

The next 12 weeks of your life could completely change the trajectory of the rest of your life.

The question is... do you want it?

Do you want to live the life you've dreamed of?

Do you want to quit your job and start working for yourself?

Do you want the security of knowing that you can make money whenever you feel like it?

Good. It's time to get started.

WHY

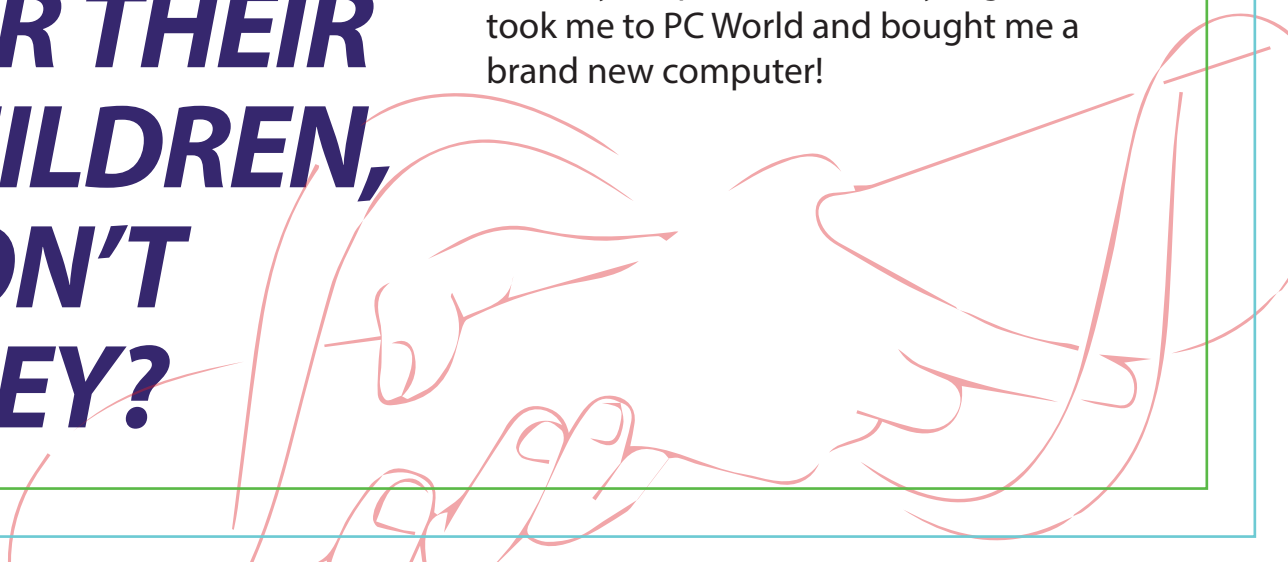

I WROTE THIS GUIDE

It was 1995 and I wanted my first computer, but things were financially tight.

My dad was a taxi driver who left his family behind in Pakistan, coming to the UK in the 70's for a better future. He was single handedly supporting a family of 7.

I begged and pleaded with him as a 15 year old for a computer. I sulked for a while too. One day, he put some money together and took me to PC World and bought me a brand new computer!
