the target text and can, furthermore, account for the kind of Greek found in the translation.

One additional matter that both the NETS translation of Ben Sira and the NRSV had to deal with was the presence of the later Greek recension. In the process of the textual transmission of the Greek, a number of proverbs were added to the book, and this recension is usually designated GKII. For the most part, the NRSV puts readings from this Greek recension in footnotes leaving in the main text only GKI (= OG), that is, the translation of the author's grandson, who rendered the Hebrew text into Greek. In the NETS translation, I have worked in analogous fashion both to Ziegler and to how NETS has handled similar cases elsewhere. GKII passages appear in the running text where they should be located. I have set them off by (a) marking them with square brackets at the beginning and end of each line and (b) by placing them in italics. Manuscript 248, one of the most important manuscript witnesses for GKII, contains an alternative prologue to the original translation, which Ziegler places in smaller typeface following the prologue of Ben Sira's grandson. The alternative prologue is not included in NETS. The decision to exclude it was based on several factors. First, it only appears in Ms 248 and in no other Greek text. Second, although of considerable importance, Ms 248 does not contain all of the GKII readings for Sirach. Consequently, this prologue was probably not intended to introduce any GKII "recension." Finally, according to Ziegler (66), the prologue stems from a work entitled Synopsis Scripturae Sacrae, falsely attributed to the Egyptian church father Athanasius.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

When one compares the Greek of the Prologue with that of the translation, one will see a tremendous difference between the two. The Prologue is written in good, literary style. The translation, on the other hand, looks to have been executed in a generally isomorphic manner, and it thus mirrors many aspects of its Hebrew source text. I hope that the qualitative difference between the Greek of the Prologue and the frequently unidiomatic, even awkward Greek of the translation will be readily apparent to the NETS reader. In general, the conclusions that I gave concerning the relationship between the Hebrew and Greek of Sirach in my 1989 study of translation technique (No Small Difference: Sirach's Relationship to Its Hebrew Parent Text [SBLSCS 26; Atlanta: Scholars, 1989]) still hold, it seems to me.

Here I make some general remarks about the Greek translation that illustrate its character. First, the isomorphic approach of the grandson to the process of translation means that he, like most of the translators of the LXX/OG corpus, does try to keep close to the Hebrew word order and, for the most part, he maintains a quantitative parity with his parent text. One finds in this translation, then, a number of aspects of the translation that suggest that the translator was working essentially in an interlinear way; that is, the Greek could be seen as a kind of “pony” to the Hebrew, since the translator often reproduces many aspects of the grammatical form of the Hebrew in the translation. In some cases, however, a perfectly acceptable feature of Greek might also serve the agenda of isomorphism. One example illustrates the case well. The Hebrew of Ben Sira uses several circumlocutions for possession, most of which involve some use of the dative. So, 3.22b reads in Hebrew (Ms A), $\text{twrtsnb qs(Kl Ny)w}$ "You have no business with hidden things." Rather than take the clause as a whole and render the Hebrew idiom for possession, Kl, by using some standard Greek verb such as e1xw , the translator simply follows the Hebrew word-for-word, $\text{ou) ga/r e0sti/n soi xrei/a tw\sim n krupt\sim}$

wn. While one might be tempted to translate this Greek with something like "For there is for you no need for hidden matters," Greek can also indicate possession through the use of a dative with the verb to be, the so-called dative of possession. As a result, according to NETS principles (see "TO THE READER OF NETS") normal Greek idiom means normal English idiom. Thus, I have translated cases like this one using the normal English verb "have," and 3.22 appears in NETS as

"for you have no need of hidden matters."

Second, the translator's word-by-word approach to his work also means that various parts of speech get transferred from Hebrew directly into Greek. The result is that Hebrew participles generally become Greek participles; Hebrew prepositions become Greek prepositions, etc. The most common difficulty produced by this translational practice is that prepositions will oftentimes get used in ways that are foreign to their uses in standard Greek, and often they can be found in strange contexts. They frequently appear as part of an object complement to a verb for which they are not suited in standard Greek, or they get used in non-Greek contexts. u(pe/r , for example, often renders the Hebrew preposition Nm in places where in Hebrew the preposition functions to indicate the comparative, even though it does not normally have that function in Greek. In 7.19 the Greek ἡ χάρις αὐτῆς ὑπερβαίνει τὸ χρυσίον “her grace is beyond gold” renders מִנְיַן מִפְּנֵי נֶחֶם “grace more than pearls.” Other than the lexical shift from “pearls” to “gold,” the translator has employed ὑπερ in a context for which it is not normally used outside of the LXX/OG corpus.

to the reader of sirach

717

Third, even though the translator worked in essentially a word-for-word manner, he does not exhibit a tendency to confine one Greek lexeme to the same Hebrew lexeme. So, for instance, the noun a)gal i/ama “joy, exultation” renders three different Hebrew terms—hxm# (31.26), hr)pt (6.31) and lyg (30.23). On the other side of the coin, one Hebrew word might have several different Greek equivalents. In fact, there is enough semantic differentiation that one can rarely reconstruct, on the basis of the existing Hebrew-Greek equivalences, what the Hebrew lexical items in the parent text were in those sections of Sirach where Hebrew does not survive. Illustrative is the Hebrew verb (nm, “withhold, hold back,” which is never rendered twice with the same word. The various Greek equivalents are: a0ntilamba/nw (12.7), a0pokwlu/w (7.33), a0fustere/w (14.14), e0mpodi/zw (32.3), kwlu/w (4.23), pare/lkw (4.3), stere/w (7.21) and sune/xw (14.4).

Within the translator’s general policy of isomorphism, there are occasionally times when he seems to engage in an interpretive move. In most cases, he is confronting a text that seems to baffle him. For example, in 49.2, part of the section about Iosias (Josiah), the grandson apparently did not understand the clause wnytbw#m l(lxn yk “for he was sickened/grieved at our apostasies.” Although the resulting Greek has an almost one-to-one correspondence with the Hebrew on a purely formal level, it looks like the translator recognized the root bw# in the word wnytbw#m as coming from the Hebrew verb meaning “return, turn back.” He thus interpreted the entire clause, probably on the basis of his identification of bw#, as au)to)j kateuqu/nqh e0n επιστροφῆς λαοῦ = “He prospered in turning around the people.” The Greek, although it does not accurately translate the Hebrew, makes good contextual sense in a passage about Josiah.

Given the examples above, it should not be a surprise to note that the Greek does not contain a high number of calques or even thoroughly stereotyped renderings, although some cases do present difficulties for the NETS translator. One particularly interesting case is the Greek-Hebrew equivalence καύ/xhma

- ἡρῶν. The Greek translates the Hebrew five times (9.16; 10.22; 44.7; 45.8; 50.11) and the related noun καύ/xhsij translates the Hebrew term once (31.10). Both Greek words indicate some kind of “boasting.” Yet, the primary lexical meaning of ἡρῶν is “splendor, beauty, glory,” and only as a subsidiary meaning related to “glory” does the Brown-Driver-Briggs Hebrew lexicon list “boasting.” Even though the Greek-Hebrew equivalence seems fixed for the translator, there does not seem to be any warrant for ascribing the meaning of “splendor” or “beauty” to the two related Greek words. As far as Sirach is concerned, they retain their Greek meaning, and they are translated in NETS as “boast” and “boasting.”

The Greek representations of the Hebrew הָפְנוּ present a more difficult case, particularly when it is used in Hebrew with a personal pronoun to mean “him/her/itself”—so, for instance, וְהָפְנוּ “himself.” The Greek translator usually prefers to give a rather awkward and wooden rendering into Greek, ψυχῆ αὐτοῦ =,

“his soul.” The Greek phrase, although it represents each element in the Hebrew phrase, does not normally mean “himself” in Greek, although the word ψυχή/ can have the sense of one's "self." Hence in the NETS translation of Sirach, I render this wooden representation of the Hebrew "his/her/their soul." The translator did have at his disposal a perfectly good and idiomatic Greek word to indicate the reflexive, εἰς αὐτὸν, which he, in fact, uses in 37.8c, where εἰς αὐτὸν|~ translates ἑαυτοῦ. There are quite a number of individual instances of Hebraistic renderings such as this in the Greek translation and almost none take on the meaning of the Hebrew. They are simply overly wooden renderings. Sir 35.12 offers another prime example of a normal Hebrew idiom being rendered into a stilted and essentially meaningless Greek. Here נִי(ב)וּ "with generosity" becomes quite woodenly in Greek ἐ(ν) ἀγαθῷ ὀφθαλμῷ~

"with a good eye."

Interestingly, one of the terms that is clearly a calque in almost the entirety of the Jewish-Greek translation corpus, διαθήκη "covenant" as a translation of בְּרִית, is not one for the translator of Ben Sira, who uses the word for both בְּרִית and קְוֵץ (in both technical and non-technical contexts). This situation presents some difficulty for the English translator. Ben Sira's grandson has leveled the meanings of the two Hebrew words, for which he intended the meaning "covenant," and NETS reflects that meaning in all the cases of the Greek noun. In some cases, however, the use of διαθήκη changes the sense of the underlying Hebrew. Sirach 11.20 encourages the student to "stand by your agreement," קְוֵץ בְּדָמַי. The Greek στήθεσι ἐν διαθήκη? σου "stand by your covenant" might suggest that the translator understood the Greek term in its usual sense of “testament,” or he simply uses the now technical Greek term in a non-technical context. In 42.2, however, diaqh/kh as a translation of qwx seems more definitely to change the sense of the Hebrew parent text. As part of a list of things that should not cause shame for the student, the Hebrew has qwxw Nwyl(trwt l(“of the law of the Most High and of the statute.” The Greek, peri\ no/mou u(yi/stou kai\ diaqh/khj “of the law of the Most High and covenant,” broadens the focus considerably—from some unspecified statute to the entirety of 718

to the reader of sirach

God's covenant with Israel. Finally, 44.20, in the section on Abraam (Abraham), diaqh/kh renders both tyrb and qwx, thus, at the least, masking the intention of the Hebrew original.

Hebrew (Ms B and Masada): qwx wl trk wr#bb wm(tyrbb)bw Translation: "And he [God] entered into a covenant with him; in his flesh he made for him a statute."¹

Greek: kai\ e0ge/neto e0n diaqh/kh| met' au0tou= e0n sarki\ au0tou= e1sthsen diaqh/khn NETS: "and he entered in a covenant with him; in his flesh he established a covenant."

In this verse, the "statute" almost certainly means the law of circumcision for all of Abraam's descendants.

The Greek, however, completely levels the semantic difference of the Hebrew between the "covenant" that God makes and the "statute" that God establishes "in his flesh."

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF SIRACH

Since elsewhere in the NETS corpus, the English translators have worked with the general dictum vis-à-vis the NRSV “Change what you must, and keep what you can,” several specific comments on the relationship of NETS Sirach to the NRSV are in order. There are a number of ways that the NETS translation of Sirach differs routinely from that in the NRSV. Many of the differences between NETS and NRSV result from the different purposes of the translations. The NRSV intends to produce a faithful translation in nicely idiomatic and fluid English—a purpose it accomplishes well. Sirach, however, is also somewhat unique among the NRSV translations. The NRSV “Old Testament” is translated from Hebrew, the original language of the various books, into English, but the NRSV Sirach, because of its transmission history, is already, in large part, a translation of a translation. The NRSV cannot translate the Hebrew, because it is incomplete and the text is frequently corrupt, and the Greek, which it does translate for the most part, is itself a translation. This approach produces two results that affect the NETS translation. First, although it primarily relies on the Greek, the NRSV uses an eclectic approach to the text. That is, the translator is interested in using the best, most original text possible. For Sirach, that might mean a preference for the Latin or the Syriac or the Hebrew rather than for the Greek. In places where the NRSV relies on the Hebrew or one of the other daughter translations, NETS will almost certainly be different, since it translated the best Greek text available. Second, in giving a fluid English translation, the English of the NRSV necessarily in many cases erases the awkwardness of the Greek. NETS, which is more intent on reflecting the translationese character of the Greek, requires a different approach, and in many cases I attempt to retain the awkwardness of the Greek that the NRSV has smoothed over. Moreover, exegetical openness, that is, rendering the Greek text as carefully as possible for what it says, is deemed in and of itself a virtue.

My basic approach in the NETS translation of Sirach is to provide the English reader with as much information as possible about the character of the Greek and the relationship between the Hebrew (where it exists) and its Greek translation. Essentially, what this means for the reader of NETS is that my translation of Sirach is more independent of the NRSV than is the case for other NETS translations. The following paragraphs explain my approach to selected aspects of the NETS translation, and in these ways NETS will typically depart from the NRSV.

(a) For the most part, where possible, I have tried to represent the poetic form of the verses as much as possible. The Greek, by trying to represent the Hebrew word order, often reproduces the poetic structure of the Hebrew text. That is, if two Hebrew cola have the structure, verb-subject-object, subject-verb-object, the Greek will very often keep that order. I have tried to do the same in NETS where the rules of English permit and where no hardship for the reader results. This often results in an English word order different from NRSV. Thus, for example, NETS at 1.27, “For wisdom and education are the fear of the Lord, and his delight is fidelity and gentleness,” differs from NRSV, “For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and discipline, fidelity and humility are his delight” because the Greek (which most likely represents the Hebrew word order) has the parallelism A:B:B':A', which I have kept in NETS. This procedure does not represent dissatisfaction with NRSV; I operate this way in order to provide the English reader of NETS as much information about the relationship between the Greek and Hebrew texts as possible.

(b) The reader of NETS will find that the vocabulary choices in many places differ from the NRSV. Although a high level of stereotyping does not characterize the translation of Sirach, the translator does 1 The NRSV here reads, “and entered into a covenant with him; he certified the covenant in his flesh,” which seems to presuppose the Greek text.

sirach Prologue

719

seem to have a corpus of words that he uses consistently for particular Hebrew words. In such cases, I have maintained that consistency as much as possible in NETS. Sometimes the translator will maintain a high level of lexical consistency in individual poetic units. Where such consistency occurs, NETS is also consistent in its use of English vocabulary. On the other hand, where the NRSV uses the same English word for different Greek words in a poetic unit, I have used English synonyms to indicate to the reader that the Greek words are not the same.

(c) As I noted above, in many instances the Greek translator tries hard to maintain a one-for-one translation of the Hebrew. This technique produces several different results. Sometimes one encounters one word in Greek for one word in Hebrew. In those places where the Greek translator appears to be concerned about this type of lexical representation, I have tried to be as well. This usually means translating a single Greek word by a single English word. The translator, however, might also try to reproduce on a one-to-one basis the word order or even the grammatical form of the Hebrew. So, for example, the relationship between verbal tenses grates against the ear, or the lack of the definite article where one would expect it in standard Greek produces a strange sounding phrase. The resulting Greek is frequently stilted and awkward. In such cases I have tried as best I can within the bounds of acceptable English to represent in NETS the awkwardness of the Greek of Sirach. A couple of short examples will illustrate the nature of the case. In 13.22, the first stich of the verse uses the present tense to describe the help given to a rich person, plousi/ou sfale/ntoj pol oi\ a0ntilh/mtorej “when a rich person staggers, many are his helpers.” Yet, the second switches to the aorist, rendered into the past tense in English, e0la/lhsen a0po/rrhta kai\ e0dikai/wsan au0to/n “he spoke things not to be spoken, and they justified him.” With respect to the article, the Greek translation very frequently employs anarthrous nouns, which creates at best some ambiguity and at worst some real difficulty. So, for instance, in Simon II’s temple service described in chapter 50, we read kai\ au0to\j e9stw_j par’ e0sxa/ra| bwmou= “when he stood by altar’s (or “an altar’s”) hearth.” It seems clear that the altar in the Jerusalem temple is intended, but the lack of the article here introduces some awkwardness and ambiguity that the definite article would have easily resolved.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

Several resources proved of tremendous value in preparing this NETS translation. For the Hebrew text of Sirach, I consulted primarily Z. ben-Hayyim, The Book of Ben Sira: Text, Concordance and an Analysis of the Vocabulary (Jerusalem: Academy of the Hebrew Language and the Shrine of the Book, 1973) and P. C.

Beentjes, The Book of Ben Sira in Hebrew (Leiden: Brill, 1997) in addition to many shorter studies on individual aspects of the Hebrew text. Besides the NRSV, the translation produced by Patrick W. Skehan and Alexander A. Di Lella for their Anchor Bible Commentary, The Wisdom of Ben Sira (AB 39; Garden City, NY: Doubleday, 1987) proved a valuable aid. I benefited enormously from their commentary as well. The commentary of M. H. Segal, Mishnah Sirach (Jerusalem: Bialik Foundation, 1958) also provided numerous insights into the different textual traditions in which Sirach survives.

BENJAMIN G. WRIGHT

PROLOGUE

wisdom in order that lovers of learning, when they

(1) Seeing that many and great things have come under their sway as well, might gain much been given to us through the Law and the Prophets more in living by the law.

ets and the others that followed them, for which

(15) You are invited, therefore, to a reading reason it is necessary to commend Israel for education with goodwill and attention, and to exercise forbearance and wisdom, and whereas it is necessary in cases where we may be thought (20) that not only those who read them gain understanding but also that those who love learning have been the object of great care in rendering; for be capable of service to outsiders, both when they what was originally expressed in Hebrew does not speak and when they write, Jesus, my grandfather, have the same force when it is in fact rendered in since he had given himself increasingly both to the another language. And not only in this case, but reading of the Law and the Prophets (10) and the also in the case of the Law itself and the Prophets other ancestral books and since he had acquired (25) and the rest of the books the difference is not considerable proficiency in them, he too was led to small when these are expressed in their own language-composed something pertaining to education and gauge.

aAntecedent unclear, referring either to his grandfather's book or to education and wisdom

720

sirach 1

For in the thirty-eighth year, in the reign of Eu-and among their offspring she will be ergetes the king, when I had arrived in Egypt and trusted.

stayed a while, when I had discovered an exemplar 16

Wisdom's fullness is to fear the Lord, of no little education, (30)I myself too made it a and she inebriates them with her fruits.

most compulsory task to bring some speed and in- 17

Their every house she will fill with desirable dustry to the translating of this tome, meanwhile

things,

having contributed much sleeplessness and skill, and the areception hallsa from her with the aim of bringing the book to completion produce.

and to publish it also for those living abroad if 18

Wisdom's garland is fear of the Lord,

they wish to become learned, preparing their char-sprouting peace and well-being for acter to live by the law.

healing.

[And both are gifts of God for peace,]

[and boasting creates space for those that love

1 AllwisdomisfromtheLord, and with him it exists forever.

him.]

2

Sand of seas and drops of rain

19

[And he saw and enumerated her.]

and days of eternity—who shall

Skill and knowledge of understanding enumerate?

she rained down,

3

The sky's height and earth's breadth and the reputation of people who hold and abyss and wisdom—who will her fast she exalted.

track?

20

Wisdom's root is to fear the Lord,

4

Before all things wisdom has been created, and her branches are length of days.

and understanding of prudence is from [21 The fear of the Lord repels sins,]

eternity.

[and when it endures, it will turn away all

[5

Wisdom's spring is God's word in the highest,]
wrath.]

[and her journeys are everlasting commandments.]

22

Unjust anger can never be justified,

6

Wisdom's root—to whom was it for the weight of hisb anger is hisb revealed?
downfall.

And her wondrous feats—who knew?

23

Until the right time a patient person will

[7

Wisdom's skill—to whom was it manifested?]

restrain himself,

[And her great experience—who has

and afterwards gladness will pay him understood it?]

back.

8

One who is wise, greatly feared,

24

Until the right time he will hide his words, seated upon his throne.

and the lips of many will tell of his 9

The Lord, he created her,
discernment.

and he saw and enumerated her

and poured her out upon all his works,

25

Among wisdom's treasures there is 10

among all flesh according to his giving, illustration of intelligence, and he furnished her abundantly to those but godliness is an abomination to a who love him.

sinner.

[Loving the Lord is esteemed wisdom,]

26

If you desire wisdom, keep the

[but to whomever he appears, he apportions

commandments,

her as a vision of himself.]

and the Lord will furnish her abundantly

to you.

11

Fear of the Lord is reputation and 27

For wisdom and education are the fear of boasting

the Lord,

and gladness and a garland of rejoicing.

and his delight is fidelity and gentleness.

12

Fear of the Lord will delight the heart, and it will give gladness and joy and 28

Do not disobey the fear of the Lord,

length of days.

and do not approach him with a double

[Fear of the Lord is a gift from the Lord,]

heart.

[for he also establishes paths for love.]

29

Do not be a hypocrite in the mouths of 13

For the one who fears the Lord, it will be humankind,

well at the end,
and with your lips pay heed.
and in the day of his death he will be 30

Do not exalt yourself, lest you fall blessed.

and bring dishonor to your soul,
and the Lord will reveal your secrets,

14

Wisdom's beginning is to fear the Lord, and in the midst of a gathering he will
and with the faithful in the womb—she overthrow you,

was created together with them.

because you did not approach in the fear of 15

Among human beings she built her nest as

the Lord

an eternal foundation,

and your heart was full of deceit.

aPerhaps storehouses bl.e. the person who suffers from it cOr it

sirach 2-3

721

2 Child, if you come to be subject to the Lord,

For as his majesty is,

prepare your soul for testing.

so also is his mercy.

2

Set straight your heart, and be steadfast, and do not be hasty in a time of distress.

Listen to a father's reproof, children,

3

Cling to him, and do not stand aloof

3 and act accordingly so that you may be so that you may be strengthened at your safe.

end.

2

For the Lord has glorified father over 4

Anything that might happen to you accept,
children,

and in the vicissitudes of your

and he has confirmed a mother's humiliation be patient, judgment over sons.

5

because with fire gold is tested,

3

He who honors father will atone for sins, and acceptable people in the furnace of 4

and like one who lays up treasure is he humiliation.

who glorifies his mother.

[In sickness and in poverty have trust in

5

He who honors father will be gladdened by
him.]

children,

6

Have faith in him, and he will support you, and in the day of his prayer he will be and make straight your ways, and hope in heard.

him.

6

He who glorifies father will prolong his days,

7

You who fear the Lord, wait for his mercy, and he who listens to the Lord will give and do not turn away, lest you fall.

rest to his mother.

8

You who fear the Lord, have faith in him,

7

[He who fears the Lord will honor his father,] and your wage will not be forfeited.

and among those who begot him he will 9

You who fear the Lord, hope for good act as a slave to mastersb.

things

8

By deed and word honor your father and for everlasting gladness and mercy, so that a blessing from him might come [because his repayment is an everlasting gift upon you.
with joy.]

9

For a father's blessing supports children's 10

Look to ancient generations, and see;
houses,
who had faith in the Lord and was put to but a mother's curse uproots foundations.
shame?

10

Do not glorify yourself by your father's Or who has held fast to fear of him and was

disgrace,

forsaken?

for you have no glory in a father's

Or who called upon him, and hea disgrace.

despised him?

11

For a person's repute comes from his father's 11

For compassionate and merciful is the Lord,

honor,

and he forgives sins and saves in a time and a mother in ill repute is a reproach to of affliction.

children.

12

Woe to timid hearts and to slack hands

12

Child, support your father in old age, and to a sinner when he treads on two and do not grieve him during his life.

paths.

13

But if he fails in comprehension, excuse

13

Woe to a faint heart, because it does not

him,

have faith;

and do not dishonor him in the fullness

therefore it will not be sheltered.

of your strength.

14

Woe to you who have lost endurance.

14

For charity for a father will not be

And what will you do when the Lord

forgotten,

makes his reckoning?

and it will be credited to you against sins.

15

In a day of affliction it will be remembered 15

Those who fear the Lord will not disobey

of you;

his words,

as fair weather upon frost, so will your

and those who love him will preserve his sins be dissolved.

ways.

16

Like a blasphemer is the one who neglects a 16

Those who fear the Lord will seek his favor,

father,

and those who love him will be filled and cursed by the Lord is the one who with the law.

angers his mother.

17

Those who fear the Lord will prepare their hearts,

17

Child, in gentleness conduct your affairs, and before him they will humble their and you will be loved more than a person souls.

who gives.

18

We shall fall into the hands of the Lord

18

The greater you are, the more you should
and not into the hands of human beings!
humble yourself,

al.e. the Lord bGk uncertain 722

sirach 3-4

and before the Lord you will find favor.

8

Incline your ear to the poor,

[19 Many are lofty and of repute,] and answer him peaceably with [but to the meek he reveals his mysteries,] gentleness.

20

because great is the dominance of the Lord

9

Deliver the wronged from the hand of the

and by the humble he is glorified.

wrongdoer,

21

Things too difficult for you do not seek,

and do not be faint-hearted when you and things too strong for you do not render judgment.

scrutinize.

10

Be like a father to orphans

22

The things that have been prescribed for and instead of a husband to their you, think about these,

mother,
for you have no need of hidden matters.
and you will be like a son of the Most 23

With matters greater than your affairs do not High,
meddle,
and he will love you more than does your for things beyond human understanding mother.

have been shown to you.

24

For their presumption has led many astray,

11

Wisdom will exalt her sons and their evil fancy has diminished their and lays hold of those who seek her.
understanding.

12

He who loves her loves life, [25 If you have no pupils, you will be at a loss for and those who turn to her early will be light,]
filled with gladness.

[and when you want for knowledge, do not

13

He who holds her fast will inherit a profess it.]
reputation,
and where he enters, the Lord blesses.

26

A hard heart will fare badly at the end, 14

Those who serve her will minister to one and he who loves danger will perish in it.

holy,

27

A hard heart will be weighed down by
and those who love her the Lord loves.
troubles,

15

He who obeys her will judge nations, and the sinner will add sin to sins.
and the one who gives heed to her will 28

For the misery of the arrogant there is no dwell in confidence.

healing,

16

If he has faith, he will inherit her, because a plant of wickedness has taken and his descendants will be in possession

a

root in him.

of hera.

29

The heart of the intelligent will think of an 17

Because at first she will travel with him illustration,

though he twist and turn,

and a hearer's ear is the desire of the wise.

fear and dread she will bring upon him, and she will torment him with her training 30

A blazing fire water will extinguish,

until she has faith in his soul, and charity will atone for sins.

and she will test him with her statutes.

31

He who repays favors gives thought to what

18

And again she will return straight back to comes after, him and will make him glad and at the moment of a fall he will find and will reveal to him her secrets.
support.

19

If he goes astray, she will abandon him and hand him over to the grip of his fall.

4 Child, the life of the poor do not defraud, and do not put off needy eyes.

2

A hungry soul do not grieve,

20

Watch for an opportune time, and beware of
and do not anger a man in his difficulty.
evil,

3

An angry heart do not trouble, and about your soul do not be ashamed.
and do not delay giving to one in need.

21

For there is a shame that brings on sin,

4

A suppliant in distress do not keep rejecting, and there is a shame that is glory and and do not turn your face away from the favor.

poor.

22

Do not receive a person against your soul,

5

From one who begs do not turn away an and do not feel embarrassment to your eye,
fall.

and do not give him occasion to curse

23

Do not hinder speech in a time of need,
you.

[and do not hide your wisdom in comeliness.]

6

For if one curses you in bitterness of his soul,

24

For by speech will wisdom be known, the one who made him will hear his and education through a word of the petition.

tongue.

25

Do not speak against the truth,

7

Make yourself beloved to a gathering, and concerning your lack of education and for a nobleman bow your head.

feel shame.

aLacking in Gk

sirach 4-6

723

26

Do not be ashamed to acknowledge your for upon the thief is shame
sins,

and grievous condemnation upon the
and do not try to force a river's flow.
double-tongued.

27

Do not be subject to a foolish person,

15

In a great and a small matter do not remain and do not accept the person of a ruler. ignorant.

28

Exert yourself to the death for the truth, and the Lord God will do battle for you.

6 And do not become an enemy instead of a friend,

29

Do not become rash with your tongue for a bad name will inherit shame and or sluggish and remiss in your deeds.
reproach;

30

Do not be like a lion in your home,

thus is the double-tongued sinner.

even conceiving vain fancies among your domestics.

2

Do not raise yourself up in your soul's

31

Do not let your hand be extended to receive deliberation,

and withdrawn when paying back.

lest your strength be seized as a bull is seized.

Do not be occupied with your money,

Your leaves you will devour, and your fruit

5

3

and do not say, "I am self-sufficient."

you will destroy,

2

Do not follow your soul and your strength, and you will leave yourself like a to walk in your heart's desires.
withered tree.

3

And do not say, "Who shall hold power over 4

An evil soul will destroy him who possesses it,
me?"

and it will make him a laughingstock of

For the Lord, when he punishes, will enemies.

punish.

5

A bsweet throatb will multiply its friends,

4

Do not say, "I sinned, and what has

and a well-speaking tongue will multiply happened to me?"

courtesies.

For the Lord is longsuffering.

6

Let those who are at peace with you be 5

Do not become fearless concerning
many,
atonement,
but let your advisors be one in a
to add sin upon sins.
thousand.

6

And do not say, "His compassion is great;

7

If you acquire a friend, acquire him through it will atone for the multitude of my testing,
sins";
and do not have faith in him hastily.

for mercy and wrath are with him,

8

For there is a friend when it suits him, and upon sinners will his anger rest.
and he will not remain in a day of 7

Do not wait to turn back to the Lord,
affliction.

and do not postpone it day after day;

9

And there is a friend who turns to enmity, for suddenly the wrath of the Lord will go and he will disclose strife to your forth,
disgrace.

and in the time of punishment you will 10

And there is a friend who is a table
perish.

companion,

8

Do not be occupied with ill-gotten money,
and he will not remain in a day of
for it will not be of benefit in a day of affliction.

distress.

11

And among your goods he will be as you are,

9

Do not winnow in every wind, and he will speak boldly to your
and do not go on every short cut;
domestics.

thus is the double-tongued sinner.

12

If you are brought low, he will be against 10

Be firm in your understanding,

you,

and let your speech be one.

and he will hide himself from your face.

11

Be quick in your hearing,

13

From your enemies, keep your distance, and with longsuffering utter a reply.
and with your friends pay heed.

12

If you have understanding, answer your fellow,

14

A loyal friend is a sturdy shelter, but if not, let your hand be upon your and he who finds him has found a mouth.

treasure.

15

A loyal friend is priceless,

13

Repute and dishonor are in speaking, and no one can weigh his worth.
and a person's tongue is his downfall.

16

A loyal friend is life's drug,

14

Do not be called a slanderer, and those who fear the Lord will find and do not ambush with your tongue;
him.

aLacking in Gk bPerhaps pleasant speech

724

sirach 6-7

17

He who fears the Lord directs his friendship

37

Exercise your thought in the Lord's

aright,

ordinances,

because like him, so also is his fellow.

and on his commandments continually meditate.

18

Child, from your youth welcome education,
It is he who will make your heart firm, and until gray hairs you will find and the desire for wisdom will be given wisdom.
to you.

19

Like him who plows and him who sows approach her,
Do not do evil things, and an evil will not and wait for her good fruits;

7

overtake you.
for in cultivation of her you will toil little,

2

Stay away from wrong, and it will turn away and you will soon eat of her produce.

from you.

20

How harsh is wisdom to the uneducated,

3

Do not sow in the furrows of injustice, and the cowardly will not remain with and you will not reap them sevenfold.

her.

21

Like a formidable stone of testing she will 4

Do not seek from the Lord authority be upon him,

or from a king a seat of honor.

and he will not delay to cast her aside.

5

Do not assert righteousness before the Lord, 22

For wisdom is like her name, and with a king do not display wisdom.

and she is not conspicuous to many.

6

Do not seek to become a judge;

you might not have the strength to get rid 23

Listen, child, and accept my opinion,

of injustice,

and do not reject my counsel.

lest you have trepidation in the presence of 24

Put your feet into her fetters,

one powerful,

and into her collar, your neck.

and you shall erect an obstacle to your 25

Offer your shoulder, and carry her,

uprightness.

and do not be offended at her bonds.

7

Do not sin against a city's multitude,

26

With all your soul approach her, and do not throw yourself down in a

and with all your might keep her ways.

crowd.

27

Trace, and seek, and she will become known

to you,

8

Do not bind up a sin twice, and when you get a firm hold, do not let for in one you will not be innocent.

her go.

9

Do not say, "He will have regard for the 28

For in the end you will find her repose, multitude of my gifts,

and she will be changed into gladness for and when I bring a gift to the Most High

you.

God, he will accept it.”

29

And her fetters will be a shelter of strength

10

Do not be fainthearted in your prayer,
for you,

and do not neglect to practice charity.

and her collars a robe of glory.

11

Do not deride a person when he is 30

For a golden ornament is upon her,

embittered in spirit,

and her bonds are a blue thread.

for there is one who humbles and exalts.

31

You will wear her as a robe of glory,

12

Do not cultivate a lie against your brother and you will put her on like a garland of or do the same to a friend.

joy.

13

Do not consent to concoct any lie, for the continuation of it results in no 32

If you are willing, child, you will be
good.

instructed,

14

Do not babble in a great number of elders, and if you surrender your soul, you will and do not repeat a word in your prayer.

be clever.

33

If you love to listen, you will receive,

15

Do not hate toilsome labor and if you incline your ear, you will be and tillage created by the Most High.
wise.

16

Do not reckon yourself among the 34

Stand in a crowd of elders, multitude of sinners;
and cling to their wisdom.
remember that wrath will not delay.

35

Be willing to listen to every godly 17

Humble your soul greatly, discourse,
because the punishment of the impious is and do not let proverbs of understanding fire and worm.

escape you.

36

If you see an intelligent person, turn to him

18

Do not exchange a friend for cash early,

or a real brother for gold of Souphir.

and let your foot wear out the thresholds

19

Do not fail a wise and good wife, of his doors.

for her grace is beyond gold.

aProbable antecedent, evil things (7.1)

sirach 7-8

725

20

Do not abuse a domestic when he truly

for gold has ruined many

works

and has perverted hearts of kings.

or a laborer when he gives his soul.

3

Do not contend with a garrulous person,

21

Let your soul love an intelligent domestic;

and do not heap wood on his fire.

do not deprive him of freedom.

4

Do not make fun of the uneducated,

22

Do you have cattle? Look after them, lest your ancestors be insulted.

and if they are useful to you, let them

5

Do not reproach a person when he is remain with you.

turning away from sin;

23

Do you have children? Educate them, remember that we all are subject to and bend their neck from youth.
rebuke.

24

Do you have daughters? Give heed to their 6

Do not disdain a person in his old age,
body,
for some of us, too, are growing old.
and do not brighten your face towards 7

Do not rejoice over a corpse;
them.

remember that we all pass away.

25

Give a daughter in marriage, and you will have completed a great task,

8

Do not disregard a discourse of the wise, and present her to an understanding and turn to their proverbs,
man.

because from them you will learn

26

Do you have a wife like your soul? Do not

instruction

divorce her,

and how to minister to noblemen.

and do not entrust yourself to her when 9

Do not miss out on the discourse of the
she is hated.

aged,

for even they themselves learned from 27

With your whole heart honor your father,
their fathers,

and a mother's birth pangs do not forget.

because from them you will learn

28

Remember that you were born through

understanding

them—

and how to give an answer in time of
and how will you repay them what they need.

have done for you?

10

Do not stoke a sinner's coals;

29

With your whole soul, revere the Lord, do not be set afire by the fire of his flame.
and admire his priests.

11

Do not vacate your seat before an insolent

30

With your whole might, love him who
person,
made you,
lest he sit down as an ambush to your

and his ministers do not neglect.

mouth.

31

Fear the Lord, and honor a priest, 12

Do not lend to a person stronger than you, and give him his portion, as it has been and if you do lend, be as one who has commanded of you:

lost.

first fruits and a concerning errora and gift of 13

Do not give surety beyond your ability, forearms

and if you do give surety, regard it as a and sacrifice of sanctification and first paying back.

fruits of holy things.

14

Do not go to law with a judge,

32

And stretch out your hand to a poor person for according to his status will they judge in order that your blessing may be in his favor.

complete.

15

With a reckless person do not travel on the 33

The kindness of something given is before road,
everyone alive,

lest your troubles weigh you down;
and do not hinder kindness for a corpse.
for he will travel as he wants to,

34

Do not lag behind those who weep, and by his folly you will perish as well.
but mourn with those who mourn.

16

With a quick-tempered person do not pick a 35

Do not hesitate to visit a sick person, fight,
for because of such deeds you will be
and do not traverse the desert with him,
loved.

because bloodshed is as nothing in his 36

In all your words, remember the end,
eyes,
and you will not ever sin.

and where there is no help, he will cast you down.

Do not contend with a powerful person,
With a foolish one do not consult,
lest you fall into his hands.

8

17

for he cannot cover up a secret.

2

Do not quarrel with a rich person,

18

In the presence of a stranger do not do lest he counter your weight;

something secret,

al.e. a sin offering

726

sirach 8-10

for you do not know what he will bring 15

Let your discussion be with intelligent

forth.

people,

19

Do not expose your heart to any person, and all your exposition in the law of the
and do not let him return a favor to you.

Most High.

16

Let righteous men be your dinner companions,

9 Do not be jealous of the wife of your bosom, nor teach an evil lesson against yourself.
and let your boast be in the fear of the 2

Do not give your soul to a woman,
Lord.

to let her trample upon your strength.

3

Do not meet with a female escort,

17

In the hand of artisans a work will be lest you fall into her snares.

praised,

4

With a female strummer do not dally, and the people's leader is wise by his lest you become caught in her endeavors.

word.

5

Do not ogle a maiden,

18

Feared in his city is a garrulous man, lest you be made to stumble in her and he who is reckless in his speech will rebukes.

be hated.

6

Do not give your soul to whores, lest you lose your inheritance.

A wise judge will educate his people,

7

Do not look around in city alleyways, 10 and the rule of an intelligent person will
and in its deserted places do not wander.
be orderly.

8

Turn an eye from a shapely woman,

2

As the people's judge is, so also are his and do not ogle beauty belonging to officials,
another;
and as the ruler of the city is, are all its
by a woman's beauty many have gone astray, inhabitants.

and from it fondness flares up like a fire.

3

An uneducated king will destroy his 9

With a married woman do not sit down at

people,

all,

and a city will be populated by the

and do not feast with her at wine, intelligence of its rulers.

lest your soul incline to her

4

In the Lord's hand is the governance of the

and by your blood you slip into

earth,

destruction.

and he will raise up over it the person useful for the time.

10

Do not abandon an old friend,

5

In the Lord's hand is a man's success, for the recent one is not his equal;

and to a scribe's face he will add his

a new friend is like new wine;

reputation.

if it ages, you will drink it with merriment.

6

For every wrong do not be angry with your neighbor,

11

Do not envy a sinner's good repute, and do not do anything with acts of

for you do not know what his undoing

insolence.

will be.

7

Hateful before the Lord and humans is 12

Do not delight in the success of the pride,

impious;

and to both injustice is wrong.

remember that they will not be deemed

8

Dominion is transferred from nation to righteous until Hadesa.

nation

on account of injustice and insolence and 13

Keep far from a person who has authority to

money.

kill,

[For there is nothing more lawless than love of

and you will not be apprehensive of the money;]

fear of death,

[for this person even makes his own soul a and if you approach him, do not make a commodity.]

mistake,

lest he take your life.

9

How can earth and ashes behave

Recognize that you are treading in the midst arrogantly?—

d

of snares,

because in life I hurled his entrailsd.

and you are walking about on a city's 10

A long illness mocks a physician;

battlements.

today a king, and tomorrow he will die.

11

For when a person dies,

14

According to your strength take stock of

he inherits creeping things and beasts your fellow,

and worms.

and consult with the wise.

12

Pride's beginning for a human is to rebel against the Lord,

al.e. the grave bLacking in Gk cl.e. a human being

dGk uncertain

sirach 10-11

727

and against him who made him his heart

29

Him who errs against his own soul—who rebels,

will vindicate?

13

because pride's beginning is sin,

And who will give repute to him who

and he who clings to it will pour out devalues his own life?

abomination.

30

A poor person has repute because of his

Therefore the Lord brought on incredible

knowledge,

attacks

and a rich person has repute because of and ruined him completely.

his wealth.

14

Thrones of rulers the Lord brought down,

31

He who has repute in poverty, how much and he seated the gentle in their place.

more also in wealth?

15

Roots of nations the Lord plucked up,

And he who is held in disrepute in and he planted the humble in their wealth, how much more also in place.

poverty?

16

Lands of nations the Lord ruined, and he destroyed them as far as earth's

A humble person's wisdom will raise up his foundations.

11

head,

17

He removed some people and destroyed and it will seat him in the midst of
them,
nobles.

and he erased their memorial from 2

Do not praise a man for his good looks,
earth.

and do not loathe a man for his 18

Pride was not created for human beings, appearance.

nor violent anger for what is born of 3

Small among flying creatures is a bee,
women.

and the origin of sweet things is its produce.

19

What kind of offspring is honorable?

4

Do not boast about the putting-on of Human offspring.

clothes,

What kind of offspring is honorable?

and do not exalt yourself in a day of Those who fear the Lord.

glory,

What kind of offspring is dishonorable?

because the works of the Lord are

Human offspring.

wonderful,

What kind of offspring is dishonorable?

and his works are hidden among

Those who transgress the humans.

commandments.

5

Many tyrants have sat on the ground, 20

In the midst of kin their leader is honorable, but one not expected to was wearing a and those who, in his eyes, fear the Lord.

diadem.

[21 The beginning of acceptance is fear of the Lord,]

6

Many dynasts have been utterly dishonored,

[but the beginning of rejection is obduracy and people of high repute have been and arrogance.]

given over into the hands of others.

22

Guest and stranger and poor person—their boast is fear of the Lord.

7

Before you investigate, do not find fault;

23

It is not right to dishonor an intelligent reflect first, and then rebuke.

poor person,

8

Before listening, do not answer, and it is not proper to glorify a sinful and in the middle of speaking, do not man.

interrupt.

24

Noble and judge and ruler will be glorified,

9

About a matter that is of no use to you, do but none of them is greater than he who not quarrel,
fears the Lord.

and in a trial of sinners, do not 25

Free persons will attend to a wise domestic,
deliberate.

and a knowledgeable man will not grumble.

10

Child, let not your actions entail many
things;

26

Do not craftily perform your task, if you multiply them, you will not be and do not extol yourself in your time of held blameless, difficulty.

and if you pursue, you will not overtake,

27

Superior is a person who works and excels and you will not escape when you flee.

in all things

11

There exists one who toils and struggles and to one who struts about extolling himself hurries

and lacks bread.

but is so much the more in want.

12

There exists one who is sluggish and in need

28

Child, in meekness give repute to your

of assistance,

soul,

lacking strength and abounding in and give it value according to its worth.
poverty,

aLacking in Gk

728

sirach 11-12

and the eyes of the Lord looked upon him

29

Do not bring every person into your home, for good,

for many are the ambushes of the

and he restored him from his low estate deceitful.

13

and raised up his head,

30

A decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of

and many marveled at him.

an arrogant person,

and like a spy he observes a downfall.

14

Good things and bad, life and death,

31

For he lies in ambush turning good things poverty and wealth are from the Lord.

into bad,

[15 Wisdom and skill and knowledge of the law are and damong choice things he adds

from the Lord,]

disgraced.

[affection and the ways of good works are

32

From a spark of fire coals are multiplied,

from him.]

and a sinful person lies in ambush for [16 Error and darkness have been created with blood.

sinner,]

33

Beware of a scoundrel—for he devises

[and evil things grow old along with those wicked things—

who take pride in evil.]

lest he deliver to you disgrace forever.

17

The Lord's gift remains with the pious, 34

Welcome a stranger, and he will twist you and his favor will bring success forever.

around in confusion

18

There exists one who becomes rich from his and alienate you from your own.

diligence and miserliness, and this is the portion of his

If you do good, know for whom you do it, recompense.

12 andtherewillbegratitudeforyourgood

19

When he says, "I have found rest,
deeds.

and now I will eat of my good things,"

2

Do good to a pious person, and you will even he does not know how time will pass find repayment,

by,

and if not from him, then from the Most and he will leave them to others and will

High.

die.

3

There is no good for him who persists in

evil

20

Stand by your covenanta, and attend to it, and for him who does not willingly offer and in your work grow old.

charity.

21

Do not wonder at the works of a sinner,

4

Give to the pious person, but do not assist but have faith in the Lord, and continue the sinner.

your labor,

5

Treat the humble well, and do not give to because it is easy in the eyes of the Lord an impious person;

quickly, suddenly, to make a needy hold back loaves of bread, and do not give person rich.

to him,

22

The Lord's blessing is in the wage of a pious lest by them he prevail over you;

person,

for you will get twice as many bad things and in a short time his good pleasure for all the good things that you might do flourishes.

for him,

23

Do not say, "What is my need?

6

because also the Most High hated sinners,

And what will be my good things from

and on the impious he will render now on?"

punishment.

24

Do not say, "I have enough,

[And he is keeping them for the day of their

and what distress will I suffer from now punishment.]

on?"

7

Give to the good person, and do not assist

25

In a day of bprosperity, adversityb is

the sinner.

forgotten,

8

The friend will not be punished in good and in a day of cadversity, prosperityc will

things,

not be remembered,

and the enemy will not be hidden in evil

26 because it is easy with the Lord in a day of

things.

death

9

In a man's good things, his enemies are in to give back to a person according to his pain,
ways.

and in his evil things, a friend also will 27

An hour's misery engenders forgetfulness of be separated.

luxury,

10

Never trust your enemy;
and a person's end is a disclosure of his for just as copper corrodes, so does his deeds.

wickedness.

28

Before death call no one happy,

11

And if he is brought low and walks and in his children a man will be known.

stooped,

aOr agreement bOr good things, bad things cOr bad things, good things dPerhaps among chosen ones he sets disgrace
eLacking in Gk

sirach 12-13

729

trust your soul, and be on guard against

and at last he will mock you;

him,

after these things, he will see you and leave and you shall be to him as one who wipes a

you

mirror,

and will shake his head at you.

and you shall know that it was not completely tarnished.

8

Take care that you are not led astray, 12

Do not stand him next to you, and do not be humiliated by your folly.

lest, having overthrown you, he stand in 9

When a powerful person invites you, be your place;

reserved,

do not seat him at your right,

and he will invite you so much more.

lest he seek your seat,

10

Do not be forward, lest you be rejected, and at last you will understand my words and do not stand far off, lest you be and be pricked by my sayings.
forgotten.

11

Do not aim to speak as an equal with 13

Who will pity a charmer bitten by a snake,
him,
or all who approach wild beasts?— and do not put faith in his rather many 14

so the one who goes near a man who sins
words;
and one who gets mixed up in his sins.
for with much talk he will test you,

15

For a time he will remain with you, and as though smiling he will be

and if you falter, he will not be steadfast.

examining you.

16

With his lips the enemy will speak sweetly, 12

Merciless is he who does not guard words, and in his heart he will plan to throw you and he will not spare you from doing bad into a trench.

and imprisonment.

With his eyes the enemy will weep,

13

Be on guard, and pay attention, and if he finds an opportunity, he will because you are walking about with your

not be sated with blood.

own downfall.

17

If harm meets you, you will find him there

[14 When you hear them in your sleep, wake up.]

ahead of you,

[In your entire life, love the Lord,] and pretending to help, he will trip your

[and call upon him for your deliverance.]

heel.

18

He will shake his head and clap his hands

15

Every living thing loves what is like to it, and whisper many things and alter his

and every person his fellow.

face.

16

All flesh congregates according to kind,

and with one like himself will a man

He who touches pitch will become dirty, cleave.

13 and he who associates with a proud

17

What will a wolf have in common with a person will become like him.

lamb?—

2

Do not lift what is too heavy for you,

so is a sinner to a pious person.

and do not associate with one stronger

18

What peace is there between a hyena and a and richer than you.

dog?

How will a clay pot associate with a

And what peace between a rich person

cauldron?

and a needy person?

The former will strike against, and the 19

The prey of lions is onagers in the desert;

former will be smashed.

thus the poor are the fodder of the rich.

3

A rich person did wrong, and he was angry

20

An abomination to a proud person is to boot;

humility;

a poor person has been wronged, and he thus an abomination to a rich person is a will plead.

poor person.

4

If you are useful, he will work with you, and if you are in want, he will abandon 21

When a rich person totters, he is supported

you.

by friends,

5

If you have somethinga, he will live with but when a humble person falls, he is

you,

pushed away by friends.

and he will clean you out, and he will 22

When a rich person staggers, many are his not suffer.

helpers;

6

He has need of you and will deceive you he spoke things not to be spoken, and and will smile at you and will give you they justified him.

hope;

A humble person staggered, and in addition he will speak nice things to you and say, they rebuked him;

“What do you need?”

he uttered sense, and no place was given 7

He will shame you with his foods
to him.

until he cleans you out two or three times,

23

A rich person spoke, and all kept silent,

aLacking in Gk

730

sirach 13-15

and they exalted his word up to the 15

Will you not leave behind your toils to clouds.

another

A poor person spoke, and they said, “Who is and your toils to division by lot?
this?”

16

Give, and take, and deceive your soul,
And if he should stumble, they will even because in Hades there is no seeking of overturn him.

luxury.

24

Wealth in which there is no sin is good,

17

All flesh becomes old like a garment, but in the mouths of an impious person for the covenant of old is, “By death you poverty is wicked.

shall die!”

18

Like a sprouting leaf on a thickly leaved tree, 25

A person's heart changes his face,

some it sheds, but others it puts forth;

whether for good things or bad.

so is a generation of flesh and blood,

26

A heart's footstep in good things is a

the one dies and the other is born.

cheerful face,

19

Every decaying deed ceases, and the invention of illustrations is

and the one who does it will pass away conversations along with toils.

with it.

20

Happy is the man who will meditate on 14 Happyisthemanwhodidnotslipwithhis

mouth

wisdom

and was not stabbed with the pain of sins.

and who will converse with his 2

Happy the one whose soul has not
understanding.

condemned him

21

He who considers her ways in his heart and who has not lost his hope.

also will reflect on her obscurities.

22

Go out after her like a tracker,

3

For a petty man wealth is not good,
and in her entranceways lie in wait!

and to a begrudging person—why is there 23

He who peers through her windows
money?

also will listen at her doorways.

4

He who constrains his appetite collects for 24

He who lodges near her house

others,

also will pitch a peg in her walls.

and with his goods others will live

25

He will set his tent according to her hand, luxuriously.

and he will lodge in a lodging place of 5

He who is evil to himself, to whom will he

good things.

be good?

26

He will place his children in her shelter,

And he will never be gladdened by his

and under her boughs he will encamp.

money.

27

He will be sheltered by her from heat,

6

There is none worse than he who begrudges and in her glory he will lodge.

himself,

and this is repayment for his evil.

He who fears the Lord will do it,

7

Even if he acts well, he does it with 15 and he who has a hold on the law will lay forgetting,

hold of her.

and in the end he reveals his evil.

2

And she will come to meet him like a 8

Wicked is the one who is grudging with the mother,

eye,

and like a woman of maidenhood, she

when he turns away his face and will welcome him.

overlooks souls.

3

She will feed him bread of understanding,

9

The eye of the greedy is not satisfied with a and water of wisdom she will give him to portion,
drink.

and wicked injustice withers the soul.

4

He will be propped up on her and will not 10

An evil eye is envious over bread, elie downe,
and it is lacking on hisb table.

and he will attend to her, and he will not be put to shame.

11

Child, even as you have, treat yourself well,

5

And she will exalt him above his fellows, and bring offerings to the Lord worthily.

and in the midst of an assembly she will 12

Remember that death will not tarry, open his mouth.

and the covenant of Hades has not been 6

Gladness and a garland of rejoicing shown to you.

and an everlasting name will he inherit.

13

Before you die, treat a friend well,

7

Witless people will never lay hold of her,

and, according to your strength, reach and sinful men will never see her.

out, and give to him.

8

She is far from arrogance,

14

Do not withdraw from a good day, and lying men will never remember her.
and do not let a share of a good desire 9

A song of praise is not proper in the mouth pass you by.
of a sinner,

aLacking in Gk bOr its cl.e. as she directs dAntecedent unclear eOr fall

sirach 15-16

731 because it has not been apportioned by 7

He did not propitiate for the ancient giants,
the Lord.

those who revolted in their strength.

10

For in wisdom a song of praise will be 8

He did not spare the neighbors of Lot uttered, whom he loathed on account of their

and the Lord will make it prosper.
arrogance.

9

He did not have mercy on a nation of 11

Do not say, "On account of the Lord I fell
destruction,
away,"

those carried away by their sins.

for what he hates, he will not do.

[All these things he did to hard-hearted

12

Do not say, "It was he who led me astray,"
nations,]

for he has no need of a sinful man.

[and by the multitude of his holy ones he was 13

Every abomination the Lord hated, not entreated]

and it is not beloved to those who fear 10

even so six hundred thousand foot soldiers,

him.

those assembled in their hardness of 14

It was he who from the beginning made

heart.

humankind,

[In flogging, showing mercy, striking, healing,] and he left him in the hand of his

[the Lord watched closely with compassion

deliberation.

and instruction.]

15

If you want to, you shall preserve the 11

Even if there might be one stiff-necked

commandments,

person,

and to keep faith is a matter of good it would be a wonder if he would go

pleasure.

unpunished;

16

He has set aside for you fire and water;

for mercy and wrath are with him,

to whichever you want, you shall stretch

a dynasty of propitiations and pouring out out your hand.

wrath.

17

Before humans are life and death, 12

According to his great mercy, so also is his

and whichever one he desires will be reproof;

given to him,

he will judge a man according to his 18

because great is the wisdom of the Lord;
deeds.

he is mighty in dominance and one who 13

A sinner will not escape with booty, sees everything.

and the endurance of the pious will never 19

And his eyes are on those who fear him, fail.

and he will know every human deed.

14

He will make a place for every act of 20

He did not command anyone to be charity;

impious,

each will get according to his deeds.

and he did not give anyone leave to sin.

[15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh so that he did not know him]

[so that his actions might be known to what

16 Do not desire a multitude of useless

children,

lies beneath the sky.]

and do not be glad over impious sons.

[16 To all creation is his mercy manifest,]

2

If they multiply, do not be glad over them

[and his light and darkness he apportioned to unless the fear of the Lord is with them.

Adam.]

3

Do not have faith in their life, and do not be intent on the multitude of 17

Do not say, "I will be hidden from the

them.

Lord—

[For you will groan in untimely mourning,] and from on high who will remember

[and suddenly you will know of their end.]

me?"

For better is one than a thousand,

Among a great many people I will not be and to die childless rather than to have known;

impious children.

for what is my soul in an immeasurable

4

For by one intelligent person a city will be creation?

peopled,

18

Look, the sky and the sky of the sky,

but a tribe of lawless people will be left abyss and earth will totter at his withoutb.

visitation.

[The entire world, past and present, is in his

5

Many such things has my eye seen, will.]

and more mighty things than these has 19

At once the mountains and the foundations

my ear heard.

of the earth

6

In a gathering of sinners a fire will blaze are being shaken together with trembling

out,

when he looks at them.

and in a disobedient nation wrath has 20

And to them the heart will give no blazed out.

thought—

al.e. abomination bl.e. without a city 732

sirach 16-17

and his ways who has pondered?

and good things and bad he showed to 21

And a tempest there is, which person shall
them.

not see—

8

He put the fear of him upon their hearts, and most of his deeds are in secret.

to show them the majesty of his works.

22

Acts of justice who will announce,

[He allowed that they boast of his wonders or who will await? For the covenant is far through ages.]

off.

10

And they shall praise a name of holiness

[And an examination for all is at the end.]

9 in order to recount the majesties of his 23

One who is lacking in heart thinks these works.

things,

11

He set before them knowledge, and a foolish and misled man thinks and a law of life he allotted to them foolish things.

[in order to be mindful that those who exist now are mortal.]

24

Listen to me, child, and learn knowledge, 12

A perpetual covenant he established with and to my words apply your heart.

them,

25

I will disclose instruction by fixed standard, and his judgments he showed to them.

and with accuracy I will declare 13

Majesty of glory their eyes saw,
knowledge.

and the glory of his voice their ear heard.

14

And he said to them, "Be on guard against 26

In the Lord's creation are his works from the all wrong,"

beginning,

and he commanded each of them and from the making of them he defined concerning his fellow.

their portions.

15

Their ways are before him always;

27

He put in order their tasks forever

they will not be hidden from his eyes.

and their rule for their generations;

[16 Their ways from youth are upon evil things,]

they neither hungered, nor did they grow

[and they were not strong enough to make

weary,

their hearts of flesh]

and they did not abandon their tasks.

[rather than of stone.]

28

Each one did not crowd its fellow,

17

[For in the division of the nations of the entire

and they will not ever disobey his

earth,]

dictum.

for each nation he appointed a leader,

29

And after these things, the Lord looked and the Lord's portion is Israel,

upon the earth,

[18 whom, being the firstborn, he nurtures with

and he filled it with his good things.

instruction,]

30

With the soul of every living thing he [and allotting the light of love, he does not covered its face, neglect him.]

and into it is their return.

19

All of their works are before him like the
sun,

and his eyes are continually upon their 17 The Lord created a human being out of earth,

ways.

and he returned him into it again.

20

Their injustices were not hidden from him,

2

He gave them days in number and a fixed and all their sins are before the Lord.

time,

[21 But the Lord, being kind and knowing his

and he gave them authority over the formation,]

things upon it.

[neither neglected them nor forsook sparing

3

He clothed them in a strength like

them.]

himself,

22

A man's charity is like a signet with him, and in his image he made them.

and a person's kindness he will preserve

4

He placed the fear of him upon all flesh,

like the apple of his eye, even to have dominion over beasts and [apportioning repentance to his sons and

birds.

daughters.]

[5

They received use of the five faculties of the 23

After these things he will arise and repay

Lord,]

them,

[but, apportioning a sixth, he gave to them and their repayment he will deliver upon the gift of mind,]

their head.

[and the seventh, reason, the interpreter of 24

Except to those who repented he granted a his faculties.]

return,

6

Deliberation and a tongue and eyes, and he exhorted those who were ears and a heart for thinking he gave abandoning hope.

them.

7

With knowledge of understanding he filled

25

Turn back to the Lord, and leave sins

them,

behind;

al.e. the first human

sirach 17-18

733 petition in person, and minimize the so are a few years in a day of eternity.

offense.

11

For this reason the Lord was longsuffering

26

Return to the Most High, and turn away with them,

from injustice,

and he poured out his mercy upon them.

[for he will guide out of darkness into the 12

He saw and knew their end, that it is light of health,]

grievous;

and intensely hate abomination.

for this reason he multiplied his 27

Who will sing praises to the Most High in propitiation.

Hades

13

A person's mercy is upon his fellow, instead of the living and those who give but the mercy of the Lord is upon all thanks?

flesh,

28

From a corpse, since it does not exist, when he corrects and instructs and teaches acknowledgement has perished;
and turns as a shepherd does his flock.
a living and healthy person will praise

14

He shows mercy to those who accept
the Lord.

discipline

29

How great is the charity of the Lord and who hasten to his judgments.

and his propitiation to those who turn back to him.

15

Child, do not allow reproach among good 30

For not all things are able to be among

deeds

humans,

nor pain of words with every giving.

because a son of man is not immortal.

16

Does not dew mitigate scorching heat?

31

What is brighter than the sun? Even this

So better a word than a gift.

thing fails.

17

Look! Does not a word exceed a good gift?

And flesh and blood will ponder evil.

And both are with a man who has been 32

It is he who reviews the power of the sky's favoured.

height,

18

A foolish person will upbraid ungraciously, and all human beings are earth and
and the giving of a grudging person melts ashes.

eyes.

18 Hewholivesforevercreatedeverythingin
Before speaking, learn,

19

common.

and before illness, take care of yourself.

2

The Lord alone will be justified,

20

Before judgment, examine yourself,

[and there is no other beside him,] and in the hour of scrutiny you will find

[3

he who steers the world with the span of his

propitiation.

hand,]

21

Before you fall ill, humble yourself,

[and all things obey his will,]

and in a time of sinful actions

[for he is king of all things by his power,] demonstrate repentance.

[separating among them holy things from 22

Do not be hindered from repaying a vow profane.]

appropriately,

4

He has permitted no one to announce his

and do not wait until death to be

works—

vindicated.

and who can search out his majestic

23

Before making a vow, prepare yourself,

deeds?

and do not be like a person who tempts

5

The power of his greatness who will
the Lord.

enumerate?

24

Be mindful of wrath in days of death
And who will add to recount his mercies?
and of a time of vengeance bin the 6

It is impossible to diminish or to increase turning away of a faceb.

thema,

25

Be mindful of a time of hunger in a time of
and it is impossible to search out the plenty,

wonders of the Lord.

of poverty and want in days of wealth.

7

When a person finishes, then he is

From morning until evening opportunity beginning,
changes,
and when he stops, then he will be at a
and all things are swift before the Lord.
loss.

8

What is a human being, and what is his use?

27

A wise person will be cautious in everything,

What is his good, and what is his evil?

and in days of sins he will take heed

9

The number of a person's days is as many as against error.

a hundred years,

28

Every intelligent person recognized wisdom,

[but indeterminable by all is the sleep of each and to him who finds her shed will give

one.]

acknowledgment.

10

Like a drop of water from the sea and a 29

Persons who are intelligent with words also grain of sand,

became wise themselves,

aLacking in Gk bOr when he turns away (his) face cPerhaps fleeting dPossibly he 734

sirach 18-19

and they poured forth apt proverbs.

14

Question your fellow; perhaps he didn't [Better is confidence in a single master]

say,

[than clinging with a dead heart to a dead

and if he has said, lest he repeat.

one.]

15

Question a friend, for oftentimes it becomes slander,

SELF CONTROL

and do not believe every word.

30

After your desires do not go,

16

There exists one who slips, and it is not
and from your appetites restrain yourself.

from the soul—

31

If you furnish your soul with consent for and who has not sinned with his desire,

tongue?

it will make you a laughingstock of your 17

Question your fellow before threatening,
enemies.

and give a place to the law of the Most 32

Do not be glad in great luxury;

High.

do not be made needy by its contact.

[18 Fear of the Lord is the beginning of acquisition,]

33

Do not become poor by feasting out of

[and wisdom secures affection from him.]

borrowing,

[19 Knowledge of the Lord's commandments is

and you have nothing in your pocket.

education for life,]

[For you will be plotting against your own life.]

[and those who do things pleasing to him will enjoy the fruits of the tree of

A drunken worker will not become rich,

immortality.]

19 and he who despises few things will fall little by little.

20

All wisdom is fear of the Lord,

2

Wine and women will mislead intelligent and in all wisdom there is doing of the men,

law

and he who joins himself to prostitutes

[and knowledge of his omnipotence.] will be more reckless.

[21 When a domestic says to a master, "I will not

3

Decay and worms will take possession of

do what pleases you,"]

him,

[if after these things he does, he angers him and a reckless soul will be carried off.

who supports him.]

22

There is no wisdom that is knowledge of 4

He who trusts quickly is light in heart,

wickedness,

and he who sins will do wrong to his soul.

and there is no prudence in advice of 5

He who is gladdened by wickedness will be sinners.

condemned,

23

There is cleverness that is also an

[but he who withstands pleasures crowns his abomination,

life.]

and there is a fool lacking in wisdom.

6

[He who controls the tongue will live without

24

Better is a fearful person inferior in strife,]

intelligence

and he who hates discussion will be than one superior in prudence and lacking in heart.

transgressing the law.

7

Never repeat a word,

25

There exists exact cleverness that is also
and nothing will be lacking to you.

unjust,

8

Among friend and foe do not describe, and there is one who perverts a favor in and unless it is a sin for you, do not order to produce a judgment, disclose.

[and he who deems righteous is wise in

9

Suppose hea has heard you and kept watch judgment.]

on you

26

There is one who acts wickedly, bent down and in time will hate you.

with blackness,

10

Have you heard a word? Let it perish along and what is inside him is full of with you.

treachery.

Be brave! It will never make you burst.

27

As he lowers face and feigns deafness,

11

From a word, a foolish person will go into when no one observes, he will outrun you.

labor pains,

28

And if by lack of strength he is prevented

as does she who is giving birth from a from sinning,
babe to be born.

if he finds opportunity, he will do evil.

12

An arrow stuck in a thigh of flesh,

29

From appearance a man will be so is a word in the gut of a foolish recognized,
person.

and from a meeting in person a rational person will be recognized.

13

Question a friend; perhaps he didn't,

30

A man's clothing and a claugther of teethc and if he did something, lest perchance and a person's gait will announce things he add.

about him.

al.e. friend or foe bl.e. intentional cl.e. toothy laugh

sirach 20-21

735

20 There is questioning that is not timely,

[For he has not received what he has with true and there is one who keeps silent, and he feeling,]

is prudent.

[and what he does not have similarly is

2

How good it is to question rather than to be indifferent to him.]

angry.

3

And he who admits freely will be kept from 18

A slip on the ground rather than of the disparagement.

tongue;

4

A eunuch's desire to violate a girl—so the downfall of evil persons will come thus is he who makes judgments by speedily.

force.

19

An ungracious person, an untimely story,

5

There exists a person who keeps silent, who
it will persist in the mouth of the
is found to be wise,
uneducated.

and there is one who is hated from much 20

An illustration from the mouth of a foolish talk.

person will be rejected,

6

There exists one who keeps silent, for he

for he will not tell it at its proper time.
does not have an answer,
and there is one who keeps silent, since 21

There exists a person who is prevented from
he knows the proper time.
sinning by indigence,

7

A wise person will be silent until a proper and in his rest he will not be
time,
bewildered.

but the swaggerer and fool overstep a 22

There exists a person who destroys his life proper time.
through shame,

8

He who is excessive with speech will be
and he will destroy it due to a fool.

loathed,

23

There exists a person who promises to a and he who pretends to authority will be friend a favor out of shame hated.

and made him an enemy to no purpose.

[How good that when one is rebuked, one shows repentance,]

24

A lie is an evil blemish on a person;

[for thus shall you escape willful sinning.]

it will persist in the mouth of the uneducated.

9

A man has success in evil things,

25

Preferable is a thief over one who persists in and there is a windfall resulting in loss.

a lie,

10

There exists giving that will not profit you,
but both will inherit destruction.

and there exists giving of which the 26

A lying person's character is dishonor, repayment is double.

and his shame is constantly with him.

11

There exists loss for the sake of reputation, and there exists a person who from a low

ILLUSTRATIVE SAYINGS

estate raised his head.

27

The wise person will apply himself in few 12

There exists a person who buys much for a
things,

little

and a prudent person will please nobles.

and pays for it seven times.

28

He who tills the soil will raise up his heap, 13

The wise person will make himself beloved and he who pleases nobles will atone for in a few things,

injustice.

but favors of foolish ones will be poured

29

Friendly gift and presents blind the eyes of

out.

wise persons,

14

A gift of a fool will not profit you, and like a muzzle on a mouth they turn

[and likewise also that of a grudging person away reproofs.

on account of his compulsion,] 30

Hidden wisdom and unseen treasure, for his eyes are many instead of one.

what profit is there in both?

15

He will seldom give and reproach often,

31

Better is a person who hides his and he will open his mouth like a foolishness

herald;

than a person who hides his wisdom.

today he will lend and ask back

[32 Better is implacable endurance in seeking the tomorrow;

Lord]

such a person is hateful.

[than a spurious charioteer of one's own life.]

16

A foolish person says, "I do not have a
friend,

and there is no gratitude for my good

21 Child, you sinned; do not add any longer, and concerning your former ones petition.

deeds."

2

As from before a snake, flee from sin,

Those who eat his bread are mean in for if you approach, it will bite you;

tongue.

it's teeth are lion's teeth,

17

How often and how many will ridicule him?

destroying people's lives.

aLacking in Gk bOr bribes

736

sirach 21-22

3

All lawlessness is like a two-edged sword;

and like manacles on one's right hand.

for its wound there is no healing.

20

A foolish person raises his voice in 4

Consternation and insolence will desolate laughter,
wealth;
but a clever man will scarcely smile in so an arrogant person's house will be silence.
uprooted.

21

Like a golden ornament is instruction to a 5
A poor person's petition is from the mouth prudent person,
to his ears,
and like a bracelet on the right arm.
and his judgment comes speedily.

6

One who hates reproof is in the footstep of 22

A foolish person's foot is quick into a house,

a sinner,
but an experienced person will feel and he who fears the Lord will turn with restraint in front.
the heart.

23

A fool peeks into a house from a door,

7

Known from afar is he who is mighty in but an educated man will stand outside.
tongue,

24

It is lack of education for a person to listen but he who is sensible knows when he at a door,
makes a slip.

but a prudent person will be weighed down by dishonor.

8

He who builds his house with others'

money

25

Lips of strangers will tell tales with these is like one who gathers his stones for a

things,

burial mound.

but the words of prudent persons will be 9

A gathering of the lawless is bundled flax, placed on a scale.

and a flame of fire is their end.

26

In the mouth of foolish persons is their 10

A way of sinners is leveled out of stones,

heart,

and at its end is a hole of Hades.

but in the heart of wise persons is their

mouth.

11

He who keeps the law gains mastery over 27

When an impious person curses the satan, the object of his thought,

he curses his own soul.

and consummation of the fear of the 28

He who whispers defiles his own soul,

Lord is wisdom.

and he will be hated in a 12

He who is not clever shall not be instructed, neighborhood.

but there is a cleverness that increases

bitterness.

13

A wise person's knowledge will increase like

22 A sluggard has been compared to a filthy stone,

a flood,
and everyone will hiss at his dishonor.
and his counsel is like a spring of life.

2

A sluggard has been compared to cow dung

14

The inward parts of a foolish person are of dunghills;
like a broken vessel,
everyone who picks it up will shake off and he will not master any knowledge.
his hand.

15

A wise word—if one who understands hears

3

A father's shame is in engendering an
it,
ineducable son,
he will praise it and will add to it.
but a daughter is born at a loss.

He who lives luxuriously heard and was 4

A prudent daughter will obtain a husband displeased with it,

of her own,

and he turned it aside behind his back.

and she who is put to shame is as a grief

16

A foolish person's explanation is like a for a begetter.

burden on a journey,

5

The impudent woman shames father and

but upon the lips of an intelligent person

husband,

grace will be found.

and she will be held in dishonor by both 17

The mouth of a prudent person will be

of them.

sought in an assembly,

6

Untimely narration is music during and his words they will ponder in their mourning,
heart.

but whips and instructions are wisdom at any time.

18

Like a house that has been razed, so is [7

Children who have a rearing in a good life]

wisdom to a foolish person,

[will hide the lowly birth of their own and an ignorant person's knowledge is begetters.]

meaningless words.

[8

Children who take pride in contempt and lack 19

On a thoughtless person's feet education is of instruction]

fetters,

[sully the good birth of their own family.] al.e. God's bLacking in Gk cOr discipline

sirach 22-23

737

9

He who teaches a foolish person is one be not concerned, for reconciliation is gluing together a potsherd,

possible—

one arousing a sleeper out of a deep with the exception of reproach and

sleep.

arrogance and revealing a secret and 10

He who recounts to a foolish person is a treacherous blow—

recounting to one who is drowsy,

in these cases any friend will flee.

and at the conclusion he will say, "What is it?"

23

Gain your fellow's trust in poverty

11

Weep over a corpse, for he has left the so that in his prosperity you may be filled
light,

as well;

and weep over a foolish person, for he
in a time of distress stay with him has left understanding behind.

so that in his inheritance you may be a

Weep sweetly over a corpse, because he died, joint heir.

but the life of the foolish person is a

[For one should not always despise the outline,] sorry plight beyond death.

[nor is a rich person admirable when he has 12

Mourning for a corpse is for seven days,

no purpose.]

but for a foolish and impious person, it is 24

Preceding a fire there are a furnace's vapor

all the days of his life.

and smoke;

so preceding bloodshed there are 13

Do not increase speech with a fool, abuses.

and do not go to an unintelligent person;

25

I will not be ashamed to shelter a friend, [for when a person is without sense, he will
and from before him I will never hide.
bring to nothing everything of yours;]

26

And if bad things will happen to me on his keep away from him, lest you have trouble,
account,

and you will not be sullied by his shaking everyone who hears will guard against
off;

him.

stay clear of him, and you will find rest, and you will never be wearied by his 27

Who will grant a guard upon my madness.

mouth

14

What will be heavier than lead?
and a shrewd seal upon my lips,
And what name does he have but lest I fall because of them “foolish person”?
and my tongue destroy me?

15

Sand and salt and a lump of iron are easier to bear than an unintelligent O Lord, Father and Master of my life,
person.

23 do not abandon me to their design, and do not let me fall among them.

16

A tie-beam fastened into a building

2

Who will set whips upon my thought will not be loosed by an earthquake; and discipline of wisdom upon my so a heart firmly set upon a thought from

heart

counsel

so that they might not spare my faults of

will not be afraid at any time.

ignorance

17

A heart fixed upon thoughtful and he shall not let their sins go?—

understanding

3

that my acts of ignorance may not be is like an engraved ornament on a multiplied,

smooth wall.

and my sins may increase,

18

Pebbles lying on a high surface and I will fall before my adversaries, will never endure against a wind;

and my enemy will rejoice over me.

so a heart in dread at the thought of a [Far from them is the hope of your mercy.]

foolish person

4

O Lord, Father and God of my life, will never endure against any fear.

do not give me a lifting up of eyes,

5

and turn desire away from me.

19

He who pricks an eye will draw down tears,

6

Let not the belly's appetite and sexual and he who pricks a heart brings to light intercourse seize me,
feelings.

and do not give me over to a shameless

20

He who throws a stone at birds scares them
soul.

off,

and he who insults a friend dissolves a

DISCIPLINE OF THE MOUTH

friendship.

7

Listen, children, to discipline of the 21

If you draw a sword on a friend,

mouth,

do not despair, for a way back is and he who observes it will never be possible.

caught.

22

If you open youra mouth against a friend,

8

By his lips a sinner will be seized,

aLacking in Gk

738

sirach 23-24

and an abusive person and an arrogant

19

And people's eyes are his fear, person will be made to stumble by

and he was unaware that the eyes of the

them.

Lord

9

Do not accustom your mouth to an oath, are ten thousand times brighter than the
and do not become used to the naming sun,
of the Holy One.

as they look upon all the ways of human 10

For just as a domestic who is constantly

beings

scrutinized

and as they look into obscure parts.

will not be wanting for a bruise,

20

Before all things were created, they were so also he who swears and always speaks the

known to him,

name

so also after they were completed.

will never be cleansed from sin.

21

This one will be punished in the streets of 11

A man of many oaths will be full of

the city,

lawlessness,

and when he did not suspect it, he will

and a scourge will not depart from his be seized.

house;

if he errs, his sin is upon him,

22

So also a woman when she leaves her and if he disregards it, he has sinned

husband

doubly,

and presents an heir by another.

and if he swore in vain, he will not be 23

Now, first, she disobeyed the law of the

justified,

Most High,

for his house will be full of distress.

and second, she committed a wrong against her husband,

12

There is a way of speaking that compares and third, she committed adultery by an

with death;

illicit act

let it not be found in the inheritance of and presented children by another man.

Iakob;

24

She herself shall be brought out into an for all these things shall stand away from assembly,

the pious,

and there will be a visitation on her and they shall not wallow in sins.

children.

13

Do not let your mouth become used to lewd

25

Her children will not spread out into a want of education,

root,

for there is in it a word of sin.

and her branches will not bear fruit.

14

Remember your father and mother,

26

She will leave behind her memory for a curse,

for you sit in council among nobles, and her reproach will not be blotted out.

lest you forget yourself before them

27

And those who are left behind will know and act foolishly by your habit, that nothing is better than fear of the

and you will wish that you were never born,

Lord,

and you will curse the day of your birth.

and nothing is sweeter than to heed

15

A person who is accustomed to words of commandments of the Lord.

reproach,

[28 It is a great glory to follow God,]

in all his days, will never be instructed.

[and for you to be received by him is length of days.]

16

Two kinds multiply sins,

and a third will bring on wrath.

PRAISE OF WISDOM

A hot temperament like a burning fire

Wisdom will praise her soul, will never be quenched until it is 24 and in the midst of her people she will consumed;

boast.

a person who is sexually promiscuous with 2

In an assembly of the Most High she will

at the body of his flesh open her mouth,
will never cease until a fire burns out.
and before his power she will boast.

17

To a sexually promiscuous person all bread

3

“I came forth from the mouth of the Most is sweet;

High,

he will never grow weary until he dies.
and like a mist I covered earth.

18

There is a person who transgresses against 4

I encamped in the heights,

his bed,

and my throne was in a pillar of cloud.

saying in his soul, “Who will see me?”

5

A circle of sky I encircled alone, Darkness surrounds me, and the walls will
and in the deep of abysses I walked.
hide me,

6

In the waves of the sea and in all the earth and no one will see me. Why am I discreet?
and in every people and nation I led.
The Most High will never remember my 7

With all these I sought repose, sins.”
and in whose inheritance I would settle.
al.e. his own flesh and blood

sirach 24-25

739

8

“Then the creator of all commanded me, an inheritance for the gatherings of

and he who created me put down my lakob.

tent

[24 Do not cease to be strong in the Lord,]

and said, 'Encamp in Iakob,

[and cling to him so that he might strengthen and in Israel let your inheritance be.'

you.]

9

Before the age, from the beginning, he

[The Lord Almighty alone is God,]

created me,

[and there is no savior beside him.]

and until the age I will never fail.

25

It fills wisdom like Phison

10

In a holy tent I ministered before him, and like Tigris in days of new thingsc.

and thus in Sion I was firmly set.

26

It supplies understanding like Euphrates

11

In a beloved city as well he put me and like Jordan in days of harvest,
down,

27

It shines forth education like light, and in Jerusalem was my authority.
like Geon in days of vintage.

12

And I took root among a glorified people, in the portion of the Lord is my 28

The first man did not complete knowing inheritance.

herd,

and so the last one did not track her out;

13

“Like a cedar I was raised up in Lebanon,

29

for her thought was filled from the sea, and like a cypress in the mountains of
and her counsel from the great abyss.

Aermon.

14

Like a palm I was raised up in Aiggada, 30

And I, like a canal from a river and like rosebushes in Iericho, and a water channel, issued forth into an like a good-looking olive tree in a plain, orchard.

and I was raised up like a plane tree.

31

I said, "I will water my garden,

15

Like cinnamon and camel's thorn for and I will drench my flower bed."

spicesa,

And look! The canal turned into a river for and like choice myrrh I gave forth a
me,
fragrance,
and my river turned into a sea.

like galbanum and onycha and stacte

32

Still I will again make education enlighten and like the vapor of frankincense in a like dawn,
tent.

and I will shine theme forth to far off.

16

I, like a terebinth, spread out my 33

Still I will again pour out teaching like branches,
prophecy,

and my branches were branches of glory and I will leave it behind for generations

and grace.

of eternity.

17

I, like a vine, budded forth favor,

34

See that I have not toiled for myself alone and my blossoms were the fruit of glory

but for all who seek itf out.

and wealth.

[18 I am a mother of love that is beautiful, and of

My soul found passion in three things, reverence]

25 andthesearebeautifulbeforetheLord

[and of knowledge and of devout hope,]

and human beings:

[and I give itb together with all my children;]

harmony of brothers and friendship of

[they are ever-generating, to those who are fellows

being picked by him.]

and a wife and husband who accommodate each other.

19

“Come to me, you who desire me,

2

But three kinds my soul hates, and from my produce be filled.

and I was offended at their life:

20

For the memory of me is sweet beyond an arrogant poor person and a rich liar,
honey,

an old adulterer lacking in and the inheritance of me beyond a
understanding.

honeycomb of honey.

21

Those who eat me will hunger for more,

3

If in youth you have not gathered, and those who drink me will thirst for how then in your old age could you more.

find?

22

He who obeys me will not be ashamed,

4

How beautiful a thing is judgment in gray-and those who work with me will not haired women,
sin.”

and to discover counsel in elderly men,

5

How beautiful is the wisdom of aged 23

All these things are the book of the persons

covenant of the Most High God, and thought and counsel in venerable a law that Moyses commanded us,
persons.

aPossibly of spices; + I gave off a fragrant smell = Ra. bl.e.
love that is beautiful cl.e. spring dl.e. wisdom eAntecedent unclear fPossibly her

740

sirach 25-26

6

A garland of aged persons is great slack hands and weakened knees experience,

are from a woman who does not make and their boast is fear of the Lord.

her husband happy.

24

From a woman is the beginning of sin,

7

Nine suppositions I deem happy in mya and because of her we all die.

heart.

25

Do not give water an outlet

and a tenth I will speak with mya tongue:

nor freedom of speech to a wicked wife.

a person who is glad over children,

26

If she does not walk baccording to your

who lives and looks at the downfall of handsb,

his enemies.

ccut her off from your fleshc.

8

Happy is he who dwells with a sensible wife and who did not slip with the tongue

Happy is the husband of a good wife, and who did not become a slave to one 26 anddoubledisthenumberofhisdays.

unworthy of himself.

2

A courageous wife gladdens her husband,

9

Happy is he who found prudence,

and he will fulfill his years in peace.

and he who recounts to the ears of 3

A good wife is a good portion;

people who listen.

she will be given as a portion to the one 10

How great is he who finds wisdom,
who fears the Lord.

but there is none above him who fears

4

When rich or poor, a good heart,
the Lord.

at every moment a cheerful face!

11

Fear of the Lord surpassed everything;

5

Of three things was my heart wary, he who possesses it—to whom shall he and in the face of a fourth I was frightened:
be compared?

a slander by a city, an assembly of a mob

[12 Fear of the Lord is the beginning of loving and false accusation, all miserable

him,]

beyond death!

[but faith is the beginning of clinging to 6

Pain of heart and sorrow is a woman who is

him.]

a rival to a wife,

and a lash of a tongue is she who shares

13

Any wound, and not a wound of the heart, with everyone.

and any wickedness, and not the 7

A chafing ox-yoke is a wicked wife;

wickedness of a woman;

he who holds her is like him who grasps

14

any attack, and not the attack of those who

a scorpion.

hate,

8

A great wrath is a drunken wife, and any vengeance, and not the

and her shameful conduct she will not vengeance of enemies.

hide.

15

There is no head beyond a snake's head,

9

A wife's fornication is in her eyes' haughty and there is no anger beyond a woman's looks,

anger.

and it will be recognized in her eyelids.

16

I shall be content to live with lion and 10

Over a wanton daughter keep strict watch,

dragon,

otherwise when she discovers release for rather than to live with a wicked woman.

herself, she will use it,

17

A woman's wickedness alters her 11

After an impudent eye watch out,
appearance,

and do not be surprised if she does

and it darkens her face like a bear.

wrong to you.

18

Among his neighbors her husband will 12

When a traveler is thirsty, he will open his recline

mouth

and involuntarily groaned bitter things.

and will drink from any water that is 19

Any evil is small touching a woman's evil;

near;

may a sinner's lot of befall her.

she will sit opposite every staked

20

A sandy ascent for the feet of an elderly and she will open quiver to arrow.

man,

so is a garrulous woman to a quiet

13

A wife's charm will delight her husband,

husband.

and her skill will put fat on his bones.

21

Do not fall down upon a woman's beauty,

14

A gift from the Lord is a silent wife, and do not yearn after a woman.
and there is no exchange for her 22

Wrath and shamelessness and great disgrace disciplined soul.

is a wife

15

Charm upon charm is a modest wife, if she provides for her husband.

and there is no standard weight good 23

A dejected heart and a sullen face enough for a self-controlled soul.

and a wound of the heart is a wicked

16

When the sun rises in the heights of the wife;

Lord—

aLacking in Gk bl.e. as you direct cl.e. divorce her dl.e. membrum virile

sirach 26-27

741

also a good wife's beauty, an ornament of Many have sinned on account of cash, her home.

27 and whose eyes seek to increase will avert an

17

When a lamp shines forth upon a holy
eye.

lampstand—

2

Between joints of stones a peg will be also beauty of face upon stable age.

driven,

18

Golden pillars upon a silver base—and between selling and buying sin will also beautiful legs upon well-balanced be wedged.

feet.

3

If one does not hold fast in fear of the Lord, quickly, with speed, his house will be [19 Child, preserve intact the prime of your overthrown.

adulthood,]

[and do not give your strength to 4

With a shaking of a sieve, refuse remains—

strangers.]

so a person's offal in his reasoning.

[20 When you have sought out a fertile plot of an

5

A kiln tests a potter's vessels, entire plain,]

and a person's test is in his deliberation.

[sow your own seed confident in your 6

Its fruit brings to light a tree's cultivation—excellent descent.]

so reasoning notions of a person's heart.

[21 Thus, your offspring, surrounding you]

7

Before reasoning do not commend a man,

[and having the confidence of excellent for this is the test of people.

descent, will become great.]

[22 A hired woman will be regarded as equal to 8

If you pursue what is just, you will take hold spittle,]

and wear it like a full-length robe of

[but a married one will be regarded as a

glory.

tower of death to those who use

9

Birds will nest with those like them, hera.]

and truth will come back to those who [23 An impious woman will be given as a portion to practice it.

a lawless man,]

10

A lion lies in wait for prey,

[but a pious woman is given to him who so sin for people who practice injustices.

fears the Lord.]

[24 A shameless woman will exhaust

11

The narrative of a pious person is always dishonor,]

wisdom,

[but a decorous daughter will revere even her but the fool changes like the moon.

husband.]

12

In the midst of unintelligent persons watch

[25 A wanton wife will be regarded as a dog,]

closely for occasion,

[but she who has shame will fear the

but in the midst of thoughtful persons

Lord.]

keep going.

[26 A woman who honors her own husband will

13

The narrative of foolish persons is an appear wise to everyone,]

offense,

[but she who dishonors him with arrogance and their laughter is in wantonness of

will be known to all as impious.]

sin.

[Happy is the husband of a good wife,]

[for the number of his years will be

14

Talk with much swearing will make the hair double.]

stand on end,

[27 A loud-mouthed and talkative wife] and their strife is a stopping up of ears.

[like a trumpet of war will observe a rout,]

15

A shedding of blood is the strife of the

[and the soul of any person who lives in a arrogant,

manner like these]

and their railing is miserable to hear.

[will lead his life in the confusions of war.]

16

He who reveals secrets has destroyed trust

28

By two things has my heart been grieved, and will never find a friend for his soul.

and by a third anger came upon me:

17

Show a friend affection, and keep faith with a warrior wanting on account of indigence

him,

and intelligent men when they are treated but if you reveal his secrets, do not follow contemptuously:

after him.

a person brought from righteousness to 18

For just as a person bdestroyed his corpseb,

sin,

so you destroyed your fellow's friendship.

the Lord will prepare him for the sword.

19

And as you let a bird go free from your

hand,

29

A merchant will scarcely be delivered from so you let go of your fellow, and you will wrongdoing,

not catch him.

and a retailer will not be innocent of 20

Do not pursue him, because he has

sin.

withdrawn far off,

aLacking in Gk bGk uncertain

742

sirach 27-28

and he has escaped like a gazelle from a and rememberb the covenant of the Most trap.

High, and overlook a mistakec.

21

Because it is possible to bind up a wound,
there is also reconciliation for abuse,

8

Refrain from strife, and you will reduce sins, but he who revealed secrets was without for a hot-tempered person will kindle hope.

strife

9 and a sinful man will disturb friends, 22

One who winks an eye devises evil things, and among people at peace he will cast and he who knows him will turn away slander.

from him.

10

In proportion to a fire's wood, so will it

23

Before your eyes his mouth will be sweet, burn,

and at your words he will be amazed, and in proportion to the obstinacy of but later he will distort his mouth, strife, it will increase;

and with your words he will give in proportion to a person's strength, will his offense.

anger be,

24

I hated many things, and I did not become and in proportion to his wealth, he will like him,

raise up his wrath.

and the Lord will hate him.

11

A quarrel being hastened kindles a fire,

25

He who throws a stone high up throws on and strife in a hurry sheds blood.

his head,

12

If you blow on a spark, it will flame up, and a treacherous blow will open up and if you spit on it, it will be wounds.

extinguished,

26

He who digs a hole will fall into it, and both will proceed out of your
and he who sets a trap will get caught in mouth.

it.

27

He who does wickedness—it will be rolled 13

Curse a slanderous and double-tongued onto him,
person,
and he will never recognize whence it has for he has destroyed many who are at come to him.
peace.

28

14

d

Mocking and reproach belong to an

A third tongued has shaken many arrogant person,

and separated them from nation to and vengeance, like a lion, will lie in wait

nation

for him.

and demolished strong cities

29

Those who are glad at the fall of pious and overturned the houses of nobles.

persons will get caught in a snare,

15

dA third tongued has cast out courageous and sorrow will consume them before women

their death.

and deprived them of their labors.

16

He who pays heed to it will never find rest, 30

Ire and anger, these also are abominations, nor will he encamp with quiet.

and a sinful man will have possession of 17

A whip's blow produces a welt,

them.

but a tongue's blow will break bones.

18

Many have fallen by a dagger's edge,

but not like those who have fallen

28 Hewhoavengeswilldiscovervengeance

from the Lord,

because of a tongue.

and when he observes carefully, he will 19

Happy is the one protected from it, carefully observe his sins.

who has not endured in its anger,

2

Forgive your neighbor a wrong,

who has not dragged its yoke and then, when you petition, your sins and with its fetters has not been bound.

will be pardoned.

20

For its yoke is a yoke of iron,

3

A person harbors wrath against a person—and its fetters are fetters of bronze.

and will he seek healing from the Lord?

21

A wicked death is its death,

4

Does he not have mercy on a person like and Hades is more advantageous than it.

himself

22

It will never prevail over pious persons, and petition concerning his sins?
and in its flame they will not be burned.

5

His being flesh maintains ire—

23

Those who forsake the Lord will fall into it, who will make atonement for his sins?
and in them it will burn, and it will never 6

Remember the end things, and cease to be
be extinguished;
at enmity;
it will be sent after them like a lion, rememberb corruption and death, and
and like a leopard it will injure them.
cleave to the commandments.

24a

See! Fence your property with thorns,

7

Remember commandments, and do not be

25b

and make for your mouth a door and a irate with your fellow, bolt.

aI.e. the Lord bLacking in Gk cOr sin of ignorance dPossibly talk of a third party

sirach 28-30

743

24b

Lock up your silver and gold,

14

A good man will give surety for his fellow,

25b

and make for your words a balance and a

and he who lost shame will abandon weight.

him.

26

Take heed lest you slip by it;

15

A guarantor's kindness do not forget,
do not fall before one who lies in wait.
for he gave his soul on your behalf.

16

A guarantor's goods a sinner will ruin,

17

He who does mercy will lend to his fellow,

and an ungrateful person will

29 and he who prevails with his hand keeps intentionally abandon one who the commandments.

rescues.

2

Lend to your fellow in his time of need,

18

Surety destroyed many who were prosperous and again pay back your fellow at the and tossed them about like a wave of the proper time.

sea;

3

Firmly establish a word, and be trustworthy powerful men it exiled,
with him,

and they wandered among foreign and on every occasion you will find what nations.

you need.

19

A sinner will fall into surety,

4

Many regarded a loan as a windfall, and as he pursues profit-taking, he will and they caused trouble for those who fall into lawsuits.

helped them.

20

Assist your fellow according to your 5

Until he receives it, he will kiss his hands, ability,
and about his fellow's money he lowers and take care for yourself that you do not hisa voice,

fall.

and at the moment for repayment he will delay for time

21

Life's beginning is water and bread and
and will pay back words of apathy,

clothing

and he will blame the time.

and a house for hiding indecency.

6

If he is capable, he will recover scarcely

22

Better is the life of a poor person under a half,

shelter of rafters

and he will consider that as a windfall;

than splendid foods among strangers.

but if not, he has defrauded him of his 23

With little or much have contentment,

money,

and you will never hear reproach for and he has needlessly made him an being a sojourner.

enemy;

24

It is a miserable life going from house to curses and insults he will repay him,

house,

and instead of glory he will repay him and where you will be a sojourner, you

dishonor.

shall not open your mouth.

7

Many turned away not because of 25

You will entertain and provide drink for no

wickedness;

thanks,

they were wary of being defrauded and besides, you will hear bitter words needlessly.

such as these,

26

“Come here, sojourner; prepare a table,

8

Nevertheless, with a lowly person be

and if there is something in your hand,

patient,

feed me.”

and do not make him wait for charity.

27

“Go away, sojourner, because of good

9

On account of the commandment, assist a repute;
needy person,
my brother came to me for a visit; I need and according to his need do not turn
the house.”
him away empty.

28

These are hard things for a person with 10

Lose silver for the sake of a brother and a pride,
friend,
criticism about being a sojourner and and do not let it corrode under the stone reproach from a money-lender.
unto destruction.

11

Dispose of your treasure according to the

CONCERNING CHILDREN

commandments of the Most High, He who loves his son will persist in and it will profit you more than gold.

30 whippinghim

12

Store up charity in your treasuries, so that he may be glad at his outcome.
and it will deliver you from every 2

He who instructs his son will profit by him,
affliction.

and among acquaintances he will boast

13

More than a shield of might and more than
about him.

a spear of weight,

3

He who teaches his son will make his

it will fight against your enemy on your enemy envious,

behalf.

and before friends he will exult in him.

aLacking in Gk

744

sirach 30-31

4

His father passed away and is as though he and exultation is a man's length of days.

did not die,

23(24) Deceive your soul, and comfort your heart, for he left behind him a person like and remove grief far from you.

himself.

(25) For many has grief destroyed,

5

In his life he saw and was glad,

and there is no advantage in it.

and at his end he was not grieved.

24(26) Jealousy and anger lessen days,

6

Against enemies he has left behind an

and before the proper time anxiety brings avenger

old age.

and one who repays a kindness to 25(27; 33.13b)A cheerful and good heart at meats

friends.

will take care of its food.

7

When one cherishes a son, one will bind up

(34).1Wakefulness over wealth wastes away his wounds,

31 flesh,

and with every cry one's insides will be

and anxiety about it removes sleep.

troubled.

2

Anxiety over wakefulness will remove 8

An unbroken horse turns out stubborn, sleepiness,

and a son when given free reign turns out and a severe illness will carry off sleep.

rash.

3

A rich person toiled at the accumulation of 9

Coddle a child, and it will terrorize you;
money,

play with him, and he will grieve you.

and in rest he fills himself with his 10

Do not laugh together with him, lest you delicacies.

suffer together,

4

A poor person toiled for a diminution of
and in the end you will gnash your life,
teeth.

and in rest he becomes needy.

11

Do not give him license in his youth, [and do not overlook his ignorances.]

5

He who loves gold will not be justified,

12

[Bend his neck in youth.] and he who pursues profits will be led Bruise his sides while he is an infant, astray by them.

lest, when he becomes stubborn, he will 6

Many were given over to ruin because of disobey you,
gold,

[and you will have distress of soul from him.] and their destruction has happened in 13

Instruct your son, and work with him, front of them.

lest by his disgraceful behavior you

7

It is a block for stumbling for those who are become offended.

possessed by it,

and every fool will be taken captive by it.

14

Better a poor person healthy and strong in 8

Happy is a rich person who was found constitution

blameless

than a rich person scourged in his body.

and who did not go after gold.

15

Health and vigor are better than any gold,

9

Who is he and shall we call him happy?

and a robust spirit than boundless

For he did wonders among his people.

worldly weal.

10

Who has been tested by it and been made perfect?

CONCERNING FOODS

And it will be as a boast for him.

16

There is no wealth better than health of

Who was able to transgress and did not

body,

transgress,

and there is no gladness beyond joy of

and to do evil and did not do so?

heart.

11

Therefore his good things will be confirmed,

17

Better death than a bitter life, and his acts of charity an assembly will

and eternal repose than chronic recount.

sickness.

18

Good things poured out on a mouth that is 12

Were you seated at a great table?

shut

Do not open your throat at it.

are offerings of food set on a grave.

(13) And do not say, "Indeed how many are the 19

Of what use is a fruit offering to an idol?

things on it!"

For it will neither eat nor smell.

(20) So is he who is banished by the Lord.

13(14)Remember that a wicked eye is an evil thing.

20(21) Whoever sees with the eyes and groans

(15) What was created more wicked than an is like a eunuch who embraces a maiden eye?

and groans.

Therefore it sends tears from a whole

[Thus is he who makes judgments by

face.

compulsion.]

21(22) Do not give your soul to grief,

14(16) Do not extend a hand for whatever you and do not afflict yourself by your design.

see,

22(23) Gladness of heart is life for a person, (17)

and do not crowd for it at a bowl.

sirach 31-32

745

15(18) Consider the things of your fellow afrom

(35).1 They appointed you leader; do not yourselfa,

32 exal yourself;

and about every matter be thoughtful.

be among them as one of them;

16(19)

(2)

Eat like a human being the things set before take thought for them, and then sit

you,

down.

and do not chomp, lest you be hated.

2

And when you have performed all your

17(20) Be the first to stop, due to your training, service, recline

and do not be gluttonous, lest you give

(3)

so that you may be merry on account of

offense.

them,

18(21) And if you sat among rather many,

and due to your good conduct you might do not extend your hand before they do.

receive a garland.

19(22) For the person of education the little is as

3(4) Speak, O elderly person, for it is fitting for

enough,

you,

and upon his bed he does not gasp for (5)

with accurate knowledge, and do not breath.

interrupt the music.

20(24) A sleep of health due to a moderate bowel!

4(6) Where there is entertainment, do not pour

He rose early and his soul with him.

out talk,

(23) The pain of sleeplessness and of nausea and do not be smart at an inopportune and colic are with the gluttonous man.

moment.

21(25) And if you were overpowered by foods,

5(7) A ruby seal on a gold ornament get up, and vomit a distance away, and is a concert of music at a banquet of you will have rest.

wine.

22(26) Listen, child, and do not scorn me,

6(8) An emerald seal in a gold setting and in the end you will acquire my

is a melody of music with sweet wine.

words;

(27) in all of your works be skillful,

7(10) Speak, O young person, if you have need,

(11)

and no illness will ever come upon you.

only twice if you were asked;

23(28)

8(12)

Lips will bless a person munificent with

Summarize your speech; in a few things respect to bread,

there are many;

and trustworthy is the testimony to his

be as one who knows and at the same fine quality.

time one who is silent.

24(29)The city will murmur about a wicked one

9(13) In the midst of nobles do not exercise for bread,

authority,

and accurate is the testimony to his

and where there are old men, do not wickedness.

prate about many things.

25(30) With wine do not be macho,

10(14) Before thunder lightning hastens, for wine has destroyed many.

and goodwill will go before a modest 26(31) A furnace tests steel by dipping;

person.

thus wine tests hearts in strife of the 11(15) Awaken in time, and do not bring up the proud.

rear;

27(32) Equal to life is wine for human beings, depart for home, and do not be idle.

if you drink it in cits measurec.

12(16) There play, and do the things you desire,

(33) What is life to one who lacks wine?

and do not sin by arrogant speech.

(35)

13(17)

And it was created from the beginning for

And in addition, bless the one who made gladness.

you

28(36) Joy of heart and gladness of soul and intoxicates you with his good things.
is sufficient wine drunk at the proper

14(18)

time.

He who fears the Lord will accept 29(39) Bitterness of soul is much wine drunk

instruction,

amid provocation and stumbling.

and those who rise early will find 30(40) Drunkenness increases a fool's temper for approval.

15(19)

hurt,

He who seeks the law will be filled with it,

since it reduces strength and adds and he who is hypocritical will stumble wounds.

on it.

31(41)

16(20)

At a banquet of wine do not reprove your
Those who fear the Lord will get a verdict,
fellow,
and they will kindle right acts like a and do not scorn him in his gladness;
light.

(42)

17(21)

do not speak to him a word of reproach,
A sinful person will turn away reproof, and do not distress him with demanding and according to his will, he will find a repayment.

judgment.

al.e. put yourself in his place bLacking in Gk cl.e. moderation

746 sirach 32-33

18(22) A man of deliberation will never overlook a so are human beings in the hand of him thought;

who made them,

the stranger and the arrogant will not to repay them according to his judgment.

cowar from fear.

19(24)Do nothing without deliberation,

14(15)Good is opposite evil, and do not feel regret when you have

and life is opposite death;

acted.

so a sinner is opposite a pious person.

20(25)On a path of stumbling do not go,

15

And so look at all of the works of the Most

and do not stumble on rocky ground.

High,

21

Do not trust an unexplored road, two by two, one opposite the other one.

22(26)and guard against your children.

23(27)In every deed trust your soul,

16

As a last one, it was I who kept vigil, for this as well is a means of keeping the (30.25)

as one who gleaned after the grape-
commandments.

pickers.

17(25)By the blessing of the Lord I arrived first,

24(28)He who has faith in the law attends to the and like one who picks grapes I filled a

commandments,

wine vat.

and he who trusts in the Lord will not

18(26)Consider that I have not labored for myself suffer loss.

alone

but for all those who seek instruction.

19(27) Listen to me, nobles of the people,

33 (36).1 No evil will befall him who fears the

Lord,

and leaders of the assembly, give ear.

but in a test he will also be delivered in turn.

20(28) To son and wife, to brother and friend

2

A wise man will not hate the law,

do not give authority over you in your

but he who is hypocritical with it is like a lifetime,

boat in a storm.

and do not give your property to another,

3

An intelligent person will trust in a word, lest you change your mind and ask for it.

and the law for him is as trustworthy

21(29) While you are still alive and there is breath

(4)

as an inquiry of the clear ones.

in you,

do not exchange yourself with any flesh.

4

Prepare a speech, and so you will be heard;

22(30) For it is better that your children ask of you consolidate instruction, and reply.

than that you should look to the hands

5

The emotions of a foolish person are like a

of your sons.

wheel of a wagon,

23(31) In all your works be one who excels;

and his argument is like a turning axle.

do not bring a stain on your reputation.

6

A horse for breeding is like a mocking

24(32) In the day of the completion of the days of friend;

your life

underneath anyone who sits on him, he and at the moment of death, distribute whinnies.

an inheritance.

7

Why is a day superior to a day,

25(33) Fodder and a rod and burdens for a donkey;

when all the light of a day of a year is bread and instruction and work for a from the sun?

domestic.

8

By the Lord's knowledge they were marked

26(34) Work with instruction, and you will find rest;

off,

let loose his hands, and he will seek

and he made seasons and feasts different.

freedom.

9(10) Some of them he exalted and hallowed,

27(35)A yoke and a thong will bow a neck, and some of them he established for a

and for a wicked domestic there are racks number of days.

and tortures.

10

And all human beings are from the ground,

28(36)Put him to work so that he might not be and out of earth Adam was created.

unoccupied,

11

In fullness of knowledge the Lord marked

29(37)for lack of work has taught much evil.

them off

30(38) Set him to work as is fitting for him, and made their ways different.

and if he does not obey, make his fetters

12

Some of them he blessed and exalted, heavy.

and some of them he hallowed and

And do not be excessive over any flesh, brought near to himself;

and without judgment do not do some of them he cursed and brought low anything.

and turned them out of their position.

13

Like a potter's clay in his hand,

31(39) If you have a domestic, let him be like you, to fashion it according to his liking, because with blood you acquired him;

(14)

al.e. stallion

sirach 33-35

747

if you have a domestic, treat him like a

a shelter from the burning heat and shade

brother,

from midday,

because you will need him like your own

a guard against stumbling and a help

soul.

against falling,

32(40)If you do him evil and he departs and runs 20

one who uplifts the soul and enlightens

away,

eyes,

33

on which road will you seek him?

gives healing of life and blessing.

34 (31).1A senseless man has empty and false 21
When one sacrifices from someone unjust, it hopes,

is a blameworthy offering,

and dreams excite fools.

22

and the gifts of lawless persons are not

2

Like one who grasps a shadow and pursues for approval.

wind,

23

The Most High is not pleased with the

so is he who pays heed to dreams.

offerings of impious persons,

3

An appearance in dreams is athis against nor by a multitude of sacrifices does he thata,

forgive sins.

a likeness of a face opposite a face.

24

One who slaughters a son in front of his 4

Of an unclean thing what will become clean?

father

And of a false thing what will be true?

is he who brings a sacrifice from the 5

Divinations and omens and dreams are property of the needy.

vain,

25

Bread is life for the poor when they are and as of a woman in labor the heart destitute;
fantasizes.

he who withholds itc is a person of 6

Unless it has been sent from the Most High
blood.

by a visitation,

26

One who murders his fellow is he who takes

do not give your heart to them.

away a way of living,

7

For dreams have deceived many,

27 and one who pours out blood is he who

and persons who hope in them have deprives the wages of a hired fallen.

worker.

8

Without falsehood the law will be accomplished,

28

One builds, and one tears down—and wisdom in a trustworthy mouth is what did they gain more than hard completeness.

labors?

29

One prays, and one curses—

9

Since a man roamed, he knew many things, to whose voice will the master listen?

and he who is experienced will tell with 30

When one bathes due to a corpse and when
understanding.

one touches it again—

10

He who had no experience knows few what did he gain by his washing?

things,

31

So is a person when he fasts for his sins

11

but he who has roamed will increase and goes again and does the same cleverness.

things;

12

I have seen many things in my wandering, who will listen to his prayer, and more than my words is my and what did he gain by humbling
understanding.
himself?

13

Frequently I was in danger of death, and I was saved because of these things.
35 (32).1 HewhokeepstheLaw multiplies offerings.

14

The spirit of people who fear the Lord will

2

One who makes a sacrifice for deliverance
live,
is he who pays heed to the 15 for their hope is in the one who saves

commandments.

them.

3

One who repays a kindness is one who 16

He who fears the Lord will be timid in offers the finest flour,

nothing,

4

and he who does an act of charity is one and he will never be cowardly, because who makes a sacrifice of praise.

he is his hope.

5

A good pleasure to the Lord it is to 17

Happy is the soul of one who fears the Lord.

withdraw from wickedness,

18

Upon whom is he intent? And who is his and it is atonement to withdraw from support?

injustice.

19

The eyes of the Lord are upon those who 6

Do not be seen empty in the presence of the love him,

Lord,

a shield of dominance and a support of 7

for all these things are for the sake of a

strength,

commandment.

aPossibly a reflection bl.e. God cl.e. life

748

sirach 35-36

8

An offering of a righteous person enriches and will gladden them with his mercy.

the altar,

26

Timely is his mercy in a time of distress, and its pleasing odor is before the Most as are clouds of rain in a time of drought.

High.

9

A righteous man's sacrifice is acceptable, (33).1Have mercy on us, O Master, the god and its memorial will not be forgotten.

36 of all,

10

With a good eye glorify the Lord,

2

and cast the fear of you upon all the
and do not belittle the first fruit of your nations.

hands.

3

Lift up your hand against foreign nations,

11

With every act of giving brighten your face, and let them see your dominance.

and with gladness consecrate a tithe.

4

Just as in their presence you have been 12

Give to the Most High according to his made holy in us,

giving

so in our presence may you be magnified and with a good eye according to that in them.

found at hand,

5

And let them know you, just as also we have 13 because the Lord is the one who repays,

known

and he will repay you sevenfold.

that there is no god except you, O Lord.

14

Do not offer a bribe, for he will not accept 6

Renew signs, and change wonders;

it,

7

glorify hand and right arm.

15

and do not be intent on an unrighteous

8

Raise up anger, and pour out wrath;

sacrifice,

9

destroy an adversary, and crush an enemy.

because the Lord is judge,

10

Hasten the time, and remember your and with him there is no reputation of determination, personb.

and let them recount your mighty acts.

16

He will not creceive a personb against a poor 11

In wrath of fire let him who survives be personc,

consumed,

and he will listen to the petition of one and may those who harm your people who is wronged.

find destruction.

17

He will never ignore an orphan's

12

Crush the heads of hostile rulers supplication,

who say, "There is no one except us!"

nor a widow, if she pours out speech.

(33).13 Gather all the tribes of Jakob,

18

Do not a widow's tears run down upon her

(36).16 and give them an inheritance, as from the cheek,

beginning.

19

and is not her cry against the one who 17

Have mercy on a people, O Lord, who have drew them down?

been called by your name,

20

One who serves with goodwill will be and on Israel, whom you likened to a accepted,

first born.

and his petition will reach to the clouds.

18

Have pity on the city of your holy precinct,

21

A humble person's prayer passed through Jerusalem the place of your rest.

the clouds,

19

Fill Sion with a celebration of your mighty and until it draws near, it will never

acts,

relent,

and your shrine with your glory.

and it will never desist until the Most High 20

Give testimony to your creations in the takes notice.

beginning,

22

And he will adjudicate for righteous and raise up prophecies that were in your persons and will execute judgment.

name.

And the Lord will never be slow,

21

Give a reward to those who wait for you, nor will he ever be patient regarding and let your prophets be found

them

trustworthy.

until he crushes the loins of unmerciful

22

Hear, O Lord, a petition of your domestics

persons

according to your good will concerning 23 and will repay vengeance upon the

your people,

nations,

and all who are upon the earth will know until he removes the multitude of insolent that you are the Lord, the God of the persons

ages.

and will shatter the scepters of unrighteous persons,

23

Any food will the stomach eat,

24

until he repays a person according to his but there exists food finer than food.

deeds

24

The throat makes proof of foods from a and the works of human beings

hunt;

according to their notions,

so an intelligent heart of false words.

25

until he judges the case of his people

25

A perverse heart will give grief, al.e. generosity bOr face cl.e. favor anyone over the poor

sirach 36-37

749

but an experienced person will pay him a

and with an unmerciful person about

back.

generosity of heart,

26

A woman will accept any male, with an idle person about any work but there exists a daughter better than a and with an annual laborer about daughter.

finishing,

27

A woman's beauty brightens a face, with an idle domestic about a large task.
and it surpasses a person's every desire.
Do not pay heed to these for any advice.

28

If mercy and gentleness are upon her 12

But rather persevere with a pious man
tongue,
whom you know to be one who keeps her husband is not like the sons of
commandments,
human beings.

who in his soul is like your soul,

29

He who acquires a wife makes a beginning and if you stumble, he will suffer with

of a possession,

you.

a helper corresponding to him and a 13

And stand by your heart's counsel, pillar of rest.

for there is nothing more faithful to you 30

Where there is no fence, property will be

than it.

plundered,

14

For a man's soul is accustomed to inform at

and where there is no wife, he will groan

times

as he wanders.

more than seven sentinels sitting high up

31

For who will trust an unencumbered robber

on a look-out.

as he bounds from city to city?—

15

And above all these, beseech the Most likewise a person who does not have a nest

High

and who lodges wherever night falls.

so that he may make straight your way in
truth.

37 Every friend will say, "I, too, have been a friend,"

16

The beginning of every deed is discourse, but there is a friend who is a friend in and before every action is counsel.

name only.

17

The track of change is the heart.

2

Will not grief approach unto death,

18

Four destinies appear, when companion and friend turns into good and evil, life and death, an enemy?

and that which continually is lord over 3

O evil notion, how were you involved, them is the tongue.

to cover the dry land with deceit?

19

There exists a clever man who is an 4

A friend's companion delights in gladness, instructor of many,
and in a time of distress he will be
and to his own soul he is useless. opposite.

20

There exists a person skilled in words who is 5

A companion suffers together with a friend
hated;
for his stomach's sake,

this one will be lacking any luxury.

and in the face of battle he will take up a 21

For charm has not been granted to him by shield.

the Lord,

6

Do not forget a friend in your soul, because he is deprived of any wisdom.

and do not be unmindful of him in your 22

There exists a person wise in his own soul,
money.

and the fruits of his good sense are bon the bodyb.

7

Every counselor exalts advice,

23

A wise man will instruct his own people,

but there is one who counsels for himself.

and the fruits of his understanding are 8

Against a counselor guard your soul,
reliable.

and know beforehand what is his need,

24

A wise man will be full of blessing, for he, too, will give advice for himself—and all who see him will deem him lest he cast a lot against you happy.

9

and say to you, "Your way is fair,"

25

A man's life is in a number of days, and he will stand aside to see what will and the days of Israel are without happen to you.

number.

10

Do not consult with him who views you

26

The wise person among his people will

with suspicion,

inherit honor,

and from those who are envious of you and his name will live forever.

hide deliberation:

11 with a woman about her rival

27

Child, during your life test your soul,

and with a cowardly person about war, and see what is bad for it, and do not with a merchant about business givec to it.

and with one who buys about a sale,

28

For not everything confers benefit to

with a slanderer about gratitude

everyone,

aOr it; antecedent unclear bl.e. evident to all to see cl.e.
what is bad

750

sirach 37-38

and every soul is not pleased by 17

Make the weeping bitter and the beating everything.

fervent,

29

Do not be greedy for every delicacy, and make mourning according to his
and do not give yourself up to foods.

dignity,

30

For in much food there is illness, for one day and two for the purpose off and gluttony will bring one near to slander,

cholera.

and be comforted for the sake of grief.

31

Because of gluttony, many have died, 18

For from grief issues death, but he who pays attention will add to and grief of the heart will cripple

life.

strength.

19

In misery grief too endures,

Honor a physician for his services, and a poor person's life is a curse of the 38 for indeed the Lord created him.

heart.

2

For healing is from the Most High, 20

Do not give your heart over to grief;
and he will receive a gift from a king.
withdraw from it, when you remember

3

A physician's skill will put up his head,
the end.
and in the presence of nobles he will be 21

Do not forget, for there is no return, admired.
and him you will not benefit, and 4

The Lord created remedies out of the earth, yourself you will harm.
and a prudent man will not ignore them.

22

Remember his judgment, because so is 5

Was not water made sweet from wood yours also.

in order that his strength might be

For me yesterday; for you today!

known?

23

In the resting of the corpse, put to rest his 6

And it was he that gave skill to human memorial,

beings

and be comforted by it in the departure in order to be glorified in his marvelous of his spirit.

deeds.

7

By them heb cured and took away hisc pain.

24

A scribe's wisdom is in the opportunity for 8

He who prepares unguents will make a leisure,

compound with them,

and he who does less business, it is he and his works will never be finished, who will become wise.

and peace from him is upon the surface

25

How shall he who takes hold of a plow

of the earth.

and boasts in the shaft of a goad become

wise,

9

Child, in your illness do not look elsewhere, when he drives cattle and is engaged in their

but pray to the Lord, and he will heal tasks

you.

and his talk is about the offspring of 10

Withdraw from error, and direct your bulls?

hands,

26

He will give his heart to producing furrows, and from all sin cleanse your heart.

and his sleeplessness is regarding fodder

11

Give a sweet-smell and a memorial of fine for heifers.

flour,

27

So every artisan and master-artisan, and enrich an offering d.....d.

who keeps going by night as by day, 12

And give a physician a place, for indeed the
those who cut signets of seals, Lord created him,
and his patience is to diversify and do not let him withdraw from you, ornamentation;
for indeed there is need of him.
he will give his heart to making a painting

13

There is a time when success is in their lifelike,
hands as well.
and his sleeplessness is to complete the 14

For they will also petition the Lord,
work.
that he might grant them success with rest

28

So a smith sitting near an anvil and healing for the maintenance of life.

and examining closely works of iron;

15

He who sins before him who made him,

the vapor of the fire will melt his flesh,

may he fall into a physician's hands.

and with the heat of a furnace he will struggle;

16

Child, let your tears fall over a corpse,

a hammer's sound will renew his ear, and as one suffering terribly begin a and his eyes are against the pattern of the lament,

object;

but in accordance with his decision lay out

he will give his heart to completing works,

his body,

and his sleeplessness is to decorate upon and do not neglect his burial.

completion.

aPossibly its bl.e. the physician cl.e. the patient dGk uncertain eOr its fPossibly to prevent gl.e. Perhaps a process of reasoning hPerhaps hit again and again iPerhaps right on

sirach 38-39

751

29

So a potter sitting at his work

he will be filled with a spirit of and turning a wheel with his feet,

understanding.

who always lies down in anxiety about his

He will pour forth words of his wisdom,

work,

and in prayer he will acknowledge the

and every work of his is taken into

Lord.

account.

7

He will direct counsel and knowledge, 30

With his arm he will mold clay and on his hidden things he will think.
and in front of his feet he will abend its 8

He will illuminate the instruction of his strengtha;
teaching,
he will give over his heart to completing the
and in the law of the Lord's covenant he glazingb,
will boast.
and his sleeplessness is about cleaning

9

Many will praise his understanding,
the kiln.
and it will never be blotted out;
his memorial will not depart,

31

All of these relied on their hands, and his name will live for generations of and each is skilled in his work.

generations.

32

Without them a city will not be inhabited,

10

Nations will narrate his wisdom, and they will neither sojourn nor walk and an assembly will proclaim his praise.

about,

11

If he abides, he will leave behind a name but they will not be sought for a council of greater than a thousand,

the people.

and if he rests, it will be favorable for him.

33

And they will not cleave up in the assembly.

12

Yet being so disposed, I will tell in detail,
On the judge's seat they will not sit,
and I was filled like the full moon.

and disposition of a legal decision they 13

Listen to me, O devout sons, and blossom will not understand,

like a rose growing by a watery stream.

and they will never shed light on instruction 14

Like incense send out a sweet fragrance, and judgment,

and send forth a blossom like a lily.

and in illustrationsd they will not be Spread abroad a voice, and praise together,

found,

and bless the Lord for all his works.

34

but they will support the foundation of an 15

Give majesty to his name, age,
and acknowledge with praise of him, and their need is in the execution of a with songs on the lips and with cinyrase, craft.

and in this manner you will speak with acknowledgement.

Save for him who devotes his soul and who thinks about the law of the 16

“All the works of the Lord, that they are very Most High!

good,
and every ordinance will occur in its
time.

39 Hewillseekoutthewisdomofallthe ancients,

17

It is not possible to say, ‘What is this? To and he will be occupied with prophecies.

what end is this?'

2

He will preserve the narrative of famous

For everything will be sought out in its

men,

time.

and he will penetrate into the twists of

By his word water stood as a heap, illustrations.

and by an utterance of his mouth,

3

He will seek out the obscurities of proverbs, reservoirs of water.

and he will be engaged with the riddles

18

By his ordinance is all good pleasure, of illustrations.

and there is no one who will diminish

4

He will serve among nobles,

his salvation.

and he will appear in front of rulers.

19

The works of all flesh are before him,

He will travel in the land of foreign nations, and it is not possible to hide from his

for he has tested the good and bad things

eyes.

in people.

20

From age to age he watched,

5

He will devote his heart to rise early and nothing is a wonder before him.

towards the Lord who made him,

21

It is not possible to say, 'What is this? To and he will petition in front of the Most

what end is this?'

High,

For all things have been created for their

and he will open his mouth in prayer, uses.

and concerning his sins he will petition.

22

“His blessing has covered over like a river,

6

If the great Lord wants,

and like a flood it has drenched dry land.

aPossibly make it pliable bOr color wash cI.e. gain prominence dPossibly legal precedents e = Heb kinnor = lyre

752

sirach 39-40

23

Thus his anger will inherit nations

even to one humbled in earth and ashes,

as when he changed waters into salt

4 from one wearing blue and a garland,

water.

even to the one clothed in coarse linen—

24

His ways are straight for the devout;

5

there are wrath and envy and confusion and so for the lawless there are pitfalls.

unrest

25

Good things have been created from the
and fear of death and fury and strife.

beginning for the good;

Even at the moment of rest upon a bed,
so for sinners, evil things.

sleep at night confuses his knowledge.

26

The beginning of every necessity for a 6

There is as little as nothing in rest,

human being's life

and he grows weary of that in his sleep as is water and fire and iron and salt

he does in the day,

and fine wheat flour and milk and honey, having been troubled by a vision of his blood of a grape and oil and clothing.

heart,

27

All these things belong to the pious for like one who has escaped from before
good;
war.

so for sinners they will be turned into 7

At the moment of his need, he awoke,
evil.

even marveling at fear for nothing.

8

With all flesh, from human to animal,

28

“There exist windsa that have been created and upon sinners seven times more than for vengeance,

these

and in their wrath they made firm their 9 are death and blood and strife and sword, scourges;

calamities, famine and ruin and scourge.

at a time of consummation they will pour 10

For the lawless all these things were created,

out strength,

and because of them the flood occurred.

and the wrath of him who made them

11

Everything that is of earth reverts to the

they will abate.

earth,

29

Fire and hail and famine and death, and everything of water returns to the sea.

all these have been created for vengeance.

30

Teeth of wild beasts and scorpions and 12

Every gift and injustice will be blotted out, vipers

but good faith will stand forever.

and a sword taking vengeance on 13

The money of the unjust will dry up like a impious people for destruction.

river,

31

In his commandment they will be and like loud thunder in a rain storm
gladdened,
they will crash.

and they will be prepared for service on 14

When he opens his hands, he will be glad;
the earth,
so those who transgress will fail at the
and at their times they will not transgress end.

a word.”

15

The offspring of impious persons will not multiply branches,

32

Therefore from the beginning I was
and they are foul roots upon a sheer rock.
determined,

16

A reed by any water and river bank and I thought, and I left it in writing.
will be plucked up before any grass.

33

The works of the Lord, all are good,

17

Kindness is like an orchard with blessings, and every need he will supply in its hour.
but an act of charity will endure forever.

34

And it is not possible to say, “This is worse than this,”

18

The life of a self-reliant and a hard-working for all things will be highly esteemed at a person will be sweet,
right time.

and above both is he who finds a 35

And now with a whole heart and mouth treasure.

sing hymns,

19

Children and the building of a city firmly fix and bless the name of the Lord.

a name,

and above both is a wife considered
blameless.

40 A great engagement was created for every
person,

20

Wine and music gladden a heart, and a heavy yoke is on Adam's sons and above both is love of wisdom.

from the day of their exit from their 21

Flute and harp make sweet melodies, mother's womb

and above both is a pleasant tongue.

until the day of return to the mother of 22

Grace and beauty the eye will desire,

all:

and above both are the first shoots of 2 their considerations and fear of heart—

seed.

thought of apprehension, day of death.

23

Friend and companion meet at the right

3

From the one sitting on a splendid throne,
moment,

aOr spirits bLacking in Gk

sirach 40-41

753

and above both is a wife with a husband.

7

Children will blame an impious father,

24

Brothers and aid are for a time of distress, because on his account they will be

and more than both an act of charity will reproached.

rescue.

8

Woe to you, impious men,

25

Gold and silver make a foot firm, who have forsaken the law of the Most and above both counsel is highly

High.

esteemed.

9

[For if you multiply, it is for destruction,]

26

Money and strength will lift up a heart, and if you are born, you will be born for and above both is fear of the Lord;

a curse,

there is no want in the fear of the Lord, and if you die, you will be apportioned a and with it there is no reason to seek aid.

curse.

27

Fear of the Lord is like an orchard of 10

Everything that is from the earth will go

blessing,

back into the earth;

and more than any glory it covers him.

so impious persons are from a curse to destruction.

28

Child, a life of begging do not live;
it is better to die than to beg.

11

The grief of human beings is in their bodies,

29

When a man looks to a table belonging to but a no-good name of sinners will be another,
blotted out.

his manner of living is not any reckoning

12

Have regard for a name, for it will endure a life;

for you

he will pollute his soul with food belonging rather than a thousand great treasures of
to others,
gold.

but a man who is intelligent and who has 13

Of a good life there is a number of days, been instructed will be on guard.

but a good name will endure forever.

30

In the mouth of a shameless person begging will be sweet,

14

Maintain instruction in peace, children, and in his belly a fire will burn.

but hidden wisdom and invisible treasure—what profit is in either?

15

Better is a person who conceals his 41 Odeath,howbitteristheremembranceof

you

foolishness

to a person at peace with his possessions, than a person who conceals his wisdom.

to a man undistracted and prospering in 16

Therefore show respect for my judgment,

everything

for it is not good to guard against every and still having strength to welcome a shame,

luxury.

and not everything will be approved by 2

O death, your judgment is good

all with confidence.

to a person who is needy and lacking

strength,

17

Be ashamed

who is in extreme old age and is anxious before father and mother, of sexual about everything

immorality,

and who is disobedient and has lost and before leader and dynast, of

hope.

falsehood,

3

Do not be wary of death's judgment;

18

before judge and magistrate, of error, remember those before you and the last and before a gathering and people, of

ones.

lawlessness,

4

This is the judgment from the Lord for all before partner and friend, of injustice,

flesh—

19

and before a place where you sojourn, of and why should you reject the good theft, pleasure of the Most High?

before divine truth and covenant

Whether ten or a hundred or a thousand and before planting an elbow for bread,

years,

before damning in receiving and giving in Hades there is no reproving of life.

20

and before people who greet, of silence, before a look at a female escort

5

Abominable children are children of 21 and before turning away from the face of a sinners,

relative,

and living together in the enclaves of before taking away a portion and a gift impious persons.

and before ogling a married woman,

6

The inheritance of the children of sinners 22 before meddling with his servant girl—

will perish,

and do not come upon her bed—and disgrace will continually be with before friends, of words of reproach—their seed.

and after giving, do not reproach,

al.e. a good life

754

sirach 42-43

42 before repeating a word of hearsay

15

I will indeed remember the works of the Lord, and before disclosing secret words,
and what I have seen, I will narrate;
and you will be truly modest by the words of the Lord are his works, and finding favor before every human.

[and judgment happens by his good will.]

16

The shining sun looked down upon
Do not be ashamed of these things,
everything,
and do not receive a face in order to
and its work is full of the glory of the sin:
Lord.

2 of the law of the Most High and covenant

17

He did not permit the holy ones of the Lord and of judgment so as to justify the

to recount all his wonders

impious,

that the Lord the Almighty established

3

of an account of a partner or travelers

so that the universe might stand firm in and of giving an inheritance of others,

his glory.

4

of accuracy with scale and weights

18

Abyss and heart he searched out, and of acquiring much or little,

and he considered their wonderful feats;

5

of profit from business of merchants

for the Most High knew all knowledge, and of much discipline of children and he saw into the sign of the age, and to draw blood from the side of a 19 relating the things that passed and the wicked domestic.

things that will be

6

In the case of a wicked wife, a seal is and revealing tracks of hidden things.

excellent,

20

No thought eluded him,
and where there are many hands, lock up.
and not one word was hidden from him.

7

Whatever you hand over—by number and 21

He set in order the splendors of his weight

wisdom;

and giving or receiving—put everything since he is one before the age and forever, in writing.

he was neither added to nor diminished,

8

Do not be ashamed of discipline for the
and he needed no one as a counselor.

stupid and foolish

22

How desirable are all his works, and for the aged guilty of sexual and they are like a spark to behold.
immorality,

23

All these things live, and they remain forever, and you will have truly been trained in all functions, and all obey.
and will have been approved before every 24

Everything is in pairs, one opposite one, living person.
and he did not make anything deficient.

25

One firmed up the good things of the 9

A daughter is a hidden sleeplessness to a other—

father,

and who will be filled when he sees his and anxiety about her takes away sleep—

glory?

in her youth, lest she become past her prime,

and having married, lest she be hated,

43 Exultation of height, firmament of elegance,

10

in virginity, lest she be defiled

the form of the sky in a vision of glory!

and she become pregnant in her father's

2

The sun in an appearance proclaiming in
house,

going out,

being with a man, lest she transgress,

a wondrous object, a work of the Most and having married, lest she be barren.

High!

11

Over a wanton daughter keep strict guard,

3

At its noontide, it parches land—lest she make you a laughingstock to and before its burning heat who will

enemies,

endure?

common talk in the city and summoned by 4

When one blows a furnace in works of

the people,

burning heat,

and she shame you in a multitude of threefold is the sun when it burns up

many.

mountains.

12

Do not look at any person in terms of

When it breathes out fiery vapors beauty,

and when it shines forth rays, it blinds and in the midst of women do not

eyes.

deliberate.

5

Great is the Lord who made it,

13

For from garments proceeds a moth, and at his words it hastened on its

and from a woman, woman's wickedness.

journey.

14

Better the wickedness of a man than a well-doing woman

6

And the moon stands in its season, and a woman bringing shame to the a proclamation of times and an point of reproach.

everlasting sign.

al.e. show partiality bLacking in Gk cOr husband

sirach 43-44

755

7

From the moon is a sign for a feast,

27

Many things we might say, and we would
a luminary that wanes upon completion.
never arrive,

8

A month is according to its name, and the consummation of words is "He is increasing marvelously in changing, the all.”

an object on high for armies,

28

Where shall we find the strength to glorify?

shining in the firmament of the sky.

For he is the great one, beyond all of his works.

9

The glory of the stars is the beauty of the 29

Awesome is the Lord and very great,
sky,

and marvelous is his dominance.

an ornament giving light in the heights of 30

Glorify the Lord, and exalt him

the Lord.

as much as you can, for he will surpass

10

By words of the Holy One they will stand even still,

according to decree,

and exalt him, and increase in strength;

and they will never fail in their watches.

do not grow weary, for you will never 11

See the rainbow, and bless him who made it arrive.

exceedingly beautiful in its brightness.

31

Who has seen him and will describe him?

12

It ringed the sky in a circle of glory;

And who will magnify him as he is?

the hands of the Most High stretched it 32

Many things hidden are greater than these,
out.

for few of his works we have seen.

33

For the Lord made all things,

13

By his ordinance he urges on snow

and to the pious he gave wisdom.

and speeds the lightnings of his

judgment.

A HYMN TO THE FATHERS

14

Therefore storehouses were opened,

Let us now praise famous men and clouds flew out like birds.

44 and our fathers by descent.

15

In his majesty he made clouds strong,

2

The Lord created much glory, and stones of hail were broken apart.

his majesty from eternity.

17a

The voice of his thunder caused the earth to 3

When they ruled in their kingdoms,

be in travail,

men also became noteworthy through 16 and at his appearance mountains will be

power;

shaken.

when they counseled with their
By his will the south wind will blow,
intelligence,

17b

also a storm from the north and a

when they announced through whirlwind.

prophecies,

Like birds flying down he sprinkles snow,

4

when they led people by deliberations and like a locust alighting is its descent.

and with understanding of a people's 18

An eye will marvel at the beauty of its scribal art—

whiteness,

wise words there are in their

and a heart will be amazed by its rain.

instruction—

19

And frost, like salt, he pours upon the earth,

5

when they searched out musical tunes and when it freezes, points of thorns and set out verses in writing—occur.

6

rich men well endowed with strength, 20

A cold north wind will blow, being at peace in their dwelling-places—
and ice will freeze on water;

7

all of these were glorified in generations upon every gathering of water it will settle, and in their days were a boast.

and like a breastplate the water will put it 8

There were some of them who left behind a
on.

name

21

He will consume mountains and will burn so that their praises might be told in up wilderness,
detail.

and he will extinguish grass like fire.

9

And of others there is no memorial,

22

A mist hastens healing for all things;
and they perished as though they had not a dew that comes out will refresh from existed,
the heat.

and they became as those who had not been born,

23

By his reasoning he abated the abyss, and their children after them.

and he planted islands in it.

10

These, on the other hand, were men of 24

Those who sail the sea describe its danger,

compassion,

and we marvel at the reports of our ears.

whose righteous deeds were not 25

The incredible and amazing works are forgotten.

there,

11

With their seed it will remain;
a variety of every living thing, a creation a good inheritance is their offspring.
of sea monsters.

12

In the covenants their seed stood,

26

Because of him, his messenger succeeds, and their children for their sake.
and by his word all things hold together.

13

Forever will their seed remain, 756

sirach 44-45

and their glory will not be blotted out.

5

He caused him to hear his voice,

14

Their bodies were buried in peace, and he led him into the deep darkness, and their name lives for generations.

and he gave him commandments face-to-15

Peoples will recount their wisdom,

face,

and an assembly will proclaim their

a law of life and knowledge,

praise.

to teach Jakob a covenant and Israel his judgments.

16

Henoch pleased God, and he was changed, an example of repentance for generations.

6

He exalted Aaron, a holy person like him,

17

Noe was found perfect, righteous;
his brother from the tribe of Leui.

in a time of anger he became an 7

He established him as an everlasting exchange;

covenantd

because of him, there was a remnant for the

and gave him a priesthood of the people;

earth,

he pronounced him happy with decorum,

when a flood occurred.

and he girded him with a cloak of glory.

18

Covenants of eternity were added to him

8

He clothed him with perfection of boasting, lest all flesh be blotted out by a flood.

and he crowned him with the implements of strength,

19

Abraam was a great father of a multitude of breeches and a full-length robe and

nations,

shoulder-strap.

and no blemish was found on his glory,

9

And he encircled him with pomegranates, 20

who kept the law of the Most High,

with very many golden bells all around,

and he entered in a covenant with him;

to send forth a sound at his steps,

in his flesh he established a covenant,

to make an audible sound in the shrine and in a trial he was found faithful.

for a memorial for the sons of his people,

21

Therefore hea established by means of an 10 with the sacred vestment, with gold and oath with him

blue

that nations would be blessed by his

and purple, a work of an embroiderer,

seed,

with the oracle of judgment, for that he would multiply him as the dust of manifestations of truth,

the earth

11

with twisted scarlet, a work of an artisan, and like the stars to exalt his seed with costly stones of an engraved seal and to give them an inheritance from sea to in a setting of gold, a work of a jeweler,

sea

for a memorial in inscribed writing and from the river to the end of the earth.

according to the number of the tribes of 22

And with Isaak he likewise established,

Israel,

on account of Abraam his father.

12

a crown of gold upon a turban,

A blessing for all humankind and a a carving of a seal of holiness,

covenant

a boast of honor, a work of strength,

23

he put down upon the head of Iakob;

objects of desire for the eyes, adorned.

he acknowledged him with his blessings,

13

Before him such beautiful things did not and he gave to him by an inheritance,

exist.

and he divided his portions,

Until eternity, no alien put them on and he allotted among twelve tribes.

except his sons alone

and his descendants in perpetuity.

And he brought out of him a man of mercy,

14

His sacrifices shall be wholly burned,

who found favor in the eyes of all flesh, twice each day continually.

15

Moyses filled his hands who was loved by God and human beings, and anointed him with holy oil;

45 Moyses, whose memorial is accompanied it became for him an everlasting covenant by blessings.

and in his seed for the days of the sky,

2

He made him equal to the glory of holy to minister to him and at the same time to
ones,

be a priest

and he made him great by terror for and to bless his people in the name.

enemies.

16

He chose him out of everyone alive

3

By his words he hastened signs;

to offer a fruit sacrifice to the Lord,

he glorified him in front of kings;

incense and a pleasing odor for a memorial,

he gave him commands for his people, to make atonement for the people.

and he showed him his glory.

17

By his commandments he gave him

4

In faithfulness and meekness he consecrated authority in covenants of judgments,

him;

to teach Jakob the testimonies

he chose him out of all flesh.

and with his law to enlighten Israel.

a.l.e. God bl.e. Moyses c*Possibly established with him an everlasting covenant* dGk is plural

sirach 45-46

757

18

Strangers conspired against him,

2

How he was glorified when he lifted up his
and they envied him in the wilderness,

hands

the men with Dathan and Abiron and when he extended a sword against and the gathering of Kore in wrath and cities!

anger.

3

Who before him stood so?

19

The Lord saw and was not well pleased,

For it was he who led the wars of the

and they were destroyed by wrath of Lord.

anger;

4

Was it not by his hand that the sun was he performed wonders among them, shackled,

to consume them in the fire of his flame.

and one day became as two?

20

And he added glory to Aaron,

5

He called upon the Most High, mighty one,

and he gave him an inheritance;

when enemies pressed him all around, the first fruits of first products he allotted to and the great Lord heard him

him;

with stones of hail of mighty power.

bread with the first things he prepared in 6

He rushed down upon a nation in battle,

abundance.

and on a slope he destroyed those who 21

For also they shall eat sacrifices of the Lord, resisted

which he gave both to him and to his so that nations might know his armament, seed.

because their battle was against the Lord, 22

But in the land of the people he will have for indeed he followed after a mighty no inheritance,
one.

and he has no portion for him among 7

And in the days of Moyses he did mercy,
the people,
he and Chaleb son of Iephonne, for hea is your portion and inheritance.
to oppose an assembly,

to restrain people from sin

23

And Phinees son of Eleazar is third in and to still grumbling of wickedness.

glory,

8

And these were the two that escaped since he was zealous in the fear of the out of the six hundred thousand infantry

Lord

to lead them into an inheritance, and since he stood firm in the turning of the
into a land flowing with milk and honey.

people,

9

And the Lord gave Chaleb strength, in the goodness of the eagerness of his and until old age it remained with him
soul;

so that he went up to the height of the land he also made atonement for Israel.

and his seed obtained an inheritance

24

Therefore there was established with him a 10

in order that all the sons of Israel might see covenant of peace

that it is good to walk behind the Lord.

to be in charge of holy things and of his

people

11

And the judges, each with his own name, so that he and his seed might have whose heart did not commit fornication the magnificence of the priesthood and who did not turn away from the Lord,

forever.

may their memorial be for blessings.

25

Also a covenant with David

12

May their bones sprout anew out of their son of Issai from the tribe of Judah, plot

an inheritance of the king for son from son and their name be traded;

only;

may it be renowned among the sons of Aaron's inheritance is also for his seed.

humankind.

26

May he grant to you wisdom in your 13

Having received glory of human beings,

heart,

beloved by his Lord was Samuel;

to judge his people in righteousness

a prophet of the Lord, he established a so that their good things might not vanish

kingdom

and their glory be to their generations.

and anointed rulers over his people.

14

By the law of the Lord he judged a Mighty in war was Jesus son of Naue gathering,

and the Lord watched over Jakob.

46 and a successor of Moyses in prophecies, who was, like his name,

15

By his faithfulness he was made accurate as great for the salvation of his elect, a prophet,

to take vengeance on enemies when

and the trustworthiness of his vision was stirred up,

known in his words.

so that he might give Israel an 16

And he called upon the Lord, a mighty one,
inheritance.

when his enemies pressed all around, al.e. God bGk is plural cl.e. God's dl.e. the Israelites el.e. their plot fPerhaps among the sons of humankind, having received glory of human beings. Beloved by his Lord was Samouel

758

sirach 46-47

with an offering of a suckling lamb.

11

The Lord took away his sins,

17

And the Lord thundered from the sky, and he exalted his horn forever,

and with a great sound he made his voice and he gave him a covenant of kings

heard.

and a throne of glory in Israel.

18

And he wiped out leaders of the Tyrians and all rulers of the Philistines.

12

After this one arose a knowledgeable son,

19

And before the time of eternal sleep he bore and because of him, he lodged in witness

spaciousness.

before the Lord and his anointed one,

13

Salomon reigned in days of peace,

“No property, not even a pair shoes, to whom God gave rest all around have I taken from any flesh.”

so that he might establish a house to hisc

And no person accused him.

name

20

And after he fell asleep, he prophesied, and prepare a holy precinct forever.

and he showed the king his end,

14

How wise were you in your youth, and he raised up his voice out of the
and you were filled like a river with

ground

understanding.

in prophecy to blot out the lawlessness of 15

Your soul covered the earth,

the people.

and you were full with illustrations of riddles.

And after this one Nathan rose up 16

To far-off islands did your name reach,

47 to prophecy in the days of David.

and you were beloved in your peace.

2

Just as fat set apart from deliverance,

17

For songs and proverbs and illustrations

so was David from Israel's sons.

and for explanations countries marveled at 3

He played with lions as with young goats
you.

and with bears as with lambs of the 18

In the name of the Lord God, flocks.

who is called God of Israel,

4

In his youth, did he not kill a giant you gathered gold like tin and take away reproach from the people and amassed silver like lead.

by raising his hand with a sling's stone

19

You bent your flanks for women, and by striking down the arrogance of
and you were brought into subjection by Goliath?

your body.

5

For he called upon the Lord, the Most 20

You gave disgrace on your glory,

High,

and you defiled your seed,

and he gave strength by his right arm,

to bring wrath upon your children to remove a person able in war, and to cause bewilderment by your folly to exalt his people's horn.

21

so that sovereignty became divided,

6

So among the tens of thousands they

and a disobedient kingdom originates glorified him,
from Ephraim.

and they praised him with blessings of 22

But the Lord will never abandon his mercy

the Lord

and never caused any of his words to by bringing to him a diadem of glory.

perish,

7

For he wiped out enemies all around, and he will never blot out the descendants and he treated with contempt the
of his chosen one,

Phylistiim, his adversaries, and he will never take away the seed of

and he broke their horn until this day.

the one who loved him,

8

In every deed of his he gave

and he gave a remnant to Iakob,

acknowledgement

and to David a root out of him.

to the Holy One, the Most High, with a word of glory;

23

And Salomon rested with his fathers, with his whole heart he sang hymns, and he left behind himself some of his
and he loved him who made him.

seed,

9

He established harp-singers before the altar folly of the people and one lacking also to make sweet melodies with their
understanding,
ringing sounds,
Roboam, who caused the people to revolt [and every day they will praise with their because of his plan,

songs.]

and Ieroboam son of Nabat, who made 10

He gave dignity at the feasts,

Israel sin,

and he arranged seasons until also gave Ephraim a path of sin.
completion,

24

And their sins multiplied greatly when they were praising his holy name, to remove them from their land.
and from early morning the holy precinct

25

And they sought out every wickedness was resounding.
until vengeance came upon them.

al.e. an offering of deliverance bl.e. David cl.e. God's

sirach 48-49

759

48 And Elias rose up, a prophet like fire, and they were in travail like women in
and his word was burning like a torch, labor.

2

who brought a famine upon them 20

And they called upon the Lord who is

and by his zeal made them few.

merciful,

3

By a word of the Lord he shut up the sky;
spreading out their hands to him.

he thus brought down fire three times.

And the Holy One quickly heard them from 4

How you were glorified, Elias, in your
the sky,

wondrous deeds!

and he redeemed them by the hand of

And who will boast as you can?

Esaias.

5

He who raised a corpse from death

21

He struck down the camp of the Assyrians, and out of Hades by a word of the Most

and his holy angel wiped them out.

High.

22

For Hezekias did what was pleasing to the 6

He who brought down kings to destruction

Lord,

and those who had been glorified from

and he prevailed in the ways of Daud, their bed.

his father,

7

He who heard a rebuke at Sina which Esaias the prophet commanded;

and at Choreb judgments of vengeance.

he was great and reliable in his vision.

8

He who anointed kings for the purpose of 23

In his days the sun stepped back, retribution

and he added to life for the king.

and prophets as successors after him.

24

By his great spirit he showed what would be,

9

He who was taken up in a whirlwind of

forever,

fire

and he comforted those who mourned in and in a chariot of fiery horses.

Sion.

10

He who was recorded ready for the times,

25

And to eternity he showed the things that to calm anger before wrath,

will be

to turn the heart of a father to a son and the hidden things before they even and to restore the tribes of Iakob.

happened.

11

Happy are those who saw you and those fallen asleep in lovinga, for we too shall live by life.

49 Iosias's memorial becomes a compounding of incense, prepared by the work of a perfumer;

12

It was Elias who was enveloped in a like honey in every mouth it will be sweet,
whirlwind,

and like music at a banquet of wine.

and Elisaie was filled with his spirit,

2

He prospered in turning around the
and in his days he did not tremble before
people,
any ruler,

and he removed abominations of
and no one oppressed him.

lawlessness.

13

No word surpassed him,

3

He directed his heart toward the Lord;
and in sleep his body prophesied.

in days of lawless people he strengthened 14

In his life he performed wonders, piety.

and in death his deeds were marvelous.

4

Except for David and Hezekias and Iosias, 15

In all these things, the people did not all committed error,
repent,

for they abandoned the law of the Most and they did not withdraw from their High;

sins

the kings of Iouda failed, until they were carried off from their land

5 for they gave their horn to others and they were scattered in all the earth.

and their glory to a foreign nation.

And the people were left few in number,

6

They set fire to the chosen city of the holy and a ruler in the house of David.

sanctuary

16

Some of them did what was pleasing, and made desolate its streets

e

but others multiplied sins.

by the hand of Ieremias.

7

For they mistreated him,

17

Hezekias fortified his city, and he was hallowed a prophet in the

and he brought water into its midst;

womb,

he tunneled a rock with iron,

to uproot and to ruin and to destroy,

and he built wells for water.

likewise to build and to plant.

18

In his days Sennacherim came up, and he sent Rapsakes and departed,

8

There was Iezekiel who saw a vision of and he raised up his hand against Sion

glory

and made great boasts in his arrogance.

that he showed to him upon the chariot

19

Then their hearts and hands were shaken, of Cheroubin.

aPossibly + you bl.e. death cl.e. memorial dl.e. power ePerhaps because fl.e. God

760

sirach 49-50

9

Indeed he remembered his enemies in a like a new shoot of Lebanon in days of thunderstorm,

summer,

and to do good to those who make 9

like fire and incense in a fire-pan, straight their ways.

like a gold vessel of beaten metal, adorned with every precious stone,

10

And may the bones of the twelve prophets

10

like an olive tree sprouting forth fruit sprout anew out of their place, and like a cypress towering in the clouds.

for they comforted Iakob

11

When he put on a robe of glory and they redeemed them in confidence of and when he put on himself with the hope.

perfection of a boast,
in ascending the holy altar,

11

How are we to magnify Zorobabel?
he glorified the enclosure of the holy He too was like a signet on the right precinct.

hand,

12

so Iesus son of Iosedek,

12

But as he received portions from priests' who, in their days, built a house

hands

and raised a holy shrine to the Lord, and when he stood by the altar'sc hearth, prepared for everlasting glory.

all around him was a garland of brothers like a growth of cedars on Lebanon, 13

And the memorial of Neemias is lasting, and they surrounded him like trunks of he who raised our walls, which had palm trees.

fallen,

13

And all Aaron's sons were in their glory, and set up gates and bars and the Lord's offering was in their hands and raised up our buildings.

before the entire assembly of Israel,

14

and as he was ministering a conclusion

14

No one was created on the earth such as upon the altarsc,

Henoch,

to arrange an offering for the Most High,
for he too was taken up from the earth.

the Almighty,

15

Nor has there been born a man like Ioseph, 15

he stretched out his hand to a libation bowl

a leader of brothers, a support of the and made a libation of grape blood;

people,

he poured at the foundations of the altar and they watched over his bones.

an odor of fragrance to the Most High,

16

Sem and Seth were glorified among human

the King of All.

beings,

16

Then the sons of Aaron cheered;

and above every living thing in creation they sounded on trumpets of beaten was Adam.

metal;

they made heard a great sound

Simon son of Onias was the great priest, as a memorial before the Most High.

50 hewhoinhisliferepairedahouse

17

Then all the people hurried with one and in his days fortified a shrine.

accord,

2

And by him the height of the courtyard was

and they fell face down on the ground,

founded,

to do obeisance to their Lord,
a high retaining structure of the temple
the Almighty, God Most High. enclosure.

3

In his days a cistern for water was quarried,

18

And the harp-singers sang praises with their
a reservoir like the circumference of a sea.
voices;

4

He who gave heed to his people out of a melody was made sweet with a full calamity

tone.

and strengthened the city in a siege,

19

And the people petitioned the Lord Most 5

how he was glorified as he spun around the

Highd

shrine,

with prayer before the Merciful One as he exited from the house of the veil.

until the Lord's arrangement was 6

Like a morning star in the midst of a completed

cloud,

and they finished his ministrations.

like the full moon in the days of a feast, 20

Then as he descended, he raised up his 7 like the sun shining on the shrine of the

hands

Most High,

over the entire assembly of Israel's sons, like the rainbow gleaming in clouds of

to give a blessing of the Lord from his lips

glory,

and to boast in his name.

8

like a blossom of roses in days of bnew

21

And they repeated an act of obeisance, thingsb,

to receive the blessing from the Most like lilies at exits of water,

High.

a.l.e. God bl.e. spring cGk = bômos dPossibly of the Lord Most High petitioned

sirach 50-51

761

22

And now bless the God of all things, and there was no one who helped;
him who does great things everywhere,
I looked for assistance from human beings, him who exalts our days from the womb and there was none.

and does with us according to his mercy.

8

And I remembered your mercy, O Lord, 23

May he give us gladness of heart, and your beneficence from of old,
that there also be peace in our days because you raise up those who wait for you in Israel according to the days of the age.

and you save them from the hand of 24

May he entrust with us his mercy, wicked persons.

and in our days let him redeem us.

9

And I raised up my supplication from the earth,

25

My soul was offended at two nations, and I begged for deliverance from
and the third is not a nation:
death.

26

those who settled on Mount Samaria and 10

I called upon the Lord, Father of my lord,

Phylistiim

not to forsake me in days of affliction, and the foolish people who live in in a time of helplessness from acts of Sikima.

arrogance.

11

“I will praise your name continually,

27

Instruction of understanding and knowledge and I will sing hymns with I have inscribed in this book, acknowledgement.”

Jesus son of Sirach, Eleazar the
And my petition was heard, Hierosolymite,

12

for you saved me from destruction who poured forth wisdom from his heart.
and delivered me from an evil time.

28

Happy is he who is engaged in these things,
For this reason I will acknowledge and and when he has placed them on his praise you,

heart, he will be wise.

and I will bless the name of the Lord.

29

For if he does them, he will have strength for anything,

13

When I was still young, before I wandered, because his route is the fear of the Lord,
I sought wisdom plainly in my prayer.

[and to the pious he gave wisdom.]

14

Before the shrine I asked for her,
and until the final things I will seek her.

[Blessed be the Lord forever. May it be; may it be.]

15

When the grape was putting out flowers to the point of ripening,

A PRAYER OF IESOUS SON OF SIRACH

my heart was glad in her;

I will acknowledge you, O Lord and King,

my foot stepped in rectitude;

51 and I will praise you as God my Savior.

from my youth I would track her.

I acknowledge your name,

2

because you have been my protector and 16

I inclined my ear a little, and I received,

helper,

and I found for myself much and you have redeemed my body from

instruction.

destruction

17

I made progress in her;
and from a trap of a slanderous tongue, to him who gives me wisdom I will give from lips that fabricate a lie,
glory.

and against those who stand by 3

you have been a help, and you have 18

For I intended to practice her, redeemed me,
and I sought the good, and I will never according to an abundance of mercy and
be ashamed.

your name,

19

My soul has grappled with her,

from nooses prepared for food, and in the performance of the law I was from the hand of persons seeking my exacting.

soul,

from rather many troubles, which I had,
I spread out my hands on high,

4 from a choking of a pyre all around and I thought about ignorance of her.

and from the midst of fire, which I did 20

I directed my soul to her,
not kindle,
and in purification I found her.

5 from the deep of Hades' belly and from an unclean tongue and a lying I acquired a heart with her from the word

beginning.

6

and a missile of a tongue of an unrighteous

For this reason I will never be forsaken,

person.

21

and my belly was stirred to seek her out;

My soul drew near to death,

for this reason I gained a good and my life was on the brink of Hades possession.

below.

22

The Lord gave a tongue to me as my wage,

7

They surrounded me on every side, and with it I will praise him.

762

sirach 51

23

Draw near to me, you who are 27

See with your eyes that I labored little,

uneducated,

and I found for myself much rest.

and lodge in a house of instruction.

28

Partake of instruction with a great sum of 24

Why are you still lacking in these things,

silver,

and your souls thirst greatly?

and you will acquire much gold by it.

25

I opened my mouth, and I said, “Acquire for yourselves without money.

29

May your soul be glad in his mercy, and may you never be ashamed in his 26

Place your neck under a yoke,

praise.

and let your soul receive instruction.

30

Accomplish your work in good time,

It is near to find it.”

and he will give your wage in his time.

PSALMS OF SALOMON

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

Since no critical edition of the Psalms of Solomon's (PsSal) Greek text is available at the present time, the NETS translation is based on the edition of Alfred Rahlfs (Septuaginta. Id est Vetus Testamentum graece iuxta LXX interpretes, 2 vols. [Stuttgart: Württembergische Bibelanstalt, 1935]). Rahlfs's text is, for the most part, a reprint of the edition of Oscar von Gebhardt (Die Psalmen Salomo's zum ersten Male mit Benutzung der Athoshandschriften und des Codex Casanatensis [Leipzig: J. C. Hinrichs, 1895]). Rahlfs frequently incorporated many of von Gebhardt's conjectural emendations, which are referred to in Rahlfs' text by the siglum

"Gebh." The remaining conjectural emendations included in Rahlfs' Greek text are largely derived from the edition of Henry B. Swete (The Psalms of Solomon with the Greek Fragments of the Book of Enoch [Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1899]) and are indicated in Rahlfs' notes by the siglum "Sw." This book is basically a reprint of Swete's earlier edition of the Greek text of PsSal (The Old Testament in Greek According to the Septuagint [vol. 3; Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1894] 765-787), but it incorporates readings from three new manuscripts that were included in von Gebhardt's text. In one instance (17.32), Rahlfs adopted the suggestion first proposed in 1870 by A. Carrière (De Psalterio Salomonis disquisitionem historico-criticam scripsit [Strasbourg]) that $xristo_j ku/rioj$, which is preserved in all of PsSal's manuscripts, should be emended to $xristo_j kuri?/ou$. All departures from Rahlfs' text are indicated in the notes to the present translation.

Since the publication of Rahlfs' edition of the LXX, three new Greek manuscripts of PsSal have been discovered (MSS 655, 659, and 3004). These manuscripts contain no major textual variants. Robert Hann has prepared a full listing of all readings from PsSal's eleven Greek manuscripts (The Manuscript History of the Psalms of Solomon [SBLSCS 13; Chico: Scholars Press, 1982]). Robert Wright has recently completed the first critical edition of PsSal that includes these newly discovered manuscripts along with all the Syriac witnesses (The Psalms of Solomon: A Critical Edition of the Greek Text [New York: T & T Clark/Continuum, forthcoming]). Wright's eclectic text, despite his incorporation of readings from all eleven Greek manuscripts, is for the most part similar to Rahlfs' text. Rahlfs' edition, despite the discovery of additional manuscripts, is still the best edition of the Greek text currently available to use as the basis for the NETS of PsSal.

Unfortunately, PsSal lacks a Hebrew text. This makes it difficult to determine precisely how the translator adhered to the Hebrew Vorlage. PsSal is also extant in five Syriac manuscripts, none of which preserves the entire composition. The Syriac version contains several Greek loanwords and differs from the Greek in only sixty-two, approximately 10%, of PsSal's verses. Because it is largely a literal reproduction of the Greek, most scholars believe that the Syriac version was made from the Greek translation and not from the Hebrew Vorlage. The Syriac is, therefore, of minimal value for understanding the relationship between the Greek and PsSal's lost Hebrew Vorlage. In several places where the Greek text is difficult to understand, the Syriac translation gravitates toward Greek MS 253, which preserves the earliest form of PsSal's Greek text. The Syriac version and this particular Greek manuscript appear to stem from a common textual ancestor. In passages where the Greek is difficult, however, the Syriac translator frequently sought to smooth them. While it may contain some passages that likely reflect the Old Greek more accurately than our surviving Greek textual witnesses, the Syriac is nevertheless problematic for understanding the Greek text, since it frequently represents what its translator thought the Greek text meant.

W. Baars ("Psalms of Solomon," in The Old Testament in Syriac According to the Peshitta Version [Part 4, Fascicle 6; Leiden: E. J. Brill, 1972] 1-27) has prepared a critical edition of the Syriac translation. Because the Syriac version essentially supports Rahlfs' Greek text, no readings from the Syriac have been included in the present translation.

TITLE OF THE BOOK

The title ascribes the collection to King Salomon, who was famous as a writer of poems and proverbs (3 Rgns 5.12 [MT 5.12; NRSV 4.32]). The attribution likely derives from the phrase “son of Daud” in to the reader of psalms of salomon

764

17.21, apparently thought by some scribe to mean Salomon. Superscripts of individual psalms too are generally thought to be secondary. Whether they were already in the translator’s Hebrew source text is not at all clear.

Some manuscripts title the collection “Psalms of Salomon,” whereas others give the name as in the title, but “Salomon” in all but three of the superscripts. Other Greek manuscripts vary widely.

“Solomon.” In manuscript 253 (XI/XII CE), which contains the best and earliest text, has “Solomon”

The earliest attestation to a title is in Codex Alexandrinus (V CE), which reads (YALMOI SOLOMWNTOS). Since this listing is nearly five centuries later than PsSal’s presumed first century BCE date of composition, it does not resolve the debate over the correct spelling of the name. The spelling of Codex Alexandrinus appears in many later Christian canon lists, such as those of Pseudo-Athanasius (early VI CE) and Nicephorus (IX CE), suggesting that “Solomon” was the preferred spelling during the Christian period. Although Rahlfs’ text consistently uses the spelling “Salomon” for the superscripts, he titled the collection “Psalms of Solomon.”

Because the LXX of Reigns uses the spelling “Salomon,” this was likely the spelling used in the Old Greek—if indeed it had any title at all— and is used throughout NETS of PsSal.

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

Because we do not possess PsSal's Hebrew Vorlage, it is difficult to attempt to reconstruct its original text.

It is, moreover, impossible to determine with any certainty whether the Greek translator remained faithful to the original text or sometimes expanded or paraphrased the Hebrew. In some instances the Greek translator may have improperly vocalized his Hebrew text or closely adhered to Hebrew syntax, which sometimes resulted in an awkward style.

In keeping with the philosophy of NETS, the present English translation of PsSal has attempted to focus on the Greek translator's intent rather than on the perception of the original audience. In other words, the English has tried to adhere to the NRSV's maxim to be "as literal as possible, as free as necessary." Where the Greek translator likely did not understand the original Hebrew, or possibly mistranslated what was likely the Vorlage, the English translation seeks to convey the ambiguity of the Greek.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF THE PSALMS OF SALOMON

Because there is no Hebrew text of PsSal to compare with the Greek, it is difficult to comment in detail on the Greek translator's methods. PsSal's relatively limited Greek vocabulary suggests that the translator rarely departed from a fixed list of Hebrew-Greek equivalents. It appears that the translator frequently used the same word, such as $\omicron\sigma\iota\omicron\upsilon$ and $\epsilon\lambda\lambda\epsilon\omicron\upsilon$, to represent a given Hebrew word even in instances when another Greek word would have been more appropriate. This lexical stereotyping often resulted in a rather stilted translation, which in many cases likely reflects the appearance of the Hebrew Vorlage. PsSal's Greek text also contains renderings in which the translator apparently attempted to express the meaning of the Hebrew at the expense of achieving a clear Greek reading. In some instances, such as a1nacij (18.5) and a)na/lhmyij (4.18), the exact Hebrew to Greek equivalent is uncertain. There is some evidence that later Christian scribes introduced errors into the text. In 17.32, for example, the original genitive kuri/ou was likely erroneously rendered as a nominative by a later Christian scribe resulting in two anarthrous nominatives (xristo_j ku/rioj). This same reading is also found in the LXX of Lam 4.20. These examples likely reflect messianizing changes that were later made to the LXX in the Christian era. In the absence of PsSal's Hebrew Vorlage, it is impossible to know for certain how extensively later scribes altered its original text.

In several places it appears that PsSal's translator has either confused the Hebrew consonants or misunderstood Hebrew grammar. In 2.25, for example, the translator apparently misread an original rymhl ("to change, turn") as rm)l ("to say"). Likewise, in 2.26 the text reads th_n u#brin au)tou~ insolence"). The Greek translator may have misread "his body," wtywg (possibly written wtwg), as wtw)g.

("his

In other instances, the text apparently reflects the translator's mistaken understanding of the Hebrew syntax. In 4.12, for example, the Greek e0n tau&th| is feminine and likely presupposes a specific antecedent. The Hebrew Vorlage was likely t)zb, which was intended as a marker of general reference and meant "in this manner." The translator, however, did not render this by a corresponding Greek neuter pronoun but slavishly rendered it as a feminine, thereby creating a problematic Greek text with no clear antecedent, although it perhaps refers to e0piqumi/a. The Greek text of PsSal frequently changes tenses without any clear change implied in the action of the verbs (3.7-8a; 17.6b-9). These examples suggest that the translator did not fully understand the Hebrew Vorlage. In such cases where the translator like-to the reader of psalms of salomon 765

ly misunderstood the Hebrew, the present translation seeks to reproduce the ambiguity of the Greek text.

The superscripts in PsSal are of unknown date and provenance. They are frequently difficult to translate because their words and expressions are often used without any context and frequently do not relate to the accompanying text. The punctuation, content, and orthography of these titles vary in the manuscript tradition. I have simply followed Rahlfs' text, but have at times deviated from his punctuation.

The present translation has attempted to follow the gender-inclusive language of the NRSV. Inclusive third-person plurals have been introduced only when allowed by the Greek. In some passages gender specific language has been introduced when it is clear that the Greek translator understood the Hebrew to be gender specific. When, for example, the Greek word a)nh&r appears to be gender specific, it is so translated. If the translator's pronouns seem to refer to a specific man (4.1-5, 13.5), the English is also rendered in gender specific language.

EDITORIAL POLICY

There is no standard versification of the Psalms of Solomon. The present translation follows Rahlfs' numbering. Because Rahlfs' punctuation reflects his personal decision, I have on occasion departed from it.

I have consulted photographs of all eleven of PsSal's surviving Greek manuscripts in preparing the NETS translation. These have at times assisted in determining the punctuation of the text.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

In translating PsSal for NETS, I have benefited from other English translations, especially those of H. E.

Ryle and M. R. James (The Psalms of the Pharisees, Commonly Called the Psalms of Solomon [Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1891]), G. B. Gray ("The Psalms of Solomon," in Charles 2, 625-52), R. B.

Wright, ("The Psalms of Solomon," in The Old Testament Pseudepigrapha [ed. J. H. Charlesworth; vol. 2; Garden City: Doubleday, 1985] 639-670), and S. P. Brock ("The Psalms of Solomon," in The Apocryphal Old Testament [ed. H. F. D. Sparks; Oxford: Clarendon, 1984]) 649-682). Apart from the standard Greek grammars and lexica, the notes to Gebhardt's Greek text, as well as the linguistic comments of M. Del-cour ("Psaumes de Salomon," in Dictionnaire de la Bible: Supplément [ed. L. Pirot and A. Robert; Paris: Letouzey & Ané, 1979] 214-245) and J. Viteau (Les Psaumes de Salomon: Introduction, texte grec et traduction, avec les principales variantes de la version syriaque par François Martin [Paris: Letouzey et Ané, 1911] were particularly helpful in preparing the NETS translation. The exegetical article of J. Begrich ("Der Text der Psalmen Salomos," ZNW 38 [1939] 131-162) was especially helpful in understanding the complex relationship between PsSal's Syriac and Greek texts and offered some valuable insights into the meaning of several difficult Greek passages.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Albert Pietersma generously devoted much time to reviewing earlier drafts of this translation. His probing questions and suggestions greatly improved my work. Any errors in this translation are entirely my own. I am also thankful to Robert B. Wright, who kindly provided me with an advance copy of his forthcoming critical Greek text and color photographs of all the Psalms of Solomon's Greek and Syriac manuscripts.

KENNETH ATKINSON

766

psalms of salomon 1-2

Psalm 1

for they did evil once again in not listening.

1

I cried to the Lord when I was completely

9

And heaven was weighed down, and the distressed,

earth detested them,

to God when sinners attacked.

because no person upon it had done

2

Suddenly the cry of war was heard before what they did.

me:

10

And the earth shall know all your righteous hea will listen to me, for I was full of judgments, O God.
righteousness.

3

I thought in my heart that I was full of 11

They set the sons of Ierousalem to be
righteousness,

mocked because of the prostitutes when I prospered and had become rich in her;
in children.

everyone passing by would enter before
the sun.

4

Their wealth was spread over the whole 12

They used to mock with their acts of
earth,
lawlessness, as they themselves used and their glory to the end of the earth.
to do;

5

They were exalted to the stars;
before the sun they paraded their they said they would not fall.
injustices.

6

But they became insolent in their prosperity,

13

And the daughters of Jerusalem were

and they did not bring.

profane according to your judgment,

7

Their sins were in secret, because they had defiled themselves with and I had no knowledge of them.

a confusion of minglingd.

8

Their acts lawlessness surpassed those of the 14

I am troubled in my entrails and my inward nations before them;

parts over these things.

they profaned with profanity the sanctuary of the Lord.

15

I will justify you, O God, in uprightness of
heart,

Psalm 2

for in your judgments is your righteousness, O God.

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. Concerning 16

For you have repaid the sinners according to Jerusalem.

their works,

and according to their sins, which were 1

When the sinner became proud, he struck very wicked.

down fortified walls

17

You have exposed their sins, that your
with a battering-ram, judgment might be evident;

and you did not prevent him.

you have wiped out their memorial from 2

Foreign nations went up to your altar;

the earth.

in pride they trampled it with their 18

God is a righteous judge, and he will not sandals,

marvel at a person.

19

For the nations reviled Ierousalem,

3 because the sons of Ierousalem had defiled trampling her down;

the sanctuary of the Lord, he dragged down her beauty from the had profaned the gifts of God with acts of throne of glory.
lawlessness.

20

She put on sackcloth instead of beautiful

4

Because of these things he said, "Cast them
clothing,
far from me;
a rope around her head instead of a I take no pleasure in them."
crown.

5

The beauty of her glory was despised before

21

She removed the headdress of glory, which
God;

God had set upon her;
it was completely dishonored.
in dishonor her beauty was cast upon the ground.

6

The sons and daughters were in harsh captivity,

22

And I saw and entreated the face of the Lord their neck in a seal, with a mark among and said:
the nations.

Long enough, Lord, has your hand been 7

According to their sins he dealt with them,

heavy on Jerusalem

for he abandoned them into the hands of

in bringing the nations upon her.

those who prevail.

23

For they mocked and spared not, in wrath

8

He turned away his face from pitying them, and fierce anger,

young and old and their children once and they will be brought to an end,

again,

unless you, Lord,

aPr I said = Ra bl.e. gifts cPr for = Ra dPossibly unnatural intercourse psalms of salomon 2-4

767 rebuke them in your wrath.

2

Play, and be fully awake in wakefulnessc for 24

For it was not out of zeal that they acted,
him,
but out of the desire of the soul,
for a good melody to God is from a good so as to pour out their wrath upon us in
heart.
plunder.

25

Do not delay, O God, to repay them on

3

The righteous remember the Lord at all their heads,
times,
to declare in dishonor the arrogance of with confession and justification, the the dragon.
Lord's judgments.

26

And I did not wait long until God showed me his insolence,

4

The righteous does not despise being pierced, on the mountains of Egypt, disciplined by the Lord;
more than the least despised on land and his good will is always before the Lord.
sea.

27

His body, carried about on the waves in 5

The righteous stumbled and justified the great insolence,
Lord;
and there was no one to bury,
he fell and watches what God will do for for he had rejected him in dishonor.
him;

28

He did not consider that he was a human,

he eagerly watches whence his salvation nor did he consider the hereafter.
will come.

29

He said, "I will be lord of earth and sea,"

6

The truth of the righteous is from their and he did not recognize that God is divine savior;

great,

in the house of the righteous sin upon mighty in his great strength.

sin does not lodged.

30

He is king over the heavens,

7

The righteous always searches his house, also judging kings and authorities.
to remove his injustice in transgression.

31

It is he who raises me up to glory

8

He made atonement for sins of ignorance by and puts the arrogant to sleep for fasting and humiliation of his everlasting destruction in dishonor,

soul,

because they did not know him.

and the Lord cleanses every devout man 32

And now see, the nobles of the earth, the
and his house.

judgment of the Lord;

for he is a great and righteous king;

9

The sinner stumbled, and he curses his life, judging what is under heaven.

the day of his birth and his mother's 33

Bless God, you who fear the Lord with birth pangs.

understanding,

10

He has added sin upon sin in his lifetime; for the pity of the Lord is upon those he fell, because his fall is evil, and he who fear him with judgment, shall not rise up.

34

to separate between righteous and sinner,

11

The destruction of the sinner is forever, to repay the sinners forever according to and he will not be remembered, when he

their works

visits the righteous.

35

and to have pity on the righteous, bfrom the 12

This is the portion of sinners forever, humiliation of the sinnerb,

but those who fear the Lord shall rise to and to repay the sinner for what he has everlasting life,

done to the righteous.

and their life is in the light of the Lord and shall never end.

36

For the Lord is kind to those who call on him with endurance,

Psalm 4

treating his devout according to his pity, setting them continuously before him in Discourse of Salomon. Pertaining to the men-strength.

pleasers.

37

Blessed is the Lord forever before his slaves.

1

Why do you sit, profaner, in the council of

Psalm 3

the devout,

and your heart is far removed from the

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. Concerning the

Lord,

righteous.

provoking with transgressions of the law

the God of Israel?

1

Why do you sleep, soul, and do not bless

2

Extravagant in speech, extravagant in

the Lord?

appearance above everyone,

Play a new hymn to God, who is worthy the person harsh in speech in to be praised.

condemning sinners in judgment.

aOr to say bOr delivering him from the humiliation of the sinner cOr vigilance dPossibly find a home

768 psalms of salomon 4-5

3

And his hand is the first upon him as if in 17

May he enter his house empty-handed, zeal,

and may his house lack everything with

and he himself is guilty of various sins which he might satisfy his soul.

and self-indulgence.

18

May his old age be spent in loneliness

4

His eyes are upon every woman without without children

distinction;

right up to his being taken up.

his tongue is false when he makes a 19

May the flesh of the men-pleasers be contract with an oath.

scattered by wild beasts,

5

At night and in secret he sins as though and may the bones of the transgressors of unseen;

the law lie before the sun in with his eyes he speaks to every woman

dishonor.

ain evil assignationa;

20

May ravens peck out the eyes of hypocrites,

he is quick to enter every house for they have devastated many houses of cheerfully as though innocent.

men in dishonor,

6

May God remove those who live in and they scattered them in desire.

hypocrisy with the devout,

21

And they have not remembered God, with corruption of his flesh and his life and they did not fear God in all these with poverty.

things,

7

May God reveal the works of men, of men-and they provoked and angered God.

pleasers,

22

May he remove them from the earth, his works with derision and contempt.

because with pretense they have deceived

8

And may the devout justify the judgment of the souls of the innocent.

their God,

when sinners are removed from the 23

Happy are those who fear the Lord in their presence of the righteous,

innocence;

the man-pleaser who speaks the law with the Lord will save them from deceitful

deceit.

men and sinners,

and he will save us from every stumbling

9

And their eyes are upon a stable house of a block

manb,

of the transgressor of the law.

as a serpent to destroy each other's 24

May God remove those who arrogantly do

wisdom

all injustice;

with words of those who transgress the

for the Lord our God is a great and

law.

mighty judge in righteousness.

10

His words are deceptions to accomplish his 25

May your pity, O Lord, be upon all those desire for injustice;

who love you.

he did not cease until he had succeeded in scattering them as orphans.

Psalm 5

11

He devastated a house on account of his desire for transgressing the law;

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon.

he deceived with words, because there is no one who sees and judges.

1

O Lord God, I will praise your name with 12

At this he was filled with transgressing the joy

law,

in the midst of those who have

and his eyes are upon another house, knowledge of your righteous to destroy it with clamorous words.

judgments.

13

His soul, like Hades, is not satisfied with all

2

For you are kind and merciful, the refuge of these things.

the poor;

when I cry out to you, do not pass me by 14

May his portion, O Lord, be dishonored in silence.

before you;

3

For no one will take booty from a strong may his going out be with groaning, and
man,
his coming in with a curse.

and who shall take of all that you have 15

May his life be in anguish and poverty and made, unless you give it?

anxiety, O Lord;

4

For man and his portion are before you in may his sleep be with grief, and his
the balance;

waking with anxiety.

he cannot increase it beyond dyour

16

May sleep be taken from his temples at judgmentd, O God.

night;

may he fail dishonorably in all the work

5

When we are distressed we will call upon of his hands.

you for help,

aPossibly about illicit affairs bOr a peaceful man's house cAntecedent unclear; possibly desire dPerhaps what you have prescribed

psalms of salomon 5-8

769

and you will not turn back our petition, when he crosses rivers and when the seas because you are our God.

swell, he will not be terrified.

6

Make not your hand heavy upon us,

4

He arose from his sleep and blessed the lest, from distress, we sin.

name of the Lord.

7

And if you do not return us, we will not stay

In firmness of heart he sang a hymn to

away,

the name of his God.

but we will come to you.

5

And he entreated the face of the Lord for his entire household,

8

For if I hunger, I will cry to you, O God, and the Lord listened to the prayer of
and you will give to me.

everyone in fear of God.

9

You feed the birds and the fish,

6

And the Lord fulfills every request of the when you give rain to wildernesses that soul that hopes in him.

green grass may spring up.

Blessed is the Lord who works pity for 10

You have provided fodder in the wilderness those who love him in truth.

for every living thing,

and if they hunger, they will lift their face

Psalm 7

to you.

11

You feed kings and rulers and peoples,

Pertaining to Salomon. Of returning.

O God,

and who is the hope of the poor and 1

Remove not your dwelling from us, O God, needy, unless it be you, O Lord?

lest they attack us, those who hated us 12

And you will listen—for who is kind and

without cause.

forgiving but you?—

2

For you have rejected them, O God; making glad the soul of the humble by let their foot not trample upon the opening your hand in pity.

inheritance of your holy precinct.

13

Man's kindness is grudgingly, and 3

Discipline us by your will,

tomorrow,

and do not give us to the nations.

and if he repeat it without complaining,

4

For if you send death,

you would even marvel at this.

you will command it concerning us.

14

But your gift is great in kindness, and rich,

5

For you are full of pity, and he whose hope is in you will not be

and you will not be angry enough to sparing with a gift.

destroy us completely.

15

Your pity, O Lord, is upon the whole earth

6

While your name dwells in our midst, we
in kindness.

shall find pity,

16

Happy is the man whom God remembers and no nation will prevail against us.

bin due proportion to sufficiencyb;

7

For you are our protector,

if man has too much, he sins.

and we shall call upon you, and you will 17

Sufficient is a moderate provision with hearken to us;

righteousness,

8

For you will have compassion upon the race and in this is the blessing of the Lord for of Israel forever,
abundance with righteousness.

and you will not reject it,

18

May those who fear the Lord rejoice in good 9 and we are under your yoke forever,

things,

and the whip of your discipline.

and your kindness be upon Israel in your 10

And you will direct us in the time of your kingdom.

help,

19

Blessed is the glory of the Lord, for he is our showing pity to the house of Jakob on

king.

the day you promised them.

Psalm 6

Psalm 8

In hope. Pertaining to Salomon.

Pertaining to Salomon. Regarding victory.

1

Happy is the man whose heart is prepared

1

My ear heard distress and the sound of

to call on the name of the Lord;

war,

when he remembers the name of the

the sound of a trumpet announcing

Lord, he will be saved.

slaughter and destruction.

2

His ways are directed by the Lord,

2

The sound of many people is like that of an

and the works of his hands are protected exceedingly great wind,

by the Lord, his God.

like a hurricane with mighty fire sweeping through the wilderness.

3

His soul will not be disturbed with the sight

3

And I said in my heart, of evil dreams;

"Where, then, will God judge him?"

aPerhaps give generously bPerhaps and provides for his needs in moderation

770 psalms of salomon 8-9

4

I heard a sound in Ierousalem, city of a holy 20

He killed their rulers and everyone wise in precinct.

counsel;

5

My lower back was crushed from the he poured out the blood of the report;

inhabitants of Jerusalem

my knees weakened; my heart was afraid;

like the water of uncleanness.

my bones were shaken like flax.

21

He led away their sons and daughters whom 6

I said, "They will direct their ways in

they had begotten in defilement.

righteousness."

22

They did according to their uncleanness, just 7

I considered the judgments of God since the

as their fathers;

creation of heaven and earth;

they defiled Jerusalem and the things

I justified God in his judgments from that had been sanctified to the eternity.

name of God.

8

God exposed their sins before the sun;

all the earth knew the righteous 23

God was justified in his judgments among judgments of God.

the nations of the earth,

9

In secret places under the earth were their

and the devout of God are like lambs transgressions of the law innocent in their midst.

in provocation;

24

Worthy to be praised is the Lord who they committed incest, son with mother judges all the earth in his

and father with daughter.

righteousness.

10

They committed adultery, every man with 25

See, O God, you have shown us your his neighbor's wife.

judgment in your righteousness;

They concluded compacts by oath with our eyes have seen your judgments,

one another

O God.

concerning these things.

26

We have justified your name that is honored
forever,

11

They would plunder the sanctuary of God, for you are the God of righteousness, as though there was no heir who judging Israel with discipline.
redeems.

27

Turn, O God, your pity upon us, 12

They would trample the altar of the Lord and have compassion upon us.

because of all kinds of 28

Gather together the dispersion of Israel with uncleanness,

pity and kindness,

and with menstrual blood they defiled
for your faithfulness is with us.

the sacrifices as if they were profane 29

And we stiffened our neck, meat.

and you are the one who disciplines us.

13

They left no sin, which they did not do 30

Overlook us not, our God,

more than the nations.

lest the nations swallow us up, as though there were no redeemer.

14

Therefore God mixed for them a spirit of 31

And you are our God from the beginning,
confusion;

and upon you is our hope, O Lord.

he gave them a cup of undiluted wine to 32

And we shall not depart from you,
drink,

for your judgments upon us are kind.

that they might become drunk.

15

He brought him from the end of the earth, 33

Upon us and our children is your good will who strikes mightily;

forever;

he declared war against Jerusalem and

O Lord, our savior, we shall never more her land.

be shaken.

16

The rulers of the land met him with joy;

34

Worthy to be praised is the Lord for his they said to him, "Welcome is your way; judgments by the mouth of devout come, enter in peace."

ones,

17

They leveled the rough roads before his
and blessed is Israel by the Lord forever.
entry;

they opened the gates to Jerusalem; they

Psalm 9

crowned her walls.

Pertaining to Salomon. Regarding rebuke.

18

He entered, as a father the house of his sons, with peace;

1

When Israel was led away in exile to a he set down his feet with great security.
foreign land,

19

He captured her towered strongholds and when they fell away from the Lord who the wall of Jerusalem, redeemed them,
for God led him with security while they they were expelled from the inheritance, went astray.
which the Lord had given them.

aPossibly committed in provocation bOr as a result

psalms of salomon 9-11

771

2

The dispersion of Israel was among every 11

The mercy of the Lord is upon the house of nation, according to the word of Israel forever and ever.

God,

that you may be justified, O God, in your

Psalm 10

righteousness

by reason of our acts of lawlessness;

Among hymns. Pertaining to Solomon.

for you are a righteous judge over all the peoples of the earth.

1

Happy is the man whom the Lord

3

For none that does injustice shall be hidden remembers with reproof

from your knowledge, and who is fenced from the evil road by
and the righteous acts of your devout are a whip,
before you, O Lord,
that he may be cleansed from sin, that it and where shall a human being hide may not increase.

himself

2

He who prepares his back for lashes shall be from your knowledge, O God?

cleansed,

for the Lord is kind to those who endure

4

Our works are in the choosing and power of discipline.

our soul,

3

For he will straighten the ways of the
to do righteousness or injustice in the

righteous

works of our hands,

and will not turn them aside by

and in your righteousness you visit

discipline,

human beings.

and the pity of the Lord is upon those 5

The one who practices righteousness stores

who love him in truth.

up life for himself with the Lord,

4

And the Lord will remember his slaves in pity, and the one who practices injustice is for the testimony is in the law of the responsible

everlasting covenant,

for the destruction of his own soul,

the testimony of the Lord for the ways of

for the judgments of the Lord are in humankind at his visitation.

righteousness

for each man and household.

5

Our Lord is righteous and devout in his 6

To whom will you show kindness, O God, if judgments forever,

not to them that call upon the

and Israel shall praise the name of the Lord?

Lord with joy.

You will cleanse a soul from sins awhen

6

And the devout shall acknowledge in the

he will confess,

assembly of the people,

when he acknowledgesa;

and God will show pity upon the poor to for shame is upon us and our faces on the joy of Israel.

account of all these things.

7

For God is kind and full of pity forever,

7

And to whom will you forgive sins, except and the congregations of Israel shall

to those who have sinned?

glorify the name of the Lord.

You shall bless the righteous and not 8

The salvation of the Lord is upon the house to straighten them for the sins they of Israel for everlasting joy.

have committed,

and your kindness is upon sinners in

Psalm 11

repentance.

Pertaining to Salomon. Regarding expectation.

8

And now, you are our God, and we are the people whom you have loved.

1

Trumpet in Sion with a signal trumpet to Look, and be compassionate, O God of summon the holy ones;
Israel, for we are yours, proclaim in Ierousalem the voice of one and remove not your pity from us, lest who brings good news;
they attack us.

for the God of Israel has shown pity in 9

And you chose the offspring of Abraam his visitation of them.

above all the nations,

2

Stand upon a high place, O Ierousalem, and and you placed your name upon us, behold your children,

O Lord,

from the east and the west, gathered and you will not reject us forever.

together once again by the Lord.

10

You made a covenant with our fathers

3

From the north they come in the joy of their concerning us,

God;

and we shall hope in you when we return from the islands far away God has our souls toward you.

gathered them.

aPossibly when confession and acknowledgment is made bPossibly guide them in situations when they have sinned

cPossibly restrained

772

psalms of salomon 11-14

4

He has leveled high mountains into level

Psalm 13

ground for them;

the hills fled at their approach.

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. Comfort for 5

The woods shaded them as they passed
the righteous.

by;

God caused every tree of fragrance to 1

The right hand of the Lord covered me;
spring up for them,
the right hand of the Lord spared us.

6

that Israel might pass by at the visitation of 2

The arm of the Lord saved us from the their God's glory.

sword that passes through,

7

Put on, O Jerusalem, the garments of your from famine and the death of sinners.

glory;

3

Evil wild animals rushed upon them;
prepare the robe of your sanctity, with their teeth they tore their flesh, for God has spoken good concerning and with their molars they crushed their Israel forever and ever.

bones.

8

May the Lord do what he has spoken

4

But from all these things the Lord delivered concerning Israel and

us.

Jerusalem;

5

The pious man was troubled on account of may the Lord raise up Israel by his his transgressions, glorious name.

lest he should be taken away along with 9

The pity of the Lord is upon Israel forever

the sinners.

and ever.

6

For the destruction of the sinner is terrible, but not one of all these things shall touch

Psalm 12

the righteous.

7

For not the same is the discipline of the Pertaining to Salomon. Against the tongue of righteous in ignorance

the transgressors of the law.

and the destruction of the sinners.

8

The righteous is disciplined with

1

O Lord, deliver my soul from the man distinctness

who is a transgressor of the law and so that the sinner may not rejoice over wicked,

the righteous.

from the tongue that transgresses the law

9

For he will admonish the righteous as a

and is slanderous

beloved son,

and that speaks lies and deceits.

and his discipline is as that of a firstborn.

2

The words of the tongue of the wicked man

10

For the Lord will spare his devout are twisted in many ways, and will wipe away their transgressions like fire among a people which burns up with discipline.

its beauty.

11

For the life of the righteous is forever,

3

His sojourn—to set on fire households with but sinners shall be taken away into a lying tongue—

destruction,

to cut down trees of joy that sets the

and their memorial shall never be transgressors of the law on fire,

found.

to confound households in warfare by 12

But the pity of the Lord is upon the devout, means of slanderous lips.

and his pity is upon those who fear him.

4

May God remove far from the innocent the

lips

Psalm 14

of the transgressors of the law with anxiety,

A Hymn. Pertaining to Salomon.

and may the bones of slanderers be scattered

1

Faithful is the Lord to those who love him far from those who fear the Lord;
in truth,
may the slanderous tongue perish in to those who endure his discipline, flaming fire far from the devout.

2

to those who walk in the righteousness of 5

May the Lord preserve the quiet soul that his ordinances,
hates the unjust,
in the law which he commanded us that and may the Lord direct the man who we might live.
makes peace at home.

3

The devout of the Lord shall live by it

6

The salvation of the Lord is upon Israel his
forever;

servant forever,

the orchard of the Lord, the trees of life, and may the sinners perish altogether are his devout.

from the presence of the Lord,

4

Their planting is rooted forever;

and may the devout of the Lord inherit the they shall not be pulled up all the days of promises of the Lord.

heaven;

aPossibly holy precinct

psalms of salomon 14-16

773

5 for the portion and the inheritance of God 10

And the inheritance of sinners is destruction is Israel.

and darkness,

and their acts of lawlessness shall pursue 6

But not so are the sinners and transgressors them to Hades below.

of the law,

11

Their inheritance shall not be found for who loved a day in the companionship of their children,

their sin.

for sins shall lay waste the houses of 7

Their desire was for the briefness of sinners.

corruption,

12

And sinners shall perish forever in the day
and they have not remembered God.

of the Lord's judgment,

8

For the ways of human beings are known when God visits the earth with his before him at all times,

judgment.

and he knows the storerooms of the 13

But those who fear the Lord shall find heart before they come to pass.

mercy on it,

9

Therefore their inheritance is Hades and and they shall live by the mercy of their darkness and destruction,

God,

and they shall not be found in the day but sinners shall perish forever and anon.

when the righteous obtain pity.

10

But the devout of the Lord shall inherit life

Psalm 16

with joy.

A Hymn. Pertaining to Salomon. Regarding help

Psalm 15

for the devout.

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. With an Ode.

1

When my soul slumbered, away from the Lord, I slipped for a short time,

1

When I was in distress, I called upon the
in the lethargy of those that sleep far name of the Lord;
from God.

I hoped for the help of the God of Iakob

2

For a short time my soul was poured out to and was saved,

death,

for you are the hope and the refuge of the close to the gates of Hades with the poor, O God.

sinner,

2

For who, O God, is strong except to confess 3

when my soul separated from the Lord,

to you in truth?

God of Israel,

And wherein is a person mighty except in except that the Lord helped me with his confessing to your name?

pity forever.

3

A new melody with an ode in gladness of 4

He pricked me, like a goad for a horse, that I

heart,
might awaken unto him;
the fruit of the lips with the tuned my savior and protector at all times saved instrument of the tongue,
me.

the first fruit of the lips from a devout

5

I will acknowledge [to] you, O God, for you and righteous heart—
helped me to salvation,

4

he who does these things shall never be
and you did not count me with sinners shaken by evil;
for destruction.

the flame of fire and the wrath against the 6

Remove not your pity from me, O God, unrighteous shall not touch him,

nor your remembrance from my heart

5 when it goes forth from the face of the Lord until death.

against sinners,

7

Rule over me, O God, from wicked sin to destroy all the substance of sinners;
and from every evil woman who causes

6

For the mark of God is upon the righteous the foolish to stumble.

for salvation.

8

And let not the beauty of a woman who 7

Famine and sword and death shall be far transgresses the law deceive me,

from the righteous;

nor of anything that is subject to useless for they shall flee from the devout as

sin.

those pursued by war,

9

Direct the works of my hands in your place,

8

but they shall pursue sinners and overtake and guard my steps in your

them,

remembrance.

and those who do lawlessness shall not 10

Protect my tongue and my lips with words escape the judgment of the Lord;

of truth;

9

they shall be overtaken by those experienced anger and unreasoning wrath put far in war,

from me.

for the mark of destruction is upon their 11

Grumbling and faint-heartedness in forehead.

affliction keep far from me,

aPossibly secret rooms bl.e. the earth cPerhaps hold me back

774

psalms of salomon 16-17

when, if I sin, you discipline me to return 11

The lawless one laid waste our land so that
me.

no one inhabited it;

they destroyed young and old and their 12

Support my soul with goodwill and children together.

cheerfulness;

12

In the wrath of his beauty he expelled them when you strengthen my soul, what is to the west,
given will be sufficient for me.

and the rulers of the land to derision, and 13

For if you do not give strength, did not spare them.

who will endure discipline in poverty?

13

Being an alien the enemy acted arrogantly,

14

When a soul is rebuked in the hand of his
and his heart was estranged from our God.
corruption,

14

And all things that he did in Ierousalem your testing is in his flesh and in the were just as the nations do in their strong affliction of poverty.

cities.

15

If the righteous endures in all these, he shall 15

And the sons of the covenant surpassed receive pity from the Lord.

them in the midst of motley

nations;

Psalm 17

there was no one among them who practiced pity and truth in

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. With an Ode.

Ierousalem.

Pertaining to the king.

16

Those who loved the congregations of the devout fled from them,

1

O Lord, you are our king forever and ever, as sparrows were scattered from their for in you, O God, shall our soul nest.

boast.

17

They wandered in wildernesses that their

2

And how long is the time of a person's life souls be saved from evil,
upon the earth?

and their saved soul was precious in the

According to his time and his hope upon eyes of those who sojourned

him.

abroad.

3

But we will hope in God our savior;

18

They were scattered over the whole earth by for the might of our God is forever with lawless men,

pity,

for heaven withheld the rain from falling on and the kingdom of our God is forever

the earth.

over the nations in judgment.

19

Everlasting springs out of abysses were held

4

You, O Lord, you chose David king over back from high mountains,

Israel,

for there was none among them who did and you swore to him concerning his righteousness and justice.

offspring forever,

20

From their ruler and the lowest of the
that his palace would never fail before people they were in every sin;
you.

the king was in transgression of the law,

5

And, because of our sins, sinners rose up and the judge in disobedience,
against us;
and the people in sin.

they attacked us and thrust us out, to 21

See, O Lord, and raise up for them their whom you did not promise;

king, the son of Daid,
they took possession by force, and they at the time which you chose, O God, to did not glorify your honorable rule over Israel your servant.

name.

22

And gird him with strength to shatter in 6

They set up in glory a palace corresponding pieces unrighteous rulers, to their loftiness;
to purify Jerusalem from nations that they laid waste the throne of David in trample her down in destruction, arrogance leading to change.

23

in wisdom of righteousness, to drive out 7

But you, O God, will overthrow them sinners from the inheritance, and will remove their offspring from the

to smash the arrogance of the sinner like
earth,
a potter's vessel,
when there rises up against them a person

24

to shatter all their substance with an iron that is foreign to our race.

rod,

8

According to their sins you will repay them, to destroy the lawless nations by the

O God,

word of his mouth,

that it may befall them according to their 25 that, by his threat, nations flee from his works.

presence,

9

God showed them no pity;

and to reprove sinners with the thought he has sought out their offspring and let of their hearts.

not one of them go free.

10

Faithful is the Lord in all his judgments,

26

And he shall gather a holy people whom he which he performs on the earth.

shall lead in righteousness,

psalms of salomon 17-18

775 and he shall judge the tribes of the

and wise in the counsel of understanding

people

with strength and righteousness.

that has been sanctified by the Lord, his 38

And the blessing of the Lord shall be with God.

him in strength,

27

And he shall not allow injustice to lodge in and he shall not weaken.

their midst any longer,

39

His hope shall be in the Lord, nor shall there dwell with them any and who can prevail against him?

person who knows evil;

40

He shall be strong in his works and mighty for he shall know them, that all are their

in fear of God,

God's sons.

shepherding the flock of the Lord

28

And he shall distribute them according to faithfully and righteously, their tribes upon the land, and he shall not let any among them and no resident alien and alien shall become weak in their pasture.

sojourn among them any longer.

41

And he shall lead all of them in equity,

29

He shall judge peoples and nations in the

and there shall be no arrogance among wisdom of his righteousness.

them,

Interlude on strings

that any one of them should be oppressed.

30

And he shall have the peoples of the nations

42

This is the majesty of the king of Israel, to be subject to him under his which God knew,
yoke,

to raise him up over the house of Israel to and he shall glorify the Lord in the marka discipline it.

of all the earth,

and he shall purify Ierousalem in holiness

43

His words will be more refined than costly as it was at the beginning gold, the finest.

31

so that nations may come from the end of

In the congregations he will discerningly

the earth to see his glory,

judge the tribes of a sanctified people;

bringing as gifts her sons who are his words are as words of the holy in the exhausted,

midst of sanctified peoples.

and to see the glory of the Lord with 44

Happy are those who shall live in those days, which God has glorified her.

to see the good things of Israel

32

And he shall be a righteous king, taught by that God shall accomplish in the God, over them,

congregation of the tribes.

and there shall be no injustice in his days in 45

May God hasten his pity upon Israel;
their midst,
may he deliver us from the uncleanness for all shall be holy, and their king the of profane enemies.
anointed of the Lord.

46

The Lord himself is our king forever and 33

For he shall not put his hope in horse and
ever.

rider and bow,

nor shall he multiply for himself gold

Psalm 18

and silver for war,

nor shall he gather hopes from a

A Psalm. Pertaining to Salomon. Again of the multitude of people for the day of anointed of the Lord.

war.

34

The Lord himself is his king, the hope of 1

O Lord, your pity is over the works of your

him who is strong through hope in hands forever;

God,

your goodness is over Israel with a rich and he shall have pity on all the nations

gift.

before him in fear.

2

When your eyes gaze upon them, then none of them shall be in want;

35

For he shall strike the earth with the word of your ears listen to the hopeful petition of his mouth forever;

the poor.

he shall bless the people of the Lord in 3

Your judgments are over the whole earth wisdom with joy.

with pity,

36

And he himself shall be pure from sin so and your love is upon the offspring of that he may rule a great people, Abraam, the sons of Israel.

that he may rebuke rulers and remove 4

Your discipline is upon us as on a firstborn, sinners by the strength of his word.

an only son,

37

And he shall not weaken in his days, to turn back the obedient soul from relying on his God;
ignorant stupidity.

for God has made him strong in the holy 5

May God cleanse Israel for the day of pity spirit

with blessing,

aPerhaps sight bLacking in Greek 776

psalms of salomon 18

for the day of election when he brings up 10

Great is our God, and glorious, dwelling in his anointed one.

the highest,

6

Happy are those who shall live in those who appointed the lights in their course

days,

for the determining of seasons to see the good things of the Lord, which from day to day,
he will perform for the coming and they did not turn aside from the path
generation.
you commanded them.

7

Under the rod of discipline of the Lord's 11

Their path each day is in the fear of God, anointed in fear of his God, from the day God created them and in wisdom of spirit and of righteousness
forever.

and strength,

12

And they have not wandered since the day

8 to direct a man in works of righteousness in he created them;

fear of God,
since the generations of old they have not to establish them all before the Lord—turned aside from their paths,

9

a good generation in fear of God in the days except when God commanded them of pity.

through the injunction of his

Interlude on strings

slaves.

THE TWELVE PROPHETS

TO THE READER

EDITION OF THE GREEK TEXT

The NETS translation of the Book of the Twelve Prophets is based on the edition of Joseph Ziegler (Septuaginta: Vetus Testamentum Graecum Auctoritate Academiae Scientiarum Gottingensis editum XIII: Duodecim prophetae [2nd. ed.; Göttingen: Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, 1967]).

For initial aspiration of Greek words (primarily names), I have relied on the edition of H. B. Swete, The Old Testament in Greek according to the Septuagint (vol 3; Cambridge: University Press, 1894).

TRANSLATION PROFILE OF THE GREEK

General Character

The Greek rendition of the Hebrew Minor Prophets is typical translation Greek. For this reason, the English translation is often less than idiomatic English. Difficulties in the translation, both in content and style, are caused by difficulties in the Greek.

As for the faithfulness of the translation to the original, if we use the Masoretic Text (= MT) as a standard, the Greek is sometimes distant from the base text and sometimes close to it. Hosee, for example, is quite different from the MT in many verses. The first three chapters of Michaias are also quite different.

Naoum usually corresponds to the MT in sense, but not word for word or clause for clause. Habbakoum deviates considerably from the traditional Hebrew.

Amos, on the other hand, is quite close to the traditional Hebrew, in spite of the translator's apparent lack of some vocabulary. Ioel is also close to the traditional Hebrew. Ionas is perhaps closest to the traditional Hebrew among the Twelve. Abdias, Sophonias, Haggaios, Zacharias and Malachias are all reasonably close to the MT.

There are reasons why some passages within these twelve Greek books vary from the MT: (1) The Hebrew text used by the translator sometimes appears to have been corrupt and difficult to render. For this reason, the translator sometimes rendered his text according to its general meaning, not according to the exact wording of the Hebrew. (2) The Hebrew parent text read by the translator sometimes actually differed from the MT, or the translator, for some reason, misconstrued the Hebrew in such a way as to view it differently from the MT. Although both these reasons, on occasion, are valid, one should probably not look to a different parent text as the cause for most differences. Emanuel Tov put the situation into correct perspective when he wrote, "Although there are thousands of differences between [MT] and the translations, only a fraction of them was created by a divergence between [MT] and the Vorlage of the translation. Most of the differences were created by other factors that are not related to the Hebrew Vorlage."

(Textual Criticism of the Hebrew Bible [Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1992] 123).

In order to present a clearer picture of how the Greek Minor Prophets differ from the MT, I give below a partial outline, characterizing the Greek text as it is compared to the MT.

Literalness in Rendering

Sometimes the Greek is a very literal representation of the Hebrew, to the point of being un-Greek. An example is Am 4.7. The MT reads $\text{hyl}(\text{ry}+\text{mt})\text{l r}\#$) hqlxw “and the field on which it did not rain” (NRSV). The Greek renders this, $\text{kai}\ \text{meri/j, e0f 0 h3n ou0 bre/cw e0p 0 au0th/n}$, “and a part which I will not rain on.” The translator captures the meaning of the Hebrew idiom $\text{hyl}(\text{ . . . r}\#)$ but bungles his translation by rendering this idiom twice, making the Greek correspond quantitatively to the Hebrew at the end of the clause.

Another example is Am 5.5. The MT reads, $\text{wrb}(t)\text{l (b}\#\text{ r)bw}$, “Do not cross over to Beer-sheba.”

The Greek translates, $\text{kai}\ \text{epi}\ \text{to}\ \text{fre/ar tou}=\text{ o3rkou mh}\ \text{diabai/nete}$, “And stop crossing over to the well of the oath.” As we will see, the literal rendition of Beer-sheba in this passage is possibly due to a general ignorance of place names on the part of the translator. (The correct rendering of this same place name in 8.14 is perhaps caused by a corrector or correctors who worked, haphazardly at best, on the Greek text after its initial rendition. For more on this, see below.) In some instances, the translator of the Minor 778

to the reader of the twelve prophets

Prophets seems to have had a limited knowledge of both Palestinian geography and the Hebrew language in general.

Translational Freedom

One should not assume that literalness is the most characteristic style of the translator. Normally, the translator shows a creative freedom that allows him considerable elasticity in his work. Sometimes he is very free but at other times very literal probably for the same reason—ignorance of what the Hebrew means. Thus the Hebrew of Mich 1.14 reads, “Therefore you shall give parting gifts to Moresheth-gath; the houses of Achzib shall be a deception to the kings of Israel” (NRSV). The translator renders this, “Therefore you shall give worthless houses—ones being dispatched—as far as the inheritance of Geth. It became meaningless to the kings of Israel.” Such striking differences between the Greek and the Hebrew may suggest a variant Hebrew parent text behind the Greek. In my judgment, however, this is not necessarily the case. The Greek translator may have employed his creative freedom in this instance to render a difficult passage.

In his quest for a clear text, the translator shows few qualms in making textual adjustments. He often uses what could be called tricks of the trade to make the text understandable, changing plurals to singulars and singulars to plurals, passives to actives and, though less frequently, actives to passives. He feels free to alter the wording in other ways. In Am 1.3 the Hebrew reads, “because they have threshed Gilead with threshing sledges of iron” (NRSV). The Greek renders, “because they were sawing pregnant women of those in Galaad asunder with iron saws.” The general statement “threshed Gilead” is made into a more specific crime, perhaps more understandable to the translator and his readers, though the end result was basically the same. There is no way to predict when such variations will occur. The text is altered whenever the translator sees the need.

Interpretational Difference

Some variations between the Hebrew and the Greek are caused by the Hebrew having more than one meaning. In Hos 10.13 the MT reads, "You have plowed (Mt#rx) wickedness, you have reaped injustice"

(NRSV). The word #rx can mean either "to plow" or "to be silent." The Greek translator, apparently wishing to employ the sense of "silence," rendered, "Why did you pass over impiety in silence (paresi-wph/sate) and reap its injustice?"

In Am 1.8 the MT reads, "I will cut off the inhabitants from Ashdod, and the one who holds the scepter (+b#) from Ashkelon" (NRSV). The word +b# can mean either "scepter/rod" or "tribe." The Greek translator, wishing to employ the latter meaning, renders, "I will utterly destroy inhabitants from Azotus, and a tribe (fulh/) shall be removed from Ascalon."

In Soph 1.11 the MT reads, "For all the people of Canaan have perished" (hmdn). The word hmdn can mean either "to perish" or "to be like." Wishing to use the latter meaning, the Greek translator renders the passage, "because all the people were made like [w(moiw&qh) Chanaan."

Differences in Hebrew Vocalization

It is well known that manuscripts of the Hebrew Bible sometimes vary from each other because of differences in vocalization. This is true for manuscripts within the MT tradition as well as for manuscripts among the Dead Sea Scrolls, which differ from the MT sometimes by use of consonantal vowels or ma-tres lectionis. The principle is also to be seen in the second column of Origen's Hexapla in which the Hebrew text of Scripture is recorded in Greek transliteration. It is not surprising, then, to see that a number of differences between the Greek Minor Prophets and the MT are due to variant vocalizations. Here are some examples: In Mich 7.18 the MT reads, "He does not retain his anger forever" (NRSV). The Greek renders, "And he did not retain his anger for a witness." The difference is apparently caused by the translator vocalizing d(l as 'for a witness' instead of 'forever.' In Hab 3.5 the MT reads, "Before him went pestilence"

(NRSV). The Greek translates, "A report shall proceed before him." The variation appears to go back to the translator vocalizing rbd as "report/word" rather than as "pestilence." In Hag 1.11 the MT reads,

"And I have called for a drought on the land" (NRSV). The Greek translates, "And I will bring a sword on the land." The variation appears to go back to the translator vocalizing brx "sword" rather than as "drought." In Zach 9.10 the MT reads, "his dominion shall be from sea to sea" (NRSV). The Greek translates, "he shall reign over the waters as far as the sea." The variation suggests a vocalization of My d(Mym as "waters as far as the sea" rather than as "from sea to sea."

to the reader of the twelve prophets

779

Differences in Hebrew Consonantal Text

There are some variations between the Greek and the MT that go back to the translator reading different consonants from those that appear in the MT. He either read a Hebrew text variant to the MT or he misread the Hebrew. It is not always easy to determine which of these actually occurred.

Several variations occur involving the interchange of daleth (d) and resh (r) , look-alike letters that notoriously were confused by ancient scribes. In Hos 9.2, for example, the MT reads, “shall feed them”

(M(ry). The Greek translates, “know them” (e1gnw au0tou/j), apparently reading M(dy. In Am 4.5 the MT reads, “thank offering” (hdwt). The Greek translates, “law” (no/mon), a reflection of the Hebrew word hrwt. In Soph 3.9 the MT reads, “pure” (hrwrb). The Greek renders, “in its generation” (ei0j genea\n au0th=j), a reflection of hrwdb.

Sometimes a metathesis of Hebrew letters is involved. An example is Zach 12.10. There the MT reads,

“they have pierced” (wrqd). The Greek translates, “they have danced” (katwxh/santo). The Greek appears to go back to wdqr. Another example is Am 2.16. The MT reads, “And the stout of heart” (Cym)w wbl). The Greek translates, “And shall find his heart” (kai\ eu9rh/sei th\n kardi/an au0tou=). The Greek appears to be a reading of)cmyw rather than Cym)w.

Other variations between the Greek and the traditional Hebrew are traceable to a different consonantal text. In Zach 5.1 the Hebrew reads, “Again I looked up and saw a flying scroll” (NRSV). The Greek reads, “And I turned and lifted my eyes and saw and behold, a flying sickle." The Greek reflects the word lgm "sickle" rather than hlgm "scroll." In Na 1.3 the MT reads, "His way is in whirlwind." The Greek reads, "His way is in consummation." The Greek translator possibly read Pwsb rather than hpwsb as found in the MT. In Mich 5.4(3) the MT reads, "and he shall feed" (h(rw). The Greek renders this, "and he shall see and tend." The translator appears to have rendered h(rw h)rw, a doublet based on look-alike Hebrew words, one with aleph, the other with ayin.

In none of these instances is there any assurance that the Septuagint translator actually had before him a different parent text from the MT. In haste and carelessness, he may have misread the Hebrew, construing it into the type of text now reflected by the Greek.

Longer or Shorter Text

Sometimes the Greek differs from the MT by reading a longer or shorter text. In Hos 13.4 the MT reads,

“I am the Lord your God from the land of Egypt.” The Greek includes these words plus others in the middle: “I am the Lord your God who makes heaven firm and creates earth, whose hands created all the host of the sky. And I did not display them for you to follow after them. And I brought you up from the land of Egypt.” Conceivably, the MT represents an ancient scribal omission caused by a scribe whose eyes jumped from “I am the Lord your God,” to “from the land of Egypt,” leaving out the intervening words.

The converse is true in Hag 2.4b-5. The MT reads, “for I am with you, says the LORD of hosts, according to the promise that I made you when you came out of Egypt. My spirit abides among you; do not fear” (NRSV). This time the Greek has a shorter text. It reads, “for I am with you, says the Lord Almighty, and my spirit is present among you; have courage.” Conceivably, the short reading of the Greek was caused by the translator’s eyes jumping from the words, “for I am with you, says the Lord of host,” to the parallel phrase, “my spirit is present among you,” leaving out the intervening words.

Unfamiliarity with Names

The Greek translator of the Minor Prophets was lacking in his knowledge of place names. In Hos 5.8; 9.9; 10.9, instead of “Gibeah” he renders “hill(s).” In Hos 5.8 “Ramah” becomes “high places.” In Am 2.2 “Kerioth” becomes “its cities.” In Zach 12.11 “as the mourning for Hadad-rimmon in the plain of Me-giddo,” becomes “like the mourning for a pomegranate orchard cut down in the plain.” Occasionally, the translator inserts place names where the Hebrew lacks them. In Soph 3.3 the MT reads, “its judges are evening wolves”; the Greek translates, “its judges are like wolves of Arabia.” The translator was also ignorant of personal names. In Zach 6.10 the MT reads, “from Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah.” The Greek renders this, “from the rulers and from its useful people and from those who are familiar with it.”

The Translator’s Perspective

Occasionally it appears that the Greek differs from the MT because of a changed historical or theological perspective on the part of the translator. In Am 6.1 the MT reads, “Alas for those who are at ease in Zion” (NRSV). When the Minor Prophets were rendered into Greek, the religious and political climate in Jerusalem had changed from that of the eighth century, so the warning becomes, “Alas for those who count Sion as nothing.”

780

to the reader of the twelve prophets

Again, in Zach 13.2 the MT reads, “and also I will remove from the land the prophets (My)ybnh) and the unclean spirit.” The Septuagint translator, apparently finding the removal of the prophets from the land an unsavory idea, renders the passage, “also I will remove from the land the pseudo-prophets (yeudoprofh/taj) and the unclean spirit.”

In Hag 2.9 the MT reads, “The latter splendor of this house shall be greater than the former, says the LORD of hosts; and in this place I will give prosperity, says the LORD of hosts” (NRSV). The Septuagint renders these words, then adds, “even peace of mind for a possession to everyone who creates, to raise up this shrine.” The addition is perhaps due to the heightened perspective of the translator regarding what sort of prosperity the prophet has in mind and to whom it is to be given.

Unity of the Greek Translation

Based upon style variation, some have questioned the unity of the translation of this part of the Greek Bible. In the Schweich Lectures of 1920, H. St. John Thackeray (The Septuagint and Jewish Worship [London: British Academy, 1921]) asserted the unity of the Greek of the Minor Prophets, suggesting that it was done by one translator who was probably to be identified with the translator of Ezekiel (Iezekiel) chapters 28–39 (Thackeray's Ez b section). Three years later, Johannes Herrmann and Friedrich Baumgärtel (Beiträge zur Entstehungsgeschichte der Septuaginta [Berlin: W. Kohlhammer, 1923]) took exception to Thackeray's assertion, arguing that the Greek Minor Prophets had been done by two translators, the first rendering Hosea, Amos, Micah, Joel, Obadiah and Jonah, the second rendering Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi. Nahum, positioned between the two sections, appeared to belong to both sections and could not be assigned exclusively to either.

In 1934, Joseph Ziegler (Die Einheit der Septuaginta zum Zwölfprophetenbuch [Braunsberg, 1934]) challenged the conclusions of Herrmann and Baumgärtel. Ziegler emphasized the similarities between the two sections in the Greek Minor Prophets and argued that the variations in style do not necessarily imply different translators. He explained the variations on the basis of a versatile translator who felt no urgency to use the same correspondent consistently for a given Hebrew word or phrase.

Two years later, Sherman Johnson ("The Septuagint Translators of Amos" [Unpublished Doctoral Dissertation, University of Chicago, 1936]), in an elaborate investigation of the linguistic style of the Greek Amos, concluded that the translation divided itself into three groups, i.e., chapters 1-4, 5-6, and 7-9.

For him the differences between these groups were sufficient to demand a hypothesis of a different translator for chapters 5-6 which separated themselves radically from the rest of the work.

In 1970, I suggested that the Greek Amos was rendered by two translators, one who did sections A (1.1-8.11) and C (9.11-15) and another who did section B (8.12-9.10) ("Some Notes on the Septuagint of Amos," VT 20 [1970] 108-112). Among other things, I argued that the variation in the renditions of the place name (b# r)b (to\ fre/ar tou= o3rkou "the well of the oath" in Am 5.5; Bhersabee "Bersabee" in Am 8.14) bore the stamp of different translators.

T. Muraoka ("Is the Septuagint Amos VIII 12-IX 10 a Separate Unit?" VT 20 [1970] 496-500) explained the differences in style in Amos on the basis of context and the versatility of the translator, a position similar to Ziegler's, whose study Muraoka considered to be of prime importance for the issue.

In 1976, Emanuel Tov argued that the Greek Minor Prophets was so similar to Jeremiah a' (chapters 1-28) and Ezekiel that the same translator (or perhaps a group of translators) was responsible for all three (The Septuagint Translation of Jeremiah and Baruch [Harvard Semitic Monographs; Missoula: Scholars Press, 1976] 149). Tov hinted again at this conclusion in 1981 in his text critical work on the Septuagint (The Text-Critical Use of the Septuagint in Biblical Research [Jerusalem: Simor, 1981] 48).

In 1988, C. Robert Harrison, Jr., reviewed the issue and concluded that those who argue for one translator for the Minor Prophets, or for one group of translators, use flawed logic in their methodologies. He concluded, "In light of these facts, the uncritical assumption of translational unity within the collection which comprises the twelve minor prophets must be rejected . . . Some evidence is contradictory; perhaps a quite complicated redactional history may emerge for the Septuagint translations of the Minor Prophets" ("The Unity of the Minor Prophets in the Septuagint: A Reexamination of the Question," BIOSCS 21 [1988] 55-72 [quotation from p. 71]).

The issue is difficult since there are some anomalies in style within the Greek Minor Prophets that appear to go beyond the versatility of one translator. A case in point is the divine epithet ". . . of hosts." In Hosee and Amos (Hos 12.5; Am 3.13; 4.13; 5.27; 9.5) the phrase is always rendered, "the Almighty"

(ο9 pantokra/twr), employing the article, while generally elsewhere it is rendered, "Almighty"

(pantokra/twr). Exceptions are Na 3.5 and Soph 2.10 where "the Almighty" (ο9 pantokra/twr / το\n pantokra\tora) occurs. In each of these instances, however, variant readings also occur.

to the reader of the twelve prophets

781

In my revised judgment, although the differences in style within the Greek Minor Prophets are sometimes striking, they do not necessarily suggest that more than one translator was at work. An exception is Habbakoum 3, in which the text found in a small number of manuscripts appears to be a different translation (in some respects) from the majority text; see further below. Leaving aside this one exception, I doubt that a complicated redactional history is necessary to understand the nature of the Greek Minor Prophets. The stylistic differences can be explained by the assumption that a corrector went through the original document, perhaps soon after it was finished, and made some revision. In his haste, the corrector did a haphazard job, leaving the text as it now exists with some stylistic inconsistencies.

VARIANT TRANSLATIONS OF HABBAKOU 3

The Greek translation of the Hebrew Bible occasionally exists in more than one rendition or recension.

Examples are the A and B texts of the Book of Judges and the B/A and S texts of Tobit. Similarly Habbakoum 3 exists in two versions, one represented by the majority text, the other by a small group of manuscripts: codd. V //86-407 (according to Ziegler's notation). This minority version is otherwise known as the Barberini text of Habbakoum 3. A number of scholars consider the Barberini text to predate the version of the Old Greek found in the majority manuscripts. A few scholars believe that it dates after the Old Greek. Since Ziegler's edition includes both texts, NETS has followed suit.

THE NETS TRANSLATION OF THE TWELVE

In the English translation I have attempted to be faithful to the Greek without deviating radically from the NRSV. My success in this endeavor will have to be judged by my readers. When the Greek and the Hebrew diverge, I have always chosen to remain faithful to the Greek. The end result is a mixture of styles, sometimes NRSV-like, but often different from the NRSV.

In order to bring out word echoes from the Greek to the English and to set the appropriate mood for the prophets, I have established a number of default translations for Greek words and Greek roots, especially for those that have a strong moral or ethical tone. Thus di/kaioj and cognates are rendered by

“just/justice” (not “righteous/righteousness”); a0diki/a is rendered by “injustice,” a0se/beia by “impiety,” a0nomi/a by “lawlessness.”

I have given special attention to gender, rendering gender-inclusive words gender-inclusive, and gender-specific words gender-specific. Thus a1nqrwpoj is rendered “person/someone”; te/knon is rendered

“child.” On the other hand, a0nh/r is translated “man/male”; ui9o/j “son.” In a few instances, words that are usually taken as masculine are designated in Greek as feminine. In Hos 2.8; 13.1; Soph 1.4 “Baal” is preceded by the feminine article, thus: th=| / th=j Baal. I have rendered this by, “the goddess Baal.” In Mich 7.8, 10 “my adversary” has a feminine ending and is preceded by a feminine article, thus h9 e0xqra/ mou. In both instances I have rendered the phrase by “my lady adversary.”

A few special words and phrases need some explanation. The word a0llo/fuloj has consistently been rendered by “allophyles” in NETS. Though used to gloss “Philistines,” it does not actually mean “Philistines” and has therefore been given a generic sense. The Greek construction of the participle plus the finite verb of the same root, standing for the Hebrew infinitive absolute plus the finite verb of the same root, is rendered here emphatically, not intensively. Thus for Mich 2.12 sunago/menoi sunaxqh/setai lakwb . . .

e0kdexo/menoi e0kde/comai tou\j kataloi/pouj tou= Israhl is translated, "When Iakob is being gathered, he will be gathered . . . Receiving I will receive those remaining of Israel." The important name, Judah, in Am 2.4 passim (hdwhy - louda) appears always to be inflected and is thus rendered "loudas" throughout.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE

In addition to the standard grammars and lexica, I have benefited much from the lexicon of the Greek Minor Prophets prepared by T. Muraoka, A Greek-English Lexicon of the Septuagint. Twelve Prophets (Louvain: Peeters, 1993). I have consulted on occasion the earlier English translations of Thomson and Brenton with benefit. My students in Greek and Hebrew throughout the years have indirectly contributed much to my understanding of the Greek Minor Prophets.

GEORGE E. HOWARD

782

Hosee 1-2

HOSEE

and my oil and all the things proper for
me.”

A word of the Lord that came to Hosee the son 6

Therefore, behold, I am hedging up her way

1 of Beerli in the days of Kings Ozias and with thorns

loatham and Achaz and Hezekias of Ioudas and in and will build up her ways,

the days of King Ieroboam son of Ioas of Israel.

and she will not find her path.

2 The beginning of the word of the Lord in 7

And she shall pursue her lovers

Hosee. And the Lord said to Hosee, "Go, take for and not overtake them, yourself a wife of whoredom and children of

and she shall seek them whoredom, for the land in committing whoredom and shall not find them.

will commit whoredom from behind the Lord.”

And she shall say, “I will go

3 And he went and took Gomer daughter of Debeand return to my former husband, laim, and she conceived and bore him a son.

for it was well with me then rather than

4 And the Lord said to him, “Call his name

now.”

lezrael, for in yet a little while I will also avenge the 8

And she did not know blood of lezrael on the house of leou, and I will

that I had given her turn away the kingdom of the house of Israel.

the grain and the wine and the oil

5 And it shall be on that day, I will break the bow and had multiplied silver to her.

of Israel in the valley of Jezrael.”

But she made the silver and the gold for 6 And she conceived again and bore a daughthe goddess Baal.

ter. And he said to him, “Call her name Not Pitied, 9

Therefore I will return for I will not any longer have pity on the house of and carry off my grain in its time Israel, but setting myself in opposition, I will op-and my wine in its season, pose them. 7But I will have pity on the sons of and I will take away my garments and my loudas, and I will save them by the Lord, their linen cloth,
God, and I will not save them by bow or by sword that she may not cover her shame.
or by war or by chariots or by horses or by horse- 10
And now I will uncover her impurity men.”
before her lovers,
8 And she weaned Not Pitied and conceived and no one shall rescue her out of my again and bore a son. 9And he said, “Call his name
hand.

Not My People, for you are not my people and I 11

And I will turn away all her mirth, am not your 'I am.' "

her feasts and her new moons and her

10 And the number of the sons of Israel was sabbaths

like the sand of the sea, which shall not be measured nor numbered, and it shall be, in the place 12 and all her public assemblies.

And I will annihilate her vine and her fig where it was said to them, "You are not my peotrees

ple," they too shall be called, "sons of a living of which she said,

god." 11And the sons of loudas and the sons of Is-

"These are my pay,

rael shall be gathered together, and they shall set which my lovers have given to me."

up for themselves one realm, and they shall go up

And I will make them a witness, from the land, for great shall be the day of lezrael.

and the beasts of the field and the birds of the sky

and the things that creep upon the earth shall devour them.

2 Say to your brother, My People, and to your sister, Pitied.

2

Contend against your mother, contend 13

And I will avenge the days of the Baalim on

—for she is not my wife,

her,

when she used to sacrifice to them and I am not her husband—and I will put away her whoring from before and put on her earrings and her necklaces

me

and go after her lovers and her adultery from between her but forgot me, says the Lord.

14

Therefore, behold, I will deceive her breasts,

3

that I might strip her naked and bring her down into the wilderness and restore her as the day of her birth, and speak to her heart.

and I will make her like a wilderness

15

And from there I will give her her estates and render her as a parched land and the valley of Achor, to open up her and kill her with thirst.

understanding.

4

And upon her children also I will have no
And there she will be brought low as in the pity,

days of her infancy

because they are children of whoredom.

and as in the days of her coming up out

5

For their mother played the whore;

of the land of Egypt.

she who bore them acted shamefully.

16And it shall be on that day, says the Lord, she will

For she said, "I will go after my lovers, call me "My husband" and no longer call me "Baal-

who give me my bread and my water im." 17And I will remove the names of the Baalim and my clothes and my linen cloth from her mouth, and their names will be remembered no more. 18And I will make for them a cov-

hosee 2-4

783

I have made your mother like night.

enant on that day with the animals of the field and 6

My people have become like one who lacks with the birds of the sky and with the creeping
knowledge;
things of the ground, and I will break bow and because you have rejected knowledge, sword and war from the land, and I will make you I also will reject you from being a priest dwell in hope. 19And I will betroth you to myself
to me.

forever, and I will betroth you to myself in justice
And you forgot the law of your God;
and in judgment and in mercy and in compassion.
I also will forget your children.

20And I will betroth you to myself in faithfulness, and you shall know the Lord.

7

According to their multitude,

21

And it shall be on that day, says the Lord, thus they sinned against me.

I will give heed to heaven,
I will turn their glory into dishonor.
and it shall give heed to the earth,

8

They will feed on the sins of my people, 22 and the earth shall hear the grain and the

and they will receive their souls with their wine and the oil,
injustices.

and they will give heed to lezrael,

9

And it shall be as the people, so also the 23 and I will sow her for myself in the land.

priest,

And I will have pity on Not Pitied,

and I will avenge on him his ways and I will say to Not My People, "You are and repay him for his designs.

my people,”

10

And they shall eat and not be satisfied;
and he shall say, “You are the Lord my they have played the whore and shall not God.”

prosper,

for they forsook the Lord

And the Lord said to me, "Go again, and love to cherish 11whoredom.

3 awomanwholovesevilthingsandisanadul-teress, just as God loves the sons of Israel, but they
And the heart of my people turn their attention to foreign gods, and they like has received wine and intoxicating drink.

cakes with raisins." 2So I hired her to myself for fif- 12

They would consult counselors, teen pieces of silver and a gomora of barley and a and with his rods they would report to nebelb of wine. 3And I said to her, "For many days
him.

you will sit with me, and you will not play the

They were led astray by a spirit of whore, nor will you be with a man, and I will be whoredom,

with you." 4For the sons of Israel shall sit many and they played the whore from their days without king and without ruler and without God.

sacrifice and without altar and without priestly of- 13

They were offering sacrifice on the tops of fice and without clear ones. 5And after these

the mountains

things, the sons of Israel shall return and seek the

and were sacrificing upon the hills,

Lord their God and David their king, and they under an oak and a white poplar and a shall stand in awe at the Lord and his good things thickly shading tree,

in the last days.

because shelter is a good thing.

4 Hear a word of the Lord, O sons of Israel,

Therefore your daughters will play the

for the Lord has a dispute with the whore,

inhabitants of the land.

and your daughters-in-law will commit

For there is no truthfulness or mercy adultery.

or knowledge of God in the land.

And I will not take an interest in your 2

Imprecation and lying and murder daughters when they play the whore and stealing and adultery are poured out nor in your daughters-in-law when they upon the land,
commit adultery,
and they mix blood with blood.
for the men themselves were associating

Therefore the land shall mourn with whores

with all those who inhabit it, and were sacrificing with initiates, with the animals of the field and with the

and the people, not understanding, reptiles of the earth embraced a whore.

and with the birds of the air;

even the fish of the sea shall fail,

15

But you, O Israel,

4

that no one either go to law or accuse.

stop being ignorant,

But my people will be like a priest being and you, O loudas, stop going to Galgala, contradicted.

and stop going up to the house of On,

5

And you shall be weak by day, and stop swearing by the living Lord.

and the prophet also shall be weak with 16

For like a frenzied heifer,

you.

Israel went into a frenzy.

aHeb 1 homer = 220 liters bHeb = skin cPossibly explaining devices

784

Hosee 4-6

Now the Lord will feed them

11

Ephraim has overpowered his opponent; he like a lamb in a broad place.

has trampled judgment,

because he began to go after the vain

17

Ephraim, an associate of idols,
things.

placed stumbling blocks against himself.

12

And I am like confusion to Ephraim 18

He chose Chananites; fornicating they

and like a goad to the house of loudas. committed fornication.

13

And Ephraim saw his sickness, They loved dishonor because of itsa and loudas his pain.
insolence.

And Ephraim went to the Assyrians

19

You are a gust of wind in itsa wings, and sent ambassadors to King larim.
and they will be ashamed because of
And he was not able to cure you, their altars.
and pain will not desist from you.

14

For I am like a panther to Ephraim and like a lion to the house of loudas.

5 Hearthis,Opriests!

And give heed, O house of Israel!

And I will plunder and go and take,

And give ear, O house of the king!

and no one will rescue.

For the judgment pertains to you, 15

I will go and return to my place because you have become a snare to the until they are annihilated, and they will lookout

seek my face.

and like a net stretched over Itabyrion,

2

(5.15)

which the game hunters firmly set.

In their distress they will approach me

But I am one that disciplines you.

6

early, saying,

(6.1) "Let us go and return to the Lord our God, 3

I knew Ephraim,

because it is he who has torn, and he will

and Israel is not far from me;

heal us;

for now Ephraim has gone after whores;

he will strike down, and he will bind us

Israel has been defiled.

up.

4

Their deliberations did not grant them

2

After two days he will make us healthy;

to turn to their God,

on the third day we will rise up because a spirit of whoredom is within and live before him

them,

3 and have knowledge. We will press on to and they did not know the Lord.

know the Lord;

we will find him ready as dawn,

5

And Israel's pride will be brought low and he will come to us like the early and the against him,

latter rain to the earth."

and Israel and Ephraim will become weak

4

What shall I do with you, O Ephraim?

in their injustices.

What shall I do with you, O Judah?

And Judah also will become weak with

Your mercy is like a morning cloud

them.

and like morning dew when it goes

6

With sheep and calves they shall go

away.

to seek the Lord,

5

Therefore I cut off your prophets;

and they will not find him,

I killed them by the words of my mouth,

because he has turned away from them, and my judgment will go forth as light.

7

because they abandoned the Lord,

6

For I want mercy and not sacrifice, because foreign children were born to and knowledge of God rather than whole

them.

burnt offerings.

Now the rust will devour them and their allotments.

7

But they are like a person transgressing a covenant;

8

Trumpet with the trumpet on the hills;
there he despised me.

make a blast on the high places;

8

Galaad is a city working vain things, announce in the house of On:
stirring up water.

Benjamin became amazed.

9

And your strength is that of a man, a brigand;

9

Ephraim has become an annihilation priests have hidden the way;
in the days of reproof;
they have murdered Sikima, among the tribes of Israel,
because they did lawlessness.

I have demonstrated things that are 10

In the house of Israel I saw a horrible sure.

thing:

10

The rulers of loudas have become Ephraim's whoredom there; Israel has like those who remove landmarks;
been defiled,
on them I will pour out

(11)

and loudas. 11Begin to reap for yourself

my onslaught like water.

when I return the captivity of my people,

al.e. dishonor

hosee 7-8

785

14

7 1 when I heal Israel.

And their hearts did not call out to me;

And the injustice of Ephraim will be revealed, rather, they kept wailing upon their beds;

and the wickedness of Samaria, they were gashing themselves for grain and because they have performed lies.

wine.

And a thief will come in to him,

15

They were trained through me, and I a bandit plundering in his way, strengthened their arms,

2

that they might sing together like those who
and they devised evil things against me.
sing together with their heart.

16

They have turned aside to nothing;
I have remembered all their wickedness.
they became like a tightly stretched bow;

Now their deliberations have surrounded their rulers shall fall by the sword
them;

because of their undisciplined tongue.

they came before my face.

This will be their contempt in the land of 3

They made kings glad by their wickedness,

Egypt.

and rulers by their lies.

4

They are all adulterers,

Into their bosom like earthc,

like an oven being heated by a flame

8 like an eagle over the house of the Lord, for the baking of rest,

because they transgressed my covenant from the kneading of dough until it is and acted impiously against my law.
leavened.

2

They will clamor for me,

5

As for the days of our kings

“O God we have known you.”

—the rulers began to be enraged with wine;

3

Because Israel has spurned good things,

he stretched out his hand with pestilent

they have pursued an enemy.

persons.

6

For their hearts were fired up like an oven as 4

They made a king for themselves, and not

they broke into pieces;

through me;

all night long Ephraim was filled with they ruled and did not inform me.

sleep;

They made their silver and gold into idols morning came; he was fired up like a

for themselves,

flame of fire.

that they might be destroyed utterly.

7

All were heated like an oven,

5

Get rid of your bull calf, O Samaria;

and they devoured their judges.

my anger was provoked against them.

All their kings have fallen;

How long will they be incapable of none among them was calling upon me.

purification 6in Israel?

And an artisan made it,

8

Ephraim was mixing himself with the peoples.

and it is not a god.

Ephraim has become a loaf not turned.

For your bull calf, O Samaria, 9

Foreigners have devoured his strength, was a deceiver.

but he did not know it,

and gray hairs have sprouted on him,

7

Because they sowed things blasted by the

but he did not know it.

wind,

10

And Israel's pride will be humbled against their destruction shall also await them—

him;

a sheaf unable to produce meal,

yet they have not returned to the Lord and even if it should do so,

their God

foreigners will devour it.

and have not sought him in all this.

8

Israel was swallowed up;

now they have come to be among the 11

And Ephraim was like a dove,

nations

silly without heartb;

as a useless vessel,

he would call upon Egypt, and they went 9 because they went up to the Assyrians.

to the Assyrians.

Ephraim sprouted anew by himself; they 12

As they go, I will cast my net over them;

loved gifts.

I will bring them down like the birds of 10

Therefore they will be delivered up among the air;

the nations.

I will discipline them by the report of

Now I will take them in, their affliction.

and they will abate, for a little while,

13

Woe to them, for they have run away from from anointing king and rulers.

me!

Wretched are they, because they have 11 dBecause Ephraim multiplied altars, acted impiously against me.

beloved altars became sins to himd.

But I redeemed them,

12

I shall engrave for him a multitude, even his
and they spoke lies against me.

precepts;

aHeb = sabbath bread bOr sense cOr soil dPerhaps Because Ephraim multiplied altars to expiate sins, they became to him beloved altars

786

Hosee 8-10

the beloved altars were reckoned as

Like grapes in a wilderness foreign.

I found Israel.

13

Therefore, if they offer a sacrifice
And like an early watchman in a fig tree and eat flesh,
I saw their fathers.

the Lord will not accept these things.

They came to Beel-phegor

Now he will remember their injustices and were shamefully estranged, and punish their sins;
and the detestable became like the

they have returned to Egypt

beloved.

and will eat unclean things among the 11

Ephraim flew away like a bird.

Assyrians.

Their glories are from childbirth and 14

And Israel has forgotten his Maker birth pang and conception.

and built sacred precincts,

12

For even if they bring up their children, and loudas has multiplied walled cities,

they will be bereaved of people.

and I will send a fire into his cities,

For also woe is to them, and it shall devour their foundations.

my flesh from them.

13

Ephraim, as I saw, presented their children

for prey

9 Stop rejoicing, O Israel!

And stop exulting as the peoples do,

—even Ephraim—to lead out his children for you have played the whore from your for piercing.

God.

14

Give them, O Lord

You have loved gifts on every threshing

—what will you give them?

floor of grain.

Give them a childless womb

2

Threshing floor and wine vat did not know and dry breasts.

them,

and the wine deceived them.

15

All their evils are at Galgal,

3

They did not settle in the land of the Lord;
because there I came to hate them.

Ephraim settled in Egypt,

Because of the wickedness of their deeds, and among the Assyrians they shall eat

I will drive them out of my house.

unclean things.

I will not add to love them;

all their rulers are disobedient.

4

They made no libation of wine to the Lord,

16

Ephraim has suffered;
and they did not please him.

he has dried up at his roots;

Their sacrifices are to them like bread of he shall no longer bear fruit.

grief;

For even if they give birth,

all who eat them shall be defiled,

I will kill the objects of desire of their for their loaves for their souls

womb.

shall not enter the house of the Lord.

17

Because they have not listened to him,

God will reject them,

5

What will you do on the day of a public and they shall become wanderers among festival

the nations.

and on the day of the feast of the Lord?

6

Therefore, behold, they go from the Israel is a well-growing vine; fruit thrives wretchedness of Egypt,

10

on it.

and Memphis will receive them,

According to the multitude of its fruits, and Machmas will bury them.

he increased altars;

Destruction will inherit their silver;

according to the good things of his land, thorns shall be in their encampments.

they built steles.

2

It divided their hearts.

7

The days of punishment have come;

Now they will be annihilated;

the days of your recompense have come,

he will break down their altars;

and Israel will be afflicted their steles will suffer distress.
as the deranged prophet,
as the spirit-crazed person.

3

For now they will say,

Your madness has increased

“We have no king,

by the multitude of your injustices.

for we did not fear the Lord,

8

Ephraim is a watcher with God, a prophet,

but the king—what will he do for us?”

a twisted snare upon all his ways.

4

Uttering words,

They firmly pitched madness in the false excuses, he will make a covenant;

house of God.

judgment will spring up like grass

9

They were corrupted
upon a dry clot of a field.
according to the days of the hill;

5

The inhabitants of Samaria
he will remember their injustice; will dwell near the bull calf of the house he will punish their sins.

of On,

hosee 10-11

787 because his people mourned for him.

(1)

For Israel was an infant, and I loved him,

And as they provoked him, they will and out of Egypt I recalled his children.

rejoice over his glory,

2

As I recalled them,

for it had been deported from him.

so they went from me;

6

And they carried him wrapped to the

they kept sacrificing to the Baalim

Assyrians

and offering incense to carved idols.

as friendly gifts to King Iarim.

Ephraim will accept with a gift,

3

And it was I who bound the feet of

and Israel will be shamed by his counsel.

Ephraim,

took him upon my arm;

7

Samaria threw out her king and they did not know that I had healed like firewood upon the face of the water.
them.

8

And altars of On, the sins of Israel,

4

Amidst the ruin of people, shall be destroyed.

I stretched them out with the bands of Thorns and thistles shall grow up my love.

on their altars.

And I will be to them like a person slapping

And they shall say to the mountains, Cover his cheeks.

us,

And I will watch him attentively;

and to the hills, Fall on us.

I will prevail with him.

9

From which time the hills were, Israel has 5

Ephraim settled in Egypt,

sinned;

and Assour himself was his king,

there they stood.

because they did not want to return.

A war will not overtake them in the hill,

6

And the sword was weak in his cities against the children of injustice.

and ceased to work in his hands.

10

I have come to discipline them,

And they shall eat from their schemes and peoples shall be gathered against 7

And his people are hanging from his

them,

dwelling place,

as they are disciplined for their double and God will be angered at his precious injustice.

things

and will not lift him up.

11

Ephraim is a heifer taught to love contention.

8

How am I to deal with you, O Ephraim?
So I shall come against the fairest part of Shall I shield you, O Israel?

her neck;

How am I to deal with you?

I shall mount Ephraim;

Shall I make you like Adama and like

I shall pass over loudas in silence

Seboim?

—Iakob will prevail over him.

My heart was changed together;

12

Sow for yourselves unto justice;

my sense of regret was disturbed.

reap unto the fruit of life;

9

I will not do according to the anger of my enlighten yourselves with the light of

wrath;

knowledge.

I will not abandon Ephraim to be wiped

Seek the Lord

out;

until the produce of justice comes to you.

for I am divine and not human, holy in your midst,

13

Why did you pass over impiety in silence and I will not enter into a city.

and reap its injustice,

ate a false fruit?

10

I will go after the Lord;

Because you hoped in your chariots,

he will roar like a lion.

in the multitude of your force!

Because he will growl,

14

And ruin shall rise up against your people, even the children of waters shall be and all your walled places shall amazed.

disappear,

11

And they shall be amazed like a bird from as the ruler Salaman from the house of

Egypt

Ierobaal, in the days of battle, and like a dove from the land of the dashed a mother to the ground with her Assyrians,
children.

and I will restore them to their homes,

15

Thus will I do to you, O house of Israel,
says the Lord.

because of your evil deeds.

12

Ephraim has surrounded me with a lie,
At dawn they were cast out;
and the house of Israel and loudas with 11 Israel's king was cast out.

impiety;

aGk = bômos bOr from the fruit of their schemes

788

Hosee 12-13

now God has come to know them, and the Lord shall pay him back for his and the holy people shall be called reproach.

God's.

Ephraim is an evil wind;

13 According to report, Ephraim himself received statutes in Israel,

12 he pursued hot wind all day long.

and he established them for the goddess

He multiplied empty and vain things,

Baal and died.

and he made a covenant with the

And they added to sin

Assyrians

and made a cast image for themselves and would trade oil to Egypt.

from their silver according to the likeness of idols,

2

And the Lord has a judgment against works of artisans produced for them.

loudas,

“Sacrifice people,” they say,

to punish Iakob according to his ways,

“for calves have perishedc.”

and he will repay him according to his 3

Therefore they shall be like a morning mist

deeds.

and like an early dew that goes away,

3

In the womb he kicked his brother with the like dust that swirls from the threshing heel

floor

and in his struggles prevailed against and like a hazy swarm of grasshoppers.

God.

4

And he prevailed with an angel and 4

But I am the Lord your God who makes predominated.

heaven firm and creates earth,

They wept and implored me;

whose hands created all the host of the

they found me in the house of On,

sky.

and there aa worda was spoken to him.

And I did not display them for you to 5

But the Lord God the Almighty

follow after them.

shall be his memorial.

And I brought you up from the land of 6

And as for you, you shall return by your

Egypt,

God.

and you shall know no God but me,

Guard mercy and judgment, and apart from me there is no one that and hope continually for your God.

saves.

5

It was I who tended you in the wilderness,

7

In his hand Chanaan is a yoke of injustice;

in an uninhabitable land,

he has loved to oppress.

6 according to their feedings.

8

And Ephraim said, "But I am rich;
And they were satisfied to satiety, and I have found relief for myself."

their hearts were exalted;

None of the fruits of his toil therefore, they forgot me.

will be available to him,

7

And I will become like a panther to them because of the injustice with which he and like a leopard according to the way

sinned.

of the Assyrians.

9

But I the Lord, your God,

8

I will meet them like a famished bear brought you up from the land of Egypt;

and rend the closing of their heart.

I will make you live in tents again,

And whelps of the thicket will devour them as the day of the feast.

there;

wild animals of the field will tear them to 10

And I will speak to the prophets, pieces.

and it was I who multiplied visions, and bl was made similar by the hand of 9

In your destruction, O Israel,

the prophetsb.

who will help you?

11

If Galaad is nothing, then the rulers offering 10

Where is this king of yours?

sacrifices in Galgal were false,

And let him save you in all your cities.

and their altars like stone heaps

Let him judge you who said, on a parched patch of a field.

“Give me a king and a ruler.”

12

And Jakob withdrew to the plain of Syria,

11

And I gave you a king in my anger and Israel was subject because of a wife, and sustained in my wrath 12a gathering and because of a wife he kept watch.
of injustice.

13

And through a prophet the Lord brought Israel up from Egypt,

(12) As for Ephraim,

and through a prophet he was guarded.

his sin is hidden.

14

Ephraim became angry and provoked,

13

Pains as of one in childbirth will come to and his blood shall be poured out upon
him.

him,

This son is without sense,

aLacking in Gk bPerhaps I have been portrayed symbolically by the prophets cI.e. are no longer available

hosee 13—amos 1

789

for he will not withstand in the crushing of 10(9) Who is wise and will understand these children.

things,

or prudent and will comprehend them?

14

I shall rescue them from the hand of Hades

For the ways of the Lord are upright, and shall redeem them from Death.

and the just will walk in them,

O Death, where is your sentence?

but the impious will be weak in them.

O Hades, where is your goad?

Comfort is hidden from my eyes.

AMOS

15

For this one will make a division among

Words of Amos that came in Nakkarim out of brothers;

1 Thekoue, which he saw concerning Ierou-

the Lord will bring a hot wind salem in the days of King Ozias of Ioudas and in from the wilderness against him,

the days of King Ieroboam son of Ioas of Israel,

and it will dry up his aquifers;

two years before the earthquake. 2And he said:

it will drain his fountains.

The Lord uttered sounds from Sion

It will cause his land to wither, and gave his voice from Ierousalem, and all his desirable vessels.

and the pastures of the shepherds mourned,

(13.16) Samaria will be annihilated, and the top of Carmel dried up.

14 because she rose up against the God;
they shall fall by the sword,

3

And the Lord said:

and their nurslings shall be dashed to the

For three impious acts of Damascus,
ground,

and for four, all will not turn away from a

and their pregnant ones ripped open.

him,

2(14.1)

Return, O Israel, to the Lord your God, because they were sawing pregnant women for you have been weakened by your

of those in Galaad

injustices.

asunder with iron saws.

3(2) Take words with you,

4

And I will send forth a fire on the house of

and return to the Lord your God;

Hazael,

speak to him,

and it shall devour the foundations of the

that you not receive injustice son of Hader.

but that you receive good things,

5

And I will break the gate bars of

and, "We will return

Damascus

the fruit of our lips.

and utterly destroy inhabitants from the 4(3)

Assour shall not save us;

plain of On,

we will not mount on horses;

and I will cut to pieces a tribe from the men let us no longer say, 'Our gods,' of Charran,

to the works of our hands.

and the important people of Syria will be

'He who is within you will pity the taken captive,

orphan.' "

says the Lord.

5(4) I will heal their settlements;

6

This is what the Lord says:

I will love them openly,
For three impious acts of Gaza, for my anger has turned from them.
and for four, I will not turn away from 6(5) I will be like dew to Israel;

them,

he shall blossom like a lily because of their capturing a captivity of and strike his roots like Lebanon.

Salomon,

7(6) His branches shall go forth, to shut them up in Idumea.
and he shall be like a fruitful olive tree,

7

And I will send forth a fire against the walls and his fragrance like that of Lebanon.
of Gaza,

8(7) They shall return and sit beneath his shelter;
and it shall devour its foundations.

they shall live and be intoxicated on 8

And I will utterly destroy inhabitants from grain,

Azotus,

and his memory will blossom like the vine, and a tribe shall be removed from like the wine of Lebanon.

Ascalon,

and I will bring my hand against Akkaron,

9(8) As for Ephraim—what is there any longer and those remaining of the allophyles between him and idols?

shall perish,

It is I who humbled him, and it is I who

says the Lord.

will strengthen him.

I am like a leafy juniper tree;

9

This is what the Lord says:

your fruit has been found from me.

For three impious acts of Tyre, aPerhaps I will not let . . . go unpunished

790

Amos 1-2

and for four, aI will not turn away from a because they rejected the law of the Lord

it,

and did not keep his ordinances,

because they shut up a captivity of Salomon and their vain things which they made, in Idumea

which their fathers followed after, led and did not remember a covenant of them astray.

brothers.

5

And I will send forth a fire against loudas,

10

And I will send forth a fire against the walls and it shall devour the foundations of
of Tyre, Ierousalem.

and it shall devour its foundations.

6

This is what the Lord says:

11

This is what the Lord says:

For three impious acts of Israel,

For three impious acts of Idumea,

and for four, al will not turn away from a

and for four, al will not turn away from a

him,

them,

because they sold the just for silver because they pursued his brother with a and the needy for the sake of sword

sandals—

and he spoiled a womb upon the ground

7

things that tread on the dust of the earth, and seized his shivering fright for a

and they were buffeting the heads of

testimony

the poor,

and kept his onslaught unto victory.

and they turned aside the way of the 12

And I will send forth a fire on Thaiman, humble,

and it shall devour the foundations of its

and a son and his father were going to the walls.

same female servant

in order to profane the name of their 13

This is what the Lord says:

God.

For three impious acts of the sons of 8

And binding their garments with cords,

Ammon,

they were making curtains beside the

and for four, al will not turn away from a altar,

him,

and in the house of their God they were because they were ripping up the pregnant

drinking

women of the Galaadites wine obtained through extortion.

in order to enlarge their borders.

14

And I will kindle a fire against the walls of 9

But I removed the Amorrite from before

Rabba,

them,

and it shall devour its foundations,

whose height was as the height of a with a cry on the day of battle, cedar,

and it will be shaken on the day of its

and who was as strong as an oak,

destruction.

and I removed his fruit above

15

And its kings shall go into captivity, and his roots beneath.

their priests and their rulers together,

10

Also I brought you up out of the land of

says the Lord.

Egypt

and led you around for forty years in the

This is what the Lord says:

wilderness,

2 For three impious acts of Moab, to inherit the land of the Amorrites.

and for four, I will not turn away from a 11

And I took some of your sons to be

him,

prophets

because they burned to lime and some of your youths for the bones of the king of Idumea. consecration.

2

And I will send forth a fire against Moab,
Is this not so, O sons of Israel?
and it shall devour the foundations of its
says the Lord.

cities,

and Moab shall die in debility,

12

But you were making the consecrated ones with shouting and with the sound of a drink wine

trumpet.

and were commanding the prophets,

3

And I will utterly destroy a judge from it saying, "You shall not prophesy."

and kill all its rulers with him, says the Lord 13 Therefore, behold, I roll under you like a wagon full of straw is rolled.

4

This is what the Lord says:

14

And flight shall perish from the runner,

For three impious acts of the sons of loudas, and the strong shall not retain his

and for four, al will not turn away from a

strength,

him,

and the fighter shall not save his soul,

aPerhaps I will not let . . . go unpunished bPerhaps forever

amos 2-4

791

15 and the archer shall not stand, be pulled out, those who live in Samaria before a and he who is swift on his feet shall not tribe and in Damascus as priests.

escape,
nor shall the horseman save his soul

13

Hear, and testify to the house of Jakob, 16 and shall find his heart in acts of says the Lord God the Almighty:

dominance;

14

For in the day when I take vengeance on the
the naked shall pursue on that day, impious acts of Israel against him,
says the Lord.

I will also take vengeance against the altars of Baithel,

Hear this word that the Lord has spoken and the horns of the altar shall be

3 against you, O house of Israel, and against the demolished whole tribe that I brought up out of the land of and fall to the ground.

Egypt, saying,

15

I will demolish the house encircled by 2

Only you have I known columns onto the summer of all the tribes of the earth;

house,
therefore I will avenge upon you and the houses of ivory shall perish, all your sins.
and many other houses shall be added,
says the Lord.

3

Will two in any way walk together unless they be acquainted with each other?

4 Hear this word, you heifers of Basanitis, who are in the mountain of Samaria,

4

Will a lion roar from its thicket, who oppress the poor and trample the
when it has no prey?
needy,

Will a whelp utter its voice from his den at who say to their lords, "Give to us that all,
we might drink."
if he has caught nothing?

2

The Lord swears by his holy ones:

5

Will a bird fall upon the ground
For behold, days are coming upon you, without a fowler?
and they shall take you with weapons,
Will a snare on the ground spring and fiery pests shall cast those with you without catching something?

into cauldrons heated from 6

Will a trumpet sound in a city, underneath.

and the people not be terrified?

3

And you shall be carried out naked before

Will there be evil in a city,

each other,

which the Lord did not do?

and you shall be flung out into Mount 7

For the Lord God will not do a thing

Remman,

unless he reveals instruction to his slaves

says the Lord.

the prophets.

4

You came to Baithel and committed

8

A lion will roar,

lawlessness,

and who will not fear?

and in Galgala you multiplied to commit

The Lord God has spoken,

impiety,

and who will not prophesy?

and you brought your sacrifices in the morning,

9

Proclaim to the districts among the

your tithes on the third day.

Assyrians,

5

They read the law outside and called for and to the districts of Egypt, and say, confessions.

“Assemble on the mountain of Samaria,

Announce that the sons of Israel have and see many marvels in its midst loved these things, and oppression within it.”

says the Lord God.

10

And ita was unaware of what would be before it, says the Lord,

6

And I will give you an aching of the teeth in those who store up injustice and all your cities,

wretchedness in their districts.

and lack of bread in all your places,

11

Therefore this is what the Lord God says:

and you did not return to me,

Tyre and your land round about shall be

says the Lord.

made desolate,

and he shall bring down your might out 7

I also withheld the rain from you
of you,
three months before the harvest,
and your districts shall be plundered.
and I will rain on one city,
and on one city I will not rain;

12 This is what the Lord says: As when the one part will be rained upon, shepherd pulls from the mouth of the lion two and a part which I will not rain on will legs or a lobe of an ear, so shall the sons of Israel wither,

aPossibly Samaria

792

amos 4-5

8

and two or three cities will come together to because Galgala, taken captive, will be taken one city

captive,

to drink water and will not be satisfied;

and Baithel shall be as not existing.

even so you did not return to me,

says the Lord.

6

Seek the Lord, and live, lest the house of Ioseph should flame up 9

I struck you with fever and jaundice;

like fire,

you multiplied your gardens;

and it will devour him, and there will be the caterpillar devoured your vineyards no one to quench for the house of and fig yards and olive yards; Israel.

even so you did not return to me,

7

The Lord is the one who makes judgment
says the Lord.

on high

and has established justice on earth,

10

I sent you death in the way of Egypt,

8

who makes all things

and I killed your young men with the

and transforms and turns the shadow of

sword,

death into the morning
along with the captivity of your horses, and darkens day into night, and I brought up your camps with fire in who calls to the water of the sea your wrath;
and pours it out upon the face of the even so you did not return to me,
earth—
says the Lord.
the Lord God the Almighty is his name—

who dispenses destruction against strength 11

I overthrew you

and brings misery to the fortress.

as God overthrew Sodoma and Gomorra,

10

They have hated the one who reproves in and you were like a firebrand snatched

the gates

from the fire;

and have despised holy speech.

even so you did not return to me,

11

Therefore, because you were buffeting the

says the Lord.

poor

and have taken from them choice gifts, 12

Therefore, thus I will do to you, O Israel,

you have built houses of hewn stone,

but because I will do thus to you,

but you shall not live in them;

prepare to call upon your God, O Israel.

you have planted desirable vineyards,

but you shall not drink the wine from 13

For behold, I am the one who makes the

them.

thunder strong and creates a wind

12

For I have known your many impious acts and announces his anointed to humans,

—your sins are mighty—

makes dawn and mist
trampling the just, taking rewards and treads on the heights of the earth—and turning aside the needy in the gates.
the Lord God the Almighty is his name!

13

Therefore the prudent will keep silent in that time,
Hear this word of the Lord that I take up over for it is an evil time.

5 you in lamentation, O house of Israel:

2

She has fallen, no more to rise,

14

Seek the good thing and not the evil thing,
the maiden Israel;
that you may live,
she slipped upon her land;
and so the Lord God the Almighty will be there is no one to raise her up.

with you,

just as you have said,

3

For this is what the Lord says:

15

“We have hated evil things and loved the
The city out of which a thousand were going good things.”

forth,

Restore judgment in the gates,

there shall be left a hundred,

that the Lord God the Almighty and out of which a hundred were going might have mercy on the remnant of

forth,

Joseph.

there shall be left ten to the house of Israel.

16

Therefore this is what the Lord God the Almighty says:

4

For this is what the Lord says to the house

In all the streets there shall be wailing,

of Israel:

and in all the roads it shall be said, Alas!

Seek me, and you shall live,

Alas!

5

and stop seeking Baithel,

The farmer shall be called to mourning and stop entering Galgala, and lamentation and to those knowing a and stop crossing over to the well of the dirge;

oath,

17

in all the roads there shall be wailing,

amos 5-7

793

for I will pass through the midst of you, 5

who applaud at the sound of the said the Lord.

instruments—

since they considered them as permanent 18

Woe, you who desire the day of the Lord!

and not as fleeting—

Why is this the day of the Lord to you?

6

who drink thoroughly filtered wine
And it is darkness, not light, and anoint themselves with the finest oils,

19

as if someone should flee from a lion, they were not even suffering anything and a bear attacks him, over the ruin of Ioseph.

or he should leap into his house, place his 7

Therefore they shall now be captives of the hands on the wall,
