THE ORIGINS OF CREATIVITY

Creativity is God's attributes, creative forces, power, manifestations, and expression in constant motion and evolution. Creativity's secrets, power, mystery, and origins reside within the - 'Word' or Divine Spirit.

The 'Word' or Divine Spirit originates in the highest heavens. From here IT descends and becomes manifested or expressed as - Light and Sound.

Divine laws, creative principles, processes, and systems form the basis of the operational framework within the divine Light and Sound.

Some divine laws needed for the workings of creativity are the Law of Causation, Law of Vibration, Law of Facsimiles, and the Law of Attitudes.

Hence, the workings of creative principles do not originate within individuals; but in the Divine Spirit that resides within individuals as - Light and Sound. It manifests using the Light Body of the Soul.

The divine makeup of Human Beings, which includes our Light Body, allows us to contact the Divine Spirit directly. When done consciously or unconsciously, we access and activate the creative principles, processes, and systems within ourselves. We can then utilize or use creativity for - manifestations and self-expression.

Creativity empowers Human Beings to manifest God-like attributes, qualities, and capabilities in our daily creative self-expression or manifestations. When we make direct contact with the divine Light and Sound, we increase the nature, quality, capability, capacity, power, and flow of our creativity.

THE SOUL'S MIND

The Supreme Creator bestowed the divine gift of creativity to all souls. Thus, the Soul is the main instrument of creativity. Within humans, the Soul's Light Body is the primary vessel of creativity.

The modus operandi, or how the creative forces and their associated powers become activated within the Soul of Human Beings, involves using our imagination, visualization, thoughts, feelings, and focus of our inner attention: within the mind's eye; location of the Soul.

Hence, our creative, imaginative, visualization, thoughts, and feelings processes occur subjectively; and automatically within humans, using the Soul (our Light Body) and the faculties of the human mind.

But most humans do not know or understand the difference between the Soul, the mental faculties of the mind, and their functions.

So we confuse, assign, or attribute the creative functions of the Soul to the intellectual, logical, or analytical thinking processes of the mind.

The human mind serves as a subordinate of the Soul.

The Soul is creative, eternal, and lives forever. The mind is only a temporary faculty that becomes extinct; when no longer needed: after our physical body dies.

Once the Soul occupies a physical body, it needs a human mind to facilitate all of the functional mental processes needed; for ITS, temporary human existence, and survival.

During Soul's existence in a human body, the mind acts as Its intermediary. It connects and works with our five basic senses: sight, hearing, smell, taste, and touch.

The mind processes all human physical sensations, perceptive and cognitive awarenesses: using intellect, discrimination, analysis, logic, reasoning, thoughts, etc.

Once provided with information, the mind can compare, choose, judge, decide, alter, reinterpret, restructure, like, dislike, etc. But it is not creative: The Soul does the creative work.
