'Today is another day.

It doesn't mean the same outcome as yesterday.'

MISS TUN PICKNEY

What's This All About Then?

They say there is a time and place for everything, which means it's never too late to live the dream and attain success.

Ignore the doubters no matter what your style of music or genre; setting your music free is down to you.

Like many music lovers, I wanted to sample some of the life that only the music business can offer.

So with my brothers and school friends, we started a band and achieved some moderate success. But, then the usual tensions and distractions arose and important decisions had to be made.

I decided that a more secure business career was better for me at the time. My brothers decided to stick it out and try to make the music business work. They went on to be and still are recognized as top musicians and producers in their genre.

I never lost the desire or goal of writing, producing and releasing my own songs and although many years went by, I achieved that goal in 2016 and continue to write, produce and release my musical creations.

There have been plenty of ups and downs, but through this experience, a lot of knowledge has been gained. Like what works,
