INTRODUCTION

Interesting title, isn't it? "BECOME AN AUTHOR TODAY."

Really?

Is that even possible? That sure sounds like hyperbole, or BS, to the rest of us. But it isn't. You can create your first e-book in about an hour. No kidding.

In this E-BOOK, you will learn all the in and outs of creating a professional quality, full color book, complete with pictures. You will learn where to find an easy-to-use set of templates that are completely customizable and used every day by thousands of people who are successfully releasing their books to the world. The fact is, you could spend an hour, a day or a year on your book – it's totally up to you.

There are hundreds of pre-written articles on dozens of topics that you can adapt to your needs. You can download your book to your own computer and send it anywhere. Or, if you wish, you can set up a store to promote and sell your books through the same program. You can also create audio books on the same platform, and issue discount coupons to promote your work.

You don't need the permission of some remote publishing house who doesn't know you, an agent, or even an editor – you just need the will to create. We will show you many of the secrets used by authors worldwide.

Perhaps you don't wish to become a worldly author, but just want to create some personal books to store vacation memories, compile and share favorite recipes, remember children's events, recap some of your life experiences, or offer advice on various topics. Perfect, this is the place to find out how to do that.
